We are glad to note the increased demand for a good stock of bogs in this section. It means that the people here do not propose to longer have their smoke houses in the Northwest, but will hereafter raise their own meat and make their own lard. This means better times in the South.

ANNISTON had the largest holiday trade this season from the country she has ever had. Of course much of this is due to the liberal manner in which her business men invited this trade through the advertising columns of the REPUBLICAN. There is no doubt but printers ink pays. The most successful business men in the world have long since learned this fact.

The sympathy of the Southern people has been shown in a substantial way during the past few weeks for the thousands of farmers in Nebraska who are on the verge of starvation. While the corn crop up there was a total failure, in the South it has been unusually large, and our people can well afford to contribute from their well stored corn cribs to help relieve the suffering among the people of Nebraska.

The recommendation of Governor Oates to increase the number of judicial circuits in the state to twenty seems to be favorably received by the press and people in nearly every section of the State. If it is true that this increase will lessen the present judicial expense in the state, and afford a more speedy trial to criminals and thus decrease the number of lynchings, the recommendations of the Governor should certainly be enacted into law.

THROUGH the enterprise of the Chicago Herald the railroad record from Chicago to Atlanta has been lowered by ten hours. The Herald issued a special edition with a write up of the Cotton States and International exposition, and in order to have it on sale in Atlanta the day it was issued, secured a special train, called "The Dixie Itinerary," which made the fastest long distance run ever made in the South, covering 733 miles in 16 hours and 37 minutes elapsed time. The average running time was 45 miles an hour.

The gold reserve in the treasury continues to decrease, and the clamor is again being raised for an other issuance of bonds. We thought the gold bugs assured the people that if the purchasing clause of the Sherman bill was repealed that all this withdrawal of gold from the treasury and the necessity for issuing bonds would cease. They also promised that the repeal of the purchasing clause of silver would at once restore confidence, and that it would bring an era of prosperity. But alas for all such promises!

As long as the Secretary of the Treasury holds to a policy which permits an individual to pay his obligation to the Government in silver, and turn right around and demand a gold payment for claims which he holds against the Government, we need not expect the gold reserve to be kept in tact.

And until a change is made in our present system of finance, we will never have that degree of prosperity that we would have under a different system.

Senator John T. Morgan of Alabama, the noblest Roman of them all, a typical Senator, a dignified statesman, an encyclopedia of general information, a scholar, a philosopher, a manly man and one who is acquainted with grief, for he has lost some of his best-loved kindred, has been re-elected by the Legislature of the State which has long delighted to honor him, and has thereby honored itself, will spend his Christmas day in Washington, where he has quite unpretentious apartments. He is a remarkable man—vigorous, independent, and every way strong and forceful. It is a pity that there are not more men like him in public life. With malice towards none, but with charity for all, he sometimes utters the most sarcastic sentences, which make his opponents wince. It was he who spoke in such terrific denunciation of Presidential interference in legislative affairs, concluding his remarks by saying: "The clock strikes in the White House and the cuckoos here come out of their boxes to tell us the time of day."

928 Noble st., Anniston, Ala.

It is estimated that the cold weather of this and last week will cut the orange crop in Florida short by a million boxes.

The fact that cotton can now be bought in Liverpool for delivery in October and November of next year for 3 1/2 pence, which is equal to 4 1/2 cents in the South, should deter the farmers of this section from planting a large acreage of the fleecy staple. There is no money in growing it at four cents.

The delightful climate during both winter and summer, the valuable natural resources yet undeveloped and undiscovered, should make this section more attractive to capitalists of the North and Northwest than any other section in the United States.

COR. THOMAS R. ROULLAC, who has been appointed by Governor Oates Judge of the new eleventh Circuit, is one of Alabama's most intellectual and cultured citizens, and his friends over the State appreciate the honor conferred upon him.

The General Assembly will meet again on 22nd of January. There are questions to be considered by the present legislature which are of the most vital interest to the State and in the consideration of these questions, all partisanship should as far as possible be placed aside, and the law maker should do what his intelligence conscientiously teaches him is best for the State and its people.

The people of Alabama are in favor of all parties having candidates to be voted for at an election having proper representatives in the management of the election at every voting place in the State, and want to see the amendments made to our election law recommended by Governor Oates. Let each party have the right to select an inspector, clerk and marker of ballots. Then our elections will not only be fairly conducted, but the people will believe them to be fair.

WHILE the people from all sections are crying out for legislation which will afford some relief from the present panic, it seems to be the purpose of the present congress to again adopt a do-nothing policy, and let the country go to ruin.

When the Carlisle currency bill was presented the Democrats had a fine opportunity to regain many of the voters who were lost to the Democratic party as the result of the last session of congress; but instead of promptly passing the Carlisle bill, it is generally believed that there will be no financial legislation by this congress.

MANY of the leading papers of the State are earnest in the demand for the amendments to our present election law which the REPUBLICAN has favored since it has been under its present management.

