Convention Call.

Pursuant to instructions of the Democratic executive committee of the 7th judicial circuit, which met at Talladega, Ala., Feb. 29, 1892, I hereby give notice that the convention to nominate a candidate for judge of said circuit will meet at Talladega on Wednesday, June 15, 1892, at 10 o'clock a. m.

The following counties compose the seventh judicial circuit:

Calhoun	will be entitled to 16 delegates
Clay	" " " 8 "
Cleburne	" " " 8 "
Shelby	" " " 8 "
St. Clair	" " " 8 "
Talladega	" " " 8 "

T. S. FLOWMAN, CHM.
Dem. Ex. Com. 7th Judicial Circuit.

The Alliance Herald charges that Kolb was traded off by his delegates in the late county convention. We don't know about this, but if they did it is very certain they got nothing by the trade.

The beat meetings are for Saturday the 25th of June and the county convention is called for June 25th, at 12 o'clock M. Remember the date and go to your beat meeting. All the people are deeply interested in the coming county convention.

When a candidate for the Legislature approaches you for your support ask him how he stands on county measures now agitating the people of the county. The people have the right to know the position of men who offer to become their lawmakers upon all matters touching their interest.

The bolters mass meeting at Oxford sends the following Kolb delegation to the State Convention: G. W. Eicheleberger, L. A. Allen, J. M. K. Gunn, E. W. Teague, P. P. Harrison, W. D. Smith, R. L. Allen and T. L. Harvey. The convention then adopted a series of resolutions denouncing Mr. Whitesides, a good Democrat, for doing his duty by the party in the beat meeting and then adjourned. These are the men who lately were claiming to be the genuine Democrats.

Commissioner Jake DeArman writes a letter to the Hot Blast advising the election of two men to the legislature who will vote for the extension of the jurisdiction of the Anniston City Court all over Calhoun county. He says a big fight may be expected in this county on that issue. This may not be the only issue. At least one candidate is out who is not only opposed to extension, if the people do not want it, but who is in favor of letting those beats now in its jurisdiction out, if they want to go out.

In a private letter to Mr. L. W. Grant, Hon. A. G. Smith, Chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee disclaims making the remark attributed to him by the Anniston News, to the effect that the work done at the late Calhoun county Convention was the "best political work that has been accomplished in any county in the State." The Anniston gentleman who informed the News that Chairman Smith made such a remark, now owes it to the News to explain why he misrepresented Mr. Smith.

Why don't the proposed beneficiaries of the recent political deal in this county trot themselves out for the Legislature? And why does their organ object to the Hot Blast even canvassing their names before the people? Is it the intention to spring men for the Legislature on the coming Convention of whom the people have not heard and whose claims have not been canvassed and compel support of them by virtue of the nomination? Does not this fighting under cover savor much of trickery and trade. And does this kind of procedure bode any good to the people? No man should be either nominated or elected, (if there be no nomination) who does not have the courage to avow his candidacy and tell the people what he proposes to do when he goes to the Legislature.

The Anniston Hot Blast reports a mass meeting of negroes at Cloccolecco Saturday last, at which the course of the negroes of Calhoun in the campaign for county candidates was discussed. They decided to discourage the idea of the negroes voting for a candidate merely because he came out as a Republican, but resolved to vote as a unit and "favored the idea of voting for the candidates that are most favorable to their race." A committee of five were appointed to select candidates to whom the negroes will give their support. They passed unanimously a resolution to demand mixed juries where one of their race is tried, as the price of their support. This is precisely what the editor of this paper predicted in his speeches in this and Shelby counties would follow white division. The demand will not stop at mixed juries. Whenever the Democratic party in Alabama divides on men or measures the negro comes in as the determining and most potent element in our politics. If the people are wise they will give the cold shoulder to bolters and traders and stand by the Democratic party. And the party must be kept to its high purposes and not be used for the promotion of private or mere local interests.

The Anniston Evening News is conspicuously inexact when it says made an attempt to break the rule of rotation between Cleburne and Calhoun on the Senatorship some years ago. The facts are exactly the other way. Cleburne presented no candidate up to the last hour. When she did so, Mr. Grant retired from the contest on the express declaration that he could not run against a Cleburne man. This too in the face of the fact that a majority of the delegates in the convention were for him and his nomination would have been certain, if he had remained in the field. Cleburne thoroughly understood his position at that time and at the succeeding Senatorial Convention sent a solid delegation for him. The News cannot cloak a contemplated break of good faith with Cleburne under any charge of bad faith with that county in the past on the part of Mr. Grant and his friends. He and those who have supported him have always acted honorably and in perfect good faith with Cleburne and they intend to continue to do so. So will the great masses of the people of Calhoun.

The rumor is current that it is the purpose of those who hope to manipulate the coming county Convention to have that Convention to advise the calling of still another Convention in July for the purpose of nominating a full county ticket. To this end the negro candidate racket will be worked for all it is worth. The people of the county should be careful in the selection of delegates to the coming county Convention. The great Democratic party should not be used to further private interest in any direction; and men who seek to so use it are unpatriotic.

Brother Jake should remember that it is one of the best principles of the Alliance to discourage litigation and settle disputes by arbitration. He should also remember that the county Alliance of Calhoun has declared in unmistakable and emphatic way that the people of the county don't want any more courts to breed litigation and its attendant expense.

The editor of the REPUBLICAN has so far taken no hand in the contest for county offices, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding; but if any candidate is anxious to provoke his opposition he will be cheerfully accommodated. The REPUBLICAN visits a thousand homes in Calhoun weekly and has many warm friends among the men who vote.

The Third or People's Party was born at Birmingham Monday after brother Adams' Conference had finished his work. Gaither is chairman of the State Executive Committee of the new party. Calhoun appears to have been represented by Dick Hocking and another gentleman from the Anniston trades council. It is said that Hocking is a force bill Radical.

The call for the mass meeting at Oxford of the "true Jeffersonian Democrats" for June 1st, states that it is to protest against boss rule and, if thought proper, to select delegates to the State Convention.

The People's Party, lately born in Alabama, will hold a convention in Birmingham June 18th. It is probable that a state ticket will then be nominated.

God give us more Lon Grants. He opposed the Anniston city court bill, giving concurrent and co-extensive jurisdiction with the circuit courts in Calhoun, because it would have drafted farmers as jurymen and witnesses at the busiest season of the year, and Anniston, not understanding him fully, went against him for Congress, while solid for Jones, for Governor. Lon Grant will never go back upon the principles taught him by the veteran editor of Alabama Democracy whose successor he is, nor those of Forney and his predecessors whose eschews are untarnished by any blot that disgraces their record.—Cherokee county Free Press.

Mr. Grant of Calhoun don't seem to be entirely out of the race for congress. His friends claim with apparent reason for the claim that he only suffered defeat in the Calhoun convention to the extent of not being permitted to name the delegation from Calhoun to the district convention.

If this claim be true, and the Calhoun delegation are as friendly to Mr. Grant as to Mr. Lane then the former "is in it" to a greater extent than the latter.—Selma Journal

Commenting on the article in the Age-Herald touching Mr. Grants bearing in the late county convention, the Calera Journal says:

Such actions are few in latter day politics, and the man of whom such a compliment may be written is greater in defeat than in victory. Mr. Grant is one of the old guard democrats with whom party stands above personal ambition, and the country needs more like him. These men in his own county who defeated him may be ashamed of their despicable course. Such incidents will be remembered long after the present.

