Gen. Morgan.—It would seem, that the Yankees have little cause to boast even if they have captured Morgan, at the end of his recent successful raid through Indiana and Ohio.

Yankee lying.—It seems from an account kept of the different statements of Yankee papers to the various numbers of Morgan's men which they say were captured at various times and places, that they have been again exercising some of their forty-horse-power lying.

The New York Tribune publishes a letter from Richmond, stating that the late mission of Vice-President Stephens to Washington, was to prevail upon the Yankee Government to desist from arming negroes, or that they would retaliate by arming all the slaves of the South.

Whether this letter writer tells the truth or not, the suggestion is a good one, and unless the Yankee policy is changed, from the very necessity of the case, will be speedily acted upon.

We hope that while the country is being ransacked for horses and mules for the military service, the officers entrusted with the duty of procuring them, will not forget that the towns and cities contain many of the very best harness horses, which are almost exclusively used in pleasure carriages.

See the addition of land sale to advertisement of Messrs. Kirksey and Tatum, Administrators.

A New Company.

We call attention to the notice of Wiley P. Maxham, who is authorized to raise a new company for Col. J. L. Haxton's regiment.

Persons preferring to enlist in a new company, and secure the $50 bounty would do well to join at once, as it is probably the last opportunity.

On the 5th inst., by the Rev. R. G. Ragan, Mr. T. D. Byrum to Miss Sarah Nichols, all of this county.

Tap is a soldier and will soon leave his native land to be a prisoner from the Mississippi valley.

WEEKLY SYNOPSIS.

OF THE LATEST NEWS.

There seems to be a great dearth of news, since the fall of Vicksburg, and the repulse of the Yankees at Corinth. There are either no movements making, or else conducted with so much secrecy that the news of them does not get out, either by the tele-graph, or the reliable gentleman.

There has been another cavalry fight at Brandy Station, in which the Yankees were driven back several miles, with much heavier loss than the Confederates, which was only 60 or 70 killed and wounded.

A Military Court of Inquiry it is said is to meet at Montgomery on the 15th August to inquire into the cause of the surrender of Port Hudson and Vicksburg.

The city of New York will have to pay damage to the amount of $1,500,000, for property destroyed in the late riots.

The Yankees are going to attempt the enforcement of their draft in Kentucky. Whenever they do they will come to grief, even worse than in New York.

Morgan and his officers, since their capture in Ohio, have been sent to the Ohio penitentiary.

A gentleman recently from Washington says Meade's army has received no reinforcements, except a few negro regiments, and that many soldiers are going home, their time having expired.

The Confederacy of the 8th says: "A movement is on foot—we will not say where or by whom—from which we expect to hear glorious news in a short time.

A letter from Knoxville, Aug. 3d, says: "The bush-whackers have, in a great measure, quit their mischief. The Conscrip officers are enforcing the law in many places the citizens are organizing for local defence.

No more demonstration of consequence at Charleston, up to Saturday last, the enemy seem preparing for a desperate assault.

Dates from Morton, Miss., as late as August 8th, show that the Confederate guerrillas are already at work on the Mississippi, destroying Yankee boats and commerce, one boat was sunk and others disabled, and some dozen turned back.

A brother-in-law of Gen. Grant's named Dent, with several thousand stolen negroes, was captured near Lake Providence by Col. Johnson.

Dates from Mobile, as late as the 30th inst., state that persons lately from Vicksburg report that Gen. Grant had gone to supercede Meade in Virginia, and that Gen. McPherson takes command at Vicksburg.

When Grant encounters Gen. Lee, he will find a very different antagonist from Pemberton, and we doubt not the fortunes of war will be most wonderfully changed.

Consolidating at Charleston on the evening of the 10th was very severe.

Contagion is said to be raging terribly in portions of the Yankee army in Mississippi and Louisiana.

The Yankees, it is stated have hung a Mrs. Sanderson in Natchez, because she would not tell where her husband was.

Gen. Logan, a few days previous to the 10th inst., attacked a Yankee force of 700 strong, near Jackson, La., killing a large number, capturing 200 prisoners, all their artillery and commissary stores and wagons.

OBITUARY.

S. M. HEATON was born in the State of Georgia, thence he came with his parents when quite young to this county. He professed religion and joined the Baptist Church when 9 years of age, of which church he was a faithful member until his death which occurred at Vicksburg on the 2d of March, 1863, the day he was 28 years old. He was honest and upright in all his dealings, and thus he endeared himself to those who knew him.

After more than two years of a warfare severely equalled in the number, magnitude and fearful carnage of its battles a warfare in which your courage and fortitude have illustrated your country and earned not only gratitude at home but admiration abroad.

