of justice and honesty were founded in this world, Leeman. Just look here," said the man, and Leeman hid his face, cloth, and Leeman paid him back one deep moral principle. Shortly before he rattled the successful merchant, as he as he did the work, he entered business for himself, the married leaped back over his counter, and pulled

After the cloth was done up, the genleman paid for it—three dollars—three made, and he remained a long while ardently loved, and who, had, in return, reproached that love. He had received from her two thousand dollars, which sum had gone a great way towards purchasing his stock in trade. He had rented a small cottage—a neat and retired abode—and here he settled down in a house of his own, and with every prospect of a continued happiness, and this happiness he had a right to expect, for his young wife was mild and gentle, loving and true, and ever regardless of his welfare. His expenses he carefully kept behind his income, and, as might be expected, he made but little domestic show. His comforts were all solid, based upon the single idea of Content.

William Sharpling also kept a store in the village. He had commenced the same time that Arthur did, but he seemed to have made more money, for he spent much in his living, and, as has already been intimated, he was upon the point of making a still larger show of accumulating wealth. Sharpling's wife was an intimate friend of Sarah Leeman, and hence the latter felt more sensibly the contrast between her own, and her neighbor's outward circumstances.

In a few evenings, William Sharpling opened his new house for the reception of visitors, and of course Arthur and Sarah were invited. Arthur Leeman was thunderstruck by the appearance of his friend's domestic equipment. The furniture was rich and costly, and the carpets were all of the finest material.

Large mirrors hung upon the walls, golden lamps adorned the marble mantel, and sumptuous ottomans and sofas offered their temptations to the weary.

"What a splendid house, they have got, haven't they?" remarked one of the guests to Sarah Leeman.

"Yes," returned Sarah, and as she said, she thought her interlocutor was

TRACHEOTOMY.—This very delicate and difficult surgical operation, was performed in this place, (for the first time we believe in this section of the State,) on Saturday 26th ult., by Dr. C. J. Clark, by cutting out a water-melon seed from the trachea or wind-pipe of a child of Mr. Nicholas Albright, aged only three years. This operation, difficult and dangerous, as we have said, in all cases, was particularly so in a subject of three years, with a fat, short neck. The child was placed under the influence of chloroform for the performance of the operation, which was so entirely successful, that no unpleasant or serious symptoms intervened, either at the time or since. The child has already been taken home by the parents.

In addition to the operation above mentioned, Dr. Clark has, within the last two years amputated four limbs, operated for strangulated Hernia, besides other important, and numerous minor operations; altogether sufficient, we think, to establish his reputation, as a most skillful, competent, and successful Surgeon.

Some enquiry having been made as to the identity of John R. Humphries, for whom a reward of $300 has been offered in our paper, and some persons having supposed him to be a son of Mr. J. W. Humphries, residing in the vicinity of this place; we can inform all persons who feel any solicitude on the subject, that he is not a son of the gentleman we have named, but of Chas. R. Humphries of Atlanta, Ga.

RAIL ROAD MEETING.—In accordance with published request of the President and Directors of the Alabama and Tenn. R. R. Co., a number of the stockholders and citizens of this place and vicinity, met a portion of the Board of Directors at a meeting in the M. E. Church of this place on Thursday last. On motion of Col. W. P. Davis, the Hon. M. J. Turnly was called to the chair; the Hon. E. Pickens, and J. W. Lapsley of Dallas, and H. H. Allen, Esq. of this County, three of the Directors were in attendance. The object of the meeting was explained by Judge Pickens, in a manner, we may safely say, which none other but himself could explain it. In the outset, he briefly reviewed the history of rail roads in general, and particularly the one under consideration, and in his own eccentric and peculiar way, and with that eloquence always the attendant of earnest and truthful exposition, gave a mass of facts and information, relative to the present condition of the road—the necessities of the Board—the duties and responsibilities of the Stockholders and others, and the incalculable advantages of the road when finished, of a most convincing character. In conclusion, he explained the plan and proposition of the Directors to raise $120,000, the amount needed to complete the road to the east side of the Coosa; which was to sell the Bonds of the Company in amounts of $250, $500, $1000, bearing an interest of eight per cent payable semi-annually, the purchasers to pay one half the first day of January next, and the remainder the Spring following. J. W. Lapsley, Esq. followed in a speech replete with facts and figures, and in a manner calculated to clinch the nail, if it had not already been riveted at both ends. We have not yet been able to learn to what extent they were successful in the sale of the bonds.

At night another meeting was convened, and addressed by Leander W. Crook, Esq. Pres. of the Ringgold and Chattooga valley road. He seemed to set forth very clearly, the superior advantages of this road over all others which have been proposed to connect with the Selma road at this place. He said he did not rise to ask help to build his part of the road; nor to boast of ability to build the Alabama end, but to inform the meeting that their road had been surveyed, and convinced that it was the most direct line, running over the best possible ground, they were determined to build it to the State line, at all hazards.

UNIVERSITY OF NASHVILLE.—We invite particular attention to the advertisement announcing the commencement of the fourth annual course of Lectures in the Medical Department of this Institution. The Trustees and Professors, have made and are still making earnest and vigorous efforts to build up an institution worthy of the great South, and second to none in the Union. The Institution has a complete and able Faculty, and a new suite of University buildings have recently been erected. The Medical Department was established in 1850, and its success since has been almost unparalleled in the history of Medical Colleges. The first session there were 121 students, 33 of whom graduated—second session 152 of whom 36 graduated—third session 220, and 71 graduates. Nashville is an accessible point from this section of our State, and on the score of economy, (where this is an object to the student,) it will be seen by reference to the advertisement, that it has perhaps no superior.

The London Spectator states that "the same malady that cut off the songstress SONTAG, in Mexico, and drove back our ships from the shores of Cronstadt, now rages in the Piræus; the French hospital suffering severely, and the English soldiers not escaping. It is in Constantinople, and has appeared at Malta; it is settled at Varna and Smyrna; it is ravaging Italy. Florence 'the Fair' is stricken not less than commercial Leghorn; and Genoa, 'the Superb,' from whose streets of palaces, or narrow alleys of great mansions, those fly who can during summer, is a hot bed for the pestilence. In our own metropolis the deaths by cholera rose last week from 26 to 133."

