THE SOUTHERN PUBLIC MESSAGERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN:

I read with interest the article you published in your issue of December 14, 1877, regarding the Southern Public Messengers. As a subscriber to your newspaper, I appreciate the efforts you have made to inform the public about the activities of these messengers. However, I must express my concern about the accuracy of some of the information presented.

In your article, you mention that the Southern Public Messengers were responsible for delivering mail to rural areas. While this is true, it is important to note that the Southern Public Messengers also played a crucial role in communicating news and information during the Reconstruction era. Their work was essential in maintaining a sense of community and uniting the Southern states.

I also believe that it is important to recognize the role of women in the Southern Public Messengers. Women were not only involved in the physical work of delivering mail, but they also played a significant role in keeping the public informed about important issues of the day. Their contributions should not be overlooked.

In conclusion, I urge you to continue to provide accurate and comprehensive information about the Southern Public Messengers in your future articles. Their contributions to society during a challenging time in our history are invaluable.

Sincerely,

SUM OF HUMAN HAPPINESS

Comes to him who dares to live over again, or to live daily afresh... To possess the first yet our youngest days—has given them some joy. It is a thing of life; it is the means of giving birth to joy. It is the joy of the home and the house. It is the joy of man and woman. It is the joy of the child and the child's child. It is the joy of the family and the family's family. It is the joy of the nation and the nation's nation. It is the joy of the world and the world's world. It is the joy of the universe and the universe's universe. It is the joy of life and the life of joy. It is the joy of living and the living of joy.

MEG HUNDY'S BILL

The Bill to establish a state bank, passed by the House of Representatives and the Senate, was signed by the Governor on Tuesday. The capital of the bank is $5,000,000. It is authorized to issue notes up to that amount. The Bill also provides for the appointment of a Board of Directors, consisting of five members, who are to be elected by the Legislature.

THE CONSPIRACY

When the banks stopped paying last Thursday, the newspapers of the city increased their circulation to meet the demand. The financial panic, which began on Wednesday, continued to spread throughout the country. The banks, however, continued to pay as usual.

THE PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS a continued and increasing feeling being excited and disturbed by the outbreak of civil war in Canada, and the departure of many citizens from the United States, it is deemed advisable that steps be taken to prevent any further influx of emigrants to Canada, and to discourage all emigration from the United States, and to put an end to the spread of such feelings,
