A STREET CLUB.

Several hundred Democrats assembled at the Hotel St. Louis for a luncheon, to hear the address of Governor David M. Sibley, the Republican candidate for the State of Illinois in the coming presidential election.

The address was delivered with great force and spirit, and the audience was much impressed with the power of the orator. The Governor spoke on the importance of the Union, and the necessity of maintaining it at all costs. He said that the Union was the foundation of our country, and that it must be preserved at all hazards.

THE GOVERNOR HOPES.

The address was delivered with great force and spirit, and the audience was much impressed with the power of the orator. The Governor spoke on the importance of the Union, and the necessity of maintaining it at all costs. He said that the Union was the foundation of our country, and that it must be preserved at all hazards.

GIDSON'S BAND.

The third party, in full gear, was in the midst of the crowd. Their drums were beating a steady rhythm, and their flags were waving in the breeze. The band leader, a tall, rugged man, stood at the head of the group, his eyes alight with enthusiasm.

The crowd cheered as the band began to play, their voices blending into a single melody. The music was powerful, and the melody was stirring. The crowd was in high spirits, and the atmosphere was electric.

After the performance, the band leader addressed the crowd. He thanked them for their support, and encouraged them to continue their efforts. The crowd responded with a round of applause, and the band leader smiled in satisfaction.

The third party was on the march, and they were determined to carry their message to the people. They would not be deterred by the opposition, and they would continue to fight for their cause.

The Republican.

The only path to peace and the Allied States.

In the present state of things, it is clear that there is no way by which the Union can be preserved without the compromise of some of its principles. The only way in which this can be done is by the abandonment of the right of nullification, the adoption of a policy of conciliation, and the establishment of a constitution that shall be acceptable to all parties.

It is to the interest of all parties to work for the preservation of the Union, and to this end every effort should be made to secure the adoption of a constitution that shall be acceptable to all parties. The Republican party is the only one that can effect this, and it is the duty of all to support it.
