WILL MAKE NO REPARATION.

CHILL Makes a Reply to Egan's Demands in Strong Language.

SANTIAGO, Oct. 29.—The Chilean government has replied to Minister Egan's demand for an explanation of the recent attack upon American sailors. The reply is couched in very strong language and it is understood that it amounts to a refusal to accept the responsibility of the affair. The state department at Washington has been notified. Minister Egan, Commander Schley and Consul McCarty are consulting together, and it is thought that a decision will be taken soon. The state department's orders in reference to the matter are very strong. The incident of Valparaiso has refused to guarantee the safety of market boats coming to that city only in the morning from the United States vessels. Baltimore, or the safety of the officer of that vessel coming ashore at night. There is practically a boycott on the Patagonians. No American sailor is allowed ashore. Great excitement has been caused here by the report that the Chilean legation in Washington has been attacked.

FIRES IN DIFFERENT PLACES.

Damaging Fire at Nashville—A Town Is Destroyed—Another Destroyed.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 30.—About 8 o'clock, a. m., fire broke out in the Nashville Gas company's four-story building. The third and fourth floors were covered with released convicts, fleeing to some safe refuge. At an early hour at night an attempt was made to get through a business message to Briceville. There was no response to the telegraphic signal. Then the next station, and the next was tried, until at last Clinton responded. The operator there was asked what was the matter. He looked out in the direction of Briceville and at once replied: "I see a great light, as of an immense fire, reflected in the sky. The wire to Briceville is cut, and I can't call it up."

SET THE PRISONERS FREE.

Convicts at Briceville are Released by the Miners.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 31.—The Briceville miners have bidden their time. And at this moment the mountains are covered with released convicts, fleeing to some safe refuge. At an early hour at night an attempt was made to get through a business message to Briceville. There was no response to the telegraphic signal. Then the next station, and the next was tried, until at last Clinton responded. The operator there was asked what was the matter. He looked out in the direction of Briceville and at once replied: "I see a great light, as of an immense fire, reflected in the sky. The wire to Briceville is cut, and I can't call it up."

The whole ill-fated party had just attained two weeks and were taking refuge from a storm at the time of the catastrophe.

CHOPPED TO DEATH.

Horrible Death of an Aged Couple at the Hands of Robbers.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 3.—Georgia has within the past sixty days been the scene of a series of horrible murders, the first being the killing of Joseph L. Touart, a prominent merchant who was shot down in his store by negroes, which crime was followed in a short time by the murder of a man named Dunn. The series of crimes have been capped by the brutal murder of Mr. Thomas Sheppard and his wife, highly esteemed people residing two miles from the town. The murdered couple were quiet old, having a number of children, all of whom have attained majority. The bodies of the murdered couple were horribly butchered, the murder having been apparently committed with axes.

Every trunk and drawer in the house was ransacked, and the bodies were placed in the disposal of Dillon, and will accompany him everywhere.

A London dispatch states that the health of Mrs. Parnell, widow of Charles S. Parnell, now shows some slight sign of improvement. She is able to partake of food.

EARTHQUAKE IN JAPAN.

The Destruction of Life and Property Very Great.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—A private telegram dated at Hogo, reports a disastrous earthquake in Japan. A severe shock was experienced at Osaka, a seaport town of 330,000 inhabitants on the island of Honshu, and in many towns one of the first cities of Japan. The destruction of life and property was very great. So severe was the shock that a number of houses were thrown to the ground and many persons caught in the falling buildings and crushed to death. A large number of persons succeeded in escaping from their terrifying homes only to meet death in the streets. At present there is no means of estimating the total loss of life. In fact, details of the catastrophe are very meager, and will be reported as the districts affected are broken by the falling of places. A dispatch, however, states that it is known that in Osaka alone the death list contains the names of 300 of the residents of that city.

The rescuing parties at work in the hope that some of the buried men might have escaped death, have recovered eighteen of the bodies. The whole ill-fated party had just attained two weeks and were taking refuge from a storm at the time of the catastrophe.

CHOPPED TO DEATH.

Horrible Death of an Aged Couple at the Hands of Robbers.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 3.—Georgia has within the past sixty days been the scene of a series of horrible murders, the first being the killing of Joseph L. Touart, a prominent merchant who was shot down in his store by negroes, which crime was followed in a short time by the murder of a man named Dunn. The series of crimes have been capped by the brutal murder of Mr. Thomas Sheppard and his wife, highly esteemed people residing two miles from the town. The murdered couple were quiet old, having a number of children, all of whom have attained majority. The bodies of the murdered couple were horribly butchered, the murder having been apparently committed with axes.

Every trunk and drawer in the house was ransacked, and the bodies were placed in the disposal of Dillon, and will accompany him everywhere.

The Republican.

L. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1891.

New York has gone Democratic by thirty thousand majority.

Mississippi has gone Democratic, as a matter of course, almost without opposition.

In New Jersey the Democrats have elected a majority in both branches of the Legislature.

Maryland goes sweeping Democratic. The Democrats will have forty majority in the Legislature.

Indications are that the elections in Michigan, Colorado and Nebraska have gone in favor of the Republicans.

Old Virginia went Democratic, of course. Mahone made some attempt to work the Alliance men of the State, but the arch plotter did not succeed.

Massachusetts has elected a Democratic Governor. The cities of Massachusetts gave the Democrats the victory. Boston went Democratic by 14,000 majority.

Iowa a few years ago went Republican regularly by fifty thousand majority. Now it has again gone Democratic. It may now be counted as a reliable Democratic State.

Edwardsville High School was incorporated by act of the last Legislature and has achieved a fine reputation, under the management of Prof. Sox. Edwardsville is a very healthy place, and, what is remarkable, good board can be had there for students at from $7 to $8 per month. This ought to crowd the school with pupils.

Over five hundred convicts have been liberated at Briceville and Oliver Springs, Tenn., and the prison stockades burned, by the free miners of that region. The convicts were given citizens clothes and told to go. The people of the surrounding country are terrorized at the presence of so many criminals in their midst, and great excitement prevails. The Governor has offered a reward of five thousand dollars for the ringleader in the riots and $25 reward for the recapture of each convict.

From the way that Peffer, Simpson, Polk, Livingston and other Alliance lights talked before the recent Tuesday elections, one would have supposed they were not going to leave a greasy spot of the old party. According to President Polk "the Alliance was full of politics as an egg is of meat." The funeral of old John Sherman had already been preached by the whole gang. Southern Alliance men looked hopefully forward to the slaughter of the Republican party in Ohio by these doughy warriors. Enthusiastic southern brethren rushed into print, the organs of the order, to tell the Western brethren to "hold the fort we are coming."

Now, in the light of the elections, what do we find? Wherever the Alliance played any part in the election, the Democratic party was defeated. In South Dakota the Democrats had a good chance to elect a Congressman, but the Alliance put a third ticket in the field and the Republican candidate was elected. In Ohio, a few days before the election, the State Alliance announced that the order was "not in politics," which meant that the farmers should stand by their old party, and they did do it, and the Democrats were defeated and McKinley, the author of the present infamous tariff law and a supporter of the more infamous force bill, was elected Governor.

In Massachusetts, on the contrary, where the Alliance has no foothold, the State went Democratic and the native city of Congressman Lodge, the author of the force bill, went overwhelmingly Democratic for the first time since the war. So it was in New York, and even in Iowa. In Maryland the people rebuked the threats of certain Alliance leaders to retire Gorman, by electing a Legislature overwhelmingly in favor of him. These results force to one or two conclusions Peffer, Simpson and that crowd abetted the Republican party where they could, or they have been claiming more strength for the order they represent than it really has. From the anxiety of these same Alliance leaders and the National Economist to obscure the tariff issue, on which the Democrats made their fight, one is forced to the conclusion that they deliberately played into the hands of the Republican party, and that all their brag and bluster about killing off old Sherman was so much by-play to cover their real design.

We note these facts in order that Southern Alliance men may be induced to open their eyes to the real situation. They have nothing to hope from Western Alliance men who are Republicans. They will encourage Southern Alliance men to cling to a financial scheme which the Northern and Western Alliance men largely repudiate, because the leaders of the order up to this point have been the means of disorganizing the Democratic party and dividing the solid South; but when they are expected to support the Democratic ticket to protect their Southern brethren from force bills and tariff robbery, they are found whooping up the Republican party and voting to keep old John Sherman and his sort in office. Mark the prediction: Kansas will go Republican.

publican by a tremendous majority in the presidential election next year. The Democratic party of the North is the only friend the people of the South have on that side of the line. It is always bad policy to trade off an old and tried friend for a new and untried one. The safety and interest of the Southern people lies in a preservation of their solidarity and loyalty to Democratic principles. They cannot afford to be fooled by the shrewd devices of their old time political enemies to first divide and then destroy them. We should stand shoulder to shoulder whether we be Alliance men or not. There should only one political test among us, and that test should be, "Is he a good Democrat?"

POLITICAL POINTERS.

By a Distinguished Observer of Current Events.

Four candidates in Sumter county and one in Hale county have published cards saying they are Alliance men but that they will not accept nomination at the hands of the Alliance organization. They want the votes of Democrats inside and outside the order.

A majority of the Democratic Executive Committee of Jefferson county are composed of Kolb men. Some time since they ordered a primary election for February 2, 1892, and provided that the man who got the majority of votes should have the entire delegation from Jefferson in the State Convention. Since Jones' speech at Birmingham and the formation of a Jones club, at the call of six hundred and thirty-four signers, the Committee have had a second meeting and provided that the delegation of Jefferson shall be prorated according to the number of votes each candidate gets and they have moved the primary election up from the 2nd of February 1892 to the 21st of December 1891. The friends of Jones are crowding over this action and say that it means that his friends have lost faith in Kolb's ability to carry the county and that they want to hurry up the primary before he loses all of his strength.

The West Alabamian says that Brother Adams has made acknowledgments to his church recently for devoting so much of his time to politics and has promised in future to address himself more earnestly to the work to which he felt the Lord had called him when he entered the ministry.

The Selma Mirror, the Alliance organ of the Fourth Congressional District, is trying to bring the Alliance back to its original purposes. Mr. R. B. Kelly, of Anniston is very favorably spoken of by the press for Judge of this Judicial Circuit. Since the opening of Court here it has developed that he is an open, announced candidate. He is a competent lawyer and popular and will make a good Judge, should he be elected.

Peffer and Simpson spoke at the State Fair in Birmingham. Peffer was to speak in the city at night; but finding the platform had been removed, said the people did not want to hear him and refused to speak. The platform had been removed by mistake.

President Polk, in a recent speech, is reported to have said that the Alliance will have a full ticket in the field in 1892. This means a third party if it means anything. Men who accept the nominations of a secret political order will be in poor position to ask the support of men who were excluded from any participation direct or indirect in their nomination. Secret political methods are repugnant to American ideas of free and fair government. All such experiments have failed in the past and will fail in the future.

At a public meeting the Democrats of Haywood county, Tennessee, denounced the secret political methods of the Alliance. A report of the meeting says: "The sensation of the evening was the action of Hon. D. O. Thomas, who has been a member of the Alliance ever since its organization in this county. In an eloquent speech he declared that the Alliance is a nuisance to Democracy and that the time has come when, as a Democrat, he could no longer remain as a member of that order. He, therefore, declared that he and the Alliance must part company, as it had been prostituted by designing demagogues, and he could not do otherwise than fight its principles in the interest of Democracy."

At a speech in Elizabeth City, Va. October 20th, President L. L. Polk had the following to say about politics and the Alliance: "They talk about politics, the Alliance is as full of politics as an egg is full of meat. Yes, sir, we are into politics and in there to stay. They talk about party, what is party? It is a nice little collar with a chain. I don't care who is nominated. I will vote as I please. Who has a patent right on politics? It depended on whether either party recognized the farmers as the balance of power whether there would be a third party. The people have risen in their might and assert that they have the right to help rule this country and they are going to do it."

President Polk ignores or overlooks the fact that the farmer can have quite as much or more political influence in existing political parties than they could have in any new party. Nobody wants to exclude them from full participation in politics; but the country does and will protest against the rule of any secret political organization, whether it be composed of farmers or any other class of people. Secret political methods and free government don't run together. Political action should be open, that men may be held to public account for what they advise politically.

Three Alliances in Mississippi have refused to pay any further dues on the ground that the money thus obtained is used to keep speakers in the field who are attempting to break down the Democratic party by advocating a third party.

Politics must be red hot, in Arkansas. The following dispatch tells a terrible story of political folly:

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Oct. 29. News reached here last night of a terrible hand to hand fight at Buckhorn, twelve miles from Eldorado, Union County.

