THE COUNCIL.

WHAT OUR CITY FATHERS DID

At Their Special Meeting in Reference to a Change in the Corporate Name of Jacksonville.

A called meeting of the Town Council was held at the office of the mayor January 31st, at which the following were present, His Honor Mayor Stevenson in the chair: Councilmen John D. Hammond, C. D. Martin, Wm. H. Dean, John M. Crook and A. L. Stewart—a full board.

After roll call the mayor stated that there seemed to be a desire upon the part of many of our citizens to have the name of our town changed from Jacksonville to Tredegar, and he had called this meeting to have the matter discussed, and to ascertain if the council wanted to take any steps towards giving the people an opportunity of expressing their views upon the proposed change of name through the ballot box; if it did, now was the time to act.

The general discussion of the matter which followed developed the fact that all present were in favor of getting an expression of the voters on the subject, and looking to that end Councilman Martin offered the following resolution:

"WHEREAS, It is the sense of the Town Council of Jacksonville, that there is an almost unanimous desire upon the part of the people of the town to have passed a bill authorizing an election by the qualified voters of this municipal corporation, to determine whether the name of said town shall be changed from Jacksonville to Tredegar, in the event that such a change may be deemed to be of advantage in the industrial progress and development of said town, and

WHEREAS, Said council have been urged to secure the passage and enactment of such a bill by the Legislature now in session, and

WHEREAS, Such a bill has been introduced into and passed by the Senate of Alabama, but has not yet passed the House; therefore, be it

Resolved, By said Town Council, that the mayor of said town be, and he is hereby requested to go to Montgomery and do what can be done to have said bill passed authorizing an election to be called by said mayor and Town Council, in accordance with the bill now pending before the Senate of Alabama, authorizing a free expression of the will of the people of said town on the question of a change of the name thereof."

All present seemed to think that an election was the only satisfactory and just way of solving the problem. There was no particular hurry in the matter of having an election called, but if the demand came for it the enactment of the bill under discussion would place the mayor and council in a position to carry out the will of the people.

For the foregoing reasons Councilman Hammond moved the adoption of the resolution as read. Councilman Crook seconded the motion, and it was unanimously passed.

No further business appearing, on motion the board adjourned.

EAST TENNESSEE DEPOT.

The Persistent Efforts of the Mayor Are Finally Rewarded.

Ever since its establishment the conditions surrounding the solitary waiting room at the East Tennessee Depot have been such as to bring reproach on both the railroad company and this community. Every one who has had occasion to enter the place has been struck with its utter lack of the ordinary accommodations for a travelling public. Ladies and gentlemen, white and black, have all been crowded together on the few benches with which the poorly lighted and ventilated room has been provided. All this, however, is now to be changed, thanks to the efforts of Mayor Stevenson.

After repeated requests to have the matter looked into and remedied, His Honor has received a letter from Supt. Bridges which brings the gratifying news that orders have been given to have the two rooms in the rear of the depot building properly equipped as white waiting rooms—one to be used by ladies and the other by gentlemen, while the present waiting room will be used by the colored people. We hope by the time we reach our subscribers that this much needed change will have been made.

INTERESTING NEWS.

Political, Personal, Industrial, And Otherwise.

Dom Pedro, ex-Emperor of Brazil, is translating the "Arabian Nights" from the original into the Portuguese language.

Lent comes earlier this year than for a long time past, but the society lover consoles himself with the fact that it also ends earlier.

The Baltimore Record of January 31st says that a $10,000,000 steel company is being worked up for Alabama, but does not give its location. Is it in the neighborhood of Tredegar?

After two years of coldness, ex-President Cleveland, and Gov. Hill, of New York, have met, bowed, smiled and dined at the same table. Truly the present Democratic atmosphere which is permeating every nook and corner of our broad land is going to harmonize every discord.

Some of the head Sioux chiefs have been visiting the Interior Department at Washington for the purpose of having a big talk. Having lived in the West a number of years, we don't take any stock in these "big talks" or in the noble men either. The only good Indians are the dead ones.

The so-called Farmers' Alliance which has been shaking up the political world of late is composed of several distinct organizations, though their aim seems to be somewhat the same; this being the case they will all ultimately come under one head, or else lose their heads entirely.

The scathing criticism of the management of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railway system, from the pen of Wm. H. Edmonds, which appears in last week's Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, will be very widely read, and in this portion of the country many of the points therein made will be appreciated and approved.

In many of the States the Australian or secret ballot system was tried for the first time at the elections of last autumn, and proved very satisfactory in all instances, especially to the working man. Surely the results go to show that the system is an honest one and not as susceptible of corruption by the Republicans as some other systems.

Late European dispatches say that Parnell is going to apply to the queen's proctor to have the O'Shea divorce case reopened on the ground that he has some evidence that ought to have been brought out at the trial. The evidence referred to, it is stated, will be as much of a Waterloo for Mr. Parnell's enemies, as was the evidence which the Irish leader accumulated when compelled against his own will to go into court on the London Times charges.

A railway is now projected from Winnipeg, Manitoba, to Hudson bay, a distance of over 700 miles, through an uninhabited country, where snow reigns for ten months in the year. There are said to be sections, however, comparatively free from snow for a long enough period to enable wheat to be grown, and that cereal is said to yield fifty bushels to the acre in those favored spots. Why any one should want to settle in such a country, even if the land yielded 1,000 bushels per acre, is a mystery, when Northern Alabama offers such splendid inducements in the way of climate and natural resources.

Most of our readers are familiar with the lives of all the old war horses of the United States Senate, but as many of the new members have heretofore had only a local or sectional reputation, short references concerning them prove interesting. Here is what the Kansas City Star says concerning the newly elected Senator from that State:

"While the election of Judge Peffer as United States Senator from Kansas has not awakened much enthusiasm among the People's party, the fact remains that he is a man against whom no valid objections can be raised. His record is good, his character is above reproach, his integrity is unquestioned and his ability above the average. He was a soldier, which will tend to conciliate the G. A. B. members of the Alliance; he is a prohibitionist and a churchman, which satisfies the moral and religious element of his party; he is sufficiently advanced in the economic questions which are engaging the attention of the people to be reckoned as a reformer. In thus choosing a man to succeed Ingalls who cannot be assailed from any point, the People's party has greatly disappointed its enemies, who have been counting upon its inexperience in politics to lead it into serious and fatal blunders."

Judge Peffer is already spoken of as the probable Alliance candidate for President in 1892.

The New York Herald thus discusses the Radicals:

"People tell us that the Republican party has done nothing. That is a serious mistake. It has done three things. It has raised the price of every necessary of life; it has lowered the wages of the working classes; it has gagged the minority in the House, and is ready at any moment to perform the same service for the minority in the Senate."

We think the Republican party has done a good deal. It has done altogether too much. Still, if the people like that sort of thing, why, give them some more."

The writer recently received, with the compliments of the author, Madge Morris, with whom, by the way, he is personally acquainted, a copy of "A Titled Plebeian," her latest novel. On opening the book the first thing that caught his eye was the following: "It is so strange that when our friends or those we love are sick and suffering we will slam doors and rattle windows and drop kitchen things, walk like horses over the floors, and bang and clang, until they are tortured to the verge of insanity by our noise and the minute the breath is out of their bodies, when we know that all the noises of universal chaos could not hurt them, we walk a tip-toe, with bated breath, and would not so much as let a window curtain flutter in the room where they lay."

The Wall Street News in a recent issue makes the following remarks on the shutting down of certain northern furnaces:

"It now appears that the competition of Southern iron had more to do with the shut-down of the iron furnaces in the Mahoning valley than the price of coke and railway discrimination. Only two furnaces in the Mahoning valley are in full blast. Pig iron has fallen in price $4 per ton in the last four months, and iron is brought from the Southern furnaces and sold in Pittsburgh 50 cents cheaper than it can be made in that city or in the Mahoning valley. The furnacemen declare that if coke were given to them for nothing they could not compete with the Southern iron. They have shut down to ascertain whether the Southern men are selling cheap merely to get a foothold in the market, or whether they have a profit at present prices."

A Proof of Merit.

When a remedy proves itself a cure for the very worst phases of blood poison, it stands to reason that minor effects of bad blood will rapidly disappear if the remedy is used in time. No remedy in the world has so good a reputation at home or abroad as a cure for all stages of blood poison as B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm).

Benj. Morris, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I suffered years from syphilitic blood poison which refused to be cured by all treatment. Physicians pronounced it a hopeless case. I had no appetite, I had pains in my hips and joints and my kidneys were diseased. My throat was ulcerated and my breast a mass of running sores. In this condition, I commenced a use of B. B. It healed every ulcer and cured me completely within two months."

Robt. Ward, Maxey, Ga., writes: "My disease was pronounced a tertiary form of blood poison. My face, head and shoulders were a mass of corruption, and finally the disease began eating my skull bones. My bones ached; my kidneys were diseased; I lost flesh and strength, and life became a burden. All said I must surely die, but nevertheless, when I had used ten bottles of B. B. I was pronounced sound and well. Hundreds of scars can now be seen well over twelve months."

A. P. Brunson, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I had 24 running ulcers on one leg and six on the other, and felt greatly prostrated. I believe I actually swallowed a barrel of medicine, in vain efforts to cure the disease. With little hope I finally acted on the urgent advice of a friend, and got a bottle of B. B. I experienced a change, and my dependency was somewhat dispelled. I kept using it until I had taken about sixteen bottles, and all the ulcers, rheumatism, and all other horrors of blood poison have disappeared, and at last I am sound and well again, after an experience of twenty years of torture."

The writer recently received a letter from Wall street which stated that the financial outlook was "excellent, particularly for the South and its enterprises." This is the kind of Wall street news we like to receive, especially as it is from a most reliable source, and can therefore be depended upon.

OUR STREETS.

FACTS BOTH GOOD AND BAD

Concerning the Work that Has Been Done, that is Now Being Done, and that Should Be Done.

The grading and paving of College street is progressing more slowly on account of the rainy weather than it otherwise would, but it is being done in a most thorough manner. The excess dirt is being dumped on Main street, giving to the hill on the latter street a much easier grade than formerly.

The contractors are now at work gutting Jackfish alley, between College street and Francis avenue, and before we go to press this work will probably be finished so that teams can commence hauling gravel on to same.

Now that the heavy grade on the Main street hill north of the Square has been materially lessened, so as to afford easy access to the present business part of town from that direction, the property-owners on Depot street should take steps towards putting that thoroughfare in proper condition for the public. It will pay them to take this matter in hand, and that, too, without delay, if they want to keep abreast of the times, and induce coming immigration to help make the street what its position and natural advantages entitle it to be.

It is rumored that the grading of Edmonds avenue on the other side of the railroad, in that part of the town commonly known as Tredegar, will be resumed by the Land Company before long, and that as soon as the work is completed Wyly avenue will be taken in hand, and then the cross streets from Washington to Nisbet will be treated to a season of plowing and scraping. As fast as the streets are graded they will be paved.

Alexandria street has been partially blocked off late by the work on the steel plant, and as soon as the tram road is extended through the proposed site for the new buildings of the steel company, it will be effectually closed, and the public traveling southward will be compelled to pass one or two blocks, either to the east or west, in order to avoid running up against a stray rolling mill or furnace. The importance of the work to be done by the steel company, after they are in operation, would not admit of the delays which would occur in consequence of their having three or four streets running between their numerous buildings.

Stormy weather has materially interfered with the work on our streets the past month. For example the grading of the extension of Ladiga street near the Normal School was begun week before last, and since it was started only one day's work has been done on same up to the present time, but the weather at this writing augurs well, and the resumption of work may be expected some time this week.

Before many thousands are added to our population there will be a demand to have Driscoll street opened up clear through to depot.

There is great need of a crossing for teams some where on the East Tennessee Railroad in the vicinity of the planing mill. The road to the new quarry is being travelled more and more every day, and the present route to it via Depot street is too round-about a way for a progressive town like Jacksonville.

It is to be hoped that the proper authorities occasionally inspect the Main street bridge near Col. Ellis's residence. This ancient looking structure spans an ugly chasm, and the party who should be so unfortunate as to fall through it on a dark night, especially if he had a pair of Mack Train mules to keep him company, would undoubtedly not appreciate the graphic account of his adventures which the REPUBLICAN would be sure to publish.

While some of our old streets need repairing in order to bring them up to par, there is no city in Alabama, or the whole South, for that matter, that has better streets than our Park and Francis avenues, and we are going to have more just like them shortly.

A Distinction.

We are not what is now known North, South, East and West as a boom town, and we do not intend to become one, but the building of several large manufacturing here is going to bring us a big population, who, in turn, will buy and sell our property, and as a consequence prices will advance rapidly, and fortunes will be made, and we will have what is termed a "boom." This, however, will not make us a boom town, and we want the distinction clearly made now, before the excitement in real estate, which has followed the growth of every big city in our land, begins.

DEDICATION SERVICES.

THE NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH

On Francis Avenue Dedicated by Bishop O'Sullivan, Assisted by Fathers Dauray, Gaboury and Friend.

The long talked of dedication services took place last Sunday at the beautiful house of worship which our Catholic friends have just completed on Francis Avenue.

A special train came up from Anniston over the E. T. V. & G. R. R., arriving here at nine o'clock Sunday morning, and bearing a large number of the members of the Anniston Catholic church, together with numerous others interested in the service of dedication.

At an early hour the doors were thrown open, and before the time appointed for the commencement of services the church was comfortably filled, and soon after, even standing room became almost unavailable. The services were conducted by Bishop O'Sullivan, of Mobile, Diocese of Alabama, assisted by the Rev. Father Dauray, of Woonsocket, Rhode Island, Father Gaboury, of Centerville, Rhode Island, and Father Friend, of Jacksonville.

The choir consisted of Miss Maggie Burke, soprano; Miss Marie Burke and Miss Adams, altos; Prof. McKee, basso; Gen. J. W. Burke, contra basso, and Mr. O'Dwyer, tenor; W. W. Gibson, tenor and organist.

A few minutes before ten services were commenced by the blessing of the church, both outside and inside: a procession being formed headed by the Bishop followed by Fathers Dauray, Gaboury and Friend, and the Catholic congregation. This was a very impressive and interesting scene. Then came the Sacrament of Confirmation administered by the Bishop to Mrs. O'Dwyer and Miss Marie Burke. Then followed the celebration of the mass by Father Dauray, after which the Bishop delivered an able sermon which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The beautiful rendition by the choir of Millard's "High Mass in G" was spoken of on all sides in the most complimentary terms, and added much to the occasion.

The altar mentioned in our last issue was decorated with vases of flowers which served to bring out, rather than conceal its beauties.

The church itself, though not large is perfect in all its appointments. It was designed and built by J. A. Gaboury of this city, and architecturally considered is a gem. The outside painting is modest and appropriate, and the hard wood interior is finely finished in oil. Taken all in all it is not equalled by any church of the Catholic denomination in this vicinity.

TREDEGAR NATIONAL BANK.

Comments on a Sound and Deserving Institution.

The REPUBLICAN has lately been noticing the last statements of different National Banks situated in various parts of the country, published in response to a call from the Comptroller of the Currency, showing their condition at the close of business on December 19, 1890, and find that in point of strength our home bank, The Tredegar National, is equal to any and superior to most of them. While its business as yet is comparatively small, it has the first requisite of a good bank, that is safety, and this fact, added to the high character of its officers, will bring to its doors, as our city increases in population and importance all the business it can handle. We congratulate President Rowan and Cashier Ide, as well as the bank's stockholders, on the good showing the institution makes, and predict for it a career of unbounded success.

The Republican.

L. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, FEB. 7, 1891.

LETTER FROM MONTGOMERY.

MONTGOMERY, Feb. 4, 1891.
Dear Republican:—Both houses have despatched a great deal of business since my last, embracing some bills of genuine importance. The bill to better provide for a geological survey of the State passed the House today by a decided majority, though it was opposed on the ground of economy. The same arguments were used against it that were used in the Senate. The farmers of the House, however, were not to be misled, and the bill passed.

