JUNE 13, 1875

SOUTH BEND, INDIANA

JUNE 13, 1875

The attention of the press has been called to the fact that the law of 1872, which provided for the retention of all Federal land for 10 years, and then subject to entry, has not been observed in the states of the West. The law was intended to afford the people an opportunity to settle on land which would become public domain when the period of 10 years had elapsed. It is now asserted that the law has been violated, and that the land has been placed on the market under the guise of public sale. It is asserted that the land has been sold at prices much lower than the market value, and that the proceeds have been diverted to private interests. The matter is under investigation by the Department of the Interior, and the government is determined to bring those responsible for the violation of the law to justice. The government will not tolerate any attempt to evade its laws and regulations, and will take all necessary steps to enforce them.

JUNE 13, 1875

The State Board of Education has decided that the new school laws shall be enforced in the state. The laws provide for the establishment of a system of public education, and for the support and maintenance of schools. The board has issued a circular in which it is stated that the laws shall be taken as the basis for the work of the schools, and that the teachers shall be required to conform to the regulations established by the authorities.

JUNE 13, 1875

The experiment of raising a crop of wheat on the prairies has been successful. The crop has been abundant, and the yield has been much greater than expected. The experiment has shown that the prairies are capable of supporting a crop of wheat, and that the method of cultivation used has been successful. The experiment has also shown the importance of conserving the soil, and of preventing erosion.

JUNE 13, 1875

The weather in the state is favorable for the crops. The rain has been sufficient to moisten the soil, and the sun has been shining. The crops are in good condition, and the yield is expected to be large. The weather is expected to continue favorable, and the crops are expected to be successful.

JUNE 13, 1875

The trade in grain is active, and the prices of grain are high. The demand for grain is great, and the supply is limited. The prices are expected to remain high, and the trade is expected to continue active.

JUNE 13, 1875

The government has issued a circular in which it is announced that the military will be called into service for a term of six months. The call for the army will be made in response to the need for additional troops to meet an emergency. The troops will be called for the purpose of maintaining order and enforcing the laws of the land.

JUNE 13, 1875

The government has announced that it will continue to enforce the laws of the land. The government will not tolerate any attempt to evade its laws, and will take all necessary steps to enforce them. The government is determined to maintain law and order, and to protect the rights of all citizens.

COUNTY AFFAIRS

Winnemata.

We have warm weather. This is the worst thing that can happen. The temperature often rises to one hundred degrees and remains over 90 for many hours. This is not a good time for crops or livestock.

Graceville.

The new county courthouse is progressing well. The contractor is trying to complete it by the end of November. The court will start regular sessions in January.

The undertakers in Graceville are now accepting prearranged funeral plans. This is a good move to ease the financial burden on families.

Ruth, Florida.

The new school building is almost finished. The contractor promised to have it ready by the end of October. The students are eagerly waiting for the new facility.

We want to congratulate Mrs. Smith on her recent marriage. She is a well-respected member of the community.

COLD CREEK.

We have had a few cold nights recently, but it's not too bad yet. It's usually not cold this early in the season.

The Cold Creek School has cancelled classes for the next week due to weather.
