

Movie Review: "Buried" captivates from start to finish

Page 4

JSU Football: JSU wins fourth in a row by beating EIU

Page 6

Ryan Reynolds stars in "Buried"

THE CHANTICLEER

The Student newspaper of Jacksonville State University since 1934

Volume 59, Issue 4

September 30, 2010

inTHE NEWS

WLJS hits 35 years on the air

At noon on Wednesday, September 29, WLJS will reach a milestone as it celebrates its 35th Anniversary of being on the air. We want to invite everyone who has been a DJ at WLJS for this event, which will be in Room 120 of Self Hall.

To commemorate the occasion, 92-J will start the day's programming off with a recording of Dr. Ernest Stone from the original first broadcast. After that several original DJs will "take over" the airwaves of WLJS, leading off with the first song ever played on WLJS, Led Zepplin's "Stairway to Heaven."

If you have any questions about the event please

'Doubt' opens JSU drama season

By MATT TYSON
Online Editor

October 7th marks Jacksonville State University Drama Department's season opener with Sean Patrick Shanley's parable, "Doubt."

The play takes place in the Catholic church of the 1960's and deals with the struggle between a liberal priest named Father Flynn, and Sister Aloysius, a very conservative nun, who has accused Father Flynn of having an inappropriate relationship with a young boy at St. Nicholas Catholic School.

As the play develops, Sister Aloysius stays very convinced of her conviction and tries to out Father Flynn while working in the constraints of being a nun. Father Flynn tries desperately to keep his good name and bring a with the first song ever played on WLJS. Led Zeppelin's "Stairway to Heaven." If you have any questions about the event please contact Program Director Billy S. Ramsey at (256) 782-8204 or e-mail him at programdirector-wljs@gmail.com.

JSU is not part of a Minaj concert scam

Jacksonville State University is not part of a Nicki Minaj concert scam, contrary to reports being widely circulated on the Internet recently, including an article on MTV.com.

The JSU Office of Public Relations received notification through Google Alerts that the university's name was associated with scams in two articles, one on MTV.com and another on Barista.net.

Originally Jacksonville State University's name was associated with both articles, with the Barista.net article adding that tickets had already been sold to a Jacksonville State University concert on October 15. No such concert ever existed, according to Terry Casey, director of the Office of Student Life. According to Casey, any concert or event at Jacksonville State University must be approved by the Office of Student Life and the Student Government Association.

Assignment: Horror 101

FLICKR

So you think you can TELL story? Well, here's your chance. Starting this week, we are taking you to submit for your best Halloween story, either fiction or non-fiction. The stories can be about any topic relating to Halloween. They will be published in a two-chapter format that will begin running the week before Halloween and concluding the week of Halloween. Please send all submission to bboykins.chantyleditor@gmail.com

JSU sponsors health fair

By AMANDA KELLY
Staff Writer

Student health was on the minds of many who attended Jacksonville State University's Health Fair at the Theron Montgomery Building on Tuesday.

More than 30 booths, representing different health topics, were set up for the event.

Those staffing the booths provided information about smoking, eating healthy and drug awareness.

The group Sav-A-Life sponsored an anti-drug booth. The anti-drug awareness group gave a dramatic presentation of the pitfalls of drug use. Other booths promoted everything from anti-smoking campaigns to health supplies.

With the flu season approaching, a booth was set up with information to help prevent Influenza.

Many drug stores in the area are offering flu shots this season.

The booths also featured clinics that specialized in specific health concerns, such as mental health issues, or where to go if a person is sick and has no insurance.

Some health sponsors set up machines to check bone density, body weight, body fat percentages and blood pressure rates.

Everyone who attended the event received a map, a card with 10 empty spaces and a comment page after signing in.

You ask, Why?

If attendees filled out the comment page, they were invited to indulge in free refreshments.

Also, there were booths set up where students, faculty and staff could register for a chance to win a pool of prizes.

Along with the refreshments, goodies were given away that included everything from toothbrushes to stain-remover pens.

convinced of her conviction and tries to out Father Flynn while working in the constraints of being a nun. Father Flynn tries desperately to keep his good name and bring a fresh face to the Catholic Church.

Theatre Professor Susan McCain is directing the play. Being well aware that many people may come to the play with expectations set by the 2008 film adaptation, she hopes to show Doubt on a deeper level than it has not been seen before.

"Trust is very important to the structure of the Catholic Church," McCain said. "Trust is betrayed by doubt. Guilty or not guilty

See "Doubt," Page 5

inSIDE

Wacky, tacky, but true.

Recently in the news, several events over the past couple of weeks have just made us going through a "things that make you go hmmmm" moment.

The Chanticleer previews some of those types of stories in our latest news feature.

Story Page 2

Campus goes wireless

According to Sean Ponder, director of Academic Computing and Network Support, completion of a new WiFi system across campus is nearly finished. Only a few wireless connection points are left to be installed. To access the hotspots, Ponder says that students, faculty and staff must use their MyJSU credentials to log in. For a list of hotspots on campus, go to www.jsu.edu/di/acns/wireless/index.html.

Photo by Kevin Brant/The Chanticleer

Intramural Sports

Wesley Foundation verses Delta Chi during a innertube water polo match on Sept. 28. For the latest on intramural sporting events, visit www.imleagues.com

VISIT WWW.THECHANTICLEERONLINE.COM FOR THE LATEST IN JSU NEWS

Page 2

COMMUNITY, CAMPUS AND SOCIAL NEWS YOU CAN USE

BURTON UNPLUGGED

Writer debuts advice column

By James Burton
Staff Columnist

My dearest reader fans:
I'm changing paces.

