"ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY."

ESTABLISHED 1837. JACKSONVILLE, CALHOUN COUNTY, ALA., SATURDAY, APRIL, 1, 1893. VOLUME 5

MORRISVILLE.

Newsy Notes from the Manufacturing Village.

We are having good weather for farming now and if it continues farmers will soon catch up with their work.

Rev. Mr. Hooton preached a very able sermon to a large and attentive congregation at the Morrisville Methodist church last Sunday.

The Sunday school at Shady Glenn Academy is in a flourishing condition.

Mr. W. P. Downing, of Anniston, is visiting his kindred and numerous friends in this part of the county.

Mr. J. Mich Moore is a very successful Nimrod. He has killed some fine wild turkeys recently.

Married March 23rd, by E. M. Reid, J. P., at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. F. Box and Miss Susan McRea; also March 26th by the same J. P., at his residence, Mr. L. C. Moses and Miss M. A. Smith, all of Calhoun county.

Miss Mollie Roberts, daughter of J. J. Roberts, is very sick with fever.

Mrs. Easterwood, wife of Mr. Harvey Easterwood, died Sunday night last.

Mr. J. A. Ferguson, of Fergusonvlile, came down to our town last Sunday. He said that he was out electioneering and although it would take only one vote to elect him he thought it very doubtful about his success.

ROUGH & READY.

RABBIT TOWN--BEAT 10.

Crop Prospects--Improvement Notes, etc.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:

People are complaining considerable with what they call grip. Mrs. T. H. Arnett's health is better this week. The farmers are making good use of this nice spring weather. They are fixing to plant more guano than usual, which indicates more cotton, and lower prices. Spring oats are looking nice. Wheat is coming out and making a very good show—not very much sowed. W. M. Whiteside is laying down lumber to build him a new dwelling house. Mr. Joseph Dothard says he would have been better pleased if it had been a boy.

—QUIT SHORT.

Word comes from the Arbuckle mountains of the death of Lord Herbert, an English nobleman. He came to Indian Territory some years ago and built a log hut in an unfrequented spot. He lived by hunting and fishing and was looked upon with suspicion. One day he told a young man that he was Lord Herbert, an English peer, and for three years he was known by that name. Last week a party of cattlemen rode by and noticed his horse standing by the fence neighing and the dog standing in front of the door whining piteously. They found the man in his bed, delirious and dying. The next day he died and the cattlemen buried him near his cabin.

William Harding Davis, the novelist, is said to be behind the latest literary scheme. It is to issue original American novelists' works, to be sold at 10 cents each. Each edition is to be of 50,000 copies, and the books typographically are to be fully equal to the present 50 cent paper covered book, usually limited to an edition of 5,000 copies. The profit comes from the number issued.

General Stephen D. Lee, commanding the Mississippi department, has issued an order inviting all confederate veterans to be present in Vicksburg on the 26th of April and participate in the ceremonies of unveiling the confederate monument erected in that city "by its patriotic women and chivalric men."

A Merry Millionaire.

The death at New Orleans, the other day, of the rich young Englishman, Abingdon Baird, will be generally regretted in sporting circles.

Mr. Baird was born a gentleman and inherited a fortune yielding him an income of $750,000 a year. Although a millionaire, the young man sought the company of jockeys and ballet dancers, and spent his money freely upon his gay companions.

Now, let us see what this youngster did with his money, or with his income, for he was able to get along without touching the principal. He spent hundreds of thousands of dollars for fine race horses. He won and lost fortunes on prize figiitors, and his visit to New Orleans was to place his money on one of the pugilists in the recent mill. Turning aside from his rough sports, he found time to run away with the wife of the marquis of Aylesbury, and paid the injured husband $500,000 not to sue him.

He was the cause of the Lancaster divorce case, and figured prominently with such adventuresses as Bessie Bellwood and Gladys Leslie. He posed as the lover of Mrs. Langtry and spent $600,000 on her, although he once knocked her down and gave her a black eye. His gifts were princely. When Mrs. Langtry wanted to visit America last year he gave her $300,000 to abandon her tour, and it is rumored that his will leaves her an income of $200,000 a year.

With his ability, his social position and his great wealth, Baird might have made his career a blessing to mankind. He had it in his power to aid literature, art and science, relieve the wants of the poor, build churches and establish free libraries and hospitals, but he seemed to have only one thing in view—his own pleasure, and his income was squandered in a continuous round of dissipation. For a gentleman of education and wealth, Abingdon Baird has certainly left behind him a remarkable record. The monumental folly of such a life robs its ending of the solemnity that usually accompanies death—Atlanta Constitution.

The Mail and Express says that the first Republican to tender his resignation to President Cleveland after the latter's inauguration was Mr. S. Gillam, the paying teller of the United States sub-treasury at Phildelphia. At the hour of noon, as President Harrison's administration closed, Mr. Gillam mailed his letter of resignation and went to New York to reside with his son, Mr. Bernard Gillam, who has made, reputation and fortune as the cartoonist of Judge. Mr. Gillam, pere, will take an important place in the art department of the Judge Publishing Company, by invitation of W. J. Arkell.

Among the curiosties now being prepared at the capital of the World's fair is the scaffold on which John Brown was hanged. A few weeks ago, while Mr. E. Zeff, of Washington was at Harper's Ferry, the historical piece of scaffolding was offered to him. Its authenticity was established by affidavits from Fred Douglass, the district attorney of Jefferson county, West Virginia, and other officials. Mr. Zeff came home a few days ago and spoke about the relic and sold it to Major O. G. Brummell, of Washington, D. C., who now has it and is preparing to take it to Chicago next month.

Hon. Lewis Morris, who is in the city today states that Morrisville will soon have a cotton factory built by home energy and money and run by water power of the finest quality. Success to Morrisville.—Anniston News.

Mr. Pratt, of Alabama, who was minister to Persia under Mr. Cleveland before, and who held the office until two years ago, is said to be anxious to return to the land of the Shah.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

A Twenty-Seven-Year Server Relieved by Gresham--Maxwell Getting in His Work.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Monday is a day of seclusion for President Cleveland, and he saw only a few visitors. He spent the day in his office working. Among the half dozen persons who saw him was Allen G. Thurman, Jr.

AFTER 27 YEARS OF SERVICE.

Dr. E. O. St. Clair, head of the consular bureau in the state department, has been removed. His resignation was today requested by Secretary Gresham. His successor has not yet been appointed. Dr. St. Clair has been in service since November, 1865, over twenty-seven years.

SIXTY-SEVEN HEADS CUT OFF.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Maxwell today appointed 100 fourth-class postmasters, and of this number sixty-seven were to fill vacancies caused by the removal of incumbents. The largest number of changes were made in the state of Wisconsin, where there were twenty-two appointments, fourteen of them being of incumbents who were removed. In Arkansas there were eight appointments and four removals; in Kansas nine appointments and five removals; in Tennessee seventeen appointments and ten removals; in Virginia nine appointments and eight removals; in Georgia thirteen appointments, the incumbents in each case being removed.

EXTRA WORK FOR THE CLERKS.

Owing to the almost unprecedented accumulation of applications and other papers in the postoffice department bearing upon pending appointments, the entire clerical force of the department, numbering about 400, has been ordered to do extra duty between 4 and 5 o'clock each day, briefing and filling them for action.

POISONED THE GUARDS.

One of Michigan's Convicts Does It to Effect His Escape.

JACKSON, Mich., March 27.—Irving Latimer, a prisoner confined in the penitentiary here on a charge of matricide, obtained poison Saturday and yesterday managed to get it into the water drank by the guards. Twenty of the number were poisoned, and during the excitement Latimer, who was awaiting the opportunity, made his escape. One of the guards poisoned has since died.

Panic in Nashville.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 27.—The Mechanics' Savings bank, with a capital of half a million dollars, suspended payment this morning.

Shortly afterwards the doors of the Bank of Commerce were closed. This bank had a capital of a quarter of a million.

The city is in a state of great excitement and people throng the principal streets.

It seems a genuine panic has struck the city.

It is expected two more banks will close their doors later this afternoon.

Judge DuBose Impeached.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 27.—The house of representatives on Saturday adoped resolutions impeaching Judge Julius J. DuBose and providing for three members of the house to prosecute him when the senate tries him. There are full thirty-five charges, and include almost every offense of which a judge could be guilty except bribery.

Mary Cossey, the young lady who was so badly burned on the Glover farm a few days since, is improving.—Anniston News.

RIVALS THE TELEPHONE.

Professor Gray's Telautograph Sends Handwriting and Pictures Over the Wire.

An exhibition was given of the practical working of Professor Gray's telautograph, or long distance writing machine, yesterdy afternoon. The machine did its work deftly and seems to have added another marvel to the increasing list of wonderful electrical inventions.

The structure of the telautograph is simple. It consists of a transmitter and receiver, whatever is written at one end of the circuit being reproduced in fac-simile at the other end. Arbitrary signs, pictures, diagrams, figures, tabulated statements, and cipher and shorthand writings are transmitted as well as ordinary handwriting, and the sender and receiver each has a record of every message and reply.

The transmitter is an ordinary lead pencil, near the point of which two silk cords are fastened at right angles to each other. These cords connect with the instrument, follow the motions of the pencil and regulate the current impulses which at the distant station control the receiving pen.

Experiments were made on ordinary paper five inches wide, arranged on a roll attached to the machine. At the left is a lever so moved by the hand as to shift the paper forward mechanically at the transmitter and electrically at the receiver. A capillary glass tube placed at the junction of two aluminum arms constitutes the receiving pen, which is supplied with ink which flows from a reservoir through a small rubber tube placed in one of these arms.

The electrical impulses coming over the wire move the pen of the receiver simultaneously with the movements of the pencil in the hands of the sender. An ink tracing is always a fac-simile of the sender's motions.

A great future is phophesied for the telautograph. It is said it can be used for any distance and that business men and railroad companies will find it much better than the telephone or telegraph.—N. Y. Herald.

Not long ago a negro man lives in Anniston struck another negro with a brick while engaged in a free fight That is all there was in it as a news item. No one was badly hurt. That negro was tried in the city court and fined ten dollars—and costs. The costs amounted to eighty dollars. That is all there is in it—as a news item. The man who threw the brick could have paid the fine, but cannot pay the costs, and so must stay in jail. The costs in the case being eight times the amount of the fine, the man is really punished more for having his case tried than he is for assaulting his opponent. There is no news in that, but it will bear a little thought.—Hot Blast.

A Steamship agent in N. Y. says that the steerage rate bteween Liverpool and New York has been increased to $28. Three years ago it was $20, then it was increased to $25. The steamship companies are trying to make up for their losses during the cholera scare. A peculiariay of the rate is that it is $28 from Liverpool to New York, and $25 from New York to Liverpool. This difference is no doubt due to the larger number of emigrants who come from the old world to the new world, and perhaps the steamship companies know that men will pay more to get to America than to get away.

Colonel James M. Smith, of Oglethoape, who is regarded as the best authority on farming in Georgia, reports the wheat and oat crops good, and says the outlook for more prosperous times for the planters is better than since the war. He strongly advises the farmers of Georgia to plant less cotton and raise more food supplies.

TOOK HER NAME OFF.

Morton Stops the Salary of a Woman Who May Make Trouble.

From The Globe-Democrat.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—"Where is [illegible] person?" asked Secretary Morton, as he pointed to a name on the pay roll. Against the name was set a salary of $1,800 a year, the highest received by any person in the department of agriculture.

"She is away on leave," replied the clerk.

"How long has she been away?"

"Six months," replied the clerk.

"Strike the name from the roll," said the secretary.

Something was said about the "influence" behind the $1,800 appointment.

"It makes no difference who she is," said the secretary. "We will have no one drawing $1,800 a year and not rendering any service."

The name went off. And the old-timers are wondering what will happen when the woman comes back.

"Why," said one startled employee, "the whole south is behind her."

They tell a story of a senator's experience with this woman. He had heard that she had said her husband was the inventor of the gun which killed more yankees than any other made in the south. It occurred to him to ask for her official head for the remark. The woman learned of the senator's action and she went to him.

"You have me removed from my place," she said, "and I will see that you lose your seat in the senate."

"I believe she would, too" said the senator in telling about the interview.

Another case somewhat similar to this of Secretary Morton's occurred yesterday. A cabinet officer heard of a woman holding a "si-ne-cu-ree" in his department and sent for her immediate superior.

"Why isn't she discharged?" he asked.

"We would have a row on our hands," was the answer. "She is the sister-in-law of Congressman Blank."

"Mark her off," ordered the secretary, "She would go if she was the sister-in-law of Andrew Jackson and Thomas Jefferson put together. The people in this department will earn their money.

State Sunday School Convention.

The Eleventh Session of the Alabama State Sunday School Association will be held at the Methodist Church, in Opelika, Alabama, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 25, 26, 27, next.

All County and District Associations and all Sunday Schools are invited to send delegates. Prof. Hamill, who so delighted the convention at Huntsville last year, will be present as the representative of the International Convention, and many other prominent workers will be on the program.

The railroads in the State have granted a rate of one fare and one-third on the certificate plan. Persons going from points at which through tickets to Opelika can not be obtained, should purchase tickets to Montgomery, Birmingham, or Childersburg, as may be most convenient; and at those points repurchase tickets to Opelika, taking certificates from both railroads agent.

Programs will be mailed on applications to T. L. Jones, Montgomery, President, or to W. H. Williams, Anniston, Chairman of Executive Committee. All delegates will please forward names as early as possible to Mr. E. Brewer, Chairman of Committee on Entertainment, Opelika, Ala.

Mr. H. P. Thomasson was elected a director of the Southern Grocers Association at its convention held in St. Louis last week.—Anniston News.

Some Hard Facts to Face.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The United States Senate in April, 1892, passed a resolution instructing its committee on Agriculture to make an investigation with a view of ascertaining the cause of the depression in agricultural products existing at that time. Senator James Z. George, of Mississippi, was made chairman of a sub committee to investigate cotton. Mr. Alford B. Shepperson was Secretary of Senator George's committee. The scope of the investigation is broad, and covers the matter of cotton production, the possibilities of the extension of culture, etc. The work of Senator George's committee will be completed by the next meeting of Congress. On account of the great interest of the matter under consideration to the cotton planters and the people of the South, I have requested Senator George of Mississippi, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture under the new organization of the Senate, to prepare the following for publication. It is of paramount importance, calls for the widest publicity, justifies its dissemination by the Southern Associated Press Newspapers.

PATRICK WALSH.

To the Cotton Planters of the United States:

In the discharge of the duty imposed by the United States Senate on the Committee on Agriculture, to investigate the causes of the low price of cotton and the remedy, I have made some investigations, which though as yet incomplete, authorizes me to make the following conclusions:

There are causes for this low price, coming from legislation now in force, and there are other causes coming from needed legislation, yet to be enacted. It is certain however that these causes cannot be remedied in time to affect the price of the crop now about to be planted, even indeed if their force can be entirely destroyed. Cotton farmers must, therefore, for the present resort to such remedies or palliatives, for low prices as may come from their own actions independent of legislation.

The last crop [1892-93] has brought higher prices than the preceding one. This resulted from the fact that it was much smaller. The price would have been much higher if there had not been a large surplus over the needs of consumption, coming from a very large crop of the proceeding year [1891-92].

The natural rise in the price of crops now being marketed has been largely impeded by a great strike among operatives in the cotton factories in England. In this strike 60,000 operatives, working 21,000,000 spindles, have stopped work. The effect of this strike, up to this date, has been to decrease the amount consumed by British factories since September 1st, 525,000 bales, and is likely to amount in the near future to more than 100,000 bales in addition. This decrease in the demand has, by a certain law of trade, diminished the price, or which is the same thing, prevented a full rise which would otherwise have come from a small crop.

American spinners carried over from last season an unusually large stock of cotton, having bought heavily at the low price prevailing in the spring and summer: and whilst doing an exceptionally good business, they have taken so far 350,000 bales less than for the same period during last season. This also increased the surplus.

The prospect of another large crop, coming from increased acreage, if that should happned, would not only be an effectual bar to any rise in price but would cause a still further decline, so that now the cottou raisers of the South are confronted with this serious question for solution, shall we, by an increased acreage in the crop now being planted, as compared to the acreage of last season, raise a crop of 9,000,000 bales or 10,000,000 bales and thereby glut the markets of the world, causing a fall to low price of 1891-92 and perhaps even lower, or will we, by reducing the acreage to the extent necessary to raise all our food, and forage crops and work animals, especially our meat, corn, horses and mules increase the price of our cotton crop and at the same time diminish the uses of the proceeds of our crop by a larger reduction in the amount heretofore applied to the necessary supplies.

There can be but one answer to this question in the minds of thoughtful men. If it be said that among so numerous calls of cotton raisers it will be impossible to come up an agreement which will result in combined action to plant a reduced acreage in cotton, and if it be conceded, then the situation appeals with stronger force to each individual farmer to decrease his own crop to the extent needful to raise his supplies. For in case there shall not be such diminution in the acreage as to affect materially the price so that the next crop is to be a low priced one, the advantage to him who has wisely raised his own supplies will be clear and manifest. He will not have to buy high priced supplies with the scant proceeds of low-priced cotton. These products will then be in the main surplus, or nearly so.

On the other hand, if there shall be such a general movement in the direction of raising a smaller crop as to raise the price, then all who contribute in the manner here indicated, will enjoy this increased price as a result of their own wise action, and at the same time be exempt from an expenditure for supplies which they have so raised.

After much reflection upon the data collected from all countries adapted to raising cotton, I am satisfied of this painful truth. That we are never, at least in this generation, to have generally the high price for cotton we once had. Cotton will never, but in exceptional cases and for short periods, reach high enough to warrant the producer to rely upon it as his means of purchasing supplies which can be raised at home. Very respectfully,

J. Z. GEORGE.

Sam Jones on the Third Party.

I see that the party of the third part says through its leaders that if the democratic party will stand by its platforms, that there is no need for the perpetuation of the third party.

In other words, the third party is dead, and has willed its effects to the democratic party. The question now is has the testatator named the legatee.

If I were in the stock business and a neighbor were to die and leave me a lot of jumping cattle, I would not feel as though he had done me a favor. I could not bring them home, and turn them in with my other cattle lest they learn them to jump, and spoil the whole gang. I suppose we might put yokes on them and keep them in the pasture. I never liked jumping cattle.

A Texas hunter, wearied with the chase for game, sat down upon a log to rest. Suddenly he heard a rush, and looking up spied a fine black buck looking straight at him. He got a shot at the animal which bounded away and disappeared. The hunter gave chase, but after half an hour's search he gave it up as a bad job. Suddenly a partridge whizzed out of a tree and almost crippled the bird. It fluttered away among the underbrush and the hunter pursued it. He got the partridge and had scarcely taken two steps when he came upon the deer stone dead.

The basket factory at Decatur, Ala., is running day and night in a vain effort to keep up with its orders. It may be said to be "hampered" by lack of facilities.

The Republican.

W. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, APRIL 1, 1893.

The Selma Mirror professes not to be able to understand exactly the position of the REPUBLICAN as to the matter of frauds in election. The matter was stated plainly enough we thought, to avoid any misconception of its meaning. The article which has attracted the attention of the press had reference alone to Calhoun.

There has never for many years past been the slightest danger that white men would not control the affairs of this county. They have always done so, with the exception of the time when the Republicans held control by the grossest frauds in elections, and at a time when many of our white voters were disfranchised. Since the overthrow of the Republican party in the State, the white people have had easy control of the county. Whatever necessity may have existed in the black belt for manipulation of the ballot to preserve white supremacy, no such has existed here. Negro supremacy in the black belt meant social degradation and financial ruin if not expatriation to the white people of that section. To preserve white supremacy two courses were open—violence and bloodshed or an over-reaching of the ignorant blackman by the superior race. Self preservation is the first law of nature. Those people did not care to become exiles from a country which was their's by right and inheritance. They did not care to exterminate the negro who was but the simple tool in the hands of white Republican leaders. They simply outwitted him and governed him for his own good, as well as their own. This position between ruin on the one hand and the course they were compelled to pursue on the other appealed to the sympathy and the magnanimity of white men everywhere, without respect to geographical or party lines.

But while this is true, all honest men are agreed that the preservation of the purity of the ballot box is essential to the welfare of the people—their shield and protection against misgovernment and oppression.

Our white brothers in the black belt have the same reverence for the purity of the ballot box that the white people up this way have, and have always deplored the conditions that forced them apparently not to respect it. They were the men who urged a new election law that would eliminate the negro voter largely and permit them to return to fair methods. We shall doubtless hear no more of ballot box stuffing in the black belt.

No man anywhere, who has a spark of honor or honesty, justifies a resort to ballot manipulation in the determining of issues between white men. But there are men in the white counties who have imported black belt methods and have been shameless enough to boast of their performances in this line. What has been condoned in the black belt, under the circumstances surrounding the people of that section, is high treason to a republican form of government and to Democracy in the white belt. It is a cardinal principle of Democracy that the majority shall rule. Any man who will overthrow the will of the majority by fraud is a traitor to Democracy and an enemy to popular government.