A bill that attracted some attention passed the Senate a few days ago and is now in the House. It started as a general bill, but is now little more than a local bill, and will be more so when it gets through the House. I allude to the bill in relation to liquor license. The bill required an applicant for license to get a majority of the householders who are free holders in the precinct, town or ward of a city where license is asked, to sign his recommendation. As a general measure I supported the bill, but when all the important towns in the State nearly were stricken out in the Senate, with the prospect of many more being stricken out in the House, I took out the towns and cities in Calhoun. While willing to take "pot luck" with the State in this matter, I was unwilling to accept it as a local measure. The bill could not apply in towns and country districts where prohibition obtains. At that time the only place in our county to be affected one way or another by the bill was the city of Anniston. The people of Anniston now are trying, by general consent, the experiment of high license. This bill would have disturbed that experiment without operating to give Anniston prohibition. Some one or more wards of the city might have granted the privilege while others would not, and the result might have been a loss of eight or ten thousand dollars of revenue to that city and no relief to the people from the evils of the whisky traffic. The amendment striking out the towns and cities in Calhoun did not have the effect of licensing the sale in incorporated towns, as the heading of an article in the Hot Blast from an Oxford gentleman implied. Being a law to regulate the granting of license, it could only operate where the law allowed license to issue. From no point in the county has come a word of complaint at this action on my part except from Oxford, when the fact is, the bill at no point touched Oxford by a thousand miles. Oxford does not now have the power to license and there has been at no time the least danger that the Legislature would grant her that power. Her people petitioned not to have the power to license inserted in her charter bill now before the Legislature, and both Mr. Cooper and I had agreed to respect that petition and the bill has been awaiting its turn for days with amendments attached by me striking out all in the charter that could confer power on the city council to license. I held the bill up patiently awaiting a settlement of the matter among the people of the town, at the earnest request of gentlemen there, and then promptly complied with the wishes of the people expressed at their town meeting. When I acted as I think for the best interest of Anniston, subsequently, on another and an independent measure, I must confess that I was much surprised at receiving censure from some of the people of Oxford, and, particularly, some of the gentlemen whose wishes I had been careful to follow in the measure which really concerned Oxford; and I have been somewhat puzzled to know why those people in Oxford got excited about a matter that in no wise concerned them. Probably they act upon the idea that a member of the Legislature is public property, to be criticised and abused at the pleasure of any of his constituents, no matter how hard he may try to faithfully serve them. For my part I do not relish such censure. Where censure is undesired it should not be given; and people ought not to be too quick to make public expression about measures which they do not in the least understand. But it always has been and always will be the case that the men who cannot make mistakes and who know it all, are left at home. If we could once induce them to come to the Legislature, all would be well.

One of the disturbing questions now before the Legislature is redistricting the State into Congressional Districts. The committee had about agreed on the nine districts, but the people of the Fourth District asked that some measure be devised to divide that district up and this entailed a change of the State. The joint caucus tonight discussed this matter and the committee was instructed to give this relief, if practicable. The result, possibly, will be that no bill will be agreed upon and a congressman from the State at large will be elected, and the redistricting of the State will be postponed until the next meeting of the General Assembly when more time can be had for deliberation.

Twelve more working days are all that are left of the session, and both houses will be soon holding night sessions, but with all this many bills will be lost. Every day new bills are introduced. Calhoun's representatives in both Houses have introduced about thirty-five bills and of these about fifteen have become laws, leaving about twenty yet to be disposed of. It is hardly possible, under the rules of the House, that all of these can pass, but with the help of "calls" promised Mr. Cooper by Representatives from other counties who are not so heavily laden, the most important of these will be put through.

Piedmont's new charter has been signed by the Governor and Jacksonville's new charter has passed both Houses and is now in the hands of the Governor. The Oxford charter, amended as desired by the citizens' meeting, will be reached on the Senate calendar most probably tomorrow, and will go to the House where Mr. Cooper will look after it and secure its passage. The Oxnana charter will pass the House in the next two or three days and will certainly pass the Senate, if it gets to that body by even the first of next week. The bill to authorize Anniston to issue school bonds is now a law. The bill to authorize Jacksonville to issue fifteen thousand dollars of improvement bonds, has passed the Senate and is on House calendar, and may pass the House tomorrow. There is a friendly contest over the "change of name" Jacksonville bill in the House. It has passed the Senate. Citizens of Jacksonville differ to some extent on this measure. An agreement may be reached if so the bill will pass. If not there will be some doubt about it. Messrs. Wm. H. Dean, J. A. Gaboury, H. L. Stevenson, C. D. Martin and J. H. Caldwell of Jacksonville, are now here, looking after various matters of interest. A measure for the relief of Confederate soldiers will likely pass. A general road law has passed the Senate and is now in the House. It taxes property, as does our county law, to help build the roads. The House passed a bill reducing the fertilizer tax to 25 cents a ton, and the Senate amended by cutting the tax to fifteen cents. The House did not accept the Senate reduction and the matter is now in the hands of a conference committee. A good many members of the Legislature have the grippe, but there are enough well ones left to make a quorum in each house. Mr. Cooper has had a slight attack of the malady, but has remained at his seat to look after his bills. Calhoun has never had a more attentive and faithful representative.

A WORD TO OUR ADVERTISERS.

This paper already has a very wide circulation in this section, and the proprietor is going to increase it, and proposes to make it more than ever a necessity in every family of the county. Good live reading matter and active advertisements are the requisites of the modern paper. The former is promised, and we look to our merchants and others to supply the latter. Remember that the prosperity of a town is always gauged by the appearance of its newspapers, and as you are, or should be, deeply interested in building up a city at this point which shall take a front rank in the cities of the New South, we hope you will not be backward in coming forward with your advertisements. Besides helping us, and thereby, through our increased ability to work for the town, indirectly helping yourselves, the proper advertising of your business will of itself pay you many times its cost. This fact is well known and has been vouched for over and over again by the most successful merchants of our land. Take for instance John Wamamaker, of Philadelphia, our present Postmaster General. He is supposed to be worth four or five millions of dollars, and has amassed the whole of his fortune in the last fifteen or twenty years. He has often said that his vast success in a business which compels him to employ four thousand hands, is due to judicious advertising. He certainly shows the courage of his convictions by paying the writer of his daily ads. a yearly salary of ten thousand dollars. While we don't agree with him politically, every time we have had occasion to enter his store we have been impressed with the splendid business ability of the man. A good rule is to recognize true merit wherever it is found, and then try to put before the public in the columns of your local paper the particular advantages of their particular stock of goods, our readers can do the same.

We have said our say. Will you "act well your part?"

INGALLS AND SPOONER.

Last week two more of the largest engines of the Republican party were side-tracked. In Wisconsin's cabinet, Secretary Vilas, of Cleveland's cabinet, has been elected United States Senator to succeed Senator Spooner, and in Kansas the Farmers' Alliance, assisted by the Democrats, or the Democrats assisted by the Alliance, we hardly know which way to put it, have elected W. A. Peffer to the seat in the Senate, now held by Ingalls.

Mr. Spooner has been mentioned for the place in the cabinet held by the late William Windom, with only a possible chance of getting it, and Mr. Ingalls, it is stated, has already engaged to give thirty lectures during the coming year, in cities to be named by himself, his compensation for same being fifteen thousand dollars.

THE LATE SECRETARY WINDOM.

Whatever may be said of the late Secretary of the Treasury, whose political views were as diametrically opposed to ours as night is to day, we sincerely believe he was a pure man. Though narrow and contracted on many of the leading questions of the day, we believe that in all things he was actuated by honesty of purpose to an extent possessed by few of his political colleagues. We cannot recall a Republican of his prominence in political, business and social life, whose purity of character was so universally conceded by the leading members of both political parties. His death has removed a strong opponent of the now famous silver bill, and will quite likely help that measure in the present Congress.

SENATOR GORMAN.

In the recent magnificent fight made by the Democratic Senators against the Force bill, Senator Gorman has proved himself a very Napoleon in politics. Under his masterly leadership not a point has been lost that skill, tactical knowledge and unremitting vigilance could gain, and the contest will long be remembered in the parliamentary history of our country, as one of the most brilliant and courageous ever made by a minority against a determined and reckless majority.

We want the world at large to understand that the work on our steel plant, which was commenced about three months ago, has not been stopped since it was started, notwithstanding the late money tightness which was so disastrous to many less solid towns. We also want it borne in mind that the work when completed will cost in the neighborhood of one million dollars. These are facts of which we are proud, and we demand due credit for them on all occasions.

IN REFERENCE TO OUR IMPROVEMENTS.

And other achievements, we are not going to "hide our light under a bushel." We are going to proclaim them. On the other hand we are going to point out our needs, and make a vigorous effort to have them supplied.

THE GROWING IMPORTANCE OF CALHOUN COUNTY.

Calhoun county is shown by the fact that the recent census will give us two representatives in the State Legislature after the next election instead of one, which is our present representation.

ADVISED from New York state that money is being rapidly put into real estate and improvements in that city. This is one of the indications of an easy money market.

REMOVED SALE.

It is rumored that the corner of Main street and the Public Square has been sold to parties living in Rhode Island, who will at once erect a three-story brick building thereon. We believe it is so, but have not yet had the sale confirmed.

HE WAS TOLD TO PREPARE TO DIE.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Mr. J. H. Harrell, Ridge Farm, Ill.: "Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) saved my life and restored my health after the leading physicians of the State pronounced my case hopeless. From childhood I suffered agonies from a constitutional blood trouble, that gradually grew worse as I advanced in years. Finally a great ulcerous sore broke out on my leg, which compelled me to go on crutches, and this, added to the Rheumatism that had set in, made me almost helpless. The physicians who, by the way, were the best in this State, pronounced the disease incurable, and told me to prepare for death. About this time my attention was drawn to an advertisement of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), and I commenced taking it, as a drowning man would grasp at a straw. I commenced to improve from the first dose, and continued to improve until I am now sound and well. The ulcerous sore on my leg has healed up, and not even a scar is left and I am to-day as free from disease as any man living. Early last fall I discontinued the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), and have not had a day's sickness since. I feel it a duty I owe to my fellowman, and to the manufacturers of Swift's Specific to make the above statement."

Buy Your Goods at Cost.
Having purchased of the late firm of Rowan, Denn & Co., their entire stock of merchandise, consisting of a general variety stock, and amounting to between eleven and twelve thousand dollars at invoice price, and being too far advanced in years to undertake to organize and conduct a new business on the usual credit system, I have concluded to offer the goods on hand FOR CASH ONLY at actual cost, and respectfully invite the public to inspect my stock and buy whatever they may wish on these terms.

A Good Name.

A Good Name is Certainly Better than Riches in the business world. That is why we never permit customers to leave our store dissatisfied with their purchases.

We aim to get the Good Will of the People, and our largely increasing business shows that we have been successful. Our goods, our prices, and our straight American methods of doing business make it an object for you to

TRADE WITH US.

It's a Unique position we occupy as Leaders. This is forcibly indicated by the scores who interview us daily on styles. As we are asked, our judgment must be valued. If we know—as we do—what is most natural we should pattern our stock accordingly? Certainly.

The Dealers who do so much talking about the amount of money they save to the purchasers of clothing are the very ones who are making it more expensive. For instance you cannot get a whole page advertisement for nothing. Neither can any man or concern afford to sell you goods for LESS than COST and succeed.

Those who advertise goods at one half or one third of their value are still making profits big enough to pay for all the charity they do to their customers.

Ours is a Plain,

Fair dealing house. We sell our Merchandise at a living profit. Our goods are same price to everybody. Each article is marked in Plain Figures.

No Private Cost Mark that one can't Understand. Should you buy of us and not be pleased with your purchase, we refund your money as freely as we receive it. This has been the success of our house.

We have never refused to give back purchase money, if the article is brought back unharmed. Bear this in mind. In this advertisement we have stated how we do business; in our next we will tell you something else.

Personal Mention.

A. J. Farmer went to Chattanooga Sunday, returning on Tuesday.

Hon. John H. Caldwell went to the State capitol on Wednesday.

Gen. J. W. Burke made a hasty visit to Birmingham this week.

Messrs. O. D. Martin and J. A. Gaboury went to Montgomery Monday.

T. B. Basha has been spending a few days at his old home in Fort Payne.

J. H. McClure, a civil engineer of Chester, S. C., spent Wednesday in Jacksonville.

Hon. J. D. Hammond made a short trip to Montgomery the early part of the week.

J. J. Fitzgerald, of Anniston, attended the late dedication services at the Catholic Church.

W. M. Grawford and Miss Hattie Brown, of Gadsden, were guests of the Inn on Sunday.

Rev. M. H. Lane was called to Washington, Ga., on Monday by the serious sickness of his mother.

F. W. Drenner, one of Birmingham's "Knights of the Grip," was registered at the Inn on Monday.

Mrs. Maud McClure and Miss Newton McCraw, of Chester, S. C., are visiting Miss Hannah Crook.

Capt. James Crook went to Talladega on last Wednesday to attend an administrator's sale of real estate.

Mr. Ross Whisenant went to his farm in the Western part of the county last Monday. He is expected back to-day.

Louis F. Miller took a short trip to Chattanooga the first of the week on business connected with his new butcher shop.

Wm. H. Edmonds, of Baltimore, arrived in Jacksonville Wednesday. His family are spending the winter at the Tredgar Inn.

Capt. P. D. Ross, secretary of the Land Company, has been confined to his house the greater part of the week by a severe cold.

Capt. Ed. G. Caldwell, of Anniston, who has been confined at his old home with an attack of "la grippe," is rapidly recovering.

The genial and affable assistant cashier of the Tredgar National Bank, who has been down with the grippe, is on the streets again.

Ray Knight, assistant general passenger agent of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad, was in the city on Wednesday.

Frank White, of the Anniston Hot Blast, came up Wednesday and registered at the Jacksonville Hotel. Mr. White is interested in Jacksonville real estate.

On Thursday the REPUBLICAN received a pleasant call from the following ladies: Miss Quaries, of Louisiana; Mrs. Gasser, of Alabama; Mrs. Hubbell and Miss Hubbell, of California.

Hon. Horace L. Stevenson went to the capitol on last Tuesday at the request of the Common Council to use his influence towards the passage of the pending change of name bill. He returned Thursday.

Mr. S. R. Dilley, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., arrived in town last Saturday, and has taken position with the Jacksonville Mining and Manufacturing Company as assistant engineer. Mr. Dilley is thoroughly versed in his profession.

Mr. J. C. Taber, who has resided in Jacksonville for the past year, left for his old home in Oakland, Illinois, last Monday. Mr. Taber has made hosts of friends in our town, who appreciate his sterling worth and greatly regret his departure.

Wedding.

Last Wednesday one of Jacksonville's most charming and popular young ladies, Miss Trixie Williams, was married to Dr. W. E. Jack, of Rock Springs, Ala.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's mother, and Rev. F. A. Rogers, pastor of the Methodist Church of this city officiated.

The wedding was a quiet one, only the following intimate friends of the family being present: Mrs. L. W. Grant, Mrs. Warlick, Misses Lizette and Katie Driskill, Mr. John Jelks, Mr. Oscar S. Crook, and Mr. T. A. Jelks, of Gadsden.

Shortly after the ceremony the happy couple left for their future home in Rock Springs.

That Ice Company.

The proposed ice company mentioned by us last week is gradually assuming shape, and before long our readers may expect to hear some good news regarding it. The past week new subscriptions to the capital stock were received, and the parties who have the matter in hand are now corresponding with different firms in reference to machinery and prices.

An Explanation.

The gripe has attacked our composing room. Owing to the illness of Mr. R. E. Harvey, our worthy foreman, we have been compelled to leave out some of our interesting local items.

This is not fiction! It is the truth I am about to relate! Read it!

Then ponder on the obstacles in the way of setting out a new sheet for the community in which you live.

After that lend me, and my kind, your sympathies instead of your curses.

I started out bright and early last Monday morning determined to please the absent proprietor as well as his numerous patrons, by getting up more "copy" than the composers could handle, or the readers digest at one sitting, and at the same time to exasperate no one by my officiousness.

As I came down the steps of the REPUBLICAN office I decided to turn to my right, lost time, and begin on the first man I met. Of course I ran plump on to one of the members of the old and reliable house of Crow—there are three of them.

"Good morning, Mr. Crow. What news have you give us to-day for the REPUBLICAN?"

"Nothing, sir, I believe."

"Three more questions, with the same result, and I left him."

Next, I stumbled across my good friend Landers. "A. M." I believe his father named him.

"Any news this morning, Mr. Landers?"

"Don't know of anything yet."

I ventured two more questions this time, and getting "nothing" for my pains I hurried on, a trifle nervous, but "nothing daunted!"

While crossing the Square, Doster, the druggist, hove in sight, and as he drew nearer to my expectant pencil I felt that a whole column of news was in store for my readers, but a gently whispered "nothing" was all he had to give me.

By this time "nothing" began to be monotonous. It sounded to me about the same as I imagined "Nevermore" did to Edgar Allen Poe, and I said to myself if the next man gives me "nothing," I will hide my paper and pencil and approach my victims as a plain citizen, neighbor or friend, and not as a newspaper reporter. There was method in my madness. I had heard that reporters were dreaded people; also that they were sometimes snubbed, kicked down numerous pairs of back stairs, and often shot, so in hiding my Faber No. 2 I would, as it were, be speaking two words for myself and one for the other fellow.

In this frame of mind a handsome young lawyer sauntered by.

"Hello, Joe! Give me an item?"

"Nothing to give," was his modest and retiring reply.