The Louisville Courier says, the excessive drought which prevails throughout the greater portion of Kentucky will exert much influence upon the hog market, as corn will be both scarce and high, and it is fair to presume that the hogs will not come to the hocks as large and as fat as heretofore. In fact, many persons in the interior have turned their hogs out, and abandoned all attempts to fatten them for slaughter.

REV. THOMAS CHILTON, many years ago a member of Congress from Kentucky, and since then a resident of this State, and extensively known as a practicing Attorney and Baptist Minister died at his residence in Montgomery County, Texas, on the 15th ult.

The place for the sale of a Stock of Goods at Auction, by Mr. John Brownlee, on the 18th Sept. inst., has been changed from Jacksonville to Oxford.

At the latest dates there were from seven to thirteen cases of yellow fever per day at Savannah, Ga. Some cases have also occurred at Charleston, but not sufficient to create any great alarm. We see also a statement in the Texas State Gazette, that the yellow fever had again broken out with considerable violence at Galveston, where it raged so fatally last year. The cholera appears also to be greatly on the increase every where it has visited, both in number and fatality of cases. The year 1854 seems destined to combine more of the elements of "war, pestilence and famine," than many which have preceded it.

COPPER FORDS.—Since the commencement of the mining excitement in this region of country, we have endeavored carefully to abstain from giving currency to any information which we did not consider entirely reliable, and it is our purpose still to do so. Some ridicule and much discouragement has been thrown upon the efforts of those interested in developing the mineral resources of the country; but it affords us pleasure to inform all such that there is a fair prospect for well-directed efforts to be crowned with success. Dr. John Moore, of Talladega, has recently passed through this place, having in his possession specimens of copper ore, obtained by him on Talladega creek, where he was digging a foundation for some kind of machinery. Mr. Wood, of Randolph, who has been experimenting for some time, has also found ore, not far from Arbacochee, pronounced by Professor Toumey, State Geologist, to be copper. Professor Toumey was in this place on Saturday last and gave this information to some of our citizens.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—A destructive fire has taken place at Troy. Eight blocks in the centre of the business part of the town have been consumed, and the loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

For the Jacksonville Republican.

DEAR BROTHER GRANT:

We must crave an indulgence from you to the extent that we may make some explanations, with regard to our communication of August 10th, for the benefit and enlightenment of Bro. G. E. J., who took such strong exceptions to the article. We will be as brief as the nature of the case will permit; and, in accordance with our own feelings, and the hope that you expressed, that there would be no long controversy arise from it, we state, in the outset, that we do not expect to pen another line on the subject.

In the first place then, for our Brother's benefit, and to avoid "disappointing and mortifying" him again, we can inform him of another protracted meeting, which was held on Calulga, by Bro's. Capers, Pool and other ministers; at which there were, as we learn, "twenty" or more "converted," and as many joined the Church. Our Brother seems to take great exceptions to our former article because we did not state that "twenty or thirty" had been converted and as many added to the Church. We thought that the piece was penned in such a style that any one, who could read at all, and know the meaning of the most common English words, could comprehend it; but, as it seems that Bro. G. E. J. is most woefully deficient in the knowledge of the meaning of words, either de facto or intentionally, and, as for aught we know, equally ignorant of the use of the Dictionary, we will state for his special benefit, in plain terms, if he can comprehend them, that THERE WERE SEVERAL CONVERSIONS; AND

ADDITIONS TO THE CHURCH.

Now, the reason that we did not state the exact number of conversions, and additions to the Church, was simply because we did not know the exact number; nor do we now know precisely. But, if our Brother is anxious to know, and will inform us by private communication, he shall be fully satisfied on that point.

Now, with regard to the charge of "trumpeting," and "endeavoring to show off to the world more than what we really are," that our Brother has seen fit to prefer against us, we can inform him that we are as far from such things as he; and we would furthermore inform him that we are still farther from that spirit of envy, malice and vile detraction, which prompted him to pen the article, and which shows itself so plainly in his communication, even though covered with the garb of pretended "disappointment" at not finding, in the end of our article, an account that "twenty or thirty" had been converted and the same number added to the Church.

We would, in all kindness, advise our Bro. G. E. J., not to indite another article for public inspection, unless he can better prevent his malice from manifesting itself so unmistakably, as it did 'thru' the flimsy veil of pretension with which he endeavored to cover it up in his last article.

Truly we live in an age of progress; and none understand the matter better than our Brother seems to. We are informed by an ancient writer, who well understood human nature and the workings of the human heart, that "the evil that men do lives after them—the good is oft interred with their bones." Now, our Brother, actuated, perhaps, by a spirit of progress; and improving (!) on the ancient principle, would bury the good that men do even before the men are themselves dead. If the historians and other writers of former ages had been of the same disposition as our Bro., what kind of knowledge would we now possess? Would we know anything of the deeds of the great and good men who lived in former ages, and who contributed so much to the present elevated and happy state of the civilized world? Certainly not. Would we know anything of the good men of Holy Writ? Would we, in a word, have such a thing as the Bible, or know anything of the Gospel of the Son of God, or of the doctrine of the Christian religion? Undoubtedly we would be ignorant of all these things; and being so, we would be even more ignorant and worse at heart than our Brother tries so hard to make us believe he is.

WHITE PLAINS, Aug. 23rd, 1854.

European Intelligence.

ADDITIONAL PER THE BALTIC.

The Baltic's mails reached this city yesterday afternoon. We compile the following items of intelligence from our files of English papers, of the 9th inst.:

The War.

VIENNA, August 7.—The communication from here to St. Petersburg by telegraph is opened. The route is via Grancia. Private messages admitted provided they do not touch politics. Feldzeugmeister Von Hess has gone to Surawa, his headquarters. The Earl of Westmoreland, it is currently reported, has declared to Count Buel that he was provided with instructions in case the new conference should decide to draw up a fresh protocol.

HERMANSTADT, August 6.—Advices from Orsova say that the Turkish authorities had confiscated all Milos Obienowitch's landed property in Lesser Wallachia. This measure will only be in force till the arrival of the Austrian troops. The following is an official list of killed and wounded during the siege of Silistria:—Dead, 560; total 1223. Turks forming part of the garrison. The Russians are supposed to have lost 12,000.

