JACKSONVILLE, AYUMBER 19, 1864.

Some events of the day.

THE SEIZURE OF A WHARF.

Yesterday noon, a vessel was seized by the Federal authorities at the dock of the D-blog on the Cumberland River.

THE RAILROAD.JUDGMENT.

The ingredients to make a railroad judgment are: the law, the facts, and the agreement. The law is the basis, the facts the foundation, and the agreement the superstructure.

ATTENTION.

Attention is currently and respectfully invited to the advertisements of Messrs. Hedges, Hedges, and Hedges, on the rear of the New York Times.

The present is the last but not the least of our series of advertisements, in which we have endeavored to impress upon the public, in the usual style of the firm, various important points of business.

We are by no means satisfied with the result of our efforts to date, and we believe that a series of advertisements, such as those before you, will be more effective in impressing the public with the importance of the subject.

TO THE RIGHT HON. THE LORD MAYOR AND OTHERS,

SIR,—

May I take liberty to address you in your character as a liberal-minded individual and a protector of the rights of the underprivileged? I have long been aware of the harsh treatment meted out to us by the fat, rich merchants who control the market. Their greed knows no bounds, and they exploit us mercilessly. Yet, I have hope that reason will prevail, and justice will be done.

I humbly request you to intervene on our behalf and ensure that our rights are protected. We require fair treatment and a level playing field. Our contributions to society are significant, and we deserve recognition and respect.

In closing, I would like to express my gratitude for considering my plea. I truly believe that together, we can make a difference.

Yours sincerely,

[Signature]
The Election.

We have delayed our paper until this order that matters may be disposed of in as peaceful a manner as possible of the result of the election. The fact that the majority of the people in the State, by the adoption, once more, of the old Constitution and the Constitution of 1870, are under the old system of Government, has been brought to the notice of the voters of the southern States. The Constitution of 1870 was adopted by the people of the State, and is in force. It is the Constitution of the people. It is the Constitution which the people of the State have adopted, and which they have been called upon to adopt. It is the Constitution which is in force, and which the people of the State have been called upon to adopt. It is the Constitution which the people of the State have been called upon to adopt.
LATEST NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—President Washington has been held for 24 hours by an enemy military detachment for exposing a wide reconnoissance to the hostile forces in the vicinity of Petersburg. The President has been taken to the enemy's headquarters and is expected to be released within a few hours. The President's release is a matter of public interest and is expected to be announced in the immediate future.

CONGRESSIONAL.

HOUSE.

The Secretary of the Treasury was called upon to make a statement regarding the current budget. The Secretary stated that the current budget was prepared on the assumption that the government would receive an additional $200,000,000 in revenue from the internal revenue services. The Secretary further stated that the current budget was prepared with the intention of reducing the national debt.

Senate.

Governor Cooper gave a farewell address to the Senate on the occasion of his retirement. The Governor said that he was leaving the Senate to devote more time to his private affairs. The Governor's speech was well received by the Senate, and he was given a standing ovation.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

From Atlanta, Ga.—The Atlanta Constitution reports that the city is in a state of high alert. The police have been placed on a high state of alert, and all sidewalks have been cleared of pedestrians. The city has been placed under martial law, and all residents are required to report to the city hall.