My pencil's doom was sealed. It went, but I staid at my post for three successive days, trying to do honest work, button-holing where I could, and keeping up the hope of a Columbus. As "brevery" is the soul of wit, I have concluded to close by giving in a condensed form the simple results of the balance of my wanderings.

List of the parties who were interviewed: Messrs. ————

And forty-one others.

[Limited space prevents my giving names.]

Total information received, "Nothing!"

I have decided that I am no newspaper man. I can never join the order known as Knights of the Quill. I don't know the first principles of interviewing a Jacksonville villager for the news of the day.

N. B.—The above is not written as an article for a Sunday edition, but is intended to be a plain setting forth of the obstacles we have to overcome in trying to get out a creditable sheet for Jacksonville.

We close with our heading: "Is it a wonder our paper is sometimes rather dry?"

THE STEEL COMPANY.

Work Being Retarded by the Rainy Weather.

Work on the great plant of the British and American Direct Process Steel Company (Limited) at this place has been progressing very slowly this week. At the quarry work has not been delayed as much as at the site for the new buildings. At the latter point the ground was so wet that the graders could not be put on the work till Thursday.

The contractor has just completed a new derrick, which is to be erected at the east end of the tram way, and used for unloading the stone as it is received from the company's quarry. As soon as the water permits, work will be commenced on the culvert under the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad. Everything is in readiness and it will require a very few days of pleasant weather to insure its completion.

The company is pushing the survey of the railroad to the Butler Green ore beds, and hopes to have them completed very shortly.

Up to the time of going to press Col. Alexander, the constructing engineer, had not returned from the North, but he is expected daily.

COUNTY NEWS.

NOTES FROM VARIOUS POINTS

In Calhoun County, including Anniston, Piedmont, Alexandria and Oxford.

ANNISTON.

Hon. Joseph Carthel, who has been down a week with la grippe, is on the streets again.

W. T. Edmondson has taken charge of the Wilmer Hotel. He formerly ran the Parker House.

Engineer Patterson, well known in Jacksonville, has been engaged of late in plating a new addition to Anniston near Tyler Hill.

The banks report the circulation in these parts of counterfeit silver dollars that are 10 per cent. short weight. Some of them will probably reach Jacksonville.

The P. D. Q.'s will give a ball at the Anniston Inn on the night of Friday, February 6th. Great preparations have been made for this affair, and it is expected that numerous parties from out of town will attend.

Last week the United States Rolling Stock Company turned out an order of twenty-five freight cars. This is the first output of that establishment since the late strike, and the cars were as handsome and well made as any the company has ever built.

ALEXANDRIA.

Nothing of importance has transpired here during the week.

Bowling & Woodruff's new grist mill is continuously running as usual.

We need a railroad to Jacksonville. Much of our trade goes to other places for want of better communication with the county seat.

The stock farm of Capt. James Crook sent out over 11,000 pounds of butter last year, and this year the owner expects to increase his shipments.

The Louisville and Nashville management is now giving Alexandria four trains a day on the Alabama Mineral. There is a rumor current here that the latter name is to be discarded, and the name Louisville and Nashville substituted therefor.

OXFORD.

Mrs. Wm. Harrison, one of the most esteemed ladies of Oxford, died last Monday evening.

On X. H. Bagley's farm, south of this place, a woman, name not stated, was seriously shot in a quarrel over the possession of a house.

PIEDMONT.

The frame work on the new Presbyterian Church is about completed.

Mrs. G. W. Alexander sustained a severe dislocation of her wrist on last Monday.

The Methodists held their first quarterly conference at Piedmont on last Saturday.

Two parties were given at Hotel Calhoun the past week, and one party at the Albert House.

WONDERS WILL NEVER CEASE.

TESTIMONIAL.
Piedmont, Ala., May 18, 1887.

My brother, B. F. Savage, of Lenoir, Ala., has been afflicted with the worst form, all his life, but able to work till about five years ago; the disease then broke out in great violent sores all over his body, inside his mouth and on his tongue, so that he could not eat or drink, nor talk. He was treated by all the doctors of this section of country for two years, and also by Dr. W. F. J. D. Braxwell, of a bad case. I saw him in this condition he lay in his room for three months. So offensive was the stench you could not sit in the room, especially in warm weather, and it was decided to break out again. He was treated by a matter of time when the disease would eat him up.

I have said this much, and could say more, for this medicine, and without any solicitation, but alone or suffering humanity that may be similarly afflicted. My brother is now a healthy man, and is able to work some, and he continued to improve in health and strength, until today he is stout and in better health than ever before in his life. No sign of the disease has reappeared for one month. I am perfectly satisfied that he is permanently cured. And I would recommend all persons afflicted with scrofula or like diseases to give Dr. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure a trial, and that will cure any case. It is no humbug. It is a purely vegetable preparation.

Parties doubting the above statement can be convinced by writing to Mr. Savage. He will cheerfully answer your letter. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure has never been known to fail to cure scrofula, syphilis, rheumatism or any kind of blood poison or skin disease. Hundreds of physicians are using it daily with splendid results. Sold by all druggists. If not in stock have them order for you. Ladies try Baker's Female Regulator and Pills.

Horses and Mules Coming.

J. M. Sullivan writes us that he expects to leave McMinnville, Tenn., on or about February 11th for Jacksonville, with as fine a drove of horses and mules as have ever been in this region. He adds that those who contemplate purchasing animals had better wait till he arrives in Jacksonville, as he will be sure to bring a variety, so that all can be suited.

Funeral Services.

Mrs. McFarland was buried from her late residence on last Sunday. She was an old and much esteemed resident of Jacksonville, and was a devoted member of the Methodist Church. Her funeral was largely attended.

FINAL SETTLEMENT.

STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.

In Probate Court for said County, Special Term Dec. 15th 1890.

This day came H. F. Montgomery, D. Martin and J. J. Skelton, Commissioners, to sell the lands belonging to the estate of Jas. H. Privett, deceased, for a division among the heirs and filed in Court their account and vouchers for a final settlement of said estate.

It is therefore ordered by the Court that the 5th day of January, 1891, be and is hereby appointed the day upon which to audit and pass upon said account and make said settlement, and that notice thereof be given for three successive weeks in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper printed and published in said County, as a notice to all persons concerned, to be and appear before me, at my office in the Court House of said County, on said 5th day of January, 1891, and contest said settlement if they think proper.

EMMETT F. CROOK, Judge of Probate.

Notice.

Having sold my interest in the livery business of Martin & Wilkerson to my late partner, Mr. S. R. Wilkerson, I take pleasure in commending him to the patronage of my friends and the public generally.

The old business of the late firm of Martin & Wilkerson must be closed up, and parties owing the firm are requested to come forward and settle promptly. All unsettled accounts, after reasonable time, will be put out for collection. Respectfully,

dec20-31

Notice!

I hereby notify all persons who have any claim or control land adjoining the Crow Bros., farms that said farms are all under one common title, and that it is a violation of the law for any one to turn their stock in said farm and allow them to roam at will without the consent of all parties. All stock found on the Crow Brothers' farm will be put up and sold for damages.

Petition for Decree to Sell Land for Division.

STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.

In Probate Court, Special Term, January 2, 1891.

This day came Mrs. Ida Woodward, administratrix of the estate of E. L. Woodward, her deceased husband, and filed in Court her petition in writing and under oath, praying for an order and decree to sell the real estate belonging to said estate in said petition described, for the purpose of distribution among the heirs of said estate, upon the grounds that it could not be equitably divided among them by metes and bounds.

It is ordered that the 11th day of February, 1891, be and is hereby appointed the day on which to hear and determine said petition, and all persons who are in any way interested, are notified to appear in this Court on the day above appointed and contest said petition if they think proper.

BUILDINGS

RECENTLY ERECTED IN JACKSONVILLE.

While They Have Not Been Large Or Expensive, They Are Just What Is Needed.

We this week intended to give to our readers a full list of the late improvements in our town, but have been prevented from getting the desired information in time for this issue, so we are compelled to do the best we can without the required data.

In aiming to get a complete list of our new buildings, we did not intend to present it in a boastful way, but simply wished to call attention to the fact that there has been, during the last few months, in a small way, considerable activity in the building line.

The houses that have been built, with very few exceptions, have been such as mechanics and laborers want, and most of them have been built for leasing, and not for the owner's use. They are just such buildings as are needed to shelter the men who have already come, and are going to come here to secure work in the great industries that we shall shortly have. These men are always the pioneers in city building and pave the way for the men of means, who follow up the first feeble efforts at building with pressed brick and terra cotta structures, having brown stone fronts and hard wood interiors.

Having watched the growth of several modern towns we are prepared to state that the builders of Jacksonville are on the right road when they first make provision for the "bone and sinew," and postpone the more showy buildings till "later on." Mr. R. C. Rutherford has kindly furnished us with the work done by his firm, and as his note to us mentions an enterprise which will shortly be started here, we herewith give it to our readers, knowing that it will interest them.

"At the request of the REPUBLICAN I submit the following statement of the number of buildings and other improvements contracted by me and by Journey & Rutherford, giving the actual cost of same, as per contract.

Improvements on the residence of Mrs. M. E. Francis, South Main Street—$800.

Cottage for Rev. W. T. Allen, Church Street—$654.00.

Improvements for the Tredegar National Bank, Public Square—$187.00.

Two story residence for Dr. Wm. M. Nisbet, Ladiga Street—$2,314.00. The foregoing were built by R. C. Rutherford, those that follow by Journey & Rutherford:

Two story residence for C. E. Bondurant, North Main Street—$1,400.

Four room cottage for Dr. J. R. Arnold, Coffee Street—$408.00.

Four room cottage for Mayor Stevenson, Iola Street—$412.50.

Four room cottage for Mrs. Dr. Arnold, South Main Street—$465.00.

A corrugated iron store room for the Messrs. Stewart Bros., et al. east of Public Square—$420.00.

A four room cottage for C. D. Martin, Iola Street—$453.00.

A corrugated iron store room for Mrs. B. Swinton, Depot Street—$420.00.

In addition to the above list we have done various small jobs of minor importance. I am also requested to give a list of all building improvements made in the city of Jacksonville during the past year, but as I have been very busy, I have not had time to post myself in regard to such matter, sufficiently to give the Republican anything like an accurate statement of the various buildings erected during that time.

I will state, however, that the improvements already made, as well as those projected, are numerous, and of a character to encourage the hopes of the most sanguine believer in the future of Jacksonville.

In conclusion I will say that arrangements are pending between Mr. Journey and myself for the establishment of an enterprise long needed in this community; namely, a depot to supply the public with all kinds of manufactured lumber such as sash, doors, blinds, mouldings, scroll work, brackets and everything needed for exterior and interior finish.

If such an arrangement is consummated, we guarantee first-class goods at a low rate of cost.

The writer will go North in a few days in the interest of the above concern, and we hope to begin business at an early day.

Very truly yours,

R. C. RUTHERFORD.

The above includes eleven buildings which cost, including painting, about $8,000.

Add to this the following improvements:

Cotton seed oil mill.

Buildings for Tredegar Brick Company.

Catholic church on Francis Avenue.

Blacksmith shop for Steel Company.

Store number 2 for Stewart Brothers, et al.

Restaurant building on Driskill Street.

Cottage on Brown Street.

Cottage in Wyly Addition.

Nine double cottages on Pennsylvania Avenue.

One double cottage east of Reservoir Hill.

Four other cottages in Arnold addition.

Two cottages west of Dr. Arnold's residence.

Two cottages on Douthitt Street.

Two cottages on Alexandria road.

Corrugated iron office building on Square.

Two new houses near the depot.

Cottage number 2 on Iola Street.

Cottage on Depot Street next to Mayor Stevenson's.

Add to these several buildings on streets whose names we do not now recall, and you will have a total of fifty buildings costing about $30,000.

Of course our building boom has not yet commenced, but in the following contemplated improvements we think we can discern its beginning. Here are the projected brick buildings:

Three-story brick business block, 60x300 feet, on the Square, to be erected by Rhode Island parties.

Two-story brick business block, with basement, on Francis Avenue, (the cellar is already dug) to be erected by G. H. Montgomery et al.

Two-story brick block, 30x90 feet, on Francis Avenue, by Peyton Rowan.

Brick warehouse on Park Avenue, dimensions 130x105 feet, by C. D. Martin.

Brick office building on Woodward Street, by J. M. Vansandt.

Brick store for one of Jacksonville's firms, whose name we are not yet permitted to give to the public.

Brick store and office building on Park Avenue, by Gen. J. W. Barker.

Besides the foregoing the Jacksonville Mining and Manufacturing Company contemplate putting up several brick edifices in Tredegar, of which you will hear more shortly.

As soon as the above-mentioned improvements are all under way, it is expected that the only craze in our city will move to the country, in order to be out of sight and hearing of hammer and trowel.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Mr. J. H. Harrell, (Ridge Farm, Ill.): "Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) saved my life and restored my health after the leading physicians of the State pronounced my case hopeless. From childhood I suffered agonies from a constitutional blood trouble, that gradually grew worse as I advanced in years. Finally a great ulcerous sore broke out on my leg, which compelled me to go on crutches, and this, added to the Rheumatism that had set in, made me almost helpless. The physicians who, by the way, were the best in this State, pronounced the disease incurable, and told me to prepare for death. About this time my attention was drawn to an advertisement of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) and I commenced taking it, as a drowning man would grasp at a straw. I commenced to improve from the first dose, and continued to improve until I am now sound and well. The ulcerous sore on my leg has healed up, and not even a scar is left and I am to-day as free from disease as any man living. Early last fall I discontinued the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), and have not had a day's sickness since. I feel it a duty I owe to my fellow-man, and to the manufacturers of Swift's Specific to make the above statement.

BOLD BURGLARS

BADLY BATTERED WITH BOLTS

The Lock on John Ramagnano's Safe—It was an Expert Job, and the Thief Secured Expert's Wages.

Shortly after 6 o'clock last Saturday morning, as John Ramagnano was about to open the front door of his store on the Square, he noticed that it was unfastened. On entering the main store room he discovered that another door, leading to a rear room, which he had locked the night before, was ajar, and also that the back door of this second room was open. He at once surmised that thieves had been helping themselves to his stock of groceries, but on going to his safe he found that it was the almighty dollar, and not provisions, that the visitors had been seeking. On trying the safe door it opened without the customary formality of first working the combination. At a glance John saw that his valuables were gone. He at once sent a man to notify Sheriff Carpenter, and in a few minutes that worthy officer appeared on the scene, and by 7 o'clock he had arrested two strangers on suspicion. Subsequently, however, they were set free, as the sheriff had no evidence on which to hold them. For various reasons their names are withheld.

They were carefully searched, and all that was found on them was a file, and two or three bent iron implements such as are used by piano tuners. They said they were painters, though one of them claimed that he was a piano tuner when he could get work of that kind. They were not frustrated in the least at their arrest, but took the matter as coolly as did the sheriff himself.

They came to town the evening before and secured lodging at John Porter's, near the store that was robbed.

They claimed to have come from Hoke's Bluff, and said they were going to Anniston. After being set free they went to the depot and started down the railroad track for the latter place.

Reaching Weaver's Station, however, they went across the country to Alexandria. Here they tried to get a job of painting, offering to do about $40 worth of work for $20. Failing in this they begged their dinner and started down the road on their way, as they said, to Davisville, as they had heard that they could get employment at the latter place. It seems that parties at Weaver's told them that Alexandria was building up, and this may have accounted for their turning off from the railroad instead of continuing towards Anniston.

One of the men was recognized by several of our town people as being a painter who had formerly worked in Piedmont.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

Our reporter visited the scene of the robbery and concluded that it must have been done by an adept at the business. The perpetrators evidently obtained entrance into the store by forcing open the front door, as the lock there was broken off. It is most probable that they then went through to the back door and opened it for the purpose of making their escape in case they were molested before completing their work. There was little danger of this, however, as the night was dark and stormy, and the rain was coming down in torrents. The object of the attack was a "Mosler" safe, made by Messrs. Mosler, Bahmann & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio. It was bought by Mr. Ramagnano some ten years ago through H. H. Warner, agent of Rochester, N. Y. [Warner is the "Safe cure" man, and sold money safes in connection with his "Safe remedies."]

Its size is above the ordinary run of office safes, and it has two sets of double doors; the outer set is fire-proof, and the inner pair is made of a good thick plate of steel.

A slanting hole, about half an inch in diameter, was bored into one of the outer doors just to the left of the combination dial. It was so expertly done that it struck the arm that picks up the tumblers of the combination lock, and when this arm gave way it loosened the different tumblers of which the lock is composed, and thereby enabled the thieves to work the lever that throws back the bolts from the sockets into which they fit when the safe is locked.

