ONE OF THE CAUSES.

THE TARIFF RESPONSIBLE FOR THE COUNTRY'S CONDITION.

The Democratic Party will Apply the Remedy.

The constant and persistent concentration of wealth into the hands of a few men is certainly a cause for profound alarm. When it can be said that from the millionaires which could be counted on the fingers twenty-five years ago they are now in the thousands, over five hundred living in New York alone, the prospect is alarming. It used to be that the man with a million was a rare curiosity but not so now. Every metropolis has a hundred or more, every small city a score, while the towns are correspondingly represented. The United States Senate has but five members who are not millionaires, or near the million mark. Of course in 60,000,000 of people these 20,000 rich men form a very small per cent, so that when our country makes a millionaire the rest of the sixty millions do not seem severely taxed to accomplish the task. Still the situation of those sixty millions is not the brightest, for they are borrowing at high interest from the same wealthy people. The money wrongfully taken from them. We hear of the prosperous condition of the Ohio farmer, yet there are mortgages on Ohio farms to the extent of $337,000,000. Michigan has borrowed on her farms $368,000,000, Indiana has borrowed $225,000,000 while Kansas has borrowed $400,000,000 and Nebraska and the Dakotas sums ranging between these extremes. In these represents their prosperity. In these cases from forty to 200 per cent. of these values are under mortgage. South Western Kansas having thousands of farms which can be bought now for fifty per cent of their mortgage indebtedness. Of course in such condition the farmer is but the tenant of the land lord; for while the rents exacted from depressed Ireland farmers are seldom over five per cent, our own "free farmers" are paying from eight to twelve and some times twenty-four. With land yielding profits of six per cent, under most favorable circumstances, how can these thousands of toiling farmers pay eight; much less pay principal and be free? Every millionaire is made up of sacrificed homes somewhere over this world. How many $1,000 homes does it take to make a millionaire? Just ten hundred. Then is not the Government that aids one man in robbing ten hundred others of their homes, false to its pledge of guaranteeing "equal and exact justice to all, special privileges to none?" But you say this is overdrawn. No, dear reader, if anything it is underdrawn. Only God can make something out of nothing. If some men pick up these immense fortunes others must lay them down. Do the mortgage record over the land indicate the rich are laying down their fortunes? Show us a millionaire who has failed in the past decade, and I will show you ten who were millionaires then and are now five, six or ten millionaires. On the other hand, show us one farmer who has grown "comfortably fixed", (that is as high as they ever get), and we'll show you fifty who are worse off to-day than ten years ago. There is nothing strange about this. The farmer pays a dollar for forty cents worth of manufactured wool; a dollar for fifty cents worth of wagon, reaper, sewing machine, harness or lumber; a dollar for twenty-five cents worth of daylight through his window, or cheap red flannel for his baby. The rich man having no use for these, pays a dollar for ninety cents worth of silk and a dollar for eighty-five cents worth of diamonds, wine and tropical spice. Of the stuff he buys the ten or fifteen per cent extra goes to the government and is squandered on foolish pension claims, exorbitant river and harbor appropriations, and the thousand schemes for reducing the already extinct surplus. Of the fifty to eighty per cent paid by the farmer, three-fourths of it goes to the wealthy manufacturer licensed by the government to demand these heavy tributes from the people. If you would have a prosperous nation, make it up of small homes, free from incumbrance and where no one man could be the debt slave of another. If you would have an Ireland where misery, pauperism, discontent and degradation are rife and where ambition does not bud, make the masses slaves of the few as they are to-day in the United States. We are traveling the same road only at a far more rapid rate, that brought down the greatness of ancient Egypt, Intellectual Greece, Warlike Rome and Infidel France. Your histories will tell you that at the downfall of each of these the wealth of the 100 per cent. was in the hands of ten per cent. or less of the population. At the rate of the past ten years we need but go another ten until we too, have reached that stage. Can any human being short of a selfish animal look these facts in the face without blanching. Save us, for God's sake save us, from such a can.—Talladega News-Reporter.

WAS THERE EVER THE LIKE?

A Strange Shuddersome Rumor That Ingalls May Turn Democrat.

From somewhere in the high grass steals a strange, shuddersome rumor. It has no origin; scarcely an existence. Whether it looks more like a gaseous influence or a caricature in fantastic silhouette none can tell until the sight of it grows familiar and it ventures close enough to be examined.

The rumor is that John James Ingalls, late a Senator of the United States, intends to dig or break his way into the Democratic party. The devil was sick enough to turn monk, but the story does not tell that he was ever admitted into novitate. Still these are queer times.

And you Democrats, before you say the very thought is preposterous look about you at the Shaftesburys who have seen which way the wind blew and went from extreme to extreme. The Democratic party owe little but to the services he rendered in the bill struggle. He not only in effect voted against the measure and carried consternation to Hear at the crisis, but he stood out against cloture and refused to leave his seat that a more obedient Republican could from the chair rule the shutting off of debate.

A year or two will pass before the country understands the full iniquity of that federal elections bill. It was revolution in our form of government. It was race war and rampant sectional resentment. Suppression of votes and an armed propaganda were the intention of the authors of that measure.

If there had not been an alliance majority on joint ballot at Topeka, and if the alliance had not Ocala unequivocally pronounced against election force and fraud the Ingalls record would have been abreast of Hoar's intense partisanship. But the blows he struck were just as much for true Democracy as if he had worn the name of Democrat.

It is possible that his head is clearer than it was a few years ago. Perhaps he sees the inevitable—that tariff reform and kindred issues are going to produce a Democratic revival which the West will feel first and most. The Republican party has passed its meridian even in Kansas, and perhaps the shaking up of its intense partisanship got last November has sobered him into knowing what is about to occur. Perhaps he realizes that the machine he stood in with at the sacrifice of his views on prohibition is not a strong castle for future use.

These are the thoughts the creeping rumor puts into the minds of men. He is certainly talking oddly for a Republican. After giving the leading Senators on his side several punches which amounted to calling them in parliamentary language a parcel of political idiots, he began to speak pleasantly "jollily" straped about the farmers' movement. His of his new fangled and short lived socialistic proposals—and certainly he does not hold to them—the farmers' movement is good Democracy. Ergo, Ingalls is somewhat of a Democrat in the principles he is willing to support in 1891, and if they move on well, in 1892.

Surely there is storm and stress and breaking up and turning over and regeneration ahead in politics when it is possible to even entertain a suggestion that Ingalls has Democratic yearnings.

The Times mentions the rumor in the hope that Billy Buchan will get a writ of "ne exeat." Ingalls belongs to the Republicans. They made him what he is and taught him all he knows. He is a fine intense Republican and he would make a blessed poor Democrat. We cannot stand Massillon in such large chunks, and we insist that a man shall vote as he talks. We might forgive all he ever said about Democrats, for it did no harm, but we cannot forgive his fraudulent representation of Kansas opinion in the first session of the fifty-first congress. A fraud once, a fraud always.

By all means, Mr. William Buchan, get a rope around your friend and hold him. The Democratic party would feel that there was something in a high state of decay about it if Senator Ingalls should be caught voting its ticket.—(Kansas City Times.

THE DOUBLE ISSUE.

SENATOR PUGH ON SILVER AND TARIFF REFORM.

Silver the Better Issue as an Issue by Itself—Why He Opposes Cleveland.

Birmingham Age-Herald.

Senator Pugh has been in Birmingham for several days stopping at the Florence.

The reporter called on the Senator at the Florence, and after the usual preliminaries leading to present political conditions and the outlook, he proceeded in his deliberate and forcible way to say:

"Public conditions and public opinion are favorable to the election of a Democratic president in 1892, but there is great danger that party management may deprive us of our advantages. It will be a fatal mistake to rely too much on the opinion of some Democrats that the McKinley-tariff bill was the principal cause of the defeat of the Republican party in the last November election. There was general discontent, especially among the farmers and working people, caused by low wages and the burden of taxation and scarcity of money. This discontent was the moving cause of farmers' and laborers' organizations for relief and self protection. The farmers and laboring organizations are substantially united in favor of lower and more equal taxation to support the government, and more and cheaper money to meet the demands of our increasing population and trade and commerce, domestic and foreign. The Democratic party is practically united on the necessity for tariff reform and free coinage of silver, and in the South and West that party is fully committed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, that the supply of money may be increased. The two issues of tariff reform and free coinage of silver cannot be eliminated or separated in the selection of a president in 1892. I do not believe that any candidate can be elected who is known to be opposed to tariff reform and free coinage of both metals. The people want the double standard of gold and silver. The unlimited coinage of both metals is indispensable to supply the necessary coin basis of a treasury note circulation sufficient to meet the wants of the people. It is inevitable that flat money in the shape of irredeemable treasury notes will force itself into our volume of circulation if silver is eliminated from our currency by the defeat of free coinage of silver. If the Democrats of the South and West abandon silver coinage and surrender to its enemies they impeach their integrity by their own act and impair public confidence in the honesty of their convictions and professions."

"It has been frequently published that you are against the nomination of Mr. Cleveland," suggested the reporter. "Will you give the Age-Herald the reasons why you hold to that opinion?"