One of the most pivotal changes, of course, is the fact that this will be my last semester at JSU -- unless I find out at the last minute that I should have taken underwater basket weaving 102 instead of underwater basket weaving 104.

With this being my farewell tour, I find it appropriate to try something where I can actually help someone as opposed to just out and out challenge the status quo.

As my cousin, Thad Burton, takes over my former position of offensive Op-Ed commentator, I've decided to explore a different area to my stellar career as a journalist for The Chanticleer -- an advice column.

I know you're thinking: "Oh God, Burton is doing 'Ask Julie' now!"

Well, it's not really that simple.

Julie's forte is love, relationships, mushy crap, etc. You know, all that stuff where I fail miserably.

I will, however, attempt

Wacky, Tacky, but True

Antoine Dodson's Bed Intruder Song has made so much money, he has been able to purchase a home and has plans to open a salon. Photo: Michael Mercier / The Huntsville Times

Kardashians cause 'extreme' distress

LOLs!

This story is HIGHlarious!!!

An inmate at the Pennsylvania Department of Corrections is claiming he experienced "extreme emotional distress due to their outrageousness of actions."

D.J. Goodson says he was forced to watch Keeping Up with the Kardashians and Kourtney and Khloe Take Miami and became permanently scarred after watching domestic abuse from a boxing match with Kim on an episode, as well as emotional abuse from Kourtney's "rantings."

The lawsuit also states that he went under distress from racism after Khloe referred to a doll as "the black baby."

He is currently suing for $75,000.

Oh bb, we're actually, really rooting for you! Honest! We only wish we came up with the idea first!

Antoine Dodson buys a house with Mockery Money

We continue to make fun of him, and you know what? He continues to profit from it!

The Bed Intruder Song has now made Antoine Dodson so much money that he's been able to move his entire family into a safer home. Here's what Dodson had to say about the new house:

"We found a house! [We are so] excited ... It's for my whole family. And these are new houses that have just been built."

Dodson has also decided to use his newfound money to go back to school:

"I signed up to finish my associate's degree in business. That way I can take everything to the next level and be on a more professional level."

He's mentioned a desire to open a hotel or a salon. We think a salon sounds like a great idea! We can see the commercial now:

"Well, obviously we have a Salon in Lincoln Park. We're styling your hair well, we're giving you a haircut, we're trying to cut hair, so you need to bring your kids, bring your wife, and bring your husband because

On Oct. 2, Burton is going
'Ask Julie' now!"

Well, it's not really that simple.

Julie's forte is love, relationships, mushy crap, etc. You know, all that stuff where I fail miserably.

I will, however, attempt to tackle anything you throw at me (and yes, if that means love and relationships, I'll write those as well. Just don't be surprised if it's not what you want to hear.)

So for the foreseeable future, stay tuned for "Ask Burton" or "Burton Speaks" or maybe even "Burton Unplugged." (I don't know. I never wrote the titles for my Op-Ed pieces. And don't expect me to come up with a title for this column either. Send me what you think it should be.)

For those of you willing to stand up to the challenge, send marriage proposals, death threats and opposing points of view to Thad; send recipes, demo tapes and other things of personal interest to me at askburton@gmail.com.

I'm actually looking forward to hearing from people this time!

from racism after Knise referred to a doll as "the black baby."

He is currently suing for $75,000.

Oh bb, we're actually, really rooting for you! Honest! We only wish we came up with the idea first!

Bill Clinton, The Opera?

Ha!

We're actually sort of intrigued with the idea of this mess!

President Bill Clinton's life story is apparently being adapted into an OPERA called Billy Blythe, which is being described as "a coming of age story set in the late 1950's in Hot Springs" that "will explain how the natural state helped shape and mold the man we now know as President Bill Clinton."

The title comes from Clinton's birth name, William Jefferson Blythe III, and instead of focusing on all of the fun and scandalous shiz that went down during his years in office, it will instead be centered around "a pivotal moment in Billy Blythe's coming of age because he has to stand up to his step-father, Roger Clinton, in a life-changing domestic conflict."

Lame! We want Sarah Brightman as Monica Lewinsky!

LOLs! If you're going to go bizarre enough to write an opera about Bill Clinton, you might as well go all the way!

He's mentioned a desire to open a hotel or a salon.

We think a salon sounds like a great idea! We can see the commercial now:

"Well, obviously we have a Salon in Lincoln Park. We're styling your hair well, we're giving you a hair-cut, we're trying to cut hair, so you need to bring your kids, bring your wife, and bring your husband because we're styling everybody up in here."

We continue to wish Dodson the best of luck with his endeavors! We've included the Bed Intruder Song video (above) to remind us all what's paying for Antoine Dodson's house and continuing education.

Would U go to a salon run by Antoine Dodson?

This couple is out of control!!!

Randy and Evi Quaid were arrested Saturday afternoon on charges of felony burglary, and resisted arrest for Evi, after they broke into their former home and was found living there illegally!

The owner of the Quaid's former home called police when an alarm went off in the house. The owner sent a realtor to check in on the house and when he arrived, he found the place had been trashed!!

He found dirty dishes, footprints and clothes everywhere, and then discovered that the Quaid's had changed all the gate codes and moved the security cameras. He even found a broken $7,000 mirror that had been hanging over the fireplace, which had been replaced by a photo of Randy and Evi!!

Compiled by MJ Ortiz, courtesy Perez Hilton.com

Calendar

Nov. 12

Each Monday through November 12, there is a JSU interactive Radio Show in the Stadium Club. The radio show is only from 6:00-7:00 p.m. and pizza and drinks are provided! In the show Coach Crowe and Mike Paris (with JSU Radio) will talk about the previous game and upcoming game. There is also an audience Q&A time with Coach Crowe or any of the present football players present. There's even a chance the show might be on TV! Help us pack the house!