On the inner door the lock was a different one, and had to be forced back in order to break it off. To do this a hole was bored through the door, and an ordinary bolt inserted. In hammering this bolt, to force the lock, it broke, and another hole was bored along side the first one, and the hammering repeated, with the result of breaking the lock and thereby releasing the bolted doors.

THE LOSS.

Mr. Ramagnano says he does not know the exact amount of money there was in the safe at the time it was robbed, but thinks that his loss is considerably over one thousand dollars. He says that the evening before the robbery occurred he brought down from his house $850 in gold and put it into his safe about 6 o'clock, intending to deposit it with the Tredegar National Bank the next morning. He seems confident that no one saw him put the money in the safe, as at the time there was no one in the store. He also says that there was $180 in currency, and from $50 to $75 in silver in the safe before he put in the gold, so that his loss cannot be far from $1,100. Besides the money the safe contained his account books, two thousand dollars in promissory notes, and a revolver which had been pawned to him several years ago. The latter, including a case that contained it, was taken, but the books and notes were found stowed away under the safe, apparently unharmed. The burglars also left a small package of nickels, an envelope containing $28 belonging to Bert Crow and John Bush, and 45 cents in change.

Mr. Ramagnano has been one of the most upright of men in all his business relations and expressions of sympathy for him are heard on every side. One well known citizen says he will be one of several to offer a reward of one hundred dollars for the arrest of the burglars.

Mr. Ramagnano says that he has no idea who committed the robbery, but that he will give two hundred dollars for the conviction of the guilty ones, and no doubt a strong effort will be made to apprehend them.

Most of those who have seen the safe are of the opinion that out-of-town parties did the work. It was certainly neatly and cleverly done, no explosives being used and no tools or litter being left behind.

POSTOFFICE VISITED.

It seems that the old postoffice building (the same one that the REPUBLICAN has been harping on of late) also received a visit Friday night.

About half-past six Saturday morning the deputy postmistress found the office door open, and on going around back of the counter she noticed that a small drawer containing about two dollars enclosed in envelopes had been taken from the inside of the safe and left on the top of same. Nothing, however, was missing. The safe had been easily opened, as it was minus a combination, the latter having been sent away for repairs. The robbers did not attempt to open the money order drawer, or to molest anything else. They were hunting larger game.

It is thought by some that the parties who committed this crime may have been disappointed at not securing booty, and so concluded to try their luck at Ramagnano's store. This theory is partially sustained by the fact that the work at the latter place must have taken them about three hours, and after consuming that much time, and securing such a big "haul," they would hardly risk another venture the same night.

The Reciprocity Treaties.

We printed among our dispatches yesterday some telegrams of congratulation sent to Secretary Blaine in regard to the reciprocity treaty with Brazil. One of these telegrams was from Detroit, and another was from Richmond. They go to show that the reciprocity feature of Mr. Blaine's programme touches the business pulse of the whole country. This is especially true of the South, the business interests of which are now in a position to reach and take possession of the vast commercial field that lies to the South of us.

It is in recognition of this fact that a meeting of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has been called to take some action in recognition of the importance of this effort to establish freer business and commercial relations with the countries south of us.

There need be no hesitation in endorsing the principle of reciprocity, because its efficacy has been recognized by a Republican administration. Whatever policies there is in reciprocity is purely Democratic; it is Democratic doctrine as old as the party, and this fact will undoubtedly be recognized by the people of this country.

We are of the opinion that Mr. Blaine deserves to be congratulated for boldly taking advantage of a Democratic policy to relieve the people and the business interest of the country of the burdens imposed on them by the McKinley law. That law has erected a trade barrier which interferes most seriously with every large commercial interest, and Mr. Blaine deserves credit for being willing to escape from the effects of that law through a Democratic gap.

Reciprocity flies directly in the face of the McKinley law, and of the principle of protection that lies behind, and provides for freer trade, thus giving the people the advantage of new and larger commercial privileges.—Atlanta Constitution.

THAT TELEGRAPH

OFFICE IS TOO SLOW FOR US.

Somebody Needs Urging Up—Everybody's Business is Nobody's Business—A Suggestion.

Wanted! A telegraph office! Needed! An uptown telegraph office. Demanded! An uptown telegraph office at Bondurant's store.

Heretofore we have referred to it. To-day we are going a step farther.

We have a suggestion. Read this and you will have it. For years and years the people of Jacksonville, with the patience of Job and the fortitude of stoics, have been wading through winter's mud, and braving summer's suns, in availing themselves of the privilege of sending telegrams from the telegraph office at the depot, three quarters of a mile from the court house.

Some time since patience ceased to be a virtue, and the aforesaid people made up their minds to have a change. In this mood they petitioned to have an uptown office opened, and the proper authorities agreed, under certain conditions, to open one at the grocery store of C. E. Bondurant. These conditions have been complied with.

Further, the telegraph company has shipped to Jacksonville the poles and cross arms for the line.

Further still the poles and cross arms have been unloaded. Here our "prospects"

SATURDAY, FEB. 14, 1891.

LETTER FROM MONTGOMERY.

MONTGOMERY, Feb. 11, 1891.
Dear Republican.—But six days remain of the session, and after to-day no bills will be introduced. There is a great scramble to get bills through both houses, especially local measures, and this will increase as the session draws to a close; but both Mr. Cooper and I will succeed in getting through the most important of our measures. Mr. Cooper has been very diligent in the House the past few days and has got passed several bills, which, a few days ago, looked as if they would never get through. He is popular in the House, and this has brought to his aid several gentlemen who have "called" bills for him under the peculiar rule of the House. Among the bills which passed the House this evening was the Senate bill giving Jacksonville the power to issue fifty thousand dollars of bonds for street improvement. It now goes to the Governor for his signature. The bill agreed on in reference to a change of name has also passed both houses. The Oxford charter bill will pass the House to-morrow. It has already passed the Senate. The Oxnanna charter bill has passed the House and is now in the hands of the Senate committee. It will pass. The bill to provide for working the public roads in the county of Calhoun has passed both houses and is now in the hands of the Governor. Other local measures, charters, etc., have passed the House and are now in the Senate. Altogether, the bills affecting the communities and individuals in Calhoun are in very comfortable shape, and, if all do not get through, the most important of them will. Calhoun has asked about twice as many bills this session as at any former session for many years, and the fact so many of them have passed is particularly creditable to the Representative, who has had to work under a very cumbersome and unequal rule which has prevailed in his branch of the Legislature. In the Senate it is easier to pass bills than in the House, because there are fewer persons in the Senate to speak and vote, and because the rules of the Senate are not so cumbersome as those which have prevailed in the House.

Among the bills of general interest which have passed since my last, is the bill which passed the House some days ago, and which passed the Senate to-day, to lay a tax of one-half mill to create a fund for the benefit of maimed Confederate soldiers and the blind who lost their sight from wounds or other cause by reason of service in the Confederate army. This tax will raise about one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars, and will give the old soldiers about five times the amount they have been receiving each year. This is a good beginning, and the amount will be increased from session to session until it becomes sufficient to maintain comfortably all the old veterans and widows of soldiers who may need it. The House bill providing that no soldier or soldier's widow worth more than four hundred dollars of taxable property could secure the benefit of the act. The Senate raised the amount to six hundred dollars, and I am informed the House will concur in this amendment. It will be seen that the bill gives nothing in the shape of money to those already above want; but it gives comfort, in that they may have the assurance that, should misfortune at any time overtake them and grieve poverty enter their doors, the State will then take them up and care for them. To that noble old Confederate soldier and model farmer, Hon. W. T. Webb, of Talladega County, belongs the credit of having introduced this bill. Some days ago it looked as if the State would not be restricted into nine Congressional districts. Indeed, the joint committee reported against it; but a great popular wave of sympathy for the old Fourth District rolled in upon the General Assembly and produced a great revolution of feeling. Gallant Frank Petros, of Dallas, led the movement and crystallized popular feeling in a bill that swept the House like a storm. The Senate, which only two days before had tabled a similar bill by a very large majority, accepted the verdict of the House as the voice of the people, and opposition to the bill disappeared. Magically yesterday the bill came into the Senate to a select committee. That committee met this morning and reported the bill to the Senate favorably, by unanimous vote, and it was set as a special order for to-morrow morning, when it will be passed. The position of Calhoun and Cleburne in respect to the bill has all along been doubtful and this caused no little anxiety to the friends of the bill, and when Mr. Almon, of Cleburne, in a short but eloquent speech pledged Cleburne to the measure, there was great applause and hand-clapping; and, when immediately thereafter Mr. Cooper announced in a few well-chosen and thrilling words that Calhoun would come to the rescue of Dallas and that his county felt itself competent to take care of herself anywhere, there was another spontaneous and generous burst of applause throughout the House. The new Fourth District, as it will be after the passage of this bill, will be composed of Cleburne, Calhoun, Talladega, Shelby, Chilton and Dallas. It lies almost wholly along the line of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad. During the discussion of the measure in the House some rather exciting scenes were enacted, among them being an excited debate between Messrs. Lane, Davis of Fayette and Adams, all members of the Farmers' Alliance. Mr. Adams was characterized as a "boycotter" by Mr. Davis and Mr. Lane repeated the charge. Mr. Adams became very angry, and it looked at one time as if there would be a personal collision between Adams and Davis. There is much suppressed ill-feeling among leading members of the Alliance in the Legislature, growing out of the vote for United States Senator, and the result most probably will be a revolt at the leadership of Mr. Adams and a publication. Some of the county alliances have virtually withdrawn membership from some members of the Legislature who voted for Mr. Pugh, or Mr. Seay, or Mr. Watts, and these appear to think that this action is in pursuance of instructions from Mr. Adams. It is unfortunate for the order that such a state of things exist; but it grows out of the attempt of a few men to dictate to and control the political action of men as free and as intelligent and as patriotic as they themselves are. It is to be hoped that no split in the order may result from the feuds engendered among its members during this session; but that, harmonizing all its differences, it may move on to the grand purposes of its organization, which can only be beneficial, and result in the upbuilding of our country.

Last evening a reception was given at the residence of Chief Justice Stone commemorative of the silver wedding of Judge and Mrs. Stone. Each has been married three times, and last night was the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. Senator Haralson and I went to the home of the venerable couple for a short while to pay our respects. As they received congratulations of loving friends, they looked as happy as if they were just married. No honor that the State has ever conferred upon this distinguished man has ever, I ween, given him half the pleasure that this manifestation of love and regard on the part of his neighbors afforded him.

A law providing for three township trustees and a new order of distribution of the school fund, on a fair and equitable basis, has passed both houses and gone to the Governor. It gives a wider discretion to the trustees than formerly, and if properly administered will improve the public schools. The townships get the same amount of funds as formerly, and in our section the per capita basis of distribution need not be disturbed. In the black counties of the State a different rule will prevail, in order to give the white children equal school advantages with the negro children, which under the present law they do not have. You omitted the name of Hon. John D. Hammond in my last letter among the visitors to the capital from Jacksonville. He was here several days and it was mainly owing to him that an agreement was reached and a compromise effected on the change of name bill. Dr. LeGrand, of Anniston, is down here looking after the bill regulating the practice of medicine in this State.

L. W. G.
The latest advices from New York report Gen. W. T. Sherman as dying.

We acknowledge receipt of No. 1, Vol. 1, of the Day Book, a new tri-weekly paper which will hereafter make its appearance in Anniston. It is a neat and newsy sheet, and it has our best wishes for a long and prosperous career.

Jay Gould Sunbbed.
Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 10.—The refusal of Gov. Northern to meet Jay Gould socially was the occasion of diverse criticism when made known to-day. So many versions were in circulation that the governor this afternoon made public the text of his letter to Mayor Hemphill:

"My Dear Sir: It has not been possible for me to see you to-day about the invitation you had the kindness to tender Mrs. Northern and myself in receiving the Gould party upon their arrival in this city. I recognize with the fullest appreciation the consideration shown me as the chief executive of the state, and I beg leave to tender you my thanks for the compliment. I must be allowed to say, however, that I do not recognize Mr. Gould as visiting the state in any official capacity, but rather in his own interests without regard to the interests of the masses of the people of the state.

"It may be mistaken in my measure of the man, but I am candid in saying that I do not think his methods, as practiced in other sections where he has had power, would develop our state on the line of the public good. Without in the least criticising the opinions of others, and thanking you most heartily for the compliment intended in the invitation you so kindly tendered me I most respectfully decline.

"Please understand that what I say refers especially and solely to Mr. Gould, and not to any other member of his party. Truly and sincerely,
W. J. NORTHERN,
Governor."

This action of the governor did not become known to Gould until Sunday. He heard the story in silence and made no comment upon it whatever.

Numerous small claims under one dollar were allowed. It was ordered that the sum of $2,490 be passed to the credit of the Anniston City Court, as a credit on the debt due the county. The following reports were submitted: approved and placed on file. 1. L. E. Swan, County Treasurer, four semi-annual reports as follows:
Common County Fund; Fine and Forfeiture Fund; Road Fund, and Anniston City Court Account.
Annual report of County Health Officer; annual report of Board of Health. Reports of Jury of Review in Precincts Nos. 5, 7 and 12.

The Treasurer's reports were ordered published. Four new voting places were established in the city of Anniston.
A. B. Hollingsworth was appointed to cut through the new road in Precinct No. 7, and ordering the expenses of the Board paid, on motion the Court adjourned.

ANNISTON.
Work has begun in earnest on the new electric street railway to Oxford Lake.

Rev. Talley, of Gadsden, has accepted a call from the South Anniston Presbyterian Church.

There was a small fire early Thursday morning. It destroyed an unoccupied building belonging to J. H. Moore.

The ground for the new jail was staked off last Wednesday evening. Work on it will be pushed as rapidly as possible. Several sub-contractors have the work in charge.

It is stated by Secretary McCaa, of the Anniston Pipe Works, that work at the company's shops will be begun in about ten days with as many hands as the company has ever employed.

Anniston is at last to have a long felt want supplied. It is the new restaurant which Mr. Darby, late of Birmingham, is opening in the brick building near the new depot. Visitors from Jacksonville will find it a great convenience.

Candidates for Mayor still continue to bob up from every side. Among those already mentioned for the office are Dr. Huger, Dr. LeGrand, Col. Miller, Judge Johnston, Judge Lapsley, Dr. Overton, and Messrs. Duke, Hookin, Elam, Smith, Dobbins and James Noble.

PIEDMONT.
Col. McKee has been confined to his house for over a week by sickness.

Piedmont's new charter has passed the Legislature and has been signed by the Governor.
Mrs. Nannie E. Hanks, wife of L.

A. Hanks, of Piedmont, died on Thursday, after a short illness.

It is expected that the motors for the new shoe factory will arrive next week. Superintendent Stone says that they are now in Savannah.

A large sale of land in Calhoun County is reported as being made to N. N. Ferguson, who represents a wealthy North Carolina syndicate. The amount sold is said to be between 1,000 and 2,000 acres, and includes both mineral and timber lands.

OXFORD.
Trade continues dull and very little cotton is coming in.

A new factory for the manufacture of wooden boxes will be opened in Oxford soon in the old Brookshop.

Capt. William A. Orr, who sustained severe injuries in the Arlington Hotel fire, is rapidly recovering.

James Cook, the thirteen-year-old boy preacher, delivered a sermon at the Baptist Church Wednesday night.

ALEXANDRIA.
Mary Martin, one of the most worthy young ladies of Alexandria, was stricken with paralysis week before last, and has been rendered speechless by it.

Buy Your Goods at Cost.
Having purchased of the late firm of Rowan, Dean & Co., their entire stock of merchandise, consisting of a general variety stock, and amounting to between eleven and twelve thousand dollars at invoice price, and being too far advanced in years to undertake to organize and conduct a new business on the usual credit system, I have concluded to offer the goods on hand FOR CASH ONLY at actual cost, and respectfully invite the public to inspect my stock and buy whatever they may wish on these terms.

P. ROWAN.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A Good Name.

A Good Name is Certainly Better than Riches in the business world. That is why we never permit customers to leave our store dissatisfied with their purchases.

We aim to get the Good Will of the People, and our largely increasing business shows that we have been successful. Our goods, our prices, and our straight American methods of doing business make it an object for you to

TRADE WITH US.

It's a Unique position we occupy as Leaders. This is forcibly indicated by the scores who interview us daily on styles. As we are asked, our judgment must be valued. If we know—as we do—what is most natural we should pattern our stock accordingly? Certainly.

The Dealers who do so much talking about the amount of money they save to the purchasers of clothing are the very ones who are making it more expensive. For instance you cannot get a whole page advertisement for nothing. Neither can any man or concern afford to sell you goods for LESS than COST and succeed.

Those who advertise goods at one half or one third of their value are still making profits big enough to pay for all the charity they do to their customers.

