

JULY

Jacksonville Republican

"The Price of Liberty is Eternal Vigilance."

VOL. 33.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA., JULY 3, 1869.

WHOLE NO. 1682

Jacksonville Republican.
EDITED, PRINTED & PUBLISHED, EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, BY
J. F. GRANT.

Dentistry.
Dr. JAMES H. LAWRENCE.
is permanently located in Jacksonville, and is supplied with every appliance necessary for the discharge of his professional duties. If you wish your teeth put in order, and warranted to stand, or a tooth extracted with ease and certainty, or if you have lost your teeth and would have them replaced artistically, call at the rooms of Dr. Lawrence, second door east of Ryan's Corner. Jan. 30, 1869.—1f.

LAW CARDS.
O. C. ELLIS. J. H. CALDWELL.
ELLIS & CALDWELL,
Attorneys at Law,
AND
Solicitors in Chancery.
JACKSONVILLE, ALA.

HAVING associated themselves in the practice of law, will practice together, except in criminal cases, in the counties of Calhoun, Tallapoosa, St. Clair, Randolph, Cherokee and DeKalb. Jan. 6, 1869.

M. J. TURNLEY, G. I. TURNLEY,
M. J. & G. I. TURNLEY,
Attorneys at Law
AND
Solicitors in Chancery
General Collecting Agents.
JACKSONVILLE, ALA.

WILL practice law in the counties of Calhoun, Tallapoosa, Randolph, Cherokee, St. Clair and DeKalb, in the County of the State, and in the U. S. District Court, Northern and Middle Division of Alabama.

JOHN W. INZER, LEROY F. BOX,
INZER & BOX,
Attorneys at Law,
AND
Solicitors in Chancery.
ASHVILLE, Ala.

WILL practice in the Courts of St. Clair, Calhoun, Randolph, Cherokee, Jackson, Blount, DeKalb, Cherokee & Muscogee, also in the Superior Court of the State. Prompt attention given.

JOHN FOSTER, WM. H. FORNEY,
FOSTER & FORNEY,
Attorneys at Law,
JACKSONVILLE ALABAMA.

WILL practice in the Counties of Calhoun, Tallapoosa, Randolph, St. Clair, Cherokee, DeKalb, and the Supreme Court of the State. Dec. 23d, 1868.

JOE H. FRANCIS.
ATTORNEY AT LAW
AND
GENERAL COLLECTING AGENT,
Gadsden, Alabama.

WILL practice in Barne and adjoining counties. Special attention given to the filing of petitions in Bankruptcy. Will prosecute claims against the Government for Bounty, Back pay, &c.
Office—Probate Office Building.

NEW HOTEL
IN JACKSONVILLE
The undersigned respectfully informs his friends and the public generally that he has opened a HOTEL in the large and commodious Brick Building on the north-east corner of the public square, which was built and fitted up expressly for that purpose. His table will be furnished with the best that the market affords, and no expense or effort spared for the comfort and convenience of his patrons.

Permanent boarders will be taken at fifteen dollars per month; and transient customers at corresponding reasonable rates.
S. D. McCLELEN.
Jan. 4, 1868.

NEW JEWELRY.
NEW STYLES OF JEWELRY received every month direct from the manufacturer, for sale at the Fashionable Jewelry Store of ROME, GEO.
JOS. E. VEAL,
Sep. 19, '68.

FOR LADIES ONLY.—For an article having a remarkable sale, address Mrs. MORGAN, 139 Fulton St., New York.

BOWEN & HOOPER,
Wholesale and Retail
GROGERS
AND DEALERS IN Western Produce.
Water Street.
SELMA, ALA.
Are now opening a full and complete assortment of Groceries and Western Produce, which they offer in Packages or at Retail at the lowest market rates.

News Agency.
MRS. M. E. ROWLAND, having established a NEWS AGENCY in Jacksonville for Millinery Store is prepared to furnish at the cheapest rates, a great variety of the Latest and most popular Magazines, Periodicals and Newspapers, also Music, School and Miscellaneous Books, & an assortment of Stationery.
Call and examine our stock, and make purchases to suit your fancy. May 30.

R. A. PETTIBONE & CO.,
Receiving and Forwarding
MERCHANTS,
SELMA, ALA.
Having removed from the old stand near the S. R. & D. Railroad depot to the house formerly occupied by LYLES & MITCHELL, at the head of the City Wharf, are prepared with equal facilities to RECEIVE and FORWARD all freights consigned to them with dispatch.

R. A. PETTIBONE & CO. are not Steamboat Agents, and their patrons may rely upon having their interests looked after in freights and freights.
The very liberal patronage heretofore extended by the friends of this House is respectfully solicited.

R. A. PETTIBONE & CO. of the old firm of Mayor, Watson & White is with this House. Sep. 27, 1868.—1f.

J. C. Francis, Jr.
ALABAMA.
Basterville, Sherman & CO.
Wholesale Grocers,
AND
Commission Merchants,
200 Canal Street,
New York.

Dr. R. E. W. McABASS
Surgeon Dentist.
Jacksonville, Ala.
Is devoting his entire attention to his profession. All operations on the Teeth performed in the most and most durable manner.

He will visit Oxford the 2nd Monday in each month professionally, and remain one week if necessary. The remainder of his time at his office in Jacksonville.
Office at his residence per. 12, '68.

Millinery Goods.
MRS. M. GOODE
Is now receiving some beautiful SPRING and SUMMER GOODS of the latest fashions of the day, and will sell at her store, which will be complete about the 15th of April. Specimens of
HATS AND BONNETS
May be seen at Mr. E. L. Woodward's Store.

All are invited to call at her residence and examine her stock, which will be furnished as cheap as can be afforded, and all orders promptly attended to.
MARTHA GOODE.
Jacksonville, April 3, 1869.

Valuable Land and Mills for Sale.
The undersigned now offers for sale, on accommodating terms, his half interest in the Merchant and Saw Mills, and Land attached, located on Terrapin creek, five or six miles north of Jacksonville. The Mills contain four sets of runstons and saw mill, and are considered among the best in the country. The Land attached contains 68 acres, and the entire interest to 6 acres, a good building location—all well timbered. The water power is abundant for Factory or machinery of any kind, and excellent iron ore in the immediate vicinity.
April 2, '69. J. J. REYNOLDS.

WILMAN & ROYEROCK,
BOOKSELLERS
AND STATIOINERS.
DEALERS IN
MUSIC & MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
Broad Street, SELMA, Alabama,
W. P. WYMAN. W. B. NOTHMAN.

WHITE MEN TAKE NOTICE!
THE MOST REMARKABLE BOOK OF THE DAY!
Just Published.
WHITE SUPREMACY
AND
NEGRO SUBORDINATION.

BY J. H. VAN EYRIE, M. D.
One vol., 1 mo., 416 pp. Beautifully illustrated with fine Polychromatic Plates of the six species of men. Bound in extra cloth, beveled edges. Sold only by subscription, $2 25 per vol.
B. G. McCLELEN,
Agent for Calhoun county.

PHOTOGRAPHS,
AMBIOTYPES & CO.
E. GOODE, Artist.
(Formerly of Asheville, Ala.)
Rooms first door north of E. L. Woodward's Store.
June 16, 1868

J. F. DENNIS,
Large Cotton Warehouse.
(At the old Arsenal stand, near Broad St.)
SELMA, ALABAMA.
A safe and convenient place to store Cotton.
Prompt & accommodating Clerks, and reliable Watchmen on hand.
No Drayage charged at this Warehouse.
Feb. 6, 1869.

H. L. STEVENSON,
Attorney at Law,
JACKSONVILLE, ALA.
December 12, 1868.

NEW DRUG STORE,
DR. J. C. FRANCIS
Has just received, at his old stand on the North-west corner of the public square, a full and complete assortment of pure, fresh and genuine
DRUGS
AND MEDICINES.

Paints, Oils, Varnishes and Brushes,
Perfum. Try, Soaps, Fancy and Toilet Articles,
All of the most popular PATENT MEDICINES, and every thing usually kept in a well assorted
DRUG STORE.

He also keeps constantly on hand a variety of Fine Chewing and Smoking Tobacco, Cigars & Snuff.
SODA, YEAST POWDERS, CONCENTRATED LYE, POTASH, &c. &c.
FANCY STATIONERY, Pens, Pencils, &c. All of which will be sold low for cash.
Jacksonville, Ala., Nov. 14, 1868.

TAILORING BUSINESS.
M. A. TURNER, having determined to locate at this place, most respectfully informs the citizens of Jacksonville and surrounding country, that he has opened a shop, in this place for the purpose of doing a general Tailoring Business, and if strict attention to business, good work and neat fits will secure him patronage, he will obtain it, and always be found ready to undertake work in the most and most fashionable style. Particular attention paid to repairing. For recommendation he refers to his work. His shop is on the west side of Main street south of the square.
M. A. TURNER.
Jacksonville, Nov. 7, 1868.

JACKSONVILLE HOTEL.
The undersigned has leased the above HOTEL for a term of years, and is having the same thoroughly repaired and fitted up for the convenience and accommodation of the Travelling Public. The table will be furnished at all times with the very best country and market articles, and the Rooms furnished with pure and soft water and clean and comfortable beds.
A good and comfortable Hall will be kept for the purpose of carrying passengers to and from the depot.
No expense or labor will be spared to make this in every respect a FIRST CLASS HOTEL. Our charges will be as moderate as can be for such a class of houses.
Give us a call and try us.
W. B. WYNN.
Sept. 10, 1868.

IMPORTANT
To the Travelling Public.
Jacksonville & Decatur
DAILY MAIL LINE.
By STAGE and STEAMBOAT.

WE take pleasure in informing the public that this Line is now in operation. Parties travelling North will find it greatly to their advantage to go by this line, as both
Cheaper & Quicker
Schedule Time to Decatur and Huntsville,
EIGHTEEN HOURS.
To Nashville,
TWENTY-FOUR.

Leaving JACKSONVILLE every morning, (except Sunday) passing GADSDEN, and BLACK CREEK FALLS, arriving at GUNTERSBURG, on the Tennessee River, in the evening; then connecting with our new Steamboat, built with an eye exclusively to fast running on low water—time to Decatur only six hours—connecting there with Nashville and Decatur Railroad, going North, and Memphis and Charleston East and West. Give us one trial and be convinced.
HINDS BROS. & CO.
L. M. HINDS, Sept. 7, 1868.—1y

DR. M. W. FRANCIS,
HAS resumed the duties of his profession in all his branches.
Office, N. W. Corner of Public Square, JACKSONVILLE, ALA.
November 18, 1868.—1f.

W. C. LAND,
Watchmaker,
CONTINUES the Watch Repairing business above McClellan's store, west side of the public square. A good lot of materials on hand, and work done with despatch and at low rates to suit the times.
Jacksonville, Feb. 24, 1866.

Musical.
BANJOS, GUITARS, VIOLINS, Violoncellos, Tomhorns, Flutes, Fisks, Flageolets, Music-Boxes, and strings of all kinds.
For sale by
JOS. E. VEAL,
ROME, GA.
Watches, Jewelry and Musical Instruments, Repaired in best style.

Dr. J. C. FRANCIS,
PRACTISING PHYSICIAN,
Jacksonville, Ala.
IS now receiving a large assortment of
FRESH MEDICINES.
And all articles usually kept in Drug Stores, at his old stand on the north-west corner of the square, which he offers low for cash.
Aug. 29, 1868.

Millinery.
THE undersigned respectfully informs her friends and the public generally, that she is now prepared to receive orders for work in the MILLINERY LINE, in the neatest and most fashionable style, at her residence, one mile north-west of Jacksonville.

She has also on hand a variety of
HATS AND BONNETS
OF THE LATEST FASHIONS
AND AN ASSORTMENT OF
RIBBONS & TRIMMINGS
OF various descriptions.

Every effort will be used to please the taste of those who may favor her with their patronage.
Mrs. O. H. NISBET.
Jacksonville, April 17, 1869.

EDWIN BATES & CO.
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
Dry Goods
AND
CLOTHING!
122 & 124 MEETING STREET,
CHARLESTON, S. C.

E. J. WOOLUM & CO'S.
Have, leave Cross Plains Tuesday and Friday at 6 A. M. for Centre, Ocala, Gulf, Cornwell, Gaylesville, Trion, LaFayette and Chattanooga. April 17th, 1869.—1f.

THE GREAT
GILL AND FEVER
EXPPELLER.

LIPPMAN'S PYRAFUGE.
IT IS IN FACT A
MOST WONDERFUL
Fever Cure,
ON ACCOUNT OF THIS
INSTANT REMEDY
MAKING A
Lasting and Permanent Cure.

NO CASE,
However Obsolete,
Can Resist its Health-giving Properties.
PYRAFUGE
Cures an Appetite, Brings a Color to the Cheeks of the Emaciated and Strength to the Feeble.

Every Bottle sold is accompanied by a Guarantee of its Efficacy.
ASK FOR
LIPPMAN'S
PYRAFUGE,
GET RID OF THAT
Miserable Disease
CHILLS AND FEVER.

For sale, at Wholesale, by the sole Manufacturer for the United States, by
JACOB LIPPMAN,
PROPRIETOR OF
LIPPMAN'S WHOLESALE DRUG HOUSE,
Savannah, Ga.

KAYTON'S
OIL OF LIFE
CURES ALL
Pains and Aches!
AND IS THE GREAT
RHEUMATISM LINIMENT.

KAYTON'S PILLS
Cure Sick Headache,
AND ALL
BILIOUS DISORDERS.
MISS F. I. WEESNER,

DRESS MAKER,
HAS returned, and opened rooms on the corner of Mrs. Rowland's—has all the latest Fashions and Styles for Dress making—cuts and fits by measure; and has had experience of more than nine years in her business.

She also proposes to do all kinds of stitching or mending work for the Ladies, and hopes to receive encouragement, and will work at most reasonable prices.
Jacksonville, April 22d, 1869.

A Chance for Children.
J. B. TURNLEY & CO. will pay the highest market price for old Scrap Iron, Brass, Copper and Britannia.
May 8, 1869.

Janet's Experience.
Janet sat dreaming on the lower step of the broad, low-wooded porch, with her chin resting on one hand, and her eyes looking out into the distance, as if she were waiting for some one to come.

She had a very bright and clear gray eye, and a smile that was full of promise, and a future far and radiant, that seemed to her now to be just before her.

"The old clock on the kitchen shelf had just struck four—the sun was shining brightly through the low boughs of the great old cherry tree, where the 'red ox-tails' hung like jeweled pendants, and the birds were chirping and rustling in and out, and humming-birds were darting up and down, and breaking far out on the sea of the sunny air.

She was a very little girl, this heroine of our story, where the crimson of her cheeks showed through a veil of blue, and a dimpled red mouth and fragrant as a clove pink—a genuine country girl, as unconsciously graceful in all her movements as the silver moon when not rippling in the summer breeze. Not a word of her beauty, but a very lovely, lovable little personage, as she sat there in her brown gingham dress and ruffled white apron, with her sun-bonnet on the porch floor beside her.

Of what was she musing? The old, old subject of every reverie—the refrain to every song—'What For Janet Boyton was in love—' at all events, she fancied she was, and it is wonderful how completely they will sometimes assume the throne of reality.

As she sat there smiling to herself, with drooping lashes and fluttering eyelids, on her cheek, a firm, quick footstep sounded on the garden path, where long sprays of spicy sweet-brier trailed, and rows of currant bushes hung full of ruby sparkling fruit, in level subordination to the Millinery's sign.

"Janet!" he said, pleadingly, "will you walk up your hill with me this afternoon? The young people of the village are having a 'Come-a-Join' on, and it is so long since you walked with me."

No—Janet wouldn't. Thorne Millington looked hard.
"Why not?"
"I don't know that I am obliged to render a reason for every action of my life. It is too warm, besides, I am tired."

Thorne looked at her with a mournful, inexpressible gravity in his dark eyes.
"You would not have answered me so coldly, Janet."
Janet crossed her pretty little satin-socks, and heaved a sigh that trembled among her hands.

"I suppose I am free to select my own mode of speech, Thorne Millington."
"Free? Yes, Janet, since you wish to be free."

Janet was silent. Apparently she was intently comparing the stripes on two blades of ribbon grass that hung over the walk on step of her side, but Millington was not so easily repulsed. We cling with wonderful tenacity to life, and to Thorne the love that had taken up in his heart for Janet, and Janet Boyton was something stranger and better than life.

"Why don't you say at once that you are expecting your fine city lover?" he questioned some what bitterly. Janet lifted her head, blushing and indignant.
"Thorne, you are going too far. You have no right to abuse me so."
"Have I not, Janet?" he questioned in tones where the sharp pain seemed to pierce through the words.

"Certainly you have not."
"Well, I will intend no longer. I see that your thoughts and mind are elsewhere."
He paused a moment, perhaps hoping that Janet might speak a word to detain him. But she did not, and the next moment she was alone in the yellow glow of the afternoon sunshine.

It might have been five minutes—it might have been ten—that she sat there counting ribbon grass blades, and listening to the drone hum of a bee and insect, and that there was another, else of the little wicket gate—another footstep ringing clearly on the gravelled path.

"Ah, if Thorne Millington could have seen the up-flashing crimson of her cheek, the brightening sparkle of her eyes now, he would have fallen more hopelessly into the clutches of the 'green-eyed monster' than he already was—and that was to say the least of it, quite unnecessary."
"Janet! My little darling! Alas!"