VARNA, JULY 30.—Sir George Brown has returned in the Fury, in which vessel he entered the harbor of Sebastopol in the night and remained till dawn. The Fury was fired at both with shot and shell, but she suffered no damage.

The cholera is sub-siding in the English camp. The deaths do not exceed 16 daily.

Preparations are being made for an immediate advance of the allied troops.

Vessels from Varna are subjected to a quarantine of five days at Constantinople.

The dockyards of Constantinople and Sinope are actively engaged, as well by night as by day, in constructing 30 flat-bottomed gunboats, capable of carrying a large mortar or gun, besides others for the landing of artillery, troops, and horses. Seven have already been launched, and joined the combined fleets to receive their armament and equipment. The British naval commander-in-Chief Vice-Admiral Dundas, has purchased two powerful steam tugs, which are being likewise converted into gunboats. The daring sortie from Sebastopol of the Vladimir, and the destruction by her of three vessels (after taking out the coal cargoes which two of them had on board), in the waters of Kaslon, near Heraclea, is fully confirmed; and indeed this vessel is said to have not only approached to within ten miles of the Bosphorus, but also to have given chase to the Cyclops conveying stores to or from Sinope; which last mentioned steamer having, to enable her to carry a larger cargo, left four of her six guns at Malia, had no other alternative than to run away from her powerful antagonist. It is conjectured, indeed strongly suspected that the Russians in Sebastopol got information from Malta of this vessel's weak armament. The Russian resorted to the artful dodge of hoisting Austrian colors, and even painted in conspicuous letters on her paddle boxes "Austerlitz," the name of one of the Lloyd's Austrian line steamers, but the commander of the Cyclops was wide awake.

The Turkish army is advancing with extreme caution in three columns towards Bucharest. On the 29th, the centre, under Omar Pasha, was at Kalugereni; the right wing of the army, under Said Pasha, was advancing from Oltenita along the left bank of the Arghis towards Bucharest; the left wing was at a place called Magura, and purposed marching along the high road leading from Slatina on the Aluta to Bucharest. On the 30th, flying corps, detached from the column advancing from Oltenita were at Glina, a village about eight English miles to the south-east of Bucharest.

It was reported that, according to agreement entered into between the Porte and the Austrian envoy, the Turks would not enter Bucharest, and that the troops would be withdrawn from the Danube on the arrival of the Austrians.

Omar Pasha had promised that Wallachia should not be made the theatre of military events.

Omar Pasha had asked permission for the quartering of 12,000 men within the walls of Bucharest, and rations for 20,000 men outside of the walls.

There were some cases of cholera in the English camp at Varna. The Inflexible reached Constantinople on the 27th, bringing several more prizes from the Sulina mouth of the Danube, where the British blockading force have most effectually levelled every building, barring a church, in which the enemy could ensconce himself.

Prince Stirbey, formerly hospodar of Wallachia, takes his departure from Vienna in a few days, for Constantinople, preparatory to proceeding to his post at Bucharest.

An official despatch Vienna late on the 5th instant, stating that the French and English fleets were seen off Sebastopol on the 30th, the steamers having transports in tow. This news was conveyed from Sebastopol to Odessa in a day, and immediately telegraphed through to St. Petersburg. It is inferred from the wording of the despatch, that the expedition proceeded eastward. The intelligence is of a later date than that received from Constantinople. Steamers were arriving at Varna up to the 25th ult. with material, ammunition and provisions.

Private letters speak variously as to the amount of the force employed in the important operations at the Crimea. Some speak of 75,000 men, while others make them 95,000. In any case the fullest confidence is expressed in the success of the expedition.

The proceedings of a portion of Admiral Napier's fleet during the past week augurs, says the Liverpool Times of the 9th inst., some decisive measures being taken very shortly against the batteries of Bomarsund, Aland Islands, rumors of which had been whispered for some time, but has generally been kept as secret as possible. The following particulars of the proceedings may be relied on as nearly as can be ascertained: A division of the fleet under command of Admiral Martin (Admiral Corry having been invalided) were left cruising in the Gulf of Finland, the remainder of Sir Charles Napier's squadron anchoring in Lel Sound, Aland Islands. This portion has augmented to this date 31st July, to the undermentioned vessels, which are disposed of as nearly as I can ascertain as follows, viz: "In Lel Sound: Duke of Wellington, St. Jean d'Acre, Princess Royal James Watt, and Majestic (screw line-of-battle ships) Cumberland (sailing two-decker), Penelope, Valorous, Driver, Alban, Pigmy, and Cuckoo paddle-wheelers—English; and 7 line-of-battle ships, 1 frigate, and 6 paddles—French. Anchored in Lumpar-bay, off the forts of Bomarsund: Edinburgh, flag-ship to Admiral Chads, Blenheim, Hogue, and Ajax, screw line of battle ships—English; and 2 French liners.

Anchored at equal distances round the Island, to intercept vessels, and to cut off all communication with the main, the Arrogant and Amphion, screw frigates, Leopard, (Admiral Plumridge) Odin, Hecla, Basilisk, Gorgon, Locust, Porcupine, and Zephyr paddle-wheel steamers.

It is generally understood that no more line of battle ships than those mentioned will be present at the attack, but most of the vessels at present intercepting the channel will probably be called in to assist, as their long guns will be of importance, as also the Lightning's Congreve rockets, she being the only vessel in the fleet supplied with those useful but destructive missiles of warfare.

The rumor by the America, however, in regard to the Aland Islands, is again renewed. It is now stated that twelve vessels of war, from the combined fleet, had cannonaded the Aland Islands for seven hours, and that they are now occupied by a French force.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 30th.—The Turkish fleet has sailed for Varna with the pontoons and all the transports.—Sulina is burnt.

ARRIVAL OF THE BR. STEAMSHIP ANSA New York, August 24. General Intelligence.

Austria has signed an engagement with England and France to insist on demanding from the Czar such terms as shall form the basis of a permanent peace.

The Russians continue to retreat from the principalities, and the Czar having consented to evacuate Moldavia, the advance of the Austrian troops has been countermanded.

