FARMING IN FRANCE.

FRENCH PEASANTS AND THEIR HOMES.

A Tour of Taste at the Village of the Peasants.

By an English Traveller.

I am going through Paris to Geneva, and then to Lake Leman, on my way to Lake Geneva, I was struck with the beauties of the surrounding scenery, and with the pleasing aspect of the French peasantry. The French peasantry are a people of great industry, and they are always ready to work. They are fond of their homes, and they always keep them in good order. The French peasantry are a people of great kindness, and they are always ready to help their neighbors. They are fond of their families, and they always keep them in good health. The French peasantry are a people of great industry, and they always work hard. They are fond of their homes, and they always keep them in good order.