At the Farmers' Alliance mass meeting last night, State Lecturer Bryant, of the Alliance, was the principal speaker of the evening. Shortly after he had concluded his speech, a quarrel took place among several spectators which was soon taken up by many others in the audience. Winchester rifles, shotguns and pistols were used with deadly effect. Burt Manning, J. H. Town and three others, whose names could not be learned, were killed and several slightly wounded.

Sheriff Dunn, of Eldorado, leaves today for the scene of trouble. Politics was the only and sole cause of the trouble. Later dispatches state that a three year old girl child was found after the fight, trampled to death. Some of the wounded have died. The feeling against Bryant in the State is intense, on account of the bitter character of his speeches, which brought on this sad and terrible affair. And yet men say there is no danger of a division of the Solid South, if this thing goes on? How it must delight the hearts of Radical South-haters up North to see Southern Democrats cutting and shooting the life out of each.

At the meeting of the Indiana State Alliance President Forre gave as the leading purpose of the Alliance in his State the nomination of an Independent ticket.

Tuesday and Wednesday at the Atlanta Exposition Jerry Simpson, Livingston and others spoke in favor of the sub-treasury and other contested planks of the Ocala platform and Congressman Oates, of this State, Gov. Tillman, of S. C., and Dr. Felton, of Georgia, spoke against them. This joint debate was arranged by the management of the Exposition.

The following is the program for the National Alliance, which meets this month:

On the first day, Tuesday, November 17, the addresses of welcome will be delivered at Tomlinson hall by Mayor Sullivan and President Forre, of the State Alliance, and responses will be made by J. F. Willett, National Secretary, and J. F. Willett, treasurer of the Alliance. The afternoon will be devoted to an executive session, and in the evening presided by L. L. Polk. On Tuesday night, Wednesday, addresses will be made by the president of the F. M. B. A., National Lecturer, J. F. Willett, and in the afternoon the executive session will be continued. In the evening, C. W. Macune and others will speak.

Thursday morning Jerry Simpson and Alonzo Wardell will speak, and in the evening J. F. Willett and Mrs. Anna L. Griggs.

Friday, in the forenoon, addresses will be by I. H. Turner and B. H. Oliver, and in the evening by L. F. Livingston and H. L. Lewis.

Saturday, J. H. McDowell and Senator Peffer will speak, and at night T. V. Powderly and Ben. Terrell.

Monday evening Ignatius Donnelly will address the audience.

Tuesday, the last day, William F. F. W. Leese, R. H. Humphrey and J. W. Weaver, will speak.

Solicitor Alto V. Lee is spoken of as a probable Congressional aspirant in the Third (Oates') District.

Mr. Cecil Brown, of Talladega, is spoken of as a Congressional aspirant in this, the Fourth District. The Alliance Herald says the Jones club at Birmingham numbers only 225, when the fact is 634 men signed the call for a meeting to form the club, and their names were published in the Age-Herald. The Alliance Herald has been actually in attendance at the first business meeting of the club. Let us all tell the truth about these matters as we go along. The people are entitled to know the truth and it never pays to suppress or distort it. It impairs the influence of a newspaper to do so, and is of no sort of political advantage. Honesty in politics is the best policy as it is in other things.

A prominent citizen of Dallas county has the following kind things to say of Mr. Grant through a recent issue of the Selma Times-Mail:

"Among the measures of the most extraordinary kind for the enactment of such laws as vitally affected our material and political interests, Mr. Grant could always be depended on for assistance. In fact, it became well known that he was looked upon as the special and able representative of Dallas county, as well as of his own. Mr. Grant has had large legislative experience since, and is recognized as a brilliant and able member of that great power, 'the press.' His voice and pen have, for years, been used without stint in the cause of true democracy. So without detracting from any one else, and not even knowing who will be in the race, let us not forget Grant. I say this without any suggestion or request whatever from him or his friends, but simply from a feeling of gratitude. If Mr. Grant should be nominated, this district will have a good and able representative."

Some Alliance men go so far as to suppose they may not be free to support men who run for office as of old. They hold that the office should seek the man. And yet Capt. Kolb, the very head and front of the Alliance in this State, is an announced candidate for governor and has been for a long time. The fact is nobody is going to wait for the office to find them. If they do not openly announce they will surely scheme for it. When a man wants an office, you may depend on him to meet it over half way.

Some people I have met seem to be afraid that the Alliance movement is going to damage the Democratic party in the South. That such is the intention of some of the leaders of the movement there can be no doubt; but the rank and file have not been heard from yet. About the time the leaders think they have got them well harnessed and when they give the word to start them out of their old party, there will be some of the tallest kicking you have ever seen. Take Calhoun as a sample of the South. Everybody knows that the most intelligent Alliance men of this county are as much opposed to a third party movement and secret political methods as the soundest true blue Democrat outside the order. The Alliance people of Calhoun are all right. They wear no bits in their mouths; they are free-born and white; they love their country and their party full as well as other men, and they are going to vote for the men of their choice whether they be Alliance men or not.

A Washington correspondent says that Jerry Simpson said, in that city, a few days ago, while on his way to Birmingham, that if the Democratic candidates for speaker were figuring on the participation of Alliance Congressmen in the Democratic caucus they are mistaken. He added: "We are going to keep house by ourselves." Most of the Alliance Congressmen from the South were nominated by Democratic conventions, and it is not believed that they will betray the party that nominated them. But we shall see what we shall see, in a few weeks.

The following wordy war between McDowell, President of the Tennessee Alliance, and a prominent Tennessee politician would indicate that politics are warming up in Tennessee also. Here it is:

BROWNSVILLE, Nov. 1.—John H. McDowell struck a snag yesterday in his city in the person of Frank P. Bond. McDowell and Pierce were called to speak here and a large crowd came to hear them, thinking they would be answered by Hon. D. O. Thomas and Frank Bond. McDowell was waited on by a committee and positively refused to divide time with Mr. Bond but began his speech with reference to the resolutions adopted by our democratic club Tuesday night, which resolutions were written by Mr. Bond. Among other things McDowell said: "Mr. Bond is an eloquent man, a fine speaker, and by the way, the lowest kind of a scoundrel. Mr. Bond is a smart man," he said, "but sometimes the smartest man is the biggest rascal."

Mr. Bond arose and advancing towards the stand said: "Mr. McDowell, if you mean to associate my name in that connection I desire to repel it, and here before this audience you as a lying puppy from the swamp of Desha, goading me, an associate of negroes and unfaithful to every cause you have ever espoused; a piece of corrupt purification, indecent and unworthy of the association of the lowest kind."

The miners in Tennessee have adopted the Kolb plan of breaking the convict leases, on failure of the Legislature to cancel them, and the result is the mountain people of Tennessee and Kentucky are in mortal terror of their lives, owing to the presence at large in their midst of four hundred de-praved convicts, lately released by force and contrary to law. The state has been disgraced and the tax-payers will be put to enormous cost to recapture the convicts and re-establish order. The moral effect on law breakers generally will be bad. Men won't fear to kill and rob and burn and go to the coal mines when they know that speedy release awaits them there by men who do not approve the contracts made between the State and the leasers of the convicts. This is all bad for Tennessee, but Tennessee has been spared a candidate for Governor who boldly announces his intention to smash the leases and throw the convicts on the shoulders of the taxpayers, if the legislature should fail to do so. On the contrary the Governor of Tennessee is offering a reward of $5000 for the man who inaugurated the Kolb plan of breaking the leases, and he will be sent to the penitentiary, if caught.

HE WITHDRAWS. Rather than Follow the Order into Politics. A recent number of the Livingston Journal contains the following card from Mr. P. B. Jarman, who is a candidate for sheriff:

"Recent developments render it necessary for me to withdraw from the Alliance, or remain in an organization apparently for the purpose of promoting my political interest. I have therefore made application for a court of record to dissolve the Alliance, declared purposes of the organization have my sincere approval and support, but if membership in the organization is to be used for the purpose of advancing the political interest of any candidate or set of candidates, I cannot consistently remain in the order. As a candidate for sheriff of Sumter county I respectfully submit my claims to the voice of the entire democratic vote."

"Not in Politics."

The Ohio Farmers' Alliance last week issued a manifesto declaring that it has no connection with the "People's party" of that state, and that it is not engaged in political contests. The slim vote to be cast for the People's party candidates in tomorrow's election in Ohio will in part be attributable to this repudiation of it by the Alliance.

We have no objection to make to the declaration of the Ohio Alliance that "it is not in politics." But it is in strange and significant contrast with the recent declaration of President Polk, that the southern branch of the Alliance is "as full of politics as an egg is of meat." Has it come to this, that in northern states like Ohio, in which a disruption of the old lines would be beneficial to the Democratic party, the Alliance is "not in politics," while in southern states, in which only the Democratic party can be hurt by such a disruption, the Alliance is "as full of politics as an egg is of meat?"

We again call the attention of the people of the southern states to the accumulating evidence that the Republicans of the north look upon the Alliance as the political wedge which is to split the "solid south." Senator-elect Peffer declares that such a result, even if the Alliance accomplishes nothing more, will be its most important work. We shall find in the elections of tomorrow evidence that the Republicans of the northern Alliances, who last year aided in giving their old party such an overwhelming defeat, are returning in large numbers to their former standards, and are relying upon a divided south to give them help next year.—Atlanta Journal Nov. 3rd.

Large Pumpkin.

Mr. J. Bate of this city has what one might call a curiosity. It is a pumpkin that will weigh not less than one hundred and twenty-five pounds. Mr. Bate said:

I have five hills of the mammoth Tours Pumpkin so named from having originated near Tours, France, where they are largely grown, both for table and cattle use. It grows to an immense size even with ordinary culture. In an agricultural report it is related that a single specimen has reached the enormous weight of three hundred and twenty pounds, and that the product of one vine amounted to nearly 900 pounds. The flesh is of a beautiful salmon color; solid nearly all through with very few seeds.

I have planted this season five hills and have cut three pumpkins from the vines for feeding, the weight was 80, 83, and 96 pounds each. I have twelve left, four of them will go over 120 pounds each now.—Acworth (Ga) Mineral Post.

Moulton Advertiser: We learn that the attendance—on the county alliance—was the smallest ever known, only about 11 delegates present, with the president and every member of the executive committee absent.

The question now arises why this great decline of the alliance? To every thinking mind the question will be answered at once. It is our opinion that the Ocala platform has done the work in Lawrence county, and by the time Elder J. B. Huckabee makes a few more of his political speeches to the public there will hardly be alliance brethren enough to form a quorum.

Birmingham is especially glad to welcome the State Association of Confederate Veterans. It was organized in this city, and has held its annual meetings here. It has done a great work, crowning its efforts with a special tax which nets for the needy veterans more than $130,000 per annum. Thanks to this association, the people were aroused to a sense of their duty by the men who fought their battles. We open our doors and raise our hats to the veterans.—Age Herald.

Jefferson county (including Birmingham) shows the largest increase of tax returns of any county in Alabama. It has increased from $397,092, 310 last year to $41,008,106 this year. Calhoun comes next with an increase of $1,788,198. Mining and iron manufacturing industries contribute most of the gain in these two counties. Montgomery comes third, with a gain of $1,412,176. The rate of state taxation in Alabama is only 4 mills on the dollar's worth of taxable property.—Atlanta Journal.

Tax Collector's Appointments.

I will attend the following appointments for the purpose of collecting the State and County tax of Calhoun county, Ala., for the year 1891. All tax is delinquent after the last day of December 1891. I earnestly request every one to pay taxes by that time and avoid the penalty fixed by law. After the first of January I will proceed as the law directs. It requires all the time allowed by law for me to close up accounts with the State and County, and it is absolutely necessary for me to enforce collections within that limit.

I will be in Jacksonville the last ten days in December for the purpose of collecting State and County Tax from all parts of the County.

The Republican.

L. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1891.

A man named Daniels was killed near Piedmont, a few nights ago, by a man named Ray. The difficulty was about a woman.

Rev. Daniel Duncan, well known throughout the South as an able and devout preacher, died in Talladega October 28th at the ripe age of 88 years.

Gen. Forney and Mr. L. W. Grant have been invited to speak in the western part of the county. The time and place will be announced through handbills, as soon as agreed upon.

The Selma Mirror, organ of the Alliance in the Fourth Congressional District, advises members of the order who may want office to announce like other people. It don't believe the office seeks the man much.