The Opelika Post in discussing the needed changes in our present law, says: All honest men agree that honest elections are necessary to the maintenance of Republican institutions. Next in importance to honest elections is public confidence in the electoral system. To secure these important ends, partisanship should be exclusive as far as possible from control in the management of elections. So long as the entire control of elections is committed as now, to the board of election officers, so long will partisanship, if led by unscrupulous men, find an avenue to fraud and so long will that party not represented in the management suspect and cry fraud, even though every thing be fair.

The law should, therefore, be changed so as to require the board of election officers to appoint inspectors of election and clerks to be named by the two leading political parties: the dominant party in each county to name two and the minority party to name one inspector.

Furthermore, as assistants are necessary for those electors who are unable to prepare their own ballots, the law should be amended so as to require the appointment of markers selected by the respective political parties such markers to be sworn as other election officers.

With these amendments the law would be measurably perfected. The perpetration of fraud would be difficult and hazardous. The machinery for a fair election would be provided and all reasonable grounds of complaint would be removed.

We regret to learn of the death of Mrs. WILKINS, mother of Dan W. Wilkins, who died near Jacksonville, December 25, 1894. She was a most excellent woman, and was respected and loved by all who knew her.

In the death of Mr. J. R. McElreath, whose death is recorded by our Weaver's correspondent, Calhoun county loses a valuable citizen, the community in which he lived a useful citizen, the church a Christian worker, and his family a gentle, loving father and husband.

While the cold, snowy weather has been rather unpleasant here for the past week, it has not been so unpleasant as in many other places. Even at Gadsden all trains were stopped on account of the snow, and great loss of cattle is reported over there as a result of the cold weather.

COUNTY NEWS

FROM ALL SECTIONS OF CALHOUN.

Weavers. The dating of this local is our first for 1895, and we have not dated it wrong. So we hope in the future we may keep clear of mistakes, and as we enter the New Year, may we start in with new resolutions and higher aspirations.

As we have had a week's rest, there will have to be crowded into this article the news of two weeks. Miss Minnie Hubbard and Mr. Clay were married at the home of the former's uncle, M. W. Woodruff, about ten days since.

Dr. Isom says credit him with ten pounds more of pork, as last local did not report enough. Miss Maggie Weaver has returned to her school at Gadsden, after a few days pleasantly spent here with relatives.

Tom Weaver of Atlanta, spent Christmas here with his father's family. Miss Laura Weaver has returned from West Virginia, after a six month's stay there with her brother. From her appearance she was well cared for while up there.

Misses Katie Luttrell and Lillian Stewart of Oxford, visited their aunt, Mrs. D. P. Weaver, during Christmas. Prof. Alexander has been forced by the big snow to suspend his school for a few days.

Owing to the bad weather no service was had at the Baptist church last Saturday and Sunday; and no fixed Sabbath has yet been agreed upon for the regular monthly meeting this year.

Quite an interesting entertainment was given at the M. E. church here last Sunday night by children of the different Sunday schools, after which a collection was taken up for missions.

Married, on the 25th of December, 1894, at the residence of Sam and Margan, Esq., Mr. Thomas J. Borden to Miss Maggie C. Davis, All of Nance's Creek valley. Mr. Borden is a popular and worthy young man, and the bride is a young lady of excellent family and of good character.

On Monday evening a Christmas tree for the children was given at the home of brother Horton, much to the pleasure of the children.

It is feared that the cat crop is damaged by the unusual cold weather of the past few days.

Mr. J. R. McElreath died at 4:30 p. m. on the 1st inst., and was buried at Union church on the 3rd inst. Truly it can be said of him, a good man has gone to his reward.

Alexandria. Christmas has been very quiet. The supper given for the benefit of the school, on Tuesday night was quite a success.

The Methodist Sunday school gave quite a pleasant entertainment on Sunday evening before Christmas.

One of the most enjoyable events of the week was a party at Mr. Norris Woodruff's. Miss Maggie Woodruff of Gadsden spent Christmas with her brother in Alexandria.

Mr. Edgar Wilkins who has been buying cotton in Gafney, S. C., has returned to spend the holidays with his family.

Dr. J. E. Crook is on a visit to his sister in Spartanburg, S. C. Mr. Julius Sheid, a former resident of this county, has returned for a short visit to his sister, Mrs. Clark.

Messrs. Ed Sheid, Charley Liles and Gus Martin, three of our most excellent young men, leave Wednesday for Texas, greatly to the regret of their many friends. May good luck attend them.

Mr. Frank Wakefield has returned from Collinsville where he went to attend the marriage of a friend.

Tampa.

"Blessings brighten as they take their flight." To be deprived of the REPUBLICAN for two weeks, causes its many readers to appreciate it for more than a month's unpaid subscription would afford.

The Christmas festivities having passed, and the New Year made his bow and entered upon his duties, despite the severity of the weather, finds us all with renewed appetites and a large volume of good resolutions, ready to repeat the errors of the past as in by gone years, thus following the example of our present "irresponsible congress," whose attention is now more devoted to the welfare of their "beloved constituents."

The Christmas tree exercises at the Tampa church passed off pleasantly—to both old and young—and Christmas night brought the merry maskers around—with their musical instruments and antics.

