Remember Jacksonville, you have to beat Oxford next Tuesday or be crowed over next Wednesday.

Sprinkles, the brakesman who was killed in the collision near Weaver's Station died at his post. He was on the down train, and was applying the brakes when the two trains came together and he was crushed.

Law loving people will show Mr. Prosecutor Lewis next Tuesday what they think of a man who suppresses the testimony of competent witnesses when innocent men's lives hang in the ballance.

The Fire Company requests us to return cordial thanks to the ladies (more espeilly to the L[illegible]) and others who assisted them with their sociable last night.

Florida has only seven Radical candidates for United States Senator.

Is there a man in Calhoun so dead to every sense of indignation at outrage as to refuse to put his ballot upon record against the tyrant who sends his military to overawe them, and the Huntsville Lawyer who hunts his fellow citizens to the death for the coveted gold of that tyrant.

Your vote for Greeley & Brown next Tuesday goes just that far to break off the chains and throw open the prison doors of the Southern boys and old men who are incarcerated in Grant's dungeons, in New York, at the instance of Grant's corrupt judges.

A BALLOON ON FIRE.

Fearful Death at DeKalb, Ill.—A Man Falls 300 Feet from a Burning Balloon.

An extra of the DeKalb News, issued at six o'clock on Friday evening, contains the following account of a disaster which occurred on the same afternoon at the DeKalb Fair Grounds: "Mr. Denniston, the aeronaut who advertised that Mr. L. Durham would make an ascension at this place this afternoon, was inflating his monster balloon, 'City of New York,' and had nearly completed the inflating process, when people on the north part of the grounds discovered smoke escaping from the top of the balloon. It was scarcely visible at first, but faster and faster emitted the smoke, and the alarm was given, but hardly had the defection in the air-ship become apparent before flames were issuing from the very top of the balloon. Quickly the shout went up, 'the balloon is on fire!' and as those near by began to retreat the horses were also driven here and there to escape all danger. The dry cambric and its covering began burning first slowly, then the flames spread, and upward and onward went the fire, a premonition by this time overtaking the spectators—every one present feeling that some fearful, if not fatal, calamity would result.—Scarcely had the flames burst out, however, before an aperture of two or three feet was made—where the guy rope holding the unwieldy thing crossed it—and now the rope burns off, and away to the southward shoots the balloon, carrying with it in its course Mr. Michael McMann, a laborer assisting in the inflation. Being near the basket as it started off he became entangled, and hanging with one foot inside the basket—his hands holding to the ropes—he thus ascended for perhaps a hundred feet, and regained a position in the basket, which again hung sideways, and in another minute he was hanging to the ropes alone at the height of probably not less than 300 feet. Now his strength gives way, his presence of mind deserts him, and in another moment the poor man is seen falling to the earth—an awful, a painful sight, filling with horror and consternation the four or five hundred spectators on the grounds. But the suspense was for only a moment, as it were. He who but a little time before was in the enjoyment of his faculties had descended to the earth, nearly in a standing position, from three hundred feet in mid-air, until, when near terra firma, he fell backward, striking the ground with his back with such force as to produce a concussion heard some distance away; and Mr. McMann, familiarly known as "Big Mike," was dead—utterly crushed, the blood streaming from his mouth and nostrils. It was a sight the like of which we hope never again to behold; and thus ended what was intended to be a day of sport. McMann left a wife and several children, who depended upon his labors for a living. May God comfort them in their sore affliction.

The balloon alighted but a few rods outside of the Fair Grounds, and was soon consumed, a loss of several hundred dollars to Mr. Denniston, but nothing as compared with the fearful destruction its ascension wrought.

Bedsteads

Bureaus, Tables, Washstands &c., &c.

I do not object to working in competition with a good mechanic, but I cannot say that I like to have to compete with Merchants in my line of business; still I wish it understood that I do not intend to be undersold (according to work) by any of them in the corn stalk work they bring on here. My friends will find me at my old stand, making good and substantial work, which I will dispose of at most reasonable and fair prices.

In addition to the Stock of Furniture of my own make, I keep constantly on hand a large lot of

THE CHALLENGE.

Calhoun county will roll up a larger majority for Greeley and Brown and the Democratic and Conservative State ticket in the election in November next than any County in the State in proportion to voting strength as determined in the last Gubernatorial election, and hereby challenges any and every County in the State to enter the contest.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. of Calhoun county.

Take Notice.

There is no Federal law known to us, or that a minute investigation has enabled us to discover, requiring separate tickets for Congressmen, or separate boxes at the election. The Federal Laws require the voting to be by ballot either printed or written, or partly printed or written, on white paper, but do not require separate tickets for Congressmen, or separate boxes. The State Law regulates the number of ballots and boxes, and the State Law requires one ballot and one box.

Do not forget. Let every man in Calhoun try and vote at least one colored man on the day of election.

Let us shout Herndon and victory next Wednesday morning, when we hear the news of the election.

Your vote for Greeley & Brown next Tuesday will mean an indignant protest against Grant's present military interference in the election of this State.

Iron.

We read yesterday an editorial in the Rome Commercial that gives most astonishing accounts of the profits on iron, as drawn from the experience of Rome capitalists, who have invested in the works which lay along the line of the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, and around Rome in other directions. It has given us an iron fever & when we publish it next Saturday, we know our people will all have by Monday the iron fever too. The profits of the Etna Blast Furnace between here and Rome has been since the 6th of last April one hundred and thirty-three per cent. On an investment of seventy-five thousand dollars the Company has netted since last April, sixty-four thousand dollars.—Whoever heard of the like? Put in your thousand dollars and you get your dividend yearly, amounting to thirteen hundred and thirty-three dollars and thirty-three cents. This beats Copper Gold, the Arizona Diamond mines, anything. We begin to want Mr. Jones to hurry up the organization of the Company that is to go to work above here making fortunes for us all. We understand from a reliable source that Messrs Noble of Rome, are ready to put in a considerable amount to the enterprise. Mr. Jones himself will raise from other sources than here, twenty five thousand dollars. An investment that such old iron men as the Nobles are not afraid of, should not be the one to frighten our people. The statements of the Rome paper are to be relied upon as correct. That shows the most gigantic profits. Will not our people take hold at once? We think they will. Let us have a public meeting Monday in the Court House at 2 o'clock and talk the matter over.

Go to the polls and put in a vote for the gallant Confederate Soldier Tom Herndon, next Tuesday.

If, in the brief career of the "Daily," it has excited a more than passing notice, and if it will be missed atall since its candle has gone out, the fact will serve to point a moral. If the absence of the "daily," which has not been in existence long enough to have become a necessity, which is a mere street acquaintance, so to speak, will be felt, how keenly would be felt the loss, if the old REPUBLICAN, which was founded with the town and has grown up with its growth; which for the last thirty-six years has made its regular visits to the houses of citizens, rain or shine, war or peace; which has come to be regarded as as an old familiar acquaintance and friend by all; how keenly would the loss be felt, we say, if this paper should suddenly stop its visits and there be none to take its place. It may appear to the reader now that the loss would not be so seriously felt as the editor, in his egotism, imagines: but we know that it would be so felt ere long. After awhile Saturday would come, only to bring a vague feeling of unrest, a sense of something missing, a miserable vacuum that neither books, nor music, nor gossip could fill. We know this, because every week, almost, we have it to'd to us in the experience of old subscribers who have tried to quit the paper, but who have come back after a few months, as old tobacco users generally do after they have tried a reformation. Then too, if you should desire to make a wish known to the public, you would be at your wit's end to know how to go about it: and when, finally, you did put up your "NOATIS!" on one of the white pillars of the old court house, so many of the same sort would be there that nobody would read it. The merchant could not tell his customers of his new arrival of goods. The world abroad could know nothing of us, for there would go out no representative, each week, telling it of our doings. The world would soon forget and cease to speak of us as one of the live communities of the State. We would be as though dead.

We might expand upon the usefulness of and necessity for the press; but we have not the space. We suppose it is not a disputed point. The only thing on which editor and patrons differ, generally, is the question of support. We have reason to be satisfied with the people of the county and most of the merchants of the town on this head. Let all hands see that their paper has a handsome support, and they will have a representative going abroad every week that they will be proud of, and a daily whenever the exigency of the times shall demand such an outlay at our hands.

Next Tuesday will witness a Waterloo defeat for the Radicals in this State if the Democratic party will vote its full strength.

This is the last issue of the Republican before the election. If it was the last word we were ever permitted to have with our readers, that word would be to go out to the polls next Tuesday and faithfully discharge that duty every American citizens owes his country—the duty to vote for men of correct principles and of such party affiliation as gives guarantee of their professions of fidelity to the interests of the people.

Such men are to be found in the nominees of the Democratic party.

If every election with all the immense and important results of each, that have occurred since the inauguration of the Republic, were summed up into one, that one would not be of half the importance of the one that will be upon us by the time this paper reaches the hands of some of our readers. How then can any man refrain from voting when it costs him such little trouble.

We issue the Republican to-day (although but a half sheet) as our regular weekly, in order that the law may be fulfilled in the matter of legal advertisements. It is true that we have given our patrons the weekly Republican both last Saturday and to-day on half sheets, but we trust that the news we have given from day to day through the extra issues has amply compensated them. Had we given only our two regular weekly editions our patrons would have received in the two weeks about thirty columns of reading matter. As it is, we have given in the same time, though the Daily Extra, more than forty columns, and that as the events recorded transpired. We shall issue the Republican regular size next Saturday. If we can by that time get any definite intelligence as to how the election, State and Presidential has gone, we shall issue an Extra Thursday, and acquaint our patrons with the result. Until then, no further issue of the Daily Extra will be made, as it could not be issued Monday, and would be too late to effect anything in the election, if issued Tuesday. We hope that our advertisers, one and all, who have invested in space in the Daily Extra, will find that the investment has been profitable to them. We know it has been to some of them.

Confederate soldiers in Calhoun will show Mr. Miller Lewis how they can testify an appreciation for a brave man next Tuesday.

John A. Bingham—David P. Lewis.

Just after the war, an innocent woman was arrested, confined in a dungeon, dragged before a military commission, in defiance of her constitutional right to be tried by a jury of her peers, and sentenced to death. In spite of every effort made to have her punishment commuted to imprisonment—in spite of the protests of good men and the heart rending appeals of her young daughter, this innocent woman was hanged. Several men in prominent places participated in this infamous act of judicial murder, for such it is now universally admitted to have been. Two of them, goaded by the stings of conscience, now fill suicidal graves. Another, and the most active of all, had the audacity to come down to Montgomery to teach honest people how to discharge their duty. Alas! that the time should ever come when any portion of the people of Alabama, black or white, could be deemed base enough to hearken to the teachings of such a man!

But it is fitting that John A. Bingham, of Ohio, should be the advocate of David P. Lewis. The one prosecuted an innocent woman to death—the latter took pay from the same government, to convict his accused fellow-citizens of a crime of which they had not been proved guilty. When, after the revolution which brought Charles of England to the scaffold, it was attempted to excuse the lawyers, who had, at their masters bidding, brought innocent men to the block, the younger Hampden from his seat in Parliament exclaimed, We have a new sort of monsters in the world, haranguing a man to death. These I call bloodhounds. Surratt Bingham and Ku-klux Lewis are thus peculiarly fitted to the task of mutual support and eulogy.

We have alluded to Judge Bingham's part in the case of Mrs. Surratt. Let us review Judge Lewis' conduct in what is known as the Ku-klux trial.

A dreadful crime had been committed. The suspected parties were therefore immediately arrested by the State authorities. Judge Busteed's officials took them from the custody of the Sheriff, and the Judge himself committed them for trial in his court. Judge Lewis was employed to conduct the prosecution. One principal duty of a prosecuting officer is to see that no injustice is done, not alone to the government, but to the prisoners at the bar. "The prosecuting attorney," says Mr. Christian in his notes to Blackstone, "is the advocate of public justice, or to speak more professionally, the advocate of the King, who in all criminal prosecutions is the representative of the people. And both the King and country must be better satisfied with the acquittal of the innocent than with the conviction of the guilty." Queen Elizabeth instructed the Chief Justice of her Common Pleas "that Justices should not be permitted to sit in judgment, otherwise for her highness than for her subjects." And the reason of this is obvious. The government wishes no victims—it punishes in order to vindicate its dignity and prevent the repetition of crime. Hence if the accused be proven innocent of crime, it is not only the duty of the government but its high privilege to vindicate his character as one of her sons, and to protect him from injury and injustice. And this duty devolves on the officer who also represents the government—the prosecuting attorney.

Three prisoners were put on trial. Against one of them, Bozeman, not a tittle of evidence was adduced. Judge Lewis in a card referring to this case says: "After the testimony of alibi for Bozeman was brought out by the defence, the prosecution did not attempt no, desire to convict Bozeman and Col. Minnis and myself so informed Judge Rice before the argument."

This being the case, Bozeman was at once entitled to his discharge. This was his undoubted right. And yet when he claimed it, Judge Lewis objected.

How men do not act in matters of importance without a motive. Let us see what induced Judge Lewis to make this objection. Before closing for the defence, Gov. Watts stated that Bozeman's testimony was important to the other prisoners, as it would clear up the only suspicious circumstances that had been proved against them. He therefore appealed to the court, to grant his discharge, so that he might become competent as a witness in their behalf. To this Judge Lewis objected, and thus deprived Smith and Pylant of the benefit of Bozeman's testimony—and yet at this very time he admits that Bozeman's innocence had been established. And yet he knew that the lives of these two men hung on his refusal. In the charge to her Majesty's Chief Justice, to which allusion has already been made, Queen Elizabeth orders "that whatever could be brought in favor of the subject (prisoner) should be permitted to be heard." This was the idea of Justice entertained by an English Queen 300 years age. In this 19th century a candidate for Governor of a great commonwealth, considers this right, this privilege, as wholly inconsistent with Radical notions of humanity.

So thus stood the case. Smith and Pylant were on trial for their lives. Bozeman's testimony was essential to their safety. Bozeman was entitled to his discharge. If discharged he would become a competent witness. Judge Lewis objected to his discharge and thus deprived Smith and Pylant of testimony to which they were entitled. What possible motive could he have had for this except the one with which he has been charged, viz: A determination to convict Smith and Pylant at all hazards. Will Judge Lewis "leave it to the people to judge whether he treated Smith and Pylant humanely or not?" Whether he discharged his duty towards them, as a man and as an attorney? The government did not employ him to convict—or rather we should say, it is not the duty of a prosecuting attorney to convict the accused—it is only made his duty to convict the guilty. Will Judge Lewis "leave it to the people" to judge whether he had, as he says, "no motive but an honest and fair administration of the laws for the protection of the citizens?" Protection of the citizens forsooth! Were not Smith and Pylant "citizens?" and how were they protected? Why just as Sir William Noy and Sir John Finch, the infamous prosecuting officers of the "Star Chamber," protected the victims of that odious institution. Just think of it. The lives of two human beings hung in the balance. It would seem as if an appeal to the magnanimity of a manly nature would have been sufficient. But Judge Lewis could be deaf to this, and could "set his face as a flint" against the added demands of right, of duty and of justice, and yet claim to be actuated by motives of "protection to the citizens." "Oh! shame where is thy blush?"

One word more. Not what others say of an act can render it odious, but only the act itself. Had the murderers of Mrs. Surratt discharged their duty fairly and fearlessly, and had she been rightly condemned and executed, all the denunciations of mankind would have fallen hurtless at their feet.

Had Judge Lewis when he took government gold to prosecute these prisoners discharged his duty fairly and fearlessly, his conduct would have received, as it would have been entitled to receive, the commendation of all good men. But if he preferred to emulate the example set in the case of Mrs. Surratt, like those who took part in that prosecution, he cannot complain that a law-abiding, justice loving people look upon his conduct with contempt and indignation.

Confederate soldiers will show Mr. Ku Klux Lewis how they scorn the traitor who fled to the enemy when the times were perilous, and returned in time of peace to prosecute their old man and comrades to death for Government gold.

If We Knew.

If we knew the woe and heart-ache,
Waiting for us down the road,
If our lips could taste the worm-wood,
If our backs could feel the load;
Would we waste to-day in wishing
For a time that ne'er can be?
Would we wait in such impatience
For our ships to come from sea?

Strange we never prize the music
Till the sweet-voiced bird hath flown;
Strange that we should slight the violets
Till the lovely flowers are gone;
Strange that summer skies and sunshine
Never seem one-half so fair
As when winter's snowy pinions
Shake their white down in the air!

Let us gather up the sunbeams
Lying all along our path;
Let us keep the wheat and roses,
Casting out the thorn and chaff;
Let us find our sweetest comfort
In the blessing of to-day;
With the patient hand removing
All the briars from our way.

Mind Your Own Concerns.

Mind your own concerns, my friend,
For they are yours alone;
Don't talk about your neighbor's faults,
But strive to mend your own.
Suppose he does not always lead
A truly perfect life,
What matter if he sometimes frets,
Or quarrels with his wife?
Don't meddle—let him know, my friend,
Your better nature spurns
To act the spy on him or his—
Just mind your own concerns.

Yes, mind your own concerns, my friend,
And presently you'll find
That all your time is occupied,
And you've quite enough to mind,
Why need you care if Snooks or Spooks
Should wed with Sallie Jones?
What matter if your neighbor C
A half a million owns?
The money is not yours, my friend,
Though golden stores he earns;
So do not envy him his wealth,
But mind your own concerns.

Yes, mind your own concerns, my friend;
It is a better plan,
Than always to be spying out
The deeds of brother man.
Remember that all persons have,
Though hidden from your view,
Thoughts that to them of right belong,
And not at all to you.
And also bear in mind, my friend,
A generous nature worms
No secret from a brother's breast—
So mind your own concerns.

