Sonya Odem uses copier at DSS offices

Odem first graduate of DSS

By TODD FRESHWATER
News Editor

Graduation this year will be a special time for Sonya Renae Odem, a social science major. Just like all the other graduates, Odem has been here at JSU for four years and has had to take tests, write papers and be on time to class.

What is remarkable is that Sonya Odem is legally blind.

Odem, 23, graduated from the Alabama School for the Blind in 1986. After looking at various colleges, Odem decided JSU, with its disabled student services, was the best school to suit her needs.

Even though Odem is legally blind, she is able to see the outlines of objects in the daylight. She also taught herself to read.

"The first day of school I got lost on the way home from the Stone Center," she said. "I wandered down the sidewalk and asked people the way to Ramona Wood and everyone I asked said they didn't know because they were new too. I wandered around for a couple of hours and my mother happened to come by and picked me up."

Odem said many of the services offered by the DSS have been very helpful to her. The readers and notetakers have worked out well for her.

"One of the most important things to me has been having access to a computer with a voice synthesizer so I can catch my mistakes," she said.

According to Miller, the DSS now has 24 active readers and notetakers at a cost of $1,000 a week. These people are assisting 40 disabled students.

Miller also said the DSS receives help from students and volunteers.

He also said many of the service organizations, fraternities and sororities also help by taking notes and reading for students.

"A good part of our financial aid comes from vocational rehabilitation money," he said. "They work very closely with us and they have two counselors assigned to us on a part time basis. It would be impossible for us to function anywhere near the level we are with out their involvement."

Odem said while the professors at JSU do not make the work easier for her, they are usually supportive and work with her to help her meet her class requirements.

"I've been here four years and two summers and I've only had one problem," she said.

Miller says Odem is one of the first students to come to JSU as a

The Marching Southerners Drumline represented JSU in the Percussive Arts Society International Convention in Nashville, Tenn., last November.

This event is sponsored each year by percussion companies and the governing members of the PASIC committee. The convention takes place once a year in various cities throughout the nation.

The convention lasts four days and each is filled with exhibits and clinics presented by famous names in the percussion world.

There are several other competitions. One of these is the Marching Drumline Competition on the collegiate level. In this event, college drumlines throughout the nation have the opportunity to compete against other drumlines for a national title and various other titles. A total of eight drumlines throughout the nation competed on an equal basis with no class divisions.

In the results of the competition, JSU's Marching Southerners Drumline placed third in the nation. It also won the titles of best snare-drum line and best cymbal line in the nation. The University of North Texas placed first and Moorehead State University from Kentucky placed second.

Other lines that competed were

Wesley Foundation to expand

By ERIC G. MACKEY
Staff Reporter

In March, a longtime ambition of the Wesley Foundation will be accomplished as the organization breaks ground on a new campus ministry building.

"It's been a dream for 10 years," said campus minister Dale Clem, who is initiating the building project. Clem has been at JSU for four years and said he is very excited plans have finally been drawn for the building.

The Wesley Foundation, which currently is in a house owned by the First United Methodist Church of Jacksonville, will be able to expand in the new and larger facility. The building will house a recreation area with table tennis, a spacious lobby/lounge area and a meeting room which could be large enough

For the office of vice president, Arlene Jenkins and Byron Studdard are running. Jenkins is returning to defend her position as current vice president.

For the office of treasurer Leslie Adams is running unopposed.

There will be an open forum for the candidates at 7 p.m. March 7, in Montgomery Building. During the forum the candidates will explain their platforms to students.

Elections will be from 9 to 4 p.m. March 6 in Montgomery Building. Any run-offs will be from 9 to 4 March 8, in Montgomery Building.

freshman and then graduate. The University plans to assist her in preparing a resume and finding a job.

"The whole University will be involved," Miller said.

Odem says she is worried about attending graduate school at the University of Alabama. She fears the support system at Alabama might not be as good as the one at JSU.

"It's almost impossible to go to school without these services," she said.

What's news

Nothing's better than the South

In my short life I've been to most of the states in America. I've lived in the West and I've traveled in the East, but the South, that's the place to live.

I love the South. There is no other place in the world that has as many friendly people as the South. It's true, there is such a thing as Southern hospitality.

I remember when I went to New York on a trip. We spent about a week there. In the time I was there, I was personally insulted several times and I felt like I was looked down on because of my accent. In short, I felt like the Northerners hated me because I was from the South.