He was handsome, with his black, bushy hair, and his white, shapely hands, as he came up to her with a gasping, gasping familiarity of voice and manner that bespoke no uncertainty as to his regard.
"Oh, Sydney, I am so glad you happened to come this afternoon! Uncle and aunt are gone out."

"Come, that's back," said Mr. Sydney Fairfax, establishing himself on the lower step of her porch, and possessing himself of one of her hands, with a sort of easy gallantry that "told" fearfully against the respectful reverence in which Thorne Millington was wont to hold the wayward beauty.

"The old Vandal!" interjected Mr. Fairfax.
"Because you know," went on Janet, "they like Thorne Millington."
"Speaks very badly, for their taste," said Fairfax. Janet laughed and colored.
"But, Sydney, it makes it very bad for me. I am very miserable, and when you are gone—"
"Don't fret my dear, I shall come back to claim you soon, and then they may scold the end of their tongues off! There! smile again, my little queen of hearts. I don't like to see the least shadow eclipsing the light of those eyes!"

At length he rose to depart—
"I have lingered too long already, Janet, but I could not bear to tell you that I am going back to New York to-morrow morning."
"To-morrow morning!"

Sidney Fairfax would have been more than mortal had he not been gratified with the unconscious flattery conveyed in Janet's smiling cheek and dilated eyes. And striving to smooth her, he almost forgot for the time being, that he was playing a part.

It was nearly a week afterward, when Aunt Thyra Boyton, the kindest soul in the world, but a little prejudiced and opinionated withal, as kind souls often are—brought her knitting work into the porch where Janet sat idly pulling the woolly, snuggle caps apart.

"Child, what are you dreaming of?"
"Nothing!" answered the girl innocently.
"You've grown so selfish of late, you might just as well run up the stairs to be doing nothing!"

"I am not in a hurry for it and—"
"Then finish altering my hand."
"I don't feel like it now, and—"
Mrs. Boyton eyed her up through her silver-rimmed spectacles, and then she said all at once—
"Nothing, aunt."

"And what's the use of that? The ton don't come here any more."
"I am not Thorne Millington's Aunt Thyra," answered Janet.

Mrs. Boyton was about to expostulate in full from her niece, when her impending words were checked by the presence of Uncle Matthew coming up the steps, and he took the matter up to Mr. Fairfax, turning himself to him with a straw hat, and a letter for Janet, with the New mark. Who's it from, my girl? caught it from his hand, replying alternately.

"It's from Mr. Fairfax."
"From Mr. Fairfax, eh?"
"Yes, from Mr. Fairfax, eh?"
"It's for that good-for-nothing piece between Millington and you, eh?"
"Back the letter, Janet, but not to him. I don't like my girl to be meddling with such a fellow."

But Janet held tightly to the missive.
"It's my letter, Uncle Matthew, you must not speak so. I shall back the letter, Janet, but not to him. I don't like my girl to be meddling with such a fellow."

"This won't do Janet; you know him up. Why, what do you know of a man like that, while Millington?"
"I am tired of hearing of Thorne Millington," interrupted Janet, trying to keep back the indignation. "I will not give Sydney up."

"No! I will never give him up!"
"Then you must give us up, child the old man, grave!" "I will be as good as dead," said Janet, flushing. Janet ran up to her room. Uncle Matthew, to read her precious letter, if Sydney could not know how she was managed over, and in her secret soul, resolved to look the girl to the eyes.

Presently she came down stairs, with red eyes, and violently complaining. "Uncle Matthew and Aunt Thyra looked up as she entered; they had dandy been talking about her in I sense."
"You are not going to answer the Janet?" said her uncle. "Fio I tells me that your Mr. Fairfax—"
"I will not listen to a word Janet's help to keep back even more new words. I shall certainly answer letter!"

"Then you are no more of mine, J. Janet—child—listen to reason."
Aunt Thyra, anxiously. But she would listen to nothing. She went into the garden, and so through the ring conchils to the road that led to village postoffice.

And the next morning when Aunt Thyra went up stairs to call Janet down to breakfast, her little white-trimmed room was vacant—the bed had taken wing!
"My goodness gracious!" exclaimed Aunt Thyra, with uplifted hands. "Martha!—Matthew! Come up stairs, quick! She's been and gone and eloped!"

At the same moment Janet Boyton, in a cozy corner sat in the express train watching the flying landscape, and wondering with throbbing heart what Sydney Fairfax would say to her—how he would receive her. Was it not possible that she had done an unwise thing in thus highly presenting an unshod foot or two from the kind old uncle who had sheltered and guarded her all her life? But the irrevocable step was taken; it was now too late to return until she returned as Sydney Fairfax's wife! Janet grew very lonely her brown veil, as she thought of the possibility.

"New York! What a very babel of sound and uproar of dusty tumult it seemed to our little country-bred daisy, as she emerged from the covered depot into the noisy, brilliant street.
"My goodness, gracious!" exclaimed "Yes, said Janet timidly. "I want to go to No. 815 Mayduke street."
"All right my dear," cried the blackman, banging the door of his vehicle upon his half-terrified "fare," and driving recklessly down the street. Janet drew a long breath, partly of apprehension, partly of relief. Yes, it was too late to go back now.

"Here you are, my dear!"
Janet started from her reverie as the black man, pulling her seat and opened the door.

"Is this Mayduke street?"
"Yes, my dear, No. 815."
It was no lonesome mansion of brown stone, draped with visteria, as Mr. Fairfax has so often described, with stately porches, as she had been led to suppose, but a tall red brick house, with wide-open door, through which you caught a glimpse of bare floors and carpetless stairs, a narrow, foul-smelling street, where children played in the gutter, and fifth-rate grocery stores displayed their wares!

She paid the blackman—an exorbitant price, of course—and dismissed him, entering the house with a sinking heart and heart-stating footstep.
"Does Mr. Fairfax live here?" asked Janet.

"Mr. Fairfax? Are you—"
"Child, what are you dreaming of?"
"Nothing!" answered the girl innocently.

"You've grown so selfish of late, you might just as well run up the stairs to be doing nothing!"
"I am not in a hurry for it and—"
"Then finish altering my hand."

"I don't feel like it now, and—"
Mrs. Boyton eyed her up through her silver-rimmed spectacles, and then she said all at once—
"Nothing, aunt."

"And what's the use of that? The ton don't come here any more."
"I am not Thorne Millington's Aunt Thyra," answered Janet.

Mrs. Boyton was about to expostulate in full from her niece, when her impending words were checked by the presence of Uncle Matthew coming up the steps, and he took the matter up to Mr. Fairfax, turning himself to him with a straw hat, and a letter for Janet, with the New mark. Who's it from, my girl? caught it from his hand, replying alternately.

"It's from Mr. Fairfax."
"From Mr. Fairfax, eh?"
"Yes, from Mr. Fairfax, eh?"
"It's for that good-for-nothing piece between Millington and you, eh?"
"Back the letter, Janet, but not to him. I don't like my girl to be meddling with such a fellow."

But Janet held tightly to the missive.
"It's my letter, Uncle Matthew, you must not speak so. I shall back the letter, Janet, but not to him. I don't like my girl to be meddling with such a fellow."

"This won't do Janet; you know him up. Why, what do you know of a man like that, while Millington?"
"I am tired of hearing of Thorne Millington," interrupted Janet, trying to keep back the indignation. "I will not give Sydney up."

"No! I will never give him up!"
"Then you must give us up, child the old man, grave!" "I will be as good as dead," said Janet, flushing. Janet ran up to her room. Uncle Matthew, to read her precious letter, if Sydney could not know how she was managed over, and in her secret soul, resolved to look the girl to the eyes.

Presently she came down stairs, with red eyes, and violently complaining. "Uncle Matthew and Aunt Thyra looked up as she entered; they had dandy been talking about her in I sense."
"You are not going to answer the Janet?" said her uncle. "Fio I tells me that your Mr. Fairfax—"
"I will not listen to a word Janet's help to keep back even more new words. I shall certainly answer letter!"

"Then you are no more of mine, J. Janet—child—listen to reason."
Aunt Thyra, anxiously. But she would listen to nothing. She went into the garden, and so through the ring conchils to the road that led to village postoffice.

And the next morning when Aunt Thyra went up stairs to call Janet down to breakfast, her little white-trimmed room was vacant—the bed had taken wing!
"My goodness gracious!" exclaimed Aunt Thyra, with uplifted hands. "Martha!—Matthew! Come up stairs, quick! She's been and gone and eloped!"

At the same moment Janet Boyton, in a cozy corner sat in the express train watching the flying landscape, and wondering with throbbing heart what Sydney Fairfax would say to her—how he would receive her. Was it not possible that she had done an unwise thing in thus highly presenting an unshod foot or two from the kind old uncle who had sheltered and guarded her all her life? But the irrevocable step was taken; it was now too late to return until she returned as Sydney Fairfax's wife! Janet grew very lonely her brown veil, as she thought of the possibility.

"New York! What a very babel of sound and uproar of dusty tumult it seemed to our little country-bred daisy, as she emerged from the covered depot into the noisy, brilliant street.
"My goodness, gracious!" exclaimed "Yes, said Janet timidly. "I want to go to No. 815 Mayduke street."
"All right my dear," cried the blackman, banging the door of his vehicle upon his half-terrified "fare," and driving recklessly down the street. Janet drew a long breath, partly of apprehension, partly of relief. Yes, it was too late to go back now.

"Here you are, my dear!"
Janet started from her reverie as the black man, pulling her seat and opened the door.

"Is this Mayduke street?"
"Yes, my dear, No. 815."
It was no lonesome mansion of brown stone, draped with visteria, as Mr. Fairfax has so often described, with stately porches, as she had been led to suppose, but a tall red brick house, with wide-open door, through which you caught a glimpse of bare floors and carpetless stairs, a narrow, foul-smelling street, where children played in the gutter, and fifth-rate grocery stores displayed their wares!

paths with movements of rustling gold, she married Thorne Millington—as loving and true-hearted a little bride as ever wore the coronal of silver-bright orange blossoms, sacred to girls alone.

Jacksonville Republican.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA., Saturday, July 3, 1869.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. For one year in advance, $3 00 For six months, " 1 75

TERMS OF ADVERTISING. One square of 10 lines or less, first insertion, $1 00 Each subsequent insertion, " 50 Over one square counted as two, &c. Outlays charged at advertising rates.

FOR CONGRESS FROM THE 5TH DISTRICT

HON. PETER M. DOX, OF MADISON, Nominer of the Democratic District Convention.

Hon. L. E. HAMMAN, of Etowah County, is our authorized Agent, to receive and remit for subscription any of the great variety of articles in which he deals, as a correct, genial and accommodating gentleman, with whom they cannot fail to be well pleased.

BALTIMORE HARDWARE HOUSE.—Mr. Monroe Robinson, general Agent and representative of the reliable and long established Hardware firm of King & Huggins, Baltimore, Md., has been in our place some time, and will probably remain for some weeks to come. Mr. Robinson is a first class business man, and has many friends by his gentlemanly and friendly intercourse with our citizens. We heartily commend him to the confidence and patronage of all persons having business with him in his line.

Troy Cooking Stoves.—In addition to their large assortment of Louisville and other manufactures of Cooking Stoves, Messrs. Privett & Dean have received a lot of Troy Stoves. These beautiful stoves are unexcelled in quality and price. They are neat enough for a parlor ornament, and seem to have every convenience for every variety of cooking. Call and see them, and you cannot fail to be suited both in quality and price.

U. S. INTERNAL REVENUE.—Mr. W. S. Cook, of U. S. County has been commissioned from P. Latham, District Collector for the counties of Cherokee and Cleburne. We doubt not will make a conscientious and efficient officer, and with experience in such complicated and perplexing duties.

Insurance.—Persons who have their lives insured, look the opportunity now in the Atlas Mutual, Louisville, Mo., which justly entitles it to the highest commendation, and among many other important ones, that its policy after first payment, is not subject to any conditions imposed as to residence, &c. Capt. J. M. Land, favorably known to this section of country, as gentleman of energy and ability, and formerly a gallant soldier, is the competent and successful manager of this company, and his success in his line, has also been appointed agent for the Jacksonville

Notice is invited to the sale of valuable land by J. & Son.

Radical Convention which as at Gadsden on Saturday last, Judge W. J. Harrison for a majority of one, over Gen. J. of this place.

Knives and Straw Cutters. very useful and valuable articles, such in demand, may be had of Woolward & Son, of the very latest and best quality. They order upon short notice at manufacturers' prices. No farmer ought to be without them.

Under the head of "Notes on the Convention," the Huntsville Independent publishes the following complimentary notice of the Calhoun delegation: "The county of Calhoun was represented at the Convention by Messrs. Foster, Elwell, Caldwell, gentlemen of cultivation, intelligence and ability. Chancellor Foster some of his most brilliant efforts were given in the organization of the Convention. Col. Caldwell was called for his eloquence and ability in the debates. He is a native of the county, and she may well be proud of her son. The Calhoun delegation was the ablest in the Convention, and their leaders in the democracy of that party for great results in the present contest.

James Crook was selected as one of the District Executive Committee from Calhoun. He distinguished himself upon the Democratic Electoral ticket in the last Presidential campaign, and will not fail to do his whole duty in the present contest.

We had the pleasure of meeting our talented friend, Col. Francis of the Democratic State Executive Committee, at Gadsden. He was honored by an invitation to a seat on the floor of the Convention, and took great interest in the proceedings in behalf of the harmony of the Convention and the success of the party.

We also had the pleasure of meeting L. W. Grant, Esq., editor of the Times, the staunch democratic organ of that section. He is a young gentleman of rare talent and sound democratic principles, and a very companionable, clever fellow personally. We predict him a successful future.—Huntsville Independent.

For the Jacksonville Republican, Mr. Effort: These are the days of Progress. Onward seems to be the motto and watchword, even among the boys and girls in our midst. You would probably have thought so, at least, had you been down at the Examination of the 23rd inst. held at the school house near Willow Brook's on Cane Creek, by Prof. S. T. French. You would have seen there many fresh and lively faces, giving evidence by their words and actions on the stage, that the vital spark of love for improvement is not yet extinct in the souls of Calhoun boys and girls. The very small ones read and spelled for us—the next higher class entertained us with exercises in the arithmetic &c, while those more advanced read to us Hales public decet &c, and gave us a few hints of what they knew about the use and power of advanced mathematics.

When the hour of 12 had arrived it was announced that one hour would be given for refreshments.—Refreshments they were too. All those good things which the ladies in the neighborhood know so well how to fix up, for such occasions, were laid out upon a convenient place, and the whole crowd most cordially invited to participate freely. They did so; and the exercises of the school began again; but were interrupted by a cooling shower. Then there was a hasty retreat to the school room which was too small to accommodate the very large assembly. The Ladies and as many of the Gentlemen as could, were, soon seated and the exercises were continued by several declamations and closed until the night exercises, by an address, prepared for the occasion, by Horace L. Stevenson, Esq. Mr. Stevenson full of warmth for the cause of education, acquitted himself, indeed honorably, as he appealed to the parent "to educate the child, and to the child to receive it, saying that the parents, with many others, deserved credit for building up and sustaining so many schools all over our country—that whatever may be the cost—however great the sacrifice, they showed their determination to educate their children." He urged the young men not to look now for a pursuit in life, at the Law, Medicine or a Mercantile profession only; but to other pursuits of industry. That the genius of mechanics must engage their attention and occupy their attention; that the mechanical and manufacturing interest of the State, under the auspices of the hour, would yield to the hand of honest industry the golden reward of plenty. The sculptor was needed, the iron horse must be harnessed by steam and guided for the journey &c. He exhorted them "not to be discouraged under pressure of arduous duties, as pupils, to take courage, what has been done man may do again.

Bagg Franklin was a poor, friendless man in the streets of Philadelphia once, but became one among the great men of the world." Others were cited as examples to stimulate and cheer.

The night exercises were, I am told, good. I was not present. Long live and flourish, the school, its friends, and the teacher.

Yours truly, J. M. Cross Plains, June 29, '69.

Dear Hutchinson: I noticed in the Republican of June 24th, that there was a mysterious rock now in Jacksonville, found 2 years ago by a man directed to it by an unknown voice, and it has produced great excitement in my family; and I make this enquiry for information sake knowing Jacksonville to be a sacred place, a deposit on holy land, and the question is asked, who is the man that found the rock? I am satisfied myself who it is, knowing Mr. is a medium that converses with the dead, it must be him. I would suggest that the radical party, but they don't deal in sacred things. Please find out and let know when you come up. Your friend

Mysterious. The following letter was picked up on one of the streets of this place a few days since, and is believed to be the production of a deranged man, who has or may commit suicide.

My time has come to die, and I want to make known to the public that my fortune has been made and spent in the last 2 years. It was caused by a young boy living 3 miles of the above named place. You will find my remains in a cave at the top of what is called the Abernathy Mills mountain—life once was as sweet to me as any one else, but for the past 2 years I have been a wanderer through the rough side of life—I have made 2 graves on account of it, and now the angel of my heart must die or myself and I prefer it. If any one wish to call on me, just take a small stone and tap at the cave door and call for the dead lover in the name of Jesus Christ and I will appear in all my glory—all hearts on his side and to quit this world before sinning the unpardonable sin—now I take my leave, you will not miss me as I am thought to be in a foreign land—I would give my name but I have a father to grieve after me if he new it so allude, adieu to this world, and if youngsters let this I ask them to take warning. Lovias Ler. I would take ink and pen to this but am now on the sly in the mountains to hide from my father.

Man wants but little here below nor wants that little long. (It is that she could feel one moment the one constant pain that I feel.)

[From the Huntsville Democrat.]