Ours is a Plain,

Fair dealing house. We sell our Merchandise at a living profit. Our goods are same price to everybody. Each article is marked in Plain Figures.

No Private Cost Mark that you can't Understand. Should you buy of us and not be pleased with your purchase, we refund your money as freely as we receive it. This has been the success of our house, as

We have never refused to give back purchase money. If the article is brought back unimpaired. Bear this in mind. In this advertisement we have stated how we do business; in our next we will tell you something else.

The tenants who occupy the buildings on the corner of the Square near the postoffice have been served with notices to vacate the premises. The new owners contemplate making extensive improvements there. That real estate office in the corner will have to go.

The late burglary is the first instance of "safe cracking" that has occurred in town since A. M. Landers' store was entered in 1888. At that time his store was situated near the depot, and the thieves secured between $250 and $300 from his safe.

There is some talk of establishing a lodge of Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Jacksonville. It should be done by all means. Among those of our citizens who would be eligible as charter members by reason of having already joined the order are Dr. Montgomery, Rev. M. H. Lane and Messrs. Ward and McFarland.

Jacksville can't expect to do much in the way of building her great industries till the weather settles. For thirty days the contractors have done almost nothing outside of watching the clouds and praying for a clear sky, and from the outlook at this writing it will probably be two or three weeks more before they will feel warranted in putting on the large force with which they intend pushing the work.

Since the chartering of the lodge of Knights of Honor in this city, the members have paid into the widows' and orphans' general fund about six thousand dollars. During the same time there has been drawn from said fund $8,000, which sum has been paid to the families of four deceased members of the lodge. Strange to say, one-half of this latter amount, or $4,000, was paid before the members had been called upon for their second assessment of $2.

Mr. Max B. Wellborn and J. J. Willett, Esq., of Anniston, were registered at the Tredegar Inn one day last week.

Drs. Bowcock, Bell and McDuffie, of Anniston, were in town Wednesday attending the session of the County Commissioners' Court.

Mr. William Obadiah Dean, the genial and handsome express agent at this place, visited Anniston Wednesday and returned with a dazzling story about his trip.

Miss Newton McCraw, niece of Capt. James Crook, will leave for Europe week after next. She goes on a pleasure trip and expects to be absent about four months.

Rev. Mr. H. Laus returned from Washington, Ga., on Monday last, after a week's absence at the bedside of his mother, whom he left in a much improved condition.

Leo King accompanied himself to the Pixer performance at the Noble Street Theater, Anniston, on Monday night. Stormy weather kept other Jacksonvilleans at home.

Rev. W. C. Porter, formerly of Calhoun County, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. M. E. Francis, on Main street. Mr. Porter has been stationed in Brazil, doing missionary work, since 1888.

Walter G. Caldwell is again shaking hands with his numerous friends in Jacksonville. Though engaged in the business of wholesaling, when it comes to stories he is a first class retailer.

D. J. Privett went to Oaxana Tuesday night to see if the thieves who were arrested there for burglary were the parties who committed the robbery at John Ramagnano's. He found that they were not the ones.

R. B. Lowe, formerly of this place, now of Montgomery, was married on Monday last to Miss Lizzie Bevil, of Richmond, Va. The happy couple passed through Jacksonville on Thursday on their way to Montgomery.

George W. Arnold and W. C. Crow have returned after a month's absence in the vicinity of Dallas, Texas. Since getting home their many friends have kept them busy telling of their exploits in the Lone Star State.

Miss Sadie Williams, one of the most charming and prominent members of Jacksonville society, left last Monday for a visit to relatives in Chattanooga. She expects to be absent about two months, and will be greatly missed.

Misses Bessie Woodward and Mamie Crow have returned to Jacksonville after a four weeks visit to Johnson County, Texas. Those young men who have been on the anxious seat since their departure will be glad to learn that the young ladies returned heart whole and fancy free.

MORE RAILROAD

Facilities will be Needed by the Steel Company Shortly.

Major Edwin Fitzgerald, traffic manager, and Mr. T. S. Davant, general freight agent of the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad, with Col. Ogden, President of the Knoxville Iron Works, came to Tredegar Wednesday on Major Fitzgerald's car, and spent the day inspecting things generally. The principal object of the visit was to arrange the details of an extension of the E. T. V. & G. freight yard in connection with the steel plant. It is probable that work will be commenced as soon after Major Fitzgerald's return from the East (whether he started Thursday) as the weather will permit. A considerable increase of facilities in the neighborhood of the freight station will be required within ninety days to handle the large amount of materials which will soon begin to arrive for the construction of the steel works.

THE NEW JAIL.

Work on it to be Started in Two Weeks.

Last year contracts were let by the Commissioners to the Manley Manufacturing Company, of Dalton, Ga., for the erection of two county jails, one at Jacksonville and the other at Anniston. The contracts called for their completion by the first of January of the present year, but the contractors subsequently obtained two extensions of time, and the people thus lost sight of the fact that the jails were going to be built. In the mean time the old jail has continued to be an eyesore to everybody in town; a place to steer clear of when showing visitors the beauties of Jacksonville. In two weeks, however, our real estate men can point with pride to the work on the foundations of a new prison house. Contractor Manley was here Tuesday in the interest of his company, and made his arrangements for beginning work on the new jail about the first of next month. He let the contract for supplying materials to I. A. Lester, and also sublet the brick work to Contractor Black, of Anniston. The new structure will cost $9,000, and will be a credit to our thriving town.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Ralph Bingham, the Boy Humorist, Violinist and Orator,

Will give an entertainment in the chapel hall of the Normal College, under the auspices of the Ladies' Working Union of the Jacksonville Baptist Church. Ralph comes highly recommended, and something unusually good may be expected. The entertainment will consist of humorous recitations, impersonations of famous orators, violin solos, etc. Jacksonville does not have many entertainments of this kind, and it will not do for any one to miss it. Besides the very enjoyable evening which you will spend by going, you will contribute the small entrance fee to a worthy cause. It will be an easy way to have a good time, and also to ingratiate yourself into the favors of the Baptist ladies of Jacksonville, besides helping a good cause. Don't fail to go. The admission fee will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Doors open at 7:30 p. m. Remember it is to be at the Normal College, Jacksonville, Monday night, February 16, 1891. Let everybody come from all the country round.

Rumor Regarding a New Depot.

It is reported that an informal conference occurred Wednesday between the officers of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad, and of the Jacksonville Mining and Manufacturing Company, on the matter of the proposed new passenger station. It is thought likely that this question will be discussed by the railway officers and directors in New York next week.

Another Wedding.

This time the contracting parties are from the colored population. Their names are Peter Hunter and Eliza Gladden. This is not their first appearance in the role of bride and groom, as Peter is, or at least was, a widower, and Eliza was a widow. They were married on Wednesday night at the Baptist Church by Rev. Munds, in the presence of quite a gathering of interested spectators.

Horses and Mules Coming.

J. M. Sullivan writes us that he expects to leave McMinnville, Tenn., on or about February 11th for Jacksonville, with as fine a drove of horses and mules as have ever been in this region. He adds that those who contemplate purchasing animals had better wait till he arrives in Jacksonville, as he will be sure to bring a variety, so that all can be suited.

Services During Lent.

The following divine services may be expected in the Episcopal church during the Holy season of Lent. February 11th, Ash Wednesday, service with sermon and Holy Communion at 11 a. m.; services Friday with short address, and every Wednesday and Friday thereafter until Easter at 10 o'clock in the afternoon. It is to be hoped that the members of the church will not allow any such frivolous excuse as visits paid or received, prevent their invariable attendance upon these services. A joyous Easter can only be secured by a well kept Lent.

Faithfully yours, W. T. ALLEN, Rector.

Read What Capt. James H. Savage Has to Say of Baker's Blood and Liver Cure.

TESTIMONIAL. Piedmont, Ala., May 18, 1887.

My brother, B. F. Savage, of Leadiga, Ala., has been afflicted with scrofula of the worst form, all his life, but able to work till about five years ago, the disease then broke out, and he then sought all over the body, inside his mouth and on his tongue, so that he could get out of his room, and he was cured by all the doctors of this section of country for two years, and also by Dr. W. F. Westmoreland, of Atlanta, which only held the disease in check, without any prospect of cure, and so pronounced by the doctors. In this condition he lay in his room for three months. So offensive was the stench you could not sit in the room, especially in warm weather, and it was decided by doctors and all that saw him that it was only a matter of time when the disease would end him up.

In August, 1887, I heard that Dr. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure had cured one of my neighbors, Mr. J. A. Brown, and he had been better than ever before in his life. I at once procured some of the medicine and gave it to my brother. About the first of October he was all right, and he was cured. Although I used every means to make him get out of his room, and he was cured. My brother, by degrees, got able to work some, and he continued to improve in health and strength, until he is now as healthy as a horse, and better than ever before in his life. I am perfectly satisfied that he is permanently cured. And I would recommend all persons afflicted with scrofula or like diseases to give Dr. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure a trial, and you will be sure to be cured. It is a purely vegetable preparation.

For this medicine, and without any solicitation, he has sent me a bottle of the medicine, and I am perfectly satisfied that he is permanently cured. And I would recommend all persons afflicted with scrofula or like diseases to give Dr. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure a trial, and you will be sure to be cured. It is a purely vegetable preparation.

Parties doubting the above statement can be convinced by writing to Mr. Savage. He will cheerfully answer your letter. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure has never been known to fail to cure scrofula, syphilis, rheumatism or any kind of blood poison or skin disease. Hundreds of physicians are using it daily with splendid results. Sold by all druggists. If not in stock have them order for you. Ladies, try Baker's Female Regulator and Pills.

FINAL SETTLEMENT.

STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.

In Probate Court for said County Special Term, Dec. 15th 1890.

This day came H. H. Montgomery, D. D. Martin and J. J. Skelton, Commissioners, to the said lands belonging to the estate of Jas. H. Privett, deceased, for a division among the heirs and filed in Court their account and vouchers for a final settlement of said estate.

It is therefore ordered by the Court that the 5th day of January, 1891, be and is hereby appointed the day upon which to audit and pass upon said account and make said settlement; and that notice thereof be given for three successive weeks in the Jacksonville Republican, a newspaper printed and published in said county, as a notice to all persons concerned, to be and appear before me, at my office in the Court House of said county, on said 5th day of January, 1891, and contest said settlement if they think proper.

STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.

In Probate Court, Special Term, Dec. 18th, 1890.

This day came W. J. Homesly, administrator of the estate of M. G. Homesly, deceased, and filed in Court his application in writing and under oath praying for an order and decree, authorizing him to sell the lands of said estate, as described in said application, for division among the heirs of said estate, upon the grounds that the same cannot be equitably, fairly and beneficially divided without a sale.

Notice is hereby given, that the 10th day of January 1891, be appointed the day on which to hear and determine said application, and all persons who are interested, and especially the non-resident heirs, viz: M. Farm for Sale.

We will sell on reasonable terms a good farm lying five miles from Jacksonville and four hundred yards from a depot, containing 160 acres of land. About 90 acres under fence and in cultivation. About 40 acres almost perfectly level. Has new six room frame house finished complete. Fine spring near the house and mineral springs adjacent. The farm is well watered and very suitable for a stock farm. Has also a good orchard—large new barns conveniently arranged and a good three room tenant house. Besides being good farming land, the place is supposed to have beds of rich mineral ores. Churches and schools in three-quarters of a mile. Very few farms in the county possess more advantages or better located. Apply to

WATTERSON HILL.

WATTERSON REALLY WROTE THE LETTER.

But Gov. Hill Says It Is "Insulting and Impertinent," and He Cannot Believe It.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 10.—The Sun tomorrow will publish a letter written by Henry Watterson to Gov. Hill, which the Sun says is probably instrumental in bringing about the meeting of Gov. Hill and Ex-President Cleveland, and also of Hill taking the New York Senatorship.

Watterson's letter, was prompted solely by his own convictions and without the least consultation with any one. It is as follows:

COURIER-JOURNAL OFFICE, Louisville, Ky., Nov. 21, 1890.

My Dear Sir:—I take leave to address you this letter as one of some millions of Democrats who have never sought or held office, and who could not be induced to do so, but who are deeply concerned in the party welfare, and who believe you to hold the key to it.

Outside of the State of New York, there is a well known unanimous demand among the rank and file of the Democrats for the nomination of Cleveland. This is too strong for party leaders and managers to resist. I think I have some influence in Kentucky, but I should be overwhelmed in a State convention.

If you should come to the National Convention with the New York delegation solid against it, you would be overwhelmed.

You are powerless to prevent it. But you can defeat the election of the ticket. There were Democrats in every part of the Union, who believe that you did this in 1888. I know that to be false. I know exactly what happened, and I have steadily defended you in public and in private.

But it will cling to you as long as you live—even as the bargain, intrigue and corruption story clung to Clay—and will meet you in every national convention if it be not dispensed by some act on your part great enough to blot it out.

In detail or in fact, it is no hope of the Presidency, it will defeat that.

My judgment is clear that if you could reconcile it with your judgment and feeling to make peace with Cleveland and to take a delegation to the national convention in 1892, to put him in nomination, you will save the party, and place yourself upon an elevation you can never attain if you fail to do it.

You would be received by the country with enthusiasm, be accepted at once as the Warwick, and I do not see how you could be kept out of the succession.

On the other hand, even if you succeeded in defeating the nomination of Cleveland, you will stand upon sinister and dangerous ground with a stormy future before you.

These are plain words and I have no relations with you which give me the right to offer you counsel.

They may be disagreeable words and I have no desire to obtrude upon your privacy, but they are our words and I claim the right of a Democrat who has some knowledge of the country at large and has given some proof of the intelligent devotion to party interests to ignore ceremony and to send them to you.

In conclusion, let me say that I shall, in any event, be glad to know you better, and that in the meanwhile I am, most sincerely, your friend, [Signed.] HENRY WATTERSON, To the Hon. David B. Hill.

When the foregoing letter was shown to Gov. Hill he expressed great surprise and said that he could not believe that Watterson would have indited a letter so "insulting and impertinent." This occasioned hundreds of telegrams to be sent to Watterson asking if the letter was genuine or merely a forgery, to which queries Watterson made the following statement for publication:

LOUISVILLE, KY., Feb. 12, 1891.

I wrote the letter to Governor Hill, and I was impelled to do so by motives of the sincerest and most disinterested character.

There appeared in many of the great newspapers last Sunday a sensational account of how a caucus of United States Senators had resolved upon retiring Governor Hill from the Presidential arena; of how I had been selected as the instruments of these Senators, and of how I had despatched him a letter potent enough to alter his plans.

When this fantastic story emanated I cannot divine, but it was so absurd and did such injustice to both Governor Hill and myself that I thought, as I still think, that there could have been no objection on the part of anybody to the publication of the truth which flatly contradicted it.

I was induced to this by the circumstances that Governor Hill seemed to have adopted a course suggested by considerations like honorable to his character and creditable to his judgment, more so indeed, since the letter in question furnished him and his friends impartial testimony to answer and refute most odious and widely circulated calumny.

I confess that I am surprised that the Governor should make such haste to disavow and disown the course which, however, prompted gratified every Democrat in the United States, outside of the State of New York, removing him at once from the field of mere political scheming and self-seeking, and placing him in the front rank of statesmen, having the good of their party and country at heart.

I am equally distressed by the representation that Governor Hill should regard my plain but friendly words as impertinent and insulting. I did not so intend them. I cannot help thinking that the same words might be with propriety addressed to him, or to any Democratic aspirant, by the humblest Democrat in the land and I still hope that, annoyed by the publication, which annoyed me as well, he has proceeded upon a misapprehension of the facts of the case.

OLD TIME INDIAN TERROR.

An Aged Indian Who For Ten Years Terrorized the Settlers of Arizona.

They were talking about Indian outbreaks when one of the party, who had been for many years a resident of Arizona territory, remarked:

I tell you, gentlemen, that this Indian business is pretty serious. Why, down in Arizona we lived for fifteen years in a state of terror on account of a marauding band of Apaches that had things pretty much their own way all this time, in spite of all the government troops could do to keep them in check.

I call to mind particularly Old Victorio. There was a warrior for you. He commanded a band of some 200 bucks. They were the Chiricahua Apaches, and the murders, robberies and depredations committed by that band during those ten years in which they were on the warpath are almost incredible.

Old Victorio was nearly 90 years of age when the troubles began. He ruled those redskins with a rod of iron in spite of his years. He was paralyzed, too, completely paralyzed. He was only able to use his left arm a little, just enough to lift a cigarette to his mouth.

He was constantly in the saddle, and had to be strapped on like a bale of goods. His hand had the finest points to be found anywhere. They would sometimes appear at one place, and in less than twenty-four hours you would hear of them some place 100 miles distant. All throughout the southern part of the State and northern Mexico old Victorio continued his raids until the settlers finally gave up in despair. The government troops appeared to be utterly powerless in the matter.

