POEM.
The Drunkard's Home.
BY JAMES STILEMAN.
The drunkard's home! What art words can show
The scenes of misery there,
What mind conceive, what heart can know,
Save those compelled to share?
Th' abode of wretchedness complete,
Whence every comfort's fled,
Where want, disease and ruin meet,
And every hope is dead!

The drunkard's home, more cheerless far,
Than even convict's cell,
With granite wall, and iron bar,
For guilty one's to dwell;
O better far the vaults of death,
For there all sufferings cease,
And care-worn pilgrims yield their breath,
And sleep the sleep of peace.

The drunkard's home! that barren waste!
That desert of the soul,
Without one green oasis graced,
Where streams of confusion roll,
Stricken as by the Sinner's blast
All bliss is prostrate laid,
And wail, and wailing stands aghast,
To see the ruin made.

The drunkard's home! the rock gilt strand,
Where honor shipwrecked lies,
The den where Murder dies his hand,
Where Virtue, poisoned, dies;
Where Vice spreads round its filthy slime,
Where falsehood forms her fair,
The haunt of Infamy and crime,
Of Madness and Despair!

The drunkard's home! ye generous youth,
Yet from intemperance free,
Attend the warning voice of truth,
And from the poison flee:
Touch not the cup of liquid fire,
Beware of habit's chain,
Quench the first spark of wild desire,
And spurn the damning gain.

From the London Weekly Letter, a
"Good-Bye."
Farwell! farwell! is often heard
From the lips of those who part;
'Tis a whisperd tone—is a gentle word,
But it springs not from the heart.
It may serve for the lover's closing lay,
To be sung 'neath a summer's sky;
But give me the lips that say
The honest word—"Good-bye!"

Adieu! adieu! may greet the ear,
In the guise of courtly speech;
But when we leave the kind and dear,
'Tis not what the soul would reach.
Whene'er we grasp the hands of those
We would have forever nigh;
The flame of Friendship bursts and glows
In the warm, frank words—"Good-bye!"

The mother, sending forth her child,
To meet with cares and strife,
Breathes thro' her tears her doubts and fears,
For the loved one's future life.
No cold "adieu," no "farewell" lives
Within the choking sigh,
But the earnest sob of anguish gives
"God bless the boy! Good-bye!"

Go, watch the pale and dying one,
When the glance has lost its beam,
When the brow is cold as the marble stone,
And the world a passing dream,
And the latest pressure of the hand,
The look of the closing eye,
Yield what the heart must understand,
A long—a last—"Good-bye!"

WHY LAMENT—Ten Years Ago.
In the days of cool and dodger,
Ten years ago,
Wasn't I a roaming coddler,
All over so,
When we courted for Tip & Tyler,
Blow high or low,
Who'd have thought we'd burst our boiler,
Ten years ago.

Some poor fellow is in it by running after the calicoes. Just bear him:
I've seen her out at walking,
In her habit de rue,
And it ain't no use a talking,
She's "punks" and "a few";
She slides along in beauty,
Like a duck upon a lake,
Oh! I'd be all love and duty,
If I only was a diake!

THE PIN AND THE NEEDLE—A Fable.
A pin and a needle, (says our friend Sam Smith, of the Madison Record.)
Both being neighbors in a work basket, and both folks are apt to do.
'I should like to know,' said the pin, 'what you are good for, and how you expect to get through the world without a head?'
'What is the use of your head,' replied the needle, 'rather sharp, if you have no eye?'
'What is the use of an eye,' said the pin, 'if there is always something in it?'
'I am more active, and can go through more work than you can,' said the needle. 'Yes, but you will not live long.'
'Why not?'
'Because you have always a stitch in your side, said the pin. 'You are a poor crooked creature, said the needle. 'And you are so proud that you can't bend without breaking your back.'
'I'll pull your head off, if you insult me again, I'll put your eyes out if you touch me, remember, your charge by a single thread, said the pin. 'While they were thus disputing, a little girl entered, and, taking the needle, she very soon broke off the needle at the eye. Then she tied the thread around the neck of the pin, and attempted to sew with it, she soon pulled the thread off, and threw it into the dirt by the side of the broken needle. 'Well, here we are,' said the needle. 'We have nothing to fight about now, said the pin. 'It seems, unfortunately, has brought us to our senses.'

A pity we had not come to them sooner, said the needle. 'How much this resembles the man business, who quarrel about their heads, till they lose them, and never find out they are brothers till they lay down in the dust together, as we do.'

A LARGE THREAT.—The Morning Star, a paper published at Cincinnati, relates the following anecdote of a young gentleman of the South, who expended a large fortune—money, lands, negroes every thing—on the conquest of temperance and profanity.
He had just paid a year's gross bill of eight hundred dollars. One day he was walking in the street very leisurely, when seeing a physician on the opposite side, he called out to him to come over.
Doctor said, I wish you'd just take a look into my throat.