Railroad Convention at Guntersville.

Pursuant to notice through the newspapers, delegates from a number of counties in North Alabama, assembled in Guntersville, about 10 o'clock, A. M., on Thursday, June 17th, 1869, to take into consideration the completion of the Tennessee and Coosa river railroad, and its extension, in both directions, northward and southward.

Judge Lewis Wyeth called the delegates to order, and, on his motion, the convention was organized by the election of the following officers nominated by him, viz: President, Robert B. Kyle of Etowah; Vice Presidents, J. J. Donegan, of Madison; Jos. W. Burke, of Calhoun; Albert G. Henry, of Marengo; Geo. W. Graham, of Jackson, and Henry Fenell, of Morgan; Secretaries, J. F. Grant of Jacksonville; and J. Withers, of Etowah; and John W. Young, of Huntsville.

On taking the Chair, R. B. Kyle briefly and appropriately, explained the objects of the convention.

Judge Wyeth stated that there were three distinguished visitors in the town, Gov. W. H. Smith, of Ala., Hon. John Everett, of England, and Gen. Crawford, U. S. A., and moved that they be invited to take seats on the platform by the President. Judge Thos. A. Walker moved that the President appoint a committee to communicate the invitation, which was agreed to, and Judge Walker and A. G. Henry were appointed, and performed their office, and the visitors took their seats on the platform.

On motion of Judge Wyeth, the President appointed a committee of seven to report resolutions for the action of the convention, to wit: Thos. A. Walker, of Calhoun; Z. P. Freeman of Morgan; D. C. Humphreys and J. J. Dement of Madison; W. J. Carter, of Jackson, and Gabriel Hughes, of DeKalb. The committee reported.

On motion of Judge Wyeth, Gov. Smith and Mr. Everett were invited to address the convention. Gov. Smith declined, on the ground that he was not sufficiently acquainted with the subject and the objects in view.

Mr. Everett made an able and eloquent speech upon the great resources of this State, the importance of their development, and the grand results to be achieved thereby, eliciting strict attention and frequent applause.

Interesting and animated speeches were made in answer to calls, successively, by Gov. Jones, W. Burke, Judge Wyeth, Col. Donegan, Col. R. N. Walden, and Judge P. M. Dox, which were well received by the Convention.

On motion the convention adjourned till 2 P. M. the convention re-assembled. The committee of seven presented the following report and D. C. Humphrey, Esq. advocated its adoption in a few appropriate remarks.

The Committee on Resolutions respectfully reports: That this convention has been called as an advisory meeting of the friends of internal improvements, and of the development of the resources of the large extent of territory lying between the Northern, Southern, Eastern and Western parts of this State. The connection of the Tennessee river with the waters of the Mobile Bay has, for many years, occupied the attention of the State. The charter of the Tennessee and Coosa Rivers railroad was granted by the Legislature of Alabama in 1841. No work was done on the road till 1857, from which time till 1861, the work was prosecuted—and, at the time work was suspended, the entire track from Guntersville to Gadsden had been graded, except about one mile. The distance from Guntersville to Gadsden is thirty-six miles and the grading of the entire distance is in order, ready for the crosses, except the one mile. The distance from Gadsden to Jacksonville is twenty-two miles and about three-fourths of the grading is completed.

The immediate business of this convention is to suggest the importance of completing the road by putting it in running order from Guntersville to Jacksonville, so that, as we are, that when this is done, a connection will be made, both North and South, with other lines of railway, and thereby form continuous lines from the Gulf and the Atlantic to the Lakes.

The want of a railway communication between the Tennessee river and the waters of the Mobile Bay has been felt and still is felt, not only by the people on the immediate line of this road, but by the people of the entire State. The difficult condition of the road from Gadsden to Jacksonville is such that some accommodations must be entered into, between the carriers of the roads from Guntersville to Gadsden, and from Gadsden to Jacksonville. And this committee recommends to the two companies to consolidate and so adjust their affairs that the completion of the road through to Jacksonville shall be expedited.

Your committee recommends, as the voice of this committee, that the laying of the crosses and iron on the track from Guntersville to Jacksonville, be urged and pushed forward by the company. And we recommend to the company, and we forward and make such arrangements as are consistent with said completion, as soon as can be done, to secure the speedy laying of said track, subscriptions of stock may be procured and capital may be raised, when the subject is brought before the company.

This committee recommends that the people of this district and of all sections of this State, urge upon the Congress of the United States, the grant of lands which were forfeited by the lapses of time—upon such conditions as may be imposed for the benefit of the people, and further the completion of the road, and that a committee be appointed to negotiate with the Government on the subject. Without going into detail, your committee is satisfied that upon an examination, by the people of the maps of the country, they will be impressed with the importance in a social, commercial and national point of view of the completion of this route.

Thos. A. Walker, Ch'n Judge Walker was called on to speak, and said if any objection to the report, he preferred hearing, first from such objectors.

On motion, the report was read again. Thos. C. Barclay then offered the following resolution as an amendment, and advocated it in a spirited speech:

Resolved, That this Convention recommend to the Directors of the Tennessee and Coosa rivers railroad, the relinquishment of said railroad, to the State of Alabama; provided said State shall complete said road in running order upon just and fair terms.

Judge Walker made a pointed and telling speech in favor of the report and against the amendment. The latter was seconded, and the report was adopted unanimously.

The speech of Judge Walker was in explanation of the resolutions, and threw a flood of light upon the whole matter, revealing the gratifying fact that the Selma and Dalton Railroad Company proposed to give the graded road from Jacksonville to Gadsden to any corporation or individuals who would complete the whole road from Guntersville to Jacksonville, and he further stated that an association of individuals, of which he was a member, was forming, with means at command to do the work. We are safe in saying that the road will be soon commenced and completed.—Eps. INDEPENDENT.

Mr. R. B. Kyle called Gen. Burk to the Chair, and offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That we regard the proposition of the stockholders of the Selma, Rome and Dalton railroad to give to any person or association of persons, who will complete and equip, within one year from Jacksonville to Gadsden, with all of its improvements, as eminently patriotic and praiseworthy, and deserving of the thanks of every citizen of this section of the State—us, by this action, they have shown to us, that, notwithstanding a majority of them are residents of other States, yet they desire the general prosperity of this State and the welfare of our people.

The following resolution of the delegates from Madison county, presented by their Chairman, Col. Donegan, was on motion, ordered to be inserted in the published proceedings of the Convention.

Resolved, That the delegates to this Convention from Madison county, feel alive to the importance of the road proposed to connect North and South Alabama; and they pledge themselves to use their best exertions to effect a connection of the Memphis and Charleston road with said road at Guntersville.

On motion, the thanks of the Convention were tendered to the Memphis and Charleston railroad, and to Capt. J. M. Todd, of the steamer "Ida," for the free passage of delegates to and from Guntersville.

On motion, the newspapers in all sections of Alabama, interested in the objects proposed by this Convention, are requested to publish their proceedings, and the Convention then adjourned sine die.

J. F. GRANT, J. W. CLAY, J. W. YOUNG, W. B. FIGURES, Secretaries.

BUTLER'S MARTYRS.—A Georgia correspondent of the New York Times furnishes the following report, bearing testimony upon the character of the "Union martyrs" in Georgia, for whose sake Butler is important in the military to put Georgia under martial law.

Politics have no more to do with the martyrs which have taken place in Georgia than the religion, dress, height or personal appearance of the victims. Ashburn was killed by the company which usually frequents negro houses of ill-fame, one of which he was an inmate. Ayer was killed by a negro who had refused to allow him to become a boarder in a negro lodging house. Both Ashburn and Ayer were men of abandoned character and most profligate habits; and, however, for greater political effect, their names may be paraded as the "honorable" Mr. Ashburn and the "honorable" Mr. Ayer, the truth must be that they long before either had any political aspirations, no decent negro would have permitted them to associate with him. Atkins, who is represented by the writers of sensation romances for political effect, as a venerable and exemplary preacher of the gospel, was also a notorious debauchee. His negro armour are more numerous than his years.

It is true that all these were brutally murdered. But they were murdered by those whose honor and the sanctity of whose family had they attempted to outrage.

The Ohio farmer, with his gun plough, seated high up in a cedar comb, with out the fear of soiling his boots, ploughs out two rows of corn—ten furrows at once—while a Mississippi will walk ten times over the same ground at the expense of his shovels, if not his two-mules, to accomplish the same work.

On an average, the cotton planter who makes sixty bales uses up the proceeds of forty bales to buy what he ought to raise.

Living Tapestry. The following adventure happened in Bath in the year 1765, and the lady who narrated it to the writer was (in those days) a young girl staying in the house. It was in the palmy days of Bath, when the now fallen city rivalled London in brilliancy and dissipation, and when all rich, the gay, and the high-born of England congregated there in the season and grace of the balls and the assemblies. Mrs. R—, once the belle of the court of George III., but at this period gradually retiring from general society, possessed one of the largest of the old houses, and gave in it entertainments which were the most popular of the day. She was celebrated for three things:—once for four, but the fourth—her beauty—was of the days gone by. These things were her fascination, her benevolence, and—a set of the most perfect and nutshell anachronisms. Her house contained tapestried chambers. The walls of the one in which she slept were hung around with design, from beautiful mythology, and the finest piece in the room was that which hung over her dressing table. It represented Phœbus driving the chariot of the sun. The figures and horses being life size, it filled up the whole space between the two windows, and the horses were enameled behind the oblong panels. A Venetian-looking glass, while Phœbus himself, six feet high, looked down by day and by night on his mistress at her toilette.

One evening Mrs. R— had an unusually large party at home. She wore all her anachronisms. On retiring to her room, about 4 o'clock in the morning, she took off her jewels, laid them on the table, and dismissing the weary maid, intended to put them away herself, but before doing so, knelt down, as usual, to her prayers. While engaged in her devotions, it was a habit with her to look upward, and the face of Phœbus was generally her point of sight, as it were, and the object on which her eyes most easily rested. On this particular night, as usual, she raised her eyes to Phœbus. What does she see? In Pygmalion been at work? Has he filled those dull silk eyes with vital fire? Or is she dreaming? No. Possessed naturally of wonderful courage and calmness, she continued to move her lips as if in silent prayer, and never once withdrew her gaze, and still the eyes looked down upon hers. The light of her candles shone distinctly on living orbs, and her good keen sight enabled her, after a cleverly managed scrutiny, to see that the tapestry eyes of Phœbus had been cut out, and that, with her door locked and every servant in bed, her distant apartments, and all her jewels spread out before her, she was not alone in the room. She concluded her prayers with her face sunk in her hands.

We can well imagine what those prayers must have been! She knew there was some one behind that tapestry; she knew that bells and screams were equally useless, and she lay down in her bed as usual and waited the issue, her only omission being that she did not put away her jewels. They lay close by her eyes. The clock struck five before a sound was heard, and then the moment arrived. She heard a rustle, a descent from behind the tapestry, and a man stood at her dressing table. He took off his coat, and, leaning over her, he secured the jewels beneath his waistcoat. What the jewels he next moved? Would it be to would be his next move? He turned the bedside into the window? He turned and approached her bedside, but by that time she had seen enough, and again resigned herself to the Providence which had just been enacting. The man was her own coachman. Apparently satisfied that a brief glance under his dark lantern that he had not disturbed her, he quietly unlocked the door and left her. For two days she must have remained unalarmed—she allowed the house to remain unalarmed, her only movement being to relock the door which her living Phœbus had left ajar.

At seven in the morning she rang her bell, and ordered the carriage round immediately after breakfast. All this was according to her usual habits. On the box was the man who had cut her jewels, and she most probably all her jewelry. However she drove off she went straight to the house of a magistrate. "Seize my coachman," said she; "seize him and search him. I have been robbed, and I hardly think he has had time to disencumber himself of the jewels he has taken from me." She was obeyed, and she was right. The magistrates were still about him, and he gave himself up without a struggle.

Mrs. M. E. Rowland, AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED COMMON SENSE FAMILY SEWING MACHINE, is now prepared to furnish them to any one wishing to buy, and give the best references among the citizens of this place, in regard to their worth and merits.

All orders throughout this county and elsewhere attended to promptly.

Jacksonville, July 3, 1869.

Land for Sale. THE undersigned offer for sale 1100 acres of land lying 12 miles west of Jacksonville one half mile of the railroad survey from Jacksonville to Gadsden; 200 acres cleared, 250 acres creek bottom, and the balance lying wild and mottled up land all well timbered and watered. It can be purchased in one body, or it can be conveniently divided into four or more parts to suit purchasers. Persons wishing to purchase are invited to call and examine the land.

ELLIS KELLEY & SON, July 3, 1869—411

THE following named persons are hereby appointed inspectors of the Election Precincts hereinafter specified, for the purpose of opening and holding an Election in Calhoun County, Alabama on Thursday the 3rd day of August, 1869, to elect a member to the Congress of the United States, from the 5th Congressional District of the State of Alabama, to-wit:

Re. Prec. No. 1, Jacksonville. Wm. M. Hamms, Inspectors, and J. M. Caprell, J. W. Whitson, J. W. Williams Returning Officer and Sheriff.

For Prec. No. 2, Alexandria. S. J. Whitley, Inspectors, and J. M. Sheild, James B. Bunt, Returning Officer and Deputy Sheriff.

For Prec. No. 3, White Plains. B. S. Evans, Inspectors, and M. P. Johnson, Henry Murray Returning Officer and Deputy Sheriff.

For Prec. No. 4, Cross Plains. Jacob P. Bailey, Inspectors, and S. S. Nabors, J. W. Ledbetter, Wm. A. Stewart, Returning Officer and Deputy Sheriff.

A. WOODS, County Supervisor's June 28th, 1869.

Election Notice. AN Election will be opened at Jacksonville, Alexandria, White Plains, and Cross Plains, in Calhoun County, Alabama, on Thursday the 3rd day of August, 1869, for the purpose of electing a member to the Congress of the United States for the 5th Congressional District of the State of Alabama, and the persons above named are the Inspectors and Returning Officers of said election, appointed and returned to me by A. Woods and W. P. Crook, County Supervisors, and the returning officers are hereby made Deputy Sheriffs for holding said Elections.

J. W. WILLIAMS, Sheriff. June 28th, 1869.

D. W. McMillan, Ins Justice Court, W. J. Black, Calhoun County, Alabama, before C. D. Davis, Justice of the Peace.

Appearing to the Court, that suit was commenced by attachment, and levied on the property of defendant who is a non-resident—it is ordered by the court, that notice of the attachment and levy upon the Defendant's property be given by publication in the Jacksonville Republican, a Newspaper published in said county, for four successive weeks, and a copy to be sent by mail to Defendant residence is known.

Notice is given to said Defendant to appear at the next term of said court, to be held in August and defend said suit. C. D. DAVIS, J. P. June 29, 1869.

R. S. Evans vs. W. J. Black, A. J. Little vs. W. J. Black, Wm. E. Bowling vs. W. J. Black, W. S. Porter vs. W. J. Black, T. A. Davis vs. W. J. Black.

NOTICE is also given, that if some order is entered in each of the foregoing cases, having been commenced by attachment against Defendant W. J. Black, as a non-resident, and levied on his property. C. D. DAVIS, J. P. June 29, 1869.—At $7 50.

Cast and Wrought Iron Pipe AT THE ROME Gas Works.

WE have on hand a large amount, and will continue to keep all sizes of Cast and Wrought Iron Pipe, with all necessary fittings, which we propose to sell at lower prices than have ever been sold for before in this market. H. A. GARTRELL & CO. Rome, Ga., June 26, 1869.—31m.

ENCOURAGE Home Productions.

A MOST DELIGHTFUL TONIC, A MOST DELIGHTFUL TONIC, A MOST DELIGHTFUL TONIC.

OLD CAROLINA BITTERS, A SOUTHERN PREPARATION, VALUABLE AND RELIABLE.

EQUAL if not SUPERIOR to any Bitters in the market, and at a much less price. CURES DYSPEPSIA, LOSS OF APPETITE, Chills & Fever, AND IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE BEST TONIC BITTERS IN USE.

GOODRICH, WINEMAN & CO., Manufacturers and Proprietors, and Direct Importers of CHOICE DRUGS and CHEMICALS, CHARLESTON, S. C.

For sale by the Merchants of Jacksonville, Ala. June 26, 1869.—1y.

THE ATLAS MUTUAL Life Insurance Company,

ST. LOUIS, Mo. Assets, $600,000.

IS represented in this district by J. M. BEN-FRO. It is strictly speaking, a home company—being located in a Western city, and having large investments in our own State. We claim for the Atlas, advantages superior to all other companies doing business in this State, in this, that all of its policies are non-forfeitable from date of first payment, and no restrictions as to residence, occupation, &c. June 26, 1869.—1f.

Shiriff Sale. On the first Monday in July, 1869, I will offer for cash before the Court House, the following de-erided property to-wit: two Miles level upon the property of E. H. Morris to satisfy one bill in my hands in favor of E. L. Woodward.—This the 26 day of June 1869. J. W. WILLIAMS, Sheriff.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County, Court of Probate for said county, special term, June 14, 1869.

In the matter of the Estate of Mary W. Perry, dec'd.

THIS DAY came J. M. Anderson and O. P. Anderson, Administrators of the said Estate, and filed their accounts and vouchers for a final settlement thereof.

It is thereupon Ordered by the court, that the 12th day of July, 1869, be set as a day to hear and determine said settlement; and that three successive weeks notice be given in the Jacksonville Republican, a Newspaper published in the Town of Jacksonville, so that all persons interested may attend, and contest the same, if they think proper.