"I am and have been as warm a friend of Mr. Cleveland as any Democrat," responded the Senator, "but his uncompromising hostility to the free coinage of silver compels me to oppose his nomination as the Democratic candidate for president in 1892. I do not believe Mr. Cleveland can be nominated, and if nominated I am unable to see how he can be elected. Should Mr. Cleveland receive the nomination it will in my judgement, drive the supporters of free coinage into a third party. Why should the Democratic party take such risks? Have we no Democrat who agrees with us on tariff reform and silver coinage? Why should silver Democrats be required to vote for a gold standard Democrat? Why should gold standard Democrats in three states ask silver Democrats in fifteen states to surrender their opinions? My opinion is that the free coinage of silver will be a sharp issue and worth more to the Democratic party than tariff reform as a single issue, as it was unwisely made by Mr. Cleveland in 1888. We want a double standard made up of gold and silver and a double issue made up of tariff reform and free coinage and victory is certain in 1892. I am not pleased with Mr. Cleveland's silence during the fight on the force bill. When the whole country was alarmed and the Democrats in the senate were grappling with that infamous measure and the silver Republicans in the senate were standing by them and resisting a most formidable party pressure and secured the greatest victory in the history of constitutional government, Mr. Cleveland was silent. But when the silver bill whipped the force bill and went to the house after its victory in the Senate, Mr. Cleveland and his gold friends in New York broke silence and opened war on the silver bill in the most insulting language and smothered that bill in committee in defiance of an almost unanimous Democratic support."

"Won't the next congress act on both these issues and shape the platform of the next campaign?"

"The next congress will undoubtedly pass a free coinage bill and a bill in the same form to reduce and equalize taxation. Both issues will be dealt with before the next nominating convention meets."

"What is free coinage, Senator?"

"Free coinage is unlimited coinage. That is, every man with metal in bullion can take it to a United States mint and have it coined into money, by paying the government the actual expense of coining it."

A Probable Convert.

The Kansas City Times, that keeps a weather eye on the politics and the politicians of the Sunflower State, has heard a "strange, shuddersome rumor," stealing up through the high grass, that Ex-Senator Ingalls intends to turn Democrat. The Times has some interesting and pertinent remarks to make in that regard, which will be found elsewhere.

If Mr. Ingalls, like his colleague Mr. Plumb, had voted against the McKinley tariff bill, he would be pretty good Democrat already in all but name. He voted for free coinage and helped to kill the Force bill.

But these signs of repentance and conversion have all been of late years. In times gone by Mr. Ingalls has been among the chief sinners and has probably persecuted the saints and breathed out more threatenings against the true faith than any of his cohorts in wickedness. He has lambasted the Democracy, reviled it and said such mean things about the party and its leaders that nobody but Ingalls, with his superlative talent for abuse would have said:

But the lamp holds out for the vilest, and even Ingalls is not to be excluded if he comes with a true spirit of contrition.

The suspicion that the eminent Kansan is changing his politics has grown not only out of his votes in the last congress but the manner and substance of his talk since he has been out of office. He has talked encouragingly of the farmers' movement and expressed sympathy with the farmers' grievances; but has taken pains to pronounce against the radical and irrational theories proposed by some alliance men for the redress of the farmers' wrongs. That is very much in accord with the position of the Democratic party.

The most significant thing in regard to this apparent change of front in the part of Senator Ingalls is not that it relates to him personally, but that it indicates a popular upheaval for which this shrewd Kansan politician is preparing. He has found in his cost that the West is no longer Republican. He didn't make the discovery soon enough, or he wouldn't have been left in the contest for the Senate. He knows that the Farmers' Alliance, which now has possession of his State and others of the West, is only a transition of public sentiment from Republicanism to Democracy. He recognizes that the farmers of the West are no longer to be blinded to their interest by playing on sectional animosities.

In short he sees that Kansas, that the country is becoming Democratic, and he wants to get there in advance of the crowd.—(Birmingham Age-Herald.

Pugh on the Situation.

BERMINGHAM ALA., March 28.—Hon. James L. Pugh, United States Senator from Alabama, is spending the day in the city. He is just back from California, where he went as chairman of the Senate committee to accompany the remains of the late Senator Hearst. Senator Pugh says that in his opinion Mr. Cleveland will not be the next Democratic Presidential nominee. He thinks Mr. Cleveland's opposition to free coinage has "done him," and that Gov. Hill's chances are now the best.

WHY WE ARE POOR.

A PLUNDERED AND OPPRESSED PEOPLE.

Col. McKee Tells the Story.

In the Congressional Record of the 20th instant, Mr. Allison, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, makes what may be accepted as an official statement of the appropriations made at the last session of Congress for the fiscal year beginning on the 1st day of July next, as follows:

Agricultural Department	$ 3,025,153 50
Army	24,618,529 19
Diplomatic and Consular	1,656,925 00
District of Columbia	5,597,125 17
Fortifications	3,774,803 00
Indian Affairs	16,936,284 86
Legislative, etc.	22,027,674 25
Military Academy	402,064 64
Navy	31,541,654 78
Pensions	135,214,785 00
Post Office	77,407,222 61
Sundry Civil	67,410,363 99
Deficiencies	88,707,663 87
Miscellaneous	4,256,531 10
Permanent Annual	122,456,808 00
Refund Direct Tax	15,227,682 03
Total for 1891-2	$540,239,250 79
Appropriations 1890-1	$463,398,510 79

Total for two years. $1,003,637,761 58

These are great sums, but there are not many who fully realize their magnitude. They have grown upon the people slowly and surely from year to year, always increasing; and from year to year the attention of the people has been directed to the increase from the previous year only, and so partially diverted from the total.

And every year, too, the people have had the comforting and consoling assurance that the increase from the preceding year was only a few inconsequential pennies per capita and therefore insufficient to justify enquiry or to warrant protest or serious objection.

The great-souled, broad-gauged statesman, of the one party or the other, whether his service be in the federal or in the state administration who has been educated by long experience up to a very exalted appreciation of the dignity and grandeur and glory of government, and so has come to despise small things, deprecates the extravagancies to which he has been a party by dividing the sum total of them among the body of the people, and affects the greatest surprise that any one of them should be supposed to be "little" enough to complain of his small share.

There is not one in a hundred of the better informed people of the country who has an approximately correct idea of extent of the burdens the government puts on each individually or on all together.

The appropriations made at the last session of Congress (including the permanent annual appropriations) were $540,239,250 79.

This is a tax of more than eight dollars on each and every man, woman, child in the United States.

This is a tax of more than forty dollars on each and every one of the 13,000,000 men in the United States of all colors and conditions of life who are capable of earning wages.

This is equivalent to the earnings of 1,700,000 men at one dollar a day working every day in a full year except Sundays.

This vast sum is not the proceeds of a tax levied on property, but the proceeds of taxes imposed on consumption; and the poor man pays approximately as much as the rich one.

Worse even than this unequal and oppressive taxation is the fact that by securing to them some of the results of a monopoly of the manufacture of articles entering into general consumption it enables numbers of the richer classes to collect off the great body of taxpayers a tax for their own use and benefit.

Alabama's share of the appropriations made at the last session of Congress for the year beginning on the 1st day of July next is about $12,300,000.

This is more than eight dollars for each and every living persons in the state. This is more than forty dollars for each and every man in the state who is capable of earning wages. This is equivalent to the earnings of 40,000 men at one dollar a day for three hundred and thirteen days a year.

The total taxation of the people of Alabama by the State of Alabama for all the uses of their own government, including the maintenance of the public schools, interest on the public debt, and educational and benevolent institutions, is as nearly as possible one dollar for each inhabitant, or barely one eighth as much as their taxation for the Federal Government.

It is estimated that the indirect tax imposed on the people of the United States as subsidies to manufacturers amounts to fully $500,000,000 a year.

No dollar of this goes to the government or is applied to any public use.

Every dollar of this goes to swell the incomes and increase the wealth of the few thousands who are engaged as capitalists in carrying on "protected" industries.

These figures explain and account for the poverty of farmers, farm laborers, mechanics, and all others who are outside of the "protected" classes. The cotton crop of Alabama is worth, one-year with another, some forty millions of dollars, which is less than the people of the state pay every two years for the support of the Federal Government and the aggrandizement of "protected" manufacturers.

The equivalent of the labor of 40,000 of the able-bodied citizens of Alabama working three hundred and thirteen days in each year goes into the treasury at Washington to be squandered in great part on jobs and contracts, for the support of a useless army and navy, and for the maintenance of a horde of pretorian guards who are looting the government they claim to have saved, and the equivalent of the labor of other 40,000 of the able-bodied citizens of the state is taken through the agency of legislation for the enrichment of capitalists making and manufacturing iron and steel and agricultural implements and woolen goods and cotton fabrics and other things which enter into the common and necessary uses of the people.

The people of the country, the working people, those who produce with their own hands, are poor, and are becoming poorer year after year, because they are robbed of their earnings by the action of the government which was instituted by the people and for the people, while millionaires created by the legislation that that government are multiplying in number and are filling the land with their noisy, ostentatious, and offensive display of vulgar luxury and coarse splendor.