It is such men as these the REPUBLICAN wants looked after in Calhoun. The conditions here do not demand any departure from the strict rule of fairness in elections, and the man or men who violate the election laws in this county deserve imprisonment in the penitentiary.

There may have been no frauds in this county, but there is a well settled conviction in the public mind that there has been, and this conviction is based as much upon the boasting of men who claim to have done the shameless work as upon anything else. It was to arrest further tendency in this direction that the REPUBLICAN invited attention to the matter, and, so far as it could speak for it, to place the democratic party of the county on record as repudiating all such practices.

New York, March 29.—Telegrams received here state that there are two cases of cholera at Halifax. The utmost precautions will be taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

Tom Watson in a long interview in the Atlanta Constitution, says he has not abandoned the Third party. He will be more moderate in future and is disposed to give Mr. Cleveland a fair trial he says, but he has already prejudged him, and predicts a split in the Democratic Party growing out of Mr. Cleveland's financial views. He thinks the element of the party that will differ with Mr. Cleveland will gravitate to the Third party, attracted by its position on the three questions of land, finance and transportation. The Republican party he regards as dead. All of which goes to show how badly Thomas is mistaken generally.

The Montgomery Journal, commenting on the paragraph in the REPUBLICAN last week that Gen. Forney was finding pleasure in gardening since his return from Washington says:

"Gen. Forney has but heightened the respect all Alabamians have always entertained for him. Though he picks up the old family garden rake simply for recreation, or for pastime, or for something to occupy his mind, now that he has thrown off the yoke of office that he has worn so gracefully and honorably for the last quarter of a century, the picture of the bent form of the old man, strong in mind, but feeble in body, who but so recently adorned a seat in the federal congress, in cultivating vegetables and flowers with his own hands, is one worthy the brush of a Raphael, and one that every American can be proud of."

A dispatch from Florence says: Wash Strickland, a farmer living in west Lauderdale county, is wanted charged with murdering his five year-old child. In a fit of passion Strickland threw his child against the side of the house with such force that it died shortly after. Stickland then became alarmed and left the neighborhood. Officers are in close pursuit, and he will probably be captured tomorrow.

The town lockup at Brewton was burned Saturday night at 10:30 o'clock. Will Goodson, a white boy about seventeen years old, one of the prisoners, was burned alive. There were two negro prisoners, who were rescued. The boy who was burned claimed to have come from Kansas. He was arrested here about two weeks ago and placed on the streets for stealing corn. The colored prisoners say the boy set fire to the floor with the hope of burning a hole large enough to escape through. No kind of entrance was effected to Goodson's cell, and his body was burned to ashes.

A Gadsden special dispatch of Saturday says: Sheriff Burns returned home today from Wetumpka, Ala., having in charge one Christopher Columbus Baley of this city, who is wanted here under two indictments of a serious nature. He is charged with a felonious assault on his stepdaughter, and also with bastardy with his own daughter. His daughter is in a very interesting condition and charges her unnatural and brutal father with her dishonor. She claims that the forced her against her will. Mr. Baley is well known here, having lived here nearly all his life. He is about 35 years old, while his daughter is only 18 and of a very prepossessing appearance, and has heretofore borne an excellent character. Mr. Baley is now in jail and has very little to say in regard to the charges. He his several brothers in Wetumpka who are well off and stand high in society.

Consul to Tallapoosa.

Mr. Pope Barrow, Judge Maddox, Steve Clay, Tom Glover and J. M. Dobbs, called upon the president this morning. The object of the visit was to urge Mr. Dobbs for consul to the Valparaiso.

They called upon Secretary Gresham. Mr. Barrow tells a good one on Steve Clay.

"During our talk Mr. Gresham he turned to Clay and asked: Where is it Mr. Dobbs wants to go? Steve had forgotten the name Valpariso. He thought a moment and then quickly cried out 'Tallapoosa.' The secretary scratched his head and was about to turn to his clerk to find where Tallapoosa was when the crowd laughed heartily at Steve's expense and corrected him."

Miss Fannie Gee, of Anniston, has been awarded a diploma and gold medal by the Inventors' Association of Paris on her improved side-saddle stirrup.

While working at a saw mill last week, T. J. Harrison, of Womack Hill, Choctaw County, was caught in the carriage and his leg was broken in two places.

A little child of Mr. Cephus Gaston, living near Roanoke, was burned to death last week. The child was left alone in the house and its clothes caught on fire.

The candidates for postmaster at Roanoke held a caucus and wrote to Congressman Cobb agreeing to leave the whole matter to him and they would be satisfied with his decision.

E. KIRBY SMITH.

Another Hero of the Confederacy Is Dead.

NEW ORLEANS, March 28.—Gen. E. Kirby Smith died at Sewanee, Tenn., at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

HE DIED AS HE LIVED.

SEWANEE, Tenn., March 28.—Gen. E. Kirby Smith, professor of mathematics in the University of the South since 1875, died here this afternoon at 3:25 o'clock. For two years his health has been declining. Two weeks ago he was taken sick in New Orleans and was confined to his bed for five or six days, but recovered sufficient to travel, and reported at Sewance ready for duty Monday, March 19.

Two days afterward he caught cold and a relapse ensued, his condition being complicated by congestion of the right lung. Everything in human power was done to save him, but from the first it was evident that the chances were against his recovery. Once or twice, during temporary periods of semi-consciousness, his mind wandered through past scenes and he ordered batteries to come up. Early this morning he became totally unconscious. His end was very peaceful. His wife and six of his family were with him. He died as he lived—bright, strong and confident in his Christian faith and hope.

One of his very last connected utterances was a verse from the twenty-third Psalm, "Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me."

A MOST COWARDLY CRIME

A Man Murdered by a Mob in the Hearing of His Wife.

GILBERT, La., March 28—One of the most brutal and blood-curdling murders that was ever committed in this parish since it has been settled has just transpired. The murder was committed at Center Point on Tensas River. A. S. Harland kept the ferry at the above named place. On last Wednesday two men, Bill Martin and Wm. Armstrong, whipped him, alleging that he had slandered Martin's wife but Harland denied the accusation firmly. The next day, four men, Bill Martin, Wm. Armstrong, George Armstrong and Toni Kimball, went over to Harland's house, at the ferry, and tried to get him to come out of his ferry boat so they could kill him, as his wife and children were in the boat at the same time. He would not leave the boat, but got into a "dug out," after they left, and went down the river to see about selling his hogs to his nearest neighbor, so he could leave the country, as his life, he felt, was in danger after he had been whipped. He had not gotten out of hearing of his house before his wife heard shots and heard him crying out. She counted nineteen shots from Winchester and Martini rifles. Harlan was shot in three different places, but lived long enough to tell his wife that he did not see who had shot him, but knew it was the same crowd who had whipped him the day before.

His wife got into another boat and went to him, got him into her boat and started with him and her children back home, but before she got to the bank the boat turned over and it was with difficulty she could save her children from drowning, but got them out, and her husband, too, but could not get him up the bank; as it was too steep.

A very heavy rain came in the meantime, which caused the river to rise, and he died partly in the water and partly out. Bill Martin, Tom Kimball, George and Will Armstrong went up to surrender to the sheriff, but it is not kown whether they did so or went further on.

Harland had no showing at all, and it was a cold-blooded and premeditated affair. He had a gun in his "dug out," but the first shot disabled him and he could not defend himself if he had been so inclined.

AN EXAMINING BOARD.—The Governor has appointed Lieutenant Colonel Ed G. Caldwell, and Capt's D. S. Arnold, W. H. McKleroy and W. A. Orr as members of a board to examine, according to sealed questions sent out from State headquarters, all new commissioned officers at Anniston. The purpose of the examination is to further promote the efficiency of the State's military.—Anniston News.

A BATTLE AT ANTLERS.

Cherokee Factions Fight—Ten Killed and Fifteen Wounded.

FT. SMITH, Ark., March 28.—A battle was fought today at Antlers I. T. between Indian factions. One hundred and fifty men were on each side. Ten were killed and fifteen wounded. One side represented the Choctaw government, termed the military, and the others are followers of V. M. Locke, who resists arrest, fearing he will be killed instead of being given a trial by law. United States officers arrested nineteen of the leaders of the militia at 6 o'clock p. m. and took them to Paris, Tex. All is quiet at present.

In the Choctaw elections last summer there were charges of fraud and four men were assassinated. This led to a factional war, which was suppressed by the United States forces. The present trouble is the outgrowth of the late election when Jones defeated Jackson.

Where Confederate Money Passed.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 28.—Ignacio Galvau, a young Spaniard, who came here from New Orleans, has been arrested and put in the Belem prison on a charge of swindling. He had realized a profit of several thousand dollars in this city. He brought with him a large quantity of confederate bills, which he had secured in New Orleans. He found no difficulty in palming those off on the smaller shopkeepers of the city as American currency and received the change in Mexican coin.

A Remarkable Family.

Dr. B. S. Evins was in town Wednesday with a photograph of the extraordinary Saddler family in Choccolocco valley, near White Plains. The house is a one room log house, built in the year 1835. In front is an old fashioned spinning wheel, cotton cards, a grindstone, axe and hen coop. Across the coop is a pair of wooden hames, made in the year 1825. The five old people sit in front in full view, and the likeness is life-like. At one corner of the house is the good Dr. Evins who makes it one of his cares to see that these old people do not suffer. This family is perhaps the most remarkable in the State. It consists of one brother and four sisters, all unmarried. Another unmarried sister aged 74 years died last year. The combined age of the five surviving members is four hundred and twenty-one years. They have been living in this county sixty-one years, and in their present place of abode fifty-seven years. The oldest member is aged eighty-nine and the youngest eighty years. This last one has been demented sixty-six years. They are all members of the church of Christ, or Campbelites, except the youngest. The father of this family died in the ninety-fifth year of his age. The mother died in her seventy-sixth year, after being confined to her bed thirteen years. The grandfathers on both the paternal and maternal side were soldiers in the Revolutionary war. Grandfather Saddler was a Virginian. Those now living here were born in South Carolina, lived in Tennessee during childhood and came to Alabama among the first settlers.

Up to ten years ago they were an industrious, independent and self-sustaining family. Since then they have been more or less dependent on help of friends, and now, owing to infirmity and the burden of years, are totally dependent on charity. Their lives have been blameless and they are worthy objects of charity. Their remaining years of life should be totally free from want or care. Let all good people contribute freely and cheerfully to these old people. Contributions can be sent them through Dr. B. S. Evins, of White Plains, Ala., one of the best and most trustworthy citizens of Calhoun county.

NORMAL NEWS.

Happenings among the Students of the S. N. S.

The B. B. Q. Q. and R. E. club will have the annual meeting at London bridge Saturday morning between the hours of two and three.

Miss Mary Ramagnano has been quite sick for the past two weeks but is now improving.

Orby and Elbert Bynum spent last Sunday at their home.

The school is very much pleased with the idea of having the annual picnic at Oxford Lake. It depends largely upon what our parents say. "Please let us go."

The Seniors will finish their much beloved Geometry this week and will take up "Trig" next Wednesday.

Saturday afternoon the young men will debate before the Girls' Chapter this question. Resolved, "That Science is of more value to civilization than Literature."

A pupil in the arithmetic class told the teacher that there were 10,000 pounds of coal in a half ton.

The young ladies of the Hackneyville High School have named their society for the Girls' Chapter. We feel very much honored though this is not our first namesake.

A young man from Clay county will enter school week.

The annual debate of the Calhoun Literary society will be on the 29th of April this year.

THEY DISAGREE.

A Free for All Fight for the Federal Offices in Alabama.

WASHINGTON March 29.—The Alabama delegation, together with Senator Pugh, who presided, met at the residence of Representative Clarke tonight to consider the matter of federal patronage in that state. The senator and all the members, except Mr. Clarke, met at the capitol this morning and they adjourned to meet again tonight. It was 8:30 o'clock when Senator Pugh called the meeting to order. Mr. Clarke, though very unwell, was present.

After a prolonged, but very amicable discussion, it was finally agreed to disagee. That is, the delegation declines to unite upon any man or set of men. Each congressman is privileged to file the claims of the applicants from his district and push them. It is a free-for-all fight and the devil takes the hindmost.

It is learned privately tonight that Senator Pugh will make certain recommendations, and in these he will have the active indorsement of five out of the eleven Alabama congressmen and senators.

In other words, five of the congressmen will try the thing on their own account. This opens up and makes inevitable a very warm fight for the federal offices in Alabama. It will all be perfectly friendly.

The five who flew the track are Messrs. Oates, Turnpin, Stallings, Clarke and Wheeler.

Mr. Cleveland has been devoting some of his time recently to the Alabama situation. Colonel Oates was with the president for an hour today. Mr. Cleveland thinks some of the men who followed Kolb in August, but voted for him in November, should be recognized in the appointments. He thinks conciliatory measures towards those people necessary to harmonize the factions and bring the state back to its old condition. The majority of the congressmen are not very much inclined in his direction. They do not look upon the Kolbites as a dangerous element.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Wilfred Young, a school boy, is paid $600 a year for singing in the choir of All Angels' Church, New York City.

Henry Irving's eldest son has abandoned the stage and will return to law and literature. He is now engaged in writing a life of Judge Jeffreys.

The Marquis of Camden comes of age today. His father died when he was 2 months old and his long minority has enormously increased the value of the vast estate he will come into.

King George of Tonge, who recently died from influenza, had reached the age of 90. He was converted by Christian missionaries about sixty years ago.

Dr. F. L. Oswald calculates that the population of this country 100 years hence will be 300,000,000. A Presidential election will be a big thing in those days.

Ex-Senator Carlisle is said to be so fond of the game of solitaire that he often indulges in it while at work.

Claud T. Wright, an English theosophist, who was a pupil of Mme. Blavatsky for seven years, has been lecturing in Chicago this week.

Oliver Wendell Holmes prolongs his life by conforming strictly to rigid rules of health and diet.

Sir John Thompson, the Canadian premier, is not yet 66 years old and it is but sixteen years since he was elected to the Novia Scotia legislature, whose proceedings he had previously followed as a reporter.

M. Taine's seat in the French Academy will probably be sought by his friend, the novelist, Paul Bourget, and with a good prospect of success, as he is a favorite with the immortals.

Prof. Briggs, in addition to his duties as professor of Bibical theology in Union Theological Seminary has now been assigned to the chair of systematic theology, made vacant by the death of Prof. Worcester.

Miss Fannie J. Sparks, who was sent out to India as a missionary of the Methodist church in 1870, is now lecturing on her experience in that country in Eastern cities. She had charge of a girl's orphanage at Bareilly, in Northwest India.

Mrs. Bellamy Storer, of Cincinnati, the owner of the Rookwood potteries, is planning an elaborate exhibit at Chicago. She received over 100 awards at the Paris exposition of 1880.

The young Earl of Beauchamp, who has just come of age, has deserted the family mansion in Mayfair and taken up his residence in the squalid Whitechapel quarters, where he holds open air services and has made himself noted in a way as a mission preacher.

Mrs. H. H. Riddleberger, widow of the late Virginia Senator, announces that hereafter her newspaper at Woodstock, The Shenandoah Herald, is to be "independent of all political parties or factions of parties."

While William Parker, a resident of Laurel, Del., was dredging for oysters the other day, he caught an old stove which has been on the bottom so that mud had collected, and to this oysters were attached, the oven being full of bivalves.

Among the books, drawings and other relics of Bayard Taylor, presented by his widow to the public library at Westchester, Pa., is the knapsack which the young traveler carried when he made his trip afoot through Europe.

Daudet has never been present at any of the "first nights" of his dramas, and it is only from the demeanor of his concierge next morning that he knows whether his play has been a success or not.

Dr. Talmage impressed a Cincinnati reporter who saw him as a "poorly, smooth-faced, fine-looking gentleman, whose general appearance was that of a big, warm-hearted travelling man."

Mrs. Gresham, the wife of the Secretary of State, said at a tea not long ago: "I trust the newspapers will not begin to publish accounts of my extraordinary abilities and talents for I haven't any. The Judge doesn't like extraordinary women."

Marcus Lenoir, the French artist whose sea pictures have made him famous and rich, is said to have been a poor only eight years ago. One day he was sketching on the beach at Dieppe when a fisherman, who had been watching him, asked him if he could paint. Lenoir replied that he could, and the fisherman asked him to paint a picture of his boat. Lenoir did so, and the fisherman was so pleased with the result that he gave the artist a commission to paint the boats of all his friends. Lenoir's fame spread, and he was soon in demand.

Lady Butler's famous canvas, "The Roll Call," for which Queen Victoria paid 2,000 guineas, and which has hung for many years in the main hall at Osborne, will be exhibited at the World's Fair.

Ex-Congressman Blount, of Georgia, who was in Congress for twenty years, furnished the "Congressional Directory" with a biographical sketch of himself less than four lines in length.

The young khedive of Egypt is not only the proprieter of a large stock farm, but is a good judge of cattle. He knows all the breeds of milch cows and is thoroughly posted on feeds, milk and butter.

Alabama law makes it risky and dangerous for pugilists or pounders to indulge in their business on her soil. The opinion of Attorney General Mastin on this subject published in Sunday's Advertiser was very satisfactory reading to the people of this State. In Pittsburg, Penn., a few days ago when Champion Jim Corbett attempted to register at Hotel Anderson, the principal hotel in Pittsburg, he was told that he was not wanted as a guest. The hotel clerk said: "We don't want any pugilists at this house. They are a nuisance. The regular patrons are annoyed by them." The much admired Champion Jim was compelled to seek accommodations at a less pretentious house. Nearly every prize fight gotten up in this country has been with Northern men as the backers of the pugilists and most of those who witness the degrading sport were from Northern localities. All the States ought to have laws like those of Alabama on this subject.—Montgomery Advertiser.

How to Get Sober.

The reading world will remember Dr. Nelaton, of Paris, the medical saint and martyr, who, with Archbishop Darboy and other pure and noble men, was dragged to death through the streets of the beautiful city. Some time before the tragedy I listened to a lecture delivered by him on "alcoholism," in which he told us that ammonia was the chemical enemy or antithesis of the gas in alcohol which intoxicates. One drop of aqua ammonia in half a tumbler of water after every alternate glass of cognac brandy will render the strong liquor innocuous. Two drops in a half glass of water will make a drunken man sober. Five drops mixed the same way will sober a man dead drunk, after a few sneezes, in which carbon and nitrogen are expelled from the body.—Atlanta Journal.

As a means of raising much needed revenue, The Philadelphia Record advocates a duty of half a cent a pound on raw sugar, the same duty on refined sugar not to be taken off. "Refined sugar," it asserts 'would cost consumers no more than it does now, but a considerable share of the profits of the Sugar Trust would flow into the Federal Treasury, instead of into the pockets of the holders of Trust certificates representing much more water than sugar." Under the McKinly law only the sugar needed by the Sugar Trust comes in free of duty. The refined sugar which comes in competition with the Trust is taxed and kept out of the country to the extent that the Trust can supply the needs of the public at an advanced rate. But little revenue is derive from the tax on refined sugar.—Montgomery Advertiser.

In the spring of 1890, Mr. Robert C. Wilson, living near Calera, plowed up a box containing a sum of money. The administrator of the man who lived on the place at the close of the war sued for the money as the property of the decendent which he claimed was buried at the time of Wilson's raid through Alabama. The jury decided in favor of the plaintiff.

It is said there is some doubt about the insanity of Joe Griffin, who recently escaped from the asylum in Alabama. He was convicted of murder, secured a new trial, and got off on a plea of insanity.

Near Greensboro, N. C., a strange animal attacked two little girls, who were saved by the timely appearance of a hunter with a gun. The animal resembled a bear, but not sufficiently to be identified as one.

Wade Hampton is old and feeble. He is physically unable to do any great amount of labor in any kind of an office. He is a poor man, though he has filled in the past twenty years, many public positions. He was the first democrat to be elected governor of South Carolina after the lase war. He said he was elected, and "by the eternal Gods he was going to be seated." This remark, this emphatic declaration of his purpose at a time when the Southern States were being robbed and pillaged and oppressed by the carpet baggers, added to Wade Hampton's fame, and was the magnet that the eyes of the people of the entire country to him. He was afterwards elected senator in recognition of his services in aiding to redeem his State, and he has thus grown old and grown poorer while he was growing older,—in the the service of his country. It was fitting, therefore, that his friends should have prevailed upon Mr. Cleveland to appoint Mr. Hampton to a pleasant position, that he might continue in the service of his people and country during the closing years of his blameless life.