The Blest Old Man of Eighty.

BY WILLIAM ROSS WALLACE.

Earth has many precious pictures,
Rainbows mid the storms of life,
Giving our existence beauty,
And with even glory rife:
One there is where both are mingled,
Never dimmed by cloud or tears,
And it has grown but more precious
With the touches of the years—
A dear old man of eighty.

On his head a few hairs linger,
And some wrinkles mark his face,
But they seem to give it only
An expressive, sacred grace,
While his frame, though no more stalwart,
Yet has vigor that can still
Offer power for the spirit
To enforce its waiting will—
A hale old man of eighty.

Oh, he seems, and is, so happy!
Well he may, for on this sod
He has used and not abused gifts
From the loving Father God.
Faults he had—ah, who is perfect?—
But he fought to keep them down:
Trying so to do his duties,
He has won and wears a crown—
A grand old man of eighty.

Often men are circled round him,
His experience to win;
And it flows like earnest music
From the calm, true soul within.
All the children are delighted
On his willing knees to press:
Oh, how sure the Aged's goodness
When they give them tenderness!—
A good old man of eighty.

There, or rich or want unfearing,
There he is a picture blest,
Loving and beloved, in sunset
Sinking to the earthly rest.
Some of his own children linger,
Some have gone away before,
And with his dear wife they wait him
On the Everlasting Shore.
Often are his eyes bent upward,
While his thin lips softly cry,
"God He knows that I am ready;
May I soon step to their sky!"—
The blest old man of eighty.

In his paper on vibration, read by Professor Lovering at the recent meeting of the American Association for the advancement of Science, it was stated in illustration of the effect of the phenomenon in question that when the first suspension bridge was building in England a fiddler offered to fiddle it away. Striking one note after another, he eventually hit its vibrating note, or fundamental tone, and threw it into such extraordinary vibrations that the bridge builders had to beg him to desist. Only recently a bridge went down under the tread of infantry in France who had not broken step, and three hundred persons were drowned. The experiment is well known of a tumbler or small glass vessel being broken by the frequent repetition of some particular note of the human voice.

Mrs. Gen. Gaines and her famous lawsuits are again commanding the attention of the people of New Orleans, this time with a prospect of a speedy termination of her long protracted battles in the courts. The indefatigable woman has proposed to the City Council to compromise her large claims on the city, based on judgments against the innocent holders who have purchased from the corporation property which the United States Courts have decided belonged to Daniel Clark's heirs. The New Orleans Times says it looks very much as if Mrs. Gaines had the city in a corner on this, and expressed a hope that a reasonable compromise may be effected.

[From the Rome Commercial.]

IRON.

We are rich.
We are all rich.

Every man is rich who gets plenty to do and good pay for it. The overflowing abundance that is now daily pouring into our city has heretofore never been equalled. Providence has blessed us with good seasons and our people have been diligent. The busy and constant exchanging of products makes our city look lively. Both merchants and farmers are doing well, and everybody is in a cheerful mood. The farms were never so faithfully cultivated as they have been this year. Fences have been re-set, briars cut down, ditches dug, new cribs built, cotton screws repaired or new ones purchased. By deep plowing, farmers were fortifying against a bad season.—Altogether it looks like reconstruction, and if we can have political peace we will ask no more.

Just at this time of our greatest prosperity since the war, there looms up before us an undeveloped, but a certain and wonderful estate, which is destined to enrich and make powerful the people of this section. A fair estimate of the prospective value of this magnificent estate would reach such fabulous amount that it would seem incredible. It is sufficient to say that the iron ores of Cherokee Georgia and Alabama that are within easy reach, are worth a thousand times more than the aggregate of all her other interests combined. There is no country in the world that equals this in the quality, quantity and accessibility of its ores. It is a reasonable estimate that there is enough within a radius of thirty miles from this city to supply a thousand furnaces for a century to come. The decaying furnaces of the old world, and the rapidly increasing demand for the product has so stimulated the iron interests of this section that scarcely a train arrives that does not bring prospecting capitalists among us. Think of projected Railroads in Persia, Afghanistan, Egypt, Asia Minor and other countries, some of which lines are 2,000 miles long, and most all of which are officered or contracted for by English capitalists. The uses of iron in other branches of industry are so rapidly increasing that the demand is already greater than the supply. Shrewd and powerful business houses are now engaging at high prices for future delivery.

Our own humble capitalists have not been asleep to this magnificent prospect that lies before us. But few people, even in our community, are aware of the extent to which home investments in iron property have already been made. For their benefit we herewith submit a partial statement of the works in operation and projected in this vicinity. We begin with

THE ETNA IRON WORKS.

This Company began operations on the 6th day of last April on a capital stock all paid in of $75,000. They own nearly 9,000 acres of land. Their works are situated 21 miles from Rome on the S. R. & D. Railroad, and their ore beds within a few rods of the furnace. For 200 consecutive days the products of the furnace have averaged ten tons per day—making a total product of 2,000 tons. This iron has netted them at the works $50 per ton, while the entire cost of production has been but $18 per ton. This net profit of $32 per ton has realized in less than seven months the sum of $64,000. No doubt is entertained about running this amount up to $100,000 by 6th of April next, which will be a gain of 133 per cent. upon the original investment within the space of twelve months. A ten per cent. stock is rated a good par stock. If this be so the Etna property is worth one million of dollars, for it is now paying over ten per cent. upon that sum. Room enough and ore enough is there for a dozen furnaces, and the Company contemplate re-investing their earnings in this way.

Col. Alfred Shorter is the President of this Company and H. D. Cothran Secretary and Treasurer. The Stockholders are:

STONEWALL IRON WORKS.

The Stonewall Iron Works are located four miles below Etna, on the same line of railway. This company own 8,000 acres of land and have the finest ore property, as to location and extent, that has been found. There is a bold stream of water running through it, and the piney woods adjacent will furnish endless quantity of charcoal timber. Their ore beds stretch along Hurrican creek for two miles, affording numerous eligible sites for furnaces and operative tenements. The construction of these works is going rapidly forward, and it is believed that by adopting all the modern and well tested improvements in Furnaces, and avoiding the errors of the past, they will, in a few months, be able to manufacture iron at a cheaper rate than any company in the world. Their present capital stock is $75,000, with the privilege of increasing it to $1,000,000.

Capt. H. D. Cothran is President, and Wm. Wurts the Superintendent. This gentleman is also the Superintendent of Etna. He is a Kentuckian of large experience and excellent capacity for managing such enterprizes. The stockholders are:

Between Etna and Stonewall, Messrs. Wm. F. Mason and Noble Bros. & Co., have recently purchased a very valuable iron property, with 3,100 acres of timber land attached. Mr. Mason is a capitalist of New Orleans, and designs making Rome his permanent residence at an early day. This company expect to prepare their works for a stone coal furnace, and will begin the work of construction at once.

The largest enterprise of all that have been projected is located at Cedar Town, twenty-two miles distant from Rome. This property includes several beds of ore and 12,000 acres of land. The Company consists of our esteemed townsman, Capt. Archie Griffith, and A. G. West and W. G. Browning, of New York. The last named is a millionaire, and of national reputation as a successful financier. The Company is stocked at $150,000, and their works are upon the line of the North and South railroad, which will soon be completed from Rome to Cedar Town

The iron property of Mr. A. J. King, near Cave Spring, is very valuable, but has not yet gone into the hands of a Company. Liberal offers have been made Mr. King by Pennsylvania capitalists, but as yet no transfer has been made. It will not long remain undeveloped.

The Cornwall Iron Works are situated in Cherokee county, Ala., twenty-eight miles west of Rome. This is an old established Company, owning an extensive deposit of red fossilliferous ore, which nets 65 per cent. outside of all waste. This Company is now doing better than ever before, yielding sixty tons per week of very superior iron. The Tredegar Company of Richmond is their principal customer. The Memphis Branch railroad will soon be completed to these works, which will render them much more valuable on account of saving in transportation. Col. W. S. Cothran is President, and Thos. McCullough is Secretary and Treasurer. The capital stock is $100,000.

The Round Mountain Iron Works lie upon the banks of the Coosa, a few miles below Cornwall, and embraces the same valuable fossilliferous ore. It is a mountain of ore, and can supply one hundred furnaces without making any serious impression upon it. The old works at this point were burned during the war, and have never been rebuilt.

Capt. Jas. M. Elliott, of this city, is the principal owner of this splendid property, and is negotiating for a partnership that will begin the work of reconstruction.

Outside of the limit named we will here mention the Woodstock Iron Company at Oxford, Ala. We include it in our list because it is a Rome enterprise Messrs. Noble Bros. & Co., of this city, and Gen. Tyler & Sons, of Charleston, being the owners. It is stocked at $75,000.

The Bartow Iron Works are owned by Messrs. McNiel, F. I. Stone and Chas. R. Stone. This Company is stocked at $60,000, and is in successful operation, making a return of eight tons per day.

Messrs. Pool, Dodd & Co., have recently purchased a valuable property thirteen miles distant from Rome, on the Etowah river, and will erect a furnace as soon as practicable.

Messrs. Rogers and Leyden are erecting a furnace at Limekiln, near Kingston, in Bartow county. Their stack is up and the machinery in place. In the same county we have Pool's old furnace, and Styles & Meister's furnace, all situated on Stamp Creek.

We have now enumerated twelve iron enterprises in operation, or projected, Five of these are in operation, yielding forty tons per day. All of them will be in operation within six months, and the probable yield will be 120 tons per day, or over two millions of dollars per annum, in the value of their products, and giving employment to more than 1,000 men. At present rates the net profits from these twelve furnaces, will not be less than one million of dollars per annum.

This is but the beginning of this great work of developing the iron interest of Cherokee Georgia and Alabama.—When such returns as Etna makes is certified to Northern capitalists, and the fear of rebels and ku klux shall have subsided, the rush for this property will be continuous. Scarcely a train arrives now that does not bring to our city some of the least timid of these iron workers. They are generally a solid, substantial class of men, and it is not difficult to spot them as they walk around our streets. We give them a cordial welcome, and will go security that our people are glad to see them, and will shake hands across the bloody chasm.

One Word More About Iron.

Very many of our farmers will be able to save one, two, five, or ten hundred dollars from the sale of their cotton and other produce. If they wish it to make them a sure and profitable return, let them entrust it to our leading iron men, such as Col. Alfred Shorter, H. D. Cothran and F. I Stone, who are rapidly pressing their own capital in this business. Where a sufficient amount is raised, these gentlemen will organize your company, and give you the benefit of their own successful experience. The capital of this country is drifting into iron, and it is far better that our own people should reap the harvest than see it appropriated by foreign capitalists.—Let our farmers, merchants and mechanics set aside a portion of their means to this end. It is far better to realize 100 per cent., or even 50, in this business, than to lend out at two per cent. a month and have the borrower looking cross-eyed at you the ballance of the time.—Rome Commercial.

There was a steam wagon for common roads exhibited at the Augusta, Georgia, fair. The Constitutionalist says: "Two large wagons and three carts loaded with bricks were first attached to the steamer. This load she pulled round the grounds with perfect ease, traveling as fast as when unincumbered.

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, NOV. 9, 1872.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Nov. 8, 1872.

L. W. GRANT, ESQ: Radicals have the State by about four thousand majority. Legislature very close. We have two majority in the Senate. Radicals four, probably, in the House. Sixth North Alabama District only gives us about five hundred majority.

Yours Respectfully,
ROBT. TYLER.

* * *

Jacksonville gave a Democratic majority of about 75 notwithstanding the fact that the Radical fifth of the whole county was packed into her precincts.

We took a flying trip to Oxford yesterday. The city looked as busy as a bee hive, notwithstanding the untoward appearance of the political horizon. Our friend Drape was the most substantially interesting man we met. We mean "sweet William." He has been to Atlanta. He knows how those things go.

The Elections.

To make a short story of a long one, we have been defeated; most shamefully and disgracefully defeated in both the State and Presidential elections.

That the result is largely due to Radical frauds there can be no doubt; but while this is the case there is no escaping the terrible humiliating conclusion that it has been accomplished through the apathy and indifference of the Avalanche Democracy of the mountains. In the Sixth District alone, says a dispatch to us, our majority has been reduced from six thousand to five hundred. We do much better in the Fifth District; which we attribute to the gallant fight the popular and enthusiastic Caldwell made. Had Caldwell been of the stuff that Sloss is made of, we might now stand as disgraced as does the Sixth District.

Had North Alabama done only as well as the Fifth District has done, we might have carried the election: but she did not do it. Had the Fifth and Sixth Districts have imitated Calhoun county, we would have won a glorious victory. This is the one oasis in the desert of our woe,—the one balmy breeze in this the "winter of our discontent." Calhoun acquitted herself well. Would that we could say nobly.

Many of the weak minded and cowardly of our party already are casting about for new associationations, and new party affiliations. They go on the supposition that the old Democratic party has gone by the board. To such we say, do not be in ahurry about party. The probability is that the Democratic party will fight the fight

"Till Birnam forest come to Dunsinane."

If it should not, there is ample time to determine. We say watch the sheep that want to jump the fence first: they have been looking for a gap a long time and are black sheep at that. We say to the Democratic army "back into ranks!" Let us at least march off with our side arms and the honors of war. We had no rout at Appomattox.

We attract attention to the article on "Iron" on the outside.

It is proposed to have a meeting here next Wednesday night for the purpose of taking steps to have a Blast Furnace, above or below this place. Eligible sites lie all along the line of the road from four to eight miles both above and below us. It is uncertain whether the Furnance will be above or below. Let us have a big meeting Wednesday night. IRON is our only hope now.

The Election.

The contest in Alabama is exceedingly close. It is impossible to decide with absolute correctness whether the Democratic and Liberal, or Spencer's Radical party have succeeded in electing their tickets. The chances are with the Democrats and Liberals. There will undoubtedly be a Democratic and Liberal majority on joint ballot in the Legislature. North Alabama has by its apathy or by some extraordinary influences we cannot rationally comprehend, and against all representations made to us, put our State in terrible peril of renewed carpet-bag and negro rule under circumstances pregnant with evil. We censure none, but grieve from the bottom of our heart at the remissness or fatal delusions of our people. North Alabama does not give in both of her Districts as large a majority as either one of them should have given and can give with the proper spirit and exertion. Besides this defalcation, the radicals from all the signs have cast about three thousand fraudulent black votes, and this, we are satisfied, can be proved on investigation. When we next address our readers we hope to speak definitely of results. As it is we only indulge in a reasonable expectation that we have beat on the radicals and their aiders and abettors in the State by a small majority.

Neutral Journalism.

The Jacksonville Republican has been established thirty-six years and has preserved a strict neutrality in regard to candidates for election—it has taken no choice among aspirants for office in the party to which it belongs. Then are we astonished to see the Republican, after having entrenched itself in this neutrality, permitting itself to be used in the publication of Standifer's "Ball Play" "Advertisement," even though it be handsomely paid for its insertion; especially at the time when Col. Cooper has not an opportunity of nailing it as a falsehood. It seems strange that any newspaper should allow itself to be used to place a noble man, above suspicion, in a false light before his countrymen on the very eve of the election. Too long has that statesman and christian walked in the paths of integrity for a scintilla of suspicion to rest upon his character, and upon that one who would seek secretly to stab his fair fame just as he is about to be raised to the Senate—upon his own vitals his contumelious dagger must feed.—Oxford Chronicle.

We cannot help the fact that the editor of the Chronicle is incapacitated, both for lack of brains and experience, to distinguish between editorial neutrality and obligation of a publisher to insert advertisements in his paper, when sent into the office under a rule.

The editor of the Chronicle must have failed to see, in the same paper that contained the "advertisement," an editorial from us warning the people against believing any campaign stories, unless fortified by the strongest proof and not even then until both sides had been fairly heard. If he did not fail to see it and then made the attempt he did to impeach the fairness of the REPUBLICAN, he is utterly wanting in generosity and fairness himself.

The advertisement was not published "on the very eve of the election," when Col. Cooper had "not an opportunity of nailing it as a falsehood." On the contrary, Col. Cooper did have ample time and did get one communication in relation to it in the paper and could have got another in, if he had not chosen a different channel of communication with the people; for we were then publishing the REPUBLICAN every day—a fact Col. Cooper was aware of, and a piece of enterprise, too, by the way, that the Chronicle, in the narrowness of its spirit, failed to give us credit for.

We showed Col. Cooper all the courtesey and kindness that we would have shown Messrs. Read or Walker under the same circumstances, no more nor no less, and we now have a letter from Col. Cooper, dated Oct. 30th—the day before publication day of the Chronicle—in which he thanks us in the warmest terms, for the courtesey and kindness we did show him in the matter.

So it seems that the man got ahead of the master, when the above extract was penned; and the attempt of the editor of the Chronicle to create a prejudice against the REPUBLICAN and then put money in his purse at our expense, is a dead failure.

The Committee are unable, as yet, to determine what beat has the banner. The award will be made as soon as the official vote of the county is announced by the Probate Judge. It will be necessary to change the design on the banner, as we did not shake hands across the bloody chasm, in the last election, much. We will announce in our next paper what beat secured the banner.

J. M. Renfro is elected from this County to the Legislature.

We have served with him in the army and know him to be of the right stuff. The yankees located a lead mine in him. If the General Assembly should be mixed on a vote, Renfro will always be found on the extreme end of the Democratic side. If he should not be, we would be more greatly surprised than we were at the surrender of Appomattox.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY.