A. WOODS, Judge of Probate. June 19, 1869.—3t.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County, Court of Probate for said county, special Term, June 15, 1869.

In the Matter of the Estate of John B. Weir, dec'd.

THIS DAY came Z. Henderson, Administrator of the said Estate, and filed his account and vouchers, for a final settlement thereof. It is thereupon Ordered by the Court, that the 24th day of July, 1869, be set as a day to hear and determine said settlement; and that three successive weeks notice be given in the Jacksonville Republican, a Newspaper published in the Town of Jacksonville, so that all persons interested may attend, and contest the same, if they think proper.

A. WOODS, Judge of Probate. June 19, 1869.—3t.

Notice! Notice!! There will be a Special Term of the court of county commissioners, held at the Court House in the Town of Jacksonville, Ala., on Wednesday the 7th day of July, 1869, for the purpose of arranging and publishing a list of the registered voters of Calhoun County Ala., and for attending to any other business, in which the people of the county may be interested, the county commissioners are hereby notified to be in attendance at the time above specified.

A. WOODS, Judge of Probate. June 26, 1869.

Registration Notice. I have received from the Secretary of State, the Blank Registration Book, and am ready to register all persons not having heretofore registered.

A. WOODS, Judge of Probate. June 26, 1869.

BACON. A LARGE LOT OF CHOICE NEW BACON, Just Received and for sale by J. B. TURNLEY & CO. March 27, 1869.

TIN-WARE. FOR SALE BY E. L. WOODWARD & SON. June 12, 1869.

STOLEN. FROM the shop of the undersigned, on the night of the 10th inst. a number of Shop Tools, such as Plains, Hammer, Gages, Steel Blade Square, &c. all which are stamped with J. H. C. Any information of Tools or Thief will be most thankfully received. J. H. CRAWFORD, June 12, 1869.

Latest News.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Among the President's appointments to West Point, promulgated today, is the son of Col. Frank of Ohio, who was recently killed at Jackson, Mississippi.

FROM PARIS.

PARIS, June 24.—Prince Henry of the Bourbon, a prominent candidate for the Spanish Throne, has married Miss Payne, an American heiress.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Grant's press-officer intention is very reliably stated to be to issue an election proclamation about the 10th of July, for an election in Mississippi on the 15th of September, and in Texas about the 1st of October.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, June 26.—Joseph Kelley, who was shot Thursday evening at the registration office by policeman Captain Callahan, died this morning. His death created much feeling in the city, he having been held by three policemen while Callahan who had a personal feud with him, shot him. Kelley was Vice President of the Seymour and Blair Club during the campaign and Callahan was an ex-Confederate officer during the war, and since joined the Republican party. Callahan was today re-arrested. Edward Fontaine, the proprietor of the Chesapeake and Ohio R. R., died today, at the age of sixty-nine years. Gen. Canby orders that Callahan, who killed Kelley, be tried by military commission.

From the Knoxville Press and Herald. A Reminiscence.

An Olden Times Tell between Andy Johnson and Gus Henry.

The gubernatorial contest of '53 was a most hotly contested one. The Whigs, who had just carried the State for Scott, made strenuous efforts to retain their supremacy. The Democrats, on the other hand, were equally determined that Tennessee should take her place in the party that had so recently swept the nation in triumph. The champions, Henry and Johnson, manifested no less zeal than their respective adherents, and many were the thrusts and stinging blows exchanged "upon the stump." Their canvass closed in Knoxville. An immense crowd was present, and the excitement ran high. The confidence of the two parties differing little in degree, Andrew Johnson concluded the discussion. In closing he spoke about in this wise:

Fellow-citizens, it was with much reluctance and trepidation that I entered this canvass which is now brought to a close. I say trepidation because the enemy having contended over the names of all their heroes and men of prowess selected my honorable competitor as the greatest of them all, and placed their banner in his hands. He was brought forth with flourish of trumpet, and heralded to the world as the "Bagle Orator." A man of my pretension might well have been appalled, and one less timid than myself might, without cowardice, have shrunk from such an encounter. But fellow-citizens, I have been with this Bagle Orator throughout this contest. I have met him upon every stump from Johnson to Shelby, and now when I look upon him (turning to Mr. Henry), I see no flesh upon his back and no blood upon his talons. The outburst of applause from the democrats, who were largely in the minority, was of course, tremendous, but, quick as thought, Mr. Henry sprang to his feet, with lightning in his eye, and looking at least a foot taller than ever before, as his voice rang out like a trumpet: "Yes, fellow-citizens, the eagle is a proud bird and never deigns to prey upon a prairie carcass." If the shouts of the Democrats had been increased seven fold, they could not have been heard above the White Thunder at that moment. To this day the Whigs who were present will insist that in this little encounter "Our Gus" got the better. And could well afford it, however, for he got "Our Gus" badly at the ballot-box.

From the Gadsden Times.

District Democratic Convention.

JUNE 18th, 1869.

Agreeably to a Resolution of the District Democratic Convention which met on the 9th inst., as also to the changed call of the 5th Dist., met in Convention at Gadsden on the 18th inst.

The Convention was called to order by Col. J. H. Caldwell, of Calhoun, Sec'y pro tem, James Forman chairman pro tem of the Convention of the 8th being absent. On motion F. M. Hardwick was called temporarily to the chair. On motion, the proceedings of last meeting were read.—J. W. Young member of the Convention as also of the State Ex. Committee, moved that the minutes of the meeting of the 8th be rejected; whereupon, an animated discussion ensued, participated in by Chancellor Foster of Calhoun, Col. Cooper of Cherokee, Col. Lowe of Madison, Col. Caldwell of Calhoun, and others.

Col. Woodliff of Etowah, in order that the Convention might go into the election of permanent officers, moved a postponement of the whole matter—which was carried—and the subject was not again resumed during the sitting of the Convention. On motion of Col. Ellis of Cleburne and Calhoun, a committee of one from each county was appointed on permanent organization. The following named gentlemen were appointed on said committee: Col. J. H. Caldwell, Calhoun, Kyle, J. H. Woodliff, Etowah, J. H. Woodliff, Cherokee, and others.

Convention reassembled according to adjournment. A Committee on permanent organization reported Col. James Sheffield of Marshall for President, T. D. Osborne of Jackson and P. A. Brandon of DeKalb for Secretaries.

CALHOUN. W. F. Rush, John Foster, G. C. Ellis and John Caldwell. CHEROKEE. Thos. B. Cooper, T. P. McElrath, F. M. Hardwick, J. B. Alexander, E. S. Hardwick, J. H. Savage. CLEBURNE. Foster, Caldwell and Ellis. DEKALB. B. H. Nicholson, P. A. Brandon. ETOWAH. Kyle, Woodliff, Benson, T. J. Wolford, James M. Hoge, W. N. Cowan. JACKSON. Benj. Snodgrass, W. P. Gulin, T. P. Osborne. MADISON. W. D. Humphrey, Wm. W. Lowe, Chas. A. Donegan, W. T. H. Brooks, John W. Young, Wu Newman, H. F. Murray, J. S. Crowder. MARSHALL. Champ Farris, Col. Wm. Griffin, J. L. Sheffield.

On motion of Col. Lowe, Editors and Reporters of Democratic papers, as also, Col. Joe H. Francis of the State Ex. Committee were invited to seats on the floor. On motion of Col. Griffin of Marshall, a call of the counties was had in order that each county might place the name of its favorite candidate before the convention. Col. Cooper of Cherokee, presented the name of Col. Rattery of Cherokee. J. H. Nicholson, Esq., presented the name of Col. Wm. O. Winston of DeKalb. Col. Lowe, of Madison, presented the name of Hon. Peter M. Dox, of Madison. The Convention then proceeded to the ballot. After 36 ballots without an election the Convention adjourned at 6 1/2 o'clock, until 8 o'clock next day.

Convention reassembled agreeably to adjournment. Convention called to order, and on roll of counties being called, all were found to be present except St. Clair. On motion of Col. Cooper, the reading of the minutes was dispensed with and the convention proceeded at once to ballot. On the 27th ballot, Hon. Peter M. Dox, of Madison received 24 1/2 votes. Twenty-two only being necessary to a choice, the chair announced Hon. Peter M. Dox the standard bearer of the Democracy of the Democratic of the Congressional election. On motion of Col. Cooper, the nomination was made unanimous. Col. Cooper then favored the convention with a most beautiful eulogy of the nominee, and pledges himself and his favorite, Col. Rattery, to personal service in the cause during the contest.

Col. Hardwick, of Cherokee, also pledged a hearty support, and prophesied the triumphant success of the orthodox Peter M. Dox. On motion of Col. Caldwell, a committee of one from each county was appointed to notify Mr. Dox of his nomination.—The chair appointed on that committee, J. H. Caldwell, chm., R. B. Kyle, T. B. Cooper, Wm. Griffin, Benj. Snodgrass, B. H. Nicholson and G. C. Ellis.

On motion of Col. Lowe, a vote of cordial thanks was extended to the officers of the convention for their able, patriotic, and dignified conduct during the sitting of the convention. On motion of Col. Cooper, the thanks of the convention was tendered the Baptists of the community for the use of their house of worship.

On motion of L. B. Osborne, a Dist. Ex. Committee, composed of one from each county was elected. Each county at once proceeded to nominate a committee member, and the following gentlemen were unanimously chosen: J. H. Moore, of Marshall, J. H. Woodliff, of Cherokee, W. O. Winston, of DeKalb, James Crook, of Calhoun, James Jordan, of Jackson, A. L. Woodliff, of Etowah, M. L. Pinson, of Cleburne, James Foreman, of St. Clair, and W. D. Humphrey, of Madison.

On motion of Col. Cooper, of Cherokee, the Secretary was instructed to furnish the minutes of the convention to the GADSDEN TIMES for publication, and other Democratic papers of the District, as also the Seaboard Herald, (an agricultural paper) requested to copy therefrom.

On motion of Wm. Griffin, of Marshall, the convention adjourned. Passing by Patona a few days ago, I overheard an amusing conversation between the humorist, Warren Harris, of this county, and a fellow traveler. The question was asked if the streets of Patona were not merry in winter? Warren replied, that he had been if it was not so wet in winter that it would mire the shadow of a turkey Buzzard.

Persons using lamps will find by putting the chimneys, before use, in a kettle of cold water, heat to boiling, and then cool gradually. It will prevent them in a great measure from cracking. This plan has been tried with great success.

"John, John," shouted an old gentleman to his son, "get up; the day is breaking." "Very well," said John, "act, at break; it owes us nothing." Interval of twenty minutes. "John, John," the sun is up before you." "Very well," said John, "he has further to go than we have."

For sale by Joseph E. Veal, Broad st. Rome, Ga.—qt's $3 per doz. half gal. $4.

1,000 GALVASS STEAMING TRIPLE-PRESERVED VEALS

ROWAN'S MAMMOTH STORE!!

ROWAN informs his friends and the public generally, that having purchased the Ryan & McRowland Corner, he has thrown the whole Block into one

Spacious Store Room,

Which for size, convenience and elegance is unequalled in East Alabama. He has removed his

Immense Stock of Goods

To this new EMPORIUM. He was unable to open many cases and packages of his Spring Stock for want of room in his old Store. All are now displayed and ready for the inspection of his customers; and for Variety, Quality, Quantity and Prices are far ahead of all competition.

The Cash System is adopted, and prices of all Goods reduced from 15 to 25 per cent.

HIS STOCK IS COMPLETE AND PERFECT IN THE LINES OF

DRY GOODS,

Notions, Hardware, Woodware, Crockery, Groceries, Boots & Shoes, Hats & Caps, Books & Stationery, Rifles & Shot Guns, Window Shades, Wall Paper, Oil Cloths, Carpeting.

AND A LARGE AND COMPLETE ASSORTMENT OF READY-MADE CLOTHING.

Also, A FINE LOT OF FURNITURE, Cottage Chairs, Bedsteads &c.

Which he offers at Wholesale or Retail. Retail dealers, who buy only a few thousand dollars at a time, will find it to their interest to call on him instead of going to New York.

All who want FASHIONABLE GOODS, CHEAP GOODS, GOOD GOODS—all who want ANY ARTICLE kept in city or country Stores, from a yard of pins or a yard of Domestic to a fine Lace Shawl, are invited to call, and they will be suited in goods and prices. Large Sales and Small Profits is the maxim.

The Elephant RETIRES before the MAMMOTH!!

N. B. Agent of Ruble & Willford for the sale of Russells celebrated Separating Thrashers, Mowers, Reapers and Farming Implements generally.

JOSEPH E. VEAL, ROME, GA.

DEALER IN FIRE GOLD AND SILVER WATCHES, Pearl and Diamond Jewelry, Pure Silver Ware,

Spectacles, Cutlery, Toys, Best Plated Ware, FRENCH, CHINA, AND CUT GLASS WARE,

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, FISHING TACKLE AND FANCY ARTICLES

Repairing in all its branches, in best style and warranted. May 1st, 1869.

BOOTS & SHOES M. O. MARKHAM,

DEALER IN BOOTS, SHOES, LEATHER, CALF SKINS, SHOEFINDINGS, &c. Markham's Empire Block, Whitehall St., ATLANTA, GA.

I now have in store an immense stock of goods, and am constantly receiving large shipments from the best Eastern Manufacturers, for which I pay cash; and feel confident that no House South of New York can offer greater inducements to the trade and public generally. Please give me a trial before purchasing elsewhere.

M. O. MARKHAM, ATLANTA, GA. Dec. 26, 1868—3m.

GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, & HARD-WARE. SMITH & REDDIE,

OXFORD, ALA.

HAVE on hand and are constantly receiving Large and full Assortments of Groceries, which they offer at the LOWEST MARKET RATES. Groceries bought from First Hands, and for Cash, which enables us to offer extra inducements to the Trade, and to persons buying to sell again. Also Agents for sale of FERTILIZERS. February 20, 1869.

"The Live Drug Store." REDWINE & FOX,

Wholesale & Retail DEALERS IN Drugs, Medicines, Oils, Pints, Window Glass, Putty, &c.

IN STOCK DIRECTLY FROM IMPORTERS & MANUFACTURERS. 1000 BOXES FRENCH WINDOW GLASS, 1000 Gall's LINSEED OIL—Boiled and Raw, 200 (3) Pounds WHITE LEAD—All Grades, 1000 PAINT—Colors every kind, 50 Bbls. PURE "FIRE TEST" COAL OIL, 20 " SPIRITS TURPENTINE, 20 " BEST COPPERAS, 5 CASES BEST INDIGO, 10 Bbls. PURE LARD OIL, All kinds of MACHINE OIL.

ALL THE POPULAR PATENT MEDICINES. Surgical Instruments, Saddle Bags and every thing usually found in a first class Drug House—call and examine our stock before buying elsewhere. REDWINE & FOX, Dec. 26, 1868—1y. Corner Whitehall & Ala. St's., ATLANTA, GA.

B. F. WILLY, WHOLESALE GROCER

AND PRODUCE MERCHANT, Whitehall Street, ATLANTA, GA.

KEEPS constantly on hand a large and well assorted stock of Staple and Fancy Groceries, also Produce and Provisions of every description, which I offer to the trade at very reasonable prices, and at wholesale exclusively. Orders solicited, and prompt personal attention given them. Dec. 26, 1868—3m. B. F. WILLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS

WE are now prepared to furnish, on short notice, at manufacturers' prices freight added, REAPERS, MOWERS, THRASHERS, EVAPORATORS, CASE MILLS & SHELLERS, Or almost any other labor-saving machine.

Persons wanting Agricultural Machinery, are invited to call and see us. E. L. WOODWARD & SON, Jacksonville, May 22, 1869.

A Large Lot of CHOICE NEW BACON,

JUST RECEIVED And for Sale by J. B. TURNLEY & CO.

TALLADEGA Marble Works.

J. A. BERGIN, Proprietor, TALLADEGA, ALABAMA. I will keep constantly on hand MONUMENTS, Tombs, Head Stones, MANTELS, TABLE AND COUNTER TOPS, URNS, VASES, TILES.

And everything of the best material. Having many years experience in the business, I will put up all work in workmanlike manner, and at reasonable prices.

Fire Brick, Plaster of Paris and Cement. Old work taken down, cleaned, and reseta. Letters Blacked and Gilded. All communications for mail promptly attended to. May 8, 1869.

WONDER OF THE AGE! EXCELSIOR REAPER

AND BEST MACHINE MADE, LIGHTEST DRAFT & WIDEST CUT.

FIRST PREMIUM taken at Fairs all over the country. Factory never yet able to supply the demand. Every body wants one after seeing it. The Works are enclosed in an iron Case, so they cannot be injured by snow or dirt. In cutting 100 acres it will save grain enough to pay for it.

For sale at Manufacturer's prices by PRIVETT & DEAN, or W. L. WADSWORTH & CO. General Agents, Rome, Ga. Call and get a Pamphlet with description, prices, and certificates of those who have used the machine. May 8, 1869.

Sheriff Sale

On the 5th day of July, 1869, I will offer before the court house door for cash the following described land, to-wit: The north west fourth of the north east fourth of section 10, Township 13, Range 8, the property of Benj. L. Coffee, to satisfy an execution in my hands in favor of George W. Garmany—levied upon by former Sheriff, J. W. WILLIAMS, Sheriff. June 2, 1869.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

THE Advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks, by a very simple remedy, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

Parties wishing the prescription, will please address Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings county, New York.

ERRORS OF YOUTH.