You do not say he, why that is very strange; will you be just kind enough sir, to give us her look?
Really sir, said the doctor, after a second look, I don't see anything.
Not why doctor there is a farm, ten thousand dollars, and twenty negroes down my throat!

A SOLEMN WARNING.—The Rev. Mr. Barlow, of the Episcopal Church, recently died at Chicago. The Chicago Tribune says, that a scene of most touching interest occurred around the bed of death, a few minutes before he breathed his last. His daughter was to have been married the next Wednesday evening, but, feeling his end to be near he expressed a wish that the ceremony should be performed before his departure, and his request was complied with, though he was so far on his solemn journey as to be unconscious of what was going on before him. Ten minutes afterwards, his closed eyes opened in the light of another and brighter life. Thus were brought together the two most heart touching events of life—Death and the Bridal. On the one hand the opening and sealing of the life that has no end, and on the other the most joyous anticipation of a brighter future of our mortal life on earth.

[From the Pittsburg Intelligencer.]
Synopsis.—We received the following communication from Prince George yesterday:
Mr. Harmon Harrison of Prince George county, deliberately cut his throat on Friday night, August 15th. He was laid about one hundred and fifty yards from his dwelling, and then performed the rash deed. The inmates of his family, consisting alone of four children, say he left the house about two hours before day, and they found him about daylight weeping in his own blood. On my arrival, he was in bed. I proposed dressing the wound, to which he replied 'It was useless, that he could not live ten minutes.' He finally submitted to be sutured about the wound, and to have it sewed up and adhesive stripes to be applied; after which he talked better, and said he felt improved. The external hemorrhage was staid but after my absence, I have understood he pulled away the dressing, thrust his finger again in the wound, and showed every disposition to fully accomplish what he failed at first to execute. He perpetrated the deed with an old pocket knife, very rusty. There were evidences of three attempts to cut his throat. After introducing the knife, he turned it round and made the injury of the wind-pipe very irregular.

'He also attempted to make a deep incision in his side. He said he kept the knife in as deep as he could get it, and it went in in different directions, up and down. When questioned what prompted him to do this, he said, 'I would never tell it.' He died in about eight hours afterwards. He was of intemperate habits.

ATTENDING PHYSICIAN.
A TAVERN INCIDENT.—What are you about, you black rascal? Twice have you roused me from my sound sleep to tell me that breakfast is ready, and now you've awoke me by attempting to pull off the bed clothes! What the deuce do you mean?
Why, massa, if you 'snt goin' to get up, I must hab de sheet any how, cause dey' waiting for de table cloth!

Terrible Disaster.
On Friday night last, this section of the country was visited by a tremendous storm. It commenced at 12 o'clock P. M. and raged with unabating fury till daylight Saturday morning. It blew down chimneys, trees, fences, and even houses, in our town in some yards every shade tree was prostrated—our town is almost laid desolate in the way of shade trees and fencing. The wind of shade trees fared worst, and were prostrated. The roads are completely blockaded, and traveling is an absolute impossibility. The bridge going to Columbus, was crashed by a falling tree, the driver escaping with a slight injury to his leg. The Macon stage on Saturday evening has not yet started. The destruction in the cotton section is, of course, irreparable. The fields, which were broken down, the stalks crushed together by the force of the wind; to say nothing of the destruction of four immense quantities of fallen timber. This is the finishing accident in the chapter of disaster to the growing cotton crop. The storm blew first from the North-East, but towards its close veered round to South-East. A flock of sea-gulls was hovering over the town for an hour or two on Saturday morning, could they have spoken, they would have brought frightful intelligence from the sea coast.—Eufaula Democrat.

A Yankee to an Irishman who was digging in his garden, and you digging out a hole in that onion bed?
No, says Pat I am digging out the earth and leaving the hole.

Late crowds of Southerners are now sojourning at the various fashionable resorts in this county and Henderson. This is all right—Southern people and Southern money should stay at home. It is the best and speediest cure for Northern fanaticism and impotence. Let them come.—Athletic News.

The following unique toast was drunk at a 4th July celebration in South Carolina, by G. Kinard:
'Peace and Plenty—
Corn in the crib and money in the pocket;
Baby in the cradle and a pretty while to coffee in;
The closet and sugar in the barrel;
Silence round the fireside, and folks that never quarrel.'

The following couplet, found in an exchange paper, is as true as preaching, and every body knows that preaching is true:
'A Printer in the prime of life,
Greatly needs a handsome wife.'