Why, that band of redskins would sometimes plunder a wagon train right under the noses of the troops, and by the time the latter were mounted and ready to start in pursuit they would be out of sight. The next day, perhaps, the wires would tell of some fresh depredation committed by the same band in a section of the country over 100 miles away.

This old war dog, however, was finally rounded up and shot. He was in the saddle fighting to the last, and his band, what was left of it, dispersed. Of course the settlers heard of it and were delighted. Dismay followed, however, when Chiricahua told the field. This Indian ran things pretty much the same way for five years, and then came old Gerondimo.—New York Herald.

He Was Told to Prepare to Die.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Mr. J. H. Harrell, Ridge Farm, Ill.: "Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) saved my life and restored my health after the leading physicians of the State pronounced my case hopeless. From childhood I suffered agonies from a constitutional blood trouble, that gradually grew worse as I advanced in years. Finally a great ulcerous sore broke out on my leg, which compelled me to go on crutches, and this, added to the Rheumatism that had set in, made me almost helpless. The physicians who, by the way, were the best in this State, pronounced the disease incurable, and told me to prepare for death. About this time my attention was drawn to an advertisement of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) and I commenced taking it, as a drowning man would grasp at a straw. I commenced to improve from the first dose, and continued to improve until I am now sound and well. The ulcerous sore on my leg has healed up, and not even a scar is left and I am to-day as free from disease as any man living. Early last fall I discontinued the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), and have not had a day's sickness since. I feel it a duty I owe to my fellow-man, and to the manufacturers of Swift's Specific to make the above statement.

JACK THE RIPPER

Thought to Be a Sailor Named Sadler Now in the London Jail.

London, Feb. 16.—The latest discovery made by the Metropolitan police in connection with the Whitechapel murder Friday morning last by which a woman known as "Carrotty Nell" lost her life, bids fair to connect a man named Sadler, now in custody, with this "Jack the Ripper" crime.

The Metropolitan police now have in their possession a sharp, dangerous looking knife stained with blood, and showing traces of having recently been washed.

The blood stains were examined microscopically by Dr. Phillips, a police surgeon attached to the Leamouth street police station.

Dr. Phillips has no doubt that the stains are those of human blood.

This formidable weapon has been traced to the possession of Sadler, who, as already stated, was a fireman on board the steamer which recently arrived from Turkey.

The police have no doubt but that Sadler was the murderer of "Carrotty Nell."

I had a slight stroke of paralysis which frightened me very much. My health was poor and the doctors gave me medicine for heart disease, but I grew weaker. My cousin recommended Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla, which certainly has benefited me greatly, for I feel in splendid health.

Heart Failures, Sudden Death.

The prayer of the Christian pleads for the preservation of the human life, and yet, alas! how many leave the world for better or for worse without a single moment's warning. He died of heart failure. The tired and weary heart failed while engaged in its momentous task of pumping the blood from the arteries and forcing it into every big and little vein that the wasting tissues of the flesh might be replenished. How important then that the great stream of life be kept pure and its corpuscles red and active, lest the fluid grows clogged and sluggish, and the heart in an extraordinary effort snaps without a signal and thread of its muscular strength. It is your duty as one who loves the life that God has given him, to assist nature in maintaining free action of the circulatory system by keeping the blood in a state of purity and health. Nature has supplied healing and strengthening herbs for this purpose. Science has discovered what they are and the eminent Dr. John Bull, of Louisville, Ky., has blended them in his superior preparation known as Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla. Demand it of your druggist. Take no other.

Cancer.

To B B B (Botanic Blood Balm) has been given the credit of curing that terrible symptom of hereditary blood poison called cancer.

Allan Grant, Sparta, Ga., writes: "A painful sore came on my lip which was pronounced epithelial cancer by prominent physicians. I also had much pain and great weakness in the back. Eight bottles of B B B healed the sore, gave me strength and made me well."

G. F. Keller, Wrightsville, Ga., writes: "B B B is curing an ulcer on my nose said by all to be a cancer."

James A. Greer, Athens, Ga., writes: "For ten years I have been a sufferer from a cancer on my face, which discharged offensive matter. Nothing I tried gave relief. Finally I gave B B B a trial. The discharge gradually decreased and the cancer grew less until now there is nothing left except a scar."

THE PECAN.

Its Profitable Returns—Will Show Some Fruit in Seven Years.

By invitation of the executive committee of the Mississippi Horticultural Society, Col. W. B. Stuart, owner of the famous pecan groves of Ocean Springs, prepared the following interesting paper, which was read by the secretary of the association at its recent session in Jackson. The Clarion-Ledger commends this interesting paper to our readers, and particularly to young men who are able to procure a few acres of ground to be planted in pecans. They can, after planting the nuts, go ahead and give attention to other things, leaving the trees to grow. It will be surprising to note how rapidly the time will pass, and certainly it will be pleasant to contemplate that by little trouble and expense one can provide for an almost certain source of income after the lapse of a few years.

This is Col. Stuart's paper: "Whatever may be said of forest trees for shade, shelter and ornament, I confess to a special regard for the nut bearers.

"Pecan culture is my hobby. I know nothing practically about nut-bearing trees in general. I have had some experience in pecan culture, but do not know it all by a great deal. I do know that pecan culture is the safest and best investment in all our land. When I was fifty-six, I bought the largest and best paper-shell pecans I could find, paying $1 per pound for them, and planted the nuts. When sixty-eight, I got $305; when sixty-nine, I received $700 to $800. This year I was seventy on the 18th of November, and I will get $1,500 to $2,000 from the sale of my young trees and nuts. One tree gave me two years ago 117 pounds, which I sold for $17. Last year I got only eight nuts from the same tree. This year I will get about 150 pounds. Pecans have off years. A planter putting out 500 trees in a grove ought to plant 100 trees every year, then he will have plenty of pecans every year. Every species of nuts, acorns, pecans, hickory nuts, etc., should be planted as soon as possible after fully ripe and matured; kept too long they become dry.

"In planting pecans it is wisdom to select such varieties as are fruitful to the tree, and which will bear the pecan nut where you wish the tree to stand permanently, I think is best, or in the nursery as you please. I cut the tap root at one year old, before planting out in the grove.

Properly transplanted and cultivated, pecan trees will show a little fruit in seven years. In ten years they will come into profitable bearing. The pecan is a beautiful shade tree.

"The subject of pecan growing is becoming vastly interesting all over the Gulf States, for growing the very hard-shell, and paper-shell pecan is a very profitable business. In raising the valuable nuts to supply the markets of the world, the point is to make no mistake in the beginning. Plant trees produced only from large choice seed. There is no need to emigrate to California if we desire to grow nuts. We have a variety indigenous to the Mississippi valley, which will always sell for more per pound than the English walnut, and it is much superior in all respects to the latter. (I need not tell you that I allude to the pecan.) A grove of pecans will cost less and bring much better returns than the walnut. The demand for the former is increasing every year.

"Besides, there can be no danger of overstocking the market for years and years as England, France and Europe generally know as yet little about the pecan.

"The extinction of our native groves is only a question of time as there is no special protection given them. The nut gatherers destroy hundreds of them every fall cutting them down in order to obtain the nuts more easily. What vandalism! I advise our young men to plant pecans.

"The young tree should be set at least 40, 50 or even 60 feet if the land is very rich.

"The trees must be worked and kept clean for five or six years. They should be forced and kept growing when cultivating your crops. You work and care for your trees in this way and you will have in ten years from seed a good paying pecan grove, and then what a pasture you will have for your Jersey cattle.

"An old Creole tradition comes to me through one of the most cultured men in Mississippi. He got it from an old Frenchman. Plant pecan nuts on the third, fourth and fifth days of the new moon in January and your trees will come into bearing in a few years. I do not vouch for it, but planted 4,000 nuts last January on the 22d, 23d and 24th in my nursery to sell this winter and plant out."

The Republican.

SATURDAY, FEB. 21, 1891.

LETTER FROM MONTGOMERY.

MONTGOMERY, Feb. 17, 1891.

Dear Republican:—The Legislature recessed to-day to allow the enrolling and engrossing clerks to get up with their work and be in trim to enroll each bill as early as possible after passage tomorrow and get it to the Governor. Both houses will probably pass no bills after six o'clock tomorrow, but they will remain in session until midnight or until the Governor has ceased to send in his messages of approval of bills. Calhoun will not lose more than half a dozen of the thirty-five or forty bills sent to her Senator and Representative. Last night two Senate bills affecting Calhoun passed the House and about eight House bills of like character passed the Senate. Mr. Cooper has only two bills from the Senate undisposed of and I have only one bill from the House in similar condition. We both hope to get these through tomorrow, but that will depend upon the order of business. Whether we pass these or not the fact will remain that we have passed more than double the number of bills for Calhoun county and her people, officers and corporations, than any other previous Legislature has done. Both of us have worked untiringly and with the single purpose to benefit the people we represent. The future alone can tell. It is not to be expected that everybody will be pleased with the results of the legislation of this session. That could not happen unless all men were built alike. But it is little enough to ask of the people that they ascribe good motives to their representatives, especially when every consideration of interest must prompt a representative to benefit and not injure the people who have trusted him and honored him by election. This much, I think, will be accorded by all right-thinking people in Calhoun. Of course there will be some illiberal and prejudiced people who will not, but these, thank heaven, are few in old Calhoun, and they don't count for much. The brave, the just, the tolerant classes largely predominate in our country, and that is why I love it and would make any sacrifice for its welfare.

The House passed a bill some days ago appropriating ten thousand dollars to complete the Confederate monument. Some very pretty speeches were made in support of the bill, the most notable being that of Representative of Montgomery county, the gentleman who introduced the bill and had charge of it in the House. It was sent forthwith to the Senate and has had its two readings in that body. It will come up tomorrow on its third reading and will pass, I think, without any serious opposition. So far as such an arrangement can be effected it has been agreed among Senators that the bill shall go to a vote without any speeches. This was done last session when an appropriation to the monument was made. If there was more time at disposal many of the Senators would speak; but when the life of the session is numbered by hours and minutes they feel that the time ought to be given to the public business.

One bill, however, will come up tomorrow that will necessarily provoke debate, and that is the bill to give protection to the life and health of the thousands of miners in the State. The mine owners have a strong lobby of paid attorneys here to defeat the bill; but I do not think they will succeed. The bill has passed the House. These lobbyists were so persistent in button-holing Senators and playing them with arguments why the bill should not pass, that the Senate enforced the rule and put them outside the doors and excluded them from the chamber. I have heard a great deal from these gentlemen on this subject, but I am still of the opinion that the men who toil in the deep bowels of the earth amid foul air and dangerous surroundings need and should receive the protecting care of the State, and I shall vote gladly for their bill and contribute my humble part to secure its passage. It is only astonishing that the miners are so moderate in their demands. There is nothing in the bill really that the mine owners ought to object to; but they are determined that no entering wedge shall be driven by the State between themselves and their employees. They cry out that the men are a turbulent and bad lot; that such a measure is an unwarranted interference with their business by the State, and so forth and so forth; but are chief end of government is to protect its citizens, the poor and humble as well as the rich and the powerful, and these slaves of the corporations in the mines are quite as much entitled to such protection as are the stockholders of corporations themselves. It is a very mistaken policy of capital to deny simple justice to labor; but it sometimes looks as if capital will never see it until anarchy and chaos come, with their untold horrors and greater wrongs.

The Senate passed the bill appropriating $20,000 to secure suitable exhibition of the States' resources at the World's Fair. This amount was given as a thank offering for the defeat of the infamous Force bill; but it looks as if the bill will be suffered to die in the House. I have talked to several of the most influential of the Representatives and they do not think the bill will be called up tomorrow. In that event Alabama will have to depend on private subscription for suitable representation, and that is a very uncertain thing to rely on.

The Oxford charter has passed both houses, with liquor left out of it, as was requested by the citizens' meeting. Those gentlemen in that town who have been so apprehensive that the Legislature was going to put liquor on them against their wishes may now be able to get a good night's rest. The Oxford charter has also passed and that has liquor in it just as the city council wanted, and presumably as the people of the town wanted it, for not one single protest was received here against the bill as sent down by the council. The same may be said of Jacksonville. The power is given the city council of each to license or prohibit as they choose. As the liquor question of Calhoun has always been treated as one of local option, those of us here, representing these communities, did not feel free to oppose the requests preferred by the constituted authorities, in the absence of any objection on the part of the people, especially when due and ample notice was given through the REPUBLICAN that all these charters had such a clause and that they would pass with or without such clause just as the several communities preferred.

Mayor Thomason, of Oxford, came down Saturday and remained until Monday night, when he returned home. Last some of the aforesaid highly nervous parties of his town may jump to the conclusion that he came here to conspire in regard to the charter of his town. I will say that he was here on a visit to a sick uncle and did not seem to be the least concerned about the charter bill one way or the other. Among the bills which passed the House Monday night was Senate bill to secure a better assessment of property in Anniston. This bill will increase the assessed values of that city several hundred thousand dollars and will increase the State and county revenues. It was asked by Anniston in order that the city assessment, which is by law based on the State assessment, may be increased. The bill which originated in the House to validate the $100,000 of bonds issued under the Anniston charter, which the Senate Monday night also, as did the amendment to the Calhoun game law, which permits hunting to begin somewhat earlier than the old law did. Several other local bills, which I have not space to notice, also went through. I went to the Governor's office to-day to see if he had found that he had already approved several of them and regarded the remainder with a friendly eye; so it may be taken for granted that an Executive veto will not dash the hopes of any of our people interested in these measures.

LATER.—Since the above was written the Senate passed by almost a unanimous vote the bill appropriating $10,000 to complete the Confederate Monument. The vote was taken without any speechmaking. The desk of each Senator was decorated with a beautiful bouquet by the ladies of the Monument Memorial Association.

The Miners' bill came up on the last day, Wednesday, and after a sharp contest was passed just as it came from the House. This will cause a thrill of joy to run through the hearts of the working people of the mineral districts who have to delve deep in the earth to earn a scant livelihood for their wives and little ones.

The bill to refund certain monies to Col. Robt. McKee, which passed the Senate almost unanimously, was lost in the House last night, owing to the hurry and confusion which prevented a full discussion and clear understanding of the bill. It will pass at the next session of the Legislature because it is a just measure and should pass. Col. McKee did not ask that the bill be introduced. It was done by Senator Milner at the suggestion of members of the Legislature and distinguished men in the State, familiar with the circumstances. The first intimation Col. McKee had that the measure was pending was when he read it in the Advertiser.

The bill to declare Jacksonville a watering place, etc., was one of the last bills that passed the Legislature. It passed the House about half past eleven o'clock, and by twelve o'clock, the hour set for adjournment, it had been enrolled, signed by the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House and approved by the Governor. Jacksonville hustled on this occasion as always.

The Redistricting Bill.

From the Montgomery Advertiser.

No bill ever passed the General Assembly which received such universal commendation and endorsement as the redistricting of the State into new Congressional districts. It is recognized as a just and equitable settlement of the question, and the Black Belt is happy.

In the matter of redistricting the State much has been said of the action of those on the outside and the part they played in bringing it about. On the inside there were several gentlemen who deserve and already have the thanks and gratitude of the people who were asking and demanding the relief. Of these, occasion is taken now to mention the senator from Calhoun, Hon. L. W. Grant, who, although active in influencing the decision of the joint committee to recommend no action at this session and also in tabling the motion of the senator from Wilcox to refer his bill to a special committee, at the last, in response to the appeals of the black belt Democrats, whose interests Mr. Grant had represented in the Senate in reconstruction days, yielded and no one did more than he in securing favorable action in both House and Senate. Besides this, there is no more faithful or thoroughly equipped legislator on either side than the distinguished Senator.

THE NEW FOURTH DISTRICT.

Some Speculations on the Future Politics of the District.

Mr. Frank P. Glass, one of the editors of the Montgomery Advertiser, in his column of "Idle gossip," in the issue of the 18th inst., thus discourses of the political possibilities in the new Fourth Congressional district: "Discussing the probable results of the next Congressional campaign in this State, a keen observer of passing events, said to the 'Goshper': 'No man in either branch of the legislature has made more reputation this session than Mr. Grant, the Senator from Calhoun and Cleburne district. He has been very attentive to his duties, and no bill has come before the Senate with which he did not thoroughly familiarize himself. His positions in the main have been correct, and he supported them with an independence of mind and action that was truly refreshing. His best friends have been surprised at his power of debate. They knew he was as clear as a bell intellectually, but he has been so modest and retiring that he never asserted himself. No man who has met him in debate during this session will hesitate to accord him a high place as a speaker. Mr. Grant's efforts for the redistricting bill after it was determined on were invaluable, and his work for the bill rendered many obstacles. He is in the new Fourth at one end and Dallas at the other. Where there are any better Congressional timber in the district than the able Senator from Calhoun?'"