Unduly elated with their recent successes, they imagine that temporary reverses can quell your spirit, or shake your determination, and they are now gathering heavy masses for a general invasion, in the vain hope that by a desperate effort success may at length be reached.

You know too well, my countrymen, what they mean by success. Their malignant rage aims at nothing less than the extermination of yourselves, your wives and children. They seek to destroy what they cannot plunder. They propose as the spoils of victory that your lands shall be partitioned among the wretches whose atrocious cruelties stamped infamy on their government. They design to incite servile insurrection, and light the fires of incendiarism wherever they can reach your homes, and debauch the inferior race hitherto docile and contented, by promising indulgence of the vilest passions as the price of treachery.

Fellow citizens, no alternative is left you, but victory or subjugation, slavery and the utter ruin of yourselves, your families and your country. The victory is within your reach. You need but stretch forth your hands to grasp it. For this and all that is necessary is that those who are called to the field by every motive that can move the human heart, should promptly repair to the post of duty, should stand by their comrades now in front of the foe, and thus so strengthen the armies of the Confederacy as to ensure success.

The men now absent from their posts, would if present in the field, suffice to create a numerical equality between our forces and that of the invaders—and when with any approach to equality have we failed to be victorious? I believe that but few of these now absent are recruited by unwillingness to serve their country; but that many have found it difficult to resist the temptation of a visit to their homes and the loved ones from whom they have been separated; that others left for temporary attention to their affairs with the intention of returning and then shrink from the consequences of a violation of duty; that others again have left their posts from mere restlessness and a desire for change, even justifying the upbraidings of his conscience, by persuading himself that his individual service could have no influence on the general result.

These and other causes, (although far less disgraceful than the desire to avoid danger, or escape from the sacrifices of patriotism,) are nevertheless, grievous faults, and place the cause of our beloved country, and of everything we hold dear in imminent peril. I repeat that the men who now owe duty to their country, who have been called out and have not yet reported for duty, or who have absented themselves from their posts, are sufficient in number to secure us victory in the struggle now impending.

I call on you then my countrymen—to hasten to your camps, in obedience to the dictates of honor and duty, and summon those who have absented themselves without leave; who have remained absent beyond the period allowed by their furloughs, to repair without delay to their respective commands, and I do hereby declare that I grant a general pardon and amnesty to all officers and men within the Confederacy, now absent without leave, who shall with the least possible delay, return to their proper posts of duty; but no excuse will be received for any delay beyond twenty days after the first publication of this proclamation in the State in which the absence may be at the date of the publication. This amnesty and pardon shall extend to all who have been accused, or who have been convicted, and are undergoing sentence for absence without leave, or desertion, excepting only those who have been twice convicted of desertion.

Finally, I conjure my countrywomen—the wives, mothers, sisters, and daughters of the Confederacy—to use their all powerful influence in aid of this call, to aid one crowning sacrifice to those which their patriotism has so freely and constantly afforded on their country's altar, and to take care that none who owe duty in the field shall be sheltered at home from the disgrace of having deserted their duty to their families to their country and to their God.

Given under my hand, and the Seal of the Confederate States, at Richmond, this 1st day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

By the President: J. P. BENJAMIN, Secretary of State.

OFFICE COMDT. OF CONSCRIPTS, FOR ALA.

Talladega, Ala., Aug. 10, 1863.

In accordance with the above proclamation of His Excellency, the President of the Confederate States, I hereby invite all deserters and absentees without leave from the army, in the State of Alabama, to repair forthwith to one of the Camps of Instruction—Camp Buckner, near Talladega, or Camp Watts, near Nottulsgun—or else to give themselves up to the nearest enrolling officer, to be forwarded to their respective regiments or other corps.

All such deserters and absentees, (with the single exception mentioned by the President,) will be furnished with transportation to posts of duty—not in arrest, but fully and freely discharged from all proceedings against them for past delinquency.

Enrolling officers, and all others acting under orders from this office, are hereby instructed to suspend all proceedings against deserters and absentees for twenty days from the date of this order, to use every effort for its speedy and general circulation, and to afford every facility to men availing themselves of this opportunity to return to duty. And all good citizens are earnestly invited to cooperate in the same efforts.

"Let bygones be bygones," that past errors may be retrieved, and their memories lost in the honors of that brighter future, which, by the blessing of a just God, may speedily be ours and our country's, if every man will do his duty.

TALLADEGA, ALA., July 28th, 1863.

GEN'L ORDERS.

NO. 12.