The news from this county comes in very slowly. Our gains in the county have not been as large as at first reported owing to unexpected losses at Tucker's Store and Dublin. The following are the only additional returns that have been received:

Dublin—Rad. 135; Dem. 217.

Tucker's Store—Rad. 211; Dem. 94.

Keves'—Rad. 211; Dem. 178.

The total vote polled at Mt. Meigs was [illegible], of which it is thought the Radicals have a largely decreased majority. These are merely skeleton returns, but except Mt. Meigs they are nearly official.

The official count at Gilmer & Browder's box, in the Exchange precinct, gives Grant, 519; Greeley, 409; Lewis, 519; Herndon, 414; Rapier, 515; Oates, 414; Danner, 416; Knox, 495.

The vote of the city was: Radical, 4,159; Democrat, 1,766. Oates received about 60 more votes than the rest of his ticket.

Vote of the county as far as reported is 5,519 Radical, and 2,403 Democratic. Mt. Meigs, Pine Level, Union Academy and Porter's to be heard from.

TALLAPOOSA.

Everything at this Box was quiet yesterday. 902 votes polled. Lewis' majority 165. The remainder of the ticket about the same vote, except for Senator, that stands thus: J. A. Terrell, 733; M. J. Bulger 44; R. E. Jordan 32. The Republicans all voted here. There will not be 200 for them outside of this box. Camp Hill gives over 80 majority. At Oakfield all are cast for us.

GREENE COUNTY.

Official vote. Grant ticket is elected by thirteen hundred majority in Green county.

LAUDERDALE COUNTY.

Florence Ala., Nov. 6.

In this county the Democratic majority is about four hundred. Returns not all in.

MOBILE COUNTY.

Mobile, Nov. 6.

Official vote not yet announced. This is perfectly reliable from tallies and box count: City gives Greeley and the State ticket 348 majority County gives same 275. Total majority of the Democratic and Liberal ticket in Mobile county 623. It is thought both Herndon and Bromberg run ahead of the ticket.

WINSTON COUNTY.

MARENGO COUNTY.

Demopolis, Nov. 6.

Demopolis precinct, Herndon 227; Lewis 1,580. Linden precinct, Democratic majority 200. Faunsdale precinct Democratic majority 175. Chances favor Democratic ticket and the county is conceded by the Radicals.

Demopolis Republican majority 1,354; Faunsdale Democratic majority 175; Linden Democratic majority 200; Lyons shop Democratic majority 60; South Marengo Democratic majority about 1,200.

SHELBY COUNTY.

The Democratic majority is about 250. Elliott, Democrat, is elected by about 100 to the House.

TUSCALOOSA COUNTY.

Returns have arrived from every precinct in the county. The Radical majority is a little over 900 in the county.

BAKER COUNTY.

The vote in Baker county was 620, of which Greeley received 400 and Grant 220. In that part of the county formerly a part of Autauga, the vote for Senator was: Benson (Dem.) 222; Parker 223; Patterson 47; Hays (Rep.) for Congress ran a few votes behind his ticket.

To put the thing plainly, we have been fearfully beaten. Grant carried every Northern State, and the Democratic majorities in nearly all the States have been reduced. The October elections were too much for us. Our dispatches would indicate that Grant has carried Ohio by from 25,000 to 30,000. The State of New York, which was claimed with great confidence for Greeley, has been carried for Grant by at least 40,000. The local contentions in New York City reduced our majority to 22,928, and the State outside swallowed this up with ease. Dix beats Kernan by 25,000. The Grant majorities in addition to those enumerated are set forth in our dispatches, as follows: Indiana, 10,000; Illinois, 60,000; Michigan, 30,000; Delaware, 2,000; New Jersey, 15,000; Massachusetts, 65,000; New Hampshire, 4,000; Nebraska, 10,000; Iowa, 30,000; Pennsylvania, 75,000; North Carolina, 5,000; Maine, 28,000; Connecticut, 3,000; Vermont, 25,000; Mississippi, 20,000; South Carolina, 30,000. These are the majorities thus far reported. To this list California, Kansas, and Oregon are to be added. West Virginia is also claimed for Grant.

Greeley carries Kentucky, Arkansas, Missouri, Georgia, Maryland, Tennessee, Louisiana, Alabama, Texas and Virginia.

It is claimed that Grant has carried twenty-five States, and that he has secured 261 electoral votes to Greeley's 105.—Cincinnati Enquirer, 6th.

We are astonished at the result in New York. That State gave 10,000 majority for Seymour four years ago over Grant, and there were 55,000 Liberal Republicans registered, making a change of 110,000. That this should be changed into a majority of 30,000 or 40,000 for Grant is an event beyond our comprehension.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Montgomery Advertiser has received some specimens of copper ore from newly discovered mines in the valley of the Coosa, six miles east of Cooper's Station, on the South and North Alabama road. The Advertiser says the ore is fully equal to that of the Ducktown mines in East Tennessee. It is found about 800 yards from the river.

How Lost, How Restord!

Just published a new edition of Dr Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also CONSUMPTION, EPILEPSY and FITS, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞Price, in a sealed envelope only 6cts.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a 30 years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

EX AUDITOR WICKLIFFE OF LOUISIANA COMES TO LIGHT.

The Ex-Auditor in the Role of a Medicine Man—A Steal of $90,000—The Mask Torn from a Thief—He Makes his Escape, but Disgorges About $10,000—A Startled Community!

[Selma (Ala.) Times.]

In the month of August, 1870, there came to this city a man of rather pleasing personal appearance, apparently an educated gentleman and a man of means.

HIS STAY IN THE CITY

was limited to a few days, and leaving town, he went to our neighboring village of Summerfield, and, in a little while, settled himself in a very retired, secluded neighborhood, some five miles north of Summerfield. He appeared to have

PLENTY OF MONEY,

but was not by any means lavish in its expenditure, and in place of going into society, he, upon the contrary, expressed a desire for retirement, and was averse to forming extended acquaintance with the people among whom he lived. He purchased a little place some distance from any public road, and in a locality rarely ever visited by strangers, and announced to the public that he was a physician, and gave his name as

DOCTOR J. POLK SHELBY,

and by that name he was known here, and at Summerfield.

Dr. Shelby's practice, however, was very limited, notwithstanding the fact that he kept his horse, which was by the way a very fine one, constantly saddled and ready for use. The Doctor's practice would have doubtless been larger, but for his bad luck in bleeding a poor emaciated prostrated man, suffering from chills, and the man's dying in a few hours afterward. This occurred just on the threshold of his medicinal career, and caused his skill to be questioned to a degree that deterred many from calling his services into requisition. But practicing medicine was more a labor of love with the Doctor than for the accumulation of filthy lucre; and it did not ruffle his temper, or interrupt his course of life that his patients were few. What college Doctor Shelby was a graduate of, or in fact from whence he came, were of those things unknown to the people among whom he abided.

As before stated the Doctor appeared to have plenty of money, and this case appearances were in consonance with the truth, and thereby hangs a tale that we propose to unfold. Having plenty of money the Doctor bought and sold divers and sundry things and made numerous speculations, at the same time continuing the practice of his profession.

Time wore on, as the novelists write it, without the occurrence of an incident to interrupt or change the current of Dr. J. Polk Shelby's life, and he began to be regarded as a permanent citizen of the locality in which he had been tarrying since August, A. D. 1870. It is true, that the Doctor had many little eccentric ways that his neighbors and acquaintances did not understand, but his general conduct was unexceptional to them. And thus things continued until within a few weeks, when a change came, and Dr. J. Polk Shelby was shown to be an impostor and a fugitive from justice, with Nemesis on his track.

Some two or three weeks since, a Mr. Bummel, of New Orleans, was in Selma on business, and on day, coming in contact with Doctor J. Polk Shelby, recognized him as an old acquaintance from New Orleans, and mirabile dictu discovered in the aforesaid Doctor J. Polk Shelby, Ex-Auditor George M. Wickliffe, of Louisiana, and so called him. His interview with Mr. Bummell was of short duration, and leaving him very abruptly, the ex-Auditor, alias Doctor J. Polk Shelby, mounted his horse, near Summerfield. Now, let us see why Mr. Wickliffe so abruptly left town, and why he assumed the name of Doctor J. Polk Shelby. In 1868, 1869 and 1870, he was Auditor of the State of Louisiany, and for corruption and rascality in office, was impeached and expelled from the position. He was raised to official position by the Radical party. While in office, he made the most corrupt use of the position, and robbed the taxpayers through fraudulent means, of thousands upon thousands of dollars.

In the Spring of 1870, he went to Mr. Jacob Strauss, a broker of New Orleans, with Louisiana Treasury warrants, apparently all right, aggregating one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, upon which Mr. Strauss advanced him $17,000 in Greenbacks, and also a certified bank check for $19,000. Shortly after getting this money, Mr. Wickliffe shook the dust of New Orleans from his feet, and left for parts unknown. In a short while afterwards, the warrants were presented for payment, and Mr. Strauss made the rather uncomfortable (for him) discovery that his warrants were bogus, and that he had been swindled by this scoundrel to the tune of $90,000.

In spite of numerous efforts to discover the whereabouts of Wickliffe, they remained a mystery to Mr. Strauss and the people who wanted him, until the accidental meeting with Mr. Bummel alluded to above. This accounts for his abrupt departure on that occasion.

Mr. Bummel went to Vickburg and telegraphed Mr. Strauss that he knew Wickliffe's whereabouts, whereupon Mr. Strauss set the machinery in motion to overhaul and bring him up with a round turn. We should have stated that in the meantime a true bill had been found in New Orleans against Wickliffe, for obtaining money from Mr. Strauss under false pretences, and that Mr. Wickliffe was aware of it. His desire for seclusion and avoidance of society, and his hundred little eccentricities are now all explained and accounted for.

Mr. Howard, one of Mr. Strauss' Attorneys, was sent to this city to make the effort to recover some of the stolen money from Wickliffe, and on his arrival here, secured the counsel and assistance of that distinguished and eminent legal firm, Messrs. Morgan, Lapsley & Nelson. Mr. Lapsley took the matter in hand and ascertaining beyond question the identity of Doctor J. Polk Shelby and Geo. M Wickliffe, made his dispositions for interviewing the notorious individual. On last Monday, accompanied by a friend as a blind, and armed with an authenticated copy of a judgment for $71,000 against Wickliffe and in favor of Mr. Strauss, Lapsley went to Wickliffe's house, located as before stated, about five miles from Summerfield.

The Doctor was on the qui vive but assumed quite a nonchalant air. Mr. Lapsley's object being to secure as much of the stolen money as was possible, he had to skirmish and advance on Wickliffe's approaches in a cautious manner. This he did most effectually and induced Mr. Wickliffe to acknowledge the corn and disgorge about ten thousand dollars. Mr. Wickliffe, on the first intimation that he had swindled Mr. Strauss, denied of course the soft impeachment, but finally made a clean breast of the transaction, to Mr. Lapsley and said that he had no intention of swindling Mr. Strauss, and was only taking care of his money for him. He said the debt was just, and after giving Mr. Lapsley cotton receipts for ninety-six bales of cotton, stored in warehouses in this city, promised to come to town next morning and arrange the balance. In response to Mr. Lapsley's request, that he had better go back to Selma with him, Wickliffe remarked that he would do so, but for the fact that he had a very sick patient, that would require his attention that night. Finding that he could not secure anything more from Wickliffe, Mr. Lapsley returned to the city. In this connection, we take occasion to say that this affair has been very shrewdly managed by Mr. Lapsley, and that the recovery of at least a considerable portion of the amount secured, is alone due to his tact and management.

Mr. Wickliffe promised to come to Selma next morning, but so soon as the shades of night lent their shielding darkness, he made dispositions for his departure, and at the hour when it is said that church-yards yawn, mounted that noble steed and hied him northward. Our information is, that he made for the line of the Selma, Rome and Dalton road, and boarded the first northward bound train. And the people of Summerfield, and Dallas county, will know him no more forever. But they weep not, nor do they sorrow; but some of them feel awfully sold.

On Tuesday Mr. Neugrass, a nephew of Mr. Strauss, arrived here with a missive, bearing the great seal of the State of Louisiana, and having Gov. Warmouth's signature to it, calling on Mr. Wickliffe to come out of the wilderness, but Mr. Wickliffe comes not. He has gone to parts unknown, and Mr. Neugrass in our advertising columns, offers a reward of five hundred dollars for his apprehension.

Thus ends our story of the transactions of an unmitigated scamp and swindler. Exit Doctor J. Polk Shelby.

BEST AND WORST CLIMATES FOR CONSUMPTIVES.—Prof. Andrews, of the Chicago Medical College, has been classifying the medical facts contained in the census reports of 1860 and 1870, and from these he finds that consumption and cancer, are two diseases which are similarly affected by and prevail in the same regions, and that the two laws governing their prevalence are as follows: First, these two diseases are abundant near the sea, and diminish as you recede from it; and second, at equal distances from the sea they prevail most at the North, and diminish as you go South. From this it follows that the best resort for a consumptive or cancer patient is some point which is at the same time as far South and as far from the sea as possible. Such a place is New Mexico, where the deaths from consumption are only three per cent., or Arkansas, where they are five per cent., while in New England, which is colder and sea-girt, they are twenty-five per cent. Entirely in accordance with this rule, but contrary to the popular opinion, Minnesota is a worse place than any other State; having fourteen per cent. of deaths from consumption, though this may be because consumptives are sent there to seek health. Mississippi, Alabama and Florida have each six per cent.; Georgia and South Carolina five per cent.

BE A MAN.—The following good advice is clipped from a excellents little paper called the Working Man:

Foolish spending is the father of poverty. Do not be ashamed of hard work. Work for the best salary of wages you can get, but work for half price rather than be idle. Be your own master, and do not let society or fashion swallow up your individuality—hat, coat and boots. Do not eat up or wear out all you can earn. Compell your selfish body to spare something for profits saved. Be stingy to your own appetite, but merciful to other necessities. Help others and ask no help for yourself. Let your pride be of the right kind. Be too proud to be lazy, too proud to give up without conquering; too proud to wear a coat you cannot afford to buy; too proud to be in company that you cannot keep up with in expenses; too proud to be stingy.

Experiments in Feeding Hogs.

An Iowa farmer reports an experiment made during the fall of 1870, in feeding twenty hogs about one year old. They were fed twenty eight days on dry shelled corn, consuming eighty three bushels, and gaining 837 pounds in weight—an average gain of over 10 pounds to each bushel of corn which was thus made to return a value of 50⅔ cents. They were afterwards fed fourteen days on meal, ground fine and fed dry (full supply of water being furnished,) and consumed forty-seven bushels, gaining 553 pounds in weight, or 11¾ pounds to each bushel fed, the corn returning a value of 58¾ cents per bushel. Afterwards they were fed fourteen days on 55½ bushels of meal mixed with cold water, and made a gain of 731 pounds, or 13¼ pounds to each bushel of meal, the corn returning 65⅔ cents per bushel. They were then fed fourteen days on 46½ bushels of meal cooked, with a gain of 696 pounds in weight, or very nearly 15 pounds for each bushels of meal; the corn returning 74¾ cents per bushel.

The National Calamity.

It becomes our painful duty this morning to announce that the people of the United States yesterday decided by an overwhelming majority to saddle themselves for four years longer with Ulysses S. Grant and his Administration. It is hardly necessary for us to say that we had hoped for a different result, and are sadly disappointed. The hostility of the North against the South has been manifested again, and the fruit will be borne, we presume, in due season. The blame for this defeat rests in a great measure upon the members of the Democratic party, who either abstained from voting, or cast their ballots for the men whom they have heretofore professed to regard as their enemies. The ticket which they have been accustomed to vote in years gone by these men have repudiated. It matters not in what form these recreants choose to excuse themselves; their actions speak, and, despite their pretensions, they are no Democrats. The people of this country have demonstrated their unfitness for self-government, and that's about the least that can be said of it.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Two Irishmen on a sultry night, took refuge under the bed clothes from a party of musquitoes. At last one of them, gasping from heat, ventured to peep beyond the bulwarks, and espied a fire fly, which had strayed into the room. Arousing his companion with a punch, he said: "Patrick, Patrick, its no use; ye might as well come out. Here's one of the craters searching for us wid a lantern.

Yours Truly,
Joshua Draper, Jr.,
County Trea-urer.

USES OF CHARCOAL.—The Country Gentleman says:

At this season of the year, one desires to obtain some purifiers, and charcoal is of the greatest value for the purpose. All kinds of utensils can be puried from disagreeable odors by rinsing them out with charcoal dust wet into a soft paste. Putrid water is immediately deprived of its bad smell by its use. When meat, flesh, &c., are liable to become spoiled for long keeping, charcoal dust will keep them sweet; and if there is a slight taint to meat, it can be taken out by putting three or four pieces of it as large as an egg into the water in which it is boiled. This will effectually purify that which seems too far gone for use.

A Judge did once his tipstaff call,
And say, "Sir, I desire
You go forthwith and search the hall
And bring me in the crier."
"And search in vain, my Lord, I may,"
The tipstaff gravely said.
"The crier can not cry to-day,
Because his wife is dead."

One of the Leavenworth, Kansas, belles said to a gentleman caller, the other night: "The musquitoes are terrible; I wish you could see my back." "I wish I could," was the quiet reply.

The Oxford Corrector has changed hands, both the proprietorships and editorship being now lodged in Mr. H. L. Oliver.

BRADFIELD & CO., Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sirs: I take pleasure in stating that I have vsed for the last twenty years, the medicine you are now putting up, known as Dr. J. I have been familiar with the prescription both as a practitioner of medicine and in domestic practice, and can honestly say that I consider it a boon to suffering females, and can but hope that every lady in our whole land, who may be suffering in any way peculiar to their sex, may be able to procure a bottle, that their sufferings may be not only relieved, but that they may be restored to health and strength. CONCLUSIONS.