DISTRESSING DEATH FROM HYPERPHORIA.—We learn from the Matchless Free Trader, that Miss Sara Fulton, a lovely and interesting young lady of nine, ten years, belonging to Franklin county, Miss., came to her death on Sunday the 4th inst., from the bite of a mad dog about four weeks previous. The Free Trader says:
'Miss Fulton, on Saturday morning, felt shooting pains from the place where she had been bitten in the arm, ascending towards her neck and throat; but was well enough to ride some distance to attend a Temperance barbecue. This day being hot, much water was drunk; and, while attempting to drink, the poor girl felt an unaccountable spasm, or chill, pervade her frame, which prevented her from drinking. As she rode home she grew worse, and told the gentleman who accompanied her that she would die of canine madness. The paroxysms soon became dreadful; her mouth constantly filling with saliva and throwing out foam, which had to be wiped away constantly. Her distress and course breathing could be heard for many hundred yards. Nature sunk under the awful struggle in about twenty-four hours, and death came to her relief on Sunday evening, the day after she was taken ill. What is most awful, and fills the community with fear and near with a prevailing gloom, is the fact that Mrs. Fulton, a widow, and the mother of Miss Sarah, was bitten much worse than her daughter, by the same dog, a negro, belonging to them, was also bitten, neither of whom, as yet, has felt the symptoms of the disease.'

DISCOVERIES OF THE MICROSCOPE.—Lewenhueck tells us of animated infusoria with the microscope, of which twenty-seven millions would only be equal to a ant. Insects of various kinds are observable in the cavities of a common grain of sand. Mould is a forest of beautiful trees, with the branches, leaves, flowers and fruit, fully discernible. Butter-flies are feathered. Flairs are hollow tubes. The surface of our bodies is covered with scales like a fish; a single grain of sand would cover one hundred and fifty of these scales; and a single scale covers five hundred pores; yet through these narrow openings the sweat exudes like water through a sieve; how minute they must be its particles! The mite makes five hundred steps in a second. Each drop of stagnant water contains a world of animated beings, swimming with as much liberty as whales in the sea. Each leaf is a colony of insects grazing on it like oxen in a meadow.

THE CRISIS.—The Savannah Georgian of the 13th inst., has an admirable article on the subject of the President's Message. We make the following extract:
'This is a fearful crisis now before the country, and the greatest care and attention is necessary to prevent one of the greatest difficulties which has ever before occurred. A most unwise policy has been attempted by the administration. The people of the United States cannot be coerced into any abandonment of their just rights. The message of the President itself, admits that Texas has rights to the territory in dispute with New Mexico. The very commendation of purchasing "her title" by a large sum of money admits this fact. And in the face of this, the President calls on the army and navy to protect the idea. The blockading of Texas, was crushed by a falling tree, the driver escaping with a slight injury to his leg. The Macon stage press the peaceful organization of her territory. Truly we fear those at the head of the Government do not realize the danger of the present crisis, or they would not thus attempt to force their peculiar notions.

Another Ring.—Our citizens were again roused from their slumbers on Wednesday night, about 12 o'clock, by the cry of fire, and very soon after, the lively stable of Mr. D. Van Epps, on Conceptionist, between Dauphin and St. Francis, was wrapped in flames. The fire spread with great rapidity to the boarding house of Mrs. Foley, on St. Francis street, and to the carriage making shop of Wright and Baker, on Conception. By great exertions of the firemen, the buildings adjoining the stable were saved. The boarding house and carriage shop, however, were so much injured as to be scarcely worth repairing. Through great exertions of the citizens, Mrs. Foley's furniture was principally saved. The stable in which the fire originated was entirely destroyed. It was owned by Mr. C. P. Gage—insured for $2,000 and was worth probably $4,000. Mr. Van Epps was fully insured. All his horses were saved, but he lost ten buggies and one carriage. Messrs. Wright and Baker were insured to the amount of $400. Their loss is not great. But they have suffered in the injury of tools, stock and materials and the cessation of business for a time. The fire is generally believed to be the work of an incendiary.
Mobile Register.

Late from the Ishmus.
More of the great robbery.—Desperate fight between a party of soldiers and the robbers. The latter victorious. The schooner Charon, Captain Ducoy, which left Chagres on the 31st ult. arrived yesterday. By this arrival we have some further information respecting the robbers who stole $32,000 in gold dust, from one of the trains crossing the Isthmus from Panama to Chagres, as mentioned in yesterday's paper. Capt. Ducoy states that it was Ackerman & Co's train that was robbed, and that the robbery was committed on the 25th July, at only ten miles distance from Panama. When the robbery became known, the authorities at Panama despatched twenty-two soldiers in pursuit without delay. The soldiers fell in with the robbers a few miles from the city, and a desperate fight took place in which sixteen of the soldiers and six of the robbers were killed. The robbers, however, succeeded in carrying off their plunder. Capt. Ducoy states the Government authorities, at last accounts (but the 30th) were sending out a much stronger force with a determination to clear the Isthmus of the band of brigands who had committed this bold robbery, and defeated the troops sent to capture them.

Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.
SHREWSBURY, York Co. Pa., Aug. 11.
Detection of Runaway Slaves.—The New Underground Railroad.—Particulars of the Recent Arrest of Runaways—Their Trial—Starting Surprise—Pistols and Bowie Knives—Movement of the Sympathizers—Foes Friends and Friends Foes—Repudiation of the Sympathizers by the other Five.—Led to the Trap.—The door Closed.—Cars and Bolts in Requisition.—Departure for Baltimore, &c.
Messrs. Editors: The town of Shrewsbury has, for a few days past, been in a fever of excitement, on account of the "underground railroad" operations, and the checking of two or three trains on the track, freighted with Maryland property; whilst activity in all manner of business is also observable arising in part for the preparation going on for the great Methodist Episcopal camp to commence at the old ground near the Blue Ball Hotel, on Thursday next.

The account published in the Sun of Saturday of the arrest of five slaves in this vicinity, and their conveyance to Baltimore is correct, though some of the particulars are not fully stated. The party who effected their arrest were Maj. Wm. McAbee, George Storms, Jacob Austin, Jacob Kessey, M. T. Walker, and Augustus Fiser. It appears that four of this party were out on the look-out for runaway slaves on Wednesday evening near the Maryland line, when they heard that four women had gone to the house of a colored man on the York Turnpike, named Urias Meyers, about half a mile from the Shrewsbury Camp Ground. Thinking they would start off from there on their way to York that night they laid in wait on the road until ten o'clock next morning, but no slaves appeared.

They then started for the house of Meyers, and demanded of him possession of the runaway, which he refused, and producing a revolver, threatened to shoot the first man that crossed his door. They continued to worry the old man until near midnight, threatening to mob his house, and having sent one of their men to Shrewsbury for arms, succeeded, during his absence, in convincing him that it would be his best policy to give up the runaways, as he did not wish his house to be mobbed in a half hour. Meyers getting frightened agreed to introduce Major McAbee, who has quite a clerical appearance, with his party to the runaways as their friends who were desirous of helping them along to the interior of Pennsylvania. Much to the surprise of the captors, however, who thought they were treating for the possession of four negro women, seven strapping negro men, armed with revolvers and knives with the four women, were marched out and taken to the house of Mr. Walker, where supper had been provided for them. In the meantime the factor of their being in custody of those well known slave catchers, leaving a crowd was soon collected, composed principally of sympathizers anxious to effect the escape of the slaves.

Admittance was refused to all however and the captors still succeeded in keeping the negroes in the belief that those outside wanted to take them back to Maryland, and that they were their true friends, zealous of securing their freedom. It was also necessary to induce them to allow themselves to be tied together by a rope, and to give up all their arms, so that those outside would think that they were in custody, and they were also told that the mob would probably endeavor to make them believe that they were in possession of their enemies, so as to get possession themselves, and that their whole safety consisted in standing by them as their friends.

The whole party of seven were accordingly tied together by a rope, and at 12 o'clock on Thursday night they started for FreeLand's switch, on the Maryland side of the state line, on the Susquehanna Railroad, telling the negroes that they were on their way to York, and being ignorant of the road, they placed implicit reliance on this statement. After being a few minutes on the road, they were overtaken by a party of sympathizers, who followed them and begged the negroes to turn back, assuring them that they were going back to Maryland. As they were cautioned to Maryland, starting that such a course would be pursued by those outside, to get possession of them, they turned a deaf ear to all entreaties, and finally Major McAbee, commanded a hal, and put the question to them whether they would go with him or turn back with these men, who he assured them, sought their injury. Every man of them decided in favor of Major McAbee and declared they would have nothing to do with those who were following them. On reaching the railroad, near the summit, and about half a mile from the Maryland line, the sympathizers became desperate, and begged the negroes for God sake to turn back, as they would, in a few minutes be on the Maryland side of the line.

One of the negroes began to flag in his confidence on seeing the Westminister road, which he thought he recognized, but was persuaded out of it by the confidence of the others. The leader of the sympathizers, who they all regarded as Hamilton Brown, the Postmaster of Shrewsbury, then cut the rope severally, and got them from the other five, and getting possession of them, carried them off by force. The other five still continued on, and after walking two miles further, reached FreeLand's tank, and an empty freight car standing on the road, they were untied and got into it, without suspicion, as if pressed as bleeding, lambs under the impression that they would be attached to the freight train and carried to Wrightville in the morning. When the negroes in the car discovered that they were trapped, a great commotion took place among them, and one of them attempted to shoot Major McAbee with a pistol he had concealed, and afterwards attempted to shoot himself, but was prevented by one of his companions who seized hold of him and prevented him from further harming himself, with the exception of receiving a bullet wound through the fleshy part of his left fore arm.

