OUR DEAD.

Do we weep for the heroes who died for us?
Who, living, were true and tried for us,
And, in death, sleep side by side for us?
The martyr-band
That hallowed our land
With the blood they poured in tide for us?

Ah! fearless on many a day for us,
They stood in the front of the fray for us,
And held the foemen at bay for us:
Fresh tears should fall
Forever—o'er all
Who fell while wearing the Gray for us.

How many a glorious name for us!
How many a story of fame for us
They left! Would it not be a shame for us
If their memory part
From our land and heart,
And a wrong to them and a blame for us?

No,—no,—no,—they were brave for us,
And bright were the lives they gave for us;
The land they struggled to save for us
Cannot forget
Its warriors yet,
Who sleep in so many a grave for us.

No,—no,—no,—they were slain for us,
And their blood flowed out in rain for us,
Red, rich, and pure on the plain for us;
And years may go
But our tears shall flow
O'er the dead who have died in vain for us.

And their deeds—proud deeds—shall remain for us—
And their names—dear names—without stain for us,
And the glories they won shall not wane for us:
In legend and lay
Our heroes in Gray,
Though dead—shall live over again for us.

APRIL TWENTY-SIXTH.

Decking Southern Soldiers Graves.

Beautiful feet, with maidenly tread,
Offerings bring to the gallant dead,
Footsteps light press the sacred sod
Of heroes untimely ascended to God.
Bring spring flowers! in fragrant perfume,
And offer sweet prayers for a merciful doom.

Beautiful hands! ye deck the graves,
Above the dust of the Southern braves,
Here was extinguished their manly fire,
Who scorned to flinch from the foeman's ire.
Bring spring flowers! the laurel and rose,
And deck ye the graves where your friends repose.

Beautiful eyes! the tears ye shed
Are brighter than diamonds to those who bled;
Spurned is the cause they fell to save,
But "little they'll reck,"—if ye honor the brave.
Bring spring flowers! with tears and praise,
And chant o'er their tombs, your greateful lays.

Beautiful lips! ye tremble now,
Memory wakens the sleeping one's vow;
Mute are the lips and faded the forms,
That never knelt, save to God and your charms.
Bring spring flowers! all dewy with morn,
And think how they loved ye, whose graves ye adorn.

Beautiful hearts! of matron and maid,
Faithful were ye, when Apostles betrayed!
Here are your loved and cherished ones laid
Peace to their ashes, the flowers ye strew
Are monuments worthy the faithful and true.
Bring spring flowers! perfume the sod,
With annual incense to glory and God.

A Drunkard's Miraculous Cure.

[N Y Correspondence Baltimore American.]

A gentleman arose in the Fulton-street prayer meeting the other day and stated that he had been a slave to intemperence for ten years past. Every remedy—medical, moral and social—that the ingenuity of man could suggest had been tried on him by his anxious friends and his anxious self, with no effect. All had become utterly discouraged, and all, including himself, had given him up for lost and incurable—all except the praying ones, who loved him; they alone kept on praying. New-Year's day he felt that now was the time to break through this curse or perish forever. One more spasmodic resolve was made only to be broken. From week to week he still struggled, but gained no ground against his oppressor. On the last Sunday morning, more to divert his wretched mind than any thing else, he went to a church. There he prostrated himself in his helplessness with a cry for rescue before God. And there the chains fell off from his soul. He walked forth glad and strong in the sense of a new spirit of life from Jesus Christ, and sure of his freedom by confidence in his Divine Helper. Drink was no temptation—the appetite was gone. Next morning he hastened to his praying and long sorrowing mother to tell the wonderful news. The locomotive was a snail to his eager desire. He spent the happiest day of both their lives with her, and yesterday returned to the city, and to-day had come in here to give thanks that the Son of God had made him free, and he was free indeed.

The Orientals still carry on the trade in Circassian beauties to a large extent. The Levant Herald speaks of a party which lately arrived at Trebizond, among which was a young houri of fifteen years, of such unusual beauty of form and face that she was readily bought for one hundred thousand piasters by a rich merchant. The young beauty was entirely resigned to her lot, and cheerfully embarked to find a home at Constantinople.

A GOOD TEMPERANCE SERMON.—One of the best temperance sermons ever delivered is this sentence, "If it is a small sacrifice for you to give up drinking wine, do it for the sake of others; if it is a great sacrifice, do it for your own sake."

A TERRIBLE PHILIPPIC!

Great Speech of Mr. Voorhees

[Delivered in the Congress of the United States, March 23d, 1872.]

Mr. Voorhees said: Mr. Speaker:—The condition of many of the States of this Union excites to-day the mingled pity and indignation of the civilized world. They are the theme of sorrowful and of bitter comment wherever the channels of human intelligence penetrate. They engage the attention of all the departments of this government. Executive proclamations spread evil tidings about them, and hurl every principle of their liberties, every muniment of their safety, to the ground. Congress enacts laws against them which utterly destroy every vestige of freedom, and forge and rivet on their helpless limbs the fetters of despotism. It also sends forth its powerful missionaries of mischief in the form of committees, backed by the money and the power of the government, whose labors are to blacken the character and fame of their people under the guise of official investigations and official reports. The head of the department of justice, the late attorney general, he who led his people into the war and then returned to plague and lay waste the hearth stones of his followers, superintend in person the inquisition and the torture inflicted upon the descendants of those who fought in the battles of the Revolution. The army of the United States in a time of profound peace is launched like a bolt of destruction into their midst. It is engaged in seizing, without sworn charge or warrant of law, the youth, the middle-aged, and the gray-haired grandsires, in the sanctuary of American homes, and driving them like herded beasts into crowded prisons. The odious service of Claverhouse, Kirke, and Dundee, in the bloody oppressions of Scotland, which gave their names more than a hundred years ago to the everlasting execration of mankind, is being repeated hourly on American soil. And the President himself, in his recent message, prepared, as he says, in haste, as if he had affairs of greater importance to engage his attention, yet found time to give his sanction to all this and to add his malignant mite to the general arraignment and accusation.

Surrounded and confronted by this disastrous state of public affairs, I rise to address this house in behalf of free institutions, of impartial justice, and of the oppressed and outraged citizen, wherever his home may be planted. I shall speak by the authority of those who sent me here. To them I am beholden for all that I am, and to them alone I acknowledge myself responsible in this world for what I utter on this floor.

Sir, who has filled one third of the boundaries of this republic with all the curses and calamities ever recorded in the annals of the worst governments known on the pages of history? Nearly seven years ago blessed peace, like a merciful, white-winged angel, came to the land. Who, since then, has poured upon the resisting and helpless South the floods of disorder, corruption, bankruptcy, crime, oppression and ruin?

* * * * *

By whose conduct and policies has every blessing of free government been scourged from the face of a country containing over 12,000,000 people and larger in extent than many of the foremost powers of Europe? I call upon the majority in this house to answer. Have you not had all power from the beginning of what you call reconstruction over that subject? Has there been anything wanting to your absolute authority? What has stood in the way of your wishes, your partisan plains, your lawless fanaticism?

The constitution has been no restraint upon your actions. It has been trampled under foot, dwarfed into a dead letter, or widened and extended by fraudulent amendments, according as the unscrupulous purpose of a powerful party would be best promoted. To quote the dear and hallowed principles of that immortal instrument here now is only to excite the displeasure and sneers of those who are bloated and overgrown with the insolence of office and a long lease of power. To express a reverence for those who bought its original draft with their blood, and to hold it up as it was before the hand of modern vandalism had assailed it, is denounced as treason. This great charter of liberty has not even been a stumbling-block to your feet in your swift encroachments upon the rights of all the people and the States of this Union, and especially upon those of the South. You have taken all the powers it gave you, and you have usurped every power you desired besides. No law, however, revolutionary, barbarous, and destructive, was ever found by your construction to be in conflict with its provisions, if it was demanded by the interests of your party. Your own will, without let or hinderance from any quarter, has been the measure of your legislation.

The army of the United States has also been made ready and obedient to your command. It has been the irresistible instrument with which to execute your pleasure on a prostrate people. You say, "Go, and it goeth; come, and it cometh;" and nothing has withstood the accomplishment of your purposes.

The purse of the nation, too, has been in your grasp as well as the sword. The tax payers of America have toiled for you as the serfs of Russia have not for their rulers. Their streaming floods of golden tribute have been poured into your coffers with every motion of the pendulum of time. You have taken the laborer's earnings and lavished uncounted millions on your baleful schemes of government under a Southern sky.

You have likewise controlled Presidents. When one of your own election rose up and stubbornly confronted you with your own precedents and solemn committals in regard to the inviolable existence of States, and their perpetual right of representation, you sought his overthrow and ruin with a fury and a hate until then unknown in the history of legislative bodies. While you barely failed to hurl him from his place you were completely successful in rendering him powerless to execute his policy or to prevent you from executing yours. This house was purged in a memorable way, in order that you might have the two-thirds majority with which to pass unconstitutional laws over Presidential vetoes. Expulsions of members took place under the thin and flimsy guise of contested elections until the minority here was sufficiently depleted and you became paramount over the executive and absorbed all his official functions. Lawless legislation then broke loose upon him, by which he was bound hand and foot, and made as powerless as a manacled prisoner in the depths of a dungeon. Andrew Johnson no longer divided with you the responsibility of the government; you wielded it alone. The executive who has succeeded him submits willingly and unconditionly to whatever Congress may propose. You hold all his powers in your hands and level them against any liberty or right of the citizen which you may wish to destroy. He avows his purpose to run any career you may point out to him, with no more mind of his own than the orderly who holds his horse. I pause not now to ask how you have obtained this degrading control. Whether it is the cunning of a vaulting ambition on his part, which with a pretended humility has been known to push aside the imperial crown in order to be a little further persuaded, or whether it springs from his ignorance-matters not for the purposes of my present argument. The great fact, that you possess all the powers and control all the departments of this government is what I demonstrate.

The Federal patronage, with its immense and corrupting influences, has also come into your hands with the surrender of the executive. Tae venal and mercenary have been seduced into your support by your offices and your profligate expenditure of the public money; while the timid have been over awed by the bayonet and the cannon. Every appliance by which men have ever subdued to tyranny has been held and used in profusion by the party now in power, from the day that the war closed on the bloody soil of Virginia until the present hour. In proof of this let the specific detail of long continued usurpation, evil government, and mal-administration be presented to the candid judgment of the country.

Sir, the absolute destruction of free institutions from the Potomac to the Rio Grande commenced with the earliest dawn of peace. Sherman received Johnson's surrender upon the precise basis on which the war had been prosecuted at every stage. He stipulated that the soldiers of the South should lay down the arms of their unequal warfare, return to their States, whose existence had not then been denied, and resume the pursuits of industry where they had left off, subject only to the destruction of slavery, which was wrought by the movements of armies, and not by proclamations. He had more than a thousand precedents in the deliberate and recorded actions of this government for his conduct. He was sustained by both branches of Congress in innumerable ways; by four years of incessant and voluminous legislation, by the enactment of apportionment laws throughout the States whose people were in rebellion, by districting them in judicial circuit, by leving upon them direct taxes as members of the Union under the Constitution, by the constant reception of their representatives on this floor and in the Senate, by the most solemn and binding and joint resolutions, and by every other mode in which this department of the government can commit and pledge itself. He was upheld by every document also to which the name of the executive was attached during the war; by every message, inaugural, proclamation, and order of that prolific period. The courts added their weighty sanction, from those of the lowest and feeblest jurisdiction to those of the loftiest pretensions and powers. No government in the wide spread history of the nations of the earth was ever under voluntary and self imposed obligations of greater force and magnitude. The word and the honor of the republic had been plighted over and over again to its own citizens and in the right and hearing of the civilized world. The moment, however, that resistance ceased, and the way was opened for the long pent up purposes of revolution, centralization, and rapine, the party in power broke with shameless haste its most sacred faith, flung aside the mask it had worn for years, admitted that its previous pretentions and promises were fraudulent, and clamored with wild ferocity against the hero of the march to the sea because he had believed they were true and sincere, and had acted on them. The terms which Sherman gave to a fallen foe had often been tendered to that foe before he fell; but they were now madly thrust aside in the hour of victory, and the general himself denounced far and wide as a traitor to his country. The hue and cry was raised against him as if he was a fleeing fugitive from justice. That memorable and disgraceful outburst cannot be covered with oblivion. It more resembled the enraged scream of a beast of prey about to be baffled out of its victim than the reasonable expression of human beings. The victim, however, was surrended to the clutches of an inflamed and victorious party, and the work of demolition and ruin was at once commenced. From turret to foundation you tore down the government of eleven States. You left not one stone upon another. You rent all their local laws and machinery into fragments and trampled upon theri ruins. Not a vestige of their former construction remained. Their pillars, their rafters, their beams, and all their deep laid corners, the work of a wise and devoted generation of the past, were all dragged away, and the sites where they once stood left naked for the erection of new and different structures. You removed the rubbish, pushed the army into the vacant ground, established provisional governments as you would over territory just acquired by conquest from a foreign power, and clothed brigadier and major generals with extraordinary functions as Governors.

This was the beginning of the present organizations; those odious and unsightly fabrics which now cumber the earth, and which stand as the open, reeking, and confessed shambles of corruption, pollution, and revolting misrule. They embrace not one single element of popular consent. They are the hideous offspring of your own natural and unlawful force and violence. The great body of the people of that unfortunate section had no more share in the rebuilding of their local governments than the sepoys of the East Indies have in the affairs of the British Empire. They were excluded from all participation by the most elaborate and minute schemes of legislative proscription of which history makes any record.

The first duty of the provisional governments which you established was to call conventions to frame new constitutions for these old States, and to prepare them for readmission into that Union from which you had sworn so often and so solemnly that no State could ever withdraw. These conventions were provided for by laws enacted here. The number and the quality of the delegates to them were here specified. Who should be eligible and who ineligible was your work, and not the work of the people who were to be governed. You not only said who should be elected, but you likewise determined who should elect them. You fixed the qualifications and the color of the voters. You purged the ballot box of the intelligence and the virtue on which alone popular liberty can be safely founded, and you admitted in their stead the suffrage of the most ignorant and unqualified race now inhabiting the globe.

Mingled with this dark and turbid tide of dense ignorance came all the vices of this lower race, together with the crimes of a more powerful and a more profligate class, with pale faces from the North, now and then receiving their worst recruits from the apostates of the same complexion in the South. You winnowed the threshing floor, but you rejected the wheat. You accepted the tares, and sowed them, and now you curse the soil because you have reaped nothing but tares for your harvest. You built upon a foundation of shifting sand, and now you rail at everbody but yourselves because the house has not resisted the winds and the rains that have beat upon it. When these conventions met they represented the wretched constituency which spoke them into existence, and they went to their servile tasks with the bayonet of the Federal government at their throats. They sat in every instance within point blank range of shotted cannon. The delegates crept about and framed constitutions with the eyes of military governors upon them. The sword rested lightly in its scabbard, and was ready to leap forth at any moment and upon the slightest pretext to assist in divising fundamental laws for a people said to be free. The State Constitutions that were thus created and thrust upon the country could not fail to partake of the depraved nature of their illegitimate origin. They sprang from the loathsome union of ignorance, vice, and despotism; and they have inherited many of the ugliest features of each one of their progenitors. The despotic principle is strongly marked in them all. It is there in obedience to the mandates of Federal power, as well as in accordance with the character of the instruments who were used to fasten it upon American citizens. Proscription and ostracism are the leading elements of every States government in the South. Intellect and virtue, public and private worth, spotless character, splendid attainments, graceful culture, and the experience and wisdom of age were all passed by under the reconstruction of violence and fraud. Those who were possessed of these traits and acquirements were pushed aside, and made to give place to the most degraded classes of mankind. The people were not allowed to select their official agents from among those who were qualified for public station, but were driven into the purlieus of ignorance and vice to choose their rulers.

In the reorganization of all the States whose present condition is matter of such sore complaint and such bitter accusations, the dominant party here and in those States excluded from office and deprived the people of the services of every man who by his talents, industry, and integrity had sufficiently acquired the confidence of his fellow-citizens before the war to be made Governor. Secretary, Auditor, or Treasurer of State; Attorney General, Judge, Clerk, or Reporter of the Supreme Court; Superintendent of Public Instruction, member of either branch of Congress, or of the Legislature of his State; Clerk, Sheriff, Treasurer, Auditor or Recorder of his county; Judge of probate court whose functions are those of benevolence toward the orphans and the widows of the human race; Justice of the Peace, or Constable of his township, or Notary Public. Every man who had been called in former days to fill any one of these stations, and many more that might be enumerated, and, who during the conflict between the sections was clothed with the slightest responsibility or charged with the smallest official duty by those with whom his destiny and his home had fallen, was marked by the blight of ineligibility, and like the leper of old it was made a crime for the people to again reach forth to him the hand of friendship, confidence, and support. Even the sacred instincts of human nature became disqualifications for office. The ties of kindred were made criminal under this new and revolting system. He who gave a cup of cold water and a crust of bread to his thirsty and famished son, under arms for a cause which he believed to be right, and for which he was willing to die, was branded with dishonor and driven out from the councils of his countrymen. The loving mother who sheltered her weary and wounded boy, laid him in his own familiar bed at home once more, kissed his feverish lips, wiped away the gathering dews of death, and with a broken heart closed his dear eyes forever, was condemned for these acts of angelic ministering, and incurred the penalties of confiscation. He who dismounted and gave his horse to a brother in the moment of danger and close pursuit; the sister who wrought and sent clothing to him on the toilsome march; the maiden who prayed for her lover as he lay dying in the Wilderness or at Stone river, all fell under a common curse. Even the white haired grandmother of four-score years, whose youthful husband perhaps was at the Cowpens, Eutaw Springs, and Yorktown, or, may be, fought under Jackson at New Orleans in the war of 1812, was deprived of her pension, that small morsel of bounty from an ungenerous government, if her heart yearned or her aged hand was extended in sympathy to her children's children on the plains of the South. A more sweeping and universal exclusion from all the benefits, rights, trusts, honors, enjoyments, liberties, and control of a government was never enacted against a whole people, without respect to age or sex, in the annals of the human race. The disgraceful disabilities imposed upon the Jews for nearly eighteen hundred years by the blind and bigoted nations of the earth were never more complete or appalling. Who denies a single statement I make? I challenge and defy contradiction. Every fact that I here proclaim is contained in the laws and in the recorded transactions of this government, and will constitute, "after some time be past" and the passions of the present have subsided, the most frightful and crushing arraingment which history ever summed up against a political party.

Sir, shall a people thus bereft of every attribute of self-government be held responsible at the bar of public opinion, or at the judgment seat of God, for the consequences which have overtaken them? If so, then the doctrine of free agency as measuring the accountability of man is a snare and a delusion. As well might you go to the galley-slave and accuse him of the misrule and the tyranny which chained him to the oar. As well might you denounce the banished exile in the snows of Siberia for the despotism of the Russian Czar. With the same propriety you may visit the prisons of all lands and rail at their inmates through their iron-grated windows on account of the evil administration of the governments to which they belong. The fierce and marauding highwayman with the same justice can accuse his victim, at whose head he presents the loaded pistol, of obstructing the public road. The story of the wolf with his false accusation against the lamb, and of the prompt manner in which he tore the helpless and unoffending thing to pieces for muddying the stream from which he drank, although it stood by the brink of the waters far below him, is familiar to us all, and is being re-enacted at this time on a vast scale in American history. The stream has been defiled by the party now in power, and it reads and tears the unresisting people of the South for its own offense. This shall no longer be done without exposure and warning to the country. I call upon that party to assume its just responsibility and not to shrink back now from the bad eminence it has attained in the conduct of Southern affairs. To it much has been given and from it much is demanded: More than the ten talents have been intrusted to its care, and the present and future generations will exact a rigid account at its hands. But now, as the ghastly and hideous results of its control in the South appear on every square mile of that oppressed and plundered section, it starts back with horror and disclaims its own offspring, the fruits of its own unholy rapine and lust. With pale lips and affrighted mein it ejaculates, "Thou canst not say I did it." But the deeds which it has committed are of imperishable infamy, and they will not down at its bidding, nor can all the waters of the ocean wash away their guilty stains.

Important Decision by the Supreme Court of the United States.

In the case of White vs. Hart and others, brought up by Writ of Error from the Supreme Court of Georgia, the Supreme Court has decided that the Union of States was not dissolved either by secession or by the war; that the present Constitution of the State of Georgia is a voluntary and valid instrument adopted by the people of the State of their own free will within the scope of the authority conferred by the act of Congress; that no contract can be said to exist without a remedy, and the State cannot deny the remedy without impairing the obligation of the contract; and lastly, that the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments are Constitutional. We have already published the telegraphic report of this decision, but we thus again refer to it, and epitomise its contents because of its important bearing on the politics of the day.

Montgomery Advertiser.

A New York letter says: "The Evening Telegram announced, at five o'clock yesterday that an order of arrest was in the hands of Brennan for a prominent, well-known wealthy man, whose name was withheld till after the arrest was made. You couldn't get a seat on any out-going train for the next three days in consequence. Every prominent man of wealth feeling sure it was he that was found out, packed his port monkey and flew. I counted twenty-six bank presidents going up to Connecticut two hours after the Telegram got up town."

—When a Connecticut deacon nudged a somnolent worshipper with the subscription box, the sleepy individual awoke partially, smiled and murmured "I don't smoke," and dropped off again.

Mr. Greeley is not so much given to politics as many people suppose. The New York Mail of the 5th says: "At the meeting of the Twenty-second Street Republican Gen. Committee last night a list of members who are in the habit of absenting themselves was read, and lo! Horace Greeley's name led all the rest."

A curious lunatic made his appearance a few days ago, in the Luxembourg Gardens, in Paris, and, before an excited audience, commenced tearing up bank notes, each for one thousand francs, with a remorseless indifference. Before he could be checked in his destructive little game he had torn up thirty of the notes.

The official head of Geo. L. Putnam has at last rolled into the basket of the political guillotine, and over the prostrate form of the ex-postmaster stands triumphant his former friend and confidential clerk, John J. Moulton. Fish Hook Moulton was too much for Public School George who is now gone where the "woodbine twineth,"—but why do we weep.—Mobile Register.

JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, APRIL 27th, 1872.

As we go to press the Cincinnati Convention has made no nomination. If the Convention acts with wisdom in the choice of a candidate, he will undoubtedly be the next President of the U. S.

The New York courts have recently decided that dogs are property. Some one, on this, makes the point that then they are taxable; which can hardly be gainsaid. There are about 1760 in Jacksonville, but if Fitz was to collect on them ad valorum, we don't think he would realize 17 cents.

The man who dreamed for four nights in succession that he would be murdered and on the fifth was murdered (an account of which we published) is not as dead as he thought he was. He merely made a mistake and ran off with a few thousand dollars of Government funds, leaving his old coat, hat, a little blood, &c., as an affectionate token of regard for his securities.

ALABAMA LIBERAL REPUBLICANS.—Ex-State Senator Lambert, of Coosa county, passed through Jacksonville last Sunday, en-route for the Cincinnati Convention. Huntsville will send a delegation composed of Nich Davis and others. Hon. Samuel F. Rice and others go from Montgomery. David L. Nicholson, of DeKalb county, has written a letter to Nich Davis, in which he brings a terrible indictment against the present administration and the Radical party as represented in Congress, and in which he declares himself and other Liberal Republicans of the District in sympathy with the Cincinnati movement.

POLITICAL.—Idaho election comes off may 7th. The National Democratic Committee meets at Mr. Belmont's house in New York, May 8th. The Tennessee Democratic Convention meets in Nashville, May 9th. The New York Democratic Convention meets in Rochester, May 15th. Pennsylvania Democratic Convention meets May 30th. Washington Territorial election June 3d. Oregon election June 3d. Louisiana Democratic Convention meets again June 3d. The Republican National Convention meets in Philadelphia, June 5th. Indiana Democratic Convention meets June 12th. Texas Democratic Convention meets at Corsecana, June 17th. Arkansas Democratic Convention meets at Little Rock, June 19th. It is supposed the National Democratic Convention will meet at St. Louis, July 4th.

MEMORIAL DAY IN JACKSONVILLE.

The 26th day of April was observed in Jacksonville with the usual ceremonies. Respect for the day was universal in the town. At 3 o'clock in the evening, according to the programme the business houses were all closed, and the concourse of people assembled to offer the usual tribute of respect to the gallant and glorious Confederate dead who sleep in our cemetery, moved off, about four hundred strong, under the superintendence of Gen. John H. Forney, Chief Marshal of the day, in the following order:

1. Young ladies escorting Orator of the day.
2. Pupils of Female School.
3. Students of College.
4. Ladies in procession.
5. Fire Company in uniform.
6. Citizens on foot.
7. Citizens on horseback and in carriages.

In this order the procession moved to the cemetery, where quite a crowd had already gathered. On reaching that spot, ladies and gentlemen selected for the duty sang: "How sleep the brave," &c., after which a most fervent, eloquent and appropriate prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Deavenport of the M. E. Church. After prayer Col. John H. Caldwell, orator of the day, was introduced, and for fifteen minutes held the attention of the large assemblage, during the delivery of an ex tempore address, touching in its pathos, eloquent in delivery and thrilling in sentiment, bringing tears to many eyes and awaking emotions the purest and most sacred in every bosom present; we say ex tempore address, for the orator on the arrival at the ground, found the throng standing exposed to the rays of a scorching sun and otherwise so uncomfortably situated as to lead him to abandon the line of remark fixed upon, which would have consumed more time than he cared to have his audience kept standing, situated as they were. It was an address entirely suitable to the subject and the occasion, one that was worthy the eloquent tongue that uttered it and the patriotic breast that inspired it. At the conclusion of Col. Caldwell's remarks, the young ladies, with garlands and flowers, who were selected to decorate the graves of the Confederate dead, moved forward under an arch of evergreens at the entrance of the cemetery to their beautiful task, singing as they went from grave to grave, paying homage the fair to the brave, the appropriate song: 'The Land we Love," which they continued singing until the grave of the last hero was visited and decorated. While those who sleep in our midst were so affectionately remembered, the noble ones from Calhoun county who sleep on well fought battle fields and in the land of the stranger were not forgotton. A wreath for each, bearing his name, was woven by fair hands and hung from an old oak on the grounds, forming a large shooter around its knarled and ancient trunk, all of which was capped by a larger wreath than any, bearing the inscription: "Dedicated to the Confederate Dead of Calhoun County." After the honors had been paid to the Confederate dead, the procession was broken up, and those of the throng who had relatives interred on the grounds moved quietly, unostentatiously, but lovingly about decking their graves with flowers and otherwise paying every tribute that affection, hallowed and deepened by separation, could suggest.

All together it was such a scene and such a day as leaves the participants better men and women, and more patriotic citizens; a scene such as should be witnessed in every hamlet and city of the South in whose boundaries sleeps a Confederate soldier, or from which there went forth one or many to do service for our country and returned not again; a scene that should be repeated from year to year, as long as the memory of those who died for us may last, as long as the story of their great courage and sublime heroism is told.

CORRESPONDENCE.

NEAR OXFORD, Ala., April, 30, 1872.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN.—In your issue of the 13th instant, you publish the proceedings of a public meeting held in Jacksonville on the 9th, relative to the erection of a monument at that place as a suitable and appropriate memento for the perpetuation of the memory of the Confederate dead of Calhoun County, and among other things set forth, is the appointment of committees in each of the several precincts in the county. Again in your paper of the 20th you have an article on the same subject, and after saying that a gentleman from a distance will soon visit you town to contract for the erection of the monument, you state that, "what is done by the committees, whose names we print again this week, should be done speedily." While your failure to republish the names of the persons comprising the respective committees as above promised, will result in no serious injury in accomplishing the object for which they were appointed, still it is believed that some, if not many of them are not sufficiently informed as to the duties in detail they are expected to perform. No specific instruction for their guidance have been published, in fact no instructions at all, which should be done for more reasons than one—the public at large need information on the subject in question, as well as the members of the committees. Money is to be raised, subscriptions to the work are to be obtained, and other duties, such as ascertaining the names of the deceased soldiers; but what else? What facts it is desired should be procured relating to the deceased, his age, the command to which he belonged, his company, &c., (if any thing of this nature is wanted) many members of the committees may not know. There is yet another matter pertaining to the subscriptions; a greatly larger sum in the aggregate may be obtained in this form and under this head, than can by possibility in money paid in advance. But when shall it be understood that subscriptions be payable? In how many installments may a subscription be made payable, and when shall they be paid?

Would it not be well in your next issue to publish for the instruction and information of all parties the exact duties touching the points herein mentioned, so that the friends of the enterprise may know how to proceed in the premises? This will clear the way that all may go intelligently to work.

Wealth, Wealth and Prosperity for the Southern States, the Brightest Stars in the Union.

To the citizens of the Southern States:—It is useless for me to tell you of loss, privation, suffering and distress you have endured during the late unholy war, for you know it all; but it is all over except its effects, which are meted out to us by the hand of tyrants and will continue so long as we permit. Now, the question is, are we willing to submit to oppression, injustice and wrong for all time to come; or can we prevent it without suffering the privations of another war? I answer yes. A determination to do a thing is half the battle; and not doing it is a proof that we are willing to kiss the rod that smites us. Admitting and believing it can be done, although involving some privation, self-denial, and sacrifice of what might seem to be present interest, will the people act with firmness and unanimity?

In the first place, the present negro population, which has been made a disturbing and dangerous political element by unconstitutional legislation and Northern bayonets, must be supplanted as soon as practicable, by a more intelligent, reliable and profitable laboring population; and let the government emigrate them to some other portion of its vast territory, where they can do much better.

I will address myself to the landholders of the South, who are most deeply interested. Every thing we eat and wear comes through the labor and toil of the farmers. They ought to be richly rewarded, and will be, if they pursue the right course. We will now suppose the negroes to be gone, and you may have more land than you can cultivate. Have small farms and make them rich. Make pastures for stock of surplus lands, or rent, lease or sell them to honest, industrious men, payable in cotton, and raise all the cotton you can besides. Let all the land-holders unite in erecting factories of every kind, and every man take stock, from one share to as many as he can pay for. Raise cotton for this purpose and have it shipped to Europe and sold for gold or in payment for machinery for factories. The building could be done in a great measure by men, who are not land-holders, but would take stock in payment for work. You can raise the raw material and sell it for gold or have it made into cloth much cheaper than you could purchase goods made at the North You can get the best of workmen to superintend your factories and give the rising generation a manufacturing education. Every man that comes South will bring wealth with him. Labor is wealth—education in the arts and sciences is wealth. All engaged in building & manufacturing are consumers, and furnish a home market for your surplus produce. Your lands increase in value, and employment given to every body. Sell every thing for silver and gold. Refuse to take one dollar of United States trash, for it is nothing else. Let it go where it belongs, and is on a par with their rotten political principles. We want no banks; they are and ever have been a curse to the country. When a farmer sells his produce for gold, he can take care of it for himself. When this is accomplished, your stock in factories will increase in value, and you can draw yearly dividends, besides what you make at home. This will be better than banks or paying all your surplus to foreign bond and stock-holders.

Land is the property a man can own. From it he can get every thing else he wants; and if Southern land owners do not change their policy, they will soon be mere overseers to hire negroes to make cotton for Northern manufacturers, who will eventually come South and purchase their lands for United States currency, which may become worthless, as the government is now bankrupt. I ask, in all candor, will you be thus duped by yankee speculators out of the very thing of all others you ought to keep; I mean your lands. If you wish to sell a part of your land, let it be to a man who feels a deep interest in the South, and will settle on it and become a useful citizen Thus we will become an exporting instead of an importing people. Is not this reason and plain common sense. Open your eyes and see your danger and your remedy. Look at facts as they absolutely exist, and you will see the course you ought to pursue. Keep your lands—take stock in factories—raise cotton to supply them, and provisions to feed yourselves, and you will soon have your pockets lined with gold. Let bank rags go where they belong; and believe me your political independence will soon follow if not accompany your material independence.

And now I ask again of all, individually and collectively if what I have said is not true? If you answer in the affirmative, will you show your faith by your works? If you do not, you indolently or willingly consent to be slaves of despotic power, and deserve no better fate.

You can raise your stock, your produce and cotton, and manufacture your goods cheaper than you can buy them. Don't buy fool yankee notions. It takes more to gratify our nonsensical pride than it would to pay for shares in factory stock. You will have your yearly dividends in addition to all you make, and the best currency in the world, even gold and silver.

I have thus given you my views, lame as they are, for your consideration Look at them honestly and candidly, and act for yourselves and your country. We have been under the yoke long enough. Now let us rise in our might, as one man, and using the means with which God has blessed us, and be freemen. Then all will be well.

ONE OF THE SOUTH.

TELEGRAPHIC RESUME

APRIL 25th.—Congress—Scott submitted a report from the Ku-kluk Committee regarding Georgia, Florida and Alabama.

Voorhees advocated Resolution denouncing foreign policy of the Government as contemptible, pusillanimous and cowardly.

FOREIGN.—Don Carlos has crossed the frontier and is now in Spain at the head of ten thousand men. It is said there is an understanding between the Carlists and Republicans. The Carlists are to draw the Government troops into the open country, thus leaving the towns defenseless against the Republicans who are to rise against the Government on the first day of May, in all parts of Spain. Only two of the Isabellist Generals (adherents of the old Queen) have as yet joined the insurrection.

HOME.—The Hercules Life Insurance Company of New York has been declared a bankrupt.

Reed, absconding deputy Sheriff from Chattanooga has been captured.

Harrisburg, (Pa.) Manufacturing Company's works burned. Loss $300,000.

South Carolina will be represented in the liberal Republican Convention at Cincinnati.

APRIL 26.—Brigham Young who was some time back arrested on charge of murder has been released on hebeas corpus.

The New York Herald, a Grant organ, calls for the removal of Secretary Fish.

CONGRESS.—Butler offered a bill removing disabilities of sixteen thousand persons.

The motion to adjourn May 29th was rejected by a vote of 83 to 106.

FOREIGN.—Carlist insurrection in Spain on the increase. The insurgents now number fifteen thousand. If the Radicals co-operate with the Carlists the revolution will be success-ful. A terrible disaster has occurred at Mount Vesuvius. A number of persons whose curiosity led them too near the crater of the volcano were killed and wounded by a shower of lava.

The Tichborne claimant has been released on bail.

APRIL 27.—Congress—Senator Wilson says Congress will not adjourn until the amnesty bill passes.

Sumner failed to get his mixed school bill through. A bill was introduced authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay to the owners thereof the proceeds of the sales of all cotton illegally seized and converted after the 13th of June, 1865.

The House has passed a bill striking the word "loyal" out of the pension law to soldiers of 1812 and giving widows who married previous to 1825 pensions.

FOREIGN.—The eruption of Vesuvius continues. Two hundred persons were burned. The flames burst from under the feet of the inhabitants of the town Perro de Grace. The lava has already reached Sybaritum and threatened other towns. Many tourists it is reported were surrounded by the lava and perished. The King has sent aid to persons compelled to flee from home.

Some skirmishing between the Government troops and the Carlists near the town of Tosalano, Spain.

A large number of Internationals have been arrested at Lyons, France.

An insurgent leader, Frevine, has issued an address to the people of Matamoras, Mexico, in which he says he comes to relieve them from the tyranny of President Jaurez.

HOME.—A quorum of the Florida Legislature has been obtained by bringing in a member recently convicted of bribery. Acting Governor Day addressed both Houses against the claims of Gov. Reed, who was impeached, but not tried by the Legislature, on the ground that he is yet to be tried. Reed has issued a proclamation warning all persons against respecting the authority of Day, who, he claims, has usurped the office of Governor over him Reed. He claims that the Legislature having adjourned without convicting him, he is as much Governor as if he had not been suspended by the impeachment trial.

The white desperadoes have been ordered out of the Indian territory, but refused to go. They are under the leadership of a man named Tiger Bill. A fight between the military and desperadoes is imminent.

The African Methodist Convention in New York came near breaking up in a row—cause a proposition that each member be required to pay one dollar.

APRIL 28.—Congress—Since the present session of Congress the President has signed one hundred and fifty bills He has vetoed several private bills. House bills awaiting action of the Senate is 369. Senate bills awaiting action of House, 132. Bills introduced in the Senate, 1045. Bills introduced in the House, 2560. Among the bills pending in the Senate are Robertson's Amnesty bill, Blairs Resolution favoring purchase of Cuba, and Bill to connect Telegraph with postal service.

GENERAL.—General Conference of M. E. Church (North) convenes at Brooklyn May 1st.

The Louisiana, Alabama and Texas Delegations in the Cincinnati Liberal Republican Convention, already in Cincinnati, have reported unanimous for Charles Francis Adams for President.

Cotton has been dull and on a slight decline for a week past.

APRIL 29—Congress—The Republican caucus adopted the following order of business. Three appropriation bills; then Robertson's amnesty; then Scott's Ku-klux; then securing citizens the right to vote.

HOUSE.—Among the bills introduced was one by Pierce, of Mississippi, to provide for the greater efficiency of the public schools in the several States and for other purposes, a bill more stringent, if possible, than Sumner's Civil Rights Bill. It provides for equality in public and private schools, hotels, cars, steamboats, theatres, etc., etc. The bill was referred to Committee on Education and Labor, of which Pierce is chairman, and he declares it shall be reported on the next call of his committee. One bill was submitted by Hays, of Alabama, giving public lands to that State.

FOREIGN.—It is now said that Don Carlos is not in Spain atall. French Government forbids Frenchmen participating in the civil war in Spain.

A dispatch from Naples, Italy, says:—The fires of Vesuvius are slackening. There was another crater near Signe today, but with a very fresh opening now. The violence of the eruption seems to abate. Yesterday the entire mountain was concealed from sight by the smoke, which settled around it. This morning the heavens were darkened by the dense clouds of smoke and ashes, and strong winds carried showers of burning cinders and old coreu as far as Sorfatu and Palmo. Paimo was flooded. The stream near Sebastian is 16 feet deep. The village is still in danger. The devastation is terrible Thousands of acres of cultivated lands have been overwhelmed by ashes and lava, and vineyards and farms are hurried out of sight. The loss of life must have been heavy, but it is impossible to ascertain the number of victims.

