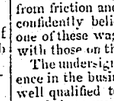
WAGONS! WAGONS!
Valuable and USEFUL
IMPROVEMENT.


THE UNDERSIGNED having purchased from Eli Thornburg, the patent right for Calhoun County to "Jones Patent Thimble skein Axletrees," respectfully inform the public, that they are prepared to make to order, in the best manner, & of the best materials, Four and Two Horse Wagons, with this latest and best improvement. They will also keep Wagons on hand for sale.
The merits of this invention consists in a thorough box an thimble skein of malable iron; so adjusted as to make it run exceedingly smoothe and light, and comparatively free from friction and wear; so much so, that it is confidently believed that two horses, with one of these wagons can pull as much as three with those on the old plan.
The undersigned having had long experience in the business, and being consequently well qualified to judge, confidently recommend these wagons to the Public, feeling assured that those who try them will never use any other kind.

POETRY.

THE VIOLETS.

Dear mother, when my violets died
And the woods were brown and sere,
You whispered, smiling, when I cried,
"The spring will soon be here."

And now I see their blossoms low
Along the woodland track;
But, mother, when the violets grow,
Will Mary not come back?

'Twas winter when she passed away,
The wind blew coldly then,
But the softspring air is sweet to-day—
Will she not come again?

My boy, the violets sweet may bloom
Among the woodland bowers,
And spring's soft breezes too may come,
To whisper through the flowers!

But Mary, dear, is better far,
Than when she sojourned here—
Where sin and sorrow never are,
And God dries every tear.

And if you live as Mary lived,
Before God called her home,
You'll meet her in a happier land,
Where death no more may come.

The Cable.

Laid by the "Agamemnon" and "Niagara."
AY T. BUCHANAN READ.

'Tis fit the grand old kingly name
Of which the kingliest poet sings,
Should Eastward bear Jove's track of flame
And link it to the land of Kings,

'Tis well "Niagara," whose renown
With freedom mingles evermore,
Should Westward give her burden down,
And chain the world to freedom's shore.

'Tis done! the angry sea consents—
The nations stand no more apart—
With clasped hands the continents
Feel throbbing of each other's heart.

Speed, speed the Cable; let it run,
A loving girdle round the earth,
Till all the nations 'neath the sun
Shall be as brothers at one hearth;

As brother's pledging hand in hand
One freedom from the world abroad,
One commerce over every land,
One language and one God!

N. Y. Evening Post.

Edward Everett on the Atlantic Cable.

The following passage from the oration delivered by Mr. Everett, on the occasion of the inauguration of the Dudley Observatory, at Albany, N. Y., more than a year ago, is quite appropriate at the present time. In enumerating the achievements of science, he said:

Such is language, the representative of thought. Dwelling upon it, I pray you, a moment longer; it is a great mystery of our being. By the use of a few written or printed lines on paper, so like each other that, in languages with which we are familiar—witness a Maylay or Japanese manuscript—there seems scarce any difference between them; this unseen, intangible, mysterious mental essence, compared with which a perfume, a sound, a lunar rainbow, is gross and material, expresses itself to the eye; by the gentle impulse, the soft vibrations, which the lips, impart to the elastic air, it expresses itself to the ear. To give the spoken word duration, I translate it into written characters; to give the written sign a vital emphasis, I translate it into vocal speech. By one divine art, the dead letter, charged with a living meaning, sounds through echoing halls, and wins or storms its way to sympathetic hearts; by another, the fleeting wavelets of the air are crystalized into a most marvelous permanence, and become imperishable gems of thought, whose lustre no lapse of time can obscure; while, by the union of both, this incomprehensible being, the mind, generally wooed from the vestal chambers of our inmost natures, comes forth like a bride adorned for her lordly spouse, the word; clad in the rich vesture of conversation, of argument, of eloquence, of poetry, of songs; to walk with him the busy or the secluded paths of life; to instruct and delight the living generations; ethereal essences as they are, to outlive columns of brass and pyramids of granite; and to descend in eternal youth the unending highways of the ages.

Does it seem much that the skill of men has in these latter days contrive the means or communicating intelligence almost with the rapidity of thought across the expanse of continents, and beneath the depth of oceans by the electric wire. That a message dispatched from Boston at mid-day, will so far out travel the sun as to reach St. Louis an hour before she arrives at that meridian? It is much, and we contemplate with just amazement the wonderful apparatus which, when laid down, as sooner or later, it will perhaps be, so as to connect the three continents, may, by possibility, send the beginning of such a sentence as I am now pronouncing around the terraqueous globe and return it to the lips of the speaker, before he has completed its utterance.—But this amazing apparatus is but another form of language; it transmits intelligence only as it transmits words. It is like speech, like the pen, like the press, another piece of machinery by which language is conveyed from place to place. The really wonderful thing is language itself, by which thought is made sensible and communicated from mind to mind, not only in the great living congregation of the civilized world for time being, but through the vast general assembly of the ages; by which we are able at this moment, not only to listen to all the great utterances which express the thoughts and emotions of the present day throughout the world, but to soar with Milton the green fields of Paradise in the morning of creation; to descend with Dante to the depths of panel woe; to listen to the thunders of Tully and Demosthenes, and by the golden chain of etymology, trace the affinity and descent of nations back, through the Assyrian dynasty, almost to the cradle of race.

I hold in my hand a portion of the identical cable, given me by my friend Mr. Peabody, which is now, [April 22, 1757.] in progress of manufacturing, to connect America with Europe. I read upon it the following: "A part of the submarine electric telegraph cable, manufactured by Messrs. Glass & Co., of London, for the Atlantic Telegraph Company, to connect St. Johns, Newfoundland, with Valentia, Ireland, a distance of sixteen hundred and forty nautical, or nineteen hundred statute miles." Does it seem all but incredible to you that intelligence should travel for two thousand miles, along those slender coper wires, far down in the all but fathomless Atlantic, never before penetrated by aught pertaining to humanity, save when some foundering vessels has plunged with her hapless company, to the eternal silence and darkness of the abyss? Does it seem, I say, all but miracle of art, that the thoughts of living men—the thoughts that we think up here on the earth's surface in the cheerful light of day—about the markets, the exchanges, and the seasons, and the elections and the treaties, and the wars, and all the fond nothings of daily life, should clothe themselves with elemental sparks, and shoot with fiery speed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, from hemisphere to hemisphere, far down among the uncouth monsters that wallow in the nether seas, along the wreck payed floor, through oozy dungeons of the rayless deep; that the last intelligence of the crops, whose dancing tassels will in a few months be coquetting with the west wind on these boundless prairies, should go flashing along the slimy decks of old sunken galleons, which have been rotting for ages; that messages of friendship and love, from warm living bosoms, should burn over the cold green bones of men and women, whose hearts, once as warm as ours, burst as the eternal gulfs closed and roared over them, centureis ago? Behold another phenomenon of a surety not less surprising—an intellectual electric telegraph—if I may so call it—not less marvelous! The little volume which I hold in my hand, contains the two immortal poems of Homer, those wold renowned strains, which one of the imperial minds of our race, not far from thirty centuries ago, poured forth in the delighted ears of heroic Greece, while the softest down of youth was upon the cheek of its young nationality—the glowing golden legends—that sovereign wrath of Achilias, which.

"shall burn unquenchably, Until the eternal doom shall be—" the parting of Hector and Andromache—a scene to which the sad experience of three thousand years could not add one image of tenderness and sorrow; the threats of Jupiter to the awe struck gods, while every peak of Olympus was ablaze with his leaping thunders; the piteous supplications of aged Priam, kissing the hand and bathing with his tears the feet of the cruel chieftain, who had dragged the torn body of his noble son three times round the Ilian walls; the weary and sorrowful wanderings of Ulysses, which, every subsequent age of mankind has retraced with delight—these all, like the (cunningly imprisoned airs of a musical box, breathe to us in one perennial train of melody from within the covers of this small volume. By the simple agency of twenty-four little marks, stamped on the written or the printed page, the immortal legen l has flashed down to us through the vicissitudes empires and eras; across the vast expanse of enlightened and benighted periods of history; from region to region, from his own rocky islet in the Egean to shores unknown, undreamed of, by him; beneath the overwhelming billows of three thousand years, where peoples whole have sunk; and it now binds together by the golden wires of intellect and taste, the mind of Europe and America, at this meridian of their refinement, with the mind of every intervening age of liberty culture back to the cradle of infant Grace. And while at our places of education, we diligently investigate the wonderful properties of matter developed in the phenomena of the physical world, shall we not, my friends, deem a portion of our time and attention well bestowed upon the miracle of the world, written and spoken—the phenomena of language which lie at the foundation of all our intellectual improvement, of all our literature and science, in a word, of all rational communication between man and man?

A BOLD, BUT BEAUTIFUL FIGURE.—During a delivery of a sermon, last Sunday, in St. Patrick's Catholic church in this city, the eyes of the congregation were suddenly riveted upon the speaker, Rev. Francis X. Boyle, by what for the moment, seemed to be a digression to the all-absorbing topic of conversation and conjecture throughout the civilised world—the Atlantic telegraph. The eloquent divine spoke in terms of glowing panegyric of this wonderful triumph of human science, and diluted upon the revolutions which the grand achievement will accomplish in the commercial, political, and social condition of the two hemispheres thus successfully united by means of the electric wire. What is it, after all, exclaimed the speaker, when compared with instantaneous communication between the Throne of Divine Grace and the heart of man? Offer up your silent petition for grace. It is transmitted through realms of unmeasured space more rapidly than the lightning's flash, and the answer reaches the soul ere the prayer has died away on the sinner's lips. Yet this telegraph, performing its saving functions ever since Christ died for us on Cavalry, fills not the world with exultation and shouts of gladness—with illuminations and bonfires and the booming of cannon. The reason is, it is the thelegraph of this world—it may produce wonderful revolutions on earth; the other is the sweet communion between Christ and the Christian's soul, and will secure a glorious immortality in Heaven.

Washington Union Aug. 15.

"Good-Night, Papa."

These are the words whose music has not left our ears since the gloaming, and now it is midnight. "Good night, darling!" God bless you; you will have pleasant dreams though I toss in fever, haunted by the demons of care that harrass me through the day.—Good night! The clock on the mantle struck twelve, and no sound was heard in the house save the regular breathing of those little lungs in the next room, heard in through the door ajar. We dropped our pen, folded our arms and sat gazing on the lazy fire, while the whole panorama of a life passed before us, with its many "good nights." It is a great thing to be rich, but it is a rich thing to have a good memory—provided that memory bears no unpleasant fruit, bitter to the taste; and our memory carries us back to many a pleasant scene, to the little arm chair by the fireside; to the trundle bed at the foot of the bed; to the lawn in front of the house, and the orchard behind it; to the butter cups, and the new clover, and the chickens and the swallows, and the bird's nests, and the strewberries and the many little things that attract the wandering eyes of children, to say nothing of the mysteries of the starry skies, and the wide gloom of the moaning forest. But then there were the "good nights," and the little prayer, & the downy bed, on which slumber fell as lightly as a snow flake, only much warmer, and such dreams as only visit perfect innocence! The household "Good night." Somebody in whose brain its music still lingers, has written thus

"Good night!" A loud clear voice from the stairs said that it was Tommy. "Good night!" murmurs a something from the trundle bed—a little something that we call Jenny, that filled a large place in the centre of two pretty little hearts. "Good night!" lisps a little fellow in a plaid rifle dress, who was named Willie about six years ago,

"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep;
If I should die before I wake"— and the small bundle in the trundlebed had dropped off to sleep, but the broken prayer may go up sooner than many long positions that set a great while before it.

And so it was 'good night' all around the homestead; and very sweet music it made, too, in that twilight, and very pleasant melody it makes now as we think of it, for it was not yesterday nor the day before, but a long time ago, so long that Tommy is Thomas Somebody Esq., and has forgotten that he ever was a boy, and wore what the bravest and richest of us can never but once, if we try—the first pair of boots.

And so it was "good night" all around the house; and the children had gone through the ivory gate, always left a little ajar for them—through into the land of dreams.

And then the lover's "good night," and the parting kiss! They are as prodigal of the hours as the spendthrift is of his coin, and the minutes depart in golden showers, and fall in dying sparks at their feet. "Good night!"

Beautiful Women—the Poles.

The last number of the New York Tribune contains a letter from Bayard Taylor, dated at Warsaw, Poland, which is especially remarkable for the admiration which it expresses of the beauty of the Polish women:

At Granitz, he says, we were charmed by a vision of perfect loveliness, which shone on us from time to time from the upper window of an adjoining mansion. It was a woman of twenty-two, of ripe and yet tender beauty—features exquisitely regular, complexion like a bluish rose, large, soft eyes rather violet than blue, and a rippling crown of magnificent hair, "brown in the shadow and gold in the sun." I confess to watching this beautiful creature for half an hour, through the window blinds.

He attended the annual races near Warsaw, where some fifty thousand persons were gathered—nearly all of them pure Poles. The races were nothing; the women everything.

What more interested me than the speed of the horses was the beauty of the Polish women of the better class. During two years in Europe, I have not seen so great a number of handsome faces as I saw in an hour yesterday. It would be difficult to furnish a large proportion from the acknowledged loveliness of Philadelphia, Baltimore or Louisville. I heard of an American marrying a Polish lady at Dresden the other day, and I must commend his taste. Those maids of Warsaw are not only radiant blondes, whose eyes and hair remind you of corn flowers among ripe grain, but also dark-eyed beauties, with faces of a full Southern oval, lips round and delicate as those of an Amorete, and a pure golden transparency of complexion. The connoisseur of woman's beauty can nowhere better compare these two rival styles, nor have so great a difficulty in deciding between them.

TERRIBLE REVOLUTION IN FASHION.—The Paris correspondent of the Boston Post contains the following important, and we may say alarming, intelligence:

With unmittigated regret, Colonel, I desire to communicate a very important piece of news, viz: Voluminous skirts are no longer the fashion! Crinoline, practically, is a defunct article, and borax dowder will no more be put into starch to give petticoats the stiffness hitherto requisite. It is the high chic now to wear few skirts and in fact collapse the balloon! I derive my information from that popular journal of the fashions, the Gazette Rose, edited by the Vicomtesse de Renneville a lady generally supposed to dwell in a magnificent palace in the Faubourg St. Germain, but who, in reality, I am assured, lives in a garret, smokes a black pipe, and wears very seedy black pantaloons and no end of beard!

The citizens of Washington, Texas, intend to honor Gen. Houston with a public dinner.

OFFICE OF THE SUPT. OF EDUCATION
Montgomery, August 18, 1858.

TO THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

GENTLEMEN:—I avail myself of the opportunity afforded by the distribution of the accompanying forms, to make known to you, that a School for the Deaf and Dumb will go into operation, in the town of Talladega, on the first day of October next.—It has been established in pursuance of an Act of the last session of the Legislature, appropriating what was thought to be a sufficient sum to defray the expenses of the board and tuition of the indigent mutes of the State, between the ages of eight and twenty years; and constituting the Governor and the Superintendent of Education Joint Commissioners "to locate the School," and "to appoint the Teacher or Teachers of said School."

They have succeeded in obtaining, for the present, a commodious building in the place above named, formerly known as the East Alabama Masonic Female Institute; and in employing, to take charge of the School, Dr. JOSEPH H. JOHNSON, who has, for seven or eight years past, been connected with the Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb of the State of Georgia, and comes endorsed by the Board of Managers of that Institution as a gentleman and an accomplished instructor.

The following sections of the Act contain the conditions upon which the benefits of the Institution can be enjoyed, and the course to be pursued in order to gain admission.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That whenever an indigent youth, between the ages of eight and twenty years, shall become an applicant for the benefit of this fund, his or her parents, nearest relations or friends, shall make oath before one Justice of the Peace of the county in which said applicant is a resident, as to his or her necessitous condition; said affiant shall expressly affirm the inability of said applicant's family to bear the expenses of his or her education and board; and it shall be duly certified by the Judge of the Probate Court of the same county as to the facts involved; and it shall be forwarded to the Superintendent of Education, who shall then be empowered, if he consider the circumstances of the case warrant it, to give said applicant a certificate of admission into the Institution with the privilege of board and education, together with the usual and necessary expenses connected therewith. All such certificates, with their accompanying privileges, shall be formally renewed at the end of the year, as the Superintendent of Education may deem best in view of the successful use of the fund.

SEC. 5. Be it further enacted, That if other persons not contemplated in the provisions of the foregoing Act shall desire to avail themselves of the advantages of this Institution, they or their friends may make application to the Superintendent for admission into it. If the Superintendent deem them proper persons to enter the Institution he may issue his certificate for their admission: Provided, The parties make themselves responsible in due form for the payment of the expenses of such applicants; all such proceeds shall be appropriated by the Superintendent to the aid of the Institution; but in no case shall the State be held responsible for the payment of any expense incurred by those pupils that are not its own acknowledged beneficiaries.

The persons referred to in section 5, are those whose parents are able to defray the expenses incident to their attendence upon the School. The cost to such for board and tuition will be one hundred and forty dollars per school year of forty weeks.

The expenses of clothing and of traveling to and from the Institution must, in all cases, be borne by the parents or guardians.

Your co-operation is respectfully solicited in inducing such persons of your acquaintance as may have children thus afflicted to avail themselves of the opportunity afforded of having them properly instructed. Those wishing to enter pupils should forward their applications as soon as possible so that certificates of admission may be returned before the opening of the School.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
WILLIAM F. PERRY.

The Virginia and Tennessee Railroad is two hundred and four miles in length, and it cost about seven million dollars. In 1850, the taxable value of the land in the counties through which it passes, as taken from the census, was twenty-eight million nine hundred and forty-two thousand six hundred and forty-seven dollars; and in 1856 the State assessment makes it fifty-three million nine hundred and seventeen thousand two hundred and twenty-nine dollars, or an increase in six years of twenty-five million three hundred and sixty-five thousand five hundred and fifty-eight dollars. This sudden increase is alone the result of an internal improvement which has cost only seven million dollars. So says an exchange.

A FRENCH FLYING MACHINE.—The Emperor has just made a present of 5000f to a private in the line, who asserts he has discovered a solution for the great problem in æronautics—the art of flying. He invented a kind of air ship consisting of a platform of silk stretched over whalebone, to be propelled by two gigantic wings of the same material placed on each side.—The aerial navigator is to be suspended at a distance of about four feet from the platform, while his feet rest on pedals, by means of which the wings are set in motion, while his arms rest on a lever which imparts to the platform the direction he chooses to give it. Only a model of this machine has yet been constructed, and it appears to work well. Thanks to the Emperor's munificence, it is now about to be constructed on a large scale.—Paris correspondent of the Morning Herald.

A TERRIBLE STORY OF MURDER AND SUICIDE.—On the 9th inst. Mrs. Williams, the wife of Benjamin Williams, a very handsomely toward the [illegible] a wealthy farmer living in Pittsfield, Lorain county, Ohio, hung her daughter—a deaf and dum girl about twelve years of age—and afterwards hung herself. The Cincinnati Gazette says

Mrs. Williams had some time ago commenced an action against her husband for divorce, and the case had been settled and the suit withdrawn on the same day of the murder and suicide. The ground of the application for divorce was neglect of duty, and the sympathy of an entire neighborhood was with her, as her husband, Benjamin Williams, is a shiftless, dissipated man, Mrs. Williams was a woman respected by all who knew her, but on the Monday referred to charges of gross immorality were made against her, and witnesses were said to be ready to prove them; and the nature of such charges were, if proved against her, sufficient to defeat her application for divorce. Under this state of things she withdrew her divorce case, receiving from Williams forty dollars of money, a promise of four hundred and sixty dollars more, and a deed for sixty acres of land for the benefit of the deaf & dumb girl. This deed was drawn, but remained in the hands of Williams' lawyer. The belief of the neighbors now is that Mrs. Williams was the victim of a conspiracy, and after she had settled the suit, her agony of mind at the position she was placed in, drove her to the perpetration of the terrible deed.

The body of the deaf and dumb daughter was found hanging by the neck, and the feet tied to the rounds of a chair; if her feet had been free, they would have touched the floor. Mrs. Williams used a sheet for the purpose, tearing it in two; hanging her daughter with one half and herself with the other half. The family with whom Mrs. Williams was living, were all away from home, except a child of perhaps four or five years.

Consumption---Pine Sap, &c.

A Paris correspondent of the New York Herald says: "An interesting paper on the properties of the sap of the pine tree has just been published in Accille Medicale, in reference to its curative effect on that terrible scourge of humanity in America—consumption. Dr. Desmartis, of Bordeaux, is the author, and quotes the result of four years experience. One is an instance of a young lady who was obliged to give up her revels on account of phthisic, which was hereditary in her family, her mother, father, sister, and other relatives having all died of the disorder. She was afflicted with violent retching and spitting of blood, and all these symptoms of an advanced pulmonary complaint were ascertained by auscultation. The spitting of blood was stopped in the course of five days, by administering one gramme of powder rue per day. Dr. Desmartis considers rue (ruta gravelous) to be one of the best antihæmotatics know. After which the patient took a bottle of pine sap per day for the space of three months and a half, at the end of which time her strength had returned, her cheeks had resumed their former healty condition, & every alarming symptom had disappeared. The patient has suffered no relapse. The author quotes innumerable other instances. He says that pain in the chest is not assuaged unless accompanied by a friction of the following composition: essence of rue, twenty-five grammes; concentrated tincture of aloes, one hundred grammes. Pine sap generally purges the beginner, but the effect, which seems to be purely eliminatvie, soon ceases. Its analytical proportions are, one of resinous matter, two of extractive substances (one soluble both in water and alcohol, and the other only in water,) three of albumen, four of a kind of gum, and six of soda, lime, magnesia, iron, almuina, phosphates, carbonates, and chlorides all in very small proportions.—Southern Cultivator.

A CHANGE OF SENTIMENT.—Vermont has become tired of anti slavery excitement: she has had too much of the good thing, and is now calling lustily to stop negroes from coming. Read the following from the Vermont Patriot.

What is to be done with this class of our population, is the point to which the attention of philonthropists and statesman should be directed. The entering wedge to all action is the inauguration of some system by which a certain stop will be put to the illegal introduction of colored persons into the free States. In other words, a log must be laid across the track of the underground railroad. This would prevent a yearly increase of that class of population, which is hanging like a mill stone around the neck of our industrial progress. Then thin the present population by fostering the Colonization plan by all possible means, and the question, what shall we do with the free negroes of the North? is in a fair way of receiving practical solution.

Our Federal Family.

As the late fourth of July was the first case and instance according to usage of the adoption of the federal number 32 for salutes and flags, we append the following list of dates for convenreference:

Since the original confederacy was formed, nineteen States have been added to the Union. Their names and the order of their admission have been as follows:

Vermont	1791	Missouri	1721
Kentucky	1792	Michigan	1555
Tennessee	1796	Arkansas	1530
Ohio	1802	Iowa	1845
Louisiana	1811	Florida	1846
Indiana	1816	Texas	1848
Mississippi	1817	Wisconsin	1854
Illinois	1818	California	1855
Alabama	1819	Minesota	1858
Maine	1820

Advices from Tampico to the 20th of July report that affairs there continue in the same state as heretofore reported. Gen. Carvajal had cut off communication with the interior and

Price of Land Warrants

The demand for land Warrants is steadily increasing, in consequence, it is said, of an act passed at the last session of Congress, authorizing land warrants issued under the act of 1855 to be received in half payment for the land on the railroad lines held at $2,50 per acre heretofore payable only in cold.

This is an important law, and has [illegible] value as those under the acts previous to 1855. Advices from the land office at Councils Bluffs, and from Kansas state that the government receives little money for its lands, land warrants being almost the medium of payment.—The prices of warrants at the land office aule at about $1 per acre for the 80s, and 160s, and $5 cents for the 320s.

Energy and Enterprise

Can accomplish wonders. However unfortunate a man of business may become, by misplaced confidence, or unavoidable calamity, energy, and enterprise, backed with integrity of conduct, will almost inevitably again turn the scale in his favor, and, in a few years, reinstate his fortunes. This is exemplified already in part, in the person of a citizen of Atlanta, and one of its most enterprising business men. We allude to Mr. WILLIAM KAY, bookseller and stationer of that city, to whose advertisements in this day's paper, we call the attention of our readers. As an agent, this gentleman is doing an extensive business in that city. The press almost everywhere speaks of his energy and accommodating manners, in high terms, and to all who visit Atlanta to make purchases in his line, we cordially commend him.—Empire State Griffin Ga.

THE REVIVALS.—The religious movement in this place continues with unabated interest. Since the revival commenced fifty or more persons have connected themselves with the different churches—viz: Presbyterian 10, Baptist 9, and Methodist 32. And much interest is still manifested by many. Services are held at the Methodist church twice a day.

We are happy to learn that a meeting of the greatest interest has been in progress, for the last ten or twelve days, at the Rock Spring Baptist Church, six miles Northwest of this place, conducted by the excellent pastor of that church—Rev. J. F. BEDSOE. On Sunday last fourteen persons were received into the church by baptism—and about the same number have been baptised since. The meeting we learn, will be protracted until Sunday next—and then longer if circumstances seem to require it.—Chambers Tribune.

REVIVEL IN ROME.—For the past few weeks there has been a series of meetings in our town of unusual and peculiar interest. There has been nothing boisterous and unpleasant to the most sensitive, but a calm, but deep earnestness of feeling upon the all-important subject of religion. The proportion of young men who have taken interest in these meetings is unusually large. Many luke-warm professors have been revived, and forty-four new members have joined the different churches; as follows: Presbyterian, 21; Methodist 12; and Baptist 11. A short time before the Union Meetings commenced there had been a revival in the Methodist church, and 34 joined the church.—Rome Courier.

A ST. LOUIS ROMANCE.—Strange Vicissitudes in the Life of a Nobleman. The St. Louis Republican records the death of an old man in that city, and in regard to his life furnishes the following:

Many years ago Baron Frederick von Oertel, whose family was one of the most independent and aristocratic in Saxony, fell in love with a poor girl and determined to marry her. He thus incurred the displeasure of his wealthy father, who, on learning of the proposed alliance, at once disinherited the young nobleman and turned him from his doors. This sudden reverse exasperated and maddened the lover, and bidding a silent farewell to the home of his childhood and with [illegible] the object of his affection, he bent his course to this country. On arriving here he joined the United States army, and served ten years as a soldier. It is said that his bravery and true heroism on the fields of Mexico won the admiration of all who had opportunities to observe them.

At the expiration of the ten years' service he returned to Germany to ascertain how the estate of his family was managed. He found that his parents were in their graves, and that the property was distributed equally among his brothers and sisters, himself being wholly overlooked and disregarded in the will. To add to his dark fortune, he ascertained that the girl who was the innocent cause of his ruin, had married and moved away. Overcome with mind never fully recovered from the shock this intelligence created. Wandering in person the [illegible] States, at last came to St. Louis. Here he was prostrated by violent sickness for some months. When he convalesced he found himself entirely destitute of means. His [illegible] broken down, and for a livelihood the Baron now took to selling "hretzels" with the the snug sum of $900, and having met one of the opposite sex in whom he thought he could confide, and who he could would make him a good and faithful wife though she was several years his junior, Von Oertel was married. One day, a few months afterwards, on going home with his basket, he found that his wife had eloped with a seducer, and not content with bringing her husband to disgrace, had taken his money and everything of any value about the premises, leaving him in possession of a basket of bretzels and a dishonored heart. The old man, for he was now fifty-three years of age, quietly bore his new grief, and again, with perhaps an imprecation on the false one, addressed himself to the one great task of his life—forgetting.

