

SEPTEMBER

Jacksonville Republican.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA.
September 6, 1860.

FOR PRESIDENT.
J. C. BRECKINRIDGE, OF KENTUCKY.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.
GEN. JOSEPH LANE, OF OREGON.

Gen. Sam Houston has written a letter, unconditionally declining as a candidate for the Presidency. It is supposed that he has been influenced to this course by the recent elections in Texas, in which the Breckinridge party obtained a majority of from 20,000 to 25,000.

We have received several communications, not of a pressing nature, which we are compelled to defer, in consequence of the importance of the news, and political issues before the country, which must be decided in a short time.

Rome—Her Railroads, Improvements, Manufactures, Commerce, &c.—We promised in our last, a more extended notice of this subject in our present number.

In going to and returning from Rome, we were highly gratified to see, that a large portion of the grading of the Railroad in this direction had been completed for some eight or nine miles. The bridge also across the Etowah, is in a forward state of construction, the pillars and abutments nearly up, and timbers all on the bank, ready to finish it. The energetic and faithful Contractor, Col. John D. Gray, has a large number of hands at work, with abundant ability to increase them at will. Altogether, we may reasonably and confidently hope to have direct railroad connection with Rome and Dalton in some two years.

J. E. Barry, & Co. were having an extensive addition built to their large Grocery and Commission House near the bridge, and several large and really fine business houses were in course of erection, higher up on main street, to be covered with a splendid quality of slate from Polk County quarry. A large three story brick Mann, factoring establishment has recently been erected by Mr. O. B. Ewe, is now in operation near the mouth of the Oostanula. The machinery is propelled by steam, and is used for preparing Carriage materials, grinding, sawing, &c.

There is also another extensive steam manufacturing establishment, in the upper part of the city, erected and owned by Messrs. Mills & Sampson, used principally in the preparation of materials for their large Furniture Warehouse on main street. We passed through their Furniture establishment while in Rome, and were truly surprised at the extent, variety and fineness of their stock of Furniture. Large rooms were filled below and above with almost every imaginable description, quality and style, from the most costly to the most common and cheap. Persons wishing to purchase Furniture would do well to send their orders, or give their establishment a call while in Rome. They will find the proprietors, correct, affable and gentlemanly business men, with whom they can hardly fail to be well pleased.

The Merchants of Rome seemed to complain generally of a very dull season, on the past Spring and Summer; and this complaint we believe is common in many other places.

Messrs. R. S. NORTON & SON, SLOAN, & HOOVER, JONES, SCOTT, & CO., & others, have very large & fine stocks on hand, for the season, and from what we could learn, were offering them at really very low prices.

In the line of Drugs, Medicines, &c. Messrs L. P. Turley, and Farrell & Yeiser, have fine stocks on hand.

We passed some time, (as we always do when in Rome,) in the extensive Steam Engine Works, Foundry and Machine Shops of Messrs. NOBLE BROTHERS & CO. We were glad to find that this worthy and energetic company had an abundance of profitable work on hand—some six or eight steam engines in course of erection—Mill and Mining machinery—Castings Building materials—Iron tubes for Railroad Culverts, &c. As the demand for Steam and other machinery increases, this establishment will be found very convenient to the citizens of this section of country. Their work is said by those who have used it to be as good and complete, and of as fine finish as can be purchased elsewhere, and their prices uniformly very moderate.

As we passed through the yard with one of the proprietors, he pointed out to us a pile of Pig Iron, procured from the Iron Works of Messrs. GOOD MORRIS & CO. of this County, which he said was the very best Iron they had ever used.

We are unwilling to close this brief notice of Rome and its business, without returning our sincere thanks to COL. L. P. THOMAS, of the ETOWAH HOUSE, and his polite and gentlemanly assistant, E. P. BEVELL, for their friendly and courteous attentions, during our stay with them. This is an excellent House, where the traveller will find his comforts provided for, and all his reasonable wants supplied, without ostentation or parade. We most heartily commend it to the patronage of the public.

Abolition Incendiaries—

Negro Insurrections, &c.—Our readers will find in to-day's paper, the promised letter from J. O. Archer, of Texas; and also, from other sources, all the information received of the burnings of Texas, insurrectionary plots, &c. not only in Texas, but various parts of this State.