The general result of our late Presidential Election indicates that

I. The objections to Gen Grant originally urged by Senators Sumner, Schurz, Trumbull, &c., were forcible and well grounded. Many of the most respectable of the journals which, on either side of the Atlantic, vigorously urged the President's re-election, now insist that the abuses thus proclaimed must be acknowledged and corrected; some of them demand, in addition to the reforms specifically promised at Philadelphia, others still more radical and thorough.

II. But, where thousands admitted that the criticisms aforesaid were just, far fewer were ready to accept the only alternative presented. They say they would have supported Adams, or Davis, or Trumbull; but not Greeley. Hence the vote is quite light, even in States and districts where the contest was spirited.

III. The great mass of our people feel no sympathy for those they still regard as rebels. On the contrary, they hold that these have been treated more leniently than they deserve. The majority will tolerate, not approve, the gift of office to a Longstreet, an Akerman, a Settle who has been baptized into the Republican church; but they are not willing that any others shall hold office where they can prevent it.

IV. Whichever party carries in October two of the three central States—Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana—is morally certain to choose the President in November. There has been no exception to this rule, save in 1824, when Jackson carried Pennsylvania and Indiana, and had a plurality of the Electors chosen, but Adams was elected by the House.

V. These two States having gone for Grant in October, not only was the contest virtually given up in the North, but thousands of the so-called rebels went over to Grant, believing this their shortest way to perfect reconstruction—that is, to secure for themselves a practical equality of rights with other citizens. Thus Gen. Kershaw, of South Carolina at one time urged his fellow rebels to run no ticket against Grant, as this would enable them to appeal with effect for Federal sympathy as against their rascally State rulers

VI. The Republicans have won a perilous triumph. John Randolph said that one was the best possible majority. When the old Republican party had chosen Mr. Monroe President with only one elector dissenting, it dissolved and ran four candidates at the next election.

VII. Though the Democratic party broke into fragments, not one of these has distinctly proposed a return to the anti-negro policy of other days. On the contrary, the Bourbons, who urged all manner of objections to Greeley, said nothing of his devotion to equal rights regardless of color. We may fairly conclude that there will be no further formidable, systematic opposition to impartial suffrage.

VIII. There is little or no complaint from any quarter of violence or terrorism at the polls. Whites and blacks swarmed around a thousand polls, struggling zealously, but scarcely a blow was struck and no serious riot occurred. It is thus settled that whites and blacks may vote together without a breach of the peace—"rebel" and "nigger" treating each other with forbearance and consideration.—New York Tribune.

Radical Tricksters.

The following article appears in the Columbus (Georgia) Enquirer under the caption "Alabama Radicals try to get Georgia negro votes:"

The following circular was generally but privately, distributed among the Columbus negroes. The object is plain. It was to induce Georgia negroes to vote in Alabama. A train was chartered by the Rads to carry colored voters to Opelika. On that train over fifty left who live in this county. They were, we are informed, repeated at different stations. J. L. Pennington was not only a Radical candidate for the State Senate, but also a Grant elector. "How high is this" —a Grant Alabama elector issuing circulars to negroes inviting them to Alabama and chartering cars to carry illegal voters to Opelika? Here is the circular:

To our Republican Friends:

We have chartered two passenger cars which will be attached to the freight train that leaves Columbus on Tuesday morning, November 5th, at half-past six o'clock, for the express purpose of bringing our Republican friends to Opelika to the election. And all our Republican friends are urged to come to Opelika to VOTE They will be carried to Opelika and returned the same night by that train FREE OF ALL CHARGE. Be on the road early, and be sure to get on the CARS.

ISAAC HEYMAN,
J. L. PENNINGTON,
J. O. D. SMITH.

We suppose the frauds committed by the Radicals in different parts of the State were nearly or quite equal to their returned majority of four or five thousand. At Huntsville, Decatur, Tuscaloosa, Calera, Stevenson, Talladega, Birmingham, and other central points from the evidence in our possession, frauds to the extent of two thousand false ballots could be readily established on a legal investigation of the election. But with the House of Representatives in the possession of the party which committed the frauds, it is not likely that the polls can be properly purged. Mr. Senator Pennington and his virtuous comrades are possibly getting ready to emigrate to Pennsylvania, and are practicing in these parts in order to present themselves to Simon Cameron as expert electioneering agents to aid him in his operations in the next Governor's or Presidential contest. It is rather hard on the white element in Lee to be beaten and put under by the Alabama Radical negroes, but to have the Oily Statesman of Opelika over his open signature to invite the Georgia Africans to join their Alabama brethren in their triumph over our poor white folks in Lee, is very bold in Pennington, and very severe on the sufferers! Is it possible that all the "pure and holy" men do these things? Fortunately the Democrats have a majority in the Senate, and that body will no doubt be inclined to enquire into Mr. Pennington's title to his seat!

Montgomery Advertiser.

The Election in the State

There seems to be no longer any doubt of the fact that the Radical party have again obtained possession of the Executive power of the State by several thousand majority. The Legislature is still in doubt. In the Senate the Democrats and Liberals have probably one majority. The complexion of the House depends on two or three doubtful counties. Should these counties have returned Democrats there will be an anti-Radical majority of from two to four. On the other hand, should these counties return Radicals there will be a probable Radical majority of from two to four in the House. The North Alabama Congressional Districts have utterly failed to gratify our expectations. One of the Districts gives the State ticket about thirty-nine hundred majority, the other less than five hundred. When Lindsay was elected Governor these two Districts gave nearly ten thousand Democratic and Conservative majority. They could have given and with a full vote ought to have given the same majority for the rights and honor of Alabama! They have preferred Spencer and the Radical negro ascendancy. Lewis and the rest of the supple-jacks are Spencer's tools, and it is truth to say the little Sutler appears to have in their line about as much energy and brains as all the rest of the poor creatures put together. As Carnot is said to have organized war in France during the days of the first French revolution, so Spencer certainly organized in this election the "colored troops" in Alabama, and they "fought bravely." We only regret that our enlightened white brethren in some counties of the State did not fight as well for their own, or what ought to have been, their principles and true interests. There was not an African having the right to vote in Alabama who did not walk miles to cast his ballot; and some thousands of enterprising African suffragants responded to the appeals of the Radical managers and came over from Georgia and Tennessee and Mississippi to help Spencer in delivering by contract the Sate to King Grant!

The cotton belt did well, except in a few counties. But the voters of the Middle and of the Southeastern counties could not carry the State without more efficient assistance than they received. Now gentlemen, you who voted for Spencer, Bingham, Sheets, Lewis, Parsons and the others, have your choice! Make the most of them, for if you can stand what you have voluntarily brought on yourselves and your State, we, who so earnestly desired and tried to escape the result, can rest under the afflictive dispensation with quiet consciences! We, however, heartily thank every true man in Alabama who has shown his faith by his works. We understand that the falling off from the vote in North Alabama may in part be accounted for by the absolute consolidation for the first time of the entire negro vote in that part of the State.

The Result.

The Selma Times says: A lengthy canvass has ended. A bold movement by eminent leaders, to redeem a great country from a corrupt administration, has been defeated. Horace Greeley, the life-long advocate of freedom to the black race, and the generous and kind hearted adversary of a fallen foe, has been beaten. Peace and reconciliation, has been rejected by the masses of the North, and further oppression, further degredation to the South, is to be the programme in the future.

Thousands, yes, hundreds of thousands of true men of the South, have sacrificed their life-long views, and almost their honor, in order to allay the irritation of the Northern mind, and to have peace and reconciliation in our common country. We have taken the "bitter pill," and to-day we see plainly that there is no desire in the Northern heart to heal the breach caused by the war, but a determination to widen it, by continuous oppression, plunder and robbery.

As a people, we have been true to ourselves. We have illustrated our manhood on a hundred fields. We have shown to the world that we are men. We have proven beyond cavil, that we were earnest in our desire for peace and reconciliation, for harmony in our whole country, by voting for Greeley, the Father of Abolitionism, but all, all, has been in vain. We have been defeated, the hand of reconciliation, of peace and happiness, has been rejected.

Amid all our dangers, we have been together. On the field of battle the white people of the South have stood shoulder to shoulder. In reconstruction, with all its infamy and outrages, we have been as one man. As one man we have been refused the hand of reconciliation. As one man let us proudly disdain the contemptible crowd who madly and exultingly, North and South, shout for Grant, for thievery, for plunder, for ignorance, for vice and for villainy. We have, as a people, done all that we could do to redeem a good government from the hands of "thieves and fools," and have failed; let us still show to the world how grandly great we are in our defeat.

The day for the change is not yet, but in our judgment, it is rapidly approaching—and we believe from the late election that the American people are prepared to submit to it. The next struggle for the American people is one in which the contending factions will represent. Empire on the one hand and the Commune on the other.

Eufaula Times.

The election in Lawrence, so far as heard from, passed off quietly. Up to the hour of going to press, last evening, all the returns had not been received, but enough to show that Materson and Simpson are elected Representatives, J. C. Baker, Solicitor, and Arm. Bean, Clerk of Law and Equity Court of Courtland. The Republican ticket for President and State officers will have a majority of 400 or 500. The Democracy are routed, horse, foot and dragoon—not by the Republicans, but by the Independents—all of whom are Greeley men. We submit to the decision of the sovereign people, believing, as we do, in that great Democratic principle, that majorities ought to govern.

Dr. A. J. Sykes and Judge Gibson are among the best men of the State—they made a gallant fight and went down with their Democratic colors floating proudly to the breeze. Messrs Materson and Simpson are good and true men, and will faithfully represent the interests of the people in the Halls of our State Legislature. Both gentlemen are property holders and fully identified with our people—conservative in their political views, they will do nothing, we feel assured, that will militate against the morals and common good of our people. We will give full particulars in our next.

Moulton Advertiser.

Reasons of Mr. Greeley's Defeat.

There are no illusions surrounding the success of Gen. Grant and the defeat of Mr. Greeley. The exact meaning and causes of each can be plainly stated. He who runs may read. Let no man deceive himself with the idea that the abuses of the administration received indorsement yesterday. Citizens are statesmen in multitude. They make a choice between evils, taking the lesser; between advantages, taking what they esteem the greater. The citizens, renewing Gen. Grant's term yesterday, would not in their consciences or at the polls applaud the debasement of official life; the demoralized condition of the civil service; the administrative aggression on the Senators who forgot their future in remembering their duty; the continuance of robbery at the South; the efforts to foster and intensify a conflict of interest and feeling between races and sections. None of these things were yesterday indorsed by the people. It were an insult to their virtue and intelligence to say or think they were. But in an important respect the people of the North were not satisfied as to the safety of making a change in respect of the situation South. They could not be sure in their minds that the results of the war were sincerely accepted down there. Mr. Greeley, too, is a man of too much ability to be elected President. He belongs to the cerebral aristocracy. Grant becomes yet another proof of the preference of republics for mediocrity. Second-rate men as to ability have been Executives for 25 years. The people incline to invest with the office men of stupidity, of low cunning, of conventional gifts and habits. They fear a genius. They hesitate to honor men of striking, original character. They honor average men and set aside able men. They choose Pierces, Lincolns, and Grants, and discard Greeleys, Websters, Chases, Clays and Sewards.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Checked, but not Defeated.

The story of yesterday's election may be briefly told. Radicalism has obtained a new lease of power for four years more, and Gen. Grant is elected President for a second term. This result excites no surprise, for it has been foreshadowed ever since Pennsylvania was carried by fraud and treachery in October. Disappointment therefore does not add to the keenness of a regret which will be felt over the whole Union. We accept the inevitable, with a sense of deep despondency for the future, which is not enlivened by any hope of a change for the better. The men who have ruled heretofore, look upon political power as a means of personal preferment and partisan advantage. They have used it unscrupulously to promote the most selfish interests, and are not likely to renounce in the hour of success the methods by which wealth has been suddenly acquired and honors attained. The Liberal movement is temporarily checked, but not defeated. Its ultimate triumph is certain, and there are thousands who conspired against it that will live to deplore their mistaken opposition, and join hands hereafter in a patriotic effort to redeem this error and to elect a Reform candidate in 1876. The great principles and ideas which underlie this cause can be no more suppressed than the order of the seasons can be arrested. In the language of the Kentucky hunter, "Let us pick our flints and try it again."

Washington Patriot, (Dem.)

SHAMEFUL APATHY.—It is with a feeling of mortification too deep for complacent utterance that we point the conservative people of Lowndes to the vote cast in the county last Tuesday. The figures speak for themselves. Eloquently do they reproach us with the shameful manner in which we permitted one of the most important elections ever held in the State to go against us by an increased majority. It is a blot and a stain on the intelligence of our people that cannot be removed for two long years. We have selfishly sat down in idleness and permitted a band of unscrupulous men to lead a mass of ignorant people to a fuller victory than ever before. It is disgraceful. Perhaps not a score of men in the county can lay their hands on their hearts, look up to a frowning Heaven and say "I did my duty." Much might have been done in this county if we had been actuated by the proper spirit. We could not only have cast our full strength, but could have made inroads on the enemy. That much we know!—Hayneville Examiner.

FRAUDS.—We demand, in the name of honesty and fairness, that the Supervisors of the county shall compare the vote of the Mount Willing and Hayneville beats, (as well as other beats) with the registration. The frauds perpetrated in this county by repeaters, and negroes under lawful age, is astonishing, and calls loudly for investigation. We dare to say that fully 400 illegal ballots were cast in Lowndes alone.—Hayneville Examiner.

The Congressional Elections.

One of the worst results of the late election is the probability that it restores to Grant's party more than a two-thirds majority in both the House and Senate of the United States. Here are the elements of immense partisan mischief, especially when we consider that the same party will have control of three-fourths of the State Legislatures. This gives them opportunities at the Federal Constitution, which we doubt not they will improve. These amendments, if made, will be of the most revolutionary character, and will virtually nullify all that remains of that government which was established in 1789. Those who think there is no danger of a dictatorship being established by General Grant should take heed of this fact, that his friends have the power in their own hands to give it, in the form of amendments to the constitution, a sort of legal aspect.

This two-thirds majority has been obtained by the throwing away of nearly all the Tennessee members by the Andrew Johnson split, and by the unexpected reverses sustained in Virginia, Georgia, Alabama and other States through the defection of so-called Democrats, which not only slaughtered Mr. Greeley but beat the Liberal Congressmen. If the present rule of the bayonet is made permanent over them, who will they have to blame but themselves? Most of the Southern Grant members of Congress are ignorant, worthless characters, white and black, far inferior in talent and intellect to the men who have been sent in the same interest from the North. They are of a class who will do anything to please the President, without question of what it is. They will be the body-guards of the administration in Congress. Thus secure and sustained in Congress, with the best and most conservatives as well as the most honest Republicans, who have heretofore manifested some independence, discharged from that body, what is there to resist or oppose any barrier to the violence of party, the encroachments of Executive power or the march of corruption? The next Congress will be as devoted to Grant as the French Chambers were to Napoleon III., or a Roman Senate was to the Cæsars in the later days of the Roman Empire. It will simply register his behests and commands. If we have a vestige of the old constitution left at the end of the term it will have to be attributed to a Providential interposition.

Republican

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, NOV. 16, 1872.

"Give us an Empire."

At every political reverse we have men, who have, by some means, become connected with the Southern Democratic press raising this cry for "Empire," as if they knew what they were asking.

They are the Sampsons of our party, so far as goes their will to pull down the fine temple of the Republic, because they find themselves at present stripped of their liberties and maltreated, but they are not the Sampsons that would carry off the gates of Gaza. To make a farther use of the figure, they could be of more service to the party they espouse if they would drop their pens and use (well say their own) jawbones against the Philistines. It is evident jaw-bone in their hands would be more powerful than the pen, for the pen in their cases is a kind of boomerang weapon that recoils upon the ranks it is thrown from and hurts the enemy in front but little.

"Charge men, once more, for the Republic" cry these newspaper Generals of the Southern Democracy before the battle.

"We surrender. Give us an Empire," shout these vanquished knights of the quill, when they find themselves prone in front of the victorious hosts of ignorance, vice, corruption, scoundrelism and unpatriotism that compose the radical party.

"Give us an Empire," cry these whipped champions of Democratic principles, as if we did not already have enough of Empire!

"Give us an Empire," yelp these whipped spaniels, with tails between their legs, as if the ignorant and brutal negroes of the South and the Simon Camerons, the Butlers and Mortons of the North would take fright at that!

Such men are not cut out for leaders of men and parties, and the sooner they abdicate the better for the party they presume to lead.

They are unfamiliar with or insensible to the grand examples in history where patriotism and adherence to principle brought its reward.

To them it is instant triumph or nothing, forgetting as they do, that a thousand years is as a day to Truth, that it is bound to rise of its own inherent force.

They forget or ridicule the sentiments of a Patrick Henry, when he cried "Give me liberty or give me death." They are insensible to the heroism of a Lieut Herndon when he cried "I go down with my ship."

Grant will give us all enough Empire before we are done with him.

It is men who will fight the Empire that are just now needed.

We want no men on the Watchtowers who will cry, "All hail" to the enemy.

Empire or no Empire is one of the issues.

Gentlemen who want empire had better go over to Grant.

They will find no favor with the Democratic masses. We say to them that Retire rhymes with Empire.