And there was Walker, eminent ...s a lawyer, chancellor and chief ...ustice, and withal one of the most ...miable characters in the State. ...nd Martin, who held a proud po... ...ition as lawyer, orator, judge and ...oldier. True to his political con... ...victions, when the war began he ...went to the front with the first, and ...laid down a noble life upon the al... ...tar of his country. And Curry, ...whose fame is national as a states... ...man and orator. Called by the ...people early in his professional ca... ...reer into the political field, he was ...sent to represent them in the Legis... ...lature a number of sessions, and ...then to Congress, where he took ...rank with the great statesmen of ...the day. Since the war he has vol... ...untarily withdrawn from the poli... ...tical arena and consecrated his life ...to the promotion of the educational interests of the people of his beloved South. He has been entrusted with the distribution of the benefactions for educational purposes of two of the greatest philanthropists of modern times, and in that noble work he is now engaged. No man ever lived in Alabama who had more warm and devoted friends and who is today more universally esteemed than Hon. J. L. M. Curry.

Another is Judge Stone, whose judicial career, on the circuit and the supreme bench, as associate and chief justice, should he survive the present term, will cover a period of quite a century. What more can be said as illustrating his great legal learning and his exalted character?

And Bradford, the brilliant Bradford, honored, admired and loved by all, one of the most, if not the most, eloquent advocate this bar ever produced. Cut off in mid career, but in his short life he had been honored as our representative in state and national councils.

And I recall today the names of Heflin, Winbourne, Jim Martin, Judge J. J. Woodward, Col. J. A. Woodward, Cruikshank, McAfee, Plowman, Hayden, Henderson, Walden and Bowden, all of whom have passed away. They were honored members of our bar and each contributed to the formation of its splendid history.

As we review this roll of honored names our hearts swell with a sense of just pride, and we rejoice that we can look back upon such a noble line of professional ancestry.

May the contemplation of such a record inspire each of us with a determination to quit ourselves like men in the effort to uphold the standard of the Talladega bar.

The unanimity with which you have given me your endorsement for this position is cause for the highest gratification, and I shall seek in return to extend equal respect, equal courtesy and equal consideration to all, and shall rely on your assistance in my effort to discharge the duties of the responsible trust which has been reposed in me.

New Cotton Machine.

Two years ago last August, the Journal published an editorial in reference to a machine for harvesting cotton, on which the J. I. Case Threshing Machine company, of Racine, Wis., was then experimenting. We then expressed the hope that the effort to perfect such a machine would prove successful.

It appears that this has come to pass.

The J. I. Case Company announces in the Journal today that they are now putting upon the market a complete set of machinery for the harvesting of cotton. The set consists of three machines, namely, a harvester for gathering cotton from the field, a separator for cleaning the cott on preparatory to ginning and a leaf-cleaner which runs in connection with the separator for removing trash and dirt. The last two machines are said to be very valuable for cleaning rough handpicked cotton.

We have not seen the machines, but the high character of the company which is making them and their confidence in the practical value of these inventions, inclines us to believe that they will do the work that is claimed for them. If this is a fact it will mark the beginning of a revolution in cotton picking.

The J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company has had experts at work for the past three years upon the problem which they claim to have solved—Atlanta Journal.

Piedmont Inquirer: John Tuck, who lives in the near vicinity, and comes to town once a week if the weather is such that he cannot work in his fields, is in his 80th year, has not tasted spirits in sixty five years. He has a good appetite, good digestion, sleeps well and does a full day's work on the farm.

THE FORTUNATE ONES.

Who Get the Plums as They Drop From the President's Hand.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Mr. Cleveland sent a batch of nominations to the Senate today that will meet with approval from all parts of the country. Mr. Bayard is the first citizen of the United States who has ever been given the title of ambassador. England recently elevated her minister to Washington to the rank of ambassador, and the United States now does likewise.

Here is a list of the nominations:

Thomas F. Bayard, of Deleware, to be ambassador to Great Britian.

Envoys extraordinary and ministers plenipotentiary of the United States: James D. Porter, of Tennessee, to Chile; James A. McKenzie, of Kentucky, to Peru; Lewis Baker, of Minnesota, to Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Salvador; Edwin Dun, of Ohio, now secretary of legation at Japan, to Japan; Pierce M. B. Young, of Georgia, to Guatemala and Honduras.

Consuls of the United States: L. M. Shaffer, of West Virginia, to Stratrord, Ontario; Harrison R. Williams, of Missouri, to Vera Cruz; M. P. Pendleton, of Maine, to Pictou; Theodore M. Stephen, of Illinois, to Annaberg; William T. Townes, of Virginia, to Rio de Janerio; Claud Meeker, of Ohio, to Bradford.

N. B. Eustis, of Louisiana, to be second secretary of the legation of the United States at Paris.

John M. Reynolds, of Pennsylvania, assistant secretary of the interior, vice Cyrus Bussey, resigned.

Lawrence Maxwell, Jr., of Ohio, to be solicitor general, vice Charles H. Aldrich resigned.

John I. Hall, of Georgia, assistant attorney general, vice George H. Shields, resigned.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell today appointed 188 fourth-class postmasters and of this number eighty-five were to fill vacancies caused by removals.

Secretary Carlisle today appointed Herman Kretz, of Pennsylvania, clerk of the treasury department, vice General McCaulay, resigned. Mr. Kretz was cheif of the mail division of the treasury during Secretary Manning and Secretary Fairchild's administration. He will assume charge on April 1.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate:

William Edmund Curtis of New York, to be assistant secretary of the treasury, vice G. M. Lambertson, resigned.

Charles S. Hamlin of Massachusetts, to be assistant secretary of the treasury, vice John H. Gear, resigned.

James H. Eckels of Illinois to be comptroller of the currency.

Jas. F. Meline of the District of Columbia, to be assistant treasurer of the United States.

T. Strobe Farrow of S. Carolina, to be second auditor of the treasury.

John B. Brawley of Pennsylvania, to be auditor of the treasury for the postoffice department.

James J. Willie of Florida, to be depnty fifth auditor of the treasury.

Postmasters:

Jonas G. Moore, at Pratt City, Ala.; Isadore Zacharius, at Bainbridge, Ga.; Clarence W. Boshamer, at Statesville N. C.; W. O. Prentiss, at Beaufort S. C.; John W. Clarke, at Ripely Tenn.

The outlook for a cotton factory at Jacksonville, Ala., is exceedingly hopeful. It is proposed to build a $200,000 mill and of this amount $165,000 is subscribed or pledged. That is altogether too big an enterprise and too hopeful a situation not to succeed now. Jacksonville is high up among the mountains with every climatic and transportation advantage.—Birmingham Age Herald.

HANGING A CONFEDERATE HERO.

It was on December 22d, 1863 in the quiet little town of Pulaski Tenn. "when war was in the heart of man and sorrow in his home," that the federals hung the brave rebel boy as a spy.

Sam Davis was a private in company I, First Regiment of Tenn. Infantry, a beardless boy of eighteen summers, a Confederate whose devotion to home and country knew no bounds, and the causes and acts which led to his death are these:

In November, 1863, Gen. Dodge took charge of the federal troops in command at Pulaski, and his headquarters were at the residence of the late Judge Thos. M. Jones, then a Confederate congressman;—the yankee boys brought to the General's headquarters a negro who belonged to Mr. Robt. English. The negro had been forced to come to town against his will, and the following night he ran away, and on leaving he took from Gen. Dodge's room a perfect drawing of the federal lines, fortifications, etc., in and around Pulaski. This he gave to his master.

Sam Davis came through on a scouting expedition. His work was accomplished, and he at once set out to go to the Confederate lines. But before clearing the yankee lines he was detected and arrested. They found under the citizen's dress that he wore the Confederate grey, and upon close investigation the map was found well packed in his saddle blanket.

He was brought up and tried as a spy, and sentenced to be hung. Gen. Dodge knowing the plot found in his posession was very accurate believed that some federal officer had drawn it, and he offered Davis his freedom to disclose the name of the party, who had given it to him but the brave boy refused.

On December, 22 1863, they led him out to a rude scaffold erected upon East Hill a few hundred yards from the jail, to pay the terrible penalty of his daring act. General Dodge was confident that he would there disclose the name of the real spy. But Davis mounted the scaffold without fear, his steps were steady, his looks fixed and determined. Many men in blue had assembled to see the "Rebel spy" hung.

He showed no sign of revealing anything and the commander said to him:

"Davis, I hate to see you hung. Reveal the name of the party who gave you the plot of our works and you shall go free." The condemned boy glanced at the officer with a look of scorn and retorted: "I had rather die than betray a friend."

The rope was adjusted, so young, so gallant and so brave he stood, with the cold hand of death almost upon him, but fearing not death as he feared no man, he awaited the worst.

Silence, silence. "Reveal his name and be a free man!" cried the federal officer, "you shall go unharmed."

"Reveal the name of a friend," said Davis, "and be a curse to the cause I love! Do your worst! I would rather die than betray a friend."

The trap was sprung and the fearless Confederate boy dropped down to the most noble, glorious death since Robert Emmett died in the cause of old Erin's freedom. The scenes of war have passed, the grass has grown and withered above his grave for thirty long years and history that speaks only of the great, has spoken not of his fame, but the friends who knew him in life will continue to remember him in death.

Jefferson Davis' Remains.

RICHMOND, Va., April 3.—Governor Carr of North Carolina has written to the president of the Davis Monument association requesting the funeral train bearing the remains of Jefferson Davis from New Orleans be allowed to halt at Raleigh. The remains of Davis will be placed in state at the capitol upon arrival in this city.

BERESFORD GOES UP.

And "My Lord" Will be Sent to a Convict Camp for Six Years.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The supreme court today, in a long opinion rendered by Justice Jackson, decided that a fugitive from justice rendered under extradition proceedings by one state to another, may be constitutionally tried in the latter state upon a warrant charging another offense than the one set forth in the warrant of extradition.

This decision affirms the judgment of the Georgia supreme court in the case of Sidney Lascelles alias Walter S. Beresford, the well known swindler who, claiming to be Lord Beresford's son, cut a wide swath in New York and the south, at the expense of his deluded victims.

A Romance of the War.

With General E. Kirby Smith, who died on Tuesday at his home in Tennessee, the last of the full generals of the cofederacy passes away. He was a thoroughly equipped soldier and rose with amazing rapidity from the rank of lieutenant to the eminent position occupied by him soon after the battle of Lynchburg.

There is a romance in his eventful career which ought not to be forgotten—his wound gave him his wife. When the battle of Bull Run begun, Smith was full thirty miles away. On receipt of the news he covered the distance with his troops by a forced march and arrived just in time to be of signal service to the southern troops. While making a charge at the head of his force he was so severely wounded that little hope was entertained of recovery. He was carried, however, to the house of Colonel McDaniel where he received the attention which his desperate case required. It is more than probable that he would have succumbed but for the careful nursing of the colonel's daughter. She watched him night and day and her efforts were repaid at last by the patient's full recovery.

Of course there could be but one denouement to this little drama. The soldier and his nurse fell in love with each other. He signed a marriage certificate and received his commission as major general on the same day, and as the fairy tales go, "the couple lived happily forever after."

There were scores of such instances during the war and they are all intersting.—New York Herald.

Kansas City Star: Mr. Ben H. Clover, excongressman from Kansas who swung in on the sweep of the of the alliance cyclone of 1890, has taken the scales off his eyes. He is out in an open letter denouncing Jerry Simpson as a "selfish, contemptible man, a foxy shyster and a demagogue." Mr. Clover claims that Simpson is "out for the stuff," and that his opposition to the Cherokee strip bill delayed its passage. Mr. Clover grows eloquent, and says: "I was at Wichita in the convention when Mr. Simpson was unanimously nominated. I heard the shouts and laudations. I heard Mrs. Lease call him the Abraham Lincoln of the west and knowing as I did, his contemptible, selfish nature, his demagogy and all, I could but ask myself, what hope can there be for a people who can be so easily duped!"

Discipline.

A captain in one of the ——— regiments, who had been drinking quite freely, met a private of his company in the same condition. The captain ordered him to "halt," endeavoring in vain to assume a firm position on his feet, and to talk with dignified severity, exclaimed, "Private Smith, I'll give you (hic) four o'clock to-sober in."

"Cap'n," replied the soldier, "as you're (hic)—sight drunkerniam, I'll give you five o'clock to sober in."

THE PROPOSED MARCH.

Of the Anniston Soldier Boys to Chicago Meeting Encouragement.

ANNISTON, March 21.—The Anniston Guards are creating quite a stir by their proposed march to Chicago. Captain McKleroy has received a letter from Maj. Stephen A. D. McWilliams of the Fourth regiment, Illinois National troops, asking that the Guards consider themselves the guests of the Illinois military as soon as they reach that state. Mayor McWilliams says he has companies stationed at every town on the most direct route to Chicago, and that they will be delighted to entertain the Guards.

The Milburn Wagon company has also written and offered to furnish the wagons needed on the trip.

The Guards, or at least most of them, are very enthusiastic over the trip, and say they are certainly going to make the march. Several outsiders want to join in the scheme and if the march is made it will be with a full company.

A committee of prominent residents of Union Springs, New York including several clergymen, who are to assume the exclusive sale of liquor, have issued the following statement: "We will allow no man to pay for another man's drink. We will permit no drunkenness, nor any approach to it. We will allow no one apparently under the legal age within our doors. We will sell to no man if by the proper person we are forbidden so to do. To certain other persons, their names to be passed upon by a majority of the committee, we will not sell at all. We will not sell spirits in larger quantities than a single glass except on a physician's order, and of all such sales we will keep a record. These and such other wholesome rules as from time to time we may deem desirable we will enforce. Our entire profits, which will be large, will be handed over as frequently as possible to the town authorities, with the understanding that they will be used for the purpose of reducing the taxation of the town."

When Gen. O. O. Howard was in Chattanooga the other day a beggar with a withered arm from which the fingers and part of the hand were missing came up to him and asked for alms. The General with a twinkle in his eye, held out his empty sleeve and said: "You're better off than I am, for you have your arm left while I have lost mine." The crippled gazed at the empty sleeve for a moment and then extracted 15 cents from the pocket of his tattered jeans trousers. "Here," he said, turning to Gen. Howard; "this is all I've got, you're welcome to it." There was a general laugh at the expense of the distinguished commander of the Department of the East, and he made the man happy by giving him a silver dollar.

A strange scene was enacted in the Texas house of representatives the other day. The chaplain's prayer had offended some of the members, and one of them introduced a resolution to the effect that "the portion of the prayer which read, 'O God, open the eyes of those who have allowed the love of money to be balanced against virtue that they may see that purity is above rubies and that in their hands is placed the power to save those against whom the false standard of society has closed the churches and all avenues of reformation,' be expunged from the journals of this house. An earnest debate followed, in which it was claimed that the prayer was a reflection upon the character of the members, and an attempt to dictate to them in regard to a proposed measure. The house very sensibly rejected it as depriving the chaplain of liberty in his petitions. The point seems to have been overlooked that the prayer was beyond the reach of the legislature, and its propriety in the hands of a higher power, and that to expunge it would not counteract it.

Advice to Young Men.

BY CHAUNCY M. DEPEW.

Every young man should start out in life with three definite objects. First, to earn an honest living; second, to secure an income large and permanent enough to support a family; and third, to lay up something for an old age and the care of helpless ones whom he may leave behind when he dies. This excludes, of course, other and obvious efforts in life and confines the question simply to the material side of success. If a young man enters the professions or business, or the trades, and is industrious, intelligent, economical and of good habits and associations, he is sure to rise until, in a less or greater measure, he accomplishes the three objects I have named.

The trouble with politics is, that its pursuit is an adventure and not a career; the compensation is not sufficient; promotion is not accorded to merit, but to political influence, and to retain a place requires backers powerful in influence with the party; the time will certainly come when the placeholder will have to vacate to a member of the opposite party, and then the one displaced finds himself handicapped with a family, untrained for business, and out of line with the active competitors of the community.

Every young man should be interested in politics and take as active a part in the political affairs of his neighborhood as the time at his disposal from his business will permit; he should belong to some party and understand its principles; he should attend its caucuses and do such party service as he can; he should go to the political meeting and never fail to vote on election day; when there are movements on foot for reforms necessitated by corruptions or to put bad men out of office he should be on hand and ready to fight for the redemption of his city, town or state; when he has become sufficiently independent to afford the luxury of public life, or his business can be run without him, so that he can give his time and thought to the performance of official duties, or he has partners who will run the office or shop which takes care of his family while he gives his energies and mind to running the government; then, and not till then, can he enter politics as a pursuit with any prospect of happiness, any hope of permanent success, or any future but failure and wretchedness.

The Richmond Dispatch says: "Those who held the rank of General in the Confederate army were Samuel Cooper, Albert S. Johnston, R. E. Lee, Joseph E. Jonston, P. G. T. Beauregard and Braxton Bragg in the regular and E. Kirby Smith in the provisional army, General Smith having been promoted to General in the provisional army February 19, 1864. Of the Lieutenant-Generals James Longstreet, Wade Hampton, Jubal A. Early and John B. Gordon survive." One by one the veterans are passing over the river. Notwithstanding the fact that not as many as 1,250,000 of men were in the Confederate army from first to last, that many pensioners on account of service in the Federal army, are now on the pension rolls at Washington. The Confederates did a vast amount of execution with their weapons of a vast host of pensioners are taking great liberties with truth and conscience.

A Young Highwayman.

Chicago, March 30.—Frank Pendry, ten years of age, was arrested here today charged with highway robbery. When taken into custody he wore a black mask and carried two revolvers. He acknowledged that he had robbed several people and had shot one man through the hand because he resisted. He said he was the son of J. D. Pendry, a tea merchant at Fifth and Walnut streets in Cleveland O. The youthful robber declared that he was wanted in Cleveland on several charges of robbery and larceny. He was held to the criminal court in bonds of $1,000.

The Republican.

L. V. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 1893.

The Democrats elected the mayor and a large majority of the city council of Chicago.

Returns from the elections throughout Kansas indicate a sweeping Republican victory.

The whole people of Alabama rejoice over the nomination of Mr. Hannis Taylor, of Mobile, to be Minister to Spain.

Mr. Ben. H. Keiser, of the Roanoke Herald, is dead. He was a veteran newspaper man of Alabama. In his time he has controlled several influential papers. He was a sound Democrat and a good man.

The Democrats were victorious in the fourth Congressional District in Wisconsin. The election was to fill a vacancy. Judge Newman, Democrat, was elected Supreme Court Judge over Judge Webb, Republican.

The municipal election in Talladega resulted in the election of J. A. Edwards for Mayor, and J. R. Barrett, T. H. Clardy, T. S. Plowman, R. B. Wrenn, J. M. Jones, A. J. Nunnelly, R. Heins and W. S. Skeggs for councilmen.

Senator Pearson, of Tuscaloosa, one of the Populist members of the Alabama Senate, died a few days ago, of inflamation of the liver. He was a good man, honest in his convictions and kind and courteous to all with whom he came in contact.

The heads of the various departments are weeding out the incompetent and useless clerks in great numbers. Twenty-nine clerks were dropped from the rolls in one day in the census office and as many more from the pension office, and from the other departments in proportion.

The white teachers' Institute of Calhoun county met in Jacksonville Friday and are in session as the REPUBLICAN goes to press. Proceedings will be published next week, if the Secretary will be kind enough to furnish same to the press.

It begins to look as if the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company will soon undertake the manufacture of steel at Birmingham or Bessemer. Parties here own very valuable manganese mines which will then be worked. Now the freight to the Carnegie steel plants eats up the profits of manganese mining.

While the people are in the humor for ballot reform, it would be well enough to incidentally squelch the campaign liar. The man who will run for the Legislature on a pledge to secure the enactment of a law making it a penal offense to tell a lie on a candidate for office, would get a good support. There are no more despicable creatures than the campaign liars and they are much more deserving of prison stripes and a job in the coal mines than many who go there now for misdemeanors.

The East and West Railroad is soon to be sold. It is said that if the bondholders of the road buy it, the road will be at once extended to Anniston over the right of way of the Blue Mountain Mineral road. If the Louisville and Nashville buys it, the road will not be extended, that system having already one road into Anniston. But if the Louisville and Nashville buys it Jacksonville will have the benefit of competitive rates by reason of the fact that she will then be touched by two great railroad systems. So it would appear Jacksonville will be all right in either event.

The Coosa River News is disturbed because the act providing for the issue of bonds by Cherokee county to build a combination railroad and wagon bridge does not state the point at which the river shall be bridged, and suggests that the people get together and settle this point. That is impracticable, for the bridge will have to be put at the point where the railroad will cross the river, and that has not yet been determined by the survey. Better vote the bonds and leave the selection of the point of crossing to the railroad people. A quarrel over location will defeat the issue of bonds.

In the Montgomery Democratic primary election all men who supported the National Democratic ticket in November will be allowed to vote. This admits the men who voted for Kolb, but who voted for Cleveland and the Democratic Congressional nominee. This is the rule which will likely prevail in the State next year.

The Case of Otho Wilson.