Now, I'm not saying everyone from the Northern states are insulting folk. All of my grandparents came from Ohio. My stepdad is from Pennsylvania. So please, if you're from the north, don't start writing those "Burn Todd/Free the North" letters. I'm not talking about you.

I'm talking about the people tourists run into: waiters, bell boys and the like. Those are some rude people.

Todd Freshwater
News
Editor

Anyway, when the trip was over, we headed back to good ole 'Bama. It happened when we stopped at one of those greasy-spoon truck stops that serve that good food, the kind mother would never make. The waitress was so friendly I was in shock. She was friendly, polite and she called us "honey." It was then I knew I was home.

The South is the best place I've ever been. Even the girls are prettier here.

I will always live in the South. My fiancée Missy is Southern-born and bred and I wouldn't have it any other way. We'll live in the South, work in the South, raise kids in the South and die in the South.

What better place is there?

In the past, JSU's drumline has competed against the University of Southwest Louisiana, McNeese State University, University of Georgia, Texas Tech, University of New Mexico, University of Kansas, University of Texas in Arlington and many other top division colleges and universities.

There is also an Individuals Competition in which members of drumlines compete against each other with their own solos. David Walters of JSU placed third in the individual snare drum competition.

The members of the drumline are as follows: Clint Gillespie-coordinator, Mark Truett-section leader, Steve Morrows, Benja Russell, Joseph Lyons, David Tarlton, Heath Lawless, Mike McDonald and David Walters on snare drum; David Lecins, Keith Townley, Burnest Dawson and Rick Gavin on tenor drums; Keith Golden, Mark Schwartz, Gary Harvey, Kenny Lord and Brian Ellyson on bass drum; Beth McCormack, Allen Reynolds, Denise Rooney, Dawn Chrisitan, Chris Phillips, David Coffey and Brent Poarch on cymbals; Don Mencke, Jeff Lenard, Kelly Dee, Tony Robinson, Nancy Swinney, Lori Duncan, Scott Sparrowhawk and Paul Merryman on the pit percussion.

Many members will return to compete again in the future. The next PASIC will be in Philadelphia, Pa., and the drumline hopes to attend the competition and bring home the national title.

Hey, who is voting for president?

By MIKE LIVINGSTON
Staff Writer

Soon it will be time to vote in the SGA elections, and if history holds true the election will have a rather small turn out.

Some students will say the reason is there is a general lack of interest in the mainstream of students at JSU. Sad but true, this is what has happened at JSU.

It is doubtful that there is anything that can be done to change students' perceptions of student government at JSU. This does not mean the SGA doesn't have a group of individuals working hard to serve the students. Indeed, the students at Jacksonville are more focused on the city elections.

This really gets to the main point. It is not that students have apathy towards voting but the feeling is the SGA has limited powers in what they can do to effect change at JSU. If you mention the name of elected officials in the city you are more likely to get a reaction of wanting to effect change by students.

However, we as students do need to vote in SGA elections. One of the greatest reasons to have SGA is for improving campus entertainment. One problem with SGA is the rather small budget to attract big-name entertainment. If students would throw a little support behind the individuals running for office, maybe after elections the winners can put pressure on the administration to looking at funding the budget so we can have a more rounded entertainment year.

The SGA does provide a link to the Board of Trustees and the University president and that in itself still makes this an important office since those individuals have more influence in change on the campus than students realize.

As the election gets closer, try to remember the SGA can effect change. However, one must remember if you do not vote you have no reason to complain about too little entertainment or little change of University policies students feel are not fair to them.

Turn light turns out to be a real turnoff

By MIKE LIVINGSTON
Staff Writer

For some reason most students thought the new traffic signals at the corner of Pelham and Highway 204 were going to include a turn signal so people could turn left onto Pelham.

We all seemed to think this since the project started before Christmas and just in the last week has been completed. The only reason it could be taking so long is the highway department must be waiting on the new traffic light.

Students from larger cities in the area could not believe how long it was taking to get the new signals in place, most cities do not take several months to put up traffic lights at a critical intersection.

However, when the lights were put in place the turn signals were only for turning off Pelham on to Highway 204. It would seem Jacksonville City officials should have done a better job working with the highway department to ensure turn signals were put on all sides of this intersection.