Oct. 2

Show your Gamecock Pride at the next SGA Tailgate Party on October 2, when JSU takes on Murray State. The theme for the day will be "Red Out JSU," and all students and student organizations are encouraged to wear red and follow the theme all day, from the tailgate party into the student section at the stadium.

OPINION

Bill Boykins: Editor: bboykins.chantyeditor@gmail.com
 Kevin Brant: Associate Editor: kbrant.assoc.editor@gmail.com
 MJ Ortiz: News Editor: mjnewsed@gmail.com
 Matthew Tyson: Online Editor: chantywebonline@gmail.com
 Advertising: www.chantyads1@gmail.com

JACKSONVILLE STATE UNIVERSITY AND SURROUNDING COMMUNITIES, WE ASK YOU, WHAT'S ON YOUR MIND?

I SEE IT THIS WAY ...

Derka, Derka Bias?

By Thad Burton
 Staff Opinion Columnist

One of the hottest topics going around cable news stations these days is the proposed building of the New York mosque at Ground Zero.

Unless you have been living under a proverbial rock, you should be familiar with the subject of which I am writing. I feel that if Glenn Beck, Keith Olbermann, and Jon Stewart can have their voices heard, I can too.

First of all, I want to address all of those affected by the terrorist attacks that occurred on September 11, 2001, by saying you will never be forgotten. What happened that day impacted my generation like the assassination of JFK impacted my parents' generation. I will never forget the exact spot where I was standing when I heard the news that the first tower had gone down. However, I have digressed from my main point that those affected are in our thoughts and prayers.

Now, on to the million-dollar question. I believe that we should let them build a mosque wherever they want.

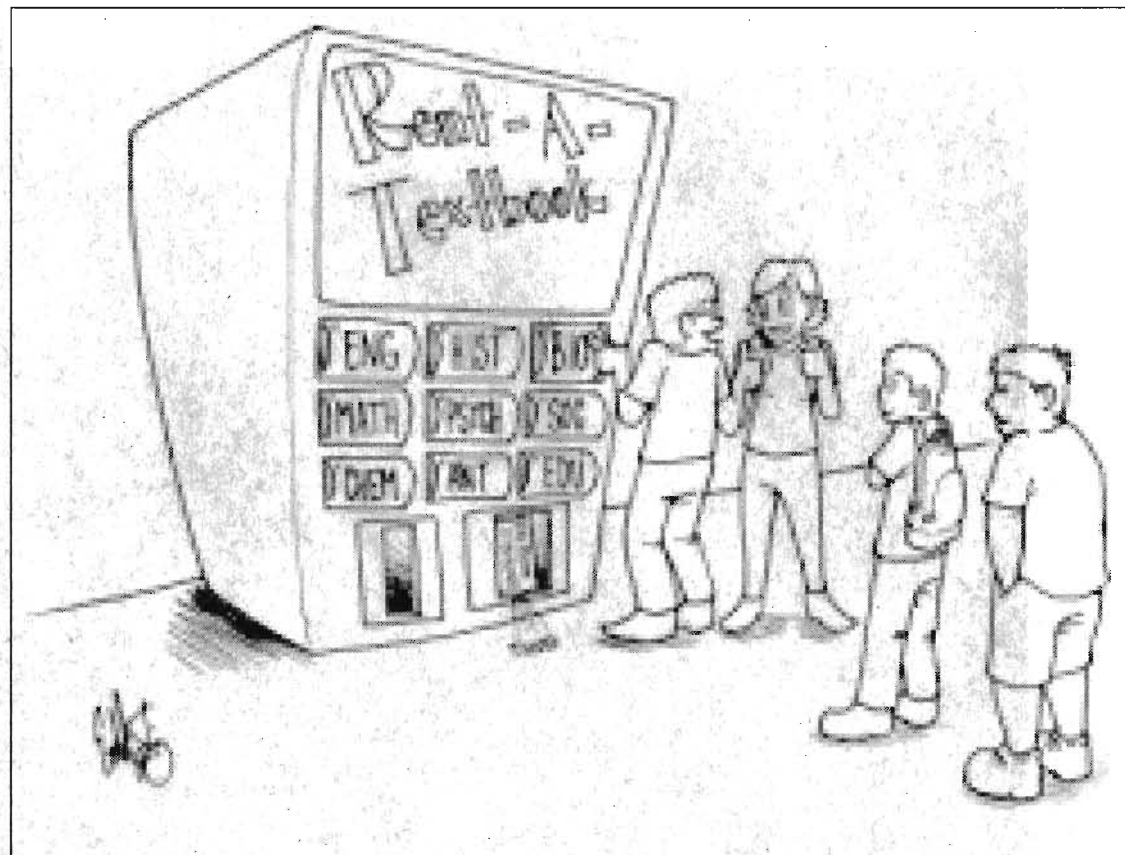

I'm sorry FOX News. I thought the First Amendment gave us the right to freedom of religion and assembly. Seems pretty cut and dry to me.

If I wanted to start a satanic church (which I don't) in Jacksonville, then my interpretation of the Bill of Rights says that I can do so.

However, my opponents like to group all Muslims into the jihad terrorist category (FYI: jihad translates as struggle not "holy war"). They want us to believe that by building this community center, we will be constructing a New York City-based terrorist command center.

What about the other thousands of mosques in America? Are they breeding grounds too? A better question is why are these people painted in such a negative light?