"Bretzel Fritz" has been well known in St. Louis—a wrinkled, slow-paced, stooping old man with a basket on his arm and rarely a smile on his face. In the last three years he has laid away $400, the profits of his little business.

Yesterday he was buried, having been sick three or four weeks. Before he expired he benevolently bequeathed his small possessions to the orphan child of a poor man, well known to many of our citizens, who died about a year ago. And so ended the eventful career of Baron Fredrick Von Oertel.

Jacksonville Republican.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA.

September 9, 1858.

New York & Charleston Steamship Line.

☞We invite particular attention to the change in the advertisement, of this line in to-day's paper, by which it will be seen, that the company have established ticket offices at Montgomery, Atlanta and Augusta. At either of these points, through tickets can now be purchased at the remarkable low price of $29 from Montgomery to New York, $23 from Atlanta, and $20 from Augusta.

On this long established and deservedly popular line, we have never heard of the first accident to life or limb; and the unceasing vigilance and efforts of owners, officers and agents for the safety, comfort and accommodation of the travelling public, is worthy of all praise, and has won for it unbounded confidence.

☞We invite especial attention to the card in another column, of Messrs. G. C. & A. W. Duncan, Grocery Merchants, Selma, Ala.

The numerous friends and acquaintances, in this section, of Mr. W. G. Privett, formerly a resident of this place, will find him in the above named house, ever ready to fill their orders, and wait upon them in the most business-like manner.

The new Mail Route.

The Rome Conrier of the 1st inst. in speaking of the advertisement of the Post Master General for proposals to carry the mail on the new line from this place to Chattanooga, says: It is not probable that Post Master General Brown, when he comes to know the facts in the case, will contribute to this spiteful project of our Jacksonville neighbors."

Now, we know of nothing spiteful about this mail route, unless some citizens there may be spited, because other interests than those of Rome are considered.

That paper also expresses the opinion, "that this is all done for Buncome."—If the Editor of that paper will examine the acts of the Post Master General in the light of impartial justice, he will not only come to the conclusion that he does nothing for Buncombe, but that a more competent or faithful officer never presided over any department of the government.

The Courier says, that "passengers can come down the State to Kingston, thence over the Rome Rail Road to Rome, and by Stage to Jacksonville in eight hours less time than over this proposed direct stage line." What can be done and what is done are often very different things. We know that a short time since we were detained at Kingston from the evening of one day until the evening of the next, in getting to Rome, and that complaints of like detentions have been common for months. But if the people of Chattanooga and Jacksonville, are willing to forego the great promised advantage of eight hours less time, we do not think others have any right to complain.

For the many upright, generous and noble-hearted business men of Rome, we feel the warmest interest and solicitude, and heartily wish them prosperity and success. But some how or other there are some men there or elsewhere, who seem to control the public works connected with that place, who pursue a contracted and selfish policy, which will ultimately prove suicidal to the best and most permanent interests of Rome.

Hardware.—We invite particular attention to the advertisement of Mr. O. B. Eve, Hardware Merchant of Rome, Ga., from which it will be seen that he has an extensive stock on hand, and has greatly reduced the prices of various articles in his line of business. He will, we have no doubt, not only continue to receive, but have increasing claims upon the liberal patronage of this and other sections of country.

We love at all times to see evidences of agriculture flourishing in our community. Major Stevenson, furnished us to-day as a proof of superior skill in this line, a large potatoe weighing two pounds. Such an exhibition of industry and energy is truly commendable in the Major.

First Goods of the Season.

Messrs. Kahn & Fleishl, are now receiving and will continue to receive for some time, a fine, large and well selected assortment of Fall and Winter Goods, comprising a fine stock of the latest and most fashionable style of Ladies Dress Goods, also for Gentlemen's wear, and an extensive assortment of Ready Made Clothing.

Those who are anxious to get the first choice, out of their Splended Stock, would do well to call soon, and examine and choose for themselves. They propose to sell their Goods unusually low for cash, or on time to punctual customers.

A more particular description of the character, quality and prices of their Goods, will be given in advertisement next week.

A. R. Harper, Hardware Merchant, Rome Ga.—This gentleman, as will be seen by reference to his advertisement in to-day's paper, has reduced the prices of Hardware and Iron to as low prices as they can be sold at elsewhere, of which he gives a list of prices. He also informs the public that he is settled for life, and expects to merit the confidence, and will doubtless continue to receive a liberal patronage from his friends, customers and the public generally.

Some of the papers still persist in endeavoring to throw a damper on the general rejoicing over the success of the Atlantic Cable, by referring to the fact that both ends rest on British soil. Where the cable is landed is not really the end. On the other side of the ocean it is connected with, & continued into many nations. On this side it is continued by land to New York, thence to New Orleans, & we know not where else. The charter is said to guard strictly its neutrality in a national and commercial point of view. Two thirds of the stockholders and President of the Company are Americans. But should any partiality or injustice ever be attempted, there would be many ways to defeat it. In the first place another cable could be laid: or if all connection on this side were cut off from it, except with the British Colonies, it would be of very little use. And if all this failed to prevent unfairness, to make short work, we could either hook it up and cut it in two, or annex Ireland and Newfoundland to the United States.

☞We invite attention to the advertisement of the Collegiate Department, or Military College, of the University of Nashville. The full and able Faculty of Teachers, its central and healthy location in the South, the extensive range of studies, including military tactics, are all advantages well understood and appreciated by the public. It is enough too, to inspire with military ardour, the youth of our country who study that science near the tomb of "the man who filled the measure of his country's glory."

Brisk business in Horse Stealing.—From the many cases reported of horse stealing, recently, it would seem that the thieves are driving a very action & profitable business. And, taken in connection with the many recent, and almost simultaneous cases of jail breaking, is conclusive argument that there is a well organized and extensive gang, extending through several States. The jails of this County, Macon, Tallapoosa, Randolph, and several others have been broken, within a few weeks past, and prisoners escaped. This state of things should incite civil officers to increased vigilance every where. The evil cannot be checked, in fact will probably increase, until many of the members and leaders of the gang are caught & subjected to the severest penalties known to the law.

Wholesale Dry Goods House.

The attention of merchants in the interior, is particularly invited to the advertisement of Messrs. Jackson, Miller & Verdery, in another column. The firm is one of long standing and popularity, and we are assured that they are prepared to offer every inducement to buyers to make their purchases without going farther than Augusta. Within the last few days they have been receiving and opening an unusually large supply of Dry Goods of various descriptions, indicating, what we believe is the opinion of our merchants generally, that an active business season is in prospect. Their stock of goods for men's wear embraces everything from the commenest Kerseys to the finest Cloths, while their assortment of prints and the staple articles of Fancy Goods are unsurpassed. It would certainly be to the interest of our friends in the interior to give the house a call before going father.

☞Any of our readers who are desirous of seeing the construction of the Submarine Telepraph Cable can be gratified by calling at the Store of Messrs. Kahn & Fleishl, who have a piece in their possession, procured by Mr. Kahn on his late visit to N. York.

See the advertisement of M. P. Stovall, Augusta, Ga. This gentleman who from long experience in the business is so widely and favorably known, will attend promptly, and accurately to any Warehouse and Commission Business entrusted to his care.

Hard Ware.—O. B. Eve has on hand and is now receiving a full supply of Hardware in all its varous branches. By his advertisement in our paper to-day, it will be seen that he has greatly reduced the prices of the various articles in his line of business. This will be good news to farmers and mechanics, and he hopes by increasing the amount of sales to cash and prompt paying customers to realize a tolerable income from his business.

Rome Courier.

Mr. Editor:

It was my pleasure on the 20th of August, to attend the examination of the students of the Male Academy on Cane Creek; the classes in every department gave the most satisfactory evidences of thorough, systematic and faithful training, in each of their respective studies.

The patrons and public testified that they had never witnessed any examination in this academy which had given them such unqualified testimony of the rapid and successful progress of the students, and skill, ability and fidelity of their Instructors.

Mr. Evans deserves great credit for his persevering efforts in building up a school, which ere long will shed its salutary influence over the taste, genius and aspirations of the rising generation of Cane Creek. Under his direction and superintendence, the school is certainly worthy of the universal patronage of our citizens, and with their co-operation, we doubt not that Mr. Evans will build up a school that will be an ornament and blessing to our country.

The exercises were closed at night by an exhibition, and speeches by the young men of the school, highly creditable both in selection and delivery.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a called meeting of Alexandria Lodge No. 208, convened at Sulphur Springs Calhoun county, Ala., for the purpose of paying the last Tribute of Respect to the memory of brother J. W. Lawrence deceased, the following resolutions, expressive of the feelings of this Lodge, on the death of our beloved brother, were presented & unanimously adopted,—

Resolved, That in the death of our brother Joseph W. Lawrence, the Masonic Fraternity has lost a member whose life exemplified the purity of Masonic teaching, whose virtues we should imitate; and whose memory will be cherished in affectionate remembrance;—the Baptist church a devoted member; and the county of Calhoun a useful citizen.

Resolved. That we affectionately tender to the relatives and friends of our deceased brother, our sympathy and condolence in their deep affliction.

Resolved, That as a feeble token of our esteem for our deceased brother, we will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That the above resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Lodge; that a copy of the same be forwarded by the Secretary to the parents of the deceased; and also to the Editor of the Jacksonville (Ala.) Republican for publication.

A true copy from the minutes of Alexandria Lodge No. 208.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the opinions expressed by the Press throughout the country, far and wide, it seems that the character of our friends, Samuel Swan & Co., and the reliability of their Lottery institution, is by no means problematical. Facts are stubborn things, and it is impossible to get over the mass of evidence in their favor, touching the whole business management of them concern.—If their enemies could single out the first questionable act it would gratify them, no doubt, but they cannot do so. The Messrs, Swan & Co. know their position, deal honorably, pay promptly, and have gained a reputation which places them altogether beyond the reach of the most vindicative foe.

Fire at Cincinnati—Terrible Destruction of Cattle—Shocking Scenes.

The diary stables of William Hogan, at Cincinnati, were destroyed by fire on Tuesday night, with sixty six cows, five calves, three horses, one mule ten or fifteen tons of oat sheaves, four hundred bushels of corn, and three hundred bushels of oats, involving a loss of $7,000, and no insurance. The Commercial says:

"Mr. Hogan describes the scene in the stables in the midst of the conflagration, as most piteously and indescribably harrowing. The live stock were all tied in their stalls. The horses and mules were haltered in the usual manner, and the cows were bound around their horns. When the flames first commenced their ravages, the poor animals snorted and bellowed with hideous and frantic force. As the heat increased and the fierce fires began to lick and scotch their quivering flesh, their cries and groans, and furious struggles became agonizing. Some threw themselves head-long upon the floor or leaped upright at full length with frenzied energy, and vented their agony in fearful screams The horses broke from their halters and dashing through the consuming blaze in desperate dismay. The tortured and suffocating cows tore away their horns and rushed through the blazing piles, and encountered each other in destructive collision, their flesh broiling and cracking in the heat with sickening effect upon the senses of human beings who gazed horror-stricken upon the wretched scene of suffering, without power to mitigate the agony of the tortured brutes. The yells and despairing cries of the different classes of animals commingled in horrid concert, and broke through the roar of flames and crackling timbers upon the still night air, and was borne away in terrifying echoes to the ears of persons two miles distant from the dreadful scene.

Two or three horses and as many cows plunged through the flames and burst in wild affright through the sides of the consuming structure, and fell headlong, whining with misery, upon the ground outside, sprang again to their feet and sped with frenzied fury across the fields until they dropped lifeless from sheer exhaustion. Some rolled upon the floor of the stable, screaming with unmitigated pain, until suffocated and destoyed by the fierce heat. Their awful wails of distress, infinitely more piteous and harrowing than those of human beings in the dire extremety of torture, are described by those who gazed spell-bound upon the terrible spectacle, as surpassing the power of human imagination to conceive. Happily the agony of the poor brutes was not greatly prolonged. The timber, and the hay and oats-straw, some forty tons, blazed and perished in fierce heat and the hay and oats-straw, some forty tons, blazed and perished in fierce heat like lucifer matches. But the flesh of the carcases quivered and blazed and filled the atmosphere with a sickening effluvia.

It is folly to think that you can make pork out of pig iron, or that you can become a shoemaker by drinking sherry cobblers.

ARRIVAL OF THE.

NORTH STAR.

St. Johns, N. F., Aug. 29.

The steamship North Star, was boarded off Cape Race on Friday, by the steam yatch belonging to the Associated Press. The North Star brings Havre and Liverpool dates to the 18th inst.

Commercial News.

Liverpool Cotton Market.—The sales of Cotton for the past three business days were 17,000 bales, of which speculators and exporters took 1000 bales each, leaving to the trade 15,000 bales. Some circulars report that the market closed quiet but steady. Richardson & Spence say that Middling qualities had declined 1-16d., and lower qualities from 1-16d. to 1d., and that holders were offering freely, but showed no disposition to press sales.

Liverpool General Markets.—Flour was reported very dull, and inferior qualities declined.

General News.

Queen Victoria and Prince Albert continue their royal progress through Germany.

The House of Commons of England, have ordered the return of the lands of Vancouver Island to the Crown.

A vessel has been put on the line between Liverpool and British Columbia.

The British government have decided to send a corps of engineers to lay out and superintend the building of roads and bridges; the erection of Blockhouses for the reception of gold; and establish a military organization in British Columbia.

The news from India, is that an outbreak was expected at Indore, (a state in central Hindostan, enclosed by the Gwallor deminion.) Matters appear to be settling down everywhere in India, although there are 30,000 rebels still in the field.

Arrival of the Steamship City of Baltimore.

New York, Aug. 30.—The steamship City of Baltimore has arrived.

The sales of cotton in Liverpool on the day the City of Baltimore left (the 18th) were 6000 bales, and the market closed steady.

Breadstuffs closed dull and provisions steady.

Yellow Fever in Charleston.

Charleston, Aug. 29.—The deaths by yellow fever in this city, last week, including Saturday, were thirty-nine.

The Cargo of Africans.

Charleston, Aug. 29.—The cargo of 300 African negroes from the slave brig Echo, were received this morning on board the steamer Gen. Clinch, and landed at castle Pinckney fortifications, in our harbor. They are in charge of the United States Marshal. The event has created considerable excitement in our city.

The Yellow Fever.

New Orleans, Aug. 28.—There were 77 deaths by yellow fever in this city on Friday.

Later from California.

New York, Aug. 27.—The steamship Moses Taylor has arrived with the California mails and dates in the 5th August.

The Moses Taylor left at Key West the United States brig Dolphin, who reported that she had captured a slaver under American colors, and sent her into Charleston. [We have already published a dispatch from Charleston, announcing the arrival at that port of the three hundred Africans captured off the North coast of Cuba by the Dolphin.]

A party of sixty apostate Mormons and their families had arrived at Carson Valley.

The Frazer mines gold fever had almost entirely subsided.

The recently appointed United States Minister, Mr. Clark, was received in a very cordial manner by the President of Guatemala.

The latest intelligence from Utah states that the Indians are more hostile than ever.

The Yellow Fever.

New Orleans, Aug. 27.—The Board of Health reports sixty-three deaths from yellow fever during the twenty-four hours ending at noon yesterday.

Market Reports.

New York, Aug 27.—Sales of Cotton for two days 3,300 bales, with a firm market. Flour is unsettled, with sales to-day of 10,000 barrels. Wheat heavy, with sales of 33,000 bushels.

New Orleas, Aug. 27.—The sales of Cotton for to-day amounted to 800 bales; prices were easier, but quotations unchanged. The sales of the week were 4,000 bales, the receipts for last week 4,200 bales. Receipts ahead of those for the corresponding period of last year at this port 119,000 bales; receipts at all the Southern ports ahead of last year 171,500 bales. Stock on hand at New Orleas 32,000 bales.

Cool Weather.—A heavy white frost was observable early this morning on low grounds in some of the suburban towns. At Dedham the frost was so thick that the grass and fences appeared as though covered with snow. The vine vegetables, and even green corn, in such localities, have received fatal injury from this remarkably early visit of "chilly Jack."

At Watertown, Framingham, and also at Gloucester, there was a slight frost, being but little if any injury. At Franklin, N. H., at seven this morning according to a correspondent of the Herald, a snow squall was experienced which continued for about five minutes.

Boston Transcript, 31st.

Too True.—The recorder of Chicago, Ill., in charging the grand jury recently, said: "During the past five years I have held this court it has been my unpleasant duty to try and sentence to State prison several hundred persons; and I am sorry to say that while it is an easy matter to find jurors who are ready and willing to punish poor offenders without positon or friends, it is with great difficulty that jurors can be found who appreciate the fact that one bad man of position and wealth can do more harm than one hundred poor men can, who are in the humble walks of life."

ANTIDOTE FOR POISON.

The Pain Killer.—Rev. T. Allen, writing from Tavoy, Burmah, Jan. 5th, 1857, says: within the past four years I have used and disposed of above five hundred bottles, but am now out.—Please send me a fresh supply (through the Mission Rooms) as soon as you can; say two hundred bottles. I dare not be without it myself, and there are endless calls for it, both by Burmans and Karens. I always take it with me into the jungles, and have frequent occasions to use it, both on myself and others. One night, while sleeping in an open Zayate, I was awoke by a most excruciating pain in my foot. On my examination, I found I had been bitten by a Centipede. I immediately applied the Pain Killer, and found instant relief. In less than one hour I was again asleep."

Rev. Mr. Hibbard, writing from Burmah to his father, says: I have used Perry Davi's Pain Killer for coughs, colds, summer complaints, burns, and for the sting of scorpions, with uniform success. We always keep it where we can put our hand on it in the dark, if need be.

Late discoveries in Pathology show that very many of the diseases which afflict mankind arise from impurity of the blood. This has long been suspected but is only lately known. In consumption, tubercles are found to be a sedimentary deposite from the blood. Dropsy, Gout, Cancer, Ulcer and Eruptions, all arise in disordered deposites from the blood. Billious diseases and fevers are caused solely by its deranged unhealthy state, and even the decline of life follows a want of vitality in the blood. In view of these facts Dr Ayer designed his Cathart c Pill especially to purify and invigorate the blood, and hence we believe to arise its unparalelled success in controlling and curing desease. Medical Journal.

PIMPLES AND BLOTCHES.

Are the result of impure blood. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men & women we see with their faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practised by persons disirous of health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions should never dry them up by external application, for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during its whole life time There is no mother that likes to see her children afflicted with feeble health.

MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS are prepared expressly for the cure of eruption of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches, Sores, &c. They cleans the blood of all impurities; producing a beautiful, clear and healty skin, so much admired by all people of taste and refinement.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are sold by all dealers in Medicine.

A London court has decided that an actor is not a "laborer."

He that speaks sows, and he that is silent gathers.

Ruin it Cohoma, Miss.—The Memphis Enquirer is informed upon reliable authority that fully three fourths of the cotton crop has been destroyed by the flood in Coahoma county. The corn crop has suffered even worse. All the plantations from Delta to Island 65 might have been protracted from the flood by timely intention on the part of the planters.

Davis Pain Killer.—A preparation intended as a balm for aches and pains was discovered by Perry Davis of Prov. a. I. its popularity became universal, and it is as popular to-day, as ever it was. It may be found the closet or cupboard of all families; ready for use at an instant's warning, and is cosidered the best article known for "the pains that flesh is heir to."—Boston Bee. sold by all medicine dealers.

THE LIVER

INVIGORATOR!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD.

COMPOUNDED entirely from GUMS, IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The Liver is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when it performs its functions well, the powers are fully developed. The whole system suffers entirely dependent on the Liver for the proper performance of its functions; when the stomach is at fault, and the bowels are at fault, and the organ—the Liver—in consequence of one or the other having ceased to do its duty. For the disease of that organ, the proprietors has made it his study, in a practice of more than twenty years, to find some remedy wherewith to counteract the many derangements to which it is liable. To prove that this remedy is at last found, any person troubled with liver Complaint, in any of its forms, has but to try a bottle, and conviction is certain.

These Gums remove all morbid matter from the system, and thus complete the stomach, bowels and liver of its functions, giving them perfect health to do well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machine—effecting a radical cause of the disease. Billious attacks are cured, and what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach & prevent the food from rising & souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night loosens the bowels gently, and cures Costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

☞One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

One bottle taken for female obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure.

Only one dose immediately relieves Cholic, while one dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera

☞Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

☞One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst forms, while Summer and Bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cures attacks caused by Worms in Children: there is no surer, safer, or speedier remedy in the world, as it never fails.

☞A few bottles cures Dropsy, by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever & Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Billious TYPE. It operates with certainty, & thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

ALL WHO USE IT ARE GIVING THEIR UNANIMOUS TESTIMONY IN ITS FAVOR.

MIX WATER IN THE MOUTH WITH THE INVIGORATOR, AND SWALLOW BOTH TOGETHER.

The Liver Invigorator

IS A SCIENTIFIC MEDICAL DISCOVERY, and is daily working cures, almost too great to believe. It cures as if by magic, even the first dose giving benefit, and seldom more than one bottle is required to cure any kind of Liver Complaint, from the worst Jaundice or Dyspepsia to a common Headache, all of which are the result of a Diseased Liver.

The Shrader Press.

THIS wonderful Press, which has recently been patented and capable of Pressing or compressing COTTON, Hay, Fodder, or any other articles required to be put up in small compass, is now offered for sale to planters and others wanting either Individual, County or State Rights.—This Press is propelled by double racks and pinions, requiring but two revolutions to pack or compress bales of cotton weighing from 500 to 1000 pounds—the power given to the lever by two negro fellows. As for speed & power, it surpasses any other Press now in the world. The advantages of this Press are numerous It is simple in construction, easily put up, and not liable to get out of repairs, as many of the other presses of the day are. The iron castings required will not cost more than $40 or $50. Any common carpenter can get out the timbers for and do all the wood work—all not costing the planter more than $100.

☞Any person wishing to purchase rights to the above described valuable Cotton Press, will please call on the undersigned, at Oxford, who have purchased the patent from Mr. Shrader for Calhoun County.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF LAND.

UNDER and by virtue of the authority vested in the undersigned, by the last will and testament of George C. P. Hughes, deceased, we will, as Executors of said will, proceed to sell, upon the premises, On the First day of October, 1858, the following lands belonging to the Estate of said G. C. P. Hughes, lying on Cold Water, in Calhoun County, Alabama, and about five miles west of Oxford, viz:

West half of section 33, except the south east fourth of south west fourth, and ten acres off of the south part of north east fourth of south west fourth; and about four acres embracing the mill yard of Miller & Bagley, heretofore set apart—and east half of south east fourth of section 32, except about 8 acres embracing the Baptist Cold Water Camp-ground and Church.

Also, south west fourth of south west fourth of section 28, all lying in township 26, range 7 east. Said tract is the land occupied by G. C. P Hughes in his life time.—The tract has comfortable dwellings and out houses, a fine apple and peach orchard—some 125 acres cleared and in cultivation—a good spring, and well of never-failing water. The place is an excellent one—convenient to fine Mills—situated in the midst of an excellent neighborhood, and is one and a half miles from the Alabama and Tenn. R. Rail Road route.

The undersigned, or Harley J. Hughes will take pleasure in showing the place to all who may wish to purchase. Terms made known on day of sale. Part cash will be required, and long time given on the remainder.

Final Sale of LOTS

KENTUCKY CITY,

OPPOSITE

CAIRO,

27th Day of September, 1858.

WILL commence the second and final SALE OF LOTS in this growing and most interesting

YOUNG CITY.

The Trustees in announcing this Sale, feel warranted in assuring the public that at no point in the West can there be found EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES for safe and profitable investment.

KENTUCKY CITY

is located on the East bank of the Mississippi, upon the nearest high land (or above overflow), to the mouth of the Ohio River, and for all practical business purposes, is and will forever be the mouth of the Ohio.

Kentucky City and Columbus, contains four thousand three hundred acres, laid off into lots, streets, alleys, &c.; 500 acres in quarter and half lots, the remainder in one, two, four, ten, twenty, forty and sixty acre lots. It is from 4 to 210 feet above high water mark, and surrounded by high,

Healthy and Fertile Country,

rapidly growing in wealth and population, with salubrious climate and generous, liberal, enlightened and refined society. There is wanted but one further feature to make this the most commanding point on the great "Father of Waters." This was uninterrupted communication with the interior of the adjacent States, to accomodate internal commerce and facilitate the interchange of commodities. That want is now fully met by the established system of which has fixed KENTUCKY CITY as the centre of net work of railroads stretching out and affording connections in all directions with the interior, and with the Cities and Lakes of the North and East, and ramifying throughout the whole South and West.

RAILROADS

That the public may not be led off by suspicions that this is a mere city on paper, we request you to enquire—to come and see for yourselves.

ALARMING SIGNS OF A SICKLY SUMMER.

The Summer and Fall of 1858 will be marked in the records of time as the most sickly and unhealthy of seasons that have visited the northern portion of this Continent for many years. Malarious diseases, in their most malignant and violent forms, will prevail as epidemics in sections of our country that have been deluged by the late overflowings of rivers, creeks and bayous, and drenched by the recent heavy rains.

YELLOW FEVER, TYPHOID FEVER, BILIOUS FEVER, FEVER AND AGUE, CONGESTIVE FEVER, INTERMITTENT AND REMITTENT FEVERS, CHOLERA, FLUX, DYSENTERIES, SUDDEN ATTACKS OF VOMITING will rage with violence in the vicinities of low, marshy lands, and where the deluge of the waters and drenchings of the rains have been sufficiently violent to produce miasms, from decomposition of Vegetable or other decomposed matter. In our Southern and Western States we may therefore expect the prevalence as epidemic, Malarious diseases in one or the other of the above names, forms; and in order that the Public may provide themselves with the proper means to protect their systems against sudden attacks of diseases of any kind, we notify the people of the approach of these maladies. In Radway's Ready Relief you have the preventive. With this Remedy, however violent and malignant, infectious and deadly may be the character of the disease, it cannot harm you. A teaspoonful of this life protecting Remedy, drank in a little water three or four times per day, will so fortify the stomach against the infectious gasses of these fevers, that you are as safe from danger as though you were breathing the most wholesome and invigorating atmosphere under the sun. Radway's Ready Relief has been proved, in the Yellow Fever of 1853, to be the best disinfectant in use. If any of our readers are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with any Fever, Cholera, Flux or Dysentery—either Yellow, Congestive, Intermittent or Remittent—Radway's Ready Relief, aided with Radway's Regulators, will in a few hours arrest the violence and danger of the disease, and soon cure you.

COMMON DISEASES.

