JSU History Professor Launches New Book

Courtesy of Dr. George M. Lauderbaugh

Dr. George M. Lauderbaugh poses with his new book that focuses on Ecuador and the United States from 1830-1946.

Dr. George M. Lauderbaugh, Associate Professor of History at Jacksonville State, was recently invited to the launch of his new book, The United States and Ecuador: Conflict and Convergence, 1830-1946 at the Ecuadorian Academy of History in Quito Ecuador.

The reception was hosted by the Corporation for the Development of University Education the publisher of the book in its Spanish edition, Los Estados Unidos y Ecuador: Conflicto y Convergencia, 1830-1946.

The book was introduced by Mr. Timothy Zúñiga-Brown the acting head of the US Embassy in Ecuador (the ambassador's position is currently vacant). Dr. Carlos Espinosa of the School of Latin American Social Sciences -Ecuador provided an historical analysis of the book.

Dr. Espinosa related that Lauderbaugh's book was thoroughly researched, balanced, well organized, and easy to read. In addition Espinosa found that book covered new ground due to the research done in military archives that had been previously untapped. Dr. John Sanbrailo, the Executive Director of the Pan-American Development Foundation and the former Director of USAID- Ecuador also commented on the books value to providing an objective account of US -Ecuadorian relations.

After the formal presentation Lauderbaugh was honored at a reception kindness during my exchange," said Lauderbaugh. "When I retired from the Air Force and entered graduate school at the University of Alabama I decided to write my dissertation on a period of US- Ecuadorian relations. I was especially honored to have my host mother from 1962, Fina Durini de Paz, attend the presentation and I dedi-attended by Ecuadorian and American scholars, US Embassy Personnel, and many friends including recent JSU graduate Estefanía Bohorquez and her family.

In his speech to the academy Lauderbaugh related that his book really had its beginnings in 1962 when he was an exchange student in Quito.

"I fell in love with the country and especially the people of Ecuador who treated me with such ated the book in her honor and in memory of her husband, Alejandro Paz Maldonado."

"My wife, Sue, and I also hosted Ecuadorian Air Force officers when they attended the Air War College at Maxwell AFB in Montgomery and they returned the favor by hosting us during numerous trips to Ecuador and it was an honor to have two of the officers attend the presentation," he continued.

"I hope the book contributes to a clearer understanding of the mostly friendly relations that the United States and Ecuador have experienced over the years."

JSU Deploys Connect-ED Emergency Notification Service

JSU announces the immediate deployment of the Connect-ED communication service for use as the official Emergency Notification System of the university. This multi-modal service will help JSU officials quickly notify students, faculty, and staff in the event of severe weather or a campus emergency.

The JSU Emergency Alert System phone number reflected on your caller I.D. will be (256) 782-8558. Please program this number into your phone so you will immediately recognize it as an alert from the JSU Police Department.

In addition to the traditional communication modalities of voice and text message, Connect-Ed supports notification via social media and RSS. If you miss a call from the JSU Alert number (256-782-8558), you have additional options for receiving emergency-related information.

Visit the RSS feed at <http://rss.blackboard-connect.com/181884/JSUAlerts/feed.xml>

Messages sent through the Emergency Notification System will automatically post to JSU's official Facebook page and Twitter account.

The process by which users sign up to receive emergency notification from the University remains the same. If you had previously supplied the University with a phone number that you wish to be contacted at in the event of an emergency, your preferences will remain the same. If you wish to be notified in the event of a campus emergency or would like to change the number at which you receive notifications, please follow these steps:

- Log on to MyJSU (<http://my.jsu.edu/>)
- Click on Contact Information

- Click on the Cell Phone link under the Mailing section
- Enter today's date in the Valid From This Date field
- Scroll down to Phone Type
- Click on the drop down list and choose Cell Phone (Even though you must choose cell phone, any number can be put here; i.e. home, work, cell.)
- Enter the phone number at which you would like to be contacted during an emergency.
- Click Submit

If you provided the number for a phone that is SMS-enabled, you will be automatically subscribed to text messages. Anytime your personal information changes please be sure to update the information in your MyJSU account.