We give the full official vote of Calhoun county in this number of the REPUBLICAN. We did not get it in time for last Saturday; but we were so badly demoralized generally by the result of the election that it is questionable whether we would have inserted it, if it had come in. We freely confess to a more complete demoralization than that experienced on the collapse of the Confederacy: for in that instance we surrendered to overwhelming numbers of soldiers; but this time so far as our State election was concerned we surrendered to carpet baggers, scalawags and negroes, and inferior numbers of them at that. Well the remedy is for us all to go to work, do well, and win next time. Men who give up in the face of one disaster, however humiliating, are not worth a cent.

The Result.

It does not seem now probable that Mr. Greeley will have more than the following States, with their electoral votes:

Maryland	8
Georgia	11
Louisiana	8
Texas	8
Tennessee	12
Kentucky	12
Missouri	15
	74

There are 367 electoral votes; therefore the result will stand:

For Grant	293
For Greeley	74

In 1868 Horatio Seymour, the "straightout" Democratic candidate, got 80 electoral votes, given in eight States. In 1864 General McClellan, also a "straight" Democratic candidate, received three States and 21 votes. In 1852 General Scott, the last Whig candidate for President, obtained 42 electoral votes, cast in four States. It is noticeable that two of these four—Kentucky and Tennessee—have now gone for Mr. Greeley. In 1840 Martin Van Buren obtained 60 electoral votes, against General Harrison's 234. Mr. Van Buren's friends elected the next President, as Mr. Greeley's will in 1876. General Harrison had a majority of 145,000 on the white popular vote over Mr. Van Buren. Now General Grant has not only no majority, but is beaten on that vote nearly 300,000. In other words, the popular majority obtained by General Grant is made up of negroes who have been manipulated into voters since he was last elected. Mr. Greeley is the President elected by the majority of the whites. General Grant is the one chosen by the white majority added to the negroes.

The result in Cherokee furnishes Calhoun a warning that she ought to take to heart.

That old Democratic county is to be represented by a Radical, thanks to the vanity and ambition of a half dozen men of Cherokee who supposed that the wheels of the State could not move without their assistance.

It may be placed to the credit of the good sense of Calhoun that we did not have enough aspirants in this county to have made possible the election of the gingerbread, saddle colored boy, Hoke, put out by the white-skinned Radicals of this county two or three days before the election.

In view of the possible vanity and ambition of aspirants and the ascertained villiany and trickery of the Radicals, we shall henceforth go for Conventions for any and all offices in the county and oppose independent candidates on grounds of expediency and safety.

It is said that the rains in North Alabama melted the "Avalanche" and that it could not get started from the first mountain. The "tidal wave" could not spread over the whole State; but it swept through a large portion of the Black Belt.—Montgomery Advance.

We cry quarter! If you won't say anything more about that Avalanche we won't. We are in favor of immediately putting out the next North Alabama man who says Avalanche Democracy in a State Convention.

What preparations are being made by the Press Association of Alabama for the proposed trip to Mobile in December? Let's put it off until Christmas.

Montgomery Advance.

Put it off by all means. The country press by custom take a week's holiday at Christmas; and gentlemen who play editor and foreman too could best spare the time for the trip then.

A CARD FROM DR. GREELEY.

HE STILL GOES FOR UNIVERSAL AMNESTY.

He Again Becomes an Editor—And an Independent Editor—He will Never Again be a Candidate for Office—"Crumbs of Comfort"—No More Red-Nosed Politicians.

[From the New York Tribune.]

The undersigned resumes the editorship of the Tribune, which he relinquished on embarking in another line of business six months ago. Henceforth, it shall be his endeavor to make this a thoroughly independent journal, treating all parties and political movements with judicial fairness and candor, but courting the favor and deprecating the wrath of no one. If he can hereafter say anything that will tend to heartily unite the whole American people on the broad platform of universal amnesty and impartial suffrage, he will gladly do so. For the present, however, he can best commend that consummation by silence and forbearance. The victors in our late struggle can hardly fail to take the whole subject of Southern rights and wrongs into early and earnest consideration, and to them, for the present, he remits it.

Since he will never again be a candidate for any office, and is not in full accord with either of the great parties which have hitherto divided the country, he will be able and will endeavor to give wider and steadier regard to the progress of science, industry, and the useful arts, than a partisan journal can do; and he will not be provoked to indulgence in those bitter personalities which are the recognized bane of journalism. Sustained by a generous public, he will do his best to make the Tribune a power in the broader field it now contemplates, as, when human freedom was imperilled, it was in the arena of political partisanship.

Respectfully, HORACE GREELEY,

NEW YORK, Nov. 6, 1872.

WHAT DR. GREELEY CALLS "CRUMBS OF COMFORT."

[From New York Tribune.]

There has been no time, until now, within the last twelve years, when the Tribune was not supposed to keep [illegible] sort of Federal employment agency, established to get places under Government for those who were indisposed to work for their living. Any man who had ever voted the Republican ticket believed that it was the duty and the privilege of the editor of this paper to get him a place in the Custom House. Every red nosed politician who cheated at the caucus and fought at the polls looked to the editor of the Tribune to secure his appointment as gauger, or as army chaplain, or as Minister to France. Every campaign orator came upon us after the battle was over for a recommendation as Secretary of the Treasury or the loan of half a dollar. If one of our party had an interest pending at Washington, the editor of the Tribune was telegraphed in frantic haste to come to the Capitol, save this bill, crush that one, promote one project or stop another. He was to be everybody's friend, with nothing to do but to take care of other folk's business, sign papers, write letters, and ask favors for them, and to get no thanks for it either. Four fifths of these people were sent away without what they wanted, only to become straightway abusive enemies; it was the worry of life to try to gratify one demand in a dozen for the other fifth.

The man with two wooden legs congratulated himself that he could never be troubled with cold feet. It is a source of profound satisfaction to us that office-seekers will keep aloof from a defeated candidate who has not influence enough at Washington or Albany to get a sweeper appointed under the Sergeant-at-Arms, or a deputy-sub-assistant temporary clerk into the paste-pot section of the folding room. At last we shall be let alone to mind our own affairs and manage our own newspaper without being edified a [illegible] every hour to help lazy people whom we don't know, and to spend our strength in efforts that only benefit people who don't deserve assistance. At last we shall keep our office clear of blatherskites and political beggars, and go about our daily work with the satisfaction of knowing that not the most credulous of place hunters will suspect us of having any credit with the appointing powers. That is one of the results of Tuesday's election for which we own ourselves profoundly grateful.

Miss N. C. Stewart, Equal Rights candidate for Congress of the 5th District, registered and voted here last week This is the first woman that has voted in the State, we presume.—Gadsden Times.

The election of Chas. Pelham to Congress from this District creates a vacancy in the Judgeship of this Circuit. The vacancy will be filled by the Governor. He will doubtless make the appointment from the following list: W. H. Smith and Bob Heflin, of Randolph; Cantrell, of Clay; Geo. W. Parsons, Judge McAfee, and Thos. Hayden, of Talladega; and Mardis of Shelby.

The Legislature.

Both Houses of the General Assembly are very close. In the Senate the Democrats and Liberals would appear to have a majority of one or three depending on the result in one of the Districts not yet reported. In the House, with the two Independent men from Lawrence county, both Greeley men, and both opposed to the Radical concern, exactly one half of the House will consist of Conservative members. Under no circumstances can there be more than four Radical or six anti-Radical majority. The result depends on the return from Barbour. If these votes be returned for the Conservatives our majority will be six, if for the Radicals their majority will be four. If one Democrat and two Radicals be returned there will be an exact division in the House.

P. S.—Since writing the above we understand that there is a serious impression that Marengo has gone Democratic, or that, at least the Senator is elected from that county.—Mont. Advertiser, 13.

Marengo County.

It affords us the greatest satisfaction to refer to the dispatch from Demopolis, from which it appears that the Democratic candidates—three Representatives and one Senator are elected. This secures us both branches of the Legislature. With Barbour counted for us we will have a good majority on joint ballot.

Montgomery Advertiser, 14.

[From the Montgomery Advertiser 14th.]

Something About the Election

In the Third District the Democratic and Liberal State ticket beats the Radical imposture about two hundred majority. Judge Pelham, however, claims to have been elected by seven hundred majority as we learn, having shown an extraordinary personal popularity in the District!

The learned Judge runs ahead of the immaculate Lewis according to the reported returns quite a thousand votes! Who would have thought it!

Total vote for Governor in the Third District is as follows: For Herndon, 14,779 against 13,795 for Lindsay in 1870; for Lewis, 14,574 against 11,230 for Smith in 1870. Herndon's majority 205. Increase of Herndon's vote over Lindsy's 984. Increase of Lewis over Smith 3,344. Total increase of vote 4,328, or nearly 17½ per cent. These figures are only semi-official, but the official figures will not materially alter the result.

In the Fifth District the indomitable Democracy made, under the circumstances, a good fight, though falling largely under our expected majority. They did well, however, considering the frauds, treachery, and the military intimidation to which they were exposed. We extend our congratulations to Mr. Caldwell on his election.

In the Sixth District our majority does not exceed fifteen hundred!

If we have lost the Legislature it is because of the loss of Representatives from Morgan and Cherokee by a number of opposing Democrats allowing Radicals to slip in on miserable pluralities. Nor can we understand why we lost the member in Limestone. At any rate those unfortunate results may have lost us the lower House of the Legislature. Why any reasonable citizen outside of the collection of ignorant Radical negroes and others composing that concern, should have been apparently indifferent to the predominance of those creatures in the Executive and Legislative Department of our State Government for two years to come, and why they have tolerated the idea of having some Radical person to represent their interests and the dignity of Alabama in the Senate of the United States for six years to come, is beyond our comprehension!

The Legislature.

From the returns now at hand we find the political complexion of the next Legislature of the State to be as follows: Senate—Democrats 18, Radicals 14, Doubtful 1. House—Democrats 50, Radicals 46, Liberal Republican 1. Doubtful 3. The 'doubtful' delegation is that from Barbour county. If the Democrats from that county receive the certificate of election the Democrats will have 53 members; if the Radicals receive it they will have 49 against our 50 and 1 Liberal Republican.

IMMENSE FIRE IN BOSTON!

IT RAGES FOR 5 MILES!

Wholesale Destruction of Dry Goods

LOSS $200,000,000!

BOSTON, Nov. 10.

The fire alarm sounded about 7½ p. m., followed by a second, third and fouth in rapid succession. The first engine was hardly on the ground when the flames burst from the fourth story of the Ganill wholesale dry goods store at the corner of Summer and Kingston streets. It seems that the fire caught in the engine room and the flames following the elevator were first seen under the roof of the building. In that vacinity were some four story granite Mansard roofs which the flames soon reached. From these they spread to the opposite side far beyond the reach of the engines. In less than thirty minutes the whole city, in one direction, was at the mercy of the flames which leaped from roof to roof with great rapidity. One great dry goods house after another succumbed and granite walls fell on the streets making them impassible.

9 O'CLOCK.—The fire still rages and the engines are gradually driven back from station. Huge blocks of granite weighing tons are split in fragments which are hurled across the streets.

LATER.—The authorities are blowing up buildings on Lindell and Congress streets to check the flames.—Beebe's block, the finest business structure in the city is burned. Stewart's rooms only fed the flames. Pieces of dry goods went whistling across the square, firing the stores on Devonshire street. Every building is now heated to the verge of spontaneous combustion and houses catch like tinder. Deafening explosions are constantly heard. The tenement houses on Upper and Federal streets have now caught, and crazed women are rushing to and fro with clocks and bedding in their arms. The wool houses in Federal street have also caught and are being rapidly consumed from cellar to garret. The paper houses come next.

AN HOUR LATER.—Freeman National Bank is gone and so is the National Bank of North America. Loss is estimated at $20,000,000. Several insurance companies must succumb.

The conflagration was checked at 1 o'clock after fifteen hours havoc among hundreds of the costliest buildings in the country. It has temporarily paralysed the shoe and leather, wool and dry goods trade. Not one wholesale shoe and leather establishment is left, and the wool houses suffered in like manner. Dry goods jobbing houses are few and far between. The 9th regiment with detachments from other regiments are on duty protecting property.

The places of custody for theives are overwhelmed, but they are only arrested to be discharged.

All the residences of Fort Hill section were destroyed, including Fridley, High and Broad streets, rendering hundreds of families homeless. A portion of the walls of Trinity Church is still standing.

LATER.—The fire has crossed Washington street.

10 A. M.—Three square miles are burned and the fire is still raging. The Postoffice, with most of Congress street, will go.

LATER.—The fire has reached dimensions that simply defy description. The people of Boston find themselves in danger of their lives. The mere loss of houses and property is now scarcely thought of and everybody is retiring before the flames towards Tremont and Court sreets, where it is supposed the fire will be unable to reach, but a gale is blowing and it seems to have no positive direction. In all probability Faneuil Hall and Quincy Market will go. The Union telegraph office was abandoned at half past eight.

11:30 A. M.—The fire still rages with unabated fury.

1 P. M.—The gale is increasing but the fire seems to be subsiding.

[Note.—This dispatch comes via Montreal, Canada.

1:30 P. M.—It is now confidently believed that the fire is under control. The losses, if no more buildings are burned, will not fall far short of two hundred millions.

The Radicals have elected their State ticket by about 3000 majority. Next week we will publish a tabular statement of the result, by counties. We have lost on Lindsay's vote of 1870, for Governor, in Butler, Blount, Conecuh, Colbert, Elmore, Greene, Hale, Lauderdale, Lawrence, Limestone, Madison, Marion, Russell, Franklin, Shelby, Sumter, Pickens, Tuscaloosa, Walker, Winston and Wilcox, amounting to about 14,000.

We have made gains in Barbour, Calhoun, Chambers, Dallas, Henry, Jefferson, Mobile, Montgomery, St. Clair, Marengo, amounting to about 5,000.

Add the 5000 to Lindsay's majority of 740 and take this from the gains of the Radicals 10,000 and it leaves them about 3,000 votes ahead.

The late Presidential election was the most quiet one held in the United States for many years—there was no trouble anywhere, so far as we have been able to ascertain, except in Baltimore, where a riot occurred and several persons were killed.

Greeley Electors received in Calhoun county 1764 votes. Grant Electors received 398 votes.

The Board of Education.

The Board of Education for the State of Alabama as remodeled by the late election will stand as follows:

First	District	Miller—Howard.
Second	"	Ard—Gibson.
Third	"	Oliver—Smith.
Fourth	"	Speed—Foster.
Fifth	"	Box—Cowan.
Sixth	"	McClug—Smith.

The Radicals (in italics) number five, the Democrats, seven. Speed's election to the Superintendency of Public Instruction will create a vacancy in the fourth district which will probably be filled by special election.

[Communicated.]

MR. EDITOR: It was my good pleasure to attend the Tournament, at the Old Camp Ground. I would have written something of it sooner but was expecting some one more competent to perform the task, and besides my time has been very much occupied with other matters. It was a magnificent affair, all things considered. The various prizes were contested for by sixteen gallant and well mounted Sir Knights, as follows; to-wit:

Knight of the Lost Cause,	W. A. Glover.
Knight of the Black Cross,	Virgil Foggy.
Knight Before Last,	B. Embry.
Knight of Munford,	A. J. Street.
Knight of Morven	W. T. Glover.
Knight of Lochlin,	J. L. Davis.
Knight of Toby Tospot	W. L. Bain.
Kni't of the Last Chance	Jas. Williams
Kni't of the Fleetwood,	D. W. Weir.
Kni't of Golden Cross,	G. C. Williams
Knight of the Red Rose,	C. M. Martin.
Kni't of Silver Cresent,	S. W. Borders.
Knight of Choccoloco,	Walter Hoffner.
Kni't of Blue Cresent,	Green Bush.
Knight of Hope,	W. M. Andrews.
Knight of Don Quixote,	Sam'l Wright.
Knigh Mare,	A. M. Martin.

The Knights were commanded by Capt. J. M. Renfro, Marshal of the Day, and a beautiful sight was to see sixteen well mounted, well equiped, beautifully costumed, most handsome Sir Knights drawn up in line eager for the contest, all vieing with each other to win the prizes for which they were about to contest—to-wit: 1st. A Royal and Superb Crown. 2d. A Beautiful Wreath. 3d. A Handsome Album.

The contest began about 10 o'clock, and the large and enthusiastic crowd on the grounds were held spell-bound for 2½ hours, during which time some splendid riding was done, indeed I never witnessed better in my life. The young men certainly deserve great credit for their proficiency in horsemanship, (an elegant accomplishment.) The riding was interspersed with a good deal of side spliting laughter. When you know that Capt. Tom. Martin was the Clown, well costumed for the occasion, and had the best kicking mule in the world, you may guess that it was real funny! "You ought to have seen that mule!" Why he would kick at his own shadow!

When the contest ended, the result was announced by the Marshal as follows: 1st. Prize won by Knight of Toby Tospot. 2d. By Knight of the Silver Cresent. 3d. By the Knight of Hope.