It is proper to state that postmaster Brown positively denies that he cut the rope by which the negroes were bound, though some of our citizens present merely as spectators, assert that he did, and a letter from Baltimore states that the captors, who have not yet returned, make the same charge. The night was dark, however, and they may be mistaken. These facts, together with a rumor that petitions are preparing in Baltimore to be sent to the President, demand the removal of postmaster Brown, has put our little town in commotion, which has been further excited by the fact that a party of thirteen slaves passed through this vicinity on Friday night, having been guided by a white sympathizer, who put them on the route to York, enabling them to avoid passing thro' Shrewsbury. Most of this party were women, and it is still this evening that they have arrived in the borough of York, and were put in the hands of those who will "see them through."

Those who sympathize with runaway in this vicinity are few in number, but are constantly on the watch, and are great exertions to pass them, through the farmers in the vicinity, however, have their hon' roots, and promises soon renounced by runaways that they are generally quite anxious to have them trapped, whilst a great many others care nothing about them—being indifferent as to their detention or escape.
The slaves arrested by Maj. McAbee, acknowledge themselves to belong to the following parties:—One to Miss Thomas of Montgomery Co., who also was the owner of the two carried off by sympathizers; one to Mrs. Henderson of Baltimore city; one to James E. Bowen, of Calvert county; and two to A. Needham, Esq., of Light street who is Baltimore.

You look as if you were beside yourself as the wag said to a fellow who stood by the side of an ass.

The chairman appointed the following gentlemen as the committee: S. C. Chandler, L. H. Davis, A. H. Harrison, D. H. Witcher, T. C. H. Wilson, J. B. Wick, C. A. Rice, P. M. Rice, Secy. Villa Rica Aug. 29th 1850. Villa Rica, Sept. 2nd 1850. The committee having met and organized, do appoint Thursday the 19th inst. as a day suitable for our next meeting. We would here extend a most cordial and pressing invitation to the citizens of Adams-Augusta, Jacksonville, and all others who feel an interest in the prosperity of this portion of our State, to meet with us at that time. Addresses will be delivered upon the utility and importance of Plank Roads generally and particularly of this route. With regard to this route however we feel satisfied that it is the most practicable route in the state in as much as it connects Atlanta with a very extensive cotton growing country both in Georgia and Alabama. We say again come one come all. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Atlanta Intelligencer, Augusta Constitutionalist, & Chronicle & Sentinel, and Jacksonville Republican, and request their earliest insertion.

Jenny Lind.
A perfect man is raging in N. York about the "Swedish Nightingale." The Gothanites are fairly becoming Jenny Lind mad. We had prepared a column of matter culled from the New York papers, giving a full description of her arrival in that city, but we are compelled to leave it out-to-day for the want of room. We will publish it in our next. Strange scenes and incidents are recorded, showing the high pitch of enthusiasm to which the New Yorkers have suffered themselves to be carried. On the arrival of the Atlantic at the wharf, forty thousand fools—beg, pard, on—forty thousand people rushed down to the pier, half frantic with curiosity and delight, making the very heavens ring their shouts and cheers of welcome and showering upon her pathway her carriage and herself, countless thousands of flowers and bouquets. Her hotel was besieged, for hours by a dense mass of beings, endeavoring to catch a glimpse of her face and form. This beats the "spontaneous combustion of gun powder" by a long way.

The Foot of the Mexican Female.
In this nation, I think must yield to the palm of Mexico, the females of that country have the smallest and best formed feet I ever saw. They usually wear slippers rarely the boots, and they even slip on the foot of the lepers, the poorest peasant girl must be silk or satin. The feet generally bend down, the front part very low scarcely covering the toe, and how they manage to hold on to the tiny little thing, walking carefully and gracefully all the while is a theorem that has puzzled a good many. But they do it, and we must set it down as a "right of foot" trick.

The Drunken Will.
I leave to society a ruined character, a wretched example, and a memory that will soon rot. I leave to my parents, during the rest of their lives as much sorrow as humanity in a feeble and desperate state can contain. I leave to my brothers and sisters as much mortification and injury as I will could bring on them. I leave to my wife a broken heart, a life of wretchedness, shame to weep over, and a premature death. I give and bequeath to each of my children poverty, ignorance, a low character, and the remembrance that their father was a drunkard.

High, Low, Jack and the Game.
A number of well dressed boys were once tormenting a drunken sailor, who in vain endeavored to keep them off with a broken spade handle, which he was using for a club, when a gentleman called out to them, "Boys! if Jack is high, it is rather low business for you to be making game of him." Jack, whose wit was as sharp as a diamond—the principal difficulty with him seeming to be in the lightness of his feet, or the unsteadiness of the ground under them, which made his easiest mode of progression to be on all fours—immediately responded: "Then we are even. I am high Jack to their low game. But clubs is trumps, the dice is in me if I don't beat 'em yet to my hearts content."

Extraordinary Large Sale.
Some time since, a person in the neighborhood of Kewswick, having several hives of bees to dispose of, and being desirous to attract purchasers, caused a placard to be printed, announcing a sale, with these glowing head lines: "Extraordinary sale of live stock, comprising not less than one hundred and forty thousand and with an unlimited right of pasturage."