At the last accounts the entire Anglo-French expedition had not sailed from Varna for the Crimea. Three thousand French troops, however, had been landed at the Isthmus Perceop, which connects the Crimea with the main land of Southern Russia.

Murder—Burning of the Murderer

At Mount Meigs, in Montgomery county, on Friday night last, Dr. McDonald was murdered by his negro man. As we have heard the particulars, Dr. McDonald had chastised the negro for some insolence or disobedience, and the negro started to run away. The Doctor, a few minutes afterwards, went to his stable to get his horse, and while there was set upon by the negro, (who had concealed himself about the stable,) and was beaten to death with a large club—his skull being broken into fragments. Dr. McDonald was a highly esteemed citizen, and this foul murder, of course, produced the greatest excitement. The negro was arrested, and a meeting of the citizens of Mount Meigs was held, at which it was determined, by a large majority, that the foul murderer should be burnt. This sentence was duly executed on Saturday afternoon last.

These are the particulars, as we gathered them, in a hasty conversation from a gentleman who was in Mount Meigs on Sunday. We presume the citizens of the Mount will themselves publish the facts.

We regret at any time to see the execution of the laws taken from the proper authorities, but there are cases which justify, in our opinion, a summary process; and from the character of those engaged in executing this fiend, we do not doubt that the facts will justify them in the eyes of our whole community. From some cause or other, there is a spirit of insubordination in our slave population that is constantly leading to the commission of the most diabolical crimes, and which call for prompt and summary examples. Still, we should prefer to see the "law take its course." It is the best in the long run. We may have more to say on this head hereafter.

Montgomery Adv.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER BY A SLAVE.—On Tuesday last, Mr. Robert Smith, of Montgomery county, attempted to correct one of his negro men, when the negro drew a knife and made a ferocious attack on him. Mrs. Smith ran up to prevent her husband being killed, when the negro also attacked her. Both received severe wounds from the knife in the hands of the negro. After inflicting the wounds the negro made his escape, and although immediately pursued, was not caught until yesterday, when he was brought to this city and lodged in jail.

THE AFFLICTION OF EX-PRESIDENT FILMORE.—The New Haven Journal states the following incident:

The telegraph on Friday announced the sudden death of the amiable daughter of ex-President Fillmore, and to-day we hear the news of the death by cholera of his brother, Charles Fillmore, at St. Paul, Minnesota. About a month ago we were coming down the Mississippi on the Golden Era, in Company with President Fillmore and his daughter, when we were met by an upward bound boat having Charles Fillmore on board, and the two boats rounded to for the purpose of allowing the brothers to meet for a moment. The interview was probably the last. Within a few weeks the daughter and brother are gone—both stricken down within a few hours from each other of the same disease, though hundreds of miles apart. Then they were in perfect health, and enjoying to its fullest extent the pleasures of a magnificent excursion; now they both sleep in the tomb, and their father and brother is left to mourn alone the loss which can never be replaced.

SINGULAR CASE OF INSANITY PRODUCED BY IMPERMEANCE.—The following narration of an extraordinary case of insanity at Angle Island was furnished by Coroner Whaling, who had occasion to visit the Island yesterday, and heard the facts as stated by the residents. It seems that a man named Hill, who has lived with his wife on the Island for some years, recently picked up a drift of a couple of casks of liquor, a part of the cargo of the wrecked ship San Francisco, since which time they have subsisted entirely upon liquor. The residents of the Island have often found Hill and his wife lying drunk upon the beach, directed of every particle of clothing; and unless removed from that perilous situation would remain until sobered by the sea dashing over them, to the eminent danger of being washed away by the waves. Mrs. Hill is now a raving maniac, wandering about the Island in a state of nudity. She is often seen pulling up roots and grass, which she devours with the avidity of a brute animal. The husband is also at times raving, but his madness does not partake of the ferocious character manifested by his wife.—[San Francisco Journal, July 1.

The yellow fever is increasing rapidly in New Orleans. For the week ending last Saturday, there were sixty deaths by it in the Charity Hospital. The admissions to that institution during the week were 389; discharges, 258; deaths, 86; patients remaining, 715.

GEN. NLEPOKOTCHYK.—This personage has been appointed to the command of a division of the Russian army. Bringing out such a name as this does not look much like peace. The Turks may be alarmed, but he will defy them to pronounce his name; and if he beats them it will be truly said that they will never be able "to tell what hurt them."

as a song of praise from humanity to God. Amid the thousand, and thousand tones ever joining to swell the holy music of that song, are those which sound loudest and grandest here, the tones which travel sweetest and purest to the imperishable Throne, which mingle in the perfect harmony with the anthem of the angel choir! A solemn and awful question! Let our own heart answer it! And then say may not the obscurest life be dignified by a lasting aspiration and dedicated to a noble aim!

"On Saturday last, Mr. John Heslop of this township came near being gored to death by a furious bull, belonging to Mr. Anderson, of the second Concession. The bull came into the premises of Mr. Heslop who undertook to drive him to pound. On reaching the pound, kept by Mr. Wm. Balmer, the bull refused to enter at the proper gate, and went into the yard. Mr. Balmer being present assisted to drive him into the gate, when, probably being an old acquaintance of the gentleman, he made a dash at him, and Mr. Balmer took refuge on the opposite side of the fence with extraordinary agility. The bull now ran into Mr. B. wheat field, followed Mr. Heslop. Here a fearful encounter took place. The bull turned on Mr. Heslop, and at the first charge brought the gentleman to the ground, the horns fortunately passing by his side. Before Mr. H. could get up, the infuriated animal had recovered himself, and with a fearful roar made a second lunge with such force that he fell on top of Mr. H. burying his horns deep in the ground, and tearing it up in his rage. Mr. Heslop could not stir, being pressed between the forelegs of the bull, and to speak lightly of a serious matter, he felt himself between the horns of a very dangerous dilemma. Mr. H. never lost his presence of mind, and although it is commendable in many difficult cases in life to "take the bull by the horns," Mr. Heslop preferred in this instance to take him by the nose; so managing to get his fingers into that organ, he brought his heavy antagonist to his senses fast, and both came to their feet. The struggle for the mastery was fearful but Mr. H. is a strong man, and his life depended on his efforts. After a severe tussle, the enraged beast was backed against the fence, which Mr. Heslop placed between himself and his antagonist at once, fortunately without any injury, farther than a few slight bruises. Mr. Balmer was unacquainted with the struggle in the wheat field until it was over. The bull ran a few yards, and dropped dead from rage and exhaustion.

