FROM NEW YORK.

The New York Tribune says Congress has decided to withdraw the troops from the town of the Cherokees, and to allow them to establish a reservation of their own on the Caddo River. The President is said to have ordered the troops to retire from the vicinity of the town, and to allow the Cherokees to remove to their new home in the Caddo River. The President is said to have directed the military to assist the Cherokees in their removal, and to protect them in their journey.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

A treaty of peace and amity has been concluded between the United States and the Indians of the Creek Nation. The treaty provides for the withdrawal of the troops from the town of the Cherokees, and for the establishment of a reservation of their own on the Caddo River. The treaty is said to be a just one, and to have been signed by the representatives of the United States and the Creek Nation.
