The State Normal School offers to the youth of Alabama a fine opportunity to acquire a thorough education in the English Language, Mathematics and Elementary Sciences, and a professional Teacher's course which prepares them to teach successfully in the Public Schools of the State.

To enter the Normal Department of the school, pupils must be at least fifteen years of age, of good moral character and sound constitution, and be able to pass satisfactory examinations in the studies pursued by the Freshman class, viz: Arithmetic and Elementary Algebra, English Grammar and Composition, Physical Geography, Physiology and United States History. They must promise to obey the rules and regulations of the school and obligate themselves to teach two years in the public schools of the State, or pay regular collegiate rates of tuition.

Students may by paying tuition, take the regular collegiate studies and in place of the Normal course of study, pursue the language course in which are taught Latin, Greek, French and German.

BEAUTIFUL

And Enchanting is the Pen Picture painted

BY A NORTHERN VISITOR

Of the Realities of Jacksonville and Calhoun County. Wondrous Resources Yet to be Developed. He Tells About It.

A Northern visitor to Jacksonville recenty, writes of the town and the section of country surrounding as follows:

"Of a country such as this the conscientious scribe writes reluctantly, for he can but fear the uninitiated will suspicion him of gross exaggeration. But a sense of duty should bannish diffidence, and the truthful scribe, writing of this city, section and state should say to the practical reader, as this writer has tried to say: here is a soil of unsurpassed fertility; here minerals rich in quality and abundant in quantity; here products of endless variety; here a faultless climate; here timber resources inexhaustible; here valuable deposits of marble, building stone and clays; here water and fuel bounteously supplied; here public finances in excellent shape; here healthfulness unquestioned; and here all the social, educational and religious advantages that could be desired.

In this section nature has stored away her valuable minerals, laying beside them the fuel for their conversion, while over all has spread a fertile soil, capable of producing grains, fruits and vegetables to feed the laborer while his work is being performed. There are few places that can boast of such a diversity of resources, but such prominence must be given to this new industrial center of Calhoun county, Alabama.

The great outside world knows little yet of the mines of wealth in this section, only awaiting the magic wands of capital, skill and enterprise for their development. The water supply is also abundant, as mountain springs gush forth apparantly fed by hidden mountain lakes, and these have never been known to run dry.

CALHOUN COUNTY

has long been famous for its deposits of iron, manganese, limestone, marble, kaolinite, bauxite brick and fire clays, baryta, sand, sandstones and various kinds of building stone, while the fields yield bountiful crops, and the timber supply is worthy of no small consideration. This is a condition one rarely finds in a mineral country, but that is the surrounding of this iron and steel district, with an already developed and diversified agriculture. The analysis of the different ores show them to be exceedingly rich in metallic iron, so much so that these mines have attracted the attention of large corporations and syndicates.

The finest clays are found in large quantities for the manufacture of bricks and pottery. The marble is as beautiful as can be found anywhere, and needs but to be known in order to insure good markets. These wonderful resources are being developed, as Jacksonville is controlled by the Jacksonville Mining and Manufacturing Co., and great inducements are offered to capitalists who will join them in bringing this section before the people and making her resources useful in a large territory. The list of industries that might with profit be undertaken in Jacksonville can scarcely be entered into in detail in a limited article as this must necessarily be, but suffice it to say that there is room for more foundries, furnaces for charcoal iron, a rolling mill, paper mills, wagon shops, carriage factories, furniture manufactories, cotton mills, a woolen mill, tanneries. In fact any business would give a good return on the investment in such a highly favored section as this. Never did the opportunities of any point impress me more profoundly than do these of this wonderfully favored city and section. In the midst of all this wealth of nature stands a busy, thriving, prosperous city with its humming industry, bountifully foreshadowed with grand possibilities. It is universally admitted, that no town of its size equals it in industrial life and the hospitality of its citizens. Far and wide it is noted for its push and enterprise, and the last census shows a marked progress in every branch of business, as well as a great increase in population.

The business men are enterprising and prosperous, have plenty of town pride and are working together for the advancement of their city. It may be mentioned as a compliment to the bravery, honor, dignity and high standing of the business men that a large per cent. of them pay cash or discount their short bills of credit, and most of them do business under their own roofs.

The schools are thoroughly graded and conducted on the latest and most approved methods by trained and skilled instructors. The school buildings are a credit and a pride to the town. There are five churches in the city: Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopal and Catholic, each having a large congregation, and noted for the talent and popularity of the ministers as well as the zeal of the members. Public buildings are very generally considered the true index to the thrift and progress of the people living under their shadows. Thus judged, Jacksonville will not suffer. It is with a pardonable pride that any true citizen must point to handsome church edifices, the court house, the State Normal building, the school building and the public improvements.

The best of shipping facilities are given by the railroads touching this point, towit: the East & West and the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia.

Such are the attractions Jacksonville offers the home-seeker, and immigration is invited by the citizens. If you knew the people in this vicinity you would be ready to say to them as Ruth did to Naomi: "where thou livest, I will live."

Lands are cheap and terms of sale will be made to suit the purchaser. For all comers, no matter whence they come, so they come with honest motives, there awaits a cordial greeting."

OBITUARY.

Miss Annie Teague departed this life Aug. 31, 1893, at Mrs. M. C. Whiteside's, in Calhoun county, Alabama. The M. E. Church Sunday school met September 24th, 1893 and passed the following resolutions of respect:

Whereas, in the allwise Providence of God, Miss Annie Teague has been called from her work here to her reward in glory. Therefore be it Resolved 1st. That we humbly submit to His will, and He had an allwise purpose in calling our loved one from our midst.

2. That by her death our Sunday school has suffered an irreparable loss, the church a faithful and earnest christian worker, the family a tender and devoted sister and aunt.

3. That our sincere sympathy and condolence be tendered the mourning friends and grief-stricken one in this hour of bereavement.

4th. That we bless and thank God for giving us such a noble christian life which was exemplary of so many of the christian graces.

5th. That we point those for whom she labored so earnestly to her life of self denial and trust and pray God's blessings upon it, that the influence of her life and triumph in death may lead many more to live a more noble life.

6th. That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the Alabama Christian Advocate and the Jacksonville REPUBLICAN for publication.

7th. That a copy be given the bereaved ones and that an appropriate page of our Sunday school record be dedicated to her memory and that these resolutions be entered in the minutes.

ANOTHER TURN.

White caps have posted the gins you know; then they began on the sorghum mills. But the latest is a new turn, and let us hope a better one, though any kind of whitecapism is bad.

A correspondent near Riddle's Mills informs us that a house in the woods near there, and which is of questionable repute, was posted one night last week. The notice warned the inmates to leave the county or take the consequences of remaining, which would be hickory lashing. So far the family has remained, and whether the threat will be carried out or not, is to be seen. If it is, it may create bloodshed.—Talladega News-Reporter.

A SHOOTING MATCH.

Constable Westmoreland, of Centre, Cherokee county, had a lively shooting match at Ball ground Thursday, where he went to arrest Jim Campbell, Bob Grace and Bill Cobbler, charged with gaming. They opened fire on Westmoreland which he returned, bringing down Cobbler and wounding Grace, but escaped unhurt himself. Cobbler only was arrested.

A WARNING

From a Man in Bell County, Texas, To Alabamians.

GOOD ADVICE TO OUR PEOPLE.

Stay in Alabama Where Your Friends Are and Where You Can Get a House To Live In. He Writes to The Cherokee Sentinel.

DEAR SIR: From reading your paper I find that John S. Daniel and others are preparing to move to Texas, and for their benefit I will say that they had better stay where they are, for there is at least hundreds os families in this county that cannot rent land for another year, and I have heard from different parts of the state and the report is that there is no land to rent. In short, there are more people than land, and my advice to the people of Cherokee is for them to stay where they are if they have bread in sight, for Texas is overrun and it takes money to buy bread in this country. If a man has friends here and land rented it is a far better country in an agricultural sense than Alabama, but the state is overrun with people now, and when the emigrants from other states begin to pour into Texas, which will begin during this month, they will find no land to rent and no vacant houses, so if they have no money to build houses they will have to buy rents and camp until something turns up, and you know what that means, or I will leave it for you and the intended emigrants to guess. We have had no rain in this state in so long that the people have sulled, and unless it rains all winter so as to give a bottom season there will be no crop next year, or at least that is the decision of all the old settlers of this country. I am now paying $6.00 per month for a house that is not as good as one half of the barns in Cherokee. I made a crop or at least an effort, but no rains and of course was easily gathered, and as I had no water I moved to it, which accounts for my renting a house. There are people in this county who are hauling water 7 miles from a little stream they call a river and the people are coming in here every day from the west starved out for water and trying to rent land, and I heard a man say last week that he could sit in his front porch and rent out ten thousand acres of land in one week, and I am satisfied he told the truth. Now in conclusion I will say that such as see fit to take my advice can do so and others can come and see. Times are awful hard here regardless of what some people may write back to Alabama—I mean on poor folks and dogs and the majority of Democrats. I remain Respectfully,

G. K. McGHEE.

Ward off disease by removing the cause of it. It's with the liver or the blood, nine times out of ten. A sluggish liver makes bad blood—and bad blood makes trouble. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure blood. It invigorates the liver and kidneys, rouses every organ into healthful action, and cleanses and renews the whole system. Through the blood it cures. For Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Scrofulous, Skin and Scalp Diseases—even Consumption (or Lung-scrofula) in its earlier stages, it's a certain remedy.

Nothing else is "just as good." Anything "just as good" could be sold just as this is. It's the only blood-purifier that's guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or the money is refunded.

The catarrh that isn't cured costs $500. Not to you, but to the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. They promise to pay you the money, if you have an incurable case.

They don't believe that you have one.

SATURDAY, DEC. 2, 1893.

The Ways and Means Committee of the House have made the new tariff bill public. Tariff taxes all along the line are greatly reduced and many articles of prime necessity are admitted free of tax. Goods of prime necessity, agricultural implements, cotton ties and many other things will be much cheaper than now, after the bill goes into effect. Among the articles admitted free of duty are coal and iron ore. The people of Birmingham are much exercised over this and the Age-Herald is about to lay an egg on account of it; but other points in the South, equally concerned, do not appear to be much disturbed by it. It has been the boast of this section that, but for the tariff on pig iron, Pennsylvania would have to move her furnaces South in order to compete with the Birmingham and other Southern iron makers. Now that the duty on pig iron has been reduced in this bill from 90 per cent, to 22½ per cent, the Age-Herald cries out that the bill is a slap at the South and in the interest of Pennsylvania among other eastern states. The fact that coal and iron ore come in free under the bill, does not alter the relation of Pennsylvania and Alabama under a reduction of duty on pig iron, so far as we can see. If this be so, then the claim that a considerable reduction of the protective duty on pig iron would inure to the injury of Pennsylvania iron-producers and to the benefit of the Alabama iron producers is either not true or the changes as made in the tariff bill will not hurt Alabama. It cannot be that the Alabama iron makers do not want any legislation that would encourage further competition at home. To believe so would be to believe them extremely selfish. Yet we must reconcile their statements about Alabama drying up Pennsylvania, but for the protective tariff, with their anxiety now when that protection is about to be removed. Nobody in Alabama wants to see any legislation that will retard to any considerable extent the development of the State, but all do not believe the proposed legislation will. In fact the boasts of the Birmingham people as to their ability to move along and grow without protection have led the people into the belief that such legislation as is now proposed would help Alabama at the expense of Pennsylvania. The proposed legislation is experimental necessarily. No man can forecast its effect. It may or may not be beneficial to this section. There is a great divergence of opinion on this head, at least. In view of this would it not be better for the Age-Herald to temper its hot expressions and refrain from further charges that the party in power is deliberately bent upon the ruin of southern interests for the benefit of eastern interests. The chairman of the Ways and Means Committee is a Southern man, from a fine iron region, and if is not to be presumed he would set about to do such work. It is generally admitted he is not a fool to be easily overreached. He thinks it will not hurt Alabama and says so in his report, which the Age-Herald calls his apology.

A little Third Party thing called a newspaper up in Cherokee has been much concerned because advertisers have lately encroached on the news columns of the REPUBLICAN to such an extent as to compel it to add two pages. It passes the limited understanding of the alleged newspaper how our readers can stand it, and its editor says he would not treat his readers so. We reckon not. Advertisers will never give him a chance. His paper carries only one column of pay advertisements outside that half of his paper printed in Birmingham. For the advertisements in the Birmingham half he gets nothing, and if the columns of advertisers on the Centre half pay anything they will be throwing their money away.

The Atlanta Daily Herald has been closed by the sheriff. Inability to make collections was the cause of the break. The proprietors said they made money enough to run the paper, but could not collect it in time after it was hooked.

Mr. A. M. Shook, of the Tennessee Coal Iron and Railway Co. is very sure that free coal and iron would affect the South more disastrously than anything else that could be done. But yet in the same interview Mr. Shook informs the Nashville American that the company he represents has made a second advance of 25 cents per ton for pig iron in the last thirty days, and that "the general outlook of the iron trade is surprisingly encouraging." Alluding to two recent sales of 60,000 and 30,000 tons, some of which was bought by English capitalists as an investment, Mr. Shook goes on to state that his company has declined a sale of 100,000 tons from the same capitalists at the same price, "as the company feels confident iron is going higher." "We have sold 150,000 tons for future delivery" says Mr. Shook, "which makes the position of the company such as to justify another advance of 25 cents."

"In view of these facts" says Mr. Shook, "Mr. Baxter had ordered a blast furnace blown in at South Pittsburg and to day he ordered three more blown in at Birmingham to meet the increased demand." "I have never known a more upward spring in the trade. We had not looked for it," says Mr. Shook. Then he goes on to say this resumption will give employment to the miners of Sequatchie valley and put from 1500 to 1600 men at work about Birmingham, thus providing support for from 7,000 to 10,000 people.

