STRICT REGULATIONS ADOPTED TO KEEP CHILDREN OUT.

Two Dead, and Eleven Case Report at the Sanitarium, Which Has Just Arrived.

Quarantine, Sept. 18. - Great fear and annoyance are everywhere felt in the city. The last few days have been marked by the discovery of many cases of yellow fever. The health authorities have ordered the strictest regulations to be observed in order to prevent the spread of the disease. The city has been divided into districts, and each district has been provided with a medical officer and a health inspector. In each district, the inspectors have been directed to visit all the houses and examine the occupants for signs of fever. If any case is discovered, the family is isolated and the disease is reported to the proper authorities. The public health officers are working day and night to prevent the spread of the disease, and the city is in a state of excitement and anxiety.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. - The President has ordered the strictest regulations to be observed in the vicinity of the city. The city has been divided into districts, and each district has been provided with a medical officer and a health inspector. In each district, the inspectors have been directed to visit all the houses and examine the occupants for signs of fever. If any case is discovered, the family is isolated and the disease is reported to the proper authorities. The public health officers are working day and night to prevent the spread of the disease, and the city is in a state of excitement and anxiety.