The Alabama editors have been so busy with politics this year that they have had no meeting of their Association. It is now contemplated to meet in Opelika sometime in the early fall. It will be a most pleasant occasion in a thriving town.—Montgomery Advertiser.

To THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF CALHOUN COUNTY.

At the convention of the Democratic party of Calhoun county held at Jacksonville on May 17th 1892, the following resolution was adopted:

The beat meetings shall be held in the several beats on Saturday June 25th, 1892 at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting delegates to said convention to be held at the court house in Jacksonville, Ala., on the 25th, day of June 1892.

D. T. GOODWIN, Chairman.

The New York Journal of Finance, a thoughtful and able chronicler of the current history of the country, says:

"Careful observers are noting with interest the calm feeling with which the public and more especially the business world awaits the approach of the Presidential campaign. But a few years back business men looked upon 'presidential year' with apprehension and dread, expecting as a matter of course considerable depression in business and financial circles. To-day the nearness of what bids fair to be a most interesting political campaign does not seem to have any appreciable effect upon commercial affairs. Merchants, manufacturers and bankers are counting upon an active and prosperous business season from this time on, and present signs seem to bear out this expectation.

"This state of affairs is not due to a growing lack of interest in the political fortunes of the nation. On the contrary, current political events are today watched by the public generally with closer and more intelligent interest than ever before in the country's history. The shouting and clamor of former campaigns has given way to the thoughtful study and discussion of the principles of the great political parties and the results to be anticipated from the ascendancy of one party over the other. The radical change in campaign methods has a tendency to bring about a feeling of content and helpfulness in the business community."

The Democratic organization of the State was never more compact and thorough, and was never in better condition to resist the onslaughts of whatever opposition may arise. The party will win this year. There is not a shadow of doubt about that. Jones will be the next Governor of Alabama.—Montgomery Advertiser.

The Calhoun Baptist Association, which met at Jacksonville on Friday started off very enthusiastically. Twenty-nine churches were represented by 75 delegates. Capt. James Crook was elected moderator, Dr. Ayers, secretary, P. B. Brown, treasurer. The association will hold its next meeting at Harmony church on the G. P., in Choccolocco Valley on Friday the 2nd Sunday in October.—Hot Blast.

A LETTER FROM JUDGE CROOK

IN WHICH HE MAKES A VIGOROUS DENIAL OF THE COCHRAN CHARGES—AN APPEAL TO THE RECORDS.

No Intimation That Mrs. Cochran Had The Slightest Claim to the Land—A Salty Card.

JACKSONVILLE, Ala., May 31, 1892. EDITOR REPUBLICAN, Jacksonville Ala., Dear Sir—I am informed that certain opponents of mine are industriously circulating that which purports to be a letter written by one Mrs. Cochran of Anniston, charging me with having purchased a piece of land from the United States Government on which she had a claim, and on which she at the time lived. Mrs. Cochran is a stranger to me, if she ever had any claim to the land, the Records in this office fail to show it, AND THE RECORDS OF THE COURTS OF CALHOUN COUNTY SHOWS THAT SHE DID NOT LIVE ON THE LAND WHICH I PURCHASED FROM THE GOVERNMENT.

I never in my life had any intimation, directly or indirectly, from Mrs. Cochran that she had the slightest claim to the land in question. I never sent Mrs. Cochran any message of any kind or description, about this or any thing else in my life. She was not on my land as I am able to show by documents higher than her declaration, and as she was not on my land, and I was not aware of the existence of any such person, it would be unreasonable to charge me with having given her notice to "get off of my land."

I am sure that Mrs. Cochran has been inveigled into signing something, the contents of which she was ignorant; she could have no motive in this misrepresenting me to the public. I feel sure when the people find who is at the bottom of this matter they will brand it as a malicious campaign lie, started for the sole purpose of slandering me, and injuring me with the people whose good opinion I have labored so hard to merit. I have labored for forty years to build an honest name for myself and posterity, and I feel confident that the shaft of wicked calumny will rebound and strike him whom it was intended to benefit. God knows that I would not have any office in the gift of my people, if I had to get it by an effort to ruin the character of my fellowman. I have no unkind words for my traducer, but regret exceedingly this effort to inaugurate a "kitchen campaign" one of ROBBLE AND SLANDER. I have been unable to see the letter in question, hence write of its contents as circulated, and I emphatically deny its truthfulness, and have official documents in my possession showing the charge to be false in toto. And again why has Mrs. Cochran been quiet all these years, and only makes the matter public on the heels of an election? The answer to this question is so plain that "HE WHO RUNS MAY READ." With sincere regrets at having forced to write this, I remain

Your obedient servant,
EMMETT F. CROOK

A JERSEY COW

That Beats All Records in the World.

Huntsville, May 29.—Lily Flag of the Monte Sano dairy here surpassed last night the world's greatest Jersey cow butter producer, with four days of the record in one year, made 1025 pounds and 15 1/2 ounces of butter, while Lily Flag has reached 1029 pounds and 13 1/2 ounces, and her year does not close until next Wednesday, when she will reach at least 1042 pounds. The official test was made by a representative of the American Jersey Cattle club, which also selected four of the Monte Sano dairy to be that many of fifty Jersey cows from the United States to be exhibited at the World's Fair.

Great Land Sale.

Owing to the settlement of the affairs of the Charleston, Cincinnati & Chicago R. R., the Iron Belt Land Company, of Johnson City, have decided to have a sale of lots in their beautiful residence property on June 1st, 2nd and 3rd, and this occasion the E. T. V. & G. Ry will sell round trip tickets to Johnson City and return from all points at one and one third fare for the round trip, on May 31st and June 1st, tickets good to return ten days from date of sale.

Sugar Stacked Up.

BERLIN, May 29.—Last year $3,678,899 worth of sugar was exported to America from the consular jurisdiction of Berlin, including the two great sugar centers, Hamburg and Madgeburg. During the quarter of this year not one pound of sugar was exported. One hundred thousand tons of raw sugar are stored in Hamburg, and an equal amount is held at Lubeck, Stettin and in the manufacturing districts. The German merchants and producers wish to sell, but no buyer appears. It is a very unusual situation, and many reasons have been given for its existence.

Heavy Hail Storm in Alabama.

Selma, Ala., May 27.—The heaviest hail storm known in years fell at Uniontown, thirty miles from here, at 2 p. m. The proverbial hen-egg size was nowhere. The stones covered the ground to a depth of four inches. Much damage was done.

A Third Party.

One of the most persistent of the advocates of a third party is Mr. Polk, president of the North Carolina Alliance, himself a candidate for any kind of an office, from the presidency of the United States down to ward constable. Mr. Polk is like a great many others, he is a man of disappointed ambition, and probably seeks the organization of another political party, not from belief that there is real need for such, but to further his own ambitious ends.

That there is no need for a third party ought not to cause much argument. What can not be attained in the way of healthy legislation through the democratic party cannot be attained at all, for that party is always ready to zealously watch over the interests of every class of citizens and to do whatever lies in its power to advance the welfare of all. But the democratic nor any other party can afford to yield to the absurd and wild demands of the Ocala platform, which could not be made practical even if both houses of congress and the president should assent to them. The leaders of the third party movement know this perfectly well, but they must get up something to give them notoriety, and no other means for so doing at present present themselves.