HOME.—Fires raging in the mountains opposite Poughkeepsie, New York.

The Committee of the Georgia Legislature in New York has almost finished its labors. They will probably find about seventeen million of the bonds to be valid. Valid bonds will be paid in full, while those that have been illegally issued will be repudiated.

April 30.—Heavy skirmishing has begun around Matamoras, Mexico. The Government troops float the black flag from the ramparts of the city. The General in command of the Government troops in the city is the one who, in 1869, took young and old men from their homes and shot them without trial. The town of Brownsville, Texas, just across the Rio Grande river is overflowed with refugees from Matamoras.

The Supreme Court of Florida has decided that the impeachment of Gov. Reid is still pending and that Day, the Lieutenant Governor, is Governor for the time.

Each State will have four delegates at large in the Cincinnati Convention and two for each Congressional District. Jacob D. Cox will probably be a compromise candidate between Davis and Adams.

Consequential damages will not be claimed before the Geneva Arbitration.

A bill admitting tea and coffee free of duty after July 1st, passed both houses with the amendment that the stock in bonded warehouses be refunded.

Pierce's bill makes a refusal of privileges to schools, hotels, cars, steamboats, stages, churches, cemeteries, theatres or concerts on account of color, or any one desiring the same, a misdemeanor, and punishable by a fine of $1,000 and imprisonment one year, and gives the person refused action on the case for $1,000, and gives jurisdiction to the United States Courts, and makes a neglect of duty by officers of courts a like misdemeanor. It erases the word white in all laws and makes the exclusion of colored jurors a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of $5,000.

May 1.—A dispatch from Cincinnati says: A few delegates are leisurely drifting in and taking their seats. Reporters are beginning to fill the places assigned them. Spectators are gathering in the gallery, some ladies being among them. The hall is spacious and well arranged, but the acustic qualities are very defective.

The Minnesota delegates go for Trumbull; two States report for Davis. The Southern States are all reported, but the Northern and Middle States make a much larger show. Several prominent Democrats are here watching the progress of affairs. Illinois is here in full force.

Insurrection in Spain rapidly spreading.

Five mountain men robbed the Deposit Bank at Columbia, Adair county, Kentucky, after killing the cashier. Citizens are after them and will hang them.

The Cincinnati Convention was called to order by Col. Grosvenor, of St. Louis, Missouri, who nominated for temporary chairman Judge Stanley Mathews, of Ohio, which was carried unanimously. On taking the chair Judge Mathews said:

"It is no idle affectation when I say it is impossible to express the deep sensibility with which I receive and accept the unexpected honor conferred upon me. I am unprepared to preface the assumption of duties of the chair with such remarks as are appropriate to the occasion. The main thing, that which I set above all else was that the time has come when it is the voice of large portion of the people that they no longer be dogs to wear the collar of party. (Cheers.) We heretofore have been members of the Republican party. Be not ashamed to have worn that name. The past of the party was commendable in its work of sustaining the Union against Secession. Its work had become a part of the fundamental law, and with it the principle of equality of all before the law had been established. He considered this convention their rebellion against the Republican party. The highest eulogy of the principles of that party, for it shows that the party has high courage, is to set about the work of reforming itself. (Applause.) Parties can't live on past reputation. It was because those who control the Republican machinery and principles have diverted them from their true purposes that this movement was initiated. The war has ended and peace has come. So ought to end military rule, (cheers) everything that keeps alive and fans the embers of the dead past."

The New York delegation will vote for Greely.

May 2.—Convention organized and adjourned at 3 o'clock until to-morrow.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT
To the Memory of Ex-Chief Justice A. J. Walker.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA., APRIL 27, 1872.

BAR MEETING.

At a meeting of the members of the Bar, at Jacksonville, Ala., held in the Court House Saturday evening, April 27th, 1872, Hon. Thos. A. Walker was called to the chair and Wm. M. Hames requested to act as Secretary.

On motion of Hon. John Foster, a committee of six was appointed to draft and report suitable Resolutions for the consideration of the meeting; whereupon the chair appointed Hon. John Foster, Col. John H. Caldwell, Hon. M. J. Turnley, Hon. James Crook, Horace L. Stevenson, Esq. and Hon. A. Woods said committee, who, through their chairman, Hon. John Foster, reported the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, we have received the sad intelligence that HON. A. J. WALKER, Ex-Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Alabama, departed this life at Montgomery, Thursday the 25th inst. and

WHEREAS, Judge Walker commenced his professional life at Jacksonville and the people of Calhoun who knew him long and well, loved and honored him in life and lament his untimely death; it is meet and proper that we, his professional brothers and friends of the Jacksonville Bar, should express, publicly, our sorrow at the great loss which the profession and the State have sustained by his death, and offer our humble tribute to his memory:

Resolved, That in the death of Judge Walker, the State has lost one of her most eminent jurists, the Bar one of its ablest and most learned members and the community one of the purest and noblest citizens.

Resolved, That while we mourn that our distinguished brother has thus been cut off in the meridian of his usefulness and fame; yet it is a consolation, though a sad one, that his decissions, learned, able and logical, while on the Supreme Court bench, running through a period of twelve years; his unwearied industry and ability in the codification of the statutes of Alabama have left a proud and lasting monument to his memory and have forever identified his name with the jurisprudence of the State.

Resolved, That the sincerity, modesty and purity of his character were not less conspicuous than his learning and intellectual ability and equally worthy the admiration and imitation of his professional brethren.

Resolved, That we tender our condolence to the family of Judge Walker, in this the hour of their sad bereavement; that we desire to mingle our tears with theirs and assure them that they have our warmest sympathies in the great and irreparable loss they have sustained.

Resolved, That the Secretary of this meeting be requested to transmit a copy of these resolutions to the family of the deceased, as an expression of our sincere grief and heartfelt sympathy in their sad bereavement.

On motion the resolutions were unanimously adopted, and the secretary was requested to furnish the editor of the Jacksonville REPUBLICAN with a copy of the proceedings of this meeting, for publication.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

OUR CIVILIZATION.

How James Calvin Logston was Hanged in Tennessee.

[From the Nashville Union and American.]

The sheriff, J. C. Taylor, went into the jail a few minutes before 11 o'clock and told Logston it was about time to go out if he wanted his funeral preached at the gallows; also asked him if he wanted something to eat, to which Logston said, "It is most too soon for dinner." He also asked the Sheriff if it would be best to put on his shoes. The sheriff told him he didn't think it worth while, and as they were large it might be that the lid of the coffin would not go down if they were on. Logston said all right, and announced his readiness to go. His arms were then tied behind him, his chains removed and his shroud was put on. He was put in a two-horse wagon, seated on his coffin, surrounded by the Rev. Wright, Pile and Greer. Dr. Graham also had a seat in the wagon. A guard of about forty men surrounded the wagon and the procession moved out, the ministers singing:

"I would not live always.
I ask not to stay."

The party arrived at the gallows in a few minutes. The gallows was composed of two uprights, a cross-beam and trap. When the wagon neared it Logston raised his eyes for an instant only and looked at it; he never looked toward it again until he ascended with the sheriff and Mr Greer. After the wagon stopped the Rev. Mr. Wright stated that at the special request of the condemned he would preach his funeral discourse. After singing and prayer he took for his text the 6th verse of the 9th chapter of Genesis, "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed." from which he preached about one hour. After the sermon there were several hyms sung and prayers made. At fifteen after one o'clock the sheriff adjusted the rope on the gallows, and Logston, accompanied by the Rev. Mr. Greer, ascended the scaffold. When he got up he cast a look over the crowd, composed of some two thousand people. He was very pale, but that was owing more to his long confinement than anything else. The sheriff asked if he had anything to say. He told the sheriff, in a low tone, to say to the crowd, "Let this be a warning to all." After a pause the sheriff again said: "He wants you all to meet him in heaven." The rope was then put around his neck and the cap drawn over his face, the Rev. Mr. Greer, one of his spiritual advisers, assisting, pinning the cap down and making things snug. The sheriff then tied his feet After this was done Logston asked the sheriff to let him live to the last minute, and to notify him when he was about to swing him off. The sheriff and the minister then descended, leaving the condemned standing alone as immovable and apparently unmoved as a statute.

At thirty minutes past one the sheriff said: "Your time is up," and sprung the trap. Logston fell about eighteen inches, the rope scarcely checking his fall, broke, and he fell to the ground, a distance of about six feet. The blood gushed from his mouth, ears and nose. Another rope was instantly placed around his neck, and he was again drawn up. As soon as the body was clear of the ground, and the support of those aiding in hoisting him up was renewed, the rope again broke, and Logston was again on the ground writhing in agony, the blood running from him, saturating the cap, which was of white cloth. When adjusting the rope the last time he spoke, saying: "Oh, Lord, don't do that!" He was again run up; this time the rope held him. He made a few convulsive struggles, and all was over with James Calvin Logston, the most brutal of young desperadoes.

Parr pays the highest market price in Cash or barter for all the above articles. He will sell you all kinds of family supplies at the very lowest prices.—1t.

Editorial Notices are so common that it is almost impossible for an editor to express his honest opinion of the merits of any article without being suspected of interested motives. This fact, however, shall not deter us from saying what we think of a new addition to the Materia Medica to which our attention has been recently directed. We refer to Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters, a remedy which is making its way into more families just now than all the other advertised medicines put together. There seems to be no question about the potency of its tonic and alterative properties, while it possesses the great negative recommendation of containing neither alcohol nor mineral poison. That it is a specific for Indigestion, Billiousness, Constipation, and many complaints of nervous origin, we have reason to know; and we are assured on good authority that as general invigorant, regulating and purifying medicine, it has no equal. It is stated that its ingredients, (obtained from the wilds of California,) are new to the medical world; and its extraordinary effects certainly warrant the inclusion that it is a compound of agents heretofore unknown. If popularity is any criterion, there can be no doubt of the efficiency of the Vinegar Bitters, for the sale of the article is immense and continually increasing. ...4w

We will endeavor to answer the questions of our correspondent from near Oxford next week. The names of the Committee were published as stated, but for want of room in the news columns they were placed among the advertisements. The critic of the "Locals" shall have a showing then also.

CROSS PLAINS LOCALS.

Farmers in the neighborhood look a little blue, but this is to be expected. Who ever heard of one that didn't "look blue" occasionally. This state of mind greatly enhances the genial exultation of harvest time. All by contrasts you know.

The Rev. Mr. Neal, a much esteemed citizen of this place, has gone to the new city of Birmingham to live. May he find a pleasant birth, and as many warm friends as he leaves behind.

Mrs. Price, relict of the late James Price, and the oldest citizen of the place, died a few days since.

Mr. Lay, an energetic gentleman, recently moved in, has established a tin-shop and gone to work manufacturing in real good earnest.

Wanted—Somebody to look after and stir up Postmasters, route agents, mail carriers and "any other man" that has aught to do with conveying letters from this to any other place. It sometimes takes eight or ten days for a letter to make the trip to Rome, and sometimes it don't get there at all. The same may be said of several other places up and down the road. Nor is it alone on the railroad; for it sometimes takes two weeks for a letter to get from Centre or Gaylesville to this place by the semi-weekly horse mail.

Wanted seriously.—A great improvement in our singing in church and Sunday school. We ought to have an organ. Many smaller and poorer congregations at other places have spirit sufficient to procure organs and keep up with the times in church and Sabbath school singing. We are not old fogy about other matters, why should we be in this?

The same gentlemen who constituted the corporate authorities for the past year have been almost unanimously re-elected, with the exception of the Intendant who refused to run. Capt J. N. Hood was elected without opposition and will doubtless make a very efficient officer. Mr. King Stewart, a right man in the right place, is retained as marshal.

Judge Bill Cox, alias Tobe, the universal genius still flourishes. He says a man of his varied talents and great usefulness in the community should be allowed to lie sometimes and drink a little whisky occasionally.

They say the pupils of the Institute are to have a Festival on the first night of May and an excursion or picnic next day; good time expected.

LADIGA LOCALS.

The Ladiga local has been silent for a while, because there has been but little to tell about, that would be of interest.

Corn is beginning to show which way the rows run, and, notwithstanding the frost this morning, everything looks springlike.

Some of our enterprising farmers are going to manure their cotton with Guano. A car load has been disposed of here.

Since winter has broken up two Sunday Schools have been re-opened in this vicinity. The children turn out in force; but there is not so full an attendance on the part of the parents. It is idle to expect children to attend regular unless the parents attend too. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Our debating club still solves important questions After next Saturday we will know whether or not the Homestead law is a benefit to the poor men of Alabama.

Ladies love to look at pretty goods, especially when a nice and polite man shows them. If any one doubts this proposition let him peep into the store of J. R. Graham & Co. and skepticism on that point will be removed. Do they advertise? [They do.]

ALEXANDRIA LOCALS.

We had the pleasure of a call from Col. Colt yesterday, as he passed through on his way to Oxford. He informs us that Cols. Pennington and Wells, who have been in New York sometime negotiating, write back very encouragingly. He thinks it will not be long before he can double the present force on the grading and push it forward more rapidly.

Dr. W. W. Dickie formerly of this place but now of Richmond Va., dropped in on us a few days since. He was in excellent health and welcomed in the valley, where he has many friends.

The past two weeks has been splendid farming weather and the continued absence of the farmers on our streets is sufficient proof that they are making good use of the time.

Green & Ledbetter have just received a choice line of ladies Dress Goods, Hats and "Dolly Varden" Prints. We are satisfied every body should call at an early day and see their stock.

The parties who are organizing the Good Templars Lodge in Alexandria are succeeding well. They will in a few days send for the charter, &c. Our little town is pushing onward fast in the line of improvements; we have two Sabbath schools, both well attended, one prayer meeting and preaching twice per month, and before long the influence of the Good Templars Lodge will be seen in our midst, something Alexandria has long needed.

The A. B. C. will not hold their regular communication this week, as some of the members are absent at the Selma Fair, and the balance may be found in attendance at the Oxford S. S. convention.

More sickness in the valley at this time than has been since last Summer.

Laborers are paid regularly on the Alabama and Chattanooga railroad. A payment has been made for recent labor.

The prospects for a good fruit crop in Will's Valley is flattering. There is a great deal more cotton being planted in that section than there was last year. The recent freshets damaged the farms throughout the valley. The wheat prospects, at present, were never better in that section.

A Frightened Horse.—Last Saturday morning on the St. Clair road about one and a half miles from town a horse attached to a buggy containing a gentleman and lady, (Mrs. James Snow) became frightened at a wagon on the road and ran away, breaking the vehicle and throwing out the riders. The lady sustained several serious, if not fatal wounds on the head, besides being internally injured. She is at the house of Mr. Frank Allen, near the spot where the injury occurred. The gentleman was slightly wrenched and bruised.

Mob Law In Missouri—Three Men Murdered.

Holden, April 24.—A mob stopped the Eastern bound train on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad, at Gunn City, in Cass county, Mo., this afternoon, and murdered J. R. Cline, J. C. Stevenson and S. E. Dupron. Stevenson was a member of the County Court and Presiding Judge when the recent bond excitement was raised, while Cline was the Attorney who was implicated. Dupron was killed simply because he was in company of the others. The mob threatened to kill any one who hereafter identified any of them in Court or elsewhere, and said they had just commenced their work of murder.

THE CASS COUNTY DESPERADOES

People at the Mercy of the Mob—Leading citizens driven into exile—State troops in the field.

Holden, Mo., April 28.—The reign of terror in Cass County instead of abating is on the increase, and the civil authorities are perfectly powerless to enforce the law, and the lives and property of the people are at the mercy of the mob. Twelve men, old and respectable citizens of Harrisonville, who were bondsmen of Cline, together with the minister who performed the last rites at his funeral, were ordered to leave to-day within twenty-four hours, or be shot. They accordingly left, and are now exiles from their homes. The mob is furious and have decreed to slay all the principals in the bond matter, their bondsmen, and all who sympathize with them and attempt to defend them. Nothing but the strong arm of the law will preserve the peace, and bring the murderers to justice.

Desperadoes Captured.

We learn that Winfield, the man implicated in the rape of Mrs. Wilson and the murder of her husband, in Limestone county, Ala., was captured Monday at a small railroad station above Huntsville, on the Memphis and Charleston road. He was to have been brought to Athens at once, where the other guilty parties are lodged in jail awaiting their trial which commences before Judge Clarke next Monday.

Three negroes who fired into a train on the Memphis and Charleston road, near Trinity, on the same night these murders occured, have, we hear, been captured, and will be tried at once.

The Mobile "Bread and Butter Brigade" are troubling the Radical party, and one of the "Ring" managers writes to the President that unless he withdraws the latest appointment for Postmaster of that city, Alabama will vote against his re-election. It has come to this in the history of the Grant party—that the office-holders and beggars openly put their votes in the market, and announce, no "bread and butter, no support." This is the corrupt and festering organization which Senator Wilson irreverently declared, is founded on the "Rock of Ages."—Philadelphia Age.

A. H. Memmon has been nominated for Governor of North Carolina by the Democrats. South Carolina ku-klux trials still progressing. In the small county of Lawrence five hundred plows lie idle and the cultivation of ten thousand acres is lost.

HOW TO KEEP GATHERED FRUIT AND FLOWERS ALWAYS FRESH.

A friend has just informed us that fruit and flowers may be preserved from decay and fading by immersing them in a solution of gum arabic in water two or three times, waiting a sufficient time between each immersion to allow the gum to dry. This process covers the surface of the frust with a thin coating of the gum, which is entirely impervious to the air, and thus prevents the decay of the fruit, or the withering of the flower. Our friend has roses thus preserved which have all the beauty of freshly plucked ones though they have been seperated from the parent stem since June last.—To insure success in experiments of this kind, it should be borne in mind that the whole surface must be covered; for, if the air only gains entrance at a pinhole, the labor will be lost. In preserving specimens of fruit, particular care should be taken to cover the stem and all with the gum. A good way is to wind a thread of silk about the stem, and then sink it slowly in the solution, which should not be so strong as to leave a particle of the gum undissolved. The gum is so perfectly transparent that you can with difficulty detect its presence, except by the touch. Here we have another simple method of fixing the fleeting beauty of nature, and surrounding ourselves ever with those objects which most elevate the mind, refine the taste, and purify the heart.

Salt on Wheat.—John Burgen, of Palmyra, Illinois, writes to the Rock River Farmer: About the 20th of March last I sowed ten acres of wheat. On two and one half acres of this piece I put one barrel of salt. The whole piece was subject to the same cultivation, sown with a sower, cultivated and harrowed once. On the two and one-half acres the salt was sown broad-cast and cross harrowed. Now for the result. The piece sown with salt yielded twenty-three bushels to the acre; the balance twelve. Where the salt had been sprinkled I also found the berry to be larger and plumper, and the straw yellower and strong. I do not know if the result would always be as favorable, but I certainly will try it again, and advise my brother farmers to try the same experiment.

"Dolly Varden"

Dolly Varden, the fortunate young lady after whom the fashionable dress for the next Summer is named, was the charming daughter of a London Locksmith, Gabriel Varden by name, and lived in the reign of George the Third. The New York Mail, which answers a correspondent on the subject, says: "For further information we would refer our inquirer to a certain book of reference called 'Barnaby Rudge,' written by one Charles Dickens, an author of some local reputation." Whether the lady in question was given to wearing materials of a startling loud character in color and pattern this deponent has no knowledge nor information sufficient to form a belief. About a year ago, however, some inspired modiste re-christened what were then known as "cretonnes," and called them "Dolly Vardens." The name was at first confined to chintzes, but it spread to the other materials. At a late dry goods exposition "Dolly Varden" silks were exhibited; and now whole costumes, whose like was never seen on sea or shore, are named after the charming and coquettish little daughter of a London locksmith.

WOMAN AND WINE.

A writer in Scribner's Monthly, uses the following strong language, which will be responded to by the women who have suffered all over the land. Of the worst foes that women have ever had to encounter, wine stands at the head. The appetite for strong drink in man has spoiled the lives of more women—ruined more hopes for them, scattered more fortunes for them, brought to them more shame, sorrow and hardship—than any other evil that lives. The country numbers tens of thousands—nay, hundreds of thousands of women who are widows to-day, and sit in hopeless weeds because their husbands have been slain by strong drink. There are hundreds of thousands of homes scattered all over the land in which women live lives of torture, going through all the changes of suffering that lie between the extremes of fear and despair, because those whom they love, love wine better than they do the women they have sworn to love.

This is the pleasantly familiar way the New Orleans Mitrailleuse talks to Gov't Warmouth: "Now, young man, look out for squalls. We are going for you. What we have done, to show up your true character, is but the bite of a mosquito to what you may expect. We have the points, and dare to use them."

Helper, the "impending crisis" man, has outlived the era he prophesied long ago, and is trying to start a Radical organ at Salisbury, North Carolina.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A NEW BEAUTIFYING AGENT.—All Dentifrices had their drawbacks, until the Salubrious Bark of the Soap Tree was brought from the Chilian Valleys to perfect the fragrant Sozodont, the most delightful article for the teeth that a brush was ever dipped into.

"CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED FOR 50 Cents."—Every case of Croup can be cured when first taken, by Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment, warranted for 24 years, and never a bottle returned. It also cures Diarrhœa, Dysentary, Colic, Sore Throat, Cuts, Burns and External Pains. Sold by the Druggists. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York.

VENUS herself would not have been beautiful if her complexion had been bad. If beauty is skin deep, is skin deep it is necessary to secure and retain that part of it; and ladies, instead of resorting to paints and powders, should remember that an impure, blotchy, or sallow skin is the proof of feeble digestion, torpid liver, or vitiated blood for all which Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters is a safe, sure, and effectual remedy.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE.—No oils neither pomades or alcoholic washes—foreign or domestic—can compare with Cocoaine as a hair dressing. It anchors the hair firmly in the scalp—gives it new life and lustre and renders it the "crowning glory" or both sexes, old and young.

PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL.—More accidents occur from using unsafe oils, than from steamboats and railroads combined. Over 200,000 families continue to burn Pratt's Astral Oil, and no accidents directly or indirectly have occurred from burning, storing or handling it. Oil House of Chas Pratt, Established 1770. New York.

A BEAUTIFUL WHITE, soft, smooth and clear skin is produced by using G. W. Laird's "Bloom of Youth." It removes tan, freckles, sunburns, and all othet discolorations from the skin, leaving the complexion brilliant and beautiful. Sold at all druggists. This preparation is entirely free from any material detrimental to health.

JUST THE REMEDY NEEDED.—Thanks to Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup, we have for years been relieved from sleedless nights of painful watching with poor, suffering, teething children.

FOR DYSPEPSIA. Indigestion, depression of spirits and general debility in their various forms; also, as a preventive against Fever and Ague, and other intermittent fevers. The Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all Druggists, is the best tonic, and for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it can no equal.

RISLEY'S GENUINE GOLDEN BELL COLOGNE WATER according to the original formula of Prevost, Paris. so so long known to the customers of Haviland Harral and Risley and their branches, for its fine permanent fragrance, is now made by W H Risley and the trade supplied by his successors, Morgan & Risley, Wholesale Druggists, New York.

THURSTON'S IVORY PEARL TOOTH POWDER.—The best article known for cleansing and preserving the teeth and gums. Sold by all Druggists.—Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. F C Wells & Co., New York

CARBOLIC SALVE, unequalled as a Healing compound. Physicians recommend it as the most wonderful remedy ever known Price 25 cents per box. John F. Henry, Sole Proprietor, 8 College Place, N. York

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE.—This magnificent compound is beyond contingency the safest and most reliable Dye in existence; never failing to impart to the hair uniformity of color, nourishment and elasticity. Manufactory, 68 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

SYAPNIA is Opium purified of its sickening and poisenous qualities. It is a perfect anodyne not producing headache or constipation of the bowels as is the case with other preparations of opium. John Farr, Chemist, New York.

Womans' Rights.—One who has long studied this absorbing subject now presents to the women of our country the result of his investigations. He is happy to say that he has at last discovered "Woman's Best Friend." It is adapted, especially, to those cases where the womb is disordered, and will cure any irregularity of the "menses." Dr J. Bradfield's Female Regulator acts like a charm in "whites," or in a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from cold trouble of mind, or like causes, by restoring the discharge in every instance, So also in chronic cases its action is prompt and decisive, and saves the constitution from countless evils and premature decay. This valuable preparation is for sale at $1.50 per bottle by all respectable Druggist in the land. Prepared and sold by L. H. Bradfield, Druggist, Atlanta, Ga. A thousand women testify to its merits.

Dr. GOTTLIEB FISCH'S BITTERS.

(Shape of the bottle.)

This preparation of the great Scientist, Dr. Gottlieb Fisch, of Germany, is based on the fact that, as all materials of the body are derived from Food, so all Vital Force, or Health, is derived from the Force stored up in Food. Dr. Fisch's Bitters enables the System to liberate and appropriate these Forces creates Appetite, cures Dyspepsia, with its resulting Debility and lack of Nervous Energy; so tones the Stomach and Liver as to make Constipation and Billousness impossible; reinforces the System so it can tide over bad results of changing climate, water &c., and better endure the demands often unexpectedly made on its Force and Energy. Ladies in delicate health, aged persons and all emaciated and weak after sickness, will rapidly strengthen by using this great preparation.

SATURDAY MORNINGS.

J. G. Bennett, Jr., bets A. Belmont $10,000 to $4,000 that Grant will be re-elected.

Com. Farrand is now running a hotel, the "Newton House," in Atlanta, on the A. & O. Road.

A man from Alabama is in Atlanta representing a company who propose to furnish any number of "headless roosters" at ten dollars apiece.

—The University of Alabama has one hundred students, with the promise that the next season will open with all that there is room to accommodate.

A nego after gazing at some Chinese shook his head and solemnly said: "If de white folks be so dark as dat out dar, I wonder what's de color of de black folks."

There are two reasons why some people never mind their own business.—One is that they haven't any business, and the second is that they have no minds.

Mrs. Sherman, the Connecticut Borgia, has been found guilty of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to the Penitentiary for life. She slew but eleven persons.

The second wife of the late S. F. B. Morse, father of the telegraph, is a deaf mute graduate of the New York City Institute. Her property is worth $500,000, bequeathed by him.

—A gentleman in Alachua county, Florida, has planted ten acres of arrow-root this season. His crop last year, on a quarter of an acre, was valued at the rate of five hundred dollars to the acre.

—A wretched husband in St. Paul advertises for the recovery of his wife, "a taul woman, with gray eyes and a small babie just beginnin' to wauk," who have been appropriated by "a taul pok markt feller, with red hare."

—A kind old father-in-law wanted to know why the Feejeeans were called cannibals, to which Barnum answered: "Because they live off other people." "Then," he replied, unhappily, "my four sons in-law must be cannibals—they live off me!"

Arrangements are being made in Richmond, Va., for the reception of the members of the International Typographical Union, which meets there June 3d. The Exchange Hotel will be headquarters, and place of meeting the House of Delegates.

A Jackson, Miss., dispatch says the buffalo gnat has made its appearance, in large numbers, in that section, and that so severe have been their attacks upon farm horses and mules, that "hundreds have died from the effects in the last few days." Great apprehension is felt by many planters, that they will be unable to cultivate their crops, from the loss of their teams.

An English gamekeeper has recently broken a black sow to hunt game in the woods, and she is said to run in the hunt with wonderful success. She will track game, back and stand and point partridges, pheasants, snipes and rabbits as skillfully as a bred pointer. She bounds in response to a whistle and wags her head and squeals with delight on being shown a gun.

—A characteristic anecdote is related of an out-at-elbows poet, who by some freak of fortune coming into possession of a $5 bill, called to a lad and said: "Johnny, my boy, take this William and get it changed." "What do you mean by calling it William?" inquired the wondering lad. "Why, Johnny," replied the poet, "I am not sufficiently familiar with it to take the liberty of calling it Bill."

Progressive theology is Henry Ward Beecher's best hold. He is orthodox on principle, but with a slight qualification. He says: "I consider my self Calvinistic you know, and in this way. I believe what John Calvin would have believed if he had lived in my time and seen things as I see them. My first desire is to know what is true; and then I am glad if John Calvin agrees with me; but if he don't, so much the worse for him."

Two immense Rodman guns, weighing over twenty-five tons each, are being landed at Mobile, to be added to the armament of Fort Morgan. They were manufactured at Watertown, Massachusetts, are fifteen and a half feet in length, four and a half feet in diameter, have a bore of fifteen inches, and will throw a solid round shot weighing 480 poonds. Six guns of the same class were left by the same vessel at Fort Jefferson, Dry Tortugas.

Administrator's Sale of Real Estate.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Probate Court, of Calhoun county, Alabama, made the 1st day of April, 1872, I will as the administrator, with the will annexed, of the estate of Richard Pellum, deceased, proceed to sell before the court house door in Jacksonville, Alabama, at public outcry, to the highest bidder, on Monday the 3d day of June next, the following described lands belonging to said estate, to-wit: A part of section two, township fifteen, range nine, and lying between John and David Worthingtons tracts of land on Choccoloco creek as owned by them in 1846, and north of the residence of John G. J. Whiteside. Also a three acre lot in section three, town-ship fifteen, range nine, lying and being in the town of White Plains, adjoining the Baptist church in said town and the lands of Mrs. N. P. Searbrough and between the roads leading to J. G. Whiteside's late residence and the present residence of Mrs. N. P. Searbrough and being the lot upon which said testator resided at his death.

Said land and lot will be sold for one third cash and two thirds on credit of twelve months with interest from date of sale, note with two good and solvent securities will be required on the credit part of said sale to secure the purchase money.

ROLLEY JENKINS,
apr23d Adm'r with will annexed.

Register's Sale.

UNDER and by virtue of a decree rendered by the Honorable Chancery Court for the First District of the Eastern Chancery Division of Alabama, at the January Term, 1872, in the suit of Robert Worthington vs Margaret Hall et als, I will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, on Monday the 3rd day of June, 1872, before the Court House door of Calhoun county Alabama, within the usual hours of sale, the following described land, to-wit:

Fifty-six acres, situated in the southern part of Section 2, Township 15, Range 9, East in the Coosa Land District of Alabama, commencing at the south-west corner of said section and running north on section line between sections 2 and 3 about Two Hundred and Twenty (220) yards; thence due east about three-fourths of one mile; thence south Two Hundred and Twenty (220) yards to the section line betweens section 2 and 11; thence to the beginning; in all, containing about Fifty-six acres, more or less. Said land is located north of and near the residence of the late Jno. G. J. Whitesides, deceased.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD
AT ONCE.

Wherever the Poke Root grows, it has a local reputation for curing Rheumatism, and as a Blood Purifier. In the spring the early shoots are used by many people for "greens," because of their health-giving qualities. With all this local reputation and the praise of distinguished Physicians (Drs. Coe, Lee, King, Wilson M. Hunt, Griffin, Copland and others,) who have tested its medical powers, it has been neglected by the profession at large, as much through a want of a proper appreciation of its merits, as a knowledge of the proper way to prepare it for medicinal use. Dr. Oliver Crook, a physician who devotes his entire time to the duties of his profession—and who has the largest practice of any physician in Southern Ohio—has fully tested the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root during the last 25 years, and unhesitatingly pronounces it to have more merit—for diseases depending on a depraved condition of the blood,—than any and all other articles named in the Materia Medica. Under his instructions our Chemist has combined the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root with the best Tonic Preparation of Iron, and we offer this preparation to the public telling them of the ingredients, under the name of

Dr. CROOK'S Compound SYRUP OF POKE ROOT.

This preparation is the best Alterative and Tonic known for Scrofula, Scrofulous Tumors, Scrofulous Diseases of the Eyes, or Scrofula in any form. For Rheumatism, Pains in Bones, Broken-down Constitutions, Mercurial Diseases, Mineral Poisons, more effectual relief is obtained from this remedy than from all others. It strengthens, purifies and cures. It is indispensible in the treatment of long standing disorders of the Liver, and proves a certain, safe and effectual resolvent, manifesting its influence throughout the entire glandular system. Chronic diseases of any kind, Diseases of the Skin, Eruptions Pustules, Blotches, Pimples, Boils, Tetter, Ring-worm, Salt-Rheum, Scald-Head, Ulcers and Sores, are all cured by the use of it. Any disease depending on a depraved condition of the blood can be cured by it. Try one bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared only by MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Apetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and of all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.

MESSRS. J. & S. BONES. Dear Sir:

I have given the 16 inch Mill (Clemans) bought of you, a thorough test, and can but express myself perfectly satisfied. The power was the running gear in my gin, which although in very bad order, was sufficient to grind one bushel (by the watch) in eleven minutes, I find no trouble to do my grinding before breakfast. Several of my neighbors were present at the time, and all were satisfied with the result, and were astonished at the quantity and fine quality of the meal produced in so short a time, I prefer the meal to any steam mill meal. The 16 inch mill I bought of you for the Foster Farm, and used since the above was written proves equally satisfactory. It is a complete mill.

Yours Truly,
H. H. MILLER.

Radway's Ready Relief

CURES THE WORST PAINS in from One to Twenty Minutes. NOT ONE HOUR

after reading this advertisement need any one SUFFER WITH PAIN.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF IS A CURE FOR EVERY PAIN.

It was the first and is

The Only Pain Remedy

that instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays Inflammations, and cures Congestions, whether of the Lungs, Stomach or other glands or organs, by one application. IN FROM ONE TO TWENTY MINUTES no matter how violent or excruciating the pain the RHEUMATIC, Bed-ridden, Infirm, Crippled, Nervous, Neuralgic, or prostrated with disease may suffer,

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

Will afford instant Ease.

Inflammation of the Kidneys,
Inflamation of the Bladder,
Inflamation of the Bowels,
Congestion of the Lungs,
Sore Throat, Difficult Breathing,
Palpitation of the Heart,
Hysterics, Croup, Diphtheria,
Catarrh, Influenza,
Headache Toothache,
Neuralgia, Rheumatism,
Cold Chills, Ague Chills,

The application of the READY RELIEF to the part or parts where the difficulty exists will afford ease and comfort.

Twenty drops in half a tumbler of water will in a few moments cure Cramps, Spasms, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Colic, Wind in the Bowels, and all Internal Pains.

Travelers should always carry a bottle of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF with them. A few drops in water will prevent sickness or pains from change of water. It is better than French Brandy or Bitters as a stimulant.

FEVER AND AGUE.

Fever and Ague cured for fifty cents. There is not a remedial agent in this world that will cure Fever and Ague, and all other Malarious, Bilous, Scarlet, Typhoid, Yellow, and other Fevers (aided by RADWAY'S PILLS) so quick as RADWAY'S READY RELIEF. Fifty cents per bottle.

DR. RADWAY'S
Sarsaparillian Resolvent

Has made the most astonishing cures so quick, so rapid are the changes the body undergoes, under the influence of this truly wonderful Medicine, that

Every day an increase in Weight and Flesh is Felt.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does accomplish—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of waste, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and weight increasing.

Not only does the Sarsaparilian Resolvent exceeds all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for Kidney and Bladder Complaints, Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinuence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, there is morbid, dark, billious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

perfectly tasteless, elegantly coated with sweet gum, purge, regulate, purify, cleanse and strengthen. Radway's Pills, for the cure of all disorders of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Headache, Constipation, Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Billiousness, Bilious Fever, Inflamation of the Bowels, Piles, and all Derangements of the Internal Viscera. Warranted to effect a positive cure. Purely Vegetable, containing no mercury, minerals, or deleterious drugs.

A few doses of RADWLY'S PILLS will free the system from all the above named disorders. Price, 25 cents per Box. Sold by Druggists.

Read "False and True." Send one letter stamp to RADWAY & CO., No. 87 Maiden Lane, New York. Information worth thousands will be sent you.

TELL ME HOW.

BY R. H. STODDARD.

"You vow you love me, dearie?
So many a man might vow;
But now, before I trust you,
Suppose you tell me how?"

"I love you as the wind does
The beauteous summer rose."
"I know; he stoops to snatch a kiss,
And then away he goes.
No wind's love for me, sir;
I cannot be your rose."

"I love you as the bee does
The purple meadow clover."
"I know: he drains it of its sweets,
And then its day is over,
No bee's love for me, sir,
I will not be your clover."

"I love you as a lady does
Her wreath of orange flower."
"I know: she only wears it once,
To grace her bridal hour.
No lady's love for me, sir,
I'm not your orange flower."

"I love you as a man does
The woman he loves best."
"I know: a pretty plaything, she,
To wear upon his breast.
Still—if there's nothing better—
I like man's love the best."

"So, if you love me, darling.
(But do you really, now?),
Here is the kiss I promised—
Because you told me how."

Harper's Weekly.

For the Republican.

THE GOLDEN ALTER

CHAPTER I.

"'Tis gold
Which makes the true man killed and saves the thief;
Nay, sometimes hangs both thief and true man. What Can it not do and undo?"

"Eva listen to me—I have seen the grand oak of the forest, towering high above its fellows, breast the fury of a hundred storms, and with one sudden stroke of lightning I have seen it scathed and blighted—a crushed and broken thing cumbering the ground. I have seen the proud bird of the Andes wing its lofty flight from some airy summit to look it over the weaker denizens of the air, when a tiny arrow sent it quivering, dying, into the very dust;—so I have seen the golden pinions of wealth and ambition melt in an instant—Icarean like—beneath the searching rays of ruin and disappointment. Eva you wrong, cruelly wrong me, yet go and when in after years you think of a love that once was your remember you fixed your own destiny."