Diseases, such as Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Head Aches, Influenza, Rush of Blood to the Head, Biliousness, Cholics, Tooth Aches, Croup, Whooping Coughs, Inflammation of the Bowels and Lungs, Sudden Attacks of Chills and Fevers, Sickness at the Stomach, Congestion of the Brain, Sun Stroke, Liver Difficulties and other painful, debilitating and enfeebling maladies, will run riot throughout the length and breadth of the land, attacking in their most violent forms the aged, and youthful. But against these ills, which inflict so much pain upon their victims, Radway's Ready Relief will in a few moments remove the most fierce and torturing pains; and, if used in connection with Radway's Regulators, speedily effect a cure.

CHRONIC DISEASES.

Those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with Chronic diseases, Breakings Out, Running Sores, Humors, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Prickly Heat, Sore Head, Sore Eyes, Bad Legs, Sores in the Nose or Mouth, Cankers, Boils, Blotches, Erysipelas, Bad Coughs, Swollen Parts, will suffer increased agonies from these diseases, this sickly cycle, unless the Blood is cleansed from its Humors, and the system renovated of its impurities, by Radway's Renovating Resolvent. This Remedy is a quick cure for the aboved-named diseases; and it is the only known Remedy that will completely eradicate from the system diseases inherited by constitutional transmission. Persons afflicted with Scrotula, Fits, Syphilis, or any Chronic disease, will be effectually cured, if Radway's Renovating Resolvent is used.

PREPARE TO RESIST THE PESTILENCE.

A great number of those who die from pestilential diseases are suddenly seized in the night, or when they least expect an attack, and are there unprepared to resist the first attacks of their deadly foe. It is therefore of the greatest importance to those who desire to live through an attack of this kind, whether Cholera, Yellow Fever, Sun Stroke, Congestions, or Brain Fever, to have Radway's Ready Relief and Regulators ready to use at any moment. These Remedies taken when you feel unwell or in pain—either slight or violent—will instantly check and stop the progress of the disease, and deliver you from further harm. Let every Housekeeper, Planter, Farmer, Shipmaster and, in fact, all having charge of others, keep a supply of Radway's Ready Relief Regulators and Resolvents in their houses. AS OFTEN SEASON IS FAST APPROACHING—Diseases of the most terrible and fatal character prevail; but with these remedies at hand you may rest secure.

There are no remedies known to Physicians that the public, as a general rule, can rely upon in the successful of infections and malarious diseases. Radway's Ready Relief, or Regulators, as curatives and preventives against attacks of infections and malignant Fevers are fixed facts. R. R. R. Remedies are sold by Druggists and Merchants everywhere.

LIFE LOZENGES.

DR. PARRI'S GREAT SECRET

THE UNDERSIGNED, while residing in Europe, obtained the private papers of the famous DR. PARR, who lived to the extraordinary age of 200 years. Among them he found the secret recipes by which he prolonged his life, remaining vigorous to the last, having children born to him after he was 100!!! By careful chemical experiments, he has added to the strength of the ingredients, so that he now offers to an intelligent public a remedy guaranteed to prolong life to an indefinite period, and preserve all the functions and passions perfect to the last.

In all cases of Dyspepsia, Fits, Convulsions, Dropsies, and Nervous Fevers, it is perfectly unrivalled.

It is especially valuable in all Diseases of Females and will positively cure Barrenness, that fearful thing to a Wife. In very moderate doses, it intensifies the imagination, braces the nerves stimulates the brain, and produces a general and delightful thrill in every organ of the body, making the dull appear brilliant, and the weak and emasculated strong and lusty. In fine it contains, within a very small compass, the very essence of life itself, the great secret which has baffled philosophers and physicians so long. The Proprietor, desirous of placing this inestimable boon to humanity within the reach of all, will send a box of the LIFE LOZENGES, securely packed with full directions to any Post Office on receipt of $1. Address,

JAMES L. CARNES, M. D.
BROOKLYN, NEW YORK.

TESTIMONIALS FROM PROFESSORS AND OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The Horace Water's Pianos are known among the very best. We are enabled to speak of these instruments with some degree of confidence from personal knowledge of their excellent tone and durable quality."
[N. Y. Evangelist.

Having inspected a large number of the Horace Waters' Pianos, we can speak of their merits, from personal knowledge, as being of the very best quality."—Christ. Intelligencer.

Nothing at the State Fair displayed greater excellence in any department than the Piano Forte manufactured by Horace Waters if this city.—Churchman.

"The finest among the many pianos at the Crystal Palace are those placed there by Horace Waters, whose instruments are always popular.

"The Waters Pianos are built of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material. From all we can learn of this establisament—said to be the largest in the United States—we have no doubt that buyers can do as well, perhaps better, at this than at any other in the Union."—Christ. Adv. Mon. Tour.

"Mr. Waters has been long established and is favorably known. We speak from experience when we assure our readers that his pianos are below those usually charged for articles in his line."—Jacksonian N. J.

"The treble is clear pure powerful, and very melodious, the base is deep, rolling and sonorous: the middle part is rich, and sympathetic, and preserving the power of singing, i. e. of uniting the sound of each tone, in a degree but rarely achieved."—Henry C. Watson.

For power of tone, depth of bass, and brilliancy of treble, together with the accuracy of touch, they are equal to any make I am acquainted with, and I cordially recommend to those wishing to purchase.—V. C. Taylor.

"Our friends will find at Waters' store the very best assortment of music and of pianos to be found in the United States, and urge our southern and western friends to give him a call whenever they go to New York."
Godeans Magazine.

"We consider them worthy of special attention, from the resonant and exceedingly musical tone which Mr. Waters succeeded in attaining"—New York Musical World and Times.

"There is one which, for beauty of finish and richness and brilliancy of tone, equals, it it does not excel, an thing of the kind we have ever seen. It is from the establishment of Horace Waters. Being constructed of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material, and upon improved principles, it is capable of resisting the action of the climate, and of standing a long time in tune."—Sun. Rep.

"Waters pianos and meladeons challenge comparison with the finest made anywhere in the country."—Home Journal.

C. L. Stokes editor of the Kenosha "Tribune and Telegraph" says. "The piano was received in good order, and is pronounced an excellent instrument by good judges, the tone of it is particularly recommended, as is indeed its external workmanship and finished compared with its cost."

The "New-York Express" says: "The Horace Waters pianos are pronounced by musicalamateurs as a decidedly superior article in all the remisities of this instrument, and it is fast superseding those of other manufacturers."

Says the "Knoxville (Tenn.) Standard:" "Mr. Waters has long experience in the business and has gained a reputation unsurpassed for selling the best instruments in the country."

"The Sunny South" reaches us with the following: "This gentleman is one of the most extensive music dealers in the Union. His pianos and melodeons have obtained great celebrity for their excellent tone and durable quality."

Says "The Valley City Advocate:" "We have taken a look at a piano which has just arrived from the celebrated establishment of Horace Waters' and must say that for tone and beauty of finish, it surpasses any we ever saw for the price."

"Horace Waters' Piano Fortes are of full rich, and even tone and powerful.—New York Musical Review.

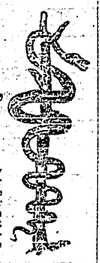
AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,



FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

BARNSTEAD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say he best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of Utica, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of whooping cough, croup, and the direst diseases of children. We of your community in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, Ia., writes, 30 Jan., 1856 "I had a terrible influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs: less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARRS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During a long practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your Cherry Pectoral for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the Cherry Pectoral affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DEAR SIR: LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cherry Pectoral has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dan a cous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, whom we have come by advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill; for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELDY, of SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all around us beyond the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass it excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their pene trating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the everyday complaints of every body, but the formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my Pills, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul stomach, Want, Worms, Pain in the Bowels, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Piles arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, &c., and other kindred complaints arising from a foul state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative power. The sick want the best and that is for them and they should have it.

DR. MORSE'S

INDIAN ROOT PILLS.

DR. MORSE, the inventor of Morse's Indian Root Pills, has spent the greater part of his life in travelling, having visited Europe, Asia, Africa as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depended upon this vital flood.

When the various passages become clogged and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action becomes thick, corrupted and diseased; thus causing all pains sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted our health we are deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become choked and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out. How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, manufactured from plants and roots which grew around the mountaneos cliffs in Nature's garden, for the health and recovery of diseased man. One of the roots from which these

IMPROVEMENT.
THE undersigned having purchased from Eli Thornburg the patent right for Calhoun County to "Jones Patent Thimble skein Axletrees," respectfully inform the public, that they are prepared to make to order, in the best manner, & of the best materials, Four and Two Horse Wagons, with this latest and best improvement. They will also keep Wagons on hand for sale.
The merits of this invention consists in a thorough box an thimble skein of malable iron; so adjusted as to make it run exceedingly smoothe and light, and comparatively free from friction and wear; so much so, that it is confidently believed that two horses, with one of these wagons can pull as much as three with those on the old plan.
The undersigned having had long experience in the business, and being consequently well qualified to judge, confidently recommend these wagons to the Public, feeling assured that those who try them will never use any other kind.

POETRY.

Thou Know'st it not, Love.

Thou know'st it not, love, when light looks are around thee,
When Music awakens its liveliest tone
When pleasure in chains of enchantment hath bound thee,
Thou know'st not how truly this heart is thine own.
It is not while all are about thee in gladness,
While shining in light from thy young spirit's shrine.
But in moments devoted to silence & to sadness,
That thou'lt e'er know the value of feelings like mine.

Should grief touch thy cheek, or misfortune o'ertake thee,
How soon would thy mates of the summer away!
They, first of the whole fickle flock to forsake thee,
Who flattered the most when thy bosom was gay!
What though I seem cold while incense is burning,
In depths of my soul I have cherished a flame
To cheer the loved one, should night-time of mourning
E'er send its far shadows to darken her name.

Then leave the vain crowd! Though my cottage is lonely,
Gay halls without hearts are far lonelies still;
And say thou'lt be mine, Mary, always and only,
And I'll be thy shelter, whatever thine ill,
As the fond mother clings to her fair little blossom,
The closer when blight hath appeared on its bloom,
So thou, the dearer shalt be to this bosom,
The deeper thy sorrow—the darker thy doom!

Twenty Years Married.

BY B. P SHILLABER—MRS. PARTINGTON.

Yes, twenty years have winged their flight,
Since that mysterious word I spoke,
When, on a beauteous summer night,
I first assumed the flowery yoke.
I long had craved the blissful chain;
And cheerfully subscribed the vow;
Perhaps I'd do the same again—
Perhaps—though I am older now.

Ah, well do I recall the time
When she, now pensive by my side,
Stood, in her blushing morning prime,
A tender, sweet and bashful bride;
And I, so proud of that dear hand,
Could scarce contain myself for bliss;
I'd bought a tract of fairy land,
And sealed my purchase with a kiss.

For happiness we trimmed our sail,
My darling little bride and I;
Hope's breezes blew a pleasant gale,
And gently smiled the summer sky.
The world seemed made for her & me,
All bright wherever we might turn,
Our life to be a tranquil sea—
Sweet innocents! we'd much to learn.

For soon did care's disturbing breath
Its baleful influence impart,
And bitter sorrow, born of death,
O'ercast the sunshine of our heart;
But still, as trouble round us rose,
Each closer, fonder, clung to each,
Blessed with the strength of love's repose,
Enduring all that grief could teach.

We'd much of joy, though small our sphere,
And craved no more extended fame,
For children made our dwelling dear—
'Twas wonderful how fast they came—
"The more the merrier," we said,
And in them every wish was blest;
A part in our embrace have staid,
A mound at Woodlawn tels the rest.

Those twenty years have let their trace
Upon her brow, then smooth & fair,
And stolen, some say, the witching grace
That once her features used to wear;
But still I see the same kind eyes
Beam on me with a light as true,
As when, in love's young paradise,
I first their inspiration knew.

And I—well, well—we'll let that pass—
None more than I time's changes see
Each day I shave myself—alas!
My mirror does not flatter me;
But if I'm changed for worst or best
I cannot answer, on my life,
And leave the solving of this test
To such as choose to ask my wife.

This lesson we have fully learned:
Pure happiness that men have deemed,
Is but a hope soon overturned,
A vision but in fancy dreamed—
That all of happiness below,
Pursuing which the life is spent,
Is mingled scenes of bliss and woe,
Is measured by the word content.

Though fortune may withold its smile,
As it has done in time before,
Content shall still our way beguile,
And rest the future landscape o'er.
The future—who its tale may tell!—
But for it we've nor doubts nor fears,
And like our life that's past so well,
We'll try another twenty years.
August 15th, 1858.

A Successful Merchant.

I am a city merchant, having commenced my career as an adventurer from the farm, on a salary of $80 per year, and having passed through half a year of incessant toil to reach the point where dependence ceases and 'dinner ahead' begins. I filled a clerkship in several first-class mercantile houses, & was associated with a very considerable number of salesmen, accountants, and clerks generally. Nearly thirty years have passed since my city clerkship began, and the retrospect has developed the following results:

All mercantile houses by whom I was employed have since failed—one, after an eminently creditable career of fifteen years, was carried into a hopeless bankruptcy by outside speculation, and another, after thirty-five years of unbounded success and credit, was a few months since in inextricable difficulties—the result of a single dash of the pen—and has forever closed its mercantile existence. Of all the clerks with whom I have been associated, no one has achieved permanent success equal to the value of a well-stocked hundred-acre farm; while from the most brilliant of their number [illegible] tentiary, the hospital, and [illegible] ard's grave, have claimed [illegible] Some embarked in business [illegible] anticipations of success [illegible] passed away in disaster [illegible] of not a few would [illegible] trated chapters in the [illegible] ry of city mercha[illegible] beyond a questio[illegible]

Public Sentiment in Kansas about Admission.

Gentlemen of the highest intelligence who have traveld through Kansas and conversed freely with its inhabitants report that all is perfectly queit, and that the farming interests are in an extremely thriving condition. There is almost universally expressed by all parties decided opposition to admission into the Union as a State. They allege that their population is too small, and that the reverses in business have made them too poor to incur the increased expenses of a State government.

It is certainly a sign of returning sense to be able to overlook the temptations to become a State which are so apt to influence the people of new a country in spite of the manifest disadvantages thereof. In no practical economical view would the people of Kansas be justified in pressing their claims to admission. Under territorial laws the federal government furnish nearly all the means necessary to conduct their political affairs. The settlements are scattered over an extensive production is limited, labor high, markets difficult of access. These stages will soon vanish before of the emigrant, but they are formidable in the settle- w country.

...le of equality in our rep- ...rnment has a peculiar significance. At last it was shoved in, and the spade of one negro held it until the other threw in large quantities of hard mud, which served as a weight to keep the head down. One of the negroes then, while the other kept his spade on the first end, lowered the foot and sank it in the same manner, kicking in some mud with his feet, while his spade kept the coffin down.—The whole of this section of the cemetery is filled with new graves, and presents the appearance of a newly plowed field. The stench in some portions is hardly endurable, coming, as it does, from the shallow graves of water."

A German paper gives the following statistics, showing the immense increase in the use of Cotton in European factories within the past twenty-five years. The yearly average has been:

In the 5 years 1781–85 lb wt.	10,800,000
In the 5 years 1791–95	27,400,000
In the 5 years 1801–05	56,600,000
In the 5 years 1811–15	76,689,000
In the 5 years 1821–25	152,200,000
In the 5 years 1831–35	313,510,000
In the 5 years 1841–45	585,300,000
In the 5 years 1851–55	711,500,000
In the 5 years 1856	813,309,000

The consumption of raw Cotton has increased in the last eighty-eight years to the remarkable extent of three hundred fold, and even in the fifty years of the present century it has increased more than sixteen fold. and since the restoration of peace in Europe in the year 1815, more than eleven fold.

Capacity of the Cable, &c.—Direct Trade.

On the authority of the Tribune, the speed of the Ocean Telegraph is now two words per minute, 2,800 per day, which, at the tariff of a dollar per word, gives, as he says, a nett 20 per cent, on the investment. The associated N. York Press will shortly have an organized corps of correspondents to collect and forward daily reports by the Telegraph. The Atlantic Telegraph, in our conjecture, is going to exercise a greater effect upon the business of this country than has been generally anticipated by the newspapers. In the history of railroads it will be seen that their great result has been to connect demand immediately with the great sources of supply, and dispense with intermediate agencies. Thus interior towns have in most cases suffered as wholesale marts, and heavy trade been transfered to the seaboard. Now we have an agency which places the interior trader within less than a day of Manchester and Birmingham, and he can order and receive his goods from the English manufacturer's warehouse just about as soon as he can get them from the New York jobber and importer. Why, then, should he not dispense with this costly intermediate agency? He will be apt to do it in time, particularly when by the natural operation of the same cause, those accumulations of foreign goods in New York which offer a wide range of choice and frequently lead to forced sales, are dispensed with, and the agents of the foreign manufacturer come personally to solicit his orders and open the trade, as we judge they will shortly do. Thus the darling project of direct Southern Trade and importation, may find in this cable and its successful operations a motive power which all the Southern Commercial Conventions have failed to furnish. We shall see.

No very inviting picture is drawn by a correspondent of the Washington Intelligencer, who writes from Cuba:

A few hours in Havana, when the vomito reigns, would effectually cure one of all filibustering to obtain residence there. Certes no man in his right mind would accept it as a bonus on condition of remaining the year throughout. Winter may diminish but cannot divest the city of its "summer grief."

As I left the harbor this morning, an officer of the British steamer said, "and that ship you see by itself, its sails all hanging loose, was this morning towed from the wharf and moored there by the authorities—all having died!"—The poison was never more plainly discernible than now; no one can forget its smell, nor the stinking fog which, as the sun rises, shoots up and disappears from the hot harbor like steam from the locomotive, without a whistle; for, though all are upon his track, Death gives no warning.

More than half the sailors have died, and as no fresh ones come it must cease. Like stricken victims, a few vessels may be seen leaving the harbor by the first breeze; these few have enough left to sail away, but not enough left to manage the empty ship. The truth can only be learned by visiting (at hotels) the sea captains, making acquaintance, and becoming interested in what they tell you. The details would not be credited. The cause is apparent to me. Think of two hundred thousand people, two thirds miserably fed and clothed, sleeping in the open air mostly; of high walls, and streets fourteen feet wide, (pavements twenty inches) and sewers and drains on each side of these streets (one three miles long—that to Cerro) about three feet deep, two wide, and six inches deep in a green mire, exhaling (for they are all open) a stench too disgusting for even poison, since the filth of all the houses enters them, and remains till frost kills its poison, for rain only increases their depth.

The great Moro castle is a great humbug, like all Spanish fortifications. I am sure it is useless, except to batter down the city it should protect, after it falls into an enemy's hands. It cannot fire one shot to protect the city from any attack made by any force commanded by one who knows anything at all.—Troops landed from ships to the west, can march into the city, and never see the useless forts at the harbor's entrace; not a ship need ever go near that side, except to show their pluck.

The women of Havana upset strangers in two ways, first by looking at them, and then by running the wheels of their mule-dragged volantes against them. But of those no more.

N. B.—Never bring a passport to Havana—it is a very great trouble for nothing.

Boys are like vinegar,—when there is much "mother" in them they are always sharp.

SUICIDE.—Mr. Wm. Hicks, living some seven or eight miles from Eutaw, Ala., blew out his brains with a gun on Tuesday morning last.

ARRIVAL OF THE AFRICA!

MR. BUCHANAN'S MESSAGE CRITICIZED!

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.

The Cunard steamship Africa, with Liverpool dates to the 23d, had arrived.

The barque Champion had arrived at Gibraltar, with the family of Stanback, the American consul, who was recently murdered at Jaffa.

The London papers unfavorably criticise the last paragraph of the President's reply to the Queen's Message.

The bombardment at Jeddah took the French government by surprise, but explanations have been made at London to Marshall Pellissier.

Commercial.

Cotton closed firm. Sales on Monday 10,000 bales. Thirty-five hundred were taken for speculations and export.

Flour quiet. Wheat buoyant. Corn dull. Sugar quiet.

TERRIBLE RIOT AT STATEN ISLAND!

Hospital and other Buildings Burnt!

New York Police Called into Requisition!!

NEW YORK Sept. 3.

At Staten Island last night about 1,000 men broke into the Quarantine grounds set the hospital and shanties on fire, and threatened the residence of Dr. Thompson, the Health Officer.—The Doctor called together the stevedoree, and armed them with muskets to protect the buildings.

The Hospital and many of the shanties are now a mass of ruins.

Capt. Belton, of the Harbor Police, came up to the city at a late hour last night for additional police, as the mob were in a furious state and it was not known what would be their next movement.

The Fever in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2.

The deaths from yellow fever in this city yesterday (Wednesday) were forty-two.

Later from Europe.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., September 5.—The steamship Fulton has passed Cape Race, with Southampton dates to the 25th ult.

GENERAL NEWS.—The ship Mayflower, from New Orleans for Hantze, had been capsized at sea, and was a total wreck. Fifteen of the hands were lost. The captain and seven others were saved.

COMMERCIAL NEWS.—LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.—Cotton had advanced 1-16d, per lb. on the finer grades.

Additional by the Fulton.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., September 6.—The following additional intelligence was received by the steamship Fulton, off Cape Race, with Southampton dates to the 25th ult.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.—Of the sales of Cotton for the three days speculators took 4000 bales.

STATE OF TRADE.—Manchester advices were favorable, and all qualities had slightly advanced.

NEW YORK, September 6.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says that the United States frigate Niagara has been ordered to proceed immediately to Charleston, for the purpose of carrying back to Africa the negros lately captured in the brig Gen. Putnam by the Dolphin. Commodore Chauncey goes in command.

The U. S. brig Dolphin touched at this port to-day and landed Capt. Townsend, of the brig Gen. Puntnam lately captured as a slaver. He is to be sent to Charleston for trial.

The Dolphin sailed this afternoon for Boston

WASHINGTON, Septemper 6.—The U. S. frigate Niagara leaves New York the last of this week for Charleston.—The Africans are to be taken to Liberia under the care of a special agent of the Government, and maintained there till they can be restored to their friends.

The Navy Department to-day entered into an arrangement chartering four steamers of the New York Cromwell line for the Paraguay Expedition.

Additional by the Asia.

HALIFAX, Sept. 8.—The sales of Cotton for the week in Liverpool were 67,000 bales, of which speculators took 5,000 and exporters 11,000 bales. The market closed quiet.

At Liverpool the Flour market was firm with a better demand than for some time.

A Madrid telegraph dispatch says that a military expedition is preparing for Havana.

Further riots are reported in Candia, and Christians killed.

Colonizing the Africans.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The government has concluded an arrangement with the Colonization Society, to support and educate the captured Africans in Liberia, one year, for about $50,000.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7.—The B'd of Health reports 100 deaths from yellow fever for the thirty hours ending yesterday (Monday) at noon.

The sales of Cotton to day amount to 1000 bales. The market very firm but no change in price.

The Cartersville (Geo.) Express has changed hands; W. T. Goldsmith assumes the post of editor, and W. P. Cannon publisher.

DIED—At her residence in this county, on the 30th August, after nine days illness with typhoid fever, Mrs. TABITHE BARNETT, in the 80th year of her age. The deceased was raised in Greenville District, South Carolina. Though not a professor of religion, she expressed perfect resignation and even anxiety for death.

North Carolina Gold.

The Montgomery County Gold, so much talked of lately, is no humbug. Mr. Christian was in town a few days ago with his pockets full. The specimens he brought with him were very rich—worth some $3,000 to $4,000.—One of the nuggets about twice the size of a man's fist, weighed 7½ lbs., and contained more than 6 lbs. of gold—say nearly $2,000. This and several other very rich, but less valuable specimens left here for exhibition. They took the shine off all our other rocks. These latter, however, are all right again, for gold rocks do not stay long on exhibition; and our coal rocks, copper rocks, lead rocks and black band iron rocks, are in the ascendant, as they ought to be. The fact is, we have very little use for these gold mine people. They think they confer a favor by letting us look at their dross; the people who own the useful mines never fail to send a box full of their specimens for good and all. In very truth, money must be the root of evil; it puts an end to liberality. If the rocks we had last week had been any other than gold or silver rocks, we should have had them now—unless we had started them for the Mint.—Fayetteville Observer.

PIMPLES AND BLOTCHES.

Are the result of impure blood. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men & women we see with their faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practised by persons desirous of health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions should never dry them up by external application, for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during its whole life time There is no mother that likes to see her children afflicted with feeble health.

MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS are prepared expressly for the cure of eruption of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches, Sores, &c. They cleans the blood of all impurities; producing a beautiful, clear and healty skin, so much admired by all people of taste and refinement.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are sold by all dealers in Medicine.

ANTIDOTE FOR POISON.

THE PAIN KILLER.—Rev. T. Allen, writing from Tavoy, Burmah, Jan. 5th, 1857, says: within the past four years I have used and disposed of above five hundred bottles, but am now out.—Please send me a fresh supply (through the Mission Rooms) as soon as you can, say two hundred bottles. I dare not be without it myself, and there are endless calls for it, both by Burmans and Karens. I always take it with me into the jungles, and have frequent occasions to use it, both on myself and others. One night, while sleeping in an open Zayate, I was awoke by a most excruciating pain in my foot. On my examination, I found I had been bitten by a Centipede. I immediately applied the Pain Killer, and found instant relief. In less than one hour I was again asleep."

Rev. Mr. Hibbard, writing from Burmah to his father, says: I have used Perry Davi's Pain Killer for coughs, colds, summer complaints, burns, and for the sting of scorpions, with uniform success. We always keep it where we can put our hand on it in the dark, if need be.

STATE OF ALABAMA,

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.—We have tested this medicine and assure our readers that it not only possesses all the virtues claimed for it, but in many instances surpasses any other remedy we have ever known. It should not be classed with the nostrums of the day got up for the especial purpose of pecuniary profit, but be regarded as one of the standard medicines, for the public benefit.—Herald of Gospel Liberty.

RICHARDSON'S IRISH LINENS,

DAMASKS, DIAPERS, &c.

CONSUMERS of RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm,

RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN,

as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared; season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer & the manufacturers of the genuine Goods will not readily abandon a business so profitable, while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

WHATLEY & ELLIS.

Sept. 16, 1858—tf.

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, of the NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years course of steady devotion to the cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren & the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas.

TERMS.—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payments as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance $6 at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St. N. Y.

P. S. Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.

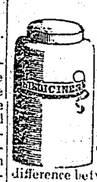
G. P. SAVAGE. W. H. BURR.

SAVAGE & BURR,

CHEMISTS AND DRUGGISTS,

SELMA, ALABAMA.

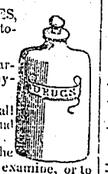


ARE prepared to execute orders for DRUGS and MEDICINES, and all articles pertaining to the Drug Business with their customary despatch.

The same attention will be given as heretofore to have every article of as good quality as represented and in no instance will anything be put up that is of a doubtful character.

SURGICAL INSTRUMENTS furniture and fixtures, and all articles required for the profession and trade will be furnished—and ORDERS BY MAIL will have the same attention as if left in person.

