SEPTEMBER

WANTED

The National Republican, Sept. 23rd, 1862.

The undersigned citizens of the Third Ward of this city, having raised the sum of $10,000 for the purchase of arms, munitions of war, and convalesce, and are desirous of employing the same in the service of the Federal Government, and for that purpose have made an agreement with the Mayor of the city, to deliver, and the Mayor to receive, the sum of $10,000, and to dispose of the same as the said citizens shall direct.

The said sum of $10,000 is to be delivered to the Mayor, and the Mayor is to deliver the same to the Treasurer of the city, who is to deliver the same to the said citizens, for the purchase of arms, munitions of war, and convalesce.

The Mayor is to receive a certificate from the said citizens, to the effect that the said sum of $10,000 is to be used for the purpose aforesaid.

The undersigned citizens hereby agree to pay the said Mayor the sum of $10,000, and to the said Treasurer for the purchase of arms, munitions of war, and convalesce.

The undersigned citizens hereby agree to pay the said Mayor the sum of $10,000, and to the said Treasurer for the purchase of arms, munitions of war, and convalesce.

The undersigned citizens hereby agree to pay the said Mayor the sum of $10,000, and to the said Treasurer for the purchase of arms, munitions of war, and convalesce.
The threatening of a new attack of the Judicial Department, as a means of preventing the Missouri crisis, is not likely to be effective. The system of the Union must be retained, for it is the only hope of peace. The friends of the Union must rally around it, and the friends of the Constitution must support it. The time is coming when the Constitution will be ruled, and the people will be governed, by the Constitution and the laws.

The Virginia Convention has been called, and will be called, for the purpose of determining the question of Virginia's rights. The Convention will be held at Richmond, on the 10th of December, and will be opened on the 12th. The Convention will be composed of the members of the House of Delegates, and the members of the Senate of Virginia. The Convention will be a legislative body, and will have the power to make laws for the government of the State.

The Convention will be called to consider the question of the Constitution, and to decide whether the Constitution shall be retained, or whether it shall be altered or amended. The Convention will have the power to alter or amend the Constitution, and to make such alterations or amendments as it may think necessary. The Convention will also have the power to revise the Constitution, and to make such revisions as it may think necessary.

The Convention will be called to consider the question of the Union, and to decide whether the Union shall be preserved, or whether it shall be dissolved. The Convention will have the power to dissolve the Union, and to make such dissolution as it may think necessary. The Convention will also have the power to preserve the Union, and to make such preservation as it may think necessary.

The Convention will be called to consider the question of the Constitution, and to decide whether the Constitution shall be retained, or whether it shall be altered or amended. The Convention will have the power to alter or amend the Constitution, and to make such alterations or amendments as it may think necessary. The Convention will also have the power to revise the Constitution, and to make such revisions as it may think necessary.