Altogether Mr. Shook sings a most jubilant and encouraging song, but it appears to be somewhat out of tune with his claim that the proposed action of Congress is going to ruin everything. If this be really so it would appear that Mr. Shook and associates would have been careful not to have made such heavy contracts for future delivery and would have waited a little longer to see the effect of proposed legislation before blowing in their furnaces.

All this would be very hard to reconcile, but for the key Mr. Shook offers to the situation. He says, alluding to the clauses of the new tariff bill placing coal and iron on the free list, "we have assurances sufficiently definite to warrant us in saying it cannot pass." But suppose the pessimistic Mr. Shook should find out that the parties who have been giving such assurances did not have the power to control the action of Congress? Surely he and associates took this into consideration before making such heavy contract for future delivery. If they did not they must have the "pull" on some very powerful individuals.

This is not likely to be the case, and we are inclined to think that Mr. Shook found he had given himself away to the reporter in the jubilant song that he warbled and felt the necessity of hedging by a revelation of his inside information as to the course of Congress.

The National Colored Convention called to consider rapes committed by that race and consequent mob law, met in Cincinnati Nov. 28. Over 500 delegates were present.

Taylor, recently appointed minister to Bolivia, wanted a law enacted for the speedy trial of rapists fixing the punishment at death, and a tax of $10,000 on any county in which mob law occurred.

Bishop Turner said if half of what was charged on the race was true, colored men themselves should band together for the correction of the evil. He thinks the remedy partial African emigration. The race is greatly divided as to the necessity for or desirability of emigration to Africa.

While all this discussion is going on, the white men stand to the proposition that every brute who outrages a woman shall die as soon as caught.

By all means let Congress lay an income tax for the purpose of raising revenue to meet the heavy expenditures for pensions. Nobody is surprised to learn that the millionaires of the East are kicking against the measure, but that should not deter representatives in Congress from forcing these men to bear their just proportion of the burdens of government.

Let us have the income tax.

The gin house posting foolishness has cost one life at least. We print an account of a killing in Talladega growing out of a suspicion of one man that another had posted his gin and injured his business.

One of our exchanges says: "Men in this section are forming a society pledged to refuse to register until the Sayre bill and yet demand the right to vote when election day comes." In event they are refused and the managers will be compelled under the law to refuse) they propose to raise a row. Just who they propose to kill is not clear. The managers evidently would not be to blame for the law. They would be only complying with their oaths in carrying out its provisions. Certainly nobody would be wanting to shoot them for refusing to perjure themselves at the request of a lot of men who had deliberately deprived themselves of the right to vote by refusing to register. They should not want to shoot the innocent by-standers, who neither had anything to do with the passage of the Sayre law or its administration. There could not possibly be any gratification to the most fanatical fool in thus taking the lives of innocent men, because the Legislature had passed a law he did not like.

We mention these difficulties to show the folly of the talk of such hot-heads. There is no room for a fight unless they propose to shoot men who do not agree with them politically. This would be a unique way of taking party progress, but, unfortunately for its inventors, it is a way that would be open to both sides, and the new party propagandists would be as likely to lose as many men by it as they would silence in the opposition. Look at it in any light we may, this wild talk of violence at the polls is the greatest folly. It is mere brag and bluster, but it may hurt the State by producing the impression that people down this way are bloodthirsty and have no respect for law and are very little civilized.

Senator Morgan has come to Alabama, but will make no speeches while here.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over, A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say, they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."—Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1892.

These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

The books of the Alliance Warehouse at Athens, Ga., disappeared some days ago. Recently one of the books partly burned up was found floating in the river near that town. A search along the river bank disclosed a pile of ashes where the books had been burned. The book keeper denies all knowledge of the affair and has been arrested. The manager says the found that the books would not balance and ordered the book-keeper to straighten them out, but he refused, and that night the books disappeared. There is talk of startling disclosures, but the book keeper says he will come out all right. It looks as if some stealing has been going on.

MEANT TO ENGROSS THE JACK-

A meeting of the young men of Jacksonville was held at the courthouse on Tuesday night to discuss the possibility of organizing and equipping a military company here.

Mr. B. E. Frank was made chairman and called the forty or more boys present to order.

The object of the meeting was explained and the idea met with the approval of all those present, provided the town would give the proper support.

A committee was appointed to "feel the pulse" of the citizens and business men in regard to subscriptions to aid the prospective company to procure uniforms; and another to get all the necessary information about the cost of uniforms, equipments furnished by the State, amount of red tape needed to join a regiment, probable cost of fitting up an armory with library and reading room, etc.

Another meeting is to be held on Friday night, Dec. 8, at which time the committees will report, and permanent organization effected if ever.

The business men and citizens of Jacksonville should respond liberally to this duty call. A military company would enable every young man attending the Normal

College to become conversant with military tactics, consequenily, a great drawing card.

We need a company.

District, comprising Calhoun county and a portion of Cleburne, locate a Methodist District high school within the bounds of the District, met in Anniston the 24th of November. Alexandria, White

Plains, Piedmont and Spring Garden were competitors for the school and each offered liberal inducements. On the 25th ballot the school was located at White Plains.

There was one committeeman from each pastoral charge in the district.

The full committee elected Messrs

J. J. Skelton, J. V. Liles and

J. T. Pearce executive committeemen to secure the title to the property donated and transact such other business as may be necessary to the full establishment of the school, said committee to report to the next District Conference, at which time a board of trustees for the school will be appointed.

This will be an important school of high grade, and our neighbor,

White Plains, is to be congratulated on its acquisition. There is already a handsome school building at White Plains, which has been donated, and a school in successful progress therein. This school will be adopted by the Conference for the present, until permanent arrangements can be made.

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY!

EB. FRANKLIN SHOOTS AND KILLS

T. J. ROBERTS.

At 2:30 o'clock yesterday (Friday) afternoon Eb. Franklin shot and killed T. J. Roberts in the doorway of Sayre's grocery store.

Roberts was a black-smith, who,

until lately lived on Jack Bingham's place, and not long since moved to Lincoln. Eb. Franklin lives near Lincoln, also, and claimed that Robertson posted his gin, which drove away patronage. Franklin says he has tried to get a true bill against Robertson, and could not.

Both men were drinking, especially Franklin, who for an hour before the fatal shot was muttering on the streets.

At the hour above named the men met at the Sayre corner, when Roberts stepped in the door, and drawing his knife while Franklin drew his pistol.

With the door sill between them and Franklin outside, only a word or two was spoken. Franklin was heard to say, "I'll shoot you then!"

and the pistol cracked. Roberts swirled and fell heavily to the floor.

The pistol ball, a 38, entered above the left eye about two inches, making a big, ragged hole, from which the brains oozed out.

He lived half an hour, but never spoke.

Franklin was promptly arrested and taken to jail.—Talladega News-

Reporter.

WICKED WIND AT ANNISTON

ANNISTON, ALA., Nov. 27—A strong wind which had been blowing here for twenty-four hours increased to terrific power about 8 o'clock this morning and played havoc in the city and vicinity.

Chimneys, fences and small houses were wrecked and many large plate glass windows smashed in.

A big double window in the public school building was blown in and the wall so damaged as to render it unfit for occupancy.

The front of the Troy Steam

Laundry on Tenth street was forced out and completely demolished, and the reports are that the cotton remaining in the fields was almost ruined.

No damage to persons has been reported.

HE IS IN LUCK!

Mr. Benjamin Micou, of Anniston, was appointed chief clerk in the navy department at Washington on Monday of this week.

He is a son-in-law of Secretary of the Navy Herbert, and a promising young lawyer of the Calhoun

A CASE OF WHITE CAPS.

Tuskaloosa Gazette.

A lady was in the city yesterday from the neighborhood of Dr. Wilkerson's place and asked some help for a needy family that had recent ly moved over and taken up their residence with a son-in-law on Dr.

Wilkerson's place.

Their story is a very distressing

one. Substantially as related to the Gazette, the father of the family, whose name is Redding, received a notice to leave his home

some two weeks ago. He was living over on Sipsy in Pickens county. He left, and his children, who were considerably frightened, went to their mother who was lying ill at a daughters house near there.

Soon after their departure the house was burned and all their household goods and clothes were destroyed. They then came over into Tuskaloosa.

The work is judged to have been done by white caps as Redding had already testified, or it was feared he would testify, in some illicit distilling cases.

Whatever the reason the man was run away from home and his house burned and the family is now without proper clothing for the winter.

We copy from the Jacksonville

Ward off disease by removing the cause of it. It's with the liver or the blood, nine times out of ten. A sluggish liver makes bad blood—and bad blood makes trouble. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure blood. It invigorates the liver and kidneys, rouses every organ into healthful action, and cleanses and renews the whole system. Through the blood it cures. For Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Scrofulous, Skin and Scalp Diseases—even Consumption (or Lung-scrofula) in its earlier stages, it's a certain remedy.

Nothing else is "just as good." Anything "just as good" could be sold just as this is. It's the only blood-purifier that's guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or the money is refunded.

The catarrh that isn't cured costs $500. Not to you, but to the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. They promise to pay you the money, if you have an incurable case.

They don't believe that you have one.

FOR FREE COAL AND ORE

OPINIONS OF AN IRON MAKER.

W. M. Nixon Fully Expresses His Views on the Wilson Tariff Bill and the Effect of Placing Coal and Iron Ore on the Free List.

From the Chattanooga Times.

Wm. A. Nixon, who is making eighty tons a day of iron with a furnace near Gadsden, Ala., was asked by a Times reporter for his opinion on the Wilson bill; more especially for his views as the effect of free coal and iron ore on the southern pig iron trade. Mr. Nixon said:

"The Wilson tariff bill is in strict accord with the platform of the democratic party, which was indorsed by an overwhelming majority of the voters of the United States and is not a mistake in any sense. Its early enactment into a statute and consequent dispelling of doubt and uncertainty will do more to increase business and start the wheels of manufacture and revive trade than any legislation congress can consider.

"I favor the bill because it will give the south the opportunity to take its proper place as a manufacturing country without handicaps and discrimination. Rid of instimulation of manufactures by custom house taxation, the south with its many advantages of climate, water power, diversified materials of ready access and its cheap, contented and easily controlled labor, will come to the front. Another need of the hour is more market for our native products. This market is almost at the door of the southern states if we only had proper and practical trade relations with Mexico, the islands and the Central and South American states. This territory is near at hand, its people able to buy our commodities and needs them, and close and reciprocal trade relations would in a comparatively short time build up an enormous commerce.

"I am in favor of demolishing the tariff wall that restrains our intercourse, destroys commercial relations and breeds bad feeling where the opposite is so essential. Replying to the effect of the reduction of the duty on pig iron from $6.72 per ton to 22½ per cent., I consider the rate proposed by the new bill as ample. At the present time the same grade iron is $3 per ton cheaper in Alabama than in England. The difference in freight from England and southern furnaces to eastern foundries and mills is more than made up by the 22½ per cent., import tax on foreign iron. The proposed change in rate from a specific amount per ton to 22½ per cent. ad valorem insures an increase of import duty as the price of iron advances. Thus, should the pig iron market advance and more protection be demanded, the sliding scale method proposed furnishes it.

"What is your opinion of the removal of the duty on bituminous coal?"

"I can see nothing to fear from removing the duty on coal. From the best information I can obtain from an investigation of the subject there is no probability of the importation of coal into the United States unless it be from Manitoba and Australia in the territory west of the Rocky mountains. This territory cannot be supplied from the states, not even from Colorado, on account of the great distance and necessarily expensive transportation. East of the Rockies there is certainly nothing to fear from free coal. The United States exported in the year 1892 831,046 tons of coal to Canada in competition with coal from Nova Scotia and the balance of the world. We also exported as much more to other countries, our total exports of coal in 1892 being 1,757,137 tons. This was all sold outside of the tariff wall and beyond the pale of the protective tariff and in competition with the coal of the entire world. The Nova Scotia coal which is being so extensively advertised at present is just the reverse of a desirable coal—it is soft, will not stand shipping or handling, is of poor quality, the veins are thin; it is expensive to mine, the climate is rigorous, everything frozen up half the year and operation of the mines exceedingly unfavorable. The manager of one of the largest iron manufacturing companies in the Chattanooga district was engaged for many years in coal mining in Nova Scotia, and unhesitatingly pronounces competition from the mines of this frozen island an impossibility. Pennsylvania, West Virgia and Alabama all export coal against the competition of the world—West Virginia and Pennsylvania through eastern ports—and furnish coal for our navy and the merchant marine wherever vessels touch on the Atlantic shore. I have seen advertisements of the results of tests of Pocahontas coal by vessels of all classes as compared with that of other countries showing the superiority of the Pocahontas. This business is enormously increasing each year. This coal is supplied to railroads in South America and other countries. Alabama is building up an enormous coal and coke export business through southern ports to the West Indies, Mexico and the Central and South American states. Southern coals operators require more reciprocity in trade with the countries with which they deal and return cargoes for their vessels than protection against foreign coal. Coal operators certainly do not want an import duty on coal maintained to enable them to charge higher prices inside the United States than they sell at to foreigners."

"What about free iron ore—its effect on the southern iron trade?"

"No, sir; the south, in my opinion, is in no danger from removing the import duty on iron ore. The United States led the world in the production of iron ore in 1890, 1891 and 1892, producing 16,036,043 long tons in 1890, 14,591,178 in 1891, 16,296,666 in 1892. Of the 16,296,666 tons produced in 1892, 71.47 per cent. was red hematite ore, such as is principally produced in Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Alabama, Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia and Missouri. In fact of this 71.47 per cent. of red hematite ore produced in 1892, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota produced about 50 per cent., and Alabama, Tennessee, Missouri, Virginia and Georgia produced about 13 per cent., or about 6,000,000 and 2,100,000, respectively. This red hematite ore makes foundry iron and none of it analyzing in phosphorous below the Bessemer limit makes Bessemer iron and steel. Very little ore of the south is sufficiently low in phosphorous for steel making purposes under present steel manufacturing processes, without additional manipulation. The steel ores of the United States which can be used under present conditions of the market are west of the Alleghanies. Ores east of the Alleghanies require a mixture of Lake Superior, Cuban or Mediteranean ores to make steel. This was announced a few days ago publicly by a vice-president of one of the largest steel mills in the United States. The foundry ores which can be used under present condition come from the Lake Superior district, Alabama, Tennessee and Virginia. Cuban and Spanish ores worked alone make Bessemer or steel iron, not foundry iron.