It would seem the city should be well aware of the dangerous problem after all these years at this intersection of the city. One must really wonder if the money spent on the system was just a waste of taxpayers' money since the new signal isn't really different from the old system.

Let's hope the City of Jacksonville will make a request to have the highway department to look at the intersection and consider adding turn signals to eliminate the problems at this intersection.

Dear Students:

Spring is a great time of year especially in Florida. Our weather is beautiful, it's the perfect time to visit our beaches and other attractions. Our cities and residents are ready to welcome you with open arms.

At this time we want to remind you, that while we hope you enjoy your spring vacation, you must be aware of laws in Florida that may directly affect you.

We ask that you respect our "21" age drinking law. It is illegal for anyone under age 21 to possess, purchase or any way obtain alcoholic beverages.

It is against the law in our state for the driver or passengers of a motor vehicle to possess an open container of alcohol. Thousands of people die each year in alcohol-related crashes. We do not want you to become another statistic.

Spring break can be a joyous vacation filled with sun, sandy beaches and friends. Too many times, instead, it turns tragic. Only you can control how your vacation will end. We want you to return to your schools and families safe and healthy, please, drive sober and don't ride with anyone who has been drinking.

Sincerely,

Susan Larson
Safe Spring Break Chairman

Events are planned for Spring Break '90

From Destination Daytona!

Plans are being finalized for Spring Break 1990 in Daytona Beach, and Destination Daytona!, the Convention and Visitor's Bureau, is filled with activity night and day this time of year.

Once again some of the country's largest corporations have their eye on the student market, and final decisions are being made on entertainment, expos and activities during Spring Break. Hotels and motels are rapidly filling, and now is the time to finalize plans for your trip.

The newly formed Spring Break Festival Task Force has been working for months to help students have the most enjoyable spring break ever by offering assistance in many areas, from coordinating events to managing traffic to informing students about beverage laws.

Each year, the Motel Hotel Association of the Daytona Beach Resort Area provides students with a Spring Break Code of Conduct. This code has been developed to make student visitors aware of certain policies and laws during Spring Break, which in turn assures a hassle-free vacation. Here are just a few important points to remember:

•Most of the spring break activities are on the beach. The Daytona Beach Area stretches for 23 miles, and at low tide is up to 500 feet wide, which allows plenty of room for activity. Vehicular traffic is permitted on 18 miles of the beach from one hour before sunrise until one hour past sunset. There is a $3 daily beach-access fee for motorized vehicles. The charge is per vehicle, not person. Entering the beach on foot or by bicycle is free. The speed limit on the beach is 10 mph and is strictly enforced. Special sunbathing areas are designated; and surfing, jet skiing and surf fishing are permitted only in specific areas. While on the beach, if you have any questions, be sure to ask one of the helpful Beach Rangers in the area.

•Florida Law requires everyone to be 21-years old to purchase, consume or possess alcoholic beverages. It is also illegal to provide alcoholic beverages to any person under age. Local ordinances prohibit open containers of alcoholic beverages on any public property including streets, sidewalks or the beach. Kegs of beer are not allowed in guest rooms.

•Climbing over or on balcony railings, windows, roofs or ledges is both dangerous and illegal. Many of the hotels limit access to balconies in order to avoid hazardous situations.

•In accordance with local fire codes, a limited number of students may occupy a guest room. Visitors are permitted at the discretion of the management.

•Excessive noise or music is prohibited both in guest rooms and public areas.

•Each hotel sets its own pool hours, as well as its own policies for room keys, security, phone charges and room payment. Damage to any hotel property will be the responsibility of registered guests.

Panama City Beach offers Spring Break variation

From Staff Reports

If you haven't been to Panama City Beach lately, it's time to take another look. For years, "PC" was known for miles of undeveloped snow-white beaches and its colorful "strip."

Well, Panama City Beach has come of age. This is a beach designed for families -- the honky-tonks have been replaced with fashionable waterfront restaurants and relaxed open-air beach clubs; where garish carnival attractions once stood, visitors now find state-of-the-art waterparks and amusement parks.

There is the Museum of Man and the Sea, Gulf World and summer theatre. The lagoons and waterways are lined with sailboats, dolphin feeding cruises, dive boats, charter fishing boats and private yachts. With all its diversity, Panama City Beach caters to a never-ending assortment of tastes and budgets.