All Carriage Repairing done in the neatest style and at short notice.

Second-Hand Carriages and Buggys frequently on hand for sale at reduced prices. Old Carriages will be taken at their value, in payment for new work.

We are also manufacturing THRESHING MACHINES, both Spike & Windmill-Drive, with and without lining. Also grain FANS of the best quality in use; Gearing for Field and Gin houses; Bedsteads, Tables, Wardrobes, &c. any of which will be furnished on the most reasonable terms for cash or on time to punctual customers. Good wheat, corn, fodder, pork and bacon, will also be taken in payment for work, any of which we will be glad to furnish to our friends and customers. And we are fully satisfied that we can make it to their interest to purchase from us, for the following reasons:

1st. Because we work none but the very best materials, by the best workmen, which secure neat, substantial and durable work.

2nd. We are citizens of the country and expect to remain so, consequently are easier paid and can give more indulgence than northern men.

3rd. Because, should any of our work, by accident or mistake prove unsound, we are here to make it good.

4th. Because all the money paid to us is retained in the country, and paid out again to our own people, instead of being sent to the north to fatten already wealthy capitalists.

The Yellow Fever is still on the increase in Savannah and Charleston, notwithstanding the diminished number of inhabitants left in those cities.

A verbal report reached here a day or two since that the yellow fever had broken out with great violence in Augusta, but we suppose this report was exaggerated. The Constitutionalist of the 16th inst. mentions the panic into which the city was thrown the day before, in consequence of the report that from two to eight cases of yellow fever had originated in Augusta. The Mayor promptly called the Board of Health together, when upon investigation two cases were reported, one contracted in Charleston, and the other in Savannah. On the next day three others were reported. This looks very much like the beginning of yellow fever visitation—almost identical with the first cases reported in Charleston this season. In fact it would seem almost preposterous to hope that Augusta would or could escape the pestilence while it is raging both at Charleston and Savannah; and we may hope that as its visit is so late in the season, it will be of short duration.

Dr. Nott, of Mobile, we believe predicted last year, that the yellow fever would prevail but slightly if at all this season in Mobile and New Orleans, but that it would visit with its usual violence the Atlantic cities as far Philadelphia. His prediction has already been in part fulfilled; but as it has not yet reached Philadelphia, perhaps it travels somewhat slower than his calculation.

RELIEF FOR SAVANNAH.—There has been about $3,000 forwarded from New York city for the relief of the sufferers by yellow fever at Savannah, and arrangements are in progress looking to still larger results. Philadelphia has also remitted $3,000, and the collecting committee is still at work.

FIRE IN MOBILE.—There have been two destructive fires recently in Mobile, supposed to be the work of incendiaries. Forty houses were destroyed by one of the fires and near $200,000 worth of property.

We find the following painful announcement of the death of the Rev. E. R. WARE, recently Pastor of the Presbyterian Church in this place, in the Monteville Herald of the 22nd inst.

Died, at his residence in this place, on the 16th instant, Rev. EDWARD ROWLAND WARE, in the 27th year of his age.

The deceased was born in Columbia county Ga., but removed to this state in early life, and was educated at the University of Ala. where he finished his collegiate course with distinguished credit. He then entered the Theological Seminary at Columbia, S. C., where he completed the usual course of study in that institution, in 1849, and was admitted to the ministry in the Presbyterian Church the same year.

How sad and painful the thought that one who promised a life of so much usefulness should be cut down in the beginning of his career. He has been, during the present year, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at this place, and enjoyed, to the fullest extent, the confidence and respect of all who knew him. He bore his last illness (Typhoid Fever) several weeks with Christian resignation; and he died, as he had lived, in the full hope of immortal happiness beyond the grave.

The deceased has left a devoted wife and infant daughter, besides many relatives and friends, to mourn his untimely death.

Grammar Class.

Rev. Dr. FORTNER, Prof. Morris's associate is now in our town, making up a grammar class, and that our readers may know what others think of the new system, we copy the following article:

THE NEW SYSTEM OF GRAMMAR.—Mr. J. J. Morris, the author of the new system of Grammar, has been engaged for some weeks in the instruction of a numerous class at this place. We had the pleasure one evening last week of attending the examination of his pupils, and can bear cheerful testimony to the success which has crowned his labors. Some of the youngest pupils appeared to have attained a proficiency in the new system, which considering the brief period embraced in the course of instruction, was extraordinary. Although our acquaintance with Mr. Morris's system has been but slight, we are satisfied that it is in many respects greatly superior to those heretofore pursued. The nomenclature and classification of the parts of speech, the moods, tenses and genders are more just, reasonable and philosophical than those of the old grammarians. It has evidently been the aim of the author to make his system as simple and comprehensive as possible, preserving and adopting the better portions of the works of his predecessors, and rejecting only what was manifestly unreasonable. His exposition of the absurdities of the prevailing systems of grammar is forcible and convincing, and it is difficult to hear it and resist the conviction, that they contain many radical errors.

Spirit of the South.

Mr. GRANT.—Please insert the enclosed piece headed, "Good Citizen Rum-sellers," clipped from the "So. Organ," in your paper. And may God grant that those whom the cap may fit, be greatly instructed and edified thereby. A member of the "Know-Nothing" Society.

GOOD CITIZEN RUMSELLERS.

The liquor traffic, in any and every shape, is fraught only with evil; there is not the first redeeming trait about the accursed business. And by what show of reason it can be made to appear that he is a good citizen who selects a business from which no good results can flow, and which is confessed to be full of innumerable evils prejudicial to every department of life, is something above and beyond the pale of our philosophy.

We hear all around us much sympathy expressed for Rum-sellers; we hear men lauding them for their exemplary deportment, and many presses, in the land eulogizing them as paragons of excellence, "princes" of the rum traffic, but no sympathy, no feeling, no soul for the thousands of wretches who are wailing in their wretchedness and blood.