Eva Redford looked up at the pale calm face before—calm, in the calmness of despair, and with flashing eyes and trembling lips replied: "Paul DeArcey how dare you speak thus! a year ago to thoughtless impulse I promised to be yours, yours with all the foolish love of a young heart—when I had not known the world or the woolings of another. I did not mean to trifle—forget me, as you will in the busy rush of life—and remember it what you have so kindly proposed should ever be fulfilled that this heart will never look upon the past with one lingering regret nor sigh that my happiness had been in the keeping of any other save the man I wed."

"Eva, 'tis for your happiness I plead."

"Paul my word is irrevocable. I will hear no more."

"Forgive me, one word and I am gone. I ask not for your love again, but to me your happiness is oh, so dear—and I would rather know you to your grave than see you married to Hugh Preston." Eva waved him from her with a gesture of impatience. Rising and looking with his great honest eyes at the flushed and angry creature before him, Paul DeArcey only said, "I love you in kindness, Eva—love you forever yet oh, beware!"

And so he left her with a great grief at his heart, the only woman he had ever loved, to the mercy of a man he despised, a wary, cunning man, with a narrow mind and a narrow soul. Eva Redford had sacrificed the pure unselfish love of a noble heart, for the gilded joys that wealth would shower at her feet. Ah, if she had stopped then, and in the strength of her better womanhood have looked "first on this picture, then on that"—perhaps that thirst for gold and the honors it brings, upon whose shrine so many warm hearts, so many young lives have been so thoughtlessly immolated, she would have paused, ere she cast away the one, or clasped the other to her heart.

Three years have come and gone, and the gay fashionable Mrs. Preston has taken up her residence in a luxurious home of the beautiful city of Baltimore. To-night her parlors are a scence of fashion and mirth, music, dancing and feasting. Many a soft eye beams and rosy lip half pouts, half smiles, at the gentle nothings and admiring glances of some gallant beau. Eva Preston beautiful and seemingly happy flits from place to place, acting well her role as hostess. Yet, if one had observed closely, there was a strong light beaming in those dark lustrous eyes, and a curl of disappointment or jealously on her proud lips, and a restive impatience in her every movement. This evening, for the first time since her marriage, she had met her old fiance, Paul DeArcey. Hearing of his arrival in the city she had invited him among her other guests of the evening, only through curiosity to note how he had borne his disappointment and show him how utterly false had been his dark forebodings. And he, bearing no malice in his heart, but feeling a deep interest in all that concerned Eva, had come, kindly welcomed by her and warmly greeted by friends who had known him before the broken fortune of an invalid father had compelled him to give up his old life to battle with the stern realities of poverty in a distant State.

"Well Paul, I should certainly be tempted to a dozen years of self exile in the dreariest spot of earth, if I only thought people would be half so genuinely glad to see me as they are to meet you."

"Thank you cousin dear. I see you hav'nt lost the delightful art of flattery; but come I am almost dying to hear you sing one of our songs of the happy long ago."

"What shall it be? Ah yes, I have it," with a merry twinkle in her soft blue eyes. "The one you loved so well." Perhaps you can join it with more earnestness than ever, if all is true that I have heard."

"As you please Netta," and Paul led her to the piano. Soon the room was hushed to almost painful silence as a soft, clear soprano and a full rich alto swelled and poured forth in the beautiful words of "Byron's Farewell." At the last words:—

"In the desert a fountain is springing,
In the wide waste there still is a tree,
And a bird in solitude singing
That speaks to my spirit of thee."

More than one noticed with what deep feeling they lingered on the lips of Paul DeArcey as his very soul seemed to go out in the full pathos and melody of the heart-stirring words.

"Now cousin come, let us go into the conservatory," said Netta rising. "Mrs. Preston was telling me of a new and splendid foliage plant she has but recently received, and I am anxious to see it."

Thither they went, laughing and talking gaily, until they found themselves alone amid the soft fragrance and comparative quiet of the rare and costly conservatory.

"Paul, I am so glad we have this sweet retreat—I ought not to have sung that song. By the way, have you noticed that Mr. Preston has scarcely made his appearance this evening and seems very much troubled."

"Well what of that Netta, he ought to look troubled."

"You have heard of it then?"

"No, of what?"

"Of his ruin, his utter insolvency."

"I am not surprised, I have long expected it."

Just at this moment they heard footsteps approaching, and recognized Mr. Preston's voice in great excitement speaking to some one. Retreat for them was impossible, for the door was their only means of egress, and there amid the pure, sweet influences of nature—the music of gushing waters—the rich aroma of delicate flowers, and the soft dreamy enchantment that lingered round the place, rendering it almost akin to heaven—they sat, compelled to listen to a tale whispered into confidential ears—fearfully startling, of dishonesty, fraud and ruin.

CHAPTER II.

A few months passed on and Eva's beautiful home was sold: all they possessed was gone and she realized in bitter anguish that her husband was a defaulter. On the ignominy—the disgrace. Fleeing the hand of justice he left her hurriedly, with only a word—alone and a most penniless, with scarcely a friend—her summer he's had flown the winters chil.—in the great city. He had gone—none knew where, and she, with a sad heart, left the scene of her pride, of her gay, volatile, ungrateful life, the wife of a criminal, and went back to the home of her childhood. Her parents were dead, and she only went—instinct would teach the way-worn bird to seek rest in the parent nest, although the fostering care, the protecting warmth was gone. Months flew by and lengthened into years and no tidings came of her ha band. Heart-sick and weary, she toiled for her daily bread, a perfect wreck of her former self. One day there came a stranger to her gate footsore and hungry. Touched by his sufferings, and feeling a sympathy for need, she had never known in palmier days, she took him in. On inquiring, she found that he was back from a long tour of the West, and now he was wandering back to his native home, disease having wasted his strength and taken his substance. Their conversation led to a recital of his sufferings, then hers in turn. On comparing circumstances they found that he had seen her husband, under an assumed name, almost a year ago, leading a reckless, dissipated life, hurying and tramping among the wilds of the Rocky Mountains. Six months passed away, and again the old man came, bearing a sad, sad story. Hugh Preston had been found afew weeks before dead, in a lonely ravine. No visible marks of violence were about him, and none ever knew how, or when, his spirit took its flight, but there amid nature's wildest features he had passed away, and meet it seemed, for his had been a rugged, storm-beat life, and in death these wild and cheerless things alone had looked upon him. By his side was found a scrap of soiled paper and nervously penciled—thereon were these words.

"Eva, I am here far away from the scenes of life's brighter days. Despised, shunned, and with the bitter pangs of remorse eating out my very soul, the sands of life for me are swiftly falling away. No doubt you think it strange that I have treated you silently, coldly; but ah, full well I knew that you married me for money whilst your heart was another's. I was content, to claim you mine while the world looked upon my wife and called her beautiful, and me a lucky man. If that world had looked into our life and read its hidden pages, it would have cried "what splendid misery." My wealth gone—your beauty fled and there remained for us but bitter dregs. Mine is a wrecked, a ruined life, and I a criminal for the cursed gold with which I bought your hand and lost my honor." Here it closed abruptly, as though death had seized his hand, ere it could pen another bitter word. Eva Preston for awhile was almost on the verge of madness, but at last came forth from the crucible, a tried, a true woman. She had danced beneath the rainbow of pleasure and basked in every beam of wealth's bright limbus—she had drank the bitter lees of repentance and goes forth into life to meagerly attone for all the guilty past.

CHAPTER III.

"Love took up the harp of life
And smote on all its chords with might,
Smote upon the chord of self—
That trembling passed in music out of sight."

"Paul" said Eva a few days after they were married "how could you love me—how could you ever think of me with kindness through all the past, changing years?"

"Because I felt Eva," as he tenderly drew her to his heart, "that somewhere in the future, love's star for me still beamed. I saw the storm clouds gather and they obscured it long, but it shines more brightly for all the darkness—and I am more than repaid for my long and patient vigil."

But we are digressing—let us explain. Paul DeArcey was on his way to Europe as we last heard of him in Baltimore, for which place he left the morning after the Preston's party. For a year or two he heard but little of Eva, after that nothing, until led by some irresistible impulse to a Southern tour of the States. He was one day wounded by a terrible railroad accident. For days he was insensible, but with slowly returning consciousness he at last opened his eyes upon the wreck of his beautiful love-light of the long ago. The sequel we know. Among the orange and magnolia bowers of southern Florida there stands a little vine wreathed cottage, upon whose jasmine latticed porch, the quietly happy wife looks up with tear-moistened eyes, into the radiant face of Paul, and tells him again of her life lesson; of the oak that has been blasted—of the bird brought low—of the golden dreams that for so long had been the winding sheet of happiness; and again he lays his lips upon her care-crowned brow and sweetly whispers—"You are dearer to me now sweet wife, than in the springtide of life's rosy hope. Every pain that you have suffered, every wrong that you have known, every woe that you have endured, are but so many links that bind you to my heart, so many voices crying out 'give me love.' Whilst on my life is written by the hand of stern reality—the sweet words of our Father—"Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh with the morning."

A NOTABLE DUEL.

Since Gratz Brown has been brought prominently before the Country as the Liberal Republican Candidate for Vice President, on the ticket with Horace Greely, the following account of a duel fought between him and Gov. Reynolds of Missouri, some fifteen or sixteen years ago will be read with interest. It was the last political duel fought in Missouri.

The duel was fought in 1856, on an island in the Mississippi, some forty or fifty miles below St. Louis. The principals were at that time young, earnest, and able politicians—men of intelligence, highly educated and full of ambition. Brown, a Kentuckian, was editor of the Democrat, which was at that time the organ of the Benton Democrats, and controlled by him; and Frank Blair, then as now his close and intimate friend. Reynolds, a Virginian, had after completing his studies in Germany, acted for awhile as secretary of legation and charge d affairs at Madrid.—He had removed to St. Louis some four years before, and was practicing law.

In 1856 the quarrel be ween the Benton Democrats and the anti-Benton Democrats, the pro-slavery and the anti-slavery men, had become extremely bitter, and was made the more violent by the fact that in that year the Gubernatorial, Presidential and Congressional elections were all to be held. Colonel Benton had, after a tremendous struggle been left out of the Senate, in which he had for thirty years represented Missouri with distinguished ability and unswerving fidelity. From this action to the Legislature he appealed to the people by becoming a candidate for Governor. The Anti-Benton Democrats nominated against him their ablest and most popular leader, Trusten Polk, while the Whigs and Know Nothings nominated Ewing. In St. Louis the Benton men nominated Frank P. Blair for Congress. The Whigs and Know Nothings nominated the then incumbent Luther M. Kennett. The Anti-Benton men nominated Thomas C. Reynolds. All of them were "fighting men," and gentlemen of the highest character.

The nominations were made in May; the election was to be held in August.—The canvass was conducted by all parties with the utmost spirit and with great bitterness, the expression of which was however, generally kept within the bounds of gentlemanly propriety; for in those days a candidate for these high offices in Missouri never forgot, nor let others forget that he was a gentleman.

The congressional District was thoroughly canvassed by Blair and Reynolds who discussed the issues of the canvass in presence of the people, as was then the good custom. Each was aided by his friends, of whom Blair had a powerful one in the editor of the Democrat.

One day an article appeared in that paper containing what Reynolds conceived to be an offensive allusion to himself. He replied through the Leader in a brief but bitter note. A challenge was sent and accepted.

Brown's seconds were two well-known gentlemen, since dead—Col. Mramet and Mr. Walker. These advised with Colonel Benton, Frank P. Blair and other leading men of their party, for it was a public and party matter.

Reynold's seconds were Col. Ferdinand Kennett and Captain Hudson, both of whom have since died. Their advisers were Colonel David H. Armstrong, the present Chairman of the Democratic State Committe, and author of the Passive or Missouri Policy, and Colonel Linn, then Collector of the Port.

The terms were agreed upon, and the parties went with their friends to an island in the Mississippi forty miles below St. Louis. Both were men of unquestioned courage, and excellent shots. Brown was a bachelor, Reynolds had a wife, as brave as himself. Kennett and Mitchell, old and devoted friends, (though then acting for mortal adversaries) tossed a half dollar for choice of position. Kennett won. They then tossed for the word, again Kennett won, and Reynolds seemed to be in luck.

We now quote from a recent account of the affair:

The choice of position was not of much advantage, however, as the sun was too low to affect either. The word remained with Kennett, and he was to call out:—'Fire—One—Two—Three—Stop!' The principals were not to lower their pistols before the word 'Fire,' and not to shoot after the word 'Stop.'

"Kennet and Mitchell measured the ground carefully. Each turned after he had finished and threw a keen glance along the tawny track, and then looked, one into the eyes of the other. They did not speak audibly, yet both said in their hearts:

"It is close."

"And it was. Too close for two such men, who had only between them the unpleasant memories of a political quarrel.

"They were placed face to face.—Brown looked straight at his adversary, a pleasant half smile on his lip. Not a muscle quivered. He stood as if carved from the sand—immovable and yet full of bountiful life. Reynold's attitude was none the less superb. The Kentuckian and the Virginian were to fight as their ancestors had fought before them for a hundred years. They recognized the code, and it was well. By the code they would be judged fairly, standing or falling.

"The pistols were brought and loaded carefully. A grain of powder more or less, might sacrifice a life. They were ugly looking weapons, to say the least of them, and of English make. On each barrel was the word 'London' engraved. The stocks were of mahogany, and of the 'saw-handle' shape. They had hair-triggers, double sights, were smooth bores, and carried each an ounce ball. The barrels were full six inches long, and were dark-looking and ominous.

"It was now between six and seven o'clock. The negro oarsmen looked on in sober wonderment. The surgeons arranged their instruments and bandages. The respective friends of each principal took their positions, and when everything was in readiness, Kennett called out in a clear and distinct voice:

"'Gentlemen are you ready?'

"So nearly together as to sound as one voice, both Brown and Reynolds answered:

"'Ready!'

"Kennett then cried out.

"'Fire!'

"Before the word 'one' was heard Reynold's lowered his pistol and fired. Brown fired almost simultaneously with his adversary. Indeed, the two reports were blended so nearly as to be indistinguishable, and the seconds looked from one to the other to see if either was hit. Reynolds stood perfectly still, with the smoking pistol in his hand, while Brown shifted his weight from one leg to the other as if suffering pain.

"Hudson walked up to Reynolds and said to him:

"'I fear Brown is wounded in the groin.'

Reynolds replied:

"'You must be mistaken, for I aimed at his knee.'

"Hudson then went near to Brown, returning in a short time to his principal, remarking:

"'You are right. He is shot in the knee.'

"'I was certain of it,' replied Reynolds. 'The wound will not be dangerous.'

"Brown's friends, in the meanwhile, had approached him and led him to one side, while the surgeons examined his wound. He was as cool as a grenadier. Although suffering extreme pain and scarcely able to stand, he sternly demanded another fire, insisting on his ability to remain upon the field.

"The surgeons overruled his wishes, and immediately a reconciliation took place between all the friends of each, which was communicated to the principals, and Reynolds instantly advanced to where Brown was lying—the pain of the wound having forced him finally to the ground—and offered his hand in a frank and friendly manner. Brown received it in the same spirit, and they had some pleasant conversation together. Mutual expressions of esteem were exchanged, and the mutual withdrawal of everything offensive that had taken place between them.

"Just at that time the steamer Editor from Memphis, heavily loaded and crowded with passengers, came in sight down the river. She was at once hailed and stopped to take the party on board. Brown had to be removed in a blanket. The ball having split the knee of the right leg just upon the edge of the knee joint, causing profuse hemmorrhage and intense pain. A state room was placed at once at his disposal, and he received the most generous attention from all.

Reynolds went with his native State in the late war and was for two years the Confederate Governor of Missouri. He is now practicing law in St. Louis, and he and his old antagonist are politically and socially friends. Brown was elected to the United States Senate, and last year was made Governor of Missouri by the united votes of the Democrats and Liberal Republicans.

Two Editors.

The Liberal Republicans have nominated two newspapers editors for President and Vice-President.

Dr. Horace Greeley, our Later Franklin, has become renowned, and has rendered invaluable services to his countrymen as editor of the New York Tribune.

B. Gratz Brown of Missouri rose to be distinguished and to exercise power over the minds of men as editor of the Missouri Democrat.

Never before was such honor paid to the newspaper press as in the nomination of these candidates.

New York Sun.

Greely's Letter of Acceptance.

NEW YORK, May 3.

To Whitelaw Reid:

Please tender my grateful acknowledgments to the members of the Convention for the generous confidence they have shown me, and assure them I shall endeavot to deserve it.

HORACE GREELEY.

Horace Greeley's Advice to Colored Men.

NEW ORLEANS, April 28.—The following will appear, by permission, in the New Orleans Republican to-morrow, as to the duty of the colored men in the South:

HON. T. W. Conway, New Orleans:

SIR: I have yours of the 21st instant. I think colored people will be benefitted by, and should sympathize with the Cincinnati Convention, because it tends to free them from the odium of complicity with the villanies and robberies which have been perpetrated in the abused name of Republicanism during the past five or six years, especially in the South. The monstrous exaggeration of taxes and debts in the Southern States is the fruit of white villainy. The thieves who perpetrated these robberies are now seeking to escape the just punishment of their crimes by bawling lustily, "Grant," "Grant," "I'm for Grant;" Hurrah for Grant." The Cincinnati movement is at deadly feud with these robbers and their evil deeds. Let the honest and upright colored men join it, then, and thus rid themselves of crimes which others only have perpetrated.

Yours, HORACE GREELEY.

Postal Telegraph.

The Senate Committe on Post-roads to-day agreed to the postal telegraph bill, originated by Senator Ramsey. It provides for the establishment of telegraph stations at all the post offices throughout the country, and gives the Postmaster General full power to make such regulations as may be necessary to the successful conduct of its operations. The charges for the transmission of messages are to be uniform for equal distances, and registered telegrams on which double rates have been prepaid are to have priority of transmission. The charges for the transmission of telegrams are to be prepaid by stamps, and the money-order system is to be adapted to the telegraph. Special contracts may be made with railroad companies relating to telegraphic business on the line of the road; also with associations and with the press. The rates for special dispatches to newspapers are not to exceed fifty cents for each one hundred words sent in any one night, and seventy-five cents by day, for every five hundred miles they are transmitted. An officer, to be known as fourth assistant post master general, is to be appointed, who is to exercise a general supervision over telegraph.

In a religious excitement in a country town, a person met a neighbor, who took him by the hand and said:

'I have become a Christian.'

'I am glad of it,' was the reply, for I suppose we shall now have a settlement of that little account between us. Pay me what thou owest.

'No,' said the new-born Christian, 'religion is religion, and business is business.'

How Horace Greeley Took His Nomination.

We take the following recital of how the philosopher of the Tribune took his nomination at the hands of the Liberal Republican party of the Country, from the New York Sun.

Dr. Greeley remained in the Tribune office until 4 o'clock yesterday morning reading the latest despatches from Cincinnati. At 4 A. M. he left his sanctum, and went to bed in French's Hotel. At 11 A. M. he was dressed, had eaten his breakfast, and reappeared in the Tribune office. Here he glanced over the morning newspapers, and read the latest Cincinnati despatches. His mind, however, instinctively turned to work. He sat down at his high writing-desk, and began to write editorial articles on subjects entirely disconnected with the Convention. Occasionally a friend dropped in upon him, but he kept steadily at work, only stopping to read the Cincinnati despatches. In answer to some lines he said that he thought Lyman Trumbull would receive the nomination. It was evident that he really thought Mr. Trumbull the most worthy of all the candidates, and that Trumbull's selection would give him great pleasure.

The mention of his own prospects always brought out a smile. It was easy to see that he had no selfish feeling, and that he only desired to see a ticket nominated that would be acceptable to the people, and that would sweep the country in the interests of national reform.

When the result of the first ballot was announced, Dr. Greeley looked at the figures and then calmly resumed his writing. Meanwhile the announcement of the first vote was posted on the Tribune bulletin board. A crowd collected. The large vote for Dr. Greely surprised the spectators, but the general feeling was that Adams was the coming man. The second ballot, which ran Dr. Greeley up to within four votes of Adams, drew out hearty expressions of good will. The third ballot showed Greeley steadily gaining. This apparently satisfied the crowd that his strength was real, and that he had a firm foundation. On the fourth ballot Dr. Greeley lost seven votes, while Adams gained fifteen, the whole number being: Adams 279, Greeley 251, and scattering 92.

When these figures appeared upon the bulletins, Dr. Greeley's friends lost hope. A private despatch was soon afterward received at the Tribune office announcing the nomination of Adams. It was shown to Dr. Greeley. He expressed no surprise, but said that Adams was a good man, and continued writing without turning his head. He showed no signs of disappointment. Ten minutes afterward the result of the fifth ballot was announced. Dr. Greeley had regained his lost votes, but Adams was fifty-one votes ahead of him.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT.

At five minutes of 3 o'clock the Hon. Benjamin Wood entered the Tribune counting room. His fine face was flushed with excitement. He passed behind the counter, and inquired for Dr. Greeley. In breathless words he announced Dr. Greeley's nomination to Sam Sinclair. Before Mr. Wood could be ushered into Dr. Greeley's presence, Tom McWatters, one of the Tribune's old office-boys, ran lightly up the stairs into Dr. Greeley's office. The Doctor had begun a fresh editorial article. His gold pen was dancing over a broad sheet of foolscap with almost lightning rapidity. Tom handed him a despatch. Dr. Greeley took his pen crossways between his teeth, turned partly around in his easy chair, bent toward the light, and read the following through his gold-bowed glasses:

CINCINNATI, May 3.

Horace Greeley, Tribune, N. Y.:

You were nominated on the sixth ballot.

D. H. WM. ANSON STAGER.

Dr. Greeley threw the despatch in his waste basket and drew off his glasses. The shrewd boy Tom fished the despatch out of the waste basket and shoved it into his vest pocket as a souvenir. In a second Mr. Sinclair and the Hon. Benjamin Wood were in the room shaking hands with the noble veteran, and warmly congratulating him. Dr. Greeley arose. His face was wreathed in smiles. He was pleased, and honestly expressed his pleasure. But when the mail clerks, the reporters, the pressmen, the compositors, the office boys, the stereotypers and other employees of the Tribune rushed up the stairs and overwhelmed him with genuine expressions of pleasure, the heart of the good philosopher was touched with honest pride. His countenance reminded one of a summer morn in June. He repestedly shook hands, and thanked all for their kind wishes.

JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, MAY 11th, 1872.

GREELEY AND BROWN.

The deliberations of the Cincinnati Convention has ended in the nomination of HORACE GREELEY, of New York, for President, and B. GRATZ BROWN, of Missouri, for Vice-President.

Both were original Abolitionists, and both are now Republicans, though avowedly in favor of amnesty, the subordination of the military to civil authority, honesty in the administration of government and a general return to first principles.

From a Northern standpoint it was perhaps the best nomination that could have been made, for Greeley will carry a large native Republican vote and command a respectable German vote through the influence of SCHURZ and other German supporters of the Liberal movement, and the Irish vote entire, because of his Irish descent, and his warm sympathy for the Irish people and his defense of the rights of the Fenian Brotherhood. His slavery record will not make against him with the Northern Democracy, while he has taken care to put his protective tariff principles out of sight of the Western Democracy; that whole question being remitted to the voters of the Congressional Districts, at his express desire.

Concerning the South, it was thought in the Convention, no doubt, that Greeley by reason of his anti-slavery record, would carry a large negro vote over from the support of Grant; but the same record will as likely operate against him with an element of the white voters here. It was argued, though, and with reason, that the intelligent whites of the South, in event of no Democratic nomination, would forego prejudice and support him as the lesser of two evils, and vote solidly against GRANT. This might, and in all probability, would be the case; but the campaign would be, at best, a spiritless one, one devoid of that enthusiasm which brings out the full voting strength of the country; thus possibly unfavorably affecting the interests of the Democratic party in such Southern States as Alabama where elections are closely contested.

The wisdom of delaying the call for a National Democratic Convention is now apparent. If the Liberal party have any real strength and stability it will be made manifest before the assembling of that convention. By that time the situation will be clearly defined, the breach between the two wings of the Radical party will widen with time and the acrimony of debate, and the Democracy, after a careful survey of the ground, be enabled to act wisely and to liberality.

Two courses lie open to the Democracy. One is to nominate a Democratic ticket and trust to chance to get it through between the divided factions of the Radical party, as Lincoln went in through the split of the Democracy into Breckinridge, Bell and Douglas factions in the memorable campaign of 1860. The other is to endorse the nominees of the Cincinnati Convention, or make no nomination at all, which would amount to the same thing.

In event of a Democratic nomination there is danger that the people might fail to make any election, three candidates being in the field in which event the election would be thrown into the House of Representatives where two regular Radical nominee would be elected—Grant, if he be the man; or such a course on the part of the Democracy might lead to a reunion of the Radical party, with almost certainly the same fatal result.

If the Democracy conclude to support Greeley, Grant will be the worst beat man that ever ran for President. What effect such a course would have upon the integrity of the Democratic organization and principles we cannot say; but at least the experiment would be a hazardous one. On the other hand, another lease of power to Grant and his kin-folk means the entire subversion of the liberties of the American people; and the question arises, whether it is not better for us to abandon every other consideration for the present and set ourselves to the saving of that which remains to us, trusting to the returning good sense and patriotism of the American people to set all things right in the end.

In any event and under all circumstances it behooves the people of the South to look well to the preservation of their State Democratic organizations, remembering first, last and all the time, that they are just now more vitally interested in securing and perpetuating honest and capable State Governments than anything else.

Content to wait, until the meeting of that Convention, which shall speak authoritatively for the Democratic party, to the wisdom of which we shall defer and the counsel of which we shall regard, we shall neither give in our adhesion to, nor shall we repudiate the men whom the Democracy may be called upon to support as the last hope of the Republic; and to such a course we would advise our readers.

Sam Rice was a delegate to the Cincinnati Convention, and came back in a state of heavenly-mindedness truly grateful and acceptable to all christian souls. Speaking of the three days length of the convention, he said at Stevenson:

"Ay, the Saviour of mankind arose on the third day, and so did we. There never was such a time for real, sensible, practical, gentlemanly, heavenly minded pacification as is now offered to us all."

As the hart panteth for the waterbrook, so panteth Samuel for the associations of other days.

Horace Greely is a Protectionist. Gratz Brown is a Free Trader. Mr. Greely is bound by the platform he stands on, to approve a free trade tariff, if Congress should enact one during his Presidency.

The Central Democratic Executive Committee of Dallas county have called a County Convention. The day fixed upon is Wednesday the 8th day of June.

Of course Grant's henchmen in Congress will go to work to take the starch out of the Liberal Republican platform of principles; and one result will be a speedy removal of disabilities. This will trump the amnesty plank in that platform, but the South will not be the less benefited, no matter from what quarter the tardy justice comes. If they out Liberal the Liberals, throughout the entire paper, the South can be nothing but benefited by it.

There are a sufficient number of Greeley Republicans in the lower house of Congress to unite with the Democrats and prevent the passage of the new bill extending the time in which Grant may suspend the writ of habeas corpus and carry the States at the point of the bayonet. The present bill, under which he is now operating in South Carolina, will expire with the present session of Congress.

Elsewhere it will be seen that the Executive Committee of the National Democratic party have made a call for a Convention, in Baltimore, on the 9th day of July next. The selection of Baltimore as the place, instead St. Louis, the usual, looks as if a straight fight might be contemplated; but if it is difficult to see why the Convention would precipitate the Democracy into the fight now, when as it is of its powerful Irish vote which has gone over to Greeley body and soul. Well, on the 9th of July next we shall know what we shall know; and in the meantime we may rest assured the Convention will do what is best for the country. We are willing to risk the judgment and decision of that Convention, should the Southern delegation receive proper consideration at its hands.

During the balloting at the Cincinnati Convention, the excitement in Congress was intense, and the Speaker of the House had hard work to preserve order. As the despatches one after another, were dropped from the reporter's gallery there was a scramble among members for them and an eager rush from all parts of the House to see the contents. On the sixth and last ballot, even the Speaker forgot himself, and bringing down his gavel with a heavy rap said: "Gentlemen Mr. Greeley has been nominated for President." Mr. Hoar, of Massachusetts, (Republican) congratulated the Democracy on having secured a protectionist nominated for President, as Greeley. Mr. Randolph, of Pennsylvania, (Democrat) shouted from across the House, in reply, "I won it as an honest man, anyway."

Preceding this, and during the general tariff discussion, Mr. Conger, of Michigan, created a great deal of merriment by his appeal to the Democratic side to hold open the tariff debate till they heard the result in Cincinnati, for he warned them that in less than ten minutes they might have to change the convictions of years.

How the Nomination of Greeley Was Received.

The Philadelphia Age, one of the leading Democratic papers of Pennsylvania, thinks that the National Democratic party will put a candidate in the field, and suggests Chief Justice Thompson of that State as a man who will carry the State over the heads of both Grant and Greeley. The New York Express (Democratic) says: "The old white coat will trace a large portion of the rank and file of his party with him. Greely has at times abused us all roughly; but we are a forgiving race and shall do what is best for the country. The Commercial Advertiser says Grant will be elected whether the Democrats endorse Greely or not. The Evening Post scouts the nomination and the proceedings of the Convention. The Sun is strong for Greely. The Washington Patriot looks for its cue from the National Democratic Convention. The Albany Argus expresses surprise at the nomination of Greely, but declines to express an opinion. The Irish American League have endorsed the nomination of Greely. The Conservatives and Liberal Republicans of Virginia are pleased with the nomination. The nomination was well received by the Democrats of North Carolina. The Kentucky Democracy are not displeased with the nomination. Several prominent papers of Alabama have expressed a perfect willingness to support the Greely ticket as the best thing that can be done under the circumstances, holding themselves however, subject to the decision of the Democratic National Convention. The Georgia press is much divided. Some are for a straight Democratic ticket while others regard favorably a coalition of the Democracy and Liberal Republicans; but all look to the Democratic Convention for guidance.

The above was penned and put in type very soon after the news of the nominations were received, and therefore contains but a meagre expression of opinion on the subject. The list of prominent newspapers, of both parties, that have spoken for or against the nominees, to be complete, would take more room than we can spare, seeing how largely we have given up our space to the subject.

From all that has come in by mail and telegraph since, we are enabled to make this statement: Most of the Republican journals that had, previous to the Convention, espoused the Liberal movement, show a disposition to support its nominees. The Democratic press of the country, unanimously, signify a willingness to support the ticket, in the absence of a Democratic nomination by the National Democratic Convention; while at the same time they intimate to the Convention that such a conclusion would be but the result of calm deliberation and a reasonable exercise of cool judgment.

We promised last week to answer some questions of a correspondent from near Oxford relative to the monument scheme and the manner and time at which the amounts subscribed were to be paid in. We would now do so; but a member of our bar, we understand, as soon as the Courts are over, will visit the various parts of the county and meet the people face to face; where all questions that can possibly suggest themselves may be answered, and the entire scheme fully unfolded. This being the case we will not now take the room to reply to the questions asked. Indeed we are not able to do so ex cathedra, for we do not know what exact course has been determined upon by the movers of the enterprise. We presume though that all the people of the county will agree that the best way is the quickest way; for an undertaking of this sort ought not to be allowed to linger or to languish. We would be glad to print any suggestions from any part of the county, that any one may be inclined to make.

Major Chardavoyne of North Alabama is mentioned favorably for Auditor of State by Marengo Journal, the Florence papers, Huntsville papers and others.

Col. Leroy G. Weaver, of Selma, has been arrested for embezzlement and perjury, says the Times. He has principally distinguished himself since the war by making bonds for Radical officials of Dallas county. Yes, "one by one the roses fall."

CORRESPONDENCE.

A VOICE FROM THE COUNTRY

For the Republican.

Greeley and Brown.

After a complete survey of the whole political field, perhaps the Liberal Republican Convention, which assembled in Cincinnati on the 1st instant to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President of this great Republic, could not have called from all its broad area, gentlemen better qualified, more available, influential and acceptable for the high and responsible position for which they have been selected and presented for public suffrage in opposition to the present ruling, corrupt, radical Grant party, than Horace Greeley, of New York, and B. Gratz Brown, of Missouri. While neither of them belong to the Democratic party—have never been affiliated with it, I've always labored with commendable energy and with all their power and influence as supporters of the old Whig dynasty, to build up the Republican upon the ruins of that time-honored aristocratic confederation as rivals and competitors with the National Democracy; still of late years—especially since the close of the war—they have been eminently moderate in their political principles as regards the rights of the people, conservative and compromising in their enunciation and practice of them, and have thereby won for themselves the confidence and good wishes of great numbers among the masses in all sections of the country.

It was an easy task for the Cincinnati Convention to have presented to the people less acceptable and satisfactory candidates than in their better wisdom they have, but knowing the objects for which they had assembled and equal to the duty devolving upon them and the exigency (restoring the general weal) they evidently weighed carefully and considerately the vast issues at stake in the approaching campaign—the maintenance of true Democratic Republican principles as the genius and spirit of our government as set forth and powerfully heralded to the public in their several platforms, (previous conventions, and the record and history of the administration of Republican rulers, among which they may, on their knees for the contest, aim at but a passionate hope of success.

Probably no single individual within the Republican ranks wields so great and widespread influence among the great and noble as Horace Greeley; and did we with his peculiar views from their first nomination as an organized party, always write, publish and talking to and for them, he has more than any other man moulded and shaped their political views into his own habits and ways of thinking. The truth is Mr. Greeley is the embodiment of all that remains of (especially among the scattered debris of the original Republican party; and in this crisis, it is the party that has left him and his co-adjutors, and not he or they the party. Some very good things might also be said for Gratz Brown, but we must [illegible] of the two, been political heretics and will not now under also to demonstrate its possession of ability and power to remove mountains. But so much can easily and confidently be said for the Cincinnati ticket headed by Greeley and Brown.

They are not our first nor second choice, they are not the selections or choice of the Democratic party—the Democracy as yet have not selected their standard bearers—but they are selections taken from the Republican trunk whose rendezvous are less modorous and ill flavored than the funk of the old stock, which for so long time have rendered it unsavory and objectionable to the public palate.

A CRITIC WHO SPEAKS HIS MIND.

MR. GRANT: I will make one remark. I think you could very well and wisely dispense with some of the paragraphs and sentences in most if not all your locals. Some of them are really weak, if not silly; affording no interest, pecuniary or profit to either printer or reader 9870, perhaps to the writer. The idea of a local department in the REPUBLICAN is a good one, provided always your correspondent have sagacity and judgment enough to write nothing but what may be interesting to the larger class of readers. The REPUBLICAN should remember that there are eyes and thoughts abroad as well as at home, scanning and criticising every thing connected with both the manner and matter which go to make up the columns of a news journal. Pardon me for this, I know how difficult it is for an editor to undertake to please everybody.

Address and Platform of the Liberal Republican Convention.

ADDRESS.

The Administration now in power has rendered itself guilty of wanton disregard of the laws of the land and has usurped powers not granted by the Constitution.

It has acted as if the laws had binding force only for those who are governed and not for those who govern. It has thus struck a blow at the fundamental principles of constitutional government, and the liberties of the citizens. The President of the United States has openly used the powers of his high office for the promotion of personal ends; he has kept notoriously corrupt and unworthy men in places of power and responsibility to the detriment of the public interest. He has used the public service of the government as a machinery of partizan and personal influence, and interfered with tyrannical arrogance in the political affairs of States and municipalities; he has rewarded, with influential and lucrative office, men who had acquired his favor by valuable presents, thus stimulating the demoralization of our political life; by his conspicuous example he has shown himself deplorably unequal to tasks imposed upon him by the necessities of the country; culpably careless of the responsibilities of his high office. The partizans of the administration, assuming to be the Republican party, and controlling its organization, have attempted to justify such wrong and palliate such abuses to the end of maintaining partizan ascendency.

They have stood in the way of the necessary investigations and indispensable reforms, pretending no fault could be found with the present administration of public affairs, thus seeking to blind the eyes of the people. They have kept alive the passions and resentments of the late civil war to use them for their own advantage. They have resorted to arbitrary measures in direct conflict with the organic law, instead of appealing to the better instincts and latent patriotism of the Southern people by restoring to them those rights, the enjoyment of which is indispensable for a successful administration of their local affairs, and would lead to a more patriotic and hopeful national feeling. They have degraded themselves and the name of their party, which was once justly entitled to the confidence of the nation, by a base sycophancy to the dispenser of Executive power and patronage, unworthy of republican freemen. They have sought to silence the voice of a just criticism, to stifle the moral sense of the people, and to subjugate public opinion by tyrannical party discipline. They are striving to maintain themselves in authority for selfish ends by the unscrupulous use of the power which rightfully belongs to the people, and should be employed only in the services of the country. Believing that an organization thus led and controlled can no longer be of service to the best interests of the republic, we have resolved to make an appeal to the sober judgment, conscience and patriotism of the American people.

THE PLATFORM.

We, the Liberal Republicans of the United State, in national convention assembled at Cincinnati, proclaim the following principles as essential to just government:

1. We recognize the equality of all men before the law, and hold that it is the duty of the government, in its dealings with the people, to mete out equal and exact justice to all, of whatever nativity, race, color, or persuasion, religious or political.

2. We pledge ourselves to maintain the union of these States, emancipation and enfranchisement, and to oppose any re-opening of the questions settled by the Thirteenth, Fourteenth, and Fifteenth amendments of the Constitution.

3. We demand the immediate and absolute removal of all disabilities imposed on account of the rebellion, which was finally subdued seven years ago, believing that universal amnesty will result in the complete pacification of all sections of the country.

4. Local self-government, with impartial suffrage will guard the rights of all citizens more securely than any centralized power. The public welfare the supremacy of the civil over the military authority, and freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus. We demand for the individual the largest liberty consistent with public order; for the State, self-government; and for the union return to the methods of peace and the constitutional limitations of power.

5. The civil service of the government has become a mere instrument of partizan tyranny and personal ambition, and an object of selfish greed. It is a scandal and a reproach upon free institutions, and breeds a class hostile to purity, to the economy of reform and to the supremacy of honest popular government.