Visitors to the area can choose from a wide range of accommodations -- over 15,000 motel, hotel and condominium units. The area also boasts a wide assortment of unique options -- RV resorts, bed and breakfast inns, campgrounds and overnight boat docks (perfect for seafarers traveling the Intercoastal Waterway).

There are tennis and golf resorts; motels that cater to sports fishermen and divers; beach properties that specialize in families; church retreats; and budget-conscious vacation packages. Excellent accommodation listings are available at no charge through the Visitor Information Center -- 1-800-PCBEACH.

The beaches offer visitors an endless variety of recreational options. With more than 25 miles of pure white beaches and miles of interlacing waterways, bays and lagoons, watersports are naturally at the top of the list: boating, fishing, island-hopping, snorkeling and diving, parasailing, jetskiing, windsurfing, sailing or simply shell collecting and wading ankle-deep along shallow sandbars. Calm surf and mild year-round water temperatures make the Gulf of Mexico and Saint Andrews Bay irresistible -- you just can't deny the urge to shuck your shoes and dip your feet into the water.

The fresh seafood and recipes native to Panama City Beach are as memorable as the gorgeous sunsets. The coastline is dotted with quaint seafood eateries and colorful oyster bars where casual dress is mandatory and the standard, "Y'all come back now!" is genuine.

For more information call the above phone number or write P.O. Box 27162, Panama City Beach, Fla. 32411.

BREAK

Daytona gearing up for annual student invasion

From Destination Daytona!

The Daytona Beach Resort Area will once again welcome throngs of students to its shores during Spring Break 1990. The resort area, located on the central coast of Florida, is one of the most popular spring break destinations in the United States.

Canadian college students will begin arriving at the end of February. Then, in early March, the American schools come to town.

According to tourism officials and tour companies, the "peak" weeks will be March 3-24, but smaller groups of students will continue to come to Daytona Beach through April 22, the week after Easter.

Anticipating a more organized event in 1990, a newly-formed task force has been working since last Spring Break to coordinate events and activities during the yearly influx of college students to the "World's Most Famous Beach." The task force is the event management group for spring break, and is addressing such topics as traffic control, hotel overcrowding, public facilities and alcohol management.

For instance, the task force has endorsed the national "Party Smart" project for 1990. This alcohol education campaign sponsored by the Beer Drinkers of America in Costa Mesa, Calif., encourages responsibility and moderation among adults who choose to drink.