I could spend all day detailing the ins and outs of Islam, but I am late for a dentist appointment. I simply want to clarify that the idea of jihad towards non-believers does not come literally from the Qur'an, but from Hassan Al-Banna's teaching. Ehad

UWIRE

CHICKEN SCRATCH

Chicken Scratch is back. This column is a tool for you to express your feelings about any topic that comes to mind.

The bookstore on Mountain across from the stadium is cheaper, friendlier, and will take a post-dated check until student loans come in! Thanks.

Remember children if you're a bad terrorist, they'll send Agent Flowers after you, and you really don't want that.

THIS IS SPARTA! THIS IS SPARTA! THIS IS SPARTA! Sorry, I was listening to music.

Did anyone else hear about

Chaney, or as he is known in Japan (Wario) as the presidential candidate for 2012.

Super Villain Quote of the Week: "That's what you get for calling Tech Support (evil laugh)."

I love you Spencer!

LET JUSTICE BE SERVED!
 SJC REMOVE THE ABUSER
 TIM LONG FROM OFFICE!!!!!!

What the bleep, bleep, bleep is Lady Gaga wearing?

Yeaah! Chicken scratch is back!!! Been looking forward to it all summer! I have no life...

I'd love to see an article on the Mimosa (if it's still being done; why it's been stopped?; if anyone is trying to restart it)

Please submit your scratches online by clicking on the submit button in the first column of our web page. The editors reserved the right to pull any items considered offensive or demeaning to any individual or institution.

(ANY VIEWS OR OPIN-

What about the other thousands of mosques in America? Are they breeding grounds too? A better question is why are these people painted in such a negative light?

I could spend all day detailing the ins and outs of Islam, but I am late for a dentist appointment. I simply want to clarify that the idea of jihad towards non-believers does not come literally from the Qur'an, but from Hasan Al-Banna's treatise, Jihad.

In fact, a narrative in the Qur'an says that suicide automatically makes a person go to Hell. Yes, it is true that that the people we classify as terrorists are Muslim, but not all Muslims are terrorists. These jihadists have interpreted verses to suit their agenda, just as many parts of the Bible can be interpreted in the same manner. Therefore, why should we condemn the group as a whole?

Lastly, I want to address America. Most of us cannot understand why these terrorists hate us so much. Our country is a world power that influences every part of the planet with its foreign policies. Sometimes our actions are seen as over stepping our boundaries, such as with the unconditional support of Israel and the invasion and occupation of Iraq and Afghanistan. These are just two examples foreign policies that fuel Islamic terror. We have to understand that Islam is a very conservative religion, and it has its struggles adapting to modern day societies.

We cannot just watch FOX News or CNN and blindly believe everything that we are told. FOX News won't even tell us that their second largest shareholder has given money to the Imam in charge of the NYC community center project. We have to do our own research and not just be mindless Glenn Beck drones.

You can e-mail Thad at thad.burton@gmail.com.

you really don't want that.

THIS IS SPARTA! THIS IS SPARTA!
SPARTA! THIS IS SPARTA!
Sorry, I was listening to music.

Did anyone else hear about the new dorms? It would seem as though the construction manager really dropped the ball. Good thing I commute.

Wesley Foundation Rocks!!
Come out every Thursday at 7 p.m. for free food and worship.

I here by endorse Dick

What the bleep, bleep, bleep is Lady Gaga wearing?

Yeaaaah! Chicken scratch is back!!! Been looking forward to it all summer! I have no life...

Two miracle finishes in two weeks. Ivory may be starting the season slow, but he has showed "the goods" when he needs too.

Ey Girl Can, I Get Cho Numba

Math is cool!

(ANY VIEWS OR OPINIONS EXPRESSED IN THE OPINION SECTION OF THE CHANTICLEER ARE THOSE OF THE INDIVIDUALS WRITING AND DO NOT NECESSARILY REPRESENT THE VIEWS OR OPINIONS OF THE CHANTICLEER, WLJS, OR JACKSONVILLE STATE UNIVERSITY OR ANY OF IT'S AFFILIATES OR EMPLOYEES.)

FROM THE CHANTICLEER EDITOR

You all have probably been wondering who's running The Chanticleer office? Well, my name is Bill Boykins and for the past two months, my staff and I have been working very hard to bring to the students, faculty and staff of Jacksonville State University, as well as the community, a new and improved product. We're still a work in progress, but from the response we've received, you all are liking what you see. WE HAVE A STAFF MEETING EVERY TUESDAY AT 6 P.M. ALL OF YOU WHO HAVE EXPRESS AN INTEREST TO WORK WITH US ARE ENCOURAGED TO ATTEND. You can e-mail me at bboykins.chantyleditor@gmail.com.

THE CHANTICLEER

The Student newspaper of Jacksonville State University since 1934

Room 180 Self Hall, Jacksonville State University
Jacksonville, AL 36265

THE CHANTICLEER STAFF

Bill Boykins: Editor: bboykins.chantyleditor@gmail.com

Kevin Brant: Associate editor: kbrant.assoc.editor@gmail.com

MJ Ortiz: News Editor: mjnewsed@gmail.com

Matthew Tyson: Online Editor: chantywebonline@gmail.com

Advertising: www.chantyps1@gmail.com

CONTACT US

<http://www.thechanticleeronline.com>
Editor-in-chief: 782-5701
News Desk: 782-8192
Online Desk: 782-8521

Sports Desk: 782-5703
Advertising: 782-8191
News fax: 782-5932

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR POLICY:

The Chanticleer welcomes letters to the editor. Letters for publication must be limited to 300 words and must be typed. Letters may be hand-delivered or sent through campus mail to our offices in Room 180, Self Hall, or to the mailing address. Letters may also be e-mailed to chantyleditor1@gmail.com.

The Chanticleer will not print letters which are libelous or defamatory.

