The Cotton Tax—Movement of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.
 At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of Memphis several days since, the following correspondence was read:
 MEMPHIS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE }
 MEMPHIS, TENN., Nov. 3, '66
 To Hon. Reverdy Johnson, Baltimore:

SIR:—I have seen in the newspapers a short communication from you, expressing the opinion that the law of Congress imposing a tax of three cents per pound on cotton, was unconstitutional, &c.
 The Chamber of commerce in this city have it in contemplation, to propose to like associations of other cities, to raise a fund for the purpose of employing an attorney and testing the questions before the supreme court of the United States. As they would not wish to make an unfortunate or fruitless effort in the premises, they would, in a great measure, be governed by your opinion of the result, and if not incompatible, I would be glad to know if you still entertain the same opinion as that referred to. If so, I would thank you to indicate the fee and terms on which you would conduct and argue the case. A test case could be arranged here, and probably by agreement with the United States district attorney, carried before the supreme court at an early day. I am sir,
 Your obedient servant,
T. A. NELSON, President.
 BALTIMORE, Nov. 7, 1866.

SIR:—Yours of the 3d is received. The opinion to which you refer, that I expressed as to the unconstitutionality of the cotton tax, I still entertain. As to the question, it seems to me to be so free of difficulty, when it is well understood, that I shall have every hope of bringing the supreme court to the same conclusion if I argue it before them.
 Very respectfully your obedient serv't,
 REVERDY JOHNSON.

On the reading of the above, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, In view of the opinion expressed by eminent legal gentlemen, that the tax of three cents per pound on cotton, which is now being paid by the producers, is unconstitutional and illegal, therefore Resolved, That a committee of three members of the Memphis chamber of commerce, be appointed to make the necessary arrangements, and employ attorneys to test the legality of said law, provided, a sufficient sum can be raised by subscription to pay such retaining, and contingent fee as may be necessary to insure the services of Hon. Reverdy Johnson, and some other eminent legal gentlemen
 Resolved, That said committee solicit the co-operation of other chambers of commerce in raising subscription from the cotton growers in the different sections of the country.

Railroad Accident.
 A correspondent of the Selma Messenger, in giving an account of the recent accident on the Ala. & Tenn. R. Railroad, by which one man, Mr. Gilman Finley of Bibb county, was killed, and several others badly wounded, concludes with the following statement of the condition of the road:

I cannot close this communication without condemning the management of the lessee. He leased the road, as the people generally thought, for the purpose of putting it in good repair and completing the connection to Dalton. As yet there has not been a new coach put on the road, not a piece of new iron has replaced the old and badly worn, and but precious little repair has been done on the road. The lessee, instead of purchasing cross-ties and replacing the broken and rotten ones with them, got into a squabble with the men who were making these nine feet ties, about the price. The Breed company wanted the ties at thirty-five cents apiece, if I have been rightly informed, when the makers demanded fifty cents. The company refused to buy them, hoping, perhaps, to force the makers to their terms by this means but after a trial of a few months, failed in their object, and are now putting in about two hundred cross-ties to the mile! They might just as well put in none at all.
 The road is now, with their seventeen mile schedule, exceedingly dangerous; and to prove this, I need but say the down passenger as well as the up passenger yesterday ran off near this place. The road between this point and Selma is in wretched order and unless repairs are speedily and well made, the life of all riding over the road will be in constant danger. The only way for these evils to be corrected is for the Selma press to warn the travelling public of the great danger and wretched condition of the road. If the lessees are unable to put it in repair and proper order they should not receive public patronage. If the injured parties will sue for damages and make the lessee pay fifty or one hundred thousand dollars, perhaps he will put the road in safe order.

Prices Tumbling.
 From the Cincinnati Gazette, 13th.]

From every quarter we have advices of declining markets, for almost every article of produce. All speculative feeling is for the time suspended, and operators act as if the markets were believed to be bottomless. In New York, yesterday, beef cattle sold at about what they cost in Kentucky, and hogs brought less than they were bought for in Chicago or Cincinnati. Mess pork, which two weeks ago sold as high as $35, is down to $24 75; lard has fallen from 22c. to 14c. for prime; flour, wheat rye, corn oats, etc., have been falling steadily, though still comparatively high. Dry goods are also declining, as are also groceries, and finally fancy railroad stocks, which were going up rapidly a few days ago, are tumbling.

This news from New York has its effect of course, throughout the west, and the great leveling process is everywhere experienced.
 Our dispatches from Lexington, the great stock market of Central Kentucky reported a decline in sheep yesterday from 6c. to 4½c; hogs from 8c 5a6c; cattle from 7a8 to 5a6; horses twenty per cent, and mules $14 per head.

There is a bottom to the markets, of course, and the indications are that it will soon be reached. The practice of hoarding produce which was rendered practicable by the abundance and cheapness of money, rendered this break in the market inevitable. To such a point had values been carried that exports were not only checked, but we were actually re-importing leading articles of produce from England. Now the tables are turned, and our foreign exports are increasing.

But money being plenty, the probability is that a violent reaction will take place, and capitalists will again attempt to monopolize stocks and force prices up, compelling consumers and producers to unite in paying the bidder. It will not be so easy to do this, however, as it was a year ago. Within the last six months hoarding produce has not paid. Within the last sixty days it has certainly proved a disastrous business.

And now let consumers see that they get the advantage of the decline. Let them bear in mind when they go to their butcher, their baker or their grocer, that there has been a pretty general decline in prices recently; that hogs have fallen thirty-three per cent; beef in proportion, and that flour is full a dollar a barrel lower than it was a week ago.

A SENSIBLE HUSBAND.—The Marioposa (Cal.) Gazette, of the 23d ult., relates the following:—E. G. Hall, of Hornitos, killed a Chinaman on Friday of last week, under very peculiar circumstances. He heard a noise in his hen-house, and got up and went there, when he met a Chinaman in the very act of stealing his chickens. In the attempt to seize the fellow, Hall accidentally got one hand in the Chinaman's mouth. With the other he seized hold of his cue, and twisted it around his neck, and hung on. The severe biting of his hand caused Hall to faint. Mrs. Hall, thinking her husband was gone rather longer than was necessary, and fearing that something bad happened, went to the chicken-house, where she found Hall and the Chinaman on the ground; the former had fainted, the latter had choked to death. It required considerable effort to pry open the dead Chinaman's mouth to relieve Hall's hand. This was one of the strangest deadly encounters we ever recollect hearing of.

Introduction of Shad in Southern Rivers.
 Dr. W. C. Darrell, writing from Savannah to the editor of the Southern Medical and Surgical Journal, says:—
 "I am gratified to say that I have fully established the White Shad in the Alabama River, where they are as large and as fine as our own shad."
 "Now that it has become a fixed fact that the shad prosper at the mouth of the Alabama we may readily infer that they will equally prosper at the mouth of the Mississippi River, and probably of all the rivers discharging into the Gulf of Mexico. I hope to test this another year. I would have done so this Spring, but that my fishermen disappointed me. As soon as I was satisfied that there were distinctive, though minute, differences between the shad of Savannah and the Ogeechee Rivers, I felt confident of establishing the White Shad in the Alabama River.—These differences were pointed out by our fisherman in 1846, and in 1848 I planted the so-called eggs in a small tributary of the Etowah, and in 1851 or '52 the fish were taken in the traps at Wetumpha and Tusculum.

speculation, and it were far better to wait for positive information, for the message itself. It will be remembered that in the many speeches which the President made in his late trip North-west he said he had to new policy to announce, and that his future could be best indicated by his past course.