In a telegram printed in the Journal recently, concerning the disposition of the case of S. Otho Wilson, the notorious Third Party political trickster of North Carolina, charged with being a member of Gideon's band, an unlawful political organization, the facts were so distorted as to make it appear that Wilson had come off victorious. The truth was just to the contrary, and the Journal takes pleasure in setting the matter right. The facts of the case are these:

Wilson was indicted on January 18th last, arrested and taken to Raleigh for trial. He was bound over to court under a $300 bond, which he gave, and last Tuesday morning he appeared before Judge Brown at Raleigh.

Wilson's attorney stated to the court that, while the defendant protested his innocence, he was willing to enter the plea of nol contendere and to pay the costs, if that were agreeable to the state. This was in effect, an admission of guilt and a plea for mercy. The court could have sentenced and punished plaintiff under it, just as fully as if he had been convicted by a jury. The state's attorney consented to the entry of the plea, but laid stress on the fact that the state did not regard the offense lightly. Accordingly, Wilson escaped with the payment of $131 and costs.

The case of Wilson, who represents the worst type of the intriguing demagogue, ought to be, and doubtless will be, a warning to others of his stripe. It sets a precedent which may tend to repress secret political conspiracies in this section in the future.—Atlanta Journal.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Judges Taft and Ricks of the United States courts in Ohio, have recently made some very sweeping decisions as to the rights of employes.

The court held in effect that an employe cannot refuse to perform his duty nor quit the service in which he is employed in such a manner as to injure the employer or interfere with the rights of the public.

That may be the law, but it certainly does not look like justice. Have employes no rights?

It is a poor rule that does not work both ways.

If employes cannot quit work when to do so would injure their employer, then employers should not be permitted to discharge employes or cease their operations when to do so would injure their employes.

Coporations are entitled to strict justice and the fullest protection of their rights, but equally so are the men who work for them.

The rulings of Judges Taft and Ricks have provoked much comment, and we do not wonder at it. If they have interpreted the law correctly, the wonder is that nobody ever found it out before.—Atlanta Journal.

Colored Teachers Institute.

Agreeable to call of the County Superintendent of Education, the colored teachers' Institute of Calhoun county met at Jacksonville and was in session March 31st and April 1st. The program was a most interesting one. Prayer was offered by Rev. A. J. Logan, and T. W. Allen was elected Secretary. The following teachers were present T. W. Allen, A. H. Harper, Addie Martin, Lizzie Hoke, Laura Snow, Emma Garrett, Mintie Thompson, Jennett Barclay, L. Green, I. J. Borders, U. Hazman, P. D., Kingston, Julia Stevens, N. G. Huckabee and I. B. McCalpine.

Several important subjects were discussed in a manner highly creditable to the teachers and the Institute was complimented by the County Superintendent. The body adopted a resolution favoring the bill prepared by Prof. Abercrombie and which was introduced by Hon. Lewis J. Morris, which required that civil government be taught in the public schools. The Institute passed a resolution of thanks to Supt. Miller and Prof. Dodge and to the people of Jacksonville.

THE FORTUNATE ONES

Who Get the Plums as They Drop From the President's Hand.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—Mr. Cleveland gives the diplomatic bush a hard shaking this morning, letting fall many ministerships and consulships.

The following is the full list of nominations sent to the senate by the president today:

James O. Broadhead, of Missouri, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Switzerland.

Barless Tripp, of South Dakota, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Austria Hungary.

Eben Alexander, of North Carolina, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary, of the United States to Greece, Roumania and Servia.

Consuls of the United States:

James E. Neal, of Ohio, at Liverpool.

James M. Dobbs, of Georgia, at Valparaiso.

Q. O. Eckford, of Mississippi, at Kingston, Jamaica.

David N. Burke, New York, at Pernambuco.

Edgar Whidden, of Main, at St. Stephens, N. B.

Henry F. Merritt, of Illinois, at Barmen.

Asa D. Dickinson, of New York, at Notingham.

Benjaman Lenthies, of Massachusetts, at Sherbrooke.

Paul F. Faison of North Carolina, to be an Indian inspector.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate:

James S. Ewing of Illinois, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Belgium.

Thomas P. Crittenden of Missouri, to be consul general of the United States at the City of Mexico.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate today:

Hannis Taylor of Alabama, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Spain.

William Lochren of Minnesota, to be commissioner of pensions.

A Ten Dollar Bill for Thurber.

When Private Secretary Thurber ran through his mail yesterday he found a letter that was different from all the rest. It contained a $10 bill.

"Of course I appreciate," said the writer, "that it is a good deal of trouble for you to look after my case, and so I hope you will accept the inclosed bill to pay you for filing my papers properly."

For a moment Mr. Thurber was downright angry. Then he laughed. He saw at once that the office-seeker did not intend an insult, but made the tender from a generous motive. The sequel was pretty tough on the office-seeker, however.

All of his papers have been sent back to him. This administration does not want that kind of a man.—Washington Post.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.

Wanted to Bribe Himself Into a Place and Got the Grand Bounce.

There are a few acts of the Democratic Secretary of the Treasury which all people will applaud. Secretary Carlisle was informed today that a certain superintendent of a public building in the West had offered to contribute $500 of his salary to the Democratic campaign fund on condition that he should be retained under the present administration.

The Secretary ordered his removal by telegraph, on the the ground, as he explained, that a man who would give $500 a year for his position would not hesitate to recoup himself from contractors with whom he was doing business as a representative of the Government. This is the second man Mr. Carlisle has discharged for the same offense.—Cincinnati Tribune's Washington Special.

Chairman Goodwyn of the state executive committee of the Jeffersonian democracy, has called a meeting of the committee in Birmingham May 11th, to consider matters of importance bearing on the next campaign. This seems to indicate a purpose on the part of the Jeffersonians to keep alive the embers of the August campaign. There is no doubt that the leaders of that faction are desperately in earnest, and unless the party is brought together before 1894, Alabama will witness one of the hottest campaigns even known in this state.—Montgomery Journal.

The Golden-Rod Publishing Co., of Chicago, Illinois, has determined to secure 500,000 new subscribers to their family story paper, the GOLDEN-ROD, before July 1st, '93.

In the ordinary way this would require a lifetime, but "time is money" and in order to save time we are willing to pay those who subscribe now a large sum of realizing that we can soon recover this great expenditure from the increased revenue from our advertisers.

CASH REWARDS.

For the correct answer to any ONE word,	$ 20.00	For the correct answer to any SIX words,	$150.00
For the correct answer to any TWO words,	50.00	For the correct answer to any SEVEN words,	175.00
For the correct answer to any THREE words,	75.00	For the correct answer to any EIGHT words,	500.00
For the correct answer to any FOUR words,	100.00	For the correct answer to any NINE words,	750.00
For the correct answer to any FIVE words,	125.00	For the correct answer to ALL of the TEN words,	20,000

AS SPECIAL GRAND PRIZES WE WILL PAY IN CASH:

Here are the word-riddles; can you solve them? Remember any one of the ten words correctly solved wins for you $20.00 in cash.

To every one sending in the correct answers to ALL of the TEN words during JANUARY, $1,000

To every one sending in the correct answers to ALL of the TEN words during FEBRUARY, $500

1 A— —LE	Tree bearing round fruit.	6 I— —IN	A lofty tree.
2 PE— —	Tree, Fruit larger at lower end.	7 PAN— —	Flowers handsome, of purple or other colors.
3 TUL— —	Plants, with Flowers of bright colors.	8 BAN— —A	Tropical tree, with fruit in bunches.
4 —R—NG	Tropical Tree, with round yellow fruit.	9 —ROS—	Flowering bushes.
5 —RAP—	The fruit is good to eat.	10 —ATE—	Tropical fruit bearing trees.

EXPLANATION Each dash indicates the absence of a certain letter, and when the proper letters are supplied the original word will be found complete. Example: B—be—A book which everyone should read. The omitted letters are I and l, and when properly inserted the complete word is Bible.

REWARDS Are paid in cash the very day any answer is found to be correct. To prevent even any appearance of irregularity or collusion, a copy of the original ten words has been deposited in a safety vault under seal, to be opened December 31st, '93, in the presence of witnesses, when a sworn statement as to the correct words together with the list of prize winners, will be published in the January number of the GOLDEN-ROD.

Remember Every Correct Answer Wins A Prize.

CONDITIONS The object of this extraordinary offer is to secure subscribers at once, and in large numbers. We therefore require 50 cents for a year's subscription for the great paper, The Golden-Rod, for each answer. Thus if two words are found correct, $1.00 must be sent; three words $1.50, five words $2.50, and so on; and no more copies of the paper will be mailed to address given, except as we receive the money.

Designate the words you answer by their numbers, send at once and win one of the grand prizes. Address all letters and make all remittances payable to

The REPUBLICAN is receiving congratulations from many of its readers on its improved appearance since it put on a new dress in larger type. We desire to make it more of a local paper for the county and will be thankful to the friends of the paper throughout the county for any items of local news that may come under their notice. People in Jacksonville will also confer a favor by handing into the office the names of any parties from abroad who may be visiting the town, or the departure or return of any of the town people.

The Cheerful Givers.

The Easter services of the Cheerful Givers, under the superintendence of Mrs. Joe H. Privett, at the M. E. Church Sunday night was both beautiful and appropriate. The Cheerful Givers are all children from five years to fifteen years of age. The services consisted of the floral decoration of the cross; appropriate recitations as each member deposited an offering, songs and music. The church was densely crowded. At the conclusion of the services the congregation contributed liberally to the treasury of the lovely band of little Christian workers.

Mr. W. M. Hatch and Miss Mattie Sawyer, of Anniston, were married in Jacksonville the 4th inst. by Rev. F. A. Rogers. The bridal party came up in a carriage and returned to Anniston immediately after the ceremony.

Wild turkey abound in the mountains about Jacksonville. Various hunting parties have been going out for several mornings after them. They got plenty of shots but no turkeys, until Friday morning, when Sheriff Ed. Caldwell rode into town with a fine gobbler.

The Municipal Election.

Monday the first test of the new election law was had in Jacksonville. There was little confusion, and the general verdict of the voters was that they liked it. Some gentlemen failed to make a cross mark opposite the name of Mayor Arnold, as he had no opposition and they supposed it not necessary, and those votes were lost to him. The law requires a cross mark opposite the name, even if the candidate has no opposition, and the inspectors of election are not authorized to count any name not so marked. Those who could not read or write had no trouble. One of the inspectors checked off the names these wanted to vote for. There was not near a full registration, only a week being allowed for registration by the city charter; and nearly fifty of those who registered did not vote. Two tickets were in the field. One composed the names of the old council, with the exception of of Mr. Wilkerson, who refused to serve longer. The name of Mr. A. L. Stewart was substituted for that of Mr. Wilkerson, and the old council ticket was as follows:

FOR MAYOR.

Jos. J. Arnold.

FOR COUNCILMEN.

W. H. Dean, A. L. Stewart,
S. D. G. Brothers, Dr. T. W. Ayers
R. L. Vansandt, Dr. J. M. Crook.

The fire company put out a ticket in opposition to this one. Dr. Jno. M. Crook, who was a member of the old council, being also nominated on the fire company ticket. The ticket thus put out was as follows:

FOR MAYOR.

Jos. J. Arnold.

FOR COUNCILMEN.

J. Y. Henderson, W. H. Cook,
C. E. Bondurant, J. M. Crook,
A. B. McGinnis, J. O. Camp.

The official ballot used on the day of election contained all these names in alphabetical order and blanks for any names that voters might choose to write in. One hundred and forty-seven votes were cast. Of these Mr. Arnold received for Mayor, 118. The vote for councilmen was as follows:

Dr. T. W. Ayers	37
C. E. Bondurant	98
S. D. G. Brothers	91
J. O. Camp	63
W. H. Cook	50
Dr. Jno. M. Crook	105
W. H. Dean	87
J. Y. Henderson	103
A. B. McGinnis	60
A. L. Stewart	89
R. L. Vansandt	66
Isaac Frank	17

It will be seen that two of the fire company ticket and four of the old council ticket were elected; but Dr. Crook being on both tickets may be fairly claimed by both. Mr. Stewart, while nominated on the "old council" ticket, is a fireman and acceptable to them. So honors are about even all around.

PROF. DOWNIE IN ANNISTON

For Benefit of Kings Daughters in Anniston.

Prof. Donald Downie, B. C. L., will lecture, and by use of his Stereopticon Dissolving views, will illustrate the subjects; Napoleon Monday evening, British Isles Tuesday evening at 8 p. m., "Trip around the World," at matinee at 4 p. m. Tuesday, in Anniston April 10th and 11th, at St. Paul M. E. Church, cor. 14th street and Leighton Avenue.

Prof. Downie, well known for the last few years with his illustrated Lectures in every State and great city city of the North and West, is closing his tour of the continent by a trip through the South. His object primarily is to secure photographs and material to properly illustrate this section in his lectures at the World's Fair and afterward in Europe. He has been secured in passing for a few nights of his splendid entertainments. The people of Anniston will be able to judge of the attractive way in which on platform and screen the beauties of the South will subsequetly be shown by attending the traveller's instructive lectures.

"A TRIP AROUND THE WORLD" at the matinee Prof. Downie will take hundreds of children as well their parents on one of the most delightful journeys around the world. Charming beyond description.

Read the following notice from the Evansville Courier:

"The matinee given by Prof. Donald Downie yesterday afternoon to the pupils of the city schools was a great success. The hundreds of scholars present were never more enraptured by any thing, and their applause was so frequent as to seriously disturb the learned lecturer. The Board of Education and Superintendent need not regret the countenance given these lectures."

SAM SLIM

Wants the Normal Students to Pic-Nic at Oxford Lake.

OXFORD, ALA., April 5, '93.

ED. REPUBLICAN:—It has been sometime since your numerous readers have heard of me and mine. Well, we are all, that is generally speaking, in pretty good shape. When I was in your city last I promised H. L. Stevenson to blow out his stovepipe. You can tell him I didn't do it, because I didn't go up town that morning. I hope, however, he has got a hole through it by this time, and when I go back then he will ask me into his office.

He couldn't before because the stove smoked so badly he couldn't stay in there himself, and it was cold too. There has been some cases of of Lagrippe in Oxford, none dangerous. Tom Bagley is still laid up with it. He is not pleased with the way it shakes a fellow up and aches him up, and does him up generally. Hope to see him able to be out again in a short time.

While I was in Jacksonville last week, I learned that there was a probability of the Normal college pupils coming to Oxford Lake for their annual picnic. I but voice the sentiment of Oxford and vicinity, when I extend to the teachers and pupils a most cordial invitation. Oxford Lake is a beauty, and a more suitable place for a picnic is not to be found in this region. The grounds are beautifully laid off, the scenery is grand and the grove offers a dense shade, with swings attached to the strong limbs of the sturdy oaks, for the pleasure of the little folk, and neat, clean and dry boats for the young men and maidens and the older folk too, to ride over the limpid waters. Tables ready built to hand, on which to spread the dinner. Comfortable seats to rest on under shade of the trees. What more could any picnic crowd desire than is already prepared at Oxford Lake? And, besides, the Lake Line will furnish round trip tickets from Oxanna to the lake and return for only one nickel apiece. Cheap as dirt! Two miles to the lake and two miles back, four miles on nice, airy electric cars. No cinders, no smoke, no engine squealing along, but just smooth, comfortable, pleasant, and calculated to make every soul happy from the least to the greatest, all for five cents. Cars will meet them at Oxanna at any hour desired, and will return at any hour desired. If the school authorities will confer with Capt. F. M. Hight, Superintendent, Anniston, he will take pleasure in arranging a program that will be acceptable. I feel that I can safely say that if the school will picnic at Oxford Lake there will be no regrets that that place was decided on. Again I invite the school to come and the mothers to come along with the children and the fathers to come along with the mothers, and the young folk not in school and the old folk who used to go to school, and Jacksonville generally, all come, and lots of us folk of Oxford will go out and shake hands with you and—well, I'll just speak for myself—I'll eat dinner with you, sure enough.

AN AFFECTING SCENE.

PIEDMONT TRAIN ROBBERS SENTENCED.

One Gets a Life Sentence. His Young Brother Five Years and His Accomplice Six Years.

BIRMINGHAM, April 3.—Judge Bruce of the federal court this morning sentenced the three train robbers who held up the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia train at Piedmont last October and were convicted recently. J. N. Harrison, leader of the gang who made such a hard fight at his trial to prove an alibi, was given a life sentence. Just after the sentence had been passed he told the judge that it was a "pretty tough dose," but he guessed he would have to stand it. As he turned to walk away he broke down completely and cried like a child. The scene was a very affecting one and more eyes than Harrison's were wet with tears. Jim Brown one of Harrison's accomplices, who confessed was given six years in the penitentiary, and Dick Harrison, Jeff's brother, who is but 15 years of age, was given five years.

An All Cotton Farmer.

A correspondent of the Coosa River News says:

John M. Forster sold his axe and wagon for $10 to pay a guano debt, which was worth $30, to Rev. J. M. Henderson; said Forster bought a mule at $130 and gave a mortgage on his little mountain farm near Dutch Cave, for the mule; he gave a mortgage on his crop for this year for supplies. He is going for all cotton and is buying corn.

Here And There.

Mr. George W. Wester, of Cherokee county, aged 81 years, died at his home near Center on March 26.

The Coosa River News is after one Lowry, a fruit tree agent whom it claims fools the girls with false promises marraige and fails to pay hotel bills.

Z. T. Reece, of Cherokee, was recently thrown from a mule and badly bruised up.

Billie Wade shot and killed Wm. Barnes at Big Spring, Bibb county, at a church fair, some nights ago. Cause jealousy. Both colored.

A fake mesmerist and showman named Dr. R. H. Trammell was roughly handled at Blocton a few nights ago. He pretended to be able to put men under hypnotic influence and make them do as he directed. Four young men pretended to get under the "influence." The doctor told them to milk the cow. One of them seized a little negro for the calf and the others seized the Doctor for a cow and they had a regular parrot and monkey time on the stage. The doctor left the town in digust.

Ashland Advance: Mr. Lon Dick, six miles southwest of this place, had the misfortune to get his hand cut off in a saw-mill on last Saturday evening. He was bearing off lumber, when he stumbled and threw out his hand to catch, striking it against the saw, which cut it off as quick as thought.

Mr. Gaines Roberts shot and killed a peculiar bird near Oxford Lake Monday. It is believed to be an Australian sapsucker though a great many other names have been given it.—Hot Blast.

Lee Loper, white, shot and killed Beverly Weaver, colored, in Montgomery on April 3d. Loper was looking at a baseball game being played by some colored boys. Weaver objected to his witnessing the game and cursed and struck him. He was proceeding further to assault him with a baseball bat when Loper drew his pistol and shot him dead. Weaver was a dangerous and quarrelsome negro.

A Ballot Machine.

At the spring elections in several New York towns the Myers ballot machine was tried and gave complete satisfaction. Lockport was one of the places where the machine operated and the Sun of that city, says:

Under the Myers system the moment the secret compartment is unlocked at the close of the election the vote is announced, or may be photographed or in a dozen other ways absolutely recorded beyond the possibility of a change in any way. The town election Tuesday ended at 6:38; at 6:39, just one minute later, the result of the vote on supervisor was known, and had been transcribed by a hundred pencils. Inside of ten minutes the entire ticket was transcribed by the same spectators.

Now, imagine that sort of work in a presidential election; the vote of every district in the State known, and fixed beyond the possibility of a change or a contest, within one minute after the polls are closed. Contested seats, transposed returns, misspelled names, wrongly indexed ballots, which lost a senatorial seat this winter, stealing ballot boxes and waiting four or five hours for the votes to be counted become instantly a thing of the past.

Anything which will conduce to the fairness of elections and to speedy returns should be encouraged, and it appears that the Myers machine is the best mechanical device that has yet been invented to insure an honest vote and fair count.—Atlanta Journal.

It is reported that John R. Sapp, of Dothan, has committed an outrage which has no parallel in the history of the county on account of its peculiar character. Sapp claims to be a United State Deputy Marshal and the other day F. C. Philips, of Midland City, was in town when he was arrested by Sapp, who charged him of being an ex-convict. Philips declared it was a case of mistaken identity, but was not allowed to send for his friends. Sapp carried him to the rear of his office, handcuffed him, robbed him of four or five dollars and several other articles. After being confined several hours, Philips was taken out of town and turned loose with the injunction to get out of the state as soon as possible. When Philips returned home he related this outrage to his friends, and a great indignation was expressed by the community. A number started to Dothan for the purpose of bringing Sapp to account, but the genius hearing of it, skipped the town and has not since been seen. The matter is to be investigated.

SHE JUMPED FROM HER COFFIN.

And Asked What Was the Meaning of All the Racket.

NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—A Times-Democrat Durango, Mex., special says: The lower classes of this city are greatly stirred up over a remarkable occurence which took place last night. Miss Juana Juarez died after a brief illness. She was placed in a rude box in lieu of a coffin and her sorrowing relatives proceeded to hold a lively wake over the apparently lifeless body. In the midst of the ceremony Juana opened eyes, and, seeing the candles around her, jumped from her coffin and asked with surprise what was the meaning of it all. The attendants fled in fright, thinking the resurrection was the work of the devil. A priest was speedily summoned and succeeded in allaying the fears of the relatives.

