PORT TALKS.

The man in Tallahassee, who is mentioned in the preceding column, has made a very interesting point. He says that the Only man in the college who is a born writer is the one who writes with his hands. This is a point that was made by T. B. B. in a recent letter to the editor of the Tallahassee Times. The man who is a born writer is the one who writes with his hands. This is a point that was made by T. B. The Senate convention at the State Capital last evening gave the S-20 undaunted fight for the new grand legislative building, and the Senate again passed the act for the purpose. The bill is now in the House and will be passed by that body.

The House of Representatives.

The House of Representatives met last evening and passed several important bills. One of the most important is the bill to provide for the construction of the new State Capitol. The bill provides for the appointment of a commission to select a site for the building, and to prepare plans and specifications for its construction. The commission shall consist of five members, appointed by the Governor.

The bill also provides for the issuance of $20,000,000 in bonds to defray the cost of the building. The bonds shall be payable in monthly installments over a period of twenty years. The act also authorizes the Governor to make such purchases and contracts as may be necessary for the construction of the building.

The Senate will consider the bill when it reconvenes on Monday evening.

The Senate standing committee on elections met last evening and reported favorably on the bill providing for the registration of voters. The bill requires all persons over the age of 21 years who have resided in the State for one year, and who are citizens of the United States, to register at the polls. The bill also provides for the appointment of a registrar of voters in each county.

The Senate will consider the bill when it reconvenes on Monday evening.

The Senate standing committee on education met last evening and reported favorably on the bill providing for the establishment of a State university. The bill provides for the establishment of a State university, to be located in the city of Tuscaloosa. The university shall be supported by the State, and shall have a faculty of at least twenty professors.

The Senate will consider the bill when it reconvenes on Monday evening.

The Senate standing committee on public utilities met last evening and reported favorably on the bill providing for the regulation of public utilities. The bill establishes a commission to regulate the rates charged by public utilities. The commission shall consist of five members, appointed by the Governor.

The Senate will consider the bill when it reconvenes on Monday evening.

The Senate standing committee on appropriations met last evening and reported favorably on the bill providing for the appropriation of funds for various purposes. The bill provides for the appropriation of $10,000,000 for the construction of the new State Capitol, and for the payment of the expenses of the State government.

The Senate will consider the bill when it reconvenes on Monday evening.
The people of Cullman will be favored this evening with the presence of the gentlemen of Alabama, the state's most prominent men, who are expected to address the meeting on the subject of state government and politics. Among these gentlemen are Messrs. Thomas C. Southard, Hon. J. S. Handley, Hon. W. W. Comstock, Hon. W. T. Cobb, Hon. W. M. Hensley, and Hon. T. C. Folsom. The meeting will be held in the Cullman schoolhouse, and it is expected that a large and representative audience will be present.

The weather forecast indicates pleasant conditions, and it is anticipated that the meeting will be well attended. The gentlemen will address the audience on various topics related to state government and politics, and their speeches are expected to be of great interest to the audience.

The meeting is open to the public, and all interested individuals are encouraged to attend and participate in the discussions. It is a great opportunity for citizens to learn more about the issues and to engage in meaningful dialogue on important matters affecting the state.