George D. Prentice.
Mr. Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, thanks the members of the press for their kind notices during his late illness in the eloquent language following:
Our heartfelt thanks are due to every many of our brethren of the press for their very kind notices of us during our late illness. Their sympathy soothed and cheered and strengthened us. It seemed to throw a calm and lovely light upon the world, and made us wish to linger still among our fellow-men. There is much that is beautiful and holy and hallowing in sickness. Its influences are purer and better than those of health. Indeed, the feebleness of the body is often the health of the soul. We see and hear what we may not in the season of our physical strength. Myriads of spirits of the air flutters over the dividing line between two worlds, uttering to mortal beings the tones they have learned in Heaven. As we move downward upon the sombre and mysterious pathway that leads to the door of the tomb, we behold as from the depths of a shadowy well or cavern, the pale serenity of floating stars, all invisible in the glare and sunshine of the upper air, and their sacred and best light never fades from the spirit.

M. Taul, Esq. of Talladega, was yesterday elected Secretary of State, for two years. Messrs. Dalton, Clark and Ogburne having withdrawn, the contest was reduced to Messrs. Taul and Britton; and on the last ballot the vote stood for Taul 65; for Britton 54.
Ado. Nov. 21th.

The articles of impeachment are actually drawn, and have been submitted to some legal adviser of the Radical party. They were drawn by Mr. Bingham, of Ohio. They will be offered. But a change is coming over the Northern commercial interest in regard to the Radical programme. They will resist the impeachment of the President because it will necessarily produce much financial destruction, and if it result in his deposition, will set the Mexican example of chronic revolution in the Executive power.

A Beautiful Meteor.
About four o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, the 20th inst., a meteor that lighted the whole heavens, was seen in the vicinity of Rome, moving rapidly in a westerly direction. It appeared like a fire ball, and as large as the sun. It exploded in the direction of Coosa, apparently, eight or ten miles from here, with a tremendous report, like that of a forty pound cannon; that shook the earth so as to make the windows of the houses rattle. This may be more drop of the shower that was expected a few days before. We hope to hear more definitely about the explosion and would like very much to get one of the fragments. These Aerolites are great curiosities, and if any parts of this meteor should be found, we will be very much obliged to any friend who will send us a specimen.

BURNING OF THE STEAMER HENRY VON PHIL.
The steamer Henry Von Phil, Capt. J. F. Hicks, on her way from Memphis to New Orleans, with 2465 bales of cotton on board, caught fire yesterday morning, at half-past three o'clock, six miles above Donaldsonville. The fire was supposed to have originated in the wash room. When the boat was known to be on fire she was run ashore, and all of the passengers—about 160 in number—and crew, with the exception of nine, were saved. We learn that an old gentleman and his son who were on their way to Texas, were sick in their state-room, and perished in the flames.

From the time the boat was known to be on fire, until she was a complete wreck, was not more than thirty minutes. Passengers and crew lost all their baggage, and about ninety of them came to this city at 6 o'clock last evening on steamer Avenger (formerly a U. S. gunboat).—N. O. Bulletin, 14th.

Interesting Review of the Situation in Europe.
New York, Nov. 7.—A recent Constantinople letter gives the following account of the Eastern question:
There is now no prospect of the reopening of the Eastern question in general. There will be active interference in favor of the Christians in India, but it will be with the object of putting off the Eastern question instead of opening it. England and France are agreed upon this point. Neither of these powers are ready for any general cleaning out in Turkey. Both fear that Russia would gain what is lost by Turkey, and both are of the opinion that Russia is strong enough already. If Lord Lyons had been removed to Paris as was reported last week, it would have given color to the report of the European press, especially as Monsieur has just been called from Constantinople, to be Minister of Foreign Affairs. But Monsieur is really opposed to any revival of the Eastern question. This is so well known here, that when he went to Athens, on his way to Paris, the mob would have torn him to pieces if they had dared to do so; as it was, they howled and hissed at him, cursed him, and called him every uncomplimentary name known in the Greek and French.

The Russian Embassy here is uniting in his efforts to stir up a difficulty in European Turkey, to encourage the Cypriotes, and to force this question upon England and France. It is true also that the Russian agents here and elsewhere are doing everything in their power to bring the United States into the question. All the stories about the United States Government desiring to purchase an island on the coast of Turkey, originated from this source, and our Government knows very well that one of the most desirable islands for a station is at our disposal whenever we choose to accept as a free gift. People do not give away islands without an object, however in this case the object is to make the power of the United States felt in Greece and Turkey. The Turks are already alarmed about the United States, and are on the point of sending an Embassy to the United States to cultivate friendly relations and head off Russia, and by the way, the announcement of this intention has caused great excitement in Greece, where it is proposed to send a Greek Embassy to the United States at once in a direct rebuff to the Turkish Embassy.

DESTROYING THE CONSTITUTION.—One of the methods resorted to by the Radicals of Joliet, Ill., to show their delight at the recent election in that State, was burning the Constitution of the United States, which was done in open street, amid the most vociferous cheering from the crowd of partisans assembled. This shows where the teachings of summer and Stevens are leading the people.—Philadelphia Age.

OBITUARY.
Died, at his residence in Monroe County, N. Y., after a protracted and painful illness, John McCroskey, in the 70th year of his age.
The deceased was one of the earliest settlers of what was known as the Wisconsin purchase, the country embraced between the Little Tennessee and Tennessee rivers. Soon after the organization of Monroe County, he was elected sheriff and discharged the complicated and responsible duties of that office, for ten years, with credit to himself and to the satisfaction of the community.
He professed religion and joined the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, more than twenty years ago, and remained a consistent, faithful, zealous and useful member of that church, up to the time of his death.
He was a man of marked and decided traits of character, both as a citizen and a Christian. He was a man of high moral and religious principles, and was much respected by all who knew him. He was a man of high moral and religious principles, and was much respected by all who knew him.

POETRY.

[From the Home Journal.]
PASSING OVER JORDAN.

BY P. B. MARVIN.
Hark! I hear the hurp eternal Ringing on the further shore,
As I near those swelling waters,
With their deep and solemn roar.
And my soul, though stained with sorrow,
Fading as the light of day,
Is passing swiftly o'er those waters,
To the city far away.
Souls have passed before me saintly,
To that land of perfect rest,
And I hear them singing faintly,
In the mansion of the blest.
Just beyond the river flasheth
Jehusidem of my God,
Where the white wave, rising, splasheth
On the shore by angels trod.
Stop! I see the boatman nearing;
See, the snowy sail is set,
And the oars are drifting idly,
And the sail is floating wet.
Call my father! call my mother!
Tell them that the boatman's here;
And another, oh! another,
Unto whom my soul was dear.
Call them quick, for I am passing Through the valley of the grave;
I am passing with the boatman,
O'er the deep and sullen wave.

A WONDERFUL HOBBY-HORSE.—The Washington Star mentions an automaton horse, invented by Wm. F. Godwin, of that city, for exhibition at the Paris Exposition. The contrivance is said to be very ingenious, and is worked by machinery inside. The horse, when wound up, will start off at a slow trot, for instance, drawing a considerable load, as a boy in a small wagon, and will move for thirty minutes, putting its feet down with all the vim of a regular 2:30 trotter.

A NEW SWINDLE.—The New Lisbon, Ohio, Buckeye State says:
A newly married couple, in bridal costume, recently stopped in this place to spend a few days of the honeymoon. The groom borrowed $20 of an accommodating gentleman, and then mysteriously disappeared. The bride wept and tore her hair at this being left with out money and without friends, and the sympathizing inhabitants of our town contributed liberally for her relief, about one hundred dollars being donated. She then disappeared, and it has since transpired that the promising couple had played the same game in several other towns in the State.

Queen Victoria Replies to a Suitor.
Soon after the death of Prince Albert the sooty Emperor Theodoros, of Abyssinia, hearing of that melancholy event, and moved probably by sympathy for the unfortunate widow, sent to Queen Victoria a formal proposal of marriage. The offer was treated with silent contempt. His sable Majesty, after waiting some time, came to the conclusion that he was intentionally insulted, and, out of revenge, seized the principle Englishmen then within his dominions. By the latest accounts there is reason to fear that all the prisoners, as well as an envoy sent out to their succor, have been put to death.—Queen Victoria has been induced to dispatch, to her savage suitor an autograph letter, in the hope of securing the release of the subjects if they are not already released by death.