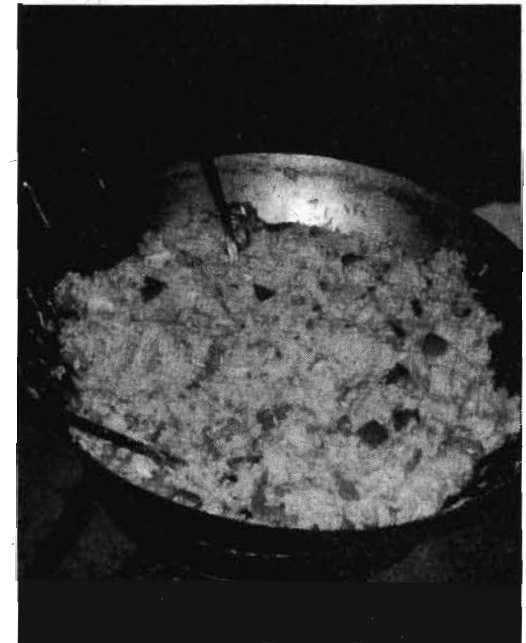

Letters may be edited for style, brevity or clarity. The Chanticleer reserves the right to refuse publication of any submission. Letters must be received by noon on the Monday before the desired publication date.

There will be at least two weeks between publication of letters from the same person. Rebuttals will be published no later than two weeks after publication of the article, editorial or letter in question.

Entertainment

NEWS ABOUT ART, MOVIES AND MOVIES AND MORE

Crowds dance to Latin music and feasted on Latin cuisine during the Latin Dance Party hosted by the International Student Organization at JSU's Alumni House recently.
Photo: Kyle Nguyen

IT'S A LATIN PARTY!

Annual events draws crowd for food, fun and dance

By FRAN POPOVIC
Features Editor

As September rolls around, so does the annual Latin Dance Party at JSU, drawing upon the spirit of the Hispanic Heritage month celebrating the culture of all South and Central American nations.

The International Student Organization (ISO) took charge of planning, organizing and set up for the party.

The event traditionally took place at set up. The team, with a few volunteers helped with the cooking," Gonzalez said.

The Student Government Association co-hosted the event by providing drinks.

As opposed to last year, the ISO and the SGA worked well together. Last year, the ISO criticized the SGA for its lack of interest in the event.

"This year's party was better than the previous one I think," Gonzalez said.

In the spirit of Latin culture, colorful decorations lined the Alumni House it a try at first, but the more experienced dancers eased them into it during the course of the night.

Free Latin food was one of the most luring aspects of the party, so naturally, a lot of work went into it.

"For food we had fajitas and arroz con pollo accompanied by nachos. It took a while to prepare it even with the help of Dr. Ketterer and the other volunteers," Gonzalez said.

"We danced some salsa, merengue, reggaeton, and we even taught some month celebrating the culture of all South and Central American nations.

The International Student Organization (ISO) took charge of planning, organizing and set up for the party.

The event traditionally, took place at the JSU Alumni House on Wednesday, September 22 at 7 p.m.

ISO members began early preparations to make the event as memorable as it has been in previous years.

ISO President Cami Gonzalez said that a team of volunteers coordinated the entire event from the theme down to the food.

"ISO team members took charge of the decorations and cooking, as well as the the ISO criticized the SGA for its lack of interest in the event.

"This year's party was better than the previous one I think," Gonzalez said.

In the spirit of Latin culture, colorful decorations lined the Alumni House. Balloons, lights and flags of Hispanic countries gave the place that uplifting and cheerful feeling, accompanied by the lively sounds of Latin music.

"We danced some salsa, merengue, reggaeton, and we even taught some people how to dance to the Latin rhythm," Gonzalez said.

Many guests were new to the moves of Latin music so they were reluctant to give

"For food we had fajitas and arroz con pollo accompanied by nachos. It took a while to prepare it even with the help of Dr. Ketterer and the other volunteers," Gonzalez said.

Kyle Nguyen, a member of the JSU International House, took the pictures showing the Latin Dance party at its finest moments.

"It was a lot of fun, we had Mexican food and we danced all night," Nguyen said.

Gonzalez adds: "I kind off expected more people to come, but the party turned out good," he said.

reggaeton, and we even taught some people how to dance to the Latin rhythm."

— Cami Gonzalez, president
International Student Organization

Halo Reach takes on gamers

By IAN HOPKINS
UWIRE

It may be a little early to make a prediction, but "Halo: Reach" may be 2010's "Game of the Year."

Quite simply put, "Reach" is easily the best and most polished "Halo" game to date.

Bungie did an exceptional job fine-tuning the "Halo" series' game play for their final "Halo" game. This game feels like a brand new "Halo" game, yet it has a nostalgic feeling that everyone who played the previous "Halo" games will recognize.

Plus, I have only been able to find one actual problem with "Reach" — when the action gets heated and lots of things are going on around you, there are frame rate slowdowns.

The graphics are almost perfect in "Reach." All of the textures look detailed and Bungie put effort into the smallest parts of the game.

For example, in the opening cut scene your custom created Spartan is used to make you feel like you are Noble 6 and an integral part of the story.

All of the guns, characters and vehicles look vibrant and are flawlessly modeled. Just look at the sniper rifle's scope, it is a piece of eye-candy that you can look at and see the world of "Reach" in an entirely new and technological light.

