A TRUTH IN TEA:

The New York Herald quotes the greatest tea brokers in the city as declaring that according to the latest reports from China, one of the worst crops of tea ever to be received in this country is expected to arrive in the near future. The brokers say that the crop is not only smaller than usual, but that it is of inferior quality. They add that the demand for tea is still strong, and that prices are expected to rise as a result of the scarcity of the crop.