He Was Told to Prepare to Die.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Mr. J. H. Harrell, Ridge Farm, Ill.: "Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) saved my life and restored my health after the leading physicians of the State pronounced my case hopeless. From childhood I suffered agonies from a constitutional blood trouble, that gradually grew worse as I advanced in years. Finally a great ulcerous sore broke out on my leg, which compelled me to go on crutches, and this, added to the Rheumatism that had set in, made me almost helpless. The physicians who, by the way, were the best in this State, pronounced the disease incurable, and told me to prepare for death. About this time my attention was drawn to an advertisement of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) and I commenced taking it, as a drawing man would grasp at a straw. I commenced to improve from the first dose, and continued to improve until I am now sound and well. The ulcerous sore on my leg has healed up, and not even a scar is left and I am to-day as free from disease as any man living. Early last fall I discontinued the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), and have not had a day's sickness since. I feel it a duty I owe to my fellow-man, and to the manufacturers of Swift's Specific to make the above statement.

DOBBS DIGS DUKE TO DEATH

Choccoloco Crap Shooters Indulge in a Fatal Affray.

The Hot Blast has information of a cutting affray at Choccoloco on last Sunday afternoon. The parties implicated in it are all negroes and the cause of the difficulty grew out of a dispute over a game of craps. The cutters and shooters were Joe Duke and George Dobbs and the latter got the best of the fight by carving the former in the region of the heart and thereby killing him. Dobbs made his escape and the latest account obtainable was to the effect that he had not been captured.—Hot Blast.

A story comes of a man in Georgia whose example is worthy of emulation by every farmer in Alabama. Captain John S. Herndon a prosperous and peaceable farmer of the former State says he has bought neither meat, flour nor corn for the use of his family in thirty-six years, and every year has a surplus of those articles to sell and turn into ready cash. He also says he never saw two men fight in his life. Commenting on this example the Augusta Chronicle says: "The man who lives at home, who raises all his provisions, who makes cotton his surplus crop, who attends to his own business and leaves other people's alone, who does not embroil his neighbors or dispute with his adversary, is in velvet."

OUR TROUBLE WITH ITALY.

What the Foreign Newspapers Have to Say About It. PARIS, April 1.—Liberte says: "Marquis D'Radini's action is a proper response to the dilatory American diplomacy."

ROME, Italy, April 1.—Tribuna says: "We do not think any complications need be feared, the demands of Italy are so moderate that a solution satisfactory to both countries might be found before Baron Fava's departure from America."

The trouble in the Pennsylvania Coke region between labor and capital has culminated in bloodshed. Eleven men were killed and twenty more wounded at Mt. Pleasant, Pa.

Referring to Minister Porter's interview with Signor D'Arco, Tribuna says: "Minister Porter expressed displeasure at the determination of Baron Fava to quit the United States."

The editor of the REPUBLICAN returns thanks to the Roanoke Herald (Senator Handley's home paper) for kind and complimentary expressions.

In its issue tomorrow morning Popolo Romano, the leading organ of the opposition, will declare that the entire country approves of the recall of Baron Fava, and after dwelling upon the fact of the Italian press in refraining from hampering diplomatic action and its dignified attitude in the face of the polemics of the American press will say: "Baron Fava's note could not have been couched in more dignified or more temperate language."

The post office at Jacksonville has been advanced to a third class office and the postmaster here now gets a fixed salary, with allowance for clerk hire, office rents, fuel, lights, etc.

The Star says the United States are in an extremely difficult position, though the lynchings at New Orleans were justifiable. The withdrawal of Baron Fava is the easiest solution of the problem.

The Democratic doctrine of States' rights and local self government serves well to protect the people of New Orleans from the fury of the Italian Government, through the truculence of the general government at Washington.

THE SUB-TREASURY IDEA.

ABSTRACT ARGUMENT BY A CLEAR HEADED MAN.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—I note that you published last week an article in favor of the sub-treasury bill at the request of a prominent Allianceman. I now request that you publish the following part of the argument of Mr. U. S. Hall, one of the most prominent Alliancemen in the United States against the plan. All Alliancemen know Mr. Hall as president of the Missouri Alliance and now one of the members of the National Legislative committee. Mr. Hall ably combats the bill on the various grounds he states, but the entire argument is too long for your columns and I ask, therefore, that you publish only that part of it wherein he shows the bill to be in clear violation of the declarations of the alliance itself.

I belong to that large class of men who hailed the farmers movement as a harbinger of success in breaking down that vicious principle in Government which favored special classes and interests at the expense of others; and I shall be deeply disappointed if the great order ends its auspicious beginning by declaring itself in favor of that which it was created to destroy.

The following is part of Mr. Hall's address to the Alliancemen of Missouri:

To the Members of the Farmers and Laborers Union of Missouri:

BROTHERS—Feeling a deep interest in the permanent success of our noble order and knowing there is now being discussed among us, in this State, for its adoption or rejection by you, what is known as the "agricultural sub-treasury scheme," I deem it my duty, as President of the order, to give you the benefit of whatever thought and examination I may have given the subject, to aid you in arriving at a correct conclusion on this important matter.

I am more readily induced to do this for the three following reasons: 1st. A number of brothers have written me asking for my views on this subject.

2nd. I have been acquainted with the plan, and had given it careful consideration, prior to its being brought to public notice; and

3rd. I regard the success or failure of our States and national organizations, depends upon the correct answer to the question: "Shall we endorse the agricultural sub-treasury scheme now pending in the United States Congress?"

I am opposed to this scheme on the following grounds, which I will aim to discuss somewhat in the order in which I name them below:

1. It is in violation of the Constitution of the United States.
2. It is subversive of, and directly opposed to the Constitution, principles and demands of our own order.
3. It is unjust and inequitable.
4. It is very extravagant.
5. It would bring financial ruin to the farmers of our entire country and to all other classes of business.
6. It will have and is now having the effect of drawing the minds of the farmers and other laborers of our country from the greatest curse of the age—class legislation, and if adopted will commit us to that principle which will fasten these curses upon us for all time.

Subdivision 2 of the "declaration of purposes" or "preamble" of our National, State, County, and subordinate Constitutions are all exactly alike and read as follows: "That we demand equal rights to all and special favors to none." This was adopted at St. Louis in our meeting in December, as the preamble and leading thought of our National Constitution. Under this bold, plain and manly declaration, our demands upon the National Government were made. Among those demands was the following:

"Believing in the doctrine of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, we demand that taxation, National or State, shall not be used to build up one interest or class at the expense of another."

"We believe that the money of the country should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand that all revenues, National, State or County, shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the Government economically and honestly administered."

Having been chairman of the delegation from this State to this St. Louis National meeting, and secretary of the committee on demands, I have the original demands still in my possession and make this copy from them.

That National Constitutional declaration was inserted in and adopted as a part of every State, county and subordinate constitution of our order in the United States; and the above quoted demand was adopted by every State, county and subordinate union as part of their demands. With these constitutions and demands in their hands, thousands of our National, State, county and subordinate lecturers and organizers have traversed this entire country and appealed to the farming class to unite in crushing out the unjust exactions and tyrannies of class legislation, telling them that this movement meant a death blow to special privileges granted by national legislation.

Upon the faith of these solemn constitutional declarations, believing we meant what we said in our demands, and from the mouths of our duly commissioned speakers, millions of the farmers and laborers of the United States have joined our ranks; in our own State more than 185,000 having flocked to our standard to aid us in our noble work.

On the faith of our purposes as set forth in this constitution and in our demands, thousands of able papers, religious, news, agricultural, and political, have given us many kind notices and most substantial help, and bid us God speed in our holy mission; and thousands of able, conservative men who were more of patriots than of partisans, but who were not farmers and could not, therefore, join us, have given us kind and encouraging words and willing and helping hands.

Or to sum the whole matter up and put it plainly and truthfully our order has been built upon the faith that the people had in our meaning to make war upon class legislation and special privileges being given by our National Government.

The "sub-treasury bill" violates every principle of these solemn constitutional provisions, governmental demands, and declarations of our commissioned officers.

And some of our national officers ask us, now that we are organized and built up, to turn to the world and say in substance, by advocating this "sub-treasury scheme," "We did not mean what we said, when we declared we were in favor of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, but we meant we were in favor of special privileges being granted to the owners of surplus wheat, corn, oats, tobacco and cotton, living in the wealthiest counties in the United States, that cannot be granted to any one else in our entire land."

If such a course as this is taken, would it not lay us liable to the charge of obtaining members under false pretenses?

It would lose us millions of members in our order; the esteem, aid and sympathy of thousands of religious, news, agricultural and political papers that have aided us in the past, and the confidence of all the good men and women who have bid us God speed on the faith of our Constitutions and demands; and would place our noble order before the world in any other than an enviable position.

It is my opinion based upon my experience gained in traveling and lecturing in 106 out of 114 counties of our State, while your State lecturer, that if our order should take such a step it would destroy the order in Missouri in less than 90 days.

We hardly think it possible under the above statement of facts that any considerable number of the fair minded brothers of our order, after due deliberation will claim that we ought to demand special class legislation for the benefit of a few of the wealthiest wheat, corn, oats, tobacco and cotton owners that cannot be granted to any one else.

Nor do I think that any of our brothers will force an order declaring in favor of such a bill until we change our own Constitutions and demands so that they will read: "We demand special favors to the wheat, corn, oat, tobacco and cotton owners in the richest counties of the United States, which favors shall not be granted to the farmers in the poorer counties; nor to any one else in the land." For no county get a warehouse and subsidy unless that county can first show that it raises the surplus of $500,000 worth of these products; and there are only a few of the richest counties in our State that raise this amount.