While this general statement holds good in all sections and in every state in the union, it particularly holds good in the south. Were the third party and its Ocala platform with its sub-trotsky and other similar provisions, practical at all, they could never be adopted in the south, since an effort to do so would necessitate a division of the democratic party, and such a division would mean social and political death to any state that attempts it. With the democracy of any state of the south weakened by division, the republican white leaders and negro cohorts would find it an easy task to get possession of the government, and the days of reconstruction are not things so remotely in the past for people to have yet forgotten what horrors always attend negro and republican rule. Unless a southern state is ready to see its social system entirely subverted; its finances in confusion; its people demoralized and its ship of state a stranded wreck, drifting about without rudder or compass, the prey of political sharks and harpies, it will never consent to let loose from its sure-moorings in the safe democratic harbor to trust itself to the uncertain and dangerous winds and waves of third partyism. And when this danger stares any southern state squarely in the face, not one will dare venture the experiment. Virginia tried it once, and was only too glad to get back to port, and will be likely to stay there for some time to come.

It is not probable Mr. Polk is making any great headway, and as he will not be likely to, he should emigrate to Kansas and join hands with Sookless Jerry, where he might get himself elected to congress. Otherwise, like Tennessee's McDowell, he may attain to ephemeral notoriety, to be followed by permanent oblivion.—Memphis Commercial.

Diversification—The Farm a Factor.

There has recently been some awakening among our Southern cities and towns in the matter of diversified manufactures, a movement full of significance and value to the entire section as indicating that there is to be an effort made to supply the "home market," that led the record in one year, made 1025 pounds and 15 1/2 ounces of butter, while Lily Flag has reached 1029 pounds and 13 1/2 ounces, and her year does not close until next Wednesday, when she will reach at least 1042 pounds. The official test was made by a representative of the American Jersey Cattle club, which also selected four of the Monte Sano dairy to be that many of fifty Jersey cows from the United States to be exhibited at the World's Fair.

As the small amount of available capital in the South for such purposes, there is also lacking, in great measure, the practical and technical knowledge upon which success must be built.

The first thought of those whose minds turn to the factory is to draw to their aid the brain and brawn of the skillful of other sections. But before their aid can be commended to any valuable extent there are some fundamental points to be met. Among these there are none more valuable than the agricultural conditions—that is, if they are such as to invite attention.

A stranger coming to a town like Chattanooga, for instance, looking for a location or investigating the opportunities, is first struck with the rural surroundings. He inquires, "What kind of farming is done?" "What must be the answer?" "That agriculture is the basis for wealth in the United States has long since been demonstrated, and it is an unfortunate fact that our Southern agriculture is not up to the requirements, is not capable of offering a home market of any home market of any great value to the very manufactures we seek. This applies to the section at large more than to our city alone, for the conditions here are somewhat different, owing to our splendid transportation facilities, through and by means of which we can reach out to the farthest limits of the territory which might be called a home market, and the venture located here is more strictly a commercial venture than if in some less accessible location.

In spite of these conditions, the cities and towns of the South have grown and are growing rapidly, more rapidly in fact than the surrounding country would seem to justify; but we think some signs of awakening among the farming classes are apparent.

Improve your farms and the factories will follow of their own volition. In other words, if we have a rich farming community, the manufacturer will seek it, and not the farmer the mill, and the home market will take care of itself.

THE REPUBLICANS

Harrison Will Head the National Ticket.

WHITELEW REID GETS THE SECOND PLACE.

Blaine's Magnetic Name Has Lost Its Power—The Work of the Convention Given in Detail.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 7.—The Republican convention hall of 1892 was opened to the general public with an event long and pleasingly anticipated in local musical circles—a grand concert by a chorus of 1,000 voices, supported by the second regiment band of Chicago.

Fassett Is Chairman. At 13:40 Mr. Clark announced that the national committee had recommended Mr. Fassett, of New York, for president.

and there was a painful suspense while these two reports were orally submitted as to what would follow.

The Harrison men set out fully confident that the day's proceedings would result in the nomination of their leader.

The convention was called to order at 11:30.

David Martin was announced as national committeeman from Pennsylvania, vice Mac Quay.

Two seats were given to delegates from Alaska and Indian Territory, each the first time in a national convention.

At 12:17 Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, upon the call of states, took the platform, and when he mentioned the name of James G. Blaine, there was tremendous applause.

He predicted a grand Republican victory in November for the unwarred leader of the Republican party, J. G. Blaine.

He said Blaine had never been president of our country, but he would be. He said he was proud to cast his vote for a man who always sought everything for his country and nothing for himself.

Mr. Wolcott closed amid renewed cheering and loud cries for "Blaine! Blaine!"

At the call for Indiana, Colonel Dick Thompson took the platform to place the name of Harrison in nomination.

Thompson said he proposed to present a man who does not seek success by the destruction of any other great Republican.

"I nominate for president General Harrison," he cried, "and I believe in him as I believe in the God of our fathers."

Great cheering and applause followed for Harrison was more general and prolonged than that for Blaine.

Most of the Massachusetts, Connecticut and Michigan delegates remained seated. The cheering for Blaine was increased all over the hall.

Michigan called. No candidate presented.

Estis of Minnesota, took the platform to second Blaine. He mentioned McKinley as the great leader and savior of protection. Estis' mention of Blaine's name aroused a storm of applause.

Matison (colored), of Mississippi, took the platform to second Harrison. He said he believed in Harrison as he believed in the God of our fathers.

There was much cheering all over the hall.

Deputy referred to McKinley. Great demonstration all over the hall. Deputy said: "Who will be given credit for the great acts of the administration?"

Some one in the audience called out, "Blaine!" Great applause.

Deputy said he believed in no one in the admiration and respect of the Republican party for Blaine, nor did he yield to any one in admiration for McKinley, the author of the tariff bill.

HARRISON NOMINATED. The Tide Was Too Strong to Stem, and the Hoosier Wins.

of religious inertia, we are opposed to any union of church and state.

We reaffirm our opposition, declared in the platform of 1888, to all combinations of capital organized in trusts or otherwise to control arbitrarily the condition of trade among our citizens.

We heartily endorse the action already taken upon this subject, and ask for such further legislation as may be required to remedy any defects in the existing law, and to render their enforcement more complete and effective.

We approve the policy of extending to the advantage of the free delivery service now enjoyed by the larger cities of the country, the benefits of the postal platform of 1888, pledging a reduction of letter postage to one cent, on the earliest practicable date, consistent with the maintenance of the postoffice department and the highest class of service to the people.

We commend the spirit and evidence of reform in civil service and the wise and consistent enforcement by the Republican party of laws regarding the national defense and to build up and maintain an American commerce, and it should be maintained by the United States government.

We favor the admission of the remaining territories at the earliest practicable date, and we believe in the protection of the people of the territories and of the United States. All federal officers should be removed from office for cause, and the right of self-government should be accorded as far as practicable.

We favor the creation, subject to the honest laws, of arid public lands to the states and territories in which they lie, and we believe in the protection of the right of self-government should be accorded as far as practicable.

A NEGRO BRUTE. Has Justice Meted Out at the Hands of a Negro Mob.

FORSYTH, Ga., June 9.—Intense excitement prevails among the negroes three miles north west of here.

Anderson Moreland, the leader of a disreputable gang of negroes, recently assaulted a negro girl on the plantation of Messrs. Brooks and Newton as she was returning from the field where she had been at work.

Moreland dragged the girl into a cluster of bushes and after accomplishing his purpose, left her.

She was soon discovered by a negro man to whom she disclosed the name of her assailant. The news spread rapidly over the neighborhood, and soon a hundred or more infuriated negroes were searching the woods and fields for the fleeing fiend.

