LATEST NEWS.
FROM NEW ORLEANS.
New Orleans, July 22, 1850.

The daughters of the merchant's house have an advantage over even those who live with them in the same house, in learning the proper way to make a print. The last time one of their maids was taken to a print, she was so much surprised at the beauty of the print that she asked her master to let her have one of his own. The merchant complied, and the maid has since been very active in making prints, and has been the subject of much admiration. She is now engaged in making a large number of prints for the use of her master's family.

Cotton Wanted.
The subscriber will purchase, at such price as may be agreed upon as to the quality and quantity, any cotton in the city, for which a fair price can be obtained.

NEW WORK ON SINGING.

Twenty Melodious Excercises,

By D. H. WELFORD, from Favorite Songs and Neapolitan Vocalists.

Joseph van Cott, Publisher, New York.

Musician and Singer.

In 1858, in the United States Circuit Court, a case of the United States v. A. B. Smith, was tried before Judge John H. Concho, of the United States Court, at the Circuit Court for the third district of Tennessee.

The heart of a true friend is like a mirror; if you look into it you can see yourself.

The man who knows how to work a good plan, even if he is not skilled in the art of singing, will make more progress than the man who is a master of the art but has no plan. He must have a plan, a scheme of work, before he can make any progress.

In the olden days, before the invention of the printing press, books were written by hand. The scribes were skilled in the art of writing, and they were able to produce beautiful manuscripts. The books were then copied by other scribes, and the process was repeated until the book was complete.

In the same way, a musician must have a plan, a scheme of work, in order to make progress.

The heart of a true friend is like a mirror; if you look into it you can see yourself.

Reconstruction Convention.

Deserted Empire for the Adventure.

In the Reconstruction Convention in the Senate and House of Representatives, Mr. Atwood and Mr. Buell were present from the State of Georgia, and Mr. Atwood was a delegate from the United States, to the Union. The meeting was held in the Senate, on Friday, March 10th, at 11 o'clock A.M., and adjourned at about 12 o'clock noon.

Mr. Atwood offered an amendment to the resolution of the House of Representatives for the purpose of expelling the two representatives from the Senate, and the question was referred to a committee of the whole House.

N. H. B. REYNOLDS.

The consideration of the majority report of the Committee of the Whole House, on the subject of the convention, was then taken up. Mr. Atwood took a special position in the debate, and the Constitutional convention in the Senate was sustained. The majority report was adopted, and the question of the convention was referred to a committee of the House.

Mr. Atwood moved to reconsider the question of the convention, and the motion was carried by a large majority.

Mr. Atwood said, the petitions of the people of the State of Georgia, praying for the convention, were read, and the question of the convention was then taken up. The majority report was adopted, and the question of the convention was referred to a committee of the House.