I will therefore ask (and this is the question now confronting us), shall our constitution and demands be changed to conform to the sub-treasury bill, or were we right when we framed them as they now are? We now stand opposed to all kinds of class legislation. This scheme demands that we shall commit ourselves to the worst kind of class legislation. And I can see the advocates of this scheme asking, why should the farmers condemn this kind of legislation and why should our constitutions and demands so openly denounce it? I answer for our beloved order as follows: Because it was class legislation that robbed the taxpayers of this country of hundreds of millions of dollars by making our United States bonds payable in coin.

It was class legislation that demonetized silver and made those bonds payable in gold, thereby robbing the taxpayers of hundreds of millions again.

It was class legislation that created the national banking system and vested in them the power of controlling, to a great extent, the volume of the money of the country.

It was class legislation that took from the people of the United States millions upon millions of acres of the public lands and vested it in railroad corporations and syndicates and alien owners.

It was class legislation that has built up the colossal trusts, monopolies and combines of our country that are the curse of the age, and it is class legislation that makes it possible for them to continue their unholy callings.

It is class legislation that lays the heaviest burdens of tariff taxation upon the necessities of life that the poor and needy of our land must have, and places the lightest tariffs on the luxuries of life that the wealthy can do without and not suffer.

It is class legislation that has, in some cases, shut the ports of foreign markets to our surplus farm products, and in others has forced us to pay an immense toll before we are allowed to compete, in the sale of our surplus farm products, with the pauper farm products of the rest of the world in these foreign markets.

It is class legislation that makes us pay nearly double what we should for all the machinery and implements we use upon our farms.

And it is class legislation that has made the abandoned farms in some States, and poverty and distress among the farming class all over our land. That has raised and is now raising many of our children in rags, ignorance, and poverty, and has placed the farms of our country with mortgages, that has made the farmer the butt of the jokes of all other classes of people, the subject of scandalous and humorous cartoons and has socially ostracized them.

Or to sum the whole matter up, it is class legislation that has driven us into this organization to defend ourselves, wives, children, and homes.

Then why should there be any wonder at our denouncing our common curse and mortal enemy.

Brothers, we can never expect any relief from such legislation, and unless the farming class put it down, and make it odious as it deserves to be made, it will continue to sap the substance from the farmers and laborers of this country until incorporation farming, and landlordism and tenancy will forever displace the old-time independent American farmer.

And I will now most earnestly warn you against those who advocate class legislation, for the farming class, whether inside or outside of our order, for while they are in many, if not all cases honest in their advice, they are mistaken, and are trying to have us place ourselves in such a position that we cannot work, talk, or vote against national banks, unjust tariffs, railroad land grants, or any of the other species of class legislation of which we now complain.

Suppose the national banks, land grant railroads, bondholders, tariff barons, should have concluded that the farmers of the United States are getting politically troublesome, and becoming liable to take from them, by legislation, these special privileges which they have so long enjoyed; how would they get about doing it? Not by buying us up, winning and dining us, or any such familiar methods as that, for our great numbers and thorough knowledge that such are their general methods, would make such an effort a failure. But the method they would adopt would be to get us to advocating class legislation for ourselves. This would most effectually shut our mouths against their class legislation.

Of course they would want us to advocate, for ourselves, some species of class legislation that would be impracticable and unconstitutional, but nevertheless such a one as would thoroughly commit us to approval of that class legislation that has built their palaces from the unjust tolls on labor.

I claim this sub-treasury scheme is just the kind of class legislation, above all, that these favored classes would most desire us to approve and advocate. And should our organization ever endorse this scheme there will be great joy in the ranks of those men that we now most severely denounce. For how can our order or our Representative Congress denounce legislation of a similar kind to that which we are advocating?

For when we protest against the extending of the charters or powers of the National banks the representative of these banks will point to the "Farmers' sub-treasury bill."

When land grant railroads ask for the confirmation of their right to millions of unearned acres of our public domain and we raise our voices against it, they will want to know, how we are getting along with our "Vance and Pickler sub-treasury bill."

Let me therefore, most solemnly warn you against following that "jack-o'-lantern" of class legislation, that will but lead you deeper into the swamps of misery and want, out of which there is no road for the farmer.

It is a curious anomaly of New England politics that majorities do not always rule. In Connecticut the democratic candidate for governor received some 8,000 majority, yet the republican incumbent still holds on to the office. In Rhode Island Governor Davis, the democratic candidate, received a handsome plurality, but not enough according to the law of that State, to elect him. The election will be thrown into the general assembly, which will choose the republican candidate, although he represents a minority of the popular vote. This moves the Providence Journal, long staunchly republican, but more recently independent and an advocate of tariff reform, to declare that "the system minority elections should be abolished." The Journal adds that there is no "sort of question that Rhode Island will give its votes for the democratic candidate for president at the next national election upon the questions in which the two parties are now arrayed."

The Revolt in India. A letter from the Manipal Chief regarding his Cause.

CALCUTTA, April 10.—The text of a letter which was yesterday received at Simla, from the leader of the Manipur, who recently massacred Chief Commissioner Quinton and his party, has been published here. In it the Manipur chief says: "The British attacked my palace; massacred my soldiers and their women and children; they threw living women and children into the flames of their houses, and desecrated temples. Therefore, I killed the chief commissioner's party, which was composed of Commissioner Quinton, Col. Sken, Lieut. Simpson and Civilians Cosins, Grumwood and Melville."

He Was Told to Prepare to Die. The following is an extract from a letter written by Mr. J. H. Harrell, Ridge Farm, Ill.: "Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) saved my life and restored my health after the leading physicians of the State pronounced my case hopeless. From childhood I suffered agonies from a constitutional blood trouble, that gradually grew worse as I advanced in years. Finally a great ulcerous sore broke out on my leg, which compelled me to go on crutches, and this, added to the Rheumatism that had set in, made me almost helpless. The physicians who, by the way, were the best in this State, pronounced the disease incurable, and told me to prepare for death. About this time my attention was drawn to an advertisement of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) and I commenced taking it, as a drawing man would grasp at a straw. I commenced to improve from the first dose, and continued to improve until I am now sound and well. The ulcerous sore on my leg has healed up, and not even a scar is left and I am to-day as free from disease as any man living. Early last fall I discontinued the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), and have not had a day's sickness since. I feel it a duty I owe to my fellow-man, and to the manufacturers of Swift's Specific to make the above statement."

The Florida Legislators Censuring on the Senatorial Question.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 10.—A profound sensation was caused in the legislature here by the distribution to the members of a circular issued by Senator Call, denouncing as an "absolute and malicious falsehood" the statements made by Editor Dunning of The Farm, that he was hostile to free silver coinage, and to all the principles of the Farmers' Alliance.

Senator Call says in this circular: My record shows that I have been in favor of free silver coinage and the issue of treasury notes to such an extent as commerce and the interests of the people, the farmers especially, required. My speeches in the senate prove that I have from the first been an advocate of the principles of the Farmers' Alliance. In every county in the state I have advocated them. I have frequently expressed the opinion that the sub-treasury system might be so modified as to accomplish all the objects desired by the Alliance.

Rogers' Stand Decided. TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 10.—Rogers was supposed to have favored Dunn. His letter has aroused the Alliancemen to a white heat, and they seem now confident of victory. Five Alliancemen committed to Call have prevented harmonious action. It was said they would break out of the caucus. There will be forty-five Alliancemen that will stick. There are twenty non-Alliancemen members that will vote with them against Call, which will elect their man, fifty-one being a majority in open session.

THE M'KEE TRIAL.

Judge Maddox's Firm Stand in Protection of Attorneys.

ROME, Ga., April 8.—Judge Maddox took a hand in the Fry-Waters-Dietz affair Wednesday morning. When the court was called to order at 8:00 o'clock, a very large number of visitors were present, among them the brothers of Mrs. Dietz and the Waters boys.

Everybody expected that Col. Fry would make some remarks about the note received from Mr. Dietz, and hence a very large number of people were present to hear what he might have to say. They were disappointed, however, for the colonel had nothing to say.

Judge Maddox, however, said "I have been greatly annoyed by newspaper reports as to a difficulty that might occur here this morning. I do not know anything about the difficulty except what I do know, and that is that an attorney has a right to comment on the testimony of a witness on any point that may be warranted by the evidence.

"Now, I do not know anything about this thing except what I have heard, but I want to say that if any apology is to be made, it will be made to this court, and to no one else.

Their Opportunity. "Any other apology will be made at the peril of the man who makes it. If there is any man in this court room who has any grievance to present, let him present it now."

Judge Maddox here paused for a reply, while many fixed their eyes upon Mr. J. D. Waters, but he said nothing. Continuing, Judge Maddox said: "If any man is detected in this court room with a weapon on his person, either concealed or exposed, it will cost him just $1,000, twelve months in the penitentiary and six months in the chain-gang."

"I want to say further that if any member of this bar is interfered with in any way it will cost him $200 and costs and twenty days in the chain-gang."

"Begin Right Now." "That's all I have to say and now let anybody who wants to interfere with this court begin right now."