Illon. John Snyder, formerly M. C. from Pennsylvania, died in that state a few days ago. He was the son of a famous old Governor Snyder, the most popular executive Pennsylvania ever had, and was an enthusiastic admirer and friend of Mr. Calhoun.

THE REPUBLICAN
Jacksonville, Alabama.
Tuesday, September 27, 1850.

Mr. John B. White, of the House of Representatives, is our authorized agent to receive and receipts for subscriptions, advertising, &c. in the city of Wetumpka.

We have placed a number of notes and accounts due us in Cherokee County in the hands of Mr. E. A. Colman, who is authorized to receive and receipt for subscriptions, &c.

We have had the pleasure of reading a letter from California, from Mr. Amos T. Laird to his father in this place. The letter is dated at Nevada, July 14th 1850. After giving a general outline of his travels by land to that country since he left this place about fourteen months ago, he states among other items of interest, that he has done very well since he commenced operations at that place about the 23d of June. In consequence of the great scarcity of water however himself and Mr. Williams had given $1,200 for the use of water brought from the mountains. He states that out of one pit, 33 feet by 10 had selected two pans of dirt, measuring 12 quarts, from which he washed gold to the value of fifty-one dollars and twenty-five cents; and thinks that the pit will yield from one to five hundred dollars per day to the hand, several of whom he has employed at ten dollars per day. Mr. Laird does not think the region where gold may be found so extensive as has been represented by many; and notwithstanding the many cases of great success, there are yet many disappointments among the hundreds of thousands there.

The Committee on the Post Offices and Post Roads in the U. S. Senate have made a report, containing much valuable statistical information respecting the best system of mail communication in this country and England. Some important changes in our present system, are recommended in this report: among others the abolition of the franking privilege—the reduction of postage to the uniform rate of two cents on letters for all distances requiring prepayment of postage in all cases, and admitting small parcels, other than letters to be conveyed by mail chargeable by weight.

We invite the attention of those interested to the business card of Messrs. Adams, Hopkins & Co. Augusta, and Wills & Co. Savannah. It is only necessary for the public to know that they still have the privilege of availing themselves of the assistance of this long and well known firm in purchase of supplies, and in the general receiving and forwarding business.

Jenny Lind was to give her first concert in America at Castle Garden, N. Y. on the 11th inst. The concert room, it was supposed would hold eight thousand people. The tickets for the first concert were sold at auction, and went from ten to two hundred and twenty five dollars each.

The Wetumpka State Guard states that all the negroes that run away from the Plank Road, except one, had been taken up.

The Senate Bill for the admission of California, the Texas Boundary Bill, and the Territorial Bills have all passed the House of Representatives by large majorities, and have also received the sanction of the President and thus become the law of land.

The Territorial Bills passed without the Wilmot Proviso, but notwithstanding this, all these measures seem destined to meet with the most decided disapprobation and opposition in the South—how or in what manner it will be manifested remains to be seen.

The Montgomery Advertiser, in an article on the subject says: "We will now say, with sincerity and truth, that if the alternative were presented to us, of submitting to the Wilmot Proviso, or these measures, we would unhesitatingly prefer the former."

We premise our readers to keep them well advised of all the movements and manifestations of public opinion on the subject.

The chairman appointed the following gentlemen as the committee: S. C. Chandler, L. H. Davis, A. H. Harrison, D. H. Witcher, T. C. H. Wilson, J. B. Wick, C. A. Rice, P. M. Rice, Secy. Villa Rica Aug. 29th 1850. Villa Rica, Sept. 2nd 1850. The committee having met and organized, do appoint Thursday the 19th inst. as a day suitable for our next meeting. We would here extend a most cordial and pressing invitation to the citizens of Adams-Augusta, Jacksonville, and all others who feel an interest in the prosperity of this portion of our State, to meet with us at that time. Addresses will be delivered upon the utility and importance of Plank Roads generally and particularly of this route. With regard to this route however we feel satisfied that it is the most practicable route in the state in as much as it connects Atlanta with a very extensive cotton growing country both in Georgia and Alabama. We say again come one come all. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Atlanta Intelligencer, Augusta Constitutionalist, & Chronicle & Sentinel, and Jacksonville Republican, and request their earliest insertion.

NOTICE
For Proposals for Railroad Iron, for the Alabama and Tennessee River Railroad, TO BE MANUFACTURED FROM ALABAMA ORE.