These ores are of a phosphorous nature and soft iron not adapted to foundry purposes. Foundry iron is harder and of a totally different character.

Certainly, this Cuban and Spanish ore is of entirely different character from the foundry ores of Alabama, Tennesssee, etc.

"Could we use imported ores to mix with our own?"

"Yes, if this Cuban and Spanish ore could be brought into the South as cheap as it is claimed it can be. After removal of the duty, it can be used in combination with Alabama and Tennessee ore and produce a better grade of foundry iron and dispense with the low grade of mill iron which is just now the bane of Southern furnacemen. Cuban or Spanish ore mixed in proper proportion with Alabama and Tennessee ores would produce a Bessemer iron at lower cost than northern furnaces can make it from Lake Superior and Pennsylvania ores. The lowest price this character of iron has been sold at to date by northern furnaces is $11.25."

"Would imported ores be really cheap if made free?"

"Yes. I deny that foreign ores are so cheap, even after removal of the duty of 75 cents per ton. This is shown by the import statistics of 1892. There was imported for first quarter of 1892, 683,227 tons valued at $1,583,497, or $2.30 per ton at foreign port, exclusive of freight or duty. For the year 1892 we imported 806,085 long tons, value $1,795,644, or $2.52 per ton at foreign port. For first nine months of 1893 we imported 487,179 tons, value $847,902, or $1.90 per ton at foreign port. We imported from Spain in 1892 230,957 tons valued at $483,847 or $1.82 per ton at Spanish port. From Cuba we imported in '92 307,115 tons, valued at 618,222 or about $2 per ton at Cuban port. These prices do not alarm operators of Southern ore mines, who are delivering ores of standard quality at 50 and 75 cents per ton f. o. b. cars. The superior management of American mines and more economical methods of handling their materials has never permitted foreign ore to penetrate a distance of 100 miles from the coast.

"Besides being expensive, as shown, the imports of foreign ore have been comparatively insignificant. The imports of Spanish ore mined, it is claimed, by labor at 10 to 20 cents per day and the ore transported in sacks on jackasses to the coast, amounted in 1892 to about 235,000 tons, not enough to run the two furnaces at Dayton. The imports in 1892 from Cuba, where modern methods of mining are in use and the distance not great, only amounted to 307,000 tons, not equal to the requirements of the Ensley furnaces at Birmingham. The only foreign ore supply worth consideration at present is in Cuba. The Spanish ore mined with 10 cent labor using a grubbing hoe and transporting to the coast in sacks on little jackasses is not worthy of tariff consideration. Southern ore mine operators are certainly not stampeded in consideration of competition of this character.

"If abolishing the duty increases the importation of Cuban ore, which is of good quality, is near us and can be cheaply transported by coal vessels returning empty, reduces the American method, it will furnish return cargoes for our returning coal vessels from the West Indies, etc., it can then be cheaply delivered to Alabama, Tennessee and Virginia furnaces and in combination with our cheap native ores, produce just the grade iron we want and at lower cost than in any district of the United States. Grant that the removal of the duty on Cuban and Spanish ore starts up eastern furnaces near the coast, they will not produce a grade iron competing with Southern iron.

"Grant, also, that they will then make foundry iron and reduce the market of southern furnaces to this extent, the same conditions will enable the southern furnaces to more than make up the loss from the advantages gained by access to this same cheap free ore. Such a restriction, if possible, would enable and force the south to manufacture its furnace product into articles now coming from the North, which we buy at prices enhanced by cost of freights and manufacturer's profits."

"Are cheap ores in the South being exhausted so that an additional supply would be beneficial?"

"Yes, the cheapest and most easily mined ores of the south are being rapidly exhausted. Southern furnace men and mine owners are skimming the cream in assembling the cheap materials and doing only sufficient manufacturing of the iron to make it ready to ship to other manufacturers, who get in the profitable work upon it. This system has already exhausted the cheapest or most easily mined ore in the Chattanooga district, and the end is in sight at Birmingham. Ten years more will make cheap ore very desirable from any source, foreign or otherwise.

"The want of Bessemer iron or Southern steel at competing prices explains the closing down or removal of such enterprises as the Lookout Iron Company, South Tredegar Iron Company, Chattanooga Tool Company, Chattanooga Machinery Company, Gibson Agricultural works and perhaps the mammoth agricultural works recently sold out by piecemeal."

"What is the effect of the tariff agitation on the trade? Will it shut out capital?

"Yes, such agitation in the strain of the Birmingham iron men, proclaiming ruin, bankruptcy, etc., for the south is, in my opinion, much more hurtful to the south than the enactment of the Wilson bill into law, though it brought all the competition they fear."

"What effect would the reform have on trusts and combines in the steel and iron business?"

"The tariff modifications proposed will likely prevent the steel rail trust which has throttled that industry so long and almost suspended railroad building, from maintaining unwarranted prices as they have heretofore. It will likely put an end to many other trusts and combinations in the iron and steel manufacturing line."

"How will free ore affect Lake Superior ores?"

"Certainly this bill will greatly interfere with maintaining the organization of the Lake Superior iron ore trust lately started up.

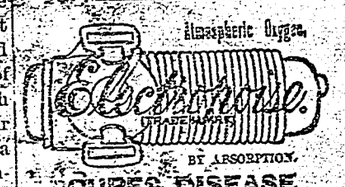

Unless these gentlemen supply this ore to furnaces at reasonable prices Cuban ores will be brought to bear with a telling effect. When the Wilson bill becomes effective the day of Lake Superior ore at $4 to $5 per ton will be over, combinations or no combinations."

SOUTH TAKES THE LEAD.

The Chicago Herald makes the following complimentary remarks about the Southern boys at West Point:

"One curious thing about the cadets is the fact that the Southern boys, as a rule, stand higher in their classes than do their Northern brethren. It is easy to understand that they should more readily grasp the military spirit for their fathers before them were lovers of arms, and had excellent military companies in every city in the South, while men of the North were busy making money.

But why they should excel intellectually is not so easily understood, yet it seems to be an admitted fact that they do."

D. V. GRANT, Publisher.

SATURDAY DEC 9, 1893.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The president's message makes from eight to ten columns of fine type in the daily papers and is too long for reproduction in our columns.

The greater portion of the message is taken up with a presentation of what may be termed a condensation of the reports of the various heads of departments.

It will be gratifying to our readers to know that the relations of this country with other nations of the earth is entirely friendly. The only foreign complication worth mention is the attitude of this country toward the provisional government of Hawaii. That government was instituted, the president thinks, by the overthrow of the rightful government though the aid of the United States government, and he says it is but right and just that this great government should repair the wrong. The question is one of delicacy and very much complicated. The matter has been taken up in the Senate.

The Nicaragua canal project receives friendly mention.

The present per capita circulation of money is shown to be $25.49 The amount of metallic money in U. S. consisting of coin and bullion on the 1st day of July 1893 was $1,213,559,169, of which $597,607,585 was gold and $615,951,484 was silver. The net increase of the national bank circulation during the year was $35,885,972.

The President says it is impossible yet to tell precisely what conditions will be brought about by the repeal of the Sherman act, or what, if any, supplemental legislation may be essential. When confidence is restored and money comes out of hiding he thinks a survey of the situation will disclose a safe path leading to a permanently sound currency, abundantly sufficient to meet every requirement of our increasing population and business." In some quarters it is thought his failure to recommend the repeal of the 10 per tax on state banks indicates that he is opposed to the repeal, but his attitude as to the redemption of the pledges of the party, touching tariff reform, forbid the idea that he will oppose this, one of the plainest mandates of the platform.

He wants authority to invite other nations to a conference for the purpose of securing an international agreement for the coinage of both gold and silver.

He warmly endorses the Wilson tariff bill, soon to be presented to Congress, which provides for reduction of tax on the necessaries of life. "The benefit of such a reduction," he says, "would be palpable and substantial, seen and felt by thousands, who would be better fed, better clothed and better sheltered." He regards that feature of the bill providing for free raw material as good for the working man.

He favors an income tax, so far as corporations are concerned, but in this he does not go far enough. The measure should be extended to cover the incomes of the rich who have their capital invested in bonds or mortgages.

He is in favor of abolishing the fee system as applicable to United States marshals and court officials. The present system he declares to be "thoroughly vicious." He recommends that all misdemeanor cases be disposed of by the U. S. commissioners.

He declares that recent developments in the pension bureau disclose "appalling conspiracies to accomplish pension frauds" and calls for the correction of these abuses.

He recommends rigid economy in public expenditures.

The message has been criticised more for what it does not say than for what it does say.

Manifestly, if we are to aid the people directly through tariff reform, one of its most obvious features should be a reduction in present tariff charges upon the necessaries of life. The benefits of such a reduction would be palpable and substantial, seen and felt by thousands, who would be better fed and better clothed and better sheltered. These gifts should be the willing beneficiaries of a government whose highest function is the promotion of the welfare of the people.—From President Cleveland's message.

Evidently all is not harmonious in the ranks of various elements opposed to the organized Democracy in this State. The Populite do not care to attach themselves as a tail to the Jeffersonian kite and are disposed to select their own ticket and let the Jeffersonians come to it if they so desire. They argue that their party has augmented proportions while the Jeffersonians have only a state organization. Then they are naturally suspicious of the twice repeated attempt of the Jeffersonians to harmonize with the organized Democracy and leave them out in the cold. The Greenville Living Truth, one of the strongest Populite papers in the State, is violently opposed to Kolb. For some weeks the Alliance Herald has been trying to turn away the wrath of Living Truth by soft words, but this week the Herald loses patience and declares it "mutinous and rebellious." By what authority it thus lectures a paper not of its political party is hard to discover. It probably goes on the assumption that all men who once voted for Kolb belong to him forever—a very grave mistake, as will be disgovered after the election.

Editor T. H. White of the Clanton Banner, a Populite paper published in Chilton county, a third party man from principle, says unequivocally, "I am opposed to the fusion. It tends to disorganize our forces." He thinks fusion with the Jeffersonians in Alabama will be as unfortunate for the Populists as was the fusion of the same party in Kansas with the Democrats.

The Alabama Pioneer, a Populite paper published in Wilcox county, attacks Kolb more savagely than any of the Democratic papers are doing. It says:

"Kolb poses as the laboring man's candidate, yet he knows he is himself ashamed to do manual labor. And being ashamed to labor, he knows he cares for the laboring man no farther than he can use him for selfish purposes. Ashamed to labor and having no visible means of support—unless being a standing candidate be such means—Kolb goes all over the state pretending to be a friend to the laboring man, and vehemently denouncing men that get something for nothing. In view of these facts, if he had any self respect, he would be ashamed to look an honest laboring man in the face. And if laboring man were not so gullible, they could not be so long deceived by such a man as Kolb."

In view of this inharmonious state of affairs Dr. Groce, President of the State Alliance, has deemed it proper to issue an address to the order, in which he notes with sorrow the attitude of some of "our reform papers," and exclaims, "Brethren, for heaven's sake let us be united." He then proceeds to argue the case in favor of Kolb's nomination. That his pathetic appeal has not touched the Populist heart as was designed is proven by the reply a Talladega Populist makes to that part of the address where he declares that he wants it distinctly understood that, if elected, Kolb and his ticket shall be installed in office.

To this declaration the Populist makes the following reply:

"Dr. Groce, in his letter to the Alliance Herald of Nov. 30, endorsing the candidacy of Capt. Kolb, says: 'If elected this time next year by an overwhelming majority, but were prevented from inauguration of its members by false promises that a legal investigation and fair trial of the case would be had. We can elect them again by an increased majority, and let it be distinctly understood that, if elected, we shall install them in office.' These declarations are positive, and coming from the source they do, cannot be accepted as unmeaning threats. Has Dr. Groce the authority to commit the Jeffersonian Democracy to this policy and would Capt. Kolb have established a dual government at Montgomery, or would he have seized upon the existing government in 1892? This is a serious question and the people will demand an answer. To repeat, Dr. Groce says: '——and let it be distinctly understood that, if elected, we shall install them in office.' The Dr. does not name the tribunal that is to determine these conditions. Is the result of the coming election to be decided as the law directs, or will he go behind the returns as certified? The one means a peaceful submission to law, while the other means armed resistance. The right of resistance is correct in theory, but do the Jeffersonians endorse it as a matter of policy?"

This is a very pertinent question and one which it behooves Dr. Groce to answer at his earliest convenience. Is he in sympathy with the foolish talk of "bullets if ballots don't win?" Does he propose to turn the Alliance from its peaceful pursuits and mould the plowshare into the sword, in order that Kolb may have an office? If the returns of the election show Kolb elected, the Leristine will feel the result and all law abiding men will submit. But if the returns should show some other man to be the elect of the people, does Dr. Groce propose to cry "fraud" to arms" to arms"? We hope the Talladega Populist will insist until he gets a specific answer to his question. It is a matter of grave consequence to that peaceable, God fearing element of the Alliance which represents two-thirds of its strength. It is a matter of very serious import to the good women who preside at the peaceful firesides of our farm houses. When most of these men joined the Alliance they were told that the order was instituted to advance the interests of the peaceful and honorable pursuits of farming. They were expressly promised that they would not be carried into politics as an organization. Dr. Groce has frequently admitted a shameless breach of good faith on this head, by openly declaring that the Alliance is as "full of politics as an egg is of meat." Now does he design to go further in bad faith and propose measures outside of law that will lead to bloodshed, the ruin of peaceful homes, the devastation of the fields of the farmer, and the utter ruin of every interest in Alabama? If this be the feast to which he next proposes to invite his followers, he should deal candidly with them and say so, and give all the christian, law-abiding element of it an opportunity to cut loose from him while they may do so honorably. If his expression was a mere idle threat, he should at once say so, and accept the contempt which attaches to the boaster always.