A GENTLEMAN who has suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, give the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure Cure for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, etc. The object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he believes to be valuable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

Parties wishing the prescription, will please address JOHN B. OGDEN, No. 42 Cedar street, New York.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHOEA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc.; also, CONSUMPTION, Epilepsy, and Frenzy, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price, in sealed envelope, only 6 cents. The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, and radically.

The Lectures should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land, every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid on the receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents. Address the publisher, CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO., 127 BOWERY, N. Y. Post Office Box 4,586.

BRING YOUR LOOSE COTTON

To WOODWARD & SON.

MILLINERY GOODS

MRS. M. GOODE, Would respectfully inform her friends and the public generally, that she has just returned from Market, with a complete and nice assortment of Ladies Hats, Bonnets, Ribbons, Flowers, Trimmings and Varieties.

In her line of business, which she offers at very low prices—and calls upon all to give her a trial at her establishment B. Goode's Photographic Gallery, next door north of E. L. Woodward's store, where they will find an elegant, fashionable and well-assorted stock.

DRESS MAKER.

Who is prepared to execute any work of that line, and guarantee satisfaction to all who may favor them with their patronage. Jacksonville Ala., May 14th, 1869. Give us a trial.

KAYTON'S OIL OF LIFE CURES ALL PAINS AND ACHES, AND IS THE GREAT RHEUMATISM LINIMENT.

READ THESE LINES AND POUND THEM WELL.—The best tests of the merits of any proprietary articles is to ascertain what is thought of it at home where it is manufactured; which test Ippington's Pyrafigue can well stand up to-day it is decidedly the favorite remedy for chills and fever, dumb ague and other diseases of a malarious origin, in the city of Savannah, where it is prepared. The principal druggists of the city could as much think of doing without castor oil in their stores as to do without this popular (and desirable) remedy. It is a vegetable preparation free from deleterious drugs, and acts as a tonic upon the entire system, thereby invigorating the system so much, as to enable it to throw off disease. Pyrafigue does not nauseate or deplete the patient, and can be taken by the most delicate person without fear. It should always be at hand, as chills and fever creep upon us so stealthily that we are not aware of its approach until it is upon us. A word to the wise is sufficient.

KAYTON'S PILLS CURE SICK HEADACHE AND ALL BILIOUS DISORDERS.

DARBY'S Prophylactic Fluid.

DARBY'S PROPHYLACTIC FLUID, DARBY'S PROPHYLACTIC FLUID, DARBY'S PROPHYLACTIC FLUID.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE, THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE, THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE, THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE.

The Wonderful Healing Remedy, The Wonderful Healing Remedy, The Wonderful Healing Remedy, The Wonderful Healing Remedy.

THE ASTONISHING DISINFECTANT, THE ASTONISHING DISINFECTANT, THE ASTONISHING DISINFECTANT, THE ASTONISHING DISINFECTANT.

THE REMARKABLE PAIN KILLER, THE REMARKABLE PAIN KILLER, THE REMARKABLE PAIN KILLER, THE REMARKABLE PAIN KILLER.

Cures Burns, Wounds, Stings, Cures Cuts, Sores, Boils, Cures Ulcers, Scalds, Bites, Cures Catarrh, Scalds, Bruises.

Removes all Bad Odors, Relieves Colic Instantly, Cures Chronic Diarrhoea, Cures Erysipelas and Gangrene.

READ THIS AND SEE!!! Letter from Maj. J. T. Hester of Ala.

AGENCY, Ala., April 4, 1869. Means JOHN DARBY, 161 William St., N. Y.

GENTS—I have received so much benefit from Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, that I feel it my duty to let you know it. I had an attack of Typhoid Fever, and with it a most stubborn case of Erysipelas, and was confined to my bed near two months, suffering the most intense pain all the time from Erysipelas, and after exhausting the many prescriptions of my physician, at last commenced the use of Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, and soon found that I was being improved by its use, and continued to use it, and a nearly well, I consider it the most valuable medicine for the diseases and purposes for which it is made, that is sold. I also used it most successfully on my little son who was severely burnt, and I do assure you that it was from this medicine alone that I could get any relief from my distressing attack of Erysipelas.

I do not write you this as a certificate for publication, but as a duty that I feel I owe to Prof. Darby and his invaluable medicine.

I shall never be without it again if I can by any possible means get it. I hope you are succeeding, and will make a fortune. Very truly yours, J. T. HESTER.

For sale by every Druggist and Country Merchant. Orders filled by the proprietors JOHN DARBY & CO., 161 William Street, N. Y.

MARSHALL & BURGE, IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS OF Foreign and Domestic DRY GOODS, 143 MEETING STREET, CHARLESTON, S. C.

E. W. MARSHALL, June 12, 1869. W. T. BURGE.

E. L. WOODWARD & SON, Agts. Briarfield Iron Works,

ARE now prepared to fill orders for Iron, by the quantity, at Manufacturer's Prices, Freight added, in from three to five days after receiving the order. Be sure to call upon us before purchasing elsewhere. Feb. 26, 1869.

Jacksonville Republican.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA., Saturday, July 10, 1869.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. For one year in advance, $3 00 For six months, 1 75

TERMS OF ADVERTISING. The square of 10 lines or less, first insertion, $1 00 Each subsequent insertion, 50 cents per one square counted as two, &c. (Charges are charged at advertising rates.)

FOR CONGRESS FROM THE 5TH DISTRICT

HON. PETER M. DOX, OF MADISON. Nominee of the Democratic District Convention.

Register and Vote. The large space occupied by the list of voters, required by law to be published, excludes our usual variety this week, for which we will make ample amends in the future.

All who have not yet registered, can do so, up to within three days of the election, by applying to the Judge of Probate. It is true the arrangement of the precincts will make it inconvenient for some to vote; but we hope that this, instead of discouraging them, will but nerve them to a more stern determination to exercise this inestimable privilege of a freeman.

The Atlas Mutual Life Insurance Company of Saint Louis Mo., is fast becoming one of the Institutions of the country. Capt. Renfro, the Agt. for this Dist., is about establishing an Office in this place, making it the "Head Quarters" for the District.

Manum.—On the afternoon of the 6th inst. at the residence of Judge T. A. Walker, in this place, by Rev. J. D. Renfro, Mr. C. G. Wynn, of New York, to Miss Amanda J. M. Wynn, of Tallahassee, Fla.

Democratic Victory in Virginia. The Democrats have elected Walker, Governor by a large majority; and a majority of 61 members on joint ballot.

Examination Exercises in Jacksonville Female Academy. The last session of this Institution closed by an examination of the pupils on the 1st and 2nd July, 1869.

At the close of the exercises the resignation of the Principal was announced, followed by an interesting and appropriate address by Rev. Mr. Meredith, of Montevalle.

A silver Goblet was presented to the Principal, Rev. D. P. Smith, by fourteen of the young ladies, as a testimonial of their affectionate gratitude for his faithful and efficient services, and their regret in parting with him as Teacher.

The presentation was made by Miss M. A. Forney, who delivered an interesting and appropriate address, which was responded to by the Principal, producing quite an effecting scene. We may mention here also, that upon the occasion of the reception of the resignation of the Principal, by the Trustees some days previous, that body passed a hearty and unanimous vote of thanks to him for his faithful, efficient and successful services; and also a vote of thanks for his diligence and fidelity in superintending the repairs of the Academy; the erection of an additional building, and other improvements.

On Friday night the young ladies gave an amusing and interesting exhibition, consisting of Tableaux and Chaurades, interspersed with musical performances on the Piano, by Mrs. M. E. Francis and her music class, in which the young ladies acquitted themselves with great credit.

In closing this brief notice, we think it not inappropriate to announce to the public, that Miss Fulenwider and Miss Broyles will continue in the Academy as teachers, and Mrs. M. E. Francis as Music Teacher, and that the place of Principal has been filled by the election and acceptance of B. T. Harrison of Dallas, a gentleman who is well and favorably known to many of our citizens, and who comes highly recommended for his thorough scholarship, and his zeal, fidelity and industry as an experienced and successful teacher.

We think we may safely say that no session of our Female Academy has closed under more favorable auspices—with more entire satisfaction on the part of its patrons and friends, with the rapid and substantial improvement of its pupils; and with the competent and accomplished teachers now engaged, has it ever had brighter prospects for the future? Let unity of action, and liberal and generous patronage, make it indeed an institution of which we may justly be proud, and which we can truly and heartily love and cherish.

Committees.—Persons having work in this line are respectfully referred to the advertisement of Mr. Baysiegel, who comes among us highly recommended as a first class workman. It needs no argument to prove that it is both the duty and interest of every citizen to encourage home manufactures and home enterprize of every description. Mr. B. warrants all his work.

Geo. J. Turney, Esq., delegate to the Railroad convention at Lafayette Ga., which had for its object the construction of a Road from Chattanooga to Pensacola, has returned and expresses great confidence in the success of the enterprise.

This road will pass Lafayette and Summerville, Ga., Jacksonville and Wetumpka Ala., connecting with the Pensacola Road at Montgomery. In consequence of the large space occupied by the list of registered voters, we defer publishing the proceedings of the meeting until next paper.

WANTED

A good well digger, who is not afraid of his shadow. One who will go into a well already seventy feet deep, and dig it fifteen or twenty feet deeper. The highest price will be paid to secure water, and several jobs of well digging can be had by one who understands his business. Enquire at this office.

The Atlas Mutual Life Insurance Company of Saint Louis Mo., is fast becoming one of the Institutions of the country. Capt. Renfro, the Agt. for this Dist., is about establishing an Office in this place, making it the "Head Quarters" for the District.

Manum.—On the afternoon of the 6th inst. at the residence of Judge T. A. Walker, in this place, by Rev. J. D. Renfro, Mr. C. G. Wynn, of New York, to Miss Amanda J. M. Wynn, of Tallahassee, Fla.

The reader will find in our advertising columns, the notice of Judge Harrison, (the Republican candidate) for appointments for speaking. Judge P. M. Dox, the Democratic candidate, informed the Editor of the Gadsden Times that he would be with him at Gadsden on the 15th, and if so, we think it highly probable he will be here on the 17th.

Mr. N. D. Criswell, Agent for the sale of valuable Books, Sewing Machines, Photographic Albums, patent such locks, Stencil work, &c. has been in our town some days, and will probably remain some time to come. By his fair dealing, correct and gentlemanly deportment he has made many friends and proven himself eminently worthy of patronage.

ROOM OF DEMOCRATIC DISTRICT CONVENTION.

GADSDEN, June 19, 1869. Hon. P. M. Dox, Huntsville, Ala.

Dear Sir—The undersigned, Committee appointed by the Democratic Convention of this 5th Congressional District, have the honor to inform you that having had conference in your city, and believing that your interests are being identified with the State of Alabama and your sympathies in full accord with our people, the Convention having selected you as their Standard Bearer in the approaching Congressional contest.

In commencing this task the Committee take pleasure in stating, that your nomination was confirmed by the unanimous voice of the Delegates, and that the aid and cooperation in your efforts to induce the people will result in a triumph of Democratic Principles in August next. We have the honor to be, very respectfully yours,

J. H. CALDWELL, THOS. B. COOPER, G. C. ELLIS, B. H. NICHOLSON, BENJ. SNODGRASS, JR., R. B. KYLE, W. M. LOWE, W. H. GARDNER.

Letter of Acceptance.

MADISON COUNTY, ALA., June 25th, 1869. Gentlemen—Your letter advising me of my nomination as the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Fifth Congressional District of Alabama, by the Convention which assembled at Gadsden, on the 18th inst., was duly received. Absence from home, for several days, and the illness, since my return, of a member of my family, have prevented its earlier acknowledgment.

The nomination by your Convention, having been made in full view of the subordination to the maintenance of Democratic organization, and especially, to the ascendancy of the great political principles which it is the object of such organization to perpetuate, I cheerfully consent to the use of my name as the Democratic candidate for Congress in this (the 5th) district, and will, so far as possible, endeavor to secure the ratification of my nomination by the people in the election to take place in August next. Regarding the faithful recognition and the speedy resuscitation of the constitution of the United States, as understood and expounded by the Democratic Fathers of the Republic, as the only hope of civil and political freedom, it affords me sincere gratification to learn, that neither the deliberations of your Convention, nor its decision in the selection of a candidate, were influenced by reason, in any sense, discolored by motives of a selfish character. Had such been the case, however gratifying, the completion of a nomination emanating from a Convention made up of those who represented, as did the members of your Convention, the intelligence, the patriotism and, as I confidently believe, a large majority of the people of the District, I should have felt compelled to decline the position to which you have assigned me.

Having signified my consent and purpose, to become the Democratic candidate for this Congressional District, it may not be improper, in the absence of resolutions of any kind by your Convention, and in view of its invitation to the attention of a member of Congress from Alabama, at the present time, briefly to refer to the political character which your candidate has hitherto maintained, to the political principles which, in the past, he has professed, which he still maintains, and in the future will endeavor to promote, and, in a general manner, to the course which, if elected, he has marked out for his guidance upon all subjects of legislation more immediately affecting not only those who will be his immediate constituents, but affecting the people of the entire South.

In thus presenting my views, which will be given without reference to platforms of any kind, no matter by whom, or in what form they may have been prescribed—and passing by all temporary or local issues, which have already been disposed of, or which we are not likely to invite the attention of your representative in Congress, I shall satisfy myself, and, as I trust, receive the approval of the people of the District, by confining myself to living issues, and to questions which are practical in their character.

Whatever my early political relations, I have ever adhered to the great Democratic principles in which I was educated, and am now, and for many years have been, a member of the Democratic party. I am, therefore, unconscious of political disqualification for any official position for which I might be designated by the members of that party.

With God's help, it shall be my purpose, if elected to Congress, to do what ever shall be in my power to restore and secure to the people of this District, and of the entire South, all the political rights, of which by vindictive and mistaken, and unconstitutional legislation, they have been unjustly, and for our whole country, unhappily deprived. This, in my opinion, can only be best done by the humiliation of every political disability which has been imposed upon them. It will also be my determination, if elected, by all proper means which I can command, by conciliation, by argument, by legitimate appeal of any kind, to endeavor to persuade every fair mind in Congress to shake off its prejudices against our people, and to yield its distrust of their fidelity to the Government and its administration, when justly and constitutionally connected.

It will also be my endeavor to involve the sympathy and support of Congress, for such earnest efforts, as in cooperation with others, it shall be in my power to make, for the increase of our population, by the passage of Constitutional laws for the encouragement of immigration for the maintenance of the civil rights of all our people; and for the rapid development of the immeasurable prosperity which will surely follow from the improvement of our magnificent rivers, the opening of the hidden treasures, surpassing in value even our production, the advancement of our agriculture, and the appropriation of our inexhaustible water power to the manufacture of fabrics from the great staple production of the South.

Starting with my fellow citizens in the oppressive burdens of taxation, which, as I am advised, have been more than trebled by the extraordinary legislation of the peculiar and strange dynasty in whose hands have been centralized (as we all have long felt) the political destinies of Alabama, it will be my earnest purpose, if elected, to lessen those burdens by advocating a more just distribution of taxes, and by the reduction of the expenditures of the Government, so monstrous in excess of the demands of public necessity and of all former national expenditures in this country, and inviting alike to prodigal administration, while supplying aliment to hordes of political adventurers, as in a large measure, the advancement of public plunder as they are destitute of any recognition of the obligations of patriotism or of personal integrity.

Pursuing a line of policy and of conduct, having these objects steadily in view, it would at the same time be my purpose, if elected, to reflect with fidelity in my action on all political questions, the opinions and principles of those by whom I should be chosen. Nor need I add, except for the information of such as do not know me, that I shall also cheerfully respond to any appeal for aid which, by reason of my official position, it might be in my power to render to any worthy person of whatever party, who should reside in the district which I represented. Always a Union man, and, as I think, consistently maintaining the character of a Union man, but, nevertheless, ever the devoted friend of the Southern people in the personal trials of their late struggle, and in the trial—far more humiliating—of present political condition, I shall continue to be their friend in whatever circumstances of adversity or of prosperous fortune, they may be placed. Springing, as I did from a Southern stock, the tie of kindred running through almost every Southern State, and the ties, if possible, of even more tender affinities, have knit me to the Southern people with bonds stronger than those of steel, and by bonds dissoluble only in death. Here I have resided for nearly fifteen years. Here is late war, and here, sharing with my fellow citizens whatever of happiness or of sorrow the future may have in store for them, I hope when my humble mission shall be executed to close my earthly career. Should I prove unfaithful, therefore, to any public trust reposed in me by those among whom I live, I should stand self-condemned to every political and moral principle in which I have been educated, and to the instincts of my nature, which can but revolt against whatever policy in government, or dogma in morals, shall fail to recognize the supremacy of my race, or the equality in any sense involving civil or political rights—of that State of Alabama, and the people of that State, with every other State and people.

You will find I think, Gentlemen, in what I have here written the present political relations of your District for Congress sufficiently defined, and an equally distinct declaration of the principles by which his conduct will, if he should be elected as your Representative, be guided. My personal character, must furnish the guarantee of my fidelity to these principles. "Is he honest? Is he capable, and is he faithful to the Constitution?"—are questions which constitute the tests by which all who are candidates for public office should be judged. Let that public office be applied by the people to myself and to all who are candidates for their suffrages and I cannot doubt that the great Democratic principles which underlie all free Constitutional Government will be amply vindicated by the result of the ensuing Congressional election.

Thanking you, Gentlemen, for the kind and courteous manner in which your letter has communicated the fact of my nomination, I am, with sincerest respect, Your friend and fellow-citizen, PETER M. DOX.

