LATEST NEWS
FROM NOVOMONSTRO

Saturday, Sept. 22—The Legislature did not meet until the eleventh month of the year, as the regular session of the Senate and House of Representatives was adjourned.

A large number of speakers were presented and debated during the session. They were eloquent and knowledgeable, but the majority of them were not able to present persuadive arguments.

In general, the Governor's report was read and adopted. The Governor said that the state was in a better condition than it had been for some time.

The Governor also stated that the state was facing some difficult issues, but he was confident that the people of Alabama would rise to the occasion and overcome these challenge.

The Governor also addressed the people of Montgomery, where he spoke about the importance of education and the need for more resources to support it. He encouraged the people to work together and support the efforts of the legislature.

In conclusion, the Governor stressed the importance of working hard and remaining dedicated to the goals of the state.

JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN.

WHOLE NO. 1645.

A head from the Gadsden News:

It was in the year 1923 that the present residence of Mr. John F. Grant, one of the best-known men of the city of New York, was purchased for the sum of $60,000. At that time, the residence was occupied by the St. Paul's Church, which had been erected in 1910 at a cost of $80,000. The church was then in a fair state of repair and had been well cared for by its members. However, it was decided to demolish the church and construct a new one, which would be larger and more convenient for the congregation. The church was then razed, and the site was sold for the sum of $75,000. The new church was then built, and it was dedicated on October 17, 1888.

THE WEATHERMAN'S LUNcheon— A

Luncheon in honor of the members of the Weatherman's Association, held on October 17, 1888, at the Weatherman's Club, was a great success. The luncheon was attended by a large number of members, who enjoyed a hearty meal and good conversation.

The luncheon was held at the Weatherman's Club, which was established in 1888, and is one of the oldest weather organizations in the country. The club consists of a number of members, who meet regularly to discuss the latest weather developments and to exchange information.

The luncheon was a great success, and it is hoped that it will be repeated in the future.