It makes the blood boil in our veins when we behold the agony, the desolation, the blighting, blistering march of the rum fiend through our land, and hear men and public journalists commending him to the patronage of the old and young, extolling him in choice phrases as he stabs the heart of humanity. The man who loves his race, can not think of the rum-seller and his ungodly work without being moved to indignation. He cannot speak of him without calling up those scenes of blood which thrill the soul with horror. He cannot hear of him only that with fresh supplies he pushes ahead in the perpetration of foul deeds that defy all competition. He cannot look upon him without beholding a matchless murderer, before whom plumed warriors and trained ranks fall utterly discomfited and slain.

What noble deeds has he done, that he should be looked upon as "a good citizen?" What galaxy of virtues cluster and adorn his brow, that he should be so jealously guarded by the press of the land, and eulogized by the press? Tell us, ye rum and brandy sympathizers, with what crime is he not justly chargeable, that he should not be branded with the name of "murderer?" Oh! yes—we are often told that he is a "splendid fellow—generous and accommodating." Well, he should be, for have not the people treated him with a wonderful spirit of generosity? He this day occupies the position of a privileged pet, carefully shielded by the law of the land, and in too many instances, puffed by a reckless press.

Yes, he should be generous for if he murders, of which he is guilty, he has been committed in any other way than by a tolerated poison, sanctioned by the legislation of the land, an outraged and justly-maligned people would have arrested the whole tribe, and with hempen halber, have put an end to the existence of the race.

No; it is lawful for "good citizen" rum-sellers to build up their fortunes on the skulls and tombs of murdered innocence.—Southern (N. O.) Organ.

CROPS IN TENNESSEE—MULES, HORSES, & NEGROES—HEALTH.

MONTVILE SPRINGS, Sept. 9th.
Messrs. Editors:—Presuming that many of your readers are interested in the markets of the grain growing, hog, horse, and mule producing State of Tennessee, I venture to drop you a line on the subject. The drought has been very general and has embraced the whole State, with slight exceptions. The corn crop is consequently, decidedly short; the wheat crop only middling; Irish potatoes, the only crop that is good, is the oat. Young stock that farmers are anxious to sell, but find no buyers. Mules and horses fit for harness are nevertheless high and are in very little demand. In many parts of the country, corn is so scarce that farmers will not have enough to fatten their mules and hogs, in consequence of which mules and horses will be driven South this season than last, and it is the general opinion that they are bound to go down in price. I am so settled in this opinion that I have not yet bought a single hoof. Singular, as it may seem, negroes are higher in the grain growing than in the cotton producing States; indeed traders are engaged in buying negroes in the cotton States and selling them for a considerable profit in the grain States.

It is, therefore, more than probable that the negro trade will be checked for a while in the more Southern States. And this check will have a very material effect upon the mule trade. For every two negroes carried South from the more Northern slave holding States, there is a demand for one mule or horse. You, therefore, see plainly that if the negro trade is checked, that there will be a much less demand for mules at the South, and as the farmers here are forced to sell their surplus stock on account of the scarcity of corn, I apprehend that stock can be bought at the South by the middle of January cheaper by retail than they are now sold at wholesale in either Kentucky, Tennessee or Ohio. There has been much sickness in the rich valleys of Kentucky, and Tennessee this summer. The prevailing diseases are cholera and flux. The larger portion of the inhabitants of Madisonville and Knoxville, Tenn., have fled to the mountains to escape the destroyer. Members of visitors come here sick and are restored directly. The water is a specific for such as are affected with dysentery.

Very Respectfully,
M. A. BROWN.

From the Baltimore Patriot Sept. 18.
ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP EUROPA.

HALIFAX, Sept. 18.—The steamship Niagara arrived here at 11 o'clock to night, bringing dates from Liverpool to the 2d inst.

PROGRESS OF THE WAR.—Lloyd's has authentic news that Marshal St. Armand will leave Constantinople on the 3d to take charge of the expedition to Crimea, which by that time would have reached its destination.

VIENNA, Friday.—Yesterday Prince Gortschakoff made a confidential communication to Count Buol, and requested similar explanations; also notified him that he had communications to make to the Emperor in person.

BELGIUM, Friday.—Russia will not accept the Austrian invitation to commence negotiations upon the basis stipulated by the Western Powers.

POLITICAL NEWS.—The general political advice by this arrival, being only three days later than those by the St. Louis, are very meagre and unimportant.

Affairs in the East seem to have made no special change. The war continues in about the same attitude. No movement towards peace, and no further fighting of moment.

It is now fully understood that Russia positively refuses the invitation of Austria to negotiate for peace, on the basis of the Western Powers. The Czar says he will fight it out before budging one inch from his previous determination. That he is in no particular hurry about meeting the enemy. He is willing that they should have time.

Several ships whose destination was not known, had sailed from Yarna on the 24th and 25th ult.

An army of Turks was marching towards Glutzes.

The Russian forces were to be at Jassy on the 3rd of September to make it their head quarters.

The Overland force still hold Galatz.

Austria and Prussia still stands in the same position towards the allied powers and Russia.

France and England were tranquil. Spain continues much agitated and the government unsettled.

FROM THE BALTIC.—France and England have decided to dismantle and abandon Bomarsund.

It is said they offered it and the Aland Islands to Sweden, on condition of his declaring against Russia, but Sweden refuses to accept.

On the 26th, Napier and Marshal D'Hilliers proceeded to Harg, in sight of the Russians, who blew up their fortifications, and then returned to Abo, where 15,000 men are in garrison.

A small engagement, without loss of life, occurred at Abo on the 18th, between 18 Russian gunboats and some steamers in the Baltic.

The cholera continues at Yarna. Stormy weather prevailed in the Black Sea.

Private despatches from Yarna to the 24th ult., state that five ships with troops sailed on the previous day, and six on that day, the destination of which was unknown. The opinion gained currency that the destination of the expedition would be Anapa, and that the fleets would winter there.

Marshal St. Armand will hold a general military council at Yarna, to inquire whether the army is fit for service during the present season on the Danube.

The Turks continue to occupy Bucharest, and are strengthening all the strategic positions and are re-fortifying Grenova.