THE MINERS' BILL.

THE DEMOCRACY OF ALABAMA

Redeems Its Pledges to the Men who Toil in the Mines, and Listens to the Pleadings of Workingmen.

Mr. Julien Walker, the talented correspondent of the Birmingham Age-Herald thus describes the scene in the Alabama Legislature pending the passage of the bill to protect the health and lives of the men who toil in the dark bowels of the earth and who have contributed so much to the wealth and glory of the State. These men had been promised legislation of this character if they would vote the Democratic ticket in the recent elections, and it was to carry out these pledges as well as because humanity prompted it that the bill they asked for was passed:

The Senate to-day, by a vote of 22 yeas to 6 nays, passed the mining law bill as it passed the House, and when these lines are put in type that famous measure will be the law of the land. The passage of the bill was fuller of dramatic interest than any other scene that has transpired in either house this session. Senator Milner staked all his influence and reputation, and he won, and it was that short, steady, unbending figure of the old man which lent to the movement its thrilling dramatic character.

Mr. Godfrey offered an amendment providing that the provisions of the bill shall not apply to mines working convicts.

Mr. Grant opposed the amendment and warmly favored the bill. He moved to lay Mr. Godfrey's amendment on the table, and the motion prevailed.

Mr. Handley offered one amendment after another until nine had been submitted to the Senate, and each and every one was voted down. The one which provoked the most discussion was to make the salary of the inspector $5,000 instead of $1,500.

Mr. Grant called attention to the fact that it was the enemies of the bill who desired this amendment. He hoped the senate would not be misled.

Mr. Handley agreed with Mr. Grant. He heartily favored the bill, and thought it ought to pass as an act of justice to a large and worthy class of citizens.

Mr. Handley said that he was in favor of a mining law, but this bill was objectionable in many particulars, and he moved to lay it, pending amendments, on the table.

Mr. Milner moved to lay Mr. Handley's motion on the table, and on that motion Mr. Handley called for the yeas and nays.

Mr. Milner's motion prevailed—yeas 15, nays 13.

The bill was then read a third time and passed—yeas 22, nays 6.

Mr. Grant and Mr. Handley, and outside of that the lobby that sustained him was led by Capt. Joseph F. Johnston, Mr. Robert J. Lowe, Colonel Taliaferro, Mr. John Ellis, and Mr. Robert Warnock.

ALABAMA WILL BE HELPED

By a Line of Steamers Which Calvin Brice and Associates Will Establish.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 19.—There was a distinguished party of railroad men in this city yesterday. Chief among them was Calvin S. Brice. They said the object of their visit was to look after the Central and South American trade with Mexico. We want to see what is necessary to carry out the intentions of the International Congress and establish trade between countries and reciprocity scheme and we are completing our arrangements as fast as we can.

We have two Southern ports as Brunswick and Mobile and expect to establish thirteen lines of steamers from them. It is to supply the demand for coal in connection with these lines that we have been looking over the South, but it is not time to reveal all our plans.

JOHNSTOWN FLOODED.

The Ill-Fated City in Dire Peril and Distress.

Johnstown, Pa., Feb. 18.—At eight o'clock this evening all the lower part of the city is covered and the water is rising rapidly, owing to steady rains on the south side and in Cambria. Hundreds of houses are flooded and the people are getting away in boats, as all the bridges but one have been swept away.

Late tonight it is reported that the Shady Creek boom carrying 4,000,000 feet of logs is in danger of bursting and the people are flying to higher grounds. There is no communication whatever between the different parts of the town.

Reports from points between Johnstown and Pittsburg indicate very high water with several bridges and houses washed away as far down as Jeannette.

There will be no sleep in Johnstown tonight as all the lower town houses are deserted and the people are huddled in dwellings on the high ground. The snow is melting and the rivers are rising rapidly.

Reports from Eastern Ohio and West Virginia indicate a sudden rise in the branches with many bridges destroyed and houses flooded though no lives have been lost thus far.

The bill providing for the appointment of another Supreme Court Judge has become a law. It requires the Governor to make the appointment within ten days after its approval. It is said that Gov. Jones, however, considers the ten days' limit to his power unconstitutional, and hence void, he holding that an appointment within a reasonable time will be a constitutional compliance with the provisions of the bill. There are quite a number of applicants from whom he is to select.

Some time during Monday night the jewelry store of J. E. Moyer was robbed of about $300 worth of goods. The stolen articles are one 16 size gold watch, two fancy diamond back 6 size ladies' watches, two 14 carat 6 size gold watches, all with Elgin movement; one banjo, two accordions, about half a dozen gent's vest chains, four or five ladies' queen chains and a lot of scarf pins, sleeve buttons, etc. The entrance to store was made by breaking out one of the front windows and the thief made his exit in the same way that he got in and the goods taken were of the best grades not locked up in the safe. A young man named Dennis Rice was arrested and is now in prison awaiting trial. He is from Randolph county and an indictment is now pending against him there, so we are informed. He denies the charge, but some pretty strong circumstantial evidence has been found against him.—Hot Blast.

Rev. J. H. Patton, who has been absent for a month in Orlando, Fla., has returned home.

J. M. Vansandt sold a building lot this week to W. L. Burns, and the latter will erect at once a handsome cottage.

Now that Jacksonville has been authorized to issue bonds to the amount of $50,000, she will certainly have the good streets.

The Frank residence is becoming one of the most handsome and attractive buildings in the city under the artistic brush of Mr. James Connelly.

Messrs. John Riley and Andrew Weaver have opened a harness and saddlery shop in the city immediately south of the Walker House. Success to them.

Jacksonville has been favored with the acquisition of a new barber shop. Call and see this new tonsorial artist, who is said to be a "dandy," and his name is Spencer Crook.

There is a handsome Colonel who has consented to sacrifice himself on the Hymenal altar. Some angel without wings had better confer with him before investing elsewhere.

The work of grading the streets progresses very rapidly, considering the rainy season through which we are now passing, and which offers such hindrance to almost every conceivable kind of industry.

T. J. Plexco brought to market last Thursday a fine beef which had been fattened on corn. He had no trouble in disposing of it, and we learn it was the finest beef brought to this market for some time.

The Commissioners' Court is in session this week. The court was convened to draw both the grand and petit juries for the circuit and city courts. They will draw eighteen petit juries, besides a grand jury for each court.

The neat store building under construction just south of the postoffice, which is to be occupied by Mr. Miller, is nearing completion, and in a very short time the people of Jacksonville will be furnished another very choice beef market.

Deputy Sheriff John Rowland went to Birmingham Tuesday and returned Wednesday, bringing with him Huse Ross, charged with disturbing an assembly of females. Also Will Cothran, charged with grand larceny at Anniston. Both are negroes.

The general agent for Alabama, Mr. Wm. C. Hall, representing the Mutual Building and Loan Association of Greenville, Tenn., is in town. He reports that he was very successful at Anniston, having succeeded in organizing a large local board at that place.

Messrs. C. H. and Walter V. Montgomery propose planting their place of two acres in such vegetable as will be in demand during the coming summer and fall. Other gardens of this kind are in prospect, and from the signs of the times the business will flourish. Go ahead, gentlemen, and success to you.

On account of the bad roads and worse weather, the audience that greeted Ralph Bingham at the College Hall Monday night was not a very large one, but it was none the less appreciative, and unanimously agreed that he is a rare and varied genius, possessing that versatility of talent which affords an easy ability to please.

Mr. Wynn was in the city this week-soliciting contributions to aid in the erection of the Orphans' Home to be located in Talladega, and which, until recently, was at Tuskegee, where it was originally established by the Presbyterians. It is said Jacksonville people contributed their quota to this laudable and Christian institution.

Died.-Mrs. Irvin, the mother-in-law of Mr. Wm. Lester, of this city, died on February 18th, after an illness of about fifteen days. From the outset of her illness she believed she would die. Old couples follow each other speedily it seems, in paying this debt of nature, for

Mr. Irvin, the husband, only died a few months ago. There are no minor children left, but our sympathies go out to the others left to mourn this loss.

Capt. C. P. Read, who lives about two miles from Jacksonville, has leased a portion of his lands to C. J. Wood, of Cedartown, Ga., who obtained the lease of these lands for the purpose of establishing a lime kiln thereon on account of the almost inexhaustible deposits of lime rock suitable for the production of lime. Thus it is that almost every day additional evidences of the mineral and material advantages of Jacksonville and vicinity are discovered.

Resolutions of Thanks.

At a meeting of the members of the Catholic congregation, held in Jacksonville on the 9th of February, 1891, Mr. J. A. Gaboury was called to preside and Mr. Louis F. Miller was appointed secretary.

The chairman stated at the meeting, which was called for the purpose of returning thanks to the many friends who assisted in building the beautiful church just finished and dedicated. Gen. J. W. Burke and F. J. O'Dwyer, the committee appointed to draft appropriate resolutions, reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we cordially appreciate the liberality and kind assistance of the people of Jacksonville in helping us to build and finish this church, and we return them our thanks for their liberal contributions freely given as well as for their good wishes so universally expressed.

Resolved, That the thanks of the congregation are due and hereby tendered the Rev. C. P. Gaboury, of Providence, R. I., for his munificent gift of the beautiful altar which he presented to the church, and to the ladies of St. Jude's Tabernacle Society of Baltimore for the two beautiful vestments, etc., and to Dr. F. A. Burke, of Helena, Ark., for the valuable picture of the Crucifixion.

Resolved, That we cordially appreciate the efforts and services rendered so fully and gratuitously by J. A. Gaboury in planning the church and superintending its construction, and we take pleasure in acknowledging the fact that it is to his energy and labor we are mainly indebted for its completion.

Resolved, That we record our grateful thanks to our good bishop, the Rt. Rev. J. O'Sullivan, for the interest taken by him in our welfare and the encouragement he gave us in our efforts to build this church. Our thanks are also due to our good zealous pastor, the Rev. A. L. Friend, S. J., who aided us effectively, and to the Rev. Charles Dauray, of Woonsocket, R. I., in coming to assist us at the consecration.

J. A. GABOURY, Chairman.
LOUIS F. MILLER, Secretary.

Badly Hurt by a Train.

On Saturday morning last a man was found lying near the E. T. V. & G. R. R. depot at this place apparently dead, and on examination he proved to be a Mr. Adams, a merchant of Anniston. It appears that he purchased a ticket for Roanoke, Va., and boarded the night mail train at Anniston in a very intoxicated condition, and the conductor not being able to secure his ticket or learn his destination, put him off the train at this place, where he was probably fatally injured in attempting, it is supposed, to flag down a passing freight train. Drs. Crook and Ayers were summoned, and on examination the back of his head was found to be partially crushed, and his breast, back and left foot had sustained some injuries. It was at first feared that his injuries would prove fatal, but the latest report from him is to the effect that he is some better, and that there are hopes of his recovery.

Church Services.

Services During Lent.

The following divine services may be expected in the Episcopal church during the Holy season of Lent.
February 11th, Ash Wednesday, service with sermon and Holy Communion at 11 a. m.; services Friday with short address, and every Wednesday and Friday thereafter until Easter at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.
It is to be hoped that the members of the church will not allow any such frivolous excuse as visits paid or received, prevent their invariable attendance upon these services. A joyous Easter can only be secured by a well kept Lent.

Faithfully yours,
W. T. ALLEN,
Rector.

NEW BARBER SHOP.

I have opened my shop at the Jacksonville Hotel. All those that wish nice shaving and hair cutting will always find me at my shop. My razors will always be kept sharp and my towels clean. I am also prepared to do any kind of ladies work, such as shampooing and trimming bangs. When in need of such work please send for me.
Respectfully,
SPENCER CROOK.

The steel plant has suspended work for a short time owing to the continual rain and bad weather for grading. Porter, Martin & Co., have had their lot on corner of Washington and park located. They will very soon commence the building of a large warehouse 100 feet square to be used in storing their heavy stock of hay, corn, oats, flour, meal, bacon, etc., also doors, windows, blinds, lime, etc. They have already received 3 cars of brick to start the foundation and have in an order for 150,000 to complete the job just as soon as the weather will admit.

They have just received 2 car loads of high grade acid phosphate and expect one car each of S. A. D. bone and G. S. G. guano this week which they will sell very close to "responsible" parties only. They respectfully ask the public to call on them when in need of groceries, hardware or farmers supplies, as with their full stock they can please all.

Read What Capt. James H. Savage Has to Say of Baker's Blood and Liver Cure.

TESTIMONIAL.
Piedmont, Ala., May 18, 1887.
My brother, Dr. P. P. Savage, of Tallahassee, Fla., has been afflicted with scrofula, of the worst form, all his life, but able to work till about five years ago; the disease then broke out in great eruptions all over his body, inside his mouth and all his long hair fell out. He was treated by all the doctors of this section of country for two years, and also by Dr. W. F. Westmoreland, of Atlanta, which only held the disease in check without any prospect of cure, and so pronounced by the doctors. In this condition he lay in his room for more years. So offensive was the stench you could not sit in the room, especially in warm weather, and it was decided only a matter of time when the disease would claim him.

In August, 1886, I heard that Dr. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure had cured one of my neighbors, Mr. D. B. Braswell, of a bad case. I at once procured some of the medicine and gave it to my brother. About the first of November, 1886, all sores disappeared; and although I used cod liver oil, I failed. My brother, by degrees, got able to work some, and he continued to improve in health and strength, until to-day he is stouter and in better health than ever before in his life. No sign of the disease has reappeared for over six months. I am perfectly satisfied that he is permanently cured. And I would recommend all persons afflicted with scrofula or like diseases to give Dr. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure a trial. My neighbors say it will cure any case. It is no humbug. It is a purely reliable medicine.

I have said this much, and could say more, for this medicine, and without any solicitation, but alone for suffering humanity, may be humbly offered. My brother is as good as a dollar to-day, and is living testimony of the worth of Dr. Baker's Blood and Liver Cure.

JAMES H. SAVAGE, Attorney at Law.

Farm for Sale.

We will sell on reasonable terms a good farm lying five miles from Jacksonville and four hundred yards from a depot, containing 160 acres of land. About 30 acres under fence and in cultivation. About 40 acres almost perfectly level. Has new six room frame house finished complete. Fine spring near the house and mineral springs adjacent. The farm is well watered and very suitable for a stock farm. Has also a good orchard—large new barns conveniently arranged and a good three room tenant house. Besides being good farming land, the place is supposed to have beds of rich mineral ores. Churches and schools in three-quarters of a mile. Very few farms in the county possess more advantages or better located. Apply to

We aim to get the Good Will of the People; and our largely increasing business shows that we have been successful. Our goods, our prices, and our straight American methods of doing business, make it an object for you to

TRADE WITH US.

It's a Unique position we occupy as Leaders. This is forcibly indicated by the scores who interview us daily on styles. As we are asked, our judgment must be valued. If we know—as we do—what is most natural we should pattern our stock accordingly? Certainly.

The Dealers who do so much talking about the amount of money they save to the purchasers of clothing are the very ones who are making it more expensive. For instance you cannot get a whole page advertisement for nothing. Neither can any man or concern afford to sell you goods for LESS than COST and succeed.

Those who advertise goods at one half or one third of their value are still making profits big enough to pay for all the charity they do to their customers.

Ours is a Plain,

Fair dealing house. We sell our Merchandise at a living profit. Our goods are same price to everybody. Each article is marked in Plain Figures.

No Private Cost Mark that you can't Understand.

Should you buy of us and not be pleased with your purchase, we refund your money as freely as we receive it. This has been the success of our house, as

We have never refused to give back purchase money, if the article is brought back unimpaired. Bear this in mind. In this advertisement we have stated how we do business; in our next we will tell you something else.

RUNNING COMMENT OF A BY-STANDER.

The General Assembly that has just Adjourned—The Reputations Made Some of the Candidates for Next Year for State Offices District and County—Governor, Senator, Judges and So.

From the Montgomery Advertiser, 21st.

The Legislature devotes itself primarily of course to legislation. The individual member always comes to Montgomery with his pockets stuffed with bills to reduce the tax rate, to strike out this or increase that appropriation to establish a new school or stock law district, to prohibit the sale of whiskey within five miles of Mount Zion Methodist Episcopal Church, in Alcohol County, Alabama, and to bring about a dozen other more or less commendable changes in the law. So legislation is the great interest but then other things can be looked after at the same time. The Legislature is a fine field for candidates to prove the sort of stuff there is in them.

The Legislature that has just adjourned has been more than usually prolific of candidates for State and county offices and much has happened to affect the politics of the State during the next two years. Take the Senate first, not as the most interesting body, but as that which outranks the other in the eyes of the law at least.