I should have mentioned that a prize consisting of a fine gold ring was offered to the most graceful rider of all the Knights to be decided by a committee of ladies, which were selected as follows: Misses Annie Scarbrough, Josie Crankfield and Mollie Johnson, and after an ineffectual effort on the part of the committee to decide, three of the Knights were requested to ride again, to wit: Knight of the Lost Cause, Knight of the Golden Cross and the Blue Cresent, after which the committee decided that the Knight of the Lost Cause was entitled to the prize, which was announced. It was also announced that a repast would be spread at the Spring and all were invited to partake and we partook. You've heard of "tables groaning," etc. Well this fails, and indeed language fails to describe this dinner. To form a conception, you should have been there, when you could. I've seen you tried. The good matronly ladies, assisted by the dear sweet young ladies, made all feel at home, and we enjoyed the dinner muchly—more than tongue can tell now. After dinner the presentation of the prizes took place. The Knights were formed in line and the prizes were presented to the successful Knights by the Marshal. Thereupon the Knight of Fleetwood, representing the Knight of Toby Tospot, crowned Miss Emma Martin Queen of Love and Beauty. Knight of the Silver Cresent placed the wreath upon the head of Miss Annie Scarbrough, and the Knight of Hope presented Miss Annie Crankfield with the Album, all making most beautiful little speeches and responses. It was then announced that riding would be resumed on the grounds. The prize being a fine bridle, which was contested for by sixteen Knights, and was won by the Knight of Hope, he taking all the rings (9 in number; the Knight of the Silver Cresent taking 8, and the Knight of the Lost Cause, taking 7. The riding of this contest was most excellent. I am proud of our boys, and the young ladies, proud ain't no name for it—I only wish I had said more to them.

Thine Resignedly, * * *

Personal.—Horace Stevenson Esq., just elected Solicitor of Calhoun County, called to see us Friday morning. He accompanied a young lady from Jacksonville, who comes to Montgomery to attend school at Hamner Hall. Mr. Stevenson is one of the most talented, as well as urbane gentleman of the rising young men of the State. His popularity is evidenced by the fact that he had no opposition in the race for Solicitor in his county.—Montgomery Advance.

THE BANNER BEAT.

After a fair and impartial comparison between the votes of 1870 and 1872, the Committee have decided that Beat No. 8 is the Banner Beat of Calhoun, though many competed close for the honor and are entitled to great credit. The Banner is made and awaits the order of a committee from Beat 8. It is subject to the order of the Beat any time after Tuesday, the staff only remaining to be made.

Six negro paupers who were unable to walk, were hauled from the county hospital to vote for Grant and Lewis. They came from an institution where they were supported by the white people of Montgomery county to vote against the interests of the people who were keeping them from starving. That shows their gratitude.—Montgomery Advertiser.

WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS is the safest and most infallible. There is no disease arising from depravation of the blood which it will not speedily cure.

The State of Alabama,
Calhoun County.

I Alexander Woods, Judge of the Court of Probate in and for Calhoun County, State of Alabama, hereby certify that the foregoing contains a true list of all the claims allowed at the November Term, of the Court of County Commissioners, 1872, as appears of Record in my office.

Given under my hand this 11th day of Nov. 1872.

A. WOODS, Judge of Probate

The State of Alabama,
Calhoun County.

Court of Probate for said County October 2d, A. D., 1872.

This day came E. C. Teague and J. C. Watson, administrators, with the will annexed, of the estate of Elias Teague, deceased, and present and file in court their petition in writing representing among other things that said decedant died seized and possessed of an undivided one half-interest in the following described lands, lying and being situated in said county, to-wit: Fractions D., E. and F. and north west fourth of south-east fourth, and south half of north west fourth, all in section six. Also fractions A. and B. in section one, and all in township fifteen of range five, east in the Coosa Land District.

Petitioners further [illegible] Catherin Teague, R. J. Teague, Laura Barrett, wife of L. W. Barrett, Hellen Teague, Eugene Teague, Florence Teague, Rachael Watts, wife of W. Watts, Dance Johnson, Catherin Roberts, wife of J. R. Roberts, Mary Johnson, J. R. P. Johnson, Margaret Davis, wife of Wm. Davis, Sarah Whatley, wife of Loyd Whatley, Martha Carpenter, wife of Carpenter, Reuben Johnson, Abner A. Teague, Sarah J. Whiteside, wife of O. D. Whiteside, Martha Whiteside, Rachael Warnock, wife of R. N. Warnock, Dorcas Fleming, wife of John A. Fleming, Anna Teague, Catherin Watson, wife of J. C. Watson, and E. C. Teague are the heirs at law and next of kin of decedent and are all of full age, except the said J. R. P. Johnson and P. D. Watson who are minors under the age of 21 years, and all of whom reside in the State of Alabama, in the counties of Calhoun and Clay, except the said Laura Barrett and her husband, L. W. Barrett, Helen Teague, Eugene Teague, Florence Teague, Abner A. Teague, Sarah J. Whiteside and her husband, O. D. Whiteside who are non-residents residing beyond the limits of the State of Alabama.

Petitioners further allege that said interest in said lands cannot be equitably divided among said heirs without a sale of the same, whereupon the premises being considered, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that the hearing of said petition was set for the 15th day of November, 1872, and on account of the notice of the filing of said petition and of the day set for the hearing of the same not being published, it is ordered by the court that the hearing of said petition be continued until the 7th day of December, 1872. It is further ordered that notice be given to said non-residents heirs by publication in the Jacksonville Republican for three successive weeks notifying them to be and appear at a special term of said court to be holden at the court house of said county on said 7th day of December, 1872, and defend against said petition if they think proper.

A. WOODS, Judge of nov161872—4t Probate.

DR. RADWAY'S

Sarsaparillian Resolvent

Has made the most astonishing cures; so quick, so rapid are the changes the body undergoes, under the influence of this truly wonderful Medicine, that

Every day an increase in Weight and Flesh is Felt

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continuly progressing, succeeds in arresting these wasts, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of w ... its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and weight increasing.

Not only does the Sarsaparillian Resolvent excels all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for Kidney and Bladder Complaints, Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Discus, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threrds like white silk, there is a morbid, dark, billious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of lhe Back and along the Loins.

DEMOCRATS STAND FIRM.

NO LEGISLATURE YET.

[Special Correspondence Selma Times.]

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA,
November 18, 1872.

I presume you have heard of the high handed outrage perpetrated upon the State of Alabama, in the arrest by a United States Marshal, of three of her Legislators on their way to the Capitol. It is well known that, according to the State Constitution, members of the Legislature, during the sitting of the General Assembly, are privileged from arrest, except in cases of treason, felony or breach of the peace.

The Democratic members elect from Marengo county, were Messrs. F. A. McNeill, R. A. Morgan and F. H. Kimbro. These gentlemen had their certificates of election and were on their way to Montgomery, but on their arrival at Selma were, under some pretext, arrested by a United States Marshal and have been spirited away to Mobile.

Since this arrest, the gravest fears are entertained that the thing will not stop here, but other members will be taken up, for it is said that the ultimate object of this interference—the prime motive for this meddling in the affairs of Alabama, is to elect Mr. Spencer to the United States Senate.

According to report, the arrest was made under the Enforcement Act.—Never, since the passage of this abominable measure have the people of Alabama had an opportunity to so thoroughly test its dangerous tendency and absolute oppression, as in the arrest of these Marengo members. Of course if they were not legally elected the proper and only place to contest their election would have been here in Montgomery. If they have been actually guilty of any violation of this so-called enforcement measure, certainly the Constitution of Alabama and the dignity of the State might have been sufficiently consulted to have allowed members of the Legislature at least, to reach the capital, when on their way to attend the general assembly.

But it is necessary for party purposes and for the advancement of a few individuals—that legislation shall be impeded at this particular juncture—consequently in the spirit of the coming empire, the county of Marengo must be deprived of her voice in the general assembly, and the interest of a large community must suffer to secure the desired end.

It is impossible to tell yet how this matter will end. The Democracy have brains and courage and evidently do not intend to be outwitted by their adversaries—so long as they are satisfied the law is on their side. To what length however the Radicals will go—if the United States Government will back them, experience in the past can be our only guide.

The present Assembly consists of fifty three Conservatives, two Independents and forty five Radicals in the House, and 19 Conservatives, one Independent, and thirteen Radicals in the Senate—twenty-one negroes among the whole number, five in the Senate and sixteen in the House. But few of the last Legislature are in this. Col. R. K. Boyd, of Marshall I notice, is here in the House, and Mr. Hewitt of Jefferson in the Senate. Mr. Mabry of Barbour is also in the Senate, and fortunately, this time on the right side. Nothing of consequence was done this morning.

The House met; Mr. Hubbard in the chair. On motion of Mr. Boyd, Mr. Ellis Phelan was appointed temporary Clerk, and Mr. Robert Clark temporary door keeper. The roll of counties was then called, and forty-six Democrats enrolled their names. Not a single republican was present, and two of the Independents were absent—Messrs. John Simpson and Thomas Masterson, of Lawrence county. Inference were drawn from the absence of these gentlemen, the correctness of which, only time will develop. At the conclusion of the call of counties, the House adjourned until to-morrow, 12 o'clock,

In the Senate, Lieutenant Governor Moren in the chair, Col. M. L. Woods was appointed temporary clerk, and Mr. B. F. Garrett assistant, Pat Doraz temporary doorkeeper. Here again the radicals were all absent, and eighteen Senators enrolled their names. Dr. Irwin of Wilcox, (Independent,) among the number. Inferences were drawn from the enrollment of Dr. Irwin among the Conservative Senators, of which, no one doubts.

Both parties met in caucus to-night. It is by no means certain that a permanent organization will take place to-morrow, as every thing seems to be for the time being upset by the high handed measures of the Radicals.

Gov. Lewis has not yet arrived—nor has Spencer made his appearance.

LATER—After caucusing the entire morning and failing to appear in the Halls of the Capital, the Radicals met and organized an assembly of their own in the United States District Court Room, calling Mr. Clarke, of Perry, to the chair. Pennington bossed their so-called Senate. Not having a quorum, the body adjourned until 4 o'clock. This body is still in session, of whose proceeding you will be informed by telegraph.

The Barbour (Democratic delegation) was arrested this evening at 4 o'clock, and ordered to appear before Dresser, United States Commissioner, under a charge of violating the Enforcement Act. These gentlemen immediately gave bond of $1,000 each, and were released.

[Special to the Talladega News.]

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Nov. 18.

The Democratic members of both Houses of the Legislature assembled in the Capitol at 12:45. The Democrats in the House enrolled their names; eighteen Democrats enrolled in the Senate. Gov. Moren presided in the Senate and Speaker Hubbard in the House. Not a Radical present in either House.

The Radicals met in the United States Court room and proposed to organize another Legislature. Bonnie-Blue-Flag White being the leader.

Two white and two negro members withdrew from the Radical concern.

The genuine and bogus Legislatures adjourned to 12 o'clock to-morrow.

The Marengo delegation who were arrested in Selma have been released, and are on their way here.

If both parties unite in one Legislature there will be fifty-three Democrats in the House and nineteen in the Senate.

Great excitement pervades the city, and rumors fly thick and fast.

R. A. MOSELEY, JR.

LATER.

The Radicals have just completed the organization of their Legislature, in the United States Court room.

Judge Pelham administered the oath of office to fifty-two Radical members of the House, and Chancellor Folder swore in seventeen Radical Senators.

Excitement at fever heat. The people enquire, what next?

R. A. MOSELEY, JR.

MONTGOMERY, ALA.,
Nov. 17, 1872.

[Special to the Republican.]

Fifty members were in their seats to-day in the House of Representatives. The three from Marengo will be present to-morrow and, probably, Purcell, of Henry. Dr. Lawrence, of Cherokee, is the only Republican who has taken a seat in either branch at the Capital. Nineteen Senators were sworn in to-day. Gov. Moren presides over the Senate and will until McKinstry is installed. Hubbard will be Speaker until a new Speaker is elected. The rump elected Pennington President of Senate, and Parsons Speaker. They met in the United States District Court room. They swore in ten to twelve men who hold no certificates of election. Senator and three members from Marengo; same from Barbour; one member from Mobile, and one Senator each from the Limestone and Marengo Districts.

OUR DEFEAT.

How the Thing was Done

What the Wiseacres of the Alabama Democratic Press say about it—How (by the way) Doctors Disagree.

[From the Mobile Register.]

The real defeat in this election is not of Mr. Greeley; it is a defeat of Republican principles, a defeat of free government, a defeat of "reconciliation" between the States, a defeat of integrity and responsibility in the administration of the Federal Government. And on the other hand it is the triumph of power—the power that is constituted of monies and bayonets. The vast floating vote of the country fell as it always does, to the strong side, and the Grant men showed that theirs was the strong side by the unscrupulous use of the sword and the purse of the nation. It was too much for the "virtue and intelligence" of the nation; and where these are wanting all publicists admit that free institutions are impossible. Liberty cannot survive public corruption. Our own opinion is that the election on the 5th of November was not needed to strike the first of mortal blows at Republican institutions in America It was done when 800,000 dummies were admitted to the freedom of the ballot box We say this, apart from the question of color. We speak only with reference to the poisoning and destruction of the "intelligence and virtue," without which free suffrage is a sham, a delusion and a snare. We have seen that the whole of this voting mass has been wielded by one party, and made to bow its knee to power. And what do those 800,000 votes cast last Tuesday represent? The will of the Grant party. And it would not have altered the matter, on principle and in effect, if instead of admitting these blind instruments of power to suffrage, Congress had passed an act to allow Grant to start in the race with that number of ballots ahead, and stuffed in the ballot box. It isn't a question of color, we say, but of deep, stolid ignorance and incapacity for the duties to which they were assigned. If these blacks had been as generally well informed on the matters and the issues of the election as the whites, there had been less reason to complain; but with rare exceptions, the negroes knew just as little about the objects and effects of their votes as so many oxen or mules. Then, universal black sufferage literally poisoned the stream of liberty and free intelligent government at its fountain. The people lost confidence and turned to power in their dilemma. Just so, from time immemorial in the history of nations have tyrants made danger and anarchy in society in order to force the people to the protection of the one-man power. Our Republic is far travelled on this road, and now we have before us, not Republic or Cossack, but Empire or Commune. The rights of the people in their local organizations have gone down. Will the nabobs of the country, the individual millionaires and the great companies of associated wealth, fare any better than the people have in their struggle, should they seek permanent protection under an imperial sceptre against a people outraged in all their rights of civil liberty. We are not a little curious to know what our late candidate for the Presidency—who bore himself so nobly, and won laurels so bright—thinks of universal negro suffrage, since he has inspected it more closely. On his conscience and his experience, does he now believe that one out of a hundred of these people are fit and profitable suffragans in a Republic? We are aware that Mr. Greeley might answer the question negatively, and still plead over that in time they will grow up to fitness. Very well, then, why was not this time waited for? In the mean time, Mr. Greeley must see that their votes are cast against the liberties and best interests of the country, and against that integrity, purification, peace and reconciliation which he has been so gallantly fighting for. The truth, at last, is, that the blacks were given the ballot to sustain the Radical party—to be its slaves—just what they are.

From the Florence (Lauderdale County) Journal.

The keenest sense of our late reverse in politics is connected with the loss of the legislative department of our State government. This is made doubly so, when we reflect that it was caused by the insatiable greed, petty jealousies, and prejudices of Democrats themselves. Independent candidates caused the whole trouble. We are utterly surprised at a people, who have suffered so much at the hands of Radicals, quarreling among themselves, while our political foes were battering away at our political fabric, and sapping the foundations of our liberties. No such foolish quarrels and disputes have ever laid hold of any people, since the siege of Jerusalem, where the blind and bigotted Jews were destroying each other within the city walls, and the Romans, the enemies of both parties, were endeavoring to take the city, which they finally accomplished, to the destruction of both factions. One candidate representing our principles, for each office, is our motto, and if adopted by the party will invariably lead to success. We care not by what honest means, just to the people, and other aspirants for the place, he may be selected, whether by conventions, primary elections, or common consent. There never should be a division of our strength; if there is a slick Radical is bound to come in. By our local divisions, therefore, have we lost the Alabama Legislature, and re-elected Spencer. Without organization and unity of action, there is defeat. The splits in North Alabama lost us our State ticket and the General Assembly. All those who stayed at home, as well as those who voted for independents, thereby electing Radicals, must forever stop their mouths about radical misrule and dishonesty, unless they have seen the folly of their course and are determined to act well their part in the future.

From the Hayneville Examiner.

Everybody is astonished at the defeat of the conservative state ticket. And everybody is ready with at least one good reason for the disaster.

There was a number of reasons.

1. The nomination of Mr. Greeley dampened the ardor of the mass of the working men of the conservative party in the State; and kept hundreds of others away from the polls entirely; for it was a premium on radicalism that many were not prepared to pay.

2. The nomination of a state ticket which the people of the Tennessee valley regarded as a slight to them, because half the ticket was not selected from that locality. The carpet-baggers and their tools took advantage of that fact, and chosen a ticket almost wholly from the Tennessee valley.

3. The invasion of the state by the federal army, on the eve of the election, whereby the carpet-baggers and their tools were countenanced in the perpetration of all sorts of frauds.

4. The state ticket put up by the conservatives was not a strong one, and was selected with reference to the merits of the men, and without a thought of availability.

5. The wide-spread apathy of the people, arising from (1) an over-confidence in the results in the state, (2) the failure of Mr. Lindsay's administration to satisfy the public demands for reform (3) the sharp warfare waged by the conservative press a few months ago within the lines of the party. (4) the certainty of defeat in the federal election, &c., &c.

Four of these five reasons were the fault of our own people, the other—the invasion of the state by the federal forces—was the act of President Grant, to insure his own re-election, and to fulfill his bargain with Spencer. Of the other reasons, every conservative in the state is guilty of one or more.

We expect to pay dearly enough for this crime of permitting the thieves to again get into power in the State. Had we beaten them this time, all trouble with them would have been at an end. As we have not, the struggle must and will go on till intelligence and virtue effectually triumph over ignorance and wickedness. Reforms that were imperatively demanded in the state are to be postponed till we sweep these people out of place two years hence. From this hour to that, every precaution must be exercised to achieve a result so necessary to the welfare of Alabama. As in 1870, every patriot must lay his own selfish views and aspirations on the altar of his country, and pledge himself to the full measure of his duty in 1874. That is to be the year of redemption.