To Messrs. John H. Caldwell, Thos. B. Cooper, G. C. Ellis, B. H. Nicholson, Benj. Snodgrass, Jr., R. B. Kyle, Wm. Griffin, Committee.

MARRIED—At the residence of Mr. A. Wells, by Rev. F. Brandon on the 20th of June, Capt. J. M. Anderson of Montgomery Co., to Miss C. J. Wells of Calhoun Co., Ala.

THE undersigned hereby informs the citizens of Jacksonville generally, that he has opened at No. 5, Office Block, where he is prepared at all times to repair Guns, Pistols, and to make new Rifles and Shot Guns of any description, respectfully solicited. A liberal patronage respectfully solicited. C. BEYSIEGEL, Jacksonville, July 10, 1869.

ENCOURAGE Home Productions.

A MOST DELIGHTFUL TONIC. A MOST DELIGHTFUL TONIC. A MOST DELIGHTFUL TONIC.

OLD CAROLINA BITTERS, A SOUTHERN PREPARATION, VALUABLE AND RELIABLE. EQUAL if not SUPERIOR to any Bitters in the market, and at a much less price.

CURES DYSPEPSIA, LOSS OF APPETITE, Chills & Fever, AND IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE BEST TONIC BITTERS IN USE.

GOODRICH, WINEMAN & CO., Manufacturers and Proprietors, and Direct Importers of CHOICE DRUGS and CHEMICALS, CHARLESTON, S. C.

For sale by the Merchants of Jacksonville, Ala. June 26, 1869.—17.

THE ATLAS MUTUAL Life Insurance Company, ST. LOUIS, Mo. Assets, $600,000.

IS represented in this district by J. M. RENFRO. It is strictly speaking, a home company—being located in a Western city, and having large investments in our own State. We claim for the Atlas, advantages superior to all other companies doing business in this State, in that, that all of its policies are non-forfeitable from date of first payment, and no restrictions as to residence, occupation, &c. June 26, 1869.—17.

Sheriff Sale. On the first Monday in July, 1869, I will offer for cash before the Court House door the following described property to-wit: two Mules levied upon as the property of E. G. Morris to satisfy one life insurance policy in favor of E. L. Woodward.—This the 26 day of June 1869. J. W. WILLIAMS, Sheriff.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, CALHOUN COUNTY, Court of Probate for said county, special Term, June 14, 1869. In the matter of the Estate of Mary W. Perry, dec'd.

THE following named persons are hereby appointed Inspectors of the Election Precincts hereinafter specified, for the purpose of opening and holding an Election in Calhoun County, Alabama on Thursday the 3rd day of August, 1869, to elect a member to the Congress of the United States, from the 5th Congressional District of the State of Alabama, to-wit:

For Pre. No. 1, Jacksonville. Wm. M. Haines, } Inspectors, and J. W. Williams, } Inspectors, and J. W. Williams Returning Officer and Sheriff.

For Pre. No. 2, Alexandria. S. J. Whaley, } Inspectors, and J. M. Sheild, } Inspectors, and James Murray, } Returning Officer and Deputy Sheriff.

For Pre. No. 3, White Plains. B. S. Evans, } Inspectors, and M. P. Johnson, } Inspectors, and E. H. Gwynn, } Inspectors, and Henry Murray, } Returning Officer and Deputy Sheriff.

For Pre. No. 4, Cross Plains. Jacob F. Dailey, } Inspectors, and S. A. Nabors, } Inspectors, and Wm. A. Stewart, } Returning Officer and Deputy Sheriff.

W. P. WOODS, } County W. P. CROOK, } Supervisors June 28th, 1869.

Election Notice. AN Election will be opened at Jacksonville, Alexandria, White Plains, and Cross Plains, in Calhoun County, Alabama, on Thursday the 3rd day of August, 1869, for the purpose of electing a member to the Congress of the United States for the 5th Congressional District of the State of Alabama, and the persons above named are the Inspectors and Returning Officers of said election, appointed and returned to me by A. Woods and W. P. Crook, County Supervisors, and the returning officers are hereby made Deputy Sheriffs for holding said Elections.

J. W. WILLIAMS, Sheriff. June 28th, 1869.

In Justice Court, Calhoun County, Alabama, before C. D. Davidson, Justice of the Peace. Appearing to the Court, that suit was commenced by attachment, and levied on the property of defendant who is a non-resident.—It is ordered by the court, that notice of the attachment and levy upon the defendant's property be given by publication in the Jacksonville Republican, a Newspaper published in said county, for four successive weeks, and a copy to be sent by mail if Defendant's residence is known.

Notice is given to said Defendant to appear at the next term of said Court, to be held in August and defend said suit. C. D. DAVIS, J. P. June 28, 1869.

R. S. Evans vs. W. I. Black, A. J. Little vs. W. J. Black, Wm. E. Bowling vs. W. J. Black, W. S. Porter vs. W. J. Black, T. A. Davis vs. W. J. Black.

NOTICE is also given, that same order is given in each of the foregoing cases, having been commenced by attachment against Defendant W. I. Black, as a non-resident, and levied on his property. C. D. DAVIS, J. P. June 28, 1869.—41.—$7 50.

TIN-WARE, FOR SALE BY E. L. WOODWARD & SON. June 12, 1869.

ENCOURAGE Home Productions.

A MOST DELIGHTFUL TONIC. A MOST DELIGHTFUL TONIC. A MOST DELIGHTFUL TONIC.

OLD CAROLINA BITTERS, A SOUTHERN PREPARATION, VALUABLE AND RELIABLE. EQUAL if not SUPERIOR to any Bitters in the market, and at a much less price.

CURES DYSPEPSIA, LOSS OF APPETITE, Chills & Fever, AND IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE BEST TONIC BITTERS IN USE.

GOODRICH, WINEMAN & CO., Manufacturers and Proprietors, and Direct Importers of CHOICE DRUGS and CHEMICALS, CHARLESTON, S. C.

For sale by the Merchants of Jacksonville, Ala. June 26, 1869.—17.

THE ATLAS MUTUAL Life Insurance Company, ST. LOUIS, Mo. Assets, $600,000.

IS represented in this district by J. M. RENFRO. It is strictly speaking, a home company—being located in a Western city, and having large investments in our own State. We claim for the Atlas, advantages superior to all other companies doing business in this State, in that, that all of its policies are non-forfeitable from date of first payment, and no restrictions as to residence, occupation, &c. June 26, 1869.—17.

Sheriff Sale. On the first Monday in July, 1869, I will offer for cash before the Court House door the following described property to-wit: two Mules levied upon as the property of E. G. Morris to satisfy one life insurance policy in favor of E. L. Woodward.—This the 26 day of June 1869. J. W. WILLIAMS, Sheriff.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, CALHOUN COUNTY, Court of Probate for said county, special Term, June 14, 1869. In the matter of the Estate of Mary W. Perry, dec'd.

THE following named persons are hereby appointed Inspectors of the Election Precincts hereinafter specified, for the purpose of opening and holding an Election in Calhoun County, Alabama on Thursday the 3rd day of August, 1869, to elect a member to the Congress of the United States, from the 5th Congressional District of the State of Alabama, to-wit:

For Pre. No. 1, Jacksonville. Wm. M. Haines, } Inspectors, and J. W. Williams, } Inspectors, and J. W. Williams Returning Officer and Sheriff.

For Pre. No. 2, Alexandria. S. J. Whaley, } Inspectors, and J. M. Sheild, } Inspectors, and James Murray, } Returning Officer and Deputy Sheriff.

For Pre. No. 3, White Plains. B. S. Evans, } Inspectors, and M. P. Johnson, } Inspectors, and E. H. Gwynn, } Inspectors, and Henry Murray, } Returning Officer and Deputy Sheriff.

For Pre. No. 4, Cross Plains. Jacob F. Dailey, } Inspectors, and S. A. Nabors, } Inspectors, and Wm. A. Stewart, } Returning Officer and Deputy Sheriff.

W. P. WOODS, } County W. P. CROOK, } Supervisors June 28th, 1869.

Election Notice. AN Election will be opened at Jacksonville, Alexandria, White Plains, and Cross Plains, in Calhoun County, Alabama, on Thursday the 3rd day of August, 1869, for the purpose of electing a member to the Congress of the United States for the 5th Congressional District of the State of Alabama, and the persons above named are the Inspectors and Returning Officers of said election, appointed and returned to me by A. Woods and W. P. Crook, County Supervisors, and the returning officers are hereby made Deputy Sheriffs for holding said Elections.

J. W. WILLIAMS, Sheriff. June 28th, 1869.

In Justice Court, Calhoun County, Alabama, before C. D. Davidson, Justice of the Peace. Appearing to the Court, that suit was commenced by attachment, and levied on the property of defendant who is a non-resident.—It is ordered by the court, that notice of the attachment and levy upon the defendant's property be given by publication in the Jacksonville Republican, a Newspaper published in said county, for four successive weeks, and a copy to be sent by mail if Defendant's residence is known.

Notice is given to said Defendant to appear at the next term of said Court, to be held in August and defend said suit. C. D. DAVIS, J. P. June 28, 1869.

R. S. Evans vs. W. I. Black, A. J. Little vs. W. J. Black, Wm. E. Bowling vs. W. J. Black, W. S. Porter vs. W. J. Black, T. A. Davis vs. W. J. Black.

NOTICE is also given, that same order is given in each of the foregoing cases, having been commenced by attachment against Defendant W. I. Black, as a non-resident, and levied on his property. C. D. DAVIS, J. P. June 28, 1869.—41.—$7 50.

TIN-WARE, FOR SALE BY E. L. WOODWARD & SON. June 12, 1869.

KAYTON'S OIL OF LIFE CURES ALL PAINS AND AGHES, AND IS THE GREAT RHEUMATISM LINIMENT.

READ THESE LINES AND PONDER THEM WELL.—The best tests of the merits of any proprietary articles is to ascertain what is thought of it at home where it is manufactured; such a test Lippman's Pyraline can well stand as ready it is decidedly the favorite remedy for chills and fever, dumb ague and other diseases of malarious origin, in the city of Savannah, where it is prepared. The principal druggists of the city would as much think of doing without castor oil in their stores as to be without this popular (and deservedly so) remedy. It is a vegetable preparation free from deleterious drugs, and acts as a tonic upon the entire system, thereby invigorating the system so much so as to enable it to throw off disease. Pyraline does not nauseate or sicken the patient, and can be taken by the most delicate person without fear. It should always be at hand, as chills and fever creep upon us so stealthily that we are not aware of its approach until it is upon us. A word to the wise is sufficient.

KAYTON'S PILLS CURE SICK HEADACHE AND ALL BILIOUS DISORDERS.

DARBY'S Prophylactic Fluid, DARBY'S PROPHYLACTIC FLUID, DARBY'S PROPHYLACTIC FLUID.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE, THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE, THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE.

The Wonderful Healing Remedy, The Wonderful Healing Remedy, The Wonderful Healing Remedy.

THE ASTONISHING DISINFECTANT, THE ASTONISHING DISINFECTANT, THE ASTONISHING DISINFECTANT.

THE REMARKABLE PAIN KILLER, THE REMARKABLE PAIN KILLER, THE REMARKABLE PAIN KILLER.

Cures Burns, Wounds, Stings, Cures Cuts, Sores, Boils, Cures Ulcers, Scalds, Bites, Cures Catarrh, Scalds, Bruises.

Removes all Bad Odors, Relieves Colic Instantly, Cures Chronic Diarrhoea, Cures Erysipelas and Gangrene.

READ THIS AND SEE!!! Letter from Mr. J. T. Hester of Madison County, Ala., April 1869.

161 William St., N. Y. Messrs JOHN DARB & CO.

Gentlemen—I have received so much benefit from Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, that I feel it my duty to let you know it. I had an attack of Typhoid Fever, and with it a most stubborn case of Erysipelas, and was confined to my bed near two months, suffering the most intense pain all the time from Erysipelas, and after exhausting the many prescriptions of my physician, I finally commenced the use of Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, and soon found that I was being improved by its use and continued to use it, and am nearly well. I consider it the most valuable medicine for the disease and purpose for which it is made that I sold. I also used it most successfully on my little son who was severely burnt, and I do assure you that it was from this medicine alone that I could get any relief from my distressing attack of Typhoid.

I do not write you this as a certificate for publication, but as a duty that I feel I owe to Prof. Darby and his invaluable medicine.

I shall never be without it again if I can by any means procure it, and I hope you are succeeding, and will make a fortune.

Very truly yours, J. T. HESTER. For sale by every Druggist and Country Merchant. One sent free by mail to subscribers JOHN DARB & CO. 161 William Street, N. Y.

Sheriff Sale. On the 5th day of July, 1869, I will offer before the court house door for cash the following described land, to-wit: The north west fourth of the north east fourth of section 10, Township 13, Range 8, the property of B. L. Coffey, to satisfy an execution in my hands in favor of George W. Garmann—levied upon by former Sheriff. J. W. WILLIAMS, Sheriff. June 3, 1869.

MARSHALL & BURGE, IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS OF Foreign and Domestic DRY GOODS, 143 MEETING STREET, CHARLESTON, S. C.

E. W. MARSHALL, V. T. BURGE. June 12, 1869.

TALLADEGA Marble Works, J. A. BERGIN, Proprietor. TALLADEGA, ALABAMA. I will keep constantly on hand MONUMENTS, Tombs, Head Stones, MANTELS, TABLE AND COUNTER TOPS, URNS, VASES, TILES.

And everything of the best material. Having many years experience in the business, I will put up all work in workmanlike manner, and at reasonable prices. Fire Brick, Plaster of Paris and Cement. Old work taken down, cleaned, and re-set. Letters Blacked and Gilded. All communications by mail promptly attended to. May 1869.

Registration Notice. I have received from the Secretary of State, the Blank Registration Book, and am ready to register all persons not having heretofore registered. A. WOODS, Judge of Probate. June 26, 1869.

STOLEN. FROM the shop of the undersigned, on the night of the 10th inst. a number of Shop Tools, such as Saws, Hammers, Gages, Steel Blade Square, &c. all which are stamped with J. H. C. Any information of Tools or Thief, will be most thankfully received. J. H. CRAWFORD. June 12, 1869.

Cast and Wrought Iron Pipe, AT THE ROME Gas Works. WE have on hand a large amount, and will continue to keep all sizes of Cast and Wrought Iron Pipe, with all necessary FITTING, which we propose to sell at lower prices than have ever been sold for before in this market. H. A. GARRETT & CO. Rome, Ga., June 26, 1869.—3m.

1,000 ATLAS STEEL MINERAL WATER, For sale by Joseph E. Veal, Broad st. Rome, Ga.—at $3 per doz. half gal. $4.

"The Price of Liberty is Eternal Vigilance."

VOL. 33.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA., JULY 24, 1869.

WHOLE NO. 1685

Jacksonville Republican.

EDITED, PRINTED & PUBLISHED, EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, BY J. F. GRANT.

Dentist

Dr. James H. Lawrence.

Is permanently located in Jacksonville, and is supplied with every implement & appliance necessary for the discharge of his professional duties. If you wish your teeth put in order, and warranted to stand; or a tooth extracted with ease and certainty; or if you have lost your teeth and would have them replaced artistically, call at the rooms of Dr. Lawrence, second door east of Ryan's Corner. Jan. 30, 1869.—47.

LAW CARDS.

G. S. BELLIS, J. H. CALDWELL, BILLS & CALDWELL, Attorneys at Law. AND Solicitor in Chancery. JACKSONVILLE, ALA.

HAVING associated themselves in the practice of Law, will practice together, except in CRIMINAL CASES, in the counties of Calhoun, Talladega, St. Clair, Randolph, Cherokee and DeKalb. Jan. 6, 1869.

M. J. & G. I. TURNLEY, Attorneys at Law AND Solicitors in Chancery General Collecting Agents. JACKSONVILLE, ALA.

WILL practice Law in the counties of Calhoun, Talladega, Randolph, Cherokee, Clarke, Baine, St. Clair and DeKalb, in the Supreme Court of the State, and in the U. S. District Court, Northern and Middle Division of Alabama.

JOHN W. INZER, LEROY F. BOX, INZER & BOX, Attorneys at Law. AND Solicitors in Chancery. ASHVILLE, Ala.

WILL practice in all the Courts of St. Clair, Calhoun, Talladega, Shelby, Jefferson, Blount, DeKalb, Cherokee & Marshall, also in the Superior Court of the State. Prompt attention given.

JOHN FOSTER, WM. H. FORNEY, FOSTER & FORNEY, Attorneys at Law, Jacksonville, Alabama.

WILL practice in the Counties of Calhoun, Talladega, Randolph, St. Clair, Cherokee, DeKalb and the Supreme Court of the State. Dec. 23d, 1865.

JOE H. FRANCIS, ATTORNEY AT LAW AND GENERAL COLLECTING AGENT, Gadsden, Alabama.

WILL practice in Barne and adjoining counties. Special attention given to the filing of petitions in Bankruptcy. Will prosecute claims against the Government for Bounty, Back pay, &c. Office—Probate Office Building.—25.

NEW HOTEL IN JACKSONVILLE

The undersigned respectfully informs his friends and the public generally that he has opened a HOTEL in the large and commodious Brick Building on the north-east corner of the public square, which was built and fitted up expressly for that purpose. His table will be furnished with the best that the market affords, and no expense or effort spared for the comfort and convenience of his patrons. Permanent boarders will be taken at fifteen dollars per month; and transient customers at corresponding reasonable rates. S. D. McCLELEN. Jan. 4, 1868.