COLD-BLOODED MURDER.

Plantersville Stirred Up Over an Atrocious Crime.

A YOUNG WHITE MAN SHOT DOWN.

By a Negro He Was Going to Arrest. If Caught He Will Be Summarily Dealt With.

STANTON, April 3.—This morning about 8 o'clock, near Welch's mill, Mr. Jim Harris was shot in the head and instantly killed by Alex Shelton, a negro.

Shelton had taken $20 from a colored woman, who had papers issued for his arrest. The papers were in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Letcher, and he fearing the negro would recognize him and run, got Mr. Jim Harris to assist him. Letcher remained behind and sent Mr. Harris to make the arrest.

Shelton had a shotgun and drew it on Harris, and it is thought Mr. Harris, to make him drop the gun, fired off his pistol. Immediately Shelton discharged his gun, the contents tearing off one side of Harris' head, resulting in instant death.

Shelton succeeded in making his escape, though Letcher fired several shots after him.

Bloodhounds have been telegraphed for and are expected to arrive this evening, and in all probability the murderer will be captured tonight.

Mr. Jim Harris is a single man about 28 years old, and well liked by all who knew him. There is considerable feeling over the murder and should Shelton be captured it is very likely Judge Lynch will take charge and dispose of the case in short meter.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT OF THE CRIME.

SELMA, April 3.—The little burg of Plantersville is stirred up today as it has never been before. A posse of citizens with dogs are scouring the woods in that vicinity in search of Alex Shelton, a bad negro, and if found, summary vengeance will be dealt out to him.

About 8 o'clock this morning Mr. Wylie Letcher, with a warrant charging Alex Shelton with grand larceny, sworn out in Chilton county, and with another for the same offense in Dallas county, went to the house of negro to make the arrest.

Mr. Letcher had on one or two occasions before attempted to arrest Shelton, but the negro, seeing him coming, would make his escape. This morning he was accompanied by Mr. Jim Harris, a young man who lives near Plantersville, and on arriving at the house wherein Shelton was concealed Mr. Fletcher stepped behind a clump of bushes about 100 yards away, while Mr. Harris went up to the house and called Shelton to the door.

When the negro went to the door he had a double-barreled shotgun in his hand, and before hardly a word issued from Mr. Harris' mouth he aimed the weapon at his heart. Mr. Harris knocked the muzzle of the gun up, he was not quick enough, for the negro pulled the trigger, the load passing through Mr. Harris' hand and entering his forehead, killing him instantly.

Mr. Letcher rushed out just in time to see the form of Shelton rapidly disappearing in the direction of the woods and fired at him. The news of the killing spread rapidly and soon the whole neighborhood was up in arms and squads of ten to fifteen men are now scouring the woods in every direction hunting for the negro.

If he is caught there will be a short trial, with Judge Lynch presiding, and his body will be swung to the nearest limb.

It was a dastardly crime and the friends of the unfortunate young man are righteously indignant, but it is hoped that the law will be allowed to take its course.

Mr. Harris was the nephew of Mr. Jack Harris, a well-known citizen of this county. He was an industrious young man of steady habits and numbered his friends by the score.

WAVES OF FIRE.

Nebraska Gale Swept From Line to Line.

WORK OF FLAME BILLOWS.

Villages Destroyed—Inhabitants Flee for Their Lives—Green Prairies Left Naked.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., April 8.—A disastrous prairie fire broke out south of Sutherland, in this county, yesterday. The loss will probably reach $100,000. It is claimed the fire was started by a passing engine. Never has such a disastrous prairie fire devastated the Platte valley. Everything for a distance of twenty-five miles is in ruins and the width reaches from three to four miles. Everything, corrals, barns, fences, hay stacks, is in ashes.

AINSWORTH, Neb., April 8.—The most fearful fire that has been witnessed in this country for many years passed over nearly all of the country from three to four miles north of this city to Niobrara river, a distance of fifteen miles, yesterday destroying much property and imperiling life. The wind blew a gale. Parties coming through the burned district say the fury of the fire could not be described. It swept over the prairie at the rate of forty miles an hour.

OMAHA, April 8.—The gale which swept over Nebraska yesterday bore before it great billows of flames which swept from thousands of fertile acres every vestige of vegetation. The limits of the fire which has raged during the last ten days have become almost state-wide and destruction that was thought might be small has become enormous. It is too soon to get any idea of how much the exact damage is, for the places most affected are remote from telegraph lines.

It is known, though, that much grain and hay in store, together with many barns and other out buildings, miles of fences, dozens of dwellings and many bridges have been licked up. Whether any lives have been lost is not reported, though it seems almost beyond doubt that some settlers, who are located away from easy assistance, must have perished.

In Banner county the village of Ashmore is supposed to have been completely destroyed: Word was brought to Harrisburg last night by the driver of the stage that the town was directly in the path of the fire at 4 o'clock and that the entire population of the village was engaged in a battle to save their homes. The stage driver reported having seen several dwelling houses in flames and settlers fleeing for their lives. He crossed the line of the fire and received a severe scorching, although he is not seriously burned.

Meagre details from Ogalla, Harrisburg, Dunning, Inverton, Kearney, Grand Island, Lexington and Hastings give accounts of great loss to property. The Burlington railroad bridge at Dunning and another at Hastings on the Elk Horn were destroyed, delaying trains somewhat.

At Kearney the fire burned enough of the town to destroy the brewery, located just at the edge.

At Dunning, an old lady named Bartlett was burned so badly she may die. The gale subsided by nightfall, but the fires have scarcely abated, and in threatened sections the inhabitants have spent long hours combatting the fire. The ground burned over is the chief grazing section of the state, and the destruction of the grass means a great loss to stock men in this respect, as they will be compelled to seek new pastures. Their feed in store being destroyed and their stock stampeded by the fire, it will take them many weeks to figure up what the loss really is.

Our New Election Law.

Our new election law here in Alabama has now been tried in more than a dozen cities, and everywhere it has worked smoothly and we have heard no complaints of dishonesty under its operations. The Tuscumbia Alabamian describes its work in that city as follows:

No more "pulls" with the voter. The new election law has put a quietus on all such, and it is a real pleasure to vote under the new law. It effectively does away with all wire-pulling, log-rolling and button-holing among the voters at the polls, and is a genteel, respectable method of voting. It worked like a charm here last Monday, and everybody was well pleased with it. We have heard but little opposition to it, and none from the good citizen who desires fair elections, conducted respectably and intelligently.

What The War Cost.

Mr. Edward Atkinson, one of the leading statisticans of this country, has been figuring on the cost of the war, and he puts it this way:

Pensions to June 30, '92, as stated by Representative O'Neill	$1 550 000 000
Pension rolls and trust payments June 30 '92, to Dec 31 '94 about	250 000 000
	$1,800,000,000
Names on roll Dec 31 '94 about 1,275,000. If all were soldiers of 25 to 26 at time of enlistment, they would then average 60. On that basis by life tables we should have to pay about	2 000 000 000
	$3 800 000 000
Expenditures for war purposes, 7 years of war and reconstruction	4 000 000 000
Probable cost of war in money to the south	2 200 000 000
	$10 000 000 000
Interest in all about	2 000 000 000
Total cost, not including pensions after Dec 31 '94 about	$12 000 000000

It is estimated that about $4,000,000 more will be required to clear up the pension rolls. This would make the total cost of the war about sixteen billion dollars.

It is utterly impossible to comprehend any such sum, but the figures show that ours was the most expensive the world has ever seen. But see how the country has sustained this enormous expenditure and gone steadily onward in wealth as well as in population.

The increase in wealth has been far greater than the growth of our population. While our population now is about twice what it was in 1860, the realized wealth of the country is at least four times as great.

The total property in the United States in 1860, including slaves was about $16,000,000,000. In spite of the four years of war and the abolition of slavery we found in 1870 $22,000,000,00 of property, gold value.

From 1870 to 1880 the wealth more than doubled and from 1880 to 1890 it increased fully one-third.

It is safe to say therefore that the total wealth of the United States now is at least sixty-five billion of dollars which is far greater than than that of any other nation.

We live in a great country.—Atlanta Journal.

Only six women out of nearly four thousand who were registered in Kansas City, voted for the female candidate for Mayor. The surest way to prevent women from holding political offices is to adopt woman suffrage. In the matter of office, as in many other matters, the woman will prefer a man every time. —New York World.

Will Keep His Job.

Washington, April 8.—Jerome Herff, of Peru, Ind., applied in person to President Cleveland for appointment as Consul General at Havanna. He says the President informed him that the present Consul General at that point will be retained.

HIS OWN SISTER.

A Brother Discovers Her in His Beloved Wife.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., April 8.—A romance of unusually unfortunate and pathetic detail was discovered when two detectives from Toronto, Canada, discovered in Mr. and Mrs. Asa Barr the relationship of brother and sister and the heirs to a fortune.

Twenty-five years ago two waifs, brother and sister, were abandoned by German immigrants at Castle Garden. They were legally adopted—one by a man named Asa Barr, the other by a Mrs. Evans. The latter moved soon afterward to Philadelphia, where she brought up her adopted daughter, giving her a good education. Twenty years later, the boy, grown to manhood, moved also to Philadelphia, where he followed the trade of a painter.

Chance threw the brother and sister together. Barr was captivated with the girl, and wooed, won and married her. During the late strike they moved to Homestead. The adopted daughter of Mrs. Evans recently became an heir to considerable property in Canada. Investigation discovered the true relationship of Mr. and Mrs. Barr to be that of brother and sister.

The couple will leave for London, Canada, to claim the fortune.

The Huntsville Mercury thinks the new election law is a "first-class one to make an election law of," and suggests the next legislature will remedy its defects, whatever they are. There seems to be a growing belief that the law is a good one, but as it is yet untried in the black belt, it is best to await results before passing judgment on it. The Jeffersonians have announced their intention to make war on the law, inasmuch as it has a tendency to disfranchise many illiterate white voters. To what extent, it will do this however, remains to be seen.—Montgomery Journal.

THE FORTUNATE ONES.

Who Get the Plums as They Drop From the President's Hand.

Washington, April 7.—The president today sent to the Senate the following nominations:

Caleb W. West of Utah, to be Governor of Utah.

Dominick L Murphy of Washington, to be First Deputy Commissioner of Pensions.

Governor West was former Governor under Cleveland.

Washington, April 7.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate today:

James B. Eustis of Louisiana, to be ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to France.

August Belmont & Co. to be special fiscal agents of the navy department at London, Eng., vice Seligman Bros.

The nomination of Eustis, who had already been confirmed as minister to France, is simply to raise the grade of the mission to meet the corresponding change made by the French government in the case of its representation at Washington.

WASHINGTOF, April 11th.—Today's nominations sent to the senate by the president were as follows:

Edward H. Strobel, of New York to be third assistant secretary of the interior, vice William M. Grinnell, resigned.

Daniel N. Morgan, of Connecticut, to be treasurer of the United States, vice Enos H. Nebeker, resigned.

Conrad N. Jordan, of New York, to be assistant treasurer of the United States at New York city, vice Ellis H. Roberts, resigned.

Daniel M. Browning, of Illinois, to be commissioner of Indian affairs.

Frank C. Armstrong, of Washington, D. C., to be assistant commissioner of Indian affairs.

A queer story of a faithful dog saving a woman's life, comes from Leeds, N. Y. It may be true; if so, it is a high tribute to the intelligence of the much-abused dog. A Mrs. Burrill, so the story goes, was attacked by a man named Rothery, who was in love with her, and who entrapped her in a lonely room. As soon as he had succeeded in alluring Mrs. Burrill into the apartment, he drew a razor and attempted to cut her throat, exclaiming at the same time that he was tired of her carryings on. Mrs. Burrill saw at once that the man was insane with jealousy, and and struggled very hard to free herself. Then suddenly a black dog, belonging to the hotel, and which had been lying asleep under the couch, unbeknown to anybody, sprang upon Rothery, and caught him by the coat sleeve close to the wrist. This compelled the man to make an attempt to shake the animal off, and while doing so he necessarily released his hold upon the woman, who found strength to call for help. Rothery, however, succeeded in releasing himself from the dog, and once more rushed at the woman, razor in hand. At the moment he was about to strike her, the dog leaped between him and the woman, and seized him by the throat. Meanwhile the noise of the struggle had been heard outside, and the landlady opened the door and dragged Mrs. Burrill from the room, closing the door behind her, thus shutting in the man with the dog. When a few minutes later the police broke into the room they found Rothery on the floor with his throat cut, ready to expire at any moment. The dog was lying on the villain's chest and watching over him. It is presumed that the man made away with himself immediately after he found that his intended victim had escaped.

A NICE COMPLIMENT.

L. G. Hames of the S. W. P. U., Called to a Pastorate.

Rev. Leonidas G. Hames, of Clarksville, officiated yesterday morning and evening at Edgar Presbyterian church. Mr. Hames was unanimously elected pastor of this church on Sunday a week ago. Following is a brief biographical sketch of Mr. Hames: He was born on March 12, 1867, at Jacksonville, Ala., and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Hames, of that city. He attended the public schools of his native town and graduated in 1886 from the State Normal College, which is located there. He taught the year following in a private academy at Silver Run, Ala., and was then called to the chair of mathematics in the State Normal College, where he remained a year. Since then he has been attending the Southwestern Presbyterian University at Clarksville. He completed the university course of three years, taking the degree of A. M. Mr. Hames then took up a two years course in theology, which he will complete next June, with the Bachelor of Divinity. He stated that he would accept the call to the pastorate of the Edgar Presbyterian church but that he could not do so officially until the North Alabama Presbytery, of which he is still a member, grants him leave to transfer to the Nashville Presbytery. Mr. Hames is a very promising young man, and possesses high qualifications for the post of duty to which he has been called. —Nashville Banner.

The Talladega Presbytery of Alabama met at the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Gadsden on April 6. J. C. Smith, of Attalla, delivered the opening sermon.

Jasper will have a cotton factory at an early day. Judge John B. Shields left Monday morning on a tour of Georgia and the Carolinas to inspect the cotton mills of those states with the view of the establishment of a factory here.

HANNIS TAYLOR.

Sketch of the Life of the Alabamian Recently Appointed Minister to Spain.

Taylor is a lawyer, living at Mobile, and his reputation is of the first water, one of his arguments made before the supreme court, in opposition to the constitutionally of the anti-lottery law, being in evidence on that point. But first of all, Taylor is a scholar of high attainments and his contributions to historical literature have made him well known to literary men, although he is comparatively a young man, being in his 41st year. His life work is the "Origin and Growth of the English Constitution." But one volume of this work has been published as yet, but it has already been adopted as a text book in seven universities. It is Taylor's desire to conclude the history during his stay in Spain.

He was strongly recommended to Secretary Blaine by Senator Morgan as one of the arbitrators or counsel in the Behring sea arbitration, and was also strongly indorsed by Phelps and some of the leading lawyers of New York.

MOBILE, April 6.—Hannis Taylay was born in New Berne, N. C., September 12, 1851. He is the eldest son of Richard Taylor and Susan Stevenson. Just as his education had fairly begun the war between the states broke out and his father's family was forced to move to Chapel Hill, the seat of the University of North Carolina, and there he finished his education in 1868. Returning to New Berne for a short time, Mr. Taylor read law, but the family in 1869 moved to Mobile, and in September of that year Mr. Taylor was admitted to the bar of Mobile, being then in his 19th year. Before he was of age he was admitted to practice before the state supreme court. Shortly after his admission to the bar Mr. Taylor entered upon the task of writing the history of the "Origin and Growth of the English Constitution," a work upon which he has ever since been engaged.

About fifteen years after the preparation of this work began the first volume was published simultaneously in Boston and in London. The almost instant recognition which the book received both in this country and in Europe established his reputation and eventually secured the promotion which he today received at the hands of the president. Mr. Taylor's work has been adopted either as a text book or as a book of reference in many of the leading American universities, with Harvard at the head of the list. A great northern review said that "Mr. Taylor's work is the greatest which any southerner has produced since 'Maury's Physical Geography of the Sea.'" In a recent article by the Earl of Meath, in the Fortnightly Review, upon "Anglo-Saxon Unity," the writer took occasion to say that "Mr. Bryce's 'American Commonwealth' and Hannis Taylor's 'Origin and Growth of the English Constitution' —grateful tribute by an Englishman to the states and by an American to Great Britain—appearing, curiously enough, almost simultaneously, will do much to bring prominently before the reading public on either side of the Atlantic the strong points of both governments."

Shortly after the publication of this book Mr. Taylor was employed, together with Mr. James C. Carter, the leader of the N. Y. bar, and Mr. Thomas J. Semmes, the leader of the New Orleans bar, to argue before the supreme court of the United States what are known as the freedom of the press cases, in which the constitutionality of the anti-lottery law was involved. He was later engaged with other distinguished counsel in the famous case of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad company, lately decided by the Alabama supreme court. The degree of L. L. D. has been conferred on Mr. Taylor by several universities, and he is one of the governing council of the American Academy of Science and Political Science, and he has lately been invited to attend two of the world's congresses—literature and jurisprudence—to be held in Chicago during the present year. In 1878 he married Ceonora, daughter of William A. LeBaron, vice-consul of Spain at Mobile. He has five children, three sons and two daughters. He is a man of nearly 6 feet in height, of large yet compact form, and with a face marked by highest intelligence. In manner he is a most unassuming man, quiet, modest, yet strong in conversation and eloquent in argument. He is one of the most popular men the State, and no where more liked than by his home people, who know him best.

135 Bushels of Corn to the Acre.

Maj. T. J. Key:

Below find a brief statement of how I made one hundred and thirty five bushels of corn last year on an acre. I first broke the land with an Avery pony, as deep as one mule could draw the plow.

The 20th day of March, I laid off rows six feet apart with a good shovel plow, running twice in a furrow to get deep, and in said furrow I put fifty bushels cotton seed and two hundred pounds of Alabama Fertilizer and listed on the manure.

I then sowed corn in the furrows and covered the corn with one furrow with same shovel plow.

When the corn was up four blades high, I barred off with an Avery pony and then hoed all the grass and weeds away from the corn; and then in eight days I swept the corn by running around the corn two furrows to the row; after this I again swept it with an eighteen inch sweep and hoed and turned the corn, leaving it on an average about one foot apart, and being double rowed, that is, one stalk at once. I had an abundance of strong plants on the ground.

I did more or less work in the corn once a week, either with hoe or plow, until the first of June.

I ran around the corn with a sweep and put two hundred pounds Alabama Fertilize, in sweep furrow, and covered it with Avery and plowed out rows solid with same plow.

After the expiration of eight days, I ran around again with a twenty four inch sweep with wings equal to a heel scrape and after eight days more I laid by the corn by running out the middle with the same plow, plowing as shallow as was possible to plow.

I did not pull the fodder. The land is black sandy land on Ramer Creek bottom, said to have been cultivated fifty or sixty years, continuously.

I have said to my neighbors, that if they will give me five years, I believe I can make one hundred and seventy bushels of corn to the acre, by the use of Alabama Fertilizer.

I want to plant five acres in cotton this year, from which I expect to make ten bales.

JAMES L. HUNT.

RAMER, ALA. JAN. 5th, 1893.

LOOKS LIKE MURDER.

GADSDEN, April 8.—One of the most diabolical crimes in the annals of this county has just come to light. On March 29 Mrs. Louisa Johnson died after two days' sickness. The physicians pronounced her death due to a poison, supposed to be eye-water, which had been used in her sickness. After her funeral suspicion caused the coroner to have the body exhumed, and a careful examination showed bruises on her neck and the jury returned a verdict declaring that the woman came to her death from the effect of the bruises or of poison, and a warrant was sworn out against Robert Johnson, her husband, charging him with the crime. He languishes in jail to await trial. It is said he whipped his wife often and this will be a strong point against him.

LATER: Johnson was tried before Judge Moragne and acquitted.

TO THE WORLD'S FAIR.

ROOMS IN ADVANCE.

The East Tennessee Will Secure Hotel Accommodations for World's Fair Passengers.

[From Atlanta Constitution, March 28, 1893.]

Colonel B. W. Wrenn has sprung another idea in railroading. He is going to have things so arranged that when a traveler going to the World's Fair buys a ticket of an East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia coupon agent, he can engage a room in a hotel at Chicago at the same time and without any extra charge.

The Lelands have leased The Ingram, a large new hotel on Sixtieth street, opposite one of the entrances to the fair grounds, containing over 1,000 rooms, and Colonel Wrenn has arranged with them to let his agents have a certain number of rooms for the use of the patrons of the East Tennessee.

So no matter how great a rush there may be it will be possible for a patron to be sure of a room before starting. For example, the city agent here will have a diagram of the hotel and the rooms placed at his disposal. Every day the agent will learn by telegraph about their rooms, so that there will be no confusion, and when the passenger arrives at the hotel he will have a room awaiting him. His baggage will be checked direct there and he will have no trouble. He will pay 20 per cent. of the price of the room when he engages it, but if he does not like it when he reaches Chicago the railroad will refund the money. A room coupon will be attached to the tickets.