For more information about Connect-ED, please contact the UPD at 256-782-5050 or the Connect-ED administrator, Kerri Reese, at kdreese@jsu.edu.

Calhoun County Civic Chorale Presents Winter Concert on Dec. 4

On Sunday, December 4, 2011 at 3:00 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church in Anniston, the Calhoun County Civic Chorale will be performing its winter concert. The featured work on the program will be John Rutter's Magnificat, as well as other seasonal music.

The Chorale is under the direction of Dr. Patricia Corbin, Jacksonville State University Director of Choral Activities and is accompanied by Vicki Brock, who is also the organist at Parker Memorial Baptist in Anniston. The Chorale membership includes singers from the community as well as JSU faculty and students. Anne Kerr (Anniston), Patricia Kirkland (Anniston) and Kaylon Gillye (Piedmont), will be featured soloists.

Rutter's Magnificat is a setting of one of the three evangelical canticles found in the first two chapters of the Gospel of St. Luke and will be performed in English. Also on the program is music by Eric Whitacre, Craig Courtney, and Alabama composer, K. Lee Scott.

The Chorale is one of five choral ensembles offered by the David L. Walters Department of Music at Jacksonville State University.

The concert is free and open to the public. For further information, please contact Dr. Corbin (256) 782-5544, pcorbin@jsu.edu.

Delta Zeta Host First Ever Sing and Sign

By COURTNEY RAY
NEWS WRITER

On Wednesday, November 16th, Delta Zeta's hosted its first ever Sing and Sign at Leon Cole Auditorium. Delta Zeta's official philanthropy is the support of national organizations and local projects designated for speech and hearing assistance, such as Gallaudet University, the House Ear Institute and the Better Hearing Institute.

To keep in line with this philanthropy of speech and hearing, the presentation consisted of seven groups from around campus performing popular songs of today using dance and sign language. The groups competed to win a $100 gift card from Wal-Mart, while the proceeds raised from admission went to benefitting Delta Zeta's cause. Admission was $3.

There were three judges presiding over the competition: Whit McGee, an admissions counselor here at JSU; Scott Johnson, a senior and music major who conducted the musicals Hairspray and Ragtime; and Tressie Britton, the owner of Get Personalized on the Square. The competition began with Phi Mu Alpha's rendition of "I'm Yours" by Jason Mraz, followed by Katy Perry's "Hot and Cold" by Alpha Omicron Pi (AOPi). Phi Mu came next, passionately singing TLC's "No Scrubs". The JSU Ambassadors cracked me up with their version of "The Creep" by The Lonely Island, and they were followed by Zeta Tau Alpha singing "Goodbye Earl" by the Dixie Chicks. Alpha Xi Delta came next with Cee Lo Green's "Forget You". Pi Kappa Phi finished up with TI's "Whatever You Like."

While the judges deliberated, the emcees for the evening handed out door prizes, and the entire audience was invited onstage to participate in the Cupid Shuffle. The JSU Ambassadors took third place, AOPi came in second, and Zeta Tau Alpha came out on top as the winners of the gift card.

Restaurant Review: Wake and Bake Pizza and Coffee Company

By COURTNEY RAY
NEWS WRITER

So here's the skinny - I love pizza (who doesn't, right?), and I love all kinds of it. I also love a fun, friendly atmosphere in which to eat my pizza. That being the case, I was excited to review Jacksonville's new pizza/coffee/cookie joint, Wake and Bake Pizza and Coffee Company. Located beside the police department on The Square in Jacksonville, Wake and Bake is quickly becoming one of my new favorite places to get my pizza fix. I've eaten there twice now, and I can honestly say that I was pleased with my experience each time. Wake and Bake was started by two former JSU students "trying to give Jacksonville what we wish we had." And boy, have they done it.