NEW JEWELRY NEW STYLES OF JEWELRY received every month direct from the manufacturer, for sale at the Fashionable Jewelry Store of JOS. E. YEAL. ROME, GEO. Sep. 19, '68.

FOR LADIES ONLY.—For an article having a remarkable sale, address Mrs. SORGAN, 139 Fulton St. New York.

BOWEN & HOOPER, Wholesale and Retail

GROERSG, AND DEALERS IN Western Produce.

Water Street, SELMA, Ala. Are now opening a full and complete assortment of Groceries and Western Produce, which they offer in Packages or at Retail at the lowest market rates. Consignments of Cotton, Flour and other Produce, for storage, sale or shipment, respectfully solicited, and faithfully and promptly attended to. Thankful for former favors, they will be happy to again meet their old friends, and ask a fair share of patronage from the public generally. BOWEN & HOOPER. Oct. 24, 1868.—17.

News Agency.

MRS. M. E. ROWLAND, having established a NEWS AGENCY in Jacksonville, at her Millinery Store is prepared to furnish, at the cheapest rates, a great variety of the Latest and most popular Magazines, Periodicals and Newspapers, also Music, School and Miscellaneous Books, & an assortment of stationery. Call and examine our stock, and make purchases to suit your fancy. May 30.

R. A. PETTIBONE & CO., RECEIVING AND FORWARDING MERCHANTS, SELMA, ALA.

Having removed from the old stand near the S. R. & D. Railroad depot to the house formerly occupied by LYLES & MITCHELL, at the head of the City Wharf, are prepared with equal facilities to RECEIVE and FORWARD all freights consigned to them with dispatch. R. A. Pettibone & Co. are not Steamboat Agents, and their patrons may rely upon having their interests looked after in freights and charges.

The very liberal patronage heretofore extended by the friends of this House is respectfully solicited. R. A. PETTIBONE & CO. Mr. W. V. R. Warren, of the old firm of Enger, Watson & White is with this House. May 23, 1868.—47.

J. C. Francis, Jr., ALABAMA. Easkerville, Sherman & Co. Wholesale Grocers, AND Commission Merchants, 260 Canal Street, New York.

DR. R. E. W. MCADAMS, Surgeon Dentist, Jacksonville, Ala.

Is devoting his entire attention to his profession. All operations on the Teeth performed in the nicest and most durable manner. He will visit Oxford the 3rd Monday in each month professionally, and remain one week if necessary. The remainder of his time at his office in Jacksonville. Office at his residence. per. 12, '68.

Millinery Goods. MRS. D. COOKE

IS now receiving some beautiful SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS of the latest fashions of the day, and to suit all ages. Her stock will be complete about the 15th of April. Specimens of HATS AND BONNETS May be seen at Mr. E. L. Woodward's Store. All are invited to call at her residence and examine her stock, which will be furnished as cheap as can be afforded, and all orders promptly attended to. MARTHA GOODE. Jacksonville, April 3, 1869.

Valuable Land and Mill For Sale.

The undersigned now offers for sale, on accommodating terms, his half interest in the Merchant and Saw Mills, and Land attached, located on Terrain creek, five or six miles north of Jacksonville. The Mills contain four sets of runners and saw mill, and are considered among the best in the country. The Land attached contains 68 acres and the entire interest to a good building location—all well timbered. The water power is abundant for Factory or machinery of any kind, and excellent iron ore in the immediate vicinity. J. J. REYNOLDS. April 3, '69.

LEMAN & ROTHSCHILD, BOOKSELLERS AND STATIONERS.

DEALERS IN MUSIC & MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, Broad Street, SELMA, Alabama. W. F. LYMAN. WM. ROTHSCHILD. Oct. 10, 1868.—6m.

WHITE MEN TAKE NOTICE! THE MOST REMARKABLE BOOK OF THE DAY!

Just Published. WHITE SUPREMACY AND NEGRO SUBORDINATION. BY J. H. VAN EVRIE, M. D. One vol. 1-1/2 do., 415 pp. Beautifully illustrated with fine Polychromatic Plates of the six species of men bound in extra cloth, beveled edges. Sold only by subscription, $2 25 per vol. B. G. McCLELEN, Agent for Calhoun county.

PHOTOGRAPHS, AMBROTYPES, &c. E. GOODE, Artist. (Formerly of Asheville, Ala.) Rooms first door north of E. L. Woodward's Store. June 16, 1868

J. F. DENNIS' Large Cotton Warehouse. (At the old Arsenal stand, near Broad St.) SELMA, ALABAMA. A safe and convenient place to store Cotton.

Prompt & accommodating Clerks, and reliable Watchmen on hand. No Drayage charged at this Warehouse. Feb. 6, 1869.

H. L. STEVENSON, Attorney at Law, JACKSONVILLE, Ala. December 12, 1868.

NEW DRUG STORE, DR. J. C. FRANCIS

Has just received, at his old stand on the North-west corner of the public square, a full and complete assortment of pure, fresh and genuine

DRUGS AND MEDICINES, Paints, Oils, Varnishes and Brushes, Perfumery, Soaps, Fancy and Toilet Articles, All of the most popular PATENT MEDICINES, and every thing usually kept in a well assorted

DRUG STORE. He also keeps constantly on hand a variety of Fine Chewing and Smoking Tobacco, Cigars & Snuff.

SODA, YEAST POWDERS, CONCENTRATED LYE, POTASH, &c. &c. FANCY STATIONERY, Pens, Pencils, &c. All of which will be sold low for cash. Jacksonville, Ala., Nov. 14, 1868.

TAILORING BUSINESS.

M. A. TURNER, having determined to locate at this place, respectfully informs the citizens of Jacksonville and surrounding country, that he has opened a shop in this place for the purpose of doing a general Tailoring Business; and if strict attention to business, good work and neat fits will secure him patronage, he will obtain it, and always be found ready to attend and make work in the latest and most fashionable styles. Particular attention paid to repairing. For recommendation he refers to his work. His shop is on the west side of Main street south of the square. M. A. TURNER. Jacksonville, Nov. 7, 1868.

JACKSONVILLE HOTEL.

The undersigned has leased the above HOTEL for a term of years, and is having the same thoroughly repaired and fitted up for the convenience and accommodation of the Travelling Public. The table will be furnished at all times with the very best country and market affords, and the Rooms furnished with good beds kept neat and clean—the servants polite and accommodating. A good and comfortable Hack will be kept for the purpose of carrying passengers to and from the depot.

No expense or labor will be spared to make this in every sense a FIRST CLASS HOTEL. Our charges will be as moderate as can be for such a class of House. Give us a call and try us. W. B. WYNN. sept. 19, 1868.

IMPORTANT To the Travelling Public. Jacksonville & Decatur DAILY MAIL LINE.

By STAGE and RAIL. WE take pleasure in informing the public that this Line is now in operation. Parties travelling North will find it greatly to their advantage to go by this line, as both

Cheaper & Quicker Schedule Time to Decatur and Huntsville, EIGHTEEN HOURS. To Nashville, TWENTY-FOUR.

Leaving JACKSONVILLE every morning (except Sunday), passing GADSDEN and BLACK CREEK FALLS, arriving at GUNTERSVILLE on the Tennessee River, in the evening; there connecting with our new Steamboat, built with an eye exclusively to fast running on low water—time to Decatur only six hours—connecting there with Nashville and Decatur Railroad, going North, and Memphis and Charleston East and West. Give us one trial and be convinced. HINDS BROS. & CO. I. M. HINDS, Supt. July 4, 1868.—17

DR. M. W. FRANCIS, HAS resumed the duties of his profession in all its branches. Office, N. W. Corner of Public Square, JACKSONVILLE, ALA. November 18, 1865.—47.

W. C. LAND, Watchmaker, CONTINUES the Watch Repairing business above McClelen's store, west side of the public square. A good lot of materials on hand, and work done with dispatch and at low rates to suit the times. Jacksonville, Feb. 24, 1866

Musical. BANJOS, GUITARS, VIOLINS, Violoncellos, Tamborinos, Flutes, Fifes, Flageolets, Music-Boxes, and strings of all kinds. For sale by JOS. E. YEAL, ROME, GA.

WATCHES, Jewelry and Musical Instruments, Repaired in best style.

DR. J. C. FRANCIS, PRACTISING PHYSICIAN, Jacksonville, Ala.

IS now receiving a large assortment of FRESH MEDICINES, And all articles usually kept in Drug Stores, at his old stand on the north west corner of the Square, which he offers low for cash. Aug. 29, 1868.

Milinery.

The undersigned respectfully informs her friends and the public generally, that she is now prepared to execute every description of work in the MILLINERY LINE, in the neatest and most fashionable style, at her residence, one mile south-west of Jacksonville.

She has also on hand a variety of HATS AND BONNETS OF THE LATEST FASHIONS AND AN ASSORTMENT OF RIBBONS & TRIMMINGS Of various descriptions. Every effort will be used to please the taste of those who may favor her with their patronage. Mrs. O. H. NISBETT. Jacksonville, April 17, 1869.

EDWIN BATES & CO. WHOLESALE DEALERS IN Dry Goods AND CLOTHING!

122 & 124 MEETING STREET, CHARLESTON, S. C. EDWIN BATES, GEORGE SELMAN, THOS. R. McGLAMAN. Feb. 6, 1869.—3m

E. J. WOOLUM & CO'S Books, leave Cross Plains Tuesdays and Fridays at 6 A. M. for Centre, Cedar Bluff, Cornwall, Gaylesville, Trion, LaFayette and Chattanooga. April 17th, 1869.—47.

THE GREAT GHILL AND FEVER EXPELLER.

LIPPMAN'S PYRAFUGE. IT IS IN FACT A MOST WONDERFUL

Fever Cure, ON ACCOUNT OF THIS INSTANT REMEDY

MAKING A LASTING AND PERMANENT CURE. HOWEVER OBSTINATE, Can Resist its Health giving Properties.

PYRAFUGE Creates an Appetite, Brings Color to the Cheeks of the Emaciated and Strength to the Feeble.

Every Bottle sold is accompanied by a Guarantee of its Efficacy.

ASK FOR LIPPMAN'S PYRAFUGE, GET RID OF THAT MISERABLE DISEASE

CHILLS AND FEVER. For sale, at Wholesale, by the sole Manufacturer for the United States, by

JACOB LIPPMAN, PROPRIETOR OF LIPPMAN'S WHOLESALE DRUG HOUSE, Savannah, Ga.

KAYTON'S OIL OF LIFE CURES ALL Pains and Aches! AND IS THE GREAT RHEUMATISM LINIMENT.

KAYTON'S PILLS Cure Sick Headache, AND ALL BILLIOUS DISORDERS.

MISS F. I. WEESNER, DRESS MAKER, HAS returned, and opened rooms one door east of Mrs. Rowland's. Has all the latest Fashions and Styles for Dress making—cuts and fits by measure; and has had experience of more than nine years in her business. She also proposes to do all kinds of stitching or machine work for the Ladies, and hopes to receive encouragement, and will work at most reasonable prices. Jacksonville, April 23d, 1869.

A Chance for Children. J. B. TURNLEY & CO. will pay the highest market price for old Scrap Iron, Brass, Copper and Britannia. May 8, 1869.

From the six Century. A Leaf from an Old Lawyer's Portfolio.

I was sitting one morning at an early hour in my office, and had just opened the daily newspaper to search for the latest news from the Chesapeake, when Cochrane at that time was harrying the coast, burning, plundering and ravaging with ferocity which will send his name down to posterity with a curse upon its front, when my eyes suddenly fell upon the following paragraph, placed conspicuously near the head of the first column:

"DEAR SIR, By an express from— we learn that a most horrid murder was committed near the town of C—, on Friday, the— instant, upon the body of James Wilson, Esq., one of our most worthy and influential citizens. The deceased left home in company with a young man, named Henry Duval, who had just married a ward of our fellow-township. The union, we understand, was in opposition to her guardian's wishes, and it is supposed that an angry altercation arose concerning it, between Mr. Wilson and the young man. High words were heard between them, and they were seen entering a wood, in which, on Sunday evening, the mangled body of Mr. Wilson was found, horribly mutilated, and so disfigured as scarcely to be recognizable. The whole country is in a tumult. Such an excitement has not reigned in our district since its first settlement. The murder has fled but the proper officers are already out in pursuit of him."

A little below was another paragraph, stating that the accused had been arrested on the evening of my office, and arrested and taken to prison, leaving a note, and so disfigured as scarcely to be recognizable. The whole country is in a tumult. Such an excitement has not reigned in our district since its first settlement. The murder has fled but the proper officers are already out in pursuit of him."

I had scarcely finished the paragraph, and a host of indistinct memories were crowding on my brain, as if at some time or other I had heard the name of the parties, when a faint tap was heard at my door, and desiring the person to enter, a closely veiled female stole timidly into the room, and asked with a tremulous voice if I was Mr.—. Wondering what her mission, at so early an hour, could be with me, I answered in the affirmative, and desiring her to take a chair, waited for her to speak.

A more exquisitely moulded form I had rarely seen. It was slight, almost girlish, and had the peculiar delicacy which we call aristocratic. Her countenance—for on taking her seat she had put aside her veil—was eminently handsome. With a rare complexion, a classic outline of features, a deep blue eye, that seemed full of feeling, and an expression over all which reminded me of some of the sweetest of Raphael's faces, she would, at any time, have won admiration for her beauty, but now there was something so touchingly sad in her looks, that I felt interested in her history at once. I knew that sorrow visits even the young and innocent, and might not she be one of those? Her dress, though studiously neat, was coarse, and contrasted with her features, which were singularly refined. I felt with a sigh, that perhaps she was another of the victims of misfortune, living in poverty the life that began in wealth. Is not want hard enough to bear even to those who are not born and educated for it, much less to the poor who still have been nursed in the bosom of luxury?

"Will you please to read this note, sir?" said a low, tremulous, yet silvery voice. "Starting, I had been lost in thought, I bowed, and taking from her hand a piece of solid and crumpled paper, apparently torn from some book, and folded into the shape of a note, I proceeded to open and read it. Its first sentence struck me dumb. I give it word for word:—

Dear— I know not how to write to you. My brain is on fire. I feel as in a fever. The last two hours have nigh drove me mad—but why delay? I am arrested, and—good God!—on a charge of murder! My guardian, Mr. Wilson. Perhaps you shall have seen it in the papers before you get this, and like all the rest, may believe the tale; but oh! as you value truth and honor and justice, as you would not break my young wife's heart, do not believe the falsehood!"

"Come to me. I know not what to do. I am in prison, and I would who can I trust? Even this I have procured with difficulty, and my sweet wife is the only messenger I can rely on. I have no right, I know, to claim your aid except by the memory of former friendship, and of happy days spent together, but in the name of that do not desert me!"

H. DUVAL. The manuscript was hurriedly and incoherently scrawled, but at the first glance I recognized the handwriting of my old schoolmate, and at once it flashed upon me that he was the one known to me in the catastrophe I had just been reading of. And could he be guilty? I scouted at the idea. I had known him intimately for years; I had been with him in difficulties and dangers; in the labors and amusements of life; and never had I known a nobler heart, or one less likely to be guilty of such a deed. True, we had not met for a year, and all correspondence had, for reasons, died away, but I felt such a confidence in his rectitude, that I could not but believe him the victim either of perjury or mistake. All this flashed through my mind like lightning, and uttering a hasty ejaculation as I finished the note, I looked up, and became sensible that his wife—for that sweet creature was indeed she—had been, as I read the note, anxiously perusing my countenance, with that intensity, which a consciousness that life and death depended, perhaps, on my determination, only can produce.

"Can anything be done?" she eagerly asked, losing all diffidence in the one engrossing thought, anxiety for her husband. "Oh, of the best, that he is too noble, too good for it; but yet, what can be done? I am but a poor, weak woman," she continued, while the tears, despite her efforts, streamed down her face. "and can do nothing. They will, perhaps, imprison him—they cannot do more. Oh! can they? But no time is to be lost, for they are to re-examine him this morning, and I was so afraid I should miss you that I have been walking up and down the street this hour, waiting for you to open your office. You will pardon my earnestness," she continued looking touchingly at me, while her eyes were suffused with tears, "but a wife's feeling cannot be told."

I was deeply affected. I was yet a young man, and my heart was not yet, nor ever has been, so cold as to be insensible to the situation of an old, and I had no doubt of an innocent friend, was enough to rouse all my faculties in his favor; but when to this was added the eloquence of his almost heart-broken wife, I felt as if I could have gone to the world's end to restore him to freedom, and her to happiness.

I had intended to assure her that every faculty I possessed should be exerted in behalf of my friend, and not doubting that the charge was exaggerated, comforted her by an assurance of his speedy enlargement. "Indeed," I continued, seeing that her feelings were still overpowered, "indeed, there is no room for fear. The charge will, I trust, be easily disproved. To-night will see your husband free, and now let us hasten to his aid, and calling a coach, I ordered it to drive to the prison."

Never shall I forget the sad yet grateful smile, with which that angelic woman thanked me for my promptness. It seemed as if her whole soul was wrapped up in her husband, and as if every moment of suspense or delay was to her worse than death. I would have given more than her lodgings, but she could not be persuaded to desert him to whom her vows were pledged. Oh! the constancy of woman. They call this a dark world, but can it be so while woman's love is here?