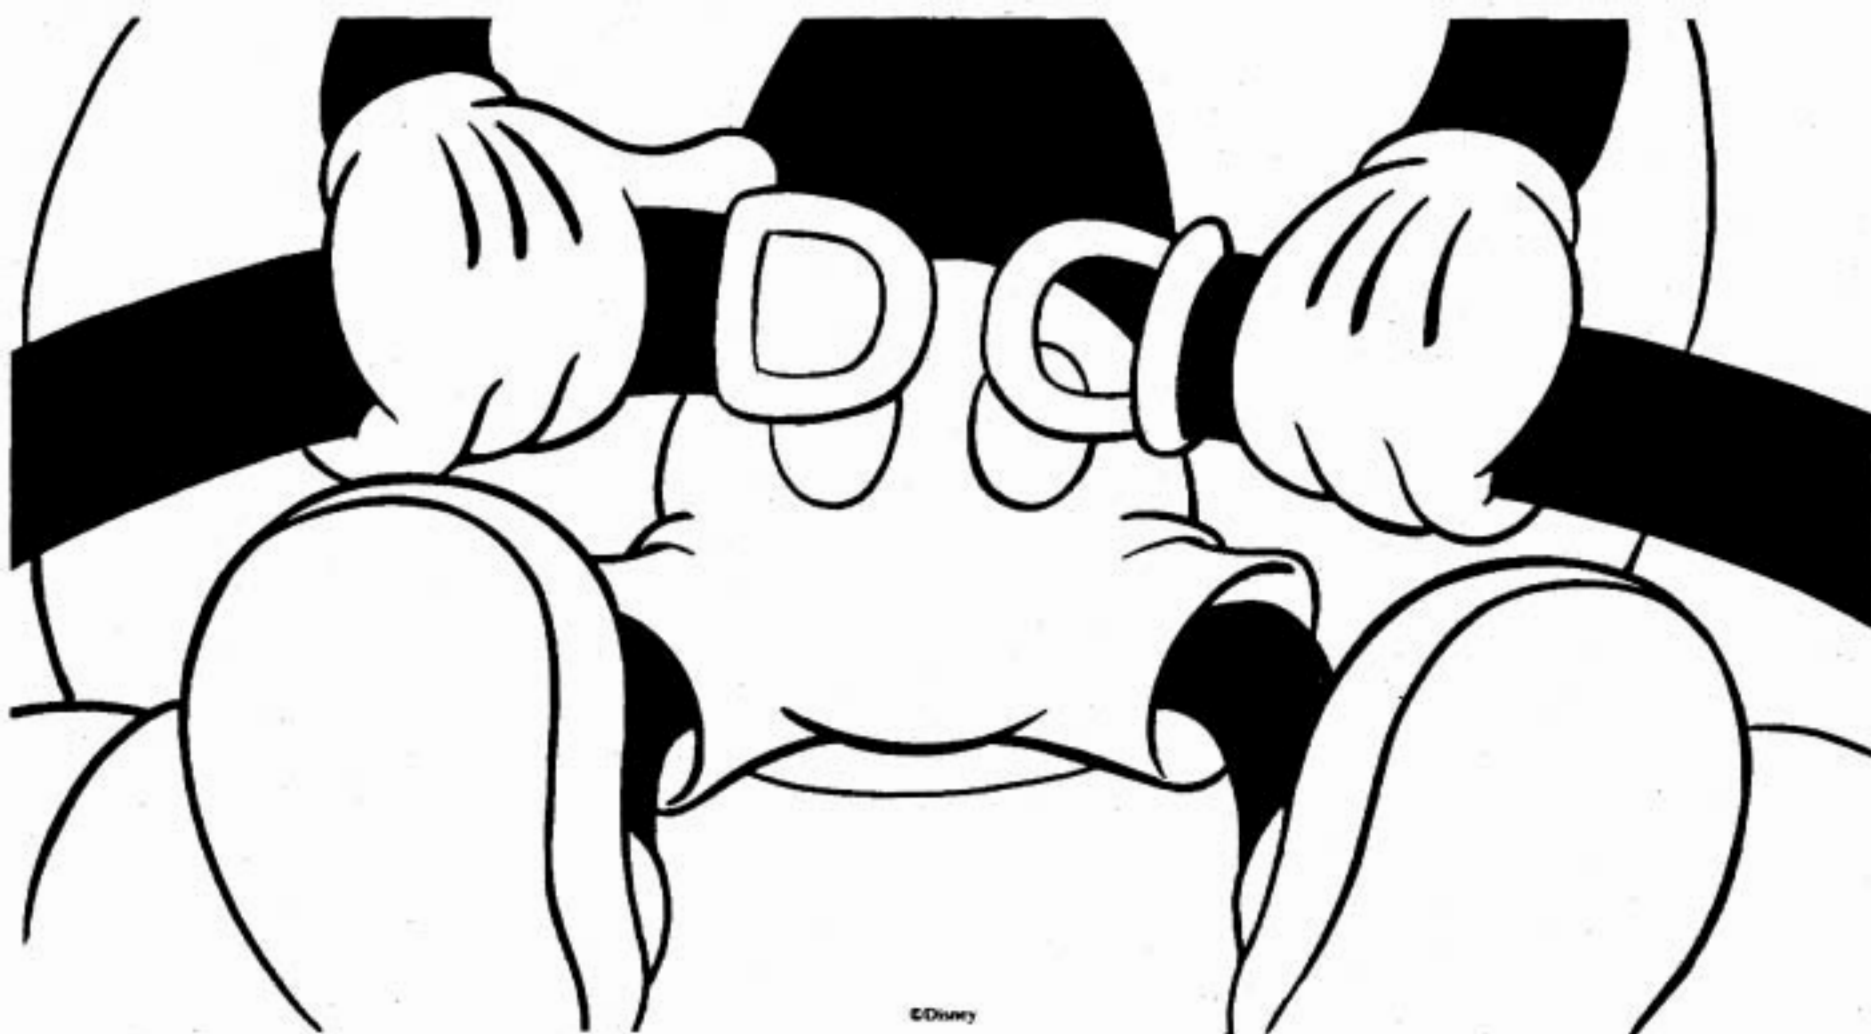

The task force has chosen "A

New Wave of Fun" for its slogan, hoping to capture the festival atmosphere which is always apparent among visiting collegians.