What Next?—And Next?

"What use will the Radicals make of their victory, now they have won it?" is discussed by the New York "World."
After passing over the veto of the President, their civil rights bill, and their freedmen's bureau bill, they could proceed no farther except by proposing amendments to the constitution. But amendments being nullities till ratified by three-fourths of the States, the resistance of the South is more effective in respect to them than, than the presidential veto is in respect to ordinary laws. The veto can be overcome by two-thirds of both houses, but the negative of thirteen States, (Kentucky, Maryland and Delaware make up the thirteen) on a proposed amendment, can in no way be overcome till the number of States reaches fifty-two—a larger number than we are ever likely to have.
The South, then has nothing worse to fear, as a consequence of the late elections, than a protracted exclusion from Congress. Negro suffrage cannot be forced on them except by an amendment to the Constitution, which they can checkmate. New penalties for treason are equally impossible, by the prohibition to pass ex post facto laws. The old penalties have been remitted by the President's proclamation of amnesty and his individual pardons. The State governments which have been formed in the South cannot be upset, because Congress never comes in contact with them except in judging of their competency to furnish credentials to members of that body. Congress having already done its utmost against the South, that section has nothing to fear in consequence of these elections beyond what it already suffers.

Congress being powerless to wreak additional vengeance on the South, will probably concentrate their hostility upon the President. If they could replace him by a Radical, they might admit the Southern representatives without endangering their power and thus escape the odium—an odium which will grow—of preventing a restoration of the Union. With every Southern senator and representative in his seat, the Radicals would still have a majority, both with this Congress and the next. But so long as we have a President disposed to veto their bills, they would surrender their power by admitting South. Excluded the Radicals are too strong for the veto; with the South admitted the veto would be too strong for them. If they could depose President Johnson their chief objection to the immediate restoration of the South would be the Southern vote in the presidential election.

It is also supposed that the Congress just elected will pass, in the winter of 1869, a joint resolution declaring that the Southern electoral votes shall not be counted. We quote:
"If they were insured against a veto, they could pass that or any other resolution they chose, even if the South were represented; but the inconsistency of admitting the Southern States to Congress, and at the same time excluding them from the presidential election, would be too damaging to be incurred. We may therefore be certain that whether the President be impeached or not, the South will be shut out of Congress till after the presidential election."

"There are two things which Congress may attempt against the President, but in each there is danger of a recoil against their party. One is to pass laws curtailing his patronage." The Philadelphia North American thus talks against the President:
"Though the whole remainder of his administration, President Johnson will be confronted by just such a Congress as the present one. Doubtless, he will now without entirely changing his policy make such fair seeming professions as may, in his estimation, lead the Republicans to hope for his return to their lines. We are of opinion that it ought to make no difference to any Republican member of Congress what profession the President may now see proper to make."

"The power lodged in the hands of Congress by the constitution should be used freely to take from the President the power he has abused, and to establish some permanent system of appointments to office, based on competitive examinations by appointing officers selected by some one else than Andrew Johnson. The general sentiment of the country now is to the effect that the autocratic power of the national Executive is fraught with peril to our liberties and free institutions, and ought to be reduced."

The World also discusses the possibility of impeachment as in the possible programme, and declares—

"An impeachment of the President would shake public credit, send up the price of gold like a rocket, and cause a suspension of business similar to that which took place in the winter of 1860 and '61, when the laboring classes in our cities were suddenly thrown out of employment. If Congress chooses to topple everything into confusion, and spread a ruinous Commercial panic over the country, their party will go down in the next Presidential election. If their malignity so far gets the better of their judgement as to impel them to impeach Mr. Johnson, the certain result will be a financial panic, followed by a tremendous reaction against its authors, and possibly by a civil war. But if they dare not force the recoil of an impeachment, what have they gained by their success in the elections? Nothing substantial, except their ability to pass a joint resolution forbidding the President of the Senate to count and declare the Southern electoral votes. But they cannot prevent the Southern States from choosing presidential electors; and if the candidate for whom those electors vote is really chosen, the Radicals will again have to face the possibility of a civil war. If Gen. Grant should run against Chief Justice Chase, and beat him by receiving the Southern votes, it would be an extra hazardous business to say that those votes should not be counted."

The Doctrine of State Suicide.

REVERDY JOHNSON made the following points against the Radical doctrine of State suicide in a recent speech in Maryland:

1. Congress recognizes the seceding States as States by the resolutions of July 22, 1861.
 2. By the act assigning them their quota of representatives.
 3. By the assent given, as required by the Constitution, to the division of Virginia; and in this connection is the fact that opinions affirming the validity and constitutionality of this act were given by all of Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet, including Chief Justice CHASE.
 4. By the act appropriating taxation amongst the States, and another extending the time of payment in the South.
 5. By the provision for the salaries of judges, marshals, district attorneys, and other officers.
 6. By the readjustment at the last session of the judicial circuits.
- Again, the judicial department is committed to their recognition as States—
1. By including them in their distribution of the judicial circuits made during the insurrection.
 2. By hearing and deciding cases on appeal to a writ of error from the courts of such States.
- The President is committed to it by his approval of the various acts of Congress referred to.
3. By the appointment of officials for these States, and the Senate by, confirming to appointments and by admitting the Senators from West Virginia.
- It is stated that for eleven months neither rain nor snow has fallen in Pekin and the greatest distress prevails in consequence in that part of China.

which they need not pay until it is known what is drawn and its value.
THE AMERICAN JEWELLERS' ASSOCIATION calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular Jewellery Association in the United States. The business is and always has been conducted in the most candid and honorable manner. Our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the appreciation of our patrons for this method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods. The sudden stagnation of trade in Europe, owing to the late German War and recent disastrous financial crisis in England, has caused the failure of a large number of Jewellery Houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrifice, in some instances less than one third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately purchased very largely of these bankrupt Goods at such extremely low prices, that we can afford to send away finer Goods, and give better chances to draw the most valuable prizes than any other establishment doing a similar business. OUR AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the last year we have forwarded a number of the most valuable prizes to all parts of the country. Those who patronize us will receive the full value of their money, as no article on our list is worth less than One Dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. Parties dealing with us may depend upon having prompt returns, and the article drawn will be immediately sent to any address by return mail or express. The following parties have recently drawn valuable prizes from the American Jewellers' Association, and have kindly allowed the use of their names:

Charles J. Hunter, Esq., Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., Piano, value $200; Miss Anna G. Yates, 52 St. Mark's Place, N. Y., Sewing Machine, value $75; Brig. Gen. L. L. Hanson, U. S. Army, New York, Tenn., Silver Tea Set, value $100; Emma Hunter, 62 Front St., Harrisburg, Pa., Sewing Machine, value $50; Lieut.-Col. C., Silver Watch, value $50; Alexander Johnson, Esq., Editor Mustard Pioneer, Mustard, Minn., Ladies' Enamelled Watch, value $150; Samuel Lee, Esq., President Columbia and Red Bank Mining Company, San Francisco, Cal., Melodeon, value $200; Aaron S. Manhood: How Lost, how Regained!

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the natural cure (without medicine) of Premature, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also Gonorrhea, Syphilis, and First, induced by self-indulgence, or sexual extravagance.

Price in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine, or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture, should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents. Address the publisher—

To the Afflicted.

DR. GEORGE W. LEACH proposes a new system of cure in place of the usual internal doses which enfeeble the stomach, poison the blood and endanger the life. He can be consulted at any time in Jacksonville, personally or by letter, giving name of the person, whether over or under 35 years of age and the disease. He cures cancers, wens, ulcers, scrofula, piles, diseases of the lungs, spine, kidneys, and some others; charging but a very small amount in advance, afterwards if no cure no pay. He has a number of testimonials of cure—has recently treated 11 cases of cancer, seven of which are entirely well and the others getting well.