The meeting between my old schoolmate and myself was one of sad interest to both. As I passed his hand, a crowd of former memories poured like a flood of sunnier light across my soul. For a moment we forgot all but the past. But then came the terrible consciousness of the present, and the perils that threatened to break his poor wife's heart. One brief view, one hasty assurance of my friend's safety, and of my confidence in his innocence was all that time permitted us. He said nothing, for the jailer ordered to conduct him before the committing magistrate—but I could see that he turned his head aside to look away a tear, and hear, as he pressed my hand, the fervent ejaculation, "Thank God!"

I would not have given that moment for the richest hour of my life. With much difficulty his sweet wife was persuaded to accompany us to the police office, where a re-examination was to be given to the prisoner before his final commitment to answer before his fellow-men for the awful crime of murder. As it is necessary for the unity of story, I will premise the circumstances of his marriage as I subsequently learned them, both from his own lips, and during the course of the examination.

In the village of—, though celebrated for its female beauty, there was no one to rival Mary Symmes, the ward of the wealthy Mr. Wilson. Even when I first beheld her, and when sorrow had made sad havoc with her countenance, she was still eminently handsome; and surely a more delicate expression I never saw in any human face. She was an orphan, her father dying, left her the very common, though singular provision, that she should not marry without the consent of her guardian. Beautiful accomplished, and an heiress, she had no sooner entered society, than her hand became the prize for which wealth and family contended. But to all her suitors she was indifferent. They amused her leisure, but every one she longed for some kindred spirit who might love with an intensity equal to her own. From the crowd she turned away, weary with their selfish and empty protestations. She longed to be loved not for her fortune, but for herself; and when, at last, she met Henry Duval, and fastened her eyes upon him, she knew that she felt, before they had known each other a week, that her destiny was woven with his. In one short word, they loved. Little did they think, in the guilelessness of first affections, that woe, and sorrow, and misery should yet fill their cup to the brim. But the web of fate was already woven. Henry Duval was, indeed, a noble heart, but the sorrows which he had to undergo, were of a nature which he could not have foreseen. He was just such a being as one of fine sensibilities would immerse, and is it to be wondered that Mary Symmes reciprocated his affection? It never occurred to her that his poverty was in her guardian's eyes, in inseparable bar to their union; and when Mr. Wilson, at last aware of the danger of further intimacy between his ward and Henry Duval, forbade the latter his house, the beautiful heiress, at the first time took to the consciousness of her situation. She knew her father's will, and that she would be penniless if she married without her guardian's consent. But it was too late. The evening walks and daily meetings which the careless guardian had overlooked, had proved too much for the lovers' courage and susceptibility of hearts, and already had those vows, which Mary felt that only death could break, been exchanged between them.— Their troth was pledged to each other.— It was, perhaps, hasty, it may be reprehensible, but who in the ardor of youth can resist the desire to hear their loved one? Oh! there is nothing like the first confessions of a pure young heart. Woe, misery and shame may come, age may dim our eye and silver our hairs, all that once thrilled us may pass away, and be no more remembered; but never, even in the darkest hour, shall the first whispered confession of our early love be forgot. The history of the lovers' fate, and soon told. Love, when it has gone so far, is only heightened by opposition. They were married. For the first time that lovely girl disoeyed her guardian, and, amid his anger and maledictions, went forth from his door—a wife. But she was happy. In the presence of him she felt she could forget fortune, friends, father and all. She trusted to the guardian who would relent. Poor thing! how she deceived herself. Her letters were returned unopened, and she herself spurned from his presence. Their future history was that of hundreds before and since. Poverty began to lower around them. The utmost exertions of her husband, opposed as he secretly was by the influence of her guardian, scarcely sufficient to win the necessities much less those superfluities of life which habit had made invaluable. As a last resort, he removed to the city, but his pride forbade him to seek his old acquaintances. At this time it was that our correspondence ceased, and I lost all knowledge of him. Here too he fell sick, and he began already to haunt his lonely dwelling, and to creep it of his last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from heaven. Friendless and alone; almost without means or sympathy; deserted by all who had formerly crowded around her, she maintained herself for four weary months, on the profits of her mother's once cherished jewelry, watching day and night, through rain and snow, over the fevered bed of her husband. At last he recovered; but it was only to shudder at the prospect before him. He was yet too weak to earn a sustenance, and his pride revolted at applying to strangers for relief. He saw his wife grow paler and paler, yet without a murmur or a tear, he felt that she had watched over his illness with his lady's dwelling, and to strip it of its last few comforts. Yet in the dreadful winter his lovely wife was an angel from manner. He felt that man had left him that his name was everywhere...

Office of Capt. J. M. Renfro—the efficient, Agt., of this Dist. Call and see him at No. 7, Office Row.

We heartily recommend the Atlas to our friends as an institution eminently worthy of their patronage.

The Buckeye Sewing Machines. The best and only licensed Hand Shuttle Sewing Machine manufactured in the United States.

For sale by N. D. Caswell, 20nd door South of McClellan's Hotel, Jacksonville, Ala.

every honor conferred upon him by the white men of Alabama; severs all political ties, and allies himself to a party headed and led by such men as Norris, Ketter and Buckley.

Col. Parkinson's Speech.

Those of our party who were fortunate enough to hear Col. Parkinson's speech, last Thursday could not but have been pleased with the speech and the man.

news of what her model has done is correct, the problem of aerial navigation is in fair way of being solved.

What, however, are the admitted facts of the San Francisco experiment? The ship rose in the air, and was propelled backward and forward, and guided in any desired direction by the steering apparatus.

high on so improbable an event. The challenge was made and received in less time than it takes to tell it.

She looked at him with astonishment, but arrested her steps.—He proceeded to state his name and condition, his aspirations, and related simply what had just now passed between him and his comrades.

WONDER OF THE AGE! EXCELSIOR REAPER AND MOWER. Best Machine Made. LIGHTEST DRAFT & WIDEST CUT.

FIRST PREMIUM taken at Fairs all over the country. Factor: never yet able to supply the demand.

ERRORS OF YOUTH. A GENTLEMAN who has suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, sends free for the sake of helping humanity, send free for the sake of helping humanity, send free for the sake of helping humanity.

The undersigned having been appointed direct Agent of the New York State, and the celebrated Albany Agricultural Works, together with several others, are prepared to sell at manufacturer's prices, freight only added.

AMERICAN HOTEL. ALABAMA STREET, ATLANTA, GA. WHITE & WHITLOCK PROPRIETORS. W. D. WILBY, Clerk.

"Well, it is a mockery, this justice," he exclaimed bitterly, "after all. A chain of fortuitous circumstances will happen, and where are we? Little did I think when I first entered life, buoyant with hope and burning for distinction, that my sun should ever set in a felon's death."

Harold belongs to the party that has put prescriptions and punishments and oppressions upon a large class of our noblest, wisest and best citizens.

Dox belongs to the party that opposed these outrages when put upon us, and that will instantly take them off when it comes to power.

Harold favored the prescriptive black Constitution, and voted for Smith, Applegate, and all the other scoundrels and carpet-baggers under it.

A NOBLE DEED.—The Memphis Avalanche relates the following incident: "Mr. Charles W. Adams, a former Confederate soldier, who had lost an arm in the war, arrived at the Charleston railroad depot on his way to Texas.

Another Snake Shower. A Countess Number of Snakes Rained Down. Knoxville (Tenn.) press and Herald, 7th. Indian Grave Gap, Campbell county, Tenn., through which the Knoxville and Kentucky railroad is being built.

Only Twenty-five. The Sheriff of Shelby County left Memphis yesterday, says a telegraphic dispatch, with twenty-five negro convicts for the penitentiary.

True Type of an Editor. The New York Journal of Commerce, has an article in which it speaks of the moderation of statement and tone and freedom from bitterness & personal abuse, which characterized the editorial life of the late Henry J. Raymond.

Don't Fail Worth a cent! "Baker's" Penner has placed the business management of his paper in the hands of C. P. Stevens an experienced publisher, and now devotes his entire time to the duties of the sanctum, where, relieved of business cares, he is making his giant weekly, Penner's Dream, the most readable paper ever printed.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS. WE are now prepared to furnish, on short notice, at manufacturer's prices freight added.

BRING YOUR LOOSE COTTON TO WOODWARD & SON. F. L. WOODWARD & SON AGTS. Briarfield Iron Works.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS. WE are now prepared to furnish, on short notice, at manufacturer's prices freight added.

THE following named persons are hereby appointed Inspectors of the Election Precincts hereinafter specified, for the purpose of receiving and holding an election in Calhoun County, Alabama on Thursday the 3rd day of August, 1869.

For Pre. No. 1, Jacksonville. Win. M. Haines, Inspectors, and J. M. Carroll, J. W. Whisenand, J. W. Williams, Returning Officer and Sheriff.

Jacksonville Republican. JACKSONVILLE, ALA., Saturday, July 24, 1869. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. For one year in advance, $2.00. For six months, $1.25. TERMS OF ADVERTISING. One square of 10 lines or less, first insertion, $1.00. Each subsequent insertion, 50 cents. Over one square counted as two, &c. 60 minutes charged at advertising rates.

Dox was our State elector for Seymour and Blair, and vindicated upon the stump the broad, liberal and conservative platform of the Democratic party.

Dox is a scoundrel and a legal leech, nominated for Congress by George Womack (a negro), in a carpet-bag negro-radical convention.

Dox is an honest, able and patriotic Democrat of the old school, nominated by a white convention representing the intelligence and decency of the District.

Dox is a scoundrel and a legal leech, nominated for Congress by George Womack (a negro), in a carpet-bag negro-radical convention.

Dox is an honest, able and patriotic Democrat of the old school, nominated by a white convention representing the intelligence and decency of the District.

Dox is an honest, able and patriotic Democrat of the old school, nominated by a white convention representing the intelligence and decency of the District.

POETRY.

From the New York Evening Express. The Holy Dead.

The autumn rain is falling. They do not heed its beat. Past alike the storm and slushiness.

Their hands once swift of skillful, Silled by elegant eye. Are crossed upon their bosoms.

Romd us the storm still rages. To us the moon-tide heat; Our eyes with tears are heavy.

Come in beautiful dreams, love Oh, come to me oft.

When the light winds of sleep On my bosom lie soft; Oh, come when the sea

Come in beautiful dreams, love. Oh, come and we'll stray Where the whole year is contented

Come in beautiful dreams, love. Oh, come and we'll fly Like two winged spirits

THE COW PEA AS A FERTILIZER. We have long been satisfied from actual experiment.

The main reason why the cow pea has not been heretofore extensively used as a fertilizer

Now is the best time to plant the pea. and we desire to give agriculturists friends

As soon as the wheat was cut, he sowed peas at the rate of two bushels to the acre

The fourth year, with the same treatment, he made twenty acres of which

GALVESTON. GALVESTON, July 4.—To-day the cars were sent from Harrisburg, Texas with BACON. A LARGE LOT OF CHOICE NEW BACON Just Received and for sale by J. B. TURNLEY & CO.

COX & HILL, Wholesale Dealers in Foreign & Domestic Liquors, Segars, Ale & Poter, Bottles & Flasks &c.

We are offering Special Inducements to Buyers from a Distance

FOR Cassimeres, Kentucky Jeans, Flannels, Dress Goods, all kinds, Boots & Shoes.

Orders Solicited, which will receive Prompt Attention.

SLEMA, ROME & DALTON R. R.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE. On and after Thursday, November 19th, 1869,

Freight Northward runs Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

AYER & HILLS, DEALERS IN HARDWARE AND AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, ROME, GA.

Agents for BUCKEYE & WOODS' MOWERS AND REAPERS, PITTS, SWEEPSTAKES & KENTUCKY

G. SNOW & CO. DEALERS IN Groceries, Provisions, AND GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

Notice to Executors, Administrators and Guardians.

THE Law requires Executors, Administrators and Guardians to make and file settlements

DR. X. H. MILLER WILL continue the practice of Medicine, in its various branches, at his residence

Livery, Feed & Sale Stable. The undersigned are prepared to feed and take care of stock

CLOCKS, CLOCKS. House Clocks, Office Clocks. Clocks of all prices, from $2 00 to $100 00.

FEVER and AGUE R. R. R. NOT ONE HOUR

Radway's Ready Relief IS A CURE FOR EVERY PAIN. IS A CURE FOR EVERY PAIN.

144 Bottles of the Sizes of those Lotions that are sold at 25 cents.

CURED MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED TO WORKING MEN.

There is not another remedial agent in this world that will cure FEVER AND AGUE

NOT ONE person need suffer, he ever so much exposed to Fever and Ague

FOR FIFTY CENTS. N. B. See that every bottle has an India rubber stopper.

THOMAS DUNLOP, Watchmaker & Jeweller, AT HOYT'S DRUG STORE, ROME, GA.

PURE SILVER WARE AND Silver Plated Ware.

VALUABLE Town Lot For Sale.

Spectacles, Spectacles. Spectacles made to order, or Repaired—new Glasses fitted correctly to suit the age.

WANTED—LADY AGENTS. In every city and town, to sell what every lady will purchase at sight.

HENRY BANKS, Dealer in Boots, Shoes, Sole Leather, Calf Skins &c.

WANTED—LADY AGENTS. In every city and town, to sell what every lady will purchase at sight.

WANTED—LADY AGENTS. In every city and town, to sell what every lady will purchase at sight.

"HOME AGAIN." J. C. RAWLEYS, AT HIS OWN HOUSE AGAIN.

WHEREAS, by an act of the General Assembly of the State of Alabama, approved the 10th day of October, 1868,

A NEW START WITH THE New Year.

J. B. TURNLEY & CO. Inform the public, that they have now on hand a large and varied stock of Groceries, Confectionaries, Provisions, Fruits, Spices, &c.

WEDDING RINGS MADE to order, of Pure Gold, and neatly engraved—also Watches and Jewelry repaired in best style.

Tallahassee Normal School. THE first session of this Institution opened on the 1st of September, 1869.

1000 YARDS TROT LINE. 100,000 FISH HOOKS. 200 Lbs. SEIN TWINE.

J. D. PRIVETT, SADDLERY AND HARNESS; SADDLES, BRIDLES, HARNESS, COLLARS, &c. &c.

THE DAILY and WEEKLY MAIL are printed on NEW broad faced type of the clearest kind and latest style.

LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION will show for themselves; and we call upon the true white people of Alabama to form Clubs and send in their names at once:

Corn! Corn! A few car loads of choice White Corn in new Burlap Sacks—(orders can be made through J. W. Fulenwider, R. R. Agt.)

WANTED 1000 Pounds TALLOW. E. L. WOODWARD & SON.

Dr. W. T. KNIGHT, Oculist. Is now in Jacksonville, Ala., and will treat cases of Diseases of the Eye, in all their varieties.

J. B. TURNLEY & CO. Have just received some fresh CLOVER SEED.

A FEW HALF BLS. OF A NO. 1 N. O. SYRUP, Just received and for sale by J. B. TURNLEY & CO.

MANUFACTORY. THE undersigned respectfully inform the public that they have procured a full supply of implements and stock for the manufacture of every description of Tinware.

COOKING STOVES and Coal Grates. Of the latest and most approved style and patterns, and EXTRA STOVE VESSELS of every description.

WANTED—LADY AGENTS. In every city and town, to sell what every lady will purchase at sight.

HENRY BANKS, Dealer in Boots, Shoes, Sole Leather, Calf Skins &c.

W. W. SECREWS, ROBERT W. FULLER. Adapted alike to the Counting-room and the Office—published DAILY AND WEEKLY.

THE DAILY and WEEKLY MAIL are printed on NEW broad faced type of the clearest kind and latest style.

LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION will show for themselves; and we call upon the true white people of Alabama to form Clubs and send in their names at once:

THE MONTGOMERY MAIL. Published Daily and Weekly in the City of Montgomery, Alabama.

THE DAILY and WEEKLY MAIL are printed on NEW broad faced type of the clearest kind and latest style.

LOW RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION will show for themselves; and we call upon the true white people of Alabama to form Clubs and send in their names at once:

Corn! Corn! A few car loads of choice White Corn in new Burlap Sacks—(orders can be made through J. W. Fulenwider, R. R. Agt.)

WANTED 1000 Pounds TALLOW. E. L. WOODWARD & SON.

COLCLOUGH, HARKINS & GLOVER, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, NOTIONS, &c. West Side Broad Street, NEARLY OPPOSITE TENNESSEE HOUSE, Rome, Ga.

W. D. HOYT & CO. WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS, Rome, Georgia.

LOOK, LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST. The best Remedy of the Age for the Speedy Relief and Permanent Cure

OF CHILLS AND FEVER. Is Paine's Antifever and Tonic Pills. They contain no ARSENIC or POISON; produce none of the bad effects of Quinine

NOWLIN & MAUPIN, DRUGGISTS & APOTHECARIES AND DEALERS IN

Drugs, Paints, Oils, Glass, Dye-Stuffs, TOILET AND FANCY ARTICLES, Broad St., ROME, GA.

New Books, Stationery & Fancy Articles. HENRY A. SMITH, BOOKSELLER & STATIONER, ROME, GA.

C. W. MILLS, DEALER IN AND MANUFACTURER OF ALL KINDS OF Furniture, CHAIRS

And Metallic Burial Cases, ROME, GA.

P. & G. T. DODD; Wholesale Grocers, AND PROVISION DEALERS, Established in 1856.

HARDWARE. Tommey & Stewart, Offer at Wholesale & Retail. A LARGE & WELL SELECTED STOCK OF ENGLISH & AMERICAN HARDWARE,

PITNER & SMITH, Wholesale and Retail Grocers AND Commission Merchants,

Benjamin F. Jones, General Merchandise, COTTON FACTORY, AND GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANT,

WANTED 1000 Pounds TALLOW. E. L. WOODWARD & SON.