He was after several hours found in a cabin where he had taken refuge from a dozen or more enraged negroes.

He was subject to almost horrible punishment which will cost him his life. He was stripped of his clothing and beaten into insensibility and then bruised and bleeding, was forced into a huge tub of hot salt water.

His cries and groans were the occasion for laughter from his pursuers and Moreland was then taken to the jail, but was taken in charge by relatives.

It is said that his recovery is impossible and the negroes are seemingly jubilant at the treatment he received, which was worse than if he had been lynched.

TILLMAN OF SOUTH CAROLINA. The Governor Unleashes Some More Vials on the Heads of Opponents.

BARNSVILLE, June 9.—Under the grove of trees where eight negroes were brought from the county jail in December, two years ago, and lynched and then riddled with bullets, Governor Tillman made this sensational utterance at the first meeting of the Democratic state campaign.

"There is only one crime that should bring on lynching. I, as governor, would head a party to lynch any negro that would rape a white woman."

The remark caused a profound sensation, and it is said on all sides that the governor has condemned himself out

GO TO WORK.

THAT'S THE PROGRAMME OF THE STATE COMMITTEE—CLUES IN EVERY PRECINCT.

Official Statement of Delegates Who Went Out With Kolb.

MONTGOMERY, June 11.—Every body has gone home except the executive committee, who held a meeting this morning to arrange some preliminaries of the campaign. The whole energies of the committee are from this time addressed to work! work! work!!! They don't want anybody to think that the committee entertains the foolish notion that the Democratic party can sit down now get up in August with a victory in its pocket. They send an urgent call that every Democrat shall go to work now and get ready for the most stirring and energetic campaigns ever waged in Alabama. The committee insists that in every beat there shall be organized a Democratic club at once and that it shall go to work.

Governor Jones tersely sums up the situation in these words: "I do not entertain a doubt of success in August, but we must win that success by work. Urge upon our people that work is the keynote of victory."

The figures on the bolting delegates are at last definitely arrived at. The following table shows the number of delegates who were accredited to seats by the state executive committee:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Number of Delegates. Includes Bibb (1), Blount (1), Bullock (6), Chambers (6), Chilton (2), Choctaw (1), Clarke (1), Conecuh (1), Coosa (2), Elmore (2), Etowah (3), Geneva (1), Jefferson (4), Lamar (4), Lawrence (4), Limestone (5), Macon (3), Madison (1), Perry (1), Pike (1), Randolph (3), Sumter (4), Tallapoosa (4), Tuscaloosa (4), Marshall (6), Fayette (5).

Total, 97. Of these, Marshall and Fayette were replaced by the regular Jones delegates, and the Jones men from these counties say their cases before the credentials committee were so clear that they would have been seated even had the Kolb prima facie delegates remained and claimed their seats. The above table is authentic, and is obtained from the secretary, Mr. A. Steinhart.

It is reported here on good authority that the Kolb executive committee will put out the same ticket for supreme court judges that the regulars did.

STATE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

1. That the assumption and exercise by the federal government of other powers than those specifically granted in the constitution is usurpation and oppression; that a strict construction of the powers of the federal government is essential to the protection of the people of the several states in their domestic affairs, of life, liberty and property, and to the preservation of our republican system of government.

2. That in the administration of the federal government the reserved rights of the states must not be impaired; and that force bills by congress or electors for president and vice-president will be destructive of the rights and liberties of the people of the several states and of the harmony which should always subsist between the people and their servants; and we therefore denounce as unconstitutional and revolutionary the recent attempt of the republican party to pass what is known as the force bill.

3. We declare as a fundamental principle of democratic faith that no more revenue shall be raised by the federal government than is necessary for the payment of the national debt and the support of the government, honestly and economically administered; and that in laying duties on imports, any discrimination in favor of one interest or business, or of one section of the union to the detriment of the others, finds no support in the constitution and none from a just regard of the rights of the people. That equal justice to all and special privileges to none is the bed-rock principle of the democratic party—the party of the people. We are, therefore, opposed to all manner of bounties, subsidies and paternalism in the government; and we demand that the McKinley bill be repealed, and that the tariff be so reduced in rate and so reformed as to subjects that are necessities, and such articles as the masses consume shall be as lightly taxed as possible.

4. That the democratic party of Alabama expresses its condemnation of the republican party for their administration of the finances of the country, under which the demand of the people for a sufficient circulating medium has been ignored, and silver has been driven from its time-honored and rightful place and uses under the constitution of the United States, where it was maintained so long as our party had control of the national legislation. And we demand that such laws be enacted as will secure the issue of safe, sound and elastic currency sufficient to meet all the demands of the people. And we demand the repeal of all federal taxation on the circulation of state banks.

5. We demand that congress repeal all laws authorizing national banks to issue notes to circulate as money based upon the credit of the government.

6. We demand that all moneys appropriated by the federal government for the payment of pensions shall be raised by a gradual income tax.

7. We are opposed to the ownership of railroad and telegraph lines by the federal government, and to the multiplication of offices, but we favor the control and regulation of lines of transportation and communication so that only a fair and reasonable rate shall be exacted of the people.

8. That public office is a public trust to be administered for the good of the whole people, and not spoils to be distributed as rewards to unscrupulous partisan favorites.

9. We endorse the administration of Grover Cleveland and recognize in him one of the ablest living exponents of the true principles of the democratic party.

10. We demand that free labor shall be relieved of competition with convicts, and all necessary laws shall be enacted to forever prevent such competition.

11. We favor legislation that will provide a more efficient system of public schools.

12. We favor such further legislation as will better regulate corporations chartered by the state.

13. We favor the passage of such election laws as will better secure the government of the state in the hands of the intelligent and the virtuous, and that will enable every elector to cast his ballot secretly and without fear or constraint.

14. We favor the election of railroad commissioners by the people.

15. We endorse the wise and able administration of Thomas G. Jones, who has followed in the foot-steps of his democratic predecessors in redeeming every pledge made to the people to give them an honest, economical and just administration of the affairs of the state.

NEW PARTY LAW.

Resolved, That it is the duty of the state executive committee to preserve the integrity of the party organization, and to this end they shall have power and authority— 1. To prescribe the qualification of voters at the primaries of the party.

1. To provide so that the primaries for the selection of delegates to state and congressional conventions shall be held in every precinct on the same day.

2. That wherever any nominee of a regular democratic convention in this state shall refuse to fail to support the nominees of this convention that all democrats are absolved from supporting him, and that the executive committees of the several counties in this state in accord with this convention be and are hereby authorized to take such steps as may be necessary to nominate others in lieu of them thus refusing. If a committeeman refuses to support the nominee of such county then the democrats of such county may reorganize upon the advice of the state executive committee after an application in writing, signed by not less than twenty democrats of such county. The state executive committee shall provide the mode and manner of effecting the reorganization; that whoever refuses to support the nominees of this convention is not a loyal member of the democratic party, and is not eligible to the nomination for any office at the hands of the party nor to membership in any committee of the party.

3. To settle and determine the prima facie right of delegates claiming seats in the state convention.

4. Whenever any contest as to any nomination shall arise after the adjournment of the nominating convention or after the result of any primary has been declared, the committee of the party in the territory affected, or if there be no such, the state executive committee shall have authority to settle such contest and to declare who is the regular nominee.

HE WAS CONVINCED.

He Went, Saw and was Convinced.