The farmers who stored cotton in the Alliance warehouse at Athens, Ga., will not get more than half that is due them. Half the money has been stolen and the books destroyed. Farmers who stored their cotton with positive orders to hold it, found that it had been sold, and their money stolen.

The Alliance Herald is always accusing the Montgomery Advertiser of a disposition to be dictatorial; yet in its last issue it says Mr. Whitehead, the editor of the Populite paper, Living Truth, is "mutinous and rebellious." How is this for dictatorial disposition?

After a hard struggle, tariff reform is directly before us. Nothing so important claims our attention and nothing so clearly presents itself as both an opportunity and a duty, an opportunity to deserve the gratitude of our fellow citizens and a duty imposed upon us by our oft-repeated professions and by the emphatic mandate of the people. After full discussion, our countrymen have spoken in favor of this reform, and they have confided the work of its accomplishment to the hands of those who are solemnly pledged to it. If there is anything in the theory of a representation in public places of the people and their desires, if public officers are really the servants of the people, and if political promises and professions have any binding, our failure to give the relief so long awaited will be sheer recreancy. Nothing should intervene to distract our attention or disturb our effort until this reform is accomplished by wise and careful legislation.—From President Cleveland's message.

We have a very poor opinion of the man who gets mad because the editor has notified him that he is due something on his subscription, and who comes into the office looking like an insulted billy-goat and stops his paper, because he has been "dunned" as he invariably expresses it. All that we have to say is, that if in future you are to be asked, in a respectful way, for what you owe us, you had better keep paid up or stop taking the paper. We cheerfully erase the name of all such.—Northport Breeze.

GADSDEN, Ala., Dec. 6.—Last Saturday evening about dark, on Lookout mountain, near Bristow, Cherokee county, Z. T. Brock was waylaid and robbed of $107. He was on his way home from market, having sold some cotton, when he was suddenly confronted by two men armed with shotguns, who demanded his money or his life, with their guns pointed at his head. He immediately turned over the money. He failed to recognize his assailants, but a posse is now scouring the mountain for them.

THEIR CALL.

POPULISTS AND ANTI-POPULISTS TO MEET IN CONVENTION FEB. 8.

The following is the official call for the State Jeffersonian Democratic Convention:

In compliance with instructions of the State executive committee of the Jeffersonian Democratic Party of Alabama, a state convention is hereby called to meet in the city of Birmingham, on February 8th, 1894, to nominate a state ticket, and to transact such other business as may come before it.

Counties will select delegates either by primaries, county convention, or mass meetings as their executive committee of the friends of the cause may decide.

In the selection of delegates every white voter, irrespective of past party affiliations, who is in favor of a free ballot and fair count and in favor of the free coinage of gold and silver at the present ratio, who agrees to support its nominee is invited to participate in said primaries, conventions or mass meetings.

All who favor rendering it impossible for a repetition of the great political crime of 1892 in 1894 are earnestly urged to unite with us in this effort to rescue our beloved state from threatened anarchy and to restore peace and good order.

A. T. GOODWYN, Ch'm'n.

The Populite call reads:

By authority vested in me by the State Executive Committee of the People's Party, I hereby call said convention to meet in the city of Birmingham, Ala., on the Thursday, the 8th day of February 1894, for the purpose of transacting any business that may come before said convention.

I would suggest that where committees have not already elected delegates, that they meet in mass meeting at their respective court houses on the fourth Saturday in January, 1894, and choose delegates and organize ready for the coming campaign. The representation will be one delegate for every 300 votes cast for the People's Party ticket in November, 1892, or majority fraction thereof.

NOTICE!

State of Alabama, Calhoun county.

To whom it may concern:

Take notice that the undersigned will on or before the 15th day of December 1893 make application to the Governor of Alabama to pardon Julius Suit and Rause Suit for the offence of Rape of which offence the said Julius and Rause Suit were jointly convicted in the Circuit court of Calhoun County at the Fall Term, 1890 of said Court.

Nov. 29th 1893 2t. R. SUIT.

The law is very hard on a subscriber who refuses to pay his subscription—but during the publisher's ten years in the work he has never yet resorted to it. We want only men of principle on our lists, and if a man can and won't pay his dollar for the year's work we have done for him, we then know he is no gentleman, and we are happy to run a pen through his name on our books and mark "D. B." after it, which means "deadbeat." A business man looking over our books the other day said he was surprised to find so few thus marked, and still more so to see a name or so marked that he supposed too honorable to take such mean advantage for a dollar.—Talladega Reporter.

HE COMMITTED SUICIDE!

The Cause and its Lesson.

Why did he commit suicide? Oh! for the same reason that thousands of others on the verge of the same sin, or immediate danger of insanity, paralysis, idiocy or some other equally unfortunate result of nervous affection. He knew he was afflicted with a nervous disorder, he was careless, apparently indifferent to the come; or he may have lessened his chances for recovery by trusting with the physicians who had little or no knowledge of nervous affections, or by deluging himself with useless so-called remedies. His case was not one, but no worse than that of any other nervous sufferer, who has nervous or sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, irritability, melancholy, failing memory, hot flashes, fainting, sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia, sexual debility, epilepsy, etc. The same or similar consequences are likely to result to any one who has any of these advance symptoms of an awful end. Do not hesitate in getting rid of them by intelligent treatment. Dr. Franklin Miles, the celebrated specialist, has studied nervous diseases over 20 years, and has discovered the only reliable remedy for them. Thousands of voluntary testimonials prove the virtues of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine.

Alonzo Barker, of Clinton, N. Y., writes: "I was so afflicted with extreme nervousness that I was on the verge of insanity. My hands trembled so that I could scarcely feed myself. I used twelve bottles of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and was cured. It is with pleasure I recommend this wonderful remedy for nervous troubles."

"I had been a great sufferer from chronic headache until I began, about one months ago, to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Pills, since which time I have not had a headache. Several of my friends are using Dr. Miles' Remedies, and find them, as I did, to be more than you claim for them.—Mrs. Mary Elster, Los Angeles, Cal.

W. H. Caswell, editor Tribune, Pipersville, Pa., writes: "My wife was cured of sick headache of many years standing by the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. She also recommended it to her friends, and they all praise it highly."

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains neither opiates or dangerous drugs. Dr. Miles' Pills, 25 doses, 25 cents. Free book at druggists, or by mail.

A BIG REWARD FROM THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI.

Deputy Sheriff John Rowland returned Wednesday from Mississippi, whither he went to deliver up Jerry Sutton, a negro wanted for murder in that state, and brought with him $250 as a reward for the service.

Some weeks ago Mr. Rowland found a negro in the county poor-house that answered the description of the man wanted in Mississippi except that this one was minus a leg.

The negro was transferred to jail and held until it was ascertained that he was the man wanted. He had ambushed and killed another negro, and while fleeing from justice had his leg cut off in a railway accident. That was the reason for his being in the almshouse here.

Mr. Rowland says an attempt was made to take the negro from and lynch him but it was unsuccessful. John spent several days with an uncle, and also called on the governor of Missippi while there.

What are termed "fast girls" are for the most part cruelly libelled. Because they dare to say a little of what they know and think, and to break through the upper crust of formality that surrounds society; because they presume to feel bored and sick of pretenses and show it, the "foolish virgins" who do not think and cannot talk, the respectable matrons who vegetate in country places where the onward march has not reached hold up their hands and exclaim, "shocking! forward!" etc., till they end in the epithet of "fast."

NO MORE GUANO NOTES.

If the farmers will consider and look into the offer made by us, there will not be another guano note given within a radius of fifteen or twenty miles of Jacksonville. We could not make the offer, if we were not so situated, that we deal direct with the farmers and save them the two or three profits of the middlemen.

No matter at what price they may sell cotton seed, the price of the fertilizers bought for cash (or note) is correspondingly high. WE MAKE THE COTTON SEED ALONE FURNISH ALL FERTILIZER NEEDED FOR CROPS, ALL FEED FOR CATTLE AND LEAVE SUFFICIENT SEED FOR PLANTING.

We do not belong to any trust.

We pay cash for seed, or for every seven bushels of cotton seed, exchange one sack, of a hundred pounds, of cotton seed meal—which is the best fertilizer known.

Parties desiring feed can exchange seed for meal and hulls, pound for pound. The meal and hulls as a feed, are cheaper, will go farther, and give better results than any other feed.

FEEDING STOCK THROUGH WINTER.

We find many farmers who have yearlings and steers which they do not care to carry through winter.

To introduce and spread the use of meal and hulls—the best and cheapest feed for cattle—we make this offer.

Bring in your surplus stock, no matter how many, weigh them and take back with you their exact weight in meal and hulls with which to feed the stock at home. The poorer the stock you bring is the better we will be pleased, as we desire to show the superior fatting qualities of meal and hulls as feed.

Bring some cotten seed along with you.

THE TARIFF BILL.

Chairman Wilson Assures his Friends that Reform is on the Aggressive.

In the Bill are the Principle of Change A Measure for the Whole Nation.

St. Louis Republic.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—In response to a request from the manager of The Republic, made in behalf of its loyal Democratic constituency, Chairman Wilson of the Ways and Means Committee, has addressed a personal message to his old friends on the eve of a memorable session of Congress.

MR. WILSON'S REPLY.

The Great Tariff Reformer Confident of the Success of the New Bill.

Charles W. Knapp, Esq., St. Louis:

Dear Sir:—You are right in supposing that I have no friends in any part of the Union whose favorable reception of the new tariff bill would be more gratifying to me than those whom I used to address through the tariff columns of The Republic.

I have an abiding confidence that, on full examination, they will accept our work as a faithful attempt to put into actual legislation, as far as present conditions would permit, the general principles of tariff reform which I sought to inculcate through your columns.

It must be remembered, in the first place, that tariff discussions necessarily and properly deal with general principles, and are, therefore, somewhat radical and that tariff legislation necessarily has to do with great property interests and must be wisely conservative. It is no news to your readers that I entirely reject the dreary doctrine of protection, which, for more than thirty years, has held the farmers and the laboring people of this country in servitude to a system of class taxation, and that I hope to see the time when all trace of so-called "protection" shall be purged from our tariff system and that every tax shall be levied solely with reference to the amount of revenue it brings to the Government.

I believe that the new bill, in the main, goes as far in this direction as it is discreet for us at present to go, and I am confirmed in this belief by the criticisms of men who occupy extreme positions on both sides. To Governor McKinley and to Republicans generally it seems a very radical bill, far surpassing anything attempted by the Democrats in modern legislation. To the free trader and the theoretical tariff reformer it seems to deal too tenderly with some of the interests that have grown up under tariff taxation.

To the latter, to whose opinions alone I would pay deference, I must say that a great reform may be set back and indefinitely postponed by extreme action as well as by failure to act, and that Mr. Burke expressed the wise rule of practical statesmanship when he said that temperate reform is always the best, having in itself the principle of growth.

If we can put the new bill at an early date upon the statute book, and secure for the country a fair trial of its benefits, there need be no fear for the growth of revenue reform and of the complete and permanent overthrow of protection in this country.

As to the charge of sectionalism against the bill, the best answer I can make is that it comes with equal vehemence from both sides. Republican members of Congress, some of them even before they read the bill, declaimed against it as a raid upon Northern industries in the interests of the South, while our Souther friends are complaining that most of the raw materials put upon the free list are Southern products and that they have been sacrificed to the interests of New England.

A candid examination of the bill show that both are radically wrong, and that in the general, as in the detail, sectional and local considerations have weighed nothing against the great fundamental principles of tax reform.

I have already explained that the two great innovations of the bill are the untaxing of raw materials and the substitution of the ad valorem system for what is known as the specific system of tariff duties. We have given free raw material to the American manufacturer not for his own sake, and least of all for his own profit solely, but for the sake of the great mass of American consumers and the great army of American laborers.

Taxes on the processes and materials of production are wrongs to the consumer and rob the laborer of employment. They gather and combine against the former, costing him more money, which is more labor, for what he has to cosume, while they narrow the market and therefore lessen the employment of the labor that produces them.

There is scarcely one of our great industries in which our present capacity to produce has not far outstripped the demand, and remunerative consumption of the home market. By the labors and activity of six months they are generally able to produce one entire year's consumption. It is equally true that nearly every one of these industries is beginning, in a more or less vigorous way, to enter the outside markets, and that the chief barrier in their way is the burden of taxes which the Government puts upon the materials they use.

Put them, as far as freedom from taxation is concerned, on the same footing with their competitors in other countries and the American manufacturing industry will enter and gather profits from every market of the world, and the very manufacturers and other protected producers, in this country, who with the cowardice born of a lifetime of Government protection, are today crying aloud against any diminution of that protection, will be among the very first to receive the benefits of the new tariff in expanding business in steadier markets and in more cordial relations with the labor they employ.

The laborer in these same industries, no longer employed by fits and starts, no longer confined to a single market controled by trusts and like combinations, but having the whole world for his customers, [illegible] of personal independence, constant employment and better pay.

But it is the great host of farmers in Missouri and in other States that have never been absent from our thoughts, nor from our hearts, in the framing of the new tariff bill. We have sympathized with them in the excessive burden of taxation which the McKinley and pevious protective tariffs threw upon them, and in the obstacles which it deliberately placed between them and the only markets into which they could sell their great surplus of crops.

They have made our great surplus products, for which they were compelled to take the prices fixed by the competition of the world's markets, and they have suffered immensely in the prohibitions and the merciless duties which their own government has put upon the only pay they could get for those products—the goods and products of other nations.

From any increase of foreign trade they will receive the greatest benefit from any decrease of duties on the goods exchanged for their products they will receive immediate and substantial benefit. We have placed on the free list the implements with which they work; by other decrease of taxation have sought to lessen the cost of transporting their goods to market, and throughout the entire scheme of the bill have had in view the cheapening of their clothing and their household necessities by taking out the taxes stealthily lurking in them.