THE Alabama and Tennessee River Railroad Company invite proposals, until the 1st of January 1851, for Iron Rails, to be made of Alabama iron, for the Northern Division and part of the Southern Division of their road embracing a distance of about 105 miles. The rails are to be of the pattern, in lengths of 18 feet and weighing 68 lbs. per lineal yard. They are to be delivered on the Coosa river, at a landing to be hereafter designated, between Kinlegue Ferry and Fort Williams, commencing their delivery on the 1st of November, 1851, and continuing at the rate of from 80 to 100 Tons per week, until the whole quantity required (10,500 Tons) shall have been delivered. They are to be inspected by Lewis Troost, Chief Engineer.

It is proper to state to iron masters and capitalists at a distance, that the country traversed by the Northern and part of the Southern Division of the road abounds with excellent iron ore and bituminous coal, and possesses every advantage for the successful manufacture of iron, health, cheap labor and provisions. Further information may be obtained by addressing the President of the Company at Selma, Ala.

By order of the Board of Directors.
J. W. LAPSLEY, Pres't.
Republican, Jacksonville; Watchtower, and Reporter, Talladega; American Railroad Journal, New York, Railway Times, Boston; will please publish the above until the 30th December, and forward their bills to the President of the company at Selma.

NOTICE FOR PROPOSALS.
SEALED Proposals will be received by the Directors of the Alabama and Tennessee River Railroad, at their office in Selma, until the 1st of November next, for the graduation, masonry and bridging of six miles of the Southern Division of said Road, extending northwardly from Selma.

Plans and profiles may be inspected and specifications and information will be given at the office of the Company in Selma, and after the fifteenth of October next. Two or six miles of this division were graded in 1839. This part of the division will require repairs to the road bed, and will be furnished anew with culverts and bridges.

The country embraced in this division is healthy, well watered, and possesses facilities for obtaining supplies of provisions. Proposals may be based upon cash payments, or upon payments of a proportion, or of the whole of the work in stock. The Directors reserve to themselves the right to accept or reject proposals as they may think proper for the interests of the Company.

The Directors expect to have as much as 30 miles of the Northern Division, extending northwardly from the Coosa river in Shelby county, ready for examination by the 15th November, and for letting by the first of December, and thirty miles more ready for examination by the 1st and for letting by the fifteenth of January, 1851. The following are a few of the certificates which have been procured.
Church Hill, Lowndes county, Ala. February 24, 1850.

Two years ago my favorite horse became diseased with heaves or bellows, and was so bad that I ordered him to be killed, but was dissuaded from having it done. He continued about twelve months or more, until hearing of the skill of Mr. R. H. Hughes, as a Farrier, I wrote to him to come and take the horse and try to cure him. He kept him about four months and returned him, having cured him entirely of heaves, except an occasional cough. I now consider the horse of considerable value, whereas before he was entirely valueless. I use him when at home daily, and he performs as well as ever. With the exception of a cough occasionally, he appears to be well.
C. ROBINSON,
Tuskegee, Marion Co. Ala. Dec. 1849.

This balm cured my horse, and I have had occasion to use it several times in a case of Bellows, with which my horse was attacked, and by the application of his remedy a perfect cure was at once effected. I therefore have no hesitation in recommending him to the public.
W. ANSLIE,
Montgomery, March 27, 1850.

This is to certify, that I purchased a receipt of R. H. Hughes for curing various diseases, and cured the lameness in my horse of a horse of my own, about twelve months since, and made a final cure of him.
B. C. OWEN,
Tuskegee, Ala. Dec. 8, 1849.

This is to certify that we are well acquainted with Dr. R. H. Hughes, and with his treatment of the diseases of horses, and that he has been exceedingly successful in cases coming under immediate observation. We therefore state, most unhesitatingly that from our own personal observations, as well as from information derived from others, that those who have been afflicted with heaves or bellows, with any of the ailments common to horses, will most certainly be cured by calling on Dr. Hughes, whose charges are a consideration very moderate, and whose cures are almost invariably attended with success, especially when applied to time.

This certifies that I purchased a receipt of R. H. Hughes for curing various diseases of horses, and cured the lameness in my horse of a horse of my own, about twelve months since, and made a final cure of him.

To the Friends and Patrons
OF THE
ADVERTISER AND GAZETTE.
"ADVERTISER AND STATE GAZETTE"
WILL be published Weekly and Tri-Weekly, as heretofore—except that we shall reduce the price of the WEEKLY PAPER from the tenth of October next, to the price given below. We are happy to say to our friends that this old, well established paper is in a flourishing condition and has now a circulation, far surpassing any other paper in the State offering inducements to those who desire to advertise their business or profession.

for the Weekly Paper.
For one Year in Advance.....$2 00
The low price of our Weekly Paper makes it incumbent on us to adopt the CASH SYSTEM, and no paper will be sent unless paid for at the time of subscribing, and paper will be discontinued when the subscription year expires without the money is sent to renew the subscription.

Old subscribers, who are in arrears, must pay up before they can avail themselves of the reduced price of the Weekly Paper.