To the Afflicted

DR. GEORGE W. LEACH proposes a new system of cure in place of the vast internal doses which entangle the stomach, poison the blood and endanger the life. He can be consulted at any time in Jacksonville, personally or by letter, giving name of the person, whether over or under 50 years of age, and the disease. He cures cancers, wens, ulcers, scrofula, piles, diseases of the lungs, spine, kidneys, and some others; charging but a very small amount in advance, afterwards if no cure no pay. He has a number of testimonials of cure—has recently treated 11 cases of cancer, seven of which are entirely well and the others getting well.
G. W. LEACH, Fifth Doctor.

Work for the Congress

"Mack" of the Cincinnati Commercial gives the following programme:

When Congress adjourned in July there were a number of important bills which had passed one House and were pending in the other. These, by a resolution adopted on the last day of the session, will take their places in the calendar of the approaching session in the stage at which they were at the time of adjournment. The most important of them are the Bankrupt Bill which passed the House and is ready for action in the Senate; the Tariff Bill which passed the House and was referred to the Senate Committee on Finance; the Negro Suffrage Bill for the District of Columbia, which was hurried in the Senate Committee on the District.

Then here half a dozen judiciary bills, and a large number of private claims involving millions of dollars; also one or two Pacific Railroad bills. There will be a strong effort to push the Bankrupt Bill to its final passage during the first week of the session. The Eastern influence in its favor is very great, and can hardly be overcome by the Western opposition evinced so far.

The Nashville Dispatch says a vicious dog belonging to Mrs. Judge Catron, of that city, sometime ago bit a man named Adolphus S. Dodd, painfully lacerating his leg. He brought suit, laying his damages at $250.—The case was tried last Monday, and the plaintiff awarded $2,500.

Efforts are in progress for the discovery and possession by the lawful heirs of the will of Joseph Wilson, formerly of Yorkshira, England, deceased—a document which is said to entail the title of the city of Leeds, in England, a place of 200,000 inhabitants, valued at $185,000,000, in which a large number of persons in America are interested.

The search is prosecuted principally through the agency of G. R. Gladding Esq., of Providence, one of the heirs who believes that the will is in the hands of the Ingrahams of the West, who are largely interested.

A FAREWELL to JOHNSON'S Island.—Mr. Editor: I send you for publication a few lines of poetry, penciled by an unknown hand upon a wall of one of the prison buildings at Johnson's Island. It will doubtless prove interesting to those who have been inmates of that prison; nor will it, it is hoped, fail to strike the eyes and move the hearts of those who have friends that rest beneath the soil of that Lake-girdled Isle: Hoarse sounding billows of the white-capped lake.

That's not the barriers of our hated prison—lake! Farewell! Farewell! thou giant inland sea! Thou, too, subvert the modes of tyranny—Girdling this Isle, washing its lonely shores With moaning echoes of thy melancholy roar Farewell, thou lake! Farewell! thou inhospitable land!

Thou hast the curses of this patriot land! All, save the spot the holy sacred bed, Where rest in peace our Southern warriors dead!

The Price of Cotton.

The price of Cotton, at present and in the future, is a matter of deep interest to all of our people. We copy the following remarks upon the subject from the money article in the last Memphis Avalanche:

The accounts from New York are not at all favorable, with no sales of cotton except in small lots to fill order, with only light shipments. The depressed state of the market cannot last much longer. A reaction will come, sooner or later, which will be in favor of the great staple of our country. The Liverpool market, at last reports, was steady with middling uplands at 14-18d. The stock on hand in Liverpool and on shipboard was very small, only sufficient to supply them until the first of January. The New York market governs the Liverpool market, when formerly the Liverpool market held the sway. The unsettled condition of the money market has influenced the cotton market and all other leading commodities. The factors and spinners are working on short time, and confine their purchases to weekly consumption. This is caused on account of the large stock of manufactured cotton goods on hand. We feel assured the crop of 1867 will not exceed 1,260,000 bales. The new staple for the past month has been pushed into market with vigor. The entire country has been exhausted for the purpose of obtaining money to restock plantations laid waste by the ravages of war while the increased rates of labor demanding cash, have absorbed every dollar in the planting sections of the country. To obtain the required funds nearly every pound of cotton raised this year has been drawn against, and we fear many planters will be compelled to renew their obligations, and start in on their next growing crop as they did this year. The North, in anticipation of immense sales to the depleted marts and agricultural districts of the South, have imported largely, to pay for which cotton has been shipped to Europe, for goods that are yet on hand in Northern cities—an immense amount of them. The procedure has glutted the Liverpool market and depleted that of New York. Now the Eastern manufacturer comes into the market for supplies that he has avoided purchasing, merely furnishing himself with a weekly supply, hoping by this means to make a light demand. The effort to depress cotton in America has been a shrewd trick of the "bulls" and "bears" of New York as also of the moneyed men in the Liverpool market, in which they have succeeded, we feel assured beyond their most sanguine expectations. Cotton may react a cent or two, but its ultimate will be an advance on present prices, with a permanence of character that will confirm its influence.

A NEW PARTY IN NEW ENGLAND.—Says the New York Times:

"We venture to predict that a party will be developed in New England, opposed to the readmission of the Southern States into Union at all. There is already a very strong conviction within those six compact and ambitious little commonwealths, that the Union can be better governed, and will be really more homogeneous and better adapted to their purposes, without the South within it."

Treason and Confiscation.

There are very confused ideas abroad concerning treason and confiscation. Many suppose, that a proclamation declaring certain citizens in certain States rebels and traitors, makes them so. And an Act of Congress, pronouncing that the property of these citizens shall be confiscated, accomplishes the confiscation. These are great errors.

Treason to be efficacious against any citizen, must be brought home to him by a trial and conviction must be by a jury, sitting in the State and district where the treason was committed. The Constitution of the United States says, in 3d Article, 3d Section: "Treason against the United States shall consist only of levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies—giving them aid and comfort."

In the 3d Article, 2d Section—"The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trial shall be held in the State where the said crimes shall be committed."

The States were not satisfied with the clause in the Constitution, and proposed the following amendment, Article 6, which was adopted: "In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defence."

The 5th amended Article prescribes: "That no person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury."

The course of proceedings then in treason, appear to be this: 1. The indictment for treason must be laid before a grand jury. 2. If a true bill is found by the grand jury, he must be speedily and publicly tried by an impartial petit jury, in the State and district where the treason is alleged to have been committed. 3. He shall be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation. 4. Be confronted with the witnesses against him. 5. Have compulsory process to obtain witnesses in his favor. 6. Have the assistance of counsel. 7. And at the trial, shall have the right of challenging those who are to compose the jury—twenty-one peremptorily, and as many more as he can show cause, from any expressions or acts, are not impartial. And finally, when the trial comes off, the whole petit jury, (twelve in number)—must agree as to the criminality of the accused, or he must be acquitted. If one man on the petit jury, thinks the accused not guilty, he is entitled to a verdict to that effect.

These are the forms by which all person accused of treason, by the United States, are to be tried. If fairly carried out, it requires no ghost to help us to predict that no citizen of the Southern States, on account of the late war, will ever be convicted of treason against the United States.

And threats of confiscation are as terrorless as threats of treason. As a punishment for treason, the Constitution expressly prohibits it. It says, Article 3, Section 3: "No attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attainted." It is plain, from this clause of the Constitution, that even if a man should be convicted of treason his property could not be taken by the Government only during his life time. After his death (which is generally shortly after his conviction), it goes to his

The above styles are all finished in elegant Rosewood cases and have the full iron frame,
French action, harp pedal, beveled top, ivory manufactured. They are made of the best materials, and for finish, durability, purity and sweetness of tone, cannot be surpassed.