When we remember, in this State of things, the significant fact mentioned by Mr. Archer, that at the last session of Congress, the Black Republicans defeated all appropriations to defray the expenses of a Regiment for the protection of Texas, is not the course now being pursued by some of the political leaders in our own State, profoundly humiliating, if not criminal. We allude to the startling fact, that in the midst of all these just causes of alarm, apprehension and danger, a number of Douglas leaders, (actuated as we would charitably hope, only by blind party zeal,) are stumping it over the State, and abusing the last Alabama Legislature for passing a bill, making a small appropriation and some little preparation for military defence. While this is going on, we see a Douglas paper in North Alabama, asserting that D. C. Humphries, the great Douglas stump orator, had received letters from Texas, giving reliable information, that all the fires in Texas had been purely accidental. Another Douglas paper in South Alabama, grown more bold and blind, denounces all these accounts as the work of the "precipitators"—"the Breckinridge disunion faction"—and says, if any one wants to read accounts of insurrections, they must take the Montgomery Mail, as all such discoveries are made by that paper. Can it be possible that these papers would wilfully disguise and suppress facts, and endanger the lives and property of the citizens of the South, through fear that they might become alive to their rights, responsibilities and dangers, and thus their idol Douglas lose some political capital? We merely ask the question, and leave others to judge for themselves, from the state of facts presented.

The people of the South have been long used to their patience and forbearance, under the continued infliction of slander, wrong and aggression upon the part of their Northern enemies; but if certain Southern Editors, continue the course above alluded to much longer, we should not be surprised to hear that they had business with some Vigilance Committees.

Excitement at Talladega and surrounding Country.—A private letter from a friend, dated yesterday, speaking of insurrectionary developments says: "Insurrectionary excitement has a bad but little—the Town & surrounding Country under heavy guard, & the Vigilance Committee in session every day. There are some 2 or 3 negroes & one white man who will certainly be hung, when tried—and I fear will be executed more summarily."

Some investigation has been going on at other points, but for good and obvious reasons, have been conducted with a good deal of secrecy. The four Negroes arrested in Selma, says the Sentinel have been discharged, nothing having been developed to warrant their detention.

It will be seen by reference to the card of Dr. J. R. Clayton, that since the sale of his interest in the Drug Store to Dr. Anglin, he has permanently located himself in this place, for the practice of Medicine, and will give his undivided attention to the duties of his profession. Dr. Clayton is a graduate of the Medical College of Charleston and Augusta, and has also practiced Medicine sometime here and elsewhere.

We learn that an effort will be made soon to purchase a Chemical Apparatus, for the use of the Male Academy of this place; and in view of the importance of such an acquisition to that Institution, in the study of that useful and in dispensable science, we hope a commendable liberality will be manifested by our citizens in raising the amount necessary. We learn also, that Dr. J. W. Hicks, who has recently settled in our place, has expressed a willingness, in case the apparatus is procured, to give weekly practical experiments and lectures, for at least one year, free of charge. This liberal proposition makes it the more important that the effort should succeed.

The object of the course of lectures and experiments will be to impress the lessons upon the minds of pupils so that they will never be forgotten in after life, and as this is an age when no man or woman is considered educated without some knowledge of chemistry, it is essential that they should be taught the rudiments of it in early youth, with as much ease as they are the rudiments of the English language—and in teaching it, it is equally necessary to bring to bear everything that is calculated to assist them in the pursuit of that department. Every one will acknowledge that it is impossible that chemistry can be taught properly and effectively without the aid of a chemical apparatus. A student may labour for weeks on inorganic chemistry—he may learn by rote all the signs and symbols, and be able to repeat them; but when he comes to the practical parts, the application of the tests, and he is at a loss to know where to begin—he has never seen an apparatus and consequently would have to learn the manipulation as a separate study—whereas by giving the experiments once a week, on the part they had gone over during the week, the lessons would be impressed on their minds, and the manipulation learned at the same time.

Besides during the experiments he will endeavor to teach the class the composition of the different soils, and what particular property of the soil is extracted by the various crops cultivated—viz corn, cotton, wheat, oats, rye, turnips, beets, &c. and what kind of manures are necessary to restore the ingredients extracted from the soil by the various crops.