Nobody responded, so the sheriff called for order, and the jury was sent for. Mr. Gibbons was pale as he entered the court room, and so weak that he could not stand alone. He came near falling as soon as the bailiff's hand was taken from his arm. Judge Maddox kindly gave up the large red rocker in which he was sitting and had it put over into the jury box. A pillow was placed upon the back of the chair and there the sick juror sat all through the long and weary session.

Argument Resumed. Col. Fry resumed his argument, and spoke for half an hour, recalling the points he had made in his speech on Saturday.

Then Col. W. S. McHenry began addressing the jury. He referred in scathing language to the speech of Col. Fry, which he called "gush," a speech made, he said, by Col. Fry for himself to make him a name, and not to defend his client.

The Close of the Case. ROME, Ga., April 9.—One of the strongest points in Mr. Wright's argument was made just before he closed in regard to acetanilid, the medicine given by Dr. McCall to Mrs. Wimpee.

He read from a standard medical work where it had been used with fatal effects, one dose of three grains in a certain case having proved fatal. Another case showed where the administration of this medicine had caused nausea and vomiting, followed by death.

Judge Maddox then charged the jury, reading the charge. It was a clear and strong presentation of the law in the case. He said a great deal had been said about a motive in the case, and he charged the jury that they were authorized to find a verdict of guilty if the evidence showed beyond a doubt that the defendant was guilty, although no motive could be shown for the commission of the deed.

He charged the law as to flight and as to confession.

Concluding his charge in about 15 minutes, the jury then retired, and a buzz of conversation filled the room.

Mrs. McKee seemed relieved to think that the long case was at an end, and spent a few moments in talking with her friends.

Some of the gentlemen in the court room were offering to bet ten to one that an acquittal would come in a very short time, but no one would take the bet.

The general opinion in Rome was that Mrs. McKee would not be found guilty, as they said it was hard enough to convict a man of murder, much less a woman.

MRS. M'KEE ACQUITTED.

The Jury Finds Her Not Guilty and She Is Once More Free.

ROME, Ga., April 10.—After the jury had been out about three hours the McKee case had made a verdict.

The prisoner was not in court. The sheriff sent down to the jail for her and word was sent to her family and counsel.

Then a little after 3 o'clock Judge Maddox said: "The jury can clear that stairway so the jury can come down."

"Mr. Solicitor," said Judge Maddox, "receive the verdict."

A bright smile came across Mrs. McKee's face as she looked at the jury. The verdict was then read: "We, the jury, find the defendant not guilty."

The judge then thanked the jury for their patience, and then told them they might go.

Mr. Frank McGrath, President of the Kansas Alliance, has addressed a letter to the Alliance of the Southern States urging them to get ready to abandon the Democratic party and go into the third party movement.

Having received in the fall of '84, he was entitled to the balance, after deducting the low rate of interest on the $624 and the cost of storage, handling and insurance, which certainly could not exceed $30.

The sub-treasury bill provides that the government may loan 50 percent of the market value of farm products at the time they are stored in the government warehouse, the owner to pay warehouse and insurance charges, interest &c.

Mr. R. W. Beck, of Jefferson county, does not like Mr. U. S. Hall, the brainy president of the Missouri Alliance. In an interview in the Birmingham Age-Herald, Mr. Beck endeavors to belittle Mr. Hall and make it appear that he is not in good standing with the order in the United States, and that his unpopularity was shown at the Ocala convention.

Last week, at the request of an alliance man, the REPUBLICAN printed an article from another paper in support of the sub-treasury scheme. In this issue is presented two articles presenting objections to it.

ANOTHER CALCULATION

Showing How It is Against the Interest of the Cotton Raiser to Have the Sub-treasury Bill.

MR. EDITOR: I read in your last paper an article, I judge from some western man, on the Sub-treasury bill and was struck with the absurdity of his figures when applied to the cotton crop of the South.

"It is a conceded fact that the average price of the products of the farm is, at least 30 per cent. higher in the spring than in the fall of the year. It cannot be denied that this difference (deducting, of course, the cost of storage and insurance) goes into the hands of the speculator.

If the bill should become a law I predict it will utterly ruin the Southern farmer. We need no law like this to tell us further into debt and ruin. Our remedy is to raise our own food crops and decrease the supply of cotton.

The 25th day of April is Memorial Day. Saturday, the 25th, would be a fitting time to clean off the leaves from the cemetery grounds and decorate the graves of loved ones. The REPUBLICAN will have a memorial page on that day, reviving recollections of the Confederate dead.

The people of Jacksonville sympathize with the good people of Piedmont who recently suffered so heavily from fire. But it may be said that while it is a great hardship upon individuals, it will ultimately prove a blessing to the pretty town. It will be rebuilt with brick.

Mr. John C. Feriman, Albion, Illinois, writes on Jan. 16th, 1891: "My wife has been a great sufferer from headaches for over 20 years, and your Brandywine is the only medicine that has ever relieved her. I can get you all the recommendations you want from here. We take great pleasure in recommending it on all occasions."

Mr. Bowling's Concert.
If coming events cast their shadows before, then the concert to be given by Mrs. Bowling at College Hall next Monday night, (20th), will be one of unusual merit, and should be largely attended. The proceeds are for a worthy cause, and this should induce the people of Jacksonville to patronize it well. We feel sure that no one will regret the time thus spent, as the program is of such variety as to please the ear of even the most exacting critic. Jacksonville amateurs have always done themselves great credit, and will certainly not fail on this occasion. The price of admission is only 25c; within the reach of all, and Mrs. Bowling would be pleased to see every one present.

Embroidery has been marked down to the very lowest figure to-day at Mrs. Kate Jelks.

Read What Capt. James H. Savage Has to Say of Baker's Blood and Liver Cure.

TESTIMONIAL.
Piedmont, Ala., May 18, 1887.
My brother, R. F. Savage, of Leontia, Ala., has been afflicted with scrofula of the worst form, all his life, but able to work till about five years ago, when he took out his teeth, and his mouth and his tongue, so that he could not eat, nor talk. He was treated by all the doctors of this section of country for two years, and also by Dr. W. F. Westmoreland, of Atlanta, which only held the disease in check, without any prospect of cure as pronounced by the doctors. In this condition he lay in his room for three months. He was then taken to a sanitarium in warm weather, and it was decided by doctors and all that saw him that it was only a matter of time when the disease would end him up.

In August, 1887, I heard that Dr. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure had cured one of my neighbors, Mr. J. D. Braswell, of a bad case, and I at once procured some of the medicine and gave it to my brother. About the first of November, 1887, all sores disappeared, and although I used every means to make it break out again, I failed. My brother, by degrees, got able to work some, and he continued to improve in health and strength, and to-day he is stronger and better than he ever before in his life. No sign of the disease has ever since reappeared. I am perfectly satisfied that he is permanently cured. And I would recommend all persons afflicted with scrofula or like diseases to give Dr. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure a trial, feeling sure that it will cure them. It is no humbug. It is a purely vegetable preparation.

These scrofula, and could say more, for this medicine, and without any solicitation, but alone for suffering humanity that will be similarly afflicted. My brother is as sound as a dollar to-day and a living testimony to the worth of Dr. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure.
JAMES H. SAVAGE,
Attorney at Law.

Parties doubting the above statement can be convinced by writing to Mr. Savage. He will cheerfully answer your letter. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure has never been known to fail to cure scrofula, syphilis, rheumatism or any kind of blood poison or skin disease. Hundreds of physicians are using it daily with splendid success. Sold by all druggists. If not in stock have them order for you. Ladies, try Baker's Female Regulator and Pills.

ATTRACTIVE GOODS AT BARGAIN PRICES

AT CROW BROS.
We have a splendid line of Spring Goods just received. We mean to keep up with the times. We have a nice line of ready made

Spring Clothing
That we will take pleasure in showing our customers. Call before the stock is picked over.

$3,768.00 Worth of Goods,
TO BE

SACRIFICED
Within the Next Sixty Days,
At Absolute Cost

And Below Cost in Many Cases.

Messrs Bruce & Martin bought a few days ago at Sheriff's sale the W. E. Kelley & Co., stock of Goods, consisting of Dry Goods, Notions, Hats, Hardware, Shoes (Groceries, Clothing and Drugs, and have placed the same in the Red Store on Public Square, in Jacksonville, known as the Brewton old store. These goods were bid in bulk at a figure much below cost and will realize a handsome profit when sold at cost and even below cost in many cases, and this is just what they intend to do. The stock is very select and is almost entirely new, many of the goods never having been unpacked.

The store is now open customers. Never before in the history of Jacksonville has such an opportunity for bargains been presented.

THE STOCK MUST GO
within the next sixty days. Call early and get choice before goods are picked over.

A Good Name.
A Good Name is Certainly Better than Riches in the business world. That is why we never permit customers to leave our store dissatisfied with their purchases.

We aim to get the Good Will of the People, and our largely increasing business shows that we have been successful. Our goods, our prices, and our straight American methods of doing business make it an object for you to

TRADE WITH US.
It's a Unique position we occupy as Leaders. This is forcibly indicated by the scores who interview us daily on styles. As we are asked, our judgment must be valued. If we know—as we do—just what is most natural we should pattern our stock accordingly? Certainly.

