A FEW PICTURES OF THE VARIOUS RACES

In the United States, there are three races: the white, the black, and the Indian. The white race is the most numerous, and the black race is the second in numbers. The Indian race is the smallest, and the least numerous. The white race is the most civilized, and the black race is the least civilized. The Indian race is the least civilized, and the white race is the most civilized.

THE WRONG TICKET.

On the 4th of July, 1863, a large crowd assembled in the city of New York, to celebrate the national Independence Day. The principal feature of the celebration was a grand military parade, which took place in the afternoon. The parade was a great success, and attracted a large number of spectators.