Every farmer knows by experience, that a field cultivated successively for several years with one crop, will become barren for that plant varying with the nature of the soil—one field will bear wheat and no turnips, another turnips and no clover. What is the reason of this? Art cannot answer—but science can.

So that we see a knowledge of chemistry is not only essential to the physician and druggist, but to the farmer, the planter, the manufacturer, the Blacksmith, and even the housewife in the manufacture of soaps, &c.

A complete chemical apparatus sufficient for the schools will cost about $300 and 12 patrons of the school giving $25 each will make up the amount—and with careful handling it will last 20 years.

Lectures will also be free for the girls of the other schools who may wish to attend once a week.

It will be seen by reference to the advertisement of Messrs. Curry & Taylor, wholesale and retail Druggists, Talladega, Ala., that they still continue to keep on hand a full and complete assortment of Drugs, Medicines, &c. Country Physicians and others may rely upon being furnished with the best and purest articles; and it would be difficult for them to find more competent correct and accommodating gentlemen than the proprietors of the Talladega Drug store.

We wish our subscribers who remove from the neighborhood of one Post-office to another would promptly inform us of the fact, without giving Post Masters so much trouble, and causing us to misdirect so many papers. Editors are generally a knowing set of fellows; but cannot know every move made among hundreds or thousands of subscribers, unless informed of it.

We invite attention to the advertisement of Dr. T. N. Anglin, who has recently purchased the Drug Store in this place, formerly owned by Clayton & Gray. He has recently received a considerable addition to the large stock on hand, and is prepared to supply the wants of the public with all articles in that line.

Dr. A. has made many friends during his brief sojourn with us, and is justly regarded as a valuable acquisition to our population.

Our thanks are due to Dr. J. F. Hammond, and the patrons whose names he has forwarded us as subscribers; and particularly for the flattering manner in which they mention the popularity of our paper. As our space increases, we will try to merit more and more their favorable opinion, and give them every thing that can be interesting or useful, in this progressive, active, living, moving age.

Attention is invited to the card of Dr. J. W. Hicks, who has permanently located in this place, for the practice of Medicine. Dr. Hicks is a graduate of Pennsylvania Medical University, and has also had the advantage of several years successful practice in South Carolina and Georgia.

For the "Republican." Mr. GRANT—If it be compatible with your feelings, I'll spend one moment with your readers. I was at Arabassee on the 21st, and heard the Hon. J. L. M. Curry. His address was strong and impressive. He stated the true position of the South showing that her citizens and their institutions had been trampled upon. He declared himself in favor of Breckinridge and Lane—equality of States and citizens—and bid his countrymen follow him. Alabama should be proud of such a son as Mr. Curry.

There were but few Douglas and Bell men present, and I have since been informed that a portion of them have declared themselves for Breckinridge and Lane. In this section we'll beat our opponents to no one. A halo of glory as pure and white as the drifted snow, will be the mantle of the Democracy of Ala.

J. F. HAMMOND.

Cane Land, Ala. Aug. 25th, '60.

23—We call the attention of farmers and others to the advertisement of Messrs. Farrell & Yeiser, who now propose to furnish them with valuable Grass and Clover seeds, at moderate prices. In these times of scarcity these crops will be very valuable to the farmer.

Union in New York.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—An important and rather unexpected political movement is about to be consummated in New York. The Breckinridge and Lane leaders have at last agreed to co-operate with the Douglas and Bell parties, to secure the defeat of the Black Republicans. The arrangements for the union will be completed on Wednesday next. You can rely on this as certain. Thus the last nail is driven into the political coffin of Abraham Lincoln.

Smith County, Texas, Aug. 10th, '60. Mr. GRANT: We are surrounded by the most intense excitement, the result of money and property of a thoroughly organized plan for the devastation of Texas, by fire and poison, without a parallel even among the savages. I shall not attempt to give anything like a minute description, but merely a synopsis. First—the evidence clearly shows the fact, that the 8th of July, was the day set apart to burn all the towns in Northern Texas, which was effected to a fearful extent, and then the 6th of August was fixed upon for a general outbreak. The negroes, headed by a white man in each county, were to rise and kill all old women and children, having been promised the young and handsome ones by the abolitionists for wives (some have gone so far as to designate their choice). To affect this, the abolitionists have distributed a considerable quantity of arms, ammunition, money and robes among the negroes, with instruction to kill by every means in their power, and to burn up all they possibly could; a million of dollars will not near sum up the losses to this date.