We have seen, in a large public school in Montgomery, the practical operation of the heating and ventilating apparatus which has been placed in the two new jails of this county, and it was a great success. There 600 children use the closets, yet no such offensive result followed as the grand jury fear. Mr. Hight makes no claim for the system that is not justified by experience. The commissioners are honest and practical men, and the county will find that they made no mistake in placing these hot air closets in the jails.

Last week we predicted that Kansas would go Republican next year by an overwhelming majority. We did not then have the election returns from Kansas. Since then the returns from that State justify the prediction. "The People's party in that State was beaten badly at every point, and McGrath, late President of the Kansas Alliance says the order in that State has fallen off one half. The people of the South can hope for nothing by a coalition with Western Republicans. They must stick together and stand by the Democrats in the North and East who have stood by them. This is their hope and their salvation.

His "Solemn Duty"

President L. L. Polk, of the National Farmers' Alliance, had a talk with a reporter of the Washington Post, after the recent elections. Being asked if he thought Cleveland would be nominated for President by the Democratic party he said: "I have been of that opinion all the while. It appears inevitable that Cleveland will again be chosen. In that event I shall deem it my solemn duty to take the stump against him in North Carolina. I would not be able to carry the State, and it is possible that he would not be successful in more than three States in the South.

President Polk evidently imagines that he carries North Carolina in his vest pocket; but after the election next year he will awake to a "solemn" realization of the fact that he has been very much mistaken. He and Jerry Simpson predicted a vote of 150,000 for the People's party in Ohio. They only missed it by 130,000. The South will stand by the Democratic party.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

"We have examined the county jail and report that in our judgment that the sanitary department of the jail will prove insufficient and a failure and that no human being will be able to live in the stench that will rise from the sinks."

The above is a copy of that part of the report of the Grand Jury for the present term of the Circuit Court that refers to the county jail. This report was submitted on the 7th inst. only five days after the new county jail was taken possession of by the County Commissioners and turned over to the Sheriff of the county for use.

The jury has evidently been badly duped by some designing person who has induced it to pronounce a verdict on a very important matter before investigation was made. The members of the jury were all virtuous, honest and intelligent, but it needs no proof to establish the fact that they know nothing of the science of sanitation. The County Commissioners have a full guaranty that the sanitary apparatus in the county jail will do perfectly and satisfactorily exactly what the jury believes it will not do, and in adopting the system the Commissioners Court has taken a step so far in advance of the old time methods familiar to the virtuous, honest and intelligent members of the grand jury that they have met with the above quoted adverse criticism. The system is working satisfactorily in jails situated in nearly every State in the Union, it has never been condemned where given a fair trial, but has in every instance given the full and most perfect satisfaction.

The company that placed the apparatus in the jail has satisfied the Commissioners that if the guaranteed results are not obtained that the whole apparatus will be removed and that the money paid will be refunded. The matter, however, is merely a matter of opinion expressed by the jury, not a fact as adduced upon which that opinion is based, and I doubt not that if the truth comes out it will be found that some one head who fancies that he has a grievance against the County Commissioners has imposed upon the jury that he might "get even" by arousing a feeling of distrust of the Commissioners in the public mind.

F. M. HIGHT.

SAM SLIM.

OXFORD, ALA., Nov. 10, 1891.

I went up to Jacksonville last week. Sue's statu quo, very much. The pyramid of iron ore, limestone, sandstone, erected still stands in the middle of the public square, and in silent but emphatic tones, says to the passer-by: "The mountains are full of us around here, only waiting for some body to get a move on himself, herself, or themselves, to make things hum." Well, that day is coming. My head may be too white to see it, but the amount of wealth that lies right at Jacksonville's door, in many places exposed to the naked eye, and in others just beneath a few shovels full of dirt, can't nestle where it has lain since the "foundations of the great deep were broken up" any great while in this progressive, get up and get age of the world. Keep your eye on Jacksonville and you'll yet see the smoke issuing from her mud some of these days, and it won't come from a volcano either.

Circuit Court was in progress and Judge Box and the jury men engaged in trying offenses against the peace and dignity of the State of Alabama, which peace and dignity had suffered dishonor principally by parties carrying little pistols in hip pockets, by assaults, assaults and batteries, affrays, and occasionally thefts. When the millennium is fully come I guess jury men can stay at home with their families, and judges and lawyers, clerks and sheriffs will be out of a job, or nearly so.

I like Jacksonville better than ever. Cause why? As Bob the newsboy said, I wore my store clothes and my high-top hat, and they up there are so accustomed to seeing people dressed up, they just looked on it as an every day occurrence. Gen. Forney's hat looked like it might have come out of the same box that mine did. Well, when I came to Oxford merchants, clerks, workmen, niggers & all, with one accord, began to taunt and jeer at me. Some wanted to know if I had been to a burning, if my cow was dry, if not, why was I wearing Mrs. Slim's churn, and I don't know what all. I told them Oxford was a poor-folks town anyhow. That it was about like a commissary store at a railroad camp. We have been so accustomed to seeing farmers come in to trade, wearing their every day clothes, that we have about come to the conclusion that they have no better ones. A great mistake, and that we can't afford good ones either. And I further told them that I was getting tired of going shabby and if the people in Oxford would go out to the country to church some Sunday and dress like the farmers how well they were dressed, more of Oxford, beside their humble servant, would get tired of going shabby, gentle.

Now, I want it to be particularly understood that all I have said about dress refers to the men. If I should intimate that the ladies of Oxford did not dress well the ladies of Oxford did not dress well, or if in consequence of anything I should say on that subject, the ladies should start out shopping, the men would start out shopping, and I would be shot on sight. All this would befall me besides any amount of certain lectures. So let it be understood the Oxford ladies dress, and dress well and dress tastily and the men can't help it, at least I can't.

SAM SLIM.

A decision of great value to newspapermen has just been handed down by the Supreme Court of the State of Michigan. During the second trial of the case of Elizabeth K. Sherwood, of the Chicago & West Michigan Railroad, in the Lower Court of Grand Rapids, the newspapers of that city published the fact that a verdict of $18,000 had been given in the first trial. Counsel for the defense moved to have the publishers of them fined for contempt. This motion was denied, and the trial resulted in a $15,000 verdict, which the Supreme Court affirmed. In its decision, the latter court said: "The defendants for counsel insist that this publication was prejudicial, and especially in view of the fact that the verdict in the present case was larger than in the former. This rule, if established, would render incompetent all who knew the amount of the former verdict. Intelligent men, who are the most competent jurors, who are usually readers of the newspapers. Newspapers have the right to publish verdicts and judgments rendered in the courts. However unwise it may be to publish them at the time of the trial no violation of law is committed in so doing, nor will the reading of them by jurors render them incompetent."—Memphis Commercial.

Twenty Bined Off One Potato.

George W. Scott has brought into the Telephone office a half dozen of the largest sweet potatoes ever raised, perhaps, in the country. They are "new issues," and the six weighed fifty pounds. The largest one was given by the editor to a family in which there were eighteen members—the husband and wife and sixteen children—all of whom were great lovers of potatoes. Sunday they decided to have it for dinner. It was fried—a part of it, at least—and was amply enough for all of the family, besides a married daughter and her husband, who were spending the day there. The remainder of this mammoth potato was made up into potato pone and furnished desert enough for the whole crowd and to spare.—Sylvania Telephone.

KANSAS.

Something About The Recent Election in That State.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 5.—The most impressive feature of the Kansas election was the practical wiping out of the People's Party, which swept the State last year. Returns from ninety of the 100 counties in this State show the defeat of the People's Party ticket in seventy-five counties. In the two Judicial Districts in which elections were held, seven Republicans, two Democrats and one Alliance man were elected. There were combinations between the Democrats and Republicans in three Judicial Districts, all of which were successful.

Jerry Simpson was the only Alliance Congressman who succeeded in putting his county ticket through.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Nov. 5.—The combining of the Republicans with the Democrats against the People's party in many parts of Kansas Tuesday really began in the last Legislature, where the two older parties, in order to accomplish anything, were forced to combine.

The session was remarkable for the little real work that was done. The Democrats and Republicans for the most part acted as obstructionists and by means of stirring up a three-cornered row in the Alliance itself, effectually downed much wild harum-scarum legislation advocated by third-party enthusiasts.

Before the election last fall it was tacitly agreed between the leaders of the Democratic party and the Alliance leaders that if the Democrats should nominate the old war Governor, Charles Robinson, of Lawrence, for Governor, the Alliance convention would endorse nomination and in return the Democrats were to accept the man the Alliance selected for Lieutenant-Governor on the Democratic ticket. The Alliance convention and the Democratic convention were held the same day in Wichita, but the Alliance, instead of nominating and endorsing Robinson for Governor, named J. T. Willets, a comparatively unknown man. The Alliance leaders may have intended to keep faith, but an enthusiastic delegate proposed Willet's name and that settled it.

L. W. Humphreys was re-elected Governor by the Republicans, and Willets came in second in the race. The Democrats were incensed and in the Alliance, which had cut their $8,000 majority down nearly half, the Republicans saw a "lusty foe." The third party then became the common enemy of Republicans and Democrats alike, and the battle in the legislature, which was almost overwhelmingly Alliance, resulted.

Following this came Ingalls's defeat, by Peffer, whose election has done more to hurt the third party than anything it has done before or since.

Before the campaign this year sections of the Republican and Democratic party in this State coquetted with the Alliance and talked fusion, but the third party, proud of its strength, refused to listen to these proposals and a general meeting of the Democratic editors in Topeka in June resented these proposals, as far as the Democracy was concerned, and declared bitterly against the Alliance. The defeat of the Alliance Tuesday last was the result.

WINFIELD, Kan., Nov. 5.—In this, Cowley County, the People's Party was born. In 1889 the Republican defeat was overwhelming, owing to local matters.

Out of this victory a few men conceived the idea of a People's Party for the county and then for the State. B. H. Chaver, who was afterwards elected to congress by the Alliance party, was at that time President of the State Alliance, and he succeeded in getting a State organization of a new party. The result was that the Democrats joined the Alliance movement and elected a legislature that downed John J. Ingalls.

This done the Alliance party boldly announced its antagonism to Republicanism and Democracy alike, and openly insulted Democrats who dared ask for a share of the honors won in a fusion campaign.

In the present campaign in this county, as in a majority of counties in this State, the Alliance boldly asserted its independence and the Democrats in the towns, finding that the brethren in the country were liable to join the "calamity howl," joined the Republican forces and administered a whipping the Alliance will not soon forget.

Hon. John A. Eaton, who was elected as a Democrat from this city to the Legislature, and who was the Democratic candidate for Congress in 1888, said to-night: "The Sub-Treasury Government loaning of money and Government ownership of railroads was thought by Democrats to be dangerous. The leaders of the Alliance, which advocated those measures, made it a point to go further and misrepresent the condition of Kansas, one of the most capable and grandest agricultural States in the Union.

It became necessary, in the minds of leading Democrats, to give this Alliance party a setback that would teach it conservatism at least. The Democrats have taught the Alliance party that arrogance and intolerance should not and must not be taught in reform politics."

Capt. Gray, late Democratic candidate for Sheriff, says: "I did not expect a large vote. Crankism and intolerance has gone to such extremes that good sense is no longer exhibited by the leaders of the Farmers'

Alliance. That organization needed a drubbing, and the Democratic farmers went to the polls with Republican farmers, shoulder to shoulder, and settled the hash of a party not called for by any issue."

This county gave from 400 to 800 Alliance majorities in 1888, from 30 to 200 in 1890, and thus far gives the Republican ticket pluralities of from 600 to 1,000, and the Democrats are rejoicing with the Republicans.

NEW SILVER COINS.

The Half Dollars are Considerably Changed and the Dimes Somewhat.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The director of the mint, with the approval of the secretary of the treasury and under authority of the act of congress, approval September 26, 1891, has accepted new designs for the sub-ordinary silver coins, the half dollar, quarter dollar and dime. They were designed by Mr. Charles E. Barber, the engraver of the mint, and are unquestionably very beautiful and a decided improvement upon the present designs. The new designs may be described as follows:

On the obverse or face of the coin is an ideal female head representative of Liberty, looking to the right with a calm and dignified expression, with an olive wreath around the head and Phrygian cap on back. On a band or fillet over the front of the head is inscribed the word "Liberty," and over the head at the top of the coin is the motto, "In God We Trust." Around the medallion are thirteen stars, representing the thirteen original states, and at the bottom the date of coinage. On the reverse or back of the coin appears the seal of the United States as adopted in 1782, which may be described as follows: An eagle displayed with open wings, charged on the breast a shield argent, six pallet gules, a chief azure, holding in the dexter claw an olive branch representing peace, and in the sinister claw a sheaf of thirteen arrows representing war. In its beak the eagle holds a scroll containing the motto, "E Pluribus Unum," inscribed above and about the head, with thirteen stars environed by clouds.

