Don't Speak of the CIRCUS.

I was one day in the streets of this city, nearly opposite the kiln shops and the stables of Mr. George Washington Jones, a very intelligent and respectable citizen, when I overheard a conversation between two men, who seemed to be engaged in a dispute. One of them said to the other, 'I don't care what you say, but I'm going to speak of the circus.' The other replied, 'But you can't speak of it, because it's a bad word.'

Here is a letter from a friend in Philadelphia, dated July 5th, which he sent me last night:

"Dear Friend, - I am disappointed to hear that you are not coming this summer. I thought you would have heard that the circus is going to be held in Philadelphia on the 15th of this month, and that you would have been invited to come and see it. If you are not coming, I shall be very sorry, as I have been looking forward to your visit for some time. I trust you will come next year, as I have heard that the circus is to be held in New York on the 1st of August.

Yours truly,

FORESKY.

From the Back of the World -

Manie T. Dickerson, an old friend of mine, writes me that he has recently visited the Pacific coast, and says that it is a very beautiful country, with trees, flowers, and fruits of all kinds. He tells me that the climate is very warm, and that the people are very healthy.

He says that the best thing about the Pacific coast is that it is free from all kinds of diseases, and that the people there are very much better off than those who live in this country.

I am glad to hear that Manie is well, and that he has had a pleasant visit. I hope he will come here again soon.

Yours truly,

B. L. S. ID., a son of Dr. S. and Mrs. J. B. S. ID., who has been with me some time, returned this evening, after a visit to the circus in the city. He says it is a fine spectacle, but that he did not like the crowd that attended it. The performers were all very good, and the animals well taken care of. The circus is to be in town for a few weeks, and I shall go to see it again.