The "beautiful snow," is good for the rabbit hunters, but bad for the poor bunny. A "Toboggan" was built by one of our pleasure loving citizens—and the steep hillsides utilized for the "sliding slide," which nearly took the breath out of some of the older ones, and laid out a young fellow with a sprained knee. He is nursing it though—for another slide.

Mr. Will Brittain spent a few days with his parents accompanied by Mr. Davis, of Rock Run. Miss Edith Pearce came home from Anniston to spend a few days.

We hope the item in our issue and its readers have had a happy Christmas and will have a prosperous New Year. I forgot to say the mercury registered below zero.

Piedmont.

The following communication from Piedmont was intended for our last issue, but was received too late.—Ed. Our municipal election passed off quietly and every one seems satisfied by the result.

E. D. McClean was elected Mayor by a small majority, and the same council remains with two exceptions.

Mr. J. C. Wickes and Miss Annie Moody went over to Atlanta last Tuesday to attend the marriage of Miss Clara Moody and Mr. Frank Smiley.

Mrs. R. S. Perry and little son left for Philadelphia last week, the home of Mrs. Perry's parents. Mr. Perry will join them before Christmas.

December 31st.—the last day of 1894. Have we all spent this year as we should? It seems I hear the answers,—no, no! Let us resolve that at the close of 1895 it can be said of us, "Thou hast done what thou could."

Christmas passed off very quietly and pleasantly here. Master Johnie Graham, who has been in school in Atlanta, Ga., after spending Christmas with his father here, has returned to Atlanta.

Will Cooper, a very prominent young man of Atlanta, spent several days with relatives here last week.

Little Miss Nina Graham was with the home folks last week. Let Savage, who is attending school at Jacksonville, was here among relatives during the holidays.

Messrs. F. M. Savage, John Akin, J. C. Graham and S. D. Savage were all visitors to Rome, Ga., last week.

Mr. Ben Savage went "down" to Anniston last week on a visit. Mrs. Maggie Wilson is visiting in Anniston and Oxford this week.

Little Marie Graham was in Piedmont Saturday and Sunday last. Mr. Arthur Brewster of Piedmont, spent Sunday here with relatives.

J. D. Amberson and wife were visitors at Randle last week. The Misses Casey of near Goshen, were the guests of Miss Enla Stewart last week.

The small boy has been in his glory here to-day throwing snow balls. The snow here is about four inches deep.

Peek's Hill.

Since I last wrote the REPUBLICAN there have been several marriages in this community. Oliver Thompson to Miss Eva Hindman; Henry Fleming to Miss Vira Ross; Charley Fleming to Miss Mollie Crow; Mr. Dodgins to Miss Howell; Mr. Stovall to Miss Howell; Phil Dickie to Miss Griffin; Lee Dickie to Miss Britton; Joe Hutto to Miss Lela Vice.

The people of the community wish for all of them great success. The people over here all had a pleasant time during the Christmas holidays.

H. H. Gray of Atlanta, is visiting his father here this week. The new Methodist preacher for the Olathee circuit has arrived with his small family.—not in number. Two rooms will be added to the parsonage.

J. W. Williams has added a new twist mill to his gin and grinds every Saturday.

Colvin's Gap.

About six inches of snow lay on the ground Monday morning. N. W. McLean and W. C. H. H. Kingsworth and their families left for Texas last week.

Nearly all the farmers in this vicinity have plenty of corn, meat and sorghum for the present year, and some have more than enough for their own use.

There is great financial distress among the people, and the cry is for more money. Why does not congress establish a financial system that will put plenty of money in circulation?

The REPUBLICAN is right in advocating such changes in our election laws as will secure fair elections. A very large majority of all parties favor fair elections. If there were frauds in the August election, let them be investigated, and let whoever got the most legal votes have the offices.

Fergusonsville.

The young people of this vicinity have enjoyed many socials during Christmas week. Master Clarence Weathers has returned to Anniston to occupy a position in Mr. Eber's book store.

Mr. Bart Simpson is talking of going to Texas. Mr. D. L. Simpson is clerking in Anniston, on 10th street.

Messrs. Clements & Aderhold will start a steam saw mill in a few days, on the South side of Cane Creek near Log's mill pond.

Mr. Jas. A. Ferguson and wife are visiting relatives at Rock Run Station this week.

The latest political news in Georgia is that the Democrats in the county elections last week carried the State by a greatly increased majority, and that Tom Watson's daily in Atlanta has suspended.

As David has broken bread with Grover, it is now generally believed that the unexpected will happen in Washington. While these two men continue to wile and dine the people will play the role of Wilkins Micawber and wait for something to turn up.

A MOVEMENT is on foot in New Zealand to have the Government encourage the introduction of reading books, in the schools of the agricultural section, which shall be devoted to agricultural matters, such as the management of live stock, the cultivation of all sorts of vegetables and crops, the subject of fertilization, and the use of improved implements.

From all indications many of the Democratic congressmen care very little as to what becomes of the future of the Democratic party. They are not willing that the Democrats should get together on any currency bill as a party measure, but seem to prefer to keep up an irreconcilable division and let the present administration go down in history as a failure. Men who love the principles of Democracy, and who believe the principles maintained by Jefferson and Jackson are best for the interest of this country, are thoroughly disgusted with the do-nothing policy which the present Congress is carrying out.