Country Merchants and Physicians who would like to see the difference between our goods and those generally sold, are invited to call and examine, or to send their orders and make the comparison at home.



Our Bottled Goods, Essences, &c., are prepared with unusual care, so that there is no loss by leakage or breakage.

Pure Drugs and Good Medicines can be obtained at the PHYSICIANS DRUG STORE at as low prices as many purchasers are paying for those that are inferior, adulterated, carelessly put up.

It is our intention to maintain the reputation we have established in selling none but PURE Drugs and Medicine, and we, therefore, invite you to examine our stock before buying elsewhere, believing that we can show you inducements seldom offered in this city.

EXECUTOR'S
SALE OF LAND.

UNDER and by virtue of the authority vested in the undersigned, by the last will and testament of George C. P. Hughes, deceased, we will, as Executors of said will, proceed to sell, upon the premises, On the First day of October, 1858, the following lands belonging to the Estate of said G. C. P. Hughes, lying on Cold Water, in Calhoun County, Alabama, and about five miles west of Oxford, viz:

West half of section 33, except the south east fourth of south west fourth, and ten acres off of the south part of north east fourth of south west fourth; and about four acres embracing the mill yard of Miller & Bagley, heretofore set apart—and east half of south east fourth of section 32, except about 8 acres embracing the Baptist Cold Water Camp-ground and Church.

Also, south west fourth of south west fourth of section 28, all lying in township 16, range 7 east. Said tract is the land occupied by G. C. P Hughes in his life time.—The tract has comfortable dwellings and out houses, a fine apple and peach orchard—some 125 acres cleared and in cultivation—a good spring, and well of never-failing water. The place is an excellent one—convenient to fine Mills—situated in the midst of an excellent neighborhood, and is one and a half miles from the Alabama and Tenn. R. Rail Road route.

The undersigned, or Harley J. Hughes will take pleasure in showing the place to all who may wish to purchase. Terms made known on day of sale. Part cash will be required, and long time given on the remainder.

Court of Probate for Calhoun County, Alabama, Special Term 24th day of August A. D. 1858.

THIS day came Asa Skelton, Administrator de bonis non of the estate of Wm. Young, deceased, and filed his account and vouchers for a final settlement of said estate.

It is therefore ordered by the Court, that Tuesday the 5th day of October next, be set for stating and reporting said account, allowing said vouchers and making said settlement, and that forty days notice of the filing of said account and the day set for said settlement be given in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper printed and published in the Town of Jacksonville, in said County, as a notice to the creditors of said estate, as an insolvent estate, and to all other persons concerned to be and appear at a Special Term of the Probate Court for said County, to be holden at the Court House of said County, on said Tuesday the 5th day of October next, 1858 and contest said settlement, if they think proper.

WITNESS, A. Woods, Judge of said Court, at office this 24th day of August A. D. 1858.

A. WOODS, Judge of Probate.

THE LIVER

INVIGORATOR!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD.

COMPOUNDED entirely from GUMS, IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Tonic remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The Liver is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when it performs its functions well, the powers of the system are generally developed. The stomach is almost entirely dependent on the Liver for the proper performance of its functions; when the stomach is at fault, and the bowels are in consequence of one having ceased to do their duty. For the disease of the t organ one of the proprietors has made it his study, in a practice of more than twenty years, to find some remedy wherewith to counteract the many derangements to which it is liable. To prove that this remedy is at last found, any person troubled with liver Complaint, in any of its forms, has but to try a bottle, and conviction is certain.

These Gums remove bad matter from the blood, and in their place a healthy secretion is formed, creating the stomach, digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Billious attacks are cured, and what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the LIVER INVIGORATOR.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach & prevent the food from rising & souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures Costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

☞One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

One bottle taken for female obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure.

Only one dose immediately relieves Cholic, while one dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera

☞Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

☞One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst forms, while Summer and Bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cures attacks caused by Worms in Children: there is no surer, safer, or speedier remedy in the world, as it never fails.

☞A few bottles cures Dropsy, by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever & Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Billious TYPE. It operates with certainty, & thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

ALL WHO USE IT ARE GIVING THEIR UNANIMOUS TESTIMONY IN ITS FAVOR.

MIX WATER IN THE MOUTH WITH THE INVIGORATOR, AND SWALLOW BOTH TOGETHER.

The Liver Invigorator

IS A SCIENTIFIC MEDICAL DISCOVERY, and is daily working cures, almost too great to believe. It cures as if by magic, even the first dose giving benefit, and seldom more than one bottle is required to cure any kind of Liver Complaint, from the worst Jaundice or Dyspepsia to a common Headache, all of which are the result of a Diseased Liver.

R. R. R.

ALARMING SIGNS OF A SICKLY SUMMER.

The Summer and Fall of 1858 will be marked in the records of time as the most sickly and unhealthy of seasons that have visited the northern portion of this Continent for many years. Malarious diseases, in their most malignant and violent forms, will prevail as epidemics in sections of our country that have been deluged by the late overflowing of rivers, creeks and bayous, and drenched by the recent heavy rains.

YELLOW FEVER, TYPHOID FEVER, BILIOUS FEVER, FEVER AND AGUE, CONGESTIVE FEVER, INTERMITTENT AND REMITTENT FEVERS, CHOLERA, FLUX, DYSENTERIES, SUDDEN ATTACKS OF VOMITING will rage with violence in the vicinities of low, marshy lands, and where the deluge of the waters and drenchings of the rains have been sufficiently violent to produce miasms, from decomposition of Vegetable or other decomposed matter. In our Southern and Western States we may therefore expect the prevalence as epidemic, Malarious diseases in one or the other of the above names, forms, and in order that the Public may provide themselves with the proper means to protect their systems against sudden attacks of diseases of any kind, we notify the people of the approach of these maladies. In Radway's Ready Relief you have the preventive. With this Remedy, however violent and malignant, infections and deadly may be the character of the disease, it cannot harm you. A teaspoonful of this life protecting Remedy, drank in a little water three or four times per day, will so fortify the stomach against the infectious gasses of these fevers, that you are as safe from danger as though you were breathing the most wholesome and invigorating atmosphere under the sun. Radway's Ready Relief has been proved, in the Yellow Fever of 1853, to be the best disinfectant in use. If any of our readers are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with any Fever, Cholera, Flux or Dysentery—either Yellow, Congestive, Intermittent or Remittent—Radway's Ready Relief, aided with Radway's Regulators, will in a few hours arrest the violence and danger of the disease, and soon cure you.

COMMON DISEASES.

Diseases, such as Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Head Aches, Influenza, Rush of Blood to the Head, Biliousness, Cholera, Tooth Aches, Croup, Whooping Coughs, Inflammation of the Bowels and Lungs, Sudden attacks of Chills and Fevers, Sickness at the Stomach, Congestion of the Brain, Sun Stroke, Liver Difficulties and other painful, debilitating and enfeebling maladies, will run riot throughout the length and breadth of the land, attacking in their most violent forms the aged, and youthful. But against these ills, which inflict so much pain upon their victims, Radway's Ready Relief will in a few moments remove the most fierce and torturing pains; and, if used in connection with Radway's Regulators, speedily effect a cure.

CHRONIC DISEASES.

Those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with Chronic diseases, Breakings Out, Running Sores, Humors, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Prickly Heat, Sore Head, Sore Eyes, Bad Legs, Sores in the Nasour Mouth, Cankers, Boils, Blotches, Erysipelas, Bad Coughs, Scrofula Pa.te, will suffer increased torture from these diseases, this sickly cycle, unless the blood is cleansed from its Humors, and the system renovated of its impurities, by Radway's Renovating Resolvent. This Remedy is a quick cure for the above-named diseases; and it is the only Known Remedy that will completely eradicate from the system diseases inherited by constitutional transmission. Persons afflicted with Scrofula, Fits, Syphilis, or any Chronic disease, will be affectually cured, if Radway's Renovating Resolvent is used.

PREPARE TO RESIST THE PESTILENCE.

A great number of those who die from pestilential diseases are suddenly seized in the night, or when they least expect an attack, and are there unprepared to resist the first attacks of their deadly foe. It is therefore of the greatest importance to those who desire to live through an attack of this kind, whether Cholera, Yellow Fever, Sun Stroke, Congestions, or Brain Fever, to have Radway's Ready Relief and Regulators ready to use at any moment. These Remedies taken when you feel unwell or in pain—either slight or violent—will instantly check and stop the progress of the disease, and deliver you from further harm. Let every Housekeeper, Planter, Farmer, Shipmaster and, in fact, all having charge of others, keep a supply of Radway's Ready Relief Regulators and Resolvents in their houses. AS A CERTAIN SEASON IS FAST APPROACHING—Diseases of the most terrible and fatal character generally but with these remedies at hand you may rest secure.

There are no remedies known to Physicians that the public as a general rule, can rely upon in the successful of infections and malignous diseases. Radway's Ready Relief, or Regulators, as curatives and preventives against attacks of infectious and malignant Fevers are fixed facts. R. R. R. Remedies are sold by Druggists and Merchants everywhere.

TESTIMONIALS FROM PROFESSORS AND OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The Horace Water's Pianos are known among the very best. We are enabled to speak of these instruments with some degree of confidence from personal knowledge of their excellent tone and durable quality."—N. Y. Evangelist.

Having inspected a large number of the Horace Waters' Pianos, we can speak of their merits, from personal knowledge, as being of the very best quality."—Christ. Intelligencer.

Nothing at the State Fair displayed greater excellence in any department than the Piano Forte manufactured by Horace Waters if this city.—Churchman.

"The finest among the many pianos at the Crystal Pallace are those placed there by Horace Waters, whose instruments are always popular,

"The Waters Pianos are built of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material. From all we can learn of this establishment—said to be the largest in the United States—we have no doubt that buyers can do as well, perhaps better, at this than at any other in the Union."—Chris. Adv. Mon. Tenn.

"Mr. Waters has been long established and is favorably known. We speak from experience when we assure our readers that his prices are below those usually charged for articles in his line."—Jacksonian N. J.

"The tone is clear pure powerful, and very melodious, the base is deep, rolling and sonorous: the middle part is rich, and sympathetic, and preserving the power of singing, is of uniting the sound of each tone, in a degree but rarely achieved."—Henry C. Watson.

For power of tone, depth of bass, and brilliancy of treble, together with the accuracy of touch, they are equal to any make I am acquainted with, and I cordially recommend to those wishing to purchase.—V. C. Taylor.

"Our friends will find at Waters' store the very best assortment of music and of pianos to be found in the United States, and urge our southern and western friends to give him a call whenever they go to New York."
Grahams Magazine.

"We consider them worthy of special attention, from the resonant and exceedingly musical tone which Mr. Waters succeeded in attaining"—New York Musical World and Times.

"There is one which, for beauty of finish and richness and brilliancy of tone, equals, it does not exceed, in any thing of the kind we have ever seen. It is from the establishment of Horace Waters. Being constructed of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material, and upon improved principles, it is capable of resisting the action of the climate, and of standing a long time in tune."—Sac. Rep.

"Waters pianos and melodeons challenge comparison with the finest made anywhere in the country."—Home Journal.

C. L. Sholes editor of the Kenosha "Tribune and Telegraph" says. "The piano was received in good order, and is pronounced an excellent instrument by good judges, the tone of it is particularly commended, as is indeed its external workmanship and finished comparel with its cost."

The "New-York Express" says: "The Horace Waters pianos are pronounced by musicians there as a decidedly superior ar icle in all the requisites of this instrument, and it is fast superseding those of other manufacturers."

Says the "Knoxville (Tenn.) Standard:" "Mr. Waters has long experience in the business and has gained a reputation unsurpassed for selling the best instruments in the country."

"The Sunny South" reaches us with the following: "This gentleman is one of the most extensive music dealers in the Union. His pianos and melodeons have obtained great celebrity for their excellent tone and durable quality."

Says "The Valley City Advocate;" "We have taken a look at a piano which has just arrived from the celebrated establishment of Horace Wate s' and must say that for tone and beauty of finish, it surpasses any we ever saw for the price."

INDIAN ROOT PILLS.

DR. MORSE, the inventor of Morse's Indian Root Pills, has spent the greater part of his life in travelling, having visited Europe, Asia, Africa as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depended upon this vital flood.

When the various passages become clogged and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action becomes thick, corrupted and diseased; thus causing all pains sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted our health we are deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become choked and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out. How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills. manufactured from plants and roots which grow around the mountaneos cliffs in Nature's garden, for the health and recovery of diseased man. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Sudorific, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in throwing out the finer passage parts of the corruption within. The second is a plant which is an Expectorant, that opens and unclog the passage to the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner performs its duty by throwing off phlegm, and other humors from the lungs by copious spitting. The third is a Diuretic which gives ease and double strength to the kidneys, thus encouraged, they draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out bountifully by the urinary, or water passage, and which could not have been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood, the coarser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the outlets are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morses Indian Root Pills not only enter the stomach, become united with the blood, for they find way to every part, and completely rout out and cleanse the system from all impurity and the life of the body, which is the blood becomes perfectly healthy, consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear.

The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the afflicted parts, and which will open the natural passages for the disease to be cast out hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; thus undergoing disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease, Dr. Morses Pills have added to themselves victory, upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands who have been racked or tormented with sickness pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought as it were, within a silent step of the silent grave, now stand ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morses Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only do they give immediate ease and strength, and take away all sickness; pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease, which is the blood. Therefore it will be shown, especially by those who use those Pills, that they will so cleanse and purify, that disease—that deadly enemy—will take its flight, and the flush of youth and beauty will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will cherish and brighten your days.

The Shrader Press.

THIS wonderful Press, which has recently been patented and capable of Pressing or compressing COTTON, Hay, Fodder, or any other articles required to be put up in small compass, is now offered for sale to planters and others wanting either Individual, County or State Rights.—This Press is propelled by double racks and pinions, requiring but two revolutions to pack or compress bales of cotton weighing from 500 to 1000 pounds—the power given to the lever by two negro fellows. As for speed & power, it surpasses any other Press now in the world. The advantages of this Press are numerous It is simple in construction, easily put up, and not liable to get out of repairs, as many of the other presses of the day are. The iron castings required will not cost more than $40 or $50. Any common carpenter can get out the timbers for and do all the wood work—all not costing the planter more than $100.

☞Any person wishing to purchase rights to the above described valuable Cotton Press, will please call on the undersigned, at Oxford, who have purchased the patent from Mr. Shrader for Calhoun County.

AYER'S

Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

FOR THE CURE OF

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach

PITTSBURGH, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. SIR: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache my body can have by a once or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect,
ED. W. PHERLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequent upon which they are admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so of stinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine! they have done my wife more good than I can tell you! I had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, which others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Hines, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother had been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and itch of hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORDRIDGE.

POETRY.

The Presentiment.
BY PAUL H. HAYNE.

Over the face, so tender and meek,
The light of a prophecy lies.
That hath silvered the red of the rose on her cheek,
And chastened the thought in her eyes.

Beautiful eyes, with an inward glance
To the spirit's mystical deep;
Lost in the languid gleam of a trance,
More solemn and saintly than sleep.

It hints of a world which is alien and dim,
Of a nature that hovers between
The discord of earth & the seraphim's hymn,
On the verge of the spectral—Unseen;

And forever and ever she seems to hear
The voice of a charmer implore;
"Come enter the life that is noble and clear;
Come, grow to my heart once more."

And forever and ever she mutely turns,
From a mortal lover's sighs;
And fainter the red of the rose-flush burns,
And deeper the thought in her eyes.

The seeds are warm of the churchyard flowers,
That shall blossom about her rest.
And a bird that shall sing by the old church towers,
Is already fledged in its nest.

And so when a blander summer shall smile,
On some eve of soft July,
We will lead to the dust her beauty awhile,
'Neath the hush of a moonless sky.

And later still, shall the churchyard flowers
Gleam nigh with a white increase;
And a bird outpour by the old church towers,
A plaintive poem of peace.

HARRY AND I.
BY JOSIE S. HUNT.

We stood where the snake-like ivy
Climbed over the meadow bar,
And watched as the young night sparkled
The sky with her cream-like stars.
The clover was red beneath us—
The air had a smell of June—
The chicken chirped in the grasses,
And the soft rays of the moon

Drew our shadows out on the meadow,
Distorted, lank and tall.
His shadow was kissing my shadow—
That was the best of all
My heart leaped up as he whispered,
'I love you, Margery Lee,'
For then one arm of his shadow
Was round the shadow of me.

'I love you, Margery, darling,
Because you are young and fair;
For your eyes' bewildering blueness,
And the gold of your curling hair,
No queen has hands that are whiter,
No lark has a voice so sweet,
And your ripe young lips are redder
Than the clover at our feet.

'My heart will break with its fullness,
Like a cloud overcharged with rain;
O tell me, Margery darling,
How long I must love in vain?'
With blushes and smiles I answered—
(I will not tell what,)—just that
I knew that his saucy shadow
Was kissing my shadow again.

He promised to love me only—
I promised to love but him—
Till the moon fell out of the heavens
And the stars with age grew dim,
Oh, the strength of man's devotion!
Oh, the vows a woman speaks!
'Tis years since that blush of rapture
Broke redly over my cheeks.

He found a gold that was brighter
Than that of my floating curls,
And I married a cross-eyed widow,
With a dozen grown-up girls.
And I—but I pine and languish?
But I weep my blue eyes sore?
Or break my heart, do you fancy,
For love that was mine no more?

I stand to-night in the meadow
Where Harry and I stood then,
And the moon has drawn to shadows
Our over the grass again,
And a low voice keeps repeating—
So close to my startled ear,
That the shadows melt together—
'I love you, Margery, dear.'

'Tis not for your cheeks' rich crimson,
And not for your eyes' soft hine,
But because your heart is tender,
And noble and pure and true.'
The voice is dearer than Harry's;
And so I am glad, you see,
He married the cross-eyed widow—
Instead of Margery Lee.

Miscellaneous.

THE BEGGAR.
A TRUE TALE.

ONE cold winter morning, the last Sunday of December, 1849, a half naked man knocked timidly at the basement door of a fine, substantial mansion, in the city of Brooklyn. Though the weather was bitter, even for the season, the young man had no clothing but a pair of ragged cloth pants, and the remains of a flannel shirt which disclosed his muscular chest in many large rents. But in spite of this tattered apparel, and evident fatigue, as he leaned heavily upon the railing of the basement stairs, a critical observer could not fail to notice a conscious air of dignity, and the marked traces of cultivation and refinement in his pale, haggard countenance.

The door was speedily opened, and disclosed a large, comfortably furnished room, with its glowing grate of anthracite; before which was a luxuriously furnished breakfast table—a fashionably attired young man, in a brocade dressing-gown and velvet slippers, reclining in a "fauteuil," lazily reading the morning papers. The beautiful young wife had lingered at the table, giving orders to the servant in waiting orders for the household matters of the day, when the timid knock attracted attention.

She commanded the door to be opened, but the young master of the mansion replied that it was quite useless, being no one but some thievish beggar, but the door was already open, and the sympathies of Mrs. Haywood enlisted at once.

"Come to the fire," cried the young wife, impulsively, "before you perish."

The medicant, without exhibiting any surprise at such unusual treatment of a beggar, slowly entered the room, manifesting a painful weakness at every step. On his entrance, Mr. Haywood, with a displeased air, gathered up his papers and left the apartment. The unwise lady placed the half-frozen man near the fire, while she prepared a bowl of fragrant coffee, which, with abundant food was placed before him. But, noticing the abrupt departure of her husband, with a clouded countenance, left the room, whispering to the servant to remain until the stranger should leave.

She then ran hastily up the richly mounted staircases, and paused before the entrance of a small laboratory and medical library, and occupied solely by her husband, who was a physical chemist. She opened the door and entered the room. Mr. Haywood was sitting at a small table, with his head resting on his hands, apparently in deep thought.

"Edward," said the young wife, gently touching him on the arm, "I fear I have displeased you; but the man looked so wretched that I could not bear to drive him away," and her sweet voice trembled as she added. "You know I take the sacrament to day."

"Dear Mary," replied the really fond husband, "I appreciate your motives. I know it is pure goodness of heart which leads you to disobey me, but still I must insist upon my command, that no beggar shall ever be permitted to enter the house. It is for your safety that I insist upon it. How deeply you might be imposed upon in my frequent absence from home. I shudder to think. The man that is now below may be a burglar in disguise & already in your absence taking impressions in wax of the different key holes in the room, so as to enter some night at his leisure. Your limited experience of city life makes it difficult for you to credit so much depravity. It is no charity to give to street beggars, it only encourages vice, dearest."

"It may be so," responded Mrs. Haywood, "but it seems wicked not to relieve suffering and want, even if a person has behaved badly—and we know it. But I will promise you not to ask another into the house."

At this moment the servant rapped violently at the door, crying out the beggar was dying.

"Come, Ed., your skill can save him, I know," said the wife, hastening from the room.

The doctor did not refuse this appeal to his professional vanity, for he immediately followed his wife's flying footsteps to the basement. They found the medicant lying, pale and unconscious upon the carpet where Mrs. Haywood had seated him.

"He is a handsome fellow," muttered the doctor, as he bent over him to ascertain the state of his pulse.

And well he might say so. The glossy locks of raven hair had fallen away from a broad, white forehead; his eyelids were bordered by long raven lashes, which lay like a silk fringe upon his pale bronzed cheeks, while a delicate aquiline nose, and a square incisive, chin, displayed a model of manly beauty.

"Is he dead?" asked the young wife anxiously.

"Oh, no, it is only a fainting fit, induced by sudden change of temperature and perhaps the first stage of starvation replied the doctor, sympathizingly. He had forgotten for the moment his cold maxims of prudence, and added, "He must be carried to room without fire, & placed in a comfortable bed.

The coachman was called in to assist in lifting the athletic stranger, who was soon carried to a room in the chambers where the doctor administered, with his own hand, strong doses of port wine sangaree. The young man soon became partially conscious, but all conversation was forbade him, and he sunk quietly to sleep.

"He is doing well—let him rest as long as he can; should he awake in our absence, give him beef, tea and toast ad libitum," said the doctor, professionally, as he left the room.

* * * * * *

In less than an hour afterwards, Dr. Haywood and his lovely wife entered the gorgeous church of "the most Holy Trinity."

Amid the hundreds of fair dames that entered its portals, dressed with all the taste and magnificence that abundant wealth could procure, not one rivaled, in grace and beauty, the orphan bride of the physician. Her tall, graceful figure was robed in violet silk, that only heightened, by contrast, her large azure eyes, bright with the luster of youthful happiness; yet there was a touch of tender pity in their drooping lids, that won the confidence of every beholder. The snowy ermine mantilla, which protected her from the piercing wind, revealed, but could not surpass, the delicate purity of her complexion. Many admiring eyes followed the faultless figure of Mrs. Haywood, as she moved with unconscious grace up the central aisle of the church, but not one with more heartfelt devotion than the young wayward, but generous man who had recently wed her, in spite of her poverty and the sneers of her aristocratic acquaintances.

The stately organ had pealed its last rich notes, which were faintly echoing in the distant arches, when a stranger of venerable aspect, who had previously taken no part in the services of the altar, and, announced for his text the oft quoted, but seldom applied, words of the Apostle: "Be not forgetful to entertain strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unawares."—Dr. Haywood felt his forehead flush painfully; it appeared to him for a moment that the preacher must have known of his want of charity towards strangers, and wished to give him a public lesson; but he soon saw from the tenor of his remarks that his own guilty conscience had made the application in his particular case. I have not space, nor indeed the power, to give any synopsis of the sermon; but that it, combined with the incident of the morning, effected a revolution in the mind of at least one hearers. So much, that on the return of Dr. Haywood from the church, he repaired at once to the room of the mendicant, to offer such attentions as he might stand in need of. But the young man seemed to be much refreshed by rest and nutritious food, and contrary to the usual custom of convalescents, he arose, and dressed himself with the assistance of his benefactress, and descended gratefully thanking the host for the kind attentions he had received, which without doubt had saved his life.

"But I will recompense you well; for thank God, I am not the beggar that I seem. I was shipwrecked on Friday night on the "Ocean Wave," on my return from India. My name was doubtless among the list of the lost—for I escaped from the waves by a miracle. I attempted to make my way to New York where I have ample funds in the bank awaiting my orders. I must have perished from cold and hunger, had it not been for you and your wife's charity. I was repulsed from every door as an imposter, and could get neither food nor rest. To be an exile from one's native land ten years, and then, after escaping from the perils of the ocean, to die of hunger in the streets of a christian city, I felt was truly a bitter fate."

"My name is Arthur Willet," added the stranger.

"Why that is my wife's family name She will doubtless be pleased at her agency in your recovery."

"Of what State is she a native?" asked Arthur Willet eagerly.

"I married her in the town of B., where she was born."

At this moment Mrs. Haywood entered the room, surprised at the long absence of her husband.

Arthur Willet gazed at her with a look of the wildest surprise, murmuring:

"It cannot be—it cannot be. I am delirious to think so."

Mrs. Haywood with little less astonishment, stood motionless as a statue.

"What painful mystery is that?" said Dr. Haywood, excitedly addressing his wife, who then became conscious of the singularity of her conduct.

"Oh, no mystery," she replied, sighing deeply, "only this stranger is the image of my lost brother Arthur;" and Mrs. H., overcome with emotion, turned to leave the room.

"Stay one moment," pleaded the stranger, drawing a small mourning ring from his finger, and holding it up, asked if she recognized that relic.

"It's my father's gray hair, and you are"—

"His son, Arthur Willet, and your brother?"

Mary Willet Haywood fell upon the medicant's breast, weeping tears of sweetest joy and thanksgiving.

Dr. Haywood retired from the room, and left sister and brother alone in that sacred hour of reunion saying to himself:

"Be not forgetful to entertain strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unawares."

Alabama Hock Wine.

We copy the following from the New York Evening Post:

"A friend and correspondent, in whose judgement we have great confidence, has presented us with a bottle of the above named wine, which he informs us, was made from the Catawba grape grown on the farm of Dr. Ulrich, called "Utica," near the Tallapoosa river, Tallapoosa county Alabama. He states that the wine is the pure juice of the grape without the addition of the slightest particle of alcohol. Its color is that of a beautiful topaz; and its rich fruity flavor is that which could be obtained only by the process of mellowing grape juice into wine.

Dr. Ulrich, the manufacturer of this wine, is a German, well acquainted with the process of making Rhenish wines in his own country; and he is willing to place his Cataba, Alabama Hock by the side of the finest grades of Hock wines imported from Europe; & some of his countrymen now in New York declare that it is pure juice, and of a very superior quality and flavor; and so far as our judgement is to be relied on, we subscribe fully to the facts set forth by our correspondent.

Dr. Ulrich states to our correspondent, that he has tried both white and slave labor in the cultivation of his vineyards, and finds the latter decidedly preferable; and that, with a favorable season, he expects to produce not less than four thousand gallons of still and sparkling Hock next year; and hardly less than ten the succeeding year, and an increased quantity every year thereafter. He also states that his land will produce eight hundred gallons of wine to the acre, while the climate is far better for the grape than any in Germany.