In conclusion let me say that, dealing with the conditions that now beset us, reforming the tariff in the presence of an empty treasury and a swollen and profligate scale of public expenditure, if we have not at one stroke of legislation sought to place our taxing system in exact and nice accordance with the true principle of public policy we believe in, and for which we shall continue to contend, and if this measure does not cut precisely to the line and plummet, nevertheless, we have approached as near as we thought was wise and proper and we have made it possible to reach and rest firmly upon those principles in the near future.

Of course, there is outcry against the proposed bill, from many quarters and from our own friends, who squeal as loudly when their special interests are touched as the best Republicans in the land. But this was only to be expected, for reform is never welcomed when it comes to one's own door, no matter how much applauded when it knocks at some other man's threshold.

[illegible] these few words in the most hurried manner in response to your appeal, which, in view of my past relations with the readers of The Republic, I feel it impossible to resist, even in the pressure of work now upon me. I have the honor to be very sincerely yours,

WM. L. WILSON.

CHAPTER AND COUNCIL.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS MEET AND ELECT OFFICERS.

The Grand Royal Arch chapter of Alabama met in annual convention at the Masonic temple in Montgomery on Tuesday.

John A. McKinnon, M. E. grand high priest; J. C. Smith, M. E. deputy grand high priest; Andrew J. Nunnally, R. E. grand king; Josiah Jernigan, R. E. grand scribe; William H. Dingley, R. E. grand treasurer; H. Clay Armstrong, R. E. grand secretary; William C. Cleveland, R. E. grand chaplain; William J. Rhodes, R. E. Grand C. of host.

The grand council of royal and select masters in the fifty-sixth annual session met at the temple. The following are the grand officers:

George F. Moore, E. I. grand master; John A. McKinnon, deputy grand master; John G. Smith, grand P. C. work; W. H. Bingley, grand treasurer; H. Clay Armstrong, grand receiver; Edward Marshall, captain of the guard; Sol D. Bloch, grand central council; Simon Klutz, grand steward; William McCollum, grand chaplain; Benjamin Pope, grand lecturer; Chas. A. Allen, grand sentinel. They were all re-elected and installed.

FEEDING STOCK THROUGH WINTER.

We find many farmers who have yearlings and steers which they do not care to carry through winter.

To introduce and spread the use of meal and hulls—the best and cheapest feed for cattle—we make this offer.

Bring in your surplus stock, no matter how many, weigh them and take back with you their exact weight in meal and hulls with which to feed the stock at home. The poorer the stock you bring is the better we will be pleased, as we desire to show the superior fatting qualities of meal and hulls as feed.

Bring some cotten seed along with you.

KILLED HER ASSAILANT

Mrs. W. T. Smith, of Richmond, Ala., killed a negro who had entered her bed room Friday night. The fellow attacked her with a knife, when she made an outcry, but she secured her husband's revolver from under the pillow and killed him. It is said that the negro had three accomplices, who have been arrested. Unless they prove their innocence they will doubtless be lynched.

PROSPECT AND RETROSPECT.

The protectionists are freely indulging in predictions of the fate which will overtake the democratic party in consequence of this tariff legislation. In imagination they have already nominated Gov. McKinley for president in 1896 and elected him by an overwhelming majority. Unhappily for cheerful vaticinations of this kind, they have been uniformly defeated and disgraced by the event. Protectionists panic mongers have made far more capital out of popular fear of tariff reduction than out of the legislation itself. The people do not quarrel with a reduction of the burdens of taxation, no matter in what form the reduction may come. Agitation against high tariff spoliation never ceases except with the removal of the evil. Agitation against low tariffs are of extremely brief duration.

The history of Pennsylvania is the history of the country on this question. In 1846 Pennsylvania was the center of the protected interests, as it is now. The state then had a much larger proportionate share of the iron manufacture than at present. Every member of the Pennsylvania delegation in congress, which contained a majority of democrats, voted against the tariff of 1846 with the solitary exception of David Wilmot. Vice President Dallas, who gave the casting vote for the bill in the senate, and Wilmot were denounced as traitors, and burned in effigy from one end of the commonwealth to the other. The only state officer elected that year was a canal commissioner, and the whig candidate was elected with the aid of tariff democrats by a large majority. At the same time a majority of whigs was returned to the delegation to congress. The protectionists in the exultation over their success in Pennsylvania confidently predicted the speedy repeal of the tariff of 1846 and the complete restoration of their policy.

But the protectionists triumph was of short duration, and barren of results. In the next year (1847) the whigs, sure of victory on the high tariff issue, nominated James Irvin, a prominent citizen, for Governor, and, to their astonishment, the returns when counted gave a majority of 15000 votes for Francis R. Shunk, his democratic opponent. The people of Pennsylvania had already taken kindly to the reduction of their tariff burdens. There was no way of making successful appeal to ignorant fears and of creating panic alarm against the accomplished fact—the measure which commended itself to the approval of the country. The high tariff party gradually melted away under the influence of this legislation, and the result of the election for president in 1848 two years after its enactment, hinged largely upon the slavery question, which caused a division in the democratic party, and upon the popularity of a military chieftain in the Mexican war. Four years after, in 1852, the whig party of protection carried four states only for their candidate for president, and then sank forever beneath the political surface. So successful was the tariff in 1846 politically and economically, that the republican heirs of the defunct party of protection in 1857 introduced in congress and helped the democrats to pass a bill making a still further reduction of duties on imports.

The history is full of instruction to all parties. It shows timid democrats that the political danger is not in tariff reform legislation but in the popular alarms which the professional protectionists are able to create in the absence of such legislation. It shows the republicans that their hopes of success in opposing tariff reform when once accomplished are vain and illusory. When the programme of tariff legislation shall have become a reality they can no longer practice upon popular fears of the unknown, and the restoration of the McKinley tariff will be as remote and improbable as the revival of the whig party.

The Republican.

I. W. GRANT, PUBLISHER.

SATURDAY DEC. 16, 1893.

The Gadsden Times-News has a timely article on the proposition to have the Democratic State Executive Committee meet in January and eat dirt. It wants "a straight democratic nomination and a fair fight in an open field," and it is right. This is no time to be fooling around with fence straddlers and wobblers. If the committee want to preserve the enthusiasm of the party, it will preserve its present attitude [illegible] engender disgust and invite defeat.

The Alliance Herald attacks Capt. Jos. F. Johnston because he entered into what it is pleased to term an "iniquitous combination" to defeat the nomination of Kolb in 1890 and says: "The people of Alabama administered a rebuke to Tommie Jones last year for his participation, and they are awaiting patiently for an opportunity to accord the same rebuke to each member of that unholy and unpatriotic combination." We guess any one of the four candidates against Kolb in 1890 would be glad to receive the same kind of "rebuke" Gov. Jones received. If we understand the case that is just what both Capt. Johnston and Mr. Richardson are now seeking by offering themselves as candidates for the Democratic nomination. A "rebuke" that puts a man in the gubernatorial chair by 11,000 majority will appear as a very desirable thing to the average man. In the mind of the Herald it is high treason in any man to defeat Kolb either in convention or at the polls.

For some time Governor Jones has been receiving threatening anonymous letters through the mail. Recently he received a letter detailing a conspiracy to assassinate the Governor, Speaker Pettus of the House and President Compton of the Senate, so that there would be "left nobody at all" so far as the governorship is concerned. A Chicago detective, who has been in the State for some time, ferreting out gin house posters, took the matter in hand and soon located Amos L. Griffiths, of Pell City, as the writer of one of the letters threatening the assassination of Gov. Jones and disclosing the existence of an organization in this State to carry out the design of the order by means of murder and violence, if necessary. He says "the avengers of the peoples' wrongs" as he calls them, are fully organized throughout the State and ready for action, and are fully armed with all missiles of death necessary to carry out our plans, including fire and poison." The Governor declines to prosecute Griffiths, but writes him that it had "long since been informed of the organization," spoken of by Griffiths, "its designs and somewhat as to its membership."

The letter of Griffiths and the reply of the Governor are too lengthy to get in this week's REPUBLICAN, but will appear next week. It forms interesting reading.

CONGRESS.

The Tory bankruptcy bill has been defeated, but one providing for a system of voluntary bankruptcy will be favorably reported to the House.

The banking and currency committee will favorably report a bill for repeal of the 10 per cent. tax on State banks and providing for State banks of issue.

A bill to refund the Cotton tax has been favorably reported by the judiciary committee of the House.

A bill will pass the House paying Southern Claims for property destroyed or abandoned during the war, to the extent of eleven million dollars now in the treasury, without requiring proof of loyalty by claimant. The Republicans are fighting both this bill and the bill refunding the cotton tax bitterly.

PIPE WORKS SOLD.

The Anniston pipe works were sold Tuesday by A. H. Shepherd, clerk of the city court, to Jno. B. Knox for W. W. Shingfellow and W. S. Gurnee, Jr., representing the bondholders. The property, which is probably the largest of the kind in the country, has been in the hands of receivers for three years.

A NARROW ESCAPE!

How it Happened.

The following remarkable article is a plain statement of facts, and those knowing the parties mentioned can vouch for its truthfulness. Mrs. Harry Starr, Pottsville, Pa., writes: "I was taken sick with a severe pain in my heart which finally became incessant, and I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought every minute would be my last. There was a feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath and couldn't sweep a room without sitting down and resting, but, thank God, by the help of New Heart Cure all that is past and I feel like another woman. Before using the New Heart Cure I had taken different so-called remedies and been treated by doctors without any benefit until I was both discouraged and disgusted. My husband bought me a bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and I am happy to say I never regretted it. In a few days I was a splendid sleeper and soon well. I weighed 125 pounds when I began taking the remedy, and now I weigh 145. The effects in my case has been truly marvelous. It far surpasses any other medicine I have ever taken or any benefit I ever received from physicians."—Mrs. Harry Starr, Pottsville, Pa., October 12, 1892.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee by druggists or by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. This great discovery by an eminent specialist in heart disease, contains neither opium nor dangerous drugs.

The people of White Plains are much pleased with the new Methodist pastor.

Hard to take—the big, old-fashioned pill. It's pretty hard to have to take it, too. You wouldn't, if you realized fully how it checks and weakens the system.

Luckily, you don't have to take it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are better. They're sensible. They do mildly and gently, more than the ordinary pill, with all its disturbance. They regulate the liver, stomach and bowels, as well as thoroughly cleanse them. They're the original Little Liver Pills, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, the smallest and the easiest to take. One little Pellet for a gentle laxative—three for a cathartic. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels are promptly and permanently cured.

They're the cheapest, too, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

On the night of the 22nd the third oratorical contest for Demorest medal will take place at White Plains High school.

Notice to Non-Residents.

THE STATE OF ALABAMA, Calhoun County.

Peyton Rowan
vs.
Mariah Williams et al's.

In Chancery at Jacksonville Alabama, Ninth District, Northeastern Chancery Division.

In this cause it is made appear to the Register, by the affidavit of H. L. Stevenson, solicitor for complainant, that the defendants Sam Williams, Nick Williams, Rosa Williams, Nancy Williams, Caroline Williams, and Joe Matthews are all non-resident of the State of Alabama, and reside in the State of Arkansas; but their post office is unknown to affiant, and further, that, to the belief of said affiant, the defendants are all over the age of twenty-one years, except Joe Matthews who is over 14 years of age.

It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made in the Jacksonville Republican a newspaper published in the county of Calhoun, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring them the said Sam, Nick, Rosa, Nancy, and Caroline Williams and Joe Matthews to answer or demur to the same, within thirty days after the 15th day of January 1894, and failing so to do a decree pro confesso will be taken against them in said cause.

Done at office, in Jacksonville, this 6th day of December 1893.

The alleged newspaper in Centre is still dissatisfied over the fine advertising patronage the Republican is receiving. In its last issue its alleged editor devotes some of the space left him by his Birmingham publishers to felicitation over the fact that his alleged newspaper has attracted the attention of the REPUBLICAN. Old Esop, relates a somewhat similar circumstance in his fable of the fly and the ox.

Henry Edwards purchased this week from Mrs. David Adkins the place known as the Adkins farm west of the city. The price paid was $6600. This is one of the finest and best situated farms in the county and Mr. Edwards is to be congratulated on the acquisition. As he is a thorough farmer and a young man energetic and hardworking he will manage the farm personally and make it a garden spot. The residence savors of befo de wah times and immured in the luxurious grove is a gem to the artistic eye.

The Cleburne Plowboy is justly proud of the fact it has been made the official organ of the Farmers Alliance of Calhoun. It has ! — hauling members of the Calhoun county commissioners court over coals, because two negroes were drawn for jurymen in the Anniston City Court. At the request of members of the court the REPUBLICAN explained how it was done through mistake. The Plowboy is not willing to accept the explanation of the REPUBLICAN. In fact it characterizes it as thin, so to speak. The Plowboy, organ of the Calhoun County Alliance, will probably not be so keen to censure the court when it learns that every member of it is a member of the Alliance. Such is the fact, and the Plowboy evidently has the wrong sow by the ear. Now watch it turn the animal loose.

WELCOMED TO COLUMBUS.

A DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION TENDERED MR. SMITH AND WIFE.

It was a very pleasing and graceful welcome which the members of the First Baptist church gave their new pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, yesterday afternoon and evening.

The elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Cook, 1510 Third avenue, was thrown open from 3 to 11 p. m. to the members of the church who assembled there to meet the new minister, and his very charming wife, and assure them that theirs was a very warm welcome.

The arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Smith has been anticipated with a great deal of pleasure and the large crowds that thronged the Cook residence during the afternoon and evening, bore pleasing testimony to this fact.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith received the guests with ease and pleasantness, which melted the barriers of brief acquaintance and made them all friends at once.

The dining hall, where all of the guests before taking their leave were invited, was beautiful in its dress of bamboo and cut flowers. The menu was most tempting. It consisted of turkey, salad, olives, celery, pickel, breads, coffee and fruits.

The enjoyment of the evening was heightened by a delightful musical program; in which Prof. George W. Chase, Prof. Louis Chase, Mr. George Hamburger, Miss Preer and Miss Estes took part.