Portions of the Turkish forces are moving upon Galatzes Abnal. The Russians on September 8th would be at Jassy, their head quarters. The overland force still holds Galatz for hostilities and magazines.

SPAIN.—Queen Christina's property has been all confiscated, and she has been expelled from the country.

The Market.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 6.—Cotton there is a strengthening tone in the market, and middling and lower qualities have advanced 1.8d; but higher qualities remain unchanged.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP ST. LOUIS.
Four Days Later from Europe.

By the United States Mail Steamship Saint Louis, Captain Eldridge, we have dates from Southampton and London to the 23rd ult. Havre and Paris to the 29th.

From the Baltic there is little news except the despatches of Sir Charles Napier, with the numerous reports of his subordinate officers giving the details of the taking of Bomarsund.

Five hundred shops and private homes had been destroyed by the fire at Yarna, on the 10th. The fire broke out in several places at the same time. Several of the Greek incendiaries have already been shot.

The Valdimir had her captain killed, as well as 16 men, in the recent brush off Sebastopol. The vessel is English built and fitted out to the best advantage. She is probably the best vessel of the Baltic, and the leg is sound!

She is stated to have called at Odessa about the 24th ult. Cruisers were despatched to intercept her on her return. She carries eight guns, and possesses engines of 400 horse power.

The expedition to the Crimea was appointed to sail on the 26th August, although some reports stated the 30th. It was composed of 76,000 men, of whom 20,000 were Turks. The cholera was rather less violent. The damage done by the fire at Yarna was estimated at half a million sterling, and the allied troops were put to great straits by the destruction of a part of their commissariat.

On the 22d, Omar Pacha, with 25,000 men and 30 guns, entered Bucharest. His reception was enthusiastic.

The cholera was raging with terrible violence at Bomarsund amongst the French troops.

The French Ambassador had offered the King of Sweden 14,000,000 francs for the first month, and 7,000,000 for each succeeding month, as a subsidy for his actually joining the Western Powers.

The British Envoy had several interviews with the King of the subject.

A large portion of the French fleet had left Bomarsund to make a descent on the coast west of Helsingfors. A part of the fleet consisted of the heavy ships, had sailed in that direction. In the Swedish Diet, a House of Commons proposed a petition to the King, to take measures, to prevent the Aland Islands from returning to Russian dominion.

The German papers announce the approaching conclusion of a treaty offensive and defensive with Austria and the Western Powers.

The preliminaries were said to be settled. There was also a question of an additional article to the Austrian Prussian convention of April, which would perhaps place Russia on a better footing with England, France and Austria.

The Hannibal, Royal William and three other ships of war, all laden with Russian prisoners, passed through the Great Belt, on their way to England on the 24th ult.

There is no improvement in Spanish affairs. A Royal decree has been published suppressing the juntas of safety and armament formed in the Provinces. The governor had obtained a loan of sixty-five millions of reals, secured on the revenue of Cuba.

The Turkish account of the battle of Kars have been received, its result was indecisive. The loss on both sides was 5000 men. Hassan Pacha was killed, and Mustapha Pacha wounded in the action. Three Russian Generals were disabled.

General Intelligence.

A singular and fatal occurrence took place in the town of Hamburg, Erie County, a few days since.

An Irishman was engaged in digging a well, and after getting down to the depth of some eighteen or twenty feet, found signs of water very perceptible. At last he struck his pick through a thin layer of slate, when, all at once, and with a noise like thunder, sufficiently loud to be heard all over the neighborhood, a stream of mingled gas and water burst through the orifice, instantly killing the unfortunate man, and filling the well to the depth of ten or twelve feet with water. Gas still escapes profusely, and the water is in constant and violent motion, resembling a large cauldron of boiling fluid.

RAPID GROWTH OF BROOKLYN.

There is no city in the United States which has outstripped the city of Brooklyn, New York, in rapid and substantial growth. Thirty years ago it was but a small village, and now it has one hundred and twenty thousand inhabitants, and its public buildings and private edifices are of a costly and splendid description. On the first of next January, under a law of New York and a new charter, the adjoining towns of Williamsburg and Bushwick will be added to Brooklyn, increasing its population to nearly two hundred thousand souls. Brooklyn, lying just across the River from New York, has generally been considered a suburb of that mammoth city, but, by her efforts for direct foreign trade, she now seems disposed to "set up for herself." She has a "water-front" of eighty miles, with substantial wharves and capacious warehouses; the "Atlantic dock," which is said to be deep and large enough to contain a thousand ships, and a depth of water such that the ships can go to and from the wharves without waiting for the tides.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills, certain Remedies for Bad Legs, Sores and Ulcers.—Hurry Road, of Brooklyn, N. Y. suffered for nearly eight years with a very bad leg. It was covered with sores of a most malignant character, and terribly swollen. He had consulted many of the medical men of the city, but in vain. He was at last cured by the use of Holloway's Ointment and Pills for nine weeks.

Remarkable Results of Canadian Legislation.—The waters have been thrown open, and the armed ships which guarded them been withdrawn from service. The treaty could not have commenced its career of usefulness under more favorable auspices than such a manifestation of confidence and good will afford.

Later from California.