We invite the attention of the public, of dealers
and the profession, to a critical examination of the merits of our Pianos.
By avoiding the great expenses attendant upon costly factories and expensive warehouses in the city, we are enabled to offer these Pianos at prices which defy competition, and invite all to call and examine them before purchasing elsewhere. Parties ordering from a distance can rely upon receiving their Pianos promptly, and no confusion can arise as the styles are so distinctly designated by the letters A B C D.
The four styles described above, embody
all the essential changes in exterior finish of cases, which are by many manufacturers run up to 15 and 20 patterns.

To the Afflicted

DR. GEORGE W. LEACH proposes a new system of cure in place of the usual internal doses which enfeeble the stomach, poison the blood and endanger the life.
He can be consulted at any time in Jacksonville, personally or by letter, giving name of the person, whether over or under 35 years of age, and the disease. He cures cancers, wens,

Manhood: How Lost, how Regained!

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHOEA,

or Seminal Weakness. Involuntary Seminal

Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, &c.; also Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits, induced

by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts.

The celebrated author, in this admirable

essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty

years' practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no

matter what his condition may be, may cure

himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture, should be in the hands

of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Also, Dr. Culverwell's

"Marriage Guide," price 25 cents. Address

Christmas Eve Supper!

In our last issue, we announced that the Ladies of the Presbyterian Church would give a Supper on the evening of Monday next, Christmas-Eve—the proceeds of which would go for the benefit of the Church at this place.

We hope the bare announcement will be sufficient to secure a large attendance. The Ladies of our Town, of all denominations, are proverbial for spreading a "bounteous board" on such occasions. Then let all the lovers of "good cheer" go and be abundantly satisfied—let the Christian man go and show forth a practical, tangible benevolence—let everybody go, men, women and children, and while enjoying a festival appropriate to the season, be conscious that they are contributing to a fund of charity and good will!

The supper will be given in the 'Kahn Buildings' east side of public square, Monday night, 24th inst. 7 o'clock. Tickets can be had at the Stores—admission one dollar—no half tickets.

The above will perhaps give our readers about as good an idea of the present Radical programme, as a column of comments, arguments or predictions could do.

Their plans of reconstruction are about like type, when thrown into what printers call pi, and thus far about as successful as the above specimen of reconstruction is in making syllables and words. Too ambitious, selfish and corrupt to adopt the plain, simple and equitable plan proposed by the President, they have totally failed, after near two years trial, to substitute one of their own; and having proven themselves incompetent to do good or build up, they are now, we are informed, about to prove themselves powerful in completing their work of mischief and destruction, by passing a bill declaring all the Southern States territories, to be governed by officers of their own choosing.

To return to our first figure, the printer's type thrown into pi—should the territorial bill pass, or the government get into war with France and England on the Mexican question, the whole government may be thrown into the fiery crucible, and be melted and remoulded in a new and far different form; as printers sometimes do, to avoid the slow and tedious process of reconstruction and distribution.

In the past we have often said but little, because we felt that argument was useless, complaint would be unheeded ed and opinion worthless; and we expect to do little more in the future, than to give our readers information of such measures, good or bad, as may be actually perfected.

NOON DISPATCHES.

From New York

New York, Dec. 14.—The New Orleans Riot Committee on Investigation, take a wide range, eliciting opinions as to what the loyalists' convention would have done, and the probability of electing Union men, and the possibility of another rebellion following a change of the form of government from a State to a territorial, not confining itself to incidents leading to and of riot. The Committee investigate animus sentiments and feelings of people.

The Postoffice Department has determined to discontinue offices at points where anti-rebellion postmasters refuse or neglect settlements.

From Washington.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Mr. Shellabarger, of Ohio, this morning presented a petition of Louisiana Loyalists, praying Congress to supersede the present State Government and secure them a republican form. The petition represents the present organization as anti-republican, because a majority of the citizens are disfranchised, and because loyal citizens are not adequately protected; that a large majority of the present voters are still rebels; that murders and persecutions of loyal men are increasing in frequency and turpitude, and that their lives, liberty and property are endangered.

This petition is signed by Gov. Wells, Chief Justice Hymn, Asst. Atty. Gen. Howell, George W. Kendall and several hundred others.

Mr. Julian offered a bill this morning of great length for the purpose of reorganizing the rebel States and restoring them to the Union—somewhat the same as Stevens' bill for North Carolina. Referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES!

Washington, Dec. 14.—The Supreme Court refused to open the test oath case and allow Sherwood, Hamilton and others to discuss it.

The house—passed the suffrage bill without debate.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The Stevens bill for North Carolina displaces Southern loyalists.

Ex-Governor Pease of Texas, speaking today to Senator Roberts of the same State, assured him with seeming triumph that when Congress acted it would be radical far beyond Mr. Stevens' proposition, or at least you and your friends will think so.

The gambol Senator, with Surratt is expected in four weeks.

The President has issued bonds and land patents provided for by law of the completion of twenty miles of the Western Pacific rail at beyond the rocky mountains.

Mr. Julian's territorializing bill was referred to the committee on territories.

Mr. Taylor introduced a bill allowing widows and orphans of missing soldiers bounty pay and pensions.

Mr. Deane offered a bill authorizing the Treasury to pay over to Law and Co., of New York, six thousand dollars, to run the steamer Republic, en route for New Orleans.

A spirited opposition against establishing such a precedent, but the bill passed 16 to 67.

The franchise bill was moved and passed, 47 to 46.

The message was taken up and discussed.

Adjourned till Monday.

SENATE.—The deficiency bill passed.

The question regarding the compensation of Tennessee Senators was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Ramsay introduced a bill making mechanical and agricultural scrip receivable for preemption claims. Referred to Committee on public lands.

From Washington.

Mr. Julian's bill providing for civil government in the districts lately in revolt against the United States, and for the restoration of said districts to their fortified rights as States in the Union is in substance, as follows:

Whereas, the people of the districts lately in revolt against the United States by their act of treason and rebellion against the same, have destroyed all civil government within their borders, and have no power to restore such government without the intervention of Congress.

Whereas, as the governments inaugurated in said districts by the President are de facto and provisional only, having no validity whatever, save in the countenance of a quiescence of Congress.

Whereas, restoration of civil government in said districts on just principles, and by authority of the nation, in imperative demand, by the lawless disposition of those people, and the best interests of the whole country. Therefore,

Section One provides that North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee and Virginia be, and are hereby created in a temporary and territorial governments, under the names by which they have therefore been known as States.

Section Second vests the executive power in each of said territories in a governor, who shall hold office—

years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the President, the governors of said territories to reside within the boundaries of the same, to command the military thereof, and exercise generally all the powers of governors of territories, including pardoning and veto powers.

Section Third provides for the appointment of a secretary for each of said territories, with the usual duties and authority.

Section Fourth provides that the legislative power be vested in the governor and legislative assembly, to consist of a Senate and House of Representatives, the members of which are to possess the qualifications prescribed for voters. Previous to the first election, the governor shall cause a census of the inhabitants to be made and fix the time and place for elections, the legislative assembly to meet within ninety days after the election.

Section Fifth provides that the Senators and Representatives shall be elected by loyal male citizens of the United States over 21, and residents of the county, parish, township or ward in which they offer to vote who shall take the oath of allegiance prescribed by Congress, July 2d, 1862; but no person who has held or exercised any office civil or military, State or Confederate under the rebel usurpation or who has voluntarily borne arms against the United States, shall vote, or be eligible to election at such election.

Section sixth authorizes the governor, by the advice and consent of the territorial legislature, to appoint a full officer of the territory not provided for in this bill and until the election of such legislature to make such appointments by himself.

Section Seventh provides courts and judicial machinery for the territories.