The Dealers who do so much talking about the amount of money they save to the purchasers of clothing are the very ones who are making it more expensive. For instance you cannot get a whole page advertisement for nothing. Neither can any man or concern afford to sell you goods for LESS than COST and succeed.

Those who advertise goods at one half or one third of their value are still making profits big enough to pay for all the charity they do to their customers.

Ours is a Plain,
Fair dealing house. We sell our Merchandise at a living profit. Our goods are same price to everybody. Each article is marked in Plain Figures.

No Private Cost Mark that you can't understand. Should you buy of us and not be pleased with your purchase, we refund your money as freely as we receive it. This has been the success of our house, as

We have never refused to give back purchase money, if the article is brought back unimpaired. Bear this in mind. In this advertisement we have stated how we do business; in our next we will tell you something else.

ALL IN A MUDDLE.

Chicago's Close Contest Causes Crisis of Corruption.

Chicago, April 10.—Only a few hundred votes are between Dewitt C. Cregier or Hempstead Washburne and the majority chair of Chicago.

Only the official count will finally decide which is mayor.

The Democratic leaders claim with confidence that their man has won.

The Republicans say Hempstead Washburne is elected without doubt.

It is claimed by the Democrats that all the returns have been received, and that the vote stands:

Cregier, 46,945.
Washburne, 46,700.
Cregier's plurality, 245.

That wholesale fraud was planned and partly carried out Tuesday, there is hardly a doubt.

In over a score of cases, the full lists were not enclosed in the ballot boxes as required by the law, and in the same cases the boxes were not locked and sealed, as required by the statute in other instances.

The judges had to deliver up their keys. At 11 o'clock over fifty boxes had not been returned to the election commissioners, though the law required that they should have been returned at 12 o'clock.

In one instance, the box had been broken open, and the glass sides crushed by one of the judges, who was afterward arrested by a Cregierite policeman, but allowed to escape without fine or imprisonment.

It was reported that in the Twenty-ninth and thirtieth wards the Republican challengers and peddlers were driven from the polls by the Democrats.

The Cregier police looked on with approval in the river wards. Bulldozing and slugging were the order of the day. In fact the gang men resorted to every disreputable trick to elect their candidates to falsify their returns.

The result will be that a large number of judges and clerks will find themselves in trouble.

IS IT RICKETY?
The Great Department Building Said to Quaver in the Breezes.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The clerks in the top story of the great state, war and navy department building, 'the largest and most artistic pile of granite in Washington, say that on windy days this massive building, or at least the top story, shakes like a house of cards.

The month of March this year has been unusually windy, and the clerks have had more than ordinary opportunities of studying the phenomenon. Long discussions are indulged in daily as to the secondary cause of the vibrations of the building, but so far no satisfactory conclusion has been reached.

There is a large flag staff on the roof of each of the wings of the building, and some of the clerks think that the trembling is caused by the swaying of these poles. Others, however, declare that the entire top floor shakes, without any regard to the action of the wind on the flag staffs. The building was erected on very low ground, but it is hardly possible that the foundations are so insecure as to be responsible for the trembling of the building during a wind storm.

ITALY ONCE MORE.
Her Public Journals Making Claims for Excessive Indemnity.

ROME, April 10.—Many now declare the Favà recall was planned by the government to afford pretense to the chamber of deputies of sufficient reasons existing for the maintenance of the army and navy.

The Italia says the Americans have but one god, their strong box, and on this treasury Italy must make demand for the largest possible indemnity.

The Messagero says the official correspondence will be laid before the chamber of deputies upon its reassembling, and that it will testify to the success of Rudini in the international affair; that President Harrison's message to King Humbert requested his assistance, so far as compatible with his dignity, in reconciling the two nations. It asserts that Humbert replied that he entirely approved of Italy's course.

A THOUSAND DOLLAR COW.
Farmers Must Not Let Their Daunt Deeds Get on the Track.

GOSHEN, Ind., April 9.—The supreme court has affirmed the decision of the lower court in the famous DeKalb county cow case. A farmer in that county sued the Lake Shore railroad for the value of a cow which had been killed by one of their engines. The company at once entered a counter claim, and obtained a judgment for $5 and costs for damages inflicted upon the engine by the cow, alleging that the running on the track of the cow, was the result of criminal carelessness on the part of the farmer. The farmer gets nothing for his cow, has to pay costs running up nearly to $1,000, and also has to pay for the rolling stock damaged by his cow.

WHY HE RESIGNED.
Senator Edmunds Will Make Aiken, S. C., His Winter Home.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Senator Edmunds being asked for a statement said: "I have resigned from personal considerations solely. It is a pure matter of health. I cannot live in Washington during the winter. I suffer from a throat trouble, and the climate is too severe."

"I hold that a senator should attend to his duties, and if I cannot remain in Washington constantly I prefer to resign."

He shall spend my winters in Aiken, S. C., visiting Washington occasionally to attend the sessions of the supreme court when I have business before it."

A Fatal Nap.
FLORENCE, S. C., April 10.—W. D. Brown, known as Fireman Brown, an old confederate soldier was found dead by the side of the railroad track. It is supposed that he sat on a cross tie and went to sleep and the incoming train struck him. Death was instantaneous.

An Insult to Our Flag.
ROSDOOR, N. Y., April 13.—The Pratt Post, G. A. R., has appointed a committee to investigate the recent Italian outrage at La Ferre Falls, where several Italians employed at the cement quarry hoisted an American flag to the top of a pole and riddled it with bullets in retaliation for the New Orleans tragedy. The United States authorities are determined, if possible, to bring these men to justice, and will prosecute the evidence in the affair, and lay it before the district attorney.

The postoffice at Olathe, Kas., was robbed of every letter last Friday night.

DUNN'S LETTER.

He Gives His Reasons for Withdrawing From the Race.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 13.—The letter of Cassius M. Dunn was made public Sunday morning, although written several days previous. The text is as follows:

Some weeks since I consented to allow my name to be used by my friends as a candidate for the United States senate.

I was induced to do this by the numerous assurances I had received from all parts of the state that my candidacy would be favorably received by the people and their representatives and by the hope of being able to contribute something to the welfare of my beloved state by faithful and diligent attention to her interests in the national legislature.

A clearer insight into the political situation now subsists here (as I have no higher ambition than the public good) that I shall still be in the line of duty in withdrawing my candidacy.

My connection with a national bank seems to render me ineligible as a candidate in the estimation of a most worthy class of the people and as this is the class to which both by birth and sympathy I am attached, I consult only my earnest desire for their weal in relieving them of the embarrassment in which my candidacy seems to involve them.

In withdrawing my name as a candidate, I desire to acknowledge my profound gratitude to the faithful friends who have testified their appreciation by wise counsel and unselfish devotion, and that larger section of the public press of the state, which has advocated my candidacy with such eloquence and hearty good will, as almost to relieve its object of the sense of its unworthiness.

Thinking, as I do, that the agricultural interests of the people are suffering for the lack of the fostering care of the government, it is my profound hope that their representatives may be guided by divine wisdom to the selection of a senator whose heart is with the people, and whose abilities may be equal to the task of maintaining their rights.

Yours, very truly,
JOHN F. DUNN.

BISMARCK AGAIN PROMINENT.
He Will Represent Geestemunde in the Reichstag.

BERLIN, April 13.—The electoral contest at Geestemunde, where Prince Bismarck's candidacy for the reichstag is opposed by candidates belonging to the Socialist and Progressist parties, has assumed the proportions of a great political event. The entire interest of the country centers in the result of next Wednesday, on which day the polling will take place. Prince Bismarck has definitely accepted the candidature, on the assurance that he will receive a triumphant majority.

The peasant vote will be given solidly to Prince Bismarck, as the champion of agricultural interests, besides his being the greatest living German. A combination between the Socialists and Progressists might check the return of the prince on the first vote, but as the day of election nears, the prospects of such a coalition lessen. Accepting Prince Bismarck's reappearance in the reichstag as certain, everybody asks what his line of action will be when there. He himself states that he will only sit in the house if political events require his intervention.

Count Herbert Bismarck, who has been staying in Berlin since last Tuesday, has told some of his friends that even should he be called to hasten his father's presence in the reichstag, the pessimistic views of the foreign situation published by the Bismarckian press, generally coincide with the suggestion that the prince's continued absence from politics is bad for the country. There is no doubt that the renewal of the European crisis is the motive of Prince Bismarck's resuming a leading role.

TEMPERANCE WORKERS.
Convention of the Georgia Clergy at Thomasville.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., April 13.—The State Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention delegates began to arrive Thursday evening. These ladies, with Mrs. S. S. Bouchell, president of the local union, held a meeting to arrange some necessary preliminaries.

Mrs. Sallie F. Chapin, of South Carolina and Mary T. Lathrop, of Michigan, distinguished lecturers, were present during the convention. The Thomasville people are certainly extending bountiful hospitalities.

The convention met at 9 o'clock a. m. Saturday, Mrs. W. C. Sibley, presiding. Devotional exercises were led by Mrs. C. L. Smith, of Ellaville, and the convention proceeded to business at once by hearing reports from local unions.

The addresses of welcome at night were responded to by Mrs. B. F. Abbott. Mrs. Sibley's president's address and that of Miss Stokes, the corresponding secretary, came on Monday.