While the North Carolina Catawba Grape cultivated in Alabma, produces so enormously of superior wine, the Doctor is about to import cuttings from his own country, in order to ascertain how they will thrive on the Tallapoosa instead of the Rhine. He reports very fine sales on draft at five dollars a gallon for the first quality on his farm, and three dollars and fifty cents for the second quality. Our readers calculate the amount of income from the production of ten thousand gallons of this wine per annum, and upward; and we believe the people of our country will hail the promise of so much wine, because it will inevitably reduce the use of ardent spirits, and improve the health and morals of our people in proportion. If we require evidence that such will be the result, we need only refer to portions of France where wines are drunk to the almost total expulsion of distilled liquors. If the price of this Alabama wine is too great for the purses of ordinary people, the fact that eight hundred gallons per acre may be produced, argues that by increased cultivation of the grape, the wine may be had ere long for twenty-five cents a gallon; for who would not be satisfied with a production of two hundred dollars an acre by his lands, while the cotton and sugar planter is well satisfied with fifty dollars an acre?

[illegible] watches, [illegible] were peering from behind the Kinnaird crags that commanded a prospect of the broad expanse of water [illegible] for John Beton had received from George Dou[illegible] Willie, to Lord Seton [illegible] Queen's enfranchisement [illegible] enterprised that evening. [illegible] men were ambushed by Seton [illegible] bosom of a mountain valley, within [illegible] mile of the lake's shore; forty men were hidden behind the hill a little [illegible] the rear; while ten, in the dress of wayfarers, entered the village of Kinross, where their fleet horses, ready bridled and saddled, were concealed. At half past seven, the guards, who kept watch and ward at the gates, night and day, were accustomed to quit their post for half an hour; to sup with the family in the great hall, the gates being carefully locked, and the keys placed beside the castellan, Sir William Douglas, Laird of Lochleven, on the place where he and his mother sat in state on the dais. Willie Douglas, who was waiting on them, while changing the Laird's plate, contrived to drop his napkin over the keys, which were five in number, linked together with an iron chain, adroitly enveloping them in the folds of the cloth to prevent them from jingling when he carried them off. With these he hastened to the apartments of the Queen, to which they gave him access. Queen Mary took with her the youngest companion of her captivity, a little girl of ten years old, of whom she appeared very found, tenderly leading her by the hand. Willie, having carefully locked the gates behind him to prevent immediate pursuit, hurried the Queen and her small companion into a little skiff which lay there, into which they got. The royal fugitive, with the impetuous energy natural to her, seizing one of the oars, bore her part bravely, and 'twould seem by the result skilfully, in assisting the fragile stripling who was risking his life for her deliverance, in rowing to the shore. Jane Kennedy, her other damsel, who was to have accompanied her, not being quick enough to reach the castle gates before these were locked by the retreating party, leaped from the Queen's chamber window into the loch, and striking out, swam stoutly for the boat until she reached it, and was received, with her dripping garments, into that little ark. Midway between the island and the shore, Queen Mary rose and gave the preconcerted signal that she was in the boat, by waving her veil, which was white, with red and gold border and red tassels. When the royal veil was seen to flutter forth, the recumbent watcher on the shore sprang to his feet, and, turning about, displayed a corresponding signal to his companions in the village, the leader of whom was John Beton, who was the brother of the Archbishop of Glasgow. The horsemen in the village instantly communicated the sign to those on the hill-side, who forthwith galloped down to shore of the lake where the Queen and the young page were rowing their boat, and at length got safe to land.—When about a furlong from the shore, Willie Douglas threw the bunches of keys into the loch, where, during a year of drouth which dried several acres of the water, they were found by a fisherboy within the present century.—Lives of the Queen of Scotland.

Discovery of Two Comets.

Messrs. Editors: Two faint telescopic comets were discovered at this Observatory during last night, by Mr. H. P. Tuttle. One a degree South of the star Capella, and another twenty degrees to the East of it.

The first is conjectured to be the return of Faye's periodical comet; if so, its computed place differs very considerably from its actual position. Accurate observations of it were obtained. The light of early dawn, however, prevented similar observations being made upon the other.

It is a fact of unusual occurrence that there are now visible in the heavens three comets, the brightest of which, Donati's, can be distinctly seen with the naked eye about ten degrees above the horizon, in the North-west, about half past seven o'clock P. M. It shows a tail of two degrees in length, and is rapidly increasing in brightness, and rising higher above the horizen at that hour.

SEARCH AFTER HAPPINESS.—If you cannot be happy in one way be happy in another and this facility of disposition wants but little aid from philosophy, for health and good humor are almost the whole affair. Many run about after felicity, like an absent minded man looking for his hat while it is in his hand.

Trade with China.—There are no interests we think, likely to be so extensively and permanently benefitted by the opening of the China trade with all nations, than those engaged in the production and manufacture of cotton. Cotton manufacturers, it is stated, have already received very extensive additional orders.

Before the opening of this immense additional trade, with a people number-ing more than four hundred millions, the demand for cotton went steadily ahead of the increased production; and now, this increased demand will be difficult to estimate, while from the limited region in which cotton can be successfully grown, it is probable the production will not increase so rapidly as heretofore. Under these circumstances, the owners of productive, cotton lands can hardly realize their value, or the advantages they possess.

FALL TRADE.

Stipes & Rowland.—These gentlemen, as will be seen by reference to their advertisement in another column, are now receiving a fine stock of Fall and Winter Goods. Their friends and customers, and the public generally are invited to call and examine them, with the assurance that their Goods are of the latest and most fashionable styles, and cannot be excelled for durability and beauty. Their prices also, are so reasonable that they cannot fail to give satisfaction.

NEW STAGE LINE.—We were pleased to see, the other day, in front of Mr. Weir's Hotel, a fine new coach, which we were informed belonged to Mr. J. H. Wisdom, the enterprising contractor on the tri-weekly mail route from Jacksonville to Guntersville. This line of two horse post coaches leaves Jacksonville every Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning at 6 o'clock, and leaves Guntersville, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, at 6 o'clock, A. M.

This line will be a great convenience to the traveling public going in that direction, and Mr. Wisdom deserves great credit for his publicspirited arrangements, which we hope will be rewarded with liberal patronage.

☞ We invite attention to the card of Mr. Abner Williams, Commission Merchant, Selma, Alabama, in another column. The numerous friends and acquaintances of Mr. Williams, in this section of the State, to whom he has been long favorably known, will be glad to learn, that they can avail themselves of his valuable services in the transaction of business.

☞ A private letter from a friend in Ashville, says: "The Circuit Court adjourned on Saturday, after working unremittingly; the bench and the bar were constantly employed, between whom the most friendly relations appear to have existed. Judge Coleman by his firmness and attention to business, has made an impression of a lasting order. It has been observed that he performed more for the County in one week than two campmeetings would effect in a fortnight. Not a single exception taken during the term, 'tho some heavy cases, for this County, were decided."

☞ We invite attention to the advertisement of the new firm of Smith & Self in another column.

These gentlemen willl be receiving in a few days a fine stock of New Goods, and will offer every inducement to purchasers, in order to build up an extensive and permanent business.

Call upon them soon. You will find both proprietors and clerks, ready to accommodate you in the most business like manner; and you will be apt to leave well pleased with them and the goods you may purchase.

YELLOW FEVER IN NEW ORLEANS. The Secretary of the board of health reports 23 cases of yellow fever in Mobile, for the 24 hours ending 15th inst., and says from its rapid increase, the Board considers itself warranted in declaring it epidemic.

We are glad to learn by the following, from the Rome Courier, that the detention on the Rome & Kingston branch rail-road, so much complained of, has been in part remedied.

☞ The Jacksonville Republican, in commenting upon our remarks in regard to the proposed Stage Line from Chattanoogo to Jacksonville, says:

What can be done and what is done are often very different things. We know that a short time since we were detained at Kingston from the evening of one day until the evening of the next, in getting to Rome, and that complaints of like detensions have been common for months.

Granted, friend Grant, the complaints were just but the cause did not lie with Rome. For the purpose of economy the Superintendent of the State Road so changed this schedule as to break the connection of the Rome branch at Kingston. But we are happy to announce that this delay at K. has been in part remedied by the Superintendant of the Rome Railroad, by running an extra train, so that passengers are now delayed at Kingston only eight hours, from 8 o'clock at night to 4 next morning, and do now make the trip from Chattanooga to Jacksonville in 20 hours and have 8 hours for sleep at Kingston.

Calhoun County, Ala. Sept. 14, 1858.

MR. J. F. GRANT:

Dear Sir:—As there have been several attempts made to form a plan to build and let out a jail, and all have failed; would it not be well under the present embarrassment of our county, in the way of funds, to adopt the plan of the people of Coosa county; that is to put up an Iron cage 20 feet long and 6 feet wide and 6½ feet deep, of iron bars 2½ by 3 inches, and crossed two inches apart, riveted through every cross, and the rivets headed. The corner pieces are 3½ inches wide and ¼ inch thick, turned like the corner of a house. This cage when finished will weigh about 8,000 lbs. and costabout $500. It can be put out in the middle of the room, and all the unruly prisoners, can be pened up in it every night, and I think would keep them securely, and save the county the expense of building a new jail. My impression is, that the present jail will answer every purpose, by having an Iron cage in it. Does any other person think so.

Yours with respect,
CITIZEN.

Comets.

Since the days of ignorance and superstition have passed away, & science acquired the ascendancy, we may pleasingly, and profitably look upon those frequent visitors to our region, that were once the terror of the world, without the last emotions of fear. Their predicted return is impatiently awaited, & hailed with delight, while our untiring watch is highly gratified at the precision of some of the calculations of the period of their appearance.

Scarcely a year, or a month elapse without the passage of a comet through our system. Very many are seen by the naked eye, others only through a telescope, while many traverse that part of the heavens only which is above the horizon in the day time; they are lost in the brilliancy of the sun, and can only be seen when a total eclipse of the sun takes place. Seneca states, "that sixty years before the christian Era, a large comet was observed very near the sun during an eclipse."

Comets have ever been objects of interest to Astronomers. Innumerable theories and speculations have resulted from their enquiries. Some have predicted a collision with our planet, and its awful consequences; giving a new direction to its rotary motion, making it revolve around a new axis. The seas forsaking their beds, would be hurried, by their centrifugal force to the new equatorial regions; islands and continents, the abode of men and animals, would be covered by the universal rush of the waters to the new equator, and every vestige of human industry and genius, would at once be destroyed.—While others say, comets have no more density than air under an exhausted receiver.

Hershel saw stars of the 6th magnitude through a thickness of 50,000 miles cometic matter, hence should the earth traverse a comet in its entire breadth, it would perceive it no more than if it should cross a cloud a hundred thousand millions of times lighter than our atmosphere.

It is evident that comets consist of very little solid matter from the fact, when they pass very near to the other heavenly bodies, they exert no sensible attractive force upon those bodies. 'Tis said that in 1454 the moon was eclipsed by a comet; the comet must have been very near the earth, and yet no sensible effect was produced upon either the earth or moon. True, it has been astertained that comets are disturbed by the gravitating power of the planets, but it does not appear that planets are effected in like manner by comets.

History tell us that Dr. Halley, Professor Encke and Gambert are the first astronomers that ever successfully predicted the return of a comet. The period of Halley's comet varies but little from 76 years; that of Encke but little from 5 years, the latter is called a "Comet of a short period." Another one so called is Biela's. It has a period of siderial revolution of about 6¾ years. Halley's was in its perehelion in the year 1835, and Biela's in 1851, hence may we not expect Biela's in this year?

There is now a comet visible just at dark in the north east about 23 degrees above the horizon it remains above it but a short time, and is not seen again till about 4 o'clock in the morning, when it appears in the east. This is said to be Denati's comet, predicted to appear about now, by Dr. Gould. Others identify it with Charles V. Babinet, an eminent French astronomer, says that all astronomers agreed in predicting the return of Charles V, in 1848, but as it failed to appear, M. Bonnne, with all other astronomers being anxious to learn what had become of their "beautiful wandering star," aided by Mr. Hind, revised all the calculations, and estimated all the actions of all the planets upon the comet for three hundred years of revolution. The result of this patient labor gave the return of the comet in August 1858, with an uncertainty of two years more or less, hence it might be expected from 1856 to 1860.

This was the great comet that filled all Europe with terror in 1856; caused Charles V to resign as Emperor, believing it to be an admonition from Heaven that he must cease to be a sovereign if he would avoid a great fatality, which one without authority might escape. The period of this comet is about 300 years and is the grandest one mentioned by historians.

Comets, unlike the planets, observe no one direction in their orbits, but approach to, and recede from their great centre of attraction in every possible direction. In their revolutions they describe long narrow ovals. In one end of these ovals they approach very near the sun, while in the opposite end of the orbit, they are an immense distance from the sun. The extreme nearness of approach to the sun, gives the comet, when in its perihelion, a velocity very great. Brydone calculated the velocity of one he observed in 1760 to be at the rate of two millions and a half miles an hour. Some of them have two or more tails; one has been discovered that had six of great length. Others have no train of light and by a common observer are not distinguished from other heavenly bodies.

How surpassingly sublime our thoughts must grow, in contemplating these curious and unaccountable bodies of the solar system. Sometimes we view them approaching our globe with inconceivable rapidity, as though hastening to envelope it in its fiery train: the inhabitants begin to fear for the safety of their little sphere, when this prodigious wanderer, shrinks from the contact, and with no less speed makes its way to regions unknown, and is absent for centuries, ere it again claims its place among the solar family. The combined reasoning, and profound wisdom of the learned, cannot conjecture from whence they come, or whither they go; what regions they visit; what other systems they traverse, during their long absence.

Nothing is more overwhelming to the mind than the infiniteness of space they must pass through to move with such speed that an electric flash lags behind, and yet be hundreds of years in performing the journey so vast is the distance they travel from our system.

Comets are now regarded as constituent members of the system, governed by the same laws and harmony as other heavenly bodies. When astronomers tell us, comets are approaching the earth with inconceivable speed, they do not design to convey any other idea than that they are making for their perihelion. True, they sometimes cross the earth's orbit, and were the earth in that part of her path at the same time the comet crossed, they would come in contact; but from astronomical calculations there is not more than one chance for this in two hundred and eighty one millions of chances for them to pass at different periods Hence it is almost, if not quite an impossibility for a like occurence. And since comets are governed by the same unchanging laws that control all other bodies, there is nothing to fear from the near approach of comets to the earth, or from their crossing the earth's orbit. We might say of all other bodies that they approach each other and then recede.—The earth is three millions of miles nearer the sun in winter than it is in midsummer. The moon crosses the earth's orbit, yet no fears have ever been entertained of a collision of the sun and earth, nor the moon and earth, nor any other heavenly body, although they are nearer each other in some portions of their orbits than they are in others.

The same Omnipotent hand is stretched forth to guide the comet in its course among the millions of worlds through which it passes undisturbed, and undisturbing, that made the "firmament and divided the waters which were under the firmament, from the waters that were above the firmament." And that "made the stars and set them in the firmament of the heaven."

MR. GRANT:—I see mention in the papers of one stalk of cotton containing 229 and another 246 squares and bolls. I send you a stalk containing 329—perhaps some one will beat it.

J. J. BAUGH.

Mobile and Ohio Railroad.

It would perhaps not be out of place, as this is the close of the commercial year, to say something in relation to the Mobile and Ohio Railroad.

The road is finished on the Southern part 252 miles, viz: from Mobile to West Point, in Lowndes County in Mississippi. It is also completed through Kentucky, twenty miles, and also southward into Tennessee twenty-four miles, making forty-four miles. It is also laid northward twenty-five miles, from Jackson, Tennessee, making sixty-nine miles completed on the north. This with four miles of the Columbus branch, makes the whole amount of road finished 301 miles. Eighty miles have been laid during the year, being the greatest progress since the commencement of the work.

Iron rails have been contracted for sufficient to complete the road and there can be scarcely a doubt that at the end of the coming year, if not before, we shall be enabled to announce the completion of the road.

During the past commercial year, there have been received here by the Railroad 107,864 bales of cotton.

The earnings of the road for the year ending on the 31st July, 1858, have been $617,546 96.—Mob le Tribune.

HON. A. V. BROWN, P. M. GENERAL.—We copy the following deserved-ly high compliment to an able & faithful public officer—the distinguished Postmaster General—from the Philadelphia Argus:

"A friend of Gov. Brown has left with us a beautiful portrait, cabinet size, oil painting, of that distinguished statesman and sterling Democrat.—There are few men in the country who enjoy a wider or better deserved popularity than the Postmaster-General.—Possessed of a splendid private fortune, and occupying a high social position his manners are plain, simple and republican, and his hospitality boundless. Everywhere that he is known he is admired and respected, not only for the sterling qualities of his heart, but for his broad and liberal views, and his capacious, statesman-like and highly practical mind. As Postmaster General, Gov. Brown has infused new life and impulse into his department, and increased the postal facilities to a degree that calls for the grateful acknowledgment of the whole country: while as one of that bright galaxy of statesmen who surrounded our worthy President, his name will be borne hereafter in honorable and cherished remembrance even should his countrymen find no higher employments for his talents and his patriotism.

CHINA.—It was an auspicious omen in the history of the Atlantic Telegraph, that the first news transmitted by it was news of "peace on earth" and the fact has been duly noted and commented on. It seemed an additional pledge and token of the fulfilment of the most ardent and sanguine hopes for its benificent influence upon the world.

It was still further worthy of note, that it brought this news from the very "ends of the earth." The tidings were of peace between the two most powerful nations of Christendom and western civilization, on the one side, and the most ancient, most remote, most populous and most magnificent representative of Oriental civilization on the other. Two parties could hardly be further removed from each other in any resuse, than England and France are from China.—Mobile Mercury.

Ralph, a slave, was tried and convicted of the murder of his master, Wm. H. Spence, of this place, on Monday last, and was at once sentenced to be hung on Friday of next week, 17th inst.

ALABAMA RAILROAD.—We do not know how to account for the little apparent interest our citizens take in this enterprise, except it be the great success they meet with in their present investments and branches of business.—They ought to remember that if some other route is established, than the one through Rome, many of her present advantages will be lost and her future prospects ruined. The Dalton & Jacksonville Co., are at work and now feel quite encouraged. Read the following:—Rome Courier.

DALTON AND JACKSONVILLE RAILROAD.—The time has at length arrived when all reasonable doubts in regard to the construction of this Railroad have faded away, and we now, in common with thousands immediately interested, feel confident that the period is near at hand, when this link in the great chain of roads between New York and New Orleans will be completed. Impartial investigations show beyond controversy that this is much the nearest route by which the connection can be formed, & that it is altogether practicable in every other respect.

During our late visit to Armuchee Valley, we were gratified at the interest manifested by the people of that beautiful and fertile country. They seem determined to afford all the aid in their power towards the advancement of this work so important to their welfare. When men possessed as they are, of sufficient capital, are actuated by the true spirit of perseverance and enterprise, there is no possibility of its failure.

A meeting will be held at Villanow, in Walker county, on the 15th inst., at which we anticipate quite a large addition to the present sum subscribed.

Tragedy in Fincastle—Death of James McDowell, Esq.

We were startled yesterday morning on reading the following announcement in the Lynchburg Virginian.

We regret to learn that an altercation occurred at Fincastle on Thursday afternoon last between Messrs. Henry Bowyer and James McDowell, which resulted in the death of the latter gentleman, who, it is stated, received three shots in his body from a pistol in the hands of Mr. B. A domestic difficulty, in which Mr. McD. and a member of Mr. B's family were involved, is said to have been the cause of this deplorable event. Both the principals in the affair have for many years occupied prominent positions in Botetourt county. Mr. B. belongs to an old and highly respectable family, and is himself, a wealthy and intelligent farmer. Mr. McD. has at different times filled various responsible posts at home and abroad—during the administration of President Polk he was United States Consul at Belfast—and at the time of his death was President of the Farmer's Bank at Fincastle, Va.

From the Richmond Enquirer of August 30th.

FINCASTLE, Aug. 27, 1858.

Messrs. Editors: I wrote you, yesterday, informing you of shooting of Mr. James McDowell Sr., President of the Farmer's Bank of Fincastle, by Mr. H. M. Bowyer of this vicinity.—Mr. McDowell died to-day of his wounds, about 3 o'clock. An examining court was held, also to-day, which committed Mr. B. for trial before the Circuit Court. The testimony before the examining court went to show that Mr. McDowell had seduced a weak minded daughter of Mr. Bowyer's from her home, and furnished her with a waybill and money to go North, where he would meet and provide for her comfort; that he had urged her to this course on the ground that he had learned that some one intended to write an anonymous letter to her father acquainting him with their intimacy, &c., and that if her father found it out he would probably kill her; that five of Mr. Bowyer's servants had frequently carried notes from Mr. M. had been frequently seen about the premises of Mr. B., late of evening, and that Miss B had been seen on the same evenings, sauntering in the same directions; that Miss B. did leave home was found by her brother, who went in pursuit, in the city of Baltimore, in a suspicious house. Mr. McDowell also left home a few days after Miss B. left, and was absent some time. Mr. Bowyer brought dis daughter from Baltimore, and placed her in change of Dr. Staibbling, of Western Lunatic Asylum, after which the occurrences narrated in my note of yesterday took place.

London Times on the Electric Cable.

[From the London Times, 17th.]

The other day when our French neighbors were pouring forth volley after volley from the forts of Cherbourg, a quiet steamer stole into the harbor, unnoticed, amidst the thunder of the artillery. She brought the tidings of an achievement performed by British hands, in comparison with which Cherbourg and its fortifications sank almost into insignificance. True, those batteries were pregnant with the threats of Continental Europe against these Islands. Cherbourg as completed was the visible realization of Napoleon Bonaparte's dream. Had he possessed such a port on the channel and such ships of war as might be now collected behind its breakwater, the demonstration against England in the beginning of the century might have assumed very different proportions. Times, however, are changed—if there are increased facilities of attack there are increased powers of resistance. The world goes on, and England has weathered many a storm. It was, however, not a little singular that, at the very moment when salvoes from the great guns of Cherbourg were announcing to the world that the great naval and military lodgment on the channel was just effected, the intelligence should be received that England and the New World had been at last connected by the electric chain. A new page of policy has been opened British statesmen will soon be made to feel that they have much to learn and much to forget. The two great nations of the earth, which uphold the principles of political and personal freedom as the condition of their existence, have been at length united by a bond from which they could not extricate themselves if they would. The slender galvanic current which flashed with the speed of lightning beneath the waters of the Atlantic, and informed the signalman at Valentia that his colleague was speaking with him from the other side of the great ocean, was more than an answer to the roaring of the Cherbourg guns, had they filled the air with a tenfold din.

There is but one sort of genuine National Democracy possible in this country, and it is this sort which we always mean when we use the term. It is the real, old, undulated State Right Democracy, put into form in the resolutions of '98, and consecrated by a hundred victories since—the Democracy which commands the citizen of Maine to look to the rights of his State, and the citizen of Louisiana to look to the rights of his; whereby citizens of all States from Maine to Louisiana, from California to Virginia, may join hands on the great national platform, that all the States have equal rights, and that the citizens of one State shall not meddle with the affairs of another. This is the true National Democary on which we can all agree—this is the National Democratic platform on which we all stand. Standing on this, we can disagree harmoniously about details, while our grand general doctrines are the same.—N. O. Courier.

DISASTROUS ACCIDENT ON THE AUGUSTA AND SAVANNAH RAILROAD—LOSS OF LIFE.—At any early hour this morning, says the Augusta Chronicle & Sentinel, of the 16th, a dispatch was received at the telegraph office in this city, announcing a serious and fatal accident to the down train on the Augusta & Savannah Railroad, which left this city at one o'clock last night. The accident, which occurred about ten miles this side of Miller, near Station No, 1, was caused by a wash in the road-bed—the result of heavy and continued rains. The engine, tender, and three freight cars were thrown from the track, and are a total wreck. L. M Northy, Engineer, and two Firemen, Patrick Fleury and James Coggins, were killed, and Jesse Farrar, machinist and workmen, was seriously and perhaps fatally injured. The passengers escaped without injury, owing, probably, to there being a large number of freight cars between the passenger car and the engine.—Mont. Adv.

A box 4 by 4 inches square, and 4 1-2 deep, will contain one quart, or 62 1-2 cubic inches.

GEN. LEWIS CASS.

The Washington correspondent of the Press writes: "Gen. Cass, who must be nearly eighty, is feeble, but is hard at work. This extraordinary man's carreer is alike a study and an example. He has lived a blameless life, and has grown to distinction almost by his own efforts. He is now one of the richest men in the Union. He invested heavily in the town of Detroit, Michigan, of which he was a pioneer, and the growth of the West, especially since the railroad system has extended its powerful influence, has vastly appreciated his property. He is said to be worth four or five millons.—And yet, with all his wealth, he lives a frugal and abstemious life. The management of his vast estate is confided to his enterprising son-in-law, Mr. Ledyard, who resides in Detroit. We should add that Gen. Cass has been a strict temperance man throughout his life, having never used alcoholic or vinous liquors."

A Father and Son Murdered in Ky. The Louisville Courier states that some days since, in Washington county, Ky., two men, Henderson and Yocum, made an attack upon a man named Thomas Fairis, and in the affray killed Faris' son, the old man escaping for the time. Henderson and Yocum were arrested, and are now in jail in Sprigfield. On Friday the elder Faris was found in in the public road, murdered, not far from his own house. He was shot, and as yet the murders are undetected.

Testimonials from Foreign Countries.

A pleasing travelling companion, and one that no person should be without is Perry Davis' Pain Killer. A sudden attack of diarrhea, dysentery, or cholera morbus can be effectually and instantaneously relieved by it, it is equally effectual in curing scalds, burns, &c.

Thomas. S. Ranney, writing from Rangoon, Burmah, December 19, 1856, says;—"It is becoming more popular, and in several instances I am assured that the cholera has been arrested and life preserved by its use. The late prevalence of cholera here has swept off about all the Pain Killer I had, and purchasers looking to me for a supply will be disappointed in my ability to supply them. Please send me an invoice of $150 worth by the first opportunity."

CAPE TOWN, Africa, Jan. 23, 1856.

Messrs. P. Davis & son—Dear Sirs:

The Pain Killer, we are happy, to say, is getting in good repute, here, and its good qualities are being appreciated. Lately, we have a great demand for the article, and confidently anticipate a large trade in the Pain Killer.

BORRODAILE, THOMPSON, HALL, & CO.

Sold by druggists everywhere.

Cherish Your Wife.

What animal but man did you ever see maltreat a female of his species? The claims to piety and uncommon consideration every good woman builds up during a few years of marriage! Her inestimable value in the house! How true she is unless her husband corrupts her, or drives her to despair! How often she is good in spite of his example! How rarely she is evilly disposed by his example! God made her wea ker, that man might have the honest satisfaction and joy of protecting her. To torture her with the strength so entrusted him for her good, is to rebel against heaven's design—it is to be a monster, a coward and a fool.

OBITUARY.