This system is only for the convenience of the regular patrons. If they prefer to stop at some other hotel or at a private boarding house the usual ticket will be purchased. But this house, which the Lelands will run, will be kept as well as any in the city. Warren Leland, Jr., who has the Oglethorpe at Brunswick, will be manager.

Colonel Wrenn, who was in Atlanta a day or two ago, said that the arrangements between the road, and Mr. Leland will be so complete that he feels assured the patrons of his road will be pleased.

CHOCCOLOCCO NEWS.

Happening in Choccolocco and Vicinity.

"Judge" Griffin, one of the school boys' moot court returned to Georgia last week. His departure was fatal to that institution. Joe carried a carbuncle home with him.

Mr. Marland caught a "coon" in his hen house one night recently. He vamped him with a steel trap. Guess he didn't skin the varment, since we do not see the skin tacked up behind the house. Perhaps he decided to let Judge Box do that part of the job.

James Howell is a genuine school boy. When called upon the other day to give a reason for lying out in the woods one afternoon, he said that he went down in the woods and clear forget to come back.

Mr. Downing (our Jack) has blood in his eye. Indeed, he has challenged an offending neighbor. His antagonist is a dangerous one, judging from his record, and the community is nervously awaiting developements.

A car of exhibits has been prepared by the United States Car Co. Anniston, to be sent to the World's Fair. The exhibit consists chiefly of the products of the rolling mill and foundry departments and also contains the famous beat axle which was bent cold and completely doubled without showing an abrasion of the surface.

The Republican.

L. W. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, APRIL 15, 1893.

Thursday the President nominated Alex. W. Terrell, of Texas to be minister to Turkey.

The editors of the Southern after noon newspapers called on Mr. Cleveland in a body Tuesday and were cordially received.

The Anniston Military have abandoned the idea of marching to Chicago. In fact the whole idea of an encampment of the Alabama troops at the Chicago Exposition has been abandoned.

The building of a creditable alms house for the county at or near Jacksonville, was a favorite idea of Mr. Sam'l Noble, before Anniston was thrown open to the public. He advocated it with great warmth.

Gov. Jones attended the convention of Southern Governors at Richmond. They met to consider matters of interest to the South. All the Southern States were represented except Kentucky, Tennessee and Texas.

The Anniston newspapers report that Commissioner Jake T. DeArman and his son Cleff are improving. Both have been desperately ill with pneumonia. This information that they will recover will be gratifying news to the friends of both throughout the county.

The iron furnace in Piedmont is to be completed at once and the bent wood works andshoe manufactory put into operation. This is good news for Calhoun. Let the wheel of progress roll. Plucky Piedmont, may your population increase ten fold!

The dispatches bring terrible accounts of a cyclone which visited some of the Western and Southern States a few days ago. Many towns were completely wiped out and the loss of life was great. In the West many were saved by taking refuge in cyclone pits. Mississippi suffered more than any other Southern State.

Most of the objections one hears to the new election law is really objections to human nature. If we start out with the presumption that election managers are going to perjure themselves and take the risk of the penitentiary in the commission of fraud, then no law the legislature could pass would insure fair elections.

Anniston is rejoicing over the fact that the Hercules Foundry Company will move its plant from Pell City to Anniston. The company manufacture iron piping and is a large concern. We congratulate our enterprising neighbor on the acquisition. All the signs point to a great industrial revival in Anniston.

Connected with the ice plant here is a cold storage room in which can be kept meats, fruits, fish and all perishable matter to an indefinite time. It was the purpose when the ice plant was built to make this a distributing point for the articles mentioned above, and these cold storage rooms were built at considerable cost. Would it not pay to utilize them? Now we have to buy Kansas City beef from Chattanooga.

County Asylum.

The Court of County Commissioners let the contract Tuesday to Kimbrell & Co., of Rome, for the building of the County asylum for the indigent and infirm at Jacksonville, that firm being the lowest bidder by one thousand dollars under the lowest of several bids made. The building will be of brick and buildings and grounds will cost something near ten thousand dollars. The bid of Messrs Kimbrell & Co., was within a few dollars of seven thousand dollars. Work will begin at once and the building will be completed this summer. Calhoun county will in future take care of her poor and unfortunate ones in a manner befitting the wealth and importance of the county.

A chance of a life-time to buy books at prices like Eros at Crook's Drug Store sells.

State Sunday School Convention.

The State Sunday School Association will meet at Opelika, April 25th, and continue in session three days. The Calhoun county Association has appointed the following well known Sunday school workers to attend the State Asrociation:

Prof. Geo. W. Bonner, Iron City; Mr. S G Armentrout, Oxford; Miss Annie Peace, Peaceburg; Mrs. Giles Mathis, Messrs. M A Smith, W S Witham, I Finch, C Conold, W H Williams, Miss Minnie Allen, Judge B F Cassady, Anniston; Mr. S A Russell, Oxanna; Mr. E M Reid, Morrisville; Mr. John Hall, Jacksonville; Mr. R H Martin, Enlaton.

Calhoun County Teachers' Institute.

The Calhoun County white teachers' institute met here Friday and continued in session throughout Saturday. The attendance was larger than at any previous institute, and much interest was manifested. Prof. Jarratt, of the State Normal School, delivered an excellent opening address. The principal topics discussed were United States History, the use and abuse of blackboards, the teacher as a citizen, current history, arithmetic, grammar and discipline.

Superintendent Miller insists on the attendance of teachers at these institutes. He is taking great interest in his work, and the result is there is a general awakeing along the educational line in Calhoun.

ALABAMA HAPPENINGS

MATTERS GREAT AND SMALL GATHERED FROM STATE EXCHANGES.

The Huntsville Argus says: The hoop pole industry is firmly established in our city now, the plant being located adjoining the works of the spoke and handle factory. We learn that the entire output of this concern will be sold to an Eastern firm.

Greenville wants a commercial and industrial association.

A Countryman is the name of a poultry raiser near Anniston.

A woman's exchange is the latest thing talked of in Opelika.

The gold mines in Cleburne county are running at full capacity.

A big revival is in progress at the Baptist church in Eufaula.

The proposed cotton factory at Uniontown is now an assured fact.

Dr. T. A. Davis, of Anniston, has sold his broom factory to Timmons Walker.

Anniston's new Mayor, Capt. Frank M. Hight, and board of Aldermen were sworn in on Monday.

The Holcyon is the name of a literary and social club organized by the young ladies of Gadsden.

The farmers around Union Springs are giving considerable attention to the raising of castor beans for the oil mill.

Pratt City has the peculiar practice of reducing her police force in the summer, one policeman has been "laid off."

Dr. Andrews, who was recently stricken with paralysis at Greensboro, is improving.

Attalla has organized a co-operative loan and manufacturing association, with a capital stock of $50,000.

Jim Morrison, the Greensboro outlaw was wounded by a fifteen year old boy and afterwards captured.

Montgomery beat Birmingham at base ball yesterday.

Chas. A. Wood, a former merchant in Birmingham, died in Selma, yesterday.

The Baptists of Gadsden have sold their church lot for $5,500 and will at once erect a handsom church to cost $12.000.

A noted event in social circles in Montgomery was the marriage on Tuesday night at the St. John's church of Roland Hill Overton and Mary Sayre Allen.

Jim Morrison, a notorious negro desperado and escaped convict from Pratt Mines, was captured in Hale county Tuesday after being severely wounded and is now in jail. The gallows is the place for this scoundrel.

I am from Anniston, must have money, hence sell you the Books I have at Crook's Drug Store for almost no price.

NORMAL NEWS.

A Mouse Causes Trouble—A Large New Glass Other News.

Mallory Davis spent Sunday and Monday at his home in Choccoloco.

Little Fannie Ramagnano, "our pet," has started back to school again.

Misses Sallie and Bessie Savage visited relatives in Anniston during the holidays.

The school had holiday last Friday and Saturday as the teachers' institute was in session.

The girls say they need not carry mirrors to school any longer since they have one large "Glass."

Profs. Jarratt and Forney, Misses Haley Jarratt and Woodward attended the lecture in Anniston last Monday.

The Senior class and other friends were entertained last Monday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ward.

The Normal children were very much pleased with Sam Slim's letter in the last week's Republican. Mr. Slim we think if you were to come up here and ask our parents they would let us go.

Last Wednesday at noon there was witnessed a most terrible scene in the chapel. There were about a dozen young ladies and one gentleman sitting studying and talking when all at once one young lady gave a scream, then the whole room echoed with screams. Then the beloved mater roused herself and sent the answer resounding over "college hill." Girls were running to and fro, upsetting chairs and climbing on top of desks. One girl only had the courage to try to save her terror-stricken sisters: but when she saw that the gallant young man had come to her rescue, she took wings and fled also whispering: "Able was I ere I saw Elba(rt)." The scene lasted no longer than the gentleman could catch the half frightened mouse, for a mouse it was, and hurl its soul into eternity.

ADVICE TO WOMEN

If you would protect yourself from Painful, Profuse, Scanty, Suppressed or Irregular Menstruation you must use

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

CARTERSVILLE, April 28, 1888.
This will certify that two members of my immediate family, after having suffered for years from Menstrual Irregularity, being treated without benefit by physicians, were at length completely cured by one bottle of Bradfield's Female Regulator. Its effect is truly wonderful. J. W. STRANGE.

The Golden-Rod Publishing Co., of Chicago, Illinois, has determined to secure 500,000 new subscribers to their family story paper, the GOLDEN-ROD, before July 1st, '93.

In the ordinary way this would require a lifetime, but "time is money" and in order to save time we are willing to pay those who subscribe now a large sum of realizing that we can soon recover this great expenditure from the increased revenue from our advertisers.

CASH REWARDS.

For the correct answer to any ONE word,	$ 20.00	For the correct answer to any SIX words,	$150.00
For the correct answer to any TWO words,	50.00	For the correct answer to any SEVEN words,	175.00
For the correct answer to any THREE words,	75.00	For the correct answer to any EIGHT words,	200.00
For the correct answer to any FOUR words,	100.00	For the correct answer to any NINE words,	225.00
For the correct answer to any FIVE words,	125.00	For the correct answer to ALL of the TEN words,	500.000

AS SPECIAL GRAND PRIZES WE WILL PAY IN CASH:

Here are the word-riddles, can you solve them? Remember any one of the ten words correctly solved wins for you $20.00 in cash.

To every one sending in the correct answers to ALL of the TEN words during JANUARY, $1,000
To every one sending in the correct answers to ALL of the TEN words during FEBRUARY, 500

1	A——LE	Tree, bearing round fruit.	6	—IN—	A lofty tree.
2	PE——	Tree, Fruit larger at lower end.	7	PAN——C——	Flowers, handsume, of purple or other colors.
3	TUL———	Plants, with Flowers of bright colors.	8	BAN——A	Tropical tree, with fruit in bunches.
4	—R—NG—	Tropical Tree, with round yellow fruit.	9	ROS—— —ATE—	Flowering bushes.
5	—RAP—	The fruit is good to eat.	10		Tropical fruit bearing trees.

EXPLANATION Each dash indicates the absence of a certain letter, and when the proper letters are supplied the original word will be found complete. Example: B—b—c—A book which everyone should read. The omitted letters are i and l, and when properly inserted the complete word is bible.

REWARDS Are paid in cash the very day any answer is found to be correct. To prevent even any appearance of irregularity or collusion, a copy of the original ten words has been deposited in a safety vault under seal, to be opened December 31st, 92, in the presence of witnesses, whose sworn statement as to the correct words together with the list of prize winners, will be published in the January number of the GOLDEN-ROD.

Remember Every Correct Answer Wins A Prize.

CONDITIONS The object of this extraordinary offer is of course to secure subscribers at once, and in large numbers. We therefore require that 50 cents for a year's subscription for our great paper The Golden-Rod, be sent with each answer. Thus if two words are answered $1.00 must be sent, three words $1.50, five words $2.50, and so on, and as many copies of the paper will be mailed to addresses given.

Designate the words you answer by their numbers. Send at once and win one of the grand prizes. Address all letters and make all remittances payable to

QUALITY

Is the "bone and sinew" of every garment in our stock, and on it we rest our reputation. Every day swells the chorus of praise that are being sung to the success of our achievements. The hundreds of patrons who have already sounded the depths of our resources this season are enthusiastic. THAT WE MAKE THE CLOTHING WE SELL SEEMS TO FILL EVERYONE WITH CONFIDENCE. We claim for it but its just dues.

It is the Finest that Can be Made.

Cause is the parant of effect. We couldn't give you the service you were entitled to—and depend on the trade for our supply, so we jumped into the breach ourselves, rolled up our sleeves and went to work on our own hook. We put the Best Fabrics the mills of the world weave in the hands of the Most Expert Artists, and kept a zealous watch over every step. What could come out of such a combination but perfection? Make your wants known. All we need is a hint of your desire, and we can parade before you a stock of Fall Suits and Overcoats that so far excels in quanty, quality and variety the vain boasts of others as to drop them into the pit of obscurity. Judge by facts, not fancies. Call at our establishment, devoted exclusively to our stock of crowded to their utmost capacity with the latest patternings of fashion. Then bring this magnificent display in contrast with the meager assortments others are showing.

Roll the resources of any three of them together, and we are leaders still!

Take our prices into account. The same enterprise that perfected the qualities has curtailed the costs. We have brought both ends of satisfaction together—The Highest Values and the Lowest Prices. In every one of our grades, from $10 to $40, in both Suits Overcoats, you may rest assured you are getting

FULL VALUE.

In the Boy's and Children's Department you will find we have followed fickle fashion through all her various moods. The superior quality that we insist shall be a known quality in everythig we show, leaves us only the most notable fountains to draw from. Two Piece Short Pants Suits, Long Pants Suits, Reefers or Overcoats, are all original effects, selected by us, made up to our notion, and left to our exclusive control. We are not talking idly. These are facts, and you need not be a clothing expert to appreciate them. They are self-evident.

Calls are being made for the heavier overgarments. Ours are ready, tuned on the same chord of consistent perfection, what a wheallth of variety is awaiting your inspection.

ESTABLISHED 1837. JACKSONVILLE, CALHOUN COUNTY, ALA., SATURDAY, APRIL 22, 1893. VOLUME 57.

RULE OF DIVISION.

Agreement of Some Kind Said to Have Been Made.

TO ALABAMA'S PATRONAGE.

What Each Member of the Delegation Is to Get, and Those Who Will Get the Offices.

Other Notes of Interest.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Since the making of a slate was abandoned by the Alabama delegation it is stated that quiet efforts have been going on to get up a sort of agreement as to who shall be recommended to the President for the Alabama offices. This is not to be a slate, but a sort of understanding by which each member of the delegation is allotted a slice of pie, who in turn is to dish it out to whom he prefers—the other members, meanwhile, not to grab at each others slices. According to this program the slices and their destinations are as follows:

Mr Clarke, of the 1st District, the Marshal of the Southern District which is said to be destined for Mr Robt Morrisette, of Monroe.

Mr Stallings of the Second, the Attorneyship of the Southern district, which is said to be for Mr. Miller of Wilcox.

Mr Oates of the Third, the Collectorship of the Port of Mobile, with which no one's name is connected.

To Mr Robbins of the Fourth, one of the Land Offices, for which slice also no one is mentioned as settled.

To Mr Cobb of the Fifth, one of the land offices, to which Mr. Hunter of Lowndes, is said to be assigned.

To Mr Bankhead of the Sixth the marshalship of the Northern district to be turned over to his friend of chief concern, Mr Musgrove, of Walker.

To Mr Denson of the Seventh the internal Revenue Collectorship, for which he is said to surrender all things else in the interest of Mr Randall of Gadsden.

Gen. Wheeler of the Eighth the Attorneyship of the Northern district for Mr O'Neil of Lauderdale.

To Mr Turpin of the Ninth, two land offices, one at Huntsville for Mr. Ellis of Blount, and the other at Montgomery for Mr Avery, of Hale.

To Senator Morgan the Marshalship of the middle district for his townsman Capt. Tisdale.

To Senator Pugh the Attorneyship of the middle district for his nephew Mr Clayton.

Of course, all this is rumor; it may not be true, it may not work out, but there is a good deal of it in the air, and it is very likely there is some foundation in fact as to the movement.

It is understood that the status of matters as to the judicial offices in the Northern and Middle Districts of Alabama is that there is no vacancy in the places of District Attorney or Marshal. The District Attorney of the Northern District performs the duties of the District Attorney of the middle district, and his commission reads for both Districtss and so the Marshal of the Southern District performs the duties of the Marshal of the Middle District and he is also commissioned for both Districts. No new district has been created and the offices of District Attorney and Marshal of the Middle District have always existed and hence as the new law creating a District Attorney and Marshal for the middle district did not create the offices, the present incumbents will exercise the duties of the offices in both District until appointments are made by the President which will most likely not occur before the beginning of the next fiscal year, or July 1st, 1893.

Talks About the Crops and Again Invites the Normal School to Picnic at Oxford Lake.

OXFORD, ALA., April 20.

We had a slight frost down here last Sunday morning, no damage done. Glad of it, for Mrs. Slim's garden is looking splendid, and strawberries in abundance nearly ready to begin to ripen. Understand it is Mrs. Slim's garden and I do the work and she boards me. I'm content; but, I guess she thinks some times, that I'm like Joe's mother—"hearty."

The farmers in this vicinity have certainly got a move on them. Corn on up land is nearly all planted and up; much of the cotton crop, (and its no falling off from last year, notwithstanding 5 cents a pound is staring the country in the face) is planted and some fields so well up that you can see it from one end of the row to the other. The guano supply is exhausted—not a sack to be found in Oxford, Oxanna or Anniston, although some of our merchants, a short time since, were looking not very smilingly on some other merchants because they thought the other fellow was trespassing on their guano trade, and that they might have to carry some stock over.

Say you Normal school students, call on Professor Jarratt and induce him to leave the place of holding your annual pic-nic to a vote. Then vote early and often for Oxford Lake. Then act mighty clever at home, be ready for breakfast, do what your parents direct, cheerfully. Return promptly from school in the evening and see if there is anything you can do about home that will assist papa or mama. In fact make yourselves useful as well as ornamental. Occasionally mention the pic-nic, incidentally, and ask your parents to be sure and go with you. Don't let on like your parents will make the least objection. And if they can't possibly accompany you, tell them that I promise to chaperone every tot, or big tot either, who has no daddy or mammy or other protector along. O, I forgot to tell you; we've got a merry-go-round out there, and lots of fishing poles with lines and hooks already on them, and you can catch grasshoppers for bait. Now won't that be nice? I think, if you will follow my advice you will have no difficulty in gaining your parents' consent. For let me tell you, there is nothing that can bring old folks around like dutiful, accommodating, industrious and well behaved children.

INDUSTRIAL ALLIANCE.

A Call Issued for a National Convention of all Classes at Chicago.

PITTSBURG, Pa. April 15.—The Citizens Industrial Alliance has issued a call for the industrial classes of America to meet in convention at the city of Chicago on the 4th day of July, 1893, there to formulate their demands as a basis for a permanent political union for the better protection of the industrial classes of America.

HER SUFFERINGS OVER.—Mrs. Robert Treadaway, who has been slowly but steadily sinking for weeks past, died this forenoon at 10 o'clock at her home three miles north of the city, on the Jacksonville road. The funeral will take place to morrow forenoon at 10 o'clock at Four Mile church. Mrs. Treadaway was a noble christian woman and her early death will be deplored by a very wide circle of devoted friends.—Anniston News.

THE ALABAMA OFFICES.

CONGRESSMAN OATES TALKS ABOUT THE MATTER.

A Long Time Before the Pie Will be Handed Around.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Your correspondent called on Col. Oates and propounded to him a few questions, and the answers he gave will be interesting reading to the people of Alabama. The first question was:

"Colonel, is there any truth in the report we hear that President Cleveland intends to recognize Capt. Kolb and his supporters in Alabama by tendering to some of them important appointments?

He said: "I do not believe there is a particle of truth in the report. Mr. Cleveland has no idea of offering any appointment to Kolb or any of his supporters who are still adhering to and following him. He has said that he would appoint to office, if a good man and properly recommended, any of those who have supported Kolb, abandoned him and returned to the Democracy and voted the regular Democratic ticket last November. We all decided in Alabama that those who voted for Kolb in August but came back to the party and voted for the Democratic nominees in November should be treated and regarded as Democrats, and allowed to participate in the primaries hereafter. Mr. Cleveland is aware of that fact and this is as far as his recognition will extend."

Colnel, do you know what the President's policy will be in respect to those who were appointed and are now holding office under the Harrison administration?

"Yes, sir, I do know, because I have asked him and had it directly from him that he will allow them to hold out the term for which they were commissioned, unless for some mal-administration they render themselves removable for cause. Consequently the District Attorneys and Marshals, Revenue Collestor, Collector of the Port of Mobile, Register and Receiver of Land Offices, will continue in office for about one year, their terms expiring in February and March, 1894."

