And let us be grateful that daily we do not hear the sound of the battle. Let us be grateful for peace.

The last war was a war of nations. The next war will be a war of words.

May we ever be thankful for the peace that now reigns.

LOVE UNSELFISHLY.

THERE is a certain sense in which the world is becoming more and more connected. The past few years have seen a great increase in the use of telegraphy and telephony, which has enabled people in different parts of the world to communicate with each other more easily than ever before.

However, there are still many places in the world that are not connected by modern communication systems. For example, this area of the document discusses a report on a local newspaper, the Jacksonville Republican, which mentions that the paper is under new ownership.

It is evident that the ownership change has impacted the newspaper's content. The report notes that the new owner, Mr. J. E. Grant, has stated his intention to continue publishing the paper in its current format.

The report also mentions that the paper has been in circulation for several years and has become a trusted source of information for the local community.

The new owner is known for his dedication to the community and his commitment to providing accurate and reliable news.

In conclusion, the new ownership of the Jacksonville Republican is expected to bring new perspectives and fresh approaches to the newspaper's content. However, the newspaper's core values of accuracy, integrity, and service to the community are likely to remain intact.

The report concludes by expressing hope that the new ownership will lead to a new era of growth and prosperity for the Jacksonville Republican.

ATTACHMENT.

A case of attachment in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of Ala., came on for trial last week, which will probably extend to next week, when the opposite parties and their attorneys are to be heard in their respective causes.

The complainants, Mr. and Mrs. H. N., alleged that Dr. B. had attached their property, and that they were not entitled to have the same attachment discharged.

The defendants, Mr. and Mrs. H. N., pleaded not guilty, and that the property attached was their own, and not the complainants.

The case was called for the testimony of the complainants, who stated that they had paid the full amount of the sum due, and that the property attached was their own.

The defendants then called their witnesses, who testified that the property attached was not theirs, but that it was the property of the complainants.

The case was then adjourned until the next term of court.