MARY SUSAN MURDOCK departed this life, Sep. 14th, 1858, at her father's house in White Plains, Calhoun county, Ala. She was born May 29, 1849. She seemed to be sensible of death the evening before and bid her friends farewell; and died in Jesus and is blessed,

Sweet Mary now is gone to Christ,
Whilst here we weep below,
But there's a calm for those who weep,
A rest for pilgrims found.
And whilst her happy spirit,
With saints in glory sing.
Around the family altar still
The Savior's praise we'll sing.
But soon we'll lay these bodies down
And meet her in the skies,
No more to weep, no more to part,
But live with God in peace.

D. A. MURDOCK.

APPENDED.—Often have we been pained with the thought of loosing our nearest and dearest friends, but none so dear as our little Mary; to behold her marble brow, cold in death, though clad in victory! She was always found in the discharge of a christian child's duty; the family altar seemed to be her delight. How often have we heard her say it was sinful to say bad words, and reprove her playmates for the same. When she within herself discovered that death was her only relief, she extende her feeble hand to her mother, saying "farewell to you all! She was heard several times to ask her father to pray, but neither skill nor prayers could save little Mary; her Savior had smiled and bid her come, to unite with saints and angels above: yes to wear that incorruptible crown that will only grow brighter and brighter in the ages of vast and boundless eternity.

To her parents and relations we would say weep not, but rather be comforted with the soul-reviving thought, that your dear little Mary triumphed over death, died in her Savior's arms and is to-day in her Father's kingdom, singing songs of joy and triumph to the Immaculate Son of God, where they may strike hands with her when they come to cross the cold stream of "Jordan." What a delightful thought, how cheering to those who serve their God in this world of trial and trouble, to know that they shall meet and greet their children in their Father's vast dominions in eternal peace, on the banks of sweet deliverance, to bask in the sun-shine of a never-ending eternity, far beyond this vale of mortal fears. Well may we say, little Mary is at rest. Her Father has called her home to mansions in the skies! No more shall trouble and sickness pain her—no, no, it can never enter her bright abode. May our end and reward be as little Mary's—in Heaven divinely blessed. J. F. H. & J. R. J.

PIMPLES AND BLOTCHES.

Are the result of impure blood. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men & women we see with their faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practised by persons desirous of health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions should never dry them up by external application, for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during its whole life time There is no mother that likes to see her children afflicted with feeble health.

MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS are prepared expressly for the cure of eruption of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches, Sores, &c. They cleans the blood of all impurities; producing a beautiful, clear and healty skin, so much admired by all people of taste and refinement.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are sold by all dealers in Medicine.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER, as an internal remedy has no equal. In cases of cholic, summer complaint, dyspepsia, dysintery and asthma, it will cure in one night by taking it internally and bathing with it freely. It is the Liniment in America. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Vs.
Garland Gilchrist.

At Rules before the Register in Chancery, for the 28th District, N. D. of the State of Alabama, at Ashville, this 2nd Monday and 13th day of Sept. 1858.

THIS day came the Complainant by her Solicitor, and moved the Court to-wit: the Register and Master for an order of publication against the Defendant, on the ground that said Defendant was a non-resident of the State of Alabama; and it appearing to the satisfaction of the Register aforesaid, from the affidavit of Complainant, now on file in this cause, that the said Garland Gilchrist resides beyond the limits of the State of Alabama, and resides somewhere in the State of Arkansas, and is of lawful age.—It is therefore ordered by the Register of this Court, that publication be made in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper published in the Town of Jacksonville, Calhoun county, Alabama, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring the said Defendant to appear before the Register and Master of this Court within sixty days from the date of this order, and plead, answer or demur to said Bill of Complaint, filed against him, or the same will be taken pro confesso, and cause set for hearing accordingly. Ordered that a copy of this order be posted up on the Court House of St. Clair County, within forty days from its date.

WHATLEY & ELLIS.

Sept. 16, 1858—tf.

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, of the NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years course of steady devotion to the cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological researches—aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through those philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren & the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas.

TERMS.—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payments as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance $6 at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms will, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St. N Y.

P. S Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor may be seen and inspected.

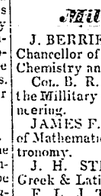
SAVAGE & BURR,

CHEMISTS AND DRUGGISTS,

SELMA, ALABAMA.

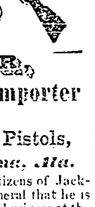


ARE prepared to execute orders for DRUGS and MEDICINES, and all articles pertaining to the Drug Business with their customary despatch.

The same attention will be given as heretofore to have every article of as good quality as represented and in no instance will anything be put up that is of a doubtful character.

SURGICAL INSTRUMENTS furniture and fixtures, and all articles required for the profession and trade will be furnished—and ORDERS BY MAIL will have the same attention as if left in person.

Country Merchants and Physicians who would like to see the difference between our goods and those generally sold, are invited to call and examine, or to send their orders and make the comparison at home.



Our Bottled Goods, Essences, &c., are prepared with unusual care, so that there is no loss by leakage or breakage.

Pure Drugs and Good Medicines can be obtained at the PHYSICIANS DRUG STORE at as low prices as many purchasers are paying for those that are inferior, adulterated, carelessly put up.

It is our intention to maintain the reputation we have established in selling none but PURE Drugs and Medicine, and we, therefore, invite you to examine our stock before buying elsewhere, believing that we can show you inducements seldom offered in this city.

EXECUTOR'S
SALE OF LAND.

UNDER and by virtue of the authority vested in the undersigned, by the last will and testament of George C. P. Hughes, deceased, we will, as Executors of said will, proceed to sell, upon the premises, On the First Day of October, 1858, the following lands belonging to the Estate of said G. C. P. Hughes, lying on Cold Water, in Calhoun County, Alabama, and about five miles west of Oxford, viz:

West half of section 33, except the south east fourth of south west fourth, and ten acres off of the south part of north east fourth of south west fourth; and about four acres embracing the mill yard of Miller & Bagley, heretofore set apart—and east half of south east fourth of section 32, except about 8 acres embracing the Baptist Cold Water Camp-ground and Church.

Also, south west fourth of south west fourth of section 28, all lying in township 16, range 7 east. Said tract is the land occupied by G. C. P Hughes in his life time.—The tract has comfortable dwellings and out houses, a fine apple and peach orchard—some 125 acres cleared and in cultivation—a good spring, and well of never-failing water. The place is an excellent one—convenient to fine Mills—situated in the midst of an excellent neighborhood, and is one and a half miles from the Alabama and Tenn. R. Rail Road route.

The undersigned, or Harley J. Hughes will take pleasure in showing the place to all who may wish to purchase. Terms made known on day of sale. Part cash will be required, and long time given on the remainder.

STATE OF ALABAMA,
CALHOUN COUNTY.

THIS day came Pinckney J. Pettit and Hilliard C. Starkie, Administrators of the Estate of Daniel Starkie, deceased; and filed their written petition, representing that they are the Administrators of said estate—that their intestate died seized and possessed in fee of the following Lands, lying and being in Calhoun County, Alabama, known and distinguished as fractions A. and B. Fl. section thirty three, Fl. Township 12, and Range six (6) east in the Coosa Land District, and known as the Gilbert place, containing about THREE HUNDRED AND TWENTY NINE ACRES—that their intestate left a widow (viz.) Cassandria Starkie, who is requested to be living upon said lands and at the late residence of intestate, in Calhoun county, Alabama, that their said intestate also left the following named heirs to-wit: Hilliard C. Starkie one of your petitioners, and Samuel A. Starkie both of whom are over 21 years of age and reside in Calhoun County, Alabama—Vandy V. D. Starkie over 21 years of age, who resides in the State of Arkansas,——County, Oakland Grove—Also Martha A. E. Pettit, under 21 years of age and the wife of P. J. Pettit, who is one of your petitioners and resides in Calhoun County, Alabama—Mary A. Frazier, is under 21 years of age and the wife of Frank Frazier, who is over 21 years of age, both of whom reside in Jefferson County Alabama—also Wm. G. W. Starkie, Sarah A. J. C. Starkie, Francis A. Starkie, Josephine A. Starkie, and Daniel H. Starkie, all of whom are minors, and reside with their mother, Mrs. Cassandria Starkie, in said County of Calhoun. The premises considered, your petitioners ask that Dower in the lands described as aforesaid, be granted to the aforesaid Cassandria Starkie, widow as aforesaid, of their intestate. Thereupon it is ordered by the Court, that L. W. Cannon be and he is hereby appointed Guardian ad li tem for the minors as aforesaid, it is further ordered that Monday the 27th day of September next, be set for the hearing of this application and that notice be issued to the heirs who are over 21 years of age, and reside in this State—and also to L. W. Cannon as Guardian ad li tem of the minors—and further that notice of this application be given in the Jacksonville "Republican" (a newspaper printed and published in said County of Calhoun) for thirty days as a notice to all persons concerned, who reside without the limits of this State, to be and appear at a Special Term of said Court to be holden at the Court House in Calhoun County Alabama, on said 27th day of September 1858, and defend against said petition if they think proper.

WITNESS, A. Woods, Judge of said Court, at office in Jacksonville, Alabama on this 23d day of August A. D. 1858.

THE LIVER
INVIGORATOR!
PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD.

COMPOUNDED entirely from GUMS, IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE and Liver Medicines now before the public that acts as a Cathartic—it is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver as expectorants do on the lungs, loosening the morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It also tones the system at the same time that purged it, and when taken daily in moderate doses will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The Liver is one of the principal regulators of the human body, and when it does well the powerfully developed. The stomach is dependent on the Liver for the proper performance of its functions; when at fault, the bowels are at fault, and the whole system suffers in consequence of one; having ceased to do its duty. For the disease of the Liver, the proprietors has made it his study for more than twenty years, and in the remedy wherewith he now denominated to the public, he feels confident he has not only found, any person's Complaint, in any of the Liver, will be found, in a bottle, and conviction is certain.

These Gums collected from the forest, in their place a healthy action of the stomach, digestion is radical, Bilious attacks will be prevented, and the Liver Invigorator is the best purgative and Liver Medicine now before the public.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach & prevent the food from rising & souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures Costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

☞One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

One bottle taken for female obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure.

Only one dose immediately relieves Cholic, while one dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera

☞Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

☞One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst forms, while Summer and Bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cures attacks caused by Worms in Children; there is no surer, safer, or speedier remedy in the world, as it never fails.

☞A few bottles cures Dropsy, by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventative for Fever & Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious TYPE. It operates with certainty, & thousands are wiling to testify to its wonderful virtues.

ALL WHO USE IT ARE GIVING THEIR UNANIMOUS TESTIMONY IN ITS FAVOR.

MIX WATER IN THE MOUTH WITH THE INVIGORATOR, AND SWALLOW BOTH TOGETHER.

The Liver Invigorator

IS A SCIENTIFIC MEDICAL DISCOVERY, and is daily working cures almost too great to believe. It cures as if by magic, even the first dose giving benefit, and seldom more than one bottle is required to cure any kind of Liver Complaint, from the worst Jaundice or Dyspepsia to a common Headache, all of which are the result of a Diseased Liver.

as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer & the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable, while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

R. R. R.
ALARMING SIGNS OF A SICKLY SUMMER.

The Summer and Fall of 1853 will be marked in the records of time as the most sickly and unhealthy of seasons that have visited the northern portion of this Continent for many years. Malarious diseases, in their most malignant and violent forms, will prevail as epidemics in sections of our country that have been deluged by the late overflowing of rivers, creeks and bayous, and drenched by the recent heavy rains.

YELLOW FEVER, TYPHOID FEVER, BILIOUS FEVER, FEVER AND AGUE, CONGESTIVE FEVER, INTERMITTENT AND REMITTENT FEVERS, CHOLERA, FLUX, DYSENTERIES, SUDDEN ATTACKS OF VOMITING will rage with violence in the vicinities of low, marshy lands and where the deluge of the waters and drenchings of the rains have been sufficient to produce miasma, from decomposition of Veg table or other decomposed matter. In our Southern and Western States we may therefore expect the prevalence as epidemic, Malarious diseases in one or the other of the above names, forms and in order that the Public may provide themselves with the proper means to protect their systems against sudden attacks of diseases of any kind, we notify the people of the approach of these maladies. In Radway's Ready Relief you have the preventive. With this Remedy, however violent and malignant, infectious and deadly may be the character of the disease, it cannot harm you. A few spoonfuls of this life protecting Remedy, drank in a little water three or four times per day, will so fortify the stomach against the infectious gasses of these fevers, that you are as safe from danger as though you were breathing the most wholesome and invigorating atmosphere under the sun. Radway's Ready Relief has been proved, in the Yellow Fever of 1853, to be the best disinfectant in use. If any of our readers are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with any Fever, Cholera, Flux or Dysentery—either Yellow, Congestive, Intermittent or Remittent—Radway's Ready Relief, used with Radway's Regulators, will in a few hours arrest the violence and danger of the disease, and soon cure you.

COMMON DISEASES.

Diseases, such as Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Head Ache, Indigestion, Bads of the Head, Biliousness, Cholics, Tooth Aches, Croup, Worms, or Coughs, Inflammation of the Bowels and Dropsy, Serious Derangements of Chills and Fevers, Sickness at the Stomach, Contraction of the Brain, Soul Stroke, Liver Difficulties and other painful, debilitating and enfeebling maladies, will run riot throughout the length and breadth of the land, attacking in some instances without forms the acute, and youthful. But against these ills, which inflict so much pain upon their victims, Radway's Ready Relief will in a few moments remove the most severe and torturing pains; and, if used in connection with Radway's Regulators, speedily effect a cure.

CHRONIC DISEASES.

Those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with Chronic diseases, Breakings Out, Running Sores, Humors, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Prickly Heat, Sore Head, Sore Eyes, Bad Legs, Sores in the Mouth, Cankers, Boils, Blotches, Erysipelas, Bad Complexion, Scrofula Purels, will suffer interminable agonies from these diseases, the sickly cycle, unless the Blood is cleansed from its impurities, and the system recovated of its impurities, by Radway's Renovating Resolvent. This Remedy is a quick cure for the above-named diseases; and if it the only known Remedy that will completely eradicate from the system diseases inherited by constitutional transmission. Persons afflicted with Scrofula, Fits, Syphilis, or any Chronic disease, will be effectually cured, if Radway's Renovating Resolvent is used.

PREPARE TO RESIST THE PESTILENCE.

A great number of those who die from pestilential diseases are made victims of fear. Fright, or whom they fear, overpowers and attacks and destroys their energies. It is therefore of the greatest importance to those who desire to give timorous or cowardly men, when exposed to Cholera, Yellow Fever, Sea Sickness, Consumptions, or Bowel Fever, to have Radway's Ready Relief and Regulators ready to use at any moment. These Remedies taken when you feel sick or ill, or pain—either slight or violent—will instantly check and stop the progress of the disease, and relieve you from fright and harm. Let every householder, Planter, Farmer, Sea Captain and traveller, be provided with a supply of Radway's Ready Relief, Resolvents and Regulators in their possession, as a single dose of these Remedies is often sufficient to prevent death and fatal disorder, provided but with these remedies at hand you may feel secure.

There are no medicines known to Physicians or the public, as a general rule, can cure upon the same principles or intentions and medicines diseases. Radway's Ready Relief, Resolvents and Regulators, as curatives and preventives against attacks of infectious and malignant Fevers are fixed facts. R. R. R. Remedies are sold by Druggists and Merchants everywhere.

TESTIMONIALS FROM PROFESSORS AND OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The Horace Water's Pianos are known among the very best. We are confined to speak of these instruments with the same degree of confidence from personal knowledge of their excellent tone and durable quality."—[N. Y. Evangelist.

Having inspected a large number of the Horace Waters' Pianos, we can speak of their merits, from personal knowledge, as being of the very best quality."—Curis, Intelligencer.

Nothing at the State Fair displayed greater excellence in any department than the Piano Forte manufactured by Horace Waters if it has city.—Churchman.

"The finest among the many pianos at the Crystal Palace are those placed there by Horace Waters, whose instruments are always popular.

"The Waters Pianos are built of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material. From all we can learn of this establishment—and to be the largest in the United States—we have no doubt that buyers can do as well, perhaps better, at this than at any other in the Union."—Chris. Adv. Mon. Tran.

"Mr. Waters has been long established and is favorably known. We speak from experience when we assure our readers that his prices are below those usually charged for articles in his line."—Jackson. N. S.

"The tone is clear pure powerful, and very melodious, the bass is deep, rolling and full, while the middle part is rich, and remarkable for preserving the power of singing, and making the melody each tone, in a degree but rarely achieved."—Albany C. Whig.

"Large power of tone, depth of bass, and brilliancy of treble, combined with the accuracy of touch, every one requisite in any make I am acquainted with, and I cordially recommend those in want of a piano to purchase."—F. C. Tribune.

"Our friends will find at Waters' store the very best assortment of music and of pianos to be found in the United States, and urge our southern and western friends to give him a call whenever they go to New York."—Gotham's Magazine.

"We could see them worthy of special attention from the reserved and extraordinarily modest tone which Mr. Waters succeeded in obtaining."—New York Musical World and Times.

"There is one which, for beauty of finish and richness and brilliancy of tone, equals, if it does not exceed, anything of the kind we have ever seen. It is from the establishment of Horace Waters. Being constructed of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material, and upon improved principles, it is capable of resisting the action of the climate, and of standing a long time in tune."—Sun.

"Waters pianos and melodeons challenge comparison with the finest made anywhere in the country."—Home Journal.

C. L. Sholes editor of the Kenosha "Tribune and Telegraph" says. "The piano was received in good order, and is pronounced an excellent instrument by good judges, the tone of it is particularly commended, as is indeed the elaborate workmanship and finished comparison in the case."

The "New-York Express" says: "The Horace Waters' pianos are pronounced by disinterested as a decided advance or ideas in all the excellences of this instrument, and it is fast superseding those of other manufacturers."

Says the "Knoxville (Tenn.) Standard:" "Mr. Waters has long enjoyed in the first rank and has gained a reputation unsurpassed for excellence of his instruments in the country."

"The Sunny South" reaches us with the following: "This gentleman is one of the most extensive music dealers in the Union. His pianos and melodeons have obtained a world celebrity for their excellent tone and durable qualities."

Says "The Valley City Advocate" "We have taken a look at a piano which has just received from the celebrated establishment of Horace Waters and must say that for tone and beauty of finish, it surpasses any we ever saw for the price."

"Horace Waters' Piano Fortes are of full rich and even tone and powerful.—New York Musical World.

JOB WORK
NEATLY EXECUTED AT THIS OFFICE

DR. MORSE'S
INDIAN ROOT PILLS.

DR. MORSE, the inventor of Morse's Indian Root Pills, has spent the greater part of his life in travelling, having visited Europe, Asia, Africa as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depended upon this vital flood.

When the various passages become clogged and do not act in perfect harmony with the still-rent functions of the body, the blood loses its action becomes thick, corrupted and diseased; thus causing all pains sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted our health we are deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become choked and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out. How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, manufactured from plants and roots which grow around the mountainous cliffs in Nature's garden, for the health and recovery of diseased man. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Sudorific, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in throwing out the finer passage parts of the corruption within. The second is a plant which is an Expectorant, that opens and unclog, the passage to the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner performs its duty by throwing off phlegm, and other humors from the lungs by copious spitting. The third is a Diuretic, which gives ease and double strength to the kidneys, thus encouraged, they draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out beautifully by the urinary, or water passage, and which could having been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood, the coarser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the outlets are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse Indian Root Pills not only cure the stomach, become united with the blood, for they find way to every part, and completely root out and cleanse the system from all impurity and the life of the body, which is the blood becomes perfectly healthy, consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear.

The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the afflicted parts, and which will open the natural passages for the disease to be cast out hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; thus undergoing disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's Pills have added to themselves victory, upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands who have been racked or tormented with sickness pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought as it were, within a silent step of the silent grave, now stand ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morses Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only do they give immediate ease and strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease, which is the blood. Therefore it will be shown, especially by those who use those Pills, that they will so cleanse and purify, that disease—that deadly enemy—will take its flight, and the flush of youth and health will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will cherish and brighten your days.

CAUTION.—Beware of a counterfeit signed A. B. Moore. All genuine have the name of A. J. White & Co., on each box. Also the signature of A. J. White & Co. All others are spurious.

The Shrader Press.

THIS wonderful Press, which has recently been patented and capable of Pressing or compressing COTTON, Hay, Fodder, or any other articles required to be put up in small compass is now offered for sale to planters and others wanting either Individual, County or State Rights.—This Press is propelled by double racks and pinions, requiring but two revolutions to pack or compress bales of cotton weighing from 500 to 1000 pounds—the power given to the lever by two negro fellows. As for speed & power, it surpasses any other Press now in the world. The advantages of this Press are numerous. It is simple in construction, easily put up, and not liable to get out of repairs, as many of the other presses of the day are. The iron castings required will not cost more than $40 or $50. Any common carpenter can get out the timbers for and do all the wood work—all not costing the planter more than $100.

☞Any person wishing to purchase rights to the above described valuable Cotton Press, will please call on the undersigned, at Oxford, who have purchased the patent from M. Shrader for Calhoun County.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

BOSTON, MASS. 20th Dec. 1855.
DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. To convince you in my practice and my family for the last six years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of those complaints. EBEN. NEWHALL, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of Utica, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you favored it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose now put out. With a bad cold I should counsel any one to take Cherry Pectoral in preference to a dollar than to go without it, or any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 7, 1856.
HONORED SIR: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of whooping cough, croup, and the worst diseases of children.

Your fellowship in the south appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.

MIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LANE, Esq., Monument, Ia., writes, 2d Jan., 1859 "I had a bilious fever, which confined me to doors six weeks. Took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved my distressing cough, and three bottles cured me. I am satisfied that even half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we use, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, Pa., Feb. 4, 1856.
SIR: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man, who had raised nothing for a month but the purest blood, from the effects of a severe cold. She was steadily failing, until by the timely use of this remedy, she became free from pain, resumed a twist of sour medicine. We think his children are to do your skill; for she has recovered from a cough that was reducing her to the grave, and is now as well as ever. Her physician has given her up, but in fact is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours with gratitude and respect,
ORLANDO SHELBY, of SHELBYVILLE.

Consumption, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical skill in the country, and has cured many apparently hopeless cases. Its high merits of it's virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE science of Chemistry and Medicine have long labored to produce this the best, most perfect, and effective purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win an unbounded confidence upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body and as the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow disease, stimulate sluggish, or disordered organs into healthy action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but those formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children being entirely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to command confidence and respect. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while other have sent me the assurance of their conviction that in preparations of unequalled efficiency to the relief of all who are afflicted with suffering beneficence.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis to the people of his district the following directions for the cure of the various complaints for which these Pills are recommended. Also, to distribute Prescriptions of the most eminent Physicians in this country, which they have found by experience in their practice to be the best modes of using these Pills to cure the various complaints which they "Shall all then be Forgotten?"

I.

Shall all then be forgotten,
As if we never knew
Of the whispering dusk, the starlight,
The dim valley, night and dew?
Of the doubt that grew to madness,
Of the bliss akin to fright;
And the dreaming, so like madness,
Love's convulsion and delight!

II.

Can it be that hearts so kindred,
Should be sunder'd now and lone,
That the keen, fond sense of rapture
Of those moments, should be gone?
Shall we part, yet feel no anguish
Meet, yet know no more the thrill
That hath made our mutual bosoms
At once passionate and chill!

III.

Ah! what of lifes' illusions,
When even Love a traitor grows;
And the flame that burn'd like Moon,
Shall be changed to Arctic snows?
When thine eye, that ever kin-lled
When it rose to meet mine own,
Can bear, unmoved, the glances,
That still seek for thee alone!

IV.

Go! what to me thy fortunes?
It was faith in thee I thought!
Go! what to me thy beauty,
If it mocks each living thought!
'Twas a winged soul I worshipped:
Not a vain caprice, whose breath,
In its cold and cruel changes,
Could make Love a thing of death!

The following is a song of Addison's found amongst some old music.

"Echo, tell me while I wander
O'er this fairy plain to prove him,
If my shepherd still grows fonder,
Ought I in return to love him?"
Echo. Love him, love him.

"If he loves, as is the fashion,
Should I churlishly forsake him?
Or, in pity to his passion,
Fondly to my bosom take him?"
Echo. Take him, take him.

"Thy advice, then, I'll adhere to,
Since in Cupid's claims I've led him;
And with Henry shall not fear to Marry, if you answer 'wed him.'"
Echo. Wed him, wed him.

Better than them all.

A moderate share of wealth is good
To cheer us on our way,
For it has oftentimes the power
To make December May;
And so is beauty, so is health,
Or genius at our call;
But a happy, hopeful, loving heart,
Is better than them all.

Miscellaneous.

A Romantic and Pathetic Story of Real Life.

The Cleveland Herald relates the following affecting narrative, which is represented to be no less true than strange:

We yesterday learned a denouement of a painful story, equal to the most thrilling romance in interest, but with the circumstances and actors of which we were personally well acquainted.

Some twelve years ago two men, named Clyma & Paull, lived in a small village not far from the sea coast, in the extreme west of England. Both were miners and workers in the same mine near the village. Both paid their addresses to the same maiden, though not with equal success. Clyma prospered so well in his suit that a day was appointed for the nuptials, and in due course the banns of marriage were asked in the village church on the first of the three Sundays prescribed by the English canon law.

Before the second Sunday came round the rivals met at a wrestling match in the village, and it chanced that the turn came for them to wrestle together. Paull was excited, and endeavored to give his successful rival in love a wick of fall, but his eagerness worked his defeat. He was thrown to the ground amid the shouts of the villagers. On springing to his feet, he swore he would be revenged, and that Clyma should never marry his intended bride. From that day he took to drinking deeply, & hurled imprecations on his rival.

The day before that fixed for the marriage, Paull told all his acquaintances that he would be at the wedding, and would find means to prevent its taking place. Knowing his determined character, Clyma appeared alarmed at the threat, and got some friends to intercede with Paull, but in vain.

Late that night, Clyma left the house of his intended Bride for his own cottage. The way lay across a patch of barren moor, where there were several open mine shafts, which had been deserted, and the bottoms of whose black depths were now covered with several fathoms of water. About the same hour, Paull was seen crossing to the same patch of moor from another direction. A miner, who passed a little later toward the mine where he worked—it being night turn for night work—averred, the next day, that he heard a noise, as of a dispute and scuffle, but it was too dark to distinguish any one.

The marriage was to take place at 11 o'clock in the morning at the village church. The scene of great excitement. The hat of and neckerchief of Paull—the latter torn and bloody—had been found near the deepest of the abandoned pitshafts, and of Paull himself nothing could be found, nor had he been seen since he went towards the moor on the proceeding night. The ground where the article had been found bore traces of a scuffle having occurred there. To those ominous facts Clyma could only reply that he had met Paull at the place mentioned during the night; that high words were followed by a scuffle; and that he had beaten Paull, who had retired cursing him.