"Will the same course be pursued with reference to postmasters?"

"It will, except where they are removable for cause. If they are guilty of very offensive partisanship, that may be considered cause, but it is not considered offensive partisanship to advocate the doctrines of their party or to urge the acceptance of its doctrines, but will consist in corruptly or improperly using the offices for political or partisan purposes. It is the intention of Mr. Maxwell, the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, even in the case of fourth class postmasters, to allow them, where they are making efficient officers, to hold their offices for about four years, although they have no term whatever. This latter, Mr. Maxwell told me yesterday, is largely for the convenience of his bureau, which even under this regulation has more work than can be properly accomplished with the force at his command. But the work of change will contine to go on among the postmasters until these offices in the course of a year or two are all in charge of Simon-pure Democrats. Neither Mr. Cleveland nor any of his assistants in this administration up to date have appointed any Republicans, except in the single case of Judge Gresham, and the truth is that he is now about as good a Democrat as any in the Cabinet, and they are generally conceded all to be good ones. He is not only a very able man, but a polite and courteous gentleman."

Then you think it is not likely that there will be any appointment of Federal officials in Alabama at an early date.

"I do not know, but am of the opinion that none will be appointed before next fall or winter."

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

DIVISION OF ENTOMOLOGY.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

April 10th 1893.

Hon. Wm. H. Forney,
Jacksonville, Ala.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of April 6th addressed to the Secretary of Agriculture has been referred to this office for reply. The insect which you send is the common Colorado Potato Beetle (Doryphora decimlineata) which has done so much damage in northern States during the past 20 years. The southern range of this insect has been very slowly though gradually extended. Its occurence in injurious numbers has once or twice been previously reported from the northern part of your state but it has died out almost immediately and must now have been newly imported from some northern locality. The specimens which you send are healthy and it is quite probable that considerable damage will result from the appearnce unless energetic measures are taken to destroy it. The very best remedy consists in the application of Paris green either mixed with water in the proportion of one fourth pound of the poison to 40 gallons, or with land plaster or spoiled flour in the proportion of one part of the poison to 15 parts of the other ingredient. I shall be glad to receive information as to the amount of damage done and as to the extent of the country infested.

Yours respectfully,
C. V. Riley,
Entomologist.

WARNED OF THE PRESENCE OF THE DESTRUCTIVE COLORADO POTATO BEETLE.

To The Age-Herald.

MONTGOMERY, April 10.—This morning Commissioner H. D. Lane received from Jacksonville, Ala., a seidlitz box full of Colorado beetles. This is an insect which is to be dreaded, and the people should understand this fact, so as to be prepared for saving their Irish potatoes and tomatoes from being destroyed. We write this paragraph for the Age-Herald to forewarn the farmers and truck growers against the depredations of this ravenous insect.

The beetles received at Montgomery from Calhoun county passed the winter under the ground, and are mature and ready to propagate their species. One of the females will deposit 200 small yellow eggs on the under part of the leaf of a potato, which will in seven days hatch a peculiar little red-meated insect which at once commences feeding upon the potato leaves. There will be three generations of the beetles in one season. One female will have 300,000 great-grandchildren this year. Your readers can make their preparations for fighting this beetle.

The remedy is simple and can be applied by any intelligent farmer without any risk. Take one pound of paris green and mix thoroughly with ten pounds of cheap flour and sprinkle from a piece of mosquito netting or some tin vessel with small holes in the bottom. One such application will destroy all the larva, but not the eggs. The application will have to be repeated in fifteen days to destroy the next generation which will have come from the unhatched eggs at the time of the first application.

There will be no danger of poison to persons if the paris green be used as directed. All the potato growers are advised to be on the lookout for the Colorado beetle and use the paris green and them promptly.

Yours,
THOMAS J. KEY.

Hotspur postoffice, Schlby county, has been discontinued, and the people in that vicinity will get their mail at Vincent.

GREAT SENSATION.

A Secret Which Had Been Safely Kept for Many Years.

Written Confession of a Prominent Tennessee Physician Acknowledging Having Murdered a Minister at Clarksville.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., April 8.—There has been found among the private papers of the late Dr. Francois Fountenay the written confession of a crime which occured twenty-eight years ago, and of which Dr Fountenay was never suspected. Rev. A. M. Feltner, a rector of the Episcopal church, disappeared mysteriously in 1865, and diligent search by his friends, aided by detectives, failed to furnish any clue as to what had become of him. His wife had just died, but beyond that no cause for melancholy was known and nothing could be learned to indicate any motive for going away mysteriously. The document is a confession by Dr. Fountenay that he murdered Feltner. The confession goes into detail.

Dr. Fountenay was Mrs. Feltner's physicians and greatly interested in the case because of some peculiar features that appealed to his professional zeal. When Dr. Fountenay yielded to the temptation to steal the body for an autopsy, he had it removed from the grave and was preparing to refill it when he received a stunning blow from behind. Wheeling he found himself face to face with Feltner, the latter maddened by the desecration of his wife's grave. The rector again attacked him, and to defend himself, knowing that protests would be useless, the doctor seized a shovel and struck his assailant on the head hoping to stun him and escape. The blow crushed the temple bone causing instant death. The horrified murderer placed the body in the empty coffin and refilled the grave. Rain washed away all traces of the work and the strange disappearance was soon almost forgotten.

Dr. Fountenay completed his autopsy with great advantage to science. He adopted his victim's two children, both of whom are living. The daughter married a state official. The son is in the government service. Dr. Fountenay was a wealthy bachelor and left them his fortune.

Mrs. Feltner's body was found where the confession said it had been buried in the cellar, and reinterred beside that of her husband.

The Huntsville Mercury, an observant paper and not so innocent as it sometimes appears, asks:

"There is some unusal stir in the Jeffersonian democracy. The occasion of the excitement is unknown. Perhaps the Alliance Herald will explain." Of course the Alliance Herald will be able to explain it to the satisfaction of the Mercury, but will it? It may conclude that it is unnecessary or that it would be unwise to let the cat out of the wallet now. But it may as well do so. There is a rumor and one pretty well authenticatad that Mr. Cleveland has "saint" word that he proposed to recognize them in the distribution of Alabama pie. If this is true, they are probably hustling around endeavoring to see who shall get the biggest slice.—Montgomery Journal.

The Guntersville Democrat says: "Willis Slaton brought specimens of galena ore to town Tuesday, taken from land eight miles east of Guntersville, from a vein which he says is eight inches thick. He proposes to investigate further. A gentleman here offered Mr. Slaton ten dollars for a bushel of such samples as were shown."

A movement is on foot to have the town of Elba incorparated.

SCHENCK'S SPRING.

Mr. Will Dickie, a son of Wat Dickie, is lying low with consumption.

Mr. Ray, who contracted to build so many houses here is getting along very well. He has already got up seven.

Mr. John Heathcock has moved his saw mill here, got his yard full of logs and has commenced sawing.

The young folk of this vicinity have a literary club which meets somewhere in the neighborhood one night each week, with Miss Nola Pierce, as President.

The farmers are busy planting; they work as though they intend to make a desperate effort for a big crop.

Now Mr. Editor, I would like to know what has become of all the local writers of ten years ago. I would like to hear who of them died in the recent political campaign.

But maybe the most of them are in Washington trying to get an appointment under Cleveland. But I don't think they can beat Grover bad from the fact he knows there are more applicants than he got votes.

BILL ARP, Jr.

Iowa's Ice Cave.

One of the greatest curiosities in the Mississippi valley is a natural ice cave which is located in the bluffs of the Iowa river within less than a mile of Decorah, the county seat of Winneshcik county. This unique curiosity is indeed a natural icehouse—a cavern in which great icicles may be found at any season of the year, being especially fine in summer, when the weather is hot and dry outside. The bluff in which the cave is located is between 240 and 400 feet in height, it being necessary to climb about 75 feet up the side of the bluff to reach the mouth of the cave. The entrance is a fissure about 10 feet in width and between 15 and 20 feet in height from which a constant current of cold air issues.

Thirty feet from the mouth of the cave the passage turns toward the left and downward, toward the river bed. The slope is very gradual, however, and the walls and the roof are within easy reach all the while. After you have reached a spot 100 feet from the opening you entered, it is noticed that the walls and roof are covered with frost. Twenty feet farther a thin coating of ice is noticed, which increases in thickness as you go into the bluff.—St. Louis Republic.

Col. Rufus N. Rhodes of the Birmingham News has been very near the president recently. In fact he has been closeted with him on more than one occasion. He is now at home, and this is what his paper says editorially yesterday:

"In making appointments for Alabama President Cleveland will recognize every faction of the democracy and as far as possible, harmonize the party. The democrat, who voted for Kolb in August and in November for Cleveland can get recognition, if he applies, from the administration in Washington. And it's right."

The Journal would call the special attention of the Jeffersonians to the utterance of one in a position to speak. But it would advise them all not to start to Washington at once.—Montgomery Journal.

A remarkable freak of nature occured on Thursday at the Parish farm near Florence. The phenomenon is an immense hole fifty feet across the top and of undeterminable depth. The hole was found by Mr. T. W. Redding, who leases the farm. It is located in a field that has been in cultivation for years and at a place where the earth was apparently solid. The sinking occured in the night during a heavy storm. It is thought that the hole leads to a vast subterranean cavern, and it will be explored as soon as it is determined that no more earth is to sink.

TO THE WORLD'S FAIR.

ROOMS IN ADVANCE.

The East Tennessee Will Secure Hotel Accommodations for World's Fair Passengers.

[From Atlanta Constitution, March 2, 1893.]

Colonel B. W. Wrenn has sprung another idea in railroading. He is going to have things so arranged that when a traveler going to the World's Fair buys a ticket of an East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia coupon agent, he can engage a room in a hotel at Chicago at the same time and without any extra charge.

The Lelands have leased The Ingram, a large new hotel on Sixtieth street, opposite one of the entrances to the fair grounds, containing over 1,000 rooms, and Colonel Wrenn has arranged with them to let his agents have a certain number of rooms for the use of the patrons of the East Tennessee.

So no matter how great a rush there may be it will be possible for a patron to be sure of a room before starting. For example, the city agent here will have a diagram of the hotel and the rooms placed at his disposal. Every day the agent will learn by telegraph about their rooms, so that there will be no confusion, and when the passenger arrives at the hotel he will have a room awaiting him. His baggage will be checked direct there and he will have no trouble. He will pay 20 per cent. of the price of the room when he engages it, but if he does not like it when he reaches Chicago the railroad will refund the money. A room coupon will be attached to the tickets.

This system is merely for the convenience of the road's patrons. If they prefer to stop at some other hotel or at a private boarding house the usual ticket will be purchased. But this house, which the Lelands will run, will be kept as well as any in the city. Warren Leland, Jr., who has the Oglethorpe at Brunswick, will be manager.

Colonel Wrenn, who was in Atlanta a day or two ago, said that the arrangements between the road, and Mr. Leland will be so complete that he feels assured the patrons of his road will be pleased.

He Got Their Password.

This happened in a little town in Southern Illinois not many years ago. It is in a section where the Farmers' Alliance is strong, and a lodge of that organization exists in the town. They meet Monday nights.

There is only one lodge-room in the town, and on Tuesday nights it is occupied by the local branch of the Knights of Pythias.

The President of the country sub-alliance came to town one Tuesday. He had visited the town alliance, and when he saw lights in the lodge-room, concluded he would go over and condole with the brethren over the defeat of Buchanan.

He gave the proper knock at the outer door. The wicket was raised and an ear placed at it to hear the password.

"I plow, I hoe, I spade," whispered the alliance man.

The ear was replaced by an eye, and in turn gave place to a mouth which whispered in reply.

"The h—l you do!" and the wicket dropped with a bang.

The indignant farmer shortly afterward met a brother to whom he told his tale of woe.

"Why, dod blame it," was the sharp comment of the brother, "them's Knights of Pythias, and you've give 'em our password."

"Dogged if I ain't," was the response; but (brightening up), durn 'em, I've got theirs!"—Pythian Voice.

Bill Smith, a festive young man, was arrested in Gadsden on Friday for stealing a horse in Talladega, from S. P. Watson. He traded the horse to a man in Anniston, traded at Alexandria and traded his last horse in this city when he was arrested. He was taken back to Talladega Saturday.

The Gadsden Times-News is now issued semi-weekly.

The Republican.

T. V. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY, APRIL 22, 1893.

A DeArmanville correspondent of the Alliance Herald, seems to be under the impression that the Democratic newspapers of the State have been "pitching into" the REPUBLICAN because of its advocacy of fair conduct of elections under the new election law.

Such is not the case. The Democratic newspapers of the State are in favor of fair elections, and the REPUBLICAN is only one of many which have voiced the sentiments of the honest masses of the party in this regard. Certain third party orators, and organs have freely made the charge that the Democracy of the State intends to perpetuate its power by fraud and that the new election law was but a step in the perpetration of this dark design. The REPUBLICAN and other Democratic newspapers of the State believe that the new law was adopted in the interest of fair elections and that it is the purpose of the party to secure that benefit to the people. Therefore, speaking for the honest masses of the Democratic party, these newspapers have declared themselves in favor of fair elections, and in this way have sought to repel the charge brought against their party by its enemies. Since it is admitted that the new law secures to the white people of every county undoubted control of their local governments, the last reason for winking at any irregularity anywhere has been removed, and the party has hastened, through its organs, in all sections of the State, to avow itself in favor of the purity of the ballot box. On this the Democratic press of the State are agreed, and if any of them have been criticising the utterances of the REPUBLICAN on this head, we have failed to see the article.

It is true that we think we see a design upon the part of a certain writer for the press to place the REPUBLICAN, by suggestion and insinuation rather than by direct charge, in the attitude of attack in this regard upon certain communities in this county and State; but, bless you, he does not represent the press of Alabama; neither does he represent the Democracy of the State to any appreciable extent. We say again that the Democratic press of Alabama and the REPUBLICAN are in accord on the subject of fair elections, and the party is with its organs. Fraudulent practices in elections can be charged exclusively to no particular party nor section, but the honest masses of all parties have agreed that it is not well for the State that they should exist longer anywhere, and they will cease to exist, because of the popular displeasure.

The last session of the Legislature passed an act allowing the issue of one hundred thousand dollars in county bonds for the improvement of the roads in Colbert county, and left it to the voters of that county to decide whether or not the bonds should be issued. The election was held Tuesday and the people voted to issue the bonds and have good roads.

Mr. E. C. Anderson, Chairman of the Calhoun County Sunday school Executive Committee, writes us that all delegates to the State Association at Opelika from this county will leave Anniston at 1 p. m. Tuesday, the 25th, and reach Opelika at 5 p. m. the same day. He desires that every Sunday school in the county shall send delegates.

We print elsewhere some important information from the agricultural department at Washington & Montgomery respecting the Colorado beetle or potato bug, which has made its appearance here. People should use the remedy and destroy these pests at once.

We publish elsewhere Washington dispatches relating to the disposition of the federal offices in Alabama. Our readers need not attach too much importance to them. It is hard to guess what will happen in politics.

The county asylum contractors have begun the work preparatory to the manufacture of the two hundred and fifty thousand brick necessary for the building.

The miners at Tracy City, Tenn. attempted to release 500 convicts Wednesday night. A fight between the troops and miners ensued and several men were killed.

We call attention to the one price Clothing Store of Anniston, as an advertisement in this issue. The stock this season is unusually fine and prices unusually low. The attention on customers will be polite and ready as always. This house is famous in more senses than one. It is famous for the quality of its goods, for its fair dealing with customers, for the obliging and gentlemanly bearing of its proprietors and their employes. It is a pleasure to trade with the famous. One always feels as if he is going to get the worth of his money both in the quality and style of the goods he buys.

The workingmen of Belgium have been rioting to secure universal suffrage. Many have been killed and wounded, but the legislative branch of the government gave the workingmen what they asked. But for the prompt action of the government the world might have witnessed the scenes of another French revolution in Belgium.

The dispatches state that President Cleveland will be absent from Washington a week in New York and at the opening of the World's Fair in Chicago, and that no more appointments will be made until his return. The office-seekers are leaving Washington in consequence.

A late issue of the Gadsden Times contained a notice of the death of Mrs. Robt. Kyle. She was a most estimable lady and tidings of her death will bring sorrow to the hearts of many people who loved her. In the long ago Mr. and Mrs. Kyle lived in Jacksonville.

The company here who own the Schencks Sulphur Spring are building a number of cottages there for summer residence. Most of those built have already been rented. This will be a great popular summer resort before long. The waters are undoubtedly the finest sulphur waters in the South, and have great medicinal virtues.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Nashville will Entertain in May Next--The Most Distinguished Men of the Great Denomination will be Present--Over 3,000 Visitors Expected.

The Southern Baptist convention, which will convene in Nashville May 12, is one of the largest religious bodies that ever gathers in the world. It was invited to come to Nashville by a joint resolution from the Commercial Club and the Baptist churches of this city, backed by the indorsement of the mayor of Nashville and the governor of the State, the object being to draw a large crowd of visitors from all parts of the country to the city, as well as for religious consideration involved in the work of the convention.

Already correspondence is going on with people from every state in the union wishing to visit Nashville in May, not only to attend the convention, but to see the city and the country. Especially is this true with reference to people from the north, from whence comes principally the Baptist educated society, and from all quarters there will be not less than 3,000 delegates and visitors to the convention.

The E. T., V. & G. Ry as usual will sell tickets at one fare round trip May 10th and 11th good to return May 25th. Through cars will be run to Nashville on the occasion without change. If any further information is desired wite to B. W. Wrenn, G. P. & T. A., Knoxville, Tenn., or L. A. Bell, D. P. A. Selma, Ala.

THE FAMOUS.

We've Spread Ourselves.

No harm to look. It will pay you to. You might know that a house with the reputation at stake is not going to tell fairy stories in the papers. We want you to see our $15, $18 and $20 suits, because we are con fident they will please you.

They certainly ought to. We've put our time and talent and goodness enough in them. We know that $15 and $18 doesn't sound very much, especially if you've been fooling with tailors prices. If what they charge $30 or $35 for will suit, our $15 and $18 grades are sure to be something of a saving, ain't it? You are not tied down to any style. You have more of a variety here than in a half dozen other stores. The cut of the garment is the latest SINGLE and DOUBLE BREASTED SACK SUITS and THREE and FOUR BUTTON CUTAWAY FROCKS.

By the way, have you thought about a business suit for the spring?

What's the matter with a Double breasted Sack?

There are going to be lots of them worn, and there are scores of neat effects among our stock, some light, some dark, of course betwixt and between shades. There is lots of style about them; lots of comfort and satisfaction in them.

You see your spring suit and underwear will cost you less than the suit alone from a tailor.

Are you going to wear negligee shirts this summer? See our styles and prices. They will interest you.

Don't you think it is about time to get a spring Hat?

"ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY."

ESTABLISHED 1837. JACKSONVILLE, CALHOUN COUNTY, ALA., SATURDAY, APRIL 29, 1893. VOLUME 75.

SPOILS FOR DIXIE.

NINE OUT OF FIFTEEN FOREIGN MISSIONS—FOUR CONSULS GENERAL.

Twelve Principal Bureau Officials and Three Cabinet Members Awarded to the Southern States.

A Washington dispatch to the Rocky Mountain News says: The south is being treated right well by this administration. "I don't see that we have any reason to complain," is the remark made by Congressman Catchings, of Mississippi, this morning at the white house. He then proceeded to enumerate some of the good things which have thus early in the engagement been captured by the by the south. His enumeration of these things also incidentally disclosed how President Cleveland has had the geographical distribution of the federal patronage in mind in making his appointments.

THE DIVISION.

So, far only fifteen of the forty diplomatic missions under the state department have been filled, and of these fifteen nine have been given to residents of Southern States. Alabama has received the Spanish mission, Louisian the French embassy, Tennessee the mission to Chili, Texas that of Turkey, Missouri the Swiss, Delaware the most important of all, the embassy to Great Britain. Kentucky furnished the mister to Peru, Georgia the one to Gautemala and Honduras, and North Carolina the appointment to the mission which includes Greece, Roumania and Servia.

These are not the only good berths in the foreign service which have gone to the South. Four consuls general positions, which are but little inferior in rank to those of ministers, have been chosen below Mason and Dixon's line. They are those to Vienna and Mexico. Both of which went to Missouri. Several other good foreign places have been given to the South.

THE SOUTH IN THE DEPARTMENTS.

In the domestic service the south has been almost equally fortunate. Mississippi has furnished an assistant secretary of the interior and the recorder of the general land office. Maryland has the superintendency of immigration and one of the positions on the district court of appeals. Virginia supplies the solicitor of the state department, South Carolina a commissioner of railroads and the second auditor of the treasury, Tennessee a solicitor of the treasury, Georgia an assistant attorney-general, Florida the deputy fifth auditor and Texas got another of the court of appeals judgeships.