President Hargrave under the new appointment, finds his home county a Senatorial district in itself. It is not known that he will be a candidate two years hence to succeed himself though it is not unlikely he will be. He has been fourteen years in the House and Senate together. The taste for legislative life is something that grows upon a member, and as Mr. Hargrave stands very near the Governor's place both in law and in the opinion of a large number of the best people of the State, he may be put down as likely to return, his people consenting, to a station he has adorned signally. Few men in the State are comparable to Mr. Hargrave in the higher qualities of the public man. He has an engaging sincerity and openness of character, he is a sound lawyer, and his opinions as expounded during the present session show him at once to be among the most progressive and cautious men in the Senate. His mind remains fresh. He is susceptible to the growth of new ideas, a capital quality in any member of the Legislature.

Senator Milner, of Jefferson, possesses the most marked individuality of any member of the Senate. He is thought to have both Congressional and gubernatorial aspirations. His course on the proposition to redistrict the State was generally taken to mean he desired the Sixth to remain as it was, rather than fly to his candidate knew not of in any proposed change. The Senator frequently announced during the session that he was not a lawyer, just an honest man, a reflection on the bar that the President, a lawyer, one day good humoredly retorted for. He declined to appoint a committee when from Jefferson asked that the bill should go to a special committee of two lawyers and one honest man. The President appointed Senator Handley, of Randolph, amid the loud laughter of the Senate and the confusion of Col. Milner. The Senator will find it an obstacle in political life that he is not a lawyer. Ability of the kind he possesses, great as it undoubtedly is fails of its effect on the body of the people in not being set forth in the way practice at the bar rarely teaches the public man to adopt, not so much of intention as by instinct. He is, however, gaining in force as a speaker, and will gain more as he gradually leaves off a style in opinion because seeks to impose not because it is just and reasonable. He will learn to argue out his case and in doing so he will be confessed a powerful debater.

Amoré Congress in the State Senate are, as is well known, Capt. A. A. Wiley, of Montgomery, and Mr. A. Wiley, of St. Clair. Mr. Lon Grant, as clear-headed and honest a man as lives in the State, may contest for a place in Congress also. His fine character and his remarkable power of statement would put him to the front in Washington, if he should receive a nomination. Mr. Lackey, of Clay, who carries in his large frame a genial nature and a great quickness and strength of mind, is known to have an eye on a place in Congress. Mr. Mac Smith, of Autauga, has been usually a quiet member during the session. Speaking rarely he got attention when he rose and commanded it by his clear and strong reasoning. He has often been urged for Congress, and he will doubtless figure in the next convention of his district. He would make a strong and capable member. Mr. Stallworth of Conecuh, will be solicitor two years hence or know the reason why. The solicitor's place is one that several other Senators like Messrs. Parker, Parks, Skeggs and Haralson, sound lawyers and able advocates, may want, and wanting would make the contests they entered lively ones.

I ought not to omit to mention Senator Cowan, whose ambition was supposed to be bound up for the present at least with the creation of the new County of Herndon. Hon. Willis Brewer is mentioned as a possible successor to Auditor Hogue. Mr. Brewer's tastes are strongly political. He has the means to indulge in the luxury of politics, and he will make a fine race if he enters. Mr. Craig Smith, of Dallas, who contested with Mr. Colbs, of Montgomery, three years ago, will again be a candidate for Treasurer. Mr. Henry Clayton, of Barbour, is undoubtedly a candidate for Congress in the Third District. Mr. Clayton twitted Mr. Smith, of Busell, the other day in the House for some speech he had made, and inquired what office he was a candidate for.

"When I run for an office," replied Mr. Smith, "I will undertake a less Herculean task than to beat Bill Oates for Congress; To beat Col. Oates will be a hard task, but certainly if anybody can it is the brilliant young statesman from Barbour, the present leader of the House."

There are several candidates for Probate Judge in the House. Mr. Kemp, who has been for two terms in the House and who was Chairman of the Committee on Accounts and Claims, a strong and useful member and a fine gentleman, will be a candidate for Judge of Probate in Monroe. Mr. Brown, of Jefferson, will try to oust Judge Porter, of Birmingham, and it is understood that Prof. Henry Kerishes is like intention. The office is the richest in the State, and is a prize worth struggling for. Mr. Spaulman, an excellent gentleman, will offer for the same place in Morgan county. There are several candidates for Solicitor in the House. Of these the most prominent is Mr. Smith of Russell. He has disputed supremacy in the House during the entire session with all the titular leaders and no member perhaps in either body has grown as much as he. Mr. Smith is a good speaker and a good lawyer. He has good manners. He knows the temper of men and he knew especially the temper of the House. He has that about him that suggests the born legislator. He will make it interesting for the man who beats him for the Solicitors place. Manley Foster, of Tuscaloosa, is a candidate for solicitor also. Mr. Foster was the most finished speaker in the House, he made many friends and would make an able Solicitor. Col. Quarles, of Dallas, will be a candidate for Solicitor in the 4th District to succeed Mr. Pitts and Mr. Scott. Lewis of Mobile will contest the County Solicitor's place with Mr. Sheldon. Mr. Ben Elmore, the Clerk of the House, is an announced candidate to succeed Solicitor Taylor in the 1st District. If Mr. Elmore is beaten, the result will disappoint and surprise more people than can be reckoned. He is the most liveliest man for his years in the State. He has been at school in public life for several years now and he has profited continually by his opportunities. He has friends everywhere, and strong friends. He has fine abilities, a striking presence, a manner that wins confidence. You may keep your eye on Ben Elmore.

At least two members of the House are known to want to pass to the north side of the capitol. Dick Stanton will be a candidate for the State Senate, and Mr. Julien Waters will offer to represent the 19th District. Of the present officers and employees in the Senate and House, nothing is known of the intention of Messrs. Clay and Clark or Miss. Jen Wakeley, on the Senate side. In the House, Mr. King of Butler, the enrolling clerk will be a candidate for Clerk, and Mr. Massey Wilson the Enrolling Clerk, a candidate for Assistant Clerk.

Mr. H. T. Benton of Russell, will be a candidate for Engrossing Clerk. Mr. Lee Cowart, who has assisted Mr. Ben Elmore, it is thought will try for the State Senate.

A young Russian decided to come to this country to get married. On the way over they had a quarrel, and after landing here she would have nothing to do with him. She is with friends and penniless, and will have to be sent back if she will not compromise with her lover, who has procured a clergyman and is anxious to marry her.

INTENSIVE FARMING.

HAS COME TO BE A BURNING QUESTION.

George W. Truitt Says It is the Salvation of the Country—Lack of Labor. Makes it a Necessity.

Mr. Geo. W. Truitt is a successful farmer on the intensive plan, as every body knows who has been to the Piedmont Exposition for the last year or so. Last fall he and Mrs. Truitt carried off several thousand dollars in prizes for their displays—Mr. Truitt in the products of the farm and Mrs. Truitt in a multitude of exhibits of the housewife's skill. The picturesque plantation cabin, surrounded by a real cotton patch, which attracted so much attention at the previous exposition, was Mr. Truitt's concept.

The point of this article is the renaissance of intensive farming. A dozen years ago it was much talked of, and the Hon. Farris Furman, its apostle, stirred up a great deal of enthusiasm for the new culture. Since then the idea has been quietly but steadily growing. Each year has raised up some new advocate of the system and in some counties it has been extensively adopted.

The scarcity of labor has now made intensive farming a pressing question. It has almost come to be a necessity. The migration of the negroes within the last two years has, in many instances, left the planters with a large crop in the field and nobody to harvest it. This has caused loss and has forced the owners of land to consider means of culture with fewer hands. Happily it has been found, and found to be much more profitable than the old way. Mr. Truitt says it will be the salvation of the country, and he has come to the conclusion through experience.

At the request of the CONSTITUTION, Mr. Truitt gives a description of the method which, in his pointed words, "brings contentment and happiness."

Here is what he says:

"There is no question in the minds of observing people that we are drifting to the small farm. In fact, our labor is so disorganized and unreliable that the day of profit on the plantation is gone, except in rare instances where the owner is a man of exceptionally executive ability, and has reduced all his operations down to the most economic business system."

By hard work and constant, unremitting attention to details, I have succeeded in bringing average poor land up to where it averages a bale to the acre. Of course some land produces more than other. On eighty acres of my individual crop last year I made 104 bales, averaging 470 pounds per bale. On seventy acres my tenants made forty-six bales, or on 158 acres of land 150 bales of cotton. This is a plain statement of a single fact. As to how I do this:

"First, I break about one-half of my land with a two horse plow, alternating each year, plowing very deep. The other half I bed with square-pointed scooters. 'I lay off my rows four feet wide, running a scooter in front and a John-son wing the opposite direction in the same furrow. In that furrow, I place the cotton seed for fertilizer as early after Christmas as possible, forty bushels to the acre. About the 10th or 15th of March I put on top of these seed 400 pounds of acid per acre. I find the heavy rains wash the sand into the furrows and mix it thoroughly with the seed, which is very beneficial. Then bed flat with square-pointed scooter. When the cotton seed cannot be had, I use 600 pounds of gossypium per acre just before planting. On my thirty land I run a subsoil plow over the fertilizer, in order to mix it thoroughly with the soil."

"On my bottom land I put 1,000 pounds of fertilizer per acre, in the drill and two list furrows, and mix it well with the soil. With the planter I put 250 pounds additional. From the 11th of May to the 20th of June I broadcast 750 pounds per acre ahead of the plows. On bottom land I use a mould board, making the beds a little higher than on the upland. 'Before planting I run a Thomas harrow across the beds ahead of the planter, which destroys the early grass and makes the land fresh and level. With a Brook's planter I put in two bushels of seed per acre to insure a good stand, using 100 pounds of fertilizer with seed on up land."

"As soon as cotton on up land begins to break the crust in coming up, I start my harrows, running them obliquely across the first time, and afterwards, directly across the narrow rows. Then follow with an eighteen inch scrape and short scooter, running shallow. Then start the hoes every hand carrying a three foot stick to measure the distance between hills on all up lands. I plow this once every twelve days, using, after the first time, a twenty-four inch scrape, very flat, plowing up to the first of August.

"On my bottom land I make the rows five feet apart, and bring the stand down to four feet between hills by taking a 24 inch scrape and running two furrows across the rows, leaving a belt of three inches to form the stand. This enables me to plow both ways, leaving but little work to the hoes. This is better than dropping in the check and insures a better stand."

"I find that from the 20th of March to the 10th of April is the best time to plant cotton. 'I have improved my seed from year to year from the best stalks, until now my cotton is at least 100 per cent better than it was eight years ago, when I began improving it. 'I use my stable manure by itself, to avoid hauling heavy compost loads. 'I do not know that I could improve on that plan, even reducing my operations to one-fourth the land I now cultivate. I do know that a man can make twenty acres pay big money by building it up for all it is worth by fertilizing with peas in the spring and rye in the fall—turned under and not cut at all—I follow the next year with cotton. As an example of this, three years ago I had a tenant who made twelve bales on twenty acres of land. The following year that land was sowed in peas in the spring and rye in the fall, and last year it made twenty bales of cotton."

"To get the best results from twenty acres in cotton, starting at ordinary, worn out farm land, the first thing to be done is to thoroughly terrace the land, in order that there will be no waste from washing. The terraces must be made strong and on a level. When so made they will not be any trouble after the second year; then prepare and fertilize as above. Deep plowing in the preparation of land is essential. After the plant is up, of course the shallower cultivation the better. About the 20th of July the cotton should all be topped, as that makes it mature earlier and often saves much damage from the caterpillar. Most people wait too late to top their cotton and consequently fail to get the real benefit from the operation."

The salvation of this country rests on the intensive system of farming, small acreage, high fertilization and thorough and rapid working of the crop means profit to the farmer, whereas the old system means a continued struggle and a miserable hand-to-mouth existence. The one system brings contentment and happiness, the other only trial, hardship and discontent." Geo. W. TRUITT.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. He Was Told to Prepare to Die.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Mr. J. H. Harrell, Ridge Farm, Ill.: "Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) saved my life and restored my health after the leading physicians of the State pronounced my case hopeless. From childhood I suffered agonies from a constitutional blood trouble, that gradually grew worse as I advanced in years. Finally a great ulcerous sore broke out on my leg, which compelled me to go on crutches, and this, added to the Rheumatism that had set in, made me almost helpless. The physicians who, by the way, were the best in this State, pronounced the disease incurable, and told me to prepare for death. About this time my attention was drawn to an advertisement of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) and I commenced taking it, as a drowning man would grasp at a straw. I commenced to improve from the first dose, and continued to improve until I am now sound and well. The ulcerous sore on my leg has healed up, and not even a scar is left and I am to-day as free from disease as any man living. 'As soon as cotton on up land begins to break the crust in coming up, I start my harrows, running them obliquely across the first time, and afterwards, directly across the narrow rows. Then follow with an eighteen inch scrape and short scooter, running shallow. Then start the hoes every hand carrying a three foot stick to measure the distance between hills on all up lands. I plow this once every twelve days, using, after

ROMANCE OF A MANIAC.

SAD STORY OF THE PRINCIPLE ACTOR IN THE PULLMAN CAR TRAGEDY.

Glimpse of the Career of Jno. Graeter, Insane From Unrequited Love—A Noted Grator and Scholar, Whose Sweetheart Deserted Him.

A Memphis dispatch says: John Graeter, the man who murdered two men in a Pullman car at Bald Knob, Ark., two days ago, has a romantic history. Graeter has been for months a dangerous maniac and only a fortuitous combination of events has prevented the culmination of his dementia in bloodshed long ago. This much and more was gleaned from a gentleman who arrived in Memphis to-night from Fort Worth, Tex., where the authorities have had dealings with Graeter, and where the full circumstances of his condition are known. Graeter's case is a peculiar and sad one. His home is at Vincennes, Ind. He is well connected, has large property, mostly in stock in industrial institutions in that vicinity, and has two brothers, who stand high in the commercial world there. He is of fine physique and before the calamity occurred which deprived him of his reason exhibited business intelligence of a high order. His education was thorough. He used to go largely into politics, and a year ago was reputed to be one of the strongest Democratic orators and politicians in Southern Indiana. But misfortune came. He was engaged to marry a lady of German parentage of Vincennes, to whom he was devotedly attached. They had grown up together and were apparently in every way well suited to each other. So far as the public could judge the union promised mutual felicity and happiness.

The hour was set for the nuptials, and as the hour approached John Graeter's spirits waxed light and buoyant, and he grew jubilant at the thought of the great happiness that was about to be his. The wedding was arranged to take place at the Roman Catholic Cathedral in Vincennes, and at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of the day set the priest was at hand to perform his appointed service. The auditorium was well filled with the most fashionable people of Vincennes. Handsome Jno. Graeter was there, and in advance received the warm congratulations of his friends. He grew nervous as the moments flew by, for he was anxious to have the ordeal over. But the bride came not, and the assemblage filed slowly out of the church. Graeter presented a pitiful appearance as he left the church. He kept his eyes straight ahead, neither looking to the right nor left. He repaired straightway to the residence of the young lady and learned that the girl had fled with a traveler from Cincinnati. Graeter subsequently left Vincennes and remained away two weeks. Since then the Cincinnati man who inveigled his sweetheart into an elopement has never been heard of again.

Graeter left his home and was next morning at Fort Worth, Tex. One morning he was discovered walking around a Catholic Church in that city with his shoes off, muttering the name of the girl who had played him false. He was arrested and placed in the calaboose, where he partially recovered his mental brightness, and acted so rationally that he was released after a few days, and remained in the City Attorney's office until his friends could be heard from. He suddenly attacked the attorney with a hatchet, knocking him down, and fled, when after an exciting chase, he was again arrested. On the evening request from his brothers, the officers put him on a train for the North, and, under care of attendants, was taken back to Vincennes. Remaining quietly at home for a time he again started South, and the tragedy of yesterday occurred.

Cure for Hydrophobia.

The following remedy has been successfully used in Pennsylvania: Hydrophobia can be prevented, and I will give what is well known as a reliable remedy, if properly administered, for man or beast. A dose for a horse or cow should be about four times as great as for a person. It is not too late to give the medicine at any time before the spasms come on. The first dose is one and one-half ounces of alcanapane root, bruised, put in a pint of beer milk, reduced to one-half by boiling, then take all at one dose in the morning, fasting until the afternoon, at least a very light diet after several hours had elapsed. The second dose the same as the first except take two ounces of the root; third dose same as the second—the doses to be taken every other morning. Three doses are all that is needed, and there need be no fear. This I know from my own experience, and where it has been successful. This is no guess work. Those persons who have been bitten by their own dogs, that had been bitten by rabid dogs and were penned up to see if they would go mad. They did not, and there need be no fear. This remedy has been used in and about Philadelphia for forty years and longer, with great success, and is known as the Goodman remedy.