This account was not considered satisfactory, and Clyma was taken into custody to await further developments.—Several days passed away; an examination was made of the pit and the surrounding locality; but no trace could be found of the body. It was argued, however, that if a stone was attached to the body before it was thrown into the pit, so as to sink it, there would be probability of its ever being found. After several examinations before a magistrate, the accused was released from custody, but only to be shunned as a murderer by the whole community.

In the meantime the intended bride became sick through excitement; a violent fever was succeeded by a wasting illness, and after lingering some months, she died of a broken heart. These accumulated ills were too much for the unhappy object of general suspicion and in less than two months after what should have been his wedding day, he became the inmate of an insane asylum, where he still remains a hopeless lunatic.

Among the relatives of Clyma was a sister, married to a farmer who, two or three years after the unhappy occurrence related above, removed to this country and settled down on a farm in Northern Illinois.

About ten days since, this sister, while about taking the cars in Chicago for home, suddenly encountered the supposed murdered man. Her excitement was intense. Drawing him on one side, she made herself known to Paull, and was immediately recognized by him.

The explanation given by him of his disappearance was that he had met Clyma on the eventful night with the purpose of beating and disfiguring him so that he could not be married on the succeeding day, but that his rival was more than a match for him. Burning with rage at his discomfiture, he had rushed off without knowing or caring what became of himself, and on reaching the beach, had taken an old leaky boat and pulled directly out to sea.—Next morning, when the boat was nearly sinking, he was picked up by an outward-bound ship, which took him to New Orleans. Since then he had resided several years in California and in the United States, had become moderately rich, and was now on his way to his native home, with which he had maintained no communication since his abrupt departure. On learning the sad events which has occurred in the meantime, he immediately accompanied the sister to her home in Illinois, and, after the necessary arrangements were made he started with her for England, in order to repair, as far as possible, the mischief which had been done.

They passed through Cleveland last evening on their way east, and happening accidentally to meet them at the depot, we learned the sequel, to the sad story, with the earlier portion of which we were already acquainted.

They go on a joyful, yet mournful errand. The good name of the unhappy condemned can be reclaimed, but none can restore his shattered reason, or rescue the broken-hearted dead from her early grave.

THE CONCLUSION OF A STRANGE STORY.—Some time since the Cleveland Herald published a story under the head of "Truth Stranger than Fiction," of two young men in the West of England, named Clyma and Paull, the latter of whom having disappeared was supposed to have been murdered by the former, a rival lover, but was met in Chicago, some days previous to the publication of the narrative, by Mrs. Bousstow, a sister of the suspected murderer. It will be remembered that the sister and Paull—the supposed murdered man—were on their way to England to see what could be done for Clyma, who had for eleven years been insane from the suspicion excited against him and the death, by grief, of his betrothed.

It appears that when they reached England they found Clyma still in the Insane Asylum, where he had been for some time suffering from a dangerous illness. Just before death his reason returned, & he recognized Paull, whom he had been suspected of murdering, and held brief conversations with him and his sister respecting the sad drama, in which they had borne parts. Finally, after two or three times repeating the name of his long dead betrothed, he passed away from the scene of his previous afflictions. The Gazette, an English paper, in speaking of the event, says:

"The remains of the unfortunate victim to mistaken public opinion now lie in the same grave with those of the young woman who had preceeded him to a more peaceful land. Mr. T. H. Ironch, of this place, has orders to erect a neat marble tomb over the grave.—After the names, ages and dates of the couple who sleep beneath, is to be the inscription;

"The weary are at rest."

Thomas Clyma was thirty-four years old when he died. His betrothed, Eliza Vivian, who was about two years his junior, died at the age of twenty-one.

A SAD PICTURE.—An old man, by the name of Butler or Baker, accused of negro stealing, in South Carolina, passed through this city on Monday morning last in charge of an officer, who arrested him in Alabama. He was accompanied by the negro in irons, and his son, a young man of very genteel appearance. The case is said to be a plain one, and by the laws of South Carolina the penalty is death for negro stealing.—Augusta Dispatch.

A Sleep.

An hour before, she spoke of things
That memory to the dying brings,
And kissed me all the while;
Then, after some sweet parting words
She seem'd among her flowers & birds
Until she fell asleep.

'Twas summer then 'tis autumn now,
The crimson leaves fall off the bow,
And strew the gravel sweep.
I wandered down the garden walk,
And muse on all the happy talk
We had beneath the limes;
And, resting on the garden-set,
Her old Newfoundland at my feet,
I think of other times.

Of golden eves, when she and I
Sat watching here the flushing sky,
The sunset and the sea;
Or heard the children in the lanes,
Following home the harvest wains,
And shouting in their glee.

But when the daylight dies away,
And ships grow dusky in the bay,
The recollections cease;
And in the stillness of the night,
Bright thoughts that end in dreams as bright,
Communicate their peace.

I wake and see the morning star,
And hear the breakers on the bar,
The voices on the shore;
And then, with tears, I long to be
Across a dim, unsounded sea,
With her for evermore.

Ferdinand De Soto.

"St. Iago and Spain!" Such was the battlecry of the warriors of one of the grandest and proudest empires under the sun—such was the cry that rung out from the valleys, and plains, and mountains of the New World in the days of Cortez, Pizarro and De Soto. The Saracens went into the field shouting the "tecbir," the wild war-cry which made their onset terrific. But there was no such magic in the tecbir as in "St. Iago and Spain!"

Buoyed up by an appeal to their patron, Saint, a chivalrous love of glory and conquest, and an unextinguishable devotion to country, the Spanish cavalier alike with the meanest soldier, performed deeds of daring, almost unparalleled in the annals of history. The Heroic Age of Spain resembles more the rapid changes and the colored pictures of a brilliant romance than the history of war, discovery and conquest.

Columbus, in the West Indies, with the Haytian breezes upon the cheeks; Balboa, silent upon a peak of Darien, gazing rapturously upon the blue Pacific; Cortez, with eagle eyes, bent upon the city of Montezuma; Pizarro, placing the flag of Spain on the towers of Cuzco; De Soto, fighting his way from Tampa Bay to the banks of the torrent-like Mississippi; Ponce de Leon, seeking amid the wilds of Florida, the fabled Fountain of Youth—what chapters have we here of the Romance of History?

But chivalrous as were many of the deeds of the bold and adventurous Spaniards who planted the cross of Jesus and the flag of Spain upon the soil of America, their career was marked too often with cupidity and crime. Though adding to the mother country immense domains, though overrunning aboriginal nation after nation, by the superiority of their discipline and arms, though making an ineffaceable mark upon the historic page, it too often happened that a gnawing spirit of avarice controlled and consumed the men who stand out in this age as the great actors of the blood-dramas enacted in Peru, Mexico, and this side of the Sabine.

Ferdinand De Soto, though starting in life a chivalrous spirit in the vestibule of romance, was not exempt in later days from much of that cupidity which animated Francisco Pizarro—The book now before us from the pen of Lambert A. Wilmer, entitled "The Life Travels and Adventures of Ferdinand De Soto, discoverer of the Mississippi," is full of evidence of the consuming passion which made Shylock a man to be noted and spurned by the gentleman of Venice. Though the writer, while recounting the part which De Soto took in the subjugation of the American tribes, says:

"He was the noblest Spaniard of them all,"

he takes care not to present his hero as a model of human perfection. Mr. Lambert, on the contrary, only undertakes to "render him that justice and due appreciation which some writers, who have been too intent on the exaltation of more unworthy objects, have denied him." In doing this, he frequently, and with some justice, we think, takes issue with Bancroft, Irving and Prescott—sifting with no sparing hand the statements of the Spanish & Portuguese writers who lived cotemporaneously with De Soto.

It cannot be denied that this great leader and adventurer possessed qualities which ennobled him when compared with those of Cortez and Pizarro.—And we frequently feel, though De Soto went to Panama and Peru to remedy a very great inconvenience, not to say a great crime in the estimation of many men, poverty—and was not at all times scrupulous in effecting his object—we say we frequently feel great admiration of the man when we find him confronting the conqueror of Peru face to face, and upbraiding him for the commission of enormous crimes.

But let us look more closely at this Ferdinand De Soto—let us see why it was that he came to America. You can almost guess the reason in one whose devotion to chivalry commenced in his boyhood. What else but Love—that fierce yet tender idolatry of woman which prompted the young knight of the olden time to shiver his lance and exile himself, that he might wear upon his shield, brightened by the glancing blows of a foeman, the rich and beautiful emblems of love and beauty?

Don Pedro de Avila, a grandee of Spain, had a daughter, young, blooming and beautiful. In the eyes of De Soto, who was but three years the senior of the fairest Ladye of the land," Donna Isabella seemed to have dropped, one fine morning, out of the golden gates of Paradise. A tender regard, which ripened into a tender passion, was the result of the association of the two.—Though the duenna—a hideous crone, as all duennas, whether young or old, appear in the eyes of lovers—kept strict watch, yet De Soto and Donna Isabella had stolen interviews, and, as usual, interchanged vows of eternal constancy. Great was the wrath of Don Pedro when he discovered this bit of love romance.

The young De Soto was poor, and had been taken under the grandee's roof on account of his precocious abilities. The father determined to put a stop to the further progress of the lovers, but Donna Isabella declared that, though many of the Royal Court had wooed her, one of the blood royal being included among her suitors, she would wed De Soto or go into a convent.

Don Pedro de Avila was not a man to be subdued by tears and entreaties. So, being appointed Governor of Panama, he determined to take his young protege to the Isthmus. If absence did not cure his passion, then the poisoned arrows of the Isthmian Indian should. To Panama De Soto went, and heroically defied danger. He hoped to acquire wealth, return to Spain, and espouse Donna Isabella, but though he acquired the reputation of a dashing, fearless, heroic young Alexander, wealth came not. What was worse than all, his letters to the fair one were intercepted, and once only during sixteen years did a tender missive reach her. And here, fair reader—all such are of interest to you—is the letter:

"MOST DEARLY BELOVED ISABELLA
For the first time within a space of five years, I write to you with some assurance that my letter will reach your hands. Many times have I written before, but how could I give expression to my thoughts when I had too much reason to fear that other eyes than yours might behold those fond utterances which your heavenly goodness and condescension alone could pardon. But what reason have I to hope that even your gracious condescension can still look with favorable regard on my unworthiness? My matured judgment teaches me that this hope of my youth, which I so long have dared to cherish, is not presumption merely, but madness. When I consider your many perfections, and compare them with my own little deserving, I feel that I ought to despair if I could pour out the treasures of a thousand kingdoms at your feet. How, then, can I lift my eyes to you when I have nothing to offer but the tribute which must still live when my last hope has departed? Oh, Isabella, the expectation which brought me to this land has not been fulfilled? I can gather no gold except by such means as my honor, my conscience, and yourself must condemn.

Though your nobleness may pity one on whom fortune has disdained to smile, I feel that your relations are justified in claiming for you an alliance with exalted rank and affluence, and I love you far too well to regard my own happiness more then your welfare. If, therefore, in your extreme youth, you have made a promise which you now regret, as far as it is in my power to absolve you from that engagement, you are released. On my side, the obligation is sacred and eternal. It is not likely that I shall ever return to my country; and while I am banished from your presence, all countries are alike to me. The person who brings you this, exposes himself to great danger in his desire to serve me; I entreat you to use such precautions as his safety may require. If your goodness should vouch safe any message to me, he will deliver it, and you may have perfect confidence in his fidelity. Pardon my boldness in supposing it possible that I still have a place in your remembrance; and, although you may now think of me only with indifference or dislike, do not censure me too severely for calling myself unchangeably and devotedly your,
"DE SOTO."

Sixteen years of constancy! Marvellous Donna Isabella! Marvellous De Soto!

From Panama De Soto went to Peru. There he fought with Pizarro—saw Cuzco redden the sky with tongues of leaping fire—upbraided the Spanish leader for many of his cruelties, prominent among which was the burning of the Inca, and returned to Spain with a half million of dollars, being his part of the plunder of the conquest of Peru, and married Donna Isabella.

He lived like a king—this wealthy De Soto—for three years But at the end of that time he found his princely fortune had decreased to such an extent that his coffers needed replenishing.—The Crown appointed him Governor of Cuba and Florida, and towards that beautiful island the prows of his vessels were turned—vessels laden with the chivalry of Spain & Portugal.

"St. Iago and Spain!" Again was this battle cry to ring out, but this time on the plains of Florida, whither De Soto was going in quest of fame and gold. But let us pause a moment to relate a little episode in the life-history of the gallant adventurer.

The ships destined for the "Land of Flowers with the Flower of Chivalry," touched at the Canary Islands. The Governor of these Islands was Count Gomera, who had a beautiful daughter of seventeen. Leonora was the name of the damsel. "Wishing," says Mr. Wilmer, "to place this young lady under the virtuous instructions of Donna Issabella, the Count proposed that she should become one of that lady's attendants." There was a private reason for doing so which is of no great consequence to the reader. To be brief, the proposal of the Count was accepted, & De Soto gave a solemn pledge that she should be treated in all respects as if she were his own daughter. "And I swear," added he, "that the man who injures her in word or deed shall be accounted my deadliest foe, and I will make him responsible with my life."—Let the writer of the book before us tell what happened:

"On the 24th of April, 1538, the fleet again set sail, and after a voyage distinguished by no remarkable event, De Soto and his company arrived at St. Iago de Cuba on the 28th of May. The Spanish inhabitants of Cuba welcomed their new Governor with every demonstration of joy. The citizens of Iago formed a grand procession, and came out to receive him with flying colors and martial music. They escorted De Soto and his company into the city, where suitable quarters had been prepared for their accommodation. For several days, nothing was thought of but feasting and rejoicing. As a suitable compliment to the Governor's chivalric celebrity, a grand tournament was projected by the citizens. De Soto presided at this entertainment; but as no one could compete with him in the exercises of knighthood, he considerately refrained from entering the lists. The prizes of victory in several contests with sword and lance were borne away by Nuno de Tobar, De Soto's Lieutenant General and most confidential friend. The cavalier had distinguished himself in Peru, where he had gained the esteem of his present commander, and for many years the intimacy of De Soto and Tobar had been of the most confiding and fraternal character.

"Donna Isabella, with Leonora and her other attendants, were among the spectators of the tournament. The fair daughter of Count Gomera was deeply interested in the display; but, among all the gay cavalries who took a part in the passage-of-arms, the victorious Nunede Tobar attracted her chief attention. This puissant knight was affected in a similar way by Leonora's beauty, and mutual admiration soon ripened into love. Means of communication were found; Leonora eluded the vigilance of her guardians, and Tobar forgot the obligations he owed to his friend. Forgetting that the young lady had been placed under De Soto's protection, he used all his arts to seduce her. In this he succeeded at last, but little did he suspect what risks and penalties would be incurred by his transgression."

Nuno de Tobar was brought before De Soto, who gave him the choice between a personal combat or the sword of the headsman. Knowing his inability to cope with the chief, and that expostulations were vain, he determined to repair the damage he had done by making Leonora his lawful wife. They were married by a priest attached to the expedition. "You have saved your life by this expedient," said De Soto, "but the place you have lost in my confidence and esteem can never be regained. You are no longer my Lieutenant; that office must be filled by one who has never given me any reason to doubt his honor and fidelity." And, so Nuno de Tobar was degraded. Remember this incident.

"St. Iago and Spain!" Ferdinand De Soto is at Tampa Bay, in Florida. The Cross of Jesus is erected amid the flashing of swords and helmets under the bright sun of the "Land of Flowers." Nuno de Tobar is there! Our author says:

"Nuno de Tobar, though deprived of his office, and coldly treated by the Governor, did not withdraw from the expedition. He went with his countrymen to Florida, smothering his resentment, or merely concealing it, perhaps, like another Iago, until chance should afford him an opportunity for reprisal!—Subsequent events make it probable that his mink had already conceived a project of revenge, and that he waited, with enforced patience,

'For hell and night
To bring the monstrous birth to the world's light.'"

The conquest of Florida now began in earnest. Fame was compelled to link hands with Mammon, while De Soto performed the unholy marriage ceremony. From Tamba Bay the cavalries of Spain wended their way into the interior. They alternately fought and coaxed the aborigines. Brilliant sorties & victories followed in rapid succession. But the ingots of gold which the opulent Peruvians furnished them were not to be had among the poorer, but no less daring and populous tribes of the North.

From the disastrous field of Mauvilla De Soto turned his eyes westward. It was a great spectacle, that of the march of the cavaliers of Spain through the wilderness, with

"Pennon and plume, & glittering shield."

Cortez burnt his ships, that all hope of escape from Mexico might be cut off. De Soto was now similarly situated. The keels which bore him to the coast of Florida had gone back to Cuba, and showers of arrows were in front as well as in the rear. Gloomy and despondent, he marched on until he reached the banks of the Mississippi. He was the first white man that looked down upon the deep and turbid waters of the great Nile of the West. And, though he penetrated beyond, returned at last to die on its green banks, and sleep beneath its swift-rolling waters.

The band of cavaliers that landed at Tampa Bay, with glittering armor, gleaming blades, & streaming banners, was now reduced to a few hundred.—Incessant, warfare, untold hardships & privations, had done their work. The men were dispirited, and the proud soul of the leader gave way to dejection. Disease came, ushering in Death. The final blow was averted for a time for the proud soul of De Soto still [illegible] up a body worn down by suffering and disappointment. But at length, the man who had dashed into the jaws of Death, the burning lands of Darien and Peru, who courted danger and [illegible] glancing of steel, whose [illegible] ace and whose arm, like that of Richard of the Lion Heart, struck terror into the souls of his enemies, succumbed to power greater than any upon this earth.

And now Nuno de Tobar makes his appearance upon the stage of action. Our author introduces him in the first act of the eventful drama. He had followed the great Captain from Havana to the Mississippi. The Portuguese writer, Herrera, avers that some of the Spaniards rejoiced at the death of De Soto, and jubilated over the appointment of Louis de Moscoso as his successor, because they thought the new leader would return to a land of Christians rather than continue the labor of discovering and subjugating savage countries, whereof they were weary, seeing that it was toil and danger without profit. Mr. Wilmer, rejecting the opinion that De Soto's death was caused by ordinary disease, brought about by exposure, privations and disappointment, concludes he was poisoned, and that Tobar, the disgraced lieutenant, who had, during the long, weary march, received special provocations from the Governor, was the poisoner. "Tobar," he says, "had a motive for revenge; and we know enough of his character to be convinced that he was capable of any crime which could be engendered between malice and cruelty." The hypothesis has one merit at least, that of originality.

But we must be brief. The author adopts the Spanish and Portuguese narration of the secret night burial of De Soto at Guachoya, the subsequent removal of the body, the placing of it in a rude coffin dug out of an oak & made heavy with sand, and the silent, solemn, final, midnight transfer of it to the middle of the Mississippi. To that "extraordinary sarcophagus" the remains of Ferdinand De Soto, the heroic warrior, the chivalrous knight, the discoverer of the grand Western Nile torrent, was committed. Fit resting place for the first Christian pioneer who bore the Cross to the edge of its waters!—The spot where the remarkable event, of which we have just spoken, occurred, our author thinks, was twenty miles below the juncture of the Arkansas and the Mississippi.

The life history before us is well written, and evinces much laborious investigation. We are not prepared to indorse all the author says. There is a dramatic air about it which will prevent its being received as historic authority. The author writes like a dramatist with a preconceived plot, which he develops in acts first, second, third, fourth fifth. We, however, think that he has hit the character of De Soto pretty well, though that character can scarcely be said to be inferred from those outward manifestations exhibited in the long drama given us in the book.

We quote:

"The character of Ferdinand De Soto can scarcely be misconceived by any one who has accompanied us through this narrative. Strength of will and stability of purpose were among his most remarkable peculiarities. His resolution & perseveance gained fresh vigor from opposition and disaster. He possessed all the qualities of a great military chieftain, and wanted nothing but opportunities to make himself as much an object of popular adoration, and as a great a scourge of the human race, as Alexander or Napoleon. All of De Soto's best qualities were indigenous to his moral constitution; his evil dispositions were exotic. He was virtuous by nature; for virtue is strength and he was one of the strongest of his species. One vicious inclination, the inordinate love of riches, had casually obtained access to his heart; and this passion gradually acquired strength, & finally became the all controling motive of his conduct. Whether he pursued wealth for its own sake, or as the means for the attainment of other objects, is uncertain; but the supposition is, that avarice, by long indulgence, had become the ruling desire of his heart. This sordid passion appears to have been far more influential with him than the love of conquest or the thirst of glory; for his triumph over many powerful tribes, and his discovery and subjugation of a large tract of country seem to have afforded him but little satisfaction. So long as an El Dorado was not found, he considered himself unfortunate and unsuccessful.

"De Soto was a strict disciplinarian, yet he was often lenient to minor offenses, while he punished grave ones with extreme severity. According to Herrera, he was affable in his manners and generous in his disposition. With respect to dauntless courage, personal prowess and skill in all the martial exercises of the day, he had no superior; & many of his military feats have scarcely any parallel in the romances of chivalry. In battle he is reported to have been irresistible. The prodigious strength of his arm, and the impetuosity of his courage, carried him through the ranks of the enemy like a vertiable 'thunderbolt of war.' But the prudence and sagacity of De Soto were no less admirable than his valor and efficiency in battle. He was the most politic and discreet of all the Spanish commanders in America, as well as the most humane and heroic. The personal appearance of De Soto was both commanding and prepossessing. His figure appeared to great advantage, either on foot or on horseback. He was tall, muscular and well proportioned. His eyes beamed with intelligence, and the general expression of his countenance was pleasant and intellectual. He was forty-two years old at the time of his death."

The expedition of De Soto was a grand failure. After his death, Moscoso, whom he had charged to push forward in the work of conquest, set about building brigantines to transport his men to the Gulf. His departure was marked by a furious onset from the Indians, who sent runners to every tribe along the river. Showers of arrows greeted the flying Spaniards, thinning their number and causing dismay and death. Finally the miserable remnant of the expedition reached Tampico and set sail for Cuba.

In Havana, Donna Isabella had long awaited the return of her lord. Like Lady Franklin she had sent ship after ship to the coast of the Continent to bring back the absent discoverer from the unknown land, but all in vain. At last tidings of the death of De Soto reached her, and the lady died in three days after. The blow destroyed her.

Such was the fate of the beautiful daughter of Don Pedro de Avila—such the fate of the dauntless Ferdinand De Soto, and his splendidly equipped expedition for the conquest of Florida.—Verily, Burke was right when he said, "what shadows we are, and what shadows we pursue!"

Ala. & Tenn. R. R. R. Bonds.

We are informed, that $338,000 of the bonds of the Ala. & Tenn. R. R. R. Co., have been issued by order of the board of Directors, and will be offered for sale to stockholders and capitalist. These bonds will have to be sold at home, for the reason that there is no market in the Northern or Eastern cities for any Rail Road securities, it matters not how well they are secured. The financial derangements and commercial failures that took place last fall, winter & spring have been fatally disasterous to all corporation securities in our Eastern & Northern cities. The failures of Northern and Western Rail Road companies, coupled with the stupendous frauds and mismanagement of Rail Roads generally in that section, have alike brought all corporation securities into disrepute.

Notwithstanding there has been little or no failures, or frauds in or with the Rail Road companies South—yet capitalist in the Eastern cities are unwilling at this time, and under existing circumstance to invest their capital in any corporation bonds. Hence it is, we are of the opinion our Rail Road bonds will have to seak a market at home or in England.

It is quite important that our Rail Road should at last be pushed forward to the town of Talladega at an early day. Whether it can be done or not depends upon the action of the citizens of Talladega.

It seems to us the good sense of the interprising men of Talladega (and by the way there are many of them in that county) will not allow the road to stop at Alpine.

Every stockholder is deeply interested, in having the road to go forward—he should then look into this—come forward, & give what aid he can. There are but few, who cannot take one or two of these bonds—we think three-fourths at least can in sixty days make arrangements to take more or less of these bonds. It seems to us the bonds are well secured—and the investment will be a good one. This being the case, we invoke the friends of this enterprise to come forward, and give immediate aid and assistance.

The road cannot progress without iron—the iron cannot be purchased without money; then we call on all to lend a helping hand, by purchasing some of the bonds of the company.

Selma, and its advantages.

We call the attention of the citizens of this and adjoining counties, who have heretofore traded to other markets, to the advantages that the city of Selma now offers to the planter and treder.

The time has arrived for our farmers to begin to send off the first of their crops; and it is confidently believed that Selma, as an inland market, has no superior, if an equal, in this or any other State. Selma has for the last two years afforded the best cotton market of any inland town in the scope of our knowledge. In fact she has more of the elements of a salt-water than an inland market. She has a first class steam-boat and river navigation, and two rail roads—one running north, penetrating one hundred miles into the interior, and one running west, connecting the flourishing, wealthy and enterprising town of Marion, the nursery & seat of learning, 28 miles distant; also, by the Ala. and Miss. R. R. R. the wealthy town of planters called Woodville, in the centre of the cane-brake opening up trade from the richest belt of land in this or any other country

This is not all, Selma has a large number of Dry Goods and Grocery Merchants, who keep on hand large stocks—equal to any inland market. These merchants are substantial, able, straight-forward, trust-worthy men, and are our neighbors. In patronizing and helping them, we indirectly help ourselves. By increasing their means & the value of their real & personal estate, they have the greater proportion of State taxes to bear. And we ought never to forget, that every pound of cotton and other produce we send over our Rail Road, and every pound of Goods and Groceries brought back in return, assists that noblest enterprise of our State to that extent.

When cotton is selling at all, the best prices can be had in Selma. Groceries can be had at Mobile prices, and often under that. Salt sold all last season at $1 25 cents per sack, and other groceries in proportion. Hence we say, Selma offers more advantages than any other market near our reach; and we therefore call on the citizens of this and adjoining counties, to visit Selma and open trade with her.

Rome, Ga., will also find it to her interest to purchase groceries in Mobile and Selma, haul them from the end of our Rail Road to Greensport, and from thence ship to Rome.

WOODWARD & WHITE.

These gentlemen are now receiving their stock of Fall & Winter Goods, selected with their usual care, taste and judgement, and perhaps larger in amount than ever before purchased in the Fall. Every reasonable inducement to trade will be offered to their old friends and customers and the public generally, who are cordially invited to call and examine for themselves.

The remainder of their stock will arrive in a few days, of which due notice will be given in our next.

Jacksonville and Dalton Rail Road.

COL. WHITE AND G. WADSWORTH, ESQ., the former See'y and the latter Chief Engineer of the Board of Directors of the above named Road, visited our place last week, making a stay of only a few hours. These gentlemen were on a tour of observation on the lines of surveys heretofore made, and collecting information of the cheapest, most direct and practicable route for a rail road between the two points. They have ascertained that a route can be surveyed and located, that will avoid both the expensive tunnels embraced in the survey heretofore made by Mr. LeHardy, and at the same time as short and equally direct.

Col. White who has been so devoted to the accomplishment of this enterprize for years, amidst all discouragements & procrastination, is still as enthusiastic and confident as ever; that is as to its practicability and importance. Mr. Wadsworth, who seems to be a practical, matter of fact man, and as we have good reason to believe is a very competent Engineer, exhibited to some of our citizens, one of the most beautiful, accurate and easily understood maps we have ever seen, embracing all the mountains, valleys, streams, &c., on the route, and also the lines of the various roads, in immediate or remote connection.