Tyler Ledbetter, of Piedmont, is one of the best men in Calhoun county. When shot and shell flew thick and fast Mr. Ledbetter was a color sergeant in the company of Capt. A. T. Smythe, and when duty called he knew no such action as to fail to respond. Mr. Smythe is now an honored citizen of Anniston and a preacher of the gospel, and he can tell any one who wishes to know what kind of material Tyler Ledbetter is made of. Mr. Smythe says that there is no more conscientious citizen in Calhoun, and that, coming from such a man, is a high compliment indeed.

Mr. Ledbetter has been a great admirer of Kolb, and he went down to Montgomery for the purpose of seeing and deciding for himself which was the regular convention. He spent his time about equally between the two conventions, and after it was all over announced that he would follow the fortunes of Tom Jones and true democracy, and would do all in his power to elect the regular democratic ticket.

This decision of Mr. Ledbetter will have great weight with those who know him. He is one of those men who cannot be bought or bulldozed. He went down to Montgomery prepared to follow Kolb, but he is one of those fair-minded men who sees for himself, weighs all the evidence, finds out which is the right side and then announces that he is with that side, regardless of his personal feelings. He says, by his actions, Kolb was my choice as long as he was before the democratic party, but when he refused to allow his name to go before the regular and legally constituted convention, then Mr. Ledbetter refuses to follow him from the ranks of the grand old democratic party—the party of the people—the party which has done so much to maintain white supremacy; the party that redeemed Alabama in the dark days of reconstruction.—Anniston Hot Blast.

Governor Jones' Speech of Acceptance.

Mr. President and Fellow Democrats. I could not, if I would, express the profound emotions which come to me as I stand here for the second time before a Democratic State Convention of Alabama, to accept the highest honor in the gift of our party. Two years ago I sought this office from what I conceived a high and noble ambition, which was not personal beyond the desire to win some place in the remembrance of the people by worthy service in high trust. Whatever of personal ambition may have moved me then, has long since given way to that higher sense of consecration to duty which comes to every man who truly values high trust, at the hands of the people.

If I can rightly read my own heart, duty alone, and not ambition, actuated me in going before the people to defend a Democratic administration, which was assailed to make a pathway for assault upon the party itself. There has not been an hour during this long struggle, when personal ambition or opinion of mine would have stood in the way of the wishes or interests of our party, if those who had its welfare at heart had indicated that another would better come up to the requirements of the hour. This disposition and purpose on my part have been concealed from none; but voices which I was bound to heed and duty alike demanded that I should not leave my post; and until you spoke, my place was at the front, not in the rear.

If there be some, blinded by unreason and passion, who now point their spears against the breasts of brothers, with whom they have so long touched elbow in array against the common foe, ours is the supreme satisfaction to know that the fault lies not at our door, and the struggle has not been of our seeking or creation. Political like other error can always invent pretexts to excuse wrong, and the people will judge of the sincerity and truth of the causes alleged to justify division, and the excuse refusal to submit to the fairly expressed will of the majority. The present movement against the party in whatever shape it may be disguised, in essence and spirit is an effort to wield and mould into one compact force all the scattered elements of opposition to the rule of Democracy.

That there are great and needed reforms demanded in the interests of the people in financial and economic questions has long and steadily been maintained by the Democracy throughout the length and breadth of this Union. That they have failed of accomplishment as not the fault of Democracy but the work of its enemies; for the party has not had the power to legislate in the last quarter of a century. So far as these reforms depend upon Federal legislation, our only hope lies in a triumphant and aggressive Democracy. A Democrat who seeks the road of these reforms by joining a third party, or promoting division in his own party is only firing into the backs of his friends in the hour of battle.

Who shall affirm, with truth, that the Democratic party in this State has fallen short of its high duty to the people? Partisan declamation may assert in glittering generalities that the party has not met the just expectations of the people; but like breath upon the pane of glass these aspersions pass quickly away, in the light of truth. Who can point to a line of legislation of our party in Alabama that has been unjust to any class within the broad limits of this State? What interests of the farmer, the laboring man, the wage earner, and any other class or pursuit in life, has not received just and fair recognition and consideration at the hands of the party? Let those who complain, point to some specific fault. If who truthfully reads the legislation and platform of the party, cannot find a trace of unfairness, nor fail to perceive that it has nurtured, with anxious care, every interests which concerns the welfare and a half of people whose welfare and prosperity are inseparably interwoven with the success of the Democratic party.

Our ancient enemy, even now as I speak, has gathered at Minneapoli to organize and launch against us the forces and policies with which a sectional party has pursued us from the days of Reconstruction, down to the present hour. Born of sectional needs and pursuing sectional ends, it must of necessity seek to inspire sectional animosities. Let none mistake its temper. In that great gathering, the spirit which gives life and force and depth and meaning to the aims and purposes of that great party is manifest, so that none can mistake it, in the fierce and wild applause which greeted as the hero, above all others, a Speaker of the American House of Representatives, who trampled down sacred traditions and practices of the Republic to throttle opposition, that tyrannous might give birth to a "Force Bill, which would engulf our liberties, strike down the right to order our own domestic affairs around our hearthstones, and shatter the very pillars of white supremacy and civilization.

All differences upon other questions should sink into nothingness in the presence of this supreme issue which is coming to our very doors, when a divided household no matter which part succeeds, will only add to the horrors of the struggle, and may bring about the triumph of our foes.

If part we must at such a time with some of our comrades of other days, it is in sorrow, not in anger, for we remember when they stood with us in time of danger; but we need not conceal from ourselves or from them that he who is not with us is against us and that as men sow so shall they reap.

All that is great and noble in our civilization, all that is high and pure in our aspirations, all that is common in our blood and traditions, and the sacred memories of the past, and all our hopes of the future, cry out to those who would leave us to turn back, and stand again with us in our father's house, against the foe who would destroy us.

RABBIT TOWN.

News Notes from a Farmer Correspondent.

ED. REPUBLICAN:—There may be some people in other parts of the county that would like to hear from us over here, so I will write a few lines. We have had some very hard rains to fall the past week, which did considerable damage in some places.

We farmers have been getting along fine with our crops and have a fine prospect. Wheat and oats are only tolerable good. Wheat is all cut and will soon be ready for the thrasher.

We could live at home in peace if we were not bothered with politics and local issues. Now here comes the extension of the City Court trying to burden us with that tax and we oppose it all over. There is a good portion of our people that belongs to the Alliance and we divide sometimes, but when it comes to a thing we can see with the naked eye we all get together again. We all claim to be Democrats. The first Monday in August will tell whether we are or not.

We are inclined to believe third party candidates will come out at the little end of the horn. Candidates in other parts of the county can come to see us if they want to. Our candidates are all for Commissioner. We would like to see something else some time.

Two Necessities to the Front.

Sentiment don't sell clothes. It's price and quality. The LEAST of the FORMER for the MOST of the LATTER and things boom. It's no wonder we're doing the biggest trade in CLOTHING and FURNISHING GOODS. It's a characteristic of humanity to appreciate fine things, and where they are 'surprise' you'll find the people.

The latest Fashion Plates the suits with bound and stitched edges, plain or silk facings. You read these things—naturally you look for them when you "set out" to buy a suit. You'll FIND 'EM HERE—all of them, in chevots, plain black and light shades, tweeds, cassimeres and worsteds, cut in the scale of lengths that are proper. Plain weaves and wide wales. The linings and trimmings are as carefully selected and put in place as the outside finishings. We're not ashamed to have you look our suits through and through. We're conscious they're all right.