I. The following notice from the Bureau of Conscription is published for the information of all concerned, particularly of enrolling officers:

NOTICE.

BUREAU OF CONSCRIPTION, Richmond July, 21st, 1863.

To answer numerous inquiries, and to correct errors not uncommon, the following notice is published to all concerned.

1. Under the recent call of the President extending the Conscription age, all substitutes have ceased to be valid, if the substitute be less than 45 years of age, and is not otherwise exempt by law.

2. Membership, unless as an officer of a regular company, is not to be substituted in the ranks of a regular company, actually in connection with the army, who have been duly credited.

3. Substitutes are not to be substituted in the ranks of a regular company, who have been duly credited, from any cause other than the expiration of war.

4. Applications for exemption on any ground whatever, must first be addressed to the local enrolling officer, who, if he has not power to act thereon, will refer them to higher authority, with report of the facts. All such addresses directed to higher authority will necessarily and invariably be referred back for local examination and report; and the application will thus have uselessly lost time and prolonged suspension.

Appeals against adverse decisions by local officers, will be forwarded by them for hearing, when any plausible ground of appeal is set forth.

(Signed) G. W. LAY, Lt. Col. A. A. O. Acting Chief of Bureau.

The exemption mentioned in the circular of the Bureau published above with regard to militia officers, is not applicable to this State. All militia officers not otherwise exempt are liable to conscription.

III. Medical officers engaged in the Conscription service in this State, are not authorized to extend leave of absence to officers or furloughs to soldiers.

IV. Par. III, General Order No. 12, from this office is hereby revoked.

V. Overseers entitled to exemption under the provisions of the Act of July 1st, 1863, upon presentation of the affidavit required by that Act, and the receipt of any bonded quarter Master, for the amount of five hundred ($500) dollars, will be exempted for twelve months from the date of the receipt by the commissioned enrolling officers of their respective districts, who will forward the receipt to this office. Enrolling Officers will be careful to give certificates of exemption, not of detail.

By order of MAJ. W. T. WALTHALL, G. A. GARY, 1st Lt. and Adj't.

The News.—The calm in the current of news still continues unbroken; No army movements of importance in any quarter to note, except the indications that the Yankees are gathering all their resources and strength for another desperate assault upon Charleston.

Our readers may expect stirring news from that point in a very few days. There are said to be a majority of six of the Northern Congress elected, opposed the administration, but that the majority are in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war.

A direct conflict of authority on the question of the draft, has occurred between Lincoln and the Gov. of New York which threatens more serious consequences than any that has preceded it. It is thought if the draft is commenced again, (upon which which Lincoln seems thoroughly determined,) in defiance of the protest of the Governor, a revolution is inevitable.

Persons recently from Vicksburg, assert that the disease which is sweeping off the Yankees is yellow fever.

Our readers may rest assured that every item of news of interest, up to within a day or two of the date of our paper will be given in our news summary.

Two hundred and eight Yankee prisoners arrived at Rome a few days ago, on the steamer Alferata, from Gadsden, captured by Col. Biffles at Union City, Tenn.

The Pope of Rome has written a very urgent letter to Arch Bishop Hughes, of New York, in favor of peace, which some of the papers say will have as much influence to bring about that result, as would a recognition of the Southern Confederacy by any European power.

We are much gratified to see the statement that Gen. Price has not resigned, but is still in command of his division beyond the Mississippi.

We are glad to see the opinion expressed by the Montgomery Advertiser, that the fears regarding a union element in the Legislature, are to a considerable extent groundless. We will publish a list of members next week.

The exercises of the Jacksonville Female Academy, under the continued superintendence of Mrs. CALDWELL and Miss WOODWARD, will be resumed on Monday the 31st inst. Advertisement containing terms, &c. will be published next week.

WEDDED.—On the 12th inst., by L. W. Cannon, Esq., at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. P. C. Lester to Miss SARAH ANDERSON, all of Calhoun county.

Mr. J. F. Grant—A letter has been received here by flag of truce, from Y. A. Brock, of Co. D, 10th Ala. Reg dated Gettysburg, Penn., July 11, 1863, from which I send you the following extracts, knowing the information will be interesting to the friends of the parties named:

"My wound is doing as well as could be desired. B. G. McClellan, H. K. Reynolds, and Wm. Weaver are with me; all wounded. Jack Clark staid with us to wait on his brother Sam. Sam lived only until the 8th inst. The balance of the boys are doing well. We get good attention and treatment. We are yet where our brigade left us, (in an old barn.)"