Wake and Bake has all kinds of crazy pizzas, from The Dirty Hippy to Foghorn's Revenge to Dog the Bounty Hunter. They also have calzones, coffee, wings, and desserts. I was overwhelmed by the amount of choices. But as I was standing there trying to decide what to get, a friendly patron put my mind at ease with a reassuring "it's all good," and I ordered without hesitation. I got a sausage and pepperoni calzone my first time there and a pizza the next, and both were scrumptious. The crust is especially savory, so don't let those pizza bones go to waste.

Of course, the one question on every poor college kid's mind is "how much does it cost?" Well let me tell you, friends, not only is the food delicious, it's also affordable. Plus, the service is great and the people seem genuinely fun to be around. Need another reason to check it out? On Thursday through Saturday, the good folks at Wake and Bake deliver until 3 am! You'd have to be crazy not to take advantage of that -- just be sure to tip your driver! They deliver throughout the rest of the week too, of course: Monday through Wednesday until 1 am, and until 12 am on Sunday. Wake and Bake opens at 11 Monday through Saturday and at 12 on Sundays.

Be sure to check out Wake and Bake Pizza and Coffee Company on Facebook too. They'll often post specials you'll only know about if you're keeping watch.

Junior Tarvin Gaines scored 30 points and pulled down 11 rebounds on Saturday.

JSU Men's Basketball take care of Bama State

By DANIEL PORTER
SPORTS WRITER

Last Friday night the Gamecock men's basketball team hosted the Hornets of Alabama State. The in-state rivalry had gone 14 years since the last meeting between the two schools which was an overtime thriller in 1997 that finished with JSU taking a two point win.

The Gamecocks entered at 1-2 while the Hornets at 0-3 were still searching for their first 'W'. Both teams were a part of the Global Sports Challenge, a five team tournament, which saw both teams take losses from Marshall and No. 20 Cincinnati.

The first half opened with Stephen Hall scoring the first four points of the game giving JSU an early 4-0 lead. Tarvin Gaines took control from there hitting a few shots, and for the most part led the Gamecocks the rest of the game. Alabama State kept it close but only by knocking down the outside shot.

Besides two layups and three free throws, the Hornets only got first half points by three pointers. With three minutes to go in the half the game was tied at 28, and after an ASU free throw was 28-29 in favor of the Hornets. Jacksonville State went on a 6-0 run to end the half and take a 34-29 lead at the break.

The Hornets shot 7-17 (41.2 percent) from three point range in the first half which kept it close, but only being able to shoot 30 percent from that range in the second limited their chances. The Gamecocks picked up the second half where they ended the first and started a 5-0 run and extended their lead to ten, 39-29, and never looked back. The lead would later grow to fifteen, and never get closer than nine when ASU gave one last push.

The Gamecocks won by a final of 78-65. Dion Walters and Grant White were key members of the bench who helped JSU's bench outscore ASU's by twenty. Still, Junior Tarvin Green was the story of the night as he collected a double-double scoring 30 and grabbing 11 rebounds to help JSU outrebound the Hornets 40-19.

Green is the first JSU player to score 30 or more in two seasons. Coach James Green was pleased by the performance saying, "Tarvin did a really nice job for us tonight in what was a good win for our team."

In renewing the in-state rivalry Jacksonville State took a 6-2 lead in the series. The Gamecocks also evened up their season record at 2-2 and will look to improve as they set out on the road.

The next six ballgames are away for the Gamecocks. They return home for games on December 17 and 19 and hopefully nearby students can take a break from their break and come back to campus to support the team for those two games.

Next the Gamecocks send off Friday to face Northwestern State a team who has also fallen earlier this season to Marshall.

Five Gamecocks Earn All-OVC Football Honors

BRENTWOOD, Tenn. – Jacksonville State placed five players on the Ohio Valley Conference Football All-Conference teams, as selected by the league's coaches and sports information directors.

Washaun Ealey (RB) and Jamison Wadley (DL) were named first-team All-Ohio Valley Conference, while Monte Lewis (DL) and A.J. Davis (DB) both earned second-team All-OVC honors. Freshman Max Holcombe (C) and Ealey were both named to the All-Newcomer team.