CAPITAL punishment in the state of Michigan has been abolished, and now when one man murders another, he at least has the satisfaction of knowing that imprisonment for life is the "worst punishment that can be inflicted. It seems that since the passage of this law going away with the gallows, the number of murders are on the increase and there is a possibility that the next legislature of Michigan will declare neck breaking again in order. When the legislature does this she will in order to be abreast of the times be obliged to go over to Connecticut and get the right to use the new hanging machine recently adopted in that state.

The year of 1894 is now numbered among the things of the past, and we now enter upon duties and responsibilities of a new year.

In taking a retrospective view of the old year, we are forced to confess that all things have not been as we desired them.

Our farms, our mines, our manufacturing industries, our mercantile establishments have not had such an era of prosperity as they enjoyed a few years ago.

Financial depression has been abroad in the land and all trades and professions have felt and shown the evil effects produced by its presence. He has placed his cold hands against many industries which in former years were prosperous and they have tottered and fallen to the ruin of the men who attempted to uphold them against the pressure of this unwelcome monster.

While this panic has caused us to deprive ourselves of many of the luxuries and even comforts of life, yet we have learned from it some valuable lessons, which, if properly applied, may in the future lead us to the goal of becoming a prosperous and happy people.

We have learned that we can not be prosperous and depend upon others to supply us with all we consume, and have gone to work in earnest to raise our own corn, meat, wheat, syrup, and other things we consume.

We have learned that by the means of the credit system we have been living beyond our incomes, that we have been extravagant, and have been promising to pay more than we make. The hard times have taught us to economize and to live within our means.

The effect of these changes in our manner of living and transacting business has been, but for the old debts, to put the people in this section in better condition than they have been for years. They have contracted fewer debts, and have the things necessary to live at home and be independent.

In order to get out of debt it is necessary for us to continue to economize, make at home what we consume and let the cotton crop be a surplus. By continuing on this line, in a few more years this section will hear no more of hard times, and the people will be prosperous and happy.

SATURDAY, JAN. 12, 1895.

The speech delivered by Congressman Black of Georgia, last week on the currency bill, is being spoken of in the highest terms by the press and people in all sections. Major Black is to-day the Den Hill of Georgia as an orator, and is one of the purest men in politics from any state.

From all sections of the country the cheering news confronts us that there is more food for man and beast on Alabama farms than has been known in many years. Under this condition of affairs why should not our people frown upon hard times? Cotton cuts but a small figure with the farmer who can boast of plenty of home supplies.—Birmingham Times and News.

But for the old debts which the farmers of Alabama owe they would not frown upon hard times. But these old debts are hard to get rid of with cotton at five cents a pound. They have gone to work, however, with a determination to get out of debt, and are in better condition now than for years.

A SHORT time ago, in New York, a woman was found murdered in her home. At the examination of the body, a microscope was present, with a very powerful glass. Upon drawing back the eyelid and placing the instrument in position to inspect the pupil the form and features of the murderer could be plainly seen. The eye balls were removed immediately, and taken to a photographer, but before a photograph could be procured, a film had collected over the pupil, and destroyed the impression.

It may be that this is a discovery that will be of great use, in detecting and bringing to justice, the thugs and murderers, that infest our large cities.

A BILL is now in the hands of the Committee on Education, of the Senate of Alabama, looking to the establishment of a uniform system, or series, of text books to be used in the public schools. County school book boards are to be established, and it shall be the duty of these boards to arrange the series in their respective counties, and to see that the books selected are used.

We want to say that we are ardently in favor of the passage of this bill. We trust that the committee in whose hands it now lies will render a favorable report, which will lead to its passage in the Senate, and we hope that it will meet with same good fortune in the House.

We know of no measure of more importance to the citizens of Alabama than this one. It has been the custom throughout the state for the teacher to select the books used in his or her particular school. The result has been, that wherever a change of teachers is made, an entire change is very often made in the books used. Or, perhaps, the teacher, after having had a certain series selected and bought, might see what he considered a greater merit in another, and then commit the pupils to discard the books already purchased for a new set. All this leads to a great deal of confusion, and it necessitates a vast deal of expense. Parents all over our county, and all over the state, know how often they have been worried by this ceaseless and senseless change.

Alabama is the only state in the Union that has no law bearing on this subject, and the result is, that she is completely at the mercy of text book publishers. There is no way in which the prices asked by these people can be limited and, therefore, they are asking and receiving, in Alabama, what we consider, outrageous prices. Alabama parents and pupils pay from 25 to 75 per cent more for these books, than do the parents and pupils of any other state. This difference, in one year amounts to thousands of dollars. The State should be ashamed that she has waited so long, before enacting this law of self defense.

We are told that publishing houses and trusts have their lobbyists in Montgomery even now, trying to control or direct legislation on this point. These gentlemen have no interest in this matter, save that they may extort from our people the money, which the "hard conditions" of these times, they have so dearly earned.

The session Saturday morning was opened with prayer by Prof. W. D. Snow.

