ANNOUNCEMENT

More than 100 visitors are expected to attend the opening of the new office of the National Bank of Commerce in Montgomery, Ala., on Thursday morning. The new building, which was completed last week, is located at the corner of First and Water streets. The bank has been in operation in Montgomery for more than 100 years.

The bank held a reception for its customers and employees to celebrate the opening of the new building. The event was well-attended, and guests were treated to refreshments and tours of the new facility.

The new building is four stories tall and features a state-of-the-art banking center. It is equipped with the latest technology, including ATMs, teller machines, and interactive kiosks. The bank also has a new branch in the new building.

The National Bank of Commerce is one of the largest banks in Alabama, with assets of over $1 billion. It was founded in 1857 and has been a leader in the community ever since. The bank provides a full range of financial services, including savings, loans, and investments.

The bank's executives and employees are looking forward to serving its customers in the new building, and they hope that its new facilities will continue to meet the needs of the community for many years to come.
The Haunted Oven.

It was in the days of our grandmothers, when the world was young, and the field was green. Mr. Harvest bought his farm, and the house that Mr. Harvest bought his farm was a happy home, and the farm itself was happy, though not always content. Mr. Harvest never had a farm before.

In the country, the farm was full of activity, and there was always something to be done. Mr. Harvest was busy all the time, and the farm was always in order. Mr. Harvest was a good farmer, and the farm was a success.
