The Republican

JULY 21, 1887

The journal has appointed Mr. E. F. Bath of Bartow county to be its correspondent. Judge Bata has resigned.

The Tallahassee Masonic Home House, the largest and most perfect edifice of its kind in the south as to be erected. It is admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, and is in every way a credit to the enterprising promoters of the project.

Mr. Banker, whose views we grant this week, is a very extra intense man, and is not in a position to say that the Democratic party is the party of the people and the people of the party. He tells us that if he is to be in the running in the coming election, he must strive to be the candidate of the people who make him.

Since we have seen the words on the Agricultural and the National Bank, we have reverted to the old and the new era. We refer to the words of the old era, and the new era, which are so significant.

A correspondent of the Tallahassee Herald-Herald, in the name of "A Friend," sees "the old red-clay, clear and intact, to retire in good season, and the new rose, bright and full of bloom, fully as much as to the old."

The English reached by the Masonic Home House, in a remarkable and instructive manner, to which the interviewers were courteously entertained with the most delightful hospitality. The kindness was felt by all present, and will be remembered as a perfect example of English hospitality.

The people of the county were greatly interested in the discussion of the Masonic Home House, and the result was such as to show that the people were desirous of the establishment of such a home.

We publish a number of communications from a friend of the Masonic Home House. Our national desire is to know we have the best friends and supporters of the Masonic Home House.

The Journal in the great national democrat, and in the great national republican, speaks of the Masonic Home House as an institution of which they can realize the importance.

One of our publicans has taken a prominent part in the Masonic Home House, and it is to be hoped that he will continue to do so.

We shall have more to say on the subject of the Masonic Home House.

New York

Here our correspondents, particularly on the Masonic Home House, have to witness the discussion of the Masonic Home House, which is the subject of considerable interest.

Tallahassee Masonic Home

Hold fast General Farley has been a very great man, and the people of the state have been very much interested in his career. He has been a public man, and has always been a great popular leader.

Another County Court Record

The following letter was written by a friend of the Masonic Home House. It was sent to the journal, and is printed in full:

"Dear Sir, General Farley has been a very great man, and I have always been interested in his career. He has been a public man, and has always been a great popular leader."

"I am very much interested in the Masonic Home House, and I hope that it will be well supported.

Proctor's Will

We published a number of communications from a friend of the Masonic Home House. Our national desire is to know we have the best friends and supporters of the Masonic Home House.

We shall have more to say on the subject of the Masonic Home House.

The big thing at Vass's mall and pool was a fashionable turkey. The bird was brought from the South, and is estimated to weigh 150 pounds. It was caught in a large crowd of people who stood around the bird throughout the day, and enjoyed it by various means.

As the bird was being taken to the market, it was observed that one of the turkeys was sitting in a car. The bird was watched by several people, who then proceeded to kill the turkey. The bird was then brought to the market, where it was sold for a high price.

The bird was then placed in a large box and loaded onto a train. It was transported to a nearby city where it was sold at a high price. The bird was then transported to a nearby town where it was sold at an even higher price. The bird was then transported to a nearby city where it was sold at an even higher price. This process was repeated several times until the bird was eventually sold for a very high price.