Straight as a thread through the eye of a needle we have entered into every phase of Suit Fashion. When you make a change with US this Spring it will be for the better. We have "shaved" the price until only a tissue of profits covers the cost. Our line of cheapness has been drawn at $10.00 worth weighs light below that price. Up to $35.00 quality grows with every dollar. THERE is the highest perfection. Judge us as you find us. The sacks and three and four button cutaway frocks, made up in "wood brown," chevots, black thibets, fancy cassimeres, clay's worsteds, ctrick, tweeds, english homespuns, &c. Give us a variety that no three houses can combine and equal. Don't fear of the fit that is perfect beyond improvement. Our aim has been to give you the biggest money's worth you have ever had—and we have succeeded. Success piles upon success.

SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

A convention is hereby called to meet at White Plains on Saturday the 2nd day of July 1892, for the purpose of nominating a Senator to represent the Seventh Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Calhoun and Cleburne. In said convention Calhoun will be entitled to 16 delegates; Cleburne 6 delegates.

S. D. G. BROTHERS, Chairman.

Kolb's convention nominated J. O. Turner of St. Clair for Superintendent of Education, but Mr. Turner refused to accept a place on the ticket.

Every young man in the county who has any hopes of the future should stand by the Democratic party. Men are to-day taking political steps they will regret bitterly the balance of their lives.

If the straight Democrats of Calhoun have to-day any difficulties it is because some of them threw away the fruits of a well earned victory of the party for trashy local issues.

Mr. L. C. Ramsey, business manager of the Alliance Herald, was nominated by Kolb's convention for Secretary of State, but Mr. Ramsey was true a Democrat to accept. He procured a proxy from one of the delegates from Macon county and went into the regular Democratic convention at the State House and cast his vote for Gov. Jones.

REUNION.

Surviving members of the grand old 30th Ala., Reg. Pettus' Brig, wish to have a reunion at Jacksonville Thursday Aug. 15th 1892.

Genls. Shelly and Pettus will be invited and expected to be present.

Wyly Wright and others of Co. "B" 40th Ala.

The meeting of Alliance men here Wednesday under call of J. M. K. Guinn, resulted in nothing that the public can find out more than that a county executive committee was appointed, but whose names are at present kept secret from the public. All the real business of the meeting was transacted by a committee which would not report in open meeting. The attendance was good and much speech-making was indulged in on the subject of the coming county convention. The prevailing sentiment was against nominations. The speakers were to a man against the extension of the city court and it was this call in the meal tub that led them to distrust the convention.

Grover Cleveland was nominated for president on the first ballot by the Democratic National Convention at Chicago amid great enthusiasm. This too without a single vote from his own State, delegation from New York going solidly to Hill. This attests the immense popularity of Cleveland throughout the Union. The platform is a good one. It speaks out on the silver question in a manner to meet the views of the farmers; denounces trusts and combines; pronounces for reduction of tariff taxes and throughout is in sympathy with the masses and is Democratic. Stevenson, of Illinois was nominated for Vice-President on the first ballot.

We will publish the platform in full next week.

The Kolb delegation from Bibb county was declared on a contest before the State Executive Committee to be entitled to seats in the regular Democratic State Convention. Three of these took seats in the regular convention at the State house and Mr. Adams bolted. Among those who staid with the party was Jim Brown.

The convention called on Brown for a statement of his parting with Kolb.

From his place on the chair Brown told his story as follows:

"I told Captain Kolb that I would follow him to the jumping off place. When I came down here and the Captain unfolded his plans to me, I could not see it. I told him that I could not go beyond the democratic lines and having reached the lines Captain Kolb left me and I staid in the party."

JUDICIAL CONVENTION.

Proceedings of the Democratic Judicial Convention for the 7th Judicial Circuit of Alabama.

Pursuant to the call of the Executive Committee, the convention met at Talladega, Alabama, on the 15th day of June 1892, and the same was called to order by T. S. Plowman, Chairman Executive Committee.

The Chairman, by direction of the Executive Committee, nominated Hon. J. T. Greene of St. Clair as temporary chairman, E. S. Lyman of Shelby and Jos. J. Arnold of Calhoun as temporary Secretaries and they were unanimously elected.

On motion of Mr. McMillan of Shelby the chairman ordered the chairman of each county delegation to hand in to the secretaries a list of their respective delegates, prima facie entitled to seats in the convention.

On motion of Mr. Willett of Calhoun, the chairman appointed the committee on credentials by selecting one delegate from each county and one delegate at large to compose the committee on credentials: J. J. Willett, of Calhoun; J. F. Pope, of Shelby; J. B. Steed, of Clay; E. J. Robinson, of St. Clair; T. S. Plowman, of Talladega; J. R. Caldwell, of Cleburne and W. B. Brown of Shelby, at large.

On motion of Mr. Plowman, of Talladega, the convention adjourned to meet at 1:30 o'clock p. m.

MRS. COCHRAN'S REPLY

To Judge Crook's Letter of a Recent Date.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—I see a letter signed Emmett F. Crook, dated May 31st, 1892, published in all the county papers involving the truthfulness of statements that I have made about his taking my house from me, and upon which I lived and claimed at the time he done it and which he in his letter denies.

I am the widow of George S. Cochran deceased, who was a confederate soldier under Gen. John T. Morgan, 51st Alabama Regiment, and who was stricken with paralysis in the confederate service, just before the surrender, from which he never fully recovered. And on the 23rd of August, 1880, he homesteaded and moved on 80 acres of land, paid the fees and received his papers from the government, which I still hold and of which the following is a copy:

Application No. 1022. Certificate No. 10222. HOMESTEAD.
Receiver's Office,
Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 23rd, 1880.
I, George S. Cochran, of the County of Seven Dollars, being the amount of fee and compensation of the Register and receiver for the entry of the NW 1/4 of Section 4, in Township 36, South of Range 7, East, under Section 2249, Revised Statutes of the United States.

PAUL STROBACK, RECEIVER.

My husband moved upon this land, built a house, stables and crib, enclosed and put in cultivation 7 or 8 acres, planted out an orchard, and died in it in 1882, leaving myself and two daughters and two little sons. We continued to live on it and make our support until in 1888. When I was trying to get a negro man Cal Dobbins off of my land, Mr. Emmett F. Crook employed lawyers to defend the negro and keep him on it (he can't nor won't deny this fact). Mr. Emmett F. Crook told W. A. Leatherwood that he had a patent to the Cochran land and for him to tell the negro Cal Dobbins to stay on the land and that I would have to get off of it.

I went to Anniston and consulted attorneys as I was ignorant of the law, but as refused advice without a cash fee. I had no money and went home and asked my neighbors for advice. Esq. Haynie told me that as Crook had papers from the government to the land, that I might get into trouble if I didn't get off, and I packed my little household goods and put them in a neighbor's house, took my children and walked to Anniston and rented a room to shelter us. I made application to the land office department to regain my land from Crook. But the department notified me, in January 1892, that patent had been issued to Crook and the government could do nothing. I have brought suit in the City Court of Anniston for the recovery of the land. I am informed that Crook has sold our home to Suggs for $1200 and we, the widow and orphans of a confederate soldier, by his unrighteous acts are homeless.

I lived from soon after the war in 7 1/2 miles from Mr. Crook while he lived and merchandised at Alexandria. I have been in his office on business since he has been probate judge and have known him several years. I certainly intimated to him that I had a claim to the land when I brought suit against this negro Cal Dobbins, who he advised to stay on my land, and employed lawyers to defend the negro before Esq. Haynie.

How or by what crooks he undermined our rights and took from us (the widow and orphans of a dead confederate soldier) our only home and support, he must answer; I can't.