6. We therefore regard a thorough reform of the civil service as one of the most pressing necessities of the hour; that honesty, capacity and fidelity constitute the only valid claims to public employment; that the offices of the government cease to be a matter of arbitrary favoritism and patronage, and that public station become again a post of honor. To this end it is imperatively required that no President shall be a candidate for reelection.

7. The public credit must be sacredly maintained. We denounce repudiation in every form and guise.

8. A speedy return to specie payment is demanded alike by the highest considerations of commercial morality and honest government.

9. We remember with gratitude the heroism and sacrifices of the soldiers and sailors of the republic, and no act of ours shall ever detract from their justly earned fame, or the full rewards of their patriotism.

10. We are opposed to all further grants of land to railroads or other corporations; the public domain should be held sacred to actual settlers.

11. We hold that it is the duty of the government in its intercourse with foreign nations to cultivate friendships of peace, by treating with all on fair and equal terms, regarding it alike dishonorable either to demand what is not right, or to submit to what is wrong.

12. For the promotion and success of these vital principles, and the support of the candidate nominated by this convention, we invite and cordially welcome the co-operations of all patriotic citizens, without regard to previous political affiliations.

HORACE WHITE,
Chairman Committee on Resolutions.
G. P. THURSTON, Secretary.

We learn from the Advertiser that the Governor has leased, terminable at ten day's notice; the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad to the Mobile and Ohio Railroad Company. The Mobile and Ohio Railroad Company will run the road at its own expense, and pay to the State a certain proportion of what profits are made. The arrangement is temporary and will not, we presume, continue for any length of time.

In November, there being only two candidates in the field, Alabama will give 30,000 majority for Greeley.

Huntsville Advocate.

TELEGRAPHIC RESUME

May 2.—A telegram from Bombay announces that Dr. Livingstone is not dead as reported.

Terrible hurrican at Zanibar—150 vessels sunk, and loss of property of ten millions.

May 3.—The eruption of Mt. Vesuvias has ceased. Afterwards a terrible hurrican swept the base of the mountain, destroying many villages.

The Lowery gang in North Carolina have murdered Capt. Wishart, a prominent citizen.

Mr. Handly has introduced a bill into Congress giving Alabama six and a half millions of public land in Alabama for public school purposes.

May 4.—New York Herald welcomes Greeley into the campaign as a man whom the people will always respect and honor.

Fighting begun in Spain.

May 5.—The Spanish Carlist insurrection ended. A pitched battle was fought, in which the Carlists lost, after a conflict of nine hours. 208 killed and 747 prisoners. Don Carlos has fled to France at the head of only 200 men.

May 6.—The committee on elections, in Congress, have unanimously reported in favor of ousting Clark (carpet-bag fraud) and seating Giddens, (Democrat elected) of Texas.

Young, of Georgia, got an amendment to the deficiency bill paying Southern census takers of 1858.

Sumner's motion to take up his equal rights in schools bill, was lost by a vote of 17 to 22.

May 7.—Garret Davis, of Kentucky, has telegraphed Greeley that the Kentuckians will rally to the standard of the life-long supporter of Henry Clay.

House and Senate on tariff and appropriation bills.

The Supreme Court has adjourned until October.

The 15th General Conference of the African Methodist Church of the United States is in session in Nashville.

The President has vetoed the Pneumatic railroad bill.

May 8—At a Cabinet meeting yesterday the receive of the President to-day our case as it stands before the Geneva Tribunal, was sustained by the members present.

The revolution is over in the vicinity of Matamoras, Mexico.

April 20th. 1872.—tf.

WANTED.—Beeswax, Clean Cotton Bags, and Dry Hides.

E. L. WOODWARD'S SON.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY.

SAVE THE DIMES. THE DOLLARS WILL SAVE THEMSELVES.

There is a fortune wasted in this county every year, in very small things. Save every thing! Col. Parr will buy scrap iron, (wrought or cast,) scrap copper or brass, pewter or lead, cotton or linen rags Save your waste trashy cotton, scrap paper, pieces of ropes (cotton or hemp) for Col. Parr will buy them he will. Send him your butter, eggs, chickens, ducks, geese, turkeys and all other kinds of fowls. Send to Parr your green or dry hides. Col. Parr pays the highest market price in Cash or Barter for all the above articles. He will sell you all kinds of family supplies at the very lowest prices —1t.

The Swedes have made their appearance in Jacksonville, and are employed by some of the families about town.

The young men belonging to the brass band will give a concert soon. We hope they may be able to procure a suitable hall.

A drove of eight or nine partridges walked gravely and undismayed up one of our main streets, about dusk, last Tuesday.

W. H. McElreath says he has a rooster that can stand flat-footed and crow off a barrel. This would make a rooster about 3 feet 4 inches high. from toe to bill. Here would be a good place to begin, "How is that for high."

The communication of "+" laid over from last week is published in this number. We turn him over to the tender mercies of ye "Locals." Go for him—lay him—"chaw" him—anything to get satisfaction.

FOR SALE.—A real good second-hand one horse wagon, specially made to order by Weaver and Adams; as good almost as new, will be sold cheap on favorable terms. Apply at this office.

may11—4t.

We give up largely, this week, our space to matter concerning the Cincinnati Convention and nominees, inasmuch as the Convention was the greatest political event of the past ten years—one in which the people are deeply and personally interested.

THANKS.—The pretty and considerate lady who sent us an elegant bouquet on Thursday, will please accept our most grateful acknowledgement. One possessed of anything short of faultless taste could not have made one so charming.

Circus loving people will be glad to know that the Mammoth Circus, Animal and Balloon Show of Mike Lipman. Gentleman of whom our exchanges speak very favorably, will be in Jacksonville on the 17th. It is said to be a good Show. Advertisement found on fourth page. Read it.

The commissioner's Court has been in session here this week. The gentlemen who compose the Court show due regard for the interests of the County and in every way discharge faithfully and satisfactorily the responsible trust imposed upon them, Better material for the Court could not have been selected.

For any work that any of our people may do in the marble line, we commend Mr. Coleman of the Nashville Marble Works, whose advertisement may be found in another column. We have just finished a most beautiful imposing stone which, to order, upon which great pains and care were manifestly bestowed. He can order more satisfactorily than any dealer in marble we know of.

Attention is invited to the card of J. H. LAKIN, Artist Photographer, Up Stairs, Market Street. Montgomery, Ala. He is well prepared to execute all kinds of pictures in every style of the art and his prices are moderate. Ambrotypes can be forwarded to him by mail and copies returned. We have neat and beautiful specimens of his work, which we will take pleasure in exhibiting to any person wishing to examine them.

Miss N. C. Stewart made a woman's rights speech in Gadsden, during the 12 o'clock recess of Court, on the 4th inst.

On the outside is published the story that came to us the first of the year as a "New Year's present for the REPUBLICAN," in an unmistakable feminine hand. We do not positively know the author; but if we did, we should not tell.

Mrs. Broyles, kindly thoughtful of the printers, yesterday sent to this office the first strawberries (to us) of the season. They were very large and delicious, and the excellent donor has the thanks of the Editor and the printers of the REPUBLICAN.

Persons from this section of country who may visit Montgomery or Selma, and desire to purchase neat, fashionable, handsome and durable clothing, would do well to call upon Messrs. Titsworth, Scott & Co. They will find splendid and varied stocks, and proprietors and clerks courteous, polite and fair in all their dealings. See advertisement in another column.

We have received the 10 h number of the Eufaula Daily Times, edited by Messrs. Macon & Shropshire. It is most handsomely made up, is ably edited and altogether a credit to Eufaula and the section of Alabama in which it is published. Its proprietors are good newspaper men and of course counted the cost before they went into the publication of a daily. We most heartily hope they may realize their expectations, and meet with that cordial and substantial encouragement, at the hands of the people of Eufaula, their enterprise entitles them to.

Last week Col. Parr put in a local notice in which he offered to buy everything that people would bring to him, from scraps of old newspapers to trashy cotton sweepings. He said rightly that the people of this county suffered fortunes to go to waste at their feet every year, just for lack of enterprise to gather them up and bring them to market. No man should drive a wagon into Jacksonville now without bringing in at least several dollars worth of such waste articles to Col. Parr as he enumerates in the local notice which we print again this week. A great many little things make a big one, and some farmers could in the course of the year sell enough of the things now wasted to pay their taxes. Let us save, and the cry of hard times will be heard less frequently.

The concert spoken of elsewhere will be given Wednesday night next. The young gentlemen of the band have secured the help of first rate talent from among the young ladies, and the programme we have no doubt will be a most attractive one. "Ben Bolt" will be given during the evening, to be followed by a capital farce. The music will be new and splendidly executed, and there is no shadow of doubt that it will be the best thing of the kind given by the young folk of Jacksonville in a long time. The boys of the band will rig up a band wagon and give us a regular "dazzling" circus parade on the evening of the concert. The young ladies and gentlemen of Talladega, Oxford, Weaver's Station, Cross Plains, Lauiza, White Plains, Davis Town, Alexandria, Morrisville, and the country around Jacksonville and the places named, and all other places in the county not named, are invited to attend.

CROSS PLAINS LOCALS.

The best exhibition that has ever been witnessed in our village came off at the Institute on the night of the first. The chapel was most beautifully decorated and brilliantly lighted. The immense crowd present showed the appreciation of the occasion by the citizens.

The coronation of the May Queen, a cantata almost entirely original, gotten up and arranged by Miss Emmie Bailey, from first to last was a most decided success. The songs were perfectly rendered, and the evolutions performed by the singers were in the best of time and with incomparable grace. The little Fairies introduced, formed one of the chief attractions. Flitting here and there, around the moss-covered floral throne, and among the green foliage, they appeared like they might have changed nature as well as name for the time.

The songs and dialogues followed were all new, many of them never having been brought before the public previous to this evening. It would require too much space to mention all the pupils who deserve credit for the performance of their parts, for all would be lauded, but Miss Claudia Cowden, who acted "The Hoyden," Miss Sallie Lay, who personated the old woman in "The Country Cousins" Little Sallie Teague in her role of "School-mistress" and Miss Beacham in "Wilkins' Velocipede" excelled any school girl performers we have ever witnessed. The instrumental music was excellent. Four Violins, a Guitar and a Piano, admirable artist's for performers, and well timed and selected pieces, gave us a rich treat in this line.

Both teachers and pupils deserve the very highest credit for the complete success, for the graceful ease and air of refinement, which pervaded and characterized the evening's entertainment. Long life and prosperity to every one of them!

On the 2nd was the Children's Jubilee in the form of a grand

PIC-NIC.

A train having been previously chartered, the teachers and pupils from the Institute, accompanied by quite a large crowd of citizens, started "en route" for the Pic-nic grounds, on Terrapin Creek. At Ladiga the train stopped to take on board the schools from that place. The amusements provided by the polite and attentive young men of our village, exceeded in variety and gayety, anything of the kind ever attempted here. The place of destination itself was a rare sight. a magnificent grove, velvety grass under foot, and the bold stream surging and gurgling over its rocky bed, as the sun glanced over its rolling surface, appeared like a huge silver serpent, coiling then winding on its wayward race. But the dinner! the best of all! a feast, indeed, the gods might well have enjoyed. The train came promptly at appointed hour, and the little folks were all safe at home 'ere the twilight bat was flitting."

Friday night there was a "Sociable" at the Institute, which was largely attended, by both old and young, and we hear they had a delightful time. Not being present cannot give particulars.

There is something "new" on record. There is a Dancing school in progess in our town, under the supervision of Prof. Sheffield, a gentleman of dignified appearance and manners, sober, moral, of high social standing, and a most thorough musician. He is meeting with deserved success.

The Base Ball Club was organized last Tuesday night, adopting the name of "The Mutuals of Calhoun county" and is composed of gentlemen from Patona and Cross Plains. Officers elected, Dr. Monroe, President; Maj. Bailey, Vice-President; Mr. Crane, Secretary and Treasurer. Board of Directors, Messrs. McAllister, Hood, Johnnie Johnson and Dunn. The interest manifested argues well for the success of the enterprise and a brilliant career for this noble and manly sport.

The streets are dusty. Vegetation is gasping for life. No cloud obscures the scorching rays of the sun, and we are looking for rain.

Onwards and upwards.

Yours truly,

SKYHY.

Call for a National Democratic Convention.

The National Democratic Committee, by virtue of the authority conferred by the last National Democratic Convention, at a meeting held this day in New York, voted to hold the next Convention for the purpose of nominating candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States, on 9th day of July, 1872, at 12 m. in the city of Baltimore. The basis of representation as fixed by the last Democratic Convention is double the number of Senators and Representatives in Congress from each State, under the apportionment census of 1870. Each State will send delegates accordingly and we invite the cordial co-operation of all Conservative citizens who desire the restoration of constitutional government and the perpetuation of Republican Institutions.

[Signed.] AUGUST BELMONT.
Chairman,
and Members of Committee.

ALABAMA NEWS.

Two negroes had a cutting match in Montgomery on Friday last. One was severely cut and sent to the hospital.

A son of J. W. Black was accidentally shot and drangerously wounded by a son of Mr. Meyers on the 27th ult., while turkey hunting near Greenville. Meyers mistaking Black for a turkey.

A young German, named Earnest Miller, shot and slightly wounded a negro named Nick, at Dog River Factory, for insulting the wife of his employer. Miller surrendered himself to the authorities.

George Sapp and wife, negroes, living near Eufaula, went to church last Sunday night leaving their child locked up in their dwelling. On their return they found themselves minus house, child, etc. Cause fire. A regular pair of Sap heads.

A negro was drowned in Cowikee creek near Eufaula, on the 28th ult.

The last five miles of the Montgomery and Eufaula Railroad, has been completed.

There is an old negress in Cherokee county who supports a set of gray whiskers three inches in length.

Four prisoners were carried into Montgomery on the 6th by federal soldiers. They were charged with violating the enforcement act.

Deputy United States Marshal Randolph, arrived in Montgomery on the 6th, with several persons arrested in Randolph county charged with kukluxing and illicit distilling.

OXFORD.—We take the following paragraph from a letter written to the Tuskegee News, dated Jacksonville, "My last was from Talladega. Things look quite desolate. Oxford is a bright spot, full of enterprise and promise. It believes strongly in a bright future, and will realize much of its expectations. Jacksonville is a peculiar town. It can and almost does, live within itself. It is a sober, stolid, self-reliant place. Railroads may go where they please and she can live by her economy, and the cultivation of its large rich lots and small farms. * *

NOT KILLED.—Robt. H. Wilson who was reported to have been killed near Decatur by one Winfield and some negroes, has turned up alive. He went off on the cars to Chattanooga, leaving his wife in the hands of the negroes and Winfield. $400 reward is offered for Winfield as his murderer, and the negroes are indicted for it in Limestone! Mrs. Wilson was outraged by the gang, and they deserve punishment.—Huntsville Advocate.

An Unexpected Reply.

A "Rural Writer," who edits a Grant organ in the interior of Ohio, yesterday encountered D. P. on Fourth street, and gave him the Grand Hailing Sign of Radical Distress, as thus:

"Colonel, we shall have rare sport now. The Convention was the greatest joke, the most roaring farce of the season. Why, I fear we shall all laugh ourselves to death. Greely is an educated idiot—a raving lunatic—honest, perhaps, but intolerably stupid."

Whereupon Don Piatt said: "It may be a joke, sir, but it is one at which the Administration can not laugh. The ticket nominated to-day will be elected The man who can look into the face of Grant, and afterward accuse Horace Greely of lack of sense, must himself possess unlimited capacity for stupidity. Grant is the most conceivable idiot, and the most cold blooded, infamous, heartless hog that God Almighty ever set on end.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A NEW BEAUTIFYING AGENT.—All Dentifrices had their drawbacks, until the Salubrious Bark of the Soap Tree was brought from the Chilian Valleys to perfect the fragrant Sozodont, the most delightful article for the teeth that a brush was ever dipped into.

"CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED FOR 50 Cents."—Every case of Croup can be cured when first taken, by Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment, warranted for 24 years, and never a bottle returned. It also cures Diarrhœa, Dysentary, Colic, Sore Throat, Cuts, Burns and External Pains. Sold by the Druggists. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York.

VENUS herself would not have been beautiful if her complexion had been bad. Beauty is skin deep, is skin deep it is necessary to secure and retain that part of it; and ladies, instead of resorting to paints and powders, should remember that an impure bowels or sallow skin is the proof of feeble digestion, torpid liver, or vitiated blood for all which Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS is a safe, sure, and effectual remedy.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE.—No oils neither pomades or alcoholic washes—foreign or domestic—can compare with Cocoaine as a hair dressing. It anchors the hair firmly in the scalp—gives it new life and lustre and renders it the "crowning glory" of both sexes, old and young.

PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL.—More accidents occur from using unsafe oils, than from steamboats and railroads combined. Over 200,000 families continue to burn Pratt's Astral Oil, and no accidents directly or indirectly have occurred from burning, storing or handling it Oil House of Chas Pratt, Established 1770, New York

A BEAUTIFUL WHITE, soft, smooth and clear skin is produced by using G. W. Laird's "Bloom of Youth." It removes tan, freckles, sunburns, and all other discolorations from the skin, leaving the complexion brilliant and beautiful. Sold at all druggists. The preparation is entirely free from any material deleterious to health

JUST THE REMEDY NEEDED.—Thanks to Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup we have for years been relieved from sleepless nights of pain in watching with poor, suffering, teething children.

FOR DYSPEPSIA, Indigestion, depression of spirits and general debility in their various forms; also, as a preventive against Fever and Ague, and other intermittent fevers. The Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all Druggists, is the best tonic, and for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it can not be equal

RISLEY'S GENUINE GOLDEN BELL COLOGNE WATER according to the original formula of Prevost, Paris, so so long known to the customers of Risley Bard Bard and Risley and their branches, for its fine permanent fragrance, is now made by W. B. Risley and the trade supplied by his successors, Morgan & Risley, Wholesale Druggists, New York

THURSTON'S IVORY PEARL TOOTH POWDER.—The best article known for cleansing and preserving the teeth and gums. Sold by all Druggists.—Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. F C Wells & Co., New York

CARBOLIC SALVE, recognized as a Healing Comfort. Physicians recommend it as the most wonderful remedy ever known Price 25 cents per box. John F. Henry, Sole Proprietor, 8 Cedar Place, N. York

"RISTADORO'S HAIR DYE.—This magnificent compound is beyond contingency the safest and most reliable Dye in existence never failing to impart to the hair a luxuriancy of color, nourishment and elasticity. Manufactory, 68 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

SWAYNIA is Opium purified of its sickening and poisonous qualities. It is a perfect anodyne not producing headache or constipation of the bowels as is the case with other preparations of opium. John Farr, Chemist, New York.

Womans' Rights.—One who has long studied this absorbing subject now presents to the women of our country the result of this investigations. He is happy to say that he has at last discovered "Woman's Best Friend." It is adapted, especially, to those cases where the womb is disordered, and will cure any irregularity of the "menses." Dr J. Scarfield's Female Regulator acts like a charm in "whites," or in a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from cold trouble of mind, or like causes, by restoring the discharge in every instance, So also in chronic cases its action is prompt and decisive, and saves the constitution from countless evils and premature decay. This valuable preparation is for sale at $1.50 per bottle by all respectable Druggist in the land. Prepared and sold by L. H. Bradfield, Druggist, Atlanta, Ga. A thousand women testify to its merits.

October 7 3m

Editorial Notices are so common that it is almost impossible for an editor to express his honest opinion of the merits of any article without being suspected of interested motives. This fact, however, shall not deter us from saying what we think of a new addition to the Materia Medica to which our attention has been recently directed. We refer to Dr. J. WALKER'S CALAFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS, a remedy which is making its way into more families just now than all the other advertised medicines put together. There seems to be no question about the potency of its tonic and alterative properties, while it possesses the great negative recommendation of containing neither alcoholic nor mineral poison. That it is a specific for Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation, and many complaints of nervous origin, we have reason to know; and we are assured on good authority that as general invigorant, regulating and purifying medicine, it has no equal It is stated that its ingredients, (obtained from the wilds of California) are new to the medical world; and its extraordinary effects certainly warrant the conclusion that it is a compound of agents hitherto unknown. If popularity is any criterion there can be no doubt of the efficiency of the VINEGAR BITTERS, for the sale of the article is immense and continually increasing. 4w

Dr. GOTTLIEB FISCH'S BITTERS.

(Shape of the bottle.)

This preparation of the great Scientist, Dr. Gottlieb Fisch, of Germany, is based on the fact that these all materials of the body are derived from Food, as all Vital Force, or Health, is derived from the Force stored up in Food. Dr. Fisch's Bitters enables the System to Liberate and appropriate these Forces creates Appetite, cures Dyspepsia, with its resulting Debility and lack of Nervous Energy; so tones the Stomach and Liver as to make Constipation and Biliousness impossible; so informs the System so it can tide over bad results of changing climate, water &c., and better endure the demands often unexpectedly made on its Force and Energy. Ladies in delicate health, aged persons and all emaciated and weak after sickness, will rapidly strengthen by using this great preparation.

NEAR CEDAR BLUFF Feb., 28, 1871

MESSRS. J. & S. BONES, Dear Sirs:
I have given the 16 inch Mill (Clemans) bought of you, a thorough test, and can but express myself perfectly satisfied. The power was the running gear to my gin, which although in very bad order, was sufficient to grind one bushel (by the watch) in eleven minutes. I find no trouble to do my grinding before breakfast. Several of my neighbors were present at the time, and all were satisfied with the result, and were astonished at the quantity and fine quality of the meal produced in so short a time. I prefer the meal to any steam mill meal. The 16 inch mill I bought of you for the Foster Farm, and used since the above was written proves equally satisfactory. It is a complete mill.

Yours Truly,
H. H. MILLER.

Radway's Ready Relief

CURES THE WORST PAIN in from One to Twenty Minutes. NOT ONE HOUR

after reading this advertisement need one SUFFER WITH PAIN.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF IS A CURE FOR EVERY PAIN.

It was the first and is

The Only Pain Remedy

that instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays Inflammations, and cures Congestions, whether of the Lungs, Stomach, other glands or organs, by one application IN FROM ONE TO TWENTY MINUTES no matter how violent or excruciating the pain the RHEUMATIC, Bed-ridden, Hospital Cripppled, Nervous, Neuralgic, or prostrated with disease may suffer,

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

Will afford instant Ease.
Inflamation of the Kidneys,
Inflamation of the Bladder.
Inflamation of the Bowels,
Congestion of the Lungs.
Sore Throat, Difficult Breathing,
Palpitation of the Heart.
Hysterics, Croup, Diphtheria,
Catarrh, Influenza.
Headache Toothache,
Neuralgia, Rheumatism.
Cold Chills, Ague Chills,

The application of the READY RELIEF to the part or parts where the difficulty exists will afford ease and comfort.

Twenty drops in half a tumbler of water will in a few moments cure Cramps, Spasms, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Colic, Wind in the Bowels, and all internal Pains.

Travelers should always carry a bottle of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF with them. A few drops in water will prevent sickness or pains from change of water. It is better than French Brandy or Bitters as a stimulant.

FEVER AND AGUE.

Fever and Ague cured for fifty cents. There is not a remedial agent in this world that will cure Fever and Ague, and all other Malarious, Bilious, Scarlet, Typhoid, Yellow, and other Fevers (aided by RADWAY'S PILLS) so quick as RADWAY'S READY RELIEF. Fifty cents per bottle.

DR. RADWAY'S Sarsaparillian Resolvent

Has made the most astonishing cures—so quick, so rapid are the changes it undergoes, under the influence of this truly wonderful Medicine, that

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, which repairs the wastes of the body with pure and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Blotches, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blains, Sores, Scrumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Ringworm, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Blotches, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancer in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm, and all wastes of the life principle, are the sure indications that the curative range of this wonderful Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that are constantly progressing, succeeds in arresting these wasts, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does rapidly—a cure is certain; for when once this thing commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of vital substance as repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better, stronger, the food digesting better, flesh improving, and weight increasing.

Not only does the Sarsaparillian Resolvent exceed all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney and Bladder Complaints,

Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, Calculous, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there are morbid, dark, billious appearance, and sediments or bone dust deposits, and when there is pain and pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back, and along the Loins.

DR. RADWAY'S PERFECT PURGATIVE PILLS

perfectly tasteless, elegantly coated with sweet gum, purge, regulate, purify, cleanse and strengthen. Radway's Pills, for the cure of all disorders of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Headache, Constipation, Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Bilious Fever, Inflamation of the Bowels, Piles, and all Derangements of the Internal Viscera. Warranted to effect a positive cure. Purely Vegetable, containing no mercury, minerals, or deleterious drugs.

A few doses of RADWLY'S PILLS will free tthe system from all the above named disorders. Price, 25 cents per Box. Sold by Druggists.

Read "False and True." Send one letter stamp to RADWAY & CO., No. 87 Maiden Lane, New York. Information worth thousands will be sent you.

The Barefoot Boy.

There hangs on the wall before me,
Where the sunshine loves to dwell,
A picture, a sweet little picture,
That holds me in a spell—
A boy with sun-brown features,
All dimpled in childish joy;
And I gaze through the tears that blind me,
On the little "Barefoot Boy."

The eyes are full of brightness,
And the cheeks so rosy red,
That it hardly seems a picture,
But a living child instead—
A child, with his brown hands hidden,
In the pockets where links each toy
Which I know brought childish pleasure
To this little "Barefoot Boy."

And I think, while my tears are dropping
Like rain on my open book,
Of my little barefooted darling
That the summoning angels took;
And I sigh for the vanished brightness,
As I see each unused toy
That once belonged to my darling—
To my little "Barefoot Boy."

And I think of one sad June evening,
When the mournful robins sang,
And up from the gathering shadows
The cry of the whip poor-will rang;
And I think of the gloomy shadow
That fell on life's brightest joy,
When the angels came in the twilight
For my little "Barefoot Boy."

I see from the shadowless hearthstones
Glad children at merry play;
And I think of my life's broad shadow,
And I weep and turn away;
And I look at my little picture,
And the face so bright with joy,
And I think that a sinless angel
Was once my "Barefoot Boy.

About Printers.

I wish I was a printer,
I really do indeed,
It seems to me the printers
Get everything they need—
(Except money.)

They get the largest and the best
Of everything that grows,
Get free into circuses
And other kinds of shows—
(By giving an equivalent.)

The biggest bug will speak to them,
No matter how they dress;
A shabby coat is nothing
If they owa a printing press—
(Policy.)

At ladies' fairs they're almost hugged
By pretty girls you know,
That they will eat up everything
That ladies have to show—
(Bully.)

And thus they get a blow out free,
At every party feed,
And the reason is because they write
And other people read.
(That's what's the matter.)

My Tools Never Come Back.

My tools I keep in good order;
My neighbors, they keep none;
And, while I lend, 'tis understood
They never need keep one.
I'd lend to all, and not complain:
I'd mend the breaks, and lend again;
But, if a nail I wish to tack,
My hammer's gone—it didn't come back.

Campaign poetry is making its appearance on every hand. Here is a specimen from an Indiana exchange:

There's a little old hat
That goes trotting about—
Trotting about, about—
And within it a head—
And beneath it a heart—
Trotting about, about;
And they may say this and they may say that,
But a very good thing is a little old hat,
Trotting about, about.

The New York Commercial Advertiser pours forth its soul in poetry. Subject, the Cincinnati nomination:

Farewell to pastoral ease, to rural calm,
Chappaqua's frugal glebe and fragrant airs;
Farewell to hooded cabbage, winter rear'd,
The early radish and the vernal beet.

Tennessee Democratic Convention.

This Convention met in Nashville, May 9th. Gov. Brown, the present incumbent, was renominated by acclamation. The Convention then endorsed, by an overwhelming majority, a set of resolutions, in all essential particulars, identical with those of the Cincinnati Convention. The resolution endorsing the nominees of the Cincinnati Convention was adopted by a vote of 721 yeas to 132 nays. A resolution offered by Mr. Tyler, of Shelby county, to the effect, that while willing to support the Cincinnati nominess, the convention, nevertheless, declare that Tennessee Democrats will abide the nomination of the National Democratic Convention at Baltimore, was voted down by 553 to 266. Thus Tennessee Democrats are pledged to the support of Greeley, no matter whether the Democrats make a straight nomination, at Baltimore, or not. The following is the speech of Gov. Brown, after his nomination:

JNO. C. BROWN.

His Speech Before the Convention, Accepting the Nomination.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Convention: This unanimous expression of your confidence fills my heart with unspeakable gratitude, because in the conscientious discharge of duty there is nothing more agreeable to the public servant than to have his official acts publicly endorsed by the representatives of the people. Less than two years ago you did me the honor to place me in the Chief Executive chair of your State. I found myself surrounded with almost innumerable difficulties. The finances of your State were prostrated. Your treasury was exhausted. No stable and fixed policy had been inaugurated. The details of the State Government had not been discussed before the people, and neither the legislative branch of the government nor the Executive were certain how the State stood. We came to administer the affairs of the State in the midst of all these difficulties. Difficulties almost insurmountable met us at every step; and in the midst of these trying difficulties I have done the best I could. I thank the people whom you represent for the compliment of my renomination. I thank the people of Tennessee for conferring upon me this unmerited honor. But, gentlemen, to say more on this subject would be egotistical.

We are now on the eve of, perhaps, the most important canvass that has ever transpired in this country. Certainly Tennesseans have never been called upon to act on an occasion fraught with greater interest to the American people.

For several years we of the South particularly have bowed at the foot of power and asked for constitutional guarantees; we of the South have been beyond the pale of the government. When I say we have bowed at the foot of power, begging for constitutional rights, I speak literally the truth. The best men in the land—men who were pioneers in establishing the government of Tennessee—because of supposed treason have been denied the rights which they formerly enjoyed; men who held the smallest office within the gift of the people, because of supposed treason in the late war, have been denied the right to hold office or to exercise the heritage of freemen, and when, too, they have accepted the situation in good faith, laid down their arms and bowed at the footstool of power and begged, as suppliant slaves, to be restored to the rights of citizenship. The practice has been to deny this again and again by the present administration, which came into power pledged by every sacred obligation to restore these rights. But no, as I have said before, these rights have been denied and denied again.

In a time of profound peace we have an army invading the South. The writ of habeas corpus is denied. We have been denied privileges allowed even to our former slaves. The treasure of the United States has been expended with a lavish hand, never before known in the existency of any nation much less in the annals of the American Government. A proud tyrannical party has seized the reins of government and with the hand of tyranny has administered it to us and we have endured it all, not without murmurs, I admit; but we have endured and suffered, and still endure and suffer, and we have no hope of relief from that quarter at least. Unfortunately ours is the flag of the party that is in the minority although we have three millions of voters. Year after year we have taken the census of that party and but defeat and disaster has crowned our every effort, and to-day, seven years after we commenced, we are no nearer to those lost rights than we were at the beginning. At the end of seven years we find ourselves still in the minority and I think and others think so too, that a brighter day is now dawning upon us. I and others think that the day of deliverance is now at hand. A large body of the Republican party, representing a still larger body at home, recently met in Cincinnati and nominated a ticket and invited its acceptance by all people; the people of all parties opposed to the administration a power. I understand you, as the representatives of the people, declare it is the duty of every patriotic citizen, opposed to the present administration of the general government, to indorse the Cincinnati nominees.—Whether you have acted wisely or not, the future will determine. It is an experiment fraught with immense importance. But, gentlemen, I believe you have done right. I believe your efforts will be crowned with success in a manner never witnessed before in the country during the last thirty years. I don't wish to be understood as being a zealous advocate of the nominees of the Cincinnati Convention or that I am an admirer of the gentlemen put upon that ticket; and I want it understood that I do not belong to those who would disorganize the Democratic party, but, on the contrary I am in favor of having our party redouble its vigilance and perfect its organization in all its purity and watch all encroachments made upon it; for in my humble judgment the salvation of the country must be worked out by and through the Democratic party. Talk to me of the funeral of the Democratic party. This is but the cradle and nursery of it. To-day the note has been sounded, in my humble judgment, for the success of our principles through this ticket. I would not surrender a single principle, I would not surrender a man from our ranks. On the contrary, I believe the action of this convention will perpetuate our organization in Tennessee, and I believe nothing else would have preserved it, and that if it was not for what you did to-day that party would have become disintegrated. Did the Democratic party of Tennessee, in 1868, when uniting with patriotic Republicans under the lead of the gallant Senter, lose its identity or disband its organization? Did the Democratic party of Virginia, in the election of Gov. Walker, lose its identity. And again, in Missouri, when Gratz Brown bore the flag triumphant to victory? No, the Democratic party in those States, under the prestige of victory, is stronger than ever before. These are precedents, and safe ones, for our guidance. Tennessee was the pioneer in the experiment. And it is eminently proper that she should take the lead in the action of the States in this grand movement for the emancipation of the American people from the slavery of arrogant power and untempered tyranny. This day may prove the brightest page in her political history. She has kindled the fire that will spread over a continent. State after State, following her example, will fall into line, until the watch-fires of the peaceful revolution are kindled upon every mountain top, and by their light the clans will rally, everywhere, to battle. All of us have doubted what line of policy was calculated to promote the success of this ticket. Animated by a common desire to promote it, we have only differed as to best means. And I believe your action, so harmonious, and so nearly unanimous, is the result of the wisest counsels. And I do not doubt that a few weeks will demonstrate, in practical results that you have done right. The non-action or hostile expression of a State so overwhelmingly Democratic as Tennessee might have imperilled the success of the Cincinnati ticket, and would, at least, have retarded its progress.

I believe the people will endorse your action. Public sentiment is ahead of party leaders. There is a ground swell among the masses that cannot be resisted. No power can arrest it. The people are thinking for themselves. And one of the best indications in this day's proceedings is, that the delegates in this convention have each by a process of reason, reached their own conclusions. They have not been moved by passion. The people have once asserted their sovereignty. They think and act for themselves, and demand action of their leaders.

I have nothing to say in behalf of Mr. Greeley, or Gov. Brown. They are before the country with their records. I believe Mr. Greeley, at his age, and with his pledges, has no aspiration beyond the success of this great political reformation. I think these men are both honest and capable, and will, in good faith meet their pledges to the country. There is no comparison between them and those now in power. I care not for their past political creed. There is doubtless much in it that none of us would endorse, and much that would meet our unqualified condemnation. The question is, what are they now? They stand pledged to a code of principles which we have always advocated, and which, when put into practical operation, will redeem this country and restore constitutional liberty. I believe Mr. Greeley was sincere, when, after his late tour through the South, and returning to New York, he said his motto in future should be, "honest men to the front, thieves and carpet-baggers to the rear." [Applause.] That should be the motto of the American people everywhere, and if emblazoned upon the standards of all parties advocating an honest and just administration of the government, the sixty thousand thieves now in office would soon be driven from place and power. [Applause.]

Gentlemen, again let me thank you for your manifestations of confidence and regard. But more especially, let me thank you for your unmistakable determination to rid yourselves of the miseries of misrule, by uniting as one man, under the banners of the constitution, and striking a last blow for human liberty. This purpose executed in the same spirit that gave it birth, will regenerate the government, and make this country what it once was, but has now ceased to be, "the land of the free and the home of the brave."

"Mack" Interviewed.

"Gath," of the Chicago Tribune, telegraphs from Cincinnati:

The managing editor of the Missouri Democrat, J. B. McCullagh, late "Mack," the correspondent, and last proprietor of the defunct Chicago Republican, is in the city.

"Mack," said the distinguished representative of the present letter, "why is the Missouri Democrat opposing the movement it began? It used to be the lion of the tribe of Judah, and now it coos Grant like a turtle."

"Oh! we are all opposed to Grant," said Mack, "but when the Fishbacks got the paper its course had been defined. Now we have to keep our consistency."

"How is Missouri going?"

"Missouri is sure for the candidate here. It would vote for Sterling Price if he were alive, the same way. That's the reason it seems to me useless to nominate Gratz Brown. You can have that State for anybody. You ought to put up some body to carry Illinois or Ohio. Those are the key States. I don't think any of the candidates named are strong enough. Trumbull is the best."

"Will the Old Hunker Democrats support Brown if he be nominated?"

"In Missouri, yes. But Tom. Hendricks and McDonald, of Indiana, told me yesterday that they wouldn't take Adams. They want Trumbull or Davis."

"What do you think of Davis?"

"He would get votes and be a Whig President. George Morgan is an ass for putting him up. Jim Robinson and the Chicago Times cooked up this nomination with Morgan. Old Davis is the only man named who would bleed freely for the campaign. He could afford to spend $100,000. The force of this movement lies entirely among the supporters of Brown and Trumbull. Davis and Palmer are trading on it. Adams don't known any thing about the United States. I don't believe he ever crossed the Allegheny Mountains. He has studied his countrymen through a telescope at Harvard University."

"Will the Democrat support Grant?"

"It must. We found the bed made, and we will lie our best in it."

Mack emphasized the word lie, and, with a bewitching smile, this gifted cosmopolitan had then proceeded to go up stairs, as he said, to "make copy."

N. B.—I'll tell you something. Don't tell. Lewis Baber is out for Greesbeck. If you don't know who Lewis Baber is, I reply: He is the nephew of Justice Swain, of the Supreme Court. He is the man who made Lincoln's nomination sure by republishing his debate with Douglas, getting up the Cincinnati, Columbus and New York speech occasions for Lincoln, and sending a Ben Wade delegation to Chicago.