Upon motion of Prof. Robinette, a committee of four, with the County Superintendent as the fifth member, was appointed to prepare a program for next institute, which program will be published next week, and teachers should save a copy of same.

The county Superintendent announced that the next white institute would be held on the first Friday and Saturday in April, opening on Friday at 10 o'clock a. m.

As all the schools would then be opening the attendance of each teacher as required by law would be expected.

Institute adjourned at 11:30 a. m. E. B. BYRUM, Secretary.

Amendments suggested by the Teachers Institute of Calhoun County in session at Jacksonville, January 11th and 12th, 1895, to a bill entitled An act to establish a county school board to select a Uniform Series of Text Books for use in the public schools in the counties of Lamar, Fayette and Walker.

1st. Amendment suggested is that "Calhoun" be added after "Walker" or that the words "SEVERAL COUNTIES OF ALABAMA" be substituted for the last five words in said title, provided the 2nd, 3rd and 5th amendments below are adopted in act—otherwise that the act does not apply to Calhoun county.

2nd. Amendment suggested and insisted upon is that in Section 1 the sixteen words from "commissioners" to "Walker" inclusive be stricken out and the following words be inserted: "County board of education of each of the several counties of Calhoun county, as at present constituted under the school laws of Alabama" shall constitute a county school book board etc.

3rd. Amendment suggested and insisted upon is that the last half of Section 1 from the words "the Judge of Probate shall be chairman etc." to the end of said Section 1 be stricken out and the following words inserted: "Each county school board so constituted shall meet at county site on the last Monday in June, and meet from time to time through the month of July of said year."

4th. Amendments suggested is that the twenty five words in Section 2 from the words "Provided, that the competition in prices" inclusive be stricken out.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE OF CALHOUN.
TEACHERS FAVOR UNIFORM SERIES OF SCHOOL BOOKS.
And Propose Certain Amendments to the Bill Now Pending Before the Legislature.

The white Teachers' County Institute met in the court house on Friday, the 4th inst., at 2 o'clock p. m.

The attendance was small owing to bad weather, but several more teachers came in Saturday, making an enrollment of about thirty.

The institute was opened with prayer by Rev. S. J. Robinette, after which E. B. Byrum was elected Secretary.

The County Supt. read a number of communications pro and con on a law for county Uniform Series of text books for the public schools. The most important including a bill now before the General Assembly—was from Ex-State Supt. Maj. J. G. Harris, who is chairman of a committee of the State Teachers' Association for pushing the matter in the Legislature.

If you want to guess at the Constitution's two thousand dollar prize, then you should at once come and subscribe for the REPUBLICAN and the Constitution. You can get both papers one year for $1.25.

John Rowland is constantly on the go now. He brings in one law-breaker and furnishes him lodging with Mr. Clark, and immediately starts on the trail of others. John is a good one and the boys will have to keep moving.

It will be a favor to us if the people of the town will hand us a list of the visitors. In making personal mention of those who visit here, if any are omitted, it should not be a fault of ours. We are anxious to have their names, so that we may let their friends know of their presence.

We learn that Mr. Richard Baker of Baltimore, will soon make Birmingham, Ala., his home. Besides his family, Mrs. Forney and Miss Fannie Forney will come with him. We rejoice to hear this good news and are only sorry that Jacksonville cannot again claim them as citizens.

We have received letter from Onatich stating that our Peck's Hill correspondent was incorrect in his statement last week as to the marriage of the Messrs. Howell. They are not married, and we regret exceedingly that the mistake occurred. We had no reason to question the correctness of the statement of our Peck's Hill correspondent.

Hon. W. P. Cooper died at his home in Oxford on last Sunday afternoon. For two or three weeks he has been quite unwell, and while his health was giving way to the disease which has troubled him so long, they were very much surprised and shocked that death should come so soon.

Mr. Cooper had been a resident of Calhoun county for more than twenty years. He came from Tennessee and bought the farm in Alexandria Valley upon which he lived until a year ago, when failing health carried him to Oxford.

No man in the county was better known than Mr. Cooper. When he came to Alexandria all his neighbors at once became his friends, and his reputation as a good farmer, a good business man, and a genial southern gentleman, soon spread throughout the country. He was a strong democrat and always took a prominent part in county politics. He was elected a member of the lower house of the Alabama legislature four years ago, and took a prominent place in that body.

It is with sincere regrets that we tell of the death of such a man as Mr. Cooper. Calhoun county, and the State of Alabama needs him.

A good part of our Choccoloco letter this week is devoted to the organization of a county fair. It is not necessary for us to say that the REPUBLICAN is in sympathy with any scheme, the design of which is the improvement of our live stock, the education of our farmers, or the enriching of our poor out soils.

Whenever we can speak a word that will be of encouragement to any community, or to any individual, we want to speak it. We are firmly convinced that the day of national prosperity will only come, along with agricultural prosperity. The building of railroads, the opening of coal mines, the building of locks on our rivers, the dredging of harbors, cannot bring contentment to the nation, if with the existence of these, our farms are deserted, and agricultural varieties tumbled down below the cost of production.