Section Eighth provides for the appointment of attorneys and marshals.

Section Ninth directs the Governor, Secretary, Chief Justice and Associate Justices, the Attorney and Marshal of each of these territories shall be nominated, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, be appointed by the President.

Section Tenth authorizes the seats of government to be fixed by the Legislature, and provides for the election of delegates to the House of Representatives of the United States from each territory by the voters qualified to vote for legislators.

Section Eleventh provides that the constitution and laws of the United States shall have the same force and effect in these territories as elsewhere in the United States.

Section Twelfth authorizes the people of said territories to form for themselves State governments under the names as before the rebellion, which are to be admitted equal with the other States of the Union.

Section Thirteenth Qualifications for voters for legislators are male qualifications of a territory entitled in the military and naval service of the United States are authorized to vote at places of service.

Section Fourteenth provides for the election and mode of conducting State Conventions.

London, Dec. 18.—one o'clock.—The President's message has reached here by steamer and is published in full.

It is variously commented upon by the press. Its statement in regard to the finances of the United States is a very well, but what it says in regard to the Fenians is considered rather weak and lame.

Senator Wade on Female Suffrage.

JEFFERSON, Ohio, Nov. 14, 1866.

Sum B. Anthony, Secretary American Equal Rights Association.

MADAM: Yours of the 9th inst., is received and I desire to say, in reply, that I am now and ever had been the advocate of equal and impartial suffrage to all citizens of the United States who have arrived at the age of twenty-one years, who are of sound mind, and who have not disqualified themselves by the commission of any offense, without any distinction on account of race, color, or sex. Every argument that ever has been or ever can be adduced to prove that males should have the right to vote applies with equal if not greater force to prove that females should possess the same right; and were a citizen of your State, I should labor with whatever ability I possess to engraft these principles in its Constitution.

Yours very respectfully,
B. F. WADE.

A WONDERFUL LAND WITH STONE TREES SIX HUNDRED FEET LONG.—In the Eastern Star newspaper we find a report of many of the curiosities and the great riches of the Black Rock country, in the northwestern portion of California.

The reports of the singular features of this section are of many years standing, but are so marvellous that they have seldom obtained credence. Among the wonderful stories we have heard is one that there is a petrified tree there seven hundred feet in length! The present report in part confirms previous statements, and establishes the fact, that Black Rock is one of the wonders of the Pacific coast, like the Yosemite, the Big Trees, the Geysers, &c. Besides the curiosities there appears to be an abundance of silver at Black Rock but the ore is said to be of an unusual variety and very difficult to work; but it has been worked with very good results at the mills at Washoe. The quantity of ore is so great that it is said it will justify the erection of a thousand mills. A gentleman who visited the section has exhibited to the editor of the Eastern Star very many curiosities peculiar to the country, strange petrifications from the ravines, curious water worn pebbles from the mountain tops; knives, arrow heads and daggers manufactured by Indian skill from solid flint, a superior quality apparatus as one black tin, said to contain six hundred dollars in silver to the ton, pebble tin, with its curious fracture, that admits no change in form, and a thousand strange and new things.

The editor says: "He also tells us of many strange things that he saw but could not bring with him, and many stranger things he heard of but did not see. Among the latter list of wonders is a great basin that contains a petrified forest, apparently floated there many vast trees of solid stone, ranging from six to fifteen feet in diameter. Doubtless as this tale may appear, still we dare to dispute its correctness when we know this strange country has a boiling spring of fresh water fifteen feet in diameter, that cannot be sounded, from which no drop of water ever runs; that in the same vicinity there is a flowing stream of cold and apparition good water, the drinking of which induces disease; and that any water found by digging is as soot can be made; that a half barrel deposited in the soil seizes up by the salt, and after thirty days to vestige of it can be found."

An old hunter recently found $7,000 in gold and silver buried in a keg, near the Mississippi river.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.—The following is before the Legislature of Georgia:

The General Assembly would do injustice to the great heart of Georgia not to give some formal expression of its respect for the character and sorrow of the condition of the thus raised prisoner of State, Jefferson Davis. All the generous pulsations of that heart is in full action and sympathy with his sufferings and misfortunes. His warm affections eling a cloud the chief of a noble deed, but now a clouded cause. There they cluster and center, while men admire and then is evident as in nature; while they regard all that is constant of purpose; while they are all that is noble in virtue, while they reverence that is sublime in faith and respect unflinching greatness of soul.

Therefore the General Assembly of the State of Georgia do resolve, That their sincerest condolence and warmest sympathy are tendered Jefferson Davis in his confinement, and they hereby forward with a glorious salute to the day when a magnanimous and patriotic President shall put a term to his confinement, and by the re-creation of executive clemency restore him to a people for whom he so faithfully struggled, and on account of whom he endures with Christian fortitude the hardships of a long and rigorous imprisonment.

The Mexican Business

The late Mexican news brought to this port is calculated to produce a profound impression of astonishment at the North. Both Government and people have a surd that Maximilian's empire was at an end, and the Archduke himself was well on his way to Miramar. The Embarrassment of the State Department, when it finds its diplomatic and military embassy lying off Vera Cruz, disappointed in no flouting the Government to which it is accredited, was overshadowed in its complaints to the French emperor. What will it be when it becomes known that instead of embarking, a French division was on the march to attack an interior Jurist port, and that Maximilian is at the capital again backed by the clergy and the rich gentry, with thirty millions of dollars? The grand point of interest to know is, does France approve of all this? Is Napoleon going to stay as well as Maximilian? It is, a foreign war on the back of domestic troubles is imminent. The United States Government has gone too far to recede. It has pledged its support to Juarez and demanded the withdrawal of the French troops. The last not complied with, the next step is the movement of arms and a renewal of shrill cries and drum beats is near at hand.

Suppose Napoleon has determined to fight rather than be driven out of Mexico—the next point of interest is, has he done so without an understanding with England. We lately copied a groan from a leading London journal, over the patent fact that Jonathan had bullied John Bull to the point of National disgrace, and on the top of it arises the vexatious spectre of Prussian armed and organized in the United States. Suppose England had joined France, and the two have made up their minds that there are powers "strong enough to say 'No' to American dictation." What then? A war of tremendous magnitude between the two great Powers of Europe, and the great Power of the United States, but still staggering under a load of National war debt, and weakened by the unhealed wounds of that war. The subject is rich with speculation as to all the consequences. But it is useless to indulge in them until the facts are verified.

It may be added the passengers by the "Caribbean" from Vera Cruz were confident that there was no appearance nor purpose of French evacuation.

DISTRIBUTIONS.

We would call attention to the opinion of one of the leading papers of Canada on this subject:

Most of our readers have no doubt read some of the numerous advertisements of Gift Enterprises Gift Concerns, &c., which appear from time to time in the public prints, offering most tempting bargains to those who will patronize them. In most cases these are genuine business. But there are a few respectable firms who do business in this manner, and they do it as a means of increasing their wholesale business, and not to make money. From such firms, it is true, handsome and valuable articles are procured for a very small sum, and what is more important, no one is ever cheated. Every one gets good value for his dollar; because, as we have stated, it is intended to act as an advertisement to increase their ordinary business.

We have seen numbers of prizes sent out in this way by SHERRMAN, WATSON & COMPANY, of Nassau street, N. Y., and there is no doubt that some of the articles are worth eight or ten times the money paid for them, while we have not seen or heard of a single article which was not fully worth the dollar which it cost. But this is only one of the exceptions of this rule, for as a general thing the prizes engaged in this business are nothing but clever humbugs.

which they need not pay until it is known what is drawn and its value.