Mr. Sumner's daily habit of bringing forward his Supplementary Civil Rights bill was not intermitted yesterday. The Senator offered the bill (this time, very properly, as a separate bill, and not as an amendment to embarrass some other equally important measure), and it was placed upon the calendar. The Senate found time to pass Mr. Kellogg's Louisiana election bill, and to indulge in some scattering discussion of the Cincinnati Convention,—the theme which nobody can keep out of mind now-a-days. In the course of this, Mr. Kellogg, the carpetbag Senator from Louisiana, made his first (and probably his last) appearance as an interviewer. After denouncing the Louisiana delegates at Cincinnati as "thieves and rascals," he appealed to the Senators from Texas and Georgia for a similar characterization of the representatives of those sovreignties at Cincinnati, to which Mr. Hamilton replied that the Texas delegates represented truly, so far as he knew, the people of that State; that, at any rate, they were not carpet-bag adventurers, like the gentleman who had been assailing them. At this point Mr. Kellogg became disgusted with the personal nature of the discussion, and subsided.

Chicago Tribune, May 11th.

The bold stand taken by the Democratic press, in view of the Cincinnati nominations, is indicative of much independence and all that sort of thing. The Albany Argus remarks that "Mr. Greeley is an able man, and the Democratic National Convention will probably do something or other. We have, indeed, no doubt on this point." The Buffalo Courier tells us that "Frank Blair goes for him. Children cry for him. As for ourselves, give us liberty or give us death." The Utica Observer says. "We have a bad gold; otherwise we might, perhaps, hurrah for Mr. Greeley. By the way, isn't it about time for spring chickens?" The Troy Press ejaculates, "Hurrah for—on the whole, far different. There is a young man whose name is Jones, and Jones is a fine fellow with a grandfather." The Western press is no less outspoken. "Where, now, is weeping Mary?" pointedly asks one journal; and another journal tells us "The Cincinnati Convention has come and gone. We predicted as much; and we have no hesitation in saying that we are glad of it." Such unanimity of sentiment has not prevailed in Democratic ranks in a long time before, and it is very gratifying. It indicates a steadfast purpose, and many other articles too numerous to mention.

Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

To the Democratic and Conservative People of the State of Alabama.

By authority of the State Executive Committee, a call for a State Convention of the party is hereby made to be held in the State Capital, at the city of Montgomery, at the hour of 12 o'clock M., on Wednesday, the 19th day of June, 1872.

The business of the Convention will be important, and it is desired that every county shall be represented.

Let the delegates come up as patriots, with a determination to pretermit all local questions of controversy between party friends, and to subordinate all personal desires to what may be deemed best for the welfare of our beloved State.

The New York Sun seems to think that the newspaper press is greatly honored from the fact that Messrs. Greeley and Brown, candidates for President and Vice-President, are chosen from its ranks. We do not know about that. There is no office that exceeds in dignity and importance that of the educator of public sentiment through the press. To resign and take another place seems to us a letting down of the profession rather than its elevation. It is no disparagement to the press that heretofore there have been no candidates selected from its ranks. All well-informed persons are familiar with the truth that there is plenty of material and ability on the "tripod" to adorn either office, and that it has not been available arises principally from the fact that its representatives, being contented with their condition, desired no preferment of that character If Mr. Greeley should be elected it would probably be to his detriment, as it might lose him his place as Editor-in-Chief on the Tribune.

THE HERALD OUTLAWS.

Another Murder by the Lowry Gang.

[From the New York Herald, 4th.]

WILMINGTON, N. C., May 3, 1872.

The "Swamp Angels" have been again at their bloody work. Those fiends incarnate have added yet another to their list of atrocious, cowardly and hellish crimes by the murder of Captain W. Wisbart, of Shoe Heel, Robinson County, on yesterday, who, though the victim of the vilest treachery, led perhaps too far by his courageous spirit, died a brave man in the effort to benefit his fellow men.

THE ENCOUNTER ON THE TRAIN.

The facts attending the murder of Captain Wishart are substantially as follows: It seems that one day last week Stephen Lowry and Andrew Strong boarded the freight train on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad, near Shoe Heel, Captain Wishart being on the train at the time. They persisted in approaching him, until he finally consented to a conference with them. The conversation was long, and apparently important, the outlaws finally taking their departure. Andrew Strong was heard to remark on leaving

"WHEN WE SEND FOR YOU, YOU COME."

In Shoe Heel, subsequent to this interview, Wishart divulged the fact that the subject of the conference was a proposition on the part of the outlaws to surrender themselves to him, on condition that he would intercede and procure their pardon, and that they would then depart the country. Thinking that perhaps he could, after all, benefit the country by causing the outlaws to leave in some manner, he seemed determined to hold another interview with them on receipt of a notice of the time and place.

CAPT. WISHART KEEPS THE APPOINTM'T.

As had been previously determined, the notification was received, and the appointment fixed for Tuesday last, but Wishart's business engagements were such as to compel its postponement until the Thursday following. At the appointed time this fearless man, alone and unarmed, as I learn, took his way to the place of meeting, a spot on the public road, about three-quarters of a mile from a place called Lebanon Church, between Shoe Heel and Red Banks, and distant some four or five miles from each of these points.

BUT HE NEVER RETURNED ALIVE.

He was either cowardly murdered from ambush or basely shot down while in the conference to which he had been betrayed. Between twelve and one o'clock of that day two or three negroes, working in the woods near the scene of the murder, heard four distinct reports of fire-arms. About four o'clock the same afternoon, Mr. William Sellars, riding near this point, found the body of Captain Wishart lying in the road, and completely

RIDDLED WITH BUCKSHOT.

He was shot through the side and shoulders, and also in the head, one or two shots passing entirely through the brain. His death must have been instantaneous. The fact was reported, and a party of grief-stricken friends and neighbors secured his body and conveyed it to his home at Shoe Heel.

WHY HE WAS MURDERED.

Captain Wishart was one of the most intrepid and courageous of those who undertook measures to rid the county of the outlaws. His efforts in hunting them persistent and vigorous; he exerted himself most ardently to either capture or kill them for months and months, and was regarded by them as their most dreaded foe. When the State authorities commenced war on the Lowerys Captain Wishart was appointed to the command of one of the regiments then authorized to be raised.

He leaves a wife and three young children in Shoe Heel.

The place of the murder was near the scene of the killing of young Davis by the outlaws some months since. Stephen Lowry and Andrew Strong are supposed to have done the deed. Tom Lowery being seen elsewhere at the time.

The Outlawed Guerrilla Quantrell Once More Brought to Life.

[From the Los Angeles (Cal.) News.]

There are but few living on this continent who are not familiar with the name and deeds of QUANTRELL, the guerrilla cheif who figured so prominently on the side of the South during the war. QUANTRELL was a native of Missouri, and previous to the outbreak of the war was connected with JIM LANE'S band, and with it took active part in the Kansas troubles. When the war broke out he espoused the cause of the South, as a partisian ranger or guerrilla cheif. His name was a terror to the Kansas Jayhawkers who had taken sides with the North, and against whom he carried on a war of extermination, confining his depredations chiefly to Kansas and Missouri. His doings at last attracted the attention of the Federal Government, and he was declared an outlaw. Reports of his death have been frequently circulated, and as often contradicted. There are several persons now residing in this city who have often seen QUANTRELL, and were personally acquainted with him, and one of them, a gentleman whose reputation for truthfulness is unimpeachable, declares emphatically that QUANTRELL was in this city ten days ago. He further adds that their recognition was mutual, and that they held a prolonged conversation with one another. This happened in the evening, and on the following morning QUANTRELL left the city for parts unknown.

A Radical printing office, in Arkansas, was struck by lightning not long since. This is but the foreshadowing of coming events. The whole party will receive a death shock in November.

JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, MAY 18th, 1872.

Call for a County Convention of the Democratic and Conservative Party of Calhoun.

The Central Committee of the Democratic and Conservative Party of Calhoun county hereby respectfully request the members of said party to meet, at an early day, in their respective Beats, and select delegates to represent them in a County Convention to be held at the Court House, on Saturday the 8th day of June next.

The object of the Convention is to select delegates to the State Convention, at Montgomery, on the 19th July, and to consider such other matters as may be thought advisable when assembled.

J. H. CALDWELL,
JAMES CROOK, } Central Com.
G. I. TURNLEY, }

County Convention.

It will be observed that the Central Executive Committee of Calhoun have called a Convention at the Court House for June 8th 1872

In view of the vast importance of the next State Convention, and inasmuch as the policy of that Convention will be shaped in a great measure by the action of the primary County Conventions, it becomes necessary that such Conventions present a true reflex of the sentiments and wishes of the masses of the Democracy in the several counties of the State; and to that end, every beat in the counties and the majority of the party in every beat should be represented in the persons of their delegates in such conventions, and such delegates should be the coolest-headed, the most sagacious, prudent and sensible men in the various beats. Too much depends upon the canvass upon which we are just entering to trust the management of our conventions, (which will find the action of the people) to political tricksters, party dead beats and regular convention frequenters. These gentry figure too largely in most County Conventions for the good of the people.

Will the Democrats of beats of the County manifest more than an ordinary interest in the coming County Convention? Will they see not only that such are appointed, but that they come? Will they take a hand in shaping the policy of the party that now actually and absolutely holds the destiny of the country in hand? We believe that they will, and that the coming county Convention will be the largest and most representative that has assembled since the war.

Some time back the New York World and Alex. Stephens' paper, the Atlanta Sun, were denouncing each other as unsound and impracticable Democrats respectively. Now they stand together almost alone in their opposition to the acceptance of Greeley and Brown by the Democratic party, still unsound and impracticable respectively.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, says to the Northern Democracy, in speaking of the policy to be pursued by the Baltimore Convention: "With the united South, which only lacks twenty six votes of being sufficient to choose a President, there can not be a doubt of our triumphant victory. Let that section, therefore, be consulted, and its advice followed."

The Democratic State Convention of Kentucky meets on the 29th of May. It is the next to hear from.

Senator Morton, Grant's bosom friend and supporter, was detected in an effort to supplant his master and secure the Philadelphia nomination for himself. This coming to the ears of the editor of the Cincinnati Gazette, a Grant paper, that individual brought the Hon. O. P. M. to taw with the following dispatch:

CINCINNATI, May 10.

Hon. O. P. Morton:
Is there any foundation for the report about you, telegraphed last night?
EDWARD SMITH.

To which Morton replied in the following "general denial," which for comprehensiveness and breadth is far ahead of anything yet brought out in the campaign:

WASHINGTON, May 10.

Richard Smith, Cincinnati Gazette:
Do not know what the report is. If it is any thing extraordinary or dreadful, it is false, whatever it is.

O. P. MORTON.

Mr. Ferry the Greeley candidate, has defeated Harvey, the Grant candidate for the U. S. Senate in Connecticut.

A drove of eight or nine partridges walked gravely and undismayed up one of our main streets, about dusk, last Tuesday.
Jacksonville Republican.

Undismayed—of course. Instinct doubtless told them that there was plenty of grass and weeds growing in the aforesaid main street for them to hide in.
Talladega Watch-tower.

Well, now that the gudgeon of the Watch-tower has so readily swallowed the bait, we may as well mention that no partridges appeared at all. The squib was thrown out as a text for the dismal wit of the boys who drive the quill around about. We were as morally certain that the "hit" about the weeds growing in the streets would be made, as we were that we penned the deliberate lie so well calculated to catch the attention of the wary, and vigilant country editor, whose eye never slumbers nor sleeps.

Mr. Greeley makes the very comprehensive promise that he "will sign any bill Congress may pass provided it is constitutional, no matter what his personal views may be." His election would involve a Democratic House of Representatives, and in two years a Democratic Senate. How much would his Republicanism in the Presidency be worth?

TELEGRAPHIC RESUME

MAY 9.—A motion to indefinitely postpone a National Democratic Convention, in the Democratic Executive Committee, was voted down.

A meeting of Democratic Editors in Illinois resolved to await the action of the Democratic Convention at Baltimore, before endorsing Greely, when if he is endorsed, they will give him a hearty support.

The bill to admit Japanese to West Point Academy was tabled.

Sumner's civil rights bill as substituted for amnesty was defeated; but was adopted as an amendment by Colfax casting his vote. Several amendments modifying Sumner's amendment was defeated by Colfax's vote. The bill as amended finally failed. This brought the House bill (amnesty pure) again before the Senate when Sumner again moved his social equality amendment and Colfax again voted for it. Morton also got in his amendment requiring persons applying for amnesty to swear that they were not Ku Klux; and the bill as amended was again defeated. It seems likely now that Sumner will be able, by tacking on his amendment, to defeat any amnesty bill this session, the Democrat and Liberal Republicans preferring no amnesty purchased at the price of social equality, such as Sumner wishes to force upon the people of the United States.

All available vessels to be put in sea going condition, and the navy generally strengthened.

In the General Conference of the M. E. Church in New York, several memorials were read against invidious distinction of race or color, in electing officers &c. A committee of six was appointed to convey fraternal greeting to the General Conference of the M. E. Church South, to meet 1874. A proposition to empower the Committee to endeavor to effect an organization with the Church South was voted down.

Lewis McKenzie, Republican delegate at large for Virginia to the Philadelphia Convention, has returned his credentials and declines attending said Convention; he will support Greeley and Brown.

Delaware and Minnesota delegates to the Philadelphia Convention are instructed to vote for Grant & Colfax.

U. S. Medical association has resolved to discourage the use of alcoholic stimulants in their remedies.

It is likely that Congress will adjourn on the 20th of May.

MAY 10.—The fortifications bill passed. It appropriates two millions of dollars to the strengthening of the forts, many of them in the South.

Sumner again introduced his civil rights bill. The election bill to carry the State of Louisiana for Grant passed the Senate. The House may kill it. A further bill in the interest of Grant, such as now applies to cities of twenty thousand inhabitants, will be introduced.

Differences between England and the United States on the consequential damage, irreconcilable.

It is charged that Morton has proven unfaithful to his master, Grant, and has been himself working for the Radical nomination. He denies it.

Frederic Stenaker, Bavary, off old Point, in Currituck Sound, exploded her boiler and killed the chief engineer, his wife, children and sister-in-law. Several of the crew badly scalded.

A terrible fire in Somerset, Pa. It destroyed six squares in the heart of the town, embracing two-thirds of the valuable buildings. Fifty families are homeless. Loss one million of dollars. Insurance, twenty five thousand.

Fires are still raging in the forests of Ulster and Sullivan counties, N. Y.

The citizens of Atlanta gave the Georgia Press Association a thousand dollar banquet last night.

MAY 11.—The Radicals of Wyoming Territory instruct their delegates to vote for Grant and Colfax, at Philadelphia.

The old hens and a few fanatical fools held a meeting last night in New York. Mrs. Woodhull spoke prophesying that from this convention would issue a power that would shape the destinies of the world. Mrs. Woodhull and Fred Douglas, were then nominated for President and Vice President, amid great confusion. A delegate nominated "Spotted Tail," saying "Indians before niggers." Another suggested if Douglas declines a "Heathen Chinee be nominated in the end." This convention broke up in an uproar.

Matamoras, Mexico, still under martial law. Several disasters to the Revolutionists reported. Trevino, a Revolutionary leader, states that a movement is on foot to concentrate the revolutionists and capture the capitol.

The Government of Spain announces that the Cuban insurrection is over.

The London Post says that England has withdrawn from the Geneva arbitration.

The President was at the Capitol today consulting with the Senators. The constitution continues to night at the White House. Nothing has transpired but it is thought that it mean amnesty.

In the M. E. Conference several orders were made hoping that peace would continue between England and the United States, and that reconciliation between the Methodist Church North and South might be effected.

The King of Spain has pardoned the Havana students sentenced to the chain gang some months ago for violating the grave of Castenon.

MAY 12.—J. Bateman, a Jewish clerk in the New York Post Office has been caught and admits his guilt.

Georgia Press Association arrived in Nashville tendered a banquet at the Exposition Hall. Chattanooga also tenders them a banquet on their return from the Mammoth Cave.

MAY 13.—Another explosion in the Scranton mines three killed.

Many Spaniards leaving Cuba.

In the House Voorhees, in a personal explanation made a bitter anti Greeley speech.

The Senate is considering the supplemental enforcement bill. (The bill by which Grant can flood the South with his bayonets.)

Lead Works in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania burned. Loss $500,000.

A negro who had committed rape, was hanged in Carthage Tennessee.

South Mountain forest, in Pennsylvania is burning.

The Court of Claims has adjourned all important adjudicated cases until November.

As it is well known that Great Britain will agree to the proposed new article and that both governments are anxious to save the Treaty by this means it was thought proper to place the Senate in possession of all the facts in order that the executive, acting upon their advice, might pursue the negotiation so as to secure the consummation of the Treaty in a manner satisfactory to the two Governments. There was a brief debate after the reading of the documents involving the merits of the question. A motion was made to remove the injunction of secresy but this failed and the message and documents were then ordered to be printed in confidence and refered to the Committee on Foreign Relations. There is scarcely a question that the Senate will advise the acceptance of the additional article to the Treaty.

Goldthwaite's bill for bridging the rivers that empty into Mobile bay, passed.

In the House in a political colloquy that ensued after Voorhees speech against Greeley, several prominent members of the house spoke briefly to the effect that the Baltimore Convention should ratify Voorhees himself said that he never bolted a nomination. Bulter of Massachusetts from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill removing political disabilities from all persons who aided the late rebellion except Senators and Representatives in the 36th and 37th Congress, officers in the Judiciary, military and naval service of the United States and heads of Departments and foreign ministers of the United States, which passed.

Butler also reported a bill removing twenty-five thousand political disabilities by names which passed.

McDonald's Knitting Mill in Amsterdam New York burned. Loss $700,000.

Mountain fires in Chichester county New York, are three miles in length. On Friday all day the smoke was so dense that the sun was obscured. United efforts of one hundred and fifty men alone saved the Village of Chichester.

The property of John Slidell, which was confiscated, has been restored to his heirs.

MAY 14.—The Mobile Tribune has hoisted the name of Greeley and Brown, subject to the action of the State Democratic Convention which meets in Montgomery, June 19th.

The Carlists, so far from being disbanded, are masters of three Spanish provinces, and an important engagement is expected at Bilboa.

England and the U. S. are in a fair way to settle all differences by an additional article of the Treaty which both will agree upon.

Horace Greeley has retired from the editorial control of the New York Tribune, that he may run the race unshackled. This looks as if he designed to stick.

New arrests of citizens under the enforcement act are daily reported from Fairfield and other counties in South Carolina.

Kelloy's supplemental enforcement bill has passed the Senate by 24 to 17. The discussion was quite exciting and indicated the hopelessness of Amnesty this session.

The bill extending to March 4th 1873 the extraordinary powers of the President under the Ku-klux bill, was called up, but no action was had.

The House Committee on Naval affairs have agreed upon a report in favor of the construction of ten sloops of war.

MAY 15.—A force of Carlists returning to Spain from Portugal were met at the frontiers by Government troops and driven back.

NEW YORK.—Gold dull at 1.12½. Cotton, uplands, 23½. Orleans 24½.

Motion was made to adjourn Congress May 20th until November, but was withdrawn. It will be renewed.

Georgia Democratic Convention called for June 26th.

New York Democratic Convention has virtually endorsed Cincinnati platform and Candidates.

HUMORS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

A Suppositious Veto from Horace Greeley.

[From the Chicago Post.]

COMMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

I return this obnoxious measure without my approval. The man who introduced it is an ass; the men who voted for it are scheming British agents, and the men who say this is not the case are liars and horse-thieves. I judge that, on an average, every man, woman and child in America uses a ton of guano a year in some shape or other; whether as the farmer in New York, Louisiana, Colorado, Podunk, etc., in agriculture, or as Charles A. Dana, for editorial articles. We thus consume, in round figures, 40,000,000 of tons of guano annually. The arbitrary and revolutionary act which I veto to day would thus impose a tax of four millions of dollars a year on our people. With what effect? It would not stimulate the production of American guano. American birds could not compete with the pauper labor of birds in debauched and priest-ridden Central America. I am not quite sure as to what I mean or why it is not so, or what is which, but the man who speaks to the contrary is a hell-hound and bribed by British gold. H. G.

In political circles for some days past there have been rumors that the Administration at Washington contemplates a grand coup de etat on the Spanish question which would electrify the country and tend to draw the attention of the people from the blunders of the Administration in regard to consequential damages and the Alabama question. This coup de etat, rumor says, will be nothing less than a war with Spain and the capture of Cuba. These rumors are further to the effect that Grant expects to gain popularity by this movement, and that it is to be his great card before the Philadelphia Convention, and the people afterward. These rumors have been current in political circles for a week or ten days past. Advices from Washington to-day, however, give these rumors significance.

OX DEF.—J. L. Pennington, late Senator from Lee county in the Alabama Legislature, has been appointed Governor of one of the Western Territories; also that the Opelika Era will change proprietors within a few days and come out for Grant. The Era is now fighting for Greeley, manibus pedibusque.
Montgomery Advertiser.

Colonel John H. Keathly, of Council Bluffs, has handed in his resignation as Chairman of the Republican Committee of Pottawatomie. He is for Greeley.

Senator Morton warmly denies all responsibility for the scheme mentioned herein yesterday, to bring himself forward as a substitute for Grant. It is all the work of an insane brother-in-law. Ah, those irrepressible brothers-in-law! The best thing Morton and his chief can do, on kissing and making up the affair is to Resolve, That our brothers-in-law be banished in a body to Timbuctoo for the balance of our political lives. The term would not be so long as to make the sentence a serious one.

By the way, Morton's telegram to Dick Smith, anent this matter, will do for a stereotyped denial, good during the whole campaign. He says (affecting ignorance), "if it is anything dreadful, or extraordinary, it is a lie." An equivalent statement, in another form, would be, "I hereby unqualifiedly deny anything which anybody may say against me during the present campaign."
Chicago Tribune.

Savage Duel Between Two Mexican Ladies.

Two Mexican ladies of rank at a recent ball at Santa Cruz, getting into a dispute in regard to the number of dances due each by a neutral lover, one of them throwing her No. 5½ kid glove into the other's face, challenged her to mortal combat. They met the next morning. The challenged having the choice of weapons chose the short sword, and after a few passes her weapon passed entirely through the white sword arm of her antagonist, entirely disabling it. Frantic with rage and pain the wounded fury seized a pistol and dared the other to "come on Macduff." Nothing loth, the other took her position, the word was given, and again the challenger was wounded, her left arm being broken by the ball of her antagonist. She was carried off the field in a swoon, and the other more fortunate fair married the casus belli two hours afterwards.

A Chicago lady who is trying to break herself of the habit of smoking, has cut herself down to fifteen cigars a day.

A Troy musical composer is called C. Mortimer Whiskey. He was not the author of "Coming Through the Rye."

Even at this late day a Chicago sufferer has victimized Elkader out of $40. The C. S., however, has since been arrested for stealing a horse.

Buzzing Bull-Toad, Chief of the Sacs, is no more. He bought a gallon of alcohol of a trader, and contracted to carry it home without a jug.

B. Gratz Brown (the fact he is addicted to giving improper prominence to his middle name is one of the worst things we know about him) was born in Frankfort, Kentucky.

Ben Butler and Brick Pomeroy are to fight a duel. It is feared they are both bad shots.

A Missouri murderer sentenced to be hanged, offers to shoot George Francis Train if the Governor will pardon him. His proposition is worthy of consideration.

The Fat Contributor's lecture for next season will be entitled: "Why do I Lecture?" He wants to see how many papers will say, "We give it up."

The English papers have ceased deriding the Tichborne claimant, and admit that his case is "rising almost to its former dignity and interest."

A. S. Abel, Esq., editor and proprietor of the Baltimore Sun, is stated to have amassed a fortune of $10,000,000. He commenced life as a journeyman printer, forty years ago, and is reputed to be the wealthiest man in Baltimore.

Suppose somebody had told Horace Greeley nine years ago—say about the time of the New York riots—that he would by this time be a candidate for the Presidency, "subject to the National Democratic Convention," what would he have said? He would have called the individual a liar and a horse thief, at least.—St. Louis Democrat.

Petroleum V. Nasby, it is said, makes $44,000 per annum by lecturing and by his notable letters. Mark Twain made $150,000 by his "Innocents Abroad," and expects $200,000 for "Roughing It." It is well worth while to be verdant and to have been rough at those figures.

Capt. Goodenough went through the "infernal fire" of Waterloo, and escaped unharmed; which was good enough, too. But, after all these years, the old veteran fell into a pond the other day in East Devon, England, and was drowned; and that was certainly too bad.

President Finney, of Oberlin College, has started out on a lecturing tour against Freemasonry, and asserts that he will not stop speaking until every Masonic Lodge in the country has disbanded. If he holds to his word he will only be a middle-aged man three or four centuries hence.

In reply to a correspondent we would remark that it was in the fall of 1860 that Mr. Greeley wrote his famous editorial, "Let the Wayward Sisters Depart in Peace," in which appeared the following sentiment: "If any respectable number of the citizens of a State desire to secede from the government, I know of no power that can or ought to restrain them." It is understood that the prophetic philosopher wrote it for use during this campaign.

The Concert given by the young men of the Brass Band, assisted by some of the ladies, Wednesday night, at College Hall, was largely attended and, we think, appreciated. The ladies, without exception, acquitted themselves splendidly, and the gentlemen came off very handsomely, indeed. The music of both the string and brass bands was very good, though the latter has been playing but three weeks; the drama of Ben Boit was well rendered; the songs, including the selections from Berlini's Opperetta of Norma, were charming; the farce was laughable; the evening altogether pleasant. Several visitors from other parts of the County were present. The am't realized was about $75 00.

We have received from Capt. A. D. Bennett of Gadsden, a fine box of a complete assortment of the candies that he is now manufacturing, embracing Cream Candy, the best stick flavored in every manner &c., &c. These candies are purer and better than any bought from the cities and there is undoubtedly more cleanliness practiced in their manufacture, for the Captain is a neat man and will have none but cleanly employees about him. The price too is so moder. ate that our merchants may order from him to as good profit as from a more distant market. We owe it to ourselves to encourage home enterprise and we hope the merchants of Calhoun will extend to Capt. Bennett all the patronage they have to bestow. Send to him for price list. He will furnish it with pleasure.

FOR SALE.—A real good second-hand two-horse wagon, specially made to order by Weaver and Adams; as good almost as new, will be sold cheap on favorable terms. Apply at this office.

There is great complaint of the irregularity of letter carriage along the mail routes in this part of the State, and the feeling, from all accounts is exceedingly bitter. We hope the P. M. General will at once despatch a detective to ferret out the offenders. It is the imperative duty of the Government to provide for the people a safe letter carriage, and we shall look soon to see some of the enterprising gentry now conducting operations along the mail lines, dancing attendance at the court of Hon. Richard Busteed.

Ed. L. Woodward has lately received a handsome a lot of fancy and heavy groceries as ever has been brought to this market. We call attention to the advertisement of Messers Bones & Co. in another column, in relation to Stove Peddlers. We know nothing of the peddlers spoken of; but think it always safest to deal with people we know, especially when they offer better terms than strangers. Most peddlers who sell for part cash and part note, get about the worth of the article in cash and then shave the note off for whatever they can get for it. We do not know that the stove peddlers now passing through Georgia and to whom we suppose the advertisement has reference, are such things, but it would be well enough for our people to keep their eyes skinned, and not suffer themselves to be cheated. We know Messers Bones, and can recommend them.

ALEXANDRIA LOCALS.

REPLY TO "†"

MR. EDITOR:—We noticed in the Republican of last week an article from a would be critic, who attempts to criticise the locals of your paper. We cannot imagine what prompted him to do it, unless it was for the mere satisfaction of seeing some of his own productions in print, or perhaps the talented gentleman feels slighted that he has not with all his "sagacity and judgment" been requested to contribute locals to the Republican,

Our critic says he knows how difficult it is for an editor to undertake to please everybody, now we cannot speak from experience as does this so-called critic, but we suppose it is hard, and we presume it is harder to please everybody than it is to undertake the matter. It has been said by some man that 'twas a good idea in journalism to have one column for a wise man and one for a fool and so on alternating 'till the sheet is filled. Now we suppose you try to do this as all other journalists do, and the only way we can account for this so-called critic's displeasure, is, he has simply been according to your wise decisions columns not intended for him specially, but for the wise man. "†" says in the outset, he has one remark to make, he has made it and by so doing has immortalized himself. I dare say each local correspondent will follow our example. After blushing, hanging our heads and feeling ashamed of our "weak and silly ways" under this scathing rebuke, we promise ourselves that as we are disappointed in the "larger class of our readers," thinking them to be wise men, we will make blunt our quill and quit.

RABBITTOWN LOCALS

MR. GRANT.—I have been looking for the Rabbittown Locals, by X, for some time and can't imagine why he stopped, unless it was because he (after protracted efforts) has killed a Goldder, and has since turned his attention in the turkey direction.

Our wheat has improved in appearance, and begins to help our feelings. Hope we will make some to spare.

Most of the farmers would like to see a "gentle shower" now, as the present drough is keeping cotton from coming up, and will make a great deal of it too late to do well if the ground is not wet soon.

We have been pleased to learn through your columns of recent date that work on the Water-works have been resumed. We are anxious to see them completed at an early day. At the same time, we are fearful, that perhaps the Water-works have absorbed so much of the attention and capital of the citizens of Jacksonville as to let the opportunity of securing the location of some of the many anticipated Rail Roads through our country slip by.

A good many of our people would like to write and send in locals. One says he is a good hand to compose but a bad hand to write. Another has written two quires of foolscap paper (a small local) on both sides, and is fearful that you will not receive it that way: and as it will be too expensive for him (individually) to buy four quires of paper to re-write it and leave one side blank, he wishes to wait until the Commissioners court sits again, and thinks his claim to cover all expenses will be allowed, as it will be for the public good. He has doubtless forgot that new commissioners were elected last November.

One of our thorough-going citizens has been taking the census of the dog population in a scope of country ten miles long of our valley and has made an estimate on the average cost of dogs per annum, and in that little area, it runs up to the enormous sum of four thousand dollars yearly.

The Mobile barbers now put the Dolly Varden touch on the heads of young men who are able to afford a "hair dress" every time they go out to an evening party. The style consists in parting the hair down lower than ever on the forehead and making a regular "Mose" soaplock in front of each ear. The Register says the wearers look sweet enough to kick.

TOMATO OMELETTE.—Six eggs, a wine-glass of flour, four ripe tomatoes, pepper and salt to the taste, milk sufficient to mix the flower smoothly. Beat the eggs very light, stir in the mixed milk and flour, peel and chop the tomatoes, and add with the pepper and salt. Have a pan with some hot butter, pour in the mixture, and fry it. When done it may be lapped half over or not, according to the fancy. Do not turn it.

Some of the Democratic papers don't like to see Mr. Greeley coming aboard the Democratic craft, this one for instance:

His coming reminds us of the donkey who got his foot in the stirrup. Said Pat, who was riding him: "Now, look here, be jabers!—If you're after getting on I'll be after getting off."—[New York Standard.

Lively Times Expected in Indiana

Dick Bright, editor of the Indianapolis Sentinel, and nephew of Jesse D. Bright, in an interview to-day, stated that the coming fall campaign in Indiana would be of intense interest and excitement, owing to the probability of Hendricks running against Morton. The latter will return with impaired health, yet he will make a desperate struggle to maintain his hold. If Grant is defeated Morton will be sacrificed. The Democracy of Indiana and Kentucky, Bright says, will support any liberal candidate. The defection of Geo. W. Julian, the representative war-horse of the Free Soil district in Indiana, is looked on as evidence of the intensity of the fall campaign in that State.

DESPERATE STRUGGLE WITH A MANIAC.

Attempted Murder of Two Sisters —A Battle for Life.

[Correspondence of the New York World.]

POUGHKEEPSIE, March 7.

A terrible affair happend near Marlborough, Ulster county, this morning at the house of George Wm. Purdy, who resides seven miles north of Newburg, near the first named place. While laboring under temporary insanity Mr. Purdy made a desperate attempt to murder his two sisters. He resided with his mother, Mrs. Phebe Purdy, and his sister, Miss. Eliza Purdy. He was ill from an epileptic attack, and partially deranged. Another sister, Mrs. Anna Conkling, spent the night at the homestead to assist in taking care of her brother. The three ladies occupied a bed on the floor of the sitting room. Purdy slept in a room opening into this room At four o'clock this morning George entered the room occupied by the ladies and stopped the clock, saying that its ticking annoyed him and prevented his sleeping. A few minutes after retiring to his room he again entered the sitting room and threw himself flat on the floor and remained motionless. The sisters took him up and laid him on the bed and then went into his room and occupied his bed. The mother remained with him. In a few minutes he started up from the bed, seized a fireshovel, and went to the room where the sisters were. Opening the door he shouted: "I'm going to kill you both. The next place I will meet you is at the bar of God," and commenced stiking them on the head with the shovel. Then throwing that down he seized each by the throat and tried to choke them to death. After a terrible struggle they freed themselves from his grasp, and escaped to the sitting room. He followed them, and the struggle was renewed. The stove was overturned and the house was set on fire. At length the sisters succeeded in breaking away from the maniac. Miss Purdy running out of the front door and Mrs. Conkling starting for a rear door. Purdy pursued the latter, and having got a razer out of the bureau drawer, overtook her just as she got outside of the door. Here another terrible struggle took place, the madman endeavoring to cut his sister's throat and she battling for life. In the effort to get the razer from him she received two cuts, one in the right arm, just missing the main artery, and the other in the hand, but he drew the razor across her throat, making a terrible gash, laying bare the windpipe and the root of the tongue but missing the main arteries. While this struggle was going on Miss Purdy had run to the houses of several of the neighbors and alarmed them. The first one of them to reach the spot was Daniel Van Orsdall, who, on hearing the alarm had dressed himself as quickly as possible and followed Miss Purdy to the house. She reached it first and met the brother. Having, as he supposed, finished Mrs. Conkling, he attacked Miss Purdy, and seizing her by the hair of the head, threw her down on the ground. Mr. Van Orsdall coming up at this time, he knocked the brother down, and after another struggle managed, with the help of his young son and Miss Purdy, to secure the madman. But it took their united strength to hold him, and they feared that Mrs. Conkling would bleed to death before other help could arrive. At length, however, more of the neighbors came, George was tied, and Mrs. Conkling was cared for. She had made her way into the house after receiving her wounds, and the sister, knowing that the building was on fire, was afraid that her mother and sister would be burned up, but the flames were soon extinguished, and all danger from that source was averted. In the course of the morning an officer arrived from Marlborough—about a mile north of the scene of the tragedy—and George was handcuffed. He went to bed and refused to say a word to any one, but lay in the bed as if asleep. To-morrow he will be taken to the State Hospital at Poughkeepsie.

JACKSONVILLE.—We spent last Saturday in the stable town of Jacksonville. Contrary to our expectations we saw many things indicative of improvement and progress. Jacksonville, in Mayor Turnley, has a spirited and vigorous official head, one who has progresssiveness written in every lineament of his beaming countenance. The Public Square is lighted up, a Brass Band has been organized and is engaged in learning; only two weeks old, yet already perform creditably and, lastly Water Works are being built. The pipe is being laid down rapidly and in two weeks the people will have an abundance of pure, free-stone water from the mountains two miles distant. In company with the Mayor, State Treasurer Grant; Lon Grant, editor of the Republican; and darling, "thin" "Mungie," we visited the Reservoir, the Spring and the line of pipe, of the Jacksonville Water Works. Everything is being done in a substantial and permanent manner, and when the Works are completed they will be an honor to the Mayor and to the citizens of Jacksonville.—Talladega News.

Stephen Pearl Andrews is indignant that Greeley is called a philosopher, and thinks the term has been applied in sarcasm. "I have been studying forty years to be a philosopher," says Stephen, "and I don't yet know what philosophy is." The Detroit Free Press says: "To save any hard feelings in the future, we announce right here that we agree with Mr. Andrews."

Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, may be able to shut his eyes and vote for Greeley, who stands at the antipodes in every cardinal political belief in Watterson's creed; but how the angel can he reconcile it with his conscience to vote for a man who parts his name in the middle and spells it B. Gratz Brown?—[Columbus (O.) Journal.

Of the two colored cadets at West Point, Smith the original bone of contention, stands tenth in his class, which is an appreciable gain, month by month, while young Napier, for whom a better feeling has been entertained, in consequence of a franker and more amiable disposition, stands at the foot of a class of sixty-six members.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A NEW BEAUTIFYING AGENT.—All Dentifrices had their drawbacks, until the Salubrious Bark of the Soap Tree was brought from the Chilian Valleys to perfect the fragrant Sozodont, the most delightful article for the teeth that a brush was ever dipped into.

"CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED FOR 50 Cents."—Every case of Croup can be cured when first taken, by Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment, warranted for 24 years, and never a bottle returned. It also cures Diarrhœa, Dysentary, Colic, Sore Throat, Cuts, Burns and External Pains. Sold by the Druggists. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York.

VENUS herself would not have been beautiful if her complexion had been bad. If beauty is skin deep, is skin deep it is necessary to secure and retain that part of it; and ladies, instead of resorting to paints and powders, should remember that an impure, blotchy, or sallow skin is the proof of feeble digestion, torpid liver, or vitiated blood for all which Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS is a safe, sure, and effectual remedy.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE.—No oils neither pomades or alcoholic washes—foreign or domestic—can compare with Cocoaine as a hair dressing. It anchors the hair firmly in the scalp—gives it new life and lustre and renders it the "crowning glory" of both sexes, old and young.

PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL.—More accidents occur from using unsafe oils, than from steamboats and railroads combined. Over 200,000 families continue to burn Pratt's Astral Oil, and no accidents directly or indirectly have occurred from burning, storing or handling it. Oil House of Chas Pratt, Established 1770, New York.

A BEAUTIFUL WHITE, soft, smooth and clear skin is produced by using G. W. Laird's "Bloom of Youth." It removes tan, freckles, sunburns, and all other discolorations from the skin, leaving the complexion brilliant and beautiful. Sold at all druggists. This preparation is entirely free from any material detrimental to health.

JUST THE REMEDY NEEDED.—Thanks to Mrs Winslow's Toothing Syrup, we have for years been relieved from sleedless nights of painful watching with poor, suffering, teething children.