I send you some articles from some newspapers, which will give you some idea of the amount burned on the 8th July, since which Houston, Dargatzis, & it is rumored that Rusk, Sherman, and others are named as being among the places that were burned.

Remarks are useless, but we think when we take into consideration that the Black Republicans defeated any and all appropriations to defray the expenses of a Texas Regiment, to protect the frontier, and in addition to this, Mr. Edwards' threats to invade Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and Texas, that they mean what they say; and if there ever was a time, for every Southern man to stand shoulder to shoulder, and vote as a unit, now is the time. Breckinridge and Lane are our only chance; and you may put them down all the votes you want them to get in Texas. Texas is a unit as regards Breck and Lane. Your friend in haste, JOHN C. ARCHER.

Late from Texas.

In relation to the Abolition plot, the Galveston News has the following intelligence:

The Henderson Times of the 11th says: "We have seen a note, written from near Ennisville, by Colonel Dunn's overseer, to his son, Charles Dunn, which said that a negro boy, Allen, formerly belonging to Mr. Dunn, had confessed his connection with this insurrectionary movement, and was to have been hung yesterday."

The citizens of Wood county were to have held a public meeting on the 20th, to consider the condition of the country and devise means for protecting life and property.

The citizens of Millville, Rusk county, held a public meeting on the 16th, to examine into the character of certain suspicious persons and to organize patrols. Sundry individuals were ordered to leave the country.

The Quitman Herald of the 15th says: "A gentleman from Little Elm, in Denton county, on Saturday last, informed us that the citizens of Denton are as much excited as elsewhere in the State. A negro had been arrested in that county, in whose possession twenty four bottles of strychnine were found."

The Bellville Countryman of the 15th comes to us with reports of the proceedings of large and enthusiastic public meetings at Bellville on the 7th and at Texas and Erickson. Both of the 4th, to appoint vigilance committees and patrols, and adopt such other measures of safety as the recent Abolition movements in the State call for.

The patrol system has had a beneficial effect at Cameron, Millam county, and other places, in making the negroes keep wholesome hours.

Just Enterprise learns that a Yankee Abolition schoolmaster was hung on the 10th, in Anderson county. He was convicted of inciting the negroes to insurrection.

Danger at Home?

We have been permitted to extract from a letter received by one of our citizens from Camden, Wilcox county, on yesterday, the following startling intelligence:

"We heard yesterday of an occurrence that took place near Coffeeville, Clark county, last week, that should put us upon our guard. A party purporting to be Gipsies went to the house of a gentleman in that neighborhood, and informed him that one of their number had died, and requested permission to bury him upon this gentleman's land, and also the assistance of his negroes. The permission was given, the negroes sent, and the coffin interred. On the next day one of the negroes remarked to his master that the coffin that had been buried was exceedingly heavy."

This excited suspicion, and the coffin was dug up by a committee, when it was found to be filled with ARMS AND AMMUNITION! A party has left Coffeeville in pursuit of the "Gipsies," as these soundrels called themselves. When such things are taking place it sounds well for southern men to be abusing the Military Bill!"

If there are any who can longer doubt the existence of a deeply laid plan to involve us in the most fearful perils, we do not envy them their skepticism. How long will we slumber over a volcano and yet denounce those who warn us of danger? The source of the above information is the most reliable.—Selma Issue.

From the Louisville Courier.

GOOD NEWS!

PETERS ELECTED!

Majority More than One Thousand!

A dispatch from Paris last night brought the cheering intelligence that Peter, the regular Democratic nominee for Judge of the Court of Appeals, has been elected by more than ONE THOUSAND MAJORITY over his Opposition competitor.

The defeat of McCarty only served to show us what we needed; the result in the banner counties—Floyd, Johnson, &c.—teaches us what may be done; and in November, Kentucky will give Breckinridge—what?—ten thousand? twenty thousand? forty thousand? A long pull, a steady, strong pull, union, activity, and thorough organization will put it up to the last named figure; if it falls below that, it will mark the failure of some portion of the Democracy to do their duty.

Servile Insurrection.

