WASHINGTON, D. C.

The Pennsylvania legislature passed an act authorizing the construction of the new State Capitol. The act provides for the purchase of land and the building of a new capitol. It is expected that the work will be completed in time for the opening of the legislature in November. The act also provides for the establishment of a new city, to be called Harrisburg, which will be located near the new capitol. The site selected is on the site of the old capitol, which was destroyed by fire last year.

STATE OF ARIZONA.

Governor's address on the 10th of July, 1871.

In my capacity as governor of Arizona, I have the honor to present to the State a budget for the coming fiscal year. The budget is based on the principles of economy and fairness, and is designed to provide for the necessary expenses of the government without imposing an undue burden on the taxpayers. The budget includes provisions for the construction of public works, the education of the people, and the defense of the state.

GREAT AND SMALL.

The present agitation of the African question, in this country, seems to have reached its culminating point. The abolitionists are asserting that the cause of emancipation is gaining ground, and that the colored race is rapidly advancing to freedom. In England, the abolitionists are making great efforts to secure the immediate abolition of slavery in the British colonies. In the United States, the movement is gaining ground, and the anti-slavery feeling is becoming more widespread. The abolitionists are basing their arguments on the moral and religious grounds, and are supported by a large number of educated and influential people. The issue is likely to be decided by the presidential election of 1876.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Senate and the House of Representatives are in session, and are occupied with various measures. The most important measure is the proposed amendment to the Constitution, which provides for the abolition of slavery. The Senate is considering the proposed amendment, and the House has already passed it. The amendment is likely to be ratified by the states, and will be enforced by the federal government.

EAST.

The New Jersey legislature has been in session, and has made important changes in the state constitution. The most important change is the provision for the direct election of the governor. The new constitution also provides for the establishment of a system of public education, and for the protection of the civil rights of all citizens.

SOUTH.

The political situation in the South is still unstable. The Reconstruction Acts have not been fully enforced, and the former Confederate states are still in a state of rebellion. The Union army is still stationed in the South, and is responsible for the administration of justice.

WEST.

The situation in the West is also unstable. The gold rush has brought many people to California, and the state is in a state of flux. The government is still trying to establish order, and to protect the interests of the miners.

Current Events.

The Washington Navy Yard is still under construction, and is expected to be completed soon. The new facility will be the largest naval yard in the world, and will be capable of building and repairing large warships.

The New York Stock Exchange is still in operation, and is expected to continue for many years to come. The exchange is a vital part of the financial system, and plays an important role in the economy.

COUNTY CONVICTIONS.

A long session of the court of criminal convictions in the county of Washington, held by J. T. Hart, Judge of the district court, commenced on the 2nd day of April, 1878.

Mr. Bishop was recognized in the gallery of the court, and he stated that he was a resident of the county of Washington, and that he had been a subject of the court for many years past. He stated that he had been convicted of theft, and that he had served his sentence in the county of Washington.

The sentence of the court was read, and the defendant was ordered to be delivered up to the sheriff of the county of Washington, to be confined in the county jail for one year.

JUDGE WALKER'S APPOINTMENT.

Judge Walker's appointment was confirmed by the Senate, and he was commissioned as a judge of the district court.

The appointment was made by the Governor of the state of Alabama.

Mr. Jones, the attorney for the defendant, stated that he had been convicted of theft, and that he had served his sentence in the county of Washington.

The sentence of the court was read, and the defendant was ordered to be delivered up to the sheriff of the county of Washington, to be confined in the county jail for one year.