It is the intention of these gentlemen to return by a different route, and obtain all the additional information possible, and then lay all the facts and information before the Board of Directors, for their decision, either to go on with the work or abandon it entirely.—They will not survey and locate the road unless they determine to go on & build it as soon as possible. We shall hear the decision perhaps in two weeks, and will immediately make it known to our readers. Upon that decision will depend, not only the vast interests along the line, but the fact whether Dalton is to be a mere village or one of the first inland Cities of the South. The prosperity of our own place would also be greatly promoted by the accomplishment of this work, but not so much as Dalton; because it is evident if this rail road connection is not made with our place, some other will be, from that direction.

☞We invite especial attention to the advertisement of Joseph Hardie & Co., Grocery & Commission Merchants, Selma, Ala. These gentlemen have been long and favorably known to our community, as business men of the strictest integrity and most accommodating disposition. They possess great business facilities, and offer to their patrons, every inducement that could be asked or desired.

Persons shiping cotton to them, if they wish, will be paid off by Messrs. J. B. & G. H. Forney, by special arrangement, made to avoid the risk and delay of remittance.

The numerous friends & acquaintances of Mr. T. W. FRANCIS, will still find him in this house, ready at all times to transact their business and fill their orders with accuracy & dispatch.

Large Oats.—Mr. B. Thornton, of Cherokee County, we have been informed, found in his turnip patch, a volunteer cluster of oats, containing 138 branches from the same seed, 5 feet 11 inches high, head 32 inches long, and several stalks measuring one and a half inches round. The seed has been carefully preserved by Mr. Thornton, and it is thought will prove a valuable variety.

Broke Jail and Recaptured.

A letter from a friend in Ashville, Ala. dated 24th inst. says:

"In conclusion I will inform you that the prisoners confined in our jail broke out night before last, but were retaken and put back in jail this morning about light. The murderer Pass was in the crowd, both in the escape and retaking, so that all is safe again."

☞We publish the following letter from A. B. Culberson, Esq., Secretary and Treasurer of the Coosa and Chattooga R. R. Co., from which it will be seen that our friends in that direction are active, energetic and determined, in pushing their rail road enterprizes in this direction.

Lafayette, Ga. Sept. 20, 1858.

Editor Jacksonville Republican:

A contract has been entered into, for the graduation, masonry and bridging of the Coosa and Chattooga River Rail Road, from the Junction with the Cleveland and Chattanooga Rail Road to the Alabama State Line, and active operations will be commenced on the road at once.

John D. Gray & Co. are contractors for that part of the road within the State of Georgia, and other responsible parties for the Tennessee end of the road. Our road is now a fixed fact, and we hope soon to hear the "note of preparation" of the Ala. and Tenn. River Co. to meet us at the State Line.

Respectfully,

AUGUSTUS B. CULBERSON,
Sec'y & Treas.

Great falling off of the Cotton Crop.

A private letter to the Editor of this paper, from an intelligent friend of undoubted veracity, formerly a citizen of this county, dated Aberdeen, Miss., Sept. 20, 1858, speaks in the following gloomy terms of the prospects of the cotton crop in that section of country. We were also informed by a citizen of this place, that he received a letter the other day, from a brother living near the line of Arkansas and Louisiana, giving an equally discouraging account of the cotton crop in many parts of these two States.

"Our cotton crop is almost an entire failure this year. From 450 acres of as good prairie land as any in the county, we will not get more than 80 bales. The prospect in this county two months ago, was fair for 1200 to 2000 pounds per acre, a great deal of it now will not make 300. There are hundreds of acres in the prairie, that will not make ten bales to the hundred acres. The timbered lands are better—not damaged so much by the worm."

For the Republican.

Not Young's Night Thoughts, but mine only.

Mr. Grandy:

Now when all are asleep in the Town and Country, and I left to meditate alone, and lonely—I propose to write a few brief articles for your paper; with the sincere desire, and faint hope, that I may do some service to some body; to society, to my country: even I, feeble as I am, I intend, by your permission to cast these articles before the public as the "bread cast upon the waters," with a hope that it may be gathered by some persons, even if it should be many years hence! We are compelled to take the world as it is, not as it should be; and thus I write.

THE WORLD AS IT IS.

Not many years ago I wrote for the Republican an article on lying—some thought it very strong, and others that it was too weak for the disease, others that it was "just right" &c. &c. Now that you say truly, that "crime is on the increase." I propose to examine into this subject, and as I did believe, in my former articles, and still believe that there is a remedy for these evils. I desire to point first to the evils and then to the remedies in a series of weekly articles.

A.

The Africans.

The frigate Niagara, having on board the Africans captured in the Echo, sailed from Charleston on Monday last. The Evening News has the following in relation to the matter:

"The reshipment for Africa of the negroes brought here in the Echo removes one bone of contention in our midst. The federal Act of 1819 thus receives its consumation; and although the case of these Africans has been made the occasion of every legitimate effort to evade the law, and has stimulated unremitted exertion to make capital in favor of re-opening the slave trade, still we are assured that the mass of our people are content with the course that things have taken, and whatever sympathy they may have had for the negroes themselves, they have not affiliated to the designs entertained by those who have taken an active part in the proceedings and discussion. Very much ingenious sophistry has been uselessly, if not harmfully, expended. If as much spirit, and earnest labor, and zealous ingenuity had been expended in favor of the rights of the Southern whites, as of the supposed rights of these Africans and their inhuman traders, more good would have been effected, and a more manly tone prevail. We have no desire to see those traders hung as pirates, and hope they may escape such extreme penalty; but we must denounce and condemn that base, venality and inhuman treatment which have resulted in the death of near two hundred of the cargo. Over thirty have died here from disease contracted on their voyage."

THE WEATHER.

We are glad to learn that the weather is highly favorable to the crops, but should an accident happen in the shape of violent storms, blight, or some noxious insect, our hopes would be blasted. There is no insurance blighting accident likely to reach so firmly established an institution as the Lottery of S. Swan & Co., of Augusta, Georgia! If you want them 5ths, 8ths, or 32ds, and obtain a ticket, it may chance to pay you an enormous profit in the shape of a prize. That they are a favorite "crop" to cultivate is obvious, from the great popularity of their establishment.

Cleansing Cotton Seed.—An intelligent correspondent, (says the Washington Union,) residing at Antwerp, writes, under date of May 9th 1858, that a machine for cleansing cotton seed has lately been invented, and is now in operation in that city. From two to three tons of seed can be cleansed per day by a machine of four horse power, with the assistance of three persons. The cotton surrounding the seed is taken clean off, and can be sold to carpet manufacturers and paper-makers at from thirty to fifty francs the one hundred kilogrammes. After the oil is pressed out, the cakes remaining can be sold for the same price as other cakes of oleaginous seeds. The cost of the machine is said not to be expensive. This is an important invention, and promises to be of incalculable advantage to cotton-growers.

One of the gratifying features of the commercial world is the renewed and steady demand for cotton—a demand that increases in a much greater ratio than the increase of population. The European demand and prices are such as to furnish an ample guarantee of remuneration to our southern planters for a few years to come. With all the available sources from Egypt, Asia, Australia, and South America, the cotton of the United States is not enough to meet the growing demand in Europe.—New York Courier and Enquirer.

SUNDAY SERVICE ON RAILROADS.—We are in receipt of a pamphlet setting forth the proceedings of the memphis and Charleston Railroad, who held their meeting in Huntsville Alabama, on the 11th day of August, and among other things we are much pleased to notice this announcement:

"R. M. Patton offered the following resolution, which was adopted, viz:

"Resolved, That this convention would view with pleasure any move on the part of the railroad companies of the South to abolish the Sunday services on all railroads; and we hereby pledge ourselves to lend our hearty co-operation to any move in that direction which may be made by the railroads of the South generally."

AN INCIDENT.—A touching case was presented to the consideration and charity of one of the good Samaritans who now take care of the sick, relieve the destitute, and feed the starving. A boy was discovered in the morning lying in the grass of Claiborne street, evidently bright and intelligent, but sick. A man who has the feelings of kindness strongly developed, went to him, shook him by the shoulder, and asked him what he was doing there? "Waiting for God to come for me?" said he. "What do you mean?" said the gentleman, touched by the pathetic tone of the answer and the condition of the boy, in whose eye and flushed face, he saw the evidences of the fever. "God sent for mother and father, and little brother," said he, "and took them away to his home up in the sky, and mother told me when she was sick that God would take care of me. I have no home, nobody to give me any thing, and so I came out here and have been looking so long up in the sky for God to come and take care of me, as mother said he would. He will come, won't he? Mother never told me a lie." "Yes, my lad," said the man, overcome with emotion, he has sent me to take of you." You should have seen his eyes flash, and the smile of triumph break over his face as he said, "Mother never told me a lie, sir, but you've been so long on the way." What a lesson of trust, and how this incident shows the effect of never deceiving children with idle tales. As the poor mother expected when she told her son "God would take care of him," he did by touching the heart of this benevolent man with compassion and love to the little strange.—N. O. Courier.

EXECUTION IN IOWA.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial gives a horrible account of the execution of Wm. Hinkle, at Orleans, Iowa, for the murder of his wife, from which we extract the following:

"The scoffold consisted of a platform ten feet square supported at the corners by posts stuck in the ground. The platform was about five feet from the ground. The trap door was entirely outside of the platform; it consisted of a frame work three feet wide, extending along the entire south side of the platform, attached to it by hinges, allowing it to swing down readily when unsupported. Some fifteen thousand persons were collected to witness the execution.

After the religious exercises were finished and the reading of a statement in which he asserted his innocence, he walked forward and stood upon the trap door, manifesting no trepidation or emotion—he appeared tranquil and resigned. The rope was fastened to the beam, a white cloth was tied over his face—all is now adjusted. The sheriff bids him a final farewell. There is not a sound in the vast assemblage. Slowly the sheriff retired to the back end of the platform. The prisoner stands without a motion. The sheriff strikes the fatal blow, cuts the rope, the trap door falls, but alas for the unfortunate man, the rope breaks and he is precipitated forward upon his face. One terrible shriek of horror went up from the vast throng, many fainted, one of the guard fell in a fainting fit from his horse. The unhappy man lay for a few moments motionless and senseless, the blood streaming from his mouth and nostrils. He then groaned and struggled, and was soon restored to consciousness.

Again he was carried upon the platform and upon the trap door, supported, staggering and bleeding, a terrible sight. Again the fatal rope was adjusted, when the sheriff asked him, "Do you still adhere to your statement of your innocence?" In a clear, audible voice, he answered "I do"—the only words he spoke after his fall. He was unable to stand this time upon the trap door, and was supported. When the rope was cut, the door fell and he was suspended between heaven and earth. The fall did not break his neck, and after some twenty minutes he was choked to death.

FAMILIE MURDERS IN RUSSEL CO. ALA.—A terrible tragedy, says the Columbus Enquirer, 18th, most of the details of which are yet involved in mystery, was enacted in Russell county, Ala., in the Uchee settlement a few miles west of Crawford, on Monday night last. The victims were Mr Isaac Porter and his wife. It appeared upon the investigation, that Mr. Porter, who was a young man recently married, was living near his mother, and was in the habit of feeding her stock early in the morning. On Tuesday morning, he not coming over as usual to attend to this business, the old lady repaired to his house to see if anything had happened, and there found Mrs. Porter in her bed dead, and Mr. P. insensible.—Subsequently Mr. Porter revived for a time and stated that during the night his wife awakened him and told him she heard some one in the house; that he started to get out of bed, when several heavy blows were dealt him—he remembered having received three. Of what happened afterwards he knew nothing. Mrs. Porter had been beaten to death by blows upon her head and elsewhere, and medical men were satisfied that she had been violated by some man or men, from marks about her person. The deceased were poor people, and the horrible crime could not have been committed from any hope of obtaining money. There was no positive evidence pointing to any particular persons as the guilty parties, but there was a suspicion that the deed had been committed by negroes.

Mr. Porter died after telling all he knew of the horrible tragedy.—Mont. Advertiser.

A writer in the New York Tribune says, that for more than a quarter of a century Mr. H. Posen, of Shelby Orleans county, N. Y., has been afflicted with a severe rheumatic complaint.—For twenty-three years he has laid on his back entirely helpless. He has not a joint in his whole body of which he has the use, and but few which are not entirely or partially dislocated.—All the motions of which he is capable, besides the organ of speech, are a slight movement of his skeleton hands, which lie across his bony breast, and of his jaw so as to admit the point of a tea spoon. He has been entirely blind for the last fifteen years. Some eight or ten days ago one of his legs was amputated, which had begun to be hopelessly affected with gangrene.—His hearing is still good, and he converses so as to be distinctly understood.

It is a remarkable fact, that although he has not seen the light or aught for fifteen years, yet he knows his neighbors as they pass his door on horseback, or in wagons, by distinguishing between the peculiar sounds of the tread of different horses, and the rattle of different wagons.

EXTRAORDINARY SUICIDE BY VOLUNTARY STARVATION.—Jacob Plant, thirty-six years of age, died in Manchester, Mass., on Monday last, of voluntary starvation. Mr. Plant was paying attention to a young lady of the above place some three years ago, but his proposal for marriage was rejected.

The disappointment preyed upon his mind, and he soon afterward attempted to blow his brains out, but only succeeded in destroying both eyes. He has consequently remained blind for three years. During that time he once made an unsuccessful attempt to starve himself. The second time he was successful—meeting his end as above stated. He had partaken of nothing for nine weeks but coffee, sweetened and morphine.—Baltimore Sun

Telegraphic.

ARRIVAL OF THE NORTH BRITON.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

Cotton Advanced 1-16d.

MANCESTER ADVICES FAVORABLE.

CABLE SIGNALS CEASED.

QUEBEC, Sept. 21.—The Montreal Ocean steamship North Briton, with Liverpool accounts to September the 8th, has arrived.

The cotton market had improved 1-16d. and closed firm.

Manchester advices favorable.

Breadstuffs were steady and provisions quiet.

It is stated that signals through the cable have ceased.

SECOND DISPATCH.

QUEBEC, Sept. 21.—Mr. T. C. BRIGHT, the engineer-in-chief to the Atlantic Telegraph Company, has been knighted by the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

It is reported that the Chinese indemnity to France and England, is much larger than previously stated.

The news generally the North Briton is uninteresting.

It is rumored that cannon, muskets, and other ammunitions of war, were sent out by small canal steamers, a few days ago.

It is also reported that Gen. WALKER will stop at Panama until men and arms can be concentrated for a foray on Nicaragua.

Accident to the Cable.

QUEBEC, Sept. 21.—It is believed at Trinity Bay that the accident to the cable is near the shore, and if so it can be readily repaired.

Additional by the Persia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—We send you a few more items of news brought by the Persia.

There was a mutiny on board of the American ship Conqueror, in the river Mersey. The vessel was bound for Mobile, Ala. Seventeen armed negroes refused to proceed with their work. They were arrested by the American Consul without bloodshed.

The allies in China have had a serious battle at Canton. A part of the city was burnt.

There was a report that a large loan had been effected in the United States to forward the French Suez canal project.

Suspension of Chubb Brothers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The large Banking house of CHUBB BROTHERS, suspended on yesterday. They have given notes that they will at an early day liquidate all their obligations.

Yellow Fever in Charleston.

Market Reports.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 20.—Sales of Cotton 1,300 bales for the past three days, at unchanged prices.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 23d, 1 P. M.

A dispatch was received at N. York this morning, from Trinity Bay, which says the Cable is again at work perfectly as ever.

STILL LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP

N. B. A. M. E. R.

Cotton Advanced 1-8d. During the Week.

HALIFAX, Sept. 22.—The British & North American Royal Mail steamship Niagara has arrived, with Liverpool accounts to Saturday, Sept. 11.

Commercial News.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.—Transales of Cotton for the week 67,000 bales. Middling qualities had advanced 1-8d, and the market closed firm.

The sales on Friday were 12,000 bales, and the trade closed buoyant.

Breadstuffs were quiet.

Consols were quoted at 97.

Further by the North Britain.

The Telegraph signals on the Atlantic Cable have ceased.

It is believed that the injury to the cable is near Quebec, and is consequently remediable.

Bright, the cable engineer, has been knighted by the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

It is reported that the Chinese indemnity due France and England is larger than has been stated.

The news by the North Britain is generally unimportant.

Sales of Cotton in Liverpool for 3 days 28,996 bales, of which speculators took 2,000, and exporters 6,000 bales. The market advanced 1-6d in some instances. Flour firm, at an advance of 6d. Wheat steady. Corn very dull, & prices unchanged. Rosin steady.—Rice quiet.

In the London market Turpentine was steady. Sugar quiet.

The Secretary of the Atlantic Cable Company, in a letter to the press, says intelligible signals ceased on the morning of the 3d. A corps of practical electricians is at Valentia investigating the difficulty. Mr Whitehouse thinks the trouble near Valentia, in a spot previously repaired; he is confident of ultimate success.

Death of Arthur P. Bagby.

MOBILE, Sept. 21.—The Hon. Arthur P. Bagby, formerly Governor of the State, and United States Senator, died in this city, to-day, of yellow fever.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, September 21.—Sales of cotton to-day were 300 bales. Flour advancing. Wheat dull. Corn dull at 78c. for white.

The Cable Working Finely.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.

A second dispatch from Trinity Bay confirms our dispatch of yesterday morning, adding that signals have been perfect for the past three days.

General Walker.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23.—Gen. Wm. Walker passed through this city yesterday, in cog. for Louisville.

Additional by the Niagara.

HALIFAX, Sept. 22.—The news from India and China is unimportant.

Nothing new had transpired in relation to the cable. The directors of the company were announced to hold a meeting on the 11th inst., to discuss their future action. The shipment of the shore ends from Plymouth to Valentia had been suspended.

The cession of the port of Villafranca, in the Mediterranean sea, to Russia, had been confirmed.

The bullion in the Bank of France had largely increased during the past month.

A Nicaragua Steamer.

SAVANNAH, Sept. 22.—The steamer Catharine Maria, from New York, for Nicaragua, put into this port to day for coal.

Mortality in Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Sept 22.—Mr. Wm. T. Thompson, the Chairman of the Board of Health, reports that there were forty deaths in this city during the week ending the 21st inst., and of this number twenty are reported by yellow fever.

Yellow Fever

New Orleans, Sept. 21.—The Board of Health report 176 deaths from yellow fever for the thirty hours ending at noon on Monday.

Market Reports.

SAVANNAH, Sept. 22.—COTTON—The demand was not so brisk to-day as yesterday, and only 293 bales changed hands at the following particulars: 13 at 12, 37 at 12¼, 84 at 12¼, 113 at 12⅜, 18 at 11½, and 28 bales at 12⅝ cents. We repeat our quotations of yesterday: Middling 12¼; Strict Middling 12¼; Good Middling 12⅝, and Middling Fair 12⅞ cents.

RAVAGES OF PLAGUE IN THE BARBARY STATES.—A correspondent of the London Times, writing the tripoli under date of the 27th July, gives the following account of ravages of the plague in the Barbary States:

The disease first broke out among an Arad tribe about six hours distant from Bengazi, and a report of the dreadful ravages it was making reached that city on the 25th of last April. The British Vice Consuls, Mr. Crowe, being convinced, by all he heard of the nature and rapid progress of the disease, that it was acturlly the plague, strongly urged the Bey, the governor of the province, to take measures for the preservation of the public health, recommending that a military cordon should be placed at a proper distance from the city, to prevent communication with the infected tribe. But the Bey, either influenced by Mahommedan fatalism or natural indolence would do nothing.

The fatal consequences of his neglect of the Voice Consul's suggestion soon appeared. The disease soon found its way into the unguarded city, and its first victims were the women and children of the poor. But it soon spread with fearful rapidity, attacking, with fatal virulence rich and poor alike.—Entire families perished miserably.—Then ensued a general panic, and of a population of nine thousand souls, more than half abandoned their homes and fled to the desert. Of those that remained forty or fifty died dialy, sometimes more. Night and day the bodies of the dead were cast hastily into their shallow graves, and the cries of the Moorish women, the howling of the Jews, and the dismal tolling of the bells of the Catholic chapel were terrible to hear. At length the Otto man government, in consequence of Consul Crowe's representations, sent a steamer from Constantinople with two physicians, who, immediately after their arrival, declared the disease to be the plague, of the most virulent type, and in consequence of their circulars to that effect, Bengazi and all the ports of northern Africa have been placed in strict quarantine.

As a weary traveler was wending his way through the mud, out in the far West region of the country, he discovered a young maiden standing in the door of a log cabin. He rode up to the house and asked the maiden for a drink of water; he drank it, and, she being the first woman he had seen for several days, offered her "a dime for a kiss."

The maiden accepted the offer, and received both the kiss and the dime.—The traveler was about to resume his journey, but the maide having seen a dime, asked,

"What am I to do with the dime."

"You may use it in any way you wish," he replied: "it is yours."

"That being the case," she replied, "I'll give back the dime and get another kiss;"

Testimonials from Foreign Countries.

A pleasing travelling companion and one that no person should be without is Perry Davis' Pain Killer. A sudden attack of diarrhea, dysentery, or cholera morbus can be effectually and instantaneously relieved by it, it is equally effectual in curing scalds, burns, &c.

Thomas. S. Ranney, writing from Rangoon, Burmah, December 19, 1856, says;—"It is becoming more popular, and in several instances I am assured that the cholera has been arrested and life preserved by its use. The late prevalence of cholera here has swept off about all the Pain Killer I had, and purchasers looking to me for a supply will be disappointed in my ability to supply them. Please send me an invoice of $150 worth by the first opportunity."

CAPE TOWN, Africa, Jan. 23, 1856.

Messrs. P. Davis & son—Dear Sirs.

The Pain Killer, we are happy, to say, is getting in good repute, here, and its good qualities are being appreciated. Lately, we have a great demand for the article, and confidently anticipate a large trade in the Pain Killer.

DURRODAILE, THOMPSON, HALL & CO.

Sold by druggists everywhere.

PIMPLES AND BLOTCHES.

Are the result of impure blood. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men & women we see with their faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practised by persons disirous of health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions should never dry them up by external application, for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during its whole life time There is no mother that likes to see her children afflicted with feeble health.

MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS are prepared expressly for the cure of eruption of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches, Sores, &c. They cleans the blood of all impurities; producing a beautiful, clear and healty skin, so much admired by all people of taste and refinemem.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are sold by all dealers in Medicine.

MARRIED, on Thursday the 23rd day of September, 1858, by Rev. B. Williams, Mr. Wm. T. Carver, to Miss Laura E. Sawyers.

IN CHANCERY.

Nancy Gilchrist, by her next friend Hiram Jones,
v.
Garland Gilchrist.

At Rules before the Register in Chancery for the 38th District, N. D. of the State of Alabama, at Ashville, this 2d Monday and 13th day of Sept. 1858.

THIS day came the Complainant by her Solicitor, and moves the Court to-wit: the Register and Master for an order of publication against the Defendant, on the ground that said Defendant was a non-resident of the State of Alabama, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the Register aforesaid, from the affidavit of Complainant, now on file in this cause, that the said Garland Gilchrist resides beyond the limits of the State of Alabama, and resides somewhere in the State of Arkansas, and is of lawful age—It is therefore ordered by the Register of this Court, that publication be made in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper published in the Town of Jacksonville, Calhoun county, Alabama, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring the said Defendant to appear before the Register and Master of this Court within sixty days from the date of this order, and plead, answer or demur to said Bill of Complaint, filed against him, or the same will be taken pro confesso, and cause set for hearing accordingly. Ordered that a copy of this order be posted up on the Court House of St. Clair County, within forty days from its date. THOMAS HAYDEN, Reg'r & Mast.

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, of the NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years course of steady devotion to the cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided not a little by a perfect system of personal inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air Passages.—By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren & the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c. &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas.

TERMS.—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payments as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance $6 at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured—it is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

P. S. Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor, can be seen and inspected.

EXECUTOR'S
SALE OF LAND.

UNDER and by virtue of the authority vested in the undersigned, by the last will and testament of George C. P. Hughes, deceased, we will, as Executors of said will, proceed to sell, upon the premises, On the First day of October, 1858, the following lands belonging to the Estate of said G. C. P. Hughes, lying on Cold Water, in Calhoun County, Alabama, and about five miles west of Oxford, viz:

West half of section 33, except the south east fourth of south west fourth, and ten acres off of the south part of north east fourth of south west fourth; and about four acres embracing the mill yard of Miller & Bagley, heretofore set apart—and east half of south east fourth of section 32, except about 8 acres embracing the Baptist Cold Water Camp-ground and Church.

Also, south west fourth of south west fourth of section 28, all lying in township 16, range 7 east. Said tract is the land occupied by G. C. P. Hughes in his life time.—The tract has comfortable dwellings and out houses, a fine apple and peach orchard—some 125 acres cleared and in cultivation—a good spring, and well of never-failing water. The place is an excellent one—convenient to the Mills—situated in the midst of an excellent neighborhood, and is one and a half miles from the Alabama and Tenn. R. Rail Road route.

The undersigned, or Harley J. Hughes will take pleasure in showing the place to all who may wish to purchase. Terms made known on day of sale. Part cash will be required, and long time given on the remainder.

THE LIVER
INVIGORATOR!
PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD.

COMPOUNDED entirely from GUMS, IT IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The Liver is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when it performs its functions well, the powers of the system are generally developed. The stomach is almost entirely dependent on the Liver for the healthy action of its functions; when at fault, the bowels are at fault, and the whole system suffers in consequence of one, having ceased to do its duty. For the disease of this organ one of the proprietors has made it his study, in a practice of more than twenty years, to form some remedy wherewith to counteract the many derangements to which it is liable. To prove that this remedy is at last found, any person troubled with liver Complaint, in any of its forms, has but to try a bottle, and conviction is certain.

The Liver Invigorator will remove all morbid or diseased matter from the system, supplying in place of bile, invigorating food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Billious attacks are cured, and what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach & prevent the food from rising & souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures Costiveness.

Only one dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

☞One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

One bottle taken for female obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure.

Only one dose immediately relieves Cholic, while one dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera

☞Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

☞One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst forms, while Summer and Bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cures attacks caused by Worms in Children: there is no surer, safer, or speedier remedy in the world, as it never fails.

☞A few bottles cures Dropsy, by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive of Fever & Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Billious TYPE. It operates with certainty, & thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

ALL WHO USE IT ARE GIVING THEIR UNANIMOUS TESTIMONY IN ITS FAVOR.

MIX WATER IN THE MOUTH WITH THE INVIGORATOR, AND SWALLOW BOTH TOGETHER.

The Liver Invigorator

IS A SCIENTIFIC MEDICAL DISCOVERY, and is daily working cures, almost too great to believe. It exercises it by magic, even the first dose giving benefit, and seldom more than one bottle is required to cure any kind of Liver Complaint, from the worst Jaundice or Dyspepsia, to a common Headache, all of which are the result of a Diseased Liver.