A most diabolical plot has been discovered with our negro population, contemplating the destruction of Talladega, the massacre of the citizens, and the ravaging of the surrounding country. The plan is extensive, deep laid and has been on hand some months. Suspicion was first aroused to the fact, as much as three or four weeks since, but nothing was known of its extent or exact character, until about a fortnight since, when the plot was disclosed to the Messrs Lane, by one of their negroes. This led to the examination of other negroes, who upon being repeatedly examined, testified to the same result. The concurrent testimony of many other slaves, subsequent to this, gives us the moral conviction that our citizens have been sleeping with all the barbarous calamities of a servile insurrection hanging over us.

We have been present at the examination of some of the negroes implicated in the proposed insurrection, and was struck with the adaptation of the plan, and the boldness and audacity and the fears of the negro. The lure of lust, and unbridled liberty was held out as an inducement to engage in the hellish plot, while those who betrayed the plan, or refused to join it were threatened with certain death.

The plan of attack was to assemble at Talladega, separate into small parties, repair to all of the houses in town, first, then to the country, and then to stand by the doors and murder the whites as they ran out. The time agreed upon for the assault was some Saturday night about the middle of September.

The concurrent testimony of all the negroes examined, goes to show beyond the possibility of doubt, that the whole plot has been concocted and set on foot by white men. It shows too, that abolition emissaries have been in our midst, inciting our slaves to rebellion and conspiring against the lives of our citizens.

Two white men, citizens of our county, (Lem Paine, and Steadham) have been arrested and lodged in prison. There is every moral conviction, that they are instigators in the insurrection. Ten negroes have been taken and put in jail, as leaders in the proposed rebellion.

As there is every reason to believe that similar plots are in existence in other districts in the South, it becomes the duty of every community with a slave population, to see that no torches are preparing for the destruction of their homes, and that no knives are forging for the butchery of their mothers, wives daughters and sisters.

A Vigilance Committee has been formed in our county, which has been for some days past, actively engaged in ferreting out the offenders. As "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," so active vigilance in this age of abolition raids, is the price of life.

Talladega Watchtower.

CHULA FINNA, Ala. Aug. 22d '60. DR. TAYLOR, Dear Sir:—I had the pleasure of hearing Hon. J. L. M. Curry address a large crowd at Arabassee on yesterday, upon the political issues now before the American people. Though he had expected opposition, no one was present to advocate the monstrous doctrine of secession, nor to oppose the rights of our country, which has been for some days past, actively engaged in ferreting out the offenders. As "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," so active vigilance in this age of abolition raids, is the price of life.

tion with the Democracy. Speaking of the friends of BRECKINRIDGE, the DOUGLASS organ says:

"Coalition with them must therefore be repulsive to honest Douglas men, to endure, even to 'defeat Lincoln,' whose straight forwardness has the hearty endorsement of Douglas himself."

JOHN CHARLES REMELIN, the great German Orator of Cincinnati has espoused the cause of BRECKINRIDGE and LANE, and has been appointed an elector for the State (Ohio), at large. In a speech recently delivered, he predicts that a large portion of the Douglasties will join the Republicans—and other portion will merge with Know Nothings—and the larger portion, the National platform of the true Democracy. That Mr. REMELIN's predictions will be verified, the signs of the times most clearly indicate. The recent efforts of the squatters to fraternize with the Know Nothings to Kentucky, North Carolina and Georgia are beginning to open the eyes of our naturalized fellow citizens to the hollow heartedness of Douglasism, and we are not surprised to see such men as REMELIN take position under the banner of BRECKINRIDGE and LANE.

BOY IN CHARLESTON.—We spoke at some length a few days since, on this subject; but we must refer to the matter occasionally and beg our Alabama merchants to try Charleston again this fall. They all did well there, last spring, and will do better this fall. Read the advertisement of the Charleston houses in this paper, and note what they say they can do. Our own opinion is, that money can be saved by dealing there.—Montgomery Mail.

NO COMPLAINTS IN PRAYER.—We have heard some prayers, which were designed to affect the hearing rather than to reach heaven. The following characteristic anecdote of John Randolph is a keen rebuke of the practice:

In one of his spells of repentance and sickness, he was visited by a minister, who, at his request, prayed for him. The minister began in this wise: "Lord, our friend is sick. Thou knowest how generous he was to the poor, and what unflinching services he has rendered to his country, and how he is among the honored and great men of the earth—"

"Stop, stop," said the impatient Randolph. "No more of such stuff, else the Lord will damn us both."