This will be the design of the half dollar and the quarter dollar, while the dime will have for the obverse (or face) the same head as the half dollar and quarter dollar, except that in place of the stars there will be the inscription "United States of America." The motto "In God We Trust" will be omitted from the dime. The reverse of the dime will be the same as at present in use.

The design for the reverse of the half dollar and quarter dollar is a return to the design of almost the first coinage of the country, while the female head on the face of the coins is far more beautiful than any which has yet appeared on our coins.

The engraving department of the mint at Philadelphia is at present employing all its energy to have the dies with the new designs ready to begin coinage by January 1, 1892.

Becky Latimer, Deer Slayer.

"That was quite an exploit of Mrs. Aiken of Colches killing two deer at Lewis lake the other day," said Sam Lewis, the well known sportsman, to a New York Sun man, "but is a trifling feat when compared with one performed by Mrs. Becky Latimer, the wife of my friend, Joe Latimer, of Sullivan county, Pennsylvania."

My friend Joe Latimer's wife is but 24 years old, and her father is one of the lumber kings of the Pennsylvania woods. Her husband is the manager of one of his father-in-law's big enterprises, and lives with his wife in one of the isolated lumber settlements of the region. From a girl, Mrs. Latimer has been an enthusiastic lover of fishing rods and guns. When she was 15 she went out on the ridges with her John, and stood on a runaway three hours on a cold, raw November day, while John and the dogs went to drive a deer to day. Somehow the deer lay low that day, but finally the dog started three—a buck, a doe, and a fawn. This interesting family of deer were sent straight to where Becky stood. She picked the buck, which was in the lead, and sent second barrel after the doe. The doe fell after three leaps forward but the buck and the fawn went on. By the time the dogs came up the girl had cut the doe's throat in true hunter's style. The dogs kept on the trail of the buck, and feeling sure she had hit the big fellow, she followed. And sure enough she had hit him, and hit him bad, for he lay dead in the brush not 200 yards ahead.

"While she stood looking at her prize another doe, probably startled from its undiscovered covert by the passing of the dogs on the trail of the fawn, came loping along in the opposite direction, and was passing Becky a good long shot away. The girl drew a bead on the unsuspecting deer and fired. The doe fell and got up again, but was scarcely on her feet before another ball from Becky's rifle caught her and she went down for good. The girl's brother came up just as the third deer was killed, and said afterward that there was no more trace of excitement about Becky than if she had been sitting at her piano at home. The three deer were killed in less than ten minutes.

"That was Becky's first hunt, but she has found time to kill at least one deer every fall but this one since then, and I believe her record is now thirteen, counting the two she knocked over last fall. She hasn't hunted any this year. Joe writes me that they have a 2-week-old baby at his house, and that if they have any von-son this fall he will either have to kill it himself or buy it.

WATER, WATER,

Oh, God, Give Us Water, the Cry Goes Up.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 9.—The people of Nashville are crying for water. A famine of the cheap fluid has struck the city, and the inhabitants on the outskirts are starving for nature's liquor.

"Water, water, oh! God, give us water!" said 200 women huddled around a small spring today in West Nashville. Nothing like it has ever been experienced in the South before. For whole days some families have gone without cooking, buying food already prepared. Water for drinking purposes has to be hauled two miles, and ulcers are breaking out in the parched mouths of those who have to beg for water.

Certain misers in the city who have springs near the outskirts are charging enormous sums for one draught of the precious fluid. The sick, who are forced by fever to use water, are in awful agony because of the famine. Respectable women have to walk a mile or more with buckets on their heads and beg water of their more fortunate neighbors.

A slight rain fell here today, and troughs, barrels, buckets and tubs were set out to catch the drops. People have been praying for rain for days past and today's rain may break up the famine.

The situation is horrible, as the districts crying for water have just been annexed to the city and the water department has not extended its works to the suffering community. The fire companies cannot obtain water to play on numerous fires breaking out in the district. Crops in the country near by are badly scorched.

Bill Stevens Talks.

Bill Stevens, of Anniston, a more or less prominent and influential negro Republican politician, was in Birmingham yesterday and his view of the political situation as given in to an Age-Herald reporter, will be found elsewhere at length. We publish Bill's utterances because they furnish the very strongest possible reason why Democratic white harmony and solidity should still be the watchword. If those Democrats who say bad things about each other could only know how sweet the sound of it is to the negro leaders, white and black, we are sure they would bear and forbear. Bill is on the war path and wants to take the saddle on the lead horse. He wants a vigorous campaign, and actually sees hope for his tribe in the dissensions among Democrats, slight as those dissensions are. If we should proceed to actual fighting among ourselves, the old negro Republican monster would be alive again in less than twenty minutes.—Birmingham Age Herald.

TWO OTHER CANDIDATES

Decline to Submit their Claims for Office to the Alliance.

Recent developments in Alliance circles in Sumter county, render it necessary that every Democratic candidate for office should declare his principles publicly. We therefore desire to say that we will not submit our claims to the office we seek to the Alliance, but to the whole Democratic party.

We are Alliancemen, but Democrats, and if forced to renounce either, propose to stick to the grand old party, because we believe it to be the sheet-anchor of white supremacy in the South.

J. E. SCALES,
U. A. WATTS.

How many people have ever eaten jelly made from elephants' tusks? Yet it is very good, indeed. In the English factories, where many tons of ivory are sawn up annually to make handles for knives and forks, great quantities of ivory dust are obtained. This dust is sold at the rate of six-pence a pound, and when properly boiled and prepared it makes the finest, purest and most nutritious animal jelly known.

European ladies are often invited to visit the harems of the rich Moors in Morocco, and some time ago one of the inmates—a beautiful young girl—fainted at the sight of one of the lady visitors removing her gloves. The young lady thought she was removing a thick skin from her hand, and the sight frightened her so much that it was some time before she could regain consciousness.

Six notices of intention to contest the right to seats in the new national house of representatives have been forwarded to the clerk of house. Three of the contestants are Republicans and three Democrats. Now let the Democrats, in marked contrast with the course of the slim Republican majority in the last house, decide each of these cases in accordance with the vote of the people of their respective districts.—Atlanta Journal.

NOW, LOOK OUT FOR A ROW.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 5.—Senator Shockey of Union County, leader of the Republicans in the Senate in the last Legislature, was in the city today. Mr. Shockey is greatly interested in the agitation of the boundary line question between Indiana and Ohio in which it is alleged that Ohio is entitled to a slice of the Hoosier State, varying from twelve miles wide at the northern boundary of the State to nothing at the southern line. It is not generally known, but it is nevertheless a fact, that a survey party sent out by the National Government has been at work on this problem for the last two months for the purpose of locating the boundary line between the two States. The work has been in the direction of Prof. Mendenhall and has been personally conducted by Col. Sinclair. The work has been completed within the past few days and the surveying party is now preparing its report, which will be ready to submit to the Government in about two weeks. Mr. Shockey has had access to some pretty good sources of information, and he states that the facts found by the survey are as heretofore alleged; that it is true that the line as declared when Ohio was organized into a State commences twelve miles west of the present boundary line at the north and runs directly south to the present line between Ohio and Indiana, thus making a strip 200 miles long and an average width of six miles—1,200 square miles—to which the State of Ohio lays claim. The strip described includes the cities of Fort Wayne, Richmond and Union City and a population altogether of about 200,000.

The agitation of this question commenced about a year ago, through a resolution adopted by the Ohio Legislature, reciting the facts as stated, and asking the National Government to correct the line. The detail of the surveying party to locate the line was ordered by the Government in compliance with the resolution. An inquiry into the causes that led to the juggling of these boundary lines discloses that at the time Ohio was made a State there were post traders located at Richmond and Fort Wayne, whose trade with the Indians was very profitable. If the line had been run correctly, these posts would have been taken into the new State of Ohio, and the occupation of these traders would have been gone. The post traders accordingly bribed the survey party which located the line, and Richmond and Fort Wayne were left on the Indiana side. The question is a very important and complicated one, for, should Ohio's claim on Indiana be enforced, Indiana, on the same grounds, would have cause of action against Illinois. If Indiana loses on the East, it would, on the same ruling, be entitled to a slice of Illinois, and this would give the Hoosiers Chicago and the World's Fair.

No Change in the Senate.

The Advertiser of yesterday said "no seats in the United States Senate were involved in last Tuesday's election." It was written and should have been published that "no seats in the United States Senate were involved in last Tuesday's election in Iowa, Massachusetts and New York." Ohio will choose a Senator to succeed Mr. Sherman and as the Republicans have a majority in both branches of the Legislature he will either succeed himself or give way to Foraker. The latter claims to have 20 majority but the wily Sherman has a barrel that has been on tap before when he was in a tight place. Senator Gorman will be re-elected in Maryland and the Democrats will also choose a successor to the late Senator Wilson.

The Legislature of Mississippi, just chosen, Senators, Mr. George's term expires on the 4th of March, 1893, and Senator Walthall's two years later, but before another Legislature will meet.

The Legislature is overwhelmingly Democratic, and opposed to the sub-treasury scheme, and George and Walthall will be re-elected, if the latter desires a re-election.

The Virginia Legislature will elect John W. Daniel to succeed himself. New York has annual sessions of the Legislature, and Senator Hisecock's (Rep.) term expires on the 4th of March, 1893. The State Senators chosen on Tuesday will hold over and take part in the election of his successor. It is the same way in New Jersey.

There will be no change in the political status of the Senate commencing March 4th, 1893, caused by last Tuesday's election.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Tax Collector's Appointments.

I will attend the following appointments for the purpose of collecting the State and County tax of Calhoun county, Ala., for the year 1891. All tax is delinquent after the last day of December 1891. I earnestly request every one to pay taxes by that time and avoid the penalty fixed by law. After the first of January I will proceed as the law directs. It requires all the time allowed by law for me to close up accounts with the State and County, and it is absolutely necessary for me to enforce collections within that limit.

I will be in Jacksonville the last ten days in December for the purpose of collecting State and County tax from all parts of the County.

W. U. ALMON.

The chief difficulty in the way of a general co-operation of planters in the policy of a reduction of the crop heretofore has been a want of confidence. No cotton planter felt assured that his example, if he reduced his acreage, would be generally followed. Most of them concluded that if the crop was to be a large one and the price low, whether they curtailed or not they had better have a full crop than a short one. But the Alliance now includes so very large a number of cotton planters in all the southern states that a policy of its recommendation will have a greater moral force to support it, and can be accepted by every planter with more confidence in general co-operation.

The prosperity of this great interest clearly depends upon a reduction of next year's crop, and the way to reduce it is for every planter to curtail his own crop, relying upon others to do likewise, instead of distrusting them.—Atlanta Journal.

Notice to Tax Payers.

The book of assessments for the year 1891 has now been completed and filed in my office by the tax assessor for examination. All persons are hereby notified that the City Council will meet in the mayor's office on Friday, Nov. 20, to correct any errors in said assessment.

H. L. STEVENSON, Mayor.

Reduction a Necessity.

The New Orleans Times-Democrat is not sanguine that the recommendation of the Planter's convention at Atlanta will have much effect in reducing the acreage in cotton. It refers to previous advice and resolutions of the same kind, which were disregarded when the time for planting came.

There is some reason to fear that this distrust is well founded. But the recommendation is this year made under circumstances that ought to give it greater weight. The mistake of planting too large a crop last year, is too plainly manifested to be overlooked. That production has outstripped consumption, and that there can be no profit in cotton culture until the overplus of production is arrested, cannot be doubted at this time.

The vote of Massachusetts, on the Governor's office on 4th inst., stands: Democratic 157,937; Republican 150,169; Prohibition, 3,162, a Democratic plurality of 6,868. Last year the party vote for Governor stood: Democratic, 149,597; Republican, 131,454; Prohibition, 13,554. Gov. Russell shows an increase of 10,599 upon his last year's poll. Col. Allen has achieved the still greater improvement of 18,715 over Gov. Brackett's figures. Mr. Kimball, Prohibition, makes a reduction of 5,392 from the earlier total. The Democratic plurality has fallen from 9,538 to 6,868, a decrease of 2,670. The increased votes for the leading party candidates testify the personal and political popularity of each. It is significant that the Prohibition vote lost nearly half, compared with last year, while the other candidates and parties scored liberal gains. The showing very completely disposes of the usual Republican assertion that Gov. Russell was re-elected simply because of his personal popularity. He was chosen over a very popular Republican, as Mr. Allen's gain over Brackett demonstrates; he was re-elected on his executive record, and also by way of compensating the position of the majority on tariff reform, his being the only position that can be said to be political in character.—Chattanooga Times.