No mention is made of any one else. I have not heard a word from Col. Forney, or any one else, save the above. The Alabama hospitals are emptied, and cleaning and purifying to be ready for the next battle. C. J. CLARK.

DIED.—On the 11th inst., of diphtheria, near Cross Plains, Joseph H. McMichael, son of Mrs. B. McMichael, in the 9th year of his age. A few weeks before his death he became impressed with the necessity of prayer, and was frequently seen by his mother in that attitude. On his death bed, he gave evident assurances of his acceptance with his Saviour, and that God had pardoned his sins on earth. His funeral was largely attended by friends and schoolmates. The writer was intimately acquainted with little Joseph, and knows that during his attendance in the school-room, that his conduct was exemplary in the highest degree: kind, obliging, and pleasant in his intercourse with his schoolmates, he was truly a model boy. Grieve not mother and sisters for your beloved one; for God in his Providence has taken him his bosom on High, where tranquility and happiness forever reign. Peace to his remains. G. I. A.

To Miss—Thy soul is pure, thy heart free from guile; In those pure eyes love, on those lips a smile, Which I love with inexorable love, And no earthly away can ever that love remove. Though I may never win your devotedness, If not I'll be plunged in a sea of loneliness; For always when thou art absent, my heart is sad.

Always when I meet you, my heart is glad; Always when you speak kind, I'm in bliss, And when unkind my heart is filled with wretchedness.

The cause for which, I cannot tell you, Unless 'tis love that's termed true.

J. A. JONES.

Oxford, Ala., August 4th, '63.

"The fairest flower must fade."

DIED.—In this place, on Wednesday, the 12th inst., Lucy Ann, only daughter of Jno. H. and Mary D. Caldwell, aged 4 years, and 6 months. A light from our household gone, A voice we loved is stilled, A place is vacant at our hearth Which never can be filled; A gentle heart that throbb'd but now With tenderness and love, Has hush'd its voice, its robings here To breathe in bliss above. Yes to the home where angels are, Her trusting soul has fled; And yet we bend above the tomb, With tears, and call her dead, We call her dead—but ah! we know, She dwells where living waters flow.

TO THE SOLDIERS OF THE CONFEDERATE STATES.

After more than two years of a warfare scarcely equalled in the number, magnitude and fearful carnage of its battles; a warfare in which your courage and fortitude have illustrated your country and attracted not only gratitude at home but admiration abroad, your enemies continue a struggle in which our final triumph must be inevitable. Unduly elated with their recent successes, they imagine that temporary reverses can quell your spirit, or shake your determination, and they are now gathering heavy masses for a general invasion, in the vain hope that by a desperate effort success may at length be reached.

You know too well, my countrymen, what they mean by success. Their malignant rage aims at nothing less than the extermination of yourselves, your wives and children. They seek to destroy what they cannot plunder. They propose as the spoils of victory that your homes shall be partitioned among the wretches whose atrocious cruelties stamped infamy on their government. They design to incite servile insurrection, and light the fires of incendiarianism wherever they can reach your homes, and debauch the inferior race hitherto docile and contented, by promising indulgence of the vilest passions as the price of treachery. Conscious of their inability to prevail by legitimate warfare, not daring to make peace lest they should be hurled from their seats of power, the men who now rule in Washington refuse even to confer on the subject of putting an end to the outrages which disgrace our age, or listen to a suggestion for conducting the war according to the usages of civilization.

Fellow citizens, no alternative is left you, but victory or subjugation, slavery and the utter ruin of yourselves, your families and your country. The victory is within your reach. You need but stretch forth your hands to grasp it. For this and all that is necessary is that those who are called to the field by every voice that can move the human heart, should promptly repair to the post of duty, should stand by their comrades now in front of the foe, and thus so strengthen the armies of the Confederacy as to ensure success. The men now absent from their posts, would if present in the field, suffice to create a numerical equality between our forces and that of the invaders—and when with any approach to equality have we failed to be victorious? I believe that but few of those now absent are actuated by unwillingness to serve their country; but that many have found it difficult to resist the temptation of a visit to their homes and the loved ones from whom they have been separated; that others left for temporary attention of their affairs with the intention of returning and then shrunk from the consequences of a violation of duty; that others again have left their posts from mere restlessness and a desire for change, each quieting the upbraidings of his conscience, by persuading himself that his individual service could have no influence on the general result.

These and other causes, (although far less disgraceful than the desire to avoid danger, or escape from the sacrifices of patriotism,) are nevertheless, grievous faults, and place the cause of our beloved country, and of everything we hold dear in imminent peril. I repeat that we men who now owe duty to our country, who have been called out and have not yet reported for duty, or who have absented themselves from their posts, are sufficient in number to secure us victory in the struggle now impending.