Today West Virginia bagged the commissionership of internal revenue. Besides these, the three important cabinet positions held by southern men must not be forgotten. The secretaryships of the treasury, navy and interior. Altogether the south has fared very well, considering that the administration is only about six weeks old.

A strange story is told of the second marriage of Levy Thompson an old citizen of Ware county, Ga. On the day of his first wife's funeral, immediately after the solemnities were over, Mr. Thompson stepped forward with a young woman accompanying him, and asked the preacher to unite them in marriage. The preacher was bewildered, but consented to perform the ceremony, and Mr. Thompson left the funeral of his first wife accompanied by his bride. The ceremonies took place at Kettle creek church, and created quite a sensation among the people of that community. The couple are said to be living happily together in their country home.

In 1843 some citizens of Mobile presented Edmond S. Connor, an actor, a silver goblet. He is dead and his executors have sent the goblet back to the authorities at Mobile to be kept as a relic.

GENERAL FOREST'S ESCAPE.

Reminiscences of a Night of Horror—The War at the Wind up in Selma.

Not long since I went over to the battlefield of Selma where General Forrest fought his last battle and which was among the last of the confederacy—A member of Forrest's escort, and near his person throughout the campaign that ended at Selma, also following him in his escape from the enemy the night after this fight and with him in his surrender to General Canby at Gainesville, Ala., April 10, 1865, there were memories awakened by that brief visit over that battlefield which had slumbered for more than a quarter of a century, and which yearned for utterance. The pen of the partisan historian has time and again endeavored to cast obloquy on the memory of one which the future chronicler must characterize in very truth as one of the grandest military geniuses developed on either side of our late struggle. As I see General Forrest's character now, when I am best able to weigh it by the years of experience and observation which have passed since I followed him as a soldier, I feel that he possessed every requisite that constitutes greatness in a leader of men, and after this lapse of years he is more my ideal of a military hero today than he was when I sought to shelter his form with my own to save him from the enemy's fire on the field of Selma. No matter what emergency overtook him, or what odds or dangers beset him, there was never an occasion in which his immediate followers did not feel implicit confidence in his ability to carry himself and them out of it in safety. His men from experience gained absolute and unquestioning confidence in his genius and resources, nor did ever he in any single instance disappoint them. Distinguishing himself at Fort Donaldson by refusing to surrender when his commanding officers had decided to do so, he took his entire force in safety out from the toils that there beset him, and from that time till the close of the war he never once found himself where "surrender" ever entered his mind. No time, nor place, nor circumstance, nor surroundings were ever able to dim the faith of his men in that star of destiny which ever illumined his pathway. Though that pathway was often marked by seeming impenetrable barriers of soldiers and bayonets before him, still he was always able to penetrate or overcome them. Quick to perceive the emergencies of his situation, his action was equally as quick and the result as decisive as though carefully prepared and fully matured in advance. His escort had followed him out from so many such situations that it only needed his presence and word to do anything or face any danger without apprehension. And never was this faith more fully vindicated than in his and their escape from the enemy at Selma. It was just at nightfall when the works were carried by Wilson and the handful of defenders captured. The torch of the vandal was already at work when the dash for liberty was made. General Forrest knew himself surrounded by more than ten times his number, yet, nothing daunted, in the gathering darkness out from the enemy's grasp our escape was commenced. Altogether, the scenes of that night and the incidents encountered would form the most thrilling narrative ever penned or that exists in all the annals of bloody warfare. Dark lines of the enemy were dimly perceptive all around us; the firing that had greeted our ears almost incessantly for days and nights had ceased; the atmosphere was heavy with the dense volume of smoke that hung like a death-pall around us, and into that gloom of midnight darkness we plunged our trackless way, eluding the foe as his very hands seemed closing around and upon us. As we emerged from this volume of smoke and found ourselves well out from the city there was unfolded to our view a scene that baffles all attempts at description. From out the darkness the sky was suddenly illumined by forked tongues of flame that seemed intent on engulfing the very heavens themselves in their maddened march of ruin and desolation. It was not a novel sight to Forrest or his escort to witness a large conflagration at night, for we had frequently captured entire wagon trains of an army and burned them. We had torn up railroads, piling cross-ties and rails together, then firing them to warp the rails and make them unfit for use, and such fires we had beheld from an eminence stretching over ten miles and more of distance, but never before had a scene like that before us greeted our sight. Here was a city seemingly all on fire, and as far as the eye could reach around it in every direction lurid flames from burning residences and farm houses met our gaze. And as we gazed we knew that vandal hands were plundering these beautiful homes, and that helpless women and childhood were being turned unprotected into the night with no refuge to shelter their sacred heads and no food for the morrow. Let men who have never witnessed a scene like this moralize as they may and profess horror at the vengeance which that night befell some of these vandals; but place them under similar trials, and they will wonder how it was that any who were caught in that night's work could have received humane treatment or been spared at all. It was only a brief moment that this vision was permitted us, for as we halted to gaze upon it a dark line appeared before us, and we knew that some bloody work was at hand. With his usual perception General Forrest saw only one road to safety, and this was his command to reach it: "Draw your six-shooters and follow me!" and before the enemy realized it, into and through their ranks we had cut our way, and this was repeated through an entire semicircle of the city that night. Going out eastward we turned again northward, cutting through two separate lines of the enemy, then again westward until the road down which the main body of Wilson had passed was reached about midnight, then along the road north we were constantly meeting these vandal bands witnessing the ruin and desolation they were leaving in their track. Nothing but chimneys standing where handsome houses had been, and weeping groupes of women and children around their smouldering ruins. Some ten miles or more on this road immediately north of Selma we came upon a band who had just plundered and set fire to a handsome residence, leaving the inmates wholly destitute. When Gen. Forrest ascertained that the remainder of the company, numbering about forty men, were just going into camp in an adjacent barn lot, by one of his invincible stratagems he himself captured the picket on duty, disarmed him and sent him to the rear of his little band. Then all passed by these others, greeting them as we passed, and turned into a thick growth of pine. We dismounted and on foot returned to have vengeance for some of the outrages we had that night been forced to witness. General Forrest in person commanded, saying as we started on our march of death: "Boys, I am only your captain tonight, I shall share death with you or punish these fellows for this night's work." Several protested against this, promising to do our work even more efficiently if he would remain, but he would have none of it, and placing himself at the head of this little column, slowly we moved along through the undergrowth towards the enemy. We were equal in numbers, but we had their picket guard, and so they dreamed not of the vengeance that was so near them. Without a word, without a sound, save the ominous click of carbines and six shooters, into that lot we slowly marched. The moon had been hid all the night behind hazy clouds, but at this moment it came out from their obscuring folds and there within scarce ten paces distance were the agents whose work of ruin we had that night been witnessing. It is idle to speak of surprise to sleeping foes or generosity to brave enemies. We were not now soldiers on the battlefield, but were men avengers of burned homes insulted wives and mothers whose cries of anguish were even then ringing in our ears. A sharp command: "Ready, aim, fire!" from our captain, a simultaneous volley a few stray shots, and the work was done. It was terrible, but it was what vandal invaders caught in the act, as it were, might expect. As I reflect on it now, after all these years, I am filled with wonder and astonishment that citizens of a common country could ever have been engaged in such a horrid warfare. May Almighty God in his wisdom and mercy spare us from a recurrence of such a calamity, but may the white winged messages of peace and fraternal love ever dwell within the borders of our loved land.

OBSELETE WORDS.

A Large Number of Forgotten Words Still in the Dictionary.

The number of obselete words that are to be found in Webster's dictionary is considerably larger than people have any idea of, says the Philadelphia Times. The following letter, written by an alleged poet to an editor, who had treated his poetry with derision, furnishes some idea of them:

"Sir: You have behaved like an impetiginous scrogle! Like those who, envious of any moral celsitude carry their ungicity to the height of creating symposically the fecund words which my pollymathic genius uses with uberty to abligate the tongues of the weetless! Sir, you have crassly parodied my own pet words as though they were trangrams. I will not coascervate reproaches—I will obduce a veil over the atramental ingratitude which has chamfered even my indiscerptible heart. I am silent on the focillation which my coad juvancy must have given you when I offered to become your fantor and adminicle. I will not speak of the lippitude, the oblepsy, you have shown in exacerbating me, one whose genius you should have approached with mental discalceation. So I tell you, without supervacaneous words, nothing will render ignoscible your conduct to me. I warn you that I would vellicate your nose if I thought that any moral diarthrosis thereby could be performed—if I thought I should not impignorate my reputation. Go! tachygraphic scroggle, band with your crass inquinate fantors; draw oblecations from the thought, if you can, of having synchronically lost the existimation of the greatest poet since Milton!"

And yet all these words are to be found in the dictionary.

TO THE WORLD'S FAIR.

ROOMS IN ADVANCE.

The East Tennessee Will Secure Hotel Accommodations for World's Fair Passengers.

[From Atlanta Constitution, March 28, 1893.]

Colonel B. W. Wrenn has sprung another idea in railroading. He is going to have things so arranged that when a traveler going to the World's Fair buys a ticket of an East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia coupon agent, he can engage a room in a hotel at Chicago at the same time and without any extra charge.

The Lelands have leased The Ingram, a large new hotel on Sixtieth street, opposite one of the entrances to the fair grounds, containing over 1,000 rooms, and Colonel Wrenn has arranged with them to let his agents have a certain number of rooms for the use of the patrons of the East Tennessee.

So no matter how great a rush there may be it will be possible for a patron to be sure of a room before starting. For example, the city agent here will have a diagram of the hotel and the rooms placed at his disposal. Every day the agent will learn by telegraph about their rooms, so that there will be no confusion, and when the passenger arrives at the hotel he will have a room awaiting him. His baggage will be checked direct there and he will have no trouble. He will pay 20 per cent. of the price of the room when he engages it, but if he does not like it when he reaches Chicago the railroad will refund the money. A room coupon will be attached to the tickets.

This system is merely for the convenience of the road's patrons. If they prefer to stop at some other hotel or at a private boarding house the usual ticket will be purchased. But this house, which the Lelands will run, will be kept as well as any in the city. Warren Leland, Jr., who has the Oglethorpe at Brunswick, will be manager.

Colonel Wrenn, who was in Atlanta a day or two ago, said that the arrangements between the road, and Mr. Leland will be so complete that he feels assured the patrons of his road will be pleased.

Congressman Springer, of Illinois has a well-earned reputation for getting more positive rulings out of the Executive and the Cabinet people than any other man on earth. Sometimes—generally, in fact—these rulings are not salted to his taste, but they are always clear. The latest instance was furnished yesterday, when he called upon Mr. Bissell and put to him a case.

"I understand Mr. Postmaster General," he said, "that you have determined to retain Republican postmasters for the full term of four years when nothing can be proved against their character or ability. But suppose that a postmaster appointed by Mr. Harrison served three years and died and a Republican successor was appointed. Will this man be allowed to serve four years dating from the issue of the original commission, or will he be allowed to serve four years dating from the issue of his own commission?"

"He will be allowed," said Mr Bissell, slowly and postively, "to serve out four years of his own."

"Humph" said Mr. Springer. "Well, here is a case that I have in mind: Near the end of his Presidency Mr. Arthur appointed a republican postmaster at Taylorsville Ill. Mr. Cleveland allowed him to serve four years, which carried him nearly through the Democratic administration; then a Democrat was appointed. Mr. Harrison promptly removed this Democrat and named a Republican in his stead. This Republican served through more than three years of Mr. Harrison's administration and then died. A Republican successor was appointed. Is he to be allowed to hold office four years more?"

"He is," said Mr. Bissell.

"But," expostulated Mr. Springer, "that will give us a Democratic incumbent for little more than one year of Mr. Cleveland's two terms."

"It's the rule," said Mr. Bissell.

"It's cheerful," said Mr. Springer.—Washington Post.

PAYNE RECOVERING.

Though He Lost an Arm—The Negro Bound Over.

ANNISTON, April 25.—Mr. W. N Payne, the United States deputy marshal of this city who was mistaken for a White Cap by Bob Dobbs, a Cleburne county negro, last Thursday night, is recovering, though the shattering of his right arm necessitated its amputation. The negro had a trial before United States Commissioner Briggs, and was bound over in the sum of $50 to await the grand jury's action.

Honest election methods is a live question in St. Louis, Mo. The St. Louis Chronicle of April 25th says:

"If fraud were committed at the polls in the municipal contest let it be exposed and punish the rascals guilty of it. There has been so much wild talk by the partisans and their newspaper organs of both parties and so little work done to purge the boxes of scoundrelism that The Chronicle was about to despair of anything being done. But now that the Democrats have publicly announced a determination to have searching investigation made, the friends of clean municipal government may renew the hope of running the rascals to earth and meting out to them that punishment which their conduct so richly deserves."

NO WALL STREET PUPPET

The financial column of The New York Times, of Wednesday, contained the following very significant paragraphs:

Wall Street waited anxiously all day yesterday for news from Washington. It was not until after business closed that anything like definite information was obtainable, however. But this did not keep the rumor mongers from liveliness. They filled the streets with "news" the whole day through. They bulletined the big issue of bonds. They cured all the financial ills. The only difficulty was that while all these gentlemen guessing, very few of them guessed alike.

Just as the market closed the following Washington dispatch was received and sent out by the Dow Jones Financial News agency:

"The Cabinet has adjourned. The question of bond sales was considered. You can state positively that there will be none issued, even should the gold reserve go $25,000,000 below where it is now."

If this dispatch is reliable, it makes clear that Wall Street has not much influence with the Treasury Department at present, for it has been fairly deluging Washington with appeals for bonds. There doesn't seem to be any Fort Carlilse in Wall Street.

"No Fort Carlisle in Wall Street." This is no more nor less than the Democracy of the country expected when Mr. Carlisle was called upon to administer the Treasury Department. The country had been so long accustomed to seeing the financial policy of the administration fired off, after the Secretary of the Treasury had paid a flying trip to Wall Street to consult with Wall Street brokers and speculators, they demanded a new order of things, and Mr. Carlisle's appearance was warmly welcomed.

John Sherman set the example for all succeeding Republican Secretaries of the Treasury, and Fort Sherman in Wall Street has been the haven of Republican administration for financial shelter. But Mr. Carlisle is a Democrat and Democratic ideas will prevail so long as he administers the financial department of the government. As soon as Wall Street learns that it cannot bulldoze Mr. Carlisle, with the country elsewhere behind him, then there will be a let-up in the daily monetary scare sent out from Wall Street to influence trade everywhere and in every channel.—Montgomery Advertiser.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Nashville will Entertain in May Next--The Most Distinguished Men of the Great Denomination will be Present--Over 3,000 Visitors Expected.

The Southern Baptist convention, which will convene in Nashville May 12, is one of the largest religious bodies that ever gathers in the world. It was invited to come to Nashville by a joint resolution from the Commercial Club and the Baptist churches of this city, backed by the indorsement of the mayor of Nashville and the governor of the State, the object being to draw a large crowd of visitors from all parts of the country to the city, as well as for religious consideration involved in the work of the convention.

Already correspondence is going on with people from every state in the union wishing to visit Nashville in May, not only to attend the convention, but to see the city and the country. Especially is this true with reference to people from the north, from whence comes principally the Baptist educated society, and from all quarters there will be not less than 3,000 delegates and visitors to the convention.

The E. T., V. & G. R'y as usual will sell tickets at one fare round trip May 10th and 11th good to return May 25th. Through cars will be run to Nashville on the occasion without change. If any further information is desired wite to B. W. Wrenn, G. P. & T. A., Knoxville, Tenn., or L. A. Bell, D. P. A. Selma, Ala.

Jacksonville Ice Company.

The Jacksonville Ice Company have begun the delivery of ice regularly each day to its customers in Jacksonville. They have placed the ice within the reach of the most economical. Certainly half a cent a pound, delivered, is as cheap as anybody ought to want it. In outside contracts special rates will be made even better than this. It will be well to write to them. This ice is the purest in the world. The water which makes it is taken from the very head of the famous big spring in Jacksonville which is very little smaller than the Huntsville and Tuscumbia fountains. This water is evaporated into steam and afterwards condensed and filtered through charcoal. It is absolutely pure. Since the organization of the State Jacksonville has enjoyed the reputation of being the healthiest point within the State. This reputation is as much for its water as its climate. The fact that this already superlatively pure water is taken and distilled, insures that the ice made from it is absolutely pure.

Apropos of the lawyers pitching into experts on the witness stand in murder trials, the case is recalled where the lawyer looked quizzically at the doctor who was testifying and said:

"Doctors sometimes make mistakes don't they?"

"The same as lawyers," was the reply.

"But doctor's mistakes are buried six feet under the ground," said the lawyer.

"Yes," said the doctor, "and lawyers mistakes sometimes swing six feet in the air."

Tribute of Affection.

God has taken a dear sister and gentle wife and mother.

Sarah Amelia, eldest child of Alexander and Naomi Woods, (deceased) was born at Jacksonville Ala., June 26th 1849. United with the Methodist church at the age of 15 years, under the pastorate of Rev. T. H. Deavenport. Was married to Jno. F. Adams March 26th 1873.

Her faith was childlike always, her life devoted to her family, to the dear children God had given her. Two weeks before her death she was taken seriously ill with pneumonia followed by other complications which caused her death, though the chances against her recovery were evident. With thoughts of her children, first in her mind, she clung to life with a will to recover if possible. Obedient to all demands of physician and nurses, her frail body struggled for life at the brink of death for several days. Her life was asked in vain did we hope and plead for the cup to pass; but Him who doeth all things well and in his own good time knew best. His will is accomplished, her condition varied, from better to worse, lingering till death claimed her for its own. Sunday, March 19th at 11:35 a. m. her pure spirit winged its flight to Heaven, there to bask in the sunshine of God's eternal love. There may the sainted mother be the "Guardian Angel" of the household on earth till all are reunited in the home above.

According to the wishes of the family her body was laid to rest in the East Gadsden Cemetery near their home.

THE FAMOUS.

We've Spread Ourselves.

No harm to look. It will pay you to. You might know that a house with the reputation at stake is not going to tell fairy stories in the papers. We want you to see our $15, $18 and $20 suits, because we are confident they will please you.

They certainly ought to. We've put our time and talent and goodness enough in them. We know that $15 and $18 doesn't sound very much, especially if you've been fooling with tailors prices. If what they charge $30 or $35 for will suit, our $15 and $18 grades are sure to be something of a saving, ain't it? You are not tied down to any style. You have more of a variety here than in a half dozen other stores. The cut of the garment is the latest SINGLE and DOUBLE BREASTED SACK SUITS and THREE and FOUR BUTTON CUTAWAY FROCKS.

By the way, have you thought about a business suit for the spring?

What's the matter with a Double breasted Sack?

There are going to be lots of them worn, and there are scores of neat effects among our stock, some light, some dark, of course betwixt and between shades. There is lots of style about them; lots of comfort and satisfaction in them.

You see your spring suit and underwear will cost you less than the suit alone from a tailor.

Are you going to wear negligee shirts this summer? See our styles and prices. They will interest you.

Don't you think it is about time to get a spring Hat?

The Golden-Rod Publishing Co., of Chicago, Illinois, has determined to secure 500,000 new subscribers to their family story paper, the GOLDEN-ROD, before July 1st, '93.

In the ordinary way this would require a lifetime, but "time is money" and in order to save time we are willing to pay those who subscribe now a large sum of

CASH REWARDS.

For the correct answer to any ONE word,	$ 20.00	For the correct answer to any SIX words,
For the correct answer to any TWO words,	50.00	For the correct answer to any SEVEN words,	$150.00
For the correct answer to any THREE words,	75.00	For the correct answer to any EIGHT words,	175.00
For the correct answer to any FOUR words,	100.00	For the correct answer to any NINE words,	200.00
For the correct answer to any FIVE words,	125.00	For the correct answer to ALL of the TEN words,	225.00
			500.00

AS SPECIAL GRAND PRIZES WE WILL PAY IN CASH:

To every one sending in the correct answers to ALL of the TEN words during JANUARY, $1,000
To every one sending in the correct answers to ALL of the TEN words during FEBRUARY, 500

EXPLANATION Each dash indicates the absence of a certain letter, and when complete. Example: B—b—e. A book which everyone should read. The omitted letters are i and l, and when properly inserted the complete word is bible.

REWARDS Are paid in cash the very day any answer is found to be correct. To prevent even any appearance of irregularity or collusion, a copy of the original ten words has been deposited in a safety vault under seal, to be opened December 31st, '93, in the presence of witnesses, whose sworn statements as to correct words together with the list of prize winners, will be published in the January number of the GOLDEN-ROD.

Remember Every Correct Answer Wins A Prize.

CONDITIONS The object of this extraordinary offer is of course to secure subscribers at once, and in large numbers. We therefore require that 50 cents for a year's subscription for our great paper The Golden-Rod, be sent with each answer. Thus if two words are answered $1.00 must be sent, three words $1.50, five words $2.50, and so on, and as many copies of the paper will be mailed to addresses given.