But our farmers cannot sit still and wait for a change of affairs to come. They must open their eyes, and study their business. They must organize in their efforts to better their condition. They must push themselves to the front, regardless of the obstructions which may be placed in their way.

Anniston. Mr. John M. Caldwell's lecture at the Noble street theater on Friday night of last week, was unusually well attended. "John" was the subject discussed. He held his vast audience spellbound to the close, and a more highly delighted assemblage never listened to public speaker. His lecture was brilliant with the sparks of his happy wit, and yet for those who preferred sober thoughts there was an abundant supply. His discourses always abound with original thoughts, and his manners and expressions are free from the hackneyed style. All Anniston is proud of her gifted and popular orator.

Well, show us last letter, the holidays have come and gone, and with them, the snow. Santa Claus was lavish in his distribution of gifts, and the merry little children were supremely happy. Yet, there were many homes where Santa Claus did not go.

With the coming of the new year, many good resolutions were made, and the custom. Some have been broken others are still kept.

The freeze during Christmas week did great damage to sweet potatoes and the more tender varieties of fall sown ones; especially oats on red soil.

The continued bad weather has very much retarded the moving of tenants, and hindered them in getting ready for the crop of 1893. Such weather, though, could be well utilized by indoor work; such as repairing farm implements.

Bruner. The health of this community is good, with the exception of a child of A. H. Griffin, who has been quite sick with pneumonia. He is better than has been, and it is now thought that he will recover.

The San Francisco Call says it is willing to be wedded to the currency reform, but not with the gold ring.

The people continue to cry aloud for financial relief, and congress continues to do nothing. Pity but it would adjourn and let the do-nothing members go home and be kept there.

The manufacturers of New England continue to make arrangements to bring their cotton mills to the South. The advantages of the South for the manufacture of cotton is so decided over any other section, that there can be no question but that the cotton goods of this country are to be manufactured in the South.

In the recent farmers convention held in Jackson, Miss., the farmers of the South are urged to decrease their cotton acreage at least 25 percent. The convention makes the following sensible suggestions:

The over production of cotton is recognized one of the chief evils. (This must be corrected or universal bankruptcy will follow. Self-interest must impel the grower to change. Every farmer is appealed to not to plant so much cotton, a decrease of not less than 25 per cent is recommended; 50 per cent would be better. The farmers should be made self sustaining by planting peas, corn, potatoes, oats, etc., and raising plenty of meat. The tide of immigration turned this way will change methods.

As the trustees have been appointed for the girls industrial school, it is now in order to put in bids for the location of this school.

Of all the places which have been suggested for location, to our mind, Anniston possesses more advantages than any other place suggested.

Anniston is one of the healthiest locations in the State, and girls can come there from any portion of the State without the least danger of having their health impaired from the poisonous effects of malaria; and the long continued fevers which are so common to other places, are almost unknown to the people of Anniston. In fact, a healthier location than Anniston cannot be found in any city in Alabama. This should be an important consideration in the selection of a location for this school.

Anniston's railroad facilities are such as to make her easily reached from all portions of the State.

Her magnificent churches attract the attention of all visitors, and she is noted for the moral and Christian influence of her citizenship.

She has already fully demonstrated that her people take an interest in educational institutions. As a result of this manifested interest, and of her splendid location, we learn the Southern Female University has been more prosperous there than it was at any of its other locations.

In fact, Anniston is not only the "Model City" of the South, but is the ideal place for the location of Alabama's industrial school for girls.

In the midst of the money famine, industrial stagnation, commercial paralysis, and the consequent universal mutterings of discontent throughout the land, it is consoling to know that there are a few faithful tribesmen of the people who are laboring to relieve their distresses, lighten their burdens, and restore wanted prosperity to the country. We have been handed a letter addressed by that able financier and patriotic citizen, Hon. J. T. Miller, of Birmingham, to Hon. J. H. Bankhead, member of congress from Alabama, suggesting the salient features of a currency system, as a substitute for the "Carlisle plan" which has been virtually defeated by congress through a divided and dissensions democracy.

From a hasty and cursory reading of Col. Miller's letter, we are favorably impressed with his views. Our objection to his scheme as an entirety, is, that it involves a complete surrender of our financial system to the Federal Government, when we think that the repeal of the 10 per cent state bank tax, and the establishment of state banks of issue, with proper legal restrictions for security, but independent of federal influence or control, would, with free and unlimited coinage of silver, constitute a panacea for all the evils from which we are now suffering. To this we might add, a patriotic execution of the law, providing for the redemption of legal tender notes in coin; that is, in gold or silver at the option of the Government.

The persistent fight of the Montgomery Advertiser against Capt. Joseph F. Johnston will be answered by the Democracy of Alabama in the same manner as it met the unreasonable opposition of that paper against Senator Morgan.

From expressions which came from press and people in all portions of the State during the last canvass for the State ticket, the Democratic people fully recognize the fact that the Democracy of Alabama owes Capt. Johnston a debt of gratitude for sacrifice he has made for the party in the expenditure of time, talent and money, and they are not disposed to further delay the payment of this obligation.

If the recent expression of the press and people can be relied upon, the Democracy of Alabama will promote Capt. Johnston to any position he asks for.