FOR DYSPEPSIA. Indigestion, depression of spirits and general debility in their various forms; also, as a preventive against Fever and Ague, and other intermittent fevers. The Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and Sold by all Druggists, is the best tonic, and for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it can no equal.

RISLEY'S GENUINE GOLDEN BELL COLOGNE WATER according to the original formula of Prevost, Paris, so so long known to the customers of Haviland Harral and Risley and their branches, for its fine permanent fragrance, is now made by W H Risley and the trade supplied by his successors, Morgan & Risley, Wholesale Druggists, New York.

THURSTON'S IVORY PEARL TOOTH POWDER.—The best article known for cleansing and preserving the teeth and gums. Sold by all Druggists.—Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. F C Wells & Co. New York

CARBOLIC SALVE, unequalled as a Healing compound. Physicians recommend it as the most wonderful remedy ever known Price 25 cents per box. John F. Henry, Sole Proprietor, 8 College Place, N. York.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE.—This magnificent compound is beyond contingency the safest and most reliable Dye in existence: never failing to impart to the hair uniformity of color, nourishment and elasticity. Manufactory, 68 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

"SYAPNIA is Opium purified of its sickening and poisonous qualities. It is a perfect anodyne not producing headache or constipation of the bowels as is the case with other preparations of opium. John Farr, Chemist, New York.

Womans' Rights.—One who has long studied this absorbing subject now presents to the women of our country the result of his investigations. He is happy to say that he has at last discovered "Woman's Best Friend." It is adapted, especially, to those cases where the womb is disordered, and will cure any irregularity of the "menses." Dr J. Bradfield's Female Regulator acts like a charm in "whites," or in a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from cold trouble of mind, or like causes, by restoring the discharge in every instance, So also in chronic cases its action is prompt and decisive, and saves the constitution from countless evils and premature decay. This valuable preparation is for sale at $1.50 per bottle by all respectable Druggist in the land. Prepared and sold by L. H. Bradfield, Druggist, Atlanta, Ga. A thousand women testify to its merits.
October 7 3m.

Editorial Notices are so common that it is almost impossible for an editor to express his honest opinion of the merits of any article without being suspected of interested motives. This fact, however, shall not deter us from saying what we think of a new addition to the Materia Medica to which our attention has been recently directed. We refer to DR. J. WALKER'S CALAFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS, a remedy which is making its way into more families just now than all the other advertised medicines put together. There seems to be no question about the potency of its tonic and alterative properties, while it possesses the great negative recommendation of containing neither alcoholic nor mineral poison. That it is a specific for Indigestion, Billiousness, Constipation, and many complaints of nervous origin, we have reason to know; and we are assured on good authority that as general invigorant, regulating and purifying medicine, it has no equal. It is stated that its ingredients, (obtained from the wilds of California,) are new to the medical world; and its extraordinary effects certainly warrant the conclusion that it is a compound of agents hitherto unknown. If popularity is any criterion, there can be no doubt of the efficiency of the VINEGAR BITTERS, for the sale of the article is immense and continually increasing. 4w

Dr. GOTTLIEB FISCH'S BITTERS.

(Shape of the bottle.)

This preparation of the great Scientist, Dr. Gottlieb Fisch, of Germany, is based on the fact that as all materials of the body are derived from Food, so all Vital Force, or Health, is derived from the Force stored up in Food. Dr Fisch's Bitters enables the System to liberate and appropriate these Forces creates Appetite, Cures Dyspepsia, with its resulting Debility and lack of Nervous Energy; so tones the Stomach and Liver as to make Constipation and Biliousness impossible; reinforces the System so it can tide over bad results of climating climate, water &c., and better endure the demands often unexpectedly made on its Force and Energy. Ladies in delicate health, aged persons and all emaciated and weak after sickness, will rapidly strengthen by using this great preparation.

JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, MAY 18th, 1872.

Call for a County Convention of the Democratic and Conservative Party of Calhoun.

The Central Committee of the Democratic and Conservative Party of Calhoun county hereby respectfully request the members of said party to meet, at an early day, in their respective Beats, and select delegates to represent them in a County Convention to be held at the Court House, on Saturday the 8th day of June next.

The object of the Convention is to select delegates to the State Convention, at Montgomery, on the 19th July, and to consider such other matters as may be thought advisable when assembled.

J. H. CALDWELL,)
JAMES CROOK, } Central Com.
G. L. TURNLEY,)

County Convention.

It will be observed that the Central Executive Committee of Calhoun have called a Convention at the Court House for June 8th 1872

In view of the vast importance of the next State Convention, and inasmuch as the policy of that Convention will be shaped in a great measure by the action of the primary County Conventions, it becomes necessary that such Conventions present a true reflex of the sentiments and wishes of the masses of the Democracy in the several counties of the State; and to that end, every beat in the counties and the majority of the party in every beat should be represented in the persons of their delegates in such conventions, and such delegates should be the coolest-headed, the most sagacious, prudent and sensible men in the various beats. Too much depends upon the canvass upon which we are just entering to trust the management of our conventions, (which will find the action of the people) to political tricksters, party dead beats and regular convention frequenters. These gentry figure too largely in most County Conventions for the good of the people.

Will the Democrats of beats of the County manifest more than an ordinary interest in the coming County Convention? Will they see not only that such are appointed, but that they come? Will they take a hand in shaping the policy of the party that now actually and absolutely holds the destiny of the country in hand? We believe that they will, and that the coming county Convention will be the largest and most representative that has assembled since the war.

Some time back the New York World and Alex. Stephens' paper, the Atlanta Sun, were denouncing each other as unsound and impracticable Democrats respectively. Now they stand together almost alone in their opposition to the acceptance of Greeley and Brown by the Democratic party, still unsound and impracticable respectively.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, says to the North on Democracy, in speaking of the policy to be pursued by the Baltimore Convention: "With the united South, which only lacks twenty six votes of being sufficient to choose a President, there can not be a doubt of our triumphant victory. Let that section, therefore, be consulted, and its advice followed."

The Democratic State Convention of Kentucky meets on the 20th of May. It is the next to hear from.

Senator Morton, Grant's bosom friend and supporter, was detected in an effort to supplant his master and secure the Philadelphia nomination for himself. This coming to the ears of the editor of the Cincinnatti Gazette, a Grant paper, that individual brought the Hon. O. P. M. to taw with the following dispatch:

CINCINNATTI, May 10.

Hon. O. P. Morton:

Is there any foundation for the report about you, telegraphed last night?

EDWARD SMAL.

To which Morton replied in the following "general denial," which for comprehensiveness and breadth is far ahead of anything yet brought out in the campaign:

WASHINGTON, May 10.

Richard Smith, Cincinnati Gazette:

Do not know what the report is. If it is any thing extraordinary or dreadful, it is false, whatever it is.

O. P. MORTON.

Mr. Ferry the Greeley candidate, has defeated Hawley, the Grant candidate for the U. S. Senate in Connecticut.

A drove of eight or nine partridges walked gravely and undismayed up one of our main streets, about dusk, last Tuesday.

Jacksonville Republican.

Undismayed—of course. Instinct doubtless told them that there was plenty of grass and weeds growing in the aforesaid main street for them to hide in.

Talladega Watch-tower.

Well, now that the gudgeon of the Watch-tower has so readily swallowed the bait, we may as well mention that no partridges appeared at all. The squib was thrown out as a text for the dismal wit of the boys who drive the quill around about. We were as morally certain that the "hit" about the weeds growing in the streets would be made, as we were that we penned the deliberate lie so well calculated to catch the attention of the wary, and vigilant country editor, whose eye never slumbers nor sleeps.

Mr. Greeley makes the very comprehensive promise that he "will sign any bill Congress may pass provided it is constitutional, no matter what his personal views may be." His election would involve a Democratic House of Representatives, and in two years a Democratic Senate. How much would his Republicanism in the Presidency be worth?

TELEGRAPHIC RESUME

MAY 9.—A motion to indefinitely postpone a National Democratic Convention, in the Democratic Executive Committee, was voted down.

A meeting of Democratic Editors in Illinois resolved to await the action of the Democratic Convention at Baltimore, before endorsing Greeley, when if he is endorsed, they will give him a hearty support.

The bill to admit Japanese to West Point Academy was tabled.

Sumner's civil rights bill as substituted for amnesty was defeated; but was adopted as an amendment by Colfax casting his vote. Several amendments modifying Sumner's amendment was defeated by Colfax's vote. The bill as amended finally failed. This brought the House bill (amnesty pure) again before the Senate when Sumner again moved his social equality amendment and Colfax again voted for it. Morton also got in his amendment requiring persons applying for amnesty to swear that they were not Ku Klux; and the bill as amended was again defeated. It seems likely now that Sumner will be able, by tacking on his amendment, to defeat any amnesty bill this session, the Democrats and Liberal Republicans preferring no amnesty purchased at the price of social equality, such as Sumner wishes to force upon the people of the United States.

All available vessels to be put in seagoing condition, and the navy generally strengthened.

In the General Conference of the M. E. Church in New York, several memorials were read against invidious distinction of race or color, in electing officers &c. A committee of six was appointed to convey fraternal greeting to the General Conference of the M. E. Church South, to meet 1874. A proposition to empower the Committee to enter to effect an organization with the Church South was voted down.

Lewis McKenzie, Republican delegate at large for Virginia to the Philadelphia Convention, has returned his credentials and declines attending said Convention; he will support Greeley and Brown.

Delaware and Minnesota delegates to the Philadelphia Convention are instructed to vote for Grant & Colfax.

U. S. Medical association has resolved to discourage the use of alcoholic stimulants in their remedies.

It is likely that Congress will adjourn on the 20th of May.

MAY 10.—The fortifications bill passed. It appropriates two millions of dollars to the strengthening of the forts, many of them in the South.

Sumner again introduced his civil rights bill. The election bill to carry the State of Louisiana for Grant passed the Senate. The House may kill it. A further bill in the interest of Grant, such as now applies to cities of twenty thousand inhabitants, will be introduced.

Differences between England and the United States on the consequential damage, irreconcilable.

It is charged that Morton has proven unfaithful to his master, Grant, and has been himself working for the Radical nomination. He denies it.

Frolic Steamer, Rotary, off old Point, in Currituck Sound, exploded her boiler and killed the chief engineer, his wife, children and sister-in-law. Several of the crew badly scalded.

A terrible fire in Somerset, Pa. It destroyed six stores in the heart of the town, embracing two blocks of the valuable buildings. Fifty families are homeless. Loss one million of dollars. Insurance, seventy five thousand.

Fires are still raging in the forests of Ulster and Sullivan counties, N. Y.

The citizens of Atlanta gave the Georgia Press Association a thousand dollar banquet last night.

MAY 11.—The Radicals of Wyoming Territory instruct their delegates to vote for Grant and Colfax, at Philadelphia.

The old lions and a few fanatical fools held a meeting last night in New York. Mrs. Woodhull spoke prophesying that from this convention would issue a power that would shape the destinies of the world. Mrs. Woodhull and Fred Douglas, were then nominated for President and Vice President, amid great confusion. A delegate nominated "Spotted Tail," saying "Indians before niggers." Another suggested if Douglas declines a "Heathen Chinee be nominated instead." This convention broke up in an uproar.

Matamoras, Mexico, still under martial law. Several disasters to the Revolutionists reported. Trevino, a Revolutionary leader, states that a movement is on foot to concentrate the revolutionists and capture the capitol.

The Government of Spain announces that the Carlist insurrection is over.

The London Post says that England has withdrawn from the Geneva arbitration.

The President was at the Capitol today consulting with the Senators. The consultation continues to night at the White House. Nothing has transpired but it is thought that it means amnesty.

In the M. E. Conference several addresses were made hoping that peace would continue betwe n England and the United States, and that reconciliation between the Methodist Church North and South might be effected.

The King of Spain has pardoned the Havana students sentenced to the chain gang some months ago for violating the grave of Castenon.

MAY 12.—J. Bateman, a Turkish clerk in the New York Post Office has been caught and admits his guilt.

Georgia Press Association arrived in Nashville, tendered a banquet at the Exposition Hall. Chattanooga also tenders them a banquet on their return from the Mammoth Cave.

MAY 13.—Another explosion in the Scranton mines three killed.

Many Spaniards leaving Cuba.

In the House Voorhees, in a personal explanation made a bitter anti-Greeley speech.

The Senate is considering the supplemental enforcement bill. (The bill by which Grant can flood the South with his bayonets.)

Lead Works in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania burned. Loss $500,000.

A negro who had committed rape, was hanged in Carthage Tennessee.

South Mountain forest, in Pennsylvania is burning.

The Court of Claims has adjourned all important adjudicated cases until November.

As it is well known that Great Britain will agree to the proposed new article and that both governments are anxious to save the Treaty by this means it was thought proper to place the Senate in possession of all the facts in order that the executive, acting upon their advice, might pursue the negotiation so as to secure the consummation of the Treaty in a manner satisfactory to the two Governments. There was a brief debate after the reading of the documents involving the merits of the question. A motion was made to remove the injunction of secresy but this failed and the message and documents were then ordered to be printed in confidence and refered to the Committee on Foreign Relations. There is scarcely a question that the Senate will advise the acceptance of the additional article to the Treaty.

Goldthwaite's bill for bridging the rivers that empty into Mobile bay, passed.

In the House in a political colloquy that ensued after Voorhees speech against Greeley, several prominent members of the house spoke briefly to the effect that the Baltimore Convention should reject Greeley. Voorhees himself said that he never bolted a nomination. Bulter of Massachusetts from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill removing political disabilities from all persons who aided the late rebellion except Senators and Representatives in the 36th and 37th Congress, officers in the Judiciary, military and naval service of the United States and heads of Departments and foreign ministers of the United States, which passed.

Butler also reported a bill removing twenty-five thousand political disabilities by names which passed.

McDonald's Knitting Mill in Amsterdam New York burned. Loss $700,000.

Mountain fires in Chichester county New York, are three miles in length. On Friday all day the smoke was so dense that the sun was obscured. United efforts of one hundred and fifty men alone saved the Village of Chichester.

The property of John Slidell, which was confiscated, has been restored to his heirs.

MAY 14.—The Mobile Tribune has hoisted the name of Greeley and Brown, subject to the action of the State Democratic Convention which meets in Montgomery, June 19th.

The Carlists, so far from being disbanded, are masters of three Spanish provinces, and an important engagement is expected at Bilboa.

England and the U. S. are in a fair way to settle all differences by an additional article of the Treaty which both will agree upon.

Horace Greeley has retired from the editorial control of the New York Tribune, that he may run the race unshackled. This looks as if he designed to stick.

New arrests of citizens under the enforcement act are daily reported from Fairfield and other counties in South Carolina.

Kellog's supplemental enforcement bill has passed the Senate by 34 to 17. The discussion was quite exciting and indicated the hopelessness of Amnesty this session.

The bill extending to March 4th 1873 the extraordinary powers of the President under the Ku-klux bill, was called up, but no action was had.

The House Committee on Naval affairs have agreed upon a report in favor of the construction of ten sloops of war.

Rev. Mr. Huston has commenced his libel suit against the Baltimore American, laying damages at one hundred dollars. The Church Committee are about commencing their official investigation of charges against Dr. Huston.

The Connecticut Legislature on separate ballot of the two houses, gave Ferry, Liberal Republican candidate for U. S. Senate, nine majority over Hawley, Grant Radical candidate.

The Liberal Republicans have effected a thorough organization in the State of New York.

New York Legislature has adjourned. Great rejoicing in Texas over the seating of Giddings (Democrat) over Clark (Radical) in Congress.

The largest Conservative meeting in Petersburg, Va. since the war, ratified nomination of Greeley and Brown with great enthusiasm.

Committee of members of Boston press are making extensive preparations to accommodate their newspaper brethren throughout the country who accept invitations to attend the International Peace Jubilee.

A room in the Coliseum will be specially fitted up and assigned for their use. A banquet is also in contemplation for the press on the occasion day of the Jubilee.

MAY 15.—A force of Carlists returning to Spain from Portugal were met at the frontiers by Government troops and driven back.

NEW YORK.—Gold dull at 1.13½. Cotton, uplands, 23½; Orleans 24½.

Motion was made to adjourn Congress May 20th until November, but was withdrawn. It will be renewed.

Georgia Democratic Convention called for June 26th.

HUMORS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

A Supposititous Veto from Horace Greeley.

[From the Chicago Post.]

COMMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

I return this obnoxious measure without my approval. The man who introduced it is an ass; the men who voted for it are echoing British agents, and the men who say this is not the case are liars and horse-thieves. I judge that, on an average, every man, woman and child in America uses a ton of guano a year in some shape or other; whether as the farmer in New York, Louisiana, Colorado, Podunk, etc., in agriculture, or as Charles A. Dana, for editorial articles. We thus consume, in round figures, 40,000,000 of tons of guano annually. The arbitrary and revolutionary act which I veto to day would thus impose a tax of four millions of dollars a year on our people. With what effect? It would not stimulate the production of American guano. American birds could not compete with the pauper labor of birds in debauched and priest-ridden Central America. I am not quite sure as to what I mean or why it is not so, or what is which, but the man who speaks to the contrary is a hell-hound and bribed by British gold. H. G.

In political circles for some days past there have been rumors that the Administration at Washington contemplates a grand coup de etat on the Spanish question which would electrify the country and tend to draw the attention of the people from the blunders of the Administration in regard to consequential damages and the Alabama question. This coup de etat, rumor says, will be nothing less than a war with Spain and the capture of Cuba. These rumors are farther to the effect that Grant expects to gain popularity by this movement, and that it is to be his great card before the Philadelphia Convention, and the people afterward. These rumors have been current in political circles for a week or ten days past. Advices from Washington to-day, however, give these rumors significance.

ON DIT.—J. L. Pennington, late Senator from Lee county in the Alabama Legislature, has been appointed Governor of one of the Western Territories; also that the Opelika Era will change proprietors within a few days and come out for Grant. The Era is now fighting for Greeley, manibus pedibusque.

Montgomery Advertiser.

Colonel John H. Keatley, of Council Bluffs, has handed in his resignation as Chairman of the Republican Committee of Pottawatomie. He is for Greeley.

Senator Morton warmly denies all responsibility for the scheme mentioned herein yesterday, to bring himself forward as a substitute for Grant. It is all the work of an insane brother-in-law. Ah, those irrepressible brothers-in-law! The last thing Morton and his chief can do, on kissing and making up the affair is to Resolve, That our brothers-in-law be banished in a body to Timbuctoo for the balance of our political lives. The term would not be so long as to make the sentence a serious one.

By the way, Morton's telegram to Dick Smith, anent this matter, will do for a stereotyped denial, good during the whole campaign. He says (affecting ignorance), "if it is anything dreadful, or extraordinary, it is a lie." An equivalent statement, in another form, would be, "I hereby unqualifiedly deny anything which anybody may say against me during the present campaign."

Chicago Tribune.

Savage Duel Between Two Mexican Ladies.

Two Mexican ladies of rank at a recent ball at Santa Cruz, getting into a dispute in regard to the number of dances due each by a neutral lover, one of them throwing her No. 5½ kid glove into the other's face, challenged her to mortal combat. They met the next morning. The challenged having the choice of weapons chose the short sword, and after a few passes her weapon passed entirely through the white sword arm of her antagonist, entirely disabling it. Frantic with rage and pain the wounded fury seized a pistol and dared the other to "come on Macduff." Nothing loth, the other took her position, the word was given, and again the challenger was wounded, her left arm being broken by the ball of her antagonist. She was carried off the field in a swoon, and the other more fortunate fair married the casus belli two hours afterwards.

A Chicago lady who is trying to break herself of the habit of smoking, has cut herself down to fifteen cigars a day.

A Troy musical composer is called C. Mortimer Whiskey. He was not the author of "Coming Through the Rye."

Even at this late day a Chicago sufferer has victimized Elkader out of $40. The C. S., however, has since been arrested for stealing a horse.

Buzzing Bull-Toad, Chief of the Sacs, is no more. He bought a gallon of alcohol of a trader, and contracted to carry it home without a jug.

B. Gratz Brown (the fact he is addicted to giving improper protuberance to his middle name is one of the worst things we know about him) was born in Frankfort, Kentucky.

Ben Butler and Brick Pomeroy are to fight a duel. It is feared they are both bad shots.

A Missouri murderer, sentenced to be hanged, offers to shoot George Francis Train if the Governor will pardon him. His proposition is worthy of consideration.

The Fat Contributor's lecture for next season will be entitled: "Why do I Lecture?" He wants to see how many payers will say, "We give it up."

The English papers have ceased deriding the Tichborne claimant, and admit that his case is "rising almost to its former dignity and interest."

A. S. Abel, Esq. editor and proprietor of the Baltimore Sun, is stated to have amassed a fortune of $10,000,000. He commenced life as a journeyman printer, forty years ago, and is reputed to be the wealthiest man in Baltimore.

Suppose somebody had told Horace Greeley nine years ago—say about the time of the New York riots—that he would by this time be a candidate for the Presidency, "subject to the National Democratic Convention," what would he have said? He would have called the individual a liar and a horse thief, at least.—St. Louis Democrat.

Petroleum V. Nasby, it is said, makes $44,000 per annum by lecturing and by his notable letters. Mark Twain made $150,000 by his "Innocents Abroad," and expects $200,000 for "Roughing It." It is well worth while to be rough and to have been rough at those figures.

Capt. Goodenough went through the "infernal fire" of Waterloo, and escaped unharmed; which was good enough, too. But, after all these years, the old veteran fell into a pond the other day in East Devon, England, and was drowned; and that was certainly too bad.

President Finney, of Oberlin College, has started out on a lecturing tour against Freemasonry, and asserts that he will not stop speaking until every Masonic Lodge in the country has disbanded. If he holds to his word he will only be a middle-aged man three or four centuries hence.

In reply to a correspondent we would remark that it was in the fall of 1860 that Mr. Greeley wrote his famous editorial, "Let the Wayward Sisters Depart in Peace," in which appeared the following sentiment: "If any respectable number of the citizens of a State desire to secede from the government, I know of no power that can or ought to restrain them." It is understood that the prophetic philosopher wrote it for use during this campaign.

The Concert given by the young men of the Brass Band, assisted by some of the ladies, Wednesday night, at College Hall, was largely attended and, we think, appreciated. The ladies, without exception, acquitted themselves splendidly, and the gentlemen came off very handsomely, indeed. The music of both the string and brass bands was very good, although the latter has been playing but three weeks: the drama of Ben Bolt was well rendered; the songs, including the selections from Berlini's Opperetta of Norma, were charming; the farce was laughable; the evening altogether pleasant. Several visitors from other parts of the County were present. The am't realized was about $75 00.

We have received from Capt. A. D. Bennett of Gadsden, a fine box of a complete assortment of the candies that he is now manufacturing, embracing cream Candy, the best stick flavored in every manner &c., &c. These candies are purer and better than any bought from the cities and there is undoubtedly more cleanliness practiced in their manufacture. for the Captain is a neat man and will have none but cleanly employees about him. The price too is so moderate that our merchants may order from him to as good profit as from a more distant market. We owe it to ourselves to encourage home enterprise and we hope the merchants of Calhoun will extend to Capt. Bennett all the patronage they have to bestow. Send to him for price list. He will furnish it with pleasure.

There is great complaint of the irregularity of letter carriage along the mail routes in this part of the State, and the mailing, from all accounts is exceedingly costly. We hope the P. M. We call attention to the advertisement of Messers Bones & Co. in another column, in relation to Stove Peddlers. Most peddlers who sell for part cash and part note, get about the worth of the article in cash and then shave the note off for whatever they can get for it. We do not know that the stove peddlers now working through Georgia and to whom we refer oppose the advertisement has reference. If such things, but it would be well enough for our people to keep their eyes skinned, and not suffer themselves to be cheated. We know Messers Bones, and can recommend them.

ALEXANDRIA LOCALS.

REPLY TO "†"

MR. EDITOR:—We noticed in the Republican of last week an article from a would be critic, who attempts to criticise the locals of your paper. We cannot imagine what prompted him to do it, unless it was for the more satisfaction of seeing some of his own productions in print, or perhaps the talented gentleman feels slighted that he has not with all his "sagacity and judgment" been requested to contribute locals to the Republican.

Our critic says he knows how difficult it is for an editor to undertake to please everybody, now we cannot speak from experience as does this so-called critic, but we suppose it is hard, and we presume it is harder to please everybody than it is to undertake the matter. It has been said by some man that 'twas a good idea in journalism to have one column for a wise man and one for a fool and so on alternating 'till the sheet is filled. Now we suppose you try to do this as all other journalists do, and the only way we can account for this so-called critic's displeasure, is, he has simply been according to rule and strike those columns not intended for him specially, but for the wise man. "†" says in the outset, he has one remark to make, he has made it and by so doing has immortalized himself. I dare say each local correspondent will follow our example. After blushing, hanging our heads and feeling ashamed of our "weak and silly ways" under this seathing rebuke, we promise ourselves that as we are disappointed in the "larger class of our readers," thinking them to be wise men, we will make blunt our quill and quit.

RABBITTOWN LOCALS

MR. GRANT.—I have been looking for the Rabbittown Locals, by X, for some time and can't imagine why he stopped, unless it was because he (after protracted efforts) has killed a Gobbler, and has since turned his attention in the turkey direction.

Our wheat has improved in appearance, and begins to help our feelings. Hope we will make some to spare.

Most of the farmers would like to see a "gentle shower" now, as the present drough is keeping cotton from coming up, and will make a great deal of it too late to do well if the ground is not wet soon.

We have been pleased to learn through your columns of recent date that work on the Water-works have been resumed. We are anxious to see them completed at an early day. At the same time, we are fearful, that perhaps the Water-works have absorbed so much of the attention and capital of the citizens of Jacksonville as to let the opportunity of securing the location of some of the many anticipated Rail Roads through our country slip by.

A good many of our people would like to write and send in locals. One says he is a good hand to compose but a bad hand to write. Another has written two quires of foolscap paper (a small local) on both sides, and is fearful that you will not receive it that way: and as it will be too expensive for him (individually) to buy four quires of paper to re-write it and leave one side blank, he wishes to wait until the Commissioners court sits again, and thinks his claim to cover all expenses will be allowed, as it will be for the public good. He has doubtless forgot that new commissioners were elected last November.

The Mobile barbers now put the Dolly Varden touch on the heads of young men who are able to afford a "hair dress" every time they go out to an evening party. The style consists in pasting the hair down lower than ever on the forehead and making a regular "Mose" soaplock in front of each ear. The Register says the wearers look sweet enough to kick.

TOMATO OMELETTE.—Six eggs, a wine-glass of flour, four ripe tomatoes, pepper and salt to the taste, milk sufficient to mix the flower smoothly. Beat the eggs very light, stir in the mixed milk and flour, peel and chop the tomatoes, and add with the pepper and salt. Have a pan with some hot butter, pour in the mixture, and fry it. When done, it may be lapped half over or not, according to the fancy. Do not turn it.

Some of the Democratic papers don't like to see Mr. Greeley coming aboard the Democratic craft, this one for instance:

His coming reminds us of the donkey who got his foot in the stirrup. Said Pat, who was riding him: "Now, look here, be jabers!—If you're after getting on I'll be after getting off."—[New York Standard.

Lively Times Expected in Indiana

Dick Bright, editor of the Indianapolis Sentinel, and nephew of Jesse D. Bright, in an interview to-day, stated that the coming fall campaign in Indiana would be of intense interest and excitement, owing to the probability of Hendricks running against Morton. The latter will return with impaired health, yet he will make a desperate struggle to maintain his hold. If Grant is defeated Morton will be sacrificed. The Democracy of Indiana and Kentucky, Bright says, will support any liberal candidate. The defection of Geo. W. Julian, the representative war-horse of the Free Soil district in Indiana, is looked on as evidence of the intensity of the fall campaign in that State.

DESPERATE STRUGGLE WITH A MANIAC.

Attempted Murder of Two Sisters —A Battle for Life.

POUGHKEEPSIE, March 7.

A terrible affair happend near Marlborough, Ulster county, this morning at the house of George Wm. Purdy, who resides seven miles north of Newburg, near the first named place. While laboring under temporary insanity Mr. Purdy made a desperate attempt to murder his two sisters. He resided with his mother, Mrs. Phebe Purdy, and his sister, Miss. Eliza Purdy. He was ill from an epileptic attack, and partially deranged. Another sister, Mrs. Anna Conkling, spent the night at the homestead to assist in taking care of her brother. The three ladies occupied a bed on the floor of the sitting room. Purdy slept in a room opening into this room At four o'clock this morning George entered the room occupied by the ladies and stopped the clock, saying that its ticking annoyed him and prevented his sleeping. A few minutes after retiring to his room he again entered the sitting room and threw himself flat on the floor and remained motionless. The sisters took him up and laid him on the bed and then went into his room and occupied his bed. The mother remained with him. In a few minutes he started up from the bed, seized a fireshovel, and went to the room where the sisters were. Opening the door he shouted: "I'm going to kill you both. The next place I will meet you is at the bar of God," and commenced stiking them on the head with the shovel. Then throwing that down he seized each by the throat and tried to choke them to death. After a terrible struggle they freed thomselves from his grasp, and escaped to the sitting room. He followed them, and the struggle was renewed. The stove was overturned and the house was set on fire. At length the sisters succeeded in breaking away from the maniac. Miss Purdy running out of the front door and Mrs. Conkling starting for a rear door. Purdy pursued the latter, and having got a razor out of the bureau drawer, overtook her just as she got outside of the door. Here another terrible struggle took place, the madman endeavoring to cut his sister's throat and she battling for life. In the effort to get the razor from him she received two cuts, one in the right arm, just missing the main artery, and the other in the hand, but he drew the razor across her throat, making a terrible gash, laying bare the windpipe and the root of the tongue but missing the main arteries. While this struggle was going on Miss Purdy had run to the houses of several of the neighbors and alarmed them. The first one of them to reach the spot was Daniel Van Orsdall, who, on hearing the alarm had dressed himself as quickly as possible and followed Miss Purdy to the house. She reached it first and met the brother. Having, as he supposed, finished Mrs. Conkling, he attacked Miss Purdy, and seizing her by the hair of the head, threw her down on the ground. Mr. Van Orsdall coming up at this time, he knocked the brother down, and after another struggle managed, with the help of his young son and Miss Purdy, to secure the madman. But it took their united strength to hold him, and they feared that Mrs. Conkling would bleed to death before other help could arrive. At length, however, more of the neighbors came, George was tied, and Mrs. Conkling was cared for. She had made her way into the house after receiving her wounds, and the sister, knowing that the building was on fire, was afraid that her mother and sister would be burned up, but the flames were soon extinguished, and all danger from that source was averted. In the course of the morning an officer arrived from Marlborough—about a mile north of the scene of the tragedy—and George was handcuffed. He went to bed and refused to say a word to any one, but lay in the bed as if asleep. To-morrow he will be taken to the State Hospital at Poughkeepsie.

JACKSONVILLE.—We spent last Saturday in the stable town of Jacksonville. Contrary to our expectations we saw many things indicative of improvement and progress. Jacksonville, in Mayor Turnley, has a spirited and vigorous official head, one who has progresssiveness written in every lineament of his beaming countenance. The Public Square is lighted up, a Brass Band has been organized and is engaged in learning; only two weeks old, yet already perform creditably and, lastly Water Works are being built. The pipe is being laid down rapidly and in two weeks the people will have an abundance of pure, free-stone water from the mountains two miles distant. In company with the Mayor, State Treasurer Grant; Lon Grant, editor of the Republican; and darling, "thin" "Mungie," we visited the Reservoir, the Spring and the line of pipe, of the Jacksonville Water Works. Everything is being done in a substantial and permanent manner, and when the Works are completed they will be an honor to the Mayor and to the citizens of Jacksonville.—Talladega News.

Stephen Pearl Andrews is indignant that Greeley is called a philosopher, and thinks the term has been applied in sarcasm. "I have been studying forty years to be a philosopher," says Stephen, "and I don't yet know what philosophy is." The Detroit Free Press says: "To save any hard feelings in the future, we announce right here that we agree with Mr. Andrews.'

Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, may be able to shut his eyes and vote for Greeley, who stands at the antipodes in every cardinal political belief in Watterson's creed; but how the angel can he reconcile it with his conscience to vote for a man who parts his name in the middle and spells it B. Gratz Brown?—[Columbus (O.) Journal.

Of the two colored cadets at West Point, Smith the original bone of contention, stands tenth in his class, which is an appreciable gain, month by month, while young Napier, for whom a better feeling has been entertained, in consequence of a franker and more amiable disposition, stands at the foot of a class of sixty-six members.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A NEW BEAUTIFYING AGENT.—All Dentifrices had their drawbacks, until the Salubrious Bark of the Soap Tree was brought from the Chilian Valleys to perfect the fragrant Sozodont, the most delightful article for the teeth that a brush was ever dipped into.

"CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED FOR 50 Cents."—Every case of Croup can be cured when first taken, by Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment, warranted for 21 years, and never a bottle returned. It also cures Diarrhea, Dysentary, Colic, Sore Throat, Cuts, Burns and External Pains. Sold by the Druggists. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York.

VENUS herself would not have been beautiful if her complexion had been bad. If beauty is skin deep, is skin deep it is necessary to secure and retain that part of it: and ladies, instead of resorting to paints and powders, should remember that an impure, blotchy, or sallow skin is the proof of feeble digestion, torpid liver, or vitiated blood for all which Dr. WALKER'S CALAFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS is a safe, sure, and effectual remedy.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE.—No oils neither pomades or alcoholic washes—foreign or domestic—can compare with Cocoaine as a hair dressing. It anchors the hair firmly in the scalp—gives it new life and lustre and renders it the "crowning glory" or both sexes, old and young.

PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL.—More accidents occur from using unsafe oils, than from steamboats and railroads combined. Over 200,000 families continue to burn Pratt's Astral Oil, and no accidents directly or indirectly have occurred from burning, storing or handling it. Oil House of Chas Pratt, Established 1770, New York.

A BEAUTIFUL WHITE, soft, smooth and clear skin is produced by using G. W. Laird's "Bloom of Youth." It removes tan, freckles, sunburns, and all other discolorations from the skin, leaving the complexion brilliant and beautiful. Sold at all druggists. This preparation is entirely free from any material detrimental to health.

JUST THE REMEDY NEEDED.—Thanks to Mrs Winslow's Toothing Syrup, we have for years been relieved from sleedless nights of painful watching with poor, suffering, teething children.

FOR DYSPEPSIA. Indigestion, depression of spirits and general debility in their various forms; also, as a preventive ag inst Fever and Ague, and other intermittent fevers. The Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya, made by Caswell, Hazard & CO., New York, and sold by all Druggists, is the best tonic, and for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it can no equal.

RISLEY'S GENUINE GOLDEN BELL COLOGNE WATER according to the original formula of Prevost, Paris, so so long known to the customers of Haviland Harral and Risley and their branches, for its fine permanent fragrance, is now made by W H Risley and the trade supplied by his successors, Morgan & Risley, Wholesale Druggists, New York.

THURSTON'S IVORY PEARL TOOTH POWDER.—The best article known for cleansing and preserving the teeth and gums. Sold by all Druggists.—Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. F C Wells & Co, New York

CARBOLIC SALVE, unequalled as a Healing compound. Physicians recommend it as the most wonderful remedy ever known Price 25 cents per box. John F. Henry, Sole Proprietor, 8 College Place, N. York.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE.—This magnificent compound is beyond contingency the safest and most reliable Dye in existence: never failing to impart to the hair uniformity of color, nourishment and elasticity. Manufactory, 68 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

SWAYNE is Opium purified of its sickening and poisonous qualities. It is a perfect anodyne not producing headache or constipation of the bowels as is the case with other preparations of opium. John Farr, Chemist, New York.

Womans' Rights.—One who has long studied this absorbing subject now presents to the women of our country the result of his investigations. He is happy to say that he has at last discovered "Woman's Best Friend." It is adapted, especially, to those cases where the womb is disordered, and will cure any irregularity of the "menses." Dr J. Bradfield's Female Regulator acts like a charm in "whites," or in a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from cold trouble of mind, or like causes, by restoring the discharge in every instance, So also in chronic cases its action is prompt and decisive, and saves the constitution from countless evils and premature decay. This valuable preparation is for sale at $1.50 per bottle by all respectable Druggist in the land. Prepared and sold by L. H. Bradfield, Druggist, Atlanta, Ga. A thousand women testify to its merits.

Editorial Notices are so common that it is almost impossible for an editor to express his honest opinion of the merits of any article without being suspected of interested motives. This fact, however, shall not deter us from saying what we think of a new addition to the Materia Medica to which our attention has been recently directed. We refer to DR. J. WALKER'S CALAFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS, a remedy which is making its way into more families just now than all the other advertised medicines put together. There seems to be no question about the potency of its tonic and alterative properties, while it possesses the great negative recommendation of containing neither alcoholic nor mineral poison. That it is a specific for Indigestion, Billiousness, Constipation, and many complaints of nervous origin, we have reason to know; and we are assured on good authority that as general invigorant, regulating and purifying medicine, it has no equal. It is stated that its ingredients, (obtained from the wilds of California,) are new to the medical world; and its extraordinary effects certainly warrant the conclusion that it is a compound of agents hitherto unknown. If popularity is any criterion, there can be no doubt of the efficiency of the VINEGAR BITTERS, for the sale of the article is immense and coutinually increasing. 4w

A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical Cure of Seminal weakness, or Spermatorrhœa, induced by Self-Abuse, Involuntary emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits: Mental and Physical Incapacity, etc. By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D., author of the "Green Book" etc.

The world-renowned author in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without medicines, and without dangerous surgical operations, bouies, instruments, rings, or cordials, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically. THIS LECTURE WILL PROVE A BOON TO THOUSANDS AND THOUSANDS.

Dr. GOTTLIEB FISCH'S BITTERS.