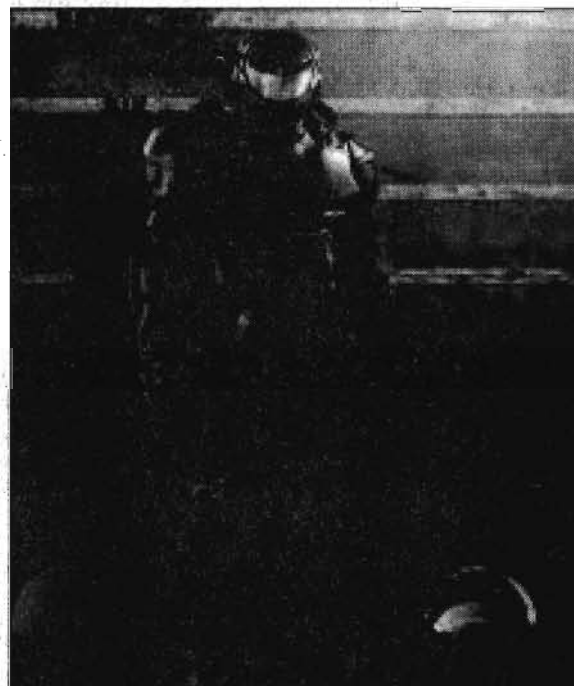

As I previously mentioned, the only bad thing about the graphics are the occasional slowdowns during intense game play moments.

"Reach" has a soundtrack that was expertly composed, and all of the music and sound effects fit perfectly.

Every explosion, music change and gunshot intensifies the experience. The audio to "Reach" is tailored perfectly to each experience in every moment of the game, and the transition from intense battle to the aftermath is barely noticeable.

This "Halo" game has essentially the same control scheme that made the franchise so easy to pick up and play when it first came out.

Everything just works and the variations on the control schemes Bungie included in the game let each player finely tune the button combinations to fit what works best for each individual player.

Halo Reach makes waves.

"Halo: Reach" has a new twist to the familiar "Halo" game play. It's difficult to determine everything that Bungie changed for "Reach" because many of the adjustments were minor.

But even the smallest changes that were made add up to a superior gaming experience. "Reach" builds upon the previous "Halo" experience perfectly, and probably my favorite addition to the game play — the campaign specifically — is the wild creatures that inhabit the world of "Reach."

Ian Hopkins is a writer for the Rocky Mountain Collegian. Read more here: http://www.collegian.com/index.php/article/2010/09/091710\_videogame

Copyright 2010 Rocky Mountain Collegian

MOVIE REVIEW

"BURIED"

For the first few minutes of the new film "Buried," we see nothing but a black screen and hear nothing but the screams of truck driver Paul Conroy (Ryan Reynolds), as we, along with our protagonist, realize that he has been buried alive in a coffin somewhere in the deserts of Iraq.

Though the problem of a light-source is soon fixed (Conroy thankfully finds a Zippo lighter), the entirety of the film is this one man trapped in a box, trying desperately to escape it.

Claustrophobia and fear of isolation are painfully present in the movie, but it doesn't steer the film. Instead, it is Reynold's Conroy that captivates us from start to finish.

This film is an unorthodox one man show, focused on Conroy as he struggles to both survive in and escape the box.

So, if you're not plagued with claustrophobia then your preconceived fear of "Buried" is likely that the movie is boring. It is, after all, 90-odd minutes of footage of a man trapped in a coffin.

However, when matched with Reynold's charisma and wit — who else could deliver sarcasm in a coffin?

Essentially, "Buried," due to fine film-making on the levels of script, performance and production, is a captivating story that transcends the gimmick that could just as easily put it to rest and the horror genre that could have limited it like the four tight walls of a casket.

— By Maggie Owens
Daily Californian, U. California-Berkeley
via UWIRE

TV REVIEW

"HAWAII FIVE-O"

From UWIRE

There are many police shows on television, and Hawaii Five-O has just put its foot in the door. What sets this series apart from the rest, however, is that Hollywood has come to us. "It's such a well balanced show. It's got character, crime, and comedy. It's got great action. The main character of this show, no other cop show has. And that is Hawai'i," proclaimed Alex O'Loughlin, who plays the leading role as Steve McGarrett.

At the red carpet premiere of Hawaii Five-O last Monday in Waikiki, the cast introduced themselves to thousands of screaming fans.

The actors include Alex O'Loughlin, Grace Park, Scott Caan and Daniel Dae Kim. Alex O'Loughlin's character, McGarrett, returns to Hawai'i to hunt down the man who murdered his dad.

Grace Park plays a tomboy rookie cop named Kono, who in the original series was actually played by a big tough guy named Zulu. Scott Caan is "Danno", the fish out of water who moved to Hawai'i to get closer to his daughter. Daniel Dae Kim rocks as an ex-cop with great cheekbones, ready to bust a move.

The original Hawaii Five-O brought publicity, jobs and a bit of Hollywood to the islands for 12 seasons.

DOUBT BEGINS DRAMA DEPT. SEASON

From Page 1

really plays no part."

McCain says that she first felt it was most important to point out the power struggle between Father Flynn and Sister Aloysius, and what someone will do to keep their power. However, as time has progressed, McCain says it's going from a power struggle to a story of survival.

McCain says it's very important and powerful for her actors to create whole human beings within the characters.

"It's actually very prevalent," McCain said. "There will be at least one character that everyone can identify with.

The actors are taking longer strides to really grasp who they are as a character as well.

Caleb Clark, who is portraying Father Flynn, says that his character is very revolutionary.

"He's comes into the church and school with new ideas," Clark said. "He's an island."

Clark has approached his process in many different ways. He has gone to mass and observed the priest and even spoke with him.

"A lot of my process also dealt with watching people, especially passionate people," Clark said. "I watched how people reacted when something they love is questioned and when their world gets shaken up."

Heather Olsen is playing the role of Sister Aloysius. Olsen has also gone to great lengths to develop her character.