I call on you then my countrymen to hasten to your camps, in obedience to the dictates of honor and duty, and summon those who have absented themselves without leave; who have remained absent beyond the period allowed by their furloughs, to repair without delay to their respective commands, and I do hereby declare that I grant a general pardon and amnesty to all officers and men within the Confederacy, now absent without leave, who shall with the least possible delay, return to their proper posts of duty; but no excuse will be received for any delay beyond twenty days after the first publication of this proclamation in the State in which the absence may be at the date of the publication. This amnesty and pardon shall extend to all who have been accused, or who have been convicted and are undergoing sentence for absence without leave, or desertion; excepting only those who have been twice convicted of desertion.

Finally, I conjure my countrywomen—the wives, mothers, sisters, and daughters of the Confederacy—to use their all powerful influence in aid of this call, to bid one crowning sacrifice to those which their patriotism has so freely and constantly afforded on their country's altar, and to take care that none who owe duty in the field shall be sheltered at home from the disgrace of having deserted their duty to their families to their country and to their God.

Given under my hand, and the Seal of the Confederate States, at Richmond, this 1st day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

By the President: J. P. BENJAMIN, Secretary of State.

OFFICE COMD'Y OF CONSCRIPTS, FOR ALA. Talladega, Ala., Aug. 10, 1863.

In accordance with the above proclamation of His Excellency, the President of the Confederate States, I hereby invite all deserters and absentees without leave from the army, in the State of Alabama, to repair forthwith to one of the Camps of Instruction—Camp Buckner near Talladega, or Camp Wain, near Notsalu—or else to give themselves up to the nearest enrolling officer to be forwarded to their respective regiments or other corps.

All such deserters and absentees (with the single exception mentioned by the President,) will be furnished with transportation to posts of duty—not arrested, but fully and freely discharged from all proceedings against them for past delinquency.

Enrolling officers, and all others acting under orders from this office, are hereby instructed to suspend all proceedings against deserters and absentees for twenty days from the date of this order, to use every effort for its speedy and general circulation, and to afford every facility to men availing themselves of this opportunity to return to duty. And all good citizens are earnestly invited to cooperate in the same efforts.

"Let bygones be bygones," that past errors may be retrieved, and their memories lost in the honors of a brighter future, which, by the blessing of a just God, may speedily be ours and our country's, if every man will do his duty.

TALLADEGA, ALA., July 23rd, 1863.

GEN'L ORDERS.

NO. 19.

I. The following notice from the Bureau of Conscription is published for the information of all concerned, particularly of enrolling officers.

BUREAU OF CONSCRIPTION, Richmond July, 21st, 1863.

To answer numerous inquiries, and to correct errors not uncommon, the following notice is published to all concerned.

1. Under the recent call of the President extending the Conscription age, all substitutions have ceased to be valid, if the substitute be less than 45 years of age, and is not otherwise exempt by law.

2. Membership, unless as an officer duly accepted by the War Department of local organizations for home defence, or special service, confers no claim to exemption from (confederate service) neither does service in the militia, unless in case of officers actually in commission who have been duly qualified.

3. Hereafter any one furnishing a substitute will become liable in his own persons, whenever the services of the substitute are lost to the government from any cause other than the casualties of war.

4. Applications for exemption on any ground whatever, must first be addressed to the local enrolling officer, who, if he has not power to act, or is in doubt, will refer them to higher authority, with report of the facts. All such addressed direct to higher authority will necessarily and invariably be referred back for local examination and report; and the application will thus have uselessly lost time and prolonged suspense.

Appeals against adverse decisions by local officers, will be forwarded to them for hearing, when any plausible ground of appeal is set forth.

(Signed) G. W. DAY, Lt. Col. A. A. G.

Acting Chief of Bureau.

II. The exemption mentioned in the circular of the Bureau published above, with regard to militia officers, is not applicable to this State. All militia officers of other wise exempt are liable to conscription.

III. Medical officers engaged in the Conscription service in this State, are not authorized to extend leave of absence to officers or furloughs to soldiers.

IV. Par. III, General Order No. 12, from this office is hereby revoked.

V. Oversees entitled to exemption under the provisions of the Act of May 1st, 1863, upon presentation of the affidavit required by that Act; and the receipt of any bonded Quarter Master, for the amount of five hundred ($500) dollars, will be exempted for twelve months, from the date of the receipt, by the commissioned enrolling officers of their respective districts, who will forward the receipt to this office. Enrolling officers will be careful to give certificates of exemption, not of detail.