The Atlanta Constitution is well known as a foe to Senator Morgan, yet this statement is found in the Washington special matter of issue yesterday:

"The friends of the Nicaragua Canal bill have abandoned hope of passing that at this session. They do not think the Morgan bill will even get through the Senate."

And yet The Advertiser is considered very extreme for not wanting to see fifty Morgans in the Senate, and for considering him an impractical back-number.—Montgomery Advertiser.

If the failure to pass a special bill introduced constitutes an "impractical back-number," then several of the distinguished gentlemen for whom the Advertiser is a cuckoo, should have long since been placed on the "impractical back-number" list. The Advertiser cannot fail to remember some very noticeable failures on the part of its pets to log roll certain measures through the United States congress.

GADSDEN, and the country around her, has great cause for congratulation.

The enterprise exhibited in bringing the Dwight Manufacturing Company to that city is worthy of much praise.

The mill will contain 25,000 spindles, and will consume from $600 to 10,000 bales of cotton per annum. This means that hundreds of people will be given work and that thousands and tens of thousands of dollars will go into their hands, and into circulation.

Under the plan, proposed, each family is to have a garden attached to the home, and night schools are to be conducted, for the education of the laboring children. In these schools the pupils can acquire a good elementary education.

No man can tell the great good that will come from such a scheme if properly conducted. To the Dwight people Alabama extends a cordial welcome. The southward movement that is now witnessed in the cotton milling industry is a logical one, and we believe that the day is fast approaching when a cotton mill will be in every valley, and a school house on every hill. These are but heritages of the South—birthrights long denied. Why should it not be so?

We see from the Hot Blast of Monday, that our neighbor thinks well of the County Fair suggested by our correspondent at Gadsden, and says that All Trait is indeed the man to take hold of the enterprise, and that Anniston is the place to hold the fair.

We are rejoiced to have the Hot Blast speak so favorably of the project, and we trust that our people all over the county will begin now and give the matter their attention.

The Hot Blast says that Anniston is the place for holding the fair. We are not now so much engaged in holding the fair, as in having our people take hold of it. We think Anniston is a good location, and we hope that Anniston will lead a great influence to its success.

Of all our population, the farmers need some chance to show what they can do. Our people little thought that Calhoun soils could be made to produce, as they have produced, under the magic of an intensive system, which has been so successfully fostered by Traits in his distribution of prizes.

If Calhoun's cities, towns and villages, her farmers, mechanics, merchants and capitalists, push this enterprise to a successful end, it will be a benefit to every man, woman and child in our borders. It will be an advertisement to those beyond.

LULLMAN BROS.

Anniston, Alabama.

VICE PRESIDENT STEVENSON has the sympathy of the entire country in his bereavement. His daughter died in North Carolina last week.

CALHOUN county on an average for the past five years has grown more cotton to the acre than any county in the cotton growing States.

The negroes in this section are contented and happy, and are not dreaming of any colonization scheme. They could not be induced to go to Africa.

To operate a large cotton mill in Jacksonville it would not be necessary to import foreign labor. No better labor could be secured than the sons and daughters of this county.

From the statement of cotton men who handle the bulk of the cotton raised in Alabama, we learn that Calhoun county's staple is equaled by only one county in the State.

When the East and West is extended to Birmingham and Atlanta, and from Jacksonville to Anniston, which the officials of the road say will be done as soon as practicable, Jacksonville's railroad facilities will be greatly improved.

The legislature now in session should not fail to pass the bill pending to exempt from taxation for ten or twenty years all the new cotton mills located in the state. To be exempt from state, county and municipal tax is an important consideration in the location of a mill.

With a soil which produces the largest average yield of any county in the South, a staple which is very superior, with such a nearness to the coal fields that coal can be delivered for a dollar a ton, with the healthiest climate in the South, Calhoun offers advantages for the manufacture of cotton which are unsurpassed.

If New York can do any thing that Atlanta can't duplicate, it is time for her to do it. The Lexow committee had hardly gotten to work, before Atlanta began to blow a little breeze of the same kind. Three of her detectives have already been suspended, and the police commission and city council are at logger heads as to which shall continue investigations.

The news comes across the Atlantic that Italy may, within the next few weeks, adopt a republican form of government. Crispi, the present prime minister, will be its president. King Humbert, not insensible to the brewing storm, and realizing that the days of his Kingdom are numbered, has deposited in the London banks the paltry sum of thirty millions of dollars, with the aid of which he hopes to be able to "eke out a miserable existence."

Mr. Gladstone who retired from political life a short time ago, writes to several of his old political associates, that he will again stand for election to his seat in the house of commons. Nobody knows just what object the "grand old man" has in view, but every one knows that he is not going to give up the quiet, happy life he has been leading for nothing. It is intimated that one cause of his return to politics is his desire to do away with the house of lords. England is ripe for such a measure, and if Gladstone lends his massive intellect to the movement, the closing years of the nineteenth century may witness the most wonderful change in English politics since the days of Magna Charta.

The energy that the directors of the Cotton States and International Exposition are throwing into the enterprise is remarkable. Not only are they advertising the scheme in South and Central America, but are pushing out into every continent.