"I approached Sister Aloysius very cautiously," Olsen said. "Most people would see her as a block of ice. I saw her as human and chose to add humanity to the role."

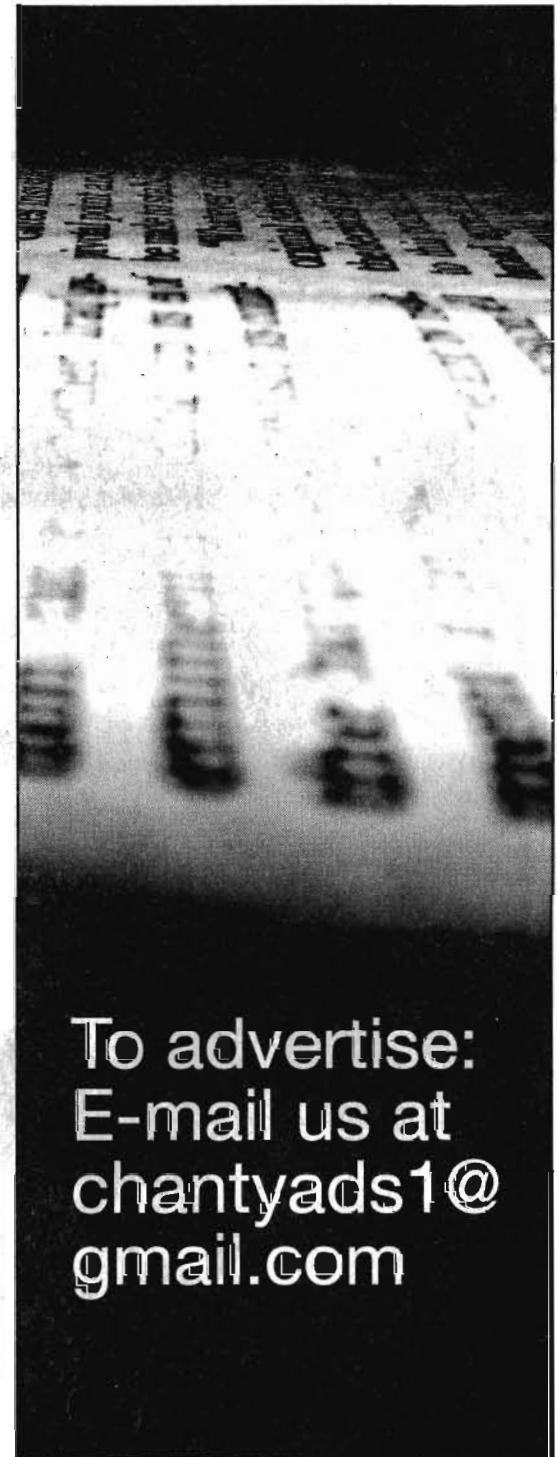

Olsen's process also includes attending mass to observe real nuns and even working on moving slower and lowering her voice to add age to her character.

McCain, Clark, and Olsen all believe that this show has so much more to offer than people expect. Each of them has stated that they don't think that the playwright realizes how good of a show he wrote.

"I don't think anyone has ever taken the play this far," Clark said.

"I have high expectations of the cast," Olsen said. "But I have even higher expectations of the audience. I hope they come with a blank slate and leave blown away by the humanity given."

"Doubt" starts Oct. 7, 8, 9 at 7 p.m. and Oct. 10 at 2 p.m. For reservations and information, call 256-782-5648.

To advertise:
E-mail us at chantyads1@
gmail.com

Help us inform and entertain our readers.

And have a little fun too.

Join The Chanticleer.

E-mail: bboykins.chantyeditor@gmail.com.

For news events:

E-mail us at chantynewstips1@gmail.com

Sports

JACKSONVILLE STATE VS. MURRY STATE AT 6 P.M.
PRE-GAME SHOW AT 5:30 P.M. ON THE JSU RADIO NETWORK

Jamal Young rushed for 162 yards and three touchdowns vs Eastern Illinois. Photo courtesy Jacksonville State University Sports Information Desk

JSU wins four in a row with victory over EIU

College football upsets are hard to predict

By AUSTIN FAULKNER
Sports Writer

When my brother first suggested picking Air Force to upset seventh-ranked Oklahoma as my "Jacksonville State Upset of the Week," I thought he was crazy. Needless to say I looked into it, and the more I looked at the stats and stories surrounding the game, the more I believed that the Falcons could pull it off.

All the pieces were in place for an upset that would shake up the polls. The Sooners had just come off a blowout win over Florida State, setting them up to be hung-over after a big win. They would also be changing defenses for the game, their third defensive scheme in as many weeks, to prepare for the Falcon's unique variation of the Triple-Option. All that was needed was a score that favored Air Force and the theoretical upset would be complete.

Unfortunately, the host of the Kevin James Show, Kevin James, is a die-hard Sooners fan. Even worse was his reaction to my pick. Before we began

with victory over EIU

From JSU Sport Information Desk

CHARLESTON, Ill. – Senior Jamal Young rushed for a career-high 162 yards and three touchdowns to lead No. 4 Jacksonville State to a 28-23 Ohio Valley Conference win over Eastern Illinois on Saturday.

Jax State, 4-0 for the first time since 2004, extended its winning streak to eight straight games, dating back to the final four wins of 2009. It was also the Gamecocks eighth straight road win, which is the longest FCS road winning streak in the country.

The Gamecocks rolled up 392 yards of total offense as Marques Ivory finished the game 14-for-22 for 122 yards through the air. John Houston Whiddon had 38 yards on three catches to lead the receivers for the third straight game.