A TRUE GEM.

The following touching little poem went all the rounds of the press about fifteen years ago, since which time it has been sleeping quietly out of sight. It is one of those efforts which cannot be read with indifference—the young will never fail to see its beauty while the old cannot help feeling it. Within the past fifteen years many young readers have taken position upon the world's stage, and are ready to see in this gem the beauties which were seen by their fathers, while many of those fathers have, within the same time, crossed the middle line of life, and are now standing in the footsteps vacated forever by the old people of fifteen years agone. Under these circumstances we may start again, confident of its universal appreciation, this little pet of, we might say, a past public, entitled

THE OLD LOVE.

I met her, she was thin and old,
She stooped and trod with tottering feet;
Her locks were gray that once were gold,
Her voice was harsh that once was sweet;
Her cheeks were sunken and her eyes,
Robbed of their girlish light of joy,
Were dim; I felt a strange surprise
That I had loved her when a boy.

But yet a something in her air
Restored me to my youthful prime;
My heart grew young and seemed to wear
The impress of that long lost time;
I took her wilted hand in mine,
Its touch awoke a world of joy;
Kissed her with a reverend sigh'!
For I had loved her when a boy

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING IS CHEWING THE BAG.

It is a homely adage enough but it is as true as it is homely, and if those scrupulously sensitive financiers who have such a refined notion of right that they cannot distinguish between the obligation to buy a forged and a genuine note, cannot understand how dollars and cents men of the world regards such matters without having to have homely adages thrust down their throats; we must be pardoned for the use of them. Here is the bag we offer, Clews & Co. Alabama was excessively sensitive on the subject of repudiation, so much so that she preferred shouldering her illegal bonds to the taint of repudiation. Alabama's nice sense of honor may be applauded but it is to be at the expense of her common sense. Georgia took a more just and a more practical common sense view of the matter, and pronounced her forged bonds forgeries, just what they are and as other fogeries they are not worth the paper they were written on. Alabama has been remanded to loilty, and a radical Governor now rules her. Georgia is stronger in Democratic hands than ever.

But where is the pudding? Chew the bag and see. In New York the Commercial centre of America, right under the nose and the teeth of Henry Clews & Co., Georgia Bonds, are going up, up, up, and are to-day worth more than any other Southern Security in the Market. We gather from the New York Herald of the 15th. Read:

The following were the closing quotations:—Georgia sixes, 70 and 80; do. sevens, 87 and 90; Alabama fives, 58 and 60; do. eights, 82 and 85.

Georgia 7 per cent bonds 87 to 90. Alabama 8 per cent bonds 82 to 85.

Loyal Alabama 85 for her eight per cts. Rebel Georgia 90 for her seven per cent bonds. Honest Alabama gets 5 cents less on the dollar and pays 1 per cent more indeed than repudiating Georgia. Let our Legislature mark this when it is called upon to redeem Georgia's credit.—Rome Courier.

SUMTER UNDER A CLOUD.—It is with feelings of inexpressible mortification that we announce, that in the next Legislature Sumter will be represented in the Lower House by three negroes, who know no more about legislation—and have no more idea of political economy—than an oyster; and for Senator will have a man who is now under indictment for crime.

Such are the ones selected to represent the intelligent people of Sumter county. It is a sad spectacle to contemplate. And yet there are those who rejoice at the result.—Livingston (Sumter Co.) Journal.

An Infamous Thing.

The nastiest ruffian in the United States is the beast who does the graphic for those other beasts of prey, the Harpers. While Mrs. Greeley was dying, this wretch got out an immense cartoon, representing Greeley borne mournfully to the grave, prone on his bier and stiff and silent in death. There he was drawn as dead, at the time his wife was dying, and he was watching her. It is no matter of surprise that the Republican Campaign Committee of New York bought 100,000 copies of the paper for distribution. The "graphic scoundrel," Mr. Thomas Nast, is the same who pictured Sumner on his knees at the grave of Brooks. Verily, Harper's paper is "A Journal of (Northern) Civilization."

Lynchburg News.

MAN HUNG BY OUTRAGED CITIZENS.—About two years ago a man named Joseph Patey killed his wife and child and burned their bodies, together with his house, in Cleburne county. He escaped and was not captured until about ten days since in Jackson county, where he has been living since committing the horrible crime. He was turned over to the sheriff of Cleburne county last Thursday evening.

The people, en masse, turned out on Friday morning, took him from the jail and hung him to a tree in the square of the County town.

Talladega News.

There are nearly 800,000 colored voters in the United States, who are consolidated into a unit, under the Radical banner. They are the arbiters of all elections in this country, both State and Federal. They constitute a movable voting power that can be concentrated at any point, and in any required numbers, on the shortest notice. Alas! for the downfall of the American white people.

DR. RADWAY'S

Sarsaparillian Resolvent

Has made the most astonishing cures; so quick, so rapid are the changes the body undergoes, under the influence of this truly wonderful Medicine, that

Every day an increase in Weight and Flesh is Felt.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continuly progressing, succeeds in arresting these wasts, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and weight increasing.

Not only does the Sarsaparillian Resolvent excels all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney and Bladder Complaints,

Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threrds like white silk, there is a morbid, dark, billious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of hte Back and along the Loins.

A Name in the Sand.

Alone I walked the ocean strand,
A pearly shell was in my hand;
I stopped, and wrote upon the sand
My name—the year—the day.
As onward from the spot I passed,
One lingering look behind I cast;
A wave came rolling high and fast,
And washed my lines away.

And so, methought, 'twill shortly be
With every mark on earth from me;
A wave of oblivion's sea
Will sweep across the place
Where I have trod the sandy shore
Of Time, and been, to be no more;
To leave no track nor trace.

And yet with Him who counts the sands,
And holds the waters in His hands,
I know a lasting record stands
Inscribed against my name,
Of all this mortal part has wrought,
Of all this thinking soul has thought,
And from these fleet'g moments caught,
For glory or for shame!

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Alabama—in Convention assembled. Edward H. Moren, Lieutenant Governor of the State, and presiding officer of the Senate, proceeded on Friday, the 22nd day of November inst, at 12 o'clock Meridian in presence of a majority of the members of the General Assembly of Alabama convened in the Hall of the House of Representatives at the Capitol, and continued to this day to open and publish the returns of the recent election for Governor and other officers of the State, and that thereupon it has been ascertained that he, the said David P. Lewis, received the highest number of votes for the office of Governor, and has been declared duly elected Governor of the State of Alabama for the term prescribed by the Constitution.

Resolved further, That said Joint Committee be instructed to enquire when it will be the pleasure of the Governor elect, to take the oath of office, and enter upon the discharge of his duties.

Resolved further, That said Committee be instructed to wait upon the Hon. Whereupon, the committee delivered to the Governor elect a written communication, together with and as a part of it, a copy of the first two resolutions under which the committee was constituted and acted.

To a similar oral communication made by the committee to the Lieutenant Governor elect, he replied, thanking the committee, and informing them that he was not prepared to answer their inquiry until he had conferred, as he thought proper to do, with the Governor elect, but that he would answer them by or before Monday morning. To him also the committee then gave a written communication, setting forth the instructions under which they acted.

Mr. Cowan moved that the House do adjourn until 10 o'clock Monday morning; which was concurred in.

Old Wight, the Straw Man

Forty Years Peddling Straw in the Streets, and Worth $500,000.

From the New York Sun

Old Wight, the straw man, is a character. For more than forty years he has peddled straw in this city and Brooklyn to the poorer class of the population to make straw beds. Sixty five years of age, or thereabouts, he is still strong and active. He has an honest, farmerlike look, and wears old and patched garments of an ancient fashion and appearance, but which, nevertheless, look comfortable and appropriate to the man. His overcoat is of blue cloth, with a double cape. He wears a straw hat winter and summer. His boots are fastened together with thongs of leather, and were fashioned by himself. The soles of them are at least two inches thick, and have the appearance of having been worn with sundry repairs for at least ten years. His horse, which is blind of one eye, appears to be well cared for, and is probably the only horse in the city that has not had the prevailing disease. Whether he is too old, or has an immunity from contagious diseases on account of his mode of life, it is difficult to say. The harness covering his horse's back is composed of small pieces of leather, rope and bits of chain.

Old Wight lives down in the meadows, foot of Tenth street, Brooklyn, in an old shanty constructed by himself. He has acquired great riches by means of his industry and miserly habits. His property, composed of lots and small houses erected on them, scattered all over Brooklyn, is variously estimated as worth between $300,000 and $500,000—all acquired by selling small bundles of rye and oat straw at five cents a bundle and investing his gains in real estate in Brooklyn.

An exchange tells of a four year old boy who, every night before going to bed, repeats the Lord's Prayer at his mother's knee. During the late protracted drought butter has not been so plentiful as usual, and the little fellow has missed it. The other night in his prayer when he came to the petition for daily bread, repeating after his mother, he said: "Give us this day our daily bread," but added with emphasis "and put some butter on it."

The Old Style.

The Savannah News of the 11th inst., is responsible for the following novel returns of an election:

A gentleman who has just returned from Screven gives the following amusing account of the election at the Mobley Pond precinct in that county, which even in these serious times, will cause a smile to illumine the countenance of a straight-out. It appears that Jeff Brown, a negro, was commissioned by Stone, United States Commissioner, to act as supervisor. As it was one of the illegal precincts, it was necessary in order to carry out the Radical programme to wait until ten o'clock, but when that hour arrived the presiding Magistrate was so overcome by old John Barleycorn that it was impossible for him to open the polls according to law.

In this emergency Jeff. Brown, the supervisor, who was anxious to carry out the instructions of the Radical cabal, appealed to a gentleman, who was one of the freeholders for advice. The gentleman advised him to form the voters in line and march them to the front in fives, according to the way they wanted to vote, and tally the vote on a shingle by cutting a "notch" in it for each five. In this manner each party was tallied on a separate shingle. At the end there was an odd file of three for Grant. Brown hereupon again appealed to Mr.——, the freeholder, for advice as to how to count the three. After some deliberation the odd count was put down by cutting a small notch in the shingle, and the election closed.

Provided with there undoubtedly illegal returns for the Mobley Pond Precinct, Supervisor Brown (colored) started with them to Savannah to deliver them to Stone. Last night he was hunting about town with a Greeley and Bawls shingle under one arm and a Grant and Sloan shingle with a "small notch" in it, under the other, inquiring the way to the Customhouse. If these returns on shingles are not received, warrants should be issued at once for the arrest of every white man for a violation of the enforcement act, in fooling Republicans voters of Scriven county.

The Washington correspondent of the Gazette says that "the females of the city are beginning to show themselves—a sure sign that a session of Congress is at hand. They expect," we are told, "a brisk run of business, and are arranging for it. The lobby is rejoicing that the speculating members who are not re-elected will have their last chance at this session, and while legislation will have to be paid for, there will be less reluctance on the part of these to turn an honest penny at their last session." This is the first fruit of the Grant election triumph. The coming session of Congress will doubtless be the most corrupt ever kown in Washington.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The official paper in Washington denies that the policy of Grant during his second term will be more favorable to the South. The denial was unnecessary. None who knew the temper and spirit of his advisers believed there would be any change, unless to something worse. The Grant party is maintained in power by fomenting and keeping alive in the North a bitter feeling toward the South. Senator Morton, of Indiana, told the people that the contest was still between the blue and the gray, and it is upon the hypothesis that we are at war that our next Administration will be conducted. None would rejoice more than ourselves if this should prove to be an error, but we have no such hope.

An Unexpected Ride on a Cow-Catcher.

A day or two since, while the train from here on the Louisville and Nashville Road, was running at its usual rate of speed, a few miles north of Rich Pond, a negro girl attempted to cross the track, and was caught upon the cow-catcher. The velocity of the engine was so great, that, instead of being thrown from the track, she was thrown back against the pilot, where she found a lodgement until some of the hands about the train, seeing the accident, ran forward to the engine and walked out upon the railing to her relief, expecting to find her at least very badly hurt. Their surprise was great upon reaching the pilot to find the girl lying quietly and entirely uninjured upon the pilot, and apparently enjoying the ride. The engine sped on, and she was carried thus to the next station, a distance of four miles, and on arriving there she jumped from her riding place and exclaimed: "Dis is just the place I wanted to come to," and went on her way rejoicing.

HOW RAMSEY PAID HIS RENT.—Wit is sometimes worth money, but it is quite essential to have a good-natured customer to deal with.

When Allen Ramsey, the great Scotch poet, began life, he was so poor that he could not meet his first half year's rent. After it became due, he met his landlord and explained the circumstances, and expressed his distress at his failure to meet his obligations. The jolly landlord was quite kind to him, and said that, as he was a lad of some genius, he would give him a chance to cancel his debt without a shilling.

"If," said the creditor, "you'll give me rhyming answers to four questions, in as many minutes, I'll quit you the rent altogether."

Allen said he would try. The questions were: "What does God love?" What does the devil love?" "What does the world love?" "What do I love?"

Ramsey wrote:

"God loves man when he refrains from sin;
The devil loves man when he persists therein;
The world loves man when riches on him flow;
And you'd love me, could I pay you what I owe."

"The rent is paid," said the farmer, giving his ingeious tenant a hearty slap on the shoulder.

Affairs at Montgomery.

We had hoped to be able to give our readers the solution of the difficulty at Montgomery this issue, but we are unable to do so. When last advised, Committees from both bodies had been in conference for two days without coming to an agreement. Gov. Lewis was still passive under the dominion of the Radical aspirants for the United States Senate, and had recognized neither body. It is a matter of surprise to us that the lawful Legislature of Alabama should consent to treat with the revolutionists at all; but we are not prepared to condemn the course pursued, as we are not in possession of all the difficulties surrounding the situation.

We have some able and prudent men in the Legislature, who will doubtless take care that Messrs Parsons, White & Co., are not allowed to inaugurate a new dispensation in Alabama in which their will shall be law.

The white people of Alabama are prepared to go to any lengths before they will submit to the lawless dominion of a mob of filthy negroes and a few renegade whites.

* * *

We have not been able to get a list of all the appointments in the Conference of which this section of the State forms a part; but we give below appointments as far as we have learned:

Jacksonville, John A. Thompson;
Athens, F. T. J. Brandon;
Birmingham, T. H. Deavenport;
Gadsden, Anson West;
Talladega, C. D. Oliver;
White Plains Circuit, T. J. Slaughter;
Alexandria Circuit, J. B. Cole;
Columbiana, R. G. Ragan;
Cross Plains, T. Moody;
Talladega Circuit, R. A. Timmons;
This District, W. B. Kirk.

The Press Latest on the Situation.

The Selma Times sees no reason why the Legislature should change the regular manner of contesting the seats of any of its members and therefore regards the resolution offered by Mr. Manning, which we publish elsewhere, as unnecessary and out of place, and regrets that it was not promptly tabled to remain for the balance of the session.

The views of the Montgomery Advertiser (of same date) published on the spot, we print entire in another place. In its issue of the day previous the Advertiser also courteously dissented from the views of Mr. Manning.

The Livingston Journal regards the whole situation as humiliating to the people of Alabama, and thinks the extent of the danger can only be realized upon the reflection that the laws of Alabama have been wholly disregarded by the Radicals in their part of the proceeding.

The Greensboro Beacon thinks if the Radicals can carry out their design, with impunity, the Federal Government has reached a most alarming stage of despotism.

The Hayneville Examiner observes that a contest in the legally prescribed manner is the only proper way to settle the difficulty. [A clear dissent from the views of some of our own members it seems.]

The Wilcox Pacificator regards the action of the "Rump" Legislature as a very strange proceeding in a civilized community and an outrage and disgrace upon the people of Alabama.

The Mobile Tribune says not a word so far as we have seen.

The Talladega Mountain Home regards the Revolutionary movement as under the management of White, Parsons & Co., and tells us further that few men believe that Lewis will be equal to the duties of either his official position or his oath. That paper refers to the rumor that Ben Turner (negro) would likely carry over enough negroes from the "Rump" Legislature to disorganize it, in consideration that he be elected United States Senator, by the help of the Democrats, over Parsons, White, Saffold or Spencer, and "of the five prefers Turner, because he has always been an honest negro."

The Selma Olive Branch regards the situation of things as financially profitable to Montgomery, many having gone to Montgomery purposely "to see the two-legged menagerie in the United States Court Room, and others to encourage the representatives of the intelligence, property and honesty of Alabama who are not yet compelled to yield to the Higher Law of traitors, strangers, negroes, mongrels, theives, robbers, poltroons and putrified lying, drunken, cowardly, white-faced conspirators, and lousy, greasy, impudent, ignorant black-skinned dupes."

The lively editor of the Branch takes occasion in the same connection to remark further as follows:

"Having a family to care for, and to roar in this country, we are for peace; but if "higher law" is to decide their destiny; and they are not to reap the benefits of our labor and teachings, we propose to sell out at the dearest price, battling for white supremacy.

"We speak as an individual; every man to his own taste. Half the people of Alabama didn't fight in the last war, and nearly as many would suffer themselves to be painted black now before they would stand to the rack. And those that croaked the most and fought the least in the late war, will prove the first to cry out now—"My voice is for war."

The Stevenson New Era has an eye to the expensiveness of the situation which is a thousand dollars a day to the State. That paper further remarketh in connection with the "Montgomery Misery" that Gen. Spencer and Judge R. W. Walker are ahead in the race for the United States Senate.

The Gadsden Times says the present situation may be some of the great and many things the Rads promised us if their State ticket were elected.