Mortgage Sale.

Special Term of Court.

Notice is hereby given that a special term of the Court of County Commissioners will convene on Monday the 26th day of October 1891 and will continue from day to day, for the purpose of selecting a keeper of the Poor House of Calhoun county, Alabama, for the year 1892, and any other business of interest to the county or any citizen thereof. The court has fixed the pay per month at Seven Dollars, each for the paupers cared for in the Poor House during the year 1892. All persons wishing the position can hand their proposals, sealed, to the Probate Judge, or hand them to the Court on said 26th day of October 1891. The Court reserves the right to reject any and all proposals.

EMMETT F. CROOK, Judge of Probate.

A NOVELTY IN JOURNALISM.
Sixteen Pages in two Issues a Week
For a Dollar.

The Montgomery Advertiser has inaugurated some features in connection with its weekly that are not attempted at the price by any other paper in the United States.

It is now a sixteen page paper, and instead of the whole being sent out on the same day, it is issued in two sections of eight pages each one section on Wednesday morning and the other on Saturday morning.

The result is that the readers don't have to wait a whole week for the news; then to read matter four, five and six days old. They get the news twice a week.

No other paper in the country issues a 16-page paper at $1.00 per year, and none east of the Mississippi makes two issues a week at that price.

The Advertiser has all the general news and family miscellany that one can desire, including the popular "Rufus Saunders" farmer articles. And besides it has more Alabama news than any other paper anywhere.

Its politics are sound, clean and clear-cut. It is emphatically for straight Democracy, squarely against the Republican party's reckless oppression of the people through the tariff and by contracting the currency, strongly opposed to any division of the white people by a third party, and corruption and demagogism in all parties.

It is well printed on large type and is the cheapest paper in the world—16 pages, in two issues per week, at $1 per year. Send for sample copies.

Try subscriptions for three months only 25 cents. Now is the time, because there is going to be big news this fall and winter, in consequence of the National and State campaigns now well started.

The Republican.

L. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1891.

The Birmingham Age-Herald, reporting a joint debate between two gentlemen supporting Mr. Kolb and two gentlemen supporting Gov. Jones, at a point in Jefferson county, says that Mr. Kolb's supporters endorsed his position on the convict question and stated that when Mr. Kolb smashed the leases, the convicts could be thrown back on the counties and kept in the jails of the State. The supporters of Gov. Jones stated that he too was in favor of taking the convicts out from competition with the free miners of Jefferson county, but that he wanted to do it legally with due regard to the interests of the present lessees and without imposing such an enormous expense on the honest tax payers of the State as would be entailed by the enforced idleness of the lawbreakers in the State in the jails of the county.

A commission was raised by the last Legislature, at the suggestion of the Governor, to look into the whole convict question and report to the next session some feasible plan to rid the system of its objectionable features.

To enlarge the penitentiary and put in suitable machinery to work the convicts at trades would take long time and would involve an expense to the State of not less than half a million dollars. Besides this would not serve the purpose of taking them out of competition with honest labor. Laborers in other fields than mining would soon be making a clamor over cheap penitentiary prices of manufactured goods, as they did in Tennessee.

To keep lawbreakers in the jails to be fed in idleness, at the expense of honest men who work for a living, is not to be thought of for a moment. Such an arrangement would be an invitation to crime with a certain class of our population. Courts would have no terrors for them if the sentences of courts only served to land them in a comfortable jail to be fed and waited on by kind jailors. The question is one full of difficulties and this is the reason no Legislature has been able to solve it satisfactorily within the limited time allowed in this State for sessions. The desirable thing to reach is to find a plan that will take convicts from the field of competition with free labor and at the same time make the lawbreakers bear the expense of their own prosecution and conviction for their misdeeds. This is the work set before the commission created by the last Legislature and we wish to offer a suggestion to that commission.

The State has lately recovered from the general government a large body of coal lands, which it holds in common with the State's agent who secured them. Some of these lands contain the finest coal beds in the State, within easy reach of transportation. They belong to the public schools of the State. Why not let the State open these coal mines with her own convicts, and after paying expenses, turn the surplus product into the school fund? By this arrangement convicts would not only be forced to work out the expense of their own prosecution by the State, but they would be made to contribute to the education of the young and to that extent be instrumental in contributing to the decrease of crime in the State, for it is a well ascertained fact that education decreases crime in any community. In these State mines convicts should be worked exclusively. Here the State would be fully able to protect them against abuse or overwork and look carefully after the health of the convicts. There would be no temptation to work them when sick or to impose on them more than reasonable tasks. Competition with free labor employed in the mines could be avoided by the State refusing to undersell private mine owners and mining companies. There is no danger of an overproduction of coal in Alabama. The markets of the world are opening for our coal, and domestic consumption constantly increases.

The writer of "political pointers" in the REPUBLICAN of week before last was annoyed at seeing it headed "Political Pointers by a Distinguished Observer of Current Events." It was written "Disinterested" Observer, but the printer thought otherwise and the consequence was a shock to the modesty of the writer. There seems to be no way to avoid such ridiculous typographical errors, and writers for the press learn, in time, to resign themselves to them and only groan inwardly.

The Calera Journal is a new candidate for public favor in Shelby County. It is located at Calera and is edited by Frank Gist. Mr. Gist is one of the most capable newspaper men in the State and will doubtless make the Journal a success. This makes two papers for Calera, the other being the Shelby News, owned by Judge Campbell. All the signs point to renewed activity at Calera and a consequent growth that will add largely to the patronage of its local press.

The Randolph Reformer is a new paper at Wedowee. It is owned and edited by Mr. R. E. Merrill. It will advocate Alliance principles within the Democratic party. The first number is very creditable and will improve with successive issues. Bob is capable of making a very fine newspaper out of the Reformer and we hope he will have such a patronage as will justify him in doing it.

The Edwardsville Standard-News has passed into the Editorial control of Mr. Chas. Bachman, an educated and energetic young man. The paper has always been a good one, but there has been perceptible improvement under Mr. Bachman. We wish him the greatest success in his new field of labor.

The Commissioners Court has contracted for iron bridges over Cane Creek, at Bush's, and over Ochatie, at Reid's.

If the convicts of the state are not to be worked in the mines because they come in conflict with free labor, what is to be done with them? If they are worked on a farm or in the factories or the furnaces, or the mills, or in fact engage in any sort of work, they come in conflict with free labor. What is to be done with them? Shall they be sent to the penitentiary, clothed and fed at the expense of the public, and punished if they undertake to do any sort of work? These are not idle questions.—Greensboro Watchman.

THE GOOD OLD TIMES.

To be dissatisfied is the commonest fact to be noticed among men. The frequent remarks made about "the good old times" are misleading if they are meant to show them any better than the present. The human race is the same now that it was then—only that it has improved upon the past which can very easily be seen. It has done this in everything except in its own dissatisfaction with life as it finds it and making the best use of it as it unfolds day by day. What could the world do without railroads, telegraphs, telephones, sewing machines, reapers, threshers, cotton factories, iron making establishments, cities, towns and everything else that shows that the course of the race is onward and upward. The good old times exist no longer and why talk about them except in pleasant memory of the good that was in them helping on to the better which they prepared and to which they have given place. In one sense they are either a rotten egg that didn't hatch or an empty shell with the chicken grown too full over to put back in that or the nest from which it came. Here are a few pertinent facts brought to light by "The American Farmer" in its issue of the present month. It says "The Hon. J. R. Dodge, of the United States Department of Agriculture, came across an old day book at Boscewen, dated 1817, from which he extracted the following charges: Pound of coffee, 25 cents; 1/4 lb. loaf sugar, 27 cents; 1/4 lb. powder 17 cents; 1 lb. shot, 17 cents; 15 eggs, 15 cents; 3 lbs. cotton yarn, No 9, $2.25; nutmeg, 13 cents; 1/4 yard of cotton lining, 8 cents; 1 yard flannel, 62 cents; 12 pearl button, 17 cents; 1/2 yard cambric, 84 cents; skein silk, 5 cents; 1 1/2 yards calico, 75 cents; 1/2 yard muslin, 42 cents; 42 cents; 42 yards filled cloth $7.92; 4 yards of calico, $1.1/2; 1/2 yard shirting, 34 cents; 1 lb. sugar, 20 cents; 2 spelling books, 50 cents; 2 lbs. veal, 6 cents; 1 ounce indigo, 23 cents; 5 yards of calico, $2.25.

If anything is lacking in Cherokee to prove that prices of things bought in the stores and of things raised on the farm to pay for them were no better than these at a much later date the proof is abundant. It is interesting to call up the old settlers and let them answer these questions. Many of these live in settlements of our own acquaintance. We have heard them talk. They—we think of a few of them—the McGhees, St. Daniel, Rufus M. Hale, Perry Whorton, the McCulloughs, Ebenezer Cunningham, etc.—will tell you of cotton selling at 4 and 5 cents and calico and shirting at 25 to 37 1/2 cents, of corn and wheat at 20 and 50 cents, white nails and everything of iron and steel were enormously high, of iron and labor at very low figures. J. M. Daniel heaved logs at the big figure of 37 1/2 cents per day. Uncle Rufe Hale hauled cotton to Wetumpka at $2 per hundred and sat back at $4 per sack and didn't make as much clear money on a three week's trip then through the mud with his trip and four horses as can be made by a good hand now picking cotton in the fields.—Industrial Free-Press, Cedar Bluff.

What an Acre Can Do.

The editor of the Hot Blast saw a stalk of cotton at the Piedmont Exposition in Atlanta, last week grown by Mr. George W. Truitt, of La Grange, which contained four hundred open bolls. If one stalk can be made to produce so much there is no reason why every stalk in a field cannot be made to do as well. Suppose a planter by the intensive system of farming, that is by heavy fertilization, could bring up ten acres to such a state of productiveness. By the right method it would take only a few years to do it. Giving five feet each way an acre would carry 1764 plants. Forty bolls turn out a pound of seed cotton, and each stalk would produce ten pounds. This would be 17,640 pounds of seed cotton per acre; more than 6,000 pounds of lint, or twelve bales weighing 500 pounds each. You can cut the estimate one half and still the result is amazing. Mr. Truitt, within a few years, has brought the poor red lands of Georgia up to a condition that is a marvel of the age. He has gathered five bales per acre and greatly increases the product each year.—Cedar Bluff Free Press.

NATIONAL ALLIANCE.

Indianapolis is Being Filled Up With Members of the Alliance.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 15.—Delegates have been crowding in the city all day to attend the National Farmers' Alliance Convention which convenes Tuesday morning. Delegates from Missouri, Massachusetts, North Carolina, South Dakota, Louisiana, Oregon, Washington, Michigan, Texas, California, all reached the city during the day and everything promises to make a great convention.

The strongest and most remarkable feature of the meeting is that there seems not to be a ripple or discord among the delegates, who give an observer the idea that they are in earnest and mean business. The Alliance as a body will not take any action as to the third party and sub-treasury plan, and will undoubtedly be beset as to allow any one to step on the platform.

Every delegate has news of rapid and substantial growth of the order, and Kansas delegate bring proof that in the late election in that State the vote of the Third Party was increased instead of diminished as reports immediately after the election stated. The convention will be opened Tuesday morning by an address of welcome by President Force of the Indiana State Alliance, which will be responded to by Ben Terrill of Texas, after which President Polk of the National Alliance will deliver his annual address, which will be referred to an appropriate committee.

Every evening an open meeting will be held during the progress of the convention, which will be addressed by prominent speakers of the Alliance. National Chairman Taubeneck of the People's party reached the city during the day, and tomorrow night will hold a meeting.

The feeling expressed by prominent People's men indicates a willingness that new officers be selected to conduct the affairs in the future. Washburn of Massachusetts is mentioned as the possible successor to Taubeneck. Criticism of the present officers does not partake of the violent order further than a desire to have more experienced politicians in charge.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 17.—Third party men working hard to carry the Alliance into politics. This is strongly opposed. Convention shows much opposition to sub-treasury bill. President Polk is for it and advises members to stand firm. Rumors are thick of scandal implicating leaders with combinations with National Industrial Union (old Jute Trust crowd). Also charges that Macune has sold out to Louisiana Lumber Company and will encourage third party in that State to beat Alliance crowd who are against the lottery. Lack of harmony is apparent.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 18.—The longer the alliance remains in session the farther apart grows the various factions. It seems impossible to settle the various organizations down to any definite plan of action or to any united policy.