Several popular events will return to Daytona in 1990 including the beachfront Spring Fest, March 13-24; Rolling Stone Magazine Expo, March 14-21; and Expo America, March 16-23. The Miss Hawaiian Tropic International Pageant is planned for March 14 in the Bandshell, the city's outdoor amphitheater on the beach. The Bandshell will also be the site of several concerts throughout March. The rock group Molly Hatchett is one of the first concerts scheduled, at the Daytona Beach Marriott, March 9-10.

Accommodations are still available during Spring Break. For a visitor's guide and calendar of events, call Destination Daytona!, the Convention and Visitor's Bureau for the Daytona Beach Resort Area, at 1-800-854-1234 or (904) 255-0415.

Drama Department debuts 'The Curious Savage'

By ERIC G. MACKEY
Staff Reporter

The Drama Department opened the second half of the 1989-90 season last week with a production of John Patrick's "The Curious Savage" in the Stone Center Theater.

The play is set in modern America inside a facility for the mentally incompetent. The current residents, who have slight mental deficiencies, are joined by the sane, older Ethel Savage, who has been jilted by her three step-children.

Patrick's plot has a modern and yet traditional theme: money. The entire play is centered around $100 million which Mrs. Savage has converted into bonds and hidden.

Three distinct attitudes about money are brought out in this production. The residents of the rather astute, private institution are well-cared for and truly enjoy the comforts of the facility. They have an attitude of money which is very carefree. Their attitude, as the show clearly points out, is one they cling to only because of their sheltered confinement. They have no worries, and they certainly don't want any.

A second attitude is presented by the greedy step-children who epitomize many Americans in a modern society. They care nothing about their stepmother. They don't even respect the helpless mental patients. They only see the possibility, and then the reality of $100 million shot down. In more ways than one, their own selfishness leads to their fall.

The last attitude is seen in the lovable Mrs. Savage, who wants to establish a memorial fund in honor of her deceased husband to help people realize their most "foolish" dreams. She wants to give so that others are made happy by her enormous wealth.

Patrick's plot has a modern and yet traditional theme: money. The entire play is centered around $100 million which Mrs. Savage has converted into bonds and hidden.

This plot is rather commonplace and even though it is quite clear, the writer is too straight-forward and uses too many worn-out ploys, such as hiding money in a teddy bear, or money being stolen as the lights mysteriously go out.

Still, the idea of greed versus good intentions is well documented.

The production itself was not the Drama Department's best. The set was well designed and prepared with two levels, which allowed two scenes in one.

Veteran actor David A. Smith was wonderful and was the most commanding person on stage. The rather large cast was led by a peaceful but cunning Tina Seals as Mrs. Savage. Another actress who stood out was the kind nurse, Miss Willie, played by Amanda Altman. She tied the whole plot together by being a friend of the residents (actually married to one), and yet a caretaker to them. Though not the main character, she served as a secondary protagonist, and antagonist as well.

These were supported by a cast which complemented the lead actors and actresses. Student Director Drew Reeves deserves the utmost respect for his production.

'Driving Miss Daisy' leads list of Oscar nominees

By J. MATTHEW BROOKS
Campus Life Editor

Every year the anticipation is so great. The actual announcing of the Academy Awards nominations seems to be anticlimatic. Maybe it's because the nominees are unveiled at 5:30 a.m.

This year, there were few surprises. One of the only things that can be referred to as a surprise is the huge success of the film "Driving Miss Daisy." The movie picked up nine academy nominations, including Best Picture, Actor and Actress.

Other films expected to share similar success didn't fare so well. Spike Lee's "Do the Right Thing" only picked up two nominations, neither of which were Best Picture. Lee's film about racial unrest in the Bedford-Stuyvesant area of New York City was expected to be nominated for that award, as well as for Best Director.

Here's a few of the categories and their nominees:

PICTURE - "Born on the Fourth of July," "Dead Poets Society,"

Boys;" Jessica Tandy, "Driving Miss Daisy."

SUPPORTING ACTOR - Danny Aiello, "Do the Right Thing;" Dan Aykroyd, "Driving Miss Daisy;" Marlon Brando, "A Dry White Season;" Martin Landau, "Crimes and Misdemeanors;" Denzel Washington, "Glory."