"Daddy," said a hopeful orphan to his paternal relative, "why don't you school-master send the editors of the newspaper an account of the lickings he gives the boys?"

"Why this paper says that Mr. B. has tanned three thousand licks at his establishment during the past year, and I know that old Grimes has tanned our hides more than twice that many times—the editor ought to know it!"

PROGRESS OF NEW ORLEANS.—The New Orleans Delta says the returns of the census so far as received, justify the expectation that the population of the city will be shown to be 200,000. By the census of 1850, it was returned at 113,000, making a gain of 63 per cent in ten years.

War Probably Between Spain and Mexico.

[From the N. O. Delta, August 24th.]

By the last arrival from Vera Cruz, letters from high authorities at that place, containing exceedingly important intelligence, were received here.

Their contents, which are of a highly exciting nature, have been communicated by persons very worthy of credit. We have already noticed the fact, that the Spanish Commander at Vera Cruz had made a demand on the Constitutional Government for the restoration of the bank concession, and that the demand had been rejected by President Juarez.

It now appears that this demand was made in a premeditated form, and accompanied with a threat of immediate hostilities in case the demand should not be complied with in twenty-four hours.

In consequence of this threat, and the anticipation that it would be followed by some practical demonstration on the part of the Spanish squadron, the Constitutional Government immediately made preparations for defense.

Everything was placed in readiness to repel the expected attack. The guns were kept loaded, the artillery at their posts, the garrison under arms, and the people of the town were set to work preparing ammunition. At the last accounts it was expected momentarily that the Spanish fleet would commence a bombardment.

We are informed that the greatest enthusiasm prevailed among the population of the city. So far from dreading the attack, it was universally desired that the Spanish fleet should carry its threat into execution.

This feeling was produced and stimulated by the confidence that the United States would embrace the opportunity of coming to the assistance of the Constitutional Government. In fact, immediately on the occurrence of these events, President Juarez dispatched letters to this country, which have since gone out to Washington, and have before this time been laid before the Administration, asking American assistance, or at least the privilege of raising volunteers and procuring arms and munitions of war within our territory.

There can be no doubt, likewise, that should our Government, through these means, become involved in difficulties with Spain, an excellent opportunity would be afforded for realizing our long-cherished dream of securing a host of volunteers for making a host of the first plausibility against the Constitutional Government. This is plainly manifested by the recent reply of Gen. O'Donnell, President of the Spanish Congress of Deputies, to the interpellations of Sr. Sagasta. He stated that in case the Mexican Government (Constitutional) should refuse to fulfill the stipulations of the Convention framed between the Spanish Government and Miramon, Spain would possess the right of making reclamation; that she would have justice, and with her fleets and her armies, would know how to obtain it.

There can be no doubt that the Spanish Government does actually entertain the design of seizing at their first plausible pretext for making a host of the first plausibility against the Constitutional Government. This is plainly manifested by the recent reply of Gen. O'Donnell, President of the Spanish Congress of Deputies, to the interpellations of Sr. Sagasta. He stated that in case the Mexican Government (Constitutional) should refuse to fulfill the stipulations of the Convention framed between the Spanish Government and Miramon, Spain would possess the right of making reclamation; that she would have justice, and with her fleets and her armies, would know how to obtain it.

Union Ticket in Pennsylvania.

The Herald, received yesterday, brings the intelligence that the Pennsylvania Democratic Convention had agreed, by a vote of about two to one, to run a Joint Electoral Ticket, to be headed with the name of Breckinridge or Douglas, at the option of the voter—that candidate to receive the vote of the State, for whom the majority of the votes are marked.

This arrangement unquestionably takes the vote of the State from Lincoln and gives it to Breckinridge.

News from the United States march up and with a triumph, securing all the rights in the Union.

The Half-Century House to Black Republicanism.

The Lowell (Mass.) Advertiser remarks:—Mr. Burlingame, in a Republican meeting at the evening, said he felt justified every time he saw a Douglas banner, for he knew those who enlisted under it had deserted the service of slavery.