The event was a most enjoyable success, and is the first of its kind which has ever occurred in Columbus.—Columbus Enquirer-Sun.

SEWING MACHINE PREMIUM

READ BELOW HOW TO OBTAIN ONE OF THESE ELEGANT SEWING MACHINES Free

This SEWING MACHINE is undoubtedly the equal of any $50.00 machine on the market. It is offered fully guaranteed exactly as represented, and with the assurance that it will more than equal the expectations of all who receive one.

This Sewing Machine has a tight and loose wheel, self-threading shuttle, automatic bobbin winder, side drawers, center drawer and drop leaf. The woodwork is of the finest finish, in antique oak or walnut, as desired.

The needle is straight and self setting and of great strength. The pressure on the sewing foot is adjustable; when the foot is raised the tension on the thread is released, and the work can be removed without bending or breaking the needle.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Arm one inch higher than Low Arm Machine.
Self-setting Needle.	Self-threading Shuttle.
Automatic Bobbin Winder.	Automatic Tension Release.
Bed-plate	Countersunk in Table, etc.

We claim for this machine all the good points found in other machines. All old, worn out ideas have been discarded, and it has been so improved and simplified that today it stands at the head of the list of high grade machines.

The cut above shows how the machine looks. It is in thousands of homes throughout the United States.

Our Machine is specially adapted to the wants of TAILORS, DRESSMAKERS . . and . . SEAMSTRESSES.

Our instruction book is profusely illustrated, showing how to do all kinds of fancy work with our attachments.

Each machine is furnished with the following full set of best steel attachments in a plush lined case: Six bobbins, 12 needles, oil can (filled), wrench, guide and guide screw, foot hemmer, feller, ruffler, tucker, binder, set of 4 hemmers and instruction book.

WARRANTY.

We not only lay claim to the BEST SEWING MACHINE in the world, but substantiate our claim by giving a guarantee with each Sewing Machine, agreeing to duplicate any part that proves defective in FIVE YEARS, free of charge (Shuttles and Needles excepted), thereby proving conclusively our confidence in our own Sewing Machine.

WE WILL GIVE THIS

SEWING MACHINE FREE

and Full Set of Attachments complete, freight paid to any railroad depot east of the Rocky Mountains, to any one sending us 60 new paid-up yearly subscriptions to this paper; or for 20 new paid-up yearly subscriptions and $13.00 in cash added; or we will sell it complete to a subscriber for $19.00 in cash, which is less than half its retail price—railroad freight paid besides.

Sewing Machine Agents sell this Machine for $55.00 and $65.00

TESTIMONIALS.

We add in conclusion a few testimonials to the manufacturers from parties who have bought the Premium High Arm Sewing Machine:

MR. H. T. PARISH of Coody's Bluff, Ind. T., writes: "We are using one of your High Arm Sewing Machines, and have been for over three years, and are pleased to say it is everything you recommend it to be. We received the machine in June, 1888."

MR. BURTON JACKSON of Bluford, Ill., writes under date of September, 1891: "I have received the High Arm Sewing Machine and am well pleased. For beauty, strength and simplicity of work it is unexcelled."

MR. H. H. UTTERBACK of Florida, Mo., writes: "We bought a High Arm Sewing Machine from you in March, 1889, and are well pleased with it in every respect."

Dueber and Hampden WATCHES

Given away to Our Readers

ANY ONE CAN GET A GOLD WATCH FREE. READ OUR OFFERS.

The Dueber and Hampden Watches offered below are standard goods, and give the utmost satisfaction and comfort to their owners. We have therefore no hesitation, but take pride in being able to offer such high class goods to our subscribers and readers.

These Watches will equal in appearance and wear as well as any $50.00 watch in the market.

OUR DUEBER NO. 1

is warranted by certificate. It has a 10-karat solid gold filled case, stem winding and setting, 7 jeweled movement and all other improvements. Our Dueber watch is made in either open face or hunting cases; purchaser can choose.

We will send this Watch FREE, charges prepaid, to any one sending us 40 new paid-up yearly subscriptions to this paper; or for 15 new paid-up yearly subscriptions and $8.00 in cash added; or a subscriber can buy it, delivered to his address, for $12.50 cash. The cases are all beautifully engraved.

NO. 2 WATCH

has solid 10-karat gold filled case, with 9-jeweled Hampden movement; case either open face or hunting, at purchaser's option; stem wind and set and all latest improvements. Warranted to wear for years.

We will give this Watch, delivered FREE, to any paid up yearly subscriptions or for 45 new subscriptions and $9.00 in cash added; or we will sell it to a subscriber for $11.00 cash, delivery paid.

LADIES' WATCHES.

Under the head of Ladies' Watches we have Two Splendid Offers

The most fastidious must be pleased with the beautiful Watches described below.

THE LADIES' CHAMPION

is a celebrated Hampden movement in 10-karat gold filled case and warranted to wear for 20 years. The movement is solid nickel, full 7 jeweled, stem wind and set, and all improvements.

This Watch is equal to any $50.00 watch in the market.

We will give this Watch FREE, delivered to any address, for 50 new paid-up yearly subscriptions; or for 20 new paid-up yearly subscriptions and $11.00 in cash added; or it will be sold to a subscriber for $17.50 cash.

THE LADY DUEBER

has solid 10-karat gold filled case and guaranteed to wear for years, and in fact better than any others; case of equal value in the world. It has 6 full jewel movement, with all improvements and is a Ladies' Trade Mark.

We will give this Watch FREE, delivered to any address, for 35 new paid-up yearly subscriptions; or for 14 new paid-up yearly subscriptions and $7.00 in cash added; or it will be sold to a subscriber for $13.00 in cash, delivered to any address in all cases.

EVAPORATE . . . YOUR FRUIT . . . AT HOME

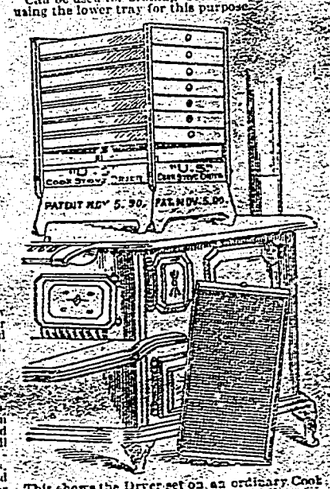

WITH THE

U.S. COOK STOVE DRYER

We think this is one of our most attractive offers to our subscribers, anyway to those who have a few fruit trees or an orchard.

To the ladies of the household in town or country it is a little gold mine. Thousands of careful, prudent household managers, who have no time or necessity to engage in evaporating fruit for market as a business, but who have frequent use for just such an article as this for making smaller quantities of dried fruit, berries and vegetables for their own use or for sale, will find it the most satisfactory and profitable investment they could make. A lady can easily lift it on and off the stove as it weighs about twenty-five pounds. It has interchangeable galvanized wire cloth trays which will not rust or discolor the fruit, etc., and will last for years. It is made of iron, except tray frames and supports.

Can be used for broiling beefsteak, fish, etc., using the lower tray for this purpose.

This shows the Dryer set on an ordinary Cook Stove.

The "U. S." COOK STOVE FRUIT DRYER OR EVAPORATOR.

THOROUGHLY TESTED AND APPROVED

LATEST - CHEAPEST - BEST

—WEIGHT, 25 POUNDS—

Handsome metal base. Can be used on any kind of stove. Dimensions—base, 22x16 inches; height, 26 inches; eight galvanized wire cloth trays, containing 12 square feet of tray surface. No extra fuel. Always ready for use, and will last a lifetime. Easily and quickly set on and off the stove as heated, empty or filled with fruit.

As a great Economizer and Money Maker for Rural People it is without a Rival

Has it ever occurred to you that, with a little labor, wasting apples, berries and vegetables can be quickly evaporated and are then worth a pound for pound for flour, sugar, coffee, butter, rice, oatmeal, etc.?

HOW TO OBTAIN ONE FREE.

To any one sending us 10 new paid-up yearly subscribers will be sent FREE, securely packed and crated, one of these U. S. Cook Stove Dryers, with outfit complete; or it will be sent you for 5 new paid up yearly subscriptions and $3.50 in cash added; or it will be sold to subscribers for $5.00 in cash. The regular price of this Dryer is $7.00.

In all cases the Dryer will be sent by freight, securely packed and crated; freight to be paid by the receiver, but as the Dryer only weighs 25 pounds the freight charges will be trifling.

Read what people say who have a Cook Stove Fruit Dryer:

TESTIMONIALS.

BROCKVILLE, N. Y.

SIRS:—The U. S. C. S. Dryer sold by us this season have given good satisfaction. Mrs. Andrews, of Ellington, N. Y., says she can easily dry 2 bushels a day. Yours respectfully, Mrs. F. PIER.

LADIG, Fulton county, Pa.

GENTLEMEN:—We did not get the Cook Stove Dryer until the drying season was nearly over. It is a gem to any one who wishes to dry all kinds of small fruits, and also all kinds of fruits on a small scale. It is marvelous the rapidity with which it prepares green fruit for the sack. No one can describe its merits unless they try one. It is worth the price asked for it for corn alone. Yours truly,

JNO. F. JOHNSON.

INDIVIDUAL SALT AND PEPPER SET.

This Set is a new design in Triple Plate Salt and Spoon Gold Lined. Complete in satin lined case. Makes a beautiful present.

We will give this Set FREE, delivered to any address, for 4 new paid-up yearly subscriptions; or will sell it to a subscriber, delivery prepaid, for $1.50.

The Buggies and Carts shown below are the Cheapest and Best for the money ever offered.

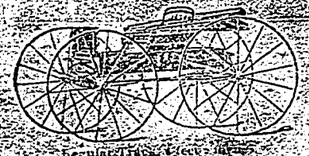

The reason of these low prices is not because they are thrown together or made of poor material, but because the benefit of the jobber and the wholesale dealers' profit, which is always large, is given to our subscribers.

These vehicles are shipped to you direct from the factory at factory prices, and they are guaranteed and warranted just as described.

The State Normal School offers to the youth of Alabama a fine opportunity to acquire a thorough education in the English Language, Mathematics and Elementary Sciences, and a professional Teacher's course which prepares them to teach successfully in the Public Schools of the State.

To enter the Normal Department of the school, pupils must be at least fifteen years of age, of good moral character and sound constitution, and be able to pass satisfactory examinations in the studies pursued by the Freshman class, viz: Arithmetic and Elementary Algebra, English Grammar and Composition, Physical Geography, Physiology and United States History. They must promise to obey the rules and regulations of the school and obligate themselves to teach two years in the public schools of the State, or pay regular collegiate rates of tuition.

Students may by paying tuition, take the regular collegiate studies and in place of the Normal course of study, pursue the language course in which are taught, Latin, Greek, French and German.

The Piedmont Institution.

ED. REPUBLICAN:—Not long ago I had the pleasure of a visit to the institution at Piedmont. The handsome building, healthful location, and pleasant surroundings make it a desirable place for a school; and the earnest, efficient instructors already at work give assure of growth and progress in the near future. The four-story building, finely fitted and furnished, lighted with electricity and heated by steam, was completed at an original cost of forty-three thousand dollars; and so conveniently arranged has it been found, that only a few alterations have been necessary in changing an elegant hotel building into a home for an institution of learng."

The corps of teachers, President M. M. Russel, Rev. W. B. Witherspoon, Mrs. Little, and Miss Hunt, have in charge besides a Primary Department, the academic course, the course in music, and the course in art.

Miss Bennett, whose death occurred lately, was greatly endeared to the pupils, and her name is a precious memory to many of those whom she taught. The vacancy caused by her death will no doubt be ably filled as the work of the institution goes on. Rev. J. W. Drall is President of the board of trustees. The attendance is already nearing one hundred and fifty; and all in all, Piedmont is to be congratulated for her institution of learning. For while there is no competition sought with Jacksonville's ably and largely equipped Normal college, the indications are that there is room for the new and growing seminary of learing.

VISITOR.

NO MORE GUANO NOTES.

If the farmers will consider and look into the offer made by us, there will not be another guano note given within a radius of fifteen or twenty miles of Jacksonville. We could not make the offer, if we were not so situated, that we deal direct with the farmers and save them the two or three profits of the middlemen.

No matter at what price they may sell cotton seed, the price of the fertilizers bought for cash (or note) is correspondingly high. WE MAKE THE COTTON SEED ALONE FURNISH ALL FERTILIZER NEEDED FOR CROPS, ALL FEED FOR CATTLE AND LEAVE SUFFICIENT SEED FOR PLANTING.

We do not belong to any trust.

We pay cash for seed, or for every seven bushels of cotton seed, exchange one sack, of a hundred pounds, of cotton seed meal—which is the best fertilizer known.

Parties desiring feed can exchange seed for meal and hulls, pound for pound. The meal and hulls as a feed, are cheaper, will go farther, and give better results than any other feed.

TARIFF LEGISLATION.

No matter what we do or say, a howl will go up from every ring and clique, from every job and interest, which is made to see the light of exposure and to feel the hand of reform. We came to power not to condone and conserve the corruptions of twenty-five years of Republican misrule, but to destroy them. We owe no apology to the Republicans for what we do. They are equally intractable and malign. The back of the hand to Republicanism—the black flag to corruptionism—is what will make square issues and honest politics most earnestly desired by the people everywhere; and it saves us from the ignominity of half measures, while it keeps our voters in line.

We are accused of everything from arson to murder. We draw the line at murder; but, short of that; the hot end of the poker to a partisan enemy wherever he appears. There was never a situation where the time serving counsels of cowardice affecting a wise and patriotic conservatism, allowing "I dare not" to wait upon "I would," contained so much peril and so little virtue as that which confronts Mr. Cleveland's administration and Mr. Wilson in the House of Representatives, at this time; and the only road to safety and honor is that sublime intrepidity, which, laying its lines in justice and truth, shuts its eyes and defies the consequences. Be sure that if we are right—and we think we are—they will be with us. But if we are wrong, then we can still go down, like brave and honest men; fighting for conscience sake!

GRIFFITH'S LETTER.