SUPPORTING ACTRESS - Brenda Fricker, "My Left Foot;" Anjelica Huston, "Enemies, A Love Story;" Lena Olin, "Enemies, A Love Story;" Julia Roberts, "Steel Magnolias;" Dianne Wiest,

"Parenthood."

JSU men remain atop GSC

By RODNEY PARKS
Sports Editor

It was a stormy Thursday night in Jacksonville as Valdosta State came into town to play JSU, but when the night was over the Blazers had to feel most of the lighting was coming from the shoes of the Gamecocks players and not outside.

The last team to beat Coach Bill Jones' Gamecocks at home was Valdosta State in the final regular season game last year. Since that game JSU has run off 14 straight wins at home and needed a victory over the Blazers to hold its one-game lead in the Gulf South Conference.

The game began with a fast pace as both teams seemed to want to run the ball. This is the type of offense JSU is strongest at as the Blazers continued to have trouble the entire night getting back on defense against the Gamecocks.

Valdosta State held an early 7-6 lead when JSU's Charles Hale hit a three-pointer to put JSU ahead. This was a lead the Gamecocks would never surrender as JSU continued to beat the Blazers back on offense.

The Blazers also had trouble breaking JSU's press as the Gamecocks scored many of their points off Blazer turnovers, going into halftime with a 57-41 lead.

"Valdosta State has a good basketball team," said Jones. "They played with a lot of heart tonight, and I feel like we (JSU) did also. For the most part we laid it on the line with our press, and we got 25 points of our 57 first-half points off of turnovers, so you would have to say our press was effective."

The second half of the game was much like the first with everyone on the team getting some valuable playing time as JSU rolled to a 120-101 victory.

JSU was led by Charles Hale with 28 points. Charles Burkette and Dixon added 19 each.

JSU 107,
Livingston 99

LIVINGSTON -- This season has been a great year for Jones' Gamecocks as they are presently ranked in the top 20 teams in the nation and have led the GSC part of the year. The one problem that has faced JSU all season is holding leads in the second half of conference road games.

Saturday night at Livingston was no different as the Gamecocks raced to an 18-point second-half lead, 63-45, only to see this disappear just as quickly. The Tigers outscored the Gamecocks 34-15 to take a 79-78 lead with 6:00 left.

With the score tied at 80-80, Livingston went on a run to take a 91-86 lead with 2:30 left. JSU then scored the next six points to retake the lead. Livingston would score one point after this to tie the score at 92-92 and send the game into overtime.

In overtime Hale hit a jumper with 2:30 left to give the Gamecocks a 98-97 lead. This was a lead JSU was not going to give up as freshman Anthony Kingston iced the game for JSU, hitting seven of eight free throws in overtime.

"I thought Anthony Kingston showed what kind of makeup he has with his free throws and his rebounding," said Jones.

JSU was led in scoring by Henry Williams with 22 points. Robert Lee Sanders and Pat Madden scored 17 for JSU.

Delta State 92,
JSU 88

CLEVELAND, Miss. -- The state of Mississippi has not been a good place for JSU to play this season, so as Jones' Gamecocks traveled out to Cleveland, Miss., Monday they were hoping to change things.

Delta State continued the bad news for Gamecock fans as the Statesmen played their best game of the season, shooting 59 percent in the game to upset JSU 92-88.

This loss by JSU caused a three-team logjam at the top of the GSC standing among Mississippi College, Troy State and JSU. Each team presently has three conference losses each.

Cliff Dixon and Wayne McGaughy battle for rebound

Wayne McGaughy scores two for the Gamecocks

There were five lead changes and five ties in the first half of Monday's game. With the game tied at 36-36, JSU outscored Delta 11-6 in the final four minutes of the half to take a 47-42 halftime lead.

The second half was very close as the game was tied six more times. With the game tied at 60-60, Delta scored seven straight points to take a 67-60 lead at the 10-minute mark.

JSU quickly fought back and outran Delta 11-3 to pull back ahead 71-70 with 5:30 left.

The lead would change hands five times after this. The last tie in the game came at 84-84, but Delta hit a basket to pull ahead with one minute to go. JSU then missed an important free throw, and Delta pulled down the rebound. JSU was then forced to foul, and Delta iced the game by hitting its last six free throw attempts.

JSU was led on the night by Sanders with 35 points. Dixon added 25.