His insinuation that I had been inveigled into making a false statement, is false. I have made this and all other statements about this matter voluntary and without solicitation and not in the interest of any man, and I ask the county papers to publish this letter as they published Crook's letter that attempted to brand my statements as false.

Not content with publishing my statements as false, he has been writing private letters about this matter to negroes in Anniston.

SUSAN J. COCHRAN,
Widow of Geo. S. Cochran, dec'd.
June 15th 1892.

A VERY SALTY LETTER.

Judge Emmett Crook Hits Straight From the Shoulder.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA., June 21, '92.

ED. REP.—In reply to a letter in Sunday's issue of the Hot Blast, over the signature of one Mrs. Susan J. Cochran, but from the pen of a "sister lawyer" in the city of Anniston, I have this to say: That I am not in the habit of fighting a woman, or a so called man who hides behind the petticoat to do his dirty work, and shield himself from the condemnation of a just public. I do not write this letter because I think any man in Calhoun county, who would stoop to think, would believe the utterances of Mrs. Cochran through her vile mouth piece and penman, this slanderer, inhuman monster, compared with whom J. A. Marrell would be a saint. A "sister" of land grabbing propensities, who would suborn a witness to swear certain facts that would aid him in winning a suit, would not cavil at obtaining the signature of an irresponsible old woman to a slanderous charge against the private character of a fellow man.

The first question to consider is, why has Mrs. Cochran waited from October 1887, the day on which I bought this land from the Government, and on which I went into possession of it, until June 1892, to bring her grievances before the public? For five long years she has been quiet, but just as soon as I am a candidate, and this campaign opens, she hops into print, through her "petticoat man," and claims that I have wronged her.

In the year 1878 or 1879 I purchased this land from the original entry man, took his deed, signed and acknowledged in the presence of witnesses and an officer. When I went to take possession of my land for which I had paid my money, I found, to my surprise, that it belonged to the Government, and the man from whom I bought it had never perfected his title. I gave the matter no further thought until in October 1887 I mentioned the fact to Mr. J. J. Swan who was attending to the public land entries in this county. Mr. Swan examined the land book in my office, and such maps and evidences as he had, and said there was nothing showing any subsequent entry, but that the land was still vacant, and under a recent act of Congress I could purchase the land at $1.25 per acre. I made cash entry application for the land, enclosed my application, deed and money to Hon. J. G. Harris, Register of the Land Office at Montgomery, and received cash entry certificate dated October 10th, 1887.

Now, every body knows that just as long as there is any outstanding claim or entry, unperfected on any government land that it is impossible for any body else to enter the same land until the outstanding entry is contested and cancelled.

Now, do you believe that the United States would have sold me or any body else this land with Mrs. Cochran's claim outstanding if it was good or uncancelled? It could not and would not have done so. I am reliably informed that George S. Cochran's entry was cancelled before he died, and the certificate published with Mrs. Cochran's letter was worthless. If her entry was cancelled the land was subject to entry by the first applicant. I never heard of her claim, and in all sincerity I knew nothing of such persons as Mrs. Cochran or her husband: I will obtain from the Land Office the fact as to this entry, when it was cancelled, and by whom, and all about it, and the public shall have these facts.

If there was any wrong done Mrs. Cochran it was by the Government in cancelling Mrs. Cochran's certificate, about which I knew nothing, and in selling me the land already entered and not subject to entry, do you believe the Government would do such a business? No; George S. Cochran's entry had been cancelled for some reason satisfactory to the Government and the land placed upon the market again for entry, and the certificate paraded before the public in Mrs. Cochran's letter had no more validity than a piece of brown paper, and I will show these facts by Official document from the Land Office as quickly as they can be obtained. I should not be held responsible for the act of the Government in selling me this land when I say emphatically that I know nothing of any claim on it by any body else, and had no part or lot in having Mrs. Cochran's entry cancelled. The Records at Washington will show who did this and the reason for it.

Why did not Mrs. Cochran come to me when she heard that I had bought the land, and talk the matter over with me. I am more than willing to have the matter sifted from bottom to top, and if Mrs. Cochran is entitled to the land I would like to see her have it and she can have my assistance in the matter at any time. This whole matter could have been satisfactorily adjusted if she had made her claim known to me and shown that she was entitled to the land. I have never done her or any body else at wrong, and will not if I know it. The object of this assault upon me is not to right the wrong of Mrs. Cochran but merely political, and by parties who care nothing for her, but hope by false insinuation and accusations to reap personal benefit from circulating this slander. The woman is not at the bottom of this prosecution. It is too plain, it shows upon its face, and has been so having the publication made, and who is sending hundreds of copies of papers containing the charge all over this county.

Now, Mrs. Cochran can certainly have no unkind feeling towards me, for she knows that she has never presented her claims to the property to me, and that I am an utter stranger to her. Now, this petticoat fellow has made Mrs. Cochran say in her letter, that she lived on this land from 1882 to 1888 when she moved to Anniston. Read the following affidavit of a responsible and disinterested man:

STATE OF ALABAMA,) I, W. J. Pearce,) hereby certify that Mrs. S. J. Cochran)

(Given under my hand, this 4th day)
of June, A. D. 1892.

W. J. PEARCE.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, an acting justice of the peace in and for said county, this 4th day of June, A. D. 1892.

J. S. KELLY,
Justice of Peace, Calhoun Co.

How does this testimony compare with the letter written by the petticoat man and signed by Mrs. Cochran? I did not employ Mr. Willett or any other attorney to defend Cal. Dobbins, but I wrote him to go to Esquire Haynie's court and represent me, and look after my interest. I did not know the nature of the suit, or who was bringing it. Mr. Willett wrote me the next day after getting my letter that he had seen the attorney on the other side (Mrs. Cochran says on account of her poverty she could not get legal advice, which you see is false, as she had an attorney, if he was bringing the suit against Dobbins) and that said attorney told him, E. D. Willett, that he had learned since bringing the suit that he was misinformed as to the facts, and had no cause, hence would have it dismissed, and that he (Willett) never heard of this old woman being connected with the suit, never paid any attention to it any way. I knew that I had purchased the land from the Government, and that if there had been any claim on the land the Government would not have sold it to me.

Now, if Mr. E. D. Willett is to be believed, Mrs. Cochran did have a lawyer, and if she did have a lawyer then she has spoken falsely, and according to the old maxim, "false in one thing, false in all," must apply to her statement, or rather the statement over her signature, because she says positively that it was her bringing the suit against Dobbins, and that she had no lawyer because she did not have the cash to pay.

She poses as a poor old woman; if so, who is paying the newspapers for publishing this slander? Certainly not this poor old woman—Mrs. Cochran told a gentleman residing in the city of Anniston, who interviewed her about this matter, that a certain man in Anniston brought the letter to her, and asked her to sign it, that "They" wanted to publish it, and that it should not cost her anything. Who are "They" who want to publish this letter, and what was their object in publishing the letter? Do "They" think the people of Calhoun county are so ignorant as not to be able to see "the handwriting on the wall"? If so, "They" will awake some fine morning at a day not far off to reap the reward, Belshazzar-like, of their vile and insidious work.

I don't know what advice this old woman received from other persons, but I do know and most emphatically assert, that she never in her life received one word from me either in person or through another: I never saw her in my life to know who she was. She may have known me; she may have been in my office on business. If so, she never made herself known, but I make the assertion that she was kindly treated if there, and just as politely waited upon as if she had been dressed in silks and satins, as that is my way of doing business. I treat everybody alike, as the people all over the county, white and black, will bear record.