THE AMERICAN JEWELLERS' ASSOCIATION calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular jewelry Association in the United States. The business is and always has been conducted in the most candid and honorable manner. Our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the appreciation of our patrons for this method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods. The sudden stagnation of trade in Europe, owing to the late German War, and recent disastrous financial crisis in England, has caused the failure of a large number of jewelry houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrifice, in some instances less than one third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately purchased very largely of these bankrupt goods at such extremely low prices, that we can afford to send away finer goods, and give better chances to draw the most valuable prizes than any other establishment using a similar business. OUR AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past year we have forwarded a number of the most valuable prizes to all parts of the country. Those who patronize us will receive the full value of their money, as no article on our list is worth less than One Dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. Parties dealing with us may depend upon having prompt returns, and the articles drawn will be immediately sent to any address by return mail or express.

Howard also issued orders instructing his subordinates to cease their interference with the laws in North Carolina when they bear equally upon white and black.

Already we learn, they have purchased a sufficient quantity of rails to clothe the road twenty-five miles, a part of which is already in Mobile. By the time this is delivered and laid down the iron work in Jefferson county in which Mr. Breed is largely interested, will be manufacturing iron rails and will be able to furnish this essential material as fast as may be required for the speedy completion of the work. Proposals for grading, masonry, bridges, etc., are advertised for and the indications are that the road will be pushed through to Dalton in less time than was stipulated when it was turned over to the enterprising lessee.

Selma Messenger

The Case Briefly Stated. In an article on the situation, the National Intelligencer forcibly remarks: "Party spirit's perish with the passions of the men who give to them the force of reverence and magnify. Principles of conscience and affection long after those who enunciated, or those who defended them have sunk into dust. The animosities engendered by the war may keep untroubled the seats in the halls of Congress to which the men of the South should long ago, have been cordially welcomed, but the principles that taxation and representation are inseparable, that every State is the peer of all others, and that each representative constituency under our organic law is entitled to be heard in the National Council as dear to the American heart, and so identified with the national thought as to form indissoluble elements of our political faith."

From the cotton lands and rice fields of the South, from its busy marts and inland river homes, come their appointed quota of the national taxes into the coffers of the National Treasury. Their commerce pays its appointed imposts. Their citizens are summoned to the jury box of the Federal courts. They respect the process of the Federal judiciary. But the call of the roll of the nation's representatives embraces no name from the Old Dominion or from imperial Texas. The chosen sons of the South are shut out no longer by their own folly, but by the formal vote of their peers. "The national faith pledged to speedy restoration is unkept. The obligations of the Constitution are unheeded. The flag of the nation emblemized with thirty-six stars floats over a Legislature which excludes ten States from having any voice in the laws by which it is insisted they shall be governed."

"What shall we do?" is the caption of a very sensible editorial in a late number of the Austin (Texas) Gazette. After expatiating at considerable length on the condition of the South, our contemporary answers his own interrogation by replying to suggest that we keep quiet, peaceable and orderly, obeying the laws and constituted authorities. Be sober, industrious and frugal, and endeavor to cultivate a cheerful disposition, thinking as little of past sorrows as possible. Strive to adapt ourselves to our new situation and circumstances. Be kind and just to the freedmen, and convince them that we are their best friends. Let us show to the world what we can do, under the pressure of calamities, which might have utterly overcome less noble people. Are our fortunes worse, our lands laid waste, our dwelling houses, our families thinned by battle and disease? Let us in the language

Pianos for the People!

420 Broome St., N. Y.

We would call the attention of the public and the trade to our elegant New Scale Pianos of the following styles:

STYLE A. 7 octave Front large round corner plain case, either octagon or carved legs, straight bottom, bead moulding on plinth.....$450

STYLE B. 7 octave, same as style A, with serpentine moulding on plinth, carved legs and lyre.....$500

STYLE C. 7 octave, Front corners large round, serpentine bottom, mouldings same as style B, 10 x 10 x 10 and down, heavy carved legs.....$550

STYLE D. 7 octave. Four large round corners, fluted back, mouldings on rim and plinth, serpentine bottom, carved lyre and desk, elegant carved fruit legs.....$600

The above styles are all finished in elegant second cases and have the full iron frame, French action, harp pedestal, ivory keys and key fronts, and exceed in overstrung bass, nearly all the 7 octave Pianos now manufactured. They are made of the best materials, and for finish, durability, purity and sweetness of tone, cannot be surpassed. We invite the attention of the public, of dealers and the profession, to a critical examination of the merits of our Pianos.

By avoiding the great expenses attendant upon costly factories and expensive warehouses in the city, we are enabled to offer these Pianos at prices which defy competition, and invite all to call and examine them before purchasing elsewhere. Parties ordering from a distance can rely upon receiving their Pianos promptly, and no confusion can arise as the styles are so distinctly designated by the letters A B C D.

The four styles described above, embody all the essential changes in exterior finish of cases, which are by many manufacturers run up to 15 and 20 per cent.

POETRY.

The Ghosts of Long Ago.

BY M. W. BROWNELL.

When I sit there alone,
Thinking on the past and gone—
While the clock with drowsy finger,
Marks how long the minutes linger,
And the embers, dimly burning,
Tell of life to dust returning—
Then my lonely chair around,
With a quiet, mournful sound,
With a murmur soft and low,
Come the ghosts of long ago.

One by one I count them o'er,
Voices that are heard no more,
Tears that loving cheeks have wet,
Words whose music lingers yet;
Holy faces, pale and fair,
Shadows of long ago;
Happy signs and whispers dear,
Sings forgotten many a year;
Lips of dewy fragrance; eyes
Brighter blue than the skies—
Odors breathed from paradise.

And the gentle shadows glide,
Softly murmuring at my side,
Till the long untried day,
All forgotten fades away.

Thus, when I am all alone,
Dreuning o'er the past and gone,
All around me, sad and slow,
Come the ghosts of long ago.

Drifting.

Drifting out into the moonlight,
Heeding no longer the oars—
Hearing no longer ripples
That break on the fast-fading shores—

Out from the land shade to brightness,
Out from the land shade to peace,
Till we glide from the world into glory,
And float o'er a broad golden fleece.

Softly the leaves of the lilies
Tap on the boat, as we go;
And faint o'er the water is wafted
The loon's mournful cry, sad and low.

See how the lily leaves sparkle;
Jewels they seem in this sheen;
See the bright star, like their setting,
Flash from below and between!

Sometimes this rapture of moonlight
Brings me a long yearning pain;
But to-night, with the glory—a mantle
Of peace o'er my spirit is laid.

It through this pathway refulgent,
Heaven should break on our eyes—
Scarcely could it add to the present,
Scarcely awaken surprise!

Ah! to float on this forever—
Or in that group to the west,
Moorings our bark by the moonlight,
Find them the Isles of the Blest!

The speaker who was "drawn out"
measured eighteen inches more than before.

Why should marriage be spoken of as a tender tie when nothing but death can cut it.

Tea kettles are decidedly Yankee in their melody; they sing through their noses.

When is the best time to read the book of nature? When autumn turns the leaves.

An exchange says: "Lovers, like armies generally get along quietly enough until they are engaged."

Squib asked his friend why he married so little a wife? "Why," said he, "I thought you had known that of all evils we should choose the least."

Did you ever see a man who expected not to become a Christian before the day of his death?

Did you ever see a preacher who thought
"he had a call" from a high salary to a low one?

Did you ever know a merchant who did not sell "ten percent" cheaper than any other merchant in town?

Did you ever see an old maid who had not refused many flat or ugly proposals of marriage from young gentlemen and wealthy young men in her juvenile days?

Did you ever have a friend who, when you "didn't know what to do with your loose change," couldn't suggest some means of relieving you from your perplexity.

Did you ever see a stinky fellow who was temperate from principle, or a fool who considered it respectable to joke, or a young lady whose age did not remain stationary after she had reached twenty? Did you ever?

An Irishman remarked to his companion on observing a lady pass: "Par, did I ever see a woman so thin as that?" "Thin," replied the other, "I've seen a woman as thin as two of her put together."