Ealey became Jacksonville State's 10th player in school history to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a single-season after rushing for 1,082 yards on 178 carries. The Stillmore, Ga., native averaged 108.2 yards per game and was second on the team with nine touchdowns, including eight rushing touchdowns and one receiving.

Wadley, one of three captains for the Gamecocks, was a second-team selection in 2010. The Attalla, native started all 11 games and had 45 tackles, including a team-high 10 tackles for loss and a team-high four sacks.

Lewis, from Abbeville, started all 11 games for Jax State and finished with 32 tackles, including 28 solo stops. He also finished with seven tackles for loss and added a pair of sacks, a forced fumble and one blocked kick.

Davis finished with 28 tackles on the season, all solo stops, and was second on the team with two interceptions. The former Clay-Chalkville High School product, also had five passes defended, three pass breakups, and one fumble recovery.

Holcombe, a freshman from Hillcrest High School in Tuscaloosa, played 790 plays and graded out at 91 percent on the season. He finished with 56 knockdowns and 13 pancake blocks after starting all 11 games at center for the Gamecocks.

Jacksonville State finished the 2011 season with a 7-4 record, including a 6-2 Ohio Valley Conference mark, and won the school's 18th Conference Championship.

Lady Gamecocks rolls over LeMoyne-Owens College

By JARED SIMPSON
SPORTS WRITER

In the home debut of the Lady Gamecocks, they hosted LeMoyne-Owens College at Pete Matthews Coliseum making it the first meeting between the two teams. Lemoyne-Owens is a NCAA Division two program out of Memphis, Tennessee and they came ready to put the Lady Gamecocks to the test.

The previous week was not very successful for the Lady Gamecocks losing two games to the SEC conference opponents Mississippi State and Kentucky.

In the first half, JSU got off to a fast start as if they were coming out of the blocks on the track. Coach Annette Watts instituted defense as they pressured the Magicians in their backcourt causing turnovers giving themselves easy scores.

"I believe we are going to have a really good team this year," says Coach Watts as she shouted to the crowd in the microphone. They built a double digit lead during the first half with Destiny Lane shooting from long range draining three of her four three pointers before the second half approached.

The red and white were leading 42-33 at halftime and needed to keep the same pace of intensity. LeMoyne was eager to start the second half as they picked up their energy to pressure the lady gamecocks causing 12 second half turnovers. At the 13:06 mark, the 17 point lead built up by JSU was cut to only a 6 point lead leaving the score 56-50.

As time kept ticking, Lady Gamecocks turned up the intensity creating steals and forcing turnovers as they did in the first half. Lane sunk another three pointer with more than six minutes remaining giving them a 13 point lead. She ended her night with 21 clutch points.

Danielle Vaughn also put in hard work to get herself a double double with 27 points and 12 rebounds.

The freshman Briana Morrow helped Vaughn on the block earning her first double double ever with 13 points and 12 rebounds. JSU came out on top of the Magicians 83-67 with a much needed win.

"We appreciate the support of our fans and will we strive to get better everyday," said Coach Watts.

The Thanksgiving Classic is coming up this week and the Lady gamecocks will be preparing for their opponents as they strive for victory.

JSU's James Esco Earns OVC Honor

BRENTWOOD, Tenn. – Jacksonville State's James Esco was named the Ohio Valley Conference Special Teams Player of the Week, the league office announced on Sunday. Esco scored eight points by kicking in Jacksonville State's 38-16 road win over Tennessee State in the season-finale on Saturday.

The Leesburg, Ga., native kicked a 42-yard field goal and also added five extra points to help Jacksonville State claim the school's 18th conference championship. Esco hit his ninth consecutive field goal of the season with 1:23 left in the second quarter to extend JSU's halftime lead to 17-10.

Jacksonville State finished the 2011 season with a 7-4 record and a 6-2 Ohio Valley Conference mark, and moved back into the Top 25 football polls on Sunday at No. 25 in The Sports Network/Fathead.com poll. Jax State has been ranked for 11 weeks during the 2011 season.