This about exhausts the stock of State papers before us this (Friday) morning. Suffice it to say that the Democratic press of the State is unanimous in condemnation of the course of the Radicals and loud in the demand that Democratic Representatives at Montgomery stand firm. The Radical press, it is needless to say, support the "Rump." Their instincts lead them in that direction.

The erratic genius of the Gadsden Times objects to the intimation of the Republican that many men have lately discovered (that is since the defeat) that the Democratic party is not the place for them, and asks triumphantly if the Republican did not support Greeley.

We suspect that the E. G. of the G. T. is about to make "different arrangements" himself, from the tone of his paper lately.

Amid all the complications and difficulties at Montgomery, (and we now write before the matter is settled) there are two men in our Legislature whose nerve and fidelity the people of Calhoun need never fear for. We mean the Hon. Wilson P. Howell, of our sister county, Cleburne, and the Hon. J. M. Renfro of our own county. While in Montgomery recently it was our pleasure to associate with them sufficiently to know that no weak-kneed policy of the Democracy would ever meet their approbation, and that for the honor of their constituency they were ready (whatever the personal consequences) to meet the utmost need of the hour. The more honor to them.

To the Farmers of Calhoun County.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA., Nov. 26 '72.

I have associated myself with Mr. J. R. Jones in an effort to organize a stock Company with a Capital sufficient to build an Iron Blast Furnace to be located six miles, north of Jacksonville, on the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad.

The several ore banks and the timber on twelve thousand acres of land have already been placed at our disposal, at an average cost to the Company of one dollar per acre.

The quality and amount of ore, the timber, the building material, and the eligibility of the site, are respectively satisfactory.

Mr. Jones is an expert Iron man, learned the business in his native country—Wales. He is recently from the Iron Fields of Pennsylvania, and unless we succeed in raising the necessary funds here, will return to Pennsylvania with the view of soliciting the desired amount from the capitalists of that State.

If there is the great profit on iron that we are led to believe and do believe, why not secure it for our own people?

Shall we forever fold our arms and see not only our hard earnings but the rich minerals of our country pass into the strong box of the Northern Capitalist?

You have only to will and the reward is ours. One thousand shares will build the works. Five hundred shares at least, can and should be in the hands of the young men of the county to whom this appeal is particularly and respectfully made.

JOHN H. FORNEY.

ALABAMA LEGISLATURE.

SENATE—SEVENTH DAY.

Montgomery, Nov. 25th, 1872.

Senate met at 11 o'clock.

Journal of Saturday read and approved.

On the call of Districts no bills being introduced.

Mr. Cobb, a resolution as follows.

Whereas, The Senate is informed that it is reported by sundry citizens of Alabama, and electors of the State, under the laws thereof, that the gentlemen now occupying seats in the Senate from the 17th and 28th districts as Senators therefrom, are not legally entitled to said seats in place of the present occupants.

Resolved, That a special committee of three Senators be appointed to enquire into the facts attending these seats, and the right of the present occupants thereof, and that said committee report as early as practicable.

Mr. Terrell, moved to lay the resolution on the table.

After some discussion participated in between Messrs. Hamilton, Terrell, Parks, Robinson and Cobb, further consideration of the resolution was postponed, for Lt. Gov. Moren, to make an announcement, which was as follows: That the time according to the law and Constitution had arrived for him, to retire from the chair as presiding officer of the Senate; that his successor in office had been qualified, but requested him to state to the Senate that he was not prepared to enter upon the discharge of his duties to-day.

Mr. Cobb, placed in nomination the name of Mr. Erwin, of Wilcox as President pro tem, who was unanimously elected.

Mr. Erwin in a few appropriate remarks, accepted the position and returned his thanks for the honor conferred on him.

Lieut. Gov. Moren in retiring from the Chair returned his thanks to the Senate, in a few eloquent remarks, for the respect they had shown him during the brief period he had presided over the body.

Mr. Hamilton offered the following:

Resolved, That the thanks of this body are hereby tendered to the Hon. E. H. Moren, late President of the Senate, for the prompt, upright, fair and courteous manner in which he has discharged the duties of his presidency over this Senate, which was adopted.

The further consideration of the resolution in reference to the Senators of the 17th and 28th Districts was resumed.

Mr. Cobb then asked leave to withdraw the resolution, for the purpose of revising it, which was granted.

On motion the Senate took recess until 1 o'clock.

At 1 o'clock the Senate was call to order.

Mr. Cobb offered the following:—Whereas, it has been the policy of this Senate to proceed in order, and according to law in all its actions, and it has desired to do right to all persons that might claim to be Senators thereof.

And whereas, it has been represented that the gentlemen holding seats as Senators from Barbour county, and Marengo county are not entitled to the same, but no other person claiming to be entitled thereto have appeared to contest the right of the persons now seated.

And whereas, in the first instance the right to seats in this Senate depends upon the person applying therefor having a certificate of the Secretary of State, founded on the returns of the election made to that officer by the Board of Supervisors of the respective Counties composing their Districts, which evidence the Senators now occupying such seats did produce.

Therefore, Be it Resolved, that a committee of three members of this Senate be appointed by the President, who without going into an investigation of the facts and circumstances of the election in such Districts which cannot be properly done without giving contestants notice and an opportunity to prove their allegation, shall examine the returns and the papers relating thereto in the office of the Secretary of State in respect to the Senators of said districts and report the facts thereof to this Senate, togetherwith their opinions upon the validity of the certificates to the gentlemen sitting as Senators from said Districts as founded upon said returns; provided that the ultimate rights of any persons claiming either of said seats shall not be determined by the action of this resolution.

Made special order for 10½ o'clock tomorrow.

The Senate then adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

Plain Words.

Either, the two Houses in session at the Capitol constitute the General Assembly of Alabama, or they do not. It may suit a gang of partisans in their efforts to control political events to set up a revolutionary mob as the Legislature, but no lawyer, or other impartial citizen aware of the facts, can deny that the Body at the Capitol organized strictly, as to persons, time and place, in conformity with the Constitution and laws, and the usages of half a century of political history, is the true and lawful Legislature.

Every man in both of the two bodies at the Capitol has taken a solemn oath to suport and defend the Constitution. All of them are bound by a proper regard for the most sacred duty, to take care the rights of Alabama in their hands shall not be invaded. The Legislature has followed out the paths of duty as prescribed by the Constitution with the most perfect fidelity. Recognizing the Radical State ticket as elected, the Legislature promptly, nay most hastily, counted the vote and installed the officers elect, thus giving to their opponents the Executive power of the State at a time when there was reason to believe that the Governor would league himself with the mob attempting to usurp the Legislative Department of the Government! Going still further, many members of the General Assembly were willing to some fair settlement which would end the disputed matter, and amnesty against the trouble about the organization of the Legislature. These efforts, so far as we learn, have resulted in nothing, save to firmly unite the Conservative members of the General Assembly as one man.

Now what next? It is no use to mince words. The Conservative General Assembly at the Capitol is the lawful law making power of the State.—Gov. Lewis cannot destroy this lawful body by recognizing an illegal assemblage. If he does so and thus adds the Executive branch to the conspiracy against the lawful Legislature of the State, what must necessarily follow? Of course the Legislature must exercise its constitutional prerogative and proceed to do its duty without regard to results. No sane man meditates any attempt to interfere with any State offical who does not league himself with an unlawful assembly seeking to subvert the lawful Government. And none of these officers have any ground to believe otherwise. If any of these officers should attempt to use the power vested in them by law, to subvert law, they must expect that the Legislature will do its duty in the premises! Being the General Assembly it is bound to do no less. We have the law on our side and by lawful means can and will defeat this attempt to overawe the lawful power of the State.—These are the words of soberness and truth and those who invite and engineer collision and possible bloodshed must look to it!

We deprecate any measures which will involve our country in strife; but in common with every law-abiding man in the State we are determined to aid in enforcing the law, cost what it may.—Gov. Lewis' friends do him no good when they threaten the lawful Legislature with lawless force in his name, or by his authority, as the Executive of Alabama. Such threats will cause no man to swerve a hair's breadth from his duty!

The people of the State feel most deeply in this matter, and without bluster or parade, have prepared for the worst. If the Court House assemblage wish to drive over the lawful Legislature with a black Radical mob we are prepared to meet the issue. The threats of bringing in the United States army are puerile. We have the law with us; and all the interests of the Government at Washington are are opposed to any interference. The article published in our issue of yesterday from the New York Herald, which is a weather-cock of public sentiment, gives the true feeling of the Government and the people on this issue. These men therefore have nothing to depend upon but a black mob. Opposed to this, we have the Constitution, the laws, and the white militia of the State. When the contest comes we have no fear of the result. It would be worse than folly to shrink from the issue; the attempted revolution is but the first breath of the black tempest against the lawful break-waters of the Constitution. Let it but succeed and we will be confronted with revolution and force at every turn. We will meet it. We know whereof we speak, when declaring that the true people of Alabama, have resolved to stand by the Law, perish who may in its defence! Let the assemblage at the Court Room go on in its lawless career, and we will do our whole duty and leave the consequences with God!—Montgomery Advertiser 28th.

☞ Horace Greeley received nine thousand more votes in Alabama than Seymour did, and more votes than were cast for our State ticket, in 1870, by several thousand says the Montgomery Advertiser.

We have heretofore frequently alluded to this subject, and published facts and figures from the most trustworthy sources that should convince every man that the profits in iron are most enormous, and that it will most emphatically PAY for our people to take hold of it. Gen. Forney's association with it is sufficient guarantee that the project is one most proper for us to engage in. Mr. Jones is a gentleman well recommended by men whom we know to be correct and prudent men. Gentlemen who know the value of money as well as the profits on iron are ready to take hold. We only instance one, to-wit: that veteran iron man and upright citizen of Rome, James Noble, Sr.

We have reason to believe that at least half of the stock is already taken. Will our own people take the other half and double their money every year, or will they wait for Northern capitalist to come in and do it?

Only absence from home has prevented an earlier mention of the recent great improvement in that excellent weekly newspaper, the Selma Argus. Besides being much improved in print and appearance generally, it has been much enlarged. It is most ably and impartially edited, and deserves for the attention given every department of it, a place in the house of every Alabamian.

The Horse Disease has reached Selma and Montgomery, South, and Cave Springs, North of us. Whether it will reach this place remains to be seen. At any rate owners of horses had better begin to post themselves on the remedies said to be the best in such cases.

The saddest instance of misplaced confidence on record is that of a Connecticut man, who rescued another from a watery grave only to find that, instead of his long-lost brother, it was a person to whom he owed three dollars and a half for turnips.

A BULLY BAILIFF.—Justice Oppert, of Selma, had a court on Monday, and also a new colored bailiff in attendance, who, not being instructed what to say in announcing the opening of the court, bawled out "O, yah! O, yah! ladies and gemmun, Massa Oppert's gwine to hold a court—I tole you."

Governor Lindsay, of Alabama, has recognized the Legislature which meets at the State Capitol. The belters will, however, elect a United States Senator, and rely upon Morton and Conkling to give him a seat in the Senate of the nation. These men do not care how a person is chosen so he will wear their collar.—Philadelphia Age.

BADLY OFF.—A western editor relates that he once stopped at a restaurant in Washington, and, noticing that the waiter was uncommonly sober, asked him if he was sick. "Yes," very curtly. "I is." "What's the matter?" "Why, sir, Washin'ton's the wus place ever I see. When it's dry you can't see where you're gwine, and when it's wet you can't go."

We think, instead of trying to punish Sister Anthony and the other fourteen strong-minded women who lately voted at Rochester, New York, the authorities should indict the Election Judges who received and deposited their votes. A Judge who knowingly receives an illegal vote ought to be sent to the Penitentiary. The "strong-minded" thought they had a right to vote but the Election Judges knew better.

Honest people everywhere will be sorry to hear that Subsidy Pomeroy is morally—or rather immorally—sure of a re-election to the Senate. The revolt against him promised at one time to be successful; half the republican county conventions in the state denounced him by name in their "resolutions," and it really looked as though Kansas had at last woke up to a sense of her disgrace. But recent dispatches and letters tell us that the reformers now roar as gently as sucking doves, and that the oleaginous old corruptionist is stronger than ever.—Springfield Republican.

JOHN'S COMPLAINT.—"Whats the matter, John, ?" "I ain't done nothing, father." "Well, what are you crying for, you lubber ?" "I was afraid you would whip me." "What! whip you when you don't do anything ?" "Yes, sir." "Go in the house, you booby." John felt quite relieved, and went into the house, and his father went down to the farm. Very soon his father came back in a rage, and laying a cowhide over the urchin's back, said: "Did I not tell you when I went away to hoe that corn?" "Yes, sir, but you told me just now you wouldn't whip me if I hadn't done nothing." Fortunately John's wit didn't save him the whipping.

CHEAP LIVING.—The cheapness of living in France is due not alone to the price of articles, but to the simple and unostentatious manners of the people. A writer in Frazer's Magazine says that however small or reduced the income of a gentle family in France, their social position is not in the least affected by their circumstances; and that the general diffusion of wealth shown by the French loan is owing to the economical living and the thriftiness of the women, who generally participate in the business of earning a livelihood. And then, when the children marry, they continue to live under the paternal roof, as before, in one family, thus reducing the expenses, and holding the families in a sort of communism until both parents are dead.

A SURPRISED HUNTER.—A hunter on the Rio Grande, who was invariably unsuccessful, became so much annoyed by the taunts of his companions, that he determined to adopt the Comanche Indian fashion of hunting, and accordingly dressed himself in a deer skin, and ornamented his head with huge antlers. Thus equipped he sallied out, and took his place at a favorite "stand." A few moments only elapsed before a couger, perching in the limbs of the tree above, thinking that he saw "a sure enough buck," leaped from his airy abode plump on the hunter's back, at the same time burying his claws and teeth deeply into the dried skin. A yell of fright and astonishment greeted the couger, such as never before was heard from the throat of living venison, and dropping his game, the animal and the hunter took different directions, it being a matter of uncertainty, even to this day, which of the two was most alarmed.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

SITUATION SUBSTANTIALLY UNCHANGED.

[Special Correspondence Selma Times.]

MONTGOMERY, ALA.,
Nov. 26, 1872.

You were informed yesterday by telegram that the revolutionists had sent a committee to wait upon Gov. Lewis, and inform him that they were ready to receive any communication he might see fit to make. To this committee the Governor replied, that he would make no communication at present, and he thought it best that [illegible] should be given [illegible] when [illegible] upon the doors of the United States Court room were closed to the public, and the [illegible] went into secret session. [illegible] this proceeding was the appointment of a committee [illegible] the conservative members of the Legislature, with [illegible] and [illegible] in the United [illegible] for the purpose of a parley. The proceeding up to the hour of adjournment this morning, had produced no outward and visible result.

It is pretty generally known that the following proposition was submitted by the conservative committee, to the opposite party, to-wit: That in consideration of the evidence in the Secretary of State's office, relating to the Barbour county election, the conservative members from Barbour should yield their seats. That the members from Marengo should take no part in the organization of the House, nor vote for Senator, but should resign, and an act should be passed for a special election in Marengo, thereby referring the whole subject of the contest in that county, back to the people. Upon this proposition, the radicals have been caucusing the entire morning.

Bear in mind that this whole proceeding has been the result of caucus, and not the official act of the Legislature; neither the Senate or House of Representatives, have taken action in the matter. The idea seems to be, to secure by mutual understanding some basis of action, some material for the legislature to work upon—looking to a solution of the present difficulty so that practical legislation may commence. Both Houses adjourned this morning, to meet again at three o'clock, with the expectation of hearing some proposition submitted to them as the result of last night's deliberations. At the appointed hour they met, but immediately adjourned and went into caucus. It is known that the revolutionists have refused the liberal proposition of the conservatives—and demand in substance unconditional surrender. In other words, that the Marengo and Barbour conservative delegations should both retire and that the Radical claimants should be seated. To this complexion have matters come at last.

It now remains to be seen whether any new departure will be taken or whether the Conservatives, having exhausted all argument, and, as they conceive, stretched to its uttermost limit the spirit of compromise, will throw themselves back upon the strength of the Constitution and laws for the rest.

It is reported this evening that Governor Lewis has promised to recognize the revolutionary Legislature, at 8 o'clock to-morrow, if their proposition is not accepted by the Conservatives.

There are several prominent Conservatives in Montgomery, "lookers on here in Vienna," among others, Col. Taul Bradford, of Talladega.

GENERAL HANCOCK.

The recent death of General George G. Meade brings to the head of the list of Major Generals in the United States army that tried and gallant soldier and patriotic statesman, Winfield Scott Hancock. Luckily for the army and for the country the notorious hostility of the administration towards this distinguished officer cannot interfere with his promotion in the regular line of seniority. But two officers of the army now rank him, Lieut. Generals Sherman and Sheridan. The former of these is an old, and rapidly failing man; the other has approved himself a dashing cavalry soldier but in no sense a great general. Granting the truth of all the howl over "Sheridan's Ride"—and allowing him full credit for the less popularly recognized Five Forks—he is scarcely more than an average accident of the war. With only these two between him and its highest place, Gen. Hancock's chances for the command-in-chief of the army seem reasonably sure. He is still a young man of vigorous health and prudent life; while Gen. Sherman, in the ocourse of nature, can scarce outlast him In event of the latter, death, only "Little Phil" will stand between Hancock and the head of the army; and it is scarcely probable that a foreign war would be entrusted to the latter, in face of the direct expression of popular will "from all sorts of people." It is possible, however, that before that remote contingency becomes a fact the people of this country may throw up their present "full hand" and call for a new deal that will make General Hancock Commander-in-Chief of the Navy as well as of the Army.—Mobile Register.