(Shape of the bottle)

This preparation of the great Scientist, Dr. Gottlieb Fisch, of Germany, is based on the fact that, as all materials of the body are derived from Food, so all Vital Force, or Health, is derived from the Force stored up in Food. Dr. Fisch's Bitters enables the System to liberate and appropriate these Forces creates Appetite, cures Dyspepsia, with its resulting Debility and lack of Nervous Energy; so tones the Stomach and Liver as to make Constipation and Billiousness impossible; restores the System so it can tide over bad results of changing climate, water &c., and better endure the demands often unexpectedly made on its Force and Energy. Ladies in delicate health, aged persons and all enfeebled and weak after sickness, will rapidly strengthen by using this great preparation.

LOVE WITHOUT NONSENSE.

Not a Bit Like a Novel—A Capital Take off on the High-Pressure Style of Doing It.

Once upon a time there was a fair young maiden, whose name was Mary, although they called her Moll, for short. She wasn't a tall, dark-eyed maiden, with clear, transparent skin, and lips like cherries, and cheeks suffused with blushes. She didn't have glossy black hair, sweeping back in wavy tresses from her queenly brow, and her form wasn't a bit like Hebe's. No, there were none of these things. On the contrary, she was short and thin, and had red hair and freckles, and she also sported snaggle teeth, and wore pads; but still she was a right nice girl, and there was a young man who fell in love with her, and his name was Bill, although his friends called him William when they wanted to hurt his feelings, for he didn't like it much. He wasn't fine-looking, and had neither curly brown hair nor a moustache. Not much. Bill laid himself out on soap-locks, and wore a goatee that he had dyed twice a week

Now, this Bill was in love with Mary, but did he go and make a deliberate ass of himself? Did he, I say, go into a grove with her, and in the soft moonlight, by the streamlet that murmured sweetly by, and with the tender zephyr sighing through the foliage, fall down on his knees, seize her jeweled hand, and breathe his deep affection in the tender accents of fond attachment, and swear "by yon bright orb above us, always to be thine?" Did he, I say? You can just bet he didn't. You can lay out your whole revenue safely on that. William knew too much about the price of pants to go flopping around on the wet grass with his good clothes on: besides, he never cared anything about streamlets or any kind of cold water, except with his gin. No, sir, it was exceedingly strange, but this infatuated William met her at the alley gate, and he stood right up on his old legs and says: "Say, Moll, old gal, s'posen we get hitched?"

But how did Mary behave? Did she go drooping to sleep over on the bricks in a dead faint, or did she hide her gentle head on his shirt bosom to conceal her blushes? No, she didn't, and she didn't say, "I'm ever thine, my own love, dear William!" Oh, my, no. She looked right in his yellow eyes and says "I'm in, Billy! I'm the gal for those sort of things. Go in." And instead of referring him to her father, she only said: "Won't the old man bust right out when you tell him! Ha! ha!" and she laughed. But she didn't ask William to try to mollify her fond father. No, no. She very wickedly advised him to "poke the old man in the nose if he gave him any of his lip." She was a funny girl, this Mary.

Now, the old man wasn't wealthy for he sold soap-fat for a living, and so he didn't think Bill was nosing around after his stamps; so when Bill asked him, he neither ordered him fiercely away, nor did the dewey moisture gather in his eagle eye as he passed his hemstitched up there and said: "Bless you, my children, bless you!" Oh, no, nothing of the sort. He just blew his old red nose in his bandanna and told Bill to take her along, for he was glad to get rid of her, he was, and William would be the same way mighty soon, for she was awful rough on victuals, and always broke plates when she got mad.

So, you see, there really was no necessity for William to come at midnight's solemn hour, in a cab, and throw a rope-ladder up to her window, and whistle three times on his fingers, and then go up, hand over hand, and bring her down in one hand and the trunk in the other, and a band-box and an umbrella under each arm, and a whole lot of bundles, and then get into the cab and fly to some distant shore. That's the way it would have been in a novel; but Bill said he wasn't on that lay, and so he just went out in the yard, and out of pure joy, he skined the cat three or four times on the grape-vine arbor, and then went and got in his butcher cart, and drove Mary right down to the magistrate, to get the job done for a quarter—for he said he was some on low prices, he was.

But the very queerest thing of all was, that Bill had no tall, dark, ruffianly rival, with a scowling visage and black whiskers, who flew at him with a drawn dagger and a horse-pistol in each hand, and a muttered curse upon his lips, and cried wildly for "Revenge." Ha! ha! and said: "Death!" and "Villain, thou diest!" Not any. There was another fellow in love with Mollie, to be sure, but he was a weak-eyed young man, who had sandy hair, and wore spectacles and a choker collar, and always looked scared when you hollared at him. So, when he saw that Bill had the best of the girl's affections, he looked all serene, and said: "Go in, Billy, if you hanker for her;" and as Bill was a trifle on the hanker, he sailed right in.

The Philadelphia Press is trying to palm off Grant and Colfax as newspaper men.

A LITTLE JUDICIOUS PRAISE.—No heart is insensible to words of praise, or the kindly smile of approbation; and none are utterly above being affected by censure or blame. Children are particularly sensitive in this respect. Nothing can discourage a child more than a spirit of incessant fault finding, and perhaps nothing can exert a more baneful influence upon both parent and child. If your little one through the day has been pleasant and obedient, and you say to him, "My son, you have been good today, and it makes me happy;" and if, with more than a usual affectionate embrace, you say, "Good night, my dear child," a throb of suppressed feeling fills his breast, and he resolves on always earning such approval. If your grown son or daughter has accomplished some difficult piece of work; rendered you essential assistance; or have climbed some steep in the daily drill of study; or have acquired some new accomplishment, or added grace; or better than all, have gained the victory over some besetting sin—acknowledge it, praise them for it. Let them see by your tenderness the deep joy and comfort it gives you. Thus you will create a great incentive to right conduct, and lay a broad foundation for a character which shall be redolent with succulent fruit and fragrant blossoms.

Administrator's Sale of Real Estate.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Probate Court, of Calhoun county, Alabama, made the 1st day of April, 1872, I will as the administrator, with the will annexed, of the estate of Richard Pellum, deceased, proceed to sell before the court house door in Jacksonville, Alabama, at public outcry, to the highest bidder, on Monday the 3d day of June next, the following described lands belonging to said estate, to-wit: A part of section two, township fifteen, range nine, and lying between John and David Worthingtons tracts of land on Choccoloco creek as owned by them in 1846, and north of the residence of John G. J. Whiteside. Also a three acre lot in section three, township fifteen, range nine, lying and being in the town of White Plains, adjoining the Baptist church in said town and the lands of Mrs. N. P. Searbrough and between the roads leading to J. G. Whiteside's late residence and the present residence of Mrs N. P. Searbrough and being the lot upon which said testator resided at his death.

Said land and lot will be sold for one third cash and two thirds on credit of twelve months with interest from date of sale, note with two good and solvent securities will be required on the credit part of said sale to secure the purchase money.

ROLLEY JENKINS,
apr23d Adm'r with will annexed.

Register's Sale.

UNDER and by virtue of a decree rendered by the Honorable Chancery Court for the First District of the Eastern Chancery Division of Alabama, at the January Term, 1872, in the suit of Robert Worthington vs Margaret Hall et als, I will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, on Monday the 3rd day of June, 1872, before the Court House door of Calhoun county Alabama, within the usual hours of sale, the following described land, to-wit:

Fifty-six acres, situated in the southern part of Section 2, Township 15, Range 9, East in the Coosa Land District of Alabama, commencing at the south-west corner of said section and running north on section line between sections 2 and 3 about Two Hundred and Twenty (220) yards; thence due east about three-fourths of one mile; thence south Two Hundred and Twenty (220) yards to the section line between section 2 and 11; thence to the beginning: in all, containing about Fifty-six acres, more or less. Said land is located north of and near the residence of the late Jno. G. J. Whitesides, deceased.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD
AT ONCE.

Wherever the Poke Root grows, it has a local reputation for curing Rheumatism, and as a Blood Purifier. In the spring the early shoots are used by many people for "greens," because of their health-giving qualities. With all this local reputation and the praise of distinguished Physicians (Drs. Coe, Lee, King, Wilson M. Hunt, Griffith, Copland and others,) who have tested its medical powers, it has been neglected by the profession at large, as much through a want of a proper appreciation of its merits, as a knowledge of the proper way to prepare it for medicinal use. Dr. Oliver Crook, a physician who declines his entire time to the duties of his profession—and who has the largest practice of any physician in Southern Ohio—has fully tested the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root during the last 25 years, and unhesitatingly pronounces it to have more merit—for diseases depending on a depraved condition of the blood,—than any and all other articles named in the Materia Medica. Under his instructions our Chemist has combined the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root with the best Tonic Preparation of Iron, and we offer this preparation to the public telling them of the ingredients, under the name of

Dr. CROOK'S
Compound
POKE ROOT.

This preparation is the best Alterative and Tonic known for Scrofula, Scrofulous Tumors, Scrofulous Diseases of the Eyes, or Scrofula in any form. For Rheumatism, Pains in Bones, Broken-down Constitutions, Mercurial Diseases, Mineral Poisons, more effectual relief is obtained from this remedy than from all others. It strengthens, purifies and cures. It is indispensible in the treatment of long standing disorders of the Liver, and proves a certain, safe and effectual resolvent, manifesting its influence throughout the entire glandular system. Chronic diseases of any kind, Diseases of the Skin, Eruptions, Pustules, Blotches, Pimples, Boils, Tetter, Ring-worm, Salt-Rheum, Scald-Head, Ulcers and Sores, are all cured by the use of it. Any disease depending on a depraved condition of the blood can be cured by it. Blakeman and Jenkins, Defendants.

And J. F. Grant, P. Rowan, E. L. Woodward, W. H. Forney, Thos. A. Walker and J. H. Caldwell, Garnishees.

April 5th, 1872.

This day came the plaintiff by their attorneys, and the plaintiffs moved the court for an order of publications against the defendants who are non-residents, and it appearing to the court from an inspection of the papers on file, that this suit was commenced by attachment and levy upon the property of the defendants by summoning J. F. Grant, P. Rowan, E. L. Woodward, W. H. Forney, Thos. A. Walker and John H. Caldwell, as guarnishees, and returned into court by C. P. Read, sheriff. It is ordered by the court that the clerk of this court cause a notice of this attachment and levy upon the property of the defendants to be published in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper published in the town of Jacksonville, in the county of Calhoun, in the State of Alabama, for four successive weeks, and that a copy of the same be sent by mail to the residence of the defendants if their residence is known or can be ascertained.

[READ HOME TESTIMONY.]

MESSRS. J. & S. BONES, Dear Sirs

I have given the 15 inch Mill (Clemans) bought of you, a thorough test, and can but express myself perfectly satisfied. The power was the running gear to my gin, which although in very bad order, was sufficient to grind one bushel (by the watch) in eleven minutes. I find no trouble to do my grinding before breakfast. Several of my neighbors were present at the time, and all were satisfied with the result, and were astonished at the quantity and fine quality of the meal produced in so short a time, I prefer the meal to any steam mill meal. The 16 inch mill I bought of you for the Foster Farm, and used since the above was written proves equally satisfactory. It is a complete mill.

Yours Truly,
H. H. MILLER.

Upon all machinery sold by us we give a full guarantee. Send for catalogue and price list.

DR. RADWAY'S
Sarsaparillian Resolvent

Has made the most astonishing cures so quick, so rapid are the changes the body undergoes, under the influence of this truly wonderful Medicine, that

Every day an increase in Weight and Flesh is Felt.
THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers of the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Erysipelas, Boils, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is constantly progressing, succeeds in arresting these wasts, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of waste its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and weight increasing.

Not only does the Sarsaparilian Resolvent excels all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney and Bladder Complaints,
Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threrds like white silk, there is morbid, dark, billious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

perfectly tasteless, elegantly coated with sweet gum, purge, regulate, purify, cleanse and strengthen. Radway's Pills, for the cure of all disorders of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Headache, Constipation, Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Billiousness, Billious Fever, Inflamation of the Bowels, Piles, and all Derangements of the Internal Viscera. Warranted to effect a positive cure. Purely Vegetable, containing ho mercury, minerals, or deleterious drugs.

A few doses of RADWLY'S PILLS will free the system from all the above named disorders. Price, 25 cents per Box. Sold by Druggists.

Read "False and True." Send one letter stamp to RADWAY & CO., No. 87 Maiden Lane, New York. Information worth thousands will be sent you.

Administrator's Sale of Real Estate.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Probate Court, of Calhoun county, Alabama, made the 1st day of April, 1872, I will as the administrator, with the will annexed, of the estate of Richard Pellum, deceased, proceed to sell before the court house door in Jacksonville, Alabama, at public outcry, to the highest bidder, on Monday the 3d day of June next, the following described lands belonging to said estate, to-wit: A part of section two, township fifteen, range nine, and lying between John and David Worthington's tracts of land on Choccoloco creek as owned by them in 1848, and north of the residence of John G. J. Whiteside. Also a three acre lot in section three, township fifteen, range nine, lying and being in the town of White Plains, adjoining the Baptist church in said town and the lands of Mrs. N. P. Searbrough and between the roads leading to J. G. Whiteside's late residence and the present residence of Mrs N. P. Searbrough and being the lot upon which said testator resided at his death.

Said land and lot will be sold for one third cash and two thirds on credit of twelve months with interest from date of sale, note with two good and solvent securities will be required on the credit part of said sale to secure the purchase money.

ROLLEY JENKINS,
apr23d Adm'r with will annexed.

Register's Sale.

UNDER and by virtue of a decree rendered by the Honorable Chancery Court for the First District of the Eastern Chancery Division of Alabama, at the January Term, 1872, in the suit of Robert Worthington vs Margaret Hall et als, I will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, on Monday the 3rd day of June, 1872, before the Court House door of Calhoun county Alabama, within the usual hours of sale, the following described land, to-wit:

Fifty-six acres, situated in the southern part of Section 2, Township 15, Range 9, East in the Coosa Land District of Alabama, commencing at the south west corner of said section and running north on section line between sections 2 and 3 about Two Hundred and Twenty (220) yards; thence East about three-fourths of one mile; thence south Two Hundred and Twenty (220) yards to the section line between sections 2 and 11; thence to the beginning; in all, containing about Fifty-six acres, more or less. Said land is located north of and near the residence of the late Jno. G. J. Whiteside, deceased.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD

AT ONCE.

Wherever the Poke Root grows, it has a local reputation for curing Rheumatism, and as a Blood Purifier. In the spring the early shoots are used by many people for "greens," because of their health-giving qualities. With all this local reputation and the praise of distinguished Physicians (Drs. Coe, Lee, King, Wilson M. Hunt, Griffith, Copland and others,) who have tested its medical powers, it has been neglected by the profession at large, as much through a want of a proper appreciation of its merits, as a knowledge of the proper way to prepare it for medicinal use. Dr. Oliver Crook, a physician who devotes his entire time to the duties of his profession—and who has the largest practice of any physician in Southern Ohio—has fully tested the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root during the last 25 years, and unhesitatingly pronounces it to have more merit—for diseases depending on a depraved condition of the blood,—than any and all other articles named in the Materia Medica. Under his instructions our Chemist has combined the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root with the best Tonic Preparation of Iron, and we offer this preparation to the public telling them of the ingredients, under the name of

Dr. CROOK'S Compound SYRUP OF POKE ROOT.

This preparation is the best Alterative and Tonic known for Scrofula, Scrofulous Tumors, Scrofulous Diseases of the Eyes, or Scrofula in any form. For Rheumatism, Pains in Bones, Broken-down Constitutions, Mercurial Diseases, Mineral Poisons, more effectual relief is obtained from this remedy than from all other known agents, purifies and cures. It is indispensible in the treatment of long standing disorders of the Liver, and proves a certain, safe and effectual resolvent, manifesting its influence throughout the entire glandular system. Chronic diseases of any kind, Diseases of the Skin, Eruptions Pustules, Blotches, Pimples, Boils, Tetter, Ring-worm, Salt-Rheum, Scald-Head, Ulcers and Sores, are all cured by the use of it. Any disease depending on a depraved condition of the blood can be cured by it. Try one bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared only by

LOVE WITHOUT NONSENSE.

Not a Bit Like a Novel—A Capital Take off on the High-Pressure Style of Doing It.

Once upon a time there was a fair young maiden, whose name was Mary, although they called her Moll, for short. She wasn't a tall, dark-eyed maiden, with clear, transparent skin, and lips like cherries, and cheeks suffused with blushes. She didn't have glossy black hair, sweeping back in wavy tresses from her queenly brow, and her form wasn't a bit like Hebe's. No, there were none of these things. On the contrary, she was short and thin, and had red hair and freckles, and she also sported snaggle teeth, and wore pads; but still she was a right nice girl, and there was a young man who fell in love with her, and his name was Bill, although his friends called him William when they wanted to hurt his feelings, for he didn't like it much. He wasn't fine-looking, and had neither curly brown hair nor a moustache. Not much. Bill laid himself out on soap-locks, and wore a goatee that he had dyed twice a week

Now, this Bill was in love with Mary, but did he go and make a deliberate ass of himself? Did he, I say, go into a grove with her, and in the soft moonlight, by the streamlet that murmured sweetly by, and with the tender zephyr sighing through the foliage, fall down on his knees, seize her jeweled hand, and breathe his deep affection in the tender accents of fond attachment, and swear "by yon bright orb above us, always to be thine?" Did he, I say? You can just bet he didn't. You can lay out your whole revenue safely on that. William knew too much about the price of pants to go flopping around on the wet grass with his good clothes on; besides, he never cared anything about streamlets or any kind of cold water, except with his gin. No, sir, it was exceedingly strange, but this infatuated William met her at the alley gate, and he stood right up on his old legs and says: "Say, Moll, old gal, s'posen we get hitched?"

But how did Mary behave? Did she go drooping to sleep over on the bricks in a dead faint, or did she hide her gentle head on his shirt bosom to conceal her blushes? No, she didn't, and she didn't say, "I'm ever thine, my own love, dear William!" Oh, my, no. She looked right in his yellow eyes and says "I'm in, Billy! I'm the gal for those sort of things. Go in!" And instead of referring him to her father, she only said: "Won't the old man bust right out when you tell him! Ha! ha!" and she laughed. But she didn't ask William to try to mollify her fond father. No, no. She very wickedly advised him to "poke the old man in the nose if he gave him any of his lip." She was a funny girl, this Mary.

Now, the old man wasn't wealthy for he sold soap-fat for a living, and so he didn't think Bill was nosing around after his stamps; so when Bill asked him, he neither ordered him fiercely away, nor did the dewey moisture gather in his eagle eye as he passed his hemstitched up there and said: "Bless you, my children, bless you!" Oh, no, nothing of the sort. He just blew his old red nose in his bandanna and told Bill to take her along, for he was glad to get rid of her, he was, and William would be the same way mighty soon, for she was awful rough on victuals, and always broke plates when she got mad.

So, you see, there really was no necessity for William to come at midnight's solemn hour, in a cab, and throw a rope-ladder up to her window, and whistle three times on his fingers, and then go up, hand over hand, and bring her down in one hand and the trunk in the other, and a band-box and an umbrella under each arm, and a whole lot of bundles, and then get into the cab and fly to some distant shore. That's the way it would have been in a novel; but Bill said he wasn't on that lay, and so he just went out in the yard, and out of pure joy, he skined the cat three or four times on the grape-vine arbor, and then went and got in his butcher cart, and drove Mary right down to the magistrate, to get the job done for a quarter—for he said he was some on low prices, he was.

But the very queerest thing of all was, that Bill had no tall, dark, ruffianly rival, with a scowling visage and black whiskers, who flew at him with a drawn dagger and a horse-pistol in each hand, and a muttered curse upon his lips, and cried wildly for "Revenge." Ha! ha! and said: "Death!" and "Vil lain, thou diest!" Not any. There was another fellow in love with Mollie, to be sure, but he was a weak-eyed young man, who had sandy hair, and wore spectacles and a choker collar, and always looked scared when you hollared at him. So, when he saw that Bill had the best of the girl's affections, he looked all serene, and said: "Go in, Billy, if you hanker for her;" and as Bill was a trifle on the hanker, he sailed right in.

The Philadelphia Press is trying to palm off Grant and Colfax as newspaper men.

A LITTLE JUDICIOUS PRAISE.—No heart is insensible to words of praise, or the kindly smile of approbation; and none are utterly above being affected by censure or blame. Children are particularly sensitive in this respect. Nothing can discourage a child more than a spirit of incessant fault finding, and perhaps nothing can exert a more baneful influence upon both parent and child. If your little one through the day has been pleasant and obedient, and you say to him, "My son, you have been good today, and it makes me happy;" and if, with more than a usual affectionate embrace, you say, "Good night, my dear child," a throb of suppressed feeling fills his breast, and he resolves on always earning such approval. If your grown son or daughter has accomplished some difficult piece of work; rendered you essential assistance; or have climbed some steep in the daily drill of study; or have acquired some new accomplishment, or added grace; or better than all, have gained the victory over some besetting sin—acknowledge it, praise them for it. Let them see by your tenderness the deep joy and comfort it gives you. Thus you will create a great incentive to right conduct, and lay a broad foundation for a character which shall be redolent with succulent fruit and fragrant blossoms.

Administrator's Sale of Real Estate.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Probate Court, of Calhoun county, Alabama, made the 1st day of April, 1872, I will as the administrator, with the will annexed, of the estate of Richard Pellum, deceased, proceed to sell before the court house door in Jacksonville, Alabama, at public outcry, to the highest bidder, on Monday the 3d day of June next, the following described lands belonging to said estate, to-wit: A part of section two, township fifteen, range nine, and lying between John and David Worthingtons tracts of land on Choccoloco creek as owned by them in 1846, and north of the residence of John G. J. Whiteside. Also a three acre lot in section three, township fifteen, range nine, lying and being in the town of White Plains, adjoining the Baptist church in said town and the lands of Mrs. N. P. Searbrough and between the roads leading to J. G. Whiteside's late residence and the present residence of Mrs N. P. Searbrough and being the lot upon which said testator resided at his death.

Said land and lot will be sold for one third cash and two thirds on credit of twelve months with interest from date of sale, note with two good and solvent securities will be required on the credit part of said sale to secure the purchase money.

ROLLEY JENKINS,
apr23d Adm'r with will annexed.

Register's Sale.

UNDER and by virtue of a decree rendered by the Honorable Chancery Court for the First District of the Eastern Chancery Division of Alabama, at the January Term, 1872, in the suit of Robert Worthington vs Margaret Hall et als. I will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, on Monday the 3rd day of June, 1872, before the Court House door of Calhoun county Alabama, within the usual hours of sale, the following described land, to-wit:

Fifty-six acres, situated in the south-ern part of Section 2, Township 15, Range 9, East in the Coosa Land District of Alabama, commencing at the south-west corner of said section and running north on section line between sections 2 and 3 about Two Hundred and Twenty (220) yards; thence due east about three-fourths of one mile; thence south Two Hundred and Twenty (220) yards to the section line betweens section 2 and 11; thence to the beginning; in all, containing about Fifty-six acres, more or less. Said land is located north of and near the residence of the late Jno. G. J. Whitesides, deceased.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD
AT ONCE.

Wherever the Poke Root grows, it has a local reputation for curing Rheumatism, and as a Blood Purifier. In the spring the early shoots are used by many people for "greens," because of their health-giving qualities. With all this local reputation and the praise of distinguished Physicians (Drs. Coe, Lee, King, Wilson M. Hunt, Griffith, Copland and others,) who have tested its medical powers, it has been neglected by the profession at large, as much through a want of a proper appreciation of its merits, as a knowledge of the proper way to prepare it for medicinal use. Dr. Oliver Crook, a physician who devotes his entire time to the duties of his profession—and who has the largest practice of any physician in Southern Ohio—has fully tested the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root during the last 25 years, and unhesitatingly pronounces it to have more merit—for diseases depending on a depraved condition of the blood,—than any and all other articles named in the Materia Medica. Under his instructions our Chemist has combined the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root with the best Chemical Preparation of Iron, and we offer this preparation to the public telling them of the ingredients, under the name of

Compound
POKE ROOT.

This preparation is the best Alterative and Tonic known for Scrofula, Scrofulous Tumors, Scrofulous Diseases of the Eyes, or Scrofula in any form. For Rheumatism, Pains in Bones, Broken-down Constitutions, Mercurial Diseases, Mineral Poisons, more effectual relief is obtained from this remedy than from all others. It strengthens, purifies and cures. It is indispensible in the treatment of long standing disorders of the Liver, and proves a certain, safe and effectual resolvent, manifesting its influence throughout the entire glandular system. Chronic diseases of any kind, Diseases of the Skin, Eruptions, Pustules, Blotches, Pimples, Boils, Tetter, Ring-worm, Salt-Rheum, Scald-Head, Ulcers and Sores, are all cured by the use of it. Any disease depending on a depraved condition of the blood can be cured by it. Try one bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared only by

The State of Alabama, Calhoun County.

In Circuit Court, Spring Term, A. D., 1872.

Whisenant & Driskill, Plaintiff.
No. 86. vs. Attachment.
Blakeman and Jenkins, Defendants.

And J. F. Grant, P. Rowan, E. L. Woodward, W. H. Forney, Thos. A. Walker and J. H. Caldwell, Garnishees.

April 5th, 1872.

This day came the plaintiffs by their attorneys, and the plaintiffs moved the court for an order of publications against the defendants who are non-residents, and it appearing to the court from an inspection of the papers on file, that this suit was commenced by attachment and levy upon the property of the defendants by summoning J. F. Grant, P. Rowan, E. L. Woodward, W. H. Forney, Thos. A. Walker and John H. Caldwell, as guarnishees, and returned into court by C. P. Read, sheriff. It is ordered by the court that the clerk of this court cause a notice of this attachment and levy upon the property of the defendants to be published in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper published in the town of Jacksonville, in the county of Calhoun, in the State of Alabama, for four successive weeks, and that a copy of the same be sent by mail to the residence of the defendants if their residence is known or can be ascertained.

A true copy from the minutes—as witness my hand at office. This 10th day of May, A. D., 1872.

W. P. CROOK, Clerk.

Probate Court of Calhoun County, Ala.
James Price, Deceased, Estate.

LETTERS of Administration upon the Estate of said decedent having been granted to the undersigned, on the 30th day of April, 1872, by the Hon. A. Woods, Judge of the Probate Court of Calhoun county, Ala. Notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against said estate, will be required to present the same, within the time allowed by law or the same will be barred.

MESSRS. J. & S. BONES, Dear Sirs:

I have given the 16 inch Mill (Clemans') bought of you, a thorough test, and can but express myself perfectly satisfied. The power was the running gear to my gin, which although in very bad order, was sufficient to grind one bushel (by the watch) in eleven minutes. I find no trouble to do my grinding before breakfast. Several of my neighbors were present at the time, and all were satisfied with the result, and were astonished at the quantity and fine quality of the meal produced in so short a time, I prefer the meal to any steam mill meal. The 16 inch mill I bought of you for the Foster Farm, and used since the above was written proves equally satisfactory. It is a complete mill.

Yours Truly,

Radway's Ready Relief

CURES THE WORST PAINS
in from One to Twenty Minutes.
NOT ONE HOUR

after reading this advertisement need any one SUFFER WITH PAIN.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF
CURE FOR EVERY PAIN.

It was the first and is

The Only Pain Remedy

that instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays Inflammations, and cures Congestions, whether of the Lungs, Stomach, other glands or organs, by one application. IN FROM ONE TO TWENTY MINUTES no matter how violent or excruciating the pain the RHEUMATIC, Bed-ridden, Infirm, Crippled, Nervous, Neuralgic, or prostrated with disease may suffer,

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

Will afford instant Ease.

Inflamation of the Kidneys,
Inflamation of the Bladder.
Inflamation of the Bowels,
Congestion of the Lungs,
Sore Throat, Difficult Breathing,
Palpitation of the Heart.
Hysterics, Croup, Dipitheria,
Catarrh, Influenza.
Headache Toothache,
Neuralgia, Rheumatism.
Cold Chills. Ague Chills,

The application of the READY RELIEF to the part or parts where the difficulty exists will afford ease and comfort.

Twenty drops in half a tumbler of water will in a few moments cure Cramps, Spasms, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Colic, Wind in the Bowels, and all Internal Pains.

Travelers should always carry a bottle of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF with them. A few drops in water will prevent sickness or pains from change of water. It is better than French Brandy or Bitters as a stimulant.

FEVER AND AGUE.

Fever and Ague cured for fifty cts. There is not a remedial agent in this world that will cure Fever and Ague, and all other Malarious, Bilous, Scarlet, Typhoid, Yellow, and other Fevers (aided by RADWAY'S PILLS) so quick as RADWAY'S READY RELIEF. Fifty cents per bottle.

DR. RADWAY'S
Sarsaparillian Resolvent

Has made the most astonishing cures! quick, so rapid are the changes that it undergoes, under the influence of this truly wonderful Medicine, that

Every day an increase in Weight and Flesh is Felt

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, in repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers of the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continuly progressing, succeeds in arresting these wasts, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of waste its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and weight increasing.

Not only does the Sarsaparilian Resolvent excels all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney and Bladder Complaints,

Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disea, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threrds like white silk, there is a morbid, dark, billious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

DR. RADWAY'S

perfectly tasteless, elegantly coated with sweet gum, purge, regulate, purify, cleanse and strengthen. Radway's Pills, for the cure of all disorders of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Headache, Constipation, Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Billiousness, Billious Fever, Inflamation of the Bowels, Piles, and all Derangements of the Internal Viscera Warranted to effect a positive cure. Purely Vegetable, containing no mercury, minerals, or deleterious drugs.

A few doses of RADWLY'S PILLS will free the system from all the above named disorders. Price, 25 cents per Box. Sold by Druggists.

Read "False and True." Send one letter stamp to RADWAY & CO., No. 87 Maiden Lane, New York. Information worth thousands will be sent you.

Administrator's Sale of Real Estate.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Probate Court, of Calhoun county, Alabama, made the 1st day of April, 1872, I will as the administrator, with the will annexed, of the estate of Richard Pelham, deceased, proceed to sell before the court house door in Jacksonville, Alabama, at public outcry, to the highest bidder, on Monday the 3d day of June next, the following described lands belonging to said estate, to-wit: A part of section two, township fifteen, range nine, and lying between John and David Worthington's tracts of land on Choccoloco creek as owned by them in 1846, and north of the residence of John G. J. Whiteside. Also a three acre lot in section three, township fifteen, range nine, lying and being in the town of White Plains, adjoining the Baptist church in said town and the lands of Mrs. N. P. Searbrough and between the roads leading to J. G. Whiteside's late residence and the present residence of Mrs N. P. Searbrough and being the lot upon which said testator resided at his death.
Said land and lot will be sold for one third cash and two thirds on credit of twelve months with interest from date of sale, note with two good and solvent securities will be required on the credit part of said sale to secure the purchase money.

ROLLEY JENKINS,
apr22d Adm'r with will annexed.

Register's Sale.

UNDER and by virtue of a decree rendered by the Honorable Chancery Court for the First District of the Eastern Chancery Division of Alabama, at the January Term, 1872, in the suit of Robert Worthington vs Margaret Hall et als, I will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, on Monday the 3rd day of June, 1872, before the Court House door of Calhoun county Alabama, within the usual hours of sale, the following described land, to-wit:
Fifty-six acres, situated in the southern part of Section 2, Township 15, Range 9, East in the Coosa Land District of Alabama, commencing at the south-west corner of said section and running north on section line between sections 2 and 3 about Two Hundred and Twenty (220) yards; thence due east about three-fourths of one mile; thence south Two Hundred and Twenty (220) yards to the section line between sections 2 and 11; thence to the beginning; in all, containing about Fifty-six acres, more or less. Said land is located north of and near the residence of the late Jno. G. J. Whiteside, deceased.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD

AT ONCE.

Wherever the Poke Root grows, it has a local reputation for curing Rheumatism, and as a Blood Purifier. In the spring the early shoots are used by many people for "greens," because of their health-giving qualities. With all this local reputation and the praise of distinguished Physicians (Drs. Coe, Lee, King, Wilson M. Hunt, Griffith, Copland and others,) who have tested its medical powers, it has been neglected by the profession at large, as much through a want of a proper appreciation of its merits, as a knowledge of the proper way to prepare it for medicinal use. Dr. Oliver Crook, a physician who devotes his entire time to the duties of his profession —and who has the largest practice of any physician in Southern Ohio—has fully tested the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root during the last 25 years, and unhesitatingly pronounces it to have more merit —for diseases depending on a depraved condition of the blood,— than any and all other articles named in the Materia Medica. Under his instructions our Chemist has combined the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root with the best Tonic Preparation of Iron, and we offer this preparation to the public telling them of the ingredients, under the name of

Dr. CROOK'S Compound SYRUP OF POKE ROOT.

This preparation is the best Alterative and Tonic known for Scrofula, Scrofulous Tumors, Scrofulous Diseases of the Eyes, or Scrofula in any form. For Rheumatism, Pains in Bones, Broken-down Constitutions, Mercurial Diseases, Mineral Poisons, more effectual relief is obtained from this remedy than from all others. It strengthens, purifies and cures. It is indispensable in the treatment of long standing disorders of the Liver, and proves a certain, safe and effectual resolvent, manifesting its influence throughout the entire glandular system. Chronic diseases of any kind, Diseases of the Skin, Eruptions Pustules, Blotches, Pimples, Boils, Tetter, Ring-worm, Salt-Rheum, Scald-Head, Ulcers and Sores, are all cured by the use of it. Any disease depending on a depraved condition of the blood can be cured by it. Try one bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared only by

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, } Court of County Commissioner's
CALHOUN COUNTY. } Regular Term May 6th, 1872.

AT this term of the court came Joshua Draper, Jr, County Treasurer of Calhoun County, Alabama, and as such Treasurer presents to the court his semi-annual statement, showing all the monies received and disbursed by him on account of said county, giving each item of receipts and expenditures, whereby it appears from said statement that said Treasurer has received on account of said county the sum of $9,675.45 and that he has paid out on account of said county the sum of $9,373.88 bearing a ballance of cash in his hands as Treasurer as aforesaid of $301.57. Said statement further shows that said Treasurer has received on account of said county on fines and forfeitures in State witness certificates the amount of $579.75, and that he has paid out on account of said fines and forfeitures the sum of $623.22, which shows that said Treasurer has paid out in State witness certificates the sum of $43.47 more than he received. The court after fully examining said statement finds that the same is properly made out, showing all received and paid out by said Treasurer with the proper vouchers on file &c. Therefore, it is ordered by the court that said statement be and the same is hereby satisfied approved and confirmed by the court and that the same be by said Treasurer published in the Jacksonville Republican as required under Section 117 of the Revenue Law of Alabama, approved December 31st 1868.

THE SUN FOR 1872.

TO ALL WHO CAN READ.

The N. Y. Weekly Sun Doubled in Size Without increase in Price.

With the beginning of 1872 the Weekly SUN has been doubled in size. It now contains eight pages instead of four, making it equal in dimensions to any other weekly secular journal published in this country. At the same time its price has not been increased, but remains at the uniform rate of one dollar a year for each copy. To this rate no exception will be made and no reduction will be possible, either to clubs or agents. Every subscriber who sends a dollar will receive a copy for a year.

While The Weekly Sun thus furnishes as much reading matter as other papers published at double or treble the price, it will contain new features which will add greatly to its interest and value as a family newspaper. Its independence of opinion and its unqualified hostility to Tweedism and Grantism, and every form of public robbery, bribery, and corruption will be maintained, while in point of political news its readers may rely upon always receiving the most accurate as well as the freshest intelligence that can possibly be procured. The enlargement enables us also to devote additional space to valuable agricultural intelligence, and to print interesting stories and romances more extensively than hitherto. For miscellaneous reading presenting the quaint and humorous aspects of life, and for useful information respecting not only what takes place in this metropolis and this country, but in all other parts of the world, we now have an ile room.

In its new form The Weekly Sun is the cheapest paper of its class in the United States; and we appeal to each of our readers as apposite its ideas and objects, and find it interesting and valuable, not only to renew their own subscriptions, but to recommend the paper to their friends and neighbors.

This year is destined to be a memorable one in the history of the country. We are on the eve of a most significant Presidential election, and political movements will for many months be watched with unusual interest. As a journal, free from the trammels of party, The Weekly Sun will continue to uphold the principles of true republican government. Its readers are invited to sustain it in that work. The truth, irrespective of party prejudice or official influence, will always be told in its columns.

CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE.

Reduced Rates for The Weekly Chicago Tribune for the Campaign.

The country is now entering upon a Presidential Campaign which will, perhaps, be the most exciting that has been known since 1860. It is now morally certain that the only candidates in the field for the Presidency will be HORACE GREELEY and ULYSSES S. GRANT. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE will support Greeley [illegible] for President, on the Cincinnatti Platform; and the weekly campaign edition will be furnished from the 15th of May to the 15th of November, or for any shorter time, at the following extremely low rates:

One copy..... $0.50
Ten copies..... 4.50.
Twenty-five copies..... 10.00.

Send in your orders.

Remittances may be made either by draft, express, Post Office order, or in registered letters, at our risk.

THE GREAT CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY.

Just Published, in a Sealed Envelope.
PRICE SIX CENTS.

A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical Cure of Seminal weakness, or Spermatorrhœa, induced by Self-Abuse, Involuntary emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, etc. By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D., author of the "Green Book" etc.

The world-renowned author in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials, pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically. THIS LECTURE WILL PROVE A BOON TO THOUSANDS AND THOUSANDS.

Sent under seal, to any address, in a plain sealed envelope, on the receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents. Address the Publishers:

Dr. GOTTLIEB FISCH'S BITTERS.

(Shape of the Bottle.)