We clip the following from an exchange: "The Cotton States and International Exposition is being advertised in every continent. The latest addition to the list of languages made use of is the Arabic. Mr. E. J. Arberly, editor of the KAWKAB AMERICA (Star of America) takes a lively interest in the last issue of his paper. This will circulate wherever the Arabic language is used, and will bring a number of oriental exhibits. Mr. Arberly is a native of Syria, and has a large acquaintance through the Orient."

WE ARE OFFERING

For bleaching purposes, Jacksonville can furnish a supply of pure, clear water which cannot be surpassed.

ERRON BROOK, of the Cherokee Sentinel, thinks Bob Mosely is arrogating to himself a little too much authority when he declares in the Birmingham Times that hereafter there will be no fusion with Alabama Republicans. Mosely insists that the Republicans will not consent to again be the tail end to the kite in the state elections.

Quite a number of Calhoun's most enterprising citizens are those who came from the north and east, and who are Republicans. They rank among our best people socially. In business and social circles our people never enquire as to where a man was raised, as to his politics, or on which side he fought during the late war.

SOMETHING new is always happening in France. Perier, the president elected about six months ago, took a notion last week, at breakfast that he had enough (we mean of the presidency) and by four o'clock in the evening he had written his resignation and published it. France, you ought to have a Benny Harrison, he would hold to your presidency until he heard the proverbial owl hoot.

Let the General Assembly take up the election law bill and promptly make the amendments recommended by Governor Gates. Give each party having a candidate in the field the right to select an inspector, clerk and marker of the ballots. Our law must be so changed that hereafter there cannot be even a suspicion of fraud in the management of our elections, and we believe the recommendations of Governor Gates would have such an effect.

The city of Brooklyn is now in the hands of a mob. The employees of the street car lines in that city came to the conclusion that they were poorly paid, and that they ought to strike. They not only struck, but they forbade other men from taking their places. The street car service is discontinued, and all Brooklyn is in a state of excitement. The mayor has not been able to quell the disturbance, and has been obliged to call on the state for troops.

The South is indeed fortunate that, thus far, in her history she has not been afflicted with strikes and riots of this nature.

If Senator Morgan could be successful in his heroic fight for the Nicaragua Canal, Mobile would become one of the largest ports of the world.

Coal is delivered now in Mobile by rail at less cost than to any other seaport. With the building of the locks on the Warrior River, the first of which locks has just been completed, comes the news that this water route will cut down the expense of delivery of coal fully one half.

If the canal should be opened, the increase in the coaling business would be of such vast importance as to at once fill every coal mine in Alabama with laborers, and furnish work to thousands, in transporting the product of the mines to the coast.

Very few citizens of Alabama know any thing about the number, size, and value of the cargoes, that are each year landed at the port of Mobile.

John E. Mitchell, president of the Chamber of commerce, of that city, in his recent annual address, gives some interesting data, from which we give the following: "From March 1889 through December 1894, 693 steamships and 357 ships, barks and brigs, drawing from sixteen to twenty three feet, have passed down our channel." Besides the above vessels Mr. Mitchell says that 500 schooners having a draft of from fifteen to seventeen feet have entered the port.

The trade in fruits, with South and Central America has grown wonderfully in the period named. Ten years ago this trade was almost of no value. In 1893, 1,019 cars left the port loaded with fruit, for interior points. In 1894, 2,013 cars went out.

More cocoanuts are brought to Mobile than to any other port in the United States. The port has handled, since March 1893, 2,213,677 bunches of bananas, 7,625,787 cocoanuts, 32,192 pine apples, and 17,253 bunches of plantains.

PROTECTION from the grip.
 pneumonia, diphtheria, fever and epidemics is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It makes PURE BLOOD.

It May Do as Much for You.
 Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c for large bottle. At all the drug stores.

A PROPELLING FORCE
 In Natures Storehouse For Suffering Humanity.
 J. D. Thompson, Anniston, Ala.: "The Electropoise has cured me of neuralgia, indigestion and a complication of other ailments which had so completely wrecked my nervous system that my life was a burden. I had been sick for twenty years. I realize that the Electropoise is a propelling force in nature's storehouse for suffering humanity. It is nature's remedy, whose effect is so silent, so sure and yet so mysterious that it is justly termed the wonder of the age."

H. L. Wenderford, What the Electropoise Will Do.
 Saratoga, N. Y., Aug 11, 1894.
 I have used the Electropoise with unflinching success on my family and friends, curing a long list of diseases, without medicines. Among them were milk leg, measles, grippe, several kinds of fever, chills, cold sores, colds, violent pain, etc. The Electropoise takes the place of doctor and drug store.
A. J. ROGERS.

S. B. White, Jacksonville, Ala., June 23, 1894: "We have been using the Electropoise about four years, and are well pleased with it."

As a curative agent the Electropoise can not be excelled.
 For full particulars and testimonials of reliable people write to DuBois & Welch, 223 North Twenty-first street, Birmingham, Ala., for their book, mailed free to any address.
 Electropoise rented four months for $10.
