LOCAL MATTERS.

A Confederate was buried here March 22d, 1865. He seems to have been a greybeard, and his remains were removed for fear of his being disturbed. The body was found in a hole near the front of the Union fort. He is said to have been 80 years old, and to have been a soldier in the Mexican War.

In a Fog.

The fog was rolling in, and yet scarcely a mule dared to show its head. "If it is a fog," said one, "I am determined to get through." And so it was, the fog just got through.