The third party fight is on in bitter earnest, and every move is made with more or less direct reference to this main issue. A split in the alliance on the sub-treasury and land loan principles now seems inevitable. Macune's resolution to reduce representation is likely to pass and give no end of uneasiness to delegates who have come here with a narrow allowance of funds. It developed that the treasury is nearly empty, and unless representation is reduced there will not be enough money to pay all delegates. The alliance has been falling off in many states, and state alliances have been unable to furnish their quota of assessments to the national body.

Rumors of scandalous revelations in regard to the action of certain alliance leaders are still floating around, but no publications have yet been made. That portion of the executive committee of the peoples' party now here is in almost continuous sessions. Its efforts are mostly directed toward a consolidation of the various industrial bodies in hope of getting the final endorsement of the third party idea, at the February meeting. Peoples' party men are still confident of carrying this point. The Farmers' Mutual Benefit association is having a hard time over the matter of funds. About half the organizations are delinquent, and there is no money for the delegates. As a consequence, the Ohio delegation left for home at 1 o'clock, and many more threaten to leave this afternoon and evening, unless the matter is adjusted. As no means of adjusting the matter has been presented, it seems probable that the Farmers' Mutual Benefit association part of the proceedings will soon come to an end.

In the alliance, McCune's resolution cutting down representation two-fifths because of low finances was adopted. In the Farmers' Mutual Benefit association it was found that many states are delinquent, Ohio being among the number. Today a resolution was passed not to admit Ohio delegates until the delinquency was made good. Ohio delegates would not pay up, and after a long wrangle the operation of the resolution was suspended in their case. Thus far everything is chaotic in the highest degree. There is no enthusiasm, as little in fact that the opening meeting announced for this morning was not held for lack of attendance. Convention committed itself to third party movement by instructing Alliance Congressmen to stay out of caucus of either of the big parties.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Among the names of those most prominently mentioned as democratic candidates for congressmen from the fourth district in the next contest, is that of Hon. L. W. Grant, editor of the Jacksonville Republican. Mr. Grant will be remembered as the young and brilliant legislator from Calhoun county in the session of 1874-75 when the black belt counties were misrepresented by scoundrels and carpet-baggers like Coon, Harris, and such negroes as Bleyins and Harraleson, and when those counties were wanting laws enacted in their interest. Mr. Grant was always their reliable champion and was even looked upon as the representative of Dallas as well as of Calhoun. Knowing as we do, that the democrats of Dallas never fail to pay debts, we can promise that he will have a strong following in that county. And if Mr. Grant is the nominee the fourth will have a good member.—Bibb County Blade.

L. W. Grant, editor of the Jacksonville Republican and at present State Senator from Calhoun county, is prominently spoken of as sound congressional timber from his district. Mr. Grant is one of the most prominent men in political circles in his district and is a man who would represent his constituents with honor.—Atlanta Herald.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the counties of Dallas, Shelby, Talladega and Calhoun, held at Sylacauga, Ala., Oct. 26th, 1891, the following resolutions were offered by G. T. Jones, of Shelby County:—

Whereas, The State of Alabama, by an act of the last Legislature has been re-districted, and whereas, we find ourselves in the new Fourth District without an organization according to party usage, therefore be it

Resolved, 1st, That a mass convention of the several counties composing the new Fourth Congressional District, (viz: Dallas, Chilton, Shelby, Talladega, Cleburne and Calhoun) be called at Calera, Ala., on Tuesday, Dec. 15th, 1891, at 12 M., for the purpose of selecting a Chairman and members of Executive Committee.

Resolved, 2nd, That the Chairman of this meeting be instructed to solicit the co-operation of the other counties of the district.

Resolved, 3rd, That these resolutions be published in at least one county paper of each county for four consecutive weeks previous to the 15th, of Dec. 1891. Adopted Oct. 26th 1891.

In the recent contests the most interesting to the South was the election in Mississippi, where the sub-treasury was the issue, and on which depended the election of two United States Senators. The Memphis Commercial of Sunday has the following on the subject from Jackson, Miss. "Nearly all the counties of the State have now been heard from and the result of the senatorial contest between Senator George and Maj. Barksdale will be about what the Southern Press News Association correspondent figured it several weeks ago. There is now hardly a probability of Barksdale's having more than one-third the vote of a full Legislature and there will be several members who cannot vote on account of having been instructed differently by the counties they represent. Six or eight will be in this attitude and consequently will not vote for either George or Barksdale. They however, will be free to vote for Walthall, and most of them will do so. Walthall will receive almost the full vote of the Legislature.

Lewis will get less than forty votes. Of the counties that had scrub races and independent candidates, that could not previously be counted, Barksdale will receive eleven votes and George six, with two votes in doubt, and two Senators, in the district composed of the counties of Chickasaw, Calhoun and Pontotoc, not heard from. It is generally recognized in this State that the sub-treasury question is the deadest issue that ever presented itself to the people for solution, and especially for one which at the beginning of the canvass appeared to have so much vitality, and whose advocates seemed to confidently believe would sweep the State.—Memphis Commercial.

The Journal is constantly receiving from Alliance men personal assurances of sympathy and support in its warfare on the sub-treasury scheme as a thing absolutely impractical in itself and as a device to distract attention from the great central issue of the tariff.

While some of the advocates of the sub-treasury idea are undoubtedly sincere in their belief that it would afford relief to the farmers, most of those who have been conspicuous in its advocacy understand very well that nothing can come of it, except possibly, a division of the democratic party in the south. This is just what they desire, either for their own profit, or for the benefit of a political party which they are interested in serving. The sub-treasury idea itself will not stand discussion. It has been riddled wherever its advocates have submitted it to fair debate. The honest democratic press has exposed the folly and danger of the scheme. The people have heard it discussed on the hustings, and many who once favored it have been convinced that there is no hope for them in the sub-treasury. They have also begun to suspect that in this agitation they have been used as the tools of designing men.

The result of the recent elections has had a very damaging effect on the prospects of the sub-treasury as an issue in the south. It is as clear as anything can be that the Democratic party can win a great victory next year if it will make its fight for tariff reform as the great need of the time and there is little danger that Democrats in any considerable number are going to desert their party on the eve of its triumph. The Democratic party has been battling for years for every just and constitutional demand of the Farmers' Alliance. The Democratic party in power would insure the adoption of every means of relief the government could afford the people.

The folly of deserting it now to chase wild and untried theories is becoming plainer to our people every day.

Their allegiance to the Democratic party will be found unshaken next year, and the demagogues who are now trying to divide them will have to resort to some new trick.—Atlanta Journal.

The Guntersville Democrat of last week says:

"President D. P. Horton, of the County Alliance, has handed in his resignation and asked for a withdrawal card. He will stick to the straight Democracy in the future and let the third party take care of itself."

SELMA, Nov. 14.—The Republican executive committee of Dallas county met here today, called together by Jerry Blevins, who is chairman of the committee. The purpose was to better organize the party and the usual amount of wrangling was had about the best way to do it. It seems that the organization in the new Fourth District is demoralized, and this meeting was to take steps looking toward a better organization. After two hours' talk it was decided to wait until the meeting of the State executive committee of the party, Jerry is a little non-plussed on the new fourth, and will be on hand to take charge of the gavel at Calera on December 15th when the Republican mass meeting comes off.

W. L. Parks, Esq., of Troy, is a candidate for Attorney-General.

Mr. J. A. Weatherly, of DeArmanville, who is a candidate for tax assessor, had the misfortune of being made a cripple a few years since by escaping from the burning Edmonson House in Birmingham.—Hot Blast.

Mr. Weatherly is a good man and a well known citizen of this county. He would make an efficient assessor if elected by the people.

The Alliance Convention of the Third Congressional District, at Eufula, a few days ago, called to put out a candidate to oppose Col. Oates, adjourned without action. The convention was fully attended but the differences in it were irreconcilable. Some wanted a straight out Ocala man named. Others opposed this and wanted to name a man outside the Alliance who did not endorse the Ocala platform, and still others proposed to name Oates as his own successor. It developed that fully half the delegates were opposed to the Ocala platform. Several aspirants, of various views, wanted to be named and each had his supporters in the convention. The convention adjourned, subject to call, but it is thought to be doubtful if it meets again. The Eufula Times, speaking of the convention says: "It is not so much a matter of getting a candidate as reconciling the differences among the Alliancemen themselves, which differences, it is thought, are irreconcilable."

Hon. L. W. Grant, of the Jacksonville Republican, was in Calera Saturday, and gave the Journal a pleasant call. Mr. Grant is state senator from the district composed of Calhoun and Cleburne, which position he has held for four years. In the senate he has won an enviable reputation, as in all matters coming before that body he has ever been on the side of right. True to his people he always had their interests in view, and only second to his own constituents were the people of the whole state. His course was conservative, and yet firm and bold. In many issues taking the lead and holding it to a successful finish. Mr. Grant is a candidate for congress from this district to succeed General Forney, who will retire after this session. Mr. Grant is offering himself on his merits as a statesman and a democrat, and represents that idea which has so long been the stay of southern institutions and which is the embodiment of the principles of good government. He goes before the people on no wild and speculative theories, but stands squarely upon the tried policies of his party. This early in the race he already has a strong following and the Journal safely predicts that the man who beats him will represent the fourth district in congress.—Calera Journal.

John Roles who lives in Milton county, near Alpharetta, Ga., about five years ago, found a stalk of cotton in his field that had red leaves and stalk. When the cotton matured and opened, the lint was red. He saved the seed each year and planted them, and this year he has a bale of red cotton. A sample was taken to the Roswell Manufacturing Company, at Alpharetta, but they could not work it as the lint was so long, their machinery being made for short staple cotton.

The people of Maryland last Tuesday voted by a healthy majority for Amendments to their State Constitution, by which certain abuses in the exercise of the tax levying power are to be done away with and in respect of taxes, equal and exact justice is hereafter to be meted to all classes. By these amendments, the revenue system of Maryland is to be assimilated to that of Pennsylvania, a system which, as the Baltimore Sun explains, which flexible and broadly comprehensive, bound the Legislature to a definite line of policy and minimized its power for mischief. The system thus put into force has not, of course, proved perfect in its practical workings—that would be too much to expect of any human experiment—but it has given very general satisfaction and has corrected many of the inequalities and abuses which were eating into the heart of the political welfare of the Commonwealth. Its success is the more remarkable from the strength and persistency of the corporate influences—more powerful and more insidious in their workings in Pennsylvania than in any other State of the Union—that have been its relentless foes. The taxation features of the Pennsylvania Constitution, while conceding to the Legislature a proper liberty of action, have really proved an iron curb upon concessions to influence "with a pull," owing to the fact that any legislation inconsistent with their plain provisions would be upset by the courts.—Memphis Commercial.

A NOVELTY JOURNALISM.

Sixteen Pages in Two Issues a Week.
Per Annum $1.00.

The Montgomery Advertiser has inaugurated some features in connection with its weekly that are not attempted at the price by any other paper in the United States.

It is now a sixteen page paper, and instead of the whole being sent out on the same day, it is issued in two sections of eight pages each one section on Wednesday morning and the other on Saturday morning.

The result is that the readers don't have to wait a whole week for the news, then to read matter four, five and six days old. They get the news twice a week.

No other paper in the country issues a 16-page paper at $1.00 per year, and none east of the Mississippi makes two issues a week at that price.

The Advertiser has all the general news and family miscellany that one can desire, including the popular "Rufus Sanders" farmer articles. And besides it has more Alabama news than any other paper anywhere. Its politics are sound, clean and clear-cut. It is emphatically for straight Democracy, squarely against the Republican party's reckless oppression of the people through the tariff and by contracting the currency, strongly opposed to any division of the white people by a third party, and corruption and demagogism in all parties.

It is well printed on large type and is the cheapest paper in the world—16 pages, in two issues per week, at $1 per year. Send for sample copies. Trial subscriptions for three months only 25 cents. Now is the time, because there is going to be big news this fall and winter, in consequence of the National and State campaigns now well started.

The Republican.

L. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1891.

Fonseca the President of the Republic of Brazil, declared himself dictator. A revolution followed and he has been deposed.

Few Alliancemen in Calhoun county will follow their leaders into a third party. They are good and true Democrats.

The third party has materialized in Georgia. Its organization has been going on in a secret and sneaking way a long time, according to the statements of some of its leaders.

The design seems to be to unite dissatisfied Democrats with the negroes and thus seek to control the State. The third party in Georgia is the successor of the late carpet-bag Radical party of that State, and so it would be in Alabama.