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, MERCHANTS OF THE CITY OF CHARLOTTE, S. FINLEY JOHNSON, Ad. Press, contains a good deal of truth, and may have the effect of putting a few hundred pipes out. But it is to the French against smoking as a habit, it is like the use of coffee and tea—and as once denounced as inventions of the services of the Evil One to destroy the body first and the soul afterward—that they, too, were called poisons; but unfortunately for their opponents, the French are exceedingly slow poisons, the world persists in ignoring the damage of them.

Incidentally, Sir B. B. throws a light on the Eastern section, and fully agrees with many of the Turkish Empire. I had something to say on this latter. I ought to have waited a week for full illumination. The result, from the age of Mahomet to the fall of Constantinople were a dominant race, and came very near the center of Europe; but, about the sixteenth century, they took to smoking and have been going to the bad ever since. They make no conquests, they cannot govern the lands they have built up, and hence nothing, and hence the various factors worth mentioning between pipes and slippers. Such is the political result of excessive indulgence in nicotine.

Having thus got to the East by a digression, we will take a survey of matters there. The French have landed their troops at Beyrout, and an English squadron is in the harbor. The English will be of much use only, I should think, against the tribes in the interior of the country; but we are giving countenance to the intervention of the survivors of the massacre at Marousi as being escorted to the group of most of them; and the mass of surplus population will be sent to the work have frightened the Turkish government into unusual energy, and Faud Pacha backed by Western bayonets, is dealing the most summary justice to the murderers. The arrests having been made, the trials before the extraordinary Commission were very short; the evidence was abundant and the defendants endeavored to save themselves by denouncing their neighbors. This result is given in telegrams from Constantinople, and is a strong argument in favor of another age, and is a startling incident to come upon in the civilization of the nineteenth century. (The 29th of August, Faud Pacha ordered the sentence of death to be carried in effect; and on that morning 57 Mohammedans, and 110 of the Turkish soldiers and police,—among them a number of Bashibazouks—were shot. Why the difference in the number of the Turkish troops and the number of the Moslems was so large, I suspect the Moslems were all convicted were civilians; and that the soldiers were shot in deference to minority opinion or prejudice. Mahomedanism has a horrible dread of death by hanging, though strangulation by the slow-spring was the orthodox mode of punishing rebellious Pacha in the good old times, and the Moslems were one of the privileged classes of the corps of Janissaries, that would be beheaded, if the capital punishment was incurred, and as the sentence fell, a cannon was always fired from the ramparts. The omission of the starting salute, a sort of honor or booty to the corps, would have excited the volunteers in the ranks. Something of the military tradition may linger in the very small; so Faud Pacha cannot have been a soldier. But the execution of the the Ottoman Empire has been a horrible business, and a repetition of the massacres commences these executions, the Turkish authorities have condemned 3000 of the inhabitants of Damascus to serve in the army. Very zealous soldiers they are likely to be!

This sudden display of energy on the part of the Government of the Sultan rather spasmodic. What its permanent effect will be is uncertain. Some of the facts that reach us are ominous, and understanding these—in this instance the swiftness and severity of Turkish justice—there is no reason to suppose that the population has already excited a threatening disposition among the Mahomedans to rise up in rebellion to spread through the Empire. Everywhere can the Christian population be assured of safety. Even at Constantinople there is an uneasy feeling, but there is a general revival of fanaticism in all the Mahomedan races of the East. The Sultan is denounced as a traitor and a coward, a traitor to Islam, a coward in the face of the British fleet. A spectacle of war between four Christian nations for the "integrity of Turkey," appears to have produced the opposite effect from that which was anticipated. Throughout the East the English and French armies are still believed only to have been the troops of the sultans of the sublime Porte; and the demand of concessions to the Christians, that we place them on an equality with the Moslem, made after the manner of the Sultan, is regarded as an outrage upon the "faith."

The influence ignorance of the Orient has needed in everything that relates to the East, is what we cannot conceive of. That some of the finest countries in the world should be cursed & misgoverned of such a people, without being strong; and resist all the teachings of experience. The western powers are 'but prop[er]ing up a rotten structure; they had better let it fall, and begin to lay the foundations, and build new on the foundation.

INCENDIARIES.—An attempt was made Wednesday morning to burn the new building erected by M. H. Cruikshank on several pieces of rich pine were placed near the corner of the House and fire applied to them. The smoke led to the conclusion that it was, fortunately, extinguished before any mischief was done
