From the Ladies Companion for August. THE WRECK.

BY THE REV. J. H. CLINCH.

Where lately sped with snowy sail, A gallant bark before the gale...

Yet all who trod that busy deck, Sleep not in death within the wreck; A fragile boat, with human life...

But hark! Mid tempest and deep gloom! Are sounds which speak a fearful doom! Shrieks, struggles, oaths, in mingling tone...

But one faint voice was heard that night, Which of shall come in dreams, to blight The selfish heart of sin...

Ah! well for him who did the deed, If, in his hour of utmost need, When help is far, and death is near...