Some time ago the Commissioners Court made a contract with Mr. J. H. Marion, the former tax collector of the city of Anniston, to get up a list of the property in that city which has escaped taxation the past five years, and it is said that his report will show about three million dollars worth of such property. It is said further that his work has been so gratifying to the Court in this instance that he will be employed to extend it all over the county. It is to the interest of every tax payer to have a full and fair assessment. Such an assessment will reduce the general rate. Wherever any piece of property escapes taxation, a hardship to that extent is imposed on the men who pay their taxes.

Much has been said in a private way in this county about fraud at the last State convention, and it has had an effect to prejudice some minds against the nominee for Governor of that convention, who is again before the people for re-election. The charge of fraud has been abandoned. Neither Mr. Kolb nor his speakers in Jefferson have charged it. On the contrary Mr. Kolb has said that the most he has said was that there was a combination to defeat him. As all Democrats know, this thing of combination is no new thing. Under the old two-thirds rule of the party it often happened that not only the strongest man but all announced candidates were beaten and a new man entirely nominated. As the charge of fraud goes directly to the integrity of the party, and as it is important that Calhoun Democrats should not lose confidence in the honesty of their party, we reproduce this week entire the speech of Gov. Jones, dealing with this question of fraud and we ask our subscribers to give it a careful reading.

At the request of many of the most prominent men of the State, Chief Justice Stone, of this State, has given an elaborate opinion on the sub-treasury, land loan and railroad ownership demands of the Ocala platform. He shows conclusively that they are not only unconstitutional and would be so declared, if enacted into law, by the Supreme Court of the United States; but that the effect of such legislation, if it could be enforced, would be destructive of the government and bring universal ruin and suffering upon the people. Judge Stone is the highest legal authority in this State. He is an old man, is full of wisdom as of years. He has always been loyal to the best interests of the people. He is too pure and good a man to misrepresent the law the case or the effect of such legislation. His great reputation as a Judge would be injured if he should give an erroneous opinion for the sake of political advantage. We may therefore take it that what he says is true. If this be so, what patriot can longer insist upon those measures? We may print this opinion at a future date.

The writer has visited about fifty counties in the past three months, going into the homes of many of the farmers, and making diligent inquiry as to the true condition of the country. Not since the war has there been such universal prosperity among the farmers as at present. In a few counties there have been two or three crop years; but this year's crop has enabled many to catch up, while those who have made good crops for the past three years are comfortable, having paid all or most of their indebtedness and have their cribs filled with corn and their pens with hogs.

For five years past we have made nearly the same trip, and year by year the number of those who are learning that diversified crops are the farmer's only salvation is increasing. We venture to say that a large proportion of our farmers made enough syrup to furnish them for next year.

Then the farmer is learning the value of "natural increase," and this season double the number of home-raised mules and colts are seen of any previous year.

Another striking evidence of improvement is found in the fact that fewer farms are for sale than heretofore, and those that are sold command a higher price. Here and there we met a man who was going West, because he could buy no farm lands in his locality. The people realize that this God-favored land is the place in which to live, and hence they are improving their homes, enlarging their acres and educating their children.—Alabama Baptist.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

The convention that nominated Governor Jones in 1890 was one of the largest and, take it all in all, one of the most representative assemblies ever convened in Alabama. There were five Democratic candidates for governor, Jones, Kolb, Johnston, Richardson and Crook. They were all strong men and had actively canvassed the State and had much influence in having every county properly represented. Each candidate went before that convention as a Democrat, with his forces well in hand and with the implied solemn promise to stand by the action of the convention and to support its nominee. After a long and hard fight the present governor received the nomination and that nomination was made unanimous. Now, we take it that under this state of facts, no one of the honorable gentlemen who submitted their names to the convention has any right to question or impugn its action. That convention represented the people of Alabama, and its voice was the voice of the people.

Now, it is a part of the unwritten law of the Democratic party of Alabama that a governor who has but once been nominated and elected shall be entitled to a second term. This is eminently proper. The office of governor is the most important in the State and the term is only two years. The second term is an endorsement by the people of the administration of the first term, and the incumbent enters upon it much better equipped for the intelligent discharge of its duties. So binding has this custom become that the failure to secure the nomination for the second term has come to be regarded as a condemnation by the people of the administration almost equal to an impeachment.

Laying aside all prejudices, then, let us ask what short-coming or fault or crime is laid at the door of our present governor that he should be virtually impeached and denied the endorsement which has been accorded his predecessors? If there are any charges against Governor Jones let us hear them. Don't beg the question and insult the people of Alabama with that old chestnut about the convention that nominated him perpetrating a fraud, for nothing of the sort was done. It was a fair, square fight to the finish and Jones "got there," and all the other gentlemen acquiesced and made it "unanimous" and pledged themselves to support him. So if there had been any fraud (which there was not), they condoned it and promised to help sustain it, and thus made themselves "particeps criminis."

We are making no comparison between the merits of different candidates. We simply insist that there has been no reasonable ground yet stated for departing from the time-honored custom of giving to a faithful and competent servant of the people that endorsement which he, and any one of us in his place, would naturally expect and would very highly prize.—Fort Payne Journal.

Democrats in the South who were looking toward the third party, after seeing the result of the recent elections North and Northwest, are disposed to cling to the old party, which is the people's party.—Cullman Tribune.

The Third party members had it all their own way at Indianapolis; and our John Henry McDowell was with the majority. The Third party fellows elected the officers, declared for "separate political action" and the Ocala platform, sub-treasury included. Now we will have an anti-Ocala convention at Memphis on December 16, that will amount to something. Presently the Allianceists of the Polkberry variety can be counted without exhausting many figures or requiring much labor.—Chattanooga Times.

Stand to the Democratic party, firm and confident. The Democratic party enjoys the renown of being the oldest political party in America, and has the advantage of being both old and modern. It has stood the test of time while dozens of other political parties have sprung up, been weighed in the balance of justice, found wanting, and have again passed into oblivion, while the party of Democracy has stood firm.—Scottsboro Citizen.

That the Third party racket was gotten up by Republican Alliancemen to defeat Democracy and break up the solid south is now plainly apparent. Look at Ohio! It was claimed by the Macnees that the third party would do wonders in Ohio; that the Republican Alliancemen would vote the third party ticket. What do we see? Last Tuesday it was only the poor, backwoods district, Democratic Alliancemen who voted with the third party, the Republicans holding allegiance to the faith of their fathers. A word to the wise is sufficient.—Guntersville Democrat.

It has become an unwritten law or custom with the Democracy of Alabama to give their Governors their endorsement of a second term. Is there any reason why Governor Jones should be exempted from this rule? Has he been recreant to the trust reposed? Has he done anything to forfeit the good will of his fellow citizens? Has not his administration of the office entrusted to him been clean, honest and above reproach? Can the same be said of Kolb and his conduct of the Agricultural Department? Why then make any charge? Shall we ignore an established and long continued custom simply to gratify the political aspirations of one man?—Evergreen Star.

Candidates in Jefferson are to be assessed from two hundred and fifty to twenty-five dollars each to bear the expenses of the primary election in that county. The lowest assessment of twenty-five dollars has been put upon each candidate for County Commissioner, and it is said there are over fifty candidates for that office in Jefferson.

Mr. McAllister of Mississippi yesterday made public his charges against Macone, and the Reform Press Association support him, charging the editor of the Alliance National organ with "every kind of trickery and dishonesty," the telegraphic report from Indianapolis states. Will Macone answer him?—Memphis Commercial.

We copy some editorials this morning from the Alabama Mirror, Alliance organ for the Fourth district. In no less than four editorials in its last issue it urges the Alliance to return to its original purpose. This is very significant, indeed. We believe there is no conservative man in the order who is not in favor of calling a halt on the extremists, who have almost succeeded in committing the organization to irredeemable or flat money as well as to an onslaught on all offices. The conservative element in the Alliance is asserting itself as we always believed it would do.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Nashville Banner very fairly concludes that the reason for the Southern Alliancemen opposing the Third party at the meeting of the National Alliance in Indianapolis is that the recognition of that party by that body "would spoil their capturing the Democratic party in the South and committing it to Alliance principles. The Southern Alliancemen not in any degree differ with their Northern and Western brethren in the political creed professed, and this creed is that of the People's party, which the Northern Alliancemen propose to endorse. The Southerners only urge that the more effective policy will be to force Southern Democracy to uphold their candidates by continuing to act with the Democratic organization."—Memphis Commercial.

L. W. Grant, of the Jacksonville Republican, gave us a pleasant call last Saturday. Bro. Grant is a candidate for Congress from this district, is a Democrat, and would make an able and conscientious member in Congress, and will receive the support of his party. Success to you, Brother Grant.—Shelby News.

We are pleased to note the above endorsement of Editor Grant in the columns of our contemporary, surprising as it is. As its editor has stated that Mr. Longshore owned stock in the News, its endorsement of Editor Grant is to be taken as evidence that Mr. Longshore is not in the race for Congress. Those papers that have been industriously engaged in bringing Longshore to the front as an aspirant for Gen. Forney's shoes should set the gentleman right before the public.

Shelby (Columbian) Chronicle.

The Calera Journal pays Editor Grant, of the Jacksonville Republican, a fine but justly merited compliment in its mention of that gentleman's candidacy for Congress. However our young Calera contemporary does not make it clear as to whether or not it favors Mr. Grant over all the other gentlemen so far mentioned in connection with the race. Its preliminary "that the man who beats him will represent the fourth district in Congress" covers the Journal's position with an impenetrable cloud.—Shelby (Columbian) Chronicle.

The Chronicle is hard to satisfy. After complimenting our notice of Mr. Grant's candidacy for Congress, it insists that we are not clear as to whether or not we favor Mr. Grant over all the other gentlemen so far mentioned for the position. It is quite too soon to announce a preference, and as a newspaper is expected to support men in a race before the convention we thought we had said quite enough to convince the most skeptical of our belief in Mr. Grant's ability and fitness. However, if the exact position of the Journal cannot be understood a question will always receive an unequivocal answer. We don't know who has been mentioned for the place, but we are for Grant above any of them, and above any that may be mentioned. Will the Chronicle say as much? If so, there will be two papers supporting the best man in the district for the position.—Calera Journal.

The Calera Journal wants to know if the Chronicle endorses the candidacy of Editor Grant, of the Jacksonville Republican, for Congress. We can answer that question in a half dozen words: First, last and all the time.—Shelby Chronicle.

The Calera Journal, Frank Gist's paper, speaks out in unequivocal language about its choice for Congress. It says: "We don't know who has been mentioned for the place, but we are for Grant above any of them, and above any that may be mentioned." That is the kind of a friend to have when a man is running for office, and the Hot Blast takes pleasure in saying that he has a very level head.—Anniston Hot Blast.

We are reliably informed that many friends of Col. John W. Bishop in this and other counties of this Congressional District are urging him to become a candidate for Congress. If he consents to stand for the nomination he will have a warm and enthusiastic support. He has served the Democratic party long and faithfully without price or reward, and has never sought nor asked for any office.—Talladega Mountain Home.

Now that the Alliance in its national convention has declared, virtually for a third party, what will the Alabama Alliance do who are trying to straddle the Ocala platform and the Democratic platform at the same time?—Anniston Hot Blast.

Judge James A. Salter, president of the Clarke County Alliance, has resigned his office and withdrawn from the order. A great many sensible men have done the same thing. Politics is the cause of his withdrawal.—Anniston Hot Blast.

A FURTHER MERIT OF ALUMINUM.

In a brief article ten days ago, in which we called attention to the unprecedented order for 100 tons of aluminum sent by the German government to the Pittsburgh Reduction Company and to the shipment of ten tons as the first installment of the order, it was stated that the qualities on account of which the German government prized the new metal chiefly were its lightness and its non-corrosibility, and that those qualities made it useful above all other metals for the purpose to which they meant to apply it—the trappings of helmets, canteens, sword scabbards and the like. Through these properties of aluminum the soldiers would profit greatly by its substitution for other metals, as it would mean a relief from a portion of the burden which they have to carry, as well as from a considerable part of the labor which they have at present to undergo in keeping their own metallic ornaments and those of their horses bright and free from rust.