At 3 o'clock p. m. Sunday Mrs. Dr. Blanchard, of Columbus, superintendent of state juvenile work, assisted by Mrs. Sibley and Mrs. Chapin, addressed an audience mostly children, using pictures and charts to illustrate the deadly evil of intemperance.

At 7:30 o'clock Mrs. Chapin talked to an overflowing house, all the churches closing for this occasion.

GATHERING OF BISHOPS.
Catholic Leaders at Savannah in Annual Conclave.

SAVANNAH, April 13.—On Tuesday and Wednesday the annual meeting of the Catholic bishops of the province of Baltimore will be held at the bishop's residence here. Those expected to be present are, Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Curtis, of Wilmington, Del.; Bishop Van de Vyer, of Richmond, Va.; Bishop Kain, of Wheeling, W. Va.; Bishop Hald, of North Carolina; Bishop Northrup, of Charleston, S. C.; Bishop Moore, of St. Augustine, Fla., and Bishop Becker, of this city.

A number of matters of interest to the church are to be discussed. Prominent among these, it is said, is the division of the province into two arch dioceses, one to include the dioceses of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, the other dioceses to remain in the arch diocese of Baltimore.

Rear Admiral Shufeldt is dangerously ill in Washington.

MEMORIAL DAY.

To-morrow is Memorial day. Let us give a thought and drop a tear to the memory of the noble men who gave their lives to their country. Let us garland their graves with flowers.

The story of the prowess and devotion of the Confederate soldier has not yet been fittingly told. The passions of the strife have not yet sufficiently cooled that he may be viewed impartially, and the glamour of success which yet hangs about the banners of the victors obscures, in a measure, his glory; but the day will come when the impartial judgment of men will accord him a place among the greatest heroes of all the ages.

Thirty years have elapsed since the great war began; thirty years since those proud banners were first flung to the breeze and the stately march was begun of the mailed men of this country who ever see again!

How lightly and gladly they went to the enactment of the great tragedy! Woman's tears concealed beneath smiles of gentle encouragement—the presentation of silken banners—the shrill notes of the fife and the rattle of the drum—the proud bearing of the soldier boys in gray jackets—the fond leave takings—the exalted state of public sentiment—the grand patriotism of the hour—the ringing notes of the orator—the proud and defiant attitude of the Southern press—all are but a memory now, but, ah, how brave and tender a memory!

That was the golden era of the Southern soldier's life. War to him then meant glory, victory, renown, a quick return to a grateful country with laurels on his brow.

Afterwards came the reality—the hope of final victory long deferred—the pangs of hunger—the summer's heat and winter's cold—the weary march with bare and bleeding feet—the fierce carnage of battle—the desperate charge—the gradual but fearful declination of those proud ranks—the final abandonment of hope and the disbandment of armies amid the tears of strong men—the sad return to ruined homes and shattered fortunes to face desolation.

Returning to the arts of peace, they found neither sufficient live stock, currency nor implements of husbandry. The farms were unfenced where the armies had gathered, and in vast regions of country even the dwelling houses had been burned. From the wealthiest and proudest people on earth they suddenly found themselves the very poorest and most defenseless. The fiat currency of the Confederacy, worth little before because of its abundance, was worth nothing then and they were reduced to the rude necessity of barter, in the limited commercial operations of the day. To add to their distress and humiliation their slaves were elevated above them in the right of suffrage, their leading men were disfranchised, their local governments passed into the hands of aliens and strangers, and then began that villainous work of plunder of the remnant they had left that will forever stand a shameful blot upon the civilization of the nineteenth century. To cap it all the federal government imposed a heavy direct tax upon their staple crop and rigorously collected it.

Here was cause for despair and unmanly repining. But they did not despair nor repine. They took up their burden and patiently began the work of restoring to their country its former glory. In this work they were impeded; they were beset by military marauders; they were robbed; they were discriminated against in legislation; but in silent and unflinching determination they grinedly worked, and after awhile, under their touch, their country again began to bloom. Then every political inducement was offered them to abandon Democratic principles and turn their backs upon a record they themselves had made glorious. They were offered place, power, riches; but, thank God, few men among them all were weak enough to yield. Sternly stood by their principles; steadily they wrought at the upbuilding of their country; patiently they endured, until at last God smiled and they wrenched victory from the very jaws of defeat and placed their country upon a more dazzling eminence than it had ever occupied.

They reasserted the doctrine of home rule and white supremacy; they took their battle scarred heroes and proudly sent them to the halls of State and National legislation as the true exponents of Southern manhood and Southern sentiment; and to-day, through the fortitude, the exalted and unselfish patriotism of these men the South commands the admiration of the world and is on the high road to unparalleled riches and power.

Strange, is it not, that weaker men of a younger generation, (who, perhaps, have read more of the political literature of timeservers and agitators than of the history of their country,) should be found croaking and whining over present conditions and asking: "What have they done for us?"

To such we say: "Shame upon you, unworthy sons of noble sires! You will not live long enough to ever half comprehend their immeasurable sacrifices for you. Cease your croak-ing and go to the work of your hands, whatever that be; be as true to your Southland as they have been; learn a lesson of manly self-reliance from them; yield not one jot or tittle of principle for any material advantage whatever, and then, and not until then will you be worthy to be called the sons of the men whose blood-stained feet pressed the rough stones about Gettysburg and whose mighty courage was made manifest at Shiloh—men who wrote history with their swords, and yet who were grander in defeat than in the hour of victory.

The Commercial convention recently held in St. Louis, under call of the Missouri Legislature, was largely attended, over twenty-five States being represented. The proceedings were harmonious until politics were touched and then there was a split in the convention. The platform calls for larger circulation of money, tariff reduction and free coinage of silver.

A petition for the pardon of Ike Vincent is at the office of the Judge of Probate, together with a letter from Vincent and his application for pardon. It is a touching appeal. Ike is old and broken down in health and asks only the poor privilege of dying in the arms of his family. The kind hearted will go the Probate office and sign it.

Democratic clubs are forming all over the country, not to forestall the action of Democratic conventions but to ratify them after nominations have been made, and there will be much good old-fashioned Democratic music in the air next year. Look out for sweeping Democratic victories from one end of the country to the other.

The thirty-fifth ballot for U. S. Senator in the Florida legislature stood Call 57; Speer 40; Bloxam 1; blank 1. The caucus is operating under the two-thirds rule.

There is split in the white man's party in South Carolina and that noble State may again pass under the yoke of negro domination. It is too pitiful. Those weak democrats in South Carolina who have allied themselves with the Republicans deserve the severest condemnation.

There will be a meeting of representatives from the counties of the new Fourth district, in May at Calera, to form a District Alliance. Mr. G. W. Landers of this place is a delegate.

The Editors and Publishers Association of Alabama will hold its thirtieth annual convention at Anniston Wednesday June 10th.

CALL MEN NOT SO CERTAIN.

One of His Supporters Makes a Very Impudent Speech.

TALLAHASSEE, FLA., April 22.—There was a probability last night of Call's being elected unless his supporters went back on him.

The first ballot gave Call 55 and Speer 41. Before the second ballot, Brown, of Columbia county, rose and said he wished to state why he gave the vote he was about to cast in that ballot.

He said that he represented the real working farmers of his county, the majority of whom he claimed were Alliance men.

He claimed to be a genuine Alliance man himself, but thought that the principal actions of the Alliance leaders had injured the people and they did not want him to vote for an Alliance man for Senator.

He felt the party lash, but if his action was to be disastrous to himself his people would still honor him for it. He would therefore continue to vote for Call.

This speech produced no immediate result but the friends of Call think it will be injurious to him.

WALK THE PLANK.

NO FREEDOM OF THOUGHT AND ACTION TO BE ALLOWED.

Those who do not Accept Ready-made Opinions Denounced as Demagogues and Disorganizers.

The last issue of the Oxford Voice, edited by the Secretary of the Calhoun county Alliance, in the article copied below thus lays down the law in regard to the sub-treasury scheme. The Voice says:

"In order to disabuse the minds of some of our exchanges as to the Alliance on the sub-treasury bill, we take this opportunity to say: It is considered no one is a true Alliance man that refuses to support and endorse the 'sub-treasury' bill, or as is provided, something better." He may consider it not the best or wisest plan for relief; and there is no disposition for him to do otherwise. There is no power assumed to dictate to him what he shall believe, for that is his privilege and right; but he must accept it, as the organization has adopted it as a wise, expeditious and conservative course to be pursued by its members for relief, and will demand its support and maintenance until something better presents itself. It has been adopted almost unanimously by all labor organizations and those who sympathize with them, and those who refuse to accept it as such, with its provisions, should, like free, honest and conscientious men, ask for a withdrawal card and get out.

What would you think of a member of a Baptist church who would persistently denounce the articles of faith and practice, or of the Methodist church, and refuse to support and obey its discipline; or an Alliance man and his demands? They would be considered as an obstructionist and disorganizer to that which they had professed loyalty and unity.

Doubtless there are hypocrites in churches and demagogues in the Alliance and will remain there; but such are rare and exceptional and when discipline is in force. Self-respect of true and honest men will not wait for discipline when they find their opinions are in conflict with those with whom they are associated.