If there is any suit pending in any court in relation to this land, no notice has been served upon me, and I know nothing of it, and I venture the assertion that if such is the fact it was brought through the instrumentality of "They" and of a very recent date to simply give some credence to this slanderous charge. I said Mrs. Cochran had been inveigled into signing the letter, that it might be used for campaign purposes, and I repeat it, and ask, is there a sane man in Calhoun county, who, after reading her letter, will doubt my assertion? If so, then he will have to doubt her declaration also, as I have above given you the fact, that she said the letter was "brought to her," and she was "asked to sign it," that "They" wanted to publish it, and it would not cost her anything. What was the object in paying so much money to publish a letter, just on the heels of a campaign, about a matter which she is made to say is pending in the courts of our county. She does not give you one single reason why wrong, even if her story was true.

Her letter is a tirade of abuse because the Government sold me a piece of land, and she wanted it.

Does anybody believe that she would have so gracefully moved off of the land if she had been living on it, and had a claim to it? I have shown you by the affidavit of Mr. Pearce, and he is sustained by the Circuit court record, that she was not on my land from the year 1887 to this time and I tell you positively she was not. She brings no proof that she was. Which will you believe? I never have written one word about Mrs. Cochran to white or black, except in answer to letters asking me about this slander, and if she knows of any letters received from me by a "negro" or anybody else, she is at liberty to publish the same, provided she will publish the entire letter, and I ask any one holding such a letter to give it to "They" for publication. I am willing to have any and all letters written by me published, so go ahead "They" with your publications. I think, however, it is a courtesy due me from the newspapers, that they make "They" sign their own names to the publications, and not fight from ambush.

Mrs. Cochran said to the gentleman referred to as having interviewed her on this subject that she once employed Messrs. Knabe & Scott, land agents at Montgomery, to get this land for her, sometime before I bought it, and they told her that she had no claim to it and could not get it, and she dropped the matter until the suit was brought against Dobbins. "Polly talks too much." "They" had better drill her a little more. Mrs. Cochran has told her tale, and produced nothing to sustain her. I give you my side of the question, and some proof, and have a great deal more subject to your inspection, but which is too voluminous, and would cost too much for me to have published.

Now, I must leave this matter to the sober judgment and consideration of my fellow-citizens, and only ask that you go to Suggs' counting where this old woman says she lived so many years, and from the good people of that neighborhood find out who Mrs. Cochran is, how she stands for truthfulness, what kind of a life she has led there, and then refer to the citizens of Alexandria where I was born and lived most of my life, and the citizens of Jacksonville, among whom I have spent my official life, and see what life I have lived, how I stand for truthfulness, and what my moral and christian standing is, then choose which you will believe. Remember this old woman is but a figure head, and the guilt of "They" in thus using this poor old woman for their nefarious purpose is just as criminally wrong as the slander attempted upon me. I feel just as certain, as I do that the sun will rise tomorrow morning, that the people will place their seal of condemnation upon such vile methods, and will so express their condemnation at a day not far distant.

Thanking you for your patience, and expressing my regrets at thus appearing before you in vindication of my character, I am,

Your obedient servant,
EMMETT F. CROOK.

The Force Bill.

During the National Republican convention which nominated Benjamin Harrison for president, the Force Bill was a live issue.

The prominence which was given to this measure in the opening speech of the temporary chairman of the convention, and its elaboration and affirmation in the platform are unmistakable evidences of the Republican policy.

The character of this speech of Fasset's has the full appreciation of the public. Comments upon it show that it is regarded as the key note, and the Baltimore Sun well analyzes it:

"Our pledges have been kept," said Fasset, "all save one. Our honor is pledged to continue the contest for a free and honest ballot until this question is settled." The party that defeated Indiana and New York in 1880, 1881, and 1888 with bribes, and intimidated the employes of mills and factories into voting its ticket is anxious, it seems, for a free and honest ballot—in the South. There it is resolved to employ force and fraud is necessary to acquire the freedom and purity it admires at a distance. The tariff and other Republican ideas have been realized, but the Republican party still has a mission, Mr. Fasset tells the convention, "until every citizen, white or black, can approach the ballot-box with absolute security and have his vote counted." What he means, of course, is until a law is passed putting Congressional and other elections in the South under the control of Republican Federal officials who will count in Republican candidates and count out Democrats. The convention vociferously applauded Mr. Fasset's declaration, and applauded again when ex-Speaker Reed reiterated the announcement that the force bill is to be the first item in the party's legislative program. To have the South and turn back its growing tide of industrial prosperity—such is the aspiration! It is a melancholy circumstance that a great party should have the ruin of a section of the Union for its sole remaining stock in trade.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—On the evening of the 21st, from 8 to 11 o'clock, it was the good fortune of the writer to attend the Mythological play presented by the students of Oxford college and other young people of the town of Oxford, under the management of Prof. and Mrs. Dodson.

The large chapel was crowded to its utmost capacity and as a result of the evening's work, we are informed that Mrs. Dodson holds about ninety dollars ready for delivery to the monument association which it is organized.

The exercises were opened by a brief but exceedingly appropriate address by Dr. B. D. Williams on the subject of Mythology.

Excellent instrumental music was furnished by Mrs. Draper and Miss Natalie Robertson on the piano while fine vocal solos and duets were rendered by Mr. and Miss Norton and Miss Kate Robertson.

All the young people who took part in the play acquitted themselves as professionals rather than amateurs, and the universal verdict of the large audience was that the entertainment was worth fourfold the small admission fee, besides the instruction received.

The next day, June 22, diplomas were given to eight young ladies and ten young men—eighteen in all—the largest graduating class in the history of the college.

The former read essays and the latter delivered orations worthy of the hundreds of encomiums from the intelligent people present.

As it is impossible for the writer to do justice to the occasion. He closes with the hope that some correspondent will give you a full account of the graduating exercises.

All honor to Mr. Dodson for his grand work as an educator of the youths of Alabama.

Two Necessities to the Front.

Sentiment don't sell clothes. It's price and quality. THE LEAST of the FORMER for the MOST of the LATTER and things boom. It's no wonder we're doing the biggest trade in CLOTHING and FURNISHING GOODS. It's a characteristic of humanity to appreciate fine things, and where they are "surprise" you'll find the people.

The latest Fashion Plates the suits with bound and stitched edges, plain or silk facings. You read of these things—naturally you look for them when you "set out" to buy a suit. You'll FIND 'EM HERE—all of them, in chevots, plain black and light shades, tweeds, cassimeres and worsteds, out in the scale of lengths that are proper. Plain waives and wide wales. The linings and trimmings are as carefully selected and put in place as the outside finishings. We're not ashamed to have you look our suits through and through. We're conscious they're all right.

Straight as a thread through the eye of a needle we have entered into every phase of Suit Fashion. When you make a change with US this Spring it will be for the better. We have "slaved" the price until only a tissue of profits covers the cost. Our line of cheapness has been drawn at $10.00 worth weighs light below that price. Up to $35.00 quality grows with every dollar. THERE is the highest perfection. Judge us as you find us. The sacks and three and four button cutaway frocks, made up in "wood brown," chevots, black thibets, fancy cassimeres, clay's worsteds, etrick, tweeds, english homespuns, &c. Give us a variety that no three houses can combine and equal. Don't fear of the fit that is perfect beyond improvement. Our aim has been to give you the biggest money's worth you have ever had—and we have succeeded. Success piles upon success.