This preparation of the great Scientist, Dr. Gottlieb Fisch, of Germany, is based on the fact that, as all materials of the body are derived from Food, so all Vital Force, or Health, is derived from the Force stored up in Food. Dr. Fisch's Bitters enables the System to liberate and appropriate these Forces creates Appetite, cures Dyspepsia, with its resulting Debility and lack of Nervous Energy; so tones the Stomach and Liver as to make Constipation and Biliousness impossible; reinforces the System so it can tide over bad results of changing climate, water &c., and better endure the demands often unexpectedly made on its Force and Energy. Ladies in delicate health, aged persons and all emaciated and weak after sickness, will rapidly strengthen by using this great preparation.

OH, WOULD I WERE A CHILD AGAIN!
sighs the weary and exhausted one, as the languor and lassitude of spring comes upon him. Come and receive vigor and strength from the wonderful South American Tonic
JURUBEBA.
Long and successfully used in its native country, as a Powerful Tonic, and Potent Purifier of the Blood it is found even to exceed the anticipations founded on its great reputation. According to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, it possesses the Most Powerful Tonic properties known to MATERIA MEDICA.

Dr Wells Extract of Jurubeba is a perfect remedy for all diseases of the BLOOD, ORGANIC WEAKNESS, GLANDULOUS TUMORS, DROPSY, SCROFULA, INTERNAL ABSCESSES, and will remove all [illegible] of the LIVER, SPLEEN, INTESTINES, UTERINE and URINARY ORGANS.

It is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutricious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and, by its powerful Tonic and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, MAY 25th, 1872.

☞The friends of Hon. Thos. A. Walker, announce his name as a candidate for the Senate from the counties of Cherokee and Calhoun; subject to the action of a nominating convention, should one be held.

Call for a County Convention of the Democratic and Conservative Party of Calhoun.

The Central Committee of the Democratic and Conservative Party of Calhoun County hereby respectfully request the members of said party to meet, at an early day, in their respective Beats, and select delegates to represent them in a County Convention to be held at the Court House, on Saturday the 8th day of June next.

The object of the Convention is to select delegates to the State Convention, at Montgomery, on the 19th July, and to consider such other matters as may be thought advisable when assembled.

J. H. CALDWELL,
JAMES CROOK,
G. I. TURNLEY, } Central Com.

NOTICE.

To the Democratic fellow citizens of Beat No 5, of Calhoun County Alabama: At a meeting of the Executive Committee of said Beat, it is Requested that you attend in primary meetting at the court house in Jacksonville on the 3d day of June at 2 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of so organizing as to reflect your wishes in the County Convention to be held June 8th.

H. L. STEVENSON,
Secretary.

APOLOGETIC.—The absence of the editor for the entire week will account for the lack of editorial matter, and other defects of this issue. The long Report of the County Treasurer, also, consumes much of the space alloted to news. This will require only one insertion, and next week we will lay before our readers a more interesting and readable paper than the present number.

Dr. Bellamy has fixed it so that we need not suffer during the coming sultry months. He will keep in the room front of M. J. Turnley & Son's office, ice, ice cream, sherbet and other nice things. The room is neatly fitted up and promises to become quite a resort.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—The Good Templars Society of this place is meeting with very encouraging success. Notwithstanding there has been only one regular meeting its members number about thirty-five. All honor, we say, to those three young ladies (who, by the way, are among the prettiest and most accomplished of Jacksonville) who were the first young ladies of this place to step forward and join ranks under the banner of Temperance to battle against the rankest poison and deadliest foe known to the human family. We hope all the ladies and gentlemen of the town and vicinity will come forward and join in this praise-worthy institution.

COTTON.—Alfred Forney (colored) has got a stalk of cotton at this office which measures ten inches high and has four squares on it, raised by him this year on a place one mile east of town. Who can beat this?

LECTURE.—The Rev. W. M. Milburn, "the Blind Man Eloquent," will deliver an address in this place on the 6th of June. Subject—"What a blind man saw in England.

The young gentlemen of the brass band gave our citizens a delightful serenade Monday night. They have been playing only a month, yet they execute creditably, nay excellently, twelve or thirteen difficult and fine pieces of music. All praise to the young men who have studied so hard to be able to contribute to the enjoyment of the citizens and visitors this Summer. They play every Saturday evening publicly, and people who love fine music should make it a point to happen in about that time.

See notice elsewhere of a call for a Beat convention.

FIREMEN PARADE.—Six of the young men of the Banner County Fire Company of this place departed for Rome, Georgia, last Wednesday to attend the Firemen Parade of that place We wish them a pleasant trip and a safe return.

BASE BALL.—The Merry Nine B. B. Club of this place challenged the Oxford Club a short time since to play a match game which they accepted. The game is to be played at Oxford to-day.

The Cross Plains locals will appear next week.

H. L. Woodward's Son will give you Goods or Money for Beeswax, Dry Hides, Wool and Clean Cotton Rags.

Mr. D. C. Coleman, proprietor of the Nashville Marble Works, Nashville, Tenn., will be in Jacksonville to-day for the purpose of contracting for the erection of the Confederate Monument. We hope that he and the gentlemen who have control of letting out the contract will perfect this arrangment while he is here. Mr. Coleman can execute as fine and as good work, and as low prices as any one in the United States. We would advise those who wish anything in his line to see him while here.

COL. PARR is in rags, can't some of his friends help him, he wants a Thousand lbs. more of good cotton rags, he will pay cash or barter for them, he is a raggy fellow.

RAIN.—This section of country has been visited by an abundance of rain during the past week.

NOTICE!

C. C. McALISTER has just received the largest stock of Crockery, Cutlery, and Glass-ware that has ever been opened in Jacksonville, together with a variety of other goods consisting of men's Boy's and Ladies' Hats, etc., etc.

TAKE NOTICE.—Be sure and call at the Dollar Store under the REPUBLICAN Office.

Work on the Water-Works is progressing rapidly. The ditching is now being carried around the public square, and the piping is already laid down from the spring to within three-quarters of a mile of the reservoir and a bout three or four hundred yards this side.

See advertisment of E. Latham, Internal Revenue Collector, in another column.

LADIGA LOCALS.

(These locals were crowded out last week.)

The sea creek still ripples and laughs as it winds its way from the mountains to the Coosa. Its complexion is now very clear, no rains having fallen lately. Last week (May 2) a grand "dress parade" came off on its banks—ending the first session of one of the Cross Plains schools. The next day was eventful too, The "Rock" took the rails out of the mud in the slough this side of the parade ground and put them back where the fence had stood the morning before. It is said by those who had the best chance to know that he never gave a "cuss" while putting them back. Nobody can question his piety now.

Ben, Dud and Tom Savage, Jno. Palmer, and R. H. Overstreet with most of their friends, went seining this week and caught as many fish as they wanted. We picked some of those nicks.

The farmers complain of dry weather.

Your critic of last week may think he ought to be noticed. This local told you once before that advice generally cost high, but then it was not advising you. But when a man gets a chance to express his views, he does not like to miss the opportunity; and we have the example of a critic to plead in justification. So here is the advice. Whenever you get so that you are not capable of judging your own business, hire that critic.

I still remain near the sea creek.

ROCK.

PINEY WOODS LOCALS

(These locals were crowded out last week.)

We have quite a nice time for farming. Our farmers are getting along finely. Corn and cotton looks well—wheat not so well, as there is a great deal of short, underling wheat.

We want to make a swap with our Cane Creek friends. We will give two nice young widows and an old maid for every bachelor they will send down. We are fond of old bachelors.

We are truly sorry to say that our friend and neighbor, I. M. Ford is in bad health.

We are having fine sport killing deer, for which the Piney Woods country is getting famous. Tilman Turner killed one not long since; but in his excitement he thought he had killed S. D. Harrison's old "yaller dog." He wanted the boys to help him take it to swamp and hide; but after much persuading they got him to take it home. He took the hide off and started to Anderson's tan yard with it. It is not known how far he travelled, but we heard he went by Silver Run.

ISADORE & MISS JANE.

Alabama's Committee Man Heard from—John Forsyth on the Situation.

[Editorial Correspondence Mobile Register.]

NEW YORK, May 10, 1872.

The National Democratic Committee has done its appointed work simply and readily, without the slightest symptom of the spirit of treachy and betrayal of which it was so prurietly suspected in some quarters. I never looked for any other result. You will perceive that the convention goes back to the spot of Democratic historic renown, whence it has more than once sent forth its captain to lead "the unterrified" to victory. Baltimore has in it the ring of a favorable augury. I sincerely trust that our great party will send up delegates to this convention worthy of it, and in wisdom and firmness equal to the occasion. And by this I do not mean men pledged to any hide-bound course, but men who can sweep the horizon, take in the whole situation, and map out the best course to lead to the country's deliverance. I have been called a "Bourbon," and I know it is a very pretty thing to say "stand by your guns," but I trust I have good sense enough to know that when your guns do not reach, they must be moved up to within range of the enemy. Hence, while I greatly prefer that the Democratic party, per se, under its own flag, shall prove the Moses to lead us out of the land of bondage, I shall be true to follow the Moses who mounts the peaks of Pisgah and show us the way. That, I take it, is the feeling of all true Democrats and Conservative North and South. Since I have been here, I have received dispatches from some of our most considerate and distinguished Democratic leaders in Alabama, advising me that the feeling at home, in Mobile and in the interior, ran in favor of taking the Cincinnati ticket; in one case, advancing against any Democratic nominations, or even the holding of a Democratic Convention. I respectfully submit that this judgment in the one case is premature, and in the second, that, if the purpose is to throw our whole strength to Greeley and Brown, it would defeat rather than promote that object; in other words, that if we cast our hopes of deliverance upon the Cincinnati ticket, we must throw into the scale the whole organized strength of the Democratic party. However, and in whatsoever direction we move, we should move together, and thus preserve for present efficiency, and for future usefulness the unbroken integrity of our party. I say it is premature to determine upon the course. The National Committee has purposely given full two months for consideration of the important question. It saw that there was no need of precipitancy. At this moment, we hold in the palms of our hands the destinies of the Presidential election. Cincinnati has already made us the arbiters in the case, and our ability to beat Grant, by siding with Greeley, is already assured. So much we have clearly gained, so far. Nor are we in danger of losing that advantage? The Greeley party can afford to wait for us, because it must wait for us, and cannot budge a step without us. Indeed, Mr. Greeley is open in the declaration that if we do not help him, he will not stand to be crushed between the upper and nether millstones, but will come down. But he is not a man to resign hope of the glittering prize, while we are under our "thinking cap." Nor do I perceive that a little su-pense will cause them to value us the less, or tend in the least, to narrow the breach between the Republican fiction. Thus it is seen that the poor derided Democracy, that for so long a time has only been mentioned to pooh pooh its dead corpse, has got to be a very respectable and vivacious ghost. We are, in fact, an admitted elemental power—aye, the preponderating power in the field. The freshness and the verdure of the battle, which we have so suddenly reached after the thirst and toil of the desert, is by no means displeasing to our senses or unflattering to our pride. May we not then fairly indulge in the luxury of just a little lordly complacension and take our time graciously to dispense the fruits of our new-born powers. For, never forget, Democrats, that it is your long fidelity to your principles—to those very principles to which the Republican editors have resorted to save the country from going over the "bottling verge" into the ways where Grant-Radicalism was driving it, that you owe your present proud and commanding position. But standing on this vantage ground, let us not yet give over thinking. We know not what sixty days may develop. As strange things as have happened may happen again by the 9th of July. Who believed sixty days ago that the nadeer of Radical incompetency, which has been the cause of such spasmodic efforts to "depart" and "persevere," and abandon the firm and only safe ground of truth, was so near its perdition? Now we see it was but a balloon, needing only to be pricked to collapse into nothingness. Grant is doomed the day and the hour the Democratic Convention says "We nominate the Cincinnati tinket. Don't be uneasy about the healing of this schism while there is a ghost of a chance for the Democracy to throw its weight into the scales. Don't believe that Grant will not fight it out on the Philadelphia line, and if he is choked off, don't be sure that it will not be to take vengeance on his own deserting adherents.

Well, then, we are in no danger of flanking movements from either of the forces in the field. The split is a real one, and means the final disintegration of the Radical party. It has lived its day, and it goes to its grave and the final judgment of posterity. Then the Democratic party has time to think and to "bind wisely." If we can do better, we are sure that we can say Grant, the giant with the bucolic Horace; the disciple of Tucal Cain, who "fashioned the sword and the spear," with the pen of the civilian and the plough-share of the man of cabbages, who "knows about farming." But may we not do better? It is at least worth the thought. Of this anon.

I am daily asked by Democrats here what is the meaning of the apparent Southern rush to the Greeley ticket? My reply is always the same, to-wit: That it means a wail for relief from a suffering people. It means a doubt in your courage to save them; the clutching of drowning men at the first plank that floats in reach and promises safety. Were you pampered in the old armor of the better days, and could you find an Andrew Jackson to lead you, every white man south of the Potomac, who cries Greeley would be in your ranks ready for the command to advance to the attack. It remains to be seen whether you have the pluck and backbone to regain the confidence of the South. If not (and you have two months to determine it), we propose to take passage in Capt. Greeley's ship and work our passage to Washington.

For my part, I see clearly a field, wide and open, for brilliant Democratic achievements. We have the opportunity, we have the forces, the army and the leaders. But are they going to fight? That's the question, and I want our people to wait a little while to see. We all want to get over that high wall—to the "other side of Jordan." Naturally, we prefer to vault over it of our own strength, why here is a little stile not far below which we can step over quite handily; and when we come to be poured into the puddle of the Greeley wag of Republicanism, we shall, no doubt, make a considerable splash, and constitute a not unimportant element in it. On this branch of the subject we can afford not to enlarge at present. That is also an egg that will keep.

I tried nearly the whole of yesterday forenoon to write a letter to the Register. But what with the stream of callers, interviewers, and politicians (not all of one stripe) I am forced to give it up. As a sign of the times, I may observe that this is not the first by several times that I have had occasion to be in New York since the war; but it is the first time that I have noticed anybody in the slightest degree interested to know the political opinions of this Southern Democrat and "rebel." I take off my hat in compliment to Cincinnati for the change and tender it "the acceptance of my most distinguished consideration." Thankful for small favors, I rest in the confident hope that this is not the last nor the greatest favor that Cincinnati is destined to bestow on my beloved country and long tried and suffering people.

By appointment, not of my seeking, I had the honor of an interview, this morning, with a gentleman I have long been perfectly acquainted with, but never saw before, to-wit: the gentleman who is now setting the fashion of white hats. Had I space, it would puzzle me to tell my readers anything new about Mister Greeley. He was very frank in his talk in the main, and I followed his example and told him the South would go for him, if we could do no better, to beat Grant; but we thought we could do better and were going to give it a fair trial. The old gentleman pleased me as a man, but I have an idea that he has in him the stuff to make a "bully" Democrat could we get him in proper training. And I am ready to swear that had he been Southern born and bred, he would have slept with a cockade in his night cap and have been a "redhot," before breakfast secessionist. I do not think he would have "licked" the niggers hard, for he has a benevolent look—but as Grant has said about himself, he would have just as soon have owned slaves as any other kind of property.

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE.

The electoral vote for President in 1872 will be considerably greater than it was in 1868, under the previous apportionment. Many States have increased their respective votes, and several States which did not vote at all in 1868 will now take part in the election. The following table will show the electoral vote in 1868, with the popular majority in each State for Grant or Seymour, and also the number of votes to which each State will be entitled in 1872:

States.	Grant.	Seymour.	Majority.	Electoral vote of '68.	Electoral vote of '72.

Whole number	221	73	.....	317	366
Majority				159	184

*Not Voting, 23.

Grant's majority on popular vote, 309,568.

The whole number of electors has been increased 49, and three States, which had 23 votes, did not vote in 1868,—making 72 additional electoral votes. Of the States which voted for Grant in 1868, subsequent elections show that Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana, Missouri, North Carolina, Tennessee, and West Virginia, entitled to 70 electoral votes, will probably vote against him. Virginia and Texas, which did not vote in 1868, and which are entitled to 10 votes, will give large majorities against him. The States which in 1868 voted for Seymour, and all of which will probably vote for Greeley, have 81 votes, showing a probable electoral vote against Grant in these States, as follows:

States voting for Seymour in 1867	81
States not voting in 1868	19
States which have changed since 1868	76
Anti-Grant States	176

This leaves Grant, upon the basis of the election of 1868 with only 14 electoral votes more than a majority. But in California (6 votes) his majority was but 514, and in New Hampshire (5 votes) Connecticut (6 votes) his entire popular majority was very small. A loss of 1 per of the Republican vote in these States will give their electoral votes to Greeley. This would elect the latter. It should be remembered that at the time of the election in November, 1868, the result was a foregone conclusion, and Grant's majority in many States was much greater than it would have been had the election not been previously determined by the States voting in October. This was clearly shown in Indiana, where the Republican majority in October was less than 1,000, while a month later it was nearly 10,000. Five per cent of the Republican vote will give to Greeley the electoral votes of Pennsylvania (29) Indiana (15) Nebraska (3) Ohio (22) and Wisconsin (10), making 79 additional electoral votes for Greeley. It is unnecessary however to make estimates, when the fact is notorious that the only chance to defeat Greeley is to hire the Baltimore Convention to nominate a third candidate. But the fact is, that the election has already passed beyond the control of parchin cable politicians, and has been taken in hand by the people. The great mass of the people of both parties have already determined to elect Greeley, and, in the popular revolution, it is not only possible, but probable, that the Electoral College will be a mere for the Cincinnati nominees.

The Radical office holders in Pennsylvania have nominated as their candidate for Governor, Gen. John F. Hartranft the fellow who acted as hangman when Mrs. Surratt was murdered by a court-martial, composed of military ruffians who will all go to h-ll for that crime! Hartranft absolutely, and with his own hands, fastened the rope about the neck of that poor woman, and pulled the black cap over her face! This hangman of a woman is also the friend of Evans, the swindler, who plundered Pennsylvania, and received a large loan from the scoundrel whom it was his duty to prosecute for fraud!

The editor of the St. Paul Press finds time amid the arduous duties of the Post Office, to write about these columns daily explaining that Greeley's candidature is a joke, and a very laughable joke.

Mr. James R. Randall author of "Maryland, my Maryland," and other highly appreciated poems, and for several years editorially connected with the Augusta Constitutionalist, has become a member of the Mobile Register's editorial staff.

The Lower House of Congress now proposes to adjourn on the 24 of June, a concurrent resolution to that effect having been adopted yesterday. This was done in opposition to Butler's plan, which proposes to prolong the rule of military in the South until after election, by keeping up the present session of Congress until late in November, and this in turn is to be done through the device of a recess. The Senate wants the law continued, and has voted so, but the House is likely to object; and upon this and the question of a day for adjournment, there is likely to be no little wrangling, and plenty of work for Conference Committees within the next week or two.—Chicago Tribune.

TELEGRAPHIC RESUME

MAY 18.—John David Wolfe, one of the oldest merchants of New York, is dead, leaving an estate of $4,000,000.

Mrs. Sarah Colt, who established the first Sunday school in the United States, in 1793, is dead.

The Greeley and Brown Headquarters is established at St. Mark's Hotel Washington, until the congressional organization for the Campaign is perfected. All communications may be addressed to John DeFrees, at the above named place. A list of names are registered; documents speeches etc., will be furnished from these Headquarters, to all parts of the country.

Horace Greeley's uncle died to-day, at the age of eighty-eighty.

MAY 22.—The Senate ajourned this morning to one o'clock to-day, having passed the amnesty bill by a two-thirds vote, placing it beyound the President's contro; also, the bill extending the suspension of heabas corpus; also, Sumner's Civil Rights bill, but so omasculated it that Sumner himself entered a motion to reconsider.

The following is the verbage of the amnesty bill:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, of the United States of America, in Congress Assembled, That by two-thirds of each House concurring therein, all political disabilities imposed by the third section of the Fourteenth Article of Amendment to the Constitution of United States, are hereby removed from all persons whomsoever, except Senators and Representatives of the Thirty-Sixth and Thirty-Seventh Congress, and officers in the Judiciary, military and naval service of United States, heads of departments, foreign ministers of the United States.

The Civil Rights bill, as passed, applies only to Insurance, theatres, places of public entertainment or amusements, stage coaches, railroads, and other public modes of conveyance for freight or passengers. Equal rights regarding schools cemeteries and benevolent institutions, were stricken out.

MAY 22.—Horace Greeley, in reply to a formal ratification of his nomination to the Presidency, by the Liberal Republican Convention, says he has written letters of his acceptance of the nomination, and says he has waited to hear from all parts of the country before taking this step, and is satisfied from the free and unrestrained popular responses, that the action of the Convention meets the approval of all interested in the Re-Union Reform. He fully endorses the platform of the Convention—dwells particularly on the reconciliation of the South; removal of all political disabilities, and declares the American people have made the cause their own, and will bear on to triumph, with the distinct understanding that if elected, he shall be President not of a party, but of the whole people. He accepts the nomination, confident that the North and South are eager to clasp hands across the bloody chasm, which has too long divided them, and forget that they have been enemies ever of the matter. The jury laughed the pale faced young man to scorn, and one of them intimated that he thought the young man was not so green about women's dress as he tried to appear. The young man was a reporter, and it is therefore exceedingly probable that his knowledge was fully as limited as was apparent from his suggestion, the jurymen, to the contrary, notwithstanding.

Here another juryman discovered that Dr. Stillman had the corset on bottom side up. "Doctor," said he, "put it on the other way."

Then the Doctor put it on in reverse order, with the laces in front. This brought the bullet holes directly over the tails of his coat.

"I don't think," said Mr. Mather, "that the bullet went in there, Doctor."

"No, I don't think it did," was the reply. "Confound it's mighty funny—six married men in this room, and no one that knows how to put on a woman's corset."

Here the Chronicle reporter, who had several sisters and always keeps his eyes open, advanced and convinced Doctor Stillman and Mister Mather, after much argument, that the laces of a corset go behind, and that the garment is clasped in front. After this explanation the corner of the bullet was readily traced, and found to bear out the explanation afforded by two physicians.

A distinguised Democratic Senator in Washington lately told a leading friend of his in Cincinnati, Ohio, that the chances of the nomination of Horace Greeley at Baltimore were as nineteen out of twenty.

Since Mrs. Wilcox, in New Haven, burned the straw in her bed tick Mr. W. has changed his opinion about the expediency of hiding his money in a place of that kind. The bonfire used up $600 of his assets.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A NEW BEAUTIFYING AGENT.—All Demitifrices had their drawbacks, until the Salubrious Bark of the Soap Tree was brought from the Chilian Valleys to perfect the fragrant Sozodont, the most delightful article for the teeth that a brush was ever dipped into.

"CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED FOR 50 Cents."—Every case of Croup can be cured when first taken, by Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment, warranted for 24 years, and never a bottle returned. It also cures Diarrhœa, Dysentary, Colic, Sore Throat, Cuts, Burns and External Pains. Sold by the Druggists Depot, 10 Park Place, New York.

VENUS herself would not have been beautiful if her complexion had been bad. If beauty is skin deep, is skin deep it is necessary to secure and retain that part of it; and ladies, instead of resorting to paints and powders, should remember that an impure, blotchy, or sallow skin is the proof of feeble digestion, torpid liver, or vitiated blood for all which DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS is a safe, sure, and effectual remedy.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE.—No oils neither pomades or alcoholic washes—for clean or dense—can compare with Cocoaine as a hair dressing. It anchors the hair firmly in the scalp—gives it new life and lustre and renders it the "crowning glory" of both sexes, old and young.

PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL.—More accidents occur from using unsafe oils, than from steamboats and railroads combined. Over 500,000 families continue to burn Pratt's Astral Oil, and no accidents directly or indirectly have occurred from burning, storing or handling it. Oil House of Chas Pratt, Established 1770, New York.

A BEAUTIFUL WHITE, soft, smooth and clear skin is produced by using G. W. Laird's "Bloom of Youth." It removes tan, freckles, sunburns, and all other discolorations from the skin, leaving the complexion brilliant and beautiful. Sold at all druggists This preparation is entirely free from any material detrimental to health.

JUST THE REMEDY NEEDED.—Thanks to Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup, we have for years been relieved from sleepless nights of painful watching with poor, suffering, teething children.

FOR DYSPEPSIA. Indigestion, depression of spirits and general debility in their various forms; also, as a preventive against Fever and Ague, and other intermittent fevers. The Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all Druggists, is the best tonic, and for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it has no equal.

RISLEY'S GENUINE GOLDEN BELL COLOGNE WATER according to the original formula of Prevost, Paris, so long known to the customers of Haviland Harrad and Risley and their branches, for its fine permanent fragrance, is now made by W H Risley and the trade supplied by his successors, Morgan & Risley, Wholesale Druggists, New York.

THURSTON'S IVORY PEARL TOOTH POWDER.—The best article known for cleansing and preserving the teeth and gums. Sold by all Druggists.—Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. F C Wells & Co., New York

CARBOLIC SALVE, unequalled as a Healing compound. Physicians recommend it as the most wonderful remedy ever known Price 25 cents per box. John F. Henry, Sole Proprietor, 8 College Place, N. York

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE.—This magnificent compound is beyond contingency the safest and most reliable Dye in existence; never failing to impart to the hair uniformity of color, nourishment and elasticity. Manufactory, 68 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

SYAPNIA is Opium purified of its sickening and poisonous qualities. It is a perfect anodyne not producing headache or constipation of the bowels as is the case with other preparations of opium. John Farr, Chemist, New York.

Editorial Notices are so common that it is almost impossible for an editor to express his honest opinion of the merits of any article without being suspected of interested motives. This fact, however, shall not deter us from saying what we think of a new addition to the Materia Medica to which our attention has been recently directed. We refer to DR. J. WALKER'S CALAFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS, a remedy which is making its way into more families just now than all the other advertised medicines put together. There seems to be no question about the potency of its tonic and alterative properties, while it possesses the great negative recommendation of containing neither alcoholic nor mineral poison. That it is a specific for Indigestion, Billiousness, Constipation, and many complaints of nervous origin, we have reason to know; and we are assured on good authority that as general invigorant, regulating and purifying medicine, it has no equal. It is stated that its ingredients, (obtained from the wilds of California,) are new to the medical world; and its extraordinary effects certainly warrant the conclusion that it is a compound of agents hitherto unknown. If popularity is any criterion, there can be no doubt of the efficiency of the VINEGAR BITTERS, for the sale of the article is immense and continually increasing. 4w

Woman's Rights.—One who has long studied this absorbing subject now presents to the women of our country the result of his investigations. He is happy to say that he has at last discovered "Woman's Best Friend." It is adapted, especially, to those cases where the womb is disordered, and will cure any irregularity of the "menses." Dr J. Bradfield's Female Regulator acts like a charm in "whites," or in a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from cold trouble of mind, or like causes, by restoring the discharge in every instance. So also in chronic cases its action is prompt and decisive, and saves the constitution from countless evils and premature decay. This valuable preparation is for sale at $1.50 per bottle by all respectable Druggist in the land. Prepared and sold by L. H. Bradfield, Druggist, Atlanta, Ga. A thousand women testify to its merits.

The Voting Power of the South.

One of the hopeful manifestations of Southern politics, is to be found in the interest which the people there, without political or social distinction, are beginning to take in questions affecting their industrial development and material progress. This is to us deeply interesting, because the Southern States must continue to be in the future as in the past the most important wealth-producing section of the Union. Nor can their influence upon the revenue policy of the nation, as upon its politics, be over estimated. There is a common and dangerous sentiment abroad which finds expression in such utterances as these: "We are done with the South;" "That job is finished;" "The South is nothing." We are not done with the South; the job is not finished; the South is a powerful and vital force in the nation. The commercial tables of the country show that the contributions of the Southern States to our exportable wealth exceed in value the total exports of all the Union combined. In addition to this they furnished through their productions the basis of the most valuable textile industries. It will no doubt surprise many of our readers to learn that in the matter of population, the South leads the geographical sections of the Union. The total population of the United States is placed by the last census at 38,555,883. Of this number the Middle and Eastern States combined furnish in round numbers 12,000,000, the Western States 12,000,000, the Southern States, or those comonly classed as such in olden times, 14,000,000. Their political preponderance is equally significant. The total number of votes in the electoral college is 357. The New England States, with New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania added, count 169 votes, as follows:

Maine	7	Connecticut	6
New Hampshire	4	New York	33
Vermont	4	Pennsylvania	28
Massachusetts	13	New Jersey	9
Rhode Island	4
Total			169.

It will be seen that the Western States are entitled to 105 votes.

Ohio	22	Nevada	3
Michigan	11	Indiana	14
Wisconsin	10	Illinois	21
Minnesota	5	Nebraska	3
Iowa	11
Kansas	5	Total	105

Calafornia claims 6 votes and Oregon 3—making a total of 9 for the Pacific coast. The Southern States are entitled to 128 votes in the electoral college, being a majority over the New England and Middle States combined, and exceeding the consolidated vote of the great Northwest. Here are the figures:

Deleware	3	South Carolina	7
Maryland	8	Georgia	11
Virginia	11	Florida	3
West Virginia	5	Alabama	9
Kentucky	12	Mississippi	8
Tennessee	11	Louisiana	7
North Carolina	10	Texas	8
Missouri	15
Arkansas	6	Total	134

—Boston Advertiser.

A Radical Gerrymander.

The following table, exhibiting the black and white population in the six Congressional Districts of Mississippi, as formed by the late Legislature, sufficiently indicates what a set of scoundrels composed the majority of that body:

District.	White.	Black.	Total.
First	90,543	36,612	126,155
Second	58,685	80,225	138,910
Third	54,742	80,056	134,798
Fourth	67,175	83,963	151,138
Fifth	55,583	71,623	127,206
Sixth	50,145	82,774	132,919

White 382,896 white people, and 444,201 negroes in Mississippi, the carpet-bag thieves in the Legislature give the negroes five Representatives, and the whites one. Comment is unnecessary.

In obedience to suggestions which have come to us from sources entitled to the highest respect, since the call for a State Convention was issued, and published, we deem it proper to state some of the principal matters which will doubtless be acted upon by the Convention:

1. The nomination of candidates for the various State officers to be filled at the next general election.

2. The appointment of delegates to represent the State in the National Convention of the Democratic and Conservative Party to be held in Baltimore on the 9th of July next, if it be determined that the State shall be represented in said Convention; and the decision of the question whether such delegates shall go under instructions or otherwise.

3. The subject of the selection of electors for President and Vice President of the United States.

We had supposed the objects of the Convention were sufficiently patent without a statement of them.

THOS. J. JUDGE,
T. H. WATTS,
P. T. SAYRE,
Central Committee.

Said a Detroit lady to a gentleman of that city. "You are not a mustician, I believe." "No," said he, "if I were the proprietor of a hand-organ, set expressly to play Old Hundred, I couldn't get seventy-five out of it."

General Grant is making concessions to public opinion. He has turned out brother-in-law Casey, from the Collectorship at New Orleans. This is one result from the nomination of Greeley. The bold, insolent defiance of public sentiment by the "Military Ring" has undergone a very considerable abatement.

Philadelphia Age (May 15.)

While narrow gauge railroads are being projected in all directions, a Mr. Burrus of Wisconsin comes before the public with a scheme for a railroad from the Atlantic to the West, to be built with a gauge of thirty feet. The road is to run from the East by the most direct line to Lake Erie. When it reaches the lake the road is to be built out into the water about twenty-five feet below the surface for some distance, and there end. It is to be operated with a machine which is even more wonderful than the road, and which will navigate the water as well as traverse the land. When this amphibious locomotive arrives at the jumping-off place at Lake Erie, it is to slide gracefully into the water, and by a slight transposition of its machinery become a steamboat. When, it arrives at Monroe it resumes its character of locomotive, and rolls off on another broad gauge road to Lake Michigan, whence it is to take water for Chicago. The machine is to be sufficiently large to carry a vessel of five hundred tons, so that all necessity for ship canals will be done away with. The inventor expects to attain a speed of one hundred and twenty-five miles per hour on land, and twenty-five miles in water. Probably no one will doubt that a great reduction in the price of freights may be expected when Mr. Burrus gets his broad-gauge-road and amphibious locomotive in successful operation.

"Have you much fish in your bag?" asked a person of a fisherman. "Yes, there's a good eel in it," was the rather slippery reply.

The "headless rooster," which has been on exebition at various places in the South, is not much of a novelty after all. Some four years ago, "headless roosters" were exhibited in New York and Boston until suppressed by the police, the exhibitors being punished under the law for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Twenty-one of the Radical Representatives of the last North Carolina Legislature are acting with the Democracy of that State. This indicates the nature and extent of the change in the South.

Philadelphia Age (May 15th.)

The reason why Governor Walker, of Virginia, is anxious to have it understood that he does not, as yet, accept Greeley, is made to appear from recent Washington advices. That is, the Governor is to be himself a candidate for the candidacy at Baltimore.

Chicago Tribune (May 15.)

Among the distinguished citizens who took Vice-President Colfax at his word when he declared his intention to retire from the political arena, is a South Carolina lady of color rejoicing in the euphonious appellation of Manring Gumbo. Mrs. Gumbo is a champion of woman's rights, and has proclaimed herself a candidate for the Vice-Presidency, and says that she will go to the City of Brotherly Love to press her claims in person. Her ticket, "Grant and Gumbo," would have the merit of sounding well, and would be likely to carry many colored votes in the Virginias and Carolinas. It reminds one of the old slave ballad about the "gumbo and the cream." Common gallanty would seem to require that the lady's name should have precedence, in which case the ticket would read, "Gumbo and Grant," but under the system of woman's rights gallantry is out of the question. Considering that Colfax has retired so frequently, and that Grant's chances for a re-election to the Presidency are not improving, we recommend the extension of the franchise to the colored ladies of the South by Congressional enactment, and the adoption of Mrs. Gumbo by the office-holders' convention as a brilliant coup d'etat.

A FINE REPRESENTATIVE.—The German press is publishing with great gusto, the shamefully interesting details of the latest exploits of Cramer, our Minister to Copenhagen, (Grant's brother-in-law.) The Royal Club, to which he applied for membership, has never, during its thirty years of existence, black-balled a foreign minister. When the name of our representative was posted, however, strong objections were made. Members of the Executive Committee declared that they would withdraw if he were admitted. He was advised to abandon the idea, refused to do so, and received twelve white balls to over 280 black. Then he made the matter worse, proclaiming that he represented our people, and had been rejected for that reason by "aristocratic snobs." Finally this democratic snob attacked one of his black-ballers in the Copenhagen [illegible], was [illegible] by the police, and taken home amid the jeers of the rabble.

A Yankee having once told an Englishman that on one particular occasion he shot nine hundred and ninety-nine snipe, the Englishman asked why he did not make it a thousand at once. "No," said he, "not likely I'm going to tell a lie for a single snipe." Thereupon the Englishman rather "riled," and determined not to be outdone, began to tell a story of a man having swam from Liverpool to Boston. "Did you see him?" asked the Yankee. "Why of course I did. I was coming across, and our vessel passed him a mile out of Boston harbor." "Well, I'm glad ye saw him stranger, cos yer a witness that I did it. That was me."

The Baltimore American, one of the leading Grant organs, conducted by C. C. Fulton, has a leading editorial on the existing political situation, in which it says of the nomination of Greeley: "Allowing him the utmost margin, we may, for the sake of enforcing the lesson, admit that, according to existing indications, if the Democrats support him as a unit, he will be elected the next President." The American is thoroughly scared, and virtually advocates the throwing of Grant overboard as the political Jonah, in order to lighten the ship.

The Monticellonian contains the following item:

A certain physician in our county was riding late at night near Cut Off, where he was stopped by a band of robbers, who demanded his money. The disciple of Esculapius replied that he had just paid his taxes; and produced the receipt. "You can pass," said the robbers. "We have caught twenty men recently with tax receipts, and not one of them had a d—n cent of money."

On Wednesday last, a duel was fought at New Orleans between two young journalists of that city—Mr. J. Passama Domenech, of the Bee, and Mr. J. Noblom, of L'Avenir. They fought with pistols at ten paces. The first fire was ineffectual, but in the second Mr. Noblom was slightly wounded in the region of the stomach. The bullet was safely extracted, the seconds declared the wounded honor satisfied, a general handshaking followed, and all left the ground happy.

In Circuit Court, Spring Term, A. D., 1872.
Whisenant & Driskill, Plaintiff.
No. 86. vs. Attachment.
Blakeman and Jenkins, Defendants.

And L. F. Grant, P. Rowan, E. L. Woodward, W. H. Forney, Thos. A. Walker and J. H. Caldwell, Garnishees.

April 5th, 1872.

This day came the plaintiffs by their attorneys, and the plaintiffs moved the court for an order of publication against the defendants who are non-residents, and it appearing to the court from an inspection of the papers on file, that this suit was commenced by attachment and levy upon the property of the defendants in [illegible] L. F. Grant, P. Rowan, E. L. Woodward, W. H. Forney, Thos. A. Walker and John H. Caldwell, as garnishees, and returned into court by C. P. Read, sheriff. It is ordered by the court that the clerk of this court cause a notice of this attachment and levy upon the property of the defendants to be published in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper published in the town of Jacksonville, in the county of Calhoun, in the State of Alabama, for four successive weeks, and that a copy of the same be sent by mail to the residence of the defendants if their residence is known or can be ascertained.

A true copy from the minutes—as witness my hand at office. This 10th day of May, A. D., 1872.

MESSRS. J. & S. BONES, Dear Sirs
I have given the 16 inch Mill (Clemans) bought of you, a thorough test, and can but express myself perfectly satisfied. The power was the running gear to my gin, which although in very bad order, was sufficient to grind one bushel (by the watch) in eleven minutes. I find no trouble to do my grinding before breakfast. Several of my neighbors were present at the time, and all were satisfied with the result, and were astonished at the quantity and fine quality of the meal produced in so short a time. I prefer the meal to any steam mill meal. The 16 inch mill I bought of you for the Foster Farm, and used since the above was written proves equally satisfactory. It is a complete mill.

Yours Truly,
H. H. MILLER.