Ladies start drive for playoffs

By RODNEY PARKS
Sports Editor

All season Gamecock fans had been hearing about the impressive stats Valdosta State's Shannon Williams had been putting up. Williams has been leading the Gulf South Conference in both scoring and rebounding the entire season and was leading the nation in scoring most of the year.

The one key to this season for the Lady Gamecocks has been their team play, so this game was built up as Valdosta State's player against JSU's team.

In the first half of the game Valdosta State's type of play worked as the Lady Blazers built an early 11-5 with three minutes gone in the game. The Lady Gamecocks fought back quickly, using their team speed to tie the game at 15-15. The Lady Blazers continued to go inside to Williams the entire first half and only trailed JSU 44-38 at the half.

The second half was a different story as JSU's team play took over and the Lady Gamecocks outscored Valdosta State 27-12 in the first nine minutes of the second half to move on to the 99-78 victory.

Part of the key reason for the second half blowout by JSU was Tracy Linton's defense on Williams, holding the GSC's leading scorer to only 11 second-half points. "I thought tonight we did a good job defending inside," said Coach Richard Mathis. "I felt Williams got her points in the first half, but I felt in the second half Tracy Linton cut her off inside."

The Lady Gamecocks were led by Mary Ann Tribble with 23 points and 15 rebounds. Linton added 22 points for JSU and Luchy Cabrera scored 13.

JSU 78,
Livingston 63

LIVINGSTON -- The Lady Gamecocks continued to be impressive on the road in the GSC Saturday as Mathis' team ran the conference road record to a perfect 5-0 with the 78-63 win.

The score was tied three times in the first half. With the score tied at 20-20, the Lady Gamecocks went on a 11-2 run in the last three minutes of the half to lead at the break.

JSU continued to control the game in the second half as the Lady Gamecocks built the lead to as much as 23 points at 68-45 with six minutes left.

"I thought our team showed a lot of class and character tonight," said Mathis. "It was a physical game, but we did what we had to do to win."

JSU was led by Mary Ann Tribble with 22 points. Jana Bright added 18 for JSU, Cabrera scored 13 and Dana Bright had 11.

Delta St. 72,
JSU 52

CLEVELAND, Miss. -- Where does Mathis' Lady Gamecocks call their home away from home?

Since JSU has played seven games at Delta State in three years, I guess you could say Sillers Coliseum in Cleveland, Miss., would be the answer.

The only thing wrong with this home is that the Lady Gamecocks have a 0-7 record there.

The game Monday night was decided in the first four minutes of the second half, after JSU trailed only 28-24 at halftime. Delta State came out and outscored JSU 12-1 and opened up a 40-25 lead.

Delta continued to build its lead to as much as 20 points at 51-31. JSU made one comeback during the second half, cutting the Lady Statesmen's lead to 53-40.

Delta State then outscored JSU 8-0 to open its biggest lead and move on to the victory.

JSU was led on the night by Jana Bright, Tribble and Linton with 10 points each.

With the win Delta State claims its fourth GSC title in five seasons. JSU needs to win at least one of its final three conference games to assure itself of the runner-up spot in the GSC.

Season and contest begin

By Gary O. Lewis
Staff Writer

Saturday started the 1990 season for the JSU baseball team as the Gamecocks played hosted Faulkner University.

Key hitting by JSU's Merritt Bowden coupled with outstanding pitching from JSU's David Strain, Todd Altaffer and Brian Randolph held the Faulkner hitters in check all day as the Gamecocks won 6-1.

The Sunday game against Kennesaw College was suspended due to rain and will be completed later.

One area that Gamecocks fans feel could use improvement this season is the number of people who attend home games. To help get better support at the baseball games this season, team trainer Ed Canady has started a support group. At the first meeting interested students got to know the baseball players at JSU. Each player was recognized and asked to become familiar with his support group.

Officers for the year are Vikki Dilgard, president; Tammy Diago, vice president; Kim Dunn, secretary; and Suzanne Allan, treasurer.

Canady's idea is to increase attendance and induce motivation for the players.

The group has yet to name itself and is asking students to participate in a "Name-the-Group" contest. There will be a $25 prize to the winner.

To enter the contest please submit, in writing, the name for the group along with your name and phone number to The Chanticleer office, 180 Self Hall.

The winner will be announced in the March 8 issue of The Chanticleer.