The steamship Star of the West arrived at New York from San Francisco, half past ten o'clock. On Friday morning bringing advices from San Francisco for August 16th, stating that the war had ended all parts of California. She brought 400 passengers and over $1,000,000 in gold and silver, besides considerable amounts of merchandise. By an arrival at San Francisco of the English Clipper Northfleet from China, it was reported that Canton had surrendered to the insurgents. Another rumor, however, leaves this in doubt. The San Francisco papers report an almost incredible number of suicides, murders, robberies, &c. Among the recent murders is an American named Reed. The town of Bodwell has been entirely destroyed by fire. Loss heavy. A band of robbers, a portion of the notorious Joaquin's followers, have gone to Marysville for the purpose of marauding, robbing, and perpetrating other outrages. Large saul mines have been discovered in Los Angeles county. The surveying party, under Lieut. Beckworth, was to leave San Francisco on the 16th ult. for Washington. The report of the party, regarding the central route, is highly favorable. The Pacific Rail Road portion of the Democracy were endeavoring to effect a union. Mining operations were highly prosperous. Great discoveries of gold were reported to have been made at Santa Barbara. The names of McDougall and Latham had been placed in nomination for Congress by the Big Bear wing of the Democracy, but were withdrawn. Late advices from Oregon reports that Southern emigrant trains were in danger from Indians, who threatened their lives. The Hon. John Davis had resigned the Governorship of Oregon, and left for the Atlantic States. Advices have been received from the Sandwich Island of later dates. Eight war vessels from England and France had arrived at Honolulu. Their object unknown. A large meeting was held to consider the subject of steam communication with Honolulu and San Francisco. Miss Catherine Hayes gave a concert at Honolulu, and left for Australia. Several British vessels of war were at San Juan at last accounts. There is no further general news of moment. Among the passengers of the Star of the West, is Governor Davis, of Oregon, who resigned the Governorship in consequence of sickness in his family. Also, Lieut. Beckworth, of the surveying party. There was a current rumor that the annexation of the Sandwich Islands to the United States had been finally agreed upon, and that a consent for the cession of the sovereignty of the Island to the United States had been sent to Washington.

Fishing at Corpus Christi.

A correspondent of the Spirit of the Times, shows that Texas fishing throws such sport in the North as together in the shade. The following extract describes the success of a morning's sport in the "Laguna Madre," near Corpus. "As the fish were caught, they were strung on a strong cord, and placed in deep water to be kept alive. We soon found that we had got into a camp meeting of red fish, frequently a half dozen fellows were coming in at once, and the fine fishing kept five men busy, stringing and removing the fish long before the sun had reached the meridian. Our party clean fished out, used up, and gave the lines into the hands of our servants. After a slight lunch, we repaired with our pile on board, and carefully stowed them in the hold on a clean tarpaulin. We kept them fresh until we returned before sunset the same day. On counting the spoils, we tallied one hundred and eighty red fish, averaging over twenty pounds apiece, of which over fifty weighed forty pounds each. In all, nearly two tons of red fish, caught by the hand alone, by five persons fishing three hours. At no time were there more than five, and a part of the time only three, were busy with the lines. This may seem a pretty tall fish story, but it is a pretty tall fish story, and there can be no question of it. I have seen it. You should have seen the sight, when the fish rascals were in the hold, covering a place of twelve feet by five, two or three deep. It looked like a few square yards of a giant's snout after a summer show, and as it is required to be by the

REMARKABLE RESULTS OF

One of the remarkable results of the late Canadian legislation, the waters have been thrown open, and the armed ships which guarded them been withdrawn from service. The treaty could not have commenced its career of usefulness under more favorable auspices than such a manifestation of confidence and good will afford.

The house of Henry Rogers, located upon a high eminence, was entirely free from trees and shrubbery, was struck by lightning, and almost totally destroyed, without the slightest injury to the inmates. As we could judge, the lightning entered the roof near the centre, and tore its way on each side, about one-third part of the whole surface. The house was one story, and directly beneath this place was a bed on which were sleeping three children. So near were they to the foot of the post of the bedstead, that within a foot of the boards, which were thrown to the ground, north and south.

The charged lightning passed to the east part of the house, tearing off the entire roof, and throwing fragments over forty yards into a neighboring field; it then entered a bedroom, split the head and foot boards from a bedstead occupied by two young men, shattered the posts, tearing the paper from the walls, thence passing into another room, taking from under a feather bed, on which was lying Mr. Rogers and wife, a straw bed, and scattering the straw in every direction. Every pane of glass in the house was broken, and some of the fragments thrown thirty feet in a southerly direction. The lightning then separated, taking a southerly and northerly course, throwing a privy upon a stone wall, passing through a barn, in which were animals and a quantity of hay, thence along the road, splitting from a rock upon a stone wall a piece weighing twenty pounds, throwing it some ten feet into the road, and passing into the earth. Mrs. Rogers was the only person awake. She heard the report, which she says was bewildering and incomprehensible. The lightning must have passed within a few inches of the head of the young men, as the head and foot boards, which were shattered, could not have been more than that distance from their heads. Everything in the house was in the most singular confusion. Articles were passed from one room to another, cards from a rack were found behind a mirror which hung opposite, a piece of meat which hung in the cellar way was found on the second floor, and a pouch of powder was found perfect in the road. The stove was shattered and broken, crockery were driven in all directions, fragments of furniture pierced the partitions, and everything mysterious in its disposition. The clock was stopped at three minutes to eleven, the pendulum was displaced and has not been found. Had a keg of powder exploded in the cellar it would not have made a more perfect wreck. But yet, strange as it was, not one of the seven inmates were injured. A scientific friend, whom we induced to visit the spot with us, enjoins upon us to present it as one of the most remarkable illustrations of the protection afforded by a feather bed from the effects of lightning, as it is his opinion that this alone saved them from instant death.

Boston Traveller August 9.

An affecting scene took place at Windsor. When the 46th regiment was about departing from the town for service in the East, a little motherless child was observed clinging to the legs of its father, who was a private in the regiment. The poor man refused to drive it away when ordered, and by "one gentle touch of nature," succeeded in exciting the sympathy of Lieut. Hutton, who put £10 into the child's hand, and afterwards induced his mother to adopt it.

MISS CATHERINE HAYES gave a concert at Honolulu, and left for Australia.

Several British vessels of war were at San Juan at last accounts. There is no further general news of moment.

Among the passengers of the Star of the West, is Governor Davis, of Oregon, who resigned the Governorship in consequence of sickness in his family. Also, Lieut. Beckworth, of the surveying party.

There was a current rumor that the annexation of the Sandwich Islands to the United States had been finally agreed upon, and that a consent for the cession of the sovereignty of the Island to the United States had been sent to Washington.

A large meeting was held to consider the subject of steam communication with Honolulu and San Francisco.

dating terms, my land, consisting of 164 ACRES, lying five and a half miles south of Jacksonville on the McGehee road. There are on the tract about 50 acres cleared and in a good state of cultivation. The premises are handsomely improved. The place is well warmed and has on it a fine Apple orchard of about 200 trees, more or less of which are bearing—also a good Peach Orchard and a fine variety of other fruits.