The Panthers took the lead midway through the first quarter after intercepting a Gamecock pass on the 18 yard line and Cameron Berra kicked a 22-yard field goal with 6:33 left in the first quarter.

Eastern Illinois extended the lead on its next possession after Jimmy Potempa scored on a 14-yard run up the middle. The Panthers missed the extra point, but held a 9-0 lead with 2:23 left in the first quarter.

The Gamecocks answered by going 81 yards in 14 plays and Young scored his first touchdown on a one-yard run. James Esco kicked the point after to cut the lead to 9-7 with 10:38 left in the second quarter.

Jax State took the lead with 2:35 left in the first half after Young raced 76 yards for his second touchdown of the quarter. Esco added the point after to give the Gamecocks a 14-9 lead.

JSU's Keginald Harris then intercepted an EIU pass and returned it to the Panther 8-yard line. Two plays later, Young scored on a 5-yard run and Esco added the point after to give Jax State a 21-9 lead at the half.

Jax State tacked on another touchdown midway through the fourth quarter after Alphonso Freeney scored on a nine-yard run with 6:28 left. The touchdown was setup by an interception by Robert Gray, who returned it to the Panthers 18-yard line.

The Panthers cut the lead to 28-17 with 5:13 left after Potempa scored on a 7-yard run and Lorence Ricks caught the 2-point conversion.

EIU then recovered the onside kick and drove down to the Gamecock 25-yard line, but Brooks Robinson intercepted the Panther pass at the two-yard line to seal the win for the Gamecocks.

Antonio Bonner led the Gamecock defense with six tackles and two for loss, while A.J. Davis, Jawaan Booker, Rodney Garrott and Marquis George each had five tackles.

Jacksonville State returns to action next Saturday against Murray State. Kickoff is set for 6 p.m. at Burgess-Snow Field at JSU Stadium and all fans are encouraged to wear Red in JSU's annual Red Out game.

GAME NOTES

■ Jamal Young finished the game with 162 rushing yards, which was a career-high for the senior from Jackson, Miss. He became the first JSU player to rush for 100 yards since Ryan Perrilloux had 115 yards on 9 carries vs Eastern Kentucky on Nov. 21, 2009. He also became the first player to rush for 150 yards since Clay Green (22-163) at Chattanooga on Nov. 4, 2006.

■ Keginald Harris recorded his third interception of the season during the second quarter. His three INT's this season is tops in the OVC.

■ Jax State is now 4-0 on the season for the first time since 2004....That season, the Gamecocks topped Emporia State, Chattanooga, Eastern Kentucky and Murray State.

GAMECOCKS RANKED FOURTH IN SPORTS NETWORK POLL

(Sept. 20, 2010)

1. Villanova (87) 2-1	3,392
2. Appalachian State (22) 3-0	3,290
3. James Madison (25) 2-0	3,165
4. Jacksonville State (5) 3-0	3,011
5. Richmond 1-1	2,835
6. Stephen F. Austin 2-1	2,639
7. Delaware Blue 3-0	2,466
8. William & Mary 2-1	2,283
9. Eastern Washington 2-1	1,977
10. Elon 1-2	1,896

Harkins named OVC Volleyball defensive player of week

BRENTWOOD, Tenn. – Jacksonville State junior Lauren Harkins has been named the Ohio Valley Conference's Volleyball Defensive Player of the Week for her efforts in guiding the Gamecocks to a pair of key OVC wins over the weekend.

Harkins, a 5-foot-7 libero from Louisville, Ky., averaged 5.1 digs per set over a weekend that saw the Gamecocks (8-7, 3-1 OVC) earn hard-fought wins over Tennessee State and Austin Peay. JSU had to rally from behind and needed five sets in both matches, extending the Gamecocks' win streak in five-set matches to 14, while extending their win streak at Pete Mathews Coliseum to 15 matches.

Harkins and the Gamecocks return to the court on Friday, when they take on Murray State in Murray, Ky., before facing UT Martin in Martin, Tenn., on Saturday.

From JSU Sport Information Desk

Lauren Harkins was named OVC Defensive Player of the Week. Harkins averaged 5.1 digs per set. Photo courtesy JSU Sports Information Desk theoretical upset would be complete.

Unfortunately, the host of the Kevin James Show, Kevin James, is a die-hard Sooners fan. Even worse was his reaction to my pick. Before we began the interview, Kevin asked me for my upset so as not to talk about it before the designated time. When he heard I was picking the lowly Air Force Falcons to beat his beloved Sooners, he held back a laugh. He could not believe what he was hearing, and for a moment neither could I.

Before I could get the confidence in my pick back, however, the segment started and we took off. I was then asked to pick who I believed would win several games including: Texas vs. Texas Tech, TCU vs. Baylor, Nebraska vs. Washington, UCLA vs. Houston, USC vs. Minnesota and Arizona vs. Iowa. Then I was asked about JSU's upcoming bout with Georgia State. I gave a brief overview and gave my pick of this game as well.

Finally the time came for my upset pick. I gathered my notes, took a deep breath and gave the briefest, most thorough statistical break-down of a game in my young career. He still didn't sound convinced, but he sounded a little less confident after hearing my thoughts on the matter backed up by cold hard facts.

Unfortunately, my upset did not happen. The Falcons were three points away from tying, but fell short. This brings my upset record to 0-2. My overall record (including upset picks) however, is a solid 9-3. I hope to continue to predict games accurately, but I will gladly sacrifice a couple of future wins for a few upsets in the win column.

Here is the link for this week's segment for those who are interested: <http://townhall.com/TalkRadio/Show.aspx?RadioShowID=34&ContentGuid=2e714712-d371-419a-ba40-f019d94bf0df>