Our Weekly contains very few advertisements, and as much or more reading matter than any paper in this State; and if we meet with the encouragement, under this reduction of price, which we expect, and intend to deserve, we shall, in a short time, enlarge it until its dimensions shall not be exceeded by any of the MAMMOTH SHEETS of the day, and without any increase in the price.

FOR THE Tri-Weekly Paper.
FOR A SUBSCRIPTION FOR ONE YEAR.....$5 00
To a Club of six subscribers, the paper will be sent for one year at the rate of $4 00. All subscriptions must be paid in advance. Remittances may be made by mail at our risk.

IMPORTANT.
SALE OF TOWN LOTS.
On Thursday the 17th October, the subscribers will sell to the highest bidder, in the Town of Leoti, on the east side of the Coosa river, in Benton County, Alabama, a portion of the most choice Lots in said town. The very desirable location of this town—being in the lower terminus of the navigation for steamboats—the roads having been so improved as to render it easy of access for the produce of the rich valleys of that section of country—again with a reasonable prospect of the Alabama and Tennessee Rail Road crossing the river there, it being so much the more direct than any other route surveyed—together with every prospect of health—all considered, we regard it as a desirable location for capitalists and business men.

Terms of sale made known on the day.—One of the proprietors, Mr. J. A. Towers, will be there at any time, who will take pleasure in exhibiting a plan of the town, and giving any other information which may be desired.

This day came George C. Whaley, Administrator with the will annexed of the Estate of Thomas Crutchfield, deceased, and files his petition to sell the Real Estate of the said Thomas Crutchfield, deceased, consisting as alleged in said petition of the following described lands in this State, to-wit: In the County of Chambers, the S. E. fourth of Section 10, Township 23, Range 28. In Talladega County, S. W. fourth of Section 1, Township 19, Range 3. East half of N. E. fourth and west half of S. E. fourth of said Section 1, Township 19, Range 3, and N. W. fourth of Section 12, Township 19, Range 3. Also two Town Lots in the Town of Talladega, Nos.

In the County of Benton, south half of Section 14, T. 14, R. 8; west half of Section 33, Township 16, Range 11; north half of Section 24, Township 16, Range 8; west half of N. W. fourth of Section 36, Township 14, Range 8; Also Town Lots in Jacksonville, Nos. 54, 5, 6, 104, and 105. Petitioner states that the personal estate of his intestate is not sufficient to pay all the just debts of his intestate—that a sale of the above described lands, belonging to the estate of said Thomas Crutchfield deceased, is necessary, in order to pay the just debts of his said intestate. It is ordered, that the 2nd Monday in November next be set as the time for hearing said petition. And petitioner further states, that Sarah M. Crutchfield, widow, William Crutchfield, and Thomas Crutchfield, junior are non residents of this State and reside in the State of Tennessee, Mary J. Lumpkin, wife of John H. Lumpkin, who are also non residents of this State, and reside in the State of Georgia, all of whom are heirs and legatees of said decedent. It is further ordered, that notice of the same be published in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper published in the Town of Jacksonville, and State of Alabama once a week for three consecutive weeks, as a notice to them, and at least forty days previous to said 2nd Monday of November next.

TO BE MANUFACTURED FROM ALABAMA ORE.

THE Alabama and Tennessee River Railroad Company invite proposals, until the 1st of January, 1851, for Iron Rails, to be made of Alabama iron, for the Northern Division and part of the Southern Division of their road embracing a distance of about 105 miles. The rails are to be of the pattern, in lengths of 18 feet, and weighing 63 lbs. per lineal yard. They are to be delivered on the Coosa river, at a landing to be hereafter designated, between Kilmagee Ferry and Fox WILLIAMS, commencing their delivery on the 1st of November, 1851, and continuing until the whole quantity required (10,500 Tons) shall have been delivered. They are to be inspected by Lewis Troost, Chief Engineer.

It is proper to state to iron masters and capitalists at a distance, that the country traversed by the Northern and part of the Southern Division of the road abounds in excellent iron ore and bituminous coal, and possesses every advantage for the successful manufacture of iron, health, cheap labor and provisions.

Further information may be obtained by addressing the President of the Company at Selma, Ala.

Plans and profiles may be inspected, and specifications and information will be given at the office of the Company, in Selma, and after the fifteenth of October next.

Twenty-six miles of this division were graded in 1839. This part of the division will require repairs to the red bed, and will be furnished anew with culverts and bridges.

The country embraced in this division is healthy, well watered, and possesses facilities for obtaining supplies of provisions.

Proposals may be based upon cash payments, or upon payments of a portion, or of the whole of the work in stock.

The Directors reserve to themselves the right to accept or reject proposals as they may think proper for the interest of the Company.

The Directors expect to have in the month of the Northern Division, extending northwardly from the Coosa river in Shelby county, ready for examination by the 15th December, and for letting by the first of February, and thirty miles more, ready for examination by the 1st and for letting by the fifteenth of January, 1851.