GOVERNOR JONES' REPLY.

A Crank Claims to Belong to an Order Whose Purpose is Murder.

The following is the letter of Amos L. Griffith, alluded to last week and the reply of the Governor. Griffith is an ex-union soldier and was an East Tennessee Republican before he came to Alabama. He is now a Populist:

"Headquarters of the Avengers of the Peoples' wrongs.

"To Thomas G. Jones, acting Governor of Alabama:

Sir—This is to notify you that the Avengers of the peoples' wrongs are now fully organized and ready for action in every beat in the State. We are fully armed with all the missiles of death necessary to carry out our plans, including fire and poison. Now this is to notify you and henchmen that we are going to have an honest count or your life, and the life of every dishonest officer and inspector connected with holding the elections in the several beats in the State. There are three Avengers on your track, that keep watch of you day and night, ready to take your life in the twinkling of an eye, when the command is given them. This is no idle threat. We mean business. Your militia is no protection to you—if you go in the open air, you cannot get enough men around you to get out of reach of our sharp-shooters. If there is one fraudulent vote cast by your connivance in any beat in the State, or by the connivance of any officer appointed by you, we will kill you and also that officer, even if we have to set fire to your house at night and shoot you by the light of the fire as you run out. We are not in favor of destroying property, if we can kill you without it. Neither do we like to take the life of any one if we can secure our rights without it. We repeat, we have never less than three and sometimes four or more on your track day and night with poison and other death dealing agencies with which to kill you.

It is in your power to perhaps save life and destruction of property by instructing your agents to act honest in holding elections, and counting the votes honest and making true returns of the same. Insist on their doing right for your life as well as theirs is the forfeit if they do wrong.

By order of the Grand Commander of the Avengers of the peoples' wrongs."

THE GOVERNOR'S REPLY.

State of Alabama, Executive Department, Office of the Governor.
Montgomery, Dec. 10th, 1893.

Amos L. Griffith, Pell City, Ala.:

Your anonymous letter, miled at Pell City on the 20th of November, has been received. I had long since been informed of your organization; its designs, and somewhat as to its membership. Perhaps my only reply should be to hand you over to the officers of justice.

It is, however, quite evident to me that false teachings and advice have induced you to say and do things in this connection which now you have no intent to pursue further. If there shall be cause in future to hunt down the responsible authors of the crusade of arson and murder you disclose, others can be found far more culpable than you. The real promoters of the conspiracy are journals and speakers, who, for political ends, seek to incite the ignorant and lawless to deeds of violence against officers of the law, by foul misrepresentations, vituperation and incendiary utterances, specific enough to suggest the desired end, yet clothed in conditional generalities, with the vain hope of absolving them from accountability to law or the people, if their teaching bear the desired fruit. For these reasons, although you have been discovered, it is not proposed to disturb you for your past acts.

But the circumstances are such that it is my imperative duty not to dismiss the conspiracy, in which you are engaged, without bringing home to you and to those you represent some solemn truths; to the end that the unwary and uninformed may no longer be trapped, and that those who have already been duped and betrayed, may find opportunity for repentance and escape. Men who secretly conspire for unlawful ends are never at a loss for excuses. To those who stoop to murder for political ends, all elections become "dishonest" when they register defeat; and the descent from a conspiracy to murder if elections do not result as desired, is easy and inevitable.

The sham and insincerity of the clamor of fraud, sufficient to change the result of the State election, which is one of the pretexts for banding to regulate elections by murder, have long since become apparent to public opinion, after full opportunity to weigh its origin and motives and the witnesses behind the clamor. The people have not forgotten that the cry was forumlated long in advance of the election by men, who in times past were themselves "chief spoliators of the peoples' ballots," and that the cry was pressed with the threefold purpose of giving their followers an excuse and incitement to fraud in their behalf, drawing attention from their own contemplated work in that direction, and furnishing a basis for the chief of the party with whom they were allied to intervene in State affairs, in event of his success in the National election, and forcibly displace with his auxiliaries the officers whom it was plain the people would elect. They remembered, also, that the party which elected the present Governor, and every other Governor of Alabama since 1874, at every election since, has been systematically pursued by the same cries, from practically the same opposition, and that it was again brought forth in behalf of men who although receiving a benefit of a majority of the negro vote throughout the State, and ignoring phenomenal local majorities, beyond the comprehension of the census, in their own favor, yet pretend to be defrauded because a large majority of the negro vote was cast against their candidate. The people felt that it would be passing strange, and out of the natural course of events, if in choosing between two candidates, both claiming to represent the Democratic party, thousands of negroes had not preferred him who had been assailed for extending pardon, affording the protection of the law and advocating efforts to educate their race, rather than the other candidate who denounced him for doing these things.

When again the same cry was raised to dispute the fairness of the stunning defeat which befell the same cause in November, 1892 (when the result was supervised by both State and Federal authority), popular opinion became disgusted and looking below the surface saw only a low political play to trifle with the happiness and contentment of the people, to further future ambitions. If, therefore, refusing to dignify the false clamor by longer listening to it, though the officer whose life you now threaten, urged the people's Representatives to hear and determine the complaint, the vast majority of fair men in all parties are satisfied that, while there have been irregularity or wrong in some instances, as always occur in every state election, yet when all on either side are sifted out, the result as declared could not have been changed thereby.

The other excuses for this and kindred conspiracies are also vicious and false. The new election law disfranchises no man, nor hinders him undily in the exercise of the right to vote. It is in the interests of peace, good order and a pure ballot. The healthy and beneficient operation of its principles have long since ceased to be matters either of doubt or partisan dispute. Democratic, Republican and populite legislatures in a majority of the states, have passed laws far more stringent than ours. Yet there are men today who vilely seek to stir the passions of the ignorant and uninformed to the very verge of insurrection by false assertions as to the effect of our law, and incendiary appeals against it, as a monstrous conspiracy against their liberties and rights. Some there are today who do not comprehend that in meeting and formally resolving that officers shall "cease to exist" if they do not discharge their duties fairly, according to the decision of those who threaten them with death, they are recording evidence to put their own necks in the halter, if the threatened crime occurs, rather than doing a praiseworthy act in defense of law.

The falsity of these teachings to which your order owes its origin, is well illustrated by your threat against me, if I do not give particular instructions to election officers. You have been made to believe that the Governor has control of elections and can give orders or instructions to effect the result. There are few so ignorant as not to know that the Governor has no more power or right than you to select officers to hold elections, control their acts, or instruct them in their performance.

The life of any one man is of small consequence in this world, and his death, whenever it may occur little changes the ordinary course of events. If the present Governor were taken off today, the constitution has provided a successor, and were he too removed, it designates yet another. Governors indeed, may be killed, but the assassins cannot kill the law of the land or suspend its operation, even as to themselves. Threats of that kind have never yet moved any manly man to disregard his duty.

No just cause was ever aided by threats of arson, murder and poison; while many a noble aspiration of a people has gone down in infamy forever, when advocated by such means. No bad cause ever triumphed by their help. Deep writ by the finger of the Almighty in the hearts of all true men is a law of loathing and hate for the assassin which ever lives to hunt him to his doom. When once the assassin strikes, the curse falls on criminal and cause alike, and both go down in ruin together.

Men who make such threats incite the crime, whenever and wherever that crime occurs, and they then stand out as its avowed advocates and sponsors. If the perpetrator be unknown, all men believe them guilty; and when the guilty instrument is brought to justice, suspicion still haunts them as the real authors. Their fellowmen view them with suspicion and distrust and even when innocent they often fall victims of the people's wrath against the assassin and all who are thought to stand behind him. Even those who inspire the assassin's deed turn with infinite loathing from their dupe, when caught in crime.

All the teachings of our past, and all the hopes of our future, all true manhood and womanhood teach that Alabama can never become the home of the assassin, or a safe resting place for missionaries who teach political doctrines with dagger and torch and poison.

Your organization had better disband while yet there is time; before the act of some one of its members in pursuance of the common design, makes felons and outcasts of you. Future rectitude on the part of the ignorant and weak who have been duped into this dark conspiracy may blot out the past and pardon relieve against the penalty, but when threats have broadened into crime, it will be too late.

What Alabamians Say About the Electropoise.

W. C. Joiner, Dothan: "In my judgment too much cannot be said of the Electropoise as a remedy."

Thos. W. Halstead, Buckhorn: "I have used the Electropoise successfully in cases of rheumatism, la grippe, constipation, female complaints, chills and fever, typhoid fever and kidney complaints, and would not be without it for any known amount."

John School, Birmingham: "The Electropoise acts as both doctor and drug store for me."

J. McKee Gould, Boligee: "I have known the Electropoise to do some wonderful things in the way of relieving sickness."

Rev. C. W. O'Hara, Columbiana: "I look upon the Electropoise as the most wonderful instrument in its curative effects of anything extant."

W. T. Wagnon, Georgiana: "You may put me down as one of the best friends of the Electropoise."

Rev. James A. Heard, D. D., Florence: "I am a walking advertisement for the Electropoise."

Rev. L. A. Darsey, D. D., Lafayette: "Every family ought to have an Electropoise."

B. T. Davis, Birmingham: "I would not give up my Electropoise for two drug stores and a doctor thrown in."

Mrs. Delia R. Mislaps, Isbell: "I would not be without my Electropoise for many times its cost."

Claude Toney, Blocton: "I can now walk four miles without crutches, and before I began using it I could not walk four steps without them."

Rev. W. C. Hearn, Talladega: "My general health is better than for six years. My wife and I use the Electropoise with good effect."

A. J. Garner, Sloss: "When I began using the Electropoise I weighed 118 pounds, and now I weigh 130 pounds."

C. A. J. Hollingsworth, Mink: "We use it for everything that we would use medicine for."

THE STATE BANK TAX.

If all the southern congressmen would manifest as much interest in the repeal of the 10 per cent tax on state banks as Congressman John DeWitt Warner, of New York, there would be no doubt of the success of such a bill. Although Mr. Warner's constituents are not particularly interested in this measure one way or the other, he has exhibited much energy in his work for it. Mr. Warner is a member of the committee on banking and currency, which is preparing the measure.

"I do not think the committee on banking and currency will make a report for several weeks," said Mr. Warner today. "This is a very difficult and delicate matter to handle in view of the divided condition of the house on it. But I think that within a few weeks we will be able to report a measure that I hope can be adopted. I, however, do not expect it to be considered in the house until after the tariff bill is disposed of. The idea now being considered by the committee is for the general government not to interfere with the issue of state banks for circulation within the state in which it is issued, but to make certain provisions in regard to the issue for circulation in other states as well as the state in which issued. There will perhaps be a provision limiting the amount of currency to be issued to 75 per cent of the unimpaired capital stock of the bank, and for such bank to make a small deposit with the comptroller of the currency. The comptroller will also be given authority to make examinations of these banks and publish reports showing the condition of the same at regular intervals. Now I think these are about as few restrictions as could be put about the measure. I should not think they would meet with much opposition.

"The southern people, it strikes me, are not manifesting as much interest in this measure as they should. Many democrats in the north are advocating the measure. The large bankers of the north and east are not opposed to it. They do not seem to care one way or the other. Such financial papers as The New York Commercial Bulletin and The Financial Chronicle are advocating the repeal of this tax. I think with proper management and proper work the bill can be put through the house. Of course the republicans will be solid against it, and so will the pupulists. The populists do not want it because it would deprive them of their stock in trade, so to speak. It would relieve the cry for more money in the south and west.

"I am sorry that Mr. Cleveland did not speak in favor of this in his message, but I am confident that he is not opposed to it. Indeed, I feel sure that he will not veto a bill of this character. I fear, however, his failure to advocate it may have lost us some votes. I had counted on all the New York democrats except two voting for it. Now I am not absolutely sure of more than a half-dozen of the New York members, though it is impossible to tell just how they will vote. I find no great hostility to the measure among democrats, but I find many who do not seem to care one way or the other, and men in this condition are generally inclined to vote on the negative side of a question unless a very strong fight be made for the bill. I do not know a single democratic member of the house who will make a vigorous fight on such a measure. Therefore, I think that if the advocates of the bill will go earnestly to work in its favor in time we can build up a sentiment in the house in favor of it strong enough to adopt the measure. I do not think that it could be adopted if reported immediately. Should we attempt to consider it immediately the chances are that it would be defeated, simply because there has not been a proper amount of work done in favor of it or as much enthusiasm manifested on the part of its advocates as there should have been."

The Republican.

L. W. GRANT, PUBLISHER.

SATURDAY, DEC. 23, 1893.

The new tariff bill has been reported to the House, but will not be taken up for action until after the holidays.

Congress should pass the income tax bill. It is the only form of taxation that will compel a certain class of rich men in the country to bear their part of the burthen of government.

The Republicans in Congress have fiercely assailed President Cleveland about his course in Hawaiian affairs, but his late message on that subject puts them in a bad plight. The scenes in the House the past few days have been exciting.

Senator Voorhees, who championed the bill for the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act has introduced a bill for the coinage of the so-called silver seigniorage in the treasury and for the purchase of silver and coinage of two million dollars in silver monthly after the seigniorage has been coined. The bill does not seem to be meeting favor on any side of the question. The silver men think Mr. Voorhees ought to have let this proposition pass as an amendment to his repeal bill.

The unanimous endorsement of Kolb by the Populists and Jeffersonians of Calhoun ought to convince fence straddlers, who have been hoping that lightning might strike them, that it is about time to come down and take a stand on one side or the other. Neither side is going to take a half-way man. In this county the Democrats have no disposition to do so, and the opposition to the organized Democracy have had a lesson on that head they will not soon forget. Hereafter a man in Calhoun who gets any support from anybody will have to tell where he stands.

Secretary Carlisle in his report to Congress thinks there is enough money in the country without further legislation, and instances the immense sums piled up in the banks of New York as proof. So far as the masses of the people are concerned it might as well be at the bottom of the sea. This attitude of the Secretary of the Treasury, coupled with his recommendation to Congress to authorize him to issue $50,000,000 more bonds, compels up to reluctantly confess that it looks like Wall street has got the Secretary by the tail.