The Alliance organization considers the sub-treasury bill "essential," hence their motto is, "unity in all things essential." We don't know of even one laboring man in Calhoun county belonging to the Alliance that refuses to support the demands, sub-treasury and all. We don't say there is not one, but we do say we have yet to find him. Demagogues, disorganizers and obstructionists are not one in a hundred among this class of the Alliance."

IT LOOKS BAD.

Democrats Who Say They are Without a Party.

CHARLESTON, April 17.—A very significant political meeting was held at the State Capitol to-day. It was the first white Republican meeting ever held in the State, and it is said to be largely the outgrowth of the Alliance wave which swept over the State last year. The significance of the meeting was the presence for the first time of a number of leading white citizens who have heretofore been associated with the straight out Democratic party. Among them were Dr. Bowen, Mr. Hannam, of Spartanburg; James Hunter, of Union; Dr. Monroe, of Union; and others. Fifty-one clubs were represented. The meeting elected delegates to the Republican league convention which meets at Cincinnati on the 21st. This movement is regarded with some concern here, taken as it is, in consideration of the repeated declaration of the Alliance in favor of a third party. The white Democrats who are in it say that the old Democratic party has been elbowed out of existence by the farmers' movement, and as they will not subscribe to the platform and principles of that movement they will go into the Republican party. There are so many Democrats in the State who are disgusted with the Tillman administration that there is some danger of the movement developing into a stampede from the Democratic party as it exists in this state at present.

Senator George Opens the Campaign.

WEST POINT, Miss., April 22.—United States Senator George opened the political campaign in Mississippi today in a three hours speech. He announced his opposition to the Sub-Treasury scheme and said the only relief the farmer would ever get from this present oppression was through the Democratic party.

Perhaps Capt. Joseph F. Johnston of Birmingham is the only bank president in Alabama, or in the whole country, who favors the free and unlimited coinage of silver. His remarks on this subject therefore, are full of interest. In a speech before the Jefferson Democratic club last night, Capt. Johnson made this remarkable statement: "If the whole silver produced in the world, less that used in the arts, were coined into dollars by the government of the United States, it would require the world's product for nearly ten years to give us the per capita circulation of silver that France now has." If this be true, and there is no reason to doubt it, Capt. Johnson has advanced an unanswerable argument in favor of the free coinage of silver.

He Was Told to Prepare to Die.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Mr. J. H. Harrell, Ridge Farm, Ill.: "Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) saved my life and restored my health after the leading physicians of the State pronounced my case hopeless. From childhood I suffered agonies from a constitutional blood trouble, that gradually grew worse as I advanced in years. Finally a great ulcerous sore broke out on my leg, which compelled me to go on crutches, and this, added to the Rheumatism that had set in, made me almost helpless. The physicians who, by the way, were the best in this State, pronounced the disease incurable, and told me to prepare for death. About this time my attention was drawn to an advertisement of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) and I commenced taking it, as a drowning man would grasp at a straw. I commenced to improve from the first dose, and continued to improve until I am now sound and well. The ulcerous sore on my leg has healed up, and not even a scar is left and I am to-day as free from disease as any man living. Early last fall I discontinued the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), and have not had a day's sickness since. I feel it a duty I owe to my fellow-men, and to the manufacturers of Swift's Specific to make the above statement.

Non-Resident Notice.

(STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.)

In chancery, at Jacksonville, Ala., 9th District, Northeastern Chancery Division. W. P. Stephens vs. Jennie Evans, Bertha Evans, Eddie Evans, et al.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register, by the affidavit of J. D. G. Brothers, one of complainants solicitors, that the defendants Jennie Evans, Bertha Evans and Eddie Evans are non-residents of the State of Alabama, and reside in the State of Georgia, Bertha and Eddie in Marietta, Georgia, post office of Jennie Evans unknown to affiant; and further, that, in the belief of said affiant, Jennie Evans is over the age of twenty-one years, and Eddie and Bertha under the age of 14 years.

It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper published in the said county of Calhoun once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring them to answer or demur to the same, within thirty days after the 30th day of May, 1891, and failing so to do a decree pro confesso will be taken against them in said cause.

Done at office of Jacksonville, this third day of April, 1891.

ANNISTON ALA.

In an inward Cambridge horse car sat a young lady who carried an oblong pasteboard box. Young ladies with boxes are by no means uncommon in Cambridge cars, but what attracted attention to this particular one was the singular persistency of a pointer dog that had snuggled himself into the car.

The Charge Was Unjust.
A young French advocate, in the course of his address to the court, flourished about his hand in such a manner as to show off a magnificent diamond ring. He was young, good looking and pleading for a lady of quality, who demanded a separation from her husband. The husband, who happened to be present, interrupted him in the middle of a period, and, turning to the judges, exclaimed theatrically, "My lords, you will appreciate the zeal which M. M. is displaying against me, and the sincerity of his argument, when you are informed that the diamond ring he wears is the very one which I placed on my wife's finger on the day of that union he is so anxious to dissolve."

The Mesozoic and Tertiary Epochs.
The so called mesozoic epoch was brought to a close by the cataclysm, due to contraction and consequent crumbling of the earth's crust, which upheaved the Rocky mountains and Andes on this hemisphere and the Alps, Pyrenees, Balkans and Himalayas on the other side of the world. Incidentally to this tremendous alteration in the face of the earth all the giant reptiles were wiped out of existence. This event opened what is called today the tertiary epoch. It is in the tertiary epoch that we live now. At the beginning of this epoch the only reptiles which survived were the snakes, lizards, turtles and crocodiles, all of them resembling closely those of their kind which exist today.—Professor Cope in Washington Star.

Literary and Intellectual.
Carl is a shrewd observer and something of a philosopher as well, as you will see from the following choice bit of discrimination:
"Papa," he said to his father one day, after scanning reflectively his father's scholarly face, "papa, are you a literary man or an intellectual man?"
"What do you call an intellectual man, and what is a literary man?"
asked the father.

MRS. JAMES G. BLAINE, JR., Desires to be Freed From His Father's Son.
NEW YORK, April 13.—Mrs. James G.
Blaine, Jr., has decided to sue her young and recreant lord and master, from whom she has been separated over two years, for a divorce. That is the report that has been flying quietly around New York for several days and which seems to have good confirmation.

Her troubles with her husband are all known to the reading public. As she was a Catholic and married in the Catholic faith, which holds marriage as a sacrament, it has been generally understood that she would not seek a divorce.
She has often said that she did not wish for a divorce because she would never remarry, and she would not let her husband be free to marry again.
That she has changed her mind about this is quite evident. This is also pointed out as a reason for her change of purpose. It was decided that she should go to one of the western states and take her residence, in order to secure a divorce for non-support or some similar cause. It is believed that South Dakota has been selected as the state where she can best attain her object.

HOW LETTERS GET LOST.

One Instance Where Inspectors Actually Inspected.
PEORIA, Ill., April 13.—The postoffice inspectors from Chicago have arrested Chas. Hartwig, a Peoria letter carrier, for robbing the mails. For more than six months letters with and without money in them have been missed, both incoming and outgoing, but no clue to the thief could be obtained.
Finally Hartwig's actions were noticed to be suspicious, and upon a close watch being kept he was heard to tear letters while in the water closet, and from the watch tower, inspector Gould saw him take a package of letters from a table and start for his usual rendezvous.
The other two inspectors were stationed in that part of the building, and they arrested him, finding seven letters in his person, and $9 in money, which he admitted having stolen. During the last eight months he has opened not less than 6,000 letters, and has taken not less than $5,000 therefrom.

THE WHISKY PLOT.

The Shufeldt Side of the Story Repeatedly Aired From Chicago.
CHICAGO, April 13.—The investigation into the alleged plot to blow up with dynamite the distillery of H. H. Shufeldt, of this city, by secretary Gibson, of the whisky trust, was continued by the federal grand jury. It is said that the government has evidence to show that materials for the explosive compound which was to have been used were bought at Colburn & Birk's store in Peoria, and that the compound was made in the laboratory of the trust at Peoria.
Government officials claim that the trust has been using large amounts of money to buy off witnesses before the grand jury and they hint that some of the witnesses who have been examined will be prosecuted for perjury.

The Utopia Survivors.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The Italian immigrants who were saved in the Utopia disaster, and who were brought here on the steamer Anglia, were landed at the Barge office Sunday. Many were mourning the loss of some relative or friend, and in some cases nearly all of the family were missing. One little Italian boy of 9 years was all alone, his parents having been drowned.

Expensive Lectures.

ATCHISON, Kan., April 13.—Ex-Senator Ingalls has been requested to deliver an address in the memory of Gen. Sherman before the legislature of New York in joint session. He has not yet decided whether he will accept the invitation.
The ex-senator has received a proposition to deliver thirty lectures, for which he is to be paid $15,000 and expenses.
He will no doubt accept.

An Insult to Our Flag.

ROXBURY, N. Y., April 13.—The Pratt
Post, G. A. R., has appointed a committee to investigate the recent Italian outrage at Le Pevre Falls, where several Italians employed at the cement quarry hoisted an American flag to the top of a pole and riddled it with bullets in retribution for the New Orleans tragedy. The Utter County Veterans are determined, if possible, to bring these men to justice, and will no care the expense in attaining, and by all means the district attorney.
