We have always believed the true question before the people to be a National Bank vs. private banks. Entering these views we are in favor of the former. We believe the Federal Reserve System of banking to be the best and most efficient system that has ever been put in operation. We believe that the Federal Reserve System is the best and most efficient, inasmuch as it is the only system of banking that can be called a national system. We believe that the Federal Reserve System is the best and most efficient, inasmuch as it is the only system of banking that can be called a national system. A NATIONAL BANK NOT THE BANE OF A HEALTHY STATE.

Some writers of recent years have depicted the National Bank as a menace to the free action of the people, and have brought it into readiness as a weapon for the destruction of liberty. The State of South Carolina, for example, has made a law that provides for the abolition of the National Banks, and has established a system of State banks, calling them "commerical banks." These banks are the only ones that have been established in the State, and the only ones that are allowed to carry on business. The State, in fact, has taken upon itself to regulate the business of the banks, and to prevent them from engaging in any speculation.

The writer is of the opinion that the National Banks are not only unnecessary, but that they are dangerous. The writer believes that the National Bank system is not only unnecessary, but that it is dangerous. The writer believes that the National Bank system is not only unnecessary, but that it is dangerous. We planted on shares.

"John," said a traveller to a farmer's boy on a farm near Philadelphia, "you don't belong to any planters' society, do you?"

"Yes, we planted the yellow sunflower," said the boy, "and with those we made the best thanksgiving.

So the boy's father said, "I don't think we could have done any better with the yellow sunflower than the boy's society did with their corn and wheat shares."

The boy's father was right. The yellow sunflower has always been a good crop for the Pennsylvania planter, and with the help of the society, the boy's family were able to make a good profit on their shares.

The boy's father also said, "If you want to be a planter, you must learn to be a good farmer."

This is true, for the boy's father was not only a good farmer, but he was also a good planter. He knew how to plant his crops, how to care for them, and how to harvest them. He was also able to make a good profit on his shares.

THE SUB TREASURY.

The subtreasury system has always been a subject of much discussion by a large body of the people. Many talk about it as a matter of opposition and in the interest of a popular sentiment. However, the idea of having a central bank which will act as a reserve for all loans is one that has been in the minds of the people for many years.

The following is an extract from the Secretary of the Treasury's report:

"The Subtreasury system has been in operation for many years and has been found to be successful in the management of the national finances. It is intended to aid in the collection of revenue and to facilitate the payment of the public debt. The system is based upon the principle that the deposit of public funds in the Treasury should be under the control of a central bank which will act as a reserve for all loans."
From the Grand Isle and Grand Isle, The Lake Fisheries.

The Walleye.

The Walleye is engaged in an enormous lake, which has been connected with the sea by the St. Lawrence River. The area of its waters is about 2,000 square miles, and it contains a great number of islands, which are inhabited by various species of fish. The Lake Fishery is one of the most important in the world, and its products are highly prized for their flavor and delicacy. The Lake Walleye is the most abundant species in the lake, and it is caught by various methods, including hook-and-line, gill-net, and trap. The catch is sold fresh or frozen, and it is widely consumed in the United States and Canada.

Horrible Deeds.

Last week Col. W. W. Foster, bringing as a support in a state of excitement, was shot and killed by a man named John Brown. According to reports, the murder was committed in the town of Brownsville, on the 15th of last month, during an argument between the two men. Col. Foster was a well-known citizen, and the news of his death caused great shock and grief in the community. The murderer, John Brown, was arrested and charged with the crime. He is now awaiting trial in the courts.

From the Burlington Free Press, Nov. 6, 1872.

We have to announce the important news that the Canadian population is increasing at a rapid rate. The area has more than doubled since the last report, in 1861, and the population has grown accordingly. The new settlement is known as the "Country of the Far West," and it is rapidly becoming a civilized and prosperous community.

From the Montreal Herald, Nov. 6, 1872.

This is the first issue of the Montreal Herald, which is the only daily newspaper in the city. The Herald was founded by Mr. John Brown, a well-known citizen of Montreal, and it is published by Mr. Brown's son, Mr. James Brown. The Herald will cover local and national news, and it will be distributed throughout the city.

Acting Secretary of the Province.

FEES INTO FINE.

By Order of the Governor-in-Chief.

One of the most popular innovations in the province is the introduction of fees for services rendered by public officials. These fees are intended to provide a means of financing the government, and to reduce the burden on the taxpayers. The fees are charged for various services, such as marriage certificates, birth certificates, and naturalizations. In addition, fees are charged for the registration of deeds, wills, and other legal documents. The fees are set by the government, and they vary depending on the type of service.

The elections in New York have been concluded, and in the city of New York, where the elections were held, there was a great deal of excitement. The candidates were well-known politicians, and the issue was a close one. The elections were held on the 5th of November, and the results were announced on the 9th. The Republican candidate, Mr. Lincoln, was re-elected by a narrow margin.

Uncharacters, Aila, 22, 1864.

In the course of a recent visit to the telegraph office, I found that the weather was much colder than it had been for some time. It was so cold that I could not go out without a hat. The wind was blowing very hard, and the rain was coming down in sheets. It was a very unpleasant day, and I was glad to get home.

The weather has been very bad for some time. The crops are not doing well, and the people are suffering for want of food. The government is doing all it can to alleviate the sufferings of the people, but it is a difficult task.

The telegraph office is very crowded, and the operators are doing their best to keep up with the demand.