Congress relieved the financial stringency somwhat the other day by voting its members mileage for the extra session and an extra month's pay to employes of the two houses. Some of the members characterized it as little better than a steal. Mr. Hutchinson was particularly denunciatory of the Democrats who voted for it. This made Populist Simpson smile. "You need not smile" said Mr. Hutchinson, "your party have acted as badly in this matter as others; every member of your party, except yourself voted for this steal."

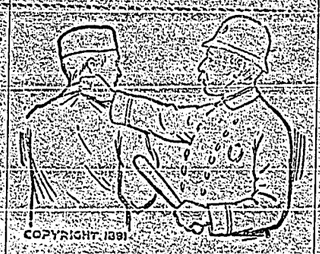

Oh, you naughty reformers.

THE CONFEDERATE SOLDIER

The following is an extract from the address of Governor Thos. G. Jones before the society of the Army of Northern Virginia, delivered at Richmond:

"Who that looked on the private soldier of the Army of Northern Virginia can ever forget his bright face, his tattered jacket and crownless hat—his jests which tickled the very ribs of death—his weary marches in cold and heat and storm—his pangs of hunger, his parching fevers, his wounds—his passing away in woods or roadside when the weak body freed the dauntless soul—his bare feet tracking the rugged fields of Virginia and Maryland and Pennsylvania, sometimes with crimson like those that reddened the snow at Valley Forge—his clinging to his colors while wife and child at home clutched at his courage with cries for bread—his hope and faith and patience to the end—his love of home—deference to whom and trust in God—his courage which sounded all the depths and shoals of misfortune, and for a time throttled fate itself—or the ringing yell of his onset, his battle anthem for native land, rising heavenwards above the roar of an hundred stormy fields?

Who can forget his homeward march, after the end came, ungrudged by violence or wrong, and how the paroled prisoner became the citizen who won the admiration and wonder of the world? Let us emulate his example; and if misfortune or disaster bear us down, let us draw inspiration as he did, from the sublime faith and fortitude of Lee, in the darkest hours of his life, and trust to work out."

Arrested—the progress of Consumption. In all its earlier stages, it can be cured. It's a scrofulous affection of the lungs—a blood taint—and, as in every other form of scrofula, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a certain remedy. But it must be taken in time—and now is the time to take it.

It purifies the blood—that's the secret. Nothing else acts like it. It's the most potent strength-restorer, blood-cleanser, and flesh-builder known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, and all lingering Coughs, it's a remedy that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure.

If it doesn't, the money is returned.

In other words, it's sold on trial.

No other medicine of its kind is. And that proves that nothing else is "just as good" as the "Discovery."

The dealer is thinking of his profit, not of yours, when he urges something else.

THE WINNING TICKET

PIEDMONT, Dec 21—The Piedmont city election took place on Monday of this week. There is some dissatisfaction in regard to the voting. The following ticket was elected, all of whom are competent and capable men and will make the city good officers: Mayor, W. J. Brock; Councilmen, E. W. Ledbetter, John Craig, Lon Ferguson, J. J. Eubanks, John Woolf and T. F. Hughes.

Miss Daisy McCollister is at home from Stanton, Ala., for the holidays. She will probably spend a few days in Jacksonville before returning to South Alabama.

The Baptist Sunday School's supper and entertainment to be given on Monday evening will be quite a brilliant affair. It will also mark the expiration of Prof. Alexander's two years prosperous reign as superintendent.

Under and virtue of a certain execution issued out of the Circuit Court in and for Calhoun county, Alabama, on the 12th day of December A. D. 1893 and to me directed as Sheriff of said county, upon a judgment given and rendered against the Excelsior Manufacturing Company and in favor of Port. P. Martin & Co., which judgment has been regularly and legally assigned of record by said Porter, Martin & Co., to The Tredegar National Bank, which said execution is issued against The Excelsior Manufacturing Co., and in favor of Porter, Martin & Co., said in their name, but for the use and benefit of The Tredegar National Bank, aforesaid, I will as the Sheriff of said county, expose and offer for sale on Monday the 15th day of January A. D. 1894, at the Court House door of said county, between the legal hours of sale, the following real estate and personal property levied on under said execution as the property of the Excelsior Manufacturing Co., and to satisfy the same, as follows: Lot No. 500 as appears on the map of the lands of the Jacksonville Mining and Manufacturing Co., per J. A. Gaboury and which is described as follows: Beginning at a point in the centre of the Wilmans branch and on west line of O'Connell Avenue; thence South 21 degrees of west, 470 feet; thence north 50 degrees 20 minutes west 231.7 feet to point 50 feet from centre of E. T. Va. & G. R. R's main track; thence north 21 degrees 04 minutes east 385 feet more or less, parallel to E. T. V. and G. Ry's track to point in centre line of Williams branch; thence in southeast direction following centre of above branch to place of beginning. Containing 3½ acres, more or less, and situated in northwest quarter of Sec. 14, T. 14 R. 8, in Calhoun county, Alabama, together with all the buildings, improvements, tenements, hereditaments and rights thereunto belonging. Also the following personal property: One stationary steam engine and boiler, one large planer, one sticking machine, one mortiser and borer, 1 re-saw, and all other machinery of every description whatever including all shafting, belting etc., now owned by the said The Excelsior Manufacturing Company. Also 5000 feet of lumber, more or less, near around and about the plant of the said The Excelsior Manufacturing Company.

This the 12th day of December, A. D. 1893.

ED G. CALDWELL,

COUNTY CONVENTION.

Jeffersonians and Populists of Calhoun Fuse.

Tuesday was the day set by the county chairman of both the Jeffersonian and the Populists for county conventions of their respective parties in Jacksonville. At eleven o'clock both parties met in the court house and, evidently through previous understanding, proceeded to business as if they were all of one party. This course was probably agreed on at the caucus held the night before at the room of Mr. Isaac Frank, a prominent Republican, in which caucus it is said eleven beats were represented.

Rev. D. P. Williams was made permanent Chairman and Mr. B. G. McClelen was made secretary.

In the opening speech of Mr. Williams he spoke for fusion and harmony between the Jeffersonians and Populists and said they were practically one party so far as their objects and aims were concerned. The meeting was harmonious throughout and business was despatched with commendably rapidity. It was also unexpectedly conservative. No violent abuse of the State authorities or the organized Democracy was indulged in by any of the speakers.

Representatives of the press were invited to seats on the floor.

The following list of delegates were handed in by the chairman of the beats:

Beat 1 Jacksonville—S. G. Wright, Sim Weaver, Iverson Watson, A. J. Andrews, Richard Gidley, Robt. Treadaway, W. A. Skelton, J. W. Pruitt, James Landers, David Smith and Johnathan Pruitt. Beat entitled to 16 delegates.

Beat 2, Alexandria—T. L. Harvey, J. N. Easterwood, D. Mc-Eachern, W. T. Powers, Mark Bowling, F. W. Foster, J. L. Whisenant, D. P. Williams, B. G. McClelen, White Harrison. Beat entitled to 21 delegates.

Beat 3, June Bug—J. H. Fite, Hugh Dothard, W. W. Woodruff, J. H. Reaves, John S. Parker, J. A. Donels, D. T. Smith, I. A. Lester. Beat entitled to 8 delegates.

Beat 4, Maddox—Not represented. Entitled to 8 delegates.

Beat 5, Polkville—R. P. Heaton, S. P. Howard. Beat entitled to 6 delegates.

Beat 6, Peeks Hill—Jno. Gilliland, Wm. Bryant, Wm. Thompson, Jas Bohanon. Beat entitled to 6 delegates.

Beat 7, Hollingsworth's.—W. R. Kendall, N M McLain, W A Browning, G W Perry, J B Roper, J C Seiber, D R Roper. Beat entitled to 7 delegates.

Beat 8, Greens—B E Murry, S A Doss, Jno Goss, T J Holden. Beat entitled to 10 delegates.

Beat 9, Piedmont.—E J Stephens, M W Maddox, A T Hanna, J W Prater, G W McFry, Jno Robinson, J B Foster, W B Worsham, G W Dempsey, T H Allsup. Beat entitled to 12 delegates.

Beat 10, Rabbit Town—E C Lusk. I P Webb, S E Posey, W M Down, Jno Stephens, G M Cole. Beat entitled to 6 delegates.

Beat 11, White Plains—W Hanna, E F Stovall, J S Hanks, M W Napper, J M Harris, J W Bannister, M Poland, J E Reese, E J Cobb, Lee Hanna. Beat entitled to 10 delegates.

Beat 12, Iron City and Choccolocco—J W Hughes, Ike Murphy, E W Teague, Johnathan Williams. Beat entitled to 8 delegates.

Beat 13, Oxford—G W Eichelberger, W W Jones, R L Allen, J F Self, W W McPherson, E A Stephens, Jno Staples. Beat entitled to 22 delegates.

Beat 14, Sulphur Springs—Not represented. Entitled to 8 delegates.

Beat 15, Anniston—J L Reaves, N L Bates, G S Owens, John Saxon. Beat entitled to 12 delegates.

Beat 16, Ladiga—Not represented. Beat entitled to 2 delegates.

Beat 17, DeArmanville.—L F Greer, J A Weatherly, F. W Buckalew, C M Weeks, L L Allen, W T Venable, J L Gallagher. Beat entitled to 10 delegates.

Beat 18, Ohatchie—Sargent Griffin, Lovin, Martin. Beat entitled to 6 delegates.

Beat 19, Dukes—W S Burgess. Beat entitled to 4 delegates.

Ninety-four delegates reported to the convention from all the beats out of one hundred and seventy allowed by the apportionment of representation.

Temporary organization declared permanent.

Convention selected delegates to State and Congressional Conventions. Each of the 19 beats selecting one and five being elected from the county at large.

Delegates to State Convention:

W A Skelton, T L Harvey, M W Woodruff, J W Anderson, R P Heaton, Jas Bohanon, N J Stephens, T J Plexico, M W Maddox, E C Lusk, E F Stovall, E W Teague, G W Eichelberger, R M Hanna, N L Vails, L C O'Bryant, L F Greer, R P Nabors, Jas Kelly, L L Allen, B G McClellen, Harvey Fite, A T Hanna, J W Hughes.

Unanimously instructed for Kolb and the old State ticket, with Warren S. Reese, jr., for Attorney General.

Delegates to Congressional Convention:

W A Skelton, White Harrison, J H Reaves, J W Anderson, B J Waddle, Thos Calhoun, N B McLain, T J Holden, J W Prater, I P Webb, R L Hanna, J D Bell, J D Staples, R M Hanna, J L Reaves, R W McFry, A M Buckalew, Lovin Martin C N Thompson, W T Powers, L F Greer, D P Williams, Mack Whiteside.

A county executive Committee was then elected as follows, with D P Williams as chairman.

S G Wright, B G McClelen, J H Fite, J W Anderson, B J Waddle, W F Canada, J B Roper, W A Browning, B D Plexico, E J Stephens, E C Lusk, A N Ward, E W Teague, J J Young, G W Eichelberger, R M Hanna, N L Vails, Jas Nunnelly, John Fagan, W C Mangham, Sarge Griffin, G M Phillips.

The following resolution offered by L F Greer was adopted:

Whereas, realizing that the time has come when honor, integrity and patriotism must take the place of partisanship, be it

Resolved, That we, the people of Calhoun county, in convention assembled, do express our heartfelt thanks to our senators, Hons. Jno T Morgan and Jas L. Pugh, for their manly fight in behalf of the people in trying to have silver restored to its time-honored place as one of the standard moneys of the country, and that we do cheerfully commend and recommend them as acting honest and patriotic in that behalf.

A motion to go into nomination of Representatives in the Legislature and county superintendent provoked considerable discussion. The matter was finally postponed to a future convention.

Mr. E J Stephens offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved 1st. It is the opinion of this convention that the recent threatening letters written to Gov. Jones were written by political cranks and are therefore unworthy of notice.

Resolved 2nd. That we do heartily condemn the writer or writers as men unworthy to receive our consideration.

A resolution was passed requesting the publication of the proceedings of the Convention in the JACKSONVILLE REPUBLICAN, Cleburne Plowboy and Alliance Herald.

Convention then adjourned.

Sad Death at Choccolocco.

There is a gloom over our entire community, caused by the death of Mrs. I. G. Morris. She died last night at 11 p. m. Mrs. Morris was one of the best ladies that ever lived in the valley. Peyton Rowan vs. Mariah Williams et. als.

In Chancery at Jacksonville Alabama, Ninth District, Northeastern Chancery Division.

In this cause it is made appear to the Register, by the affidavit of H. T. Stevenson, solicitor for complainant, that the defendants Sam. Williams, Nick Williams, Rosa Williams, Nancy Williams, Caroline Williams, and Joe Matthews are all non-resident of the State of Alabama, and reside in the State of Arkansas; but their post office is unknown to affiant, and further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the defendants are all over the age of twenty one years, except Joe Matthews who is over 14 years of age.

It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made to the Jacksonville Republican a newspaper published in the county of Calhoun Ala., once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring them the said Sam, Nick, Rosa, Nancy, and Caroline Williams and Joe Matthews to answer or demur to the same, within thirty days after the 15th day of January 1894, and failing so to do a decree pro confesso will be taken against them in said cause.

Done at office, in Jacksonville, this 8th day of December 1893.

CASON—HAMES.

A Quiet Home Wedding on Thursday.

Mr. Geo. Cason and Miss Lizzie Hames were married Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents in this city.

The marriage was something of a surprise to the friends and acquaintances of both bride and groom, no one having been told of the happy occurrence beforehand other than relatives. Rev. Dr. Culver, pastor of the First Methodist church of Anniston, performed the ceremony which united the pair and made them one to tread the rose-strewn paths or climb the rugged mountains of life.

Mr. Cason is well and favorably known in Jacksonville as one of Anniston's rising young men, energetic, hard working, and well versed in his business, and we congratulate him on securing so charming a bride from Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Cason left on the southbound E. T. train for their future home in Anniston.