But it turns out that not only did the Kaiser's War Department want aluminum for the purpose stated, but they want it for a more important purpose still. Everybody of course knows that experiments have been going on for a number of years with a view to manufacturing a powder that shall be absolutely smokeless and noiseless; and the general opinion is that, in the next European war that takes place, the nation that has the nearest approach to a smokeless powder will have a great advantage over the opponent. In the experiments with the different kinds of powder claiming to be smokeless, if not noiseless as well, that have been made by the German War Department, it is said that all the new powders which have been found to be worth anything are characterized by the inconvenient property of destroying every available known metal, with the one exception of aluminum. And it is for the making of cartridges for the soldier and his charger that William's government has been ordering aluminum in large quantities from this country.

The ore from which aluminum has hitherto been most easily obtained, strange to say, has been imported into the United States from Germany—the very place to which the finished product returns in greatest quantity. But it is now reported that bauxite, the material which yields the metal in greatest abundance, is found in various parts of the United States, and in especially great profusion at Jacksonville, Ala.

Should this report prove to be well founded the South is in possession of a practically new industrial field whose magnitude is incalculable.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

STATE PRESIDENT BOLTS.

Washington Alliance Favors the Third Party Movement.

DAYTON WASH., Nov. 21.—The Farmers' Alliance State convention adjourned last evening after a very stormy session. A motion was made to select three delegates to the third party convention, to be held at Ellensburg, and to pay their expenses out of the State Alliance treasury. President Sutton ruled the motion out of order, but an appeal was taken and the president overruled. He then left the hall amid great confusion.

The convention was again called to order by the vice-president. Three delegates were elected to the third party convention and the motion carried to pay their expenses out of the Alliance from the treasury. President Sutton declares he will expose the Alliance for its political demonstrations and says it cannot be successful unless politics are dropped.

The Precedents.

Since 1819, including Gov. Jones, Alabama has had twenty-three Governors who were elected by the people. With the exception of Gov. Lewis all were elected by Democrats. Gov. Martin was an Independent Democrat, elected over Terry, the nominee, and did not offer for a second term. Gov. Chapman who succeeded him, was beaten for a renomination under the two-thirds rule, although he had a majority of the delegates. Gov. Shorter was defeated for a re-election during war times. Gov. Lindsay had sharp and bitter differences with the Legislature on several matters growing out of the A. & C. Railroad and did not offer for a re-election. There are only two instances in the history of the State, where a Democratic governor, elected as the nominee of the party, who sought an endorsement at the hands of the party, failed to receive it, and in one of these, the defeat was due to the two-thirds rule. The exceptions only prove the rule. The rule of a second term to a faithful governor has been almost universal. This practice and custom of the party has been unbroken for the past twenty-one years. There is no use to dispute what the rule of the party has been, and when a change is sought to be made in the case of the present incumbent, it is in order to give strong reasons for it. They do not exist.—Montgomery Advertiser.

The Cotton Picker.

A writer in the Home and Farm says of the new machine: "Probably no inventor ever encountered more serious difficulties than did Captain James P. Cunningham (now of Anson, Jones county, Tex.) during the eleven years of arduous labor he has spent in developing his cotton harvester. Being a lawyer by profession, he has no mechanical training whatever, and all the work necessary to a long series of costly experiments and to be done by others under his direction. He soon discovered that no practical cotton harvester could be made, except upon the same general principle that grain harvesters are operated, namely:

To gather the entire crop at one going over and afterward to separate the cotton from the extraneous matter necessarily gathered with it, such as hulls, stems and leaf trash. Upon this plan the cotton gatherer is constructed, and did actually gather cotton each afternoon during the two weeks of the Dallas fair.

The cotton is gathered by curved iron fingers, supplied with bristle tufts, between which the limbs of cotton pass. These fingers are fixed in horizontal sections to an endless apron, and they strip the stalks clean, and empty the cotton with all the adhering trash into a large canvas receptacle carried on the rear end of the machine. Two very common mules operated the picker or harvester with perfect ease, gathering a row of cotton in the same time it would take to run a furrow of same length—that is, in an ordinary walk.

There was a small per cent of cotton knocked out upon the ground, which, of course, the machine did not get; but scarcely a boll was missed by the gatherer on the stalk. The two or three per cent, dropped or knocked out upon the ground need not be lost, however, and can be rapidly picked up, trash and all, by two hands (children will answer) following the machine about as fast as the ground is gone over. Trash not being the least in the way, no pains is taken in picking up the few locks from the ground. From six to ten acres can be gathered a day, the cotton being emptied into wagons as gathered and either hauled to pens or direct to the gin, where the separator is at work taking the cotton from the trash. This it does thoroughly, bringing it out in a much better and cleaner condition than ordinary hand-picked cotton is found.

The cotton harvester will, no doubt, bring about a radical change in the cotton-growing industry of the South. It will lessen the cost of gathering one half or more, virtually rendering the cotton independent of the cotton picker. While it will probably cause an increased production in the South, it is just as likely to cause a decrease in foreign countries where the density of population makes labor-saving machinery unpopular and in this way it will give the South a practical monopoly of the greatest fiber and money crop on earth.

It may reduce the price a little, but the great cheapening of the gathering heretofore the heaviest expense incident to cotton production, will still enable the producer to realize more profit than he now does. Diversified and intensive farming will be encouraged also by the introduction of the cotton harvester. As the harvesting will be based upon the cost per acre, the producer will naturally want to get the best yield possible; the cost of gathering one bale per acre being very little if any more than gathering one fourth of a bale.

Instead of occupying weeks, the harvesting of the cotton crop will be a matter of but a few days. Hence, the farmer will have more time to devote to other crops, stock, etc.

The great aluminum factory near Pittsburgh has contracted with the German Imperial War Department, to deliver to it several hundred tons of the metal, to be used in the construction of soldier's accoutrements, buckles for the artillery harness, cavalry saddle trimmings, etc. It is a curious fact that the peculiar earth, bauxite, from which the metal is extracted, has heretofore been almost entirely imported to this country from Germany, while the latter has been the biggest customer of our manufactures. Experts say that great quantities of bauxite exist in North Alabama, being specially plentiful near Jacksonville. If this is true the cost of the production should be very greatly reduced.—Chattanooga Times.

ARE YOU ONE OF US!

It seems almost like throwing the money away to pay tailors $40.00 and $50.00 for what you can get of us for $25 or $35. They rail, and rant against ready made clothes—but it's the pricking of the consciousness of excellence. We've gone in to win the trade of a class of gentlemen who are particular—but who are ready to give merit its dues. Have a look at our line of fine SUITS and OVERCOATS. If you've looked the best tailor's stock over you have seen the same grade of goods—with a third more at least, "hacked off" to the cost. The cheap tailors and the rest of the ready made clothiers haven't a suggestion of them even. Our's are in all the genteel effects. Effects that you don't find outside of a dozen mills if you look the world over for them. We put these fine fabrics right into OUR OWN

TAILOR SHOPS and when they come out there's nothing choicer to be had. We are willing to stake our reputation on the perfection of the fit, the elegance and thoroughness of the finish and make. Try them on; it won't cost anything but time; and we are sure you'll give us the endorsement we deserve. We never go "off half cooked." When we make a claim we plant it in rich soil of facts, and it don't take long for it to bring forth fruit.

Our efforts are telling on our trade. It's growing amazingly.

Such is our Success!

Respectfully Yours,

Administratrix Sale of Land.

Under and by virtue of a decree of the Probate Court of Calhoun County, State of Alabama, rendered on the 29th day of June 1891 I, as Administratrix of the estate of J. W. Hamilton, deceased, will sell the following described land of said estate, at public outcry, to the highest bidder, upon the premises, to-wit: The Section Eight (8) and S W quarter of S W quarter and N E quarter of S W quarter and a part of S E quarter of S W quarter of Section Nine (9) all in Township Fifteen (15) Range Six (6) East, also sixty acres more or less in the N W quarter of Section four (4) Township fifteen (15) Range Six (6) East in Calhoun County, Alabama. Said lands will be sold either in a body or in separate tracts as may seem to the best interest of the Estate. Term of sale Cash, sale will be on December 16th, 1891 at 12 o'clock M.

Mrs. S. G. HAMILTON, Administratrix.

Public Road Letting.

A special Term of the Court of County Commissioners is hereby called to meet on the first Monday in January 1892, being the 4th day of said month, for the purpose of receiving bids, and letting the public roads of Calhoun County for the year 1892, and for the transaction of any other business that may be for the interest of the County, and people. All parties wishing to bid on the over-seeing the public roads for said year will deposit sealed bids with me on or before said day of letting.

EMILY F. CROOK, Judge of Probate.

Administratrix Sale of Land.

Under and by virtue of a decree of the Probate Court of Calhoun County, State of Alabama, rendered on the 29th day of November, A. D. 1891, I, as administratrix of Nathaniel Cobb, deceased, will sell the following described lands of said estate, at public outcry, to the highest bidder, upon the premises, to-wit: The NW 1/4 less section thirty-four, township fifteen (15) and range nine (9) east, on Choctaw Creek, in Calhoun County, Ala. Said lands will be sold in four lots, which will be shown by survey and plat, exhibited at the time of the sale. Term of sale, one-third cash, balance on credit of one and two years, in two equal payments, with interest from date. Two sufficient securities will be required on notes. E. W. COLE, Administratrix.

Tax Collector's Appointments.

I will attend the following appointments for the purpose of collecting the State and County taxes for Calhoun County, Ala., for the year 1891. All tax is delinquent after the last day of December 1891. I earnestly request every one to pay taxes by that time and avoid the penalty fixed by law. After the first of January I will proceed as the law directs. It requires all the time allowed by law for me to close up accounts with the State and County, and it is absolutely necessary for me to enforce collections within that limit.

I will be in Jacksonville the last ten days in December for the purpose of collecting State and County Tax from all parts of the County.

A Trial Trip.

The Memphis Weekly Commercial, the great Southern newspaper, will be sent on trial to new subscribers four months for 25 cents. Address, The Commercial Publishing Co., Memphis Tenn.

THE MONTGOMERY ADVERTISER

Sixteen Pages in two issues a Week For a Dollar.

The Montgomery Advertiser has inaugurated some features in connection with its weekly that are not attempted at the price by any other paper in the United States.

It is now a sixteen page paper, and instead of the whole being sent out on the same day, it is issued in two sections of eight pages each one section of which is made up and mailed on Wednesday morning and the other on Saturday morning.

The result is that the readers don't have to wait a whole week for the news, then to read matter four, five and six days old. They get the news twice a week.

No other paper in the country issues a 16-page paper at $1.00 per year, and none east of the Mississippi makes two issues a week at that price.

The Advertiser has all the general news and family miscellany that one can desire, including the popular "Rufus Sanders" farmer articles. And besides it has more Alabama news than any other paper anywhere.

Its politics are sound, clean and clear-cut. It is emphatically for straight Democracy, squarely against the Republican party's reckless oppression of the people through the tariff and by contracting the currency, strongly opposed to any division of the white people by a third party, and corruption and demagogism in all parties.

It is well printed on large type and is the cheapest paper in the world—16 pages, in two issues per week, at $1 per year. Send for sample copies. Trial subscriptions for three months only 25 cents. Now is the time, because there is going to be big news this fall and winter, in consequence of the National and State campaigns now well started.

Application for Decree to Sell Land.
STATE OF ALABAMA,
CALHOUN COUNTY.

In Probate Court, Special Term October 15th 1891.
This day came S. D. G. Brothers administrator of the estate of E. G. Lee deceased, and filed his application in writing and under oath, praying for an order and decree to sell certain lands in said application described for purpose of paying the debts of said estate, upon the grounds that the personal property thereof is insufficient therefor.

It is ordered that the 10th day of November 1891, be and is hereby appointed the day upon which to hear and determine the said application, and notice is hereby given to E. G. Lee, of Waukegan, Illinois county, Texas, and all other persons interested to appear in this court on said 10th day of November 1891 and contest said application if they think proper.

Tredgar National Bank of Jacksonville Ala., vs.
Southern Ice & Cold Storage Company.

Circuit Court of Calhoun County, Alabama.
It appearing that the above entitled cause was instituted in this court by the issuance of an attachment against the estate of the Defendant, which said attachment was given the 15th day of October 1891, executed by the Sheriff of said county, by levying upon the following property of said Defendant to-wit: One lot fronting one hundred and ten feet on Park Avenue and running back east to track or right of way of the E. T. V. & G. R. R., said lot lying north of an extension of Tredgar street into Park Avenue together with all the improvements and fixtures on said lot and belonging to said Southern Ice and Cold Storage Company. That said defendant is a non-resident of the State of Alabama, whose place of residence is unknown. This is to notify the defendant of the issuance of said attachment and that said cause will stand for trial at the next term of the Circuit Court of said county to be held on the 4th Monday in April 1892, at the place of holding the same.