A pair of lovers fleeing from stern and cruel parents, were married in the cars near St. Louis the other day. Papa telegraphed to the conductor to "send his daughter back," but he telegraphed back, "never return fair on this road."

"Which is the strongest day?"
"Sunday."
"Why so?"
"Because all the rest are week days!"
"Very good, but if Sunday is the strongest how comes it to be the only one that can be broken."

Reading makes a full man, conversation
a ready man, and writing an exact man.

Wit is the lighting of the mind, reason
the sunbino, and reflection the moonlight.

The celebrated author, in this admirable
essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no
matter what his condition may be, may cure
himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This Lecture should be in the hands
of every youth and every man in the land.

Territorializing the South

The New York Express has a sensible and suggestive article upon the Radical proposition to resolve the Southern States into the condition of Territories, to which attention is invited:

The Radical plan now seems to be,
and with some prospect of temporary success, to take away even the old thirteen States, such as Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia, (parties to the Revolution of 1776, and the constitutional compact of 1787) their State Charters, Constitutions, Governments, Rights of all kinds, and to reduce them to Territories, such as Arizona, Idaho, or Montana, to be governed not by governors appointed by the President, but by Governors or Satraps created by Congress, or some agent of Congress.

There are some things to be considered, even if a Rump Congress could override the veto, and "enact" all this:

1st. It is a judicial question not to be determined by Congress, nor by the President, but by the Supreme Court of the United States. Five Judges there can stop any such Radical revolutionary proceeding.

2d. It becomes the Northern holders of the bonds of Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, Louisiana and others of the ten territorialized States, to consider,
if, as State corporations these ten States extinguished as contemplated by the Radicals, whether there exists any corporation or any body, to pay their State bonds or obligations.

The ten Southern States may perhaps,
be thus freed from their debt by the Radicals—very large amounts of which are now in Northern hands—and so, perhaps, what is intended as a curse for them, may turn out to be a blessing in disguise.

All we have to say to the South just now is, stand firm, stand still, under all this Radical thunder and lightning in Washington. It will kill more Northern than Southern men in the end. Endurance is now the great virtue needed
in the South.

The precedent of this Territorializa-tion acts is, if possible worse than the principle. Established it, and it is established, that a majority of States may expel a minority of States, and then reduce them to Territories to be governed by Congress. Thus Massachusetts and Pennsylvania may some day, have brought back upon the rod they administer to others. Indeed if in Washington's administration, the rebellion of slaves in Massachusetts, and of whiskey people in Pennsylvania, had been punished, as it is now proposed to punish the rebels of the South—both Massachusetts and Pennsylvania might now be mere Territories, in lieu of States.

Edw. Greely says very sensibly: "Let us have an end to all con-rovers concerning negroes and their rights, so as to be ready to go about our business. If negroes are idle, they must go hungry and naked; if they steal they must be punished—not as negroes, but as men. If they have not learned the freedom to work, the winter just coming on will teach them—with a good many others—that wholesome lesson."

Ex-Confederates in France.
[Paris Correspondent Chicago Tribune.]
MRS. BENJAMIN.

Among the gay equipages that dash along the Boulevards and through the Champs Elysees every pleasant afternoon
is frequently to be seen that of Mrs.
Benjamin, wife of Judah P., late Secretary of State of the deceased Confederacy. It is a well gotten up affair, and its appearance indicates that Mrs. Benjamin is not in a suffering condition, so far as finances are concerned. Her husband lives in London at No 10 Lack-ville street, most of the time, and is said to have done very well, since his admission to the English bar.

GEO. N. SAUNDERS
Nearly every pleasant morning last summer, there sat, for an hour or two,
on the pavement in front of the Grand Cafe a short man with one of the reddest faces imaginable, by the side of a decanter containing the best quality of Cognac. The name of the man was,
and perhaps still is, Geo. N. Saunders.
He is reported to have left here suddenly, several weeks ago, and his present address is said to be London. The last time I saw George he looked rough but he was good on the corpulent question. He is said to be broken down financially. The simple fact that he was seen a great many times last summer in the vicinity of France, brandy, is proof positive that he has changed his diet since he left the United States, because before his departure he dined at restaurants that so doing nothing but "Bourbon" and "Chesnut Grove"

BRECKINRIDGE
John C. Breckinridge was here during the summer, but I understand he has been rusticated at Versailles for several weeks. While here, his wardrobe was in first-rate condition, and did not give out the least idea that its owner

was in need of pecuniary assistance.
Nearly every "exile" in Paris is said to be in comfortable circumstances. They have, in some measure, a society of the own into which all who were given to the bad habit of wearing gray clothes a couple of years ago, can be admitted
without much formality.

OWIN.
Duke Gwin left here for the United States last month. Rumor credits him with having pocketed a handsome sum when the Sonora colonization scheme collapsed; however that may be, it is certain that he supports his expensive family here in grand style, and is in the habit of wearing clothing quite as fine
as that worn by his friend, the Emperor of France.

ADVENTURES OF A SPARKER.—A humorous contributor to the St. Louis Republican evidently understands the capabilities of the English language. He attempted to make a Johnson speech in a radical meeting with the following results:

Fortunately there was but one light in the room, and that was a tallow candle. The first chair hurled at me struck it and let us all in the dark. I could hear them rushing toward the stand I made for the door.—There was a sympathizing crowd. They couldn't see me but they felt for me. On they came, and on I went. I came in violent contact with the globe like form of old Chopps.
Just for fun I tipped him over and cried out: "Here, boys, I've got him!"— Old C. being of about my shape and dimensions the mob was easily misled, and the piled on to him three deep. As I made my exit at the front door, I heard him screaming for quarter. I am sure he never got it. There was not a quarter in all that crowd. Once outside, two or three of them recognized me by the gaslight, and O, persimmons, didn't they freeze on me, like a hired man? I said something about free speech. They replied something about free booters. Illustrating their remarks with practical demonstrations. I bore up under it (or before it) until I reached a pile of bricks, and you should have seen them scatter. Again I was master of the situation, and deeming discretion
the better part of valor I broke down the street as hard as I could rear. It takes a strong man to break down a street, but I did it nevertheless.

INEMANITY AND PREJUDICE.—An atrocious outrage was perpetrated on Tuesday morning in Brooklyn, by a gang of ruffians, who entered a house occupied by a number of sewing girls and having robbed the inmates, seized the terrified women and subjected them to the most revolting indignities. All the females were outraged in a horrible manner. Had this occurred in the South, it would have been declared a remnant of the barbarity of slavery, and be cited as another evidence why the South should be politically persecuted. We note far more of these shocking crimes, as well as murders, in the North and Northwest
than in any other part of the country, and yet there is, of course, much that is good in these sections.

Baltimore Sun.
LUCK AND LABOR.—Luck is ever
waiting for something to turn up.

Labor, with keen eyes and strong will
will turn something up.
Luck lies in bed and wished the postmaster to bring him news of a legacy.
Labor turns out at six o'clock, and with busy pen and ringing hammer lays the foundation of a competence.
Luck whines; labor whistles.
Luck relies on chances; labor on character.

Luck strides downward to indigence; labor strides upwards to independence.

A HUMANE JUDGE.—A Texan Judge concluded a sentence for murder as follows:

"The fact is Jones, that the Court
did not intend to order you to be executed before next spring, but the weather is very cold, and our jail, unfortunat-ly, is in a very bad condition; much of the glass in the windows is broken; the chimneys are in such a dilapidated condition that no fire can be made to render your apartments comfortable, besides owing to the great number of prisoners,
not more than one blanket can be allowed to each; to sleep sound and comfortable therefore it is out of the question.
In consideration of these circumstances and wishing to lessen your sufferings as much as possible, the Court, in the exercise of its humane compassion, therefore orders you to be executed to-morrow morning as soon after breakfast as may be convenient to the Sheriff and agreeable to you